Flaxen-Haird Grandson of Dead Monarch Installed as King Yesterday

as the body of Ferdinand lay in the great hall of the Castle at Sinsis, with officers of a local Mountain regiment standing guard.

The castle in the shade of great pines was the place where Ferdinand passed away early yesterday morning. It was built by his Uncle King Carol, and at his own request Ferdinand will be buried beside his uncle and his aunt Queen Elimbeth, better known to the world as Carmen Sylva.

Rumania's new King, Michael 1, a flaxen haired boy of six has already been installed before the national assembly as Ferdinand's successor and the Regency council which will act until Michael becomes eighteen years of age was sworn in at the same time. All parties the oath of allegiance to the M arch; the Liberal Ministry af the formality of tending its resigntion to the Regency council which was rejected continued at the helm.

IF YOUR jimmy-pipe could talk, it would say: "Fill me with Prince Albert and watch me strut. I'll repay you a hundredfold." No doubt about it, many a pipe has been blamed for things that weren't its fault a-tall. You have no idea how well a pipe behaves on P.A.

On my say-so, buy yourself a tidy red tin of good old P. A. today. Throw back the hinged lid and revel in that fragrance of the world's greatest pipe-tobacco, bar none. Then tuck a neat wad into the business-end of your pipe and light up. There's the answer to every pipe-wish.

Cool as a pound-keeper. Sweet as escape from the place he keeps. Mild, but with that full, satisfying flavor of the greatest tobacco that ever tumbled into a pipe. No matter how wide you open the smoke-throttle, there isn't a stop-sign or a detour anywhere.

Nearby is a store where they hand out jimmy-pipe joy in tidy red tins. My advice to you is to make tracks for there at once. Fill your pipe with this glorious tobacco and get the fun that's due you. No matter what your present program is, try P.A. Give your pipe a chancel

Advertisements Are Our Promises

People sometimes have an inclination to pass over advertising matter with the slighting statement, "Oh that's only an ad." They fail to realize the amount of information these advertisements give to make life easier and more worth the living for them.

There are several kinds of advertisements that the J. C. Penney Company try never to publish. False statements are seldom permitted in any newspaper, but we consider it just as wrong to write misleading copy. We do not promise that our cosmetics will work miracles with your complexion, and when you read our printed promise that a fabric will wash, you may be sure that behind it stands the honor of a great Company.

We like to feel that our advertisements deserve consideration from a news standpoint too. We strive to tell you something about the modern style trends, the opportunities to save money for the family budget, and new uses for old prod-
