ASK FOR MORE TROOPS TODAY AT NICARAGUA

Washington Deeply Concerned Over Radiogram Calling For Reinforcements.

Washington, Jan. 3—(AP)—Two battalions of marines under the command of a marine general have been ordered to Nicaragua to participate in a drive against the bandit Standino in the Province of Nueva Segovia.

The order was sent out today after secretary Wilbur had conferred with president Coolidge at the White House.

Until the reinforcements arrive American Bluejackets have been ordered landed from the supporting fleet to take up guard duty in Managua and other cities to relieve marines who will be sent to support the column that is engaged in the battle with the Sandino bandits.

Washington, Jan. 3—(AP)—Speculation over the safety of American marines who have captured Quilali, stronghold of the Nicaraguan bandit leader, General Sandino, griped officials here today following receipt of a radiogram plea for reinforcements and hospital supplies.

The message was received at the Navy Department late last night from Telepacca, sub-headquarters of the marine detachment operating against Sandino, and gave first official news of the Sunday engagement in which one marine was killed, another seriously wounded and others slightly hurt. These casualties were among a reinforcement column of 300 men going to the relief of the patrol which on Friday suffered 15 fatalities and 25 injuries when attacked in force by Sandino.

Press dispatches have related that the reinforcement column reached Quilali but gave no indication that the combined marine force, which is about as strong numerically as that of Sandino, was in imminent peril. The bandit leader employed about 500 men in the Friday battle, and armed with machine guns as well as rifles and bombs, they handled themselves in much better fashion than heretofore.

The message from Telepacca said the marines had taken up a position which would be maintained but were "urgently in need of reinforcements." Whether the sub-base at Telepacca is able to put another relief column in the field was not known here, nor was it known whether any other body of marines is available nearer than the main headquarters at Managua, some 150 miles from Quilali.

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 3—(AP)—A reinforced garrison of United States marines today held Quilali after fierce fighting in which six marines were killed and 28 wounded. General Augustino Sandino, rebel leader, had boasted he never would be driven from Quilali.

The reinforcing Sunday of the patrol which captured Quilali Friday cost one American life and five marines were wounded as they pushed their way through the rebels and joined their comrades. In the capture of Quilali, five marines were killed and 23 wounded. The rebel casualties in the two encounters were not determined because dead and wounded were quickly removed to save them from view.

Once the marines had established themselves in Quilali, their planes, under Major B. E. Rowell, bombed the Sandino forces. Major Rowell advised Col. Louis Mason Gulick, commander of the marines of Nicaragua, that several direct hits were made, undoubtedly causing numerous casualties.

Preparations were under way today to concentrate American columns at the former Sandino stronghold to crush the insurgents who are hidden in the almost inaccessible points of the region.

After losing Quilali, Sandino shifted his headquarters to El Chicomil, 18 miles away. The new headquarters are near the Coco river, flowing through an unexplored wilderness, offers a means of escape should the rebel leaders be encircled.

First Sergeant Thomas G. Bruce of the marines, lately a lieutenant in the Nicaraguan national guard, was killed in a rebel counter-attack Sunday while a patrol was engaged in a battle. Bruce, whose home was in Philadelphia, displayed great heroism at Ocotla last July when a handfull of marines and guardsmen administered a crushing defeat to Sandino's forces.

Lieutenant Merton A. Richal, of Wisconsin, was seriously wounded in Sunday's encounter. Four other marines also were wounded.

COLD DAMAGES TRUCK CROPS THRU FLORIDA

Freezing Temperatures Reported In Various Parts Of Southland Today.

Atlanta, Jan. 3—(AP)—Wreaking heavy damage to truck crops and leaving widespread suffering in its wake, winter's frigid breath tenaciously held the Southland in its grip today, dipping into the sub-tropics of Florida to take its heaviest toll.

Howling gales preceded the cold into Florida, but to the northward the high winds were subsiding and the mercury generally stood ten to fifteen degrees above yesterday's readings, which in several instances fell below zero.

Before the winds died down last night in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina, they sifted snow over a wide region. The fall was slight in the far south, but drifted heavily in the vicinity of Asheville, Spartanburg and localities higher in the Alleghenies.

While St. Petersburg, Fla., experienced its coldest day in eleven years with the thermometer registering 29 degrees, Tampa, Jacksonville and other cities had their lowest readings for several years in temperatures varying from 19 to 25.5 degrees.

Tender growing crops and citrus were heavy sufferers as far south as Oklawaha in the fringe of the Everglades, and no relief was promised before another 24 hours. Oranges were frozen on trees in parts of the citrus belt. The dryness of the cold was believed to have mitigated the damages which have not yet been estimated.

Memphis children were in vogue in Atlanta where the first snow in several years fell last night.

Louisville, Ky., with 2 degrees below zero, was the south's coldest city today, but Memphis and Nashville with 4 above, Asheville with 6, and Atlanta with 9 showed that the general cold from the new year's blizzard still was widespread over the south.

Orlando, Fla., Jan. 3—(AP)—Sub-freezing temperatures which held at 24 degrees for several hours last night resulted in considerable damage to citrus fruit and truck crops in this section.

In the vicinity of west orange vegetables such as beans, peas, peppers, egg plant and tomatoes were destroyed. The only truck crops to escape being cabbage and lettuce. Damage in west Orange was estimated at thousands of dollars.

Near Sanford considerable damage was done to truck crops and reports received from Lake county and North Florida report serious damage to citrus fruit and some damage to young citrus trees. Fruit was damaged at Tavares, Leesburg and Crescent City also.

Fruit losses in Orlando depends upon the rapidity with which the cold wave breaks, fruit experts said. Some slush ice not calculated to hurt the fruit was found in various groves this morning. Trees were but little damaged.

Reports from frost proof, Arcadia, Winter Haven and the Ridge section indicated there was no damage from the cold.

KIDWELL ON STAND AGAIN IN OIL CASE

Asked To Give Further Explanation Of His Intimidation While Acting As Juror.

Washington, Jan. 3—(AP)—Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., a juror on the Fall-Sinclair case, was called on today for a further explanation of charges that he was intimidated while a juror in the criminal contempt charges against Harry F. Sinclair, W. J. Burns and their associates.

Kidwell was recalled to the stand when the contempt hearing was resumed after having been adjourned over the holidays and the specific information sought related to charges that he had been compelled to sign affidavits which he had told Assistant District Attorney James J. O'Leary were untrue.

These affidavits were to the effect that Burns detectives hired by Sinclair had approached him when Kidwell was a juror in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial.

Kidwell stuck to his accusations that O'Leary forced him to sign the affidavits he insisted were false.

The witness said Assistant District Attorney Nell Burkinkshaw had promised him immunity for his part in the mistrial of the Fall-Sinclair case. Kidwell had been accused of talking of benefits he expected from his service as a juror.

George P. Hoover, counsel for Sinclair, offered in evidence Kidwell's petition to the court denying charges of misconduct as a juror, filed a few days after mistrial.

SAY GRAYSON PLANE LOST ON CAPE COD

Crew Of Schooner Report Hearing Splash Of Plane As It Hit The Water.

Portland, Me., Jan. 3—(AP)—Evidence that Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson's missing plane, The Dawn, and its four passengers came down not far from the tip of Cape Cod accumulated today.

A schooner's crew here swore they heard the hum of a plane's motors and a muffled splash as it crashed into the Atlantic on the night of Friday, December 23.

Their story substantiated that told earlier by a radio operator aboard the Steamer Cockey L. Alexander when that ship docked here. The operator, Jerome Knowles, said that at the same hour, as his ship was passing Cape Cod he heard a requesting radio bearings from the plane, presumably from the plane, Chatham station of the Radio Corporation of America. A few minutes later came the word, "plane down," he said.

The latest evidence that tragedy overtook the plane on its flight from New York to Harbor Grace, N. F., occurred just as it put out to sea, came from the master and crew of the Nova Scotian schooner, Rose Ann, Bethelview.

Off the windward rail of the schooner's bow those aboard heard sounds which the captain said was certain came from airplane motors. Then the droning increased only to end abruptly and to be followed almost immediately by a heavy splash.

Men developed iron, then steel, seeking better weapons for killing each other. Now iron and steel are used for building houses, do peace work of all kinds, war hastened development of flying machines, and of huge tanks, carrying heavy guns over rough ground.

Britain uses flying machines now to drop food in scores of snow-bound villages, while war tanks now plough roads through banks of snow that old ploughs could not conquer.

How To Trap Lynxes. No Intelligence Test. World Smash in 1928. Good in the End. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

Hodge, Calif., Dec. 30.—Here on the Mojave Desert, the important news of the day is that you can trap anything, if you take the advice of John A. Little, of San Simion, on the coast north of here. Mr. Little, champion trapper, says "Don't use bait. It makes the animal suspicious, and don't set your traps under bushes, for the same reason. Set them, well covered, on a smooth open trail, and put little sticks on either side of the trap front and back. The hunting animal, fearing to make a noise, steps over the sticks and into the trap."

Following that advice, Robert Hodge and his young partner, Seward S. Brisbane, have trapped this week six lynxes, almost as big as police dogs, and one fox. No lynx had been trapped here for two years. That is important news for chickens, turkeys and jack rabbits.

Dr. H. W. Johnson of the Mellon Institute, says "Intelligence tests" are only "pseudo-scientific." No test can tell what is in a human brain. No test could have told you much about a small, shy, morose boy, "never seen to smile," in the French School of Brienne, and named Napoleon Bonaparte. No test could have predicted that the over-eating, hard-drinking, stouthead man that retired to work in Switzerland, would write Gibbons History of the Roman Empire's Rise and Fall.

Dr. Moss, of George Washington University, says there are three kinds of intelligence, which creates scientists, "social" intelligence that makes able politicians and salesmen, and "mechanical" intelligence which produces such men as Henry Ford. There are several other kinds of intelligence wrapped up in Henry Ford, but that is another story.

Nothing explains genius. Man's brain is a receiving station, which records messages from outside. No one knows whence they come. Shakespeare did not know how he wrote, or Michael Angelo or Beethoven how he made all other artists second rate. "God, what genius I had when I wrote that," an able writer said, reading one of his own works, after getting his left hand. And Nietzsche, old, feeble-minded, living under the protection of his kind-hearted sister, said when some book was mentioned, "Book. I have also written a book." His books had changed the mental attitude of a great nation and they still influence the world. He did not know how he wrote them, and later did not even know he had written them.

If you have loose ends in business, or conscience, fix them. You may not be here long. Professor Pay the French astrologer says the constellation Leo will explode in 1928, multitudes of stars will smash, one big piece will hit his earth. Most of us, not all will be wiped out. A better civilization will follow.

The professor reads all that in Bible prophecies and in the pyramids. Our position in the solar system will change. Luckily Professor Pay may be mistaken. Once such a prophecy would have worried many.

Before the year 1,000 which seemed a good round number for an earthly windup, thousands actually went into high mountains to be close to the sky at the last minute. Some sold their lands, far below value, that they might give the money in religious works, and acquire merit at the last minute. They felt foolish, when they walked down hill again, nothing having happened.

Men developed iron, then steel, seeking better weapons for killing each other. Now iron and steel are used for building houses, do peace work of all kinds, war hastened development of flying machines, and of huge tanks, carrying heavy guns over rough ground.

Britain uses flying machines now to drop food in scores of snow-bound villages, while war tanks now plough roads through banks of snow that old ploughs could not conquer.

Nations are secretly or openly developing deadly gases, to suffocate great cities in future wars. Some day those gases will rid the world of rats, mice, ground squirrels, that carry plague and other enemies of man, including perhaps deadly, invisible germs of disease.

Secretary Mellon, asking Congress not to hurry about tax reduction laws, says March 15th will be soon enough to estimate the real surplus, and warns against cutting the taxes by more than $25,000,000.

Would it not be wise to take the advice of the man who manages the public purse, and reduces the public debt. Passengers, ordinarily, would take the advice of a ship captain. Mr. Mellon has been a good financial captain.

COURT TODAY AWAITS PLEA OF HICKMAN

Plea Of Mental Incapacity To Be Principally Relied Upon By Attorneys.

Los Angeles, Jan. 3—(AP)—The court in which the punishment of William Edward Hickman for his confessed kidnaping and slaying of little Marian Parker is to be determined today awaited the plea of the youthful desperado.

Court attaches pointed out that, barring another postponement of plea, Hickman had three alternatives at his arraignment in superior court today on the indictments charging him with kidnaping and slaying with an added plea that the court examine Hickman's mental condition before pronouncing sentence. A second was a plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity." The third was a simple plea of guilty.

Statements made by the young Kansas City attorney, Jerome Welsh, who will defend Hickman, indicated that the first might be chosen in the fight to save his client from the death penalty. The prosecution, through District Attorney Asa Keyes, frequently has announced it would demand the extreme penalty, if Hickman's guilt is pleaded or proved and his sanity shown.

Whatever the plea of the confessed slayer of the Los Angeles school girl may be, attorneys said he would undergo a trial. Even in the case of a simple plea, the court will be forced to hear all the evidence against the youth in order to determine the degree of guilt.

TWO NATIONS PLANNING TO OUTLAW WAR

France Considers The Two American Proposals For Continuing Peaceful Relations.

Washington, Jan. 3—(AP)—The French government has before it two American proposals offered as a means of continuing peace between the two countries. They are outgrowths of the suggestion of some months ago by Foreign Minister Briand that a treaty be drawn up to outlaw war.

The proposals, given to the French in alternate form but which might produce one or two separate treaties, would supplant the present Root arbitration pact which expires late next month. If they are found to hold the key to continued peaceful relationship the proposals in all probability will serve as models for rewriting of this country's arbitration pacts with other nations as the Root agreements expire.

The project goes to France with the assumption here that it bears the weight of most favorable Senate opinion. Secretary Kellogg discussed the step with all members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and it was understood that their endorsement was given.

Any treaty that springs from the Franco-American negotiations must not resort to war, because the Constitution reserves to Congress the power to declare war. It is proposed, however, that the preamble of the projected treaty would include a declaration of policy against war and that the document itself would submit disputes to arbitration at the Hague, and possibly suggest conciliation as a preliminary step.

In the even that the treaty is accepted, France and America would agree to arbitration of all disputes except those involving purely internal and domestic questions. Those involving a third power and any question arising from maintenance by the United States of the Monroe Doctrine.

Receivers From Injuries

Goldboro, Jan. 3—(AP)—A seven year old girl today was believed to be recovering from serious injuries when she was run down near a school here by an automobile driven by a boy of 13.

Elizabeth Norman suffered two broken legs when the car, operated by Elias Morgolis, whose mother recently paid court costs when he was taken into custody for illegal driving, struck her.

Remus Is Denied Hearing On Sanity By Judge Lueders

Cincinnati, Jan. 3—(AP)—A new sanity hearing from George Remus, wife slayer, was denied today by Judge William H. Lueders of Probate Court, who last week found Remus insane and ordered him committed to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Lima. Judge Lueders also denied bond for the former "king of bootleggers."

In the court of common pleas Judge Charles S. Bell heard long arguments on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to free Remus and announced he hoped he might be able to give his decision at 10:00 next Thursday morning.

LINDY DUE TO FLY INTO WAR SECTION TODAY

A few miles south of Tegucigalpa, Honduras, his objective today, six marines have given their lives to capture the rebel stronghold at Quilali, near the Honduran border.

Over the actual fighting terrain Lindbergh will fly when he leaves Tegucigalpa for Managua, Nicaragua, probably Thursday. He has been advised to fly high because the rebels armed with machine guns and anti-aircraft guns are considered likely to take a shot at any plane passing over their retreats, especially since marine corps planes bombed them yesterday.

American Flying Ace To Be Within Earshot Of Area Held By Sandino Troops.

San Salvador, Jan. 3—(AP)—A flight almost within earshot of the battle being bitterly waged between rebels under General Augustino Sandino and United States marines was the task of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today.

San Salvador, his objective today, six marines have given their lives to capture the rebel stronghold at Quilali, near the Honduran border.

Over the actual fighting terrain Lindbergh will fly when he leaves Tegucigalpa for Managua, Nicaragua, probably Thursday. He has been advised to fly high because the rebels armed with machine guns and anti-aircraft guns are considered likely to take a shot at any plane passing over their retreats, especially since marine corps planes bombed them yesterday.

Political Pot Begins Boiling In This State

Raleigh, Jan. 3—(AP)—One more day was in the state political ring today—that of C. R. Partin of Angier, Harnett county, announced in opposition to W. T. Lee for post of state corporation commissioner. Mr. Lee, chairman of the commission, will be a candidate to succeed himself for his fourth six-year term.

Local political writers, however, injected a speculative slant into the situation following the new slant on state printing, where by Governor McLean and Frank D. Grist, state commissioner of printing, decided to have competitive bidding from all over the state instead of the previous arrangement whereby five Raleigh printing firms and one Charlotte concern secured all the printing contracts.

Mitchell L. Shipman, defeated by Mr. Grist in 1924 in a run-off primary, and president of the Commercial Printing Company of Raleigh, said he was being urged by friends to oppose Mr. Grist for reelection. He made no announcement, however, directly of candidacy. Other prospective candidates to contend against Mr. Grist, mentioned by local political writers, were Stacey Brewer of Vass, 1927 state representative, D. P. Dellinger, reading clerk in the 1927 house, A. Yancy Kerr of Caswell county, 1927 representative, and John Basley of Garthage.

Light Snowfall In Greenville This Afternoon

Snow began falling here at the noon hour today but continued only for a short time. So slight was the flurry that the ground was barely covered when precipitation ended about two o'clock.

The snowfall was followed by bright sunshine that brought little relief from the icy temperatures that have predominated in this locality since last Sunday night. An upward trend of the mercury, accompanied by cloudiness, was predicted by the weather man this afternoon and it is expected there will be a pronounced change in the weather conditions by tomorrow morning.

MERCURY REGISTERS 25 BELOW ZERO ON MOUNT MITCHELL

Burnsville, N. C., Jan. 3—(AP)—A new southern record has been brought to western North Carolina by Mount Mitchell, the highest mountain peak east of the Mississippi, where a temperature reading of 25 degrees below zero was reached during the cold snap ushered in by the New Year.

The reading, reported from the U. S. Forest Ranger station on the mountain, was said to have been the lowest in the south and possible in the eastern part of the United States. Mount Mitchell, lowering 6,111 feet above sea level, is located in Yancey county, several miles from the county seat.

Records of 50 years standing were shattered in many southern cities, where temperatures were even lower than in New England. Suffering from exposure was acute. Henderlyville, N. C., was 7 degrees below zero, the coldest since 1868. Asheville, N. C., was 4 below, Louisville, Ky., 3 below; and Bristol, Tenn., 2 below.

Snow covered the northern and central sections, while rain, sleet or snow was general in the Pacific northwest. Tracts of snow extended as far southward as central Arkansas. The greatest depth was 11 inches at Duluth, Minn.

Temperatures in Chicago ranged from six below early yesterday to 3 above at midday.

C. B. WHICHARD TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Well Known Citizen Passed Away At His Summit Street Home At 6 O'clock Today.

C. B. Whichard, manager of the local office of the Postal Telegraph Company, died at his home on Summit Street this morning at six o'clock, following illness of ten days. He was fifty-five years of age, and one of the best known citizens of the county.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Memorial Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock, by Rev. H. F. Jones, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. J. T. O'Brien, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church. Interment will be made in Cherry Hill Cemetery, where services will be in charge of local Masonic lodges.

Mr. Whichard was born in Greenville, Sept. 10, 1872, being the son of the late David F. and V. Letta Whichard. He spent his entire life in Greenville and was one of the best known figures in the business life of the city. For many years he was connected with the Reflector and later in the telegraph field. He was associated in the grocery business prior to taking over the management of the local office of the Postal Telegraph Co. about three years ago.

Entire Nation Is Gripped By Cold Weather

Local political writers, however, injected a speculative slant into the situation following the new slant on state printing, where by Governor McLean and Frank D. Sub-Normal Temperatures, Accompanied By Many Deaths, Reported Today.

Chicago, Jan. 3—(AP)—With sub-normal weather prevailing in virtually every section of the United States, the weather bureau officials predicted slightly higher temperatures in most places, but additional snow in others for today.

Snow flurries were promised for the great lakes section with rising temperatures elsewhere. The line of zero temperature last night extended southward to central Illinois, while the lowest temperatures in the United States was reported at Havre, Mont., where it was 29 degrees below.

Mild weather prevailed in California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and southern Idaho with the maximum temperature of 78 at Los Angeles. The extreme southern sections of Florida and California were the only places enjoying normal weather.

Records of 50 years standing were shattered in many southern cities, where temperatures were even lower than in New England. Suffering from exposure was acute. Henderlyville, N. SELL STOCK IN BASEBALL CLUB IN THIS CITY

Operation of the newly formed Eastern Carolina League will be definitely determined at a meeting at Goldsboro Friday evening of this week.

Whether or not Greenville will become a member of the league will be decided within the next two or three days. This decision was reached at an enthusiastic meeting held last night at the Princeton Hotel.

At this meeting a committee was appointed to ascertain public sentiment as to whether or not baseball is desired and if they would be willing to give moral and financial support.

The public will be given an opportunity to subscribe for stock at the local club.

All towns desiring to take berth in the league must be ready to do so at the meeting in Goldsboro Friday night. The local committee today urged the public to give some expression on the matter so representatives will know exactly what to do.

The new league will be in class D and each club will be operated at much less expense than attached to each team during the old East Carolina League.

W. D. Branham, president of the Piedmont and South Atlantic League, was elected head of the new organization at a meeting held in Goldsboro sometime ago. All preliminary plans looking to operation of the organization have also been arranged and the only thing left open now is determining exactly how many towns are to become active members.

The committee appointed here last night began soliciting today and will continue until the required amount of stock has been subscribed. Baseball enthusiasts are urged to give the matter earnest consideration as this will be the last chance the city will have of joining the league.

G. V. Smith, member of the board of directors of the league stated today that he had received several letters from well known players, both in managerial positions and team members, and that the league would be composed of some of the fastest players in this class baseball.

LITTLE WOODEN-HEADED ACTORS TO GIVE "ALI BABA AND THE FORTY THIEVES"

Tony Sarg, celebrated magazine illustrator and Marionette Impresario, will present his little wooden-headed actors in a dramatization of "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," at East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of Jan. 9.

This well-known story from the "Arabian Nights" lends itself exceptionally well to puppet presentation. Mr. Sarg and his corps of skilled mechanics and highly trained "puppeteers" have labored ceaselessly for the past six months to make the new show even more wonderful and interesting than the earlier plays, "Rip Van Winkle," "Don Quixote" and "Treasure Island," that have toured the country from coast to coast so successfully during the past four or five seasons.

"Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" is the last word, as it were, in Marionette achievement. Mr. Sarg has created the most villainous set of robbers ever seen on the stage, an extensive menagerie of donkeys, huns, camels, sheep, dogs and even snakes, who all play important parts in the unfolding of the story. Among the animals, a beautiful white elephant performs some truly amazing feats. The Geni and the Fisherman, Sindbad the Sailor, and all the characters recorded in the Arabian Nights have been faithfully reproduced on the fascinating little Marionette stage. All the stage settings as well as the "props" for the different scenes are constructed to scale with truly amazing artistry.

—a great new automobile so impressive in appearance, performance and staunchness that it marks the opening of a new era of luxurious transportation at low cost!

Built on a 107" wheelbase—4" longer than before—the Bigger and Better Chevrolet is impressively large, low and racy. Fashionable new colors in genuine Duco, rich new upholstery and handsome appointments lend an air of notable distinction; while a type of big car performance once thought impossible in a low-priced car has been achieved by numerous engineering advancements.

The Bigger and Better Chevrolet is powered by an improved valve-in-head engine with such impressive features as alloy "invar strut" pistons, hydro-laminated camshaft gears, mushroom type valve tappets, AC oil filter and AC air cleaner.

The chassis has been redesigned. And as a result, the new Chevrolet provides delightful smoothness—click-of-the-heel acceleration—the ability to maintain 50, 55 and 60 miles an hour—the safety of four-wheel brakes—the steering ease that can only result from a ball bearing worm and gear steering mechanism—and comfort over all roads at all speeds, due to semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—84% of the wheelbase.

We urge you to come in—see this beautiful new car—and learn how Chevrolet has again electrified America by creating a Bigger and Better motor car and offering it at prices so low as to be actually amazing.

BADLY RUN-DOWN

Kentucky Woman Had "Terrible Time" Doing Her Home Work. Strength Returned After She Took Cardui.

Shelbyville, Ky.—"Several years ago," says Mrs. Alven Jesse, of this place, "my health was very bad. I was very much run-down. I was in such a weak, nervous condition that I was not able to do my housework. "I struggled to keep up, because I had to, but many a time I spent hours in bed, trying to force enough strength to go through the daily routine. "This condition went on for some time, until I heard about Cardui, which some one told me was good for such ailments. I gave it an immediate trial, and, I am thankful to say, my improvement was rapid. I soon was able to do my housework with ease and comfort. I felt fine and I looked so much better. "This I sprung I was not as well as I had been. I was ill in the winter with colds, which left me weak. So I sent at once to the store for Cardui and began taking it. In just a little while I was feeling much better, my strength returned and I was able to get my work done easier and with less effort. "At all drug stores.

COTTON MARKET.

New York, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Expectations that the very cold weather reported in the south over the holidays would destroy a good many acres of cotton in hibernation and thus lower coming crop prospects, appeared responsible for liquidation of cotton prices in the cotton market today.

The new crop was relatively easy, falling more than half a cent below last Friday's closing quotation in October. President crop positions showed net declines of about 3 points during the mid afternoon.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Indications that falling pressure of Argentine wheat has passed the maximum for this season did much to help to lift wheat values here. In some quarters estimates were accepted that about 50 per cent of the Argentine exportable wheat surplus has already been disposed of.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Upward price tendencies characterized the 1928 opening session of the New York stock exchange today, mirroring the widespread hopes of favorable business this year. Stock prices, measured by the average of 30 leading industrial issues, already are at the highest level in history, but operators for the rice nevertheless conducted their operations with confidence anticipating an unusually heavy January reinvestment demand.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 2,500,000 shares.

Urges Vaccination Against Smallpox

The smallpox situation in Greenville has reached the stage at which no one can be sure that he is safe from exposure. The only guarantee of safety lies in a successful vaccination. The value of this means of protection is easily demonstrated from the fact that we have compulsory vaccination in the schools and no school child has smallpox. A successful vaccine is good for six or seven years and in some cases longer, but the wise thing to do is to re-vaccinate every five or six years especially when smallpox is so prevalent. All persons who have not vaccinated within the past six or seven years are urged to some physician or come to the health office at once and have this done.
