BYRD IS GIVEN BIG WELCOME IN PARIS TODAY

Railway Station Crowded to Bursting Point When America's Crew Arrived.

Paris, July 2—(AP)—Commander Byrd and his three companions on the trans-Atlantic flight of the giant Monoplane America arrived in Paris from Caen, at 12:28 P. M. today, receiving a tremendous ovation from a huge crowd that filled the St. Lazare railroad station.

The great crowd filled the station almost to the bursting point and overflowed into every nearby street. So dense was the throng that Commander Byrd and his companions after a short reception upon their arrival on the station platform, had to fight their way to waiting automobiles while the crowd cheered wildly and threw flowers in their path.

Despite a heavy rain, the American aviators who battled for 42 hours with fog and storm in their trans-Atlantic flight which ended in the early hours of yesterday on the beach at Ver-sur-Mer on the coast of Normandy 175 miles west of Paris, were given a reception such as that given to Charles A. Lindbergh who so quickly became the darling of Paris on his own special flight.

The Palace du Harve in front of the St. Lazare Palace was crowded as it had not been before in the memory of veteran grandmas.

Men held women high in the air to watch the passage of the American fliers while children worried their way through inconceivably small places to get into the front line and the big police force stationed all along the route had the hardest kind of work keeping a passageway clear for the procession.

He arrived from Caen where the American aviators left last night from Ver-sur-Mer.

After the arrival in Paris, the Americans set out for the Continental Hotel in a drizzling rain while thousands of cheering Parisians waved the wet weather to greet the men and to shout France's admiration of their skill and courage in their valiant fight against the storm conditions they encountered throughout their great voyage.

Only invited guests and members of the official welcoming committee which included representatives of the ministries of war and commerce and the municipality of Paris were permitted inside the railroad station on the arrival of the train.

Determined to work the American aviators, the workmen crowded the car roofs of every train in the vicinity and passengers craned their necks out of windows to their great peril in an effort to catch even a fleeting glimpse of them.

Some one presented Commander Byrd with a huge bunch of flowers as he stepped from his train smiling a greeting to those who welcomed him. There were many other bouquets for the fliers but their bearers did not get much chance to present them personally so they threw them through the air.

All the way from Caen to Paris a four hour trip, Commander Byrd and his companions were kept busy accommodating autograph hunters, and most of the passengers of the express train left their own cars at one time or another to enter the car where the aviators had reserved compartments.

At each station at which the express stopped, crowds were waiting to cheer the fliers and flowers were given them at every halt. In one town a little girl, carrying a single red rose—the French gift to those they would honor—was held up to the window of the car in order to hand the flower to Commander Byrd.

At the railroad station 200 police sergeants lined the way to the small waiting room where a reception committee had its chance to shake hands with the aviators and offer their congratulations.

The crowd could not be held back and the aviators had to elbow and shoulder their way past their enthusiastic admirers.

One of the first to rush up to the fliers and shake hands and offer congratulations was Charles A. Levine who arrived in Paris Thursday with Clarence D. Chamberlain. Levine had waited 15 minutes surrounded by a crowd of his own admirers who were eager to obtain his autograph.

The ceremony in the waiting room was brief and then the fliers emerging from the station and preceded by 20 policemen, had to face a new mob of excited, cheering thousands. As they entered their waiting cars, they smiled and bowed and even kissed the hands in acknowledgment of their welcome.

TODAY

They Fly West and East. Here, in the Ground. The Spike of Gold. Father Plays Bear.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

Copyright 1927, by Star Co.)

You read of the Americans flying west over the Pacific to Honolulu. You read now of the magnificent flight by Commander Byrd and his companions. Our men can fly. When this was written Byrd was flying above French farms and cities, going more than one hundred miles an hour.

You can get an idea of what this flight means reading that Commander Byrd and his men ran thru fog so thick they could barely see the tips of the plane's wings.

Byrd flew south of Ireland, reaching France at Brest, an old fortified seaport on the west coast. Cardinal Richelieu built a great harbor at Brest, that the British once held for more than fifty years. Of Brest it was said: "He is not Duke of Brittany, who is not Lord of Brest."

Perhaps Byrd remembered that as he flew over, thinking how easily a few flying machines could make themselves "Lords of Brest" or any other city.

Coming down to earth, it will interest millions of Americans to hear that Lou Gehrig is still tied with Babe Ruth. Each batted yesterday his twenty-fifth home run for this season.

This doesn't make a particle of real difference to anybody, but that doesn't make it less interesting.

New York City iron workers finished work on a gigantic building to house the Equitable Trust Company, and the president of the company drove the last rivet. It was a golden rivet and will be advertised all over the world.

That golden bar was driven very gently, means nothing in the building, has nothing to do with holding it together. This strength comes from common rivets that common workmen drove in with "air guns" at risk of their lives.

The driving of that golden rivet represents life. Human beings are like children. A father plays "bear" with his little child, and the child is relieved when the bear stands up and becomes once more, "father."

Three Hold-up Men Get $4,000

Bogalusa, La., July 2—(AP)—Three unidentified men held up the paymaster of the Great Southern Lumber Company here this morning and escaped with a satchel containing $4,000.

The men drove up to the office of the company in an automobile and snatched the satchel from the hands of the paymaster who was nearing the office. The men then drove away in a car.

A few persons were present at the time but the thing was done so swiftly that no one was able to interfere.

A short time later the car was found in the woods about four miles from here but no trace of the men had been found.

Wants Lost Ford, Not Particular About His Wife

Raleigh, N. C., July 2—(AP)—State officials frequently get letters requesting many kinds of favors but Commissioner of Revenue R. A. Doughton today exhibited one which caused quite a bit of comment.

"He doesn't seem at all concerned about the old woman, but he is powerfully anxious to get his car back," Mr. Doughton commented. The letter, spelling and all: "Please see on the look out for Ford coop caring (serial number given and motor number given) wife left in it and cant get any trace of either one if any trace of the Ford please notice."

V. M. I. Professor Dies At Roanoke

Roanoke, Va., July 2—(AP)—General E. W. Nichols, retired superintendent and professor of mathematics at Virginia Military Institute, died last night at 11 o'clock in a Lexington hospital as a result of injuries received when struck in the head by a rock at his home yesterday afternoon, according to information received at 2:15 o'clock this morning.

Workmen were blasting in a ditch near the Nichols' home and a stone weighing about five pounds, was hurled into the air striking the General in the head.

Two Stills Taken Near Winterville

Two whiskey stills were captured in Winterville township yesterday afternoon by members of the sheriff's office.

One of the stills was of the 125 gallon capacity, the other 60 gallons. Neither of the outfits were in operation.

GETTING THE HAPPY NEWS.

"Byrd and his companions are safe!" And none got more of a thrill at this news than the persons above. Mrs. Bert Acosta (left), Mrs. George Neville and Acosta's two children, Allen and Bert, Jr., were overjoyed at the news of the safety of the men of their families; and Floyd Bennett, who flew with Commander Richard E. Byrd over the North Pole, was delighted that his former chief was safe.

Public Health Official Of Rocky Mount Speaks Before Local Kiwanians

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis club in regular session last night, with several members of the Rotary Club as their guests, listened to the report of a swimming pool committee, and a talk by Dr. Lodge, public health officer of Rocky Mount, on the benefits derived from the municipal swimming pool built in that city about five years ago.

Dr. Lodge said the Rocky Mount swimming pool had been in operation about five years. It has become of greater value to the city with each succeeding year, and its popularity has increased to such an extent that the city will be forced to put in additional pools to take care of the public demand for a place of this kind.

He said the pool had its inception in the minds of members of the Kiwanis Club. They told the city aldermen that they would raise money with which to build the pool and the city would operate it. The club raised $7,500 through public subscription and the city provided the remainder of the $10,000 cost of the pool.

He presented in detail certain facts dealing with the maintenance and operation of the pool in Rocky Mount, and gave several distinct points in his charge of J. Frank by those starting out in the swimming pool business. He said the water used in the pool was the same kind used for drinking purposes in the city. At the pool a manager, two life guards, official girl, and two bathroom assistants was all the help they found necessary in the operation of the pool.

MR. COOLIDGE HEARS ECHOES OF FARM BILL

Rapid City, S. D., July 2—(AP)—In the quiet of his mountain retreat President Coolidge is receiving the first soundings of popular reaction to his veto of the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief bill.

Resident of a state which is a part of the agricultural cradle which supported this farm measure against all others, the President has yet to welcome a visitor with a message other than that the veto while deplored at first in some sections, is no longer spoken of in harsh or disappointed tones.

Some of his callers, especially those who helped the McNary-Haugen Bill through Congress, predicate their opinion that resentment of the veto is passing upon the hope that Mr. Coolidge has under consideration a new relief proposal, one affecting a compromise between the proponents of the equalization fee and its opponents.

Those who opposed the bill, including the Representative Tibon of Oklahoma, the Republican House, collection fee would not help farmers are beginning to say. They said Mr. Coolidge had done for them what they hoped.

HEFLIN FIRES BROADSIDE AT GOV. AL SMITH

New York, July 2—(AP)—The New York Times and the Herald Tribune today says Senator J. Thomas Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, last night attacked Governor Alfred E. Smith as a presidential candidate in a two hour address at a meeting in Richmond Hill, Queens, which is in the city limits.

The meeting was attended by 3,000 men who had been invited by the United Protestant alliance of Queens, the newspapers say. When the chairman asked all Ku Klux Klansmen to arise almost every one in the audience stood up. Applications for membership in the Klan were distributed.

The Times says samples of campaign literature sent out by Governor Smith's supporters in the South have reached New York. One in a pamphlet sponsored by James S. Griffin, a lawyer of Raleigh, N. C.

CALL FOR BANK REFORM

Washington, July 2—(AP)—The controller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all National Banks at the close of business on Thursday June 30.

GRACE READY FOR HOP OFF FOR AMERICA

Flier May Start Flight Across Pacific Sometime Tomorrow.

Manila, Island Kaulai, July 2—(AP)—Richard Grace, stunt flyer of the Hollywood Movies, postponed until tomorrow his flight to the California Mainland after two unsuccessful attempts to get his monoplane into the air.

Manila, Island Kaulai, July 2—(AP)—Richard Grace, stunt flyer of the Hollywood Movies, postponed until tomorrow his flight to the California Mainland after two unsuccessful attempts to get his monoplane into the air.

At 6:45 A. M. Grace attempted to take off but punctured a tire of one of the wheels in the rough runway. There was no other damage, and at 7:20 A. M. he was preparing to make a second attempt.

Grace's plane had no radio. It was rationed with four gallons of water, six pounds of chocolate and six cans of bread.

Grace planned to follow steamship lanes toward San Francisco, either landing there or veering toward Los Angeles, depending upon the amount of gasoline remaining in the monoplane's tanks.

Ships along the route at night will be asked to play their searchlights along their course as a guide to Grace. He will navigate by dead reckoning. The plane carries two magnetic compasses and a speed indicator.

GIVES FRANCE COPY OF FIRST FLAG OF U. S.

Byrd Makes Presentation to President Doumergue in Ceremonies Today.

Paris July 2—(AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd today presented to President Doumergue of France a copy of the first American flag made by a great grand niece of Betsy Ross which he had carried with him on his Trans-Atlantic Flight to the United States and had salvaged from the wrecked America.

The flag at the request of Rodman Wanamaker, sponsor of the flight, will be consecrated at the tomb of LaFayette and then will be taken back to Independence Hall, Philadelphia, as a memorial to the friendship between France and the U. S.

Today's ceremony of presenting the flag to President Doumergue took place at the Elysee Palace where the French Republic received the four aviators late this afternoon and congratulated them on their Trans-Atlantic flight.

Commander Byrd and Bert Acosta hurried to the Elysee Palace for the ceremony from the American Hospital where they went to determine the extent of the injuries and shock they suffered when the America landed in the sea at Ver-sur-Mer. They were met at the palace by Lieutenant George O. Neville and Lieut. Bert Balchen and all four were present to President Doumergue by Charge D'Affaires Sheldon Whitehouse who is in charge of the American Embassy in the absence of Ambassador Herck in the U. S.

"I congratulate you with all my heart upon the fortitude with which you overcame almost insurmountable obstacles."

President Doumergue said and then asked details of the flight. Commander Byrd repeated briefly the outstanding features of the flight and then presented the flag to the president.

Most of Paris had left the city for the week end and a small crowd was on hand to cheer when the aviators drove up to the palace and when they left a half hour later.

A British aviator, Richard Byrd, returned to England from Antarctica, having been absent for eighteen years and having done duty in eight different countries.

BYRD AND ACOSTA ARE SUFFERING FROM EFFECTS OF FLIGHT

Paris, July 2—(AP)—Bert Acosta pilot of the trans-Atlantic plane America, is suffering from a fractured clavicle and must wear his arm in a sling, it was learned today after an examination of the American aviators.

Commander Richard E. Byrd, leader of the expedition, is so fatigued and nervous from the strain of the flight through storm and fog that he must forgo all social affairs for the next few days to devote his time to complete rest and rehabilitation.

Physicians after a thorough examination said that Commander Byrd had nothing the matter with him except nervous and great fatigue and that he must give most of his time to resting for the present.

BRITISH WANT SHIP TONNAGE LIKE AMERICA

Geneva, Switzerland, July 2—While a further discussion on submarines was the chief matter engaging three power naval conference today, the cruiser controversy remained far from settled. Great Britain is understood to be asking for a total cruiser tonnage estimated as equal to what the United States had in mind both for herself and for Great Britain—namely something like 78 cruisers totalling 500,000 tons.

The opinion is prevalent that the British are likely to ask for a maximum strength of 500,000 tons, their plea being based on commitments to protect the dominions and the far flung trade routes.

No one is ready to predict just how the differences will be compassed. For the Japanese who are understood to side with the American delegation has steadfastly refused to allow the controversy to be aired in the press. Hugh S. Gibson, heading the Americans, said: "We are asking the other delegations for highly confidential information in order to adjust our own demands. We wouldn't be playing far if we gave out these projected figures and used them against the other interests."

Admiral Hilary Jones, his chief naval adviser, said: "The divergencies of opinion on cruisers were at first very great, but we are gradually getting closer together."

Airman Killed In Plane Crash At Ottawa, Can.

Ottawa, July 2—(AP)—Lieut. G. Thad Johnson, a member of the escort of airplanes accompanying Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to Ottawa, was instantly killed today when his plane crashed as it was making a landing here.

Lieutenant Johnson, attached to the First Pursuit Squadron, at Seltridge Field, Detroit, was the only occupant of the plane. He is understood to have been a resident of Texas, but officials here were unable to name his town.

According to the aviator in the plane immediately behind Lieutenant Johnson the latter's machine which had been circling with the others over the field, dipped suddenly as though to land. However, instead of continuing downward, it rose to resume its position in the squadron formation.

The pilot behind, not anticipating this ran in Johnson's plane, forcing the tail violently upward. The machine immediately went into a nose dive, at a height of only about 100 feet. Lieut. Johnson swung himself clear, but there was not time for his parachute to open before his body struck the ground.

The big point is that he (Byrd) was able to navigate across the Atlantic without having anything to take bearings on and in bad weather, all the way."

Dempsey's Brother Kills Wife And Commits Suicide

Schenectady, N. Y., July 2—(AP)—John Dempsey, 38, of Los Angeles said by police to be a brother of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion today shot and killed his estranged wife, Edna, 21, and then turned the gun on himself, dying almost instantly.

The woman had been living in a rooming house here for several months and Dempsey had been an infrequent caller.

After a brief conversation with the woman today, both went upstairs and a few moments later the landlady heard 3 shots. She found Dempsey dead and the woman died before the ambulance arrived. A three year old daughter, Ruth, survives.

Los Angeles, July 2—(AP)—John Dempsey who was reported in Schenectady dispatches today to have shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide, operated the Manhattan Gymnasium here a training gym for athletic and boxing. He is a brother of Jack Dempsey former World's Heavyweight Champion.

Dempsey and his wife had made his home here for several years.

BYRD FLIGHT ACHIEVED ITS REAL PURPOSE

Backer of Flight Says Byrd Did All He Set Out To Do And More.

New York, July 2—(AP)—Invaluable lessons in safety of trans-Atlantic flights of the future and a new advance in all a real navigation were hailed today as the fruits of commander Byrd's victory over the fog and storms of the Atlantic in his flight to France.

Despite the forced landing of the giant monoplane America at the end of a long battle against almost every form of adverse weather, leaders in aerial navigation said the voyage would encourage rather than discourage future trans-ocean air journeys.

Some of the lessons seen by aviation leaders were: "That an air liner could fly thousands of miles over land and sea and under dangerous weather conditions without foretelling life."

That one of the greatest safeguards in long distance flying was a surplus supply large enough to keep a plane aloft until emergency landing field could be found.

That flights over vast distances could be accomplished despite defective navigating instruments and that important things still remain to be done in perfecting electric equipment of airplanes.

Nathury Pokker, builder of the America, said the radio communication maintained by the plane with ships and land stations, had proved an increase of 100 per cent in the factors of air safety.

"Suppose he had been forced down at sea?" Mr. Pokker said, "A few flashed words of his exact position and every ship within range would have turned, and steamed at full speed to the spot."

Byrd and his crew accomplished everything they set out to do, declared Rodman Wanamaker, sponsor of the flight. He described the flight as "the greatest air battle of the world."

James H. Kimble, assistant meteorologist of the government bureau who compiled the weather reports for the expedition, termed the flight one of hard luck, but tremendously successful from the meteorological point of view.

Floyd Bennett who accompanied Commander Byrd to the North Pole and who was put out of the America flight by injuries in a test flight said: "It was simply impossible for Dick to land at LeBourget under such weather conditions he showed great wisdom in just what he did. Captain Rene Fonck French ace, now preparing for his second attempt to fly from New York to Paris said:

"The failure of Commander Byrd and his splendid fellow aviators to land at LeBourget, will not discourage other fliers from trying to cross the ocean by air. It has demonstrated the reliability of modern planes, engines and equipment."

Harry Guggenheim, president of the Daniel Guggenheim fund for promotion of flying said: "The flight of the America I regard as the forerunner of other commercial flights on regular schedule carrying passengers and mail to and fro across the Atlantic."

Secretary of war Davidson commented: "The big point is that he (Byrd) was able to navigate across the Atlantic without having anything to take bearings on and in bad weather, all the way."

Commander Byrd Intends to Fly Over South Pole

Paris, July 2—(AP)—"I expect to fly over the South Pole and Neville and Balchen will be with me," Commander R. E. Byrd said this afternoon.

My plans are not yet complete and I can not announce when we will start, he added.

When asked where he would take off from he said that it must be from the great ice pack south of New Zealand which is the "most solid" part of ice from which to start.

Byrd and his wife had made his home here for several years.

WASHINGTON AND DETROIT MOVE UPWARD

(By The Associated Press) Sensational sports have thrust the Senators and Tigers forward as possibilities for capturing the American League pennant goal.

Washington sent Connie Mack's Athletics foundering again yesterday as Hadley, a recruit pitcher yielded only three hits for a 2 to 1 decision. It was eight straight triumphs for Buck Harris' aggregation.

Detroit batsmen thumped four Cleveland pitchers for 17 hits for a ten to five victory, giving the Bengals their tenth successive of the last eleven starts.

Lou Gehrig grabbed the spotlight in the homerun marathon with Babe Ruth by whacking No. 23 as the Yankees bumped the Red Sox off again to the tune of 7 to 4. That gave Gehrig one more than the Bambino.

There may be a law of averages but the Red Sox still are looking for it. They have lost 13 straight while the New Yorkers have won 6 in a row.

The Browns stopped a five game losing stretch by slugging three White Sox pitchers for 18 hits to gain a 14 to 12 verdict.

Carlson eased the world champion Cardinals down with five hits as the Cubs took the opener of a series in Chicago by 6 to 2. Rhem was pounded out of the box.

The Pirates took the Reds into camp 5 to 1 and increased their hold on the league lead to one and one-half games. Carmen Hill allowed only six scattered hits.

After giving Dazzy Vance the lead five times at Philadelphia the Brooklyn Robins saw the game filtered away in the ninth when a two run assault gave the Phillies a 7 to 6 victory.

Maan's timely pinch single drove in two runners in the ninth the in two runners in the ninth to give the Braves a 7 to 6 triumph in the first game of a double bill with the Giants.

Six Postponed Games Will Be Played Off Today

New York, July 2.—(AP)—Six postponed games will be played off in the National league next week, four in doubleheaders and two on open dates. A game scheduled between New York and the Braves at Boston on May 24 has been transferred here and will be played as part of a twin bill tomorrow.

The changes follow:
July 3 Boston at New York (two games)
July 3 Philadelphia at Brooklyn (two games)
July 5 Cincinnati at Chicago (two games)
July 6 Boston at Philadelphia (two games)
July 8 Chicago at Pittsburgh (open date)
July 9 St. Louis at Boston (two games)

Fishing License Will Be Honored In Two Counties

Raleigh, July 2.—(AP)—The only rift in the newly effective State-wide anglers' law, the Burke-McDowell act, which excepted those counties from its application, has been closed and the administration of the fishing waters of those counties was taken over today by the Department of Conservation and Development.

This announcement was made by Director Wade H. Phillips following completion of an agreement with the Burke-McDowell Commission and the State Conservation Department, represented by Assistant Director J. K. Dixon.

As result of the agreement, all contentions over the honoring of State fishing licenses in the two counties will be ended, and State licenses will be honored by wardens in Burke and McDowell. As a result licenses issued under the special act creating the Burke-McDowell Commission will also be good in other parts of the State.

London.—(AP)—Dale M. Parker of the age of 35, enjoys the distinction of being the first and only American partner of an old established British private banking firm he recently was appointed director of M. Samuel & Co. Ltd. merchant bankers of London since 1831. Parker is a member of the New York bar. He practiced for a time with a firm of admiralty lawyers, seven years ago he established himself as a banker's agent in Rio de Janeiro. He went to London in 1922 and organized his own firm of banker's agents. Three years ago he sold his interest in the firm and became manager of the Samuel firm. He became a partner last year.

Louisville Mayor

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—The Ku Klux Klan and a fraudulent election, neither of which he had anything to do with, made Joseph O'Neal Louisville's first democratic mayor in a decade.

Up until 60 hours before the city and county election in November, 1920, O'Neal was just one of those in the ranks of the party. Then reports that William T. Baker, the democratic candidate, was affiliated with the Klan caused him to withdraw. He was drafted to head the ticket.

In the election, Author A. Will, republican, polled a few thousand more votes than O'Neal. Charges of fraud and corruption went up immediately in a contest of the election. The state court of appeals ruled "no election" and ousted the republicans. Governor Fields has appointed O'Neal mayor.

Another election will be held in November.

PARIS TRAFFIC COPS MUST LEARN TO DRIVE

Paris.—(AP)—Traffic policemen of Paris who tell automobile drivers what they must do, must themselves know something of driving. The new Prefect of Police, Jean Chiappe, recently ordered traffic officers to learn to drive, so that they will realize that drivers also have troubles and will treat them accordingly. Commenting on this newspaper suggested that license would be better for everyone if the small town mayors and the members of various city traffic commissions, also would get behind the wheel of car occasionally and see what happens when they try to obey the many regulations they adopt.

MR. AND MRS. S. T. WHITE ENTERTAIN

In Honor of William White and Miss Lillian Hooker and Bridal Party.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. White were charming hosts, on Friday evening at the wedding rehearsal of William White, their son, and Miss Lillian Hooker, whose wedding will take place this evening.

The White home, on Seventh street, was elaborately decorated for the occasion, and a green and white color scheme was carried out with a wealth of flowers and burning tapers.

Mr. G. B. W. Hadley and Mrs. C. S. Forbes received the guests on the front porch and Mr. and Mrs. Charles White showed them to one end of the porch, where Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bowen presided over the register.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Little invited the guests into the house and Miss Frances Morton showed them upstairs to remove their wraps.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming and Mrs. J. B. White then received the guests and presented them to the receiving line, where they were received by the host and hostess, William White, groom-elect, Miss Lillian Hooker, bride-elect, and Mrs. Oscar Hooker, of Richmond.

In the center hall Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hooker received and showed the guests to the rear hall, where Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Darden served punch.

The punch table was attractive with green and white flowers and burning tapers.

At 10:30 o'clock a very enjoyable program was rendered, which consisted of a solo dance, by Miss Hooker, of Richmond, Va. (vocals) solos by Mr. J. H. Rose, Mrs. Charles White and Mrs. J. H. Waldrop; toe dance by Miss Bet Dixon and a group dance by the three Misses Hooker, of Richmond, Va.

After the program, the guests were invited into the dining room. The dining table was gorgeous with a large white bride's cake, surmounted with bride and groom, as a center piece. A shower of tulle white snapdragons, sweet peas and daisies fell from the light above and streamers of tulle were suspended from the light and caught to the corners of the table with showers of flowers.

Jack Boyd, Misses Helen White, Frances Morton and Misses Sullivan served pistachio cream decorated with wedding bells, white cakes, green mints and nuts. Much merriment was afforded when the bride, party and young guests cut the bride's cake.

An orchestra furnished music throughout the evening.

Cupid Partial To July First

Dan Cupid seems to be rather partial to the 1st day of July. In fact, he became so enthused over seasonal conditions yesterday that he sent three couples in search of the register of deeds of Pitt county and as a result three licenses to marry were issued to the following:

Pender Armstrong to Miss Mabel Arnold, of Chitow township, Isom Latta, of Green county to Miss Mabel Newcomb, Wilson county Marian Jones of Green county to Miss Leona Barnes, Wilson county.

Among the out-of-town guests present for the wedding, were Miss Ruth Edwards, of Greenville, sister of the groom, and Miss Louise Edgerton, of Nahutta.

MRS. HOLLINGSWORTH ENTERTAINS

Mr. T. T. Hollingsworth delightfully entertained six table of bridge yesterday afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss Rosalyn Cox, of Atlanta. The apartment was decorated throughout with garden flowers.

The lovely favors and other decorations carrying out the Fourth of July color scheme. Miss Hennie Long, making top score, was awarded a lovely jewel necklace. Miss Kathleen Cousins, bride-elect was given a jewel necklace. Miss Cousins was also winner of low score prize, a miniature market basket filled with Nunnally's candies.

Miss Cox, guest of honor, was presented an imported lace and linen handkerchief. Mrs. H. A. Bost and Mrs. S. E. Gates, assisted the hostess in serving a delicious ice course.

WHITE-HOOKER

The social season will reach its climax this evening at 8:30 o'clock with the marriage of Miss Lillian Hooker and Mr. William White, at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. The attendants will be as follows:

The bride will be accompanied by her brother, Mr. Howard Hooker, of Atlanta, Ga., while the bridegroom will have as his best man his father, Mr. Samuel T. White. Mrs. Oscar Hooker, of Richmond, Va., aunt of the bride will be daisymaid and Miss Margaret Fleming will be maid-of-honor. Junior bridesmaids will be Miss Helen White, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Katherine Hooker, of Richmond, cousin of the bride; flower girls will be Misses Virginia and Jeanne Marie Hooker. Mr. Seth D. Hooker, brother of the bride, and Mr. Charles White, brother of the bridegroom, will serve as groomsmen, while the ushers will be Messrs. Robert Green, cousin of the bridegroom, Curtis Perkins, Graham Planagan and George Hadley, Jr. Pages will be cousins of the bride: Masters LeClair H. Brown and James Stanley Woolfolk.

Mr. Robert Rawls, of Tarboro, will play the wedding music, which will include a solo by Mr. Charles James and a duet by Mr. James and Mrs. Charles White. The wedding march from the opera "Lohengrin" will be used for the processional, and that from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" as the recessional.

The marriage vows will be pronounced by Rev. L. B. Jones, pastor of Jarvis Memorial church, the bride's pastor; and Rev. J. E. W. Cook, St. Paul's Episcopal church, the bridegroom's rector.

A reception to the bridal party and a few close friends of the contracting parties will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Greene street.

Mr. and Mrs. White will take a bridal trip to New York and Atlantic City and upon their return to Greenville will reside with Mr. David James on Greene street.

SMITH-HOOKS

Kenly, July 1.—The wedding of Miss Clyde Hooks and Mr. Roger Smith, which took place on Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, will be of interest to their many friends.

The home was made attractive with a profusion of summer flowers. A color motif of white and green was effectively used. Cathedral candles were used, casting a soft glow over the room.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Selma Grey Hooks, gowned in white georgette, and wearing a corsage of sweet peas and snapdragons played "To a Wild Rose."

To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, Rev. F. B. Joyner of the Methodist church entered and took his place. The bride entered with her sister, Miss Mary Lee Hooks as maid of honor.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Kenneth Kirby.

The vows were taken before an improvised altar decorated with fern and shasta daisies and lighted with tapers. During the impressive rite, "Traumerer" was softly played.

The bride was beautifully gowned in navy blue crepe Elizabeth with accessories to match. Her corsage was of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The maid of honor was becomingly attired in a flesh georgette dress and wore sweet peas and snapdragons.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hooks and is a charming and popular young lady. She received her education at East Carolina Teachers College at Greenville.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Smith, of Greenville. He was educated at the L. L. Cooke Electrical School, Chicago and is now engaged in an electrical business in Burlington, N. C.

After an extended wedding trip to Western North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home to their friends at 502 Davis street, Burlington, N. C.

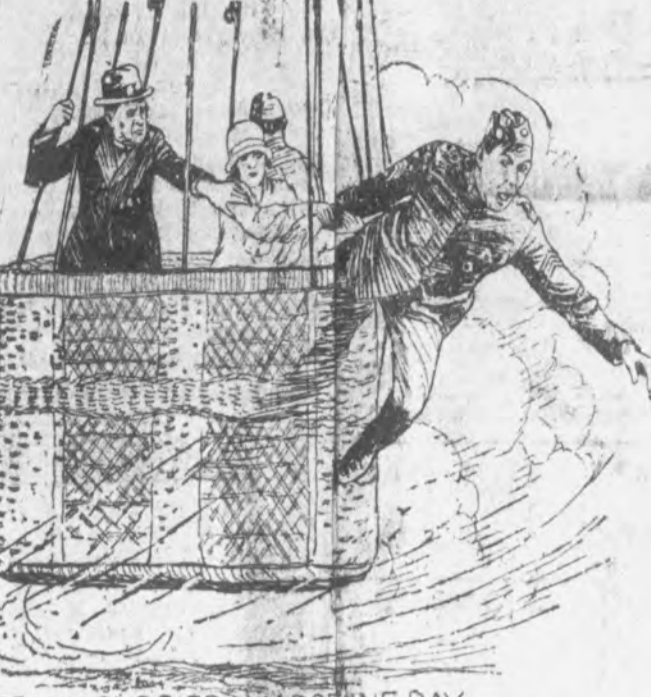

Weather Outlook for the Week

FARM NOTES

Tobacco Field Meeting A Successful Event
Eighty-eight leading dirt farmers met County Agent Arnold and Y. Floyd, tobacco specialist, at the tobacco field on the Cox farm near Ayden, yesterday. They were there from Ayden, Rountree, Falkland, Fountain, Farmville, Winterville, Greenville, Stokes and the Creek Road to Pactolus. This demonstration according to county agent Arnold will be worth upwards of $100,000 to Pitt county farmers next year. This estimate is based on the fact that an average of $125 per acre was obtained by the use of Cash variety of tobacco alone and practically every farmer present put in a request for seed or next year. In addition to the use of Cash tobacco, the right method of cultivation was gone into as well as the proper balance of fertilizer which if put into practice will add greatly to the farmers' income.

There are some fifty acres of the Cash variety of tobacco in Pitt county this year and from all indications there will be more than 2,000 acres next year.

The farmers were so impressed with the progress of the demonstration that they voted to have another meeting at the same place at 2 p. m. July 15th. Arrangements are being made with the demonstrators to have the seed of the Cash variety turned over to the county agent's office for reconditioning, treating and distribution. In this way an accurate check can be kept on the acreage sown next year.

The variety test being conducted consists of one row of Cash containing one-twentieth of an acre of Cash tobacco and one row of Jewmaker containing one-twentieth of an acre. These two rows have the same treatment, fertilization, etc. They will be harvested separately from other tobacco and both lots will be graded by Mr. Floyd and put on the market and sold. It is in this way that we arrive at the increase or decrease in yield.

The meeting yesterday according to a number of farmers present was the largest meeting of its kind out of the field where it was held (one) ever held in Pitt county.

The three big things held up for the inspection of the farmers present were ridge method of cultivation, properly balanced fertilizer, and the Cash variety of tobacco. There is enough information being obtained at this one demonstration to convince every farmer in the county, if they would but take the time as this eighty-eight farmers did, and study the matter for one afternoon. It means dollars and cents to each of them to put into practice the above mentioned methods.

If the 45,000 acres of tobacco that will be planted in Pitt county next year could be planted to Cash variety it would mean an increase of at least $2,225,000 to the farmers' income on tobacco alone. How long will it take the farmers of Pitt to change? One farmer, Levi Pierce, of Ayden, was converted last year. His entire crop is the Cash variety this year. Six others are putting in as much as five acres this year. All indications point to one hundred next year. Five years from now it is safe to predict says Mr. Arnold, that the Cash variety will dominate all other varieties grown in the county. But think of the loss due to the slowness of the farmer to change his practices. The time has come when the farmer should investigate, study and make up his mind this season what is best to do next year. Especially when $2,225,000 is at stake.

AMERICAN PRIMA DONNA MAKES DEBUTE IN BERLIN

Berlin—(AP)—The recent German debut of Mary Lewis, American prima donna who married Michael Bohnen, the German baritone, was a social event of the first order. Miss Lewis sang the role of Marguerite in Gounod's "Faust" in an all-star cast in which her husband sang Mephisto.

All Berlin was out for the occasion. The young bride was fairly smothered with flowers. She has rapidly won the esteem of her German colleagues of the stage and has made many friends in society.

Miss Lewis' voice has a winning charm which pleases generally. She sang in French. The rest of the singers sang their native German. At each curtain call Michael Bohnen kissed his wife's hand to the enthusiastic plaudits of the audience.

STRESEMANN JOKE WITH AMERICAN FLYERS

Berlin—(AP)—Foreign Minister Stresemann professes to have divined the real reason why Chamberlin and Levine headed for Berlin.

"I can realize that you don't need a map of Europe to find our capital," he told them at a banquet in their honor. "All you did was to circle around in the air until you spied the largest concentration of police. Then you knew that that

KELVINATED foods just beg to be eaten

NO food is quite so delicious as a bedtime lunch at the refrigerator door. A bit of luscious fruit, a savory slice of the dinner roast, a wedge of crumbly-crust pie, a glass of cold, sweet milk—
Delicious always—yet you'll never know how good such foods can be until you taste them fresh from the frosty, dry interior of a Kelvinator-chilled refrigerator.
Kelvinator not only preserves flavor—it adds flavor. Winter or summer it adds crispness to salads, freshness to vegetables, firmness and delicacy to just-ripe fruits, and mellowness and tenderness to meats. Kelvination improves most foods just as much as cooking does—and Kelvinator is just as much an all-year necessity to the well-orderd kitchen as a modern range.
Kelvinator, easily placed in your own refrigerator, will keep it chilled and frosty every hour of the twenty-four. It requires no replenishing. Phone or call for complete information.

MORE ENTHUSIASM FOR SWIMMING POOL

Had the public in general been present at last night's Kiwanis meeting and heard Rocky Mount city officials tell of their municipal swimming pool and its value to the city, there would be little doubt that Greenville would have such a swimming pool in the near future. While members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs have been enthusiastic for some time over the matter and have been devoting their efforts to plans whereby a swimming pool here could be obtained, those who heard the talks last night were even more delighted with the report from Rocky Mount and are more determined than ever that Greenville shall have a pool.

The matter of a municipal swimming pool will be placed before the city Board of Aldermen next Thursday night and every citizen interested in the matter should be on hand.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

So much has been said and written of that memorable day upon which our forefathers signed the Declaration of Independence that it is difficult to write without entering a field which has repeatedly been covered, yet one cannot be reminded too often of the valuable lesson contained in the struggle of that little band of patriots to establish a republic in which their descendants could live secure and obtain the most from life. The ideals embodied in that famous document have served as an inspiration, a standard by which this country has attained its present heights. In the fight for independence that followed shortly after the signing of that document the colonists were victorious for their cause was just and founded upon right motives.

In the decades that have followed, the growth of the United States from a few colonies, dependent upon the English Crown, to one of the world's most prosperous and powerful nations has been practically uninterrupted, and today ships flying the Stars and Stripes carry American products to every port, and prosperous conditions are noted at every hand.

In such prosperity and uninterrupted progress there lies a danger—the danger of complacency. There is likely to be a tendency on the part of the citizens to become too confident that the government will continue to function properly and maintain its position and progress.

A general lack of interest in public affairs on the part of the citizens is certain to follow such self-confidence, and that condition has caused embarrassment to many institutions and nations. This danger constitutes an ever menacing foe to be vigilantly guarded against. In order to do this it must be the paramount duty of each individual, each voter, to assure himself that the public offices are properly filled by those whose efficiency and loyalty cannot be questioned, and that the different departments and organizations of which the government consists maintain a high standard and function properly.

Let each American be inspired with genuine patriotism, not the patriotism that flares only during the time of national danger from an outside enemy, but patriotism that steadily burns through all time; hold sacred the ideals set forth in that immortal document, the Declaration of Independence, signed by our forefathers on July 4, 1776, let it tenets ever be the standard by which one's efforts are guided, and strive to retain unblemished the flag which was born during the struggle for freedom, that it may ever represent democracy, liberty and justice.

STOCK MARKET
New York, July 2.—(AP)—Extreme dullness characterized today's abbreviated session of the stock market in which the main price tendency appeared to be upward. Pools, influenced by the prospect of easier money rates next week, bid up more than a score specialties 2 to 5 points several of which reached new high ground.

Airplanes Put On Aerial Circus At Fort Bragg
Fort Bragg, N. C., July 2.—(AP)—Airplanes rolled, spun, looped, dived, zoomed-about everything except crashed—here yesterday when the 22nd observation squadron, U. S. A., put on an aerial circus for the 1,100 youths in the C. M. T. C. camps and upwards of 8,000 visitors. The planes rained the air with bombs and capped the climax when six air veterans went over the sides of their ships and let parachutes drift them down to earth a half a mile below.

Three Killed And Two Injured When Sou. Train Wrecks
Asheville, July 2.—(AP)—Three men were killed and two others so badly scalded they will die, when Southern Railway local freight train between Rock Hill and Marion ran off the tracks one mile from Gilkey, in Rutherford county, this afternoon and piled up six cars and the engine in a plowed field, according to word reaching here this afternoon.

Nicaraguans To Be Trained By Typical Marine

LIEUT. COL. E. R. BEADLE

Washington (AP)—The new Nicaragua constabulary is to be organized and trained by a United States Marine.

Nobody who has ever visualized the ideal hard-boiled Marine could possibly mistake Lieutenant Colonel E. R. Beadle for anything else. Those who have been tempted to laxity in observance of discipline when serving in his outfit are inclined to think that "hard-boiled" is mild words when applied to him.

Col. Beadle has had lengthy and varied experience in the Philippines and Haiti and has gained a reputation as an organizer and trainer of military units. He received a citation from the secretary of war November 11, 1920, for "excellent services in connection with training of troops for duty with the American Expeditionary Forces."

"If Beadle can't organize a good constabulary, nobody can," was the way one official commented on his new job in Nicaragua, which has as its objective the creation of a force which can restore and maintain order in that country.

He went to the Philippines in 1903 one month after being commissioned a second lieutenant. He stayed three years and returned in 1909 for two more years. He learned Spanish there and gained experience in a country lacking communication facilities which will be valuable to him in Nicaragua.

Goes To China

MRS. MARK L. BRISTOL

London (AP)—The breaking down of old empire and the birth of new seems to be a commonplace occurrence in the life of Mrs. Mark L. Bristol, wife of the rear admiral who for the past eight years has been American High Commissioner in Turkey.

After watching the changing scene in the Ottoman empire, Mrs. Bristol will accompany her husband to China this summer when he takes command of the Asiatic fleet.

Mrs. Bristol reassured friends who objected to her trip at this time, saying, "China holds no unknown terrors." She has spent several years there already traveling by horseback and on foot into remote regions unvisited by other American women.

Mrs. Bristol was active in the work of the Turkish Society for the Protection of Children.

LET'S GO TO CHURCH

(This page is paid for by the following list of firms who believe the churches represent the greatest force for good.)

REASONS FOR CHURCH ATTENDANCE

(By Rev. W. S. Harden)

There are still some people who attend church regularly, some who attend occasionally, some not at all. I am sure that if the irregular and non-attender knew of some good reasons for regular attendance, more of them would attend than do now. Here are some reasons for regular attendance:

1. It is a good habit. From the child on up to the grown person, we are constantly forming habits that are good or bad. Certainly if there were no other reason, you can safely say that the church-going habit is not a bad one, and is calculated to do anyone good. Our very best men and women in all ages have been church attenders, and plus church members. The parts of a church service will tend to form other good habits, too.
2. Good people attend the church services. If you attend, you will be in the very best company, people who are dependable, substantial people of the community. The acquaintances you form at the church, you can safely associate with every day.
3. You are bound to be a better person by attending church services. Every part of the service tends to draw you toward higher things, tends to inspire you with higher ideals, and offers you the help of God to live the Christian life, which life is the only safe and satisfactory one to live.
4. Common honesty demands that you go to church. It is the church which makes your community the safe place it is, gives you the good laws you have, keeps the moral standard high, makes for peace, prosperity, and happiness. As an honest person, you ought to patronize an institution that does that for you. You certainly ought not to enjoy all of these blessings, and not be willing to endorse the church by your presence at her services. When you keep away from the church, you throw your influence against the church, you influence others to keep away, you help to tear down and destroy the church. You are honest about other things, why not be about this?

the sun, changing day to night, and everybody knew that it was only a matter of time before the sun would be eating the night. Nevertheless, when the eclipse passed and the sun came shining out once more, the crowds cheered. They were glad to have Mother Nature stop playing bear.

When Uncle Sam's fiscal year ended last night, he found a surplus of $635,000,000. Secretary Mellon had "guessed" $625,000,000, a good prophecy.

Uncle Sam really is a rich person and can afford anything he needs. He ought to dig canals, harness water power, build the greatest air and submarine fleets in the world. He should stop trying to persuade Europe to do what it doesn't want to do, attend to his own business and be in a position to make other nations mind theirs. Until this notion is prepared to defend itself against any ten other nations the Government will not have done its duty.

"Well, done, but what did you do the next day?"

Fokker, airplane builder, would have an answer ready for Napoleon's favorite question. On Wednesday a Fokker plane flew to Honolulu. Next day a Fokker plane landed in France. Now Fokker announces a plane to fly, non-stop for seventy-two hours, and go from Seattle to Tokyo, 5,000 miles. The Government should contract with Fokker to keep him here for life building airplanes. Ancient monarchs and Popes offered any inducement that would bring great artists to their courts. The great artist of today is one airplane artist.
