JACKSON EMBEZZLEMENT CASE WENT TO JURY AT NOON TODAY FOLLOWING LONG, HARD FIGHT

Judge Cranmer Delivered One of Most Lengthly Charges Heard Here in Some Time.

The case of Amos C. Jackson, former sheriff of Pitt County, charged with embezzling $21,352.18 from county funds during his administration as sheriff, went to the jury this morning at 11:55.

Judge Cranmer's charge consumed practically an hour. The court's review of the case was one of the most exhaustive and comprehensive heard here in many a day. It embraced the State's 24 counts against the defendant, and the defense argument that Jackson did not misappropriate a cent of county funds for his own personal use.

Judge Cranmer told the jury it was necessary to establish beyond a reasonable doubt that a defendant had been guilty of intentionally and fraudulently misappropriating funds not belonging to him before a verdict of guilty might be returned against him.

He turned the case over to the jury with the admonition to return a verdict according to the evidence in the case.

Defense counsel finished putting on testimony shortly after court convened yesterday. Rebuttal by the State was short and pointed. Argument by the State was begun by Solicitor Clark early in the afternoon.

The charge against the former sheriff of Pitt County resulted in an audit of books following his mysterious disappearance from Greenville last summer. He is said to have gone to Norfolk and New York, later returning to face the charge of embezzlement and removal of office effected during his absence. He told the jury that he did not go away to escape punishment; that he went simply because he was so confused by alleged shortages mentioned by the commissioners that he didn't really know what he was doing.

The State contended that he went away purposefully, and that he used an assumed name when wiring back to the city for funds with which to make his return trip home.

The case has been in progress since Tuesday afternoon. Night sessions have been held each night, and hundreds of people from all parts of the county have been in attendance every day. Many bankers and officials from various parts of the county were summoned as witnesses as well as numbers of others who had had business relations with the sheriff during the latter days of his administration.

After speaking for one hour and fifty minutes, Colonel Albion Dunn completed argument for the State this morning shortly before eleven o'clock. Judge Cranmer immediately began charging the jury.

Judge Dunn reviewed the history of the case against the former sheriff from beginning to end. He disputed contention of the defense that Jackson had not been guilty of embezzlement, and brought out several instances wherein alleged embezzlement was plainly in evidence.

He lauded the wife of the former sheriff for not taking the stand in his behalf. He declared that she displayed a true sense of honesty.

Four Lives Lost When Lightning Destroys Seaplane

Norfolk, Va., April 30.—(AP)—The elements have won another grim victory over man in his battle to conquer the air.

During a severe electrical and rain storm, lightning struck a seaplane 1,200 feet above New Point Comfort late yesterday and sent it hurtling into Chesapeake Bay, killing four Navy aviators—two lieutenants and two petty officers.

The plane was a splintered and scattered wreck.

The dead are: Lieutenant Victor P. Marinelli, Lieutenant George Watson Lehman, L. E. Powner, civilian chief machinist mate, and George M. Michaels, machinist mate, second class.

The disaster was witnessed by Aviation Pilot P. J. Byrne, who, like the occupants of the ill-fated ship, was flying from Philadelphia to Hampton Roads. The planes were proceeding through the storm when suddenly, Byrne said, there was a blinding flash, a puff of smoke and then the fatal crash into the Chesapeake.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—President Coolidge took under consideration today the invitation from the Governors of the Mississippi River states to personally inspect the flood area. The invitation was presented by Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi.

Senator Harrison told the President that he believed the attention of the country would be centered more forcibly on the disaster if Mr. Coolidge would visit the scene. Pending the return of Secretary Hoover, who is now in the flood area, Mr. Coolidge is not expected to announce any decision of the invitation.

MRS. SNYDER WILL RESUME CHAIR MONDAY

Courtroom Jammed To Capacity at Final Day's Hearing of Notable Case.

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Snyder, who from the witness stand yesterday placed the entire blame for the murder of her husband on her former lover, Henry Judd Gray, will continue her story of the crime when the Snyder-Gray trial resumes on Monday.

A courtroom jammed with humanity listened tensely as the blonde housewife told gruesome details of the morning of March 29, when her husband Albert Snyder was killed in his Queens Village home.

On the 19th of March, she said, he sneaked into her home at night, after writing her he was coming to kill her husband. She got her husband and daughter to sleep and then confronted him.

"He kissed me," she said, "and I felt his rubber gloves on my face. Then I knew he really meant to do it."

She said she pleaded with him and got him downstairs. There she left him for a moment and while she was in the bathroom she said she heard a terrific thud.

"I ran out into the hall," she almost screamed from the stand, "and I saw Judd Gray beating my husband over the head with the sash weight. I grabbed him by the neck in an attempt to save my husband, and he pushed me so that I fell and fainted. When I came to it was all over and my husband was dead."

Here Mrs. Snyder broke into violent sobbing which took some moments to bring under control. She then told of helping frame the story that Snyder had been killed by burglars.

"I had just seen him kill my husband," she said, "and I was mortally afraid that if I did not do as he ordered he would finish me too."

Raleigh, April 30.—(AP)—Dr. O. H. Laughinghouse, State Health Officer, today said his information was that John Early, escaped leper, was in Polk County but that this federal attendant henceforth would have full charge of the taking over of the unfortunate man and his return to the Louisiana leprosarium.

Raleigh, April 30.—(AP)—North Carolina Health Authorities today were all set to aid Federal Health Authorities in the Mississippi flood situation.

Dr. O. H. Laughinghouse, state health officer, responded to a wired request from Dr. John McMullen, senior surgeon of the U. S. Public Health service at Memphis, assuring Dr. McMullen this state easily could help. He offered eight experienced health officers, 150,000 doses of typhoid vaccine, 50,000 diphtheria antitoxin and 1,000 tetanus antitoxin.

In China, Says Little.
Mr. Mellon's Plan.

Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

IF YOU HAVE OPINIONS, not approved by those in power, hide them. Yesterday 20 Chinese "Reds" were strangled—1 woman and 19 men, including Li Ta-Chao, a leading Communist.

The "think as you please" idea is not highly developed in Asia. "Think as WE please" is the rule.

Like a smallboy after a picnic, Wall Street felt not so very well yesterday, some "leaders" were depressed, bears plucked up their courage and began selling again, saying, "What goes up must come down." They will be sorry. Coming events will remind them what goes up some times goes HIGHER. It is foolish to gamble on either side of the market. It is inviting trouble to sell things "short" in the United States; just now.

Standard Oil of New York will issue $12,500,000 new stock, bringing the total up to about $450,000,000.

The company doesn't need that trifling, but will let employees of the company buy the stock to increase interest in their work. They had already bought ten millions of the stock.

Secretary Mellon, real business man, one of the President's Mississippi flood problem committee, attacks that problem in the right way.

He would control the Mississippi in the north, impounding "headwaters" during the rainy season, arranging an even flow of water, and a regular supply for power.

Under his plan the old Mississippi harnessed for hydro electric power, would be reformed, made harmless and would pay the cost of its reformation.

REPORT NEW BREAK NEAR SOUTH BEND

Water Pouring From Arkansas River Into Several Towns in 25 Mile Radius.

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 30.—(AP)—Waters pouring from the new break in the Arkansas River at South Bend are sweeping into Gould, Dumas, Varner, McGhee and other towns within a 25-mile radius at a rate of six inches rise an hour. Colonel Joe Harris, in charge of levee work in this district, reported today.

"All of southeast Arkansas will be flooded," said Colonel Harris, who led the heroic fight to save the levee. He could not estimate the depth to which Gould and surrounding towns will be inundated.

"The break was 125 feet in width last night," Colonel Harris said as he was preparing to make an airplane flight over the scene today. No trains have left Gould since the break was reported by Colonel Harris. He said evacuation of the town would be made as soon as the inhabitants can be persuaded to leave their belongings.

William J. Hyman, Pitt County man who had been receiving treatment for tuberculosis at Sanatorium, died yesterday afternoon at one o'clock, following illness of three years. Mr. Hyman went to the hospital two and a half years ago in hope of recovering from the dread disease, but his case was so far advanced that physicians entertained little hope of permanent recovery.

The body was returned to Greenville yesterday afternoon by hears and prepared for burial.

Funeral services were conducted from the old homeplace on Stokes road this afternoon at two o'clock. Interment being made in a nearby burying ground. Final rites were conducted by Rev. Ennis, of Ayden.

Mr. Hyman was the last of a family of several members, all of whom having been victims of tuberculosis.

MORE FUNDS NEEDED FOR FLOOD AREA

President Coolidge Doesn't Believe Congress Will be Able To Act in Matter.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—More funds than the $5,000,000 already asked on behalf of the Red Cross will be needed for Mississippi flood sufferers in the opinion of President Coolidge but they will have to come from the American public since he does not believe a special session of Congress to consider flood control and relief legislation is expedient at this time.

It had been disclosed at the White House that the President also sees no way by which the Treasury can provide money for relief work and in face of this barrier he wishes the public to clearly understand that the Red Cross is depending solely on its contributions to carry on the work of succor and rehabilitation.

A special Congressional session does not seem to President Coolidge to be the wise way to solve the flood and relief problem, because of the time it would take to call and organize Congress and for it to authorize an appropriation. In this view he was supported by several members of the Senate while other members of Congress particularly those from the flood area supported the plea of Senator Robinson of Arkansas for the special session.

It was added at the White House that so far as flood control is concerned the administration has had that phase of legislation constantly under consideration but that it has been complicated by the necessity of taking into account three elements, flood control, power development, and navigation.

Thomasso, 19, today confessed in open court that he and his brother Elmo, 17, now dead, killed Mayor Joe Adams of West City last December 12 at the command of Charles Birger, notorious gang leader, who paid them $50 a piece for getting rid of an enemy who had harbored the rival Shelton gang.

DATE FOR NEW TRIAL Sapiro-Ford Suit to Be Heard in July

DETROIT, April 30.—(AP)—A date for a new trial in the $1,000,000 libel suit of Aaron Sapiro against Henry Ford and the Dearborn Independent will be set at a hearing July 1, Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond decided today at a conference with attorneys for both sides.

The Judge's decision was given after it was learned yesterday that no funds would be available for the trial until after that time.

William H. Gallagher, Chief counsel for Sapiro, who returned to Detroit for the conference asked that an early date be set after July 1, but the move was opposed by Stewart Hanley and C. B. Langley of the automobile manufacturer's counsel.

Sapiro's counsel previously had offered to divide the expense of the trial with the defendants or to pay the total costs.

A mistrial of the case was declared ten days ago on motion of counsel for Ford as a result of alleged irregularities in the conduct of Mrs. Cora Hoffman, a woman juror.

Charlotte, April 30.—(AP)—Miss Catherine Turner, school teacher, has sued the J. B. McCrary Company and J. B. McCrary Engineering Corporation for $10,000 damages because of a fall she received on a concrete sidewalk in Huntersville. The concerns were building a sewerage system and installing water works and Miss Turner alleged her fall, which fractured a portion of her spine was due to dirt from ditches on the sidewalk.

WHITE SOX MAKE BIGGEST GAINS BATTING AVERAGE DURING THE SECOND WEEK

Chicago, April 30.—(AP)—The plugging New York Yankees, major league batting leaders, dropped a few points in the second week of the season, but they still have four representatives among the first ten who are hitting better than .400. Babe Ruth added 40 points to his batting mark, but he is still more than half way down the list with a mark of .273 just below Tim Lincecum's .277.

All the American league clubs except the Yankees and Detroit picked up their hitting in this week's games, according to the averages including Wednesday's games but the Chicago White Sox made the greatest gain of them all. Bill Hume, infielder, Sox shortstop, and Harry McCurdy, top list, just above Fothergill of Detroit, one of the three leaders of last year. Ty Cobb jumped into the 400 class, but is just outside the first ten. He moved up from .343 last week to .40.

Sam Jones of St. Louis is the leading twirler of the American League just now with three victories.

Goslin and Judge of Washington are the base running leaders with five stolen bases apiece.

The New York Giants wrecking crew, Hornsby, Tyson and Landon, plied in a bunch near the top of the National league list of leading hitters, topped only by Heinie Sand of Philadelphia. McCraw has a pinch hitter named Heinie Mueller who has hit twice in three times at bat.

Halcyon of St. Louis and Gibson of Boston round out the 400 hitters in the second week of the season in the elder circuit.

Old Cy Williams of the Phillies shares the home run honors of the major leagues with Lou Gehrig of New York, in the American league. Each has four up to Wednesday. Earl Webb is next to Cy in the National league with three.

Lee Meadows, of Pittsburgh is the league's leading pitcher to date, with four victories.

Kiki Cuyler of Pittsburgh, the usual leader in base stealing, is being rivalled this year by Tyson of the Giants. Each has five thefts to his credit.

Local Highs Beat Battery Nine to Four

Yesterday at the fair grounds the strong Greenville High School team defeated the Army team by the score of 9 to 4. Curry, local catcher pitched a good game hitting them down with only seven hits and striking out seven.

The hitting of Carson featured for the battery as he hit a home run with one on base. The Greenville team as a whole hit good as they garnered 13 hits off the delivery of Forbes.

The Greenville team also did some good fielding with pretty catches by Sugg and Hicks featuring. Critcher starred for the battery.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

The Athletics have the pitching but the Yankees have the smoothest working team. If you listen to the word of Bucky Harris, at least that's the way Washington's youthful manager, at 30 the youngest of Major League Pilots, sums up his estimate of the two clubs generally picked to fight it out for the American league pennant. Generally agreed, that is, by most of the experts except Harris, who asserts that the Senators can be counted out by any means.

It might be presumed that Bucky would favor the Mackmen, who have walloped the Senators in five out of six games whereas Washington and New York have split the only two games they have played.

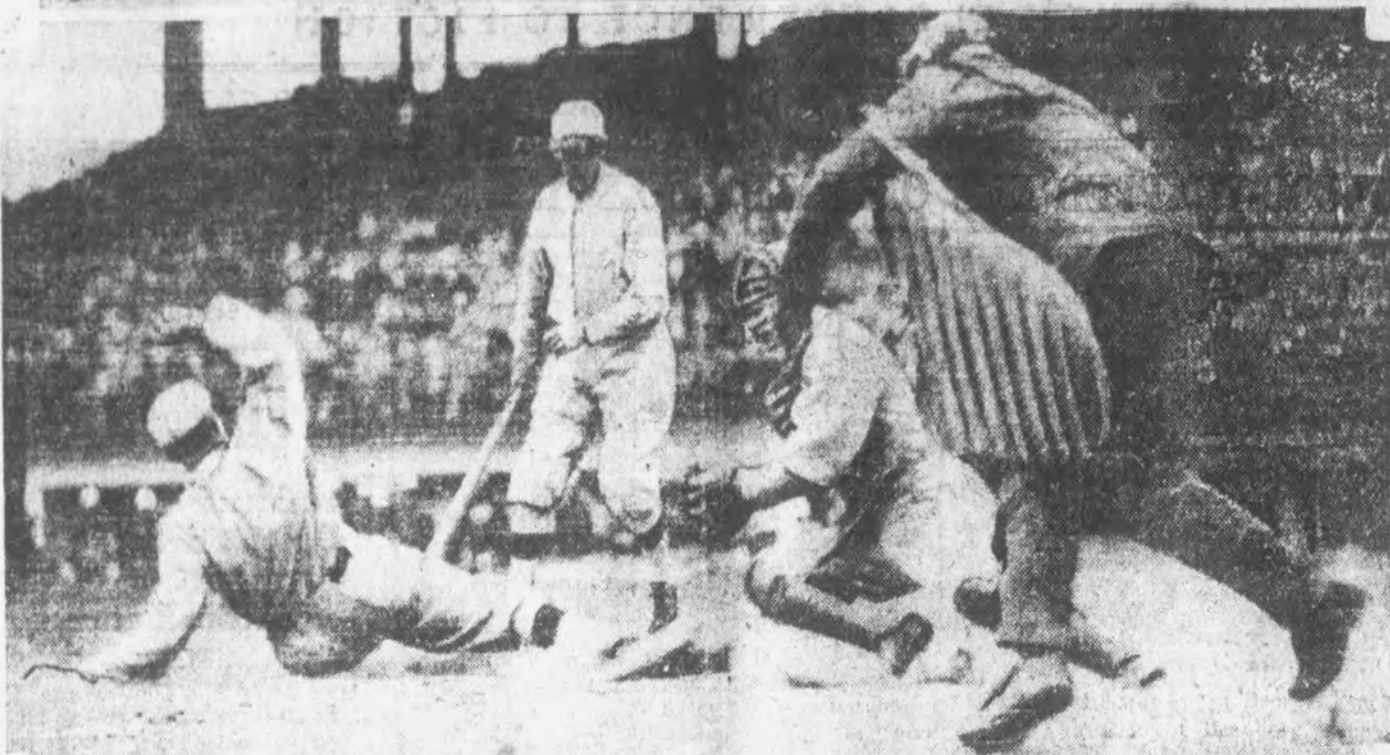

We have had more of a tussle with the Athletics than the Yankees said Harris, but I would not want to make a choice between them. Both are powerful clubs. The Yankees seem to be functioning better than last year, except in pitching and they have not been so hot off there. The Athletics, with Cobb going good and Boley holding the infield, are displaying more pep.

They have a great hurling staff with two of the best left-handers in the game, Groves and Walburg. There isn't much to choose in hitting. Both clubs have the old wallop.

Far from conceding either of his two eastern rivals the pennant at this stage of the race, however, Harris is confident the senators will strike their stride soon and make it a three cornered battle into which anyone of the western club, especially Detroit or Chicago, may join the Senators, Harris believes, will be hard to stop when their full mound strength is available.

Just now the two veterans who pitched Washington to its last pennant in 1925 are on the shelf. Barney Johnson's loss for the first month, due to a broken foot, has been a big handicap, while Coleskie is not yet in shape. Fred Marberry, Giant battle twirler, was hit on the head Thursday by a pitched ball in practice and kept from

BAMBINO BACK TO OLD FORM YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press.)

To the ringing tune of last on ball the major leagues were setting a merry pace today in baseball's big parade.

Two victories for the Yankees and Athletics sent them farther ahead of the American pack as the rivals struck into a double quick and had a game apart. In the National League the Giants led the van with another smashing triumph.

Babe Ruth was on a rampage against the Red Sox. Not content with driving out his fourth home run the big bam added a double and single and topped it off with a circus catch in his corner of the outer garden. It was Reuther's second shut-out this year.

Close at the Yankees' heels, the Athletics matched them stride for stride with an 8 to 7 victory over the Senators. All seemed lost until the sixth when Cobb and company unleashed a typhoon of hitting that blew in seven runs. A triple, double and single formed the part played by the ageing Cobb while his teammates Bill Lamar and Thurston of the Senators clouded out home runs.

Like the Athletics, the Giants made it five in a row when they walloped the Braves by 10 to 3. Everybody was hitting them hard and far and Lindstrom, Terry and Tyson each laced out a long one for a jog around the bags. A terrific attack made up for a momentarily weak defense which made six errors. Relieving McQuillan early in the game, Dutch Henry held the Braves to two hits in seven innings.

It remained for the Brooklyn Robins, trailing far in the rear of the National League, to contribute the biggest surprise of the day. They presented him in the person of James "Dumbo" Elliott, called the biggest pitcher in the major leagues. Late of the Pacific Coast League, Big Jim made his debut with a 7 to 0 triumph over the Phillies. To those voracious hitters he granted only three safes, all of which were singles. Cox has on account the 235 pound hurler connected for a double that further gladdened Uncle Robb's heart.

Another pitcher won a game in his first start of the season when Rip Collins of the Tigers bested Buckeye of the Indians in a pitching duel. Tight fielding with a Detroit gift for doubleplays helped him to a 5-2 win which boosted the Tigers into a tie with St. Louis for third place in their league.

University Wins From Davidson

Raleigh, April 30.—(AP)—Another University of North Carolina athlete had his name entered in baseball's hall of fame today as the Tar Heels collegiate club swung into their final laps of a heretofore dull season.

Joe Westmoreland, Carolina southpaw, hurled a no-hit, no-run game against Davidson's weak but scrappy Wildcats at Chapel Hill yesterday, 11-0. But two extra men faced the hefty mound star, whose friends today were speculating whether or not he is the first collegian in the country to turn in a perfect game this season.

Elon handed Guilford a 16-11 defeat at Greensboro while Davidson's freshmen lost to Duke Freshmen, 22-5, in a game in which both coaches used most all the players they had.

Saturday found Duke at State for a big five attraction. Duke was minus her catcher, Hollingsworth, out with an injured eye while Harrell, State first sacker, was limping with a bad leg injury.

Freshmen teams of the two campuses met in Durham.

Are Young People Of Greenville Safe? Subject of Sermon

"Are the Young People in Greenville Safe?" was the subject of the able sermon at the Christian Church last night. The speaker likened the grief of Abraham's father, the King, to that of the present day parents. We should set noble examples for our children. Children in Greenville are not safe. People are too prone to pleasure and various material things and the children are neglected.

He urged the young people to watch their words—their tongue. This is an age when so many young people have acquired the awful habit of profanity. You must realize that you are a sinner and need Jesus, that you may grow in grace.

Armies of young women and men whose lives have been blighted by untruthful gossiping. Great emphasis was placed on expression "Watch your tongue. Most people talk altogether too much."

Pure thoughts are one of our greatest needs to eliminate crime and sin. Watch your companions. Choose those who will make you think. Keep filthy literature away from young people.

It is important for parents to watch their children. No wonder Jesus said, "Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation."

Several responded to the invitation. Baptism followed the services. There will be no service tonight, but we are anxious for the services tomorrow to be the greatest and best yet. Five hundred in our Bible School is our goal for the Bible School.

The subject for the morning service will be "The Discovery of Christ." A mixed quartet will sing. The subject for the evening service will be "The Old Paths or the Plea for Christian Unity."

The evangelist has come for a free-will offering. This offering will be taken at both services. Let us give this man of God who has done so much good a generous offering.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

Sunday night will probably be the last night of the meeting. We want these closing services to count for much.

BETTER HOMES WEEK AT BETHEL, N. C.

This is Better Homes Week for everyone and many are taking advantage of it. The high school girls in the first year class of Home Economics have been writing papers and giving articles concerning the "Care and Improvement of the Home."

The second year girls have been giving talks on "Interior Decoration and Improvement of the Home." They have been making note books consisting of a well planned home.

Both classes went down town to observe the different rooms on display by the college interior decorating class at the furniture stores. These rooms were decorated for the Woman's Club.

These observations proved very helpful in that the girls have been able to write criticisms on each room, telling their merits and how they could be improved.

New Pardon Commission Takes Office

Raleigh, April 29.—(AP)—Edwin Broder of Charlotte was at work today at the Pardon Commission desk while H. Hoyle Sink of Lexington made farewell to his duties as Commissioner for the last two years to become special Superior Court Judge, effective tomorrow May 1.

In bidding farewell to newspaper men Mr. Sink said of their work:

Galli Curci Is Very Democratic

Raleigh, April 29.—(AP)—Galli Curci, noted opera singer, is nothing if not democratic.

Wade Lucas, Raleigh newspaper man, formed the welcoming party for the singer, who is to appear in concert tonight, on her arrival here following exchange of greetings.

The reporter observed that it was a pleasant evening and suggested the singer might wish to walk to her hotel a few blocks from the station. And it was as she walked that she was interviewed.

The youthful newsmonger and the operatic star discussed modern youth. Galli Curci finds no cause for "alarm" in the present generation and believes the so-called "flaming youth" of today will have as much trouble understanding the next generation as the elders of today experience. You are "revolutionary and also evolutionary," she thinks.

The wave of suicides among students resulted, the singer believes, from too close application to sciences. "No student of music would have occasion to take his own life," she observed, "there is something like religion in music and it soothes a troubled mind."

The world needs music, thinks the singer.

Storm of Protest Grets Petition of Telephone Company

Raleigh, April 29.—(AP)—Petition of the Southern Bell Telephone Company to revise its telephone rates at Wrightville Beach and to institute toll charges on calls between Wrightville and Wilmington has brought a storm of protest from Wilmington and its citizens. It is learned at the offices of the corporation commission.

Hearings on the petition have been set for 10 o'clock on the morning of May 1, here at the offices of the corporation commission.

For years there has been no toll rates between Wrightville and Wilmington, and K. O. Burgin, city attorney for Wilmington and Louis T. Moore, secretary of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, among the commission that Wilmington and its citizens want no change.

A slight increase in the rates at Wrightville, one of the state's two premier seashore summer resorts, will become effective if the commission grants the request by the telephone company. Seasonal rates now apply at Wrightville.

Attorney Burgin, representing the city of Wilmington, and Secretary Moore, representing the Chamber of Commerce there, have filed briefs with the commission and ask that the petition of the Southern Bell Company be not allowed. They contend that there is no need for revision of rates at Wrightville and also no need for toll rates between the beach resort and Wilmington. The telephone company contends it is losing money on its investments at Wrightville. "Thousands of persons from the inland towns and cities of the state, together with many from other states, spend summer vacations at Wrightville, which is about ten miles from Wilmington. The hearing here is expected to be decided by a display of legal technique. Respect is that Wilmington will come prepared to fight the proposition."

“IF I HAD FOLLOWED”

“If I had followed in the steps of Jesus I would not have been here,” said John Walton Winn, just before they hanged him in Chicago. He was convicted of beating an old man to death in order to get his wife

In the light of the jury's verdict few citizens will dispute his statement. The pity of it that he waited too long to find out the truth. There are other people, all over the nation, who are making the same mistake.

Let us hope that no great wrong will develop in their life and that, in time, they will learn the great truth and attempt to put it into every day life.

SWAT THE FLY

Warmer weather is at hand and with it an abundance of flies which means danger of typhoid unless citizens of our community take the necessary precautions against the disease. In order to prevent typhoid in our section, two things are necessary, the anti-typhoid treatment and getting rid of the flies.

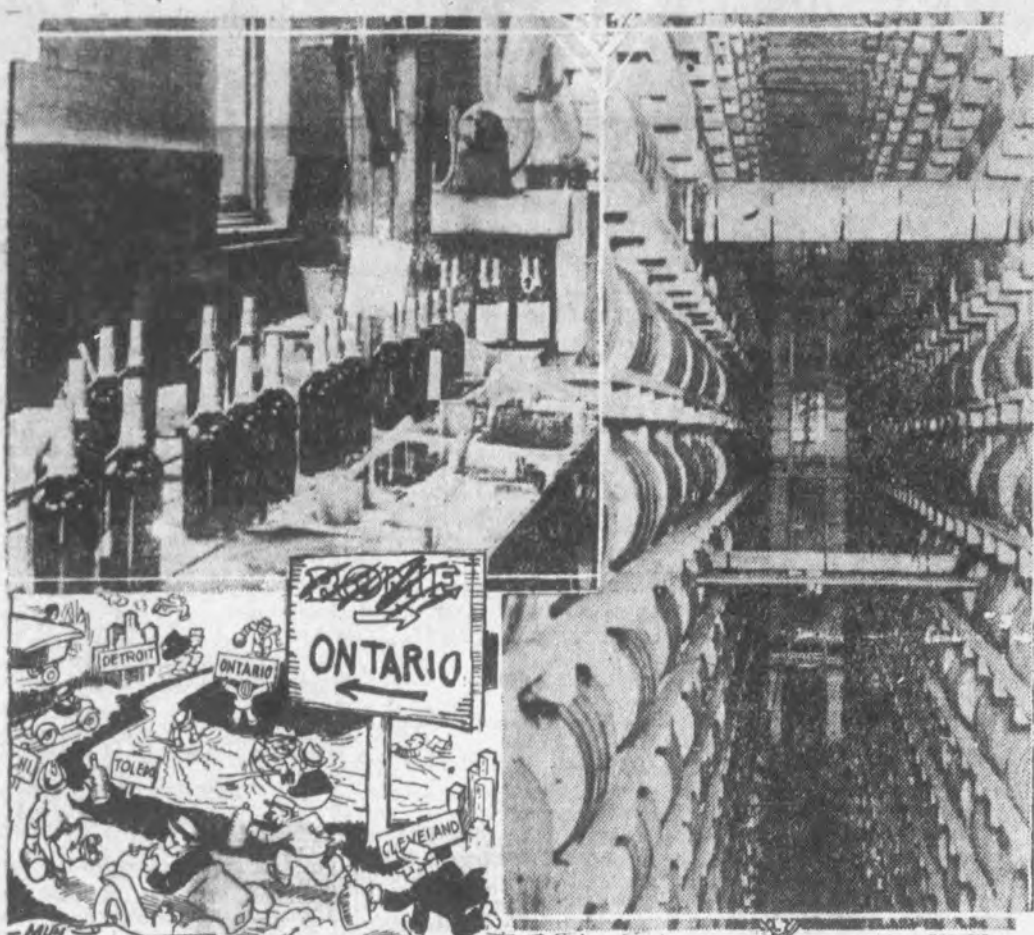

The American Medical Association says that remarkable improvement has been noted in the typhoid mortality rates in the large cities of the country. No reason exists for typhoid in smaller places and it is incumbent upon every good citizen to give proper attention to this dangerous disease.

Typhoid, as our readers know, is transmitted by flies or human carriers. The fly, feeding on filth from a typhoid patient, crawls over the food that somebody else eats, and another typhoid case develops. The exact detail of the transmission of this disease are not pleasant to contemplate.

One of the chief weapons hte ofhrdwl mcfw cmgrv in the war on typhoid is the death of flies. Every citizen should be on the battlefield Stables and barns, as well as homes, should be screened. Where the owners decline to do this they should be compelled to act. The fly is the typhoid carrier, for that reason “swat the fly” is not an idle slogan.

This summer, typhoid will probably attack some of our people. It may be a citizen who has taken every precaution, but is the victim of another's careless disregard. It may be an old person, or a young child. There is no way to tell. The only thing that we can do is to fight the disease as best we can in the light of modern science. The message that is strongest is: “Kill the fly.”

Windsor today! Countless barrels and bottles of liquor are stored in the Ontario city, in preparation for the rush of the thirsty, expected when the ban on alcoholics is lifted May 15. Pictures show two comparatively small sections of the stores.

WINDSOR, Canada (I-N Special).—The harvest moon is shining over Canada. Hotel men and resort owners are placing their orders now for new automobiles and sets of books with fancy bindings. For Canada is getting wetter, and those in a position to profit expect to cash in on the American tourist this Summer. This city expects a major portion of the business. With Detroit, with its millions, right across the river, and ferries running often, it is confidently expected that everyone will

More levees along the Mississippi and its sister rivers have broken, more people have been rendered homeless and helpless, want and suffering has increased. Renewed efforts to raise funds for these hundreds of thousands of sufferers are being made. If you have not already contributed to the relief of these flood sufferers do so at once. You may be instrumental in saving someone's life.

Monday is election day. A Mayor and Board of Aldermen are to be chosen to run the city for the coming two years. It is your duty to have a voice in the selection of these officers. Don't fail to vote.

JUICE-L-O

Something New Under the Sun and As Delicious as it is Satisfying.

Out in Indianapolis, Indiana, where Goldsboro people have been steadily contributing to its marvelous growth for more than 50 years, a new drink has been compounded that is calculated to permeate the civilized world and find favor in every land and clime, and prove to be “something new under the sun.”

This drink is distinctively a home drink—not carbonated—and is as wholesome as it is healthy. It is styled—and so registered—“Juice-L-O”—and already Goldsboro has a branch office for its sale, located in the Wayne National Bank building, with Mrs. Mattie Sasser as sales manager for North Carolina, Mrs. Esther Wingate and L. H. Taylor as sales managers for Greenville and surrounding territory.

Goldsboro is not only headquarters for Juice-L-O, but it is likewise the distributing point for the entire Southern states; so that while Coca Cola made Atlanta famous, Juice-L-O is destined to play a potential part in achieving that Greater Goldsboro destined to be realized.

The enjoyment of Juice-L-O is heightened by the Frigidaire process, which, too, is growing in favor as a household necessity.

Juice-L-O may be had for the asking at any grocery store for a dime.—(Adv.)

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON. New York, April 30.—(AP)—The cotton market opened firm today at an advance of 7 to 11 points in response to unexpectedly higher Liverpool cables.

The advance met realizing and Southern selling, but offerings were absorbed on very slight setbacks and fresh buying was reported on reports of additional overflows in the Mississippi valley section and the unsettled weather in the south. July contracts sold up to 15.35 and December to 15.82 or about 10 to 12 points net higher and the market was within a point or two of the best at the end of the first hour.

Futures closed steady 1 to 4 lower. Spot cotton closed quiet; middling 15.30.

WEEKLY GRAIN REPORT. Chicago, April 30.—(AP)—Indication here looking up. The United States supply of wheat will show a liberal decrease every week for some time. Coupled with this circumstance is talk that world requirements of wheat have been underestimated. With a simultaneous better cash demand in evidence wheat this morning compared to a week ago was 1-3 cent to 3-4 cents a bushel higher. Corn showed 1-2 to 1-1-2 cent advance, oats 1-4 cent to 1-5-8 cent upturn, and provisions 22 cents to $1.22 gain.

STOCK MARKET. New York, April 30.—(AP)—Stock prices displayed another complete reversal of form today selling off in the last hour after an early period of strength. Except for a reduction of 50 cents in steel strap prices in the Pittsburgh district there was nothing in the day's news to explain the sudden change in speculative sentiment which was influenced largely by the apparent inability of speculators for the advance to attract an outside following. The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW. New York, April 30.—(AP)—The stock market which has been rising almost steadily since the first of the year, underwent a sharp, but orderly, reaction this week. While efforts were made to limit the decline with the growing estimates of Mississippi River flood damage the falling off in steel demand and freight traffic and the publication of several unfavorable quarterly reports, it was regarded in many banking quarters as a natural correction of a top heavy speculative position.

Repeated warnings of bankers and others against extravagant securities speculation, the spotiness of general business conditions and a natural desire to take profits after the recent sustained advance all contributed to the selling movement which was accelerated by the touching off of a number of stop-loss orders in various stocks. Scores of issues sold down 5 to 20 points below their recent high levels, although some made substantial recovery from their low levels.

Acute weakness of the oil shares, most of which sank to the lowest prices of the year, or longer followed the pessimistic trade forecasts by executives of the leading companies, with further increase in crude oil output and poor first quarter earnings. The quarterly report of the U. S. Steel Corporation while showing a substantial margin over common dividend requirements was somewhat of a disappointment as total earnings of $45,581,725 were several million dollars below earlier estimates. March railroad earnings statements showed considerable irregularity with the Western roads making the best showing. The rally in the Southwestern carriers was checked by reports of extensive flood damage to roads operating in that territory. General Motors and Chrysler both made excellent comparison in first quarter earnings with those of a year ago but Studebaker, Pierce Arrow and some of the smaller companies showed substantial declines.

COTTON GOODS. New York, April 30.—(AP)—There has been an improvement in the demand for unfinished cottons this week sales of print cloths, sheetings, and some of the convertibles having been made for delivery carrying into August and September.

More business has already been effected were made to link the demands than at any time in two years or more showing that confidence in values has increased and that spring distribution has lessened many stocks. Complaint is general of the lack of profit in many of the heavy goods due to the steady rise in cotton and inability to secure replacement costs in prices on goods to be made.

The movement in printed wash fabrics continues very large and there is also a substantially increased business being done on rayon and cotton mixtures. The market for domestics has been quiet on any business but the movement on past orders continues full. Bleached cottons and unbleached wide sheetings have been dull.

Production continues in excess of single time capacity. Prices current in primary markets are as follows: Print cloth 28-34, 34-40, 40-44, 44-48, 48-52, 52-56, 56-60, 60-64,

FOREST FIRE IS RAGING IN PASQUOTANK

Fire Covers Area of Several Miles Along Bank of Dismal Swamp Canal.

Elizabeth City, April 30.—(AP)—Smoldering ruins today mark the spot where a finger dipped in ink of flames wrote fins upon the annals of the old Arbuckle mill, at Arbuckle's Landing, some 12 miles above South Mills, Thursday afternoon.

In the Lake Drummond feeder ditch alongside the mill site, are to be seen the last vestiges of a huge lumber barge destroyed also when the forest fire, raging on the west bank of the Dismal Swamp canal, veered suddenly to the eastward. The barge had burned to the water's edge.

Except for these smoldering ruins, there is no sign of the forest fire at Arbuckle's Landing today, other than burned grasses along the canal bank. Up the feeder ditch that leads to historic Lake Drummond, however, one may discern a blue haze, indicative of the raging inferno far back in the great wilderness known as the Dismal Swamp.

The fire yesterday had already covered an area from several miles north of Arbuckle's Landing to the vicinity of McPherson store, some two miles south from South Mills. Hope was expressed that a heavy shower, descending somewhat unexpectedly yesterday afternoon, had stopped the fire but to a offset that a heavy wind had accompanied the rain, and it was feared that it had spread the flames over many more acres of virgin woodland.

Evidence of havoc from the wind was to be observed all along the way back to Elizabeth City from Arbuckle's Landing. On the Newland highway, some five miles from this city, a giant beech tree, perhaps a century old, lay prostrate.

A little farther along, a brick chimney lay flattened out on the roof of a home dating back to the era when chimneys were built with broad fireplaces at the ground level. Branches wrung from sorely beleaguered trees lay all along the way.

Absolutely no confirmation could be obtained in South Mills of along the George Washington highway, as far as Arbuckle's Landing, of reports current here yesterday that three men had lost their lives while fighting the flames. It was stated at Arbuckle's Landing, that the fire had broken out Tuesday, in the woods north of that point, and had swept southwardly.

The mill destroyed at Arbuckle's Landing had not been in operation for more than a year, it was said, bunk houses and other buildings in the vicinity of the mill were saved.

From the fact that an east wind was blowing yesterday afternoon, the Washington highway was almost entirely free from smoke. The smaller fire to the east of the highway had been extinguished, or had gone out of their own accord. Many hundreds of acres on that side of the road had been burned over last year, and there was little left for the flames to feed upon.

No definite information on the havoc in the wake of the fire could be obtained at Arbuckle's Landing or at South Mills. It was agreed that the fire was one of the worst that had visited the swamp in many years, but nobody could be found who could estimate the damage. Apparently, the fire was at its worst about the shores of Lake Drummond, immortalized by Thomas Moore the Irish poet, in "The Lake of the Dismal Swamp," from the lake it had ranged northward for several miles, and was still spreading to the south.

A pall of smoke hung over the whole region, hiding from the curious work of the sinister creeping flames. It was learned at Arbuckle's Landing that the Richmond Cedar Works and other companies operating in the swamp were working desperately to check the spread of the fire, but there was no information as to the success or failure of their efforts.

Elizabeth City Hit by Tornado Late Yesterday

Elizabeth City, N. C. April 30.—(AP)—Descending swiftly from the northwest, a twister of tornado velocity late yesterday wrecked the Kilns of the Elizabeth City Brick Company, snapped off a smokestack of the Pasquotank Hose Company a short distance away and then turned west singing merrily on its way. A few trees blown down in this vicinity, but no more serious damage was reported this morning. A large tree probably washed up from the opposite shore of Pasquotank river, came ashore at the river side machine works, in Elizabeth City harbor, shortly after the blow.

The blast which wrecked the brick Kilns struck shortly before 5 o'clock while fifteen men were at work in the building, setting brick to be burned. The twister hit the west end of the 350-foot long structure first, tearing away 100 feet of brickwork, timbers and heavy steel framing as though it had been pasteboard. About three minutes later, according to Charlie W. Ward, manager of the plant, the twister dipped again about midway of the Kilns. This time it tore away a second stretch of about 100 feet.

The men in the Kilns, most of whom were negro laborers began surging out when the first blast struck and all escaped from the building without injury. Mr. Ward stated that the damage would aggregate $2,500.

After a two hour shut down this morning for temporary repairs and clearing away of rubbish, the company resumed operation. Recently constructed drying sheds closely adjacent to the Kilns were undamaged.

JACKSON EMBEZZLEMENT CASE WENT TO JURY NOON TODAY FOLLOWING LONG HARD FIGHT

that should have a telling effect upon the lives of the generation of womanhood today.

He declared that Jackson did not leave the county because he was so worried he didn't know what to do as maintained by the defense counsel. He left because he knew he had been guilty of gross misappropriation of funds which did not belong to him.

He said his return was not like that of the prodigal as represented by Louis Gaylord, in closing argument, for the defense last night. Jackson, by his own statement, did not know of what awaited him here and consequently did not come back to face the music created by examination of county records following his disappearance.

The courtroom was packed to capacity last night when Louis Gaylord made final argument in behalf of the defense. It was the largest crowd present since the opening of the case last Tuesday afternoon, and it was probably one of the quietest and most attentive crowds that ever packed a courtroom. For nearly an hour and a half the chief counsel for the defense commanded the attention of every member of that vast audience. He made no effort to play upon the emotions of the jury. He stated facts as they pertained to the defense side of the case, and at no time attempted to win sympathy of the jury or the audience through emotional argumentation.

Mr. Gaylord had been preceded by D. M. Clark, solicitor of the Fifth Judicial circuit, who had previously taken only a minor part in the presentation of evidence conducted by Counsel Allison Dunn. This solicitor spoke for about forty-five minutes. He reviewed in a brief way the facts of the case, and asked the jury for a conviction on the grounds that Jackson had been guilty of the charge of embezzlement preferred against him last year when an alleged shortage was found in records of the sheriff's department.

Julius Brown, member of the defense who followed the solicitor, consumed about an hour and a half in argument. He reviewed the facts as presented by the State, and told the jury that no grounds for conviction had been presented. He began shortly before five o'clock adjournment and completed argument a short while after court convened for night session.

Attorney Gaylord told the jury not to judge the defendant as they would an expert accountant, or some one who had superior educational advantages. He said the defendant showed poor business judgment in mixing his private funds with those of the county, but that this did not constitute dishonesty or crime. He related vouchers for the capture of snails, constable fees, etc., in the auditor's office which had not been presented with the vouchers of Jackson's salary, declaring that this would have wiped out one of the largest of the alleged bills introduced in the evidence.

"If Jackson wanted to be dishonest why didn't he take $12,000 cash from his own office and then draw $7,000 deposited in the bank to the sheriff's account," he asked.

"He went away and had so little money with him that he was compelled to wire back to friends for $50 with which to return home."

In concluding his argument, he told the jury that he would not have them render a verdict of not guilty because of sympathy. He wanted only one judgment, and that based upon the facts as presented in the evidence brought out during the four long days the case had been in progress.

ADDITIONAL DYNAMITE FIRED OPENING MISSISSIPPI LEVEL BELLOY CITY NEW ORLEANS and Gould, McGhee, already under 3 to 17 feet of water, was apprehensive in the face of the new danger and at Lake Village, a further rise would make necessary removal of 1,900 persons regarded as safe at the previous stage.

The crest of the flood was slightly south of Greenville, Miss., today and working ahead of it the Red Cross had ordered concentrations of men and supplies at Vicksburg, Natchez, and New Orleans.

In the lower Mississippi delta many flood victims were reported clinging to levees, trees and roofs and fleets of relief boats were being sent there.

A situation relief workers fear exists in other sections was illustrated in the finding of 70 refugees yesterday, when small boats penetrated in the finding of 70 refugees levee break at Dorena, Mo., 12 days ago.

The next six months will be a period of danger from disease according to Dr. W. A. Pusey, chairman of the district committee of the American Medical Association.

"This flood and the problems it has caused constitute, far and near, the biggest calamity we have had in this country, and the most difficult to handle," he said.

"It is the next six months that we have to watch, as the danger of epidemics, such as typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and dysentery is great."

FOR SUFFERERS OF FLOOD

The entire nation is being appealed to for funds for the relief of Mississippi Valley flood sufferers. Here's Miss Sylvia Chapman, of Boston, with a few bundles of money she gathered.

Red Cross Needs $5,000,000 For Flood Victims; Mobilizes All Relief Resources at Memphis

1. "Main Street" in one of the 32 refugee camps established by the Red Cross is shown in the upper photo. In the foreground two helpless victims of the merciless waters are shown inspecting their new quarters.

2. A group of refugees receiving food from a Red Cross canteen. Mass feeding such as this has been necessary in some camps but is being avoided wherever possible.

3. Acting Chairman James L. Fieser of the Red Cross who is assisting the administration of relief from base headquarters at Memphis, Tennessee.

WITH more than 100,000 persons already homeless and the mighty Mississippi threatening each instant to tear its way through additional towns in the one-time happy valley, the American Red Cross finds itself face to face with probably the greatest relief problem of the past century.

The President of the United States has actively participated in mobilizing governmental agencies and resources to assist the Red Cross in its relief program. On April 22, following the custom in previous disasters of the first magnitude, he issued a proclamation calling upon the people to subscribe to the Red Cross relief fund.

This he did in his capacity as President of the United States and President also of the Red Cross. He followed this action with the appointment of a special committee from his Cabinet, comprising Dwight F. Davis, Secretary of War; Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy; Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, and Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, to work in conjunction with Red Cross officials. At the first meeting of this committee with the Red Cross acting chairman, James L. Fieser, and others, it was decided that a minimum of $5,000,000 will be needed to take care of the flood sufferers.

The disaster was reported to exceed in proportions the Florida hurricane of last fall, when the roster of homeless was 80,000. It differs in that there is huge total of dead and wounded. In this case, however, there is no definitely cut out problem as in Florida, for the elements have not finished their havoc. Whether the waters will start to recede within a few weeks or whether they will continue to rise indefinitely, sweeping additional houses down to the sea and engulfing additional acres of farmlands and villages, cannot be foreseen.

Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief for the Red Cross, has been made dictator of the Mississippi Valley with the powers of a general in war. Headquarters of the relief corps is at Memphis, Tenn., where liaison officers of the Army, Navy, Commerce Department, Coast Guard, Public Health Service and Veterans' Bureau are working in conjunction with Mr. Fieser, Secretary Hoover, Major General Jadin, chief of army engineers, and Dr. William R. Redden, medical advisor for the Red Cross in Memphis, to assist in the gigantic program.

Relief funds are beginning to come in to National Red Cross headquarters in Washington and to chapter headquarters in every state and all that is humanly possible to do is being done for the refugees. Quotas have been assigned to the chapters and 3,000 of these are collecting funds. Prior to leaving for Memphis, Chairman Fieser expressed his belief that the American people will respond generously to the appeal for the flood sufferers.

The President could not find a more comfortable place, or better fishing.

He will find in Mr. Wrigley's house everything a house should have, including exquisite machinery to save a busy man's time, and nothing that a plain American's house should not have.

And in the neighborhood the President will meet men able to discuss intelligently the farm question upon which Mr. Coolidge's mind is now concentrated.

POLICE ARREST FIVE ON CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Durham, April 29.—(AP)—Police today arrested Amos Carswell, Kate Carswell, Bert Lee, Garland Johnson and Dodson's wife, Mrs. Lizzie Dodson, following allegation of W. L. Dodson that his wife and others were conspiring to do away with him in order to divide a $25,000 estate.

Duke University chemists found iodine in a bottle which Dodson maintained he had been taking as "medicine."
