NINETEEN PERSONS ARE KNOWN TO HAVE DIED AS RESULT OF FLOODS

Thousands of Acres in Middle West Flooded When Rivers Go on Rampage Following Cloud-bursts

Kansas City, April 9.—(AP)—With 19 known dead in Kansas and Oklahoma and thousands of acres of valuable land inundated, new flood warnings were broadcasted today as streams rose to record marks following cloudburst that crippled traffic and communications throughout a large area.

Most railroads in southeastern Kansas and northern Oklahoma were forced to reroute trains following three derailments yesterday in which three persons perished and more than a score were injured.

Fourteen Mexicans drowned near Rockford, Ok., when the Ouachita river rose several feet in a few hours. This brought the Oklahoma dead to 16, while hundreds of head of livestock drowned when farmers were forced to flee.

E. I. Phillips, engineer, Dave Ball, fireman and an unidentified man drowned yesterday when a north bound passenger train plunged into a washout near St. Paul. The engine and ten cars toppled into a ditch. Fifteen passengers were injured. The south bound section of this train also struck a washout near St. Paul and several passengers were slight injured.

A special train carrying marines from eastern points to San Diego for duty in China narrowly averted being derailed when an unidentified man notified the station agent of a washout near Walnut Kansas, early yesterday. A red train derailed the train on the edge of a raging creek that had undermined the track.

A Missouri Pacific train struck a washout near Enelevale, Kansas fourteen cars being derailed but no one was reported injured.

The Arkansas, Verdigris and Neosho rivers, poured most of the water across the Kansas-Oklahoma border.

Whistles were sounded at Arkansas City, Kansas, at midnight, warning farmers to leave lowlands flowing a rapid rise of the Arkansas and Walnut rivers.

Columbus, Ky., April 9.—(AP)—Flare touches beneath a sultry gray sky early today illuminating point of exhaustion to hold back the flood which had reached a level with the top of the levee's lowest point.

A part of the dike broke away last night sloughing into the turbid river directly in front of the town so that each wave, lapping against the bulwark, drove a slow trickle across its barriers. Should a moderate wind spring up, should hundreds of sand filled sacks be thrown into place, it is feared that the water will crash through to submerge the town to a depth of six feet.

Early reports from other levees along the twisting length of the Mississippi indicate no immediate danger. Families who ever were steadily moving their possessions to higher ground. Engineers supervised the placing of thousands of emergency sandbags to strengthen threatened weaknesses.

In addition to raising and reinforcing the levees, a natural highway has been established between New Orleans and the Gulf of Mexico. The high water of 1922 created a crevasse in the levees below New Orleans and flooded thousands of acres at that time. The present rise is expected to come within a few inches of the 1922 mark.

Between Natchez and Baton Rouge the Red Cross is preparing to move 500 persons to a refuge camp to be established at Fort Adams.

A large portion of the southern section of Concordia parish much of Catahoula parish and part of Franklin parish, Louisiana, will shortly be flooded by the Mississippi backing up into the black, Ouachita, Tennessee and Little rivers. Three deaths have been reported as a result of the floods. These occurred near Ridgeley, Tenn., where three children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pressley were drowned when a skiff overturned yesterday.

DEATH SENTENCE IS METED OUT TO TWO MURDERERS

Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti Lose Long Fight to Save Their Lives

Durham, Mass., April 9.—(AP)—Sentence to death in the electric chair in the week of July 19, was imposed today upon Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, whose fight for a new trial after their conviction for murder in the first degree in 1921 has aroused interest in many countries. Judge Webster Thayer of Superior Court who presided at their trial pronounced the sentence.

Boston, April 9.—(AP)—Plea of insanity from three countries were before Governor Fuller today—the day for pronouncement of the death sentence on Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti. Socialists convicted of murdering a paymaster and his guard in a hold-up.

Through six years of bitterly contested litigation and world-wide protest the two admitted radicals have sought to escape the sentence. In the peaceful town of Durham, where in 1921 a jury found both men guilty of murder in the first degree, extreme precautions were taken to protect the Norfolk County courthouse where Judge Webster Thayer tried justice, was obligated to send Sacco and Vanzetti to the electric chair in State prison.

More than a hundred policemen were assigned to the building in addition to those already guarding members of the State Supreme Court which earlier in the week refused a new trial. Authorities, although disclaiming fear of disturbance, were determined that by no possible chance should there be any repetition in this State of violent demonstrations which on four continents have marked the progress of the trial and subsequent appeals.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller today was studying cables protests from England, Switzerland and Germany, while at Buenos Aires the second day of a 48 hour strike called by the Regional Federation of Labor had tied up port operations caused a shortage of bread and put taxicabs out of running.

Paris, April 9.—(AP)—An appeal for pardon in behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti has been sent to the Washington government under the signatures of Fomer Premier Callaux, Mme. Duran, president of the International League for the Rights of Man, and Leon Jouhaux, secretary of the labor federation.

A protest meeting last night organized by Paris communists was attended by about two thousand persons, but there were no prominent speakers and the proceedings passed without incident. A similar meeting was held at Havre.

Chicago, April 9.—(AP)—Fifteen masked and armed men held up four employees of the Illinois Watch Case Company plant at Elgin, Ill., early today, ransacked the vault and carried off safes, and escaped in four automobiles with gold the value of which was estimated at $15,000.

The men were in the plant for three hours entering at midnight. An engineer, fireman and two watchmen were on duty. The engineer, fireman and one watchman were bound and gagged and tossed inside the vault.

The other watchman was forced at the point of a revolver to make the rounds of the large factory and pull the boxes which are rung hourly and which register at the police station.

Residues having machine guns, revolvers and rifles, the robbers carried acetylene torches and complete equipment for vault breaking. After the robbers had fled in their four motor cars one of the men in the vault escaped and notified the police.

More than two hours passed before the acetylene torches of the safe robbers ate through the inner doors of the vault. Gene Edelstein, an official of the company was unable to give an accurate estimate of the amount obtained by the robbers.

After the robbers had roared away toward Chicago in their automobiles, one of the watchmen succeeded in freeing himself and called the Elgin police. Two hours later a speeding automobile containing three men was challenged by police of Melrose, a Chicago suburb, who fired a score of shots when the driver increased his speed and outdistanced pursuit. The plant of the Illinois Watch Case Company covers nearly two city blocks.

Story Of Romance Behind Visit Of Prime Minister To The United States

Southampton, England, April 9.—(AP)—Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's only Labor Prime Minister sailed for the United States on the Aquitania at noon today. With his daughter, Isabel, he is to visit New York, Washington and other Eastern cities, leaving for home about April 27.

He said he would try to forget British politics during the trip which is in the nature of a vacation.

By FRANK H. KING

London, April 9.—(AP)—Behind the prosaic news that Ramsay MacDonald, one time British Premier, is sailing for the United States to lay aboard the steamship Aquitania, lies a love story which turns his voyage into a pilgrimage to the land he visited 30 years ago during the days of his greatest happiness.

Since then honors of state have been heaped upon him. From the glory of the World War period when he was reviled as a traitor to the worst hated man in all Britain, MacDonald re-entered public life, became Prime Minister, a confidant of King George V and one of the most powerful men of post war Europe.

But through it all he has been a lonely figure for one person above all others with whom those dull, romantic Scotsmen would have loved to share his honors passed from his presence fifteen years ago, but not from his life. Two rings that he wears on his left hand are the symbol of the lasting dedication of his devotion to a woman's memory.

It was a wedding trip that first took the MacDonalds to the U. S. and it was a hostess in that country who gave such perfect courtesy to Mr. MacDonald and his bride that he has never forgotten it. It is to accept an invitation from that hostess of many years ago that Ramsay MacDonald is crossing the Atlantic again, this time a widower and with his daughter, Isabel, to renew old memories.

Mr. MacDonald's love story is as romantic as his rise to political power from the poverty and obscurity of a bleak Scottish fishing village, Lossiemouth. As a young youth he came to London, toiled and studied unceasingly and then entered politics.

It was during his first parliamentary battle in Southampton in 1895 that he received a contribution to his campaign fund from a stranger who signed an accompanying letter, "M. E. Gladstone." Soon the young candidate learned that "M. E." stood for Margaret Ethel, the daughter of a distinguished chemist and a niece of the famous Lord Kelvin. A swift courtship followed and the couple were married a November, 1896.

Mrs. MacDonald plunged into the labor movement and became a noted hostess and social worker. He traveled up and down the country with her husband always in the closest companionship with his hopes and ideals. They traveled the United States, Canada and other countries and it was in the United States that they met the lady who again is to be Mr. MacDonald's hostess. He has refused to reveal the name of the lady, but she is a woman of the highest type. There would be no suggestion of "traffic" in any way, but she is a woman of the highest type. There would be no suggestion of "traffic" in any way, but she is a woman of the highest type.

After 15 years of companionship, Mrs. MacDonald died, a victim of blood poisoning. The future Prime Minister, with five children gathered around him, penned a memoir which is a heart-searching tribute to the woman he loved.

"To turn to her in stress and sorrow was like going into a sheltered haven and smiling up at the face of heaven," he wrote "weary and worn buffeted and discouraged, I would flee to her and my lady would heal and soothe me with her cheery faith and steady conviction and send me forth to smile and be smitten."

One of the finest groups of statues in London is a memorial to Mrs. MacDonald, as a woman and a social worker. It stands in Lincoln Inn Fields in the heart of London. Its feature is a row of laughing children at play.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad will present to its stockholders, a handsome million, $92,000,000 (ninety two million) cash. It is a good million, due largely to good management. Many farmers wish somebody would present some such million to them. Perhaps President Coolidge will think out something almost as good between now and fall. He certainly would like to do it.

There is much prosperity in this country and fortunately for us, it is not based on "natural resources"—oil, iron, coal, forests, good soil, etc. Most of it comes from inside the national skull. Sir Ernest Benn observes that prosperity is in many cases, five percent national resources, ninety five percent work, intelligent organization. If national resources alone counted, "Brazil, Liberia and Iceland would be the world's most prosperous countries."

Our automobile, typewriters, elevators, radio instruments and other things in which we lead are ninety-five per cent brains and mechanical skill. Sir Ernest says "Britain should introduce into this country a small percentage of American mentality and mix it with all the charm of the English point of view." "Not a bad idea but why a small percentage?" help your self. Another good Britisher, Sir George Palsh, "economist and publisher" calls on President Coolidge to tell him that he really must, and so must Uncle Sam, do something about changing our tariff. In fact he "warns Coolidge that Europe faces a serious situation because European countries cannot trade in this country as freely as they would like to."

That is too bad and it will interest the President. Also it will make him glad that the United States has a tariff. He likes Europe and would make reasonable concessions, but unlike some others he hasn't forgotten that he is hired and paid by the United States, not by Europe.

KIWANIS CLUB DISCUSSES NEW RIVER BRIDGE

Mr. K. Blount Tells Club of Taking Over of Cox's Mill Road by the State

"I am one hundred per cent in favor of the proposed new river bridge being placed at the end of Evans Street," W. E. Hooker told members of the Kiwanis Club here last night.

The declaration came after President W. H. Woodard had called on members of the club to take some definite action regarding the location of the new bridge. After considerable discussion, however, the matter was referred to the public affairs committee.

Mr. Hooker enumerated a number of reasons why the bridge should be placed at the end of Evans Street. He said it would be a business district and also give them a chance of forming some opinion regarding the proposed location of the bridge. There would be no suggestion of "traffic" in any way, but she is a woman of the highest type.

A white way down Evans Street across the river bridge would produce a wonderful effect, he declared and this beautification project alone should bring about support of Evans Street location.

M. K. Blount, first speaker of the evening, told of action of the State Highway Commission in agreeing to take over the Cox's Mill road. He said members of the commission also told the Pitt County delegation that they would carefully consider the proposed extension of Highway No. 11 to connect with highway out of Scotland Neck, and also the extension of the Greenville and Falkland, west of Falkland, to connect with the highway now being built from Tarboro to Snow Hill via Pinetops, Papatina and Tarboro.

He enumerated the number of advantages to be derived from taking over the Cox's Mill road, declaring that it would shorten the distance to the coast from North and Northwest of Greenville at least ten or fifteen miles.

The meeting last night was well attended despite the inclemency of the weather. Bill Bradsher had provided a program that caused everyone to forget the leaden skies and chilling weather outside. One of the outstanding features of the program was vocal and instrumental numbers rendered by C. B. Rowlett, Spruill Spain, J. H. James and Vick Forest. Mrs. Settle acted as instrumental accompanist.

President Woodard told of a plan of the Woman's Club to arrange a debate between members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. It was suggested that each club provide three speakers, and that the occasion be made an important one. Considerable discussion greeted the announcement, but no definite decision was reached. The matter was referred to the next meeting of the board of directors.

The visitors of the evening were: Mrs. Settle, Spruill Spain, J. H. James, Vick Forest and H. B. Utley.

Investigate Death Gastonia Youth

Gastonia, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—The coroner's inquest into the death of young Ransauer of Shelby whose body was found dead by the roadside early Friday morning, will not be held until next Tuesday, as the body was found today. No arrests have been made and it is generally accepted opinion that it was a case of suicide.

Ransauer, a 19-year-old insurance salesman, formerly was a student at Duke University. His mother, Mrs. Jessie Ransauer, is a member of the faculty of the local schools. The body was found by negroes going to work. Shelby was a pilot with one nearly discharged and on the body was found a note to Miss Evelyn Scheider of York, S. C., a young school teacher here.

Although many here held the suicide theory the coroner's jury which was impaneled yesterday decided to wait until Monday at the earliest before it rendered a final decision as there were some who held that it was possible a murder had been committed. For this reason further investigation was decided upon.

Of 280,000 union operatives in the textile industry in Germany more than 250,000 are employed at present.

MINISTERS OF POWERS DISCUSS PLAN PRESENT DEMANDS TO CHINESE

Foreigners Continue Flight From Battle Areas. More American Marines Being Sent to Duty in China

Peking, April 9.—(AP)—The American, British, French, Italian and Japanese ministers held a meeting here this morning. It is believed that they discussed the making of demands by the five powers on the Peking government regarding the Nanking affair.

Paris, April 9.—(AP)—Confirmation of yesterday's announcement that a concerted protest will be made by five powers to the Peking government against anti-foreign activities in China was given today by the semi-official Havas Agency. The agency issued the following communique:

"The five governments of France, Great Britain, U. S. and Italy and Japan, are in accord on the necessity for demands of reparation for the murders and pillage at Nanking.

"The Peking ministers of the five powers have received instructions in conformity and an accord will be manifested shortly under the form of a demarche (representation) and a joint note. The five ministers in Peking will proceed to the formulation of definite notification.

"It is not yet known whether demarches also will be made at Shanghai or Hankow."

Peking, April 9.—(AP)—Groups of Americans continue to leave Peking in view of the expected Cantonese advance on the capital. Many British subjects are passing through Peking toward Tientsin from Shanxi and Honan provinces.

The Japanese have evacuated Changsha, in Hunan.

Canton, April 9.—(AP)—One hundred French troops have arrived at Shamen. A protest demonstration has been planned to take place at Shamen on April 12, when the authorities expect an attack will be made there by Chinese Nationalists.

Missionaries and other foreigners are gradually evacuating their posts in the interior and are returning to Shamen under the protection of three French, five British and one Japanese gunboats. In addition to hundred British troops with attendant artillery have been stationed within the walls of Shamen.

Washington, April 9.—(AP)—The detachment of United States Marines, requested by Admiral Williams, commander of American Naval forces in Chinese waters, to be held in readiness for a possible emergency has been ordered across the Pacific.

While official comment on this decision of the Washington government was not forthcoming, the move is believed to be a precautionary one.

The detachment, consisting of the third regiment of 1500 men, is now en route to San Diego and is expected to sail shortly after arrival there. The transport Henderson will have a similar force of marines sailed from that port two weeks ago.

Inability of either the army or navy to provide quick transportation for the third detachment in the event of a hurried call from Admiral Williams is thought to have prompted the decision to send the force by commercial ships into Asiatic waters at once. Its exact destination is not yet known. Some of the marines may be used to strengthen the Shanghai defense while others might be dispatched to the North toward the Peking area.

With its arrival overseas, Admiral Williams will have a standing force of nearly 7,000 men at his command, upwards of 2,000 marines already are at Shanghai under command of Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler, 1,500 more are aboard the Henderson and about half of the Minijackets aboard the warrent could be landed in an emergency.

While official reports told of no new disquieting developments they have reflected a growing menace of anti-foreign agitation at Hankow, present center of Cantonese activities in the Yangtze River Valley. Rear Admiral Hough, American Naval commander at that city, reported that the Nationalist authorities apparently were making no effort to "check the increasing lawlessness, and that he was using all possible pressure to induce American to leave Hankow and proceed to Shanghai.

PROHIBITION MAY BE BIG ISSUE FOR THE REPUBLICANS

Borah and Butler in Debate Last Night Intimated They Would Encourage Issues

Boston, April 9.—(AP)—Prohibition loomed today as a possible big issue for the Republican national convention next year. Debating the question last night, both Senator Borah of Idaho and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, set the stage for their views on the convention.

As Senator Borah put it: "I agree with Dr. Butler. The light is on. It will be presented to the American people in the campaign of 1928."

Some 3,000 persons who crowded Symphony Hall and uncared thousands of others who listened by radio were divided as to who won the debate. There was no official decision but the Boston Herald, Republican appointed nine Republicans of State prominence as unofficial judges. Their vote was 6 to 3 in favor of the Senator.

The Herald is announcing its list of judges said: "The Herald carefully refrained from asking their opinions on the question."

It added that it was assumed one of them, President March of University, "is a firm believer in prohibition" and that another, William H. Coolidge, Boston lawyer, "has been a consistent critic of prohibition" and continued:

"As to the others the Herald can not state with any definiteness that they are wet or dry."

The Herald's judges were: George W. Coleman, president of the Babson statistical organization; William H. Coolidge, financier, nominated to the President; Frank S. Tehard, corporation counsel for the city of Boston; Carl Dreyfus, Boston merchant; Frank B. Hall, attorney, former chairman of the Republican State Committee; Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University; Arthur P. Stone, judge of the Cambridge District Court; P. Mark Sullivan, lawyer, and Benjamin Loring Young, speaker of the State House of Representatives.

The debate was sponsored by the Progressive-Republican organization, the Roosevelt Club, Inc., and continued, even though the political issue may not have been, by the presence on the platform of the chairman of the Republican national committee, William M. Butler.

New Marvel

D. D. Knowles, twenty-eight, New Yorker, is the inventor of a small tube, insignificant in appearance, which is called the most sensitive device ever invented. When properly connected up, the device could stop a railroad train if a dewdrop should fall on the wires, or it would manoeuvre a battleship when a shadow falls on it, or it could turn on the lights of a big city when a hand is held close to it. The tube amplifies current sent through it 100,000,000 times. Knowles is shown.

Fifteen Armed Men Hold Employees and Get Away With $15,000 in Gold

Donald Bigelow, chief of the passport division of the American Consulate General in Paris, must stand trial for alleged defamation of Princess Zuzanov (above), who asks 500,000 franc damages. Bigelow claimed diplomatic immunity, but Paris courts ruled that he spoke as a private individual in the newspaper interview upon which the Princess bases her suit. In the Bigelow interview Bigelow is quoted regarding the refusal of the Consulate to issue a passport to the Princess.

AIN'T NO PLACE LIKE HAME SAYS PRODIGAL YOUTH

Greenville Young Man Doesn't Find Tennessee as Attractive as Home Town

"There ain't no place like home especially when Greenville happens to be home" is the opinion of Linwood Brewer, Greenville young man who left home a few days ago for Tennessee, got dead broke, wired Dad for funds, and then returned home as home as fast as a 20th century limited could bring him.

The young man not only is convinced that Greenville is the garden spot of the world, but is also of the opinion that it will require something more than a terrific attack of wanderlust to get him to leave home again. He didn't remain in Tennessee but ten days, but that was long enough to convince him that jobs are hard to get and that money doesn't grow on trees. These two facts were discovered almost simultaneously. And they were presented in such forceful way that the prodigal went to telegraph office and wired Dad to "kick in" before he "kicked out."

Having a full understanding of the situation, the Greenville fathers, too, had in this case wired the required sum of money.

ey and advised the disillusioned youth "to come home to mother."

It is a considerable distance from Greenville to Tennessee, but young Brewer covered the territory as fast as the fastest train could bring him. When he landed here he looked the same, but those coming in contact with him from day to day at his station behind Chas. Horne soda fountain are certain that he views life from a more philosophical standpoint.

And all agree with him in declaring, "Greenville is the Garden spot of the World."

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT
THE GREAT COMPARI-SON
 St. John 15-9: "As the father hath loved me, so have I loved you!"

That their blessed Lord loved them was one thing which the disciples never doubted. It was the crowning glory of their lives. There are people who always find it easy to believe that others love them. They accept love, as the flowers accept the sunshine, in an entirely natural and happy way. But there are some who find it very hard just to be certain that other people love them, and one or two of the disciples were like that.

Our Lord had to deal with very various temperment in that extraordinary little company. Some were responsive and receptive, others, like Thomas, wanted proof of things. And yet there was one thing they never doubted through all the change and chequering of the years, and that was that their Master loved them. The fact was evident to every heart, and yet behind the fact they felt a mystery.

There was something different in the love of Jesus from all the human love that they had known. No love of life, nor of any precious child, nor of friend, nor of father, nor of mother, fully interpreted the Master's love.

It did what these had never done. It demanded what these had never asked. It spoke sometimes with an unearthly accent quite alien from that of human love. They were baffled occasionally, and perplexed, so profoundly new was the experience that came to them in the love of the Lord Jesus.

It was then that Jesus made the "great comparison" that threw such a vivid light on everything. "As the Father hath loved Me, so have I loved you." And long afterwards, when hours of darkness came, and they were tempted to wonder if He loved them still, what comfort must these words have brought to them.

They thought, for instance how the Father's love for Christ inspired Him for the service of mankind. It was the Father's love which sent Him into the world "not to be ministered unto, but to minister, (serve)".

Human love is often prone to selfishness. It wants to grasp the dear one and to keep him. It shrinks from the thought of charging the beloved one with any embassy the end of which is death. The reluctance and

and the Worst is Yet to Come agony of mothers and sweet hearts to let their loved ones go forth to war is an example and proof of this. Yet on such an embassy, whose issue was a Cross, God sent not any angle, but His Son—and the Son was certain that the Father loved Him. Back of all His life on earth, inspiring all His service for mankind, was His profound conviction of His Father's love and then, on that last night of earthly fellowship, He turned to His disciples with the words "As the Father hath loved Me, so have I loved you".

How these words would come back to them again as they started out to evangelize the world! It was love that had given them their work to do, no matter how different or perilous. His is more a love that gives us ease, any more than the love of the Father gave Him ease. It sends us out, morning after morning, to a service which may be only a drudgery. But the certainty of his love behind it all illumines duty, warms its chilly hands, and brings a song into the heart. "As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you"

They would recall again how the Father's love for Christ did not exempt Him from suffering. He the well beloved Son was a man of sorrow and acquainted with grief we all try to shield our loved ones from the sting of pain, and nothing is more bitter to us than to see our loved ones in agony while we stand helplessly by unable to relieve it. The Omnipotent Father with a single word could have put an end to the suffering of his Son. He loved his Son and did not do it! He was loved, and yet He suffered sorely. He was loved and yet His face was marred. He was loved with an everlasting love, and yet all the billows of mortal life went over Him. The disciples when afterwards they were stoned, shipwrecked, persecuted, tortured, and when perhaps they doubted that their master still loved them must have been cheered and strengthened as they remembered His "As" and His "So" when clear as a silver bell these words would fall upon their ears again! "As the Father hath loved Me, so have I loved you"

All God's children must remember that when they

 Quite a number of our folks are sick and are in Rocky Mount Sanatorium. Miss Mabel Barnhill, our lady druggist, is now recovering from an operation. Mr. Morris, a former townsman, now of Robertsonville, is very sick; has had an operation for appendicitis. I hear that his condition was very critical, but hope for him a speedy recovery.
 Our school superintendent, Prof. Page has been sick for several days with "flu." Fernandico Gilissen is recovering from a recent operation. The storm did not hit Bethel last week but in the country not far from Bethel, Mrs. Hans Puroit's packhouse, and nearly all of his outbuildings were blown down.

After an interesting discussion on ways to make money, and other duties of the circle, refreshments were served, which every one enjoyed. We will meet the first Monday in May with Mrs. Ernest Page. Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. Caroline and Lillian Blount at the home of Mrs. W. O. Daniels. They reported a real good meeting.

SICK HEADACHE
No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady, to Go Places, Till She Took Black-Draught Which Brought Relief.
 Langsville, Ohio.—"For years and years I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place. "It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go."
 "About 15 years ago I discovered that Black-Draught was good for these headaches. I began using it. I would take it two or three nights in succession if I felt the least bad, and it sure did wonders for me. It is about 14 years since I had sick headaches, and I can go places and really enjoy life. It surely is splendid."
 Headache often is a symptom of constipation. The best relief is secured by treating the cause of the trouble and in such a case many people have been greatly helped by the use of Theford's Black-Draught.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Sustained strength and activity of the railroad shares the general average of which was elevated to the highest level since 1908 overshadowed all other developments in this week's erratic stock market. High grade industrials also displayed a strong underflow, with U. S. Steel common, General Motors, American Telephone and Dupont all reaching new high ground but acute weakness developed in a number of specialties, particularly those in which the trade outlook is poor.

Continuance of record-breaking freight traffic, high current earnings and unconfirmed rumors of special dividend distributions accompanied the rise in the railroad shares. The advertised interstate commerce decision in the St. Louis and O'Fallon case was quickly forgotten and neither was any attention paid to predictions that recent wage increases would cut heavily into the net earnings of some roads. Although applications for higher rates are meeting with strenuous opposition, hope is still held out that an upward revision will be ordered in some tariffs.

The investment demand for stocks was all the more notable in view of the week's bond offerings, which ran close to $200,000,000 and were quickly sold.

Establishment of new higher records in March pig iron and steel output production and a sharp downward revision in the preliminary estimates of a decrease in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation last month, combined with official intimations of an early resumption of dividends on Bethlehem Steel common, helped to maintain bullish enthusiasm for the steel shares.

Price cuts by some of the small automobile manufacturers brought some selling into the motor group although General Motors was bid up to a new high again 184 on reports of record breaking first quarter sales to dealers. Bidders were firm on predictions of higher prices.

Food, management, electrical, refrigeration and tobacco shares presented many points of weakness.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 9.—(AP)—Major speculative activity in today's stock market was again on the upside, but sufficient points of weakness developed to give the market a ragged appearance most of the time. High priced specialties the floating supply of which has been reduced by recent investment buying, were towers of strength. General Motors, Dupont, Commercial solvent, P. United Drug, Peoples Gas, and several others established record high prices.

WEEKLY GRAIN REPORT

Chicago, April 9.—(AP)—Lake navigation for 1927 has practically opened and export wheat business domestic and Canadian alike, is now showing the best volume seen in some time largely as a result, wheat this morning compared with a week ago was 2-8 cent higher, with corn 2-4 cent to 1-5 cent up, oats at a shade to 3-8 to 1-2 cent advance, and provisions 2 cents to 75 cents down.

According to trade leaders here the serious military situation which has developed in China is apparently responsible for a good deal of the export demand for North American wheat.

GRAIN

Chicago, April 9.—(AP)—Despite an early advance, wheat today declined sharply as a result of failure of general buying to broaden.

Wheat closed heavy, 1-1/4 to 2-1/4 cents net lower; corn 7-8 to 1-3/4 down, oats 1-1/4 to 1-3/8 off and provisions unchanged to 35 cent decline.

COTTON

New York, April 9.—(AP)—The influence of relatively easy Liverpool cables appeared to be offset by unsettled weather and flood conditions in the Mississippi valley in the cotton market today. Business was quiet. Prices fluctuated within a range of 4 or 5 points, fully selling up from 14.33 to 14.75 and closing at 14.34. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to two points lower.

Futures closed steady; unchanged to two lower; spot quiet, middling 14.45.

FARM NOTES

The following report dealing with the activities of E. F. Arnold, Pitt county farm agent was presented to the Board of County Commissioners in session here today. The report is of considerable interest because it presents many phases of the progressive campaign, which the department has underway.

Poultry

In this line the major portion of work has centered around marketing and locating demonstrators in the keeping of cost records on individual flocks.

Steps for leading of live poultry into cars with cash paid at door were arranged for Ayden, Bethel and Greenville. Some 2,000 circulars were distributed among the farmers advertising this sale and 14,612 pounds were loaded bringing in cash $2,235.01. This brings the total up to 26,342 pounds selling for $5,777.56 for this year. Sales steps have been advertised for Farmville and Greenville April 8th and 20th, in the March sale 182 farmers sold poultry.

Hogs

We now have some 100 hogs on feed for later shipment. The first car will move around April 20th and the second around the middle of May. Quit a number of farmers are becoming interested in feeding out hogs for the market and I feel that this will prove profitable and become a common practice in Pitt County.

Dairying

Four farmers to date have indicated that they were ready to do some dairying and I have an engagement to assist in the purchase of four pure bred Holsteins and the construction of one dairy barn.

Bees

Have arranged with the State Bee Keeping Specialist to put on three public demonstrations in Bee keeping for the 13th and 14th of April. I find considerable interest among the bee keepers of the county and an anticipatory good attendance.

Orchards

Three farmers have been assisted in orchard work and a number have been to the office for spraying and pruning instructions.

Lime Stone

A car of limestone has been secured and placed with the farmers of the county free plus the freight and arrangements are being made to place a second car.

Resume

I have spent 19 1/2 days in field and 7 1/2 days in office. 103 office conferences have been held and 43 telephone calls answered. Letters written 115, farm visits made 41, method demonstrations given 7, attendances 189, visits to demonstrations 18, circulars sent 4,600. Haven't traveled 1,438 miles in interest of the projects underway.

If further information is desired I shall be glad to appear in person on notice from the board.

Club Work

Twenty three boys have been listed in club work and are being allotted projects in poultry, pig work and field crops.

Field Crops

Then April and May I have arranged for assistance of special list in establishing demonstrations in Cotton, Tobacco and Potatoes.

WHO'LL WIN PENNANTS? EXPERTS PICK PIRATES, MACKMEN

SPORTS SLANTS

(By Alva J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor)

If there was any apprehension in the camp of American Olympic committee as a result of a winter of disputes and splits in its ranks, it has been chased away by the firm and vigorous organization established this week to carry on the tremendous task of selecting, training, transporting and housing the array of more than 300 stars who will seek athletic conquests behind the dikes of Holland next year.

"Uncle Sam will put his best foot forward at Amsterdam," in the opinion of William C. Prout, Boston, president of the committee, and chief figure in laying the framework for as comprehensive an Olympic program as the country has ever decided upon. For the work of putting this program into effect Mr. Prout has united men prominent in business and public life as well as the heads of all the governing bodies of all sports that will figure in the competition abroad.

It has taken only the preliminary accomplishments of the Olympic committee to convince observers that the withdrawal of such organizations as the National Collegiate A. A.; National Amateur Athletic Federation; Y. M. C. A.; Western Conference and United States Navy will not handicap the marshalling of the nation's foremost athletic talent.

These five bodies withdrew from the Olympic organization after defeat in a spirited contest with the Amateur Athletic Union's forces over questions of policy, voting power and control of international competition but the "door is still open" if they desire to return and "play the game," according to Mr. Prout.

The Olympic committee wants the co-operation of all interested in amateur sport, whether they actually have governing authority or not," he declared. "I now have the united and unqualified support of all controlling bodies. If any of the other groups desire to help, we will be glad to have them. If they do not, we are sorry but that won't prevent any athlete from saving his chance to gain a place on the strongest team America can muster."

In spite of all efforts to develop American distance runners it doesn't appear likely that they will jeopardize the supremacy of the Finns and Swedes in the longer races at Amsterdam.

Lloyd Hahn, the mile champion, will be a formidable 1,500 meter contender but beyond that distance there appear few Yankee contenders for the Olympic crowns now held by Nurni and Ritola, with Wide of Sweden and Peltzer of Germany, to be figured on.

"Our life and temperament isn't suited to the development of distance men," Mr. Prout says. "Few of our runners are willing to undergo the rigorous self-denial and training that makes for endurance. We have too many other things to do. Speed is our fetish."

Those with an eye to Olympic prospects will be interested tonight in the final attempt of Edwin Wide, to gain at least one of the two major objectives of his indoor foot racing campaign. The Swedish school master beaten by Hahn at a mile and failing to menace Norm's two mile record, will bid for the one mile mark again in New York on a special armory truck his coach Carl Agderson, of Newark, N. C., is confident the Swedish stylist will break the figure of 4:12 held jointly by Nurni and Jole Ray.

RALEIGH BUYS CHARLOTTE PITCHER

Raleigh, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—Owner Kid Dawson of the Raleigh Cubs today confirmed early reports that he had purchased outright from Charlotte Orville Elliott, pitcher who performed for the locals in 1925.

Moger, pitcher with Norfolk last season and secured from New Haven, was also due to report today to Raleigh. Strain, outfielder, of the Southern circuit, was on hand to wear a local uniform while Dennis Richmond catcher exchanged for Seasholtz, Pennsylvania player was on hand to perform also.

The Brooklyn-Raleigh contest called out, was postponed until next season while the Philadelphia Athletics' Yankees were slated to appear here today against the Caps with rain again dampening prospects of playing.

RALEIGH TAKES PART IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Raleigh, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—The Carolina Country Club golf team of Raleigh was in Winston-Salem today to meet Winston-Salem Greenshore and Sedgewick clubs on the Twin City links. The match was the second of a series of four inter-city contests.

Twenty men and four women players composed each team. Eugene Mills, former Carolina amateur champion yesterday lost

Big Year Ahead for Pennsylvania Fans; Consensus Gives State Both Pennants

Pennsylvania wins both pennants! Don't cheer yet; that's only the early season dope. A nation-wide consensus of sporting editors picks Donie Bush (left, inset) to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates and Connie Mack (right) the Philadelphia Athletics to victory.

By FRANKLIN GRANT.

THE 1927, International Illustrated News, the sovereign State of Pennsylvania will monopolize the world series jamboree of 1927.

So much is the consensus opinion of twenty-two sporting editors of important newspapers, news associations and syndicates; young men, and men not so young, who look out at the world from all points of the U. S. A. compass, New England, along to the Pacific Northwest; down the Coast to Los Angeles, back along the Southern border and then up along the Atlantic Sea Board to New York.

Their majority idea is that the contest in the National League will be little more than an exercise gallop for the Pittsburgh Pirates and the scheduled pennant fight in the American circuit promises to develop into nothing but a brisk workout for the Athletics.

The oddity in the whole situation, is that the experts settled, upon Pittsburgh as a championship certainty, because its leadership has been reduced to one manager, whereas, the Athletics were chosen because the roster is cluttered with the names of about four escaped leaders of baseball outfits.

They think the Pirates will win because they'll be bossed this season only by Donnie Bush. And they do a little twister by concluding that the Athletics will gallop home because Connie Mack will have the managerial brains of Kid Gleason, Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins and Zack Wheat to aid and abet him.

Of the twenty-two sporting writers who contributed views, only four figured that the pennant-winning Yankees of 1926 would repeat and only six reckoned that the Cardinals again would nail the championship bunting to a St. Louis flagstaff. All of which indicates that the belief that both clubs gained pennant heights in 1926 more because of luck than because of consistent baseball ability.

Of the opinions relative to the outcome of the American League duel letics." The Yankees received four votes. The Tigers two and the Senators one. Chick Foreman, of the

HERE is the way the teams will finish in the big league races of 1927:

AMERICAN LEAGUE	POSITION	NATIONAL LEAGUE
Philadelphia Athletics	1.	Pittsburgh Pirates
New York Yankees	2.	New York Giants
Washington Senators	3.	St. Louis Cardinals
Detroit Tigers	4.	Cincinnati Reds
Cleveland Indians	5.	Chicago Cubs
St. Louis Browns	6.	Brooklyn Dodgers
Chicago White Sox	7.	Boston Braves
Boston Red Sox	8.	Philadelphia Phillies

These predictions represent the consensus of opinion of twenty-two sporting editors of important newspapers, syndicates and news associations in such cities as Atlanta, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, New York, San Francisco, San Antonio, Washington, Albany, Detroit, Oakland, Cal.; Seattle and Syracuse.

Baltimore News and American, was the architect of the only sporting item which nominated the Senators—perhaps as a neighborly gesture. The votes for the Tigers were cast by Warren Brown, of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, and Ed Danforth, of the Atlanta Georgian.

The poorest opinion concerning the Athletics expressed by any one of the group, came from a Western writer who placed them fourth.

Cedar horns of the American League developed into a three-cornered battle involving the Browns, White Sox and Red Sox. But the final hallooing elected the Bostonians to the "honors."

The Pirates received 11 out of 22 votes for first position in the National League; the Giants polled 5 and so did the Cardinals. The other vote was cast for the Cincinnati Reds. It came from the same youthful Mr. Foreman, of Baltimore, who picked the Senators in the American and thus can be termed as "long shot" operator.

Although the Cardinals and Giants received an equal number of votes for first place, the Giants scored rather overwhelmingly over the Cardinals so far as runner up to the Pirates was concerned. Of the eleven experts who chose the Pirates would finish just back of them. The worst rating the Giants received was fourth place. On the other hand, the Cardinals received only four votes for second place, three for third, several fourths, and two writhe could not figure the world's champions to do better than fifth.

Of the twenty-two selections offered, twenty openly and without a blush of shame, gave eighth position to the Phillies. Two men, however, took a more kindly attitude toward the Quakertown's affairs in the National League. These men complimented the Phillies in rare fashion by according them seventh place.

One writer figured that they would beat out the Braves, and another determined that the Phillies were a better team than the Dodgers. And now that the Pirates and Phillies seem like certainties, and that the others "haven't much chance," it is well to remember that in 1924 the Braves were picked to lead eighth—and then won a world's championship; in 1915 the Phillies were figured about seventh—and won the pennant. Nor is it advisable to forget that the Cardinals started off in 1926 "without a chance," and that in the gentle Springtime of that same season the Yankees were cast into the second division dungeons by the men who covered their training affairs.

For all of the games that are played, baseball is truly the game of uncertainties, with a million quirks and twists ever happening to distort a prediction and knock askew the logic and the reasoning of the greatest of experts.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR NEXT WEEK

Cinder Path Stars Meet In Atlanta

Atlanta, Ga., April 9.—(AP)—Cinder path stars from colleges in ten Southern States and Indiana meet today in the fifth annual Southern relays to lead the first general onslaught of the season against track and field records.

With the collegiate barriers gathered representatives of 17 high schools, nine prep schools and a dozen grammar schools who had special events arranged for them.

The relay meet is sponsored by the Georgia School of Technology. The track surrounding Grant Field Bowl has been specially prepared for the occasion.

While the feature event of the day was designated as the four-mile college relay a special two-mile run was arranged to bring together some of the South's fastest stars. Among the entries were Bill Tate, formerly of Georgia, Smith and Mann, of Mississippi, A. M. Pritchett of North Carolina, Cathorn of Louisiana State University and Brittain and Fields of Indiana.

Ransom, Bell and Buchanan ran the distance in 18.36.4 and won again last year. Smith of Alabama, holds the Southern two mile record of 10.15.4 nearly a minute short of the national mark.

The fleet Mississippians, as they are known in every Southern track gathering, defended seven records. Four team marks set in the relays and three individual efforts in special field events. Brunson holds the meet's high jump record at five feet, 11 3/8 inches; Priestser set the javelin throw distance at 295 feet while another teammate, Gatchell claims the discus throw mark at 132 feet, 2 inches. All are considerably short of national collegiate records. There were 924 entries, including the preparatory and grammar schools. Arkansas, North Carolina and Georgia were represented among the high school entries. Alabama Georgia and Tennessee in the ranks of the preparatory high schools, and local grammar schools furnished the competition for the junior events.

CAROLINA AND STATE TO CLASH TODAY

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—Carolina was at home today to State College for a baseball game expected to have an important bearing on the outcome of the race for Statewide honors this season.

State's team came into town with strong hopes of chalking up a victory at the expense of the Tar Heels in the first "big five" conference for the locals. State, with the Wake Forest win a sore spot on its record threatened to put Carolina off the clean slate also, thus adding to the traditional muddle brewing among championship contenders.

State, Wake Forest and Davidson have battle scars recorded against them while Carolina and Duke have yet to meet "Big Five" brothers. Duke goes to Wake Forest April 17 for its first conference engagement.

When that battle is history, each of the five contenders will have met each other and the race for the title will be more or less taking definite form.
