Several Towns in Threatened Territory Warned of Impending Disaster.

New Orleans, May 18 .- (AP)-Complete evacuation of an area 15 to 20 miles wide between the west bank of the Atchafalaya River and the higher ground along the western boundary of St. Martin Parish was advised today by the Weather Bureau in a flood bulletin charging the course of the flood down the Atchafala basin.

Port Barre Breaux Bridge, Arnaudville, Leonville and a dozen more smaller towns are in the threatened territory.

Basing the warning on the vastness of the flood still above Old River and the volume of the flow through the crevasses along Bayou Des Oloises, 170 miles northwest of New Orleans on the opposite side of the Mississippi, the Weather Bureau urged the evacation of the "remainder of that are fifteen to 20 miles wide alon gthe west side of the Atchafalaya River south of Bayaon Des Glaises to and including Port Barre and the strip 15 miles wide along the west side of below Port Barrow to the Baton Rouge Lafayette branch of the Southern Pacific Railroad."

"Why." the critics are asking, Harris, Mrs. W. H., "isn't" three of four months of conditioning sufficient to put Dempsey in condition to fight around July 1, as originally planned? Is there any Highsmith, B. A., lack of the old confidence in his refusal to meet the rugged Spaniard. Holton, J. S., Paulino, at that time, or is the way to a return title bout with Gene Tunney being made easier for Dempsey by his agreement to fight the Sharkey-Maloney winner in August? | Jackson. Mrs. Louvenia,

The switch from Paulino to Sharkey or Maloney as Dempsey's firstand only-major preliminary opponent is considered good ballyhoo for tomorrow's Yankee Stadium battle but it is mystifying to those who have watched the build-up of the colorful Spaniard as a title contender.

Either Sharkey or Maloney, most ritics agree, figures as a more for- McLawhorn, Mrs. Fannie, midable rival for Dempsey than the comparatively inexperienced but rug McLawhorn, Mrs. Clyde, ged Paulino but the Spaniard's color and his drawing powers have figured largely in Rickard's plan. There is yet the possibility that Paulino and Jack Delaney may be matched, the winner to meet Sharkey or Moloney to determine Dempsey's opponent, but this seems only a possibility now in view of Rickard's altered plans, plus the difficulties in which Paulino and Delaney have be come involved with the New York state athletic commission.

The caveators endeavored to show that his official actions in that period were those of a man not of sound mind.

Early in the session, Mrs. H. W Carter, wife of a local occulist, furnished the sensation of the morning in a battle of wits with attorney H. S. Ward, of Washington, in which the ex-Congressman came out second best. Mrs. Carter said she took the stand voluntarily and intimated that the evidence given by Elbert Weston, who had testified for the caveators on Judge Brown drinking habits, was not entirely veracious. She spoke of objections made to a memorial chapel erected to "A Drunken Judge." One of the automobile owner in the state by high points of her examination was when she related how she had "converted Congressman Lindsay Warren and Judge Brown to woman suffrage.'
