HEAVY DOCKET GIVEN HEARING HERE TUESDAY

Fines and Road Sen- tences Predominated Regular Weekly Ses- sion County Court.

Moses Allen, J. R. Briley, Spencer Joyner, S. O. Stocks and Granville Pitt, white, arrested last Saturday on a charge of operating a still four miles west of Greenville, drew sentences of eight and ten months on the roads in county court here yesterday. They filed notice of appeal to Superior Court under bond of $500 each.

The five were arrested in a raid of a whiskey still made by members of the sheriff's department. Fifteen gallons of whiskey, a still and several thousand gallons of beer were taken in the raid.

Holding its first session in three weeks, county court yesterday was faced by one of the most congested dockets in months. Judge Darden continued court through today, and indications at the noon hour were that the docket would be virtually cleared by the middle of the afternoon.

The majority of cases yesterday consisted of violations of the prohibition law, assault with deadly weapons and driving automobiles while under the influence of whiskey. Practically every offender either paid a heavy fine or was sentenced to the county roads for a period of several months.

Josh Beaman, colored, convicted on a charge of having whiskey for sale, was sentenced to eighteen months on the county roads. The court also ordered his car to be confiscated. Notice of appeal to Superior Court was filed under bond of $500.

W. T. Robertson, charged with carrying a concealed weapon and driving a car while drunk, paid a fine of $50 and cost in each case and was ordered not to drive a car within the next twelve months.

James Logan paid a fine of $100 and cost of action on a charge of possessing and transporting whiskey.

Lonnie Page, colored, charged with driving a car while drunk, paid a fine of $100 and cost and was ordered not to drive within the next three months. He also was required to pay the sum of $31.85 to J. A. Tyson as damage to an automobile.

Howard Cox, colored, convicted of possessing whiskey, was fined $20 and cost and given a suspended sentence of eight months to the county roads, the sentence to become effective any time within the next two years upon violation of any criminal laws.

Austin Moore, colored, for carrying a concealed weapon, drew four months on the county roads.

Redding Hudson paid a fine of $100 and cost and had his automobile license revoked for three months after being convicted of driving a car while drunk.

Judgment was suspended for a period of two years in the case of Isaac Whitehurst, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. However, he was required to pay the sum of $95 to Rufus Cox.

After being sentenced to the roads for six months on a charge of manufacturing whiskey, Wilbur Taylor and A. L. Taylor, appealed to Superior Court under bond of $300 each.

Lonnie Jenkins, colored, was fined $100 and cost and ordered not to drive for a period of three months for driving an automobile while drunk.

E. C. Stokes, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and cost or go to the roads for four months.

Jack Bullock paid $100 and cost and had his license revoked for three months after being convicted of driving an automobile while drunk.

John Jones and Beatrice Boyd, colored, cohabiting together, drew prison sentences of four and two months, respectively.

Acquitted of Conspiracy

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Charles Kunold, a guard, and R. H. Lewis, were acquitted in United States District Court here today of a charge of conspiracy to take liquor held by customs officials. They were accused of having illegally removed from the customs house twelve cases of liquor, part of the cargo of the rum ship Flma, which was seized off the North Carolina coast several months ago.

W. P. Greer, a boatman, and James Clemmons, a cook, are to be tried on charges of receiving some of the whiskey.

Another Contest

Chardon, O., (AP)—And now there is the mashed potato eating contest. Such a tournament is a great at the Geauga county fair.

A private detective, "I engaged to shadow jurors in the Fall-Sinclair oil case and ascertain the financial condition of jurors," has been found. When government detectives got him he had enlisted in the marines, and would soon have been on his way to Haiti.

One juror in this case, involving a rich man and a former Cabinet officer accused of bribery, said, according to government testimony, that he expected, when the case was over, to have an automobile "as long as a city block."

Our prosperous men, especially the very rich, are supposed to set a good example. At least they are interested in maintaining respect for law which protects them, first of all.

What impression is made on the average mind when a detective agency "trails" members of the Fall-Sinclair oil jury, plainly seeking some juror that might be bought.

Suppose a detective agency went about examining rich men's houses to find how burglars might most easily break in. Would that be tolerated? Evidently an attack on the jury system in the interest of a high finance is different from a burglar's attack on the back door of prosperity.

Directors of Mer- chants Association Recommend Com- plete Observance Armistice Day.

Members of the board of directors of the Greenville Merchants Association, meeting in regular session last night, recommended that all members of the organization close Friday, Nov. 11th in observance of the Armistice Day celebration in this city.

The board also called on all other business organizations of the city to assist them in making the closing general throughout the entire city.

Members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion today expressed themselves as being highly gratified at the commendable way organizations of the city were co-operating with them for complete observance of the signing of the armistice, and expressed appreciation to those who have taken an active part in creating sentiment in this direction.

This is the first time in years that Armistice Day has been so completely observed here, and it is generally conceded that the day will be more completely celebrated than since the actual ending of hostilities nearly ten years ago.

French Debt Issue Left on The Shelf

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Unwilling to ask Senate ratification of the French debt settlement for $4,025,000,000 until that country itself acts on the pact arranged more than a year ago, Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee will leave the proposal on the shelf again this session.

Although intimations have come to this country that France is awaiting another election next spring before asking ratification by its legislators, some senators, including Chairman Borah of the Senate foreign committee, are becoming frankly skeptical of the prospect.

Senator Smoot left no doubt today, however, that the agreement which was arranged by the United States Debt Commission, of which he was a member, with Henry Branger, the ambassador of France to America, was as liberal as he would sanction.

Sheldon Clark, vice president and general manager of the Sinclair Refining Company appeared at the courthouse in mid-morning ready to go before the Grand Jury.

"I don't know a damn thing," he said with a smile when asked what he knew about the jury shadowing. He added later, however, that after he left the Grand Jury room he would have a statement to make.

OTTO KOENNECKE IS ILL AND PENNLESS

Berlin, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Foreign Office was advised today by the German Consul General at Calcutta, India, that Otto Koennecke, who set out to fly to the United States by way of the Orient, is ill and penniless, and desires to abandon his plans and return home.

The Foreign Office understands this marks the end of the ill-fated attempt.

JURY CALLS BACK BURNS DETECTIVES

Fifteen Men Called Back to Pass Inspec- tion Before Those Shadowed.

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Another of Harry F. Sinclair's associates, Sheldon Clark, declined today to testify before the Grand Jury investigating surveillance of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial jury.

Clark, who is vice president and general manager of the Sinclair Refining Company, and whose home is in Chicago, was before the Grand Jury less than five minutes. He was excused until tomorrow when there will be propounded to him practically the same questions which Henry Mason Day another Sinclair oil official, refused to answer before the Grand Jury on the ground that it might tend to incriminate him.

Information received at the District Attorney's office was that Clark acted on one or two occasions in receiving reports from the Burns detectives who shadowed the ten men and two women of the Fall-Sinclair jury.

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—All of the 15 operatives the Burns detectives had trailing the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial jury were called back to Washington today to pass inspection before the ten men and two women they shadowed during the trial.

This was one move in the effort to identify the mysterious strangers who approached Jurors John J. Costantini and Gardner P. Greenfield outside of the courthouse before the trial was ordered by Justice Suddards.

All members of the jury including those who already have testified in the Grand Jury investigation of the surveillance of the jurors, were asked to return to the District of Columbia Supreme Court so the Burns agents might pass in review before them.

Seven of the Burns men, whom the government charges were employed by Harry F. Sinclair, have been here almost since the inception of the Grand Jury inquiry. The other eight were headed in from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Sheldon Clark, vice president and general manager of the Sinclair Refining Company appeared at the courthouse in mid-morning ready to go before the Grand Jury.

"I don't know a damn thing," he said with a smile when asked what he knew about the jury shadowing. He added later, however, that after he left the Grand Jury room he would have a statement to make.

SMITH AGAIN TRIUMPHS IN N. Y. STATE

Voters Rally to Support of Governor and Vote Down Meas- ures He Opposed.

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A new personal triumph for Governor Alfred E. Smith had been recorded today by the electorate of New York State in the decisive defeat of a proposed constitutional amendment to have Governors elected in Presidential years instead of every two years.

Rallying behind Smith's opposition to the measure, the voters duplicated the recent action of the electorate of New Jersey and buried the proposal under an avalanche of ballots. Returns from virtually two thirds of the state showed the plan lost by a majority of more than 525,000.

At the same time eight other amendments for which the Governor had conducted a vigorous state wide campaign in which he clashed several times with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, appeared from incomplete returns to have been given favorable majorities almost as great.

Democratic chiefs regarded the vote as emphatic approval of the leadership of Governor Smith, and saw in it a new broom for the Governor as a candidate for the presidential nomination.

George W. Olvany, Tammany chieftain, said:

"The vote of the state was, in reality, one of confidence in the Governor."

The Governor, who originally had fathered the four-year-term idea, had based his opposition to the amendment as presented to the voters yesterday on the clause that would have thrown gubernatorial elections into presidential years. He took the position that to hold the elections at the same time would result in subordination of state issues and permit the election of a second presidential candidate to the Governorship.

"The defeat of the amendment," the governor said, "must be regarded as a protest on the part of an overwhelming majority of the electorate against the election of the governor in a year when presidential candidates are running. Both parties are duty bound to keep faith with the people in view of their declaration of the necessity of extending the term, and should submit at the earliest possible moment an amendment to make this possible, with election to be held in years when no presidential candidate is running."

Nearly complete returns gave the proposal to increase New York City's debt limit to permit the borrowing of $300,000,000 for construction of New Subways a favorable majority of more than 230,000. The measure had been vigorously supported by Mayor James J. Walker as necessary to enable him to keep his platform pledges to improve transit conditions.

Early complete returns on the amendment to increase the annual salary of Governor from $10,000 to $25,000 and those of members of the legislature to $2,500 gave that measure a favorable majority of more than 430,000.

In the election of assemblymen the republicans made a net gain of three seats. With one of the 158 districts missing, the complexion of the new assembly stood, republicans 87, democrats 62.

All socialist candidates were defeated including Justice Jacob Panken of Manhattan, the only one of his party on the bench in the state.

Several Injured In Strike Brawl

Denver, Colo., Nov. 9.—(AP)—With half a dozen State police and several strikers nursing injuries received in a brawl at Walsburg in the Southern Colorado coal field, authorities today maintained strong patrols throughout the district in an effort to stop mass meetings allied by Industrial Workers of the World.

Major William Howells of the Colorado National Guard, who led State police in a raid on a hall where an I. W. W. representative was reported to be addressing 400 strikers, was one of the most severely injured. He was struck on the head by a brick when the police stormed the hall only to be met with a hail of stones.

A. C. L. ASKS FOR INSURANCE GOLD BONDS

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Atlantic Coast Line asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today to permit it to issue gold bond in its treasury $74,000,000 in 100 per cent gold bonds. The railroad does not propose to sell the bonds now but desires to capitalize the expenditures made by since 1914 out of earnings on improvements.

CHINESE FIRE UPON U. S. MISSIONARIES

Shanghai, China, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Twenty American missionaries going along the North River, near Canton, in a launch were fired upon by Chinese soldiers, official dispatches from Canton stated today.

The Chinese engineer was the only person injured. Military authorities said the launch had disregarded orders to halt.

VARE IS STILL IN THE SADDLE PHILADELPHIA

Effort of Independ- ents to Unhorse Re- publicans at Elec- tion Proves Failure.

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Republican organization under the leadership of Senator-Elect William S. Vare is still in the saddle in Philadelphia.

Efforts by independents to unhorse it at yesterday's municipal election met with failure. The entire organization ticket, headed by Harry A. Mackey for mayor, was swept into office by overwhelming pluralities.

"Mackey's unofficial majority over J. Hampton, citizens party candidate was 165,062, the vote being Mackey 291,488; Moore 136,417."

The rout of the independents was complete. Moore apparently carried only one of the 33 wards.

Senator-Elect Vare said the heavy Republican vote was a notice to the country that Philadelphia was still strongly Republican and that it would "give heart and courage to Republicans everywhere upon the eve of the presidential election."

"It is gratifying to know," he added, "that the citizens of Philadelphia refused to be sidetracked in the campaign by false issues or idle talk."

Leaders of the Citizens party asserted that many irregularities had been discovered and that proceedings would be started for the opening of a number of ballot boxes. Moore and his supporters made a drive to overthrow the leadership of the Republican organization on the ground that it was extravagant and tyrannical, while Mackey based his campaign on promises of economy in administration of city affairs and party regularity.

James M. Beck, Republican, was elected to Congress from the First District of Philadelphia, defeated Dr. John P. Murren, his democratic opponent, by a huge majority. Mr. Beck is a former United States Solicitor General.

William Roper, head coach of the Princeton football team, won a clean cut victory in his race for reelection to city council. He has been a member of the council for eight years, having been nominated and elected as a regular Republican the first time and as an independent four years ago. This year, despite his criticism of one of Mayor Kendrick's policies and other independent actions, he was nominated by the organization. The mayor urged his defeat and so did the leaders of the Citizens party, but the football coach crashed through.

Roper called the mayor a "jellyfish." The mayor called the coach "a big nothing" and a "muckraker."

STAGE SET FOR STATE-DUKE CLASH FRIDAY

Raleigh, Nov. 9.—(AP)—North Carolina football fans who attend the State-Duke conflict at Durham Friday will see, in the opinion of gridiron experts, several players in action who will gain places in the annual all-State mythical eleven picked by coaches and sports editors.

With both elevens considered the best calibre flying any Tar Heel colors this season, the Blue Devils and the Wolfpack, collectively are bidding for the championship but each player on each team aspires to individual honors in the mythical selections.

Each will present their pet backfield stars, Jack McDowall of State and Jan Jankowski of Duke. Both lead in the number of points scored this season for their teams. The work of Bob Warren at fullback for the Pack is also considered flashy while that of Bue, Devil sophomore quarterback, as a passer and defensive player rivals exhibitions of the best of Southern conference members stars.

Two powerful lines, flanked with competent ends, are destined to battle each other in the Armistice Day show. Kistler and Bennett of Duke, like Childress and Goodwin, State flankmen, have played prominent part in forward passing plays this season.

A Wolfpack line which revealed steady improvement in late games numbers among its individuals such as outstanding performers as Capt. Nicholson and Vaughn, guards and Lepo, tackle.

Duke's defensive wall boasts several heavy players like Thompson, Thorne and Culp.

Yale Half Back Disqualified For Saturdays Game

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 9.—(AP) Because a youth four years ago played two insignificant games of football as an obscure freshman at Brown University the roaring tens of thousands at the Yale Bowl for the Yale-Princeton game on Saturday will not see the headlong, hairbreadth, dashing play of one of the greatest halfbacks Yale football has ever known.

Ruled ineligible, Bruce Caldwell today considered duly the possibility of getting a job waiting on table to take out his scanty funds. Training table fare has eased his budget worries thus far this fall by taking care of the item of board.

In Ashton, R. I., his father and mother, both weavers in a textile mill, whose earnings have supplemented his own in paying his way through college are disappointed. They had planned to see him play against Princeton.

Among the athlete's fellow students today appeared a feeling of pronounced resentment of what was seen as cruel personal injustice to Caldwell in revelation of his violation of Yale's eligibility rules just four days before the Princeton game and the realization of his greatest ambition.

FRUSTRATE FLANAGAN ARMY'S AIM IN TILT WITH NOTRE DAME

New York.—(AP)—When they meet Notre Dame's football machine November 12 West Point's Cadets will have before them the vision of a hip-shifting, twisting, back-carrier, racing over the turf of Yankee Stadium behind a perfect screen of interference for a decisive touchdown in the game between two intersecting rivals.

Christy Flanagan, a Texan, was the elusive youth who broke through the Army's defense for only score of 1926 game. Christy is again a star of Knute Rockne's cast. He already has treated the Naval Academy in much the same fashion he did the Army last fall, so the Cadets regard it as a matter of service football pride and prestige to check Christy's marauding activities in this year's game at the stadium.

Flanagan isn't the only threat in this year's Notre Dame array. John Niemiec, punter, extraordinary, is also an all-around star in the backfield platoon that Rockne has developed to a high pitch of efficiency.

Veteran team, the Army expects to be well-prepared for the roaring Notre Dame attack. Led by shifts Harry Wilson, the Army has a strong line, flanked by two brilliant ends, Harbold and Pop. Besides one of the most seasoned ball-carrying arrays in the "big league" football, the Army is playing his eighth season. Incorporated by two other experienced stars, Murrell, fullback, and Red Eagle, halfback.

LOWERS AND ROSENBLUM WILL FIGHT TONIGHT

Detroit, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Tiger Flow is Georgia negro, and Maxie Rosenbloom, of New York, outstanding challenger for Mickey Walker's middleweight crown, meet in a ten round bout tonight at the New Olympia Gardens arena. The management announced an attempt would be made to bring about a championship contest between the winner and Mickey.

ON THE GRID

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Two of the three big undefeated and untied teams of the nation's gridiron panorama remain below the fabled Mason and Dixon line and one of these faces its biggest test of the season Saturday.

Georgia and Tennessee are the South's survivors of the swirling maelstrom that has claimed all others in the country save Princeton.

Tennessee Saturday must dispose of Vanderbilt, its hardest, most ancient and last serious opponent of the year, in order to get by with a clear record.

Georgia is not considered in danger this week-end by the so-called experts with only Clemson to erase from its pathway but the Bull Dogs have Alabama and Georgia Tech coming later.

While Tennessee's anxiety will soon be over and Vanderbilt either turned back defeated or on the other hand victor, as has been the case so often in Commodore-Volunteer struggles of the past, Georgia's mental strain will not cease down until December 3 when the Athenians clash with Georgia Tech.

The golden tornado after the game Saturday has no remotely resembling opposition between now and the first Saturday in December and will have little to do, it would seem, but to prepare for Georgia.

North Carolina State will match Jack McDowall, best and versatile halfback, against Jan Jankowski, tripping Duke full back in a game that in all probability will decide the Tar Heel State title.

Florida will run a special train from Jacksonville to Montgomery carrying hundreds of alligator supporters to see the Gaineville team clash with Alabama. Florida will be sorely crippled by the loss of Royce, star quarterback who sustained a fractured leg in the Georgia game last Saturday.

Carolina Makes Changes in Next Years Schedule

Winston-Salem, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The University of North Carolina will meet Harvard at Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 13, next year and the annual Tar Heel Deacon clash, staged this season on the opening date, may be switched to Oct. 27 or even later, observers noted today. What happens other members of the State Big Five will make in their gridiron schedules have not been announced. State College, however, has declined to play Penn State Davidson, likewise, does not accept Army's bid to perform at West Point in 1928.

Showings of both Davidson and States in games with outstanding opponents this season have brought offers of 1928 tussels with Eastern and far Southern teams.

Spinsters Increase Years

Swansa, Wals, (AP)—Old maids and married women live longer in England and Wales than they did 15 years ago, government actuarial figures show, but widows have made no increase in longevity.

Wearer of Two Medals

Asheville, N. C.—(AP)—Only five years old and yet a swimming wonder and the wearer of two hero medals is Palm Tippy. Palm won his medals by rescuing a baby and a boy larger than himself.

The youngster was born on a Mississippi houseboat. He learned to swim almost as soon as he learned to walk. He was reading when only three years old, and by special permit entered school in Florida when he was four. He made two grades in his first year.

Palm's father is in charge of a beach at Lake Lure, and the lad is the center of attraction for tourists. Bronzed by the sun, his bobbed hair bleached almost white, Palm spends most of his time in the lake.

GOLF IS LEADING SPORT IN COUNTRY

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Golf has a greater number of active participants than any game in America, according to a handbook just issued by the Playground and Recreation Association of America. Quoting a park official in an Ohio city, a prediction is made that at the present rate of increase from ten to fifteen millions will take up the game in the next fifteen years.

Stribling Wins From Snyder

Dishman, Wash., Nov. 9.—(AP)—William L. (Young) Stribling, of Macon, Ga., today advanced his claim to the heavyweight championship of Canada by virtue of a round decision over Angus Snyder of Winnipeg, here, last night.

The Georgia fighter earned the distinction of being the first to knock down the Winnipeg boxer when Snyder took a count of nine shortly after the bout started. A short right to the jaw dropped him. Snyder went down for a count of four from another jab at the end of the first round.

Stribling weighed 178 and Snyder 186.

BUD TAYLOR WINS FROM JOHNNY FARR

Los Angeles, Nov. 9.—(AP)—After battling eight rounds on a fairly even basis, Bud Taylor, Terre Haute featherweight, title contender, stepped out in the last two rounds of his fight with the veteran Johnny Farr here last night to win a decision.

Farr repeatedly rocked Taylor with stiff rights and lefts to the head in the opening rounds with the Indiana boxer scoring in the infighting. Any lead Farr had was wiped out by Taylor's rally in the ninth and tenth.

Taylor, already recognized in more than a score of States as the bantamweight title holder, is matched to meet Tony Canzoneri, of Boston, in New York next month in a bout billed as for the 126 pound crown.

New York, (AP)—An organization that goes along nicely without publicity is "The Quiet Birdmen of America, Inc." Many famous fliers are members. The society got public mention when it gave a dinner to Colonel Lindbergh, and he admitted the rescue, the German aviatrix to membership, though none of it is a social group, in which airmen assemble to talk freely with no non-military present.

With the fact already made known that the tobacco market, schools, banks of the city, and many individual business houses would remain closed Friday in observance of Armistice Day, the Merchants Association Board of Directors at a meeting last night, urged that every business establishment whether or not it belonged to the association, remain closed Friday in observance of the day. Celebration of the day that marked the end of hostilities in the great war should be universal, and it is hoped that every business house in the city will carry out the recommendation of the Merchants Association and remain closed on Friday.

The completion of the paving work on Albermarle avenue is indeed a great improvement to the city's system of streets and will mean much to the traveling public. The new street affords opportunity for much of the through traffic from three highways to avoid congested conditions on Dickinson avenue and save time getting through the city, and it also furnishes a closer approach to the tobacco section for farmers coming in over the Falkland highway. Those in charge of our city's affairs are to be congratulated for the inclusion of this street in the paving program.

FORGET THEM NOT

The World War has been over nine years, but there are still in hospitals throughout the country 27,000 disabled veterans as a result of the great conflict. Despite the efforts of the government to care for the needs of these brave lads there are certain phases that cannot be cared for except through outside aid. In order to help as far as possible to bring cheer and comfort to these disabled veterans, the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion, tomorrow and Friday, will sell Forget-Me-Nots, the proceeds of the sales to be turned over for use for these veterans. To wear a forget-me-not tomorrow and Friday is to tell the world that you are making an effort to help to relieve the sufferings of those who gave their best that the world might be safe for Democracy. When you are approached to buy a forget-me-not, buy it and then wear it to show that you have not forgotten the great sacrifice these disabled veterans made for you.

That's An Idea!

St. Paul — An unusual but unavailing defense of Joe Dote, a dairyman charged with "watering" his milk, was that he milked so fast "a lot of foam forms in the ball and water develops from the foam." He got 15 days.

ABOUT TOWN

Banks and business houses closing and the tobacco market suspending sales for the day, it became a look like Armistice Day celebration in Greenville is going to be more general than in years, observed a member of Pitt County Post 6, American Legion today.

"We appreciate the spirit of patriotism in observing the day in such whole-hearted way. It is our duty to forget some of the sacrifices, some of the hardships and bloodshed we endured over yonder in the trenches of France.

"The signing of the armistice is one of the most memorable events in world history, and everybody should remember the debt they owe ex-service men on this occasion.

"A brand of whiskey were you drinking Sunday night?" interrupted a reader of this column today.

"I asked the scribe.

"You said there was a light snow on the roof.

"I was a mistake. There was no snow.

"How do you know there was no snow?"

"Because so-and-so said so—and he was out until twelve o'clock last night. I don't see anything that would show it."

"We have Claude Gaskins' word for it. You know he is one of the most veracious and infallible men in town."

"Our inquirer grinned sheepishly, and seemed to doubt the statement.

"Well it's so," we reiterated.

"It may be so," he frankly admitted, "but it will require something more than what you and Claude Gaskins had to say to convince me."

"We appreciated the confidence reposed in us, and feel quite sure the accurate register of deeds also does."

"We know there was some snow, and that fact is sustaining to conscience."

"We told them we were interested in baseball and would like to confer with them regarding the organization of a circuit in this part of the State," stated C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the Merchants Association, commenting on a telephone message from another town relative to baseball sentiment in Greenville.

Mr. Rowlett said he consulted several sportsmen and found they were in favor of baseball next year. Just what the outcome of the issue will be is a matter of conjecture at this time. But it's a dead cinch that Greenville will not back down if sentiment for a league should begin to crystallize.

At least, that what the secretary of the Merchants Association said.

"We are ready to assist in any way possible to decorate Evans Street and Dickinson Avenue with Christmas trees during the holiday season," offered members of the Women's Club today.

"This beautification project would do much to increase the spirit of the occasion, and at the same time enable Greenville to keep pace with other cities adopting similar programs.

"The Merchants Association is to be heartily commended for bringing the matter up. That it will be a great success, no one doubts. We urge all homes to place evergreens in their front yards, and help give the entire city an atmosphere of festivity.

"We want a good crowd to go to Washington Friday to see Greenville High School engage in the second game of the high school basketball championship series," J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools, told members of the local Rotary Club Monday night.

"The boys are going down to Washington to win this game, and it is your duty as public spirited citizens to lend them all encouragement it is possible for you to lend. They have made an admirable fight so far, and we are hopeful they will be able to stay until higher honors have been won."

SAYS SENATE CAN APPOINT COMMITTEES

Circuit Court Affirms Decision of Lower Court in Senate Committee Case.

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the Federal District Court in the opinion that the question of existence of Senate committees is a matter for the United States Senate to decide, and not the courts.

The decision was in the case of the Senate special committee, of which Senator Reed, of Missouri, is chairman. This committee was appointed by the Senate to investigate primary campaign expenses in various states. The committee tried to obtain ballot boxes in Delaware county containing the votes cast at the last Senatorial election in which William S. Vare, Republican, defeated on the face of the returns, William B. Wilson, Democrat. Wilson contested the election.

The Delaware county authorities refused to give up the boxes on the ground that the Reed committee was no longer legally in existence. The committee took the case in the United States District Court and Judge J. Whittaker Thompson ruled it was for the Senate to decide the issue of the committee's existence. Judge Rufington Wooley and five of the appellate court affirmed the decision of the lower court and adopted Judge Thompson's opinion as their own.

The decision of the court was regarded as a victory for Senator Vare, coming on top of his "winning" at the polls yesterday when his candidate for Mayor of Philadelphia was elected Senator Vare, backed by Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, forced the turning over of all the ballots in Pennsylvania not to the Reed committee, but to the Senate committee on contesting and counting, of which Senator Watson of Indiana is chairman. Prior to the demand for the Delaware county boxes the custodians of the ballots in Allegheny county which includes Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia county, were turned over to the Reed committee. After the Delaware county refusal reached the courts an agreement was made for the impounding of all the ballots in Pennsylvania to await the pleasure of the Senate.

It is now for the Senate to decide, it was pointed out here, whether the Reed special committee still exists and should have all the ballots or whether the regular standing committee should investigate the Vare-Wilson election contest.

The question of extending the life of the Reed special committee resulted in a spectacular filibuster in the last hours of Congress last spring, a resolution had been introduced in the Senate authorizing the committee to continue, but the filibuster, led by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, prevented the resolution coming to a vote.

An interesting program had been arranged, carrying out the spirit of Armistice Day in a very effective way.

The subject of the program for the afternoon was James Branch Cabell. This was handled in a very capable manner by Mrs. Franks and Mrs. K. T. Futrell.

Mrs. Futrell read a biographical sketch of his life and Mrs. Franks' paper was a treatise on his works and writings, the novel "Jurgen" in particular. The latter was humorous as well as interesting and informative.

At the conclusion of the program a delicious salad course was served with hot tea.

STILL TALK ABOUT TAXES

Ways and Means Committee Examines Witnesses on Repeal of Inheritance Tax.

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—For the second time in as many days the House Ways and Means committee today devoted its entire session to the controverted question of whether to retain or repeal the federal inheritance tax.

Another long list of witnesses clamored for attention and even before the chairman pounded for order it was apparent that the atmosphere charged with the spirit of battle, had not been eased by a night of sleep.

The group arguing for repeal of the levy had mustered reinforcements since yesterday's session from an announcement from the White House where it was said that the President would sign a bill approving elimination of the levy even though he believed the tax a legitimate one to impose.

An attempt to show that representatives of the National Council of State Legislatures and the American League had co-operated in conducting the fight for repeal of the federal inheritance tax was made at today's tax hearings by the House Ways and Means committee.

The effect was made by Rep. Garner, of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, who has sought which he contends is financed by organizations seeking repeal of the inheritance tax.

Garner endeavored to bring out that William H. Blodgett, tax commissioner for Connecticut, spokesman for the legislative council, had been advised concerning procedure at yesterday's session by J. A. Arnold, a representative of the Taxpayers' League.

Garner presented several slips of paper to Blodgett and asked: "Did Mr. Arnold have anything to do with your program?"

"I arranged it myself."

"Did you ever see those cards?"

"They were sent to me yesterday."

"Don't you know who they were from?"

"I do not."

"Is not one card signed 'Arnold'?"

"Well, I paid no attention to what it said."

After this exchange Franklin S. Edmunds, chairman of the Pennsylvania Special Tax Commission, arguing for repeal of the estate levy, cited what he said were instances of hardship resulting from enforcement of the federal statutes.

COLLEGE MEN ASSISTING IN FLOOD AREAS

Students Help in Relief and Reconstruction Work in Northern Territories.

Boston, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The work of relief and reconstruction pushing steadily to the fore today in New Zealand's flood devastated area. It was largely a fight against the first touches of winter were making themselves felt in an uncertain way in the water soaked villages of northern Vermont and western Massachusetts.

The vigor with which the situation was being attacked was evidenced by the announcement of Major General Preston Brown, commandant of the first corps area, that he was moving his base for airplane operations from Concord, N. H., to Burlington, Vermont.

At the same time the Boston and Maine railroad succeeded in re-arranging service to Canada, cut off by the storm broke. The road reported that an unprecedented amount of traffic had been cleared, costly in needed foodstuffs.

College students took a hand in the situation, with the announcement from Hanover, Vt., that Dartmouth undergraduates, 1,000 strong, could go to Hartford, N. H., tomorrow to help the inhabitants in any way possible.

Smith College students at Northampton, Mass., did their part by doing in feeding, clothing and nursing 200 refugees left homeless by the Connecticut River's inundation of the lower sections of the river. The girls contributed liberally of their own wardrobe to help the needy.

POLICE PROTECTION FOR PARIS CHORUS GIRLS

Paris, (AP)—A bureau for the protection of chorus girls has been created by Prefect of Police M. Priot, Police Commissioner for the Montmarie district and the bureau.

The bureau is destined not to protect chorus girls from the pitfalls and bright lights of the gay city but to save their lives and jobs from defective drop curtains and faulty mechanical stage devices.

The death of a chorus girl killed the Folies Bergeres when an unexpected live wire touched her leg and injuries suffered by five girls at the Palace when a curtain struck them violently are responsible for the innovation.

Henceforth a special police force will conduct a thorough test of all the material in music halls on every performance.

CANADIAN GETS PLANE FOR ALASKA AIR ROUTE

San Diego, (AP)—Facing the tests of an Arctic winter and "hitting" through deep snows, a valiant Canadian Northwest Mount-policeman dreamed of a day when he could soar over obstacles like a bird in flight. Today that dream is about to come true.

A. D. Cruickshank, now out of "counties," is at Juneau, Alaska, grooming his airplane, "Queen of the Yukon," for air mail and passenger service which it will inaugurate this winter.

Cruickshank also has belonged to the Canadian royal air force. He is to San Diego to have his plane built along the lines of Col. Sturges' "Spirit of St. Louis," similar to that plane except a space devoted by Lindbergh to gasoline tankage is set aside for a pilot and passenger compartments. He plans to take off the landing

TOLSTOY'S "RESURRECTION MADE FOR FILMS"

Leo Tolstoy's classic novel, "Resurrection," which comes in its picture form to White's theatre, matinee and night Armistice day, is a flesh-and-blood drama of love, sacred and profane, of sin and sorrow, degradation and exaltation. It has been presented on the stages of fourteen countries in eleven languages. The universal story and intensely dramatic situations are what Hollywood sophisticates call "ready made cinema."

Rod La Rocque, in the role of Prince Dmitri, falls in love with Katusha Maslova (Dolores Del Rio) young peasant ward of his two maiden aunts with whom he is spending the summer. They exchange no vows but their is that mutual understanding that speaks louder than passionate avowals. When the Prince leaves again for his home, it is understood he will return in time for Katusha, but when he gains a taste of dissolute army, social and political life with its profligate loves, his ideas change perceptibly.

SLACK CHOSEN AS MAYOR OF INDIANAPOLIS

City Returns to Normalcy Following Election of New Chief Executive.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—(AP)—After two weeks of the most sensational developments during which time six persons claimed the mayorship of the city, Indianapolis today finally had a permanent executive who is expected to lead the city back to normalcy. L. Bert Slack, prominent attorney, yesterday was elected mayor by the city council, six of whose nine members are Republicans. Slack, a Democrat, planned to take office today.

After 38 ballots Slack, who was as much surprised as nearly everyone else over his election received the necessary majority of five votes to assure his election. Previously the council had become deadlocked over John A. George, put forward by a Republican political faction, and Fred Hoke, Democrat, and a business man who was one of four men selected by civic organizations as candidate.

The way to Slack's assumption of the mayor's office until January 1, 1930, when a city manager form of government will be installed was not cleared of all obstacles, however. Joseph L. Hogue, city controller in the administration which ended its term in 1925 has filed suit in circuit court claiming that he is the rightful mayor on the contention that John L. Duvall was not legally elected as mayor in 1925. Hogue contended that the late Lew Shank should have continued as mayor and that Hogue, as city controller should have succeeded Shank upon his death.

Duvall, recently convicted of violating the corrupt practices act resigned several weeks ago at about the same time the city council held that Duvall's conviction made him

AMERICANS URGING SPEED IN BUILDING EMBASSY AT TOKYO

Tokyo. — (INS) — American residents in Tokyo growing impatient over the long delay in starting construction of the American embassy in Japan, have passed resolutions through the American Association, asking that the work be started at once.

The ground has been bought, appropriations made, but the Congressional committee has been slow in approving the architect's plans. So the site of the old embassy is still an unsightly ruin, the result of the earthquake of 1923, while fine new buildings have gone up all around.

SHOW STAINLESS SHOES AT ENGLISH EXHIBIT

London, (AP) — Stainless shoes are now to take their place alongside stainless steel.

Mud, even London mud filled with soot, will hereafter have little terror for folks who wear light-colored leather footwear. Calfskin and other leathers in all dainty colors were shown at the Shoe and Leather Fair at Islington which have been treated so that all stains may be removed from them with a damp cloth.

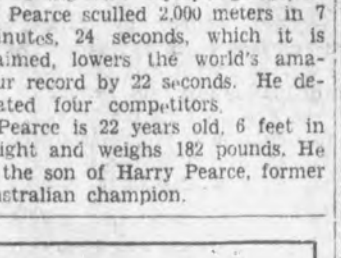

The colors are guaranteed to be permanent.

CLAIMS SCULLING RECORD

Melbourne, Australia, (AP)—In a test race on the Yarra to determine whether Australia will send a sculler to the next Olympic games, H. R. Pearce sculled 2,000 meters in 7 minutes, 24 seconds, which it is claimed, lowers the world's amateur record by 22 seconds. He defeated four competitors.

Pearce is 22 years old, 6 feet in height and weighs 182 pounds. He is the son of Harry Pearce, former Australian champion.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON
New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A break of approximately 95 to 161 points in the cotton market today followed publication of the government crop report. January contracts, which had sold at 21.06 in the early trading, broke to 19.45 within a few minutes, or 143 points below Monday's closing notation. Some trade buying and active covering was reported at the decline and there were sharp rallies on the way to 100 points, but they were not fully maintained, and the mid-afternoon market was nervous and unsettled.

Putures closed steady 95 to 99 lower. Spot quiet; middling 25.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Sharp breaks in stocks and cotton divided speculative interest in today's markets. The reaction in the stock market came after an early period of strength and probably was influenced by the drop of as much as $7 1/2 a share in cotton prices which followed the publication of an unexpectedly large crop estimate.

The recent recovery in stock prices had cancelled a substantial portion of the sharp losses last month and the spirited advance in some of the high priced specialties undoubtedly had weakened the market's technical position. At their top figures of the morning, such popular issues as General

JAPANESE CHILDREN SING AMERICAN SONGS

Tokyo.—(AP)—An American tourist, strolling through the streets of Tokyo, stopped in amazement when he heard the stirring strains of the famous old war song, "Marching Through Georgia." He investigated and found two young Japanese schoolboys whistling the tune without missing a single note! Most of the old American songs are well known in Japan, especially to the younger generation who learn them from the radio and phonograph. The American national anthem and those of other nations are taught in the public schools.

has not made any particular appeal to the school children of Japan, who have been reared on patriotic songs and to whom the old American tunes are most attractive. Most British, French and German songs are unknown, but one can go anywhere in the empire and hear "My Old Kentucky Home," "Swanee River," "Marching Through Georgia," and "Home Sweet Home." The boys and girls do not all know the words to the latter classic, but they all can whistle and hum the tune and it apparently is their favorite.

caught, fleeing through a Mexican canyon. Five minutes later he was dead.

President Calles does not mind matters, and those that oppose him, if wise, conduct their opposition across the Mexican border, not on Calles' side.

Marceline, famous clown, rose to the top of his profession. Millions laughed at him, children especially, as he went about, with bright pink nose, baggy clothes, always serious. He lies on a slab in the New York morgue today. Nobody claimed his body, after he shot himself to death, alone, poor, in a miserable furnished room. Photographs showing him in the day of his glory were spread before him on the slab as he knelt to blow his brains out.

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you. Weep, and you weep alone," Edna Wheeler Wilcox wrote her well known poem the morning after her first party, when she was seventeen.

In the train, going to the party, she saw a woman weeping. Her dead husband was in the baggage car. Mrs. Wilcox said: "I thought I could never smile again, after saying with that poor woman. But I went to the party and danced all night. I wrote the poem when I woke up the next morning, ashamed to think how easily I had forgotten."

Four Marcelline, now on his cold slab, learned also that the world forgets easily.

The Rev. G. A. S. Kennedy, British, says, "Britain stopping famine in India, has sent the population from 100 to 300 million. Now Hindus want to get into Africa, where there is more room."

European races in South Africa are attending to that.

Absence of plagues and famines in Asia has increased population there also. And they are anxious to get into the United States. That also will be attended to.

Lord Ver says there were only 1,000,000,000 people on earth in 1890. Today there are about 1,800,000,000. The increase a little more than one per cent per year, will make the population of the earth in 3620 more than 12,457,000,000.

That need not worry you. Henry George reminds you that if a puppy dog's tail kept on growing as it grows when he is a puppy, each old dog would have a tail thirty feet long. No dog has such a tail. To begin with, Texas could feed the 1,000,000,000 people now on earth, under intensive cultivation. In the second place, flying machines will enable people to live with plenty of room for ten billion humans, on hilltops and mountains with no inhabitants today. And in the third place, when people become highly civilized they will have fewer children. Providence leaves nothing important to chance.

Greece, disturbed by assorted Bolshevism, Communism, Radicalism and heaven knows what, requests our government to tell the Greek government how we "control the Reds."

Our is a simple method, named PROSPERITY. Give men work with good wages and they are content. That is their nature. Give them insufficient work or underpaid work, and you will have the demonstration called "Red."

If prosperity were destroyed the red color would spread here as quickly as anywhere else.

Twenty thousand individuals in Britain, including many women, are growing orchids and find it profitable. The Dutch tulip craze has not been duplicated or any insane price offered for a "black orchid." But a single orchid bulb for as much as $5,000. One collection sold for $53,000.

Orchid raising is intricate, interesting work, with its cultivation of strange hybrids and trading in seedlings and orchid spikes.

Young women that would like a beautiful occupation producing something that can be put in the savings bank might write to our agriculture department at Washington for advice.
