NUMBER HOMELESS INCREASED TO 250,000 AS RESULT OF NEW BREAK IN LEVEE NEAR NATCHEZ

Devastating Flood Waters Now Cover Over Fifteen Thousand Square Miles.

New Orleans, May 4.—(AP)—Devastation of Northeastern Louisiana over a stretch of approximately four thousand square miles rapidly was becoming complete today as the madly racing Mississippi tore through its banks at two additional places between Vicksburg and Natchez.

A new army of refugees was sent on the March, increasing the homeless in the great flood to around 250,000, and rich cotton, sugar cane, trucking, hardwood and oil and gas lands were claimed, adding almost immeasurably to the staggering total of property loss.

Murky flood waters now cover nearly 15,000 square miles in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi and the picture of desolation presented is appalling. For hundreds of miles in Arkansas and Louisiana along the Mississippi there are only scattered places not underwater.

From Arkansas City almost down to Vicksburg, a stretch of more than one hundred miles as the crowd flies, flood or back waters are everywhere, the Mississippi flowing through a great lake out of which faint lines of its levees may be seen.

Roaring through four breaks in the Louisiana levees developed during the past 18 hours, the Mississippi waters were cutting wide channels in Madison and Tensas parishes and rushing to meet backwaters from overflow on the Black and Ouachita rivers as well as from breaks in the main levee around Glasscocke.

The rescue machine set up by former Governor John M. Parker, civilian flood detainer under Secretary Hoover, was moving swiftly to care for the refugees and to move out the hundreds who had clung tenaciously to their homes in the face of warnings given by telephone and dropped by airplanes flying over the threatened territory.

Below the mouth of the Red River the levees were still holding but with the approach of the crest of the "which already has crumbled levees to the North, apprehension is felt for the safety of the embankments southward towards New Orleans.

Again today the weather bureau here emphasized that every precaution should be taken along this section against the record stages previously forecast. It added that the crevasse waters from the Tensas basin were beginning to return to the old river into which the Red empties, showing a rise in the gauge of two tenths of a foot at Angola and Baton Rouge.

At Donaldsonville, further to the South, river was stationary, while at New Orleans a similar condition existed with the Carrollton gauge here showing 20.4 feet, a slight recession caused by the artificial crevasse created at Caernarvon, 15 miles to the South.

Little Rock, Ark., May 4.—(AP)—A drowning reported near Eudora yesterday brought the death list from the present floods in Arkansas to 126. Details of the drowning are lacking.

JINX STILL PURSUES FRENCH FLYING ACE

Paris, May 4.—(AP)—Captain Charles Nungesser's airplane, in which the noted French ace intended to fly from Paris to New York, was slightly burned by a gasoline fire early this morning. It is stated that the plane can be repaired in a day or two. It is thought an electric lamp ignited the gasoline.

RAGING FIRE DETERS WORK OF RESCUERS

Fairmont, W. Va., May 4.—(AP)—Spurred by the knowledge that 14 miners of 70 men entombed were working in an isolated section of the explosion-swept tunnels of the Everetts mine when it was wrecked four days ago, rescuers today pressed forward in the hope of reaching them. The death toll stood at 24.

There was a faint hope that the men there may have been able to brattle themselves in, but rescue experts conceded the possibility of their having escaped was remote. As the rescue work entered the fourth day there was no indication as to when the helmet men would complete the exploration of the mine and locate the 70 men imprisoned since last Saturday.

The fire raging in the inner recesses proved a stumbling block to the rescuers and Robert M. Lambie, chief of the West Virginia Department of mines, decided to seal off the burning section to prevent a second explosion and to expedite the search.

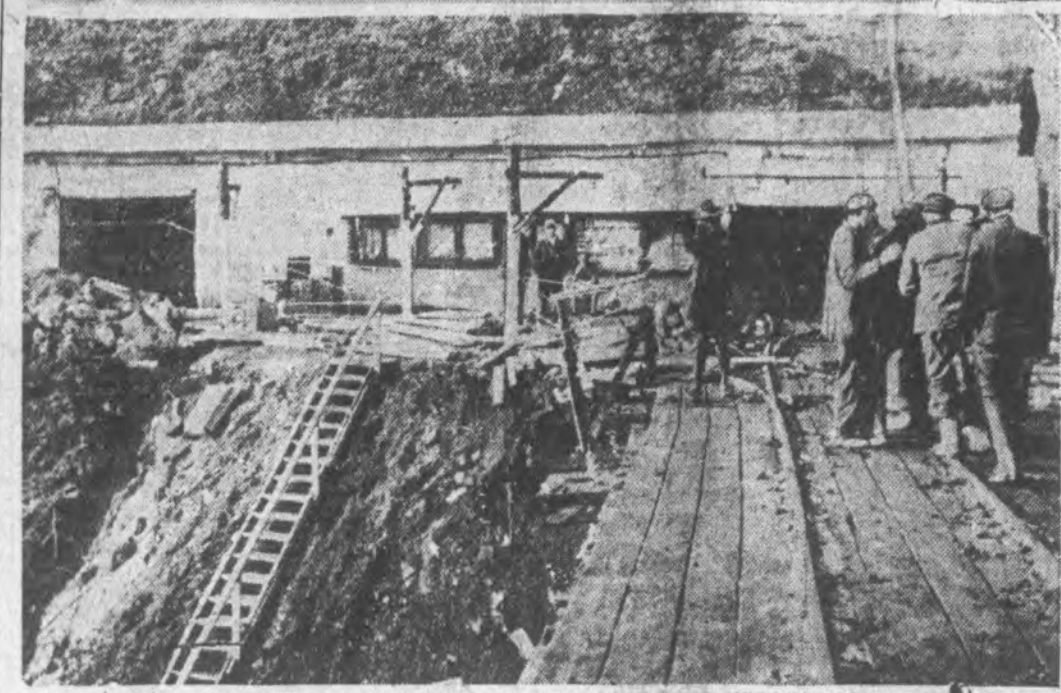

MRS. O'BERRY HEADS STATE WOMEN'S CLUB

Durham, May 4.—(AP)—Election of Mrs. Thomas O'Berry of Goldsboro, as president of the ensuing biennium featured today's session of the convention of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs.

With Mrs. O'Berry were elected as second vice president Mrs. W. J. Broden of Durham, as corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lionel Well of Goldsboro, as general federation director, Mrs. E. L. McKee of Sylva, retiring president of the federation, and as trustee, Miss Adelaide Fries of Winston-Salem.

Officers of the federation, whose terms do not expire for another year, are Mrs. R. D. W. Connor Chapel Hill, first vice president; Miss Annie Perkins, Farnville, recording secretary; and Mrs. Eugene Davis, Wilson, treasurer.

Scores Trapped by Terrific Blast

Entrance to the Federal No. 3 mine of the New England Fuel and Transportation Co., 10 miles from Fairmont, W. Va., in which nearly a hundred miners were trapped by a terrific explosion. While 3000 relatives waited around the mouth of the mine, rescue crews sought to liberate alive more than 70 miners caught behind a sheet of flame. Immediately after the blast 16 men were brought out dead. (Int'l. Newsreel).

NEGRO SHOT BY COPS AT FARMVILLE

Willie Gibbs, colored, believed to be from Smithfield, is being held in county jail here today suffering from injuries sustained in a gun battle with Farmville police Monday night. Officers were today seeking other members of the band of three who were roaming around in the vicinity of Farmville at the time Gibbs was shot.

Gibbs attracted attention of Farmville residents when he went on a begging tour Monday afternoon. Believing him to be a member of a band of suspicious characters previously seen in town, someone notified the police. An investigation followed. Two members of the party were found on the edge of town waiting for Gibbs to return.

Officers waited until they were joined by Gibbs and then went over to take them in charge. The negroes opened fire on Taylor and Braxton, officers who had conducted the search, several bullets passing through the automobile in which they were riding.

The fire was returned by the officers. The negroes fled, Gibbs, however, was captured about an hour later. One of the bullets fired by the police had taken effect in his side, producing an ugly, but not necessarily serious wound.

A gun, a collection of razors and overalls were found at the scene of the shooting. It is believed members of the band are involved in minor robberies reported from different parts of the county, but until today no evidence to this effect had been secured.

Roanoke, Va., May 4.—(AP)—Every minute sees him getting worse" was the word at noon today from the hospital here where Walter Boothe has been kept alive since April 21 by artificial respiration. The 18-year-old farmer appeared to be doggedly determined to fight to the end, but physicians expected the end at any moment.

FLOOD RELIEF FUND

Local contributions to the flood relief fund had passed the $900 mark at noon today but reports from the flood area indicate that the number of homeless and suffering is steadily increasing and the local chapter of the Red Cross today urged that all citizens of this community who can possibly do so, to contribute immediately to the fund. The quota to be raised by the local chapter has been set at $1,500 and collections so far are about $600 short of this goal.

CHARGES MOVIE CORPORATIONS ARE MONOPOLY

Operator of Local Theatre Files Complaint Against Thirteen Companies.

Wilson, N. C., May 4.—(AP)—Complaint was made in Wilson Superior Court today charging thirteen motion picture companies with having a virtual monopoly of business of distributing and exhibiting films in North Carolina. Papers were filed to that effect by H. J. Paradise, of Wilson, owner of a chain of theatres.

A temporary injunction restraining the corporations from threatening to break their contracts with Paradise has been served on the companies. Paradise alleges they refused to provide him with films for which he contracted.

Paradise, operating theatres in Wilson, Tarboro, Greenville and Sanford, charges the corporations with compelling exhibitors to sign unlawful contracts contrary to statute in an attempt to deprive them of control of their business.

Defendants named in the action include Paramount, Famous-Lasky Corp.; Universal Pictures, Inc.; Pathé Exchange, Inc.; First National Pictures, Inc.; Liberty Distributing Film Corp.; Educational Film Exchange, Inc.; Arthur C. Bromberg Attractions, Inc.; Enterprise Film Corp.; Eltraban Film Co.; Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc.; and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation.

Charlotte, May 4.—(AP)—Officials of the film board of trade, the organization of film distributing offices here today declined to comment on the suit of H. J. Paradise of Wilson, charging a monopoly in the distribution of pictures in the State. It was intimated however, that an effort would likely be made to take the case to the federal courts.

Some 1,500 delegates were present representing 46 nations—including the United States, Soviet Russia and Turkey and non-members of the League of Nations—and the hall presented even a more animated and crowded scene than during meetings of the League Assembly.

TODAY

An Important Crime. There Is Other News. Flood, Sunday Work, Stocks, And the Big Los Angeles. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.)

What makes a murder important? New York makes the Snyder murder case violently important news. Even Cyrus H. K. Curtis's gentle, refined newspaper yesterday printed fifteen columns of type and six pictures about that one crime, twice as much as it ever prints about anything "respectable."

The average man kills a woman, or a woman kills a man, and ten lines tell enough about it. Mrs. Snyder's husband is killed, sleeping, wire is fastened around his neck to make sure he will never wake, his skull is broken with a sash weight. And it takes fifteen columns to tell that Mrs. Snyder says Mr. Gray did it and she tried to stop him.

The public asks, "Why DID they do it. HOW COULD they do it?" The Reverend Dr. Stratton says about it and concludes "you cheat God." David Bell says Mrs. Snyder is a little girl filled with fear.

Nell Brinkley, lady artist of great talent, who practically made the Thaw trial, presents a beautiful picture of Mrs. Snyder and Mr. Gray in court, labelled "Two Loves Face Each Other—and the Chair." With one possible exception she is the best reporter at the trial.

The human race in its past and present primitive state is run by three main springs—or impulses, which in the order of their importance, are SELF PRESERVATION, REPRODUCTION AND AMBITION.

The first two, most powerful, makes the Snyder case important news. The second human mainspring brought the two accused into the shadow of the electric chair. The first, most powerful, love of life, makes the news, hate and announce each other.

PLUNGE INTO CONVENTION WORK TODAY

Southern Baptist at Louisville Clear Decks and Get Down To Real Business.

Louisville, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—The seventy-second annual Southern Baptist convention today plunged into its real program of work following an address to the messengers gathered from 18 States by its president, Dr. George W. McDaniel, Richmond, Va.

Early today more than 1,700 persons were registered at the Jefferson County Armory here, where the convention is being held and provision is being made for the many messengers who would visit the convention today.

Last night at the 10:00 p.m. Baptist Church by representative laymen of the South. Despite a steady rainfall, the church was crowded to capacity for as one of the laymen declared, "it takes a lot of water to drown a Baptist's religion."

Other Baptists from all sections of the South and missionary workers home on furlough from foreign nations were among those who attended commencement exercises of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at the Jefferson County Armory last night. Diplomats were presented to 103 graduates during the exercises.

The first item of business before the convention was the naming of officers. Since Dr. McDaniel, president for the past three years has declined to stand for re-election, his successor was to be chosen as well as three vice-presidents, 100 recording secretaries and other officers.

Wide interest centered in the report of the committee on business efficiency, under the chairmanship of Dr. Austin Crouch of Murfreesboro, Tenn. This report embraces a number of new business policies, including a system of budget control, enlargement of the personnel, functions of the executive committee and the reorganization of several minor departments of the convention.

TWO SERMONS DELIVERED AT REVIVAL HERE

Virginia Evangelist in Powerful Messages at Presbyterian Church

Many eager people gathered early in the Presbyterian Church last evening for the 8 o'clock service in the series of revival sermons being preached this week by Rev. R. G. McLees, D. D., of Chatham, Virginia.

In his impressive manner the speaker began his discourse by saying, "I suppose you are asking the question what can I do in order to make this revival a success and a blessing? What is my part? How may I help? Indeed I would be much disappointed if you are not asking such a question."

My text this evening contains the answer to these questions, "And when the men of that place had knowledge of Him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto Him all that were diseased; and besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment; and as many as touched were made perfectly whole." Matt. 14:35, 36.

PIRATES AND CARDS TIED FIRST PLACE

Pirates and Cardinals today were deadlocked for the leadership of the National League, the Giants having lost ground before a persistent Brooklyn jinx.

In the Pirate-Cardinal series at Pittsburgh, the Buccaners crowded into a tie by winning 11 to 10 a game marked by terrific hitting. They were seven runs behind at one stage, but the big guns opened with a roar in the fifth for a total of 11 runs from them on. It was a large sized contest in many ways. The hits totalled 33, of which Pittsburgh had 17, and the home team used 20 pitchers, four of whom were pitchers.

Another hard fall for the Giants at the hands of the Robins left them third on the list and still facing the Brooklyn Indian sign. It was working overtime yesterday when Uncle Robbie's erstwhile cellar dweller overcame a five run lead and won 7 to 6 for their third straight victory and their third consecutive conquest of the Giants.

The other club that has been bearing a charmed life met eventual disaster when the White Sox fell before the Tigers by 5 to 1 after winning seven games in a row and charging to third place in the American League. Fothergill, who was hit in every game he has played this season, kept it up with a single, in the fifth.

With Goslin and Rice out of the lineup because of sudden attacks of pleurisy and sinus trouble respectively, the Senators lost to the Yankees by 6 to 4. The casualty list already included Walter Johnson and Bucky Harris.

The Chicago Cubs also encountered a jinx although they bunched hits enough to defeat Cincinnati 4 to 3. An X-ray showed a splintered finger bone in the left elbow of their star lefthanded pitcher, Percy Jones.

Dogging at the heels of the league leading Yankees, the Athletics scored a clean 7 to 2 victory over the Red Sox, while the Braves made the day's honors even between Philadelphia and Boston by walling the Phillies, 7 to 4. The smart of a ninth defeat for the Cleveland Indians the previous day was wiped out when they came back to best the St. Louis Browns by 5 to 3.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

AP Press Sports Editor
New York, May 4.—(AP)—A young medical student who fired a few ringing baseball shots five years and chiefly at the expense of Babe Ruth, then passed out of the big leagues, is back. He is Bob Pruett, left handed, whose comeback so far with the rejuvenated Phillies holds promise of providing one of the year's most dramatic baseball episodes.

He went to the St. Louis Browns from the University of Missouri campus at the age of 19, perfected a screw ball and three years later southpawed himself to fame by striking out the mighty Babe Ruth in 11 out of 13 times at bat.

But Pruett's meteoric flight was brief. The experiential flight he ruined his arm with the peculiar motion he used for his screw ball. He now says it was because he has worked too hard, figuring in 39 games that year, 1922. He recalls one stretch in which he did relief work in five straight games, then started against the Yankees in the sixth. It was in this contest, he says, that he first felt the twinge of pain in his elbow that augured trouble.

At 22, he was labelled through, and finally went to Oakland in the Pacific Coast League, where it was not until last year that he recovered his effectiveness, won 23 games and was drafted by the Phillies.

A jinx seems to be following one of the greatest track and field teams Penn State College has ever had. Since capturing the cross-country team and individual championships last fall, Nate Cartmel's pupils have had a succession of bad breaks.

They are favorites to win the Eastern indoor championships, but lost to Harvard. Last week they were contenders for all eight of the major relay titles at the Pennsylvania carnival, but failed to capture a single one, although finishing second five times. They lost in the quarter mile relay when Pennsylvania's quarter equalled the world's record, were nipped by illness in the four mile race and eliminated from the shuttle hurdle relay by an accident after getting off to a good lead in their heat.

Nevertheless, they have strength and balance to figure as one of the East's outstanding hopes of repelling the far-Western track challenge this year of Stanford and Southern California.

Big Bill Tilden's comeback prospects and Germany's strength for a re-entry into Davis cup competition both may be gauged this week-end, when the former American champion and his team partner, Frank Hunter, meet the Teutons at Berlin.

The results may not be definitely conclusive, for it will be the first competition for the American pair abroad, but the outcome will be of more than ordinary interest as it marks the official resumption of German-American tennis relations after a lapse of 13 years.

Tilden rates the Germans high on the international scale.

Raleigh, May 4.—(AP)—Kinston's Eagles climbed out of the cellar to swap positions with Petersburg's Bronchos; Wilson lost again to Portsmouth, and Norfolk handed the league leading Richmond club a basket in yesterday's doings in the Virginia loop.

Ferebee, former University of North Carolina star, hurled Kinston to a win over the visitors, 6-3. On the other hand Frank Riel, Wilson hurler, was hit hard at times, the Bronchos losing to Portsmouth, 5-1. Peterson kept Richmond's 11 safeties scattered as Norfolk broke the leaders' winning streak of six victories—Norfolk 9; Richmond 5.

Raleigh, May 4.—(AP)—Coach "Chic" Doak took his sofari unlucky North Carolina Wildcats in the second of their three game series.

Duke was at Annapolis to meet Uncle Sam's midshipmen and V. P. I. visited Wake Forest. Carolina was in Atlanta to meet Tech.

The second no-hit game in college circles in five days occurred yesterday when Wicker, State Prosh, prevented Wake Forest's Baby Deacons from breaking into the hit column. State, however, permitted the home team to win by erroring five times.

Carolina Frosh defeated Virginia yearlings at Charlottesville, 10-6. Duke lost to Georgetown, 12 to 1 and V. P. I. handed Carolina her first conference loss of the season, 7-4, in a game at Chapel Hill. It was the second victory in as many days in Tar Heels for the Virginia Cobblers, who defeated Davidson in the Rowan County capital move to Davidson for another exhibition.

From there State moves into South Carolina and Georgia to play Tech and Clemson.

Eight Teams Survive High School Series

Raleigh, May 4.—(AP)—The eight surviving teams in the state race among high schools to decide the baseball championship begin tomorrow to eliminate each other.

Eight teams remain in the east as well as that many in the west. Regional championships will be settled probably by May 16 with the neutral grounds set in Salisbury and Raleigh. The final game is set for May 21 at Chapel Hill.

Eastern games: Clayton at Warsaw, May 5; Hamlet-Whiteville, at Laurinburg, May 5; Oxford at Zeb Vance, May 6; Wilson at Hertford, May 6.

Western: Charlotte - Cherryville at Gastonia, May 5; Asheville at Shelby, May 6; Rockwell-Bonlee at Siler City, May 6; and High Point at Winston-Salem, May 7.

Clayton and Wilson, both having strong pitching staffs, are looked upon in the east as favorites. Several of the western entries are considered more or less even in strength in view of their records.

did health and more active than many are at 40 years of age.

She is the loving mother of eleven children, but only five living now to greet her on these happy occasions. Those living are F. J. Hemby, of Greene county; Mrs. Luby Cox, of Ayden; Mrs. H. L. Nichols, of Arthur; L. O. Hemby and Mrs. Maud Sumrell of Greenville. She also has twelve grandchildren to gather about her knees on these occasions.

On Sunday morning, at eleven o'clock her children and grandchildren began to arrive at her home with lunch baskets filled to the brim, and each with a birthday gift for mother. At noon, the long table was filled with an abundance of food with a beautiful birthday cake holding 63 pink candles brightly burning in the center.

The glad surprise brought smiles in the home for all, while the blessing was received by Mr. D. J. Smith.

At three o'clock Mrs. L. O. Hemby played for her several of her favorite hymns, while her two sons F. J. and L. O. Hemby, sang with grace.

Besides her children and grandchildren, those present were; Mrs. J. B. Joyner, her elder sister; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Smith and little Edith Madge Smith, all of Bell-Artin; and Mr. Gladson Nichols, her nephew, of this city.

When the entire day was spent, all departed declaring a day of joy well spent. Then all thanked heaven and gave Jesus all the praise, for as we all know, there is no one can take the place of mother. And for this special reason we should all keep the tenth commandment: "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

Our father departed this life July 14, 1918, leaving mother in our care until death do us part. So we love and cherish her more and more each day, as she grows older. And we trust that we may be blessed with her presence in the passing of many more happy birthdays. May the Lord bless us.

God placed the names in this old world. Each to give to another; But the sweetest of names that ever was placed Is that precious old name called MOTHER.

SMITH TO BEGIN SIX YEAR SENTENCE IN RALEIGH TODAY

Convicted of incest in criminal court here two weeks ago, Henry Smith was carried to Raleigh today to begin the six-year penitentiary sentence imposed by Judge Cranmer last Saturday afternoon. Smith has repeatedly confessed innocence of the crime which he is alleged to have committed against his 16 year old daughter. It was intimated at the conclusion of court Saturday that Smith would appeal to Supreme court, but it is understood that he was unable to raise bond of $10,000 made necessary by an appeal.

YOUTHFUL DRIVERS

An increasing number of youthful automobile drivers is prevalent here, and attention is called to the fact that it is unlawful for persons under the age of sixteen years to drive a motor vehicle. Parents who permit children to drive automobiles are not only violating the laws themselves, but are instilling in the children the habit of disregard for and defiance of the laws of our state.

Parents are urged to see to it that children under lawful age do not drive automobiles about our city, and if the parents fail in this respect, it is up to the officers of our city to do their duty to break up the dangerous practice of children drivers.

COW-HOG-HEN WEEK

Convinced by the cow-hog and hen prosperity on certain Georgia farms, other farmers of the state became desirous of owning livestock and poultry and hen week was held in that state, sponsored by business organizations of every type.

The University News Letter, pointing out the fact that North Carolina is far behind other states of the union from the standpoint of poultry and livestock, and urging more attention along this line, says:

"We believe that few people realize the low position North Carolina occupies as a meat and milk livestock state. The 1920 census showed that counting mules and horses only one state had less livestock value per farm than North Carolina, and excluding mules and horses, North Carolina ranked last of all states in livestock values per farm. No other region in America has so few meat and milk animals per farm as the coastal plains area of North Carolina, and few spots are so deficient as even the western half of the state.

"And we do not make up in quality what we lack in quantity. The last census showed that in quality of livestock, measured by percent of all farms having some form of pure-bred livestock, only two states ranked below North Carolina.

"Cattle are the most important form of livestock, and on the basis of cattle per farm North Carolina comes last of the states. Some idea of our low status as a cattle state, dairy and beef, can be obtained from considering the fact that we rank second in number of farms, but thirty-seventh in total number of cattle!

"North Carolina farmers, upon an average, drink less milk and eat less butter than farmers anywhere else in the United States. Our farmers' consumption of home-raised beef is almost negligible. More than one hundred thousand farms in the state do not have a milk cow. These farms are mainly in the cotton and tobacco belt.

"We do not rank high in poultry and egg production as can be seen from the fact that we rank second in farms but nineteenth in total value of poultry.

We do not rank high in sheep as can be seen from the fact that we rank second in number of farms, but thirty-fifth in total number of sheep.

We do not rank well in swine as can be seen from the fact that, although we are second in farms, we are nineteenth in number of swine. In swine per farm we are near the bottom. The hog, however, is North Carolina's main source of meat, and on thousands of eastern North Carolina farms the hog is the only meat animal raised. There are also thousands of farms with no meat or milk animals of any sort. North Carolina more than any other state, needs a cow-hog-hen week, many such weeks, in fact.

THE PROBLEM OF THE BOY

Boy Week approaches with its annual parade and demonstration of the various agencies which have been inspired with the purpose of doing something with the Philadelphia boy of today who will be the Philadelphia man, citizen and voter of tomorrow.

In the original and better conception of the institution of American Democracy as a government of men, rather than of law, there is nothing more vitally important than the making of the men—and under present sex equality of the women as well—who are to be the self-governing Democracy of the next generation.

The Boy Problem, therefore, is the problem of every individual who has a stake in the community, and every agency which sets itself to the task of helping to make better boys, physically, intellectually and morally, is deserving of the unanimous and unqualified support of the community so far as its works shall prove it. The activities of Boy Week constitute the annually recurring device by which these activities prove themselves and demonstrate their worth to the public.

In their respective fields the Boys' Club, the Boy Scouts, the DeMolay Commandery, not forgetting the all-important Public School system, the municipal playground activities and the various efforts fostered by the Young Men's Associations and the churches, are doing a notable civic work and separately or as concentrated in the Boy Council deserve substantial commendation and support.

But Boy Week will fail of its highest purpose and its maximum efficiency if it does not emphasize over and above all these, as first in opportunity, first in responsibility and first in potency, the Home. The Family is the oldest institution devised for the proper training of boys. It is the only institution of permanence. It is the most vitally essential of all. These other agencies are splendid auxiliaries to the Home and deserve to be fostered as such. But they must be auxiliaries and not substitutes.—Phila. Bulletin.

Winston-Salem, May 3.—(AP)—George L. Jarvis, Walnut Cove attorney, was found dead today in his office in the Mercantile Building, according to a telephone message to the Sentinel. Gives Instruction in Refrigeration

A Frigidaire demonstration is being given by the Merritt Equipment Company next door to Sumrell Motor Company.

This educational program is being conducted by Mrs. Wainberg, who is an expert in mechanical refrigeration. Mrs. Wainberg for many years was interested in home economics. When electric refrigeration was put before the public ten years ago she turned all of her attention to educating the public in this line of thought. She is considered one of the best posted persons in North Carolina on mechanical refrigeration owing to her previous experience in home economics, also being a pioneer in this field.

The class yesterday afternoon and last night consisted of explanations between the ice box method of refrigeration. Mrs. Wainberg also showed that mechanical refrigeration eliminates food spoilage existing in the ice box method of refrigeration. The program was concluded with the serving of delightful fruits frozen in Frigidaires stocked by the company.

The program for tonight will begin at eight o'clock and tomorrow afternoon at three-thirty, and will be a continuation of instruction in mechanical refrigeration.

ity necessary to a man who studies, teaches theology." While Professor Penn was lecturing in Taylor, Dr. J. B. Slater, of Old St. Andrew's Church in Toronto, was telling how to preach. Clearly he believed that the young minister should start his sermons for the next Sunday on Monday morning and "Brood all the week."

Greater men never graced the American education scene than William Graham Sumner and Josiah Willard Gibbs, in the opinion of Yale men of other days, and this belief the old graduates are backing with cash to the extent, now, of $150,000. The cash is going into two permanent endowment funds of $250,000 each. One is to be known as the Sumner, the other as the Gibbs Fund. The department of economics, sociology and government will benefit from the Sumner Fund, the department of chemistry, physics, and mathematics will benefit from the Gibbs Fund. "That these may be established within the next five years," is the expressed hope of Yale authorities. Gibbs was the first physical chemist of modern times, and Sumner was a teacher, reformer, and fighter, and a man whose utterances were heard in England and on the continent."

Is there no real news? Yes, the usual run, but it cannot compete with the Snyder's. Col. Fwing, boss editor of New Orleans, reports that no danger threatens his city. Water rushing, millions of cubic feet per minute, through the crevasses opened 172 miles below the city, finds its own way to the Gulf, never returning to the river. New Orleans is not worried.

Two hundred and fifty miles up the river, four new crevasses, caused by high water, have flooded six parishes and made 140,000 more homeless. The Red Cross, having collected $5,000,000, asks for $5,000,000 more, to help out.

Real help in the way of prevention should come from the government, and engineers like those that built the Panama Canal. Sweet charity is beautiful, when it is too late. But government should prevent recurrence, and not be too anxious to economize.

Detroit introduces the first air taxis, enclosed bodies "take you anywhere." A New York Stock Exchange seat sold yesterday for $200,000, a lot to pay for the privilege of telling your customers "If stocks don't go up, they will go down." Yesterday they went up.

In Baltimore Jules Askin, artist, painted from nature on the Sabbath. You are not supposed to work on Sunday in Baltimore. They locked him up. He asked "Who paints the beautiful sunrise and sun set on Sunday, and what do you do to Him?" The jailer replied, "Ask the judge—you're not supposed to judge."

One of our fifty million dollar dreadnaughts, Colorado, went ashore on a mud bank and stayed there for some time. Eighteen other ships pulled it off.

What would have happened to the Colorado, on the mud, had a couple of enemy air craft flown over and dropped five or ten thousand pounds of TNT on the noble ship? What would happen to every one of our dreadnaughts, cruisers and other floating targets, crawling along twenty-five to forty miles an hour, if attacked by fliers. Why not build a real flying fleet in the air?

The big Los Angeles sailed serenely over our big futile, steel-clad floating targets, in the Hudson river yesterday morning. What could that dirigible have done for our million dollars worth of obsolete floating ships? She and her small crew would have been shot down? Very likely, Zeppelins are feeble fighters. But before she came down, Los Angeles could have wiped out several battleships and their big crews.

Uldine Uiley, fifteen year old evangelist, arrived to save souls in New York at an unfortunate moment with the Snyder case in full blast. Not even a New Yorker can attend to everything at once. Still, she saved 45 souls on her opening night. Not bad in New York. But some will need to be saved several times. New York's night life is exciting.

I would have you note (3) The sorrow or sadness of their condition. Scarcely a home could be found but had some one palsied, blind, lame, halt, maimed or dying. Their land was a picture of beauty with its vine-clad hills, its terraced olive orchards, its green fields and sluggish streams; but the people were sick and there was suffering everywhere.

They first brought their friends and relatives to Jesus. They next brought Jesus to them: "They brought Him."

The result was "as many as Only a touch was needed. But they had to touch.

But some did not touch, and they were not healed. "As many as touched." Some said, I have a business matter on my mind today; I'll not touch now." Others said, "I do not fully understand how touching the hem of his garment will heal me; and I'll not touch till I fully understand it."

Oh, sin-sick soul, you need the healing touch of Jesus the Christ, to cry out to Him, and yield your heart to Him. Why not tonight?

The attendance this morning was an increase over that of yesterday, the attention close and earnest. The text brings us this theme:

"Getting Ready for the Most Efficient Service." Text: Parable of the Unjust Steward. Matt. 18:23-35. The speaker retold in vivid words the story of the unjust steward.

The preparation for efficient service consists principally in acquiring the forgiving spirit. How often forgive? Till seven times? Jesus answered, forgive indefinitely, or without limit. The reason the Christian should not set a limit to the number of times he is to forgive is, that redemption makes us like God. And there is no limit in the number of times God will forgive. God does not say I will forgive you a thousand times, but not the one thousand and first time. He places no limit. We are like Him.

Three steps in reclaiming your enemy: Go to him singly in the spirit of Jesus; if that fails, take a friend, and both fail, take it to the church that the church may effect a reconciliation.

The unjust steward should have tried to be like his King who forgave him "all that debt" which he could never have paid; but instead, he fell upon his fellow servant and cruelly beat him, demanding a pittance to be paid him.

We must seek to be like God who forgave us "all that debt" and instead of abusing others, seek to bring them to the King that they may become like Him.

Bitterness in our breast against any fellow man will shut us out from the King; let us get rid of it all, for without such cleansing, we cannot be fitted for efficient service for Him.

Services every morning at 10 o'clock and every evening at eight. Come to get a blessing and to be a blessing.

Hail Storm Does Damage in Okla.

Sallisaw, Okla., May 4.—(AP)—A hail storm followed by more than five inches of rain last night destroyed roofs of a third of all the buildings here and broke hundreds of windows, causing damage estimated at more than $400,000, a survey revealed today.

Continue Firing On British Ships

Shanghai, May 4.—(AP)—Indiscriminate firing on British warships on the Yangtze river continues. The gunboat Cockchafer was under fire today near Nanking while conveying steamer but there were no casualties. The destroyer Wanderer was fired on with rifles at Kiangyin, a member of the crew being slightly wounded. Both warships returned the fire.

GRAHAM BROTHERS CONTROL MOTOR CO.

New York, May 4.—(AP)—A controlling interest in the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company was obtained today by Joseph B. Robert C. and Roy A. Graham, subject to the approval of the Paige-Detroit stockholders.

The plan will involve increasing the capital stock from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 shares, and the issuance of $4,000,000 cumulative 7 per cent voting convertible second preferred stock.

Graham Brothers will acquire all of the common stock now owned by the Jewett interests but no stock offering to the public is contemplated at this time. Graham Brothers will take over the management of the business.

OVER SIX MILLIONS FOR FLOOD RELIEF

six and four years in the penitentiary respectively.

SPRING

Is Here and Here to Stay

At this time of the year practically every home is making changes. Arranging the home so as to be ready to enjoy Spring and Summer Time

Furniture For the Porch Sun Parlor and Lawn

We have on display furniture that is especially suitable for the porch, sun parlor and the lawn. Most every housekeeper is planning and arranging their home so that the spring and summer time will bring joy to the whole family. We are showing just a few things here, but our stock is very complete.

Let us take one of our cool, colorful, comfortable, light, airy fibre Suites; a porch rug and several of our porch shades, and convert an end or a part of your porch into an ideal summer living room. These shades shut out the sun and glare but will let the cool breeze in. Then what a joy the hot days and evenings will be.

Though, if it is only shades, chairs, or a swing, our assortment is unsurpassed. It may be something for the dining room or kitchen. No home is fully complete without a Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator—ice or can be changed into an electric.

Our buying power is the secret of our selling power. Practically every town and city in Eastern North Carolina has a Quinn-Miller store. We buy collectively—this enables us to buy quality merchandise in quantity—and buy cheaper. We sell nationally advertised products.

We sell for less.

Come to see, or call us.
