NEW GROUP OF REPUBLICANS FAVOR NORRIS

They Are Also Ready to Listen to Lowden, But Want More Information About Him

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The newly formed group of non-organizational Republican Senators from the west is standing by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, as its Presidential nominee and while ready to listen to the cause of Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, wants more information from him as to his views on western problems.

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, one of the five Senators now belonging to the Norris cluster, made this clear in a speech here last night before the Washington Chamber of Commerce in which he asked Mr. Lowden to clarify his position regarding the interests of the west.

The North Dakota Senator said he did not wish to embarrass the candidacy of Mr. Lowden or to eliminate him from its consideration, but he thought it possible that Lowden might soon see fit to clarify his position. While the former Governor of Illinois has advocated the McNary-Haugen bill, Senator Nye declared that mere endorsement of this measure is not going to save agriculture.

"With these thoughts in mind," he added, "I would assume that you could understand why there are many of us who would insist upon the candidacy for the President of one like Senator Norris and why we feel that the west ought to encourage, in whatever way it can, such a movement."

Meanwhile this insurgent group which includes Senator Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa, and Francis of North Dakota, are busy working out a new farm relief bill which they hope will be acceptable to Senator Borah, an opponent of the vetoed McNary-Haugen measure. The new bill will eliminate the controversial equalization fee provision which met the disapproval of President Coolidge and of Senator Borah as well.

EARL CARROLL TO GET PAROLE

Theatrical Producer Will Probably be Set Free During Tomorrow.

Atlanta, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Earl Carroll has paid the fine of $2,000 which was placed against him at the same time he was sentenced to a year and a day on a charge of perjury and now only awaits formal papers from Washington for release from the Atlanta federal penitentiary on parole.

The fine was not officially due until the expiration of Carroll's sentence on June 9, 1926, but he paid it at this time to avoid any embarrassing technicalities. The money will be forwarded to federal court officials in New York where Carroll was tried and convicted.

The famous Broadway theatrical producer during the day spent the last remaining hours of his Atlanta federal penitentiary awaiting the papers that would give him liberty. His parole, recommended by the prison board and approved yesterday by Attorney General Sargent at Washington, was somewhere in the mails with indications that release probably would come tomorrow.

Carroll faced a limited freedom after serving slightly more than four months of his year-and-a-day sentence for perjury in connection with his sensational "bath tub" party on the stage of a New York theater featuring Joyce Hawley, a chorus girl, Countess Cathcart, who gained entrance to the country after brief detention on charges of "moral turpitude" was in attendance, with reported guests including Harry K. Thaw, Irvin Cobb, Al Jolson among others.

The stage celebrity will be paroled to Herbert Adams, New York attorney, whom he listed in his application as his first friend, in conformity with the usual requirements for conditional release. The lawyer will be responsible for Carroll's good conduct during the parole period and subject to the latter's conformity to a list of good behavior conditions.

Carroll, under terms of the parole, must not frequent saloons or other places where intoxicating liquors are "sold or furnished" and moreover must not drink any intoxicating liquors.

TODAY

Will Rogers' $5,000. An Old Engineer. Our Money in Europe. Maine Votes Today. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.)

For Mr. Will Rogers, publicist, actor, cowboy and philosopher, the flying problem is settled. Today, for instance, he starts from Beverly Hills in California, by air to New York City and in a day or two he will fly back again.

A few days ago Mr. Rogers offered to bet one of his old friends $5,000 that President Coolidge will run for President in 1928 regardless of his "I do not choose" statement. Mr. Rogers realizes now that his friend could not properly bet and take Mr. Rogers' $5,000 on a certainty, so the bet is off and Rogers is happy.

Perry Thomas, one of the oldest and most trustworthy engineers of the New York Central, was soon to retire—as soon as he had saved a little more money. Before the day came a head-on collision ended his life, and as he lay dying in the hospital the old engineer desiring to free everybody else from blame, told witnesses the accident was his fault. He had run by a block signal in the fog.

This reminds the public much depends on the railroad engineers. They should be better paid than they are now. And they might well be retired on full pay without waiting until age dims their sight and dulls their nerves. The public would be willing to pay for it.

Senator Glass, of Virginia, says President Coolidge has no right to control, approve or disapprove. (Continued on Page Six.)

AVIATION TO BOOM IN U. S. DURING 1928

Development in Air Circle to Surpass Unprecedented Achievement of 1927.

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Aviation advanced a new year's boom program calculated to surpass the unprecedented achievement of the season now drawing to a close. That program includes:

A trans-Atlantic flight by Clarence D. Chamberlin in a huge Bellanca plane capable of transporting 20 persons.

Building of new factories by Charles A. Levine and Anthony H. C. Fokker.

Manufacture by Levine of planes ranging from a "flivver" priced at $1,500 to a multi-motored type for ocean travel.

An air expedition into the Arctic under command of General Noble, member of the crew of the Norge.

Promotion of new aeronautical research by a fund created by Harry F. Guggenheim.

These projects, coupled with others already outlined for 1928, were used as the basis for predictions that the new season would bring into eclipse a year that has seen the shattering of almost every aviation record.

Levine said he would soon start large scale production of planes of 45 horsepower, to be built in two factories, one at Richmond, Va., and the other near New York.

Bigin Taking Testimony In Conspiracy Hearing

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair first approached Albert B. Fall regarding the lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve during his celebrated Christmas visit to the then Interior Secretary's New Mexico ranch in 1921. Martin W. Littleton, counsel for the wealthy oil operator, declared today before the jury hearing the criminal conspiracy case against the two men.

Resuming his opening statement to the jury of two women and ten men which was begun yesterday, Mr. Littleton said that during the latter part of that visit, Sinclair asked Fall if he intended to lease naval reserve No. 3 (Teapot Dome).

"Fall replied that he was having an investigation made and that so far as he was concerned he would make no determination about a lease until the investigation was complete," the attorney asserted.

Referring to the plan for exchanging naval crude oil for fuel oil in storage, which is entwined with the whole oil lease tangle, Littleton told the jurors that Captain John K. Robinson, the navy's representative in oil reserve matters would testify that the first suggestion for such exchanges was made by him.

The New York lawyer also asserted that the war plan of the navy before the Harding administration came into power called for storage of 45,000,000 barrels of oil on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts to be held for the use of the navy only in the event of a national emergency.

Littleton asserted that the proposition of exchanging crude oil for fuel and storage came up in the navy in November 1921, before the lease of Teapot Dome, and during the discussion of crude oil from leased wells in the California fields.

"Secretary Denby refused to take any action until he could find out whether there was legal authority for it," counsel said. "The Judge Advocate General of the navy held such exchange to be legal and not until then did Secretary Denby approve."

The letter of approval is the celebrated one, on the margin of which, in Denby's handwriting, is the notation: "Do this, Ed."

Littleton told the jurors that the policy of secrecy in the oil negotiations originated not with Fall but with the navy, and to support this contention he recalled the letter written to the Interior Department by Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., as assistant Secretary of the Navy, on December 9, 1921, relating to naval storage at Pearl Harbor which said that because of national defense the plans as to this storage should be held strictly confidential.

The attorney then took his listeners to the conference of January 1, 1921, at Washington, at which the leasing of Teapot Dome was first taken up and which he declared was the most important conference of all in connection with the lease. Present were Fall, Robinson, Mr. Foster Bain, chief of the Bureau of Mines, and A. W. Ambrose, government geologist. Bain and Ambrose held that offset wells would not prevent Teapot Dome from drainage by wells on adjacent fields.

Trace the results of this conference, Littleton testified that Robinson had urged the lease, of the whole reserve and use of the oil to obtain fuel oil storage on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Robinson said, took the position that the lease should go to a company that could and would build a pipe line to the distant Wyoming field.

LEGION POST ARRANGES FOR NOVEMBER 11

Committee Made Final Reports for Celebration at Meeting Last Night.

Congressman A. L. Bulwinkle, of Gastonia, will be the principal speaker at Armistice Day celebration here Nov. 11th, according to announcement made last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion at the Rotary Club.

Final plans for Armistice Day celebration were completed during the session. Each committee reported that all arrangements had been made to care for the thousands expected to visit the city during the day, and that the observance would be up to that of previous years. Commander J. B. Kittrell presided.

The situation developing from failure of the tobacco market to close Nov. 11th was discussed at considerable length, and resulted in a decision that strenuous effort would be made to effect a closing next year. The Greenville market, it was stated, had always favored general observance of the significance of the armistice, but could not do so because of the attitude of other Eastern Carolina markets.

L. J. Smith, chairman of the dinner committee, reported all arrangements had been made for the gastronomic entertainment of the Legionnaires, and that the spread would be bountiful as ever.

H. H. Duncan, chairman of the window committee on decorations, stated that windows of various business houses would be dressed with trophies of the late World War.

Rev. J. B. Turner, of Raleigh, pastor of the Hayes Barton Baptist Church of that city, was a guest of the Post, and made an interesting talk dealing with old associations in and around Greenville. He was pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church here several years ago, and is well known to the Legionnaires.

Dr. A. M. Schultz read a letter from Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse in regard to clinics for cripples being held in Washington and Wilson. A committee composed of Dr. Schultz, C. L. Adams and K. T. Futrell was appointed to work out plans for providing transportation and treatment for charity patients and get them to clinics.

F. A. Jordan, member of the music committee for Armistice day, reported that a band and quartette had been provided for the occasion.

About Town

Miss Lucy Cherry Crisp, of Falkland county historian, believes the formation of a Pitt County historical society can be easily accomplished.

"Organization of the society will take place sometime in November," she told the Reflector today, "just before the meeting of the State Literary and Historical Association in Raleigh in December. This will make it so the new officers may visit the meeting of the State association and gain much valuable information of the work being accomplished."

"The Pitt County historical exhibit at the fair, planned as a preliminary effort toward the foundation of the local society, proved to be one of the most popular and interesting features of the fair. There were many who stopped for a casual glance at the old relics and curiosities collected on this booth, who stayed for quite a time themselves and then went out and brought in their friends that they, also, might see."

Miss Crisp has proven herself an indefatigable worker in perfecting organization plans, and that her efforts will meet with success seems to be the consensus of opinion at this time.

K. T. Futrell, director of public welfare in Pitt County, today issued a request stressing the need of old clothing to care for the indigent population of Pitt County during the winter months.

"The public has little idea of the physical suffering of people of the rural communities because of inadequate clothing. Members of our department have opportunity of coming in contact with numbers of the poorer classes throughout the year, and lack of proper clothing during the winter months is most pronounced."

"Anybody having old clothing they would like to contribute to these poor people are urged to get in touch with the welfare department, immediately, and help us to provide for this situation."

"I see that the Rev. W. J. Jordan, recently convicted of bigamy at Charlotte, is going to write a book on the subject, 'From Pulpit to Prison,' a reader of this paper observed today.

"I think a man of this calibre should be more successful in writing something on Bohemian life in America. A man with four wives ought to have enough experience to produce something more colorful than from pulpit to prison. There is something drab about the title. To get a good circulation of his book, he should play upon the public imagination, appeal to their emotions.

"Most any man can get one wife, but to be able to get four in this age of female enlightenment is an achievement most any man might regret behind the bars."

A misty day will be appropriately observed in Greenville, so members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion believe.

"We completed plans for the celebration last night," Adjutant Herbert Waldrop said this morning, and the outlook for general observance of the occasion is bright at this time.

"Congressman Putwell will be the chief speaker of the celebration. Aside from this a war picture will be presented at a local theatre. Pitt county Legionnaires will turn out in uniform, and their appearance will revive memories of ten years ago when the same men marched away to do their part in stopping the victorious German armies in French territories."

SETTING STAGE FOR BIKE RACE

Chicago, Oct. 19—(AP)—The coliseum, which was used during the past fortnight for a food show, a radio show and for boxing matches, was being transformed today into a place where the world's crack bicyclists can start their six day grind Saturday night. Carpenters began building the track a few minutes after the last fight spectator had left the building last night.

Reggie McNamara, world's champion six day rider, and Cash Walker, all around champion of America, are the favorites.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON
New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The cotton market was lower today under continued Southern selling and liquidation, active months declining 35 to 30 points from yesterday's closing quotations.

Trading was comparatively quiet and the decline was checked by covering and trade buying, but mid-afternoon prices were within 9 or 10 points of the lowest.

utures closed barely steady, 34 to 40 lower. Spot quiet, middling 20.85.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Stock prices recovered feebly in the final hour of today's market after heavy declines had followed a firm opening. General Motors, U. S. Steel, International Telephone, Radio Corporation and several others made up part of their early losses, while Houston Oil recovered all of its six points decline.

Green Cananea Copper had a net gain of six points and Wabash was up 2 3/8 on the day. Erie commonly rallied from a low of 66 3/8 to 68. Dodge Brothers preferred went up about 2 points from its year's low of 66 1/2. The late buying was in part attributed to softening time money rates and subsidence of the wave of nervousness selling.

The closing was steady. Total sales approximated 2,700,000 shares.

Dynamiters Are Active in Penn.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Dynamiters have been operating again in this section of the anthracite region.

An attempt was made to wreck St. John's Roman Catholic church at Pittston early today shortly after the Pekin Grill, a roadside diner, near Scranton, had been damaged by a blast set off under the stairs.

The police expressed the belief that there was some connection between the two explosions. Five sticks of dynamite were used in each case.

Last night's dynamite at the Pekin Grill was the second attempt to destroy the building within five months. The explosion tore away the stairs and shattered every window. County officials and state police said they believed the blast was the result of a "friendly" war which has been going on in eastern Pennsylvania for a year.

The Rev. P. C. Winter, rector of St. John's, said he had been taken a lead meeting in the town, but he has not started out road houses for criticism.

OUT OF KEELER'S GOLF BAG!

A Woman Champion of Determination

Miriam Burns
Horn
"our new women champion at twenty-four years of age"

Chapel Hill, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Showing a sudden burst of p p after Coach Collins had made several changes in both line and backfield, the Tar Heels today attracted campus-wide attention as they prepared for the battle with Georgia Tech.

Ford ran at fullback; Gresham and Lassiter, halves, and Gray, reserve was at quarter. The forward wall also underwent changes with Evans at center; Board and Eskew, guards; Atkins and Koenig, tackles, and Pearsall and Holt, ends.

State College, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Wolfpack today staged its final workouts for the Florida game and will leave for Tampa tomorrow where the Gators will be met on Saturday.

Backfield work was given a boost today with the return of George Hunsucker, veteran back who has recovered from injuries received in the Clemson game, to the squad.

Duke University, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Blue Devils will depend on their passing attack, which defeated Boston and piled up a heavy score against Richmond, at Annapolis Saturday when they encounter the Navy midshipman, campus observers surmised today as the squad went through another workout.

Bule, halfback, did the passing to Adams, quarterback. Kelly, Bennet, Kistler and other ends.

By O. B. KEELER
Out of the thirty-first national women's golfing championship at Cherry Valley comes a brightly and determined young woman with an oddly composed little face under the big crown—a composition of juvenile irresponsibility and mature ambition; a whimsical, pretty little face, easy to look at and worth studying. It is the face of Mr. Miriam Burns Horn of Kansas City, our new woman champion at 24 years of age.

Here's been an existence not lacking in event. At the not very extended age noted above she has been playing in national golfing competition eight years; has been married; has become a mother, and has gained a divorce. Her only season out of golf since she was 16 came something over a year ago, when she took time out for the far greater achievement of motherhood.

Mr. Horn's victory at Cherry Valley was not altogether unexpected by those who had not already conceded the championship to the brilliant French girl. Especially in Kansas City 85 impressed were the critics in her own home town—thus setting up an opposition to the Scriptural estimate of a prophet—that they were predicting Miriam's success before she ever started for Cherry Valley.

Two matches featured her march to triumph: her defeat of Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser, three-times champion some years ago, and, naturally, the final bout with Miss Maureen O'Connell. These are selected as being antithetical. She defeated the capable and experienced Mrs. Fraser, always able to give a good account of herself, by shooting the first tenholes in two strokes above masculine par, which was very hot golf, especially against a girl who had just defeated Glenna Gillett and Mademoiselle Thion in grueling matches and was thereby bled white. She defeated Miss O'Connell in a real scramble containing only flashes of the golf of which both girls are capable.

One shot stands out in my mind, perhaps the turning-point of the match, though it was so eccentric of performance that any single pivot is difficult to establish. At any rate, in the morning round Miriam had got herself a one-hole lead and was sticking to it like flypaper as they reached the eleventh tee. Maureen couldn't seem to close with her. At this juncture both mused up their seconds and Maureen further missed her third and was off the green, Miriam being on, but fifteen feet from the pin with a slanting, curving, borrowing putt.

Maureen chipped exquisitely and the ball came on with a beautiful rainbow arc and trickle into the cup—she had holed from 120 feet for a par 4, and the applause came like a thousand steel ranges falling out of a sixth floor window.

Almost before the echo had died away the little matron from Kansas City stepped up to her ball, studied the line—and curled it in for the half, by all odds the most brilliant exchange of the match.

She's a good putter, is Miriam, and chips well with a startlingly "choked" club and an unorthodox wrist-stroke. And she has taken a championship quickly, as she took life. She wanted to get married while yet a schoolgirl, the romantic story goes, so she eloped and got married. The venture turning out not to her liking, she got unmarried. She wanted to win a championship so she won a championship.

She is no great stylist in golf and there are many of her sex who will outrange her from the tee, though not greatly. But about the greens she is good. And that is a good place to be good in golf.

There is a rumor that she recently studied golf under Harry Vardon while spending some months abroad, and truly she bends over a chip-shot or a wee approach as Harry does and holds the club far down the leather like the Old Master, though the accentuated wrist action in the tiny shot is by no means precisely his. She has a changeable style which might be termed spotty.

But she has done pretty well without I should say.

FOOTBALL
Wake Forest, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Wake Forest Deacons will probably meet Davidson's Wildcats at Greensboro Saturday under direction of assistant Coach Fred Emmerson, officials reiterated today.

Coach Baldwin yesterday was called to Somerville, Mass., on account of the death of his father.

Workouts today were directed by Emmerson and another assistant.

MAKE CHANGES GRID LINEUPS

FRESHMEN TO PLAY SOPHS

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Mid-October finds many Southern Conference football coaches shifting their line-ups seeking to form more effective combinations in preparation for the rocky road looming ahead.

North Carolina this week is "shaking up" everything, in the hopes of securing an offensive that can make things lively for Georgia Tech next Saturday.

Auburn took stock last week and apparently benefited, judging from the "moral" victory the platooners scored in holding Louisiana State 9 to 0.

An inventory has also been under way at S wane in preparation for the Alabama encounter this week, and just what the Purple Tigers' lineup will be in Birmingham is doubtful to the Tennesseans.

It is considered probable that Georgia Tech will use the same starting lineup Saturday against the Tar Heels that they threw against Alabama. This would mean that Parham, who had heretofore started except against the tide, would be in the same from the first with Mizell fresh for late service.

The practice this week has been of more lengthy nature with the first real cool snap of the fall making the squads and mentors more inclined to stay on the field until dark.

Probably the freshmen of the high school will have a chance to revenge on sophomores, at the fair grounds tomorrow at four o'clock, when the football teams of these classes clash.

Players cannot weigh over 175 pounds, so as to give the smaller boys a chance.

The sophomore team has the natural advantage of greater weight and experience as well as being, in all probability, the fitter aggregation, but the freshmen are expected to play well as a team, and put on a good argument. In backing the line, the sophomore artists, Johnson and Harris, will probably have an edge on their younger opponents, but in skirting ends, Dixon and Swain will travel fast to get ahead of the freshmen backs, all four of whom are reputed to be reasonably fast. Aerial warfare will be the head-on forecast, and it may well be that the results of overhead work will loom large in the final score.

This is to be the only football game in Greenville over the weekend, and should prove well worth watching.

The probable lineup will be as follows:

Freshmen	Sophomore
Eberidge	guard	H. Evans
Brown	center	Bivers
Hardee	right end	Bilbro
Willard	right tackle	P. Evans
Jones	right end	Reasap
Whitehurst	quarter	Dixon
Bullock	R half back	Swain

Another... full back... Johnson
Register out of the sophomores will also see action.

McLARNIN GIVES KAPLIN THE KAYO
Chicago, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Jimmy McLarnin's flying fist beat a peremptory challenge to Sammy Mandell, the lightweight champion, when they knocked out Louis (Kid) Kaplan, former welterweight title holder, in the eighth round last night. Coming out of the west behind a blaze of advance notices which Chicago fight fans took with collars of salt, McLarnin fought far ahead of the best things that had been said of him.

Kaplan, who was being polished for a chance at the lightweight title offered solid resistance at the start but faded under McLarnin whaling. Six hundred fight fans satisfied that it was the greatest fight Chicago has seen since boxing was recognized by the legislature.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO BE ORGANIZED IN LATE NOVEMBER

Falkland, Oct. 18.—The historical exhibit, which was planned as a preliminary effort towards the foundation of a Pitt County Historical Society, proved to be one of the most popular and interesting features of the Pitt county fair.

There were many who stopped for a casual glance at the old relics and mementoes displayed to the public, and then went out and brought in their friends that they, too, might see. The chief credit for the success of this undertaking goes to Mrs. R. L. Smith, Regent of the Greenville's Patriots' Chapter of the D. A. R., who was chairman of the exhibit committee, and to Mrs. Travis Hooker and Mrs. Eva Williams Satchell, of Greenville who rendered her valuable assistance in arranging and looking after the booth. There was also a good co-operation from various representatives appointed to gather relics, etc. from the towns and communities throughout the county, for it was through their efforts that many of the interesting old reminders of Pitt's forefathers were on display.

The exhibit has aroused an enthusiastic interest in the history of the county, and it is believed that now the formation of the county historical society will be easily accomplished. It is planned that this organization will take place in late November, just before the meeting of the state library and historical association in Raleigh in December in order that the newly-elected county officers may visit the meeting of the state association. Further notice of the meeting for organization will be given through the columns of the Reflector.

SPEAKS ABOUT POWER PRAYER

Rev. James B. Turner Delivered Second Sermon at Revival Here Last Night

Rev. James B. Turner, of Raleigh, pastor of the Hayes-Barton Baptist church, who is conducting a ten days' revival campaign at the Immanuel Baptist church, last night spoke on the subject of "Prayer." The sermon was heard by a crowd equally as large as that present at the opening services the night before.

Song services were led by Rev. T. R. O'Brian pastor of the church. Mr. Turner told of the power of prayer in human life. He said that all great men had prayed, and all great men must continue to pray if life of the future is to be as secure as that of the past.

"Why do you pray?" he asked. "The answer is simple—because Jesus prayed." He taught his disciples of the efficacy of prayer, and these teachings have come on down the ages, bearing strength and inspiration all along the way. "Praying men and women are the foundation of civilization," he said. "They are the rock-bed of Christianity. The prayers of the righteous always reach God, and He, in return, unfailingly answers them."

Services every afternoon at four o'clock, and in the evening at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend.

American loans abroad by private financial concerns.

But suppose Europe borrows to build up fighting machinery that might be sent against this country, would that make any difference to Senator Glass?

And suppose bankers encourage Americans to invest money in European bonds drawing usurious rates of interest, that may be repudiated later on, would that make a difference? The State of Maine today makes up its mind about retaining the direct primary, or going back to the old plan and letting the bosses select both two sets of candidates, saying to voters: "You must take one of these sets and either will suit me, and the big fellows that hire me."

Under the boss convention system, intelligent organized finance gets the candidates it wants, for a reasonable price from the boss. Under the primary system the big fellows must buy their nominations at great expense, spending millions, as in Pennsylvania and elsewhere recently. The boss convention system is cheaper for the big fellows. Therefore it will probably come back.

Bolshevism issues a manifesto abolishing the death penalty except for attacking the Soviet government.

The working day is reduced to seven hours.

What a surprise to childish Wall Street financiers who bought Kerensky's bonds, when a child might have known better. If Russia should work out a government doing the safest in the world by doing the most good for the greatest possible number of those governed.

The thing is not impossible. There is no other nation that takes seriously the rights and needs of the masses except when forced to do so by strikes or other violence, disturbing to the "better classes."

We do fairly well in America by enabling the little man to have his automobile, radio, and savings bank account. But we DO NOT TAKE HIM SERIOUSLY.

Dr. Barnes, British Bishop of Birmingham, entering the pulpit of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, was denounced by a fellow clergyman as a "false heretical teacher." Bishop Barnes accepts the plain truths of geology written in the rocks. God certainly wrote that story in the rocks, according to the Bishop whatever may be said about other writings.

The Bishop even accepts the theory of evolution, with 95 per cent of other educated men in the world. Inge, Dean of St. Paul's even says that the attacks of inspiration to which St. Paul was subject, were really epileptic attacks.

Those gentlemen would have been burned alive a few years ago but that method of curing heresy has been abandoned for the present.
