HOUSE UNABLE TO DECIDE ON NAVY CHARGES

Committee Not Able to Say Whether Admiral Magruder Had Proved Charges.

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—A short but heated discussion developed between members of the House Naval Committee today over whether Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder had proved his charges against the Navy Department of over-organization and waste in the administration of its activities.

While the Admiral, who was relieved of his command of the Philadelphia Navy Yard after publication of the charges, sat quietly in the witness chair, several members argued that he had failed to make a case and other contended that there had been much merit in what he had said.

Just as the meeting came to a close acting chairman Britten started to say something.

"I don't know whether I should say this with the Admiral present," he began.

"Do you wish me to leave?" inquired Magruder.

Britten hesitated and then as several committee members urged him to continue, he said:

"The Admiral has not offered one constructive thought in five days. I don't agree with that," interposed Representative McClintock, Democrat, Oklahoma. "You and only one or two other members have had a chance to question him."

"I don't agree with that, either," put in Representative Andrews, Republican, Massachusetts. "I don't think we should have such statements go out in the press."

Representative Vinson, of Georgia, the ranking Democratic member, then cut off the discussion by declaring that the committee should discuss such matters in executive session.

Just before the Mr. Vinson had asked regarding Magruder's views of how he thought economies could be effected.

"It is primarily a guess on your part and it is not backed up with specific figures."

"Not a guess," replied Magruder, "but a statement of my views backed up by personal experience and sound judgment."

Britten interrupted to say that emphasis should be placed on the words "sound judgment."

"And to whom applied?" retorted Magruder.

Opening the hearing today Magruder said there were too many officers of his rank in the service and that Congress should find a place on the retired list for about one of every six admirals now on the active service list. He said the present total of 57 officers of this rank should be cut to 45.

After questioning Magruder about naval hospitals he would abolish, Rep. Vinson said that as far as he could ascertain the Admiral believed it unwise to maintain hospitals at Paris Island and Charleston, S. C., but that the closing up of other hospitals would be contingent upon the closing of Navy Yards or stations to which they were attached.

Any Bull Fight Heaven.
Canaries Will Sing.
What Schwab Will See.
Modest Dr. Mary Walker.
(By Arthur Brisbane)
Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

Lindbergh saw two Mexican bull fights on Sunday. A savage bull is chosen, of a race bred for fighting. It is tormented with numerous small wounds until infuriated and then killed by a skillful butcher who is the nation's hero in Mexico and Spain.

Horses are disemboweled, an occasional man killed. Women look on and sigh for the great bull fight. So it has gone since the small-waisted bull fighters of Crete escaped between the bull's horns, five thousand years ago.

Bull killers and spectators believe when their bull fight days are over they are taken up to a heavenly, on intimate terms with the Ruler of the universe. They must have a poor opinion of his taste.

The International Canary Roller Breeders' Association are holding a singing competition in Milwaukee. Birds winning will be exhibited. Music is very old, birds were singing and whistling on earth millions of years before men came, with their grand opera and marvelous musical machinery.

What taught birds to sing. How does evolution account for it. It was not part of the survival of the fittest, for a singing bird must attract the attention of its enemies. Before they had ever heard music, the female could not know enough to insist on a musical mate.

Be that as it may. Teach your children singing and playing. Include some musical instruments in your Christmas gift collecting. First, come the music machines that delight all the family. But do not forget this statement by Henry Ford, who plays the fiddle:

"Every child should be taught to play some instrument for himself, and not live and die a mere listener."

DEATH CLAIMS SEN. A. JONES

Outstanding Democrat Died at Washington Residence Last Night.

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Death has removed from the senate one of its outstanding democrats—Senator Andrius A. Jones of New Mexico.

Victim of frequent attacks of angina pectoris, the Senator died at his residence here last night in his 66th year. His condition weakened by a cold that had confined him to his quarters since the start of this session of congress, Senator Jones was unable to overcome a sudden recurrence of his ailment. The Senator last was stricken during the closing session of the sixty-ninth congress but was believed to have materially regained his health.

Coming to the senate in 1927, Senator Jones became one of its leading figures, serving on two important committees—appropriations and finance—as well as holding other posts. Before his election to the senate he was first assistant secretary of interior under President Wilson from 1913 to 1916.

The senator had served his party on many occasions, as delegate to the national convention of 1896, as chairman of the New Mexico democratic committee, as a member of the national committee from 1908 to 1922 and during the 1924 campaign as chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee.

The legal professional claimed the senator after he had taught school for two years in Tennessee, his home state, and had served as principal of public schools of Las Vegas, his New Mexico home. In 1883 he served as Mayor of Las Vegas, his first public office.

Senator Jones was born in Union City, Tenn., and was graduated from Valparaiso University.

DIVERS TO BE SENT DOWN TO SUNKEN BOAT

To Attempt to Lead Air Line to Torpedo Room of Ill Fated Submarine.

Boston, Dec. 21.—(AP)—No signs of life were found in the torpedo room of the submarine S-4 by James Ingram, the first diver to go down today. Read Admiral Frank H. Bramby reported in a radio message to Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, commandant of the first naval district.

Provincetown, Mass., Dec. 21.—(AP)—At noon today preparations had been completed for sending divers down to the sunken submarine S-4 after a heavy northwest gale had forced suspension of work for two days.

The mine sweepers Falcon and Lark and the submarine tender Bushnell were moored together above the position of the S-4 and divers were preparing to go down in relays in an effort to lead an air line to the torpedo room of the S-4 in which six men have been imprisoned.

Meantime ten civilian divers had been transferred from the Falcon to the submarine S-8 to enable them to study the interior of that vessel in preparation for joining in the rescue work. These divers already had studied blue prints of the S-4, but it was deemed advisable to have them gain further first-hand information before going down to the wreck.

Two more pontoons to be used in raising operations arrived here today in tow of the Tug Iuka, making a total of five now in the harbor.

At the same time, two of the three pontoons that have been in the harbor since Monday were hoisted aboard the derrick lighter Century which was believed to be preparing to go out to the scene of the disaster.

No sounds from the torpedo room of the S-4 in which six men are imprisoned had been heard since 6 o'clock last night when several faint taps were detected by the oscillator of the submarine S-8, a sister ship of the S-4. Although the S-8 signalled at hourly intervals throughout the night no answer came back from below.

Just before 10 o'clock this morning the S-8 pulled up anchor and went away from the spot where she had been endeavoring to communicate with the S-4. The Falcon came and took anchorage and the S-8 wigwagged for permission to charge her batteries. This was given from the Falcon.

Expressions of sympathy for the submarine disaster were cable to President Coolidge from London by King George. The message said:

"I am much grieved at the sad disaster to the United States navy submarine S-4 involving so great a loss of life and I desire to assure you, Mr. President, the American people and more especially the bereaved families of my heart-felt sympathy in this national calamity."

"All the members of the S-4 crew believed the ship was doomed, said Mrs. Russel A. Crabb, 20-year-old wife of one of the torpedomen trapped in the torpedo chamber of the submarine.

"They were afraid of the boat because of the many minor accidents she had had. The worst of these was off San Diego, Calif., last year when a valve burst and the men were on the point of leaving the ship when help came. I begged my husband then to quit the service just as I had pleaded with him after the S-5 went down, but he only scorned my fears." Mrs. Crabb said at Boston her husband had shown an interest in aviation but was deaf to her pleas that he quit the sea for a flying career.

The American steamship licensed officers' association want regulations to govern submarine operation. The association, from New York, asked Secretary Wilbur for the adoption of the following regulations: That surface vessels patrol areas in which submarines are operating, that public warning be given all shipping in such areas, and that operating fields be selected clear of lanes used by other vessels.

Evidence of the feebleness of rescue preparations in the face of Atlantic gales was seen at Greenville, Long Island, when a lost pontoon drifted ashore where a heavy surf was pounding it to pieces. The pontoon broke away from the naval tug Iuka Sunday night while being towed to Provincetown. Twelve men nearly lost their lives when they were tossed into the sound as their boats capsized in an attempt to salvage the pontoon. The men reached shore safely.

Six Persons Drown.
Benton Ala. Dec. 21.—(AP)—Six persons were drowned here today when a skiff overturned and plunged into the rising waters of the Alabama river.

The skiff which was carrying Jim Nichols, a saw mill operator, and five negroes two of them children overturned when it was caught in a swift current while attempting to cross the stream at a ferry. All the bodies were recovered.

SLAYER'S VICTIM IN VICIOUS MURDER

SENATOR REED DECIDES NOT TO RUN AGAIN

Missourian Clears Deck for His Race For Presidency During Next Year.

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Clearing the way to those who are seeking for him the Democratic Presidential nomination, Senator Reed of Missouri, has decided that he will not again run for the Senate.

The Senator's position, set forth in a statement by Samuel W. Fordyce, chairman of the Missouri Democratic State committee, makes it clear that while he himself is not seeking the nomination, he is aware that his friends are doing so in his behalf.

Chairman Fordyce issued his statement after a conference with the Senator, and declared he made it "because of persistent rumors started presumably by certain metropolitan newspapers, that Senator Reed is not seeking the nomination for president."

Observing that great pressure had been exerted to persuade Senator Reed to file renomination to the Senate before expiration of the time limit in Missouri in June, next year, Fordyce said he could say, however, that Reed "will not under any circumstance" again become a Senate candidate.

Another statement concerning Democratic presidential possibilities was before the public today, coming from Norman E. Mack, Democratic National Committeeman from New York, in support of Governor Smith and declaring "dead forever" the "so-called religious issue."

"It is far more important," Mack said, "that the religious issue, which was excluded by the framers of the constitution, shall be permanently excluded than that a president shall be chosen from either of the parties. Church and state never had been related in American politics, religious affiliations of candidates are not issues in state campaigns and there can be no reason for raising such issues."

Mack declared Governor Smith was the only man who could carry New York state for the Democrats.

Friends of Senator Reed, Fordyce said in his statement, would do everything possible to "acquaint the people with Senator Reed's record and to explain the reasons for our firm conviction that he can be nominated and will be elected."

Occupant of Ill-fated Submarine Wrote Poem On Life Under the Sea

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—And let me tell you, on a dive, Knowledge that he courted the death that may now be his, within the steel confines of the wrecked submarine S-4, was held by Walter Bishop, of Washington, radio man aboard her, but, like his comrades in peril, he was fascinated by "life in a damned old sub."

It takes ten good men to operate The diving gear that's there; And each man knows that a clear, cool brain Insures his return to the air.

We know it's a serious business, You never hear laugh nor quip; Efficiency prevails supreme— Our lives are forfeit for a slip.

Yes, daily we make a risky dive, While Uncle Sam, with his brim- ming cup, Bets us a dollar, while we're alive, A dollar to nothing we don't come up.

We're bottled up, just like a trap, With nothing in between The sea and death but a metal cap, Like the lid on a soup tureen.

We get a five-dollar bonus, They call it extra pay; But it always goes for dangerees That the acid eats away.

The best blood in the service You'll find on the old pig boat, For it takes more than a common mind To sink and still to float.

The officers are real he-men Of character and nerve supreme; It takes the keenest intellect To command a submarine.

They must be democratic, Broadminded men and strong, Capable of quick decisions, Should anything go wrong.

With all this it may seem strange When you ask a gob off any pig boat, He'd rather be there than anywhere As long as there's a sub afloat.

There's a sort of fascination Attends this job of ours, That could only be duplicated By a rocket trip to Mars.

We cuss and mutter "Never again" Until we get paid off; But the blighted old life will drag us back.

No matter how we scoff, We all owe back, come back for more, And there, friends, is the rub; We like the life beneath the sea— Life in a damned old sub.

Most of us in the battery room Are close to a lurking death; With the storage cells giving off gas That smother us every breath.

The torpedo room is a deadly spot, But we have small choice, you know; So some sleep there, next the over- head.

With tons of TNT below.

The C. O. C. is a little place, Just crammed with levers and tools.

American Flier Views Ancient Aztec Pyramids of the Sun and Moon Today.

Mexico City, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh, who has seen much of the beauty of Mexico from the air, today had the opportunity of seeing some of the wonders of Mexico that lie under ground.

General Oregon invited him to lunch in an underground cave hearing one of the greatest archaeological monuments in Mexico—the ancient Aztec pyramids of the sun and moon.

Later with his mother, who is expected here tomorrow, he will visit other beauty spots of the Mexican countryside.

Lindbergh was asked if he did not fear that his mother in flying here would get lost somewhere between Tampico and Mexico as he did himself. He replied that he had no fear of any such thing happening.

The flying colonel was held up to the cadets of the Mexican national military academy as an ideal for the Mexican army.

Lindbergh's abstinence from smoking and drinking was a wonderful example for any soldier. General Alvarez, chief of the presidential staff, said, he expected that every soldier should think of himself and his country as Lindbergh does of himself and his plane.

Addressing the cadets, Lindbergh said that he intended to make another flight to Mexico. "My first flight from Washington to Mexico City will not be my last, as I intend to come back in a year or two," he said.

STILL HUNT SLAYER AT LOS ANGELES

Slayer of Little Marian Parker Evades Thousands of Officers in Pursuit.

Los Angeles, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Whole a cloud of clues and false leads today effectively screened the hiding place of William E. Hickman, accused slayer of little Marian Parker, bits of evidence were being fitted together by the police to solve the puzzle of his past.

This evidence, as presented by the police, pictured a youthful Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde—one a neat, orderly boy who attended church and Sunday school and never stayed out late at night; the other "the fox" who far weeks planned the carrying out of a cool, cunning and diabolical murder plot for revenge.

The latter picture showed him for three weeks preceding the kidnaping, staging a series of drug store robberies to obtain a stock of anaesthetics and sleeping potions. In one of these robberies he is declared to have placed a pistol to the druggist's ribs and forced the frightened man to give minute instructions as to the use of anaesthetics.

Druggists in the three holdups positively identified Hickman as the robber.

Another part of the same picture was a cool and daring youth, who on Monday morning, with thousands of officers coming to Los Angeles and vicinity for the child's slayer, drove an automobile over county roads with no effort of concealment.

As that time he was seen driving a small car through Culver City, a suburb. He hailed a motorcycle agent to whom he was known and when told him he would be in the next day to buy a machine. He failed to keep that appointment.

Although the $500 police who had been hot on the trail were unable to run to earth the man whom they accused of being "the fox" in the atrocious murder case, they definitely located his lair which had occupied during the days that little Marian was kidnaped and until Sunday, several hours after the child's dismembered body had been exchanged for her father's $1,500.

By finger print and photograph identification the police were determined that between the time of the kidnaping and the climax of the case, Hickman occupied an apartment under the name of Donald Evans. Led by an identification mark on a towel left with the body of the slain child, a hundred police officers descended upon the apartment house Sunday, the day after the body of the little girl was dumped from the mysterious automobile.

According to the landlady, Mrs. Ethel Broderick, Hickman propped by her in a hallway after the police had searched his room, dropped a casual remark and left the building. He did not return. But the officers, having identified Hickman as the hunted "fox," returned to the apartment yesterday.

There they found the very necktie which Hickman had worn while his picture was taken for police identification last summer at the time of his arrest on forged charges. It was that arrest which resulted in his discharge from the bank of which Parker is a co-owner and which is believed to have provided the vengeance motive which drove the kidnaper to commit the fiendish crime.

Articles found in the apartment had come from Kansas City, the former home of Hickman. A crudely made paid of mittens was discovered. They were made of black oil cloth and the thread with which they had been stitched was said by officers to be the same as that with which little Marian's eyes had been pierced.

Although the police said they had found no absolute evidence that the child ever was taken to the apartment, two witnesses had been discovered who identified Hickman from photographs as a man seen carrying bundles and a suitcase from the building to an automobile.

This was Saturday night when the kidnaper delivered Marian's body to her father. The next day the missing parts of the slain child's dismembered body were found in bundles scattered along the roadway into a Los Angeles park.

The revamped police theory is that if the apartment was the scene of the captivity and fiendish slaying of little Marian, the kidnaper probably utilized the checked anaesthetics to keep her from hearing. Such a theory does not agree with the letters written by Marian and forwarded by her kidnaper to her father. For by those letters she spoke of "trying all night" and obviously had not been under an anaesthetic while penning the notes.

COLD BLAST HITS FLORIDA

Streets of Paris, France Covered With Ice; Over 1,000 Accident Cases.

Atlanta, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Miami, Fla., and Boston, Mass., had the same minimum temperatures today, the government weather bureau here reported. Both these cities on the extreme ends of the Atlantic seaboard had registrations of forty degrees.

Despite indications that freezing temperatures would reach into Florida as far south as Tampa and Frost extending to the Everglades last night, reports from citrus growers of the state today said that small damage was done.

The vicinity of Jacksonville was the only Florida section which reported freezing weather today.

Temperatures over the south average ten degrees warmer than the minimum yesterday, the weather bureau here reported, with another ten degree rise in prospect for tomorrow.

Savannah, Ga., reported 32 degrees for a minimum this morning, Atlanta 25; Charleston, S. C., 34; Wilmington, N. C., 32; Louisville 24; Memphis 28; Birmingham 26; and New Orleans 38.

Paris, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Paris and the suburbs awoke this morning to find the streets and sidewalks covered with ice and before long the four largest hospitals had 1,100 accident cases.

The cold wave, however, was broken. The thermometer rose beginning at midnight and rain began to fall on the frozen ground at 2 a. m. causing a silver thaw.

London, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Those weather prophets who had predicted a lessening of the grip in which winter held Great Britain and continental Europe, were justified today.

The frost began to break in southern England. Rain fell in London, but it was still intensely cold and the rain soon froze.

The Cunard liner Andania arrived off Cogh harbor during the night, 60 hours overdue. The vessel was obliged to continue on to Liverpool without landing passengers and mail for Ireland.

Chief Justice Stacy Named as Arbitrator

Raleigh, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy of the supreme court of North Carolina and Leslie M. Shaw, former Governor of Iowa and secretary of the treasury under President Roosevelt, yesterday were appointed by the Federal Railway Board of mediation at Washington late yesterday as neutral arbitrators in the dispute between Southern Railways and their locomotive engineers. The engineers are asking a 15 per cent wage increase.

Chief Justice Stacy and Mr. Shaw will serve with two men named by the railroad and two named by the brotherhood of locomotive engineers as an internal settlement has proved to be impossible.

Judge Stacy today said he had indicated a willingness to serve provided there was reasonable expectations of completing the work before the spring term of the supreme court beginning in February.

All railroad in North Carolina are involved directly or indirectly in the proceedings.

TALK CAUSES DISCHARGE OF RING LEADERS

Chicago, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Public criticism of the Illinois boxing commission which voted on slender grounds to suspend three managers who proclaimed their disapproval of the commission and its officials in loud and offending tones.

Duke Barry, manager of Roleaux Saguero, Cuban light heavyweight, protested too vigorously the fine and suspension slapped on his boxer for a poor whoring against Chuck Burns, of San Antonio, two weeks ago.

Joe Glazer, manager of Eddie Shea, broadcast some uncomplimentary remarks at the officials who gave a decision to Babe Ruth over his lightweight boxer last week.

Dick Curley, manager of Mike Dundee, declared he would refuse to be governed by the officials in Dundee's match with Ray Miller at the Coliseum Monday night. To meet objection, judges were changed but he delayed the fight until the new judge was selected.

The managers' license, of all three were revoked, putting them out of business in this state while this condition continues.

Has Broken Neck

FRANK PHIPPS

Lexington, Ky.—(AP)—A broken neck is not enough to keep Frank Phipps, University of Kentucky fullback from planning a professional football career.

In the game with Centre College November 19 Phipps tackled Littrell, a fullback, and as the latter picked himself up, he remarked: "Phipps you hit harder than any man I ever saw."

The next morning Phipps' neck began swelling, and an X-ray revealed a fracture of the third and fifth cervical vertebrae. Surgeons told the player he was fortunate in not having had a friend clap him heartily upon the back, as a slight jar would have resulted in paralysis or death.

Since then the football star has been in a plaster cast from his ears to his waist, but surgeons believe he will be fully recovered in a year's time.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The Rev. Elmer Williams today carried his fight for a public accounting of the $2,000,000 gate receipts of the Tunney-Dempsey championship match here, and a decision on the legality of using Soldier field for private enterprises, to the United States circuit court of appeals.

Just prior to the bout last September, the Rev. Mr. Williams, a reform worker, sought an injunction in federal district court to restrain the boxers, south park board, in control of the field and promoters from holding the match. Judge George A. Carpenter denied the petition. Today's action is an appeal from Judge Carpenter's ruling.

SENATE ADJOURNS FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The senate ended the first period of its session today by adjourning until January 4 for the holidays.

Adjournment for today was decided on out of respect for Senator Jones, of New Mexico, who died here last night, but it had previously been decided to quit work for time being at the end of today's session.

The house also stopped its machinery out of respect to the late senator after a 35 minute session. Representative Morrow, democrat, New Mexico made the motion to adjourn and praised Senator Jones' record in the senate.

Sport Jots

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 21.—(AP)—The mention of basketball in Dixie immediately raises the question of the strength of the University of North Carolina, four times southern conference champions since the organization was formed six years ago.

And to Tar Heel supporters it is not an idle query. Prospects at Chapel Hill are proclaimed as better than last season and it is remembered then that the team waded through its opposition until tournament time and even in that event they threw their annual "scare" finally losing in a late round match.

For almost six weeks now the Chapel Hill squad has been practicing daily. Coach Jim Ashmore, who started on the athletic teams of the University of Illinois some 20 years ago is directing the squad for his second year and he is counting strongly on six letter men of previous seasons. Five of this number were returned from last season's quintet while Bill Doderer, captain of the 1926 southern conference championship team and former all-southern guard, also is back.

The veterans on hand are Billy Vansitory and Rufus Hackney, regular forwards last winter, and "Red" Price, who won his letter as a utility man. Then, Carr Purser, varsity center last season, is back along with "Pinky" Morris, captain and guard.

These men, all accustomed to hard play and tournament grind, out the Tar Heels in the class of possible repeaters in the current title chase.

Added to this, the squad will have plenty of reserve strength, some of the newcomers even showing so well that veterans are dubious as to whether they will make the first string lineup.

Special to Reflector

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 21.—The marriage of Charles C. Skinner, of Greenville, to Miss Mary Eleanor Scott, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Scott, of Westminster Place, took place at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents here. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George A. Campbell of the Union Avenue Christian church. The guests were the families of the members of the families of the young couple. Mrs. Hyman Phillips, of Tarboro, and Mrs. Stuart Cary, of Norfolk, Va., sisters of the bridegroom, were present at the wedding.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Skinner left for Greenville to visit Mr. Skinner's mother, Mrs. Charles Skinner, after which they will motor to Florida. From Florida they plan to cruise the West Indies and then in April or May go to Paris. They will probably make their home in Paris.

The bride was one of the most popular debutantes of the younger set and made her debut here three years ago. She was twice maid of honor at the annual "Veiled Prophets" ball. She is a graduate of Mary Institute and also attended the Ogonitz School in Philadelphia. Mr. Skinner comes from one of the most prominent families in Greenville. The wedding came following a number of social events held in honor of the now Mrs. Skinner given by her numerous friends in St. Louis.

Much enthusiasm and good-will has spread amongst the members of the Home Economics club. The planning and fixing for the poor has been very successful and created fine spirit in the club. Each class was given a family to provide for and seven attractive baskets were filled by happy hearts for the happiness of others. The club wishes to thank all other students that made donations for this cause.

GRADEN DEPARTMENT DECORATES LIBRARY

The Garden department of the Woman's club, represented by Mesdames H. E. Austin, R. L. Smith, Key Brown, E. L. Baker and J. M. Hart, have decorated the Greenville public library with cedar and holly. The arrangement of a nativity scene at the foot of a Christmas tree is very attractive. This will bring much happiness and arouse many beautiful thoughts in the minds of those who pass that way.

LEOPARD SKIN SHOES NEW PARISIAN CRAZE

Paris—(AP)—Leopard skin footwear is fashionable society's latest fable. Lovers of exotic clothes were quick to seize the idea of a Paris actress for whom a famous shoe designer made the first pair of leopard skin shoes. There seems to be an unwritten rule that the leopard slippers be reserved for black and white costumes.

SUNDAY WORLD MAGAZINE CHRISTMAS NUMBER

The pages of the Christmas number of the Sunday World Magazine appearing December 25th are replete with stories, legends and folklore of the festive season. Prominent among them is the tale by Rowena Anne Halbert of the kindly old Uncle Ebe who had no regular money but a mine of wealth in his heart, and who tried to coin some of it into silver dollars for the kiddies' Christmas. It is one of the World's original fiction series and is called "The Santa Claus of Laurel Forks."

County Court

Bruce Boyd, colored, charged with driving an automobile while drunk, was fined $100 and cost and ordered not to drive a car within the next three months, by Judge W. A. Darden, presiding over the regular weekly session of county court in this city yesterday.

The session was featured mainly by the hearing of cases involving violations of prohibition laws and two or three other cases of a mediocre nature.

Mary Pitt, negro, convicted on a charge of having whiskey for sale, was sentenced to six months in the county jail, sentence to become effective January 1st, if the defendant is found in Greenville township.

Mary Harrington, colored, drew a six months suspended sentence in jail on a charge of selling whiskey, sentence to be in effect Dec. 27th if the defendant is still in this county.

Arthur Kittrell, colored, charged with immorality with Laura Moore, was fined $25 and cost and given a six months suspension sentence to the county roads, the sentence to become effective any time within the next two years, at suggestion of the court, if the defendant violates any of the criminal laws. The woman drew fifteen days in jail.

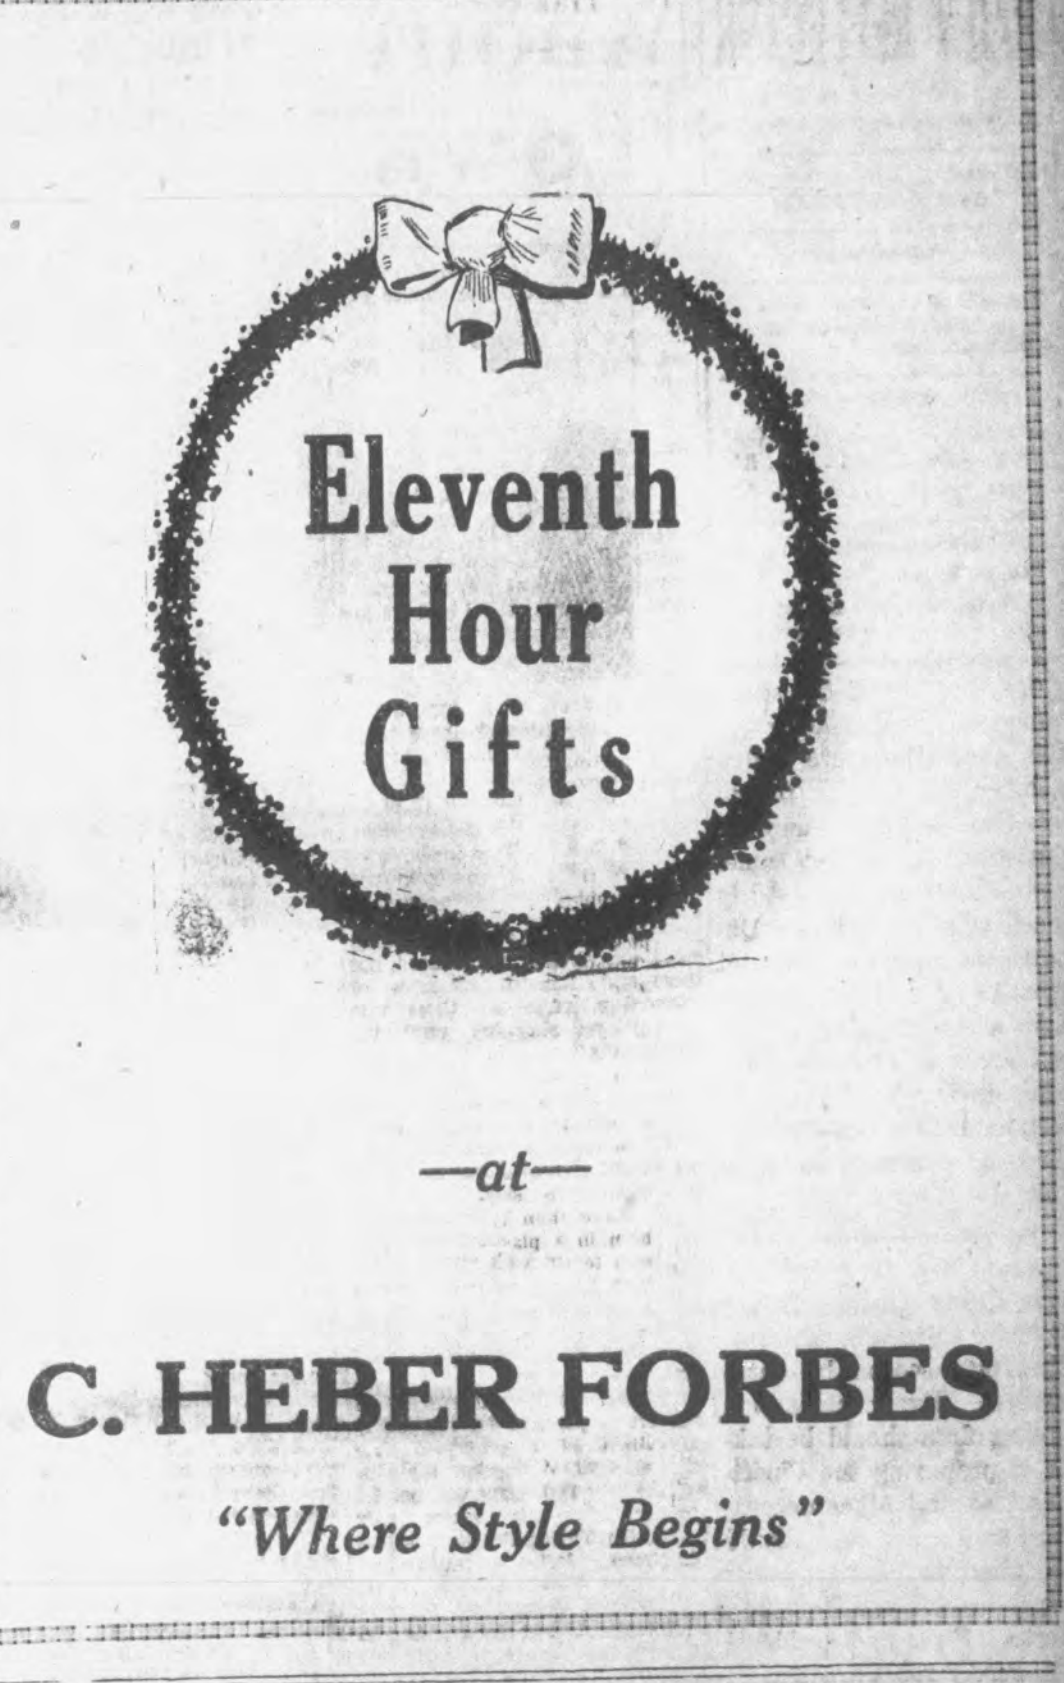

James Wilson, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was ordered to pay J. M. Mills the sum of $50 for damage to his automobile, judgment being suspended on payment of cost.

ABOUT TOWN

one of the best programs in years. "Everybody is urged to turn out and take part in this occasion. They are also urged to bring gifts and in that way contribute their part to the general plan to make the city's poor happy."

"The proposal to deepen Tar river so as to make it navigable for steamship means a saving of thousands of dollars annually to the business men of this community," E. G. Flanagan, one of the leading spirits in the movement to get congress to realize the value of the river as the great locality in this situation.

"The boys certainly appreciate the kindly sentiment contained in the gift and will strive all the harder to put out a winning club next season. It is gratifying to members of the faculty that the public is appreciative of what is being done in the athletic department of the school and we are hopeful this support will continue."

"With only three more days in which to shop, it is imperatively necessary for those who have delayed this important matter to get busy at once before it is too late to get the best of the stores here to offer," members of the Merchants association said today.

"We are more than gratified at the splendid way trading has been carried along this week. It is believed the bulk of Christmas goods has already been moved, but there still remains hundreds of splendid offerings for those who have delayed shopping until the last minute."

"Well, old boy, it begins to look as if you are not going to get that string of lights around the court house dome," comforted a reader of this column today.

"We naturally appreciated the way he expressed himself, but nevertheless, the remark failed to detract from the keen disappointment which we feel in failure to get the clock-tower of the court house properly lighted for the holidays.

"However, we are hopeful those who are responsible for the county affairs will be so impressed with other electrical decorations throughout the city that they will not let another Yule-tide season pass without decorating the dome in true Christmas style."

"The high school band will play an important part in exercises to be held in connection with the Community Christmas tree to be given at Forbes & Morton's warehouse Christmas day," members of the committee stated this morning.

"This band is considered one of the finest musical organizations of its kind in this section of the state, and Greenville people should not miss this opportunity of hearing the boys at their best."

"The program will begin at 5:15 o'clock with the playing of a sacred number at Five Points by the band. From then on until late into the evening Greenville people will have bearing a canvas flag and made a clean hole through the 17-inch thickness of concrete and iron. Officers were unable to say which aviators dropped the bomb, which was the ninth dropped this morning and the second to land on the structure since practice started Monday morning.

A bright sun and rising temperatures made conditions on the ground better today but aviators reported a high wind still prevailing in the upper atmosphere.

Ground officers said that with better weather conditions it was hoped that the aviators would be able to complete the tests with "good" bombs and carry at least one load of high explosives over the bridge this afternoon.

It also developed that the flyers have been exchanging planes during the last 24 hours due to motor trouble developing in some of the machines brought from Langley field. This was the reason officers gave for their inability to state what team scored this morning's hit.

To Investigate Explosion On Aircraft Ship

San Diego, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Rear Admiral J. M. Reeves commanding the Aircraft squadrons of the United States battle fleet today announced the appointment of a court of inquiry to investigate the explosion which killed one man and injured seven others, four seriously aboard the naval aircraft carrier Langley here yesterday.

The Langley was badly damaged by the blast which was believed to have been caused by the ignition of gas in a void between the main gasoline tank and the skin of the ship. Flames and smoke enveloped the craft immediately and fire fighting boats were rushed to its aid but the Langley's crew rallied and extinguished the conflagration in a few minutes.

SECOND BOMB HITS BRIDGE

Clean Hole Cut Through 17 Inch Thickness of Swift Creek Structure.

Albemarle, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Prospects of speeding up the experiments being made on the Swift Island bridge by United States army aviators appeared bright today as skies cleared and flyers attempted to hit the narrow structure with hand-loaded bombs from high altitudes found the range easier to get. An 1100-pound projectile hurled from an altitude of more than 6000 feet hit the bridge about squarely in the center on the first flight from Fort Bragg to the structure today.

The projectile hit within five feet of the specified target, a long pole

On the list of Christmas opportunities appearing in this issue, there are still a number not taken. If you want to have a happier Christmas try making somebody else happy. Get in touch with the Welfare Department at once and let them know that you want to help make a happy Christmas for some of those in our community who are not so fortunate as yourself. But three days remain so make your decision now.

Again we urge the citizens of our community not to invite disaster at this Christmas season by carelessness. Every precaution against fires should be taken in preparing the Christmas tree and other decorations and every care should be taken to guard against injury to children from fireworks. Fires and accidents will surely rob Christmas of its joys, so let's see to it that we make every effort to prevent them from so doing this Christmas.

In the verdict in the George Remus case, as we see it, justice has again gone astray or was completely asleep at the switch. After announcement by the defense that it would abide by the report of alienists as to the sanity of Remus, followed by the report that declared Remus sane. We are at a loss as to how the jury reached its decision that Remus was insane except that it was prompted to do so solely because the former "Bootleg King," ex-convict and otherwise notorious character, had no other ground upon which to base his hope of escaping punishment for the crime of killing his estranged wife. Apparently money and the ability to employ expert counsel and testimony has again robbed the law and justice.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON
New York, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The cotton market was quieter today, rather irregular fluctuations being attributed chiefly to further evening up of commitments in preparation for the approaching holidays. Declines of 10 to 15 points were followed by rallies which carried the early afternoon market 6 to 10 points net higher. Mid-afternoon prices held slightly above yesterday's closing figures.

Futures closed easy, 15 to 22 lower. Spot quiet; middling 19.55.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment imparted widespread irregularity to today's stock market. An opening outburst of strength was featured by heavy accumulation of copper shares, nearly a dozen of which attained their highest prices in years. Several insurance and surety shares jumped 5 to 15 points.

Marking up of the call money rate from 4 to 4-1/2 per cent coincident with the calling of about $25,000,000 in loans, started a broad selling movement just before midday which wiped out many of the earlier gains, and sent a number of issues crashing 2 to 11 points below their earlier high levels. The stiffening of money was attributed to the usual heavy withdrawals of currency in preparation for the holidays.

By early afternoon the market started upward again under the leadership of the oils, buying of which was influenced by the unusually large decrease in crude oil production last week.

Greene Cannanea Copper was the hardest hit, breaking 11 points to 134. Radio, DuPont, American Machine & Foundry and several others dropped 3 points or more.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 2,900,000 shares.

GRAIN MARKET
Chicago, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Pessimistic advices regarding the condition of domestic winter wheat that is without snow protection tended to rally wheat values today toward the last. Heightened prospects of increased corn export business helped to bring about late upturns also in the corn market.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-4 lower; corn varying from 1-4 decline to 1-2 advance. Oats 1-3 to 1-8, 1-4c off and provisions ranging from 10c set back to a rise of 1/2 cents.

Resolutions
It is appointed unto all men once to die—from the Eternal Decree there is no escape, and so in the midst of life we are in death. And he, indeed, is prudent and assuredly blessed of God, who so numbers his days as to incline his heart unto wisdom—that wisdom that sitteth at the right hand of God, and knoweth what the will of God is, and directeth the heart of man who contritely seeks to serve him.

Kidwell Testifies In Oil Hearing
Washington, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Under grueling cross-examination Edward J. Kidwell steadfastly reiterated today that Assistant District Attorney James O'Leary had marked in a sworn affidavit containing untruths and designed for us in the Sinclair-Burns contempt case.

Kidwell, a juror in the trial of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall growing out of the seaport-don't naval oil lease, has bobbed in and out of the contempt proceeding since that trial was abruptly ended and charges were made that Burns detectives had shadowed the juror for Sinclair. He made his charge against O'Leary yesterday, and to day he repeated them.

At one time in the examination, Daniel Thew Wright, counsel for Henry Mason Day, a Sinclair official who is one of the six defendants in the contempt proceedings, objected to what he characterized as the "bawling-out" of the witness. Justice Siddons made no comment and the examination proceeded.

Such a man was our departed brother, R. L. Crow, who is a member of this Baraca Class exemplified in his daily intercourse with his fellowman the true spirit of Christianity.

He was an ideal member of this class and reflected the sunshine of a noble soul, and his memory will linger as a benediction. Therefore be it resolved, that in the death of R. L. Crow we shall ever cherish his memory and be inspired by reflection upon his virtues.

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be placed upon the minutes of this class, and a copy furnished the family of our departed member.

GEORGE REMUS ACQUITTED ON INSANITY PLEA

To Regain His Freedom, He Must Convince Probate Court That He is Sane Now

Cincinnati, Dec. 21.—(AP)—George Remus will get a sanity hearing Wednesday December 23, Judge William H. Lueders, of the probate court announced today. Remus was denied bond and until then must remain in jail in accordance with the verdict yesterday in his murder trial for the slaying of his wife, Imogene. He was found "not guilty on the sole ground of insanity."

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 21.—(AP)—Acquitted on a charge of wife murder "on the sole ground of insanity," George Remus, to regain his freedom, must convince a probate court that he is not insane now.

Under the jury's verdict returned late yesterday, Remus must undergo a new sanity test which Charles H. Elston, his co-counsel, feels certain will remove the last barrier holding the one time "king of bootleggers" in custody.

There remains also the matter of a conviction for contempt of court, for a verbal attack upon the prosecutors in his protracted murder trial.

The verdict of the two women and men who sat in judgment on Remus was the minimum possible under Judge Shook's charge, which denied Remus a chance for an outright acquittal.

Elston said he expected Judge Shook to deal lightly with Remus in view of the strain under which the former "king of bootleggers" bore as a defendant-counsel facing the possible infliction of the death penalty.

Elston was the hero of the hour last night. He had dinner in the main dining room of a downtown hotel and friends and strangers constantly showered congratulations upon him, attesting the popularity of the verdict which was met with shouts and applause by the cross-section of Cincinnati.

There was the possibility of a hitch today in rushing Remus to freedom. A railroad condemnation suit was scheduled for hearing, and the last one like it required 23 days to get through the legal process.

But the condemnation hearing was held and the railroad suit was decided.

SCHOOL CAROL CONCERT GIVEN

Program by Students of Public Schools at College Last Night Highly Enjoyed.

The Christmas carol concert given by four hundred children of the Greenville schools Tuesday evening, December 20, in the College Auditorium, was one of the best programs ever presented by the public schools. The program was presented under the efficient direction of Miss Lotta Vessey, supervisor of public school music, and assisted by the teachers of the various grades. It was witnessed by a very large and responsive audience.

The stage was beautifully decorated with pine and holly, which gave a festive atmosphere to the occasion. While the audience was singing and between various numbers, Mr. Roberson acted as emcee on the occasion by introducing the music.

The concert opened with an impressive procession. Sixty high school girls sang "The Christmas Song" while one hundred elementary children from the same sang, "On Come All Ye Faithful." The concert consisted of Christmas carols illustrated by beautiful and impressive tableaux telling the Christmas story. The tone quality of the children's voices was light and sweet and the enunciation was very distinct.

The toy orchestra composed of children from the second and third grades of the West Greenville school trained by Miss Pickren was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by all. Little Miss Lillian Abbe made a perfect director.

The Canticle De Noel was very beautifully sung by Miss Bessie Brown during the Manger Tableau.

CITY FUNERAL PARLORS HAVE OPENING TODAY

The most splendidly appointed funeral parlors in North Carolina.

This was the consensus of opinion of numbers of people who attended the formal opening of Williams Funeral Parlors, on Dickinson avenue, today, and were shown through the recently remodeled and re-furnished undertaking establishment.

R. S. Williams, owner of the firm, stated today that he was highly gratified at the interest manifested in their effort to enlarge and keep pace with the rapid strides which this community is making. Mr. Williams has been in the undertaking business here for sometime and the general improvement in the building, furniture, fixtures and stock is the result of his unflinching purpose to give this section the kind of service it deserves.

As the guests entered the building today they were impressed with the simplicity and beauty of the appointments of the reception room. This room had been decorated with pine and holly, which gave a festive atmosphere to the occasion.

Monastery Building Wrecked by Flames

Subiaco, Ark., Dec. 21.—(AP)—For the second time in a half century, fire destroyed Subiaco abbey, picturesque Benedictine Monastery, last night. The structure believed to be practically fireproof, was valued at more than $1,000,000.

Approximately 200 students of the college were conducted to safety by the fathers, and then organized to fight the flames.

Plans were completed early today to send the students home, and the college will be closed indefinitely.

Times change swiftly. Dr. Mary Walker, who used to call on Charles A. Dana, at the old New York Sun office, dressed in trousers, frock coat and stove pipe hat, was arrested for wearing "modest clothes." She really looked twice as modest as a cigar store Indian, when this and other Sun reporters saw her.

Now police commissioner Thomas of Sterling, Ill., says no lady may appear in a public dance hall unless she wears bloomers. She may wear anything else, but bloomers are "rogueur," for reasons that the public will grasp in these sport-skirt days.

Earthquake in Burma frightened inhabitants, a loud roar lasting ten seconds accompanied the shaking. Gustamas' finest temple at Rangoon was badly damaged, but that will not shake faith in Buddhism.

That is the convenient thing about pagan religions. When anything goes wrong, the pagan priests tell the faithful, "It's your fault. Your donations have been inadequate." Nothing is ever wrong with the pagan god supposed to control earthquakes, or at least protect his own temples. Even fundamentalist Christian churches put lightning rods on their steeples which seems strange.
