STORM TAKES BIG TOLL OF LIFE IN JAPAN

Six Hundred Killed by Typhoon; And 10,000,000 Property Damage Reported.

Tokyo, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Four hundred persons are dead, 2,300 injured and 700 houses destroyed in Kumamoto Prefecture, Island of Kiusiu, in consequence of yesterday's typhoon and tidal wave, reports to the Japanese home office stated today.

In Fukuoka, Nagasaki and Kanagawa Prefectures there were few casualties, but numerous houses were inundated and damaged.

Graphic stories of how homes were wrecked in an instant and whole families perished together in yesterday's tidal wave were told today by survivors.

A resident of one of the coastal villages where many perished said: "At one o'clock in the morning in the midst of the raging typhoon, the sea suddenly rose mountain high. I had barely time to climb a tree on the embankment with my wife and children. Immediately after a tremendous billow tore them away from me."

More than thirty other villagers of the same place were similarly swallowed up by the raging water. The tidal wave was accompanied by a terrific gale and torrential rain.

The city of Kumamoto was paralyzed and electric light, gas and water services crippled. This morning no tram cars were running.

The tail of the typhoon struck Tokyo this morning. Several thousand houses in the low-lying sections were flooded. Thirty children were injured when the roof of a schoolhouse was blown off.

London, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Associated Press Tokyo correspondent says official reports from various prefectural headquarters throughout the island of Kiusiu tell of the devastation of coast villages from yesterday's typhoon, tidal waves and floods, which, while not unparalleled, is nevertheless catastrophic, involving the death of 600 persons.

Five thousand houses were swept away by the inundation, while reports of damage to the rice fields received in Tokyo from Nagasaki have already sent the rice market soaring.

Not all communication was interrupted through the night, the correspondent said, adding that government wires were beginning to function bringing in reliable reports which led to the conclusion that first reports concerning the loss of life had been considerably exaggerated.

The entire loss of life could not be fairly estimated at present, the dispatch, continued, but it was known that there are several thousand missing and tens of thousands homeless.

Oakland, Japan, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Alpine pilots who flew over the typhoon devastated areas of Kiusiu returned today with photographs graphically showing the scenes of desolation.

One report estimates the total damage at 20,000,000 yen (about $10,000,000), including the loss of large areas of reclaimed agricultural land which is now under the sea, owing to the tidal waves.

Mrs. Walter Harris Died Last Night

Mrs. Walter Harris, 18, died at her home in Chicod township, last night at nine o'clock, following illness of several weeks.

Funeral services were conducted from the home this afternoon at four o'clock, by Elder W. H. Laughinghouse. Burial followed in the Laughinghouse burial ground, near Cox's Mill.

Besides a husband, she is survived by a mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mills, four brothers and six sisters, most of whom live in Pitt county.

She was a member of the Rose Hill Free Will Baptist church.

ROYAL WINDSOR HOPS OFF FOR ONTARIO

Harbor Grace, N. F., Sept. 14.—The monoplane Royal Windsor in which Phil Wood and C. A. "Duke" Schiller had hoped to make a trans-Atlantic crossing, hopped off from here at 5:25 o'clock Eastern Standard Time this morning for home, Windsor, Ontario.

The Nation's Real Wealth. Wisdom of the Purdah. Says Mr. Kellogg. Earth's Last Two Men. (By Arthur Brisbane)

Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

One single American city, New York in its public schools yesterday, received 1,100,000 children. The real wealth of the United States, its hope and future are stored away in those eleven hundred thousand young minds and in the millions of others in many thousands of blessed public schools all over this land.

Wealth is not in mines, factories, crops, buildings or stocks, but in thought free and untrammelled from that all other wealth springs.

Mr. Rodman Wanamaker sends to this column a book about India with this inscription: "Dear Brisbane, page 50 is your motto. Tell everybody." On page 50 an old lady, impressing on the beautiful young Natara the wisdom of the Purdah, in which the Rajahs keep their women, says:

"Wisdom is made up of ten parts, nine of which are silence, and the tenth is brevity. Words, like the tusks of an elephant, once out, cannot be put into the mouth again."

Elizabeth Cooper wrote the book, and that advice of the old lady is recommended in advertisement writers, reporters and editorial writers especially.

President Coolidge says Abraham Lincoln's object "was not merely to instruct men how to raise more corn, feed more hogs, get more money to buy more land and so on in a circle. His main object must have been to raise better corn."

"This is one of President Coolidge's best short speeches. He has known and applied since birth those ten points of the wisdom of the Purdah."

Secretary Kellogg needs no outsiders to tell him what to do and says there is no misunderstanding between this country and Panama about the canal zone. In any case he sees no reason for an appeal to the League of Nations. Mr. Kellogg adds, to the satisfaction of his fellow citizens who are really Americans, that the League has no jurisdiction.

MIDWEST IN GRIP OF HEAT WAVE TODAY

Reports of Many Deaths and Rising Temperatures Are Received in Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Midwest looked in vain for relief from the three day heat wave which the weather bureau has predicted will continue through Thursday.

Reports of many deaths and of rising temperatures which are making this month the hottest September in weather bureau history came from all parts of the West Central States. Only four cities reported their temperature as being under 90 degrees.

Eight deaths were reported here where the mercury touched 95 degrees, equaling the all-time record for September established in 1900. The reading was 88 degrees at 10 o'clock last night, and beaches were thronged until after nightfall.

Many Illinois, Indiana and Missouri schools were closed due to the intense heat.

Quincy, Ill., was the hottest spot in the United States yesterday, the mercury rising to an even 100 degrees. St. Louis and Nashville suffered under 98 degrees heat.

Federal Weather Bureau reports forecast rain for the western edges of the Great Plains tomorrow night, but this relief is not expected to alleviate suffering in the lower region of the Great Lakes before Friday.

Henry J. Cox, government meteorologist here, said the excessive and unseasonal heat is due to a stagnated condition of atmosphere over the Central Valleys—an area from the Rockies almost to the Atlantic.

"The wave of heat, however, has brought jubilation to farmers and bankers of the Midwest, because of its value to the ripening corn crop."

"But if they could see what I see," Prof. Cox said, "they would be praying for rain. I see at least three more days of this heat, and no relief in sight."

EIGHTH TRIAL

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, round-the-world fliers announced here today their intention to fly to Midway Islands starting Friday. They declared they would carry enough fuel in their monoplane Pride of Detroit to continue on to Hawaii in the event they missed the tiny coral formation in the middle of the Pacific.

The fliers said they expected success in the undertaking. A flight from Kasumigaur, near here, to Midway means a non-stop flight of 2,480 miles, if they are unable to locate Midway, another 1,400 miles to Honolulu.

Tokyo, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, pilots of the round-the-world monoplane Pride of Detroit, today announced they expected to hop-off near here for Midway Islands, nearly half way across the Pacific, Friday.

This was a reiteration of the statement made previously by the fliers at Omura, where they were held up two days by bad weather. They arrived at Kasumigaur, near here, today after a 600 mile trip from Omura.

The projected flight to Midway means a hop of 2,480 miles over water and almost effortless navigation. Midway is only a coral formation of a few square miles in area. Japanese aviators believe the attempt would be suicidal and there has been a wave of protest against their disposition to continue.

Brock and Schlee are endeavoring to break the round-the-world record of 28 1/2 days. They are now in their nineteenth day and have covered 12,275 miles of their course, having more than 9,000 miles mostly over water, before them.

Once at midway, the fliers would face a 1,400 mile gap of water to Honolulu and then 2,400 more miles to San Francisco. They must fly to Harbor Grace, N. F., to complete their journey.

The monoplane arrived at Kasumigaur at 3 p. m. today (Japan time).

It had apparently escaped any damage in the typhoon and tidal wave that struck the Omura area early today.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET IN GREENSBORO NEXT YEAR

Durham, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The State League of Women Voters will meet in Greensboro next January, the executive committee decided.

Plans will be launched through the Extension Department of the University of North Carolina to educate women of the state on laws regarding property rights of women and guardianship of children.

Miss Gertrude Wel, of Goldsboro, president of the league, presided at the meeting.

PEACE IN COAL FIELDS FAR AWAY

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Peace in the Illinois coal fields seemed as far away today as ever.

Negotiations to end the strike which began April 1, failed yesterday when the operators rejected a proposal that the miners return to work at the old wage scale pending an investigation prior to February 1, by a joint committee of four miners and four operators.

FIND NO TRACE OF OCCUPANTS OF OLD GLORY

Steamer Kyle Continues Search of Missing Fliers Following Finding of Wreckage

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Only the faint hope that a small collapsible rubber boat with three daring air adventurers had survived the storm-tossed Atlantic since last Wednesday remained today to searchers for the occupants of the monoplane Old Glory after discovery of the wrecked hulk of the giant craft 600 miles off Newfoundland.

With a detailed description of the recovered wreckage, the searching steamer Kyle that it would continue the search. There was no trace of the boat in the wreckage.

The Kyle indicated the steel fuselage of Old Glory was shattered either by the force of its fall or the blows of the waves. No mention was made of the main tank holding 900 gallons of gasoline, so this huge weight probably went to the bottom.

"The ship's undercarriage and left wheel are fairly complete," said the dispatch received by the New York Daily Mirror, owned by W. R. Hearst, backer of the flight, from Douglas Muir, its correspondent aboard the Kyle. "But the wings and supports are a tangled mass of staves, giving evidence of boisterous weather in this vicinity which may give a clue to the fate of the three men who accompanied Old Glory on this ill-fated endeavor."

Aboard the plane, when it left Old Orchard, Me., for Rome were Lloyd Bertaud and James D. Hill and their passenger, Phillip A. Payne, managing editor of the Mirror.

Shipping men believed continued search was useless.

Finding of the ruins of Old Glory gave renewed hope to Mrs. Bertaud and Mrs. Payne for the survival of their husbands and James D. Hill co-pilot.

"It appears that the greater part of the plane has been found, with the exception of the engine," said Mrs. Bertaud. "I am sure that when they came down in the water the pilots could have cut the engine."

LOCAL BUYERS PROBABLY SET WORLD RECORD

Set of Tobacco Buyers of Local Group Take 317,000 Pounds of Leaf in Seven Hours.

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday total a total of 1,205,270 pounds of tobacco, according to official announcement made this morning by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

What is believed to be the world record was established by a single set of buyers of the local group yesterday when they handled 317,000 pounds of bright leaf in a period of seven hours.

The statement of the secretary this morning showed that the market had sold a total of 6,311,055 pounds of tobacco during the present season. The report included yesterday's sales.

Farmers are today being urged to market their tobacco more slowly, and to see that it is kept dry. These two factors will play a large part in success of the season, it is believed.

Cline Guilty Manslaughter

Rockville, Conn., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Leonard Cline pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter in the Toland superior court today and was immediately sentenced to serve one year in jail and pay a fine of $1,000.

State's attorney Thomas F. Noone addressed the court saying: "After investigating the many conflicting stories and after conferring with defense counsel in a fair manner, the state agreed to the defense plea of guilty of involuntary manslaughter."

Cline will serve his sentence in the Told county jail and not the state's prison.

Cline had been indicted for the first degree murder of Wilfred P. Irwin in Mansfield on May 15 and his change of plea came after four days of court procedure during which the jury had been empaneled but no evidence taken.

Probe Fire At Carolina Beach

Wilmington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—W. A. Scott and C. L. Topping, inspectors of the state insurance department, today began an investigation of the fire which early yesterday destroyed the Carolina Beach Hotel at Carolina Beach, a summer resort near here. A loss between $110,000 and $125,000 partly covered by insurance, was entailed.

The inspectors, who arrived late yesterday, this morning said they had no announcement to make other than that the probe would be thorough and might carry the investigation to other cities in the state. They were understood to have conferred with H. T. Ireland and J. L. Bird, of Greensboro, owners of the hotel last night, before the latter two left last night for Greensboro.

The inspectors were detailed to the investigation by commissioner Stacy Wade, of the state insurance department.

SILENT OVER TREATY ISSUE

Panama, However, Will Not go to World Court About Treaty With United States.

Panama, Sept. 14.—(AP)—President Chiari now has let it be known that his government does not intend to support the suggestion made by the Panamanian delegation to the League of Nations, Dr. Eusebio Morales, that questions touching on the unratified Panamanian-United States treaty be submitted to the World Court.

Commenting on the incident last night, the President also said: "I have requested Dr. Morales to explain his statements and the circumstances which caused them, so that we may correctly define our attitude in that respect."

The Cabinet met yesterday to discuss the question, but nothing was permitted to become public as to what took place.

Geneva, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Panama has never abandoned claim to the sovereignty of the entire Canal Zone, and never will, declared the Minister of Finance, Dr. Eusebio Morales, who started the League of Nations Assembly last week by suggesting that the differences over the new Panamanian-United States treaty be submitted to the World Court. In an interview with a correspondent for the Associated Press today.

When pressed for an explanation of his action, Dr. Morales, who was one of the negotiators of the treaty, said that he desired to have the question of sovereignty ruled upon by some international tribunal. He declined to comment directly, but said: "I did not come to Geneva to present any complaint to the League of Nations but merely to answer the charge that the 1926

Funeral Services For Pioneer Citizen to be Held Tomorrow Morning 11 O'clock.

Captain Joseph John Laughinghouse, distinguished pioneer citizen of Pitt County, died last night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of his grandson, Dal Laughinghouse, on Ninth Street. He lacked one month of being 80 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Paul's Episcopal church, of which he was a faithful member, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Rev. James E. W. Cook, who has invited the Rev. Stephen Gardner, rector of St. Peter's church, Washington, N. C., Rev. H. F. Jones, pastor of Memorial Baptist church, and Rev. L. M. Jones, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, to take part in same. The other clergy of the city have been invited to attend. Burial will be made in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Death came quietly last night to still forever one of the most colorful lives in the history of Pitt County. Several months ago Captain Laughinghouse suffered a stroke of paralysis while visiting his grandson here. Three weeks ago another stroke resulted in his death.

He was conscious and in full possession of his faculties until the end. Captain Laughinghouse had the distinction of being the youngest captain in service of the Confederate army and the only surviving captain at the close of the war.

At sixteen years of age, he was a member of the military academy. He was the youngest to enter service of the Civil War, but responding to a circular letter of President Davis, he was given a lieutenant's commission.

With two other boys given commissions from the same school, he was sent to Richmond and introduced to the Secretary of War. He was later sent to Beasley's battalion of 700 junior reserves.

In his own words expressed for publication some time ago, "Beasley received me with open arms and gave me quarters in his own tent. I went down to hard work drilling those 700 boys, and after about three months, we were organized into a regiment. The company I was connected with was from Pitt County and didn't have an officer. To my great surprise, my regimental officers recommended me for captain of Co. H, composed of boys from Pitt, Wilson and Johnston counties. My commission came four days before I was 17 years old."

He was in the battle of Ball's Bluff. He was later attached to Hoke's division of Johnston's Army and participated in the battle six miles below Kinston and the battle of Bentonville, his last battles of the war.

Immediately following the Civil War Captain Laughinghouse played an important part in the stirring drama of reconstruction in this part of the State. He was ever on the alert to render some high type of service in behalf of the county in which he was born and lived the greater part of his life, and his influence counted largely in the growth and development of the county.

FALL FASHION DISPLAY HERE DRAWS CROWDS

Hundreds Throng Business Districts at Third Annual Display City Merchants

Hundreds of people thronged the stores and streets of Greenville's business district last night, and for two and a half hours viewed the latest creations of Dame Fashion.

The occasion was the third fall fashion display of various merchants of the city conducted under auspices of the Merchants Association.

Many of the larger stores along Evans Street and Dickinson Avenue were brilliantly illuminated for the occasion, and full forces of clerks worked frantically in presenting the latest style to the hundreds of visitors that thronged the stores.

Show windows were attractively decorated, presenting in a most interesting way the latest creations in men's women's and children's ready-to-wear. Other branches of business were represented, and their showing was equally as attractive as those just mentioned.

The store of Curtis Perkins, which formally opened to the public last night, was awarded the prize offered through the Merchants Association for the most attractive window display.

Other firms deserving honorable mention were the men's window display of Blount-Harvey, Inc.; evening fabric display, W. A. Bowen & Son; Montgomery Lane; Pitt, Shoe Co. and Hunts.

Tolar's jeweler, awarded prizes to two lucky visitors entering their store during the evening. The winners were Mrs. D. S. Spain, Jr., white gold bar pin; J. Hoyt Lee, fountain pen.

Merchants today expressed themselves as being highly gratified at the interest manifested by the public, and indications were that efforts would be directed to make next year's attraction even greater than the present year.

Woman Banker Now in Prison

Raleigh, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The first woman banker to be sentenced to prison in North Carolina, Miss Lena Woodard, 30, former assistant cashier of the defunct bank of Princeton, is in state prison here, keeping silent over events leading up to her conviction yesterday of making false entries.

The sentence is from three to five years. The bank failed with $35,000 loss to depositors. Her father George Woodard formerly of Princeton but now of Wake county, contended he knew nothing of what was going on until the crash, and Judge Henry A. Grady in Johnston county superior court let him go with a suspended sentence upon payment of costs. He was indicted on the same charge as his daughter but tendered a plea of guilty of violation the misdemeanor banking statute.

Miss Woodard, in prison since three hours after conviction, today refrained from elaborating on allegations that she had renounced money for use of an unidentified man, engaged in playing the cotton market, who came out a heavy loser in his speculation.

PIRATES TAKE BIGGER LEAD PENNANT RACE

(By The Associated Press) Pennant chances of the Pittsburgh Pirates looked better today than at any time since the club climbed to the top of the National League ladder during the recent road slump of the Chicago Cubs.

The Corsairs now occupy the crown's nest with three full games to spare and if the result of yesterday's Giant-Cardinal double header is any real indication of what is to follow during the seven game series in the mounted city, Dennis Bush's club may have a pretty fair margin to work on by the time the Giants reach Pittsburgh.

Hard, timely hitting and good pitching brought Pittsburgh home to victory in two games yesterday against the Boston Braves. Le Meadows pitched the leaders to a 6-1 victory in the opener. Vic Aldridge hurled the Blues to a 2-4 victory in the second game.

Sherdel southpawed the Giants into submission in the first game at St. Louis, the Red Birds getting a 5-2 verdict. This game was marked by a rumpus between scheduled Cards' kid shortstop, and Manni Giant outfielder. Players and umpires separated the players, who were allowed to continue in the game, having been knocked out of second place in the standing, came back for a 12-6 win in the aftermath. Terry, Jackson and Harper hit homers off Vic Keen, who had succeeded Jess Hains on the mound.

Brooklyn set back the Chicago Cubs in the series opener, the score being 5-3. The Robins bunched hits off Blake in the early inning and the Cubs game rally in the eighth for four runs was stopped short by McWeeny, Brooklyn right-hander.

Cincinnati disposed of Philadelphia 5-3. The Quakers scored all their runs in the ninth when Kolp had to be rushed to the mound to stop the attack that had started on Rixey.

While the Yanks were clinching to the American League pennant, the Philadelphia Athletics were swamping Chicago's White Sox 15-5. Ty Cobb collected four of the Athletics' 19 safe hits.

Washington gathered, in both ends of a double header against Detroit, 3-2 and 5-3. Braxton and Ligbee were the winning pitchers against the St. Louis Browns and snared a double victory, 5-4 and 3-2. The first contest went to 11 innings.

Colonels Take First Two In Champ Series

Raleigh, Sept. 14—(AP)—Piedmont League post series scenery was shifted to Salisbury today as the Cols, victorious over Raleigh in the first two starts left for home to play host to the first half winners.

Interest here in the series remained sustained today as close play marked every inning of yesterday's contest, which ended two and one for the Cols.

Lefty Huffman, portside who was a mainstay in the Salisbury fight for the second half honors, was carried to take the mound today against Orville Elliott, right handed knuckle ball flinger of the Caps.

Should Salisbury annex the long end of today's and tomorrow's scores the series will come to an end. But should Raleigh get either or both games the two outfits come back to the Capital City to stage a fifth battle, the outcome of which will decide whether a sixth is necessary.

Raleigh's hope to increase its so far low hitting in the series rested chiefly on its seven right hand hitters, such a lineup being considered a big asset against Huffman, a south paw.

Yesterday's contest ended a sludgy duel between Harry Moger, the league's leading pitcher in the first half of the season and Slim Hammack, rated as the Cols, second best moundman, the latter winning. Both servers were stinky with base hits. Moger yielded five and Hammack three. Windle, Col first sacker, was the only player to get two safeties.

Clark, Col shortstop, turned in the first home run of the series when he hit high over left field fence in the fifth after four scoreless innings.

OUT OF KEELER'S GOLF BAG!

Champions Must Qualify

GEORGE VON ELM—FORMER U.S. AMATEUR CHAMPION

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, Sept. 12—(AP)—The Yankees not only are in a class by themselves this year so far as the American League is concerned, but they rank unquestionably among the greatest teams of all time, in the estimation of Connie Mack.

The veteran chief of the Athletics was sitting in his office at Shibe Park, where he has controlled the destinies of many great ball clubs of his own, as he discussed the years primary race. It has been another big disappointment to meet expectations this season, but he showed no hesitation in handing the palm to the wallowing men of Miller Huggins.

"The Yankees have everything," said Connie. "People perhaps think as a great bunch of hitters. Of course they are probably the greatest that has ever gotten together. But they have good pitchers, too, and reserve strength of such calibre that there is no apparent slackening in the team's pace when the regulars are forced out or pitchers show signs of weakening. They are a smart club, too. They can play any type of game. They can slug a team into submission or beat 'em by one run in a tight game. They can run the bases, and they have a great defense. What more could they have?"

There seems no adequate answer to this, other than a nod of acquiescence. Off hand, it wouldn't seem anything more was necessary.

"When we started out this season, I counted pretty heavily on our pitchers," Connie went on. "I thought we would get just about the best pitching in the league, based on what my men had shown the season before. But it didn't measure up to my hopes.

"That is chiefly the reason why we didn't make a close race of it. But granting even that my pitching had come through or that everything else had gone well, I am frank to admit that I do not think we, or any other club, could have stopped the Yankees. They would have won under any circumstance.

"Instead of it being a runaway however, the race would have been closer now, granting us more of the breaks, out that's all. As it is, the race has been virtually over since June. The Yankees, instead of showing any signs of weakening, have gotten better. When their pitchers slumped a little, Wiley Moore stepped in to bolster up the staff. His relief pitching has been a tower of strength."

Of the two Yankee big berths, Lou Gehrig is now a more dangerous batsman than Babe Ruth, in Mack's estimation. "If I was a pitcher I would rather face Ruth than Gehrig. The Babe is the harder hitter of the two; that is he gets greater distance, greater than anybody the game has ever known. But Gehrig is more consistent. He is liable to hit anything anywhere. Either one can break up a ball game."

One of the funniest things that developed from the recent United States amateur golf championship at Minnikahda was the rumor from the field of battle the first qualifying day that George Von Elm, 1926 champion, was not required to qualify, but decided to compete in the qualifying round, for the honor of being low medalist.

This report—for George certainly was playing, and was having a desperate time of it, by what I saw stirred up no end of controversy in more than one city. When I returned to Atlanta I found it had reached the wagering stage.

The general opinion was highly complex, but it seemed to be that George, by starting the round, automatically made himself liable to the pains and penalties, as well as the medalistic successes, of that section of the tournament. Another report was that George learned on the tenth tee that having started he would have to turn in his score with the rest of the boys, for a place in the 32 qualifiers.

As a matter of fact, there never has been even a suggestion that the champion of the previous tournament should be relieved of the qualification in the current championship. George went to Minneapolis with not a doubt in his mind that he had to play in the qualifying round with the rest; and he, like many another good game player, was fairly well worried by the dangerous 36-hole competition which admitted to the 32 places in the sun. He played wretchedly the first nine holes and only by buckling down with tremendous determination did he manage the first round in 79; a perilous station at the halfway mark, with sixty other contestants at 79 or better, and only 32 to qualify.

George did better next day and was safely in. There is no doubt where the curious story got its start. For some years the open champion of the United States has been relieved of the necessity of qualifying for the next competition; and since sectional qualifying events now are the rule, it has become the custom to relieve of qualification the first 32 other competitors in the previous championship. But the secretary of the U. S. G. A. states that never since his connection with the association has anyone even suggested an alleviation of the champion's lot, in getting into the greater title melee. He's just one of the boys, the champion; and it's a little harder on him than the others, for in the back part of his mind lingers always the haunting idea that maybe he, the champion will fail to qualify.

Defeat in the match play that follows is tough enough for the champion. But it's right—it usually comes to him, for the champion rarely repeats, in golf. But failure to qualify is ever a grim specter to him and one of George Von Elm's very best conquests was in coming back after a calamitous first round to get safely into a place in the sun.

YANKS WIN PENNANT FOR FIFTH TIME

New York, Sept. 14—(AP)—For the fifth time since Miller Huggins became manager of the New York Yankees in 1918, the Yanks have captured the American League Baseball Championship. When they defeated Cleveland yesterday in both games of a double header they clinched the pennant.

Babe Ruth hit his 51st homer of the season in the first contest, and his 52nd in the windup. The Yanks won by 5-3 scores in each game. New York has 15 games left on the schedule. If the team lost all of these while the Philadelphia Athletics, now in second place, won all of the remaining 17 games the Yanks still would finish the season six points ahead of the Mackmen.

Since Huggins took over the reins the Yanks have finished below first division only once. In 1925 the team was badly disorganized and slumped into seventh place. Under Miller Huggins' management the Yanks finished fourth in 1918 and 1919, third in 1920, won pennants in 1921-22-23, finished second to Washington in 1924 and captured their fourth pennant last year. The Yanks play the rest of their game at home.

State Teams Getting Ready For First Clash

Raleigh, Sept. 14—(AP)—North Carolina State College's most promising candidates for the 1927 Wolf-pack are undergoing daily scrimmages as Coach Gus Tebell turns over in his mind their qualities and shortcomings.

Two teams roughing it against each other today gave their tutor several things to think about. He smiled as he watched his charges take their training seriously for the opener with Elon here Friday, September 23. McDowell, Ridenhour and Adams worked out at quarterback; Outen's 1926 position at fullback is being contested for by three specy youngsters, Warren, Plonk and Jeffrey, all three freshman stars last season. Goodwin and Childress practiced at the flanks while all volunteers got chances at the center position, which seems to be Tebell's perplexing program now. No veteran is on hand to pass the ball.

Silent Cop Inventor Dies Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 13—(AP)—Chief of police Joseph J. Quigley, inventor of the "silent cop" used in virtually all cities where traffic direction is a problem, died today. He had been head of the local police force for 18 years. He was president of the International Association of Police Chiefs in 1919 and 1920 and made honorary president after he refused a third term.

Powerful Evidence "It's Toasted" gives Lucky Strikes the finest flavor and protects the throat

What 11,105* doctors write about smoking

WHAT is the quality that Tito Schipa, Jeanne Gordon, Clarence Whitehill, Nina Morgana, Frank Keenan, Ezio Pinza, William Hodge, Laura Hope Crews and other famous singers, actors, broadcasters and public speakers have found that makes LUCKY STRIKES delightful and of no possible injury to their voices? For the answer we turned to medical men and asked them this question:

Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105 doctors answered this question "YES."

Consider what these figures mean; consider that they represent the opinion and experience of doctors, those whose business it is to know.

William Hodge, Favorite Actor of the Stage, writes: "Until I began to smoke Lucky Strike cigarettes, I had to limit my pleasure in smoking. Now I smoke Lucky Strikes exclusively. My voice, my throat are never affected."

PLAN TO ORGANIZE HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION IN PITT COUNTY Falkland, Sept. 13.—In line with the general movement throughout the state to make more definite efforts to collect and preserve all available information and relics of historical value in the various counties, it seems desirable that Pitt county should now set up some form of historical association. With this purpose in mind, there will be a meeting of all citizens interested in the formation of a Pitt County Historical Association in the grand jury room at the court house in Greenville on Friday afternoon, Sept. 16, at 2:30 o'clock. This meeting will be open to the public, and it is hoped that a number of interested citizens from each community in the county will attend. A plan is underway for an historical exhibit at the Pitt county fair this fall. Details of this plan will be discussed at the meeting on Friday.

EVELYN PEARSON

THE DREAM OF A LITTLE KITCHEN MAID YEARS AGO HAS COME TRUE. WITH ONE $200,000 BUILDING SHE NOW HOPES TO

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The dream of a little kitchen maid years ago has come true.

Carved in the front of a new $200,000 building here are two words: "Hotel Pearson", and sitting in a well appointed private office is Miss Evelyn Pearson, general manager and principal owner.

Back of all this is the romantic story of the scullery maid who worked and saved, overcame all obstacles and then achieved her girlish ambition.

Fifty cents a week was the salary young Evelyn Pearson received for washing dishes, cleaning floors and performing other duties in the kitchen. Later, she became a waitress. She saved her money until she had enough to organize the company which built the hotel named in her honor.

Now she is looking forward to greater things. She hopes to extend her ownership to two more hotels and if she succeeds, one of them will be in Rogers, Ark., the town in which she worked as kitchen maid.

Steam Distilling Plant Captured H. D. Gurganus, constable of Carolina township, this morning reported the capture of a steam distilling plant in Pactolus township.

The plant was not in operation at the time of capture, but the officer stated that the presence of eighteen barrels of beer indicated the distillers expected to make a run in a few hours.

This is the second still the Carolina township officer has captured within the last week, the first being a copper affair of considerable capacity.

KEY'S KILPAIN Tablets and Powders For Headache, Toothache, Etc. Manufactured by J. Key Brown, Druggist

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmothers recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, for only 75c. It is improved by the addition of other ingredients, and is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, or lothes on face, neck, arms or nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

PREMIUM LIST OF PITT FAIR IS NOW READY

Hundreds of Dollars in Prizes to be Given Away For Various Fair Exhibits.

The premium list of the eighth annual Pitt County fair is off the press and today is being given wide distribution among people residing throughout this part of the State.

The fair this year is offering hundreds of dollars for products of the home and farm, but it is possible greater attention is being given to those of the farm.

President Haywood Dail and a corps of district workers are confining their attention almost entirely to the building up of one of the greatest agricultural attractions in Eastern Carolina. It was stated today that exhibits would surpass anything in the eight years of the fair's history, and that these would be representative of communities of several counties.

A picnic of district fair representatives will be given by the Fair Association at the fair grounds this afternoon for the purpose of stimulating greater interest in the event. Prominent business and professional men from virtually every section of the county have been invited to attend, and indications today pointed to large attendance.

The various departments of the fair will this year be under direction of the following:

E. F. Arnold, farm crops, boys and girls clubs; John L. Wooten, livestock; George Dail, assistant; J. J. Jenkins and John Tucker, poultry; Mrs. J. H. Randolph, plants and flowers; Miss Bertha Lee Ferguson home demonstration; R. G. Fitzgerald, education, assisted by J. H. Rose and Miss Myrtle Brogden. The handicraft department will be under direction of Mrs. W. C. Vincent with the following assistants: Mrs. L. H. Rivers, Mrs. J. L. Hassell, Miss Nell Keel.

COME COMING DAY AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Old St. John's, perhaps the oldest of rural churches of the Episcopal faith in Pitt county, was the mecca Sunday of several hundred people from every point of the compass. Some estimated the gathering as many as fifteen hundred. The occasion was home coming day, and many were the sons and daughters of this old church that came once more to worship in the church of their childhood, the church that has stood for so many years as the beacon whose light has been held aloft, year in and year out, signifying to the world that it stood steadfast in the cause of better citizenship.

Go where you will and count them in their different walks of life, and perhaps you will not find among those who have sought their fortunes either at home or away, a single son, or daughter, of this church, but what she would be glad to say there is a product of the community of which I am the spiritual center, a beloved son or daughter "in whom I am well pleased."

The morning sermon was preached by a few words by the rector, George F. Cameron, who then called upon Dr. W. W. Dawson, of Grifton, prominent layman of the church, to speak the words of welcome, which in his reference to those whose services to the church, many of whom have passed on, was most touching. The response by Hon. F. C. Harding, of Greenville, was perhaps couched in the most appropriate words that could have been assembled together, and was especially touching to those whose memory reached back two or three decades ago.

After these preliminaries, the Rev. Harvey A. Cox, a grandson of the church and now rector of a prosperous church in Newport News Va., preached the morning sermon. His text was especially appropriate for the occasion and was a feature of the day.

After the dinner hour, which was out in the grove, there re-assembled in the church many who swapped reminiscences recalling events in their own lives and in the lives of others, which in many cases had their relationship to the church.

This was old St. John's second home coming, and we predict it will not be its last.

CAPTAIN JOSEPH J. LAUGHINGHOUSE

In the death of Captain J. Laughinghouse, Pitt county has lost one of its outstanding citizens. Born a fighter for that which he thought right, Capt. Laughinghouse's career was one of achievement dating back to his boyhood when, as a lad of sixteen, he became captain in the Confederate Army. Following an honorable and brave service during the conflict between the States he returned to his native county and was a great factor during the period of reconstruction, when by bravery, strong will and sacrifice, Southern gentlemen laid upon the ruins of the former South the foundation of the great South of the present day.

EFFECT OF MOTOR SPIRITS

On foot, he says, "You first," or "Pardon me, sir, may I step ahead?" or "That's all right, old man, I'm in no hurry." But seated in a vehicle propelled by gasoline, he gets a magalomanic's view of the value of time. He may not be going anywhere in particular, but he wants to get there right away. He watches for the smallest opening to jam ahead. If he is thwarted in the attempt he glares at the fellow who gets in his way, and perhaps hurls an insulting epithet. If there is an unavoidable delay for a moment he bawls his horn and the aggregate efforts of the entire group of gasoline-intoxicated maniacs turn bedlam loose.—The Detroit News.

Always Vacancies On Fildom's Cradle Roll

Child movie stars grow up so fast that there is always room for more. Babes willing to work have a chance to succeed Philippe de Lacy (upper left), Mary Ann Jackson (center), Jackie Coogan (right) or the pickaninny Farina.

Hollywood, Cal.—(AP)—Although Hollywood is overcrowded and many a beautiful girl goes home or goes hungry because there are so many like her, there usually is room in the movies for those who are willing to start at the bottom and work up.

It is true that the central casting bureau through which studios hire their extra talent discourage any further registration of beautiful girls applications, but that is because they are trying to break in at the top. Infants six months old seldom find the registration books closed against them.

The reason is simple. No matter how many six-months-old babies are registered today, they cannot portray six-months-old baby roles for more than a few months. The supply of infants actors must be constantly renewed or the studios will find themselves desperately short of babies who look really new. Since authorities frown on the use of infants under six months it is important to have enough of those on hand to pinch hit for newborn babies and infants which should not look more than several weeks old.

Among the five-year-olds the competition is far keener, but even here the opportunities are numerous compared with those open to young men and women. Children's features change so rapidly that casting directors must be constantly on the lookout.

Even juveniles whose names have acquired box-office value cannot hold back the clock. A few years ago Virginia Lee Corbin, Loretta Young, Lucille Rickson, Buddy Messenger and Madge Evans were featured child players. Today the child faces film fans remember belong to Mary Ann Jackson, Philippe de Lacy, Allen Hoskins (Farina), Junior Coghlan, Dorothy Brock, Joyce Coad, Jackie Coogan, Mickey McBan, Yvonne Pelletier, Maurice Murphy and others.

In a few more years the present group of popular youngsters will have been replaced by newcomers in their respective age groups. Just who the newcomers will be is anybody's guess, but it is safe to say they will include a few who began at the bottom as babies.

Seven Men Held In N. J. Accident

Weekawken, N. J., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Seven men were held today in connection with a $50,000 collision at a grade crossing between a freight engine and trolley car in which thirty-one persons were injured, two perhaps fatally.

Those arrested after the crash during the rush hour last evening were the crew of the locomotive, the railroad foreman and the operator of the one-man trolley. The townerman said the mechanism of the crossing gates failed to work. A switchman, whose duty was to derail the trolley if there was not a clear track ahead, was missing immediately after the accident.

Reports from hospitals indicated that only six of the injured were believed to be seriously hurt, although rescuers marveled that any of the forty passengers came out of the car alive.

GASTONIA MAN DIES OF BROKEN BACK

Gastonia, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Six months of suffering from a broken back resulting in paralysis from the chest down has been ended by death of Thomas Manning, 21, a Southern Power Company employe. Physicians at the hospital here where young Manning was taken for treatment soon after he received the fatal injuries in a fall from a steel tower at Laurens, S. C., marveled at the tenacity with which the patient held on to life. He ate heartily and retained consciousness to the end.

NEGRO SLAYER TO GO ON TRIAL TOMORROW

Salisbury, N. C., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Dave Delvin, negro, alleged slayer of Deputy Sheriff Lindsay T. Yarborough, is scheduled to go on trial in Superior Court here tomorrow. A special venire of 75 men was yesterday ordered summoned for the trial. J. Allen Dunn, W. V. Harris and George R. Uzzle were assigned to defend Delvin.

He pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the Rowan County Court yesterday.

BANK DISTRICT IN FINE SHAPE

Territory Embraced By Third Federal Land Bank Described as Improved.

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The territory embraced by the Third Federal Land Bank District, including the South Atlantic states, are in better shape as a whole than it was last year, Howard C. Arnold, president of the Federal Land Bank at Columbia, S. C., said in report prepared today for the meeting here of the Federal Farm Loan Board and presidents of the land banks.

The states have had the best forage and feed crops it has had in years, he said, and is practicing more diversification in the cotton belt than might be expected "and such farmers are doing this will be prosperous."

"We cannot at this time tell just how many of such farmers are our customers, but our collections since the first of August on over ninety days delinquencies have been very good and there is an increased interest shown in the purchase of farm lands since the first of August, though there will be more farm lands sold at foreclosure this winter of all-cotton farmers."

Mr. Arnold summarized conditions by states in this way:

"North Carolina—crops general good, in this state, good feed and forage crops; good tobacco and peanut crop, which are, next to cotton, principal cash crop, and the best cotton crop in our district, though the weevil has done considerable damage in the south and southeastern counties. Peach crop, in the sand hill section very spotted and a good many orchards had crops totally destroyed by late cold this last spring, but those that made crops got fairly remunerative prices. Truckers in the Wilmington section had fairly good year."

Asheboro Man Dead

Asheboro, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Funeral services for A. Carl Cox, former sheriff and prominent citizen of Randolph county, who died at his home near here yesterday, will be conducted at the Grace Chapel Methodist church at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Cox, who was 47, was the county's last Democratic sheriff. He was defeated four years ago after his name had been placed on the ballot against his expressed wishes.

Engagement a Joke

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Today's New York American in a dispatch from Paris quotes Isadora Duncan, dancer, as saying at Nice that her reported engagement to Robert Chandler was a "practical joke." "We're not going to marry," she said.

About Town

"What town is this?" inquired the occupant of a coughing, sputtering, "tin lizzie," as he brought the car to a standstill on Evans Street yesterday afternoon.

"Greenville—the shopping center of Eastern Carolina!" shouted a citizen standing on the sidewalk in front of Frank Wilson store.

The occupant of the noisy Ford who was no other than Roy Flanagan, veteran lawyer, farmer, diplomat and what-not, restarted the car and set out down the street to goodness only knows where.

But the answer to Mr. Flanagan's question goes to show what Greenville people are thinking about. The majority have faith in the city, and are determined to make it one of the greatest business centers in this part of the State. They keep this fact before them all the time, and it is the first thing they think about when anyone begins to ask about what kind of a city we have.

Roy Flanagan, of course, was only joking with old friends standing on Evans Street. He has lived here long enough to know every pig path north, south, east and west, just like he knows the citizens of these localities. He has faith in the possibilities of this wonderful country, and like his friends on Evans Street, believes it is destined to be the shopping center of Eastern Carolina, just like the boys are advertising it to be.

"That bachelors organization you were talking about a few days ago ought to become a reality," John Manning told the writer of this column today. But the writer isn't in position right at this time to know whether it ought to happen or not.

Since the proposal was made, two or three old-time members of the bachelor kingdom have frankly expressed the opinion that the writer should make a good officer himself, probably one of the charter members. But that would never do. In the first place, the author of this column is hardly old enough to sit at the council meetings of his seniors. And in the second place, there are others whose past records of age and endurance gives them undisputed precedence to the honor.

This being the case, the writer feels it incumbent upon himself to place for nomination John Manning, deputy clerk in the office of the register, of deeds of Pitt County, and Bully Anderson, at present a prominent tobacconist of this city.

So it is a pleasure and honor, readers of this column, to have the privilege to present for your approval two of the most representative members of the bachelor kingdom of Greenville.

If you don't believe people read the Reflector, just let us get something in wrong.

The other day the writer of this column was sitting at his desk comfortably hammering away at his typewriter. He was so engrossed in the tale he was telling about somebody that he failed to notice a shadow falling across his range of vision. Suddenly, a voice whose vociferous stridency was one of its most distinguishing features, began speaking, and as it spoke, the writer felt like he had been given special transportation to the graveyard.

"Who put that piece in the paper about me?"

"What piece?"

"That piece about my being caught at a liquor still."

"Didn't know you were caught at a liquor still."

"I was not, and that's where the trouble comes in. It was another man in the section where I live, with the same name."

"Ah!" The writer began to see his way out of the graveyard. "Another man of the same name, eh? Well, that's easy. We'll be glad to make a correction that should relieve you of all blame," replied the scribe.

The visitor smiled good-naturally, beamed down upon us like the morning sun, and departed.

The old typewriter is just beginning to run good since the frightful occurrence. It is a terribly nervous piece of mechanism, and never fails to respond to the mercurial temperament of its owner.

"Who's going to win—Dempsey or Tunney?" inquired one of the readers of the Reflector sporting page today.

The compiler of this column shook his head. He didn't look wise as an owl as some others do upon being asked the same question. He realized that the fight is going to be something like a ball game, between two teams about evenly matched and that the victory will not be over until the last blow has been struck.

The Leaders in Prices

We have had this week several hundred new satisfied customers which say that we are having the best sales in Greenville. We sold over one million pounds of tobacco in 4 sale days, which is more pounds than has ever been sold on one warehouse in the history of the Greenville tobacco market. We paid the Farmers last season $10,300.00 per million above the market average. There is a reason why we lead. We would advise the Farmers to keep their primings home for a while and sell their tips now, as we think the luggy grades will be better later. We have had several customers to average 40 cts. for their entire loads. If you are not selling with us, come around and watch our sales and we will convince you that we sell it higher. Bring us your next load and we will please you.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

Chicago. — (INS) — Soviet Russia was described today by Prof. Boris E. Linberg, president of the Russian surgical association, as a land of the toothless.

"Russia is losing its teeth," said Prof. Linberg. "Hardships undergone by millions of Russians during the past ten years are undoubtedly responsible. The various ailments caused by bad teeth are providing us with a serious health problem."

"We don't know the exact cause of much of the mouth disease now sweeping the country. The population appears to have developed the teeth diseases during the past two years."

"We are looking to America for artificial teeth. There are none in Russia. Russian agents in New York are now negotiating for large quantities of dental supplies."

Prof. Linberg said the dental problem was only one of many similar ones now confronting his country.

"Our surgeons," he said, "are handicapped by an absolute lack of ether. We have no laboratories manufacturing ether."

"All of our major operations are performed with local anesthetics. Imagine a patient operated upon for appendicitis compelled to watch the surgeon cut into his abdominal cavity."

According to Prof. Linberg the average Russian physician is paid $30 a month by the departments of health and education and few are able to live with any degree of comfort.

Although typhus has virtually disappeared, tuberculosis and scarlet fever are causing grave concern throughout Russia.

Chicago police have launched a campaign designed to stop crime at its source—young boys out of work and with nothing to do.

"Get 'em a job and keep 'em out of trouble," is the slogan of Chief of Police Michael Hughes' latest attempt to solve the crime problem.

The drive was launched following a conference with officials of the Chicago Association of Commerce who agreed to find jobs for the boys.

Two juvenile court workers in each of the city's 34 police districts were ordered to immediately begin canvassing their runs for unemployed boys.

"This plan ought to do more to cure the crime situation in Chicago than anything else the department could do," said Hughes. "If it works we may be able to extend it successfully to older men."

"The old saying about an idle mind being the devil's workshop is absolutely true. Any policeman can give you facts in proof of it."

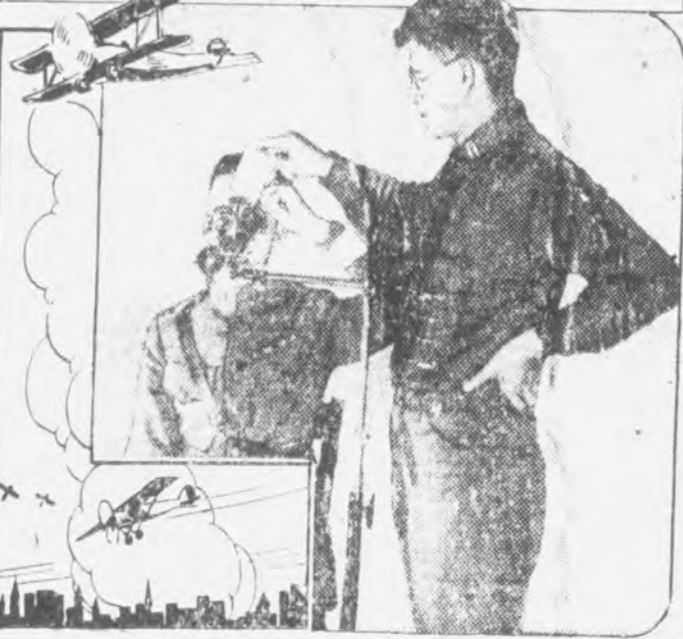

Police have been instructed to turn in the names of boys on their beats who have finished the required period of schooling and are loafing with corner gangs, not knowing what to do with their time.

"A surprising number of the boys who go wrong are not criminals at heart," Hughes said. "They start going with bad companions and before they know it they are in trouble."

"The average young fellow gets dissatisfied and looks for thrills if he has nothing to keep him busy. In too many cases the 'thrills' lead him to the reform school or the penitentiary."

Prominent business men and social service agencies have enthusiastically endorsed the campaign.

AIR CORPS DEMANDS ARMY FLIERS HAVE PERFECT PHYSIQUE

United States army aviators can have no physical flaws. Among many tests they must pass are an optical examination (above) to ascertain ability to see equally well with both eyes and to record signals and colors quickly, and an altitude classification test (below) to discover reactions to high altitude.

Washington — (AP) — The man who aspires to become an army aviator must be a good deal better than good. Physically he must be just about perfect. In addition to the physical standards required for enlistment in other branches, he must pass tests worked out by the medical section of the Air Corps.

One vital requirement for the aviator, says Lieut. Col. Levi H. Hathaway, chief of the section, is that his vision must be normal in every way. The applicant is tested for depth of perception, the ability to estimate distances accurately, for eye muscle balance and for the power of accommodation for vision near and distant.

There are special tests also to determine his equilibrium, which is an important factor in flying and a thorough neuropsychic examination is made to determine nervous and mental stability to withstand the stresses incident to flying.

Unlike many callings, aviation, Col. Hathaway says, has developed no occupational disease. Nevertheless, the stress of flying, the roar of the motor, the effects of high altitude and of rapid changes in altitude, do bring strain upon various organs and systems of the body. That is to be expected, the colonel points out, when it is recognized that the human body was not primarily fashioned for flying and is handicapped by aviators to an environment unnatural to man.

ly wanted to explain that article seven of the 1926 treaty in which we pledge ourselves to co-operate with the United States in the defense of the canal, if attacked, is not contrary to the principles of the League covenant."

business, he was active in local and State politics. He represented Pitt County many times in the legislature. He fought openly and fearlessly against opposition but was always fair and impartial in his views.

his speech in opposition to the nomination of Judge James E. Shepherd to the Supreme Court bench is still remembered as one of the most forceful orations of his generation.

Captain Laughinghouse was a staunch supporter of the Kitchen faction in 1908 and 1912. He was named by Gov. W. W. Kitchen as superintendent of the State prison and succeeded in bringing the plantation to a higher degree of efficiency than ever before. Under his administration a system of dykes and drainage canals was instituted which made possible the cultivation of the great tarum.

Joseph John Laughinghouse was born October 20th, 1857, the son of Joseph John Laughinghouse, of Pitt County, and Mary Cherry Laughinghouse. His great grandfather was one of the first settlers at Bath, and was buried under the eaves of the old church where the family later moved to the upper part of the county, which later became Pitt County.

He was married to Miss Eliza O'Hagan, the daughter of one of the most prominent and distinguished physicians in the State during that generation. She died during the year of 1919. Surviving the union are Dr. Charles O'Hagan Laughinghouse, secretary of the State Board of Health; Mrs. Frank I. Quick, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., who was the widow of the late Colonel J. Bryan Grimes, for twenty years secretary of state and a son of Major General J. Bryan Grimes, and Ned Laughinghouse of Greenville, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

dition over our canal zone and won't ever have any.

You see how easily this country would slip first into misunderstanding and then into war had it stupidly joined that League. America built the canal, paid for it, and allows foreign ships to use it on the same terms as American ships which is foolish, as American should have preference in their own canal. Fortunately Secretary Kellogg and President Coolidge are Americans, without any lion or unicorn in their mental coat of arms.

Frank A. Walsh, of Milwaukee, commander of the G. A. R., says that time old organization will continue its annual gatherings as long as two G. A. R. members are left, alive which is the right spirit.

It is hard to realize that some day on this earth, which must die when our sun dies, there will be only two human beings left, all the others having died by slow exhaustion of sunshine and heat.

Scientists say we have at least one hundred million centuries left for the sun's heat will last three long. But the earth must die in time.

How wise will those last two men be, what wonders will our half savage race now only 17,000 years from the stone age, accomplish in one hundred million centuries?

And how interesting to reflect that we may come back and live through them all.

SMITH & SUGG MARKET REPORT

Star Breaks Markets Record

The Star sold yesterday 317,440 lbs., which breaks the record this season and we believe the market record for a generation with one set of buyers. Never before have we sold tobacco for so many new patrons. From Green County alone we had 55 growers selling on our floor, who had not sold in Greenville for years. In 5 sale days the Star has sold 1,225,000 lbs. Sales will be lighter next week. Don't try to sell all your tobacco in September. Prices are going to be much higher.
