RADIO WEB SPREAD OUT TO CARE FOR FINAL EMERGENCY ALONG ATCHAFALAYA RIVER

Vessels Equipped With Radio Cruise Through Bayous To Assist Refugees.

New Orleans, May 31.—(AP)—A radio web was spread out early today in the Atchafalaya basin to care for another emergency which may arise in the last bitter struggle with the greatest flood in the history of the Mississippi before it loses itself in the gulf.

Refugees were being moved today from the lowlands around Morgan City as the flood waters climbed higher. Morgan City is about 100 miles from New Orleans at the mouth of the Atchafalaya.

Several hundred persons were removed from Avoca Island near Morgan City yesterday. Other refugees from Brunswick Bay section passed through Morgan City on the way to the refugee concentration point at Thibodaux.

Physicians from Morgan City were visiting the many families who planned to stay out the flood on house boats above and below the city to vaccinate them.

Relief headquarters at New Orleans were covered with a pall of gloom today over the death of Earl Kilpatrick, assistant disaster relief director, who was killed yesterday in a plane crash near Donaldsonville.

The situation on the lower river was practically unchanged. The river recording gauged a slow drop at all points.

BALLOON RACE GETS AWAY AT AKRON, OHIO

Several of Silken Bags Sighted Over New York, Pennsylvania And Ontario.

Akron, Ohio, May 21.—(AP)—Approximately 15 hours after they weighed off here yesterday in the National Balloon Race several of the silken bags had been sighted in mid-morning today over northeastern Pennsylvania and central New York.

One unidentified balloon passing over Syracuse and another sighted between Oneida and Sherrill, N. Y., seemingly had covered the greatest distance of any from which reports had been received.

Race headquarters here was without an direct report and it was not known whether any balloons were over Lake Erie or Lake Ontario although it was regarded as probable that some were following that course.

All the bags sighted were moving in a northeasterly direction, in fulfillment of the prophesies of meteorological experts who said before the start of the race that a current of approximately 6,000 feet altitude would take them in that direction.

A haze and the height at which some of the balloons were traveling made identification difficult.

Kingston, Ont., May 31.—(AP)—The balloon entry of the St. Louis Rotary Club, one of 15 balloons which started from Akron, Ohio passed over this city a little before noon today.

Rochester, N. Y., May 31.—(AP)—A balloon believed to be one of those which started from Akron in the national elimination race passed over East Henrietta and Rose Lawn suburbs of Rochester, about 6 o'clock this morning.

Another balloon passed over Morton, 20 miles west of here at 4:30 o'clock, headed out over Lake Ontario in a northeasterly direction.

It is funny how some respected citizens regard "Please Remit" on an overdue bill as nothing short of blackmail.

CHECK UP FROM STORM SHOWS SIXTEEN DEAD

Section of Tennessee, Virginia and Kentucky Swept By Severe Storm.

Bristol, Va.-Tenn., May 31.—(AP)—At least sixteen persons were killed during Sunday night and Monday as rain, wind, hail and electrical storms swept sections of three States—Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Mountain streams, swollen to flood stage by heavy rains, washed away homesteads, while in some sections hail added to the damage done to standing crops.

Kentucky, with 10 deaths and more than twenty persons reported missing in the vicinity of Prestonsburg and Garrett, was the heaviest hit.

Tennessee—Near Elizabethtown two drowned, Mrs. Ruby Robinson and child; at Johnson City, one man electrocuted by a submerged live wire.

The storm broke in the wake of a season of rains which already had left the rivers and streams in a swollen condition.

Available reports told of landslides that blocked highways and railway lines and said that more than sixty houses in widely scattered areas were either demolished or badly damaged by flood waters.

Eight slides between here and Appalachia blocked tracks of the Southern Railway and cut off rail communication between the two cities.

Other slides were reported in Eastern Kentucky and Southwest Virginia. In some sections highways were reported inundated to a depth of from one to three feet.

Local Rotarians Celebrate Final Payment of All Debts On Beautiful Club Building

W. O. Saunders, of Elizabeth City, N. C. distinguished newspaperman and magazine writer, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting and celebration of the Rotary Club in this city last night.

The session of the club last night was one of the three most important in its history in that members celebrated the paying of all debts in connection with the Rotary home, the only building of its kind in the world.

He declared that we are living in a strenuous age—an age of starting, bewildering changes, in which ideas are changing as they probably never changed before.

Many visitors were present and took part in the celebration of the paying off of the debt.

The beautiful Rotary building located near the Teachers College was completed in 1920 at a cost of $20,000.

He recalled the wonderful changes which have taken place in the printing industry, showing what it has meant to the minds of our people.

Mr. Saunders said he didn't know people had such a keen appreciation of his ability until he had listened to the introduction by Mr. Hinton.

He told of the perilous trip of Columbus across the Atlantic in quest of a new world.

TODAY

England, Russia, Worried. Just So Much Time. A Few March Slowly. Whiskey That Kills.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

Today, in many cities, a few old men will march, slowly, carrying flags more than half a century old, and in the evening talk of war days when Lincoln was alive and the future of the country uncertain.

For the majority, which soon forgets, it is one more holiday, a chance to forget work, and very welcome.

Every city witnessed a holiday exodus exceeding previous records.

The New York Central station handed on Saturday 1,500,000 passengers. And these figures take no account of crowds that went hollaying in their motors. We are a fortunate nation.

Lloyd George says Britain worries about the break with Russia and calls that break, "The most momentous international event since the great war."

Russia also is worried, although her statesmen, like Mussolini and Kemal, never admit that anything can go wrong on their side.

Ordinarily, Britain would not need to worry, since power in this world is overwhelmingly on the side of the government by high finance.

Each of us has just so much time on earth. We never know how much which keeps us happy.

And the flying machine and submarine may upset all calculations if Russia chose, she could strike Britain's commercial fleet, with invisible weapons, below the water.

Mrs. Flake contends that Mr. Flake made her a personal gift of the amount involved in the suit sometime prior to his death.

London, May 31.—(AP)—Captain Lindbergh flew in his plane to Gosport, near Portsmouth, this morning. It is understood that the plane will be dismantled there in readiness for shipment to the United States.

COOLIDGE APPOINTS LINDBERGH COMMITTEE

Washington, May 31.—(AP)—President Coolidge today appointed a committee to prepare for national recognition of the New York to Paris flight of Captain Charles A. Lindbergh.

LINDBERGH TO HEAD FOR HOME ON SATURDAY

Hero of Paris-New York Flight Decorated by King George of England Today.

Paris, May 31.—(AP)—Captain Charles Lindbergh will fly to Paris in a British plane Thursday, will be a guest of Ambassador Herrick until Saturday and will then sail for home aboard the United States Destroyer Breck from Havre, it was learned today.

London, May 31.—(AP)—A young man with keen eyes and a winning smile called at Buckingham Palace today and told King George how it feels to fly over the Atlantic, all alone, from New York to Paris.

The King received his visitor cordially and before many minutes had passed decorated him with the air force cross, to add to the French Legion of Honor and the Belgian insignia of knights of the order of Leopold which Captain Lindbergh already wears.

The honor conferred by the British Sovereign seemed to stump the hero. He flushed and for a second hesitated but another handshake from the King soon put him at his ease.

Then they sat down, and Lindy told the King how it was done, talking in a most natural and enthusiastic manner. The King was enthusiastic too. George V doesn't care much for flying himself—in fact he has never been in the air—but he is a sportsman, and he is a hero worshiper just like everyone else who hears of a real heroic deed.

His kindly eyes twinkled as the American boy related some of his experiences and he seemingly much taken by Lindy's happy way of making his points clear.

The King arrived at Buckingham Palace a few minutes by schedule, coming from Downing street, where he was received by Premier Baldwin to whom also he related some of the most interesting details of his flight and subsequent experiences.

When accompanied by Frederick Sterling, counselor of the American Embassy, he arrived at the Palace for his visit to the King, he found an enormous crowd waiting. His car however passed into the courtyard almost unnoticed, owing to the fact that so many motors were going through.

When, however, he alighted at the Privy Purse Door and the American colors on the chauffeur's uniform were noticed, the spectators recognized him. There was cheer after cheer and men even raising their hats, while women and children outside the yard gates screamed themselves hoarse as the hero disappeared into the King's household.

The King and Counselor Sterling were in morning dress.

The reception at the entrance was without formalities, Captain Lindbergh and Mr. Sterling being met by General Trotter, one of the Kings aids and escorted through the corridor to the waiting room and thence to the Kings private room on the first floor.

Lindbergh was with the King just 30 minutes, and it is understood he did his share of talking, although his royal host showed much curiosity about some of his experiences and ask numerous questions.

After taking leaf of the King Lindbergh descended the stairs to the equestrian room where he remained for some time chatting with Sir Charles Cust, the equestrian. During their talk they exchanged autographs.

London, May 31.—(AP)—Captain Lindbergh returned to the Croydon airfield piloting a single seater Bristol fighting machine.

Before landing at Croydon after the return flight, Lindbergh put the British plane through its paces, giving a wonderful display of stunt flying, including several thrilling loops. His audience consisted of the pilots of the two escorting planes and a handful of members of the imperial airways staff.

SOUDERS WINS 500 MILE RACE

Memorial Day Speedway Classic Was Most Spectacular in History.

Indianapolis, May 31.—(AP)—One of the most spectacular of the annual 500-mile races at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway passed into history yesterday with the winning of the long grand by George Souders, of Lafayette, Ind., an unknown.

Souders, 27, and a former Purdue University student, had never raced in "big time" before and his victory was totally unlooked for. Souders, who drove the five hour grind, drove a steady race, his average of 97.54 miles an hour comparing favorably with averages in other years. The record of 101.13 miles an hour was set in 1925 by Pete De Paolo, who was forced out of the yesterday's classic which attracted a crowd of 135,000.

Souders' victory duplicated Frank Lockhart's win of last year. The latter youth, like Souders, flashed across the finish line first after being comparatively unknown.

Souders won $30,000 of the $100,000 prize money. Earl De Vore took second place finishing 7 1/2 miles behind the winner. Tony Gulotta was third, Wilbur Shaw, fourth, Dave Evans fifth; Peter De Paolo, relief driver for Bob McDonough, sixth; Eddie Hearne, seventh; Ralph Hepburn, relief driver for Tommy Milton, eighth; Cliff Bergere, ninth and Frank Elliott tenth.

Lockhart, the favorite, threw a wheel after leading for 297 miles. Many of the veterans were forced to quit because of mechanical trouble and accidents.

The most terrific pace ever recorded in the race featured the first half of the event. Jules Ellingboe, of Memphis, was seriously injured in one of the accidents that marred the race. He received a crushed chest and internal injuries when his car crashed into an inside turn and pinned him underneath. He will recover.

Charles Kohler of St. Charles, Mo., received a probably skull fracture when he was thrown from his machine after it hit a retaining wall.

Norman Batten was seriously burned in guiding his machine to the side of the track while it was a roaring mass of flames.

CY YOUNG BELIEVES RECORD WILL STAND

Pittsburg, May 31.—(AP)—Cy Young famous old pitcher who in 22 years service in the major leagues pitched 873 games, winning 508 of them, thinks his record will never be surpassed.

"I don't say that because I want to brag," Young said while on a visit here from his farm at Peoli, O., but present conditions makes it impossible for a pitcher to win so many games. It was nothing for me to pitch in 50 complete games a year.

"We didn't have en-man pitching staff when I was an active pitcher. In my early days in Cleveland, we used to carry three. If one pitcher was knocked out, he wasn't taken out to save him from punishment but to save him from the next day. We didn't think it unusual to win 30 games a year. I went over 35 victories five times and if I won only 20 games it was an off season."

BIG LEAGUE PENNANT RACE GAINING SPEED

(By the Associated Press)
With Memorial Day past and pitching arms working their best under a warm sun, with Walter Johnson back in the box with Washington, with the stirring duel between Yankees and Athletics on again—the big league pennant race was gathering speed and zest today.

Quite fittingly the old soldier of the Senators, 'Old Barney' Johnson, made his first appearance of this, his 20th season, in a Memorial Day game. He proved himself as fit as the youngest of the leaguers by running his shutout total to 113 with a 3 to 0 hit victory over the Red Sox in the opener of a doubleheader.

Perhaps inspired by the return of the veteran after absence from the line up with an injury in training camp, his mates put away the second game by a count of 13 to 5 on the hurrying of Hadley, a recruit.

Only two other teams in the leagues were able to match the Senators feat of cleaning up two games in a day, although every club played a double bill. Brooklyn took two from Boston 5 to 2 and 6 to 2, while the St. Louis Cardinals walked Cincinnati 6 to 3 and 3 to 1.

Both league leading teams had an even break. The Pirates caught a tartar in the Cubs who broke their winning streak of eleven games by beating them in the morning tilt by 7 to 6, but the buccaners came back in the second with a 6 to 5 decision. Both games went an extra frame. A big factor in the Cubs' triumph in the opener was an unassisted triple play by Jimmy Cooney, shortstop.

A protest by manager Connie Mack of the Athletics followed the 11 inning victory of the Yankees, 6 to 5, after the A's had won the first game 9 to 8. His protest was based on the technical point of whether the rule applying to running on a ball that falls into the dugout applies as well when a man catches it and falls with the ball.

Collins and Ty Cobb were on base when Grawbowski, New York catcher, fell into the home team cave with the ball in his hit after scooping in a skyscraping foul. The umpire let Collins score on the ground that the ball fell into the dugout, but held Cobb on base, where he died.

The closeness of the battle in both leagues was brought out by the number of even breaks in the eight pairs of games played. The Giants were four to ten better than the Phillies in the first game but one to nothing worse in the second; the Browns were going fast enough in the first to beat the White Sox 11 to 3, but were knocked out of the picture with a 10 to 0 lacing in the second. Further proof that you never can tell about a ball game was given when the Indians nosed out Detroit 9 to 8 then took a solar plexus wallop 11 to 3.

Importance of this question to the employer is that if you have not learned to manage your own affairs, it is not likely you will be wanted to manage his.

It seems to be the feeling of all employers that if a man cannot save for himself it is hardly probable he can save for them.

COUNTRY MUST GROW UP SAYS YOUNG NOVELIST

New York, May 31.—(AP)—An enormous measure of infantism in America is rationalized by young women who believe erroneously that because they are financially independent they are "standing on their own feet," believes Edna Brynner, whose recent novel, "Andy Brandy," shows a young woman struggling against family ties which keep her from a full maturity.

"We talk so much about America's youth," she says, "that it has become an excuse for all shortcomings. America must grow up. Many women are also daughters and never self-reliant adults. College women, students of psychology, are recognizing this national disease and fighting against it."

Miss Brynner became interested in the psychology of the American girl after she was graduated from Vassar. She taught in backward communities, in reform schools and even in a hospital for the insane. She says she has enough material from her wanderings and research work to continue writing for the next twenty years.

Coon Objects to Teachers Making Love to Pupils

Wilson, May 31.—(AP)—Dr. Charles L. Coon's experience with teaching the young idea how to shoot has justified his contract as Wilson county superintendent with teachers, he says.

His contract does not prohibit teachers from falling in love but "what we do object to is our teachers falling in love with some of the high school boys and making this apparent while plying their school duties."

Only four of the 236 teachers in Wilson County have not been re-elected, and those four were left out simply because they were not able to control the children under them, Wilson County authorities say in holding up the county school efficiency.

"We do not prohibit our teachers from falling in love and marrying. Quite a number of them have married Wilson County men and are making good wives and mothers and are also teaching in our schools."

While dancing and card playing are not illegal, he said in course of interview, yet some folks in the county objected to it on part of the teachers and he quoted from Paul to effect that these pastimes might be lawful but inexpedient. "If eating meat offend my brother, I shall eat no more meat."

He said there were no restrictions against teachers going to a moving picture show but their ample here might affect the student. He had found students sitting behind in class when they spend evenings at the movies.

Schools cannot thrive except in the atmosphere of the church, he believes. Dr. Coon's wife teaches in a Wilson school.

Establishes Blowers To Reduce Hazard Of Factory Fire

Raleigh, May 31.—(AP)—Engineers today were tackling the problem of establishing blowers to reduce the fire hazard in the spraying booths of North Carolina's furniture factories following a conference at High Point last week between representatives of furniture manufacturers, fire insurance companies, and officials of the State Insurance Department.

Stacey W. Wade, State Insurance Commissioner, attended the meeting in person and was instrumental in having it called. Furniture manufacturers consider the present rate of fire insurance almost confiscatory but fire insurance companies point to the heavy losses from fire in the past six months.

Mr. Wade said that it was recognized at the meeting that the immediate problem was one of fire prevention on the part of the manufacturers that would be acceptable to the underwriters.

Tax Collections To Exceed 1926

Raleigh, May 31.—(AP)—With only one more month to go, collections of general fund taxes of the State today had approached so nearly the totals of the entire previous fiscal year as to make it a certainty that tax collections for the present fiscal year will be more than the $11,207,937.97 collected in the previous fiscal year.

Collections in May totaled $340,276.96 and were about 50 thousand dollars less than collections during May, 1926, but they pushed the total collections for the eleven months of the present fiscal year to $10,957,138.42.

This means the State has to collect only about one-quarter million dollars during June to shatter all records for the collection of taxes. That the State will collect much more than this quarter million was seen by officials today as a practical certainty because the business (or schedule B) taxes fall due June 1.

Every agency of the State Revenue Department has co-operated this year under direction of R. A. Doughton, commissioner of revenue and to this organization largely is due the year's success, officials said.

Another factor in the well-oiled machinery of the revenue department was expressly seen in the office of A. S. Carson, cashier, whose books and records, kept up-to-date have advised fiscal officers when they stood every fiscal minute.

State's Reply to Protest is Ready

Raleigh, May 31.—(AP)—Reply of the North Carolina Commerce Commission to the Interstate Commerce Commission in matter of the State's protest against the railroads' petitioning for increased freight rates filed by the carriers April 30, at Washington, D. C., is ready, State commission officials said today.

The reply will be filed with the Interstate Commission in a day or two. The Southern class rate case covers about half of the commodities shipped in and out of the State.

The commission at Washington is expected pass directly on the case without formality of an extended hearing.

The carriers are seeking to reopen the rate case to allow the railroads to work out a modification of the previous findings of the Interstate Commission covering interterritorial class rate adjustment which was scheduled to become effective July 1, 1927.

A destroyer will bring Lindbergh's plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," back to America. Probably another will be needed to bring back his numerous crosses and other decorations if his visit in Europe continues much longer.

Have you yet given serious consideration to the need of this city for a place for its children to swim? Other cities have made, or are making provision for their children. Is it possible that they think more of their children than our city does of its own? Let's get together and see to it that a suitable swimming place with ample protection is provided now.

As the first of July approaches, it would be well for motorists to begin to familiarize themselves with the many important changes in the automobile laws. Hand signalling, increased speed limits and greater penalties for reckless and drunken drivers are among the changes, as well as requirement of lights on every kind of vehicle that uses the highway after dark. Ignorance of the law will not be an excuse, say the authorities, and it is up to the citizens now to begin to familiarize themselves with the laws.

MORE "ATROCITIES"

In his account of his suppression of the civil war in Nicaragua, under instructions from Washington, Col. Henry L. Stimson says:

"When I reached Nicaragua, I found that no prisoners were being taken by either side. The wounded, when captured, were killed, and even when not captured most of them fell victims to the hardships of the climate. Cases were brought to my attention where non-combatants, men, women and children, were butchered in cold blood, and also cases where such non-combatants were tortured and mutilated."

What this rather pointedly suggests is recognition by the Coolidge administration of the need of further justification of its course in Nicaragua. But whether the results will be all that could be wished is doubtful. After its World War experience the public is inclined to be somewhat skeptical of terrible tales of atrocities. After swallowing stories of monstrous deeds, too many of them inherently improbable yet certified by famous names in both religious and civil life, an experienced and regretful public would prefer not to be asked to credit more of the same sort. No doubt alleged "cases" were brought to Col. Stimson's "attention," but a public, "fed up" to satiety on atrocities in the past and perhaps with good reason, having since acquired the habit of skepticism, is now much less readily credulous. Probably it will never again be as easy to work this country up over "atrocities" as it once was.

LOCAL ROTARIANS CELEBRATE PAYING OF FINAL DEBTS ON BEAUTIFUL BUILDING

He urged his hearers to accept the great messages of life with open minds. There are lots of things the greatest of minds do not know, and will never know. Life has been developed along such exotic and complex lines that it is impossible for one mind to amass all information of present day. "Don't be afraid of new ideas," he urged, "for they will be old, foggy and obsolete tomorrow." There are only a few bold men who are not afraid to give fearless expression to their thoughts. We must mould on lines like theirs and strive to step out and lead those in need of leadership. Man does not live by bread alone. He lives also by a process of thinking, and it is this process that has played an important part in the destiny of nations as old as the hills themselves.

Dr. C. J. Ellen welcomed the visitors in a happy vein indeed. He told of the early history of the club and enumerated the various ways they had solved financial problems in connection with erection of the Rotary home. He said the club had had many notable occasions during its eight years history, but he knew of none greater than the celebration of the liquidation of debts. He urged his hearers not to make a bonfire of the notes, bonds and mortgages recently cancelled in final payment. He said they should be made a part of the permanent records of the club. He presented the request in the form of a motion. It was carried without a dissenting voice, and this is how the bonfire was called off.

J. B. Kittrell gave an historical sketch of the club. He prefaced his remarks with a brief description of the activities of International Rotary which was founded in Chicago with four members. He showed the marked growth of the organization during the last few years and declared the period of expansion at the present time was probably greater than ever before.

He said in 1919 four men in Greenville decided that the city needed some kind of an institution which would bring the business men closer together. These same men attended a Rotary meeting in Wilson. They were so pleased with what they heard and saw that a member of International Rotary was asked to come to Greenville and consider the possibility of organizing a similar club here.

September 8, 1919, the local club was organized with twenty-two charter members, and during the later part of the same year they decided to build a home of their own. He told of the honors conferred upon the club at a district meeting at Norfolk when they scored 100 per cent attendance and won a second loving cup. He said plans for the first inter-city meeting were arranged at a meeting with the local club. He also told of the inauguration of the annual track and literary meet sponsored by the club.

Among other things assisted in and made possible by the club were: Inter-city relay race between Washington and Greenville; the awarding of a prize for the best essay of Rotary submitted by members of the high school; 1922 and 1924 assisting in organization of the Farmville and Ayden Rotary Clubs; the visit of Harry Rogers, president of International. He told of many other things the club was interested in, especially the boys' work department which is one of the outstanding sources of activities.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Offer Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating food which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overwork the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and slow you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water-drink. Drink lots of soft water.

BOY WAS SICK

Texas Tells How He Got Acquainted With the Good Work of Black-Draught as a Laxative.

Glensport, Texas.—"I had a sick spell when just fifteen years old," says Mr. George W. Maness, R.F.D. 2, this place. "Anyone who has had chills, like I had, is apt to remember them. I was a sick boy—just lay around the home, weak. My skin was yellow and I could hardly stand up. I had hard chills.

"My father gave me quinine. Someone told him to give me Black-Draught with it. He brought some home, and they fixed it up like a tea. It wasn't very good, but I was so sick I would take anything. "After a few days, I began to feel better. I was hungry and could eat. I kept on taking the tea for awhile, and I got well. I haven't had chills since then, but I have taken a lot of Black-Draught since that time. It is a family medicine with me."

Where assistance is needed in the way of a laxative or cathartic, Theford's Black-Draught should be taken, as often as necessary, to open the bowels and put them in a healthy and normal state of activity.

Try it; it's a dose. NC-185

terday morning since I left New York. What a week how much accomplished. The American people have spent hundreds of millions of weeks time, merely reading about it.

Two men got drunk near Tampa, Florida. One, remembering that he had a grudge against Herman Merril, a carpenter, entered Merril's house in the dark, beat him and three of his children to death with a railroad hammer and beat Merril's wife and three months old baby. Both may die.

The man is locked up and will be executed. What about the bootlegger, really responsible for the murders? Should not bootleggers be punished for all crimes caused by their whiskey?

James A. Farrell, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, talks useful common sense on the subject of trade among nations.

terday morning since I left New York. What a week how much accomplished. The American people have spent hundreds of millions of weeks time, merely reading about it.

Two men got drunk near Tampa, Florida. One, remembering that he had a grudge against Herman Merril, a carpenter, entered Merril's house in the dark, beat him and three of his children to death with a railroad hammer and beat Merril's wife and three months old baby. Both may die.

The man is locked up and will be executed. What about the bootlegger, really responsible for the murders? Should not bootleggers be punished for all crimes caused by their whiskey?

James A. Farrell, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, talks useful common sense on the subject of trade among nations.
