PACIFIC FLIERS REACH HAWAII, MAKE SPECTACULAR LANDING IN TREE-TOP ON ISLAND OF MOLKAI

Unable To Reach Honolulu, Smith and Bronte Land On Island Sixty Miles Away.

Honolulu, July 16.—(AP)—Having completed their uncertain flight to Hawaii by deliberately plunging into a Kaiwee tree on the island of Molkai, Ernest L. Smith and Emory B. Bronte explained as they rested in Honolulu, their goal, today, why their radio was silent for five hours after they sent out SOS calls and why they continued to terra firma without information rescue ships that they still were in the air.

When still 500 miles or more from land, Bronte revealed, the failure of their gasoline pump led them to believe their fuel was running extremely low and it caused the plane to lose so much altitude that the trailing wireless antenna struck sea and was torn away.

The decrease in altitude had the effect of rescuing the gasoline pump and they shot up into the air again and headed for land without knowing how long they would last and without knowing whether their calls had been heard and uncertain of the bearings.

When the initial excitement and confusion had disappeared Smith and Bronte had distinguished themselves as being the first civilian to fly from California to Hawaii. They had won a battle with unfavorable weather, perverse luck and all the natural odds that fliers face if crossing the sea and land planes. They had outsailed fate by diving into the tree when their last drop of gasoline had been used, thus forestalling the possibility of being planned beneath their plane in the upset.

From the time they left the Golden Gate at 11:08 a. m. Thursday until they were near their destination they saw neither land nor sea. Several times Smith reported seeing beautiful stretches of "land" tempting enough for the exhausted fliers to alight upon, but the sights were only illusions—mirages cast upon the clouds and fog by the light of the moon.

From the time they dived into the fog bank off the Golden Gate until they picked the tree as the softest available thing to land on their flight presented a series of difficulties.

The climax of their trouble came about 5:15 a. m. Honolulu time (Honolulu time is 2-1/2 hours behind the Pacific time and 61-2 hours behind Eastern Daylight Standard Time). At that moment they sent out their first SOS after having concluded they had only enough gasoline to stay in the air another hour. They presumably were about 700 miles from Honolulu and 500 miles from the nearest land.

"We are going to land in the sea. We have a rubber life boat but send help," several ships reported as saying.

Three steamers, the liner Wilhelmina, the army transport Kenowis and the Whiawa turned off their course and started to the aid of the plane.

Less than 30 minutes later they sent out a new call for help estimating their gasoline supply insufficient to last them four hours.

The plea for assistance was confirmed.

Scarcely the Wilhelmina wireless that the plane had settled to the water and that the ship supposedly was about 90 miles from it. All radio stations were silenced in the hope that further word would come from the monoplane's radio. None came. Visions of possible disaster forced the ship towards the spot at full speed. Word of their forced landing on Molkai at 9:46 a. m. Honolulu time then was flashed into Honolulu. Rescuers turned back on their course and army planes left from Wheeler field near here to take them off the leper island and bring them in triumph to Honolulu.

The little monoplane GUY of Oakland, which had been groomed for weeks in anticipation of her overseas flight, was virtually demolished. The plane was in the air 25 hours and 36 minutes, during which she travelled about 2,340 miles. Smith hopes to salvage the engine, but no more.

Still 60 miles from their destination, Smith and Bronte wireless Capt. Lowell H. Smith of round-the-world flight fame, now stationed at Wheeler field. Because Smith was absent when the message arrived it lay unread for nearly two hours while thousands were wondering.

ITALIANS MAY FORCE TRAINS THRU AUSTRIA

London, July 16.—(AP)—An unconfirmed dispatch from Innsbruck received by the Exchange Telegraph from its office in Berlin, says that what was described as an ultimatum has been sent by Italy to Austria stating that unless Italian trains were allowed to traverse Austria tonight, the Italian rail staff and troops would force them through.

The dispatch added that Italy was said to be hastening thousands of troops to a spot near the frontier, ostensibly for maneuvers.

(No confirmation regarding the Innsbruck dispatch had been received by the Associated Press this afternoon.)

FARMERS RUB ELBOWS WITH MR. COOLIDGE

Growers From Three States Take Part In Picnic With President And Wife.

Ardmore, S. D., July 16.—(AP)—It was the farmers' turn today to rub elbows with the President of the United States.

Great numbers of them from South Dakota, Nebraska and Wyoming put up their corn hoes and pitchforks and turned the plowing of cows over to the shore boy while they put on their Sunday best and came to Ardmore to eat a picnic dinner under shade trees with President and Mrs. Coolidge.

"There is a world better of a crowd going to be here before the day is over," prophesied O. B. Wallace of Ardmore, who was sent into the neighboring country a short while ago to spread the news of the President coming.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were to come on a special train from Custer, S. D., after a 15-mile auto drive from the summer White House. While he was looking forward to this opportunity of seeing some real dirt farmers close at hand, he also was interested in the Ardmore government station which is experimenting in dry farming.

To the north of him at Bellfourchee where he recently went for a rodeo show, was an irrigation project in which the government had spent thousands to make the arid soil productive. Here in another semi-arid section, the government was spending money in an attempt to prove that so-called "dry" crops could be grown at a profit.

The station's brans had been cleaned and the horses and cattle had been curried and rushed in expectation of the presidential inspection.

It is designed to have five machine guns and carry 2,500 pounds of bombs.

MANY ATTEND MEETING AT AYDEN FARM

Specialists Speak At County-wide Tobacco Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

Around seven or five farmers from every township in the county made the second visit to the cash variety and fertilizer test under way on the Cox farm, owned by R. C. Cannon and son, near Ayden, Farmville township led in attendance with 15 farmers present.

County Agent Arnold opened the meeting by calling on G. W. Fant, plant disease specialist from State College, to discuss briefly the more important tobacco diseases and control methods. The farmers manifested a great deal of interest in this line of work as indicated by the large number of questions they shot at Mr. Fant.

The next speaker was John T. Thorne, of Farmville, who attended the Oxford tobacco school on Thursday. Mr. Thorne was very enthusiastic over the work with lime-sulfur under way. Mr. R. B. Reeves, former county agent, talked on the condition of the Georgia crop which he said was not very promising at the present time.

E. Y. Floyd, extension tobacco specialist, discussed the demonstrations under way after which the group went to the field. The farmers continue to put in requests for seed of the Cash variety for next year.

Mr. Floyd stated that the tobacco meetings in Pitt county were the largest yet held in the state and was highly pleased with the interest taken.

GO ON TRIAL FOR ALLEGED ATTACK ON YOUNG WOMAN

Charlotte, July 16.—(AP)—Terrell Meng and John McCullough of North Charlotte went on trial in Mecklenburg Superior court today on charges of attempting to attack Ruby Lee Roberts, 13 year old girl, of Greensboro. The attack is alleged to have occurred on January 3. At the time of the attack the girl lived here.

The girl was the first State witness. She testified that the two men took her to ride on the day in question when near the Sugar Creek church, forced her to drink whiskey until she was intoxicated, and then attempted to abuse her otherwise.

Defense attorneys subjected her to a long and vicious cross-examination but failed to materially change her story.

Wilson Kiwanians Present Interesting Program Here

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club in regular session at the Rotary building last night enjoyed an unusually interesting program put on by two versatile members of the Wilson Kiwanis Club.

Rev. E. J. Baxter, pastor of the Episcopal Church of Wilson gave a clever recitation of a medicine salesman, and Arthur Ruffin, prominent young business man, made an interesting talking dealing with Kiwanis activities.

Others taking part in the general program of the evening were J. E. Stubbs, secretary of the Hendersonville Chamber of Commerce who has been spending the week in Greenville, and E. P. Arnold, director of the Pitt County department of agriculture. Both spoke in an interesting way of conditions of the present moment, and lauded the Kiwanians for what they are doing for the community.

The session was presided over by President W. H. Woolard. The general program was in charge of Dr. Massey, who introduced the Kiwanians from Wilson.

Mr. Baxter stressed the need of co-operative effort among members of the organization in all parts of the country. He said that nothing great or good had ever been accomplished except through the combined effort of a body of people working in behalf of some definite objective. He urged the Kiwanians to live up to the spirit of the organization and to do everything possible in making this spirit felt everywhere.

E. G. Flanagan introduced Mr. Stubbs, who at the outset said several complimentary things about Greenville and Pitt County. He said he had lived in all parts of the country, but he had found no place with greater possibilities than North Carolina. The State is just beginning to awaken to its resources and possibilities, and the future for development was never brighter.

Mr. Arnold, who always talks of farming and farm people, gave the Kiwanians much valuable information of farm activities in Pitt County. He urged his hearers to give the planter the credit which he so justly deserves, and to do everything possible to co-operate with him. Town people must let the farmers know they are interested in him and his activities, and in that way "use him to measure up to the highest standards of his community."

Mr. Arnold also stressed the need of a Chamber of Commerce. He said the need of such an organization in Greenville was never greater. He declared that the Chamber of Commerce is able to render a type of service no other organization can render, and that no town or city can progress as it should without the influence of such an institution.

President Woolard announced the coming of Governor Lynch, of the Carolina district next Friday night. Kiwanians from Williamston, Tarboro, Wilson, New Bern, Kinston and Goldsboro will be guests of the local club during the occasion. The meeting will be held in the social rooms of the Christian Church at 7 o'clock.

Governor Lynch, Mr. Woolard stated, is one of the most forceful speakers, connected with Kiwanis in this State, and will have many vitally interesting things to say on this trip to Greenville.

SAPIRO'S SUIT AGAINST FORD ENDED TODAY

Ford's Apology For Anti-Jewish Statements Basis For Settlement.

Chicago, July 16.—(AP)—Aaron Sapiro's $1,000,000 suit against Henry Ford was settled today, Mr. Sapiro announced.

Sapiro sued for libel as a result of articles in the Dearborn Independent, a Ford publication alleging Sapiro was engaged in co-operative marketing as a part of a Jewish conspiracy to obtain control of American agriculture.

The suit was settled on the basis of a new settlement which Mr. Sapiro announced had been issued by Mr. Ford. In addition to his recent apology for anti-Jewish statements appearing in the Independent, no money settlement was involved Mr. Sapiro said.

Detroit, July 16.—(AP)—Retraction of all personal charges against Aaron Sapiro and an indorsement of co-operative marketing are included in the terms of the settlement of the Ford-Sapiro libel suits according to William Henry Gallagher of Detroit, chief counsel for Mr. Sapiro.

Gallagher said that the settlement as to costs was a "personal matter between the parties."

The retraction and indorsement he said, will be issued publicly probably through the Dearborn Independent, Mr. Ford's paper.

"The Dearborn Independent wishes to announce that the suit commenced by Aaron Sapiro for libel against the Dearborn Independent and Henry Ford has been terminated satisfactorily to all parties," said the statement authorized by Mr. Ford and the publication as made public by Earl J. Davis, one of the men in whose hands Mr. Ford rested the final negotiations.

"The suit was based upon statements appearing in a series of articles published in 1925 and 1926 by the Dearborn Independent upon subject of co-operative associations organized on the Sapiro plan."

"The articles complained of by Mr. Sapiro dealt with the so-called Sapiro plan of co-operative marketing plan and the relation of Mr. Sapiro with the association organized on this plan. They were prepared and written by a contributor to the Dearborn Independent, whose work and writings have in the past appeared in various periodicals in this country. They were accepted at their face value by the Dearborn Independent Publishing Company. It has since been found that inaccuracies of fact were present in the articles and that erroneous conclusions were drawn from these inaccuracies by the writer."

As a result of this, Mr. Sapiro may have been injured and reflections cast upon him unjustly.

"Mr. Henry Ford did not participate personally in the publication of the articles and has no personal knowledge of what was said in them. He of course, deplored greatly that any facts that were published in a periodical so closely associated with his name in the minds of the public."

Pending motion for a new trial Acree was released on bond of $2,800.

The sentencing of the former school teacher ended until October any further trials of cases growing out of alleged floggings by hooded bands in this section.

A jury yesterday reported itself unable to agree on a verdict in the case of Elmer Clark, indicted along with Acree for alleged flogging of Mrs. Bowers and another jury freed five men alleged to have flogged Bart Singleton, farmer.

The Death Flight. No Favored Religion. Mr. Gifford's Beliefs. No Big War Man. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927. By Star Co.

When a man flies over the Pacific or Atlantic and lands safely, the world is interested—there are so many risks.

Last night, Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, convicted of killing Mrs. Snyder's husband, sat in the death house listening to preparations for William Wagner's trip to the electric chair. His crime was not "interesting," so very few lines will tell of the "trip" he was to take through the ether early this morning.

Whither did he fly, how did he land, what did he find at the other end of his journey? answers to those questions would be worth something, for we must all make the flight.

Various religions have their headquarters in Jerusalem, Protestant, Catholic, Greek Church and Judaism—the last certainly with the original clan. The earthquake, shaking and destroying impartially allows no particular religion to claim an exemption due to divine intervention.

Greek, Protestant and Catholic shrines have been injured, and even the Jewish University is hard hit, its library and laboratory destroyed. The Talmud says Jerusalem was destroyed because the schools were neglected. The fate of the university is hard to understand.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company earned in the first six months of this year more than sixty-three million dollars, equal to $125,000,000 a year, five and a half per cent on two billions. All that money comes from ONE IDEA, developed by Mr. Bell. Take care of your ideas, and they may some day take care of you.

Nicholas Murray Bailey says the situation is uncertain at Geneva meet.

SITUATION IS UNCERTAIN AT GENEVA MEET

Members Of Delegations, However, Discount Reports About Adjournment.

Geneva, July 16.—(AP)—The week-end "naval holiday" promised to bring some easing of the position in which the three powers participating in the naval limitation conference today found themselves. The odds of 1 to 3 that the conference would break up, proffered after Thursday's plenary session, the chances of success or failure were put to 50-50, although there was still more than 100,000 tons maximum of the U. S., and about 100,000 tons between the American maximum and that of Japan.

The British, in view of the stand of the U. S., and Japan for maintenance of 10,000-ton cruisers with 8 inch guns, are citing testimony much displacement are unreliable and often unworkable.

Nevertheless, talk of adjournment of the conference for period longer than over the sabbath was discounted by all three delegations, the British attitude being, "now we've got this thing started we must push on with it."

Cumberland Man Fatally Shot By Rural Policeman

Fayetteville, N. C., July 16.—(AP)—John Mack Truelove, Cumberland County man, is in a local hospital in a dying condition, as the result of a gun battle yesterday afternoon in which Rural Policeman W. B. Johnson is alleged to have shot Truelove.

The altercation came about when Johnson, in pursuit of his duty, asked permission to place a poster on a filling station, according to reports. Truelove, who it is said had previously had trouble with Johnson, came from the station and threatened the deputy with a bottle, according to the deputy.

Johnson shot his assailant and he said, was forced to flee when sons of the wounded man, Mack and William Truelove, pursued him with a shotgun and pistol. The brothers were later arrested, but were released on bond.

The bullet entered Truelove's shoulder and pierced his spine, causing paralysis.

VIENNA QUIET TODAY AFTER SEVERE RIOT

Numbers Killed And Injured When Infuriated Mob Stormed Palace Of Justice.

Paris, July 16.—(AP)—Vienna among the stately capitals of Europe, was plunged into one of the worst riots of its checkered history yesterday, but reports reaching Paris both by way of Berlin and the Czechoslovakia frontier town of Bratislava today indicated that the police after fighting all afternoon restored a semblance of order late in the evening.

How many fell in the battle it was impossible to determine, the reports were so conflicting, but it appears certain that not less than forty persons were killed and hundreds injured, many of them seriously. The palace of justice was hit by fire started by a mob and there are reports that the ministry of ports was also set on fire and parliament house, the opera house and perhaps other buildings were more or less seriously damaged.

What made the gravity of the situation particularly felt was the fact that all communications was suddenly cut off at 7 o'clock last night, when in obedience to a general strike order all telegraph and telephone operators left their posts.

The ostensible cause of the outbreak was the acquittal Thursday night of three Austrian monarchists, charged with shooting to death a man and a boy during a Socialists demonstration last January. It is known, however, that the Socialists were bitterly disappointed at not having succeeded as well as expected in the recent general election.

From the water of contradictory stories reaching here from neighboring countries, it is difficult to piece together exactly what occurred. Apparently the workers called a strike in the morning and organized a gigantic manifestation to protest against the verdict. They commandeered street cars, and although the police did their best to shepherd the demonstrators and on the whole, succeeded, there were a number of clashes in which shots were fired on both sides. Then the mob began to get ugly. It was soon evident it was getting out of hand altogether, and slight incident was liable to start an outbreak.

Private advices received at Bratislava by the correspondent of the Havas News agency state that when the police tried to disperse the mob 300 of the Pfalz manifestants opened fire. The police are said to have returned the fire. Infuriated, the crowd swept them down like chaff, and rushed for the palace of justice, bearing down all opposition. It stormed the building, cut the gas pipes, set fire to the escaping gas and in a few minutes the noble edifice was wrapped in flames.

The Vienna correspondent of the Journal says the manifestants beat and otherwise ill-used the judges in the courts, gathered all records and documents they could lay their hands on and fed them to the flames. Other hands he reports, attacked the university building, parliament house and the city hall, with more or less success and even began raising barricades to prevent troops being brought up.

Fighting also took place near the opera house, which is not far from some of the leading hotels, from which according to the correspondent of the continental edition of the London Daily Mail, many tourists looked on.

The worst battle seems to have been fought around the city hall. Some serious fighting occurred in the Lichtenfelstrasse, where according to the Socialists, somebody fired on the crowd from a window, wounding one of the demonstrators. The mob thereupon stormed the house and threatened to hang a man they found in it to a lamp post. He was only saved by a hastily formed guard from the Socialists ranks.

The Vienna disturbance found its echo in the rest of the country which according to Vienna advices also confirmed the news that the police had suggested in driving the mob from the center of the city into the suburbs at 7 o'clock in the evening, when a battalion of infantry with machine guns took a position before the parliament building.

Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, July 16.—(AP)—8:30 a. m.—Reuters' latest message from Vienna says that the authorities are master of the situation. The square in front of the parliament buildings and the palace of justice is occupied by troops. There has been no destruction of private property. Estimates

SIMMONS ONLY 400 HITTER IN BIG LEAGUE

Chicago, July 16—(AP)—The major leagues have now acquired a mid-season 400 hitter. Ty Cobb's pupil, Al Simmons, has done it.

Batting averages give Simmons a .402 mark, the first since he weathered the first nine months of the season. An even break in his game this week gives Dutch Reuther of the Yankees a pitching score of nine victories and two defeats for the best mark among the regulars.

Ty Cobb's 14 victories for the White Sox top the list in that respect.

His pal Al Thomas finally pulled out his 13th victory after five failures and ranks second in games won.

Although Ruth is several home runs behind his best year, 1921, he has taken the edge off Gehrig in circuit drives, having 30 in games up to Wednesday, with Gehrig one behind. Tony Lazzeri has pushed his total up to 14 to give the Yankees all three leaders in slugging.

George Sisler leads in stolen bases with 18.

The Pirate trio which has monopolized the top honors in the National League hitting was caught in the general batting slump of this week and Frankie Frisch crashed through to take third place away from Clyde Barnhart of Pittsburgh. Frisch also leads in stolen bases with 26.

The two Pittsburgh hurlers who wear specs, Meadows and Hill, remain at the top of the league's pitching roster.

Sharkey Finds New York Too Hot For Training

New York, July 16—(AP)—Jack Sharkey is finding New York in July a hot place in which to train for a fight.

After passing up work yesterday and going to Coney Island for relief from the heat the Boston boxer planned to resume work today in his roof garden quarters atop Madison Square Garden. Part of yesterday was spent in motorcycling, Sharkey's favorite pastime.

He did not omit his morning four miles of road work in Central Park, which usually is done with Mr. Sharkey accompanying him at the wheel of Jack's automobile.

MUSEUM HAS FACE PAINT 5,000 YEARS OLD

London.—(AP)—Face paint used by some Egyptian flapper 5,000 years ago is among exhibits at the British Museum. It was discovered at the of the Chaldees by the joint expedition of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania. The paint is contained in dainty little shells.

There are also fragments of toilet combs and silver articles which figured on some beauty's dressing-table in those days. A series of clay tablets, bearing school exercises, religious and grammatical texts, multiplication tables and directions for finding square and cube roots are also on view.

A diagram illustrates methods used for measuring the area of an irregular plot of ground.

Von Elm Loses An Eight Hole Lead.

Salisbury Holds On To The Lead In Piedmont

Raleigh, July 16—(AP)—Suspension of "Dusty" Cook, Durham outfielder sold to the New York Yankees for a reported sum of $15,000, for what was said to have been indifferent playing, marked today's activity in the Piedmont circuit.

Salisbury league leaders, won again, this time from Winston-Salem, 9-0. Pitcher Huffman held the twins to three safeties and not a man reached second base.

Warden hurled Rocky Mount to a Raleigh victory, 4-1 as O'Hara and Walters hit heaviest for honors.

Durham dropped the opener to High Point, 6-5, the pointers presenting a strengthened lineup with Guber making a good start as a new comer for the winners.

Dempsey Through With Gloves Until He Meets Sharkey

Saratoga Lake, N. Y., July 16—(AP)—Jack Dempsey will not put on another glove until he enters the ring with Jack Sharkey at the Yankee stadium next Thursday.

The announcement that the former champion would quit boxing six days before the battle that will decide a challenger for champion Gene Tunney in September was made today by Leo P. Flynn, Dempsey's manager, after a long conference with trainers and handlers. The move, one of the most radical in trainer history, came as a distinct surprise to the camp, although notice was given late last night that Jack would substitute a round of golf for the usual workout today.

Flynn said Dempsey "is on edge right now."

Mad Bull, the Indian as he appeared at the end of his 400 mile grind which he finished in seven days, twelve hours and thirty-four minutes, to win the Redwood Highway marathon race.

Consider it as an abstract proposition now.

George Von Elm, ranked as one of the finest match-players of the world, and making a bid in the national amateur championship of 1924 at Merion, is 8 up on his first-round opponent after the third hole of the afternoon round. Eight up, and 15 to play. What is the chance that the opponent will square the match and carry it past the thirty-sixth?

Well, not much of a chance. You might say one in a thousand. You might say anything. Put yourself in the opponent's place against George Von Elm. You are 8 down and 15 to play. In a national championship.

Personally, feel that I would just fold up and take it comfortably.

But this is a little story of Roland MacKenzie of Washington; the tall young pupil of Freddie McLeod who was as I recall, 17 years old at Merion when he met Von Elm in the first round, and the Pacific Coast star, now national champion, was making his first great bid for the title. Von Elm playing airtight golf, was 7 up at the end of the morning round. In the afternoon round Roland started by winning the first hole with a par 4. George promptly retaliating with a birdie 4 at the 523-yard second hole. He won that, and Roland missed the third green, a one-shooter, and George's par put him 8 up, and 15 to play.

From what George told me later his face drawn with the strain after the thirty-seventh hole George must have insensibly eased up. But Roland, insensibly or otherwise, at the same juncture went to shooting superb golf. At the turn, Von Elm was 4 up, having dropped the fourth, fifth sixth and seventh holes in giddy succession. George now, was fighting desperately to regain command. He got back a hole at the eighth, where Roland slipped but an 8-foot putt for a duce at the ninth left Roland with half his deficit accounted for—and George was struggling now to grip his game once more.

Iron par was all Roland shot on that last nine; par at every hole. And George slipped ever so little at No. 10, and at No. 14, where he took three putts; and at No. 17, where his tee-shot—the hole is 215 yards—just missed the green. And at every slip the tall kid from Washington, his face curiously gray with the strain, snapped up another hole.

The home hole is a classic in golfing history. One down and 1 to go. MacKenzie half-missed a drive at last and the ball, hit low plumped into the steep bank across the quarry and stopped in a fair cocked-up lie, nearly 300 yards from the green. George with a good drive was well up the narrow fairway, he could get home in two and Roland? The boy hit a wood shot that, I am sure has never been quite equalled under the circumstances. Ill never forget how the huge gallery behaved. I was far back of Roland and saw him slash into the shot with all his tall little frame. I could not see the green. But I could trace the flight of that Homeric shot by the rolling roar of applause from the gallery, terminating in a sudden furious crash—as the ball reached the distant green.

Roland's 4 there was one of the greater holes of history. George reached the edge of the big green, but needed three putts. The match was square. George won, and deserved to, at the first extra hole. Roland had done enough for fame. George was oddly reflective as he walked off the thirty-seventh green, a victor.

I asked him what had happened.

Lightweight Title Bout At Detroit Tonight

Detroit, July 16—(AP)—The weather permitting, Sammy Mandell, of Rockford, Ill., lightweight champion, will defend his title from the attack of Phil McGraw of Detroit, in the University of Detroit new stadium tonight.

Mandell, McGraw and promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons took the count Friday when McGraw had started Thursday fell intermittently Friday causing postponement of the title match.

As a consequence of the delay Mandell, who weighed in at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, will train at least four pounds over McGraw who tipped the scales at 132 1-2 pounds, Friday morning.

CUBS HANG ON TO TOP PLACE IN NATIONAL

(By The Associated Press)

Cubs, Pirates and Cardinals might feel justified in a triumph lock-up, through Eastern baseball parks today.

Leading the league in that order, the westerners moved on to face new faces with the impetus of a clean-cut victory over their latest eastern opponent.

A nine-six win over Boston yesterday gave the league leading Cubs four of the five games of the series and while the second place Pirates made it 3 out of 4 from the Brooklyn Robins by their five to two decision. The Cards won their fourth in five starts against the Phillies by 9 to 7.

Making unanimous triumph for the first division clubs the Giants who entertain the Cubs today took brace for long enough to down the 1st place Cincinnati Reds 4 to 1.

Hard-hitting was in order in all our games, the western trio especially creating havoc with the bat. The Cubs made 16 hits off five Boston pitchers while the Pirates made 13 and the Cardinals 15.

Those hardy defenders of eastern prestige in the American league, the Yankees, took their third game four starts from the Cleveland Indians, by 10 to 9. Coming from behind to do it with a seven-run spurge in the eighth and ninth innings. While hitting no homers Ruth and Gehrig helped with timely singles. The win made the Yanks record six victories to four defeats to their western trip so far.

Another stalwart eastern crew, the Athletics, took a long stride ahead against western opposition by winning a doubleheader from the White Sox by 3 to 1 and 13 to 10. There by, they leaped from fifth to third place, exceeding rungs with their victims. Four homers made in the second half of the bill, with Ty Cobb contributing the first.

For the tenth time in ten games between the two this year the last placed Red Sox fell before their tiny team, the Browns this time by 3 to 2 in the last game of the series.

At ninety-three Chauncey M. Depew says "the way to be contented with life is to be contented." True enough but the obvious difficulty confronting this restless age is how to achieve contentment.

The New York police have again been putting a murder suspect through the "third degree" to extort a confession—which is an easier job than hunting up evidence.

The Constitution forbids cruel and unusual punishment, but perhaps it would be argued that this kind, however cruel, is no longer "unusual."

Collier's Weekly prints twenty rather easy questions prepared by Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the 19th of which asks if any American President has ever been elected to a third term and the answer given is "No."

The San Antonio man is said to have suffered no ill effects from keeping awake 150 hours with the aid of thirty-five cups of coffee and six packages of cigarettes every 24 hours, but ill effects do not always show themselves immediately, and in any case a repetition of so useless a feat does not call for encouragement.

It is proposed—and it is high time—for the legislature of Alabama, to make it a misdemeanor to wear masks on the streets or highways, and, although the Governor of that state "is said to be a member of the Ku Klux Klan" his approval of the bill, if passed, "is confidently predicted by his friends." He could hardly do less, in view of the vigorous campaign of Alabama newspaper editors against the brutal flogging by hooded miscreants.

Marshal Foch is quoted as saying that within the next fifteen or twenty years there will be a devastating world war in which "every country will take part and the combatants will include not only the manhood but the women and children of every nation." On reading this doleful prophecy many are likely to reflect that, though a very great military commander, Marshal Foch is no longer as young as he was, and may have become subject to periods of deep depression. It may be worth while to remember however that if in 1900 anybody had predicted the war of 1914-1918, with all its frightfulness and costs, the whole world would have laughed and gone about its business in cheerful unbelief.

Last Sunday morning July 10, a stray dog bit Mr. E. O. Minges boy, a child four or five years old. Mr. Minges called the police department and asked their advice as to what to do about the dog, as he didn't want to take any chances. Chief of Police Jones and Assistant Chief Brewer went to Mr. Minges house and looked at the dog and said that there was nothing wrong with him. Mr. Minges asked the police if they didn't have a city pound for the purpose of locking up stray dogs until the owner called for them, or they were disposed of some way. Chief Jones replied that they didn't have any place to put the dog and didn't want to bother with him, but advised Minges that, if he wanted to that Mr. Minges could keep the dog confined for a few days. Mr. Minges locked up the dog and Tuesday afternoon, July 12 about 6 o'clock Mrs. Minges called the police again and asked them if they couldn't do something about the dog. Chief of Police Jones tells her that there is nothing wrong with the dog and to turn him loose.

BURRAGE HAS NEW SHIP

Vice-Admiral Guy H. Borage has in his new flagship, the light cruiser Detroit, a sister to the Memphis which brought Col. Charles Lindbergh home.

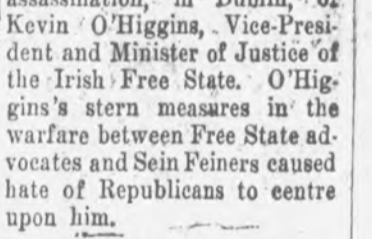

Washington (AP)—Like the Memphis, whose place she is taking as flagship of Vice-Admiral Guy H. Borage, commander-in-chief of the American naval squadron in European waters, the light cruiser Detroit is identified with an outstanding event in aeronautical history.

The Memphis had one of the fastest trips ever made by warship across the Atlantic in bringing Col. Charles A. Lindbergh home. The Detroit acted as station ship for the ZR-3 now the dirigible Los Angeles, when she made her trans-Atlantic flight from Friedrichshafen, Germany to Larchmont, N. J. From a station in Mid-Atlantic, she kept the dirigible advised of weather conditions and enabled her crew to steer clear of storms.

Sister ships, the Memphis and Detroit are among the ten 7,500-ton cruisers built by the United States since the World War. The new flagship is the fourth cruiser to bear the name of Detroit. The first was a 400-ton, 19-gun ship captured from the British at the Battle of Lake Erie by Commodore O. H. Perry, and later sold. A screw steamer of 1,300 tons and armed with 12 guns was its successor. Construction was begun and it was named about the time the Civil War ended but it was not completed.

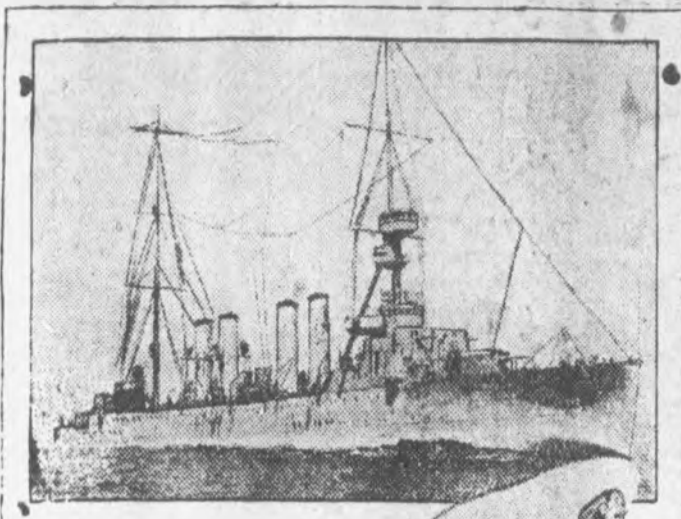

The third naval vessel to bear the Michigan City's name was a protected cruiser of 2,072 tons which took part in the Spanish-American war. It was stricken from the navy list in 1910, and sold a year later.

WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW
New York, July 16.—(AP)—Railroad and industrial stock market averages moved to record high levels this week coincident with reported turn for the better in some of the country's leading industries and an unexpectedly large reduction in brokers loans reported by the New York Federal Reserve Bank. Trading broadened on the rally but public participation, while showing some increase, continued to be of a highly speculative character.

Credit conditions were easier. The call money rate was maintained at four per cent. Although substantial concessions from that figure were offered in the outside market short term loans were available at 4 3-8 per cent as against a ruling rate of 4 1-2 a week ago. Calling of loans was only nominal. Steel shares took on a new lease of life on reports of a quickening in the fall demand, particularly from the automotive industry. U. S. Steel common sold above 126 for the first time since the old stock was stricken from the list.

The surprisingly good June sales statement of the General Motors and the optimistic opinion of President Erskine of the Studebaker Corporation brought fresh buying and heavy short covering into the motors.

STOCK MARKET
New York, July 16.—(AP)—The stock market displayed a firm undertone today despite rather extensive week-end readjustments of speculative accounts. Owing to the absence of many large traders business was in relatively small volume, the day's sales aggregating about 650,000 shares. The close was firm. Rails again assumed the leadership of the market with Erie common which crossed sixty to a new peak, as the individual feature.

WEEKLY COTTON
New York, July 16.—(AP)—Cotton goods markets have been more active and some price advances have occurred. The greatly reduced acreage planted leads manufacturers to believe that cotton will be high for the new season and they are confronting the difficulty of bringing cloth prices to a parity with raw material values. Denims and tickings have been advanced 1-2 cents a yard and also some of the other colored coarse yarn goods. Print cloths and sheetings are held at 1-8 cents to 1-4 cents a yard higher and some of the flannels are held for higher prices.

The wash fabrics trade has been better this week most of the trading being in cleaning up to this for the summer.

Sales of print cloths this week have run close to production but other lines are still in moderate call. Production still continues very high and many mills are still working in orders that will carry them from one to two months ahead. A considerable volume of business has been placed on fine and fancy fabrics of rayon and silk mixture for underwear. Yarns are steady and more inquiry is reported for knit goods and hosiery this week. Sheets and some of the other domestic are selling in moderate volume for fall needs. Shirting converters are selling spring lines and report a good demand for broadcloth foundation and rayon decorated materials but a light call for madras.

Prices current in primary markets are as follows:
Print cloths, 28 inch, 64x64s, 6 cents; 64x90s, 5 3-4 cents; 38 1-2 inch 64x64s, 7 3-4 cents; brown sheetings, Southern Standard 11 3-4 cents; denims 2 30s, 15 cents and 15 1-2 cents; tickings 19 1-2 cents and 20 1-2 cents; prints 9 cents; staple ginghams 9 cents; dress ginghams 15 3-8 cents and 16 1-2 cents.

FRENCH DRINK LESS WINE.
OFFICIAL FIGURES SHOW
Paris.—(AP)—It appears that one Frenchman in ten is going dry in defense of his pocketbook. Or it may be that they all are watering their wine.
Official statistics show that from 19 to 20 per cent less wine has been drunk in France in the last six months than in corresponding periods in the past.
Every man, woman and child, nevertheless, has had an average of 20 gallons, in six months. Twenty per cent less wine has been taken out of warehouses than last year. Taxes paid on wine supposedly consumed indicated that ten per cent less than usual has been sold over the counter.

Modern Prospectors Fly To See
If "Ther's Gold In Them Hills"

Wichita, Kan.—(AP)—Now comes the flying prospector.
Doomed is the picturesque silhouette of the bearded old prospector leading his patient floppared burro across a hinterland saw back.
C. F. Crawford, Fairbanks, Alaska, representing a mining concern of that city, is in Wichita superintending the construction of an airplane along special specifications for the use of a prospecting party which will explore for gold in the Endicott Mountain range in North-eastern Alaska.
"As the old timers used to say, 'That's gold in them hills'" Crawford explained. "We know there must be gold somewhere in the watersheds of the Kobok and the Nolk rivers, because gold is found in the gravel downstream. It is in such quantities as to indicate a large deposit somewhere up in the mountains."
"It would take years to prospect the likely place afoot. 'We are going after that gold by plane.'"
A party of five will leave Fairbanks August 5, to explore the mountains for mineral deposits, including oil, copper and coal, in addition to gold. They will establish a base and stay until cold weather begins. Crawford will fly his plane to Seattle from here in July. From Seattle it will be shipped to Fairbanks.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

Indianapolis, Ind.—(INS)—One out of four in Indiana has it.

Not an embarrassing dental disease, but an automobile.

The largest increase in the number of automobiles ever recorded in Indiana occurred during the first six months of this year.

From a population of 3,000,000 there have been registered 791,712 cars.

The increase over the same date last year was 55,523 or 7.12 per cent.

Of this number there was a gain of 43,563 passenger automobiles and an increase of 10,723 trucks.

But motor cycles decreased 176 and the number of bus licenses issued was twenty less.

A similar indication of prosperity was seen in the increase in the amount of securities issued.

This year's first six months totalled $286,865,775, while the same period in 1926 recorded only $184,176,700.

The little one-room Anthony school house near Shoals, Ind., is the site memorial to the daring of John Anthony, pioneer Indiana aviation enthusiast.

Back in the '70's Anthony, a rather well educated farmer began his experiment with gliders.

After many trials Anthony at length in 1881 produced what he thought was a good glider.

The plane failed to take the air and made only a short glide.

Only a short time ago the State highway commission used planes to survey a road through wild regions near the scenes of Anthony's aerial experiments.

The school house, built on Anthony's farm, is the only monument to Indiana's first aviator.

Virtue has become so common in the little city of Bunker Hill, Ind., that there is a bear market in jails.

In fact the official battle that has continued lawbreakers since 1903 brought only $2.50 when it was sold to a farmer.

So eager were the town board members to cash in on the useless jail that they threw in for good measure an archaic fire engine to the purchaser, Ralph Overmeyer.

The future of the calaboose is not particularly brilliant, for Overmeyer has announced he will use it as a corn crib.

Its previous use was similar, for in the days before prohibition many local citizens who had partaken of too much corn liquor received the privilege of spending a night in the bastle.

However with booze prices soaring since passage of the prohibition laws, business at the jail had practically ended.

Managua, Nic., July 16.—(AP)—General Sandino, former Liberal who has been occupying American mine at San Fernando, has informed Major G. D. Hatfield, commanding a detachment of the United States Marines at El Ocotal, that he will surrender.

"Your communication has been received and understood," General Sandino said in reply to the demand for his surrender. "I will not surrender and will await you here I want a free country or death. I have no fear and rely on the bravery and patriotism of my followers."

The marine detachment was reported to be proceeding toward General Sandino's headquarters with a detachment of Nicaraguan soldiers. It is believed here that the former Liberal general will evacuate when the joint forces approach, despite his refusal to surrender.

Dr. Saturno Medual, Honduran minister to Nicaragua said today that 2,000 soldiers have been stationed near the frontier by the Honduran government to prevent any possible incursions by General Sandino into Honduras.

Paris.—(AP)—"Trial by poison" an old tribal custom of French equatorial Africa, is officially abolished by a recent decree.

Under this system persons accused of crime took poison. If they showed no ill effects they were considered innocent. If they died they were considered guilty.

For years the French authorities have tried to stamp out this custom as well as other brutal and dangerous practices.

TODAY

great war brought forth no single giant figure. Cyrus H. K. Curtis thinks history will disagree with him. "Woodrow Wilson will stand out in large outline if the League of Nations is a success" and "Mussolini may be a giant if his challenge to democracy shall prevail."

Mussolini will stand out as a real part of history, whether he carries through his programme or suffers the fate of Riemel. Lenin, whose body is preserved and exhibited in Moscow, will interest history more than anybody else in the war. He cut the long line of autocracy in Russia.

The war certainly produced no outstanding military genius. Any one of three, Alexander, Caesar or Napoleon, would have found a way to get across those little trenches, and every one of them would have known enough to concentrate in gigantic volume on flying machine attack against the enemy's principal cities.

Thomas A. Edison has three days in New York's botanical gardens library, searching for some new rubber plant. He may find it, but it will probably be chemistry, not botany that will supply the new rubber. Electricity, plus wearing quality, are needed. Human intelligence will produce something better than rubber, just as it produced something better than wood, in the turbine and iron ages.

"Big steel" that pays 7 per cent on seven hundred millions of common stock, to say nothing of "preferred" and bonds, lifted itself to a new high price yesterday. If you bought at 126, and if everything goes well, you may live to sell at 136. If you bought at 126, and things DON'T go well, and directors conclude to reduce the 7 per cent dividend to five or four, you may see it go where it was a little while ago, to 79. DON'T GAMBLE.

General Motors stock went up four points, and many a bear's heart strings tightened. Poor bears think the market OUGHT to go down, but somehow, it won't go down and stay down.

TOWN GETS LIGHTS AS WEDDING PRESENT

Paris.—(AP)—A wedding present that didn't go to the married couple is lighting the streets of Sourenay, a little town in Auvergne, southeast of here.

It is an electric street-lighting system donated by Dr. Adolphe Javal when his daughter Sabine was married recently.

The originality of the gift was heightened by the strings attached to it. Knowing the ways of officials he made it a condition that there should be no commission appointed to investigate the matter that is officials, government or local, should interfere in any way and that work should be started in a week after the offer was made.

Consequently, contrary to all precedent, the town was lighted by electricity within two weeks.

Berlin.—(AP)—A harmless ring snake caused a near-panic here and mobilized the fire department for its capture.

Pedestrians on a busy street saw a snake crawling along the roof of a house. The tenants, alarmed, anxiously watched its progress, and closed the windows with panicky haste. But nobody dared climb on the roof to catch it.

A partition would be a help. An alarm was turned in. The fire fighters bravely entered the skirmish, and after reaching the roof with the aid of a fire ladder, persuaded the snake to wind itself around a long pole. As the firemen were carrying it down the snake slipped off the stick and dropped some fifty feet onto the pavement and was killed by the fall. It was then found that the whole battle had been waged against a harmless ring snake.

WILMINGTON MAN BOUND OVER ON ATTEMPTED ASSAULT

Wilmington, N. C., July 16.—(AP)—George Parker, 30, today was bound over to the Superior Court in $1,000 bond on a charge of attempting to attack Beatrice Hansay, daughter of a local policeman. The action was taken in recorder's court after preliminary hearing.

Berlin.—(AP)—President Hindenburg will soon see his picture on millions of postage stamps. He will be the first German thus to be honored during his lifetime. Even William II was not depicted on postage stamps.

The Hindenburg stamps are to appear in connection with the festivities planned for the celebration of the soldier-president's eightieth birthday, October 2. They will be issued in denominations of 5, 10 and 20 pfennigs, but will be sold at double the face value the difference to be turned over to charitable purposes.

The churches of the city will hold Sunday evening services on the court house lawn, beginning tomorrow and continuing through the remainder of July and the month of August.

Services will begin promptly at 8 p. m. The music will be in charge of J. H. Rose. John Clark will head the committee on arrangements and Wiley Brown and K. W. Cobb will act as chairmen of ushers and offering, while J. C. Tyson will act as treasurer.

The sermon tomorrow night will be preached by Rev. H. G. England, of Farmville, who will supply for Dr. Cook, who is absent from the city. It is hoped that a large congregation will assemble for this first service.

Episcopalians Hold Field Day

Farmville, July 15.—Episcopalians in Pitt county held their annual Field Day at Riverside Park, near Washington, Thursday.

Rev. H. G. England, rector of Emmanuel Parish, Farmville, presided and the program which started at 11:00 o'clock, consisted of an opening hymn and a prayer, a short address of welcome by Mr. England, followed by a talk—"The Get-together Group Meetings and What They Have Meant to the Rural Churches," by Mrs. B. T. Cox, of Winterville.

The new president of the Edenton Convocation, Mrs. Victor B. Shelburne, of Washington, was introduced and in a few words made an appeal for co-operation in her new undertaking. A stirring address on "The Layman and His Responsibility" was made by Mr. John Bragaw of Washington, who reminded his hearers that they are their brother's keepers and urged them to put aside their modesty and humility which is so apparent when a call comes to do a specific work in the church. He gave several illustrations and proved his point successfully.

Rev. Baxter, of Wilson, also spoke interestingly of Africa, her mysticism and charm, and told of a number of experiences which his father had during his forty years of ministering to the natives as a medical missionary. Hon. F. C. Harding, of Greenville, was present and made a short talk, followed by Rev. Pardo, of Williamston who in his remarks said that a good answer for the persons who always asking what is the matter with the church is the question, "What is the matter with you?"

A picnic lunch was enjoyed at a beautiful spot near the river's edge and swimming was the main feature of entertainment during the afternoon.

A number of the members of St. Peter's parish, Washington, accepted the invitation to join in the activities of the day.

dering what had become of the City of Oakland.

Once their fate became known army planes came to their aid and brought them to Wheeler field.

As Smith and Bronte received the plaudits of all Hawaii they each gave credit to the other for bringing the plane to land. Despite the fact the plane's receiving apparatus had broken down shortly after the start, and in spite of fog and apparent discrepancies in the way unerringly, the plane never had been far off its course and Bronte had been guiding it only by dead reckoning.
