SINCLAIR CONTEMPT CASE NOW IN HANDS SUPREME COURT JURY

Multi-Millionaire Oil Magnate Being Tried for Refusal to Answer Senate Com- mittee's Questions

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—The Senate's contempt case against Harry F. Sinclair was given to the jury today in the District of Columbia Supreme court.

Under the charge of Justice Hitz the twelve men who have heard the case are to decide only five questions of fact—whether the multi-millionaire oil operator was summoned before the Senate oil committee, whether he appeared, whether he was sworn, whether he refused to answer, whether he refused to answer, whether he refused to answer.

The government offered evidence to show all of these things and there was no evidence by the defense to controvert them.

Should the jury return a verdict of not guilty that would end the second of the criminal prosecutions growing out of the celebrated oil lease investigation.

In the event of a verdict of guilty, Justice Hitz would impose the penalty, both jail sentence and fine, with in the range of one month to 12 months and $100 to $1,000 fixed by statute.

At the outset of the argument before the jury the government prosecutor told the jury that unless Congress and its committees had the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and to question them, it would be seriously handicapped in legislating.

Quoting the statute under which Sinclair was indicted and to which provides a mandatory jail sentence, Gordon said it applied to all persons alike, no matter how lowly or how rich.

As Gordon reviewed the history of the naval oil reserve leases, the lessee of Teapot Dome, wearing a natty pepper and suit and flanked by his five lawyers, followed the argument closely.

Investigation of Alleged Graft to Begin Next Week

Raleigh, March 16.—(AP)—Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt, now ill at his home in Oxford, expects to return to his office here next week. He will then start investigations into charges of graft in the State Board of Health administration of sanitary laws.

The Attorney General has been requested by Governor McLean to look into allegations of legislators that graft had taken place in that State department.

NURSES EXAMINATION RALEIGH NEXT MONTH

Raleigh, March 16.—(AP)—The North Carolina Board of Nurse Examiners will conduct examinations in the House of Representatives hall here April 12, 13 and 14. Applications are being made through the secretary, Mrs. Z. V. Conyers, Greensboro.

Chatham Man Rescued After 13 Hours In Well

Faqqay Springs, N. C., March 16.—(AP)—Jeff Ashworth, who was pinned 40 feet down in a 70 foot well for 13 hours straight will recover from the shock, doctors said today.

Ashworth was rescued early today.

Several doctors went to his home about 8 o'clock this morning after word from his home told of his having rested easily for the last five hours.

When the rescuing party pulled Ashworth out, he was exhausted but apparently shocked and worn as the total sum of his experience so they carried him home where he stretched out in normal comforts once more to recover from the 13 hour mental strain and worry.

No outward physical injury was expressed by him in the few words of thankfulness he mumbled.

He had read of Collins and the Kentucky cave-in, he said just before he dropped off in sleep of exhaustion as dawn streaked the sky but his consolation was, he said, that he could talk with his companions in rescue above him, all the time of his 13 hour plight.

REV. A. L. STANFORD IN STRONG SERMON METHODIST CHURCH

Charlotte Minister Arrived Yesterday to Conduct Series Services Here

A large congregation heard Dr. A. L. Stanford at the revival meeting at Jarvis Memorial Church last night. Rev. Mr. Stanford arrived here late yesterday afternoon and preached his first sermon last night. The revival which began last Sunday continues to draw large crowds and each of the services has been greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Stiedley, who is well known in this community, having been here formerly with the McLeod meeting, is assisting in the services.

Rev. Mr. Stanford's text last night was "Ask and it shall be given you, seek and you shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you." His initial message was a forceful one.

This morning Mr. Stanford spoke from the gospel of St. Mark on the story of the paralytic who was borne of four to the Master. In his message he declared that the imperative need of the church today is a revival of old fashioned gospel preaching. "I believe," said Mr. Stanford, "that what the world wants is the presentation of the Word of Life. The imperative need of the church is to wake up." The picture of the three friends bringing the lame man to the Master was portrayed and commented upon from three chief characteristics. First, the four friends were united in their action; second they were determined and third they were faithful. Such must be the three characteristics of Christians of today if they are to do their part in bringing others to the Master, he declared.

At 7:30 this evening Rev. Mr. Stanford will deliver a message on "Prayer."

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend and take part in the services of the revival.

ROBBERS BLOW BANK AND GET $30,000

Springfield, Mo., March 16.—(AP)—Overpowering and tying up the village night watchman and two passersby who stopped to investigate, a gang of eight robbers today blew open the vault of the Bank of Illinois, at Billings, 20 miles southwest of here, and escaped with $5,000 in cash and between $20,000 and $30,000 in Liberty Bonds.

formed a sudden immediate roof over his head, cutting off sunlight and air.

Lack of air circulation was what the doctors, working on him this morning, said they feared as the greatest possible adverse circumstance to his recovery or possible later complications in his lungs.

A curious crowd soon became concerned and all hands volunteered into removing of the rock curbing. The work became desperately in earnest. J. D. McIver, local citizen, took charge.

Three men got down into the well working like beavers, removing stones. Bucket after bucket shot out of the dark cavity. Four men were operating the windlass. They worked in shifts and relay of rescuers relieved relay.

Night came on. Toward midnight half a hundred persons still remained at the wellside. Ashworth's voice came up clear but growing fainter from day to night. Dirt, he kept saying, was falling through the crevices between the stones.

Shortly after midnight, amid a tumble of stones and dirt covering his pinned-in body, they reached him and pulled him out.

Some of the groups offered voluntary prayer. In the early morning air and a few companions carried Ashworth home.

Today the town hopefully awaited word of his rapid recovery.

Allister Proctor discovered and purchased for a small sum at Hereford Eng., what is declared to be a unique copy of first edition of Bacon's "Novum Organum" printed in London in 1620.

At End of Bloody Jail Break

Two Mexicans, Robert Torrez (left) and Gregorio Rizzo (right) were recaptured after a bloody battle with police in Chicago after they escaped from Joliet Penitentiary, where they were awaiting execution. Juanita Gallardo (center), a friend of one of the men, was arrested by police who suspected her of aiding them. Rizzo was dying from wounds suffered in his gunfight with policemen. Six men were in the plot, but three did not get out of the prison. A fourth was still at large when the other two were arrested.

SECOND DAY OF FORD LIBEL SUIT MOVES SLOWLY

Conference Between Counsel and Judge Delays Opening of Court More Than Hour

Detroit, March 16.—(AP)—Opening of today's session of the $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford was delayed by a conference of Judge Fred M. Raymond, Senator James A. Reed, counsel for Ford and William Henry Gallagher attorney for Aaron Sapiro, plaintiff.

Possibilities of a compromise as to the appearance of Mr. Ford on the witness stand, or settlement of the suit were denied by Sapiro. An hour after court was due to open the conference was still in progress.

Judge Raymond told the jurors the delay in opening court was due to a conference which he hoped would save them, as well as the court, time in the future. It was understood the plaintiffs will shorten the procedure as much as possible, in introduction of evidence.

Gallagher in resuming his opening plea, said as he had declared yesterday, that to attack co-operative marketing on the part of Ford was permissible. But he went further than that, Gallagher said, and added: "He said Mr. Sapiro was a member of a Jewish combine conspiring to gain control of agriculture."

"It was not only a national conspiracy, Mr. Ford charged," the attorney said, "but an international ring he accused Sapiro of belonging to."

A Good Flying Year.

Julius Rosenwald has supplied money for an important library at Luxor, and that modern monument added to ancient Egypt may cause Mr. Rosenwald's name to be remembered long after his many charities in this country are forgotten.

The Luxor library would interest Mr. Rosenwald's co-religionist maimonides, if he could know about it—perhaps he does.

It was in Egypt, where he lived in safety as a physician of the tolerant native ruler, that Maimonides wrote some of his most important works, including the "Guide to the Perplexed," and translated Greek philosophers into Hebrew.

To accomplish that he had to invent new Hebrew words, as the language lacked an abstract vocabulary.

For his tampering with the Hebrew language, Maimonides was excommunicated by the high synagogues in Spain. But that didn't worry him. The great scholar whom millions of little boys know as "Rambam," was a modernist in his day.

This country sends new messages to Italy and Paris, asking them to reduce armaments. They may pretend to reduce them, but they WON'T reduce.

When our foolish statesmen agreed at Washington to destroy great battleships, several of them unfinished, Europeans agreed also to destroy blue prints. They knew battleships had been put out of date by submarines and flying machines, and proceeded to build fast cruisers as rapidly as possible.

Instead of deceiving itself and talking childish nonsense, this country ought to make this country the most powerful for defense and attack in the world.

MERCHANTS BODY LAUNCHES DRIVE FOR NEW MEMBERS

Committees at Work Today Meeting With Success and Mem- bership May Be Doubled

In their desire and effort to increase the activities of the Greenville Merchants Association, the directors in their regular monthly meeting held in the secretary's office last night, voted to put on a drive for additional members, and to this end committees were at work today and will be tomorrow soliciting the various business houses of the city that are eligible to membership.

Since organization almost two years ago, the local association has embodied into its work as far as business permitted many features that are never undertaken except by a Chamber of Commerce. This of course was done because of the absence of a chamber, and the realization that some organization had to serve, although its activities were limited. With no funds on hand for this purpose the Merchants Association has served well, but inquiries of Greenville and Pitt have become so numerous and other avenues of service to the city and county are so continually presenting themselves it has become necessary and essential that some action be taken.

At a late hour today, the soliciting committee was meeting with very favorable results, and it is thought that the organization's membership will be doubled of what it is at present.

Now Being Sought
For Second Crime

Raleigh, March 16.—(AP)—No inquest into the death of the negro woman, whose decomposed body was found in Pardon Commissioner Hovle Sink's servant's house, was held today.

Coroner Warren deemed it unnecessary as indications, he said, pointed to a case of murder.

A warrant charging the death of the woman to her alleged husband, William Dorch, was issued today.

William Dorch, ex-convict who served 11 years of a 20 year sentence for slaying a negro woman in Richmond county in 1916, was last seen Saturday when he was porter of the Sink home here. He was being sought by city and county authorities today. Rewards will be offered for his arrest.

The body of the woman was found late yesterday by Mr. Sink in the negro man's room adjoining the house parson. The head had been crushed, the coroner believed, with some wooden instrument.

FEAR GOVERNMENT MAY GO BROKE, SO NEGROES STAGE RUN ON P. O.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Mar. 16.—(AP)—A long line of negroes staged a steady "run" on the postoffice here today, withdrawing their funds from the postal savings department, following reports circulated widely through the negro sections that "the government was going broke."

NEGRO WHO KILLED VELVERTON BOY GETS A NEW TRIAL

Absence of Judge From Courtroom When Verdict Returned Negro Gest New Chance to Escape Chair

Raleigh, March 16.—(AP)—Absence of Judge Stack from the courtroom when the jury brought in a verdict of guilty served today to give George Frank Bazemore, negro, a new chance to escape the electric chair.

The Supreme Court in one of sixteen opinions handed down ordered a new trial for the negro, who was convicted in Greene county last December of the murder of Gordon Yelverton, a young white man, and sentenced to die in the electric chair.

The court also found a slight discrepancy in the form of the report of the verdict.

Yelverton's body was found by the side of a Greene county road in November last year. He had left home with a load of tobacco to be sold in Farmville. The truck was missing. Three days later Bazemore was arrested and identified as a negro who sold Yelverton's tobacco.

NO BLACK BOTTOM IN HIS COURT

Judge Bars Dance When Counsel Asks to Present it as Evidence

Jackson, Miss., March 16.—(AP)—The Black Bottom was barred from the courtroom today in the trial of George E. Wintz, manager of the Music Box Revue, for alleged presentation of chorus girls on the stage of a local theatre improperly clad.

The action came from Judge Longina when attorneys for the defense sought his permission to introduce two chorus girls in the costumes in which they presented the dance which brought the action.

The attorneys for the State said that they would neither approve nor oppose such action, but Judge Longina said that he would not permit the presentation in court of any theatrical performance that had been charged with impropriety.

Await Relpy From Italy To Arms Meet Invitation

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—An expression from Italy on the American invitation to send "unofficial observers" to three power Geneva naval arms limitation conference is awaited in official circles.

The attitude the Italian government will take is desired in view of the new anticipated refusal by France to accept the suggestion to appoint such representatives, made only after both the Paris and Rome governments had declined to sit in with equal status at the conference table with Great Britain, Japan and the United States.

The second proposal, presented two days ago to the French and Italian foreign offices, at first received a somewhat favorable reception in French political circles, but after an extended meeting on yesterday, of the Poincare Cabinet, there were indications that France would decline.

A reply to the invitation, conveying a polite refusal, is expected to be submitted to the Poincare Cabinet Saturday for consideration.

The counter proposal by the American government that the

LUTHER HODGES ELECTED HEAD OF ROTARY DISTRICT

Greensboro Was Today Selected as Next Conference City of 57th District of Rotary

Wilmington, N. C., March 16.—(AP)—Luther Hodges of the Leaksville-Spray Club was elected district governor of the 57th district of Rotary Clubs today.

In July he will succeed S. Wade Marr of Raleigh. The district takes in part of North Carolina.

Greensboro was selected for the next conference city, subject to the approval of the executive committee of the district.

Model luncheons, presidents' and secretaries' breakfasts, addresses, communications, reports, elections and songs marked the closing day of the conference today.

Smiles broke through under the guidance of John A. Park, Raleigh publisher of the Raleigh Times, and songleader of the conference with the Rotary Smile song.

Paul Schenck, Greensboro, presided over the presidents' breakfast at the Y. W. C. A. while Frank Evans of Norfolk, Va., presided over the secretaries' breakfast.

The model luncheons were held by the Greensboro Club with President Eli Oettinger; Goldsboro, A. A. Joseph, president; Oxford, Charles O. Major, president; Clifton, Ferd B. Johnson, president.

Address on the "Romance of Rotary," Arthur Sapp, Huntington, Ind.; "Business Ethics," Frank Pass, president, Raleigh Club, "Outward Convention," Walter Cline, Wichita Falls, Texas; "Membership," Dr. Price, Howard Winer, Lancaster, Pa.; and "Friendship," P. W. Wingo, Andrews, president High Point Club, marked procedure.

Balloting for district governor, invocation by Dr. A. D. P. Gilmour, pastor First Presbyterian Church of Wilmington, reports of committee on registration, resolution, and special committees, and report of committee on registration, resolution, and special committees, and report of the elections committee and presentation of district governor nominee to succeed S. Wade Marr, Raleigh, governor of the district, next July for one year's term were the order.

Separate Trial To Be Called for Hearing Tomorrow

Smithfield, March 16.—(AP)—Trial of Robert Separk, Robert Stephenson, of Raleigh, and Evelyn Britt, Durham girl, on charges of murder in connection with the mysterious death last November of L. G. "Mighty" Forsythe, alleged Raleigh runner, will not begin before tomorrow.

Attorneys in the case were so advised this morning. The Johnston county Superior court, where the trial will be held, had another case ahead of the Forsythe case.

STABBED CONSUL WILL RECOVER

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Herdon Goforth, Consul at Sao Paulo, Brazil, who was stabbed by another American last week, has passed the danger point in his recovery, the State Department was advised today.

two nations participate "in some manner" has been made public by the State Department. The invitations, while similar in form and also in language in part, differed in that the objections raised by the two countries to the first plan were answered specifically.

The note to France stated that the American government felt that the conference would aid, rather than hinder the work of the League of Nations looking to disarmament, while the communication to Italy assured that country that the United States "has no preconceived ideas regarding definite ratio for the limitation of Italian tonnage."

Dispatches from Paris indicated that the Poincare Cabinet felt that discussion of French tonnage was bound to come up at the conference and should an "observer" be appointed, he would be placed in a difficult dilemma. If he were to keep strictly to his role, he would permit arguments against France's naval policy to go unanswered, while if he should attempt to present the position of the French naval staff he would cease to be an observer.

ARMY OFFICER KILLED BY HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER

Atlanta, March 16.—(AP)—Lieutenant Waldo S. Ickes, 35, of the United States Army, was killed today here, by an automobile as he was crossing in front of Peachtree Place. His body was found by an ambulance which had been summoned in response to a call from an unidentified person to Grady hospital. Police said that a woman in the neighborhood of the accident reported that she heard the automobile, a sedan, hit the army officer. She saw the machine stop about a hundred feet away and the driver went back. She told the police she heard the man who was driving the car exclaim, "Lord I have killed a man," and he then stepped on the gas and dashed away.

Ickes is survived by a widow. He was a native of Cullman, Ala., and was connected with the army finance section of the fourth corps area staff here.

RUM CHASERS GUARDING NORTH CAROLINA COAST

New Bern, March 16.—(AP)—The Pamlico unit, four government rum chasers, today plied the Carolina coast waters, engaged to prevent smuggling of whiskey into the mainland. The boats, said Captain C. Jensen, commanding the Pamlico, mother ship of the fleet of the coast guard cutters, will remain on duty until further orders. Every possible effort will be made to break up liquor traffic, he added. Federal prohibition agents are also engaged in this section in a crusade against rum runners and manufacturers.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR
 Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clean and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from a yagood druggist. Ad.

STORY OF NORTH CAROLINA'S "BUG FUNNEL" TO BE TOLD

Tale Of Rum-Running, Hi-Jacking, Blackmail And Death To Be Told In Johnston County Superior Court; Trial Begins Tomorrow.

Smithfield, March 16.—(AP)—The story of North Carolina's "Bug Funnel" was ready for unwinding today.

It is a story of rum-running, hi-jacking, black mail and death—a drama enacted at the front doorsteps of the thousands of citizens residing on the state's "Main Street" Highway Route 10 winding beyond the Blue Ridge to the shore.

Route 10, in rum running parlance, is the "Big Funnel." Down it from the mountains to the Piedmont is reputed to flow liquor made in the hills—up it from the eastern swamps to the mid-state cities is reputed to come down "Cawn" and "Home-made Rye" dispensed in city bootleg channels.

The story is enmeshed in the Forsythe trial, set for this week in Johnston county Superior court. It is a story fraught with mystery, a yarn pieced from the fragments, and there are missing fragments locked in the tongues of men who have not talked. Some say they dare not talk.

For months police officers have known of the whiskey traffic on Route 10. Many nights have they laid ambush for those swift rum cars, roaming through the night. Occasionally they captured one, and its contraband cargo went into the sewer and the youth at the wheel went to jail.

But the rum runners fought back and the ambushing police were left behind in smoke screens. Innocent motorists were injured in accidents in the impenetrable dusk in the wake of a fleeing rum car. An officer at Goldsboro was seriously injured.

Rum-running thrived, until, alleged participants said, competition became too keen. Then came hi-jacking. Hospital records in towns along the "Big Funnel" began to show entries for mysterious wounds. Tales of stolen rum cargoes became common. Prices of booze are reputed to have sunk to low levels.

Then the night of November 23 and the killing of "Mighty" Forsythe.

Was he the victim of accident as the three other occupants of the death car claim, did he die in a battle between rival bootleg gangs, or was he slain by accomplices in a quarrel over division of profits or a battle over a woman?

That is the question to be answered at the trial. Upon the answer rests the fate of Robert Separk, Raleigh, alleged driver of the car from which Forsythe's body was dumped out at a filling station near Raleigh; Robert Stephenson, Raleigh, admitted occupant of the death car, and Evelyn Britt, Durham, also in the car.

The trio is charged with murder. The case is docketed for the latter part of the week. Separk and Stephenson are in the county jail, but the Durham girl is free under $10,000 bond.

Separk was captured in a Sanford hospital after his sneezing car had been wrecked on the Durham road. He was badly injured. The girl was taken in Durham after admitting being in the car. Stephenson was captured several weeks later in South Hill, Va.

A physician who examined the body said Forsythe died from a blow on the head with a "blunt instrument." The occupants of the car claim he fell from atop a load of liquor in the rear seat of the car and was killed by striking the pavement or a fire hydrant.

Stage All Set For Exposition In Rocky Mount

Eastern Carolinians have a real treat in store for them the week of April 4th to 8th, this year, when the Fifth Annual Eastern Carolina Exposition will be held at Rocky Mount. This Exposition is an annual affair and is held under the auspices of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, Inc., which has offices in Kinston and Ahoskie. The Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce will be five years old April 10th this year, and the records of the last five years will warrant a continuation of the good work which this organization is doing for Eastern North Carolina.

The Exposition was planned and is being carried out each year as a culmination of the year's activities when all the Eastern Carolina folks can come together and take part in an event that every red blooded Eastern Carolinian is a part of. The program that has been arranged this year surpasses any previous program, although there has been great celebrities brought to Eastern North Carolina for these annual events. The headliner for this occasion is Martinelli, the world's greatest tenor and as a matter of fact, according to the critics is the only possible successor to Caruso, the greatest tenor that the world has ever known. As a companion to him, Luella Melius, who will appear on Tuesday night is the highest paid woman celebrity that the Exposition has ever had, and this is going a long way, because some of the distinguished celebrities of New York have been had on the program during the last several years. These two attractions will be worth the price of the entire week, but they are not all by any means that will be there for the people of Eastern North Carolina to see.

Knowing that the masses like a variety of entertainment, the Exposition management has booked in addition to these two celebrities, for the entire week, a combination of attractions including the Sheldons, sensational acrobatic actors; Ed Harrity, the world's most novelty dancer and black face comedian; Manning, Peterson and Kennedy, three entertaining gentlemen, with songs, novelties and specialties; Wiedemeyer's famous ten piece orchestra for the entire week; little Roberta Wynne, the world's youngest acrobatic performer, Wednesday afternoon and night; Sir Frederick McGill, the peer of all English humorists, will make the annual address to the members of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce Thursday at 12:30 and again at the Exposition at 8:30 p. m.

This is to be by far the best balanced program ever brought to any previous exposition and it goes without saying that the public will be there.

Mystery Surrounding Series Daring Holdups Cleared Up Today

Pittsburgh, March 15.—(AP)—Three sensational payroll holdups in this district, including the bombing of an armored automobile last week, when a bandit gang escaped with $104,000, were cleared up this afternoon, District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner said, when he made public a confession by Joe Jaworski.

After leading county detectives to a farm near Bentleyville, last night, where the officers recovered $30,000 of the loot from the armored car, Jaworski today was crossexamined by District Attorney and George Murren, chief of county detectives. According to officers the suspect said he was willing to talk.

When Gardner came from the room where he talked with Jaworski, he said the man had confessed that the bandit gang of five members, was responsible for the

LEGION TO STAGE INDOOR CIRCUS

Local Post American Legion Will Sponsor Week of Fun Here Beginning April 18.

An indoor circus will be staged here during the week of April 18, under the auspices of Pitt County Post American Legion as a result of action taken at last night's regular monthly meeting of the post held at the Rotary building. The meeting was well attended and the members were enthusiastic over the reports of the success of the recent indoor circus and carnival staged by the Wilson Post of the Legion. Representatives from the Raleigh and Wilson posts were included among the guests at last night's meeting.

Among other business last night was a report from the November 11th committee to the effect that Col. William Mitchell, former head of the U. S. Air Service, had declined an invitation to deliver the Armistice Day address here because of other engagements. The post accepted the report with regret and advised the committee to continue its efforts to procure a suitable speaker for the occasion.

Reports from the membership committee revealed that the post is enjoying a gradual growth in membership and efforts are being made to make this year a record year in the growth of the local post.

Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company holdup Friday, and that during the past four years the same gang staged two Christmas payroll robberies, getting away with a total of $69,000. In one of these holdups a guard was killed.

Carolina Mills Buying Cotton Outside State

Raleigh, March 16.—(AP)—Many North Carolina mills using staple cotton are buying it from Georgia and northern Texas, today, instead of North Carolina, George Ross, chief of the market division of the State Department of Agriculture said today.

Warehouse figures reveal that 57 per cent of staple is 7-8 to 15-16 inches long; 23 per cent from 15-16 to one inch; 16 per cent one inch; and the remaining one and a sixteenth inch long.

There was a material increase of staples grown in this state the past season, Mr. Ross said. In his opinion, this is North Carolina's solution to the cotton problem.

Market Report

COTTON OPENING

New York, March 16.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, March 13.71; May 13.84; July 14.01; October 14.18; December 14.33.

The cotton market opened steady today at unchanged prices for an advance of 4 points. May sells up to 13.85 and October to 14.18 on renewal of yesterday's covering movement. There also may have been a little buying on reports of no weakening of the spot market in the south.

Liverpool cables were higher but did not fully meet yesterday's advance here, while there was some southern selling, as well as realizing by buyers of yesterday morning which supplied the early demand and eased prices off two or three points.

Business was comparatively quiet during the first hour. Trading was later quiet, but prices held steadier on covering and some trade buying of new crop positions. May sold up to 13.92 and October to 14.22, making net advances of 7 to 12 points on the active positions. There was a little more cotton for sale at these figures but the market was steady and within a point or two of the best.

LIVERPOOL COTTON

Liverpool, March 16.—(AP)—Cotton spot fair demand; prices steady. American good middling 8.53; good middling 8.18; strict middling 7.83; middling 7.58; strict low middling 7.05; low middle 6.58; strict good ordinary 6.28; good ordinary 5.83; sales 5,000 bales, including 6,200 American. Receipts 13,000, American 100. Futures closed steady; March 7.25; May 7.38; July 7.50; October 7.57; December 7.61; January 7.63.

CHICAGO POTATOES

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—Potatoes receipts 95 cars, on track 22; total U. S. shipments 671; demand and trading very slow, market slightly weaker; Wisconsin sacked round whites 1.85 to 2.00; mostly 1.95 to 1.95; Idaho sacked russets 2.65 to 2.85; mostly 2.75 to 2.80.

CASH GRAIN

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—Cash wheat No. 2 red 1.34; corn No. 4 mixed 63 to 70.14; No. 4 white 63.12 to 66; oats No. 2 white 48 to 48.34; No. 1 white 42.14 to 44.12; rye not quoted; barley 63 to 81; timothy seed 4.75 to 5.25; clover seed 31.50 to 35.75.

COTTON

New York, March 16.—(AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today but prices showed a steady undertone on further covering by recent sellers and a moderate trade demand accompanied by reports of a steady spot situation in the south. May sold up to 13.92 and was holding around 13.89 during the mid-afternoon, the general market showing net advances of 4 to 8 points. Spot quiet; middling 14.10.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 16.—(AP)—The stock market displayed another

complete reversal of form today, selling off sharply during the morning and then rallying briskly in the afternoon. The late buying was inspired by the lowering of the call money rate to 3 1/2 per cent, the lowest figure since last June, and the publication of the weekly steel trade reviews calling attention to expanding mill operations and stiffening price tendencies.

GRAIN

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—Wheat and corn tended upward most of the time today helped by indications of decreasing receipts and by a 2,113,000 bushel drop in the world's available wheat supply. Speculative offerings of wheat was light and export purchasing of North American wheat was of fairly good volume.

WHITE'S THEATRE

MATINEE AND NIGHT
FRIDAY
MAR. 25
Mat. 3:30; Night 8:30

In order that the theatre goes of Greenville may know the details regarding this $4,000,000 picture epic, we are printing this column of FACTS:

The novel, Ben Hur written by General Lew Wallace in 1880, has been a best seller for forty-five years.

Translated into ten different languages and was first novel to be translated into Arabic.

Dramatized and first produced November 29th, 1899 by A. L. Erlander, the famous theatrical producer.

Played largest cities for twenty-two consecutive years.

Screen version has been three years in the making.

One year and a half spent in Rome on historical sites and another year and a half filming scenes at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, Culver City, California.

Film premier December 30th, 1925, at the George M. Cohan Theatre, New York, and then shown for over a year at the Embassy Theatre, now 16 companies playing principal cities in United States and Europe.

150,000 people employed in picture—100,000 in the Antioch Chariot race alone.

One hundred ships built and launched for the sea fights between the Roman and pirate navies.

Jerusalem restored for important sequences in story—Procession in Roman Power—Triumph of Armin—Grove of Palms—The Court of Pilate.

Reverent picturization of history's mightiest events.

1,500,000 feet of negative exposed and 850,000 feet of positive printed.

Forty cameras were used to film the scenes in the arena, which is 1,500 feet long. This was the big set set ever erected on any studio "lot" in the history of filmdom.

BEN HUR is a picture of superlatives—a picture for big words and bold words, extravagant words and words with meaning, words with some power to convey on paper the immensity of the whole thing—the dash of the chariot races; the poignancy of the love story; the eloquence of the outstretched hands of Jesus of Nazareth; the gentleness of the strong, virile and dashing "Ben Hur"; the majestic beauty of the Three Wise Men. These are the things and many more which make "BEN HUR" a piece of fiction which has its basis in truth; its theme in religion and its plot filled with a sequence of dramatic incidents such as no story before or after has equaled. In all frankness and honesty it can be announced as the finest film ever made, the finest in the sense that it will reach the greatest audience, Catholic, Jew, Methodist, Episcopalian, Syrian, Quaker, Agnostic, Atheist—all will flock to this super-film.

For some of it will be a religious pilgrimage; for others it will be a magnificent spectacle, for others it will be an exhibition of the magic of picturization.

Bewildered eyes will blink as scene upon impressive scene is flashed before them—the gleam of thousands of helmets in the market place; camels bearing the three wise men over the moonlit desert; galley slaves chained and perspiring; warriors leaning from cripplingly triremes into a sea already black with human bodies; Roman maidens showering petals upon a famous athlete; the tent of the Sheik Ideria, shimmering with costliness; the beauty of the technical presentations; the crumbling of the Hall of Justice onto miling thousands of loose-robe figures below and the outcast lepers in the Vale of Hinnom. To record them all would be like to count the grains inside a pile of sand, but of all the scenes—the most vivid and intense, the most ambitious and electrifying is the Chariot Race of Antioch which will go down in motion picture history as one of its most remarkable achievements.

The cast is a faultless one—headed by Ramon Navarro in the title role; Francis X. Bushman as his rival Messala; May McAvoy as Esther; Carmel Myers as the siren; Kathleen Key as Tirzah; Betty Bronson as the Madonna; Nigel de Bruiler as Simonides; Mitchell Lewis as the Sheik Ideria; Claire McDowell as the Mother of Hur, and many others equally prominent.

Do not miss "BEN HUR"—It is the BIGGEST SHOW IN THE WHOLE WIDE WORLD. It is mighty—you must see it. You will never forget it. It is truly the modern miracle film.

ORIGINAL REXALL

March 17th, 18th and 19th

ONE CENT SALE

What a REXALL One Cent Sale Is

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price, then another item of the same kind for one cent. As an illustration: The standard price of Klenszo Dental Creme is 50c, you can buy a tube at this price and by paying one cent more, or 51 cents, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as is sold every day at the regular price.

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co., as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1 cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, knowing the goods will please you.
