NICARAGUANS PAY TRIBUTE TO LINDBERGH

Congress of South American Country Decorates U. S. Flier For Bravery.

San Jose, Costa Rica, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, completing the sixth leg of his Central American tour, landed here today from Managua, Nicaragua, at 1:10 p. m., Central Standard time.

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 7.—(AP)—A chain of volcanoes today pointed the way to new conquests for the knight of the air. Before Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh lay 100 miles of flying to San Jose. Leaving Managua, the trail of the Lone Eagle ran the length of Lake Nicaragua, largest body of fresh water between Lake Michigan and Lake Titicaca on the Bolivia-Peru boundary. From the lake a rugged ridge of volcanoes led to the central plain on which San Jose is situated.

The Congress of Nicaragua, presented the flier with a diploma of valor and a medal of "merit and honor" termed a "true night of the air" by General Estrada, chief of staff, Lindbergh was told he had honored Nicaragua and the chamber by his presence.

President Adolfo Diaz handed Lindbergh the diploma and planned the medal on his chest.

Lindbergh also received a present which he said he did not know how to use. A beautiful cane of native wood was presented to the flier by the general reception committee. He thanked them and smilingly remarked that he would have to learn how to use the cane. The airman had an opportunity to watch natives at work picking coffee when he went to the El Tezate plantation of Rafael Carbrera, former minister of finance. Lindbergh refused to do any coffee picking himself, even for photographic purposes. He consented to pose, however, under a coffee tree with the members of the party.

Nicaraguan senators also were disappointed. During luncheon at the plantation, the national orchestra played for dancing. Lindbergh preferred to chat with members of the party. He even avoided the lunch so far as partaking of the delicacies was concerned.

President Diaz, who has been ill for some weeks, was unable to go to the plantation with the party. He did attend, against the orders of his doctors, the presidential banquet in honor of the flier. He was unable to deliver his address which was read by Prime Minister Calles.

"I wonder," the address said, "how great and powerful was the sentiment which carried you over the Atlantic with romantic faith and devotion to the conquest of that which seemed impossible to the ordinary mortal. The answer is to be explained by the flag of the United States—your Old Glory. It is the patriotic sentiment which guided you, Colonel Lindbergh, toward the accomplishment of an ideal as great and noble as your country's."

Lindbergh in a characteristically brief reply said he looked forward to a time when he could return and spend more time in Nicaragua.

Japanese Prince To Wed Commoner

Tokyo, Japan, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Persistence has won for the Prince the hand of a commoner.

The engagement of Prince Chichibu, 25 year old brother of the Emperor, to Setsu Matsudaira, 17 year old daughter of Ito, Matsudaira the Japanese Ambassador to Washington, was confirmed today. Official announcement is expected shortly.

Negotiations for the engagement were begun informally last July by Baron Zenjiro Yamawata. Ambassador Matsudaira declined the offer because he thought the honor too great for him and his daughter. A second offer was made by the Count Kadayama. The Ambassador was finally persuaded to yield to the wishes of the royal household.

The dowager Empress is understood to be in favor of the marriage, having chosen Setsu some time ago herself. Prince Chichibu is well acquainted with his prospective bride, which is somewhat unusual in the case of Japanese marriages.

No imperial prince can marry the daughter of a commoner, according to court regulation. Ambassador Matsudaira while a member of a noble family is himself a commoner. Consequently Setsu will be adopted, it is believed, by one of her relative peers, either the Marquis Nabeshima or Viscount Matsudaira, before the marriage.

Prince Chichibu is the second son of the late Emperor Yoshihito. He was educated at Oxford. He is a lover of outdoor sport.

Gene Tunney And Babe Ruth Coming

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Eastern North Carolina was getting ready today to welcome two of the most famous personages of sport, Gene Tunney and Babe Ruth. The heavyweight champion of the world and the "King of Swat" have made reservations at a local resort and are expected to arrive here about the middle of this month for a hunting expedition. It was announced. A bountiful variety of game in this section awaits the coming of the two international celebrities.

FRENCH NOTE HITCHES PLAN TO END WARS

Aggressive War Phrase Added To Kellogg Document Causes Doubt At Capital.

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—France's note, proposing a treaty to outlaw "war of aggression," was given out today by the state department in an atmosphere clouded with doubt over an early agreement to submit an anti-war declaration to the powers of the world.

The insertion of the "aggressive war" phrase into the document constituted the hitch in the negotiations, because the Kellogg plan had been to declare against war in any form.

Nevertheless, diplomatic discussions of the arbitration and conciliation treaty commitments between the United States and France continue with practical assurance that the Root arbitration pact that expires February 27 will be succeeded by a new peace agreement of this character.

The note made public today suggested a multilateral international compact to renounce "all war of aggression" as a means of settling international disputes but declaring that the subscribing countries shall "employ all Pacific means" for the settlement of "differences of whatever nature may arise between them."

It asserted that a multilateral treaty renouncing warfare would constitute a declaration of international will which "could not fail to be an impressive example to all the nations of the world and might very well lead them to subscribe in their turn to the same pact, thus bringing into effect as among all the nations of the world an arrangement which at first was only suggested as between France and the United States."

Acting on this principle the note said that France would be willing to conclude a treaty which "would condemn war, would contain a declaration to renounce it as an instrument of national policy and would substitute therefore the Pacific settlement of disputes between nations."

France, the note continued, approved Secretary Kellogg's suggestion that upon the basis outlined in Mr. Kellogg's note of December 28, conversations be opened with other nations with a view to leading to an anti-war treaty which could be approximately signed by the major nations of the world.

The French note, however, stipulated—

Commander Made Defendant Today In S-4 Inquiry

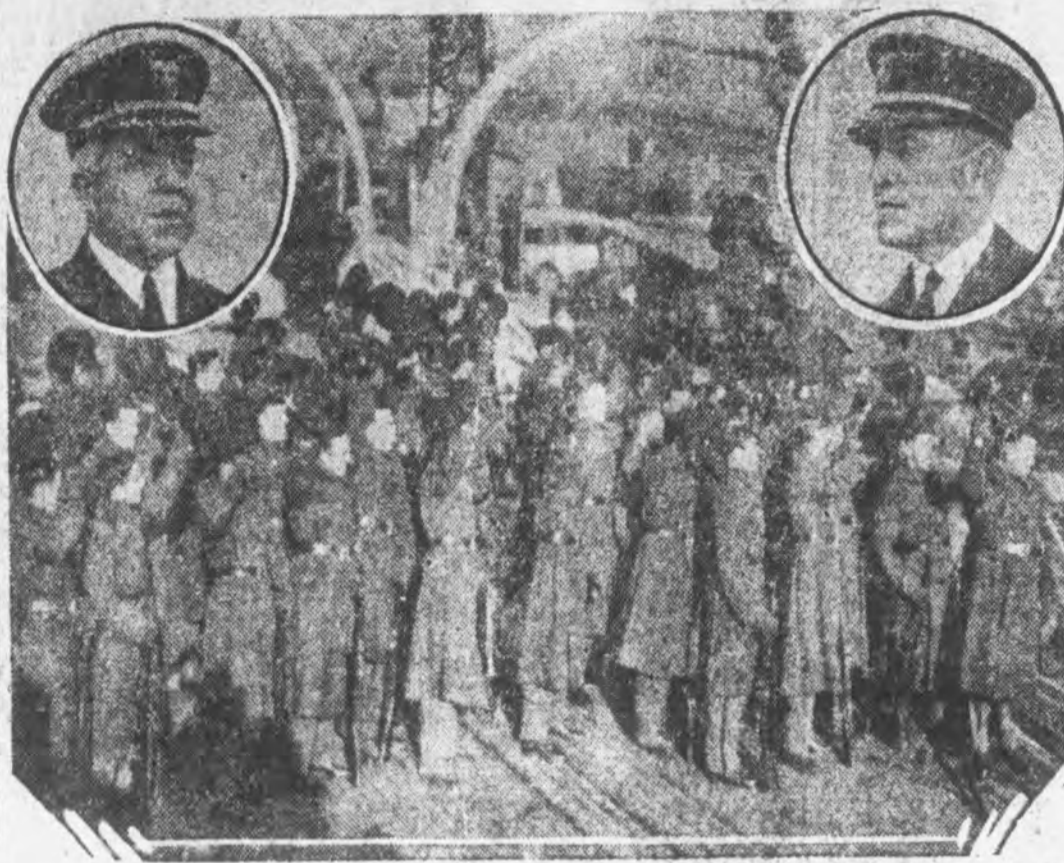

Boston, Jan. 7.—(AP)—A sensation was sprung in the navy's investigation of the S-4 disaster today when Rear Admiral Richard H. Jackson president of the naval court of inquiry, named Lieut. Commander John S. Bayliss, commander of the coast guard destroyer Paulding, which sank the S-4 in collision, as a defendant, Commander Bayliss at the time was on the stand as a witness.

The break came while the coast guard commander was being questioned as to his familiarity with the operation of submarines in the waters along the North Atlantic coast. After he had replied to several questions put by Commander Leslie E. Bratton, judge advocate, the witness was stopped by Admiral Jackson, who said:

"Evidence has now been introduced that will have the effect of making you a defendant before this court. It is the duty of the president of the court to inform you that testimony has been introduced which establishes you legally as a defendant before the court."

Provincetown, Mass., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Six more bodies of members of the crew of the sunken submarine S-4 were recovered by divers in the engine room today. This brought the number of bodies to 13.

MORE MARINES ON WAY TO NICARAGUA

Local Fire Fighters Reflect Progress At Annual Oyster Roast

Members of Hope Fire Company recognized as one of the most efficient organizations in the state, for the size of the town which it serves. Its roster now consists of the names of 42 members, twelve of them being colored. Every member is intensely interested in his particular line of work, and when the alarm sounds, the majority will be found at their posts ready to render the kind of service for which they have been training year in and year out for many years.

Chief Clark is trying to instill into the minds of his followers one fact; that is, "Service to the wonderful community they have given themselves to serve."

REBUS GOES TO HOSPITAL

Former Bootleg King To Continue Fight From Insane Institution At Lima.

Lima, Ohio, Jan. 7.—(AP)—George Rebus, acquitted of wife murder on the grounds of insanity, today was confined in the state hospital for the criminal insane, from which he is preparing to continue his fight for freedom in new courts.

The former "king of bootleggers" entered the hospital last night on commitment papers from Cincinnati, where he won acquittal for the slaying of his wife, Imogene, only to be held insane by the probate court.

Rebus' decision to enter the institution came yesterday after common pleas Judge Charles Bell of Hamilton county (Cincinnati) dismissed his habeas corpus action. He made the trip from Cincinnati by automobile accompanied by Charles Elston, his counsel, and two deputies.

Rebus has no further recourse in Cincinnati courts except a hearing, set for Monday, on an appeal to the common pleas court from probate Judge Luaders' decision. Rebus' appeal was on the ground that the probate court had reversed six aliens who found him sane.

Two alternatives for court action are before Rebus. Either he may start fresh habeas corpus proceedings here, or light his entry to the institution on the claim of faulty commitment papers.

But the one pumper, he explained is not all the department is to have. The Board of Aldermen have already authorized the purchase of a new machine of this kind, and in a comparatively short time it will be stationed in the fire house alongside the remainder of the equipment. Naturally, the main part of the building may have to be remodelled a bit to take care of the new equipment, but who in the world cares, so long as it is a means of adding to the protection of life and property of the citizenship.

SEES GROWTH OF BUSINESS IN BIG LOANS

Coolidge Thinks Loans To Brokers Reflect Natural Business Expansion.

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The fact that loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve banks have mounted to $3,810,000,000 a new record, is not, in the opinion of the President Coolidge, a basis for unfavorable comment. He sees in the figure a natural reflection of business growth and finds similar indication of continued prosperity in the 1-4 per cent increase in postal receipts for last month over December, 1926.

Broker loans now are about one billion dollars in excess of those reported for the first week of last January and the total is higher than any ever recorded in the history of the federal reserve system. They have increased steadily for the last 18 months and in December advanced by approximately $100,000,000.

Mr. Coolidge doesn't set himself up as an expert on the subject of broker loans and their significance, and is not prepared to render an opinion whether they are out of proportion with the country's resources. The figures do appear to him, however, to indicate the increase of business in the securities market and do not convey to him any unfavorable impression.

The President's information came from the treasury and federal reserve reports but officers in those establishments declined to comment on the subject.

Secretary Hoover informed the President that the increase in postal receipts was about the same as the growth in population. The receipts appeared to be evenly scattered over the country and Mr. Coolidge believes they constituted a prosperity indicator.

Magistrate Cuts Court Costs

Raleigh, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Justice of the Peace H. G. Williams today set the pace for other Raleigh magistrates in reducing court costs from $2.10 to $1.80 in each civil case, in accordance with the law.

Justice Williams said he had "read up" on his law and found that he had been charging defendants 30 cents too much.

In response to many requests we begin in today's issue our "Twenty Years Ago" and "Thirty Years Ago" columns. From now on these items gleaned from files of The Reflector of corresponding dates of 20 and 30 years ago will be a regular daily feature in our paper and we trust they will prove interesting reading especially to the older residents of our community.

Men that gamble in stocks and imagine they know what they are doing, threw their stocks overboard yesterday, millions of shares, knocking down values.

Some of these gentlemen who will regret their panic later, frightened by automobile advertising, said: "An automobile price war" would injure stocks. Advertising never hurt anything. It will increase consumption, wipe out a few weak, unnecessary sisters perhaps, but help business in the long run.

The government has made up its mind to a little war, with Mr. Sandino, of Nicaragua, since we can't escape it. A thousand marines will leave for Nicaragua Monday with enough machine guns to teach politeness to the Nicaraguan rebels.

In our big war we went deeply, heaven knows, spending more than fifty million dollars a day, lending ten thousand millions, most of which will never get back, and sending millions of men.

But in troubles near home we are like the man who hadn't the heart to cut his dog's tail off all at once, and so cut off half an inch every day.

We should finish that Nicaragua business without delay, and also find out what Colonel Gulek of which his men were killed last

ASKS PAROLE FOR COOPER

Solicitor Kellum Would Release Wil- mingto Banker Serv- ing Road Sentence.

Wilmington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—A recommendation for the parole of Thomas E. Cooper, former Wilmington banker, now serving an eight year term on the New Hanover county roads for violation of the state banking laws, was made by Solicitor Woodus Kellum in a letter to Governor McLean published today. The letter, written on Dec. 29, asked that the former banker be released on March 16 when he will have served one year of his term.

In making public his letter to the governor, the solicitor said he had not made his recommendation earlier because he felt that Cooper should serve at least a portion of his sentence on the roads. Contrary to reports, the solicitor said, he had never opposed a parole at any time but had merely declined to recommend such until Cooper should have served a year of his sentence.

Mr. Kellum said he felt that the term served in the federal prison on the charge of violating the national banking laws and his term on the New Hanover county roads for violating these laws are sufficient punishment for Cooper's crime.

Cooper served about two years of a three-year sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta following his conviction in federal court here. Upon his release from the Atlanta prison he was given a twenty day parole by the governor after executing a bond assuring his surrender to the prison authorities at the end of that period.

The solicitor's letter gives a brief history of the case and in concluding says:

"The most cordial feeling existed between Mr. Cooper and myself. Had I permitted my personal feeling, family and sympathy for himself, I would have served a year of his sentence in the federal prison."

"The solicitor said he did not see his way clear to recommend a parole and with respect to his letter said:

"Our banking laws have been too frequently violated and cannot be treated lightly."

In his opinion, he said, the seven year suspended sentence hanging over Cooper in case he was paroled would serve as a deterrent upon others of like mind.

TWENTY DROWNED WHEN THAMES RIVER GOES ON RAMPAGE AT LONDON, ENG.

Two Men Loot Ban of Bennett

Asheboro, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Locking Cashier J. A. Purvis and his assistant in the vault, two white men this afternoon looted the Bank of Bennett, near here, and fled with an undetermined amount of cash.

While officers spread a net in an effort to catch the robbers others were concerned with means of getting the imprisoned bank officials out of the vault for the two are the only ones known to have knowledge of the combination that unlocks the big iron safe.

Officials of the Bank of Bonlee, near by, have been appealed to for aid.

HAYES HEARING ENTERS FINAL STAGES TODAY

Charges of Corruption Aired Before Senate Judiciary Committee Yesterday.

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Taking the stand in his own defense, Johnson J. Hayes North Carolina federal judge, today in a calm, clear voice told a senate judiciary subcommittee the story of his life to prove now is the time for all good—disprove charges that he was unfit to sit on the federal bench.

Beginning with the statement that a man who does his duty as he sees it, has no fear of the consequences, said that he received little common school education but at 18 was able to enter one of the old institute high schools in North Carolina.

He graduated in 1865 and taught school for one year in May, 1866. He went to Albert, W. Va., and worked as a clerk in a coal mining company commissary. In 1877 he entered Wake Forest college in North Carolina, securing a position in a bank in order to pay his way through school. He was admitted to the North Carolina bar in February 1899 and took his law degree in May 1900. He began practicing law at North Wilkesboro, forming a partnership with John R. Jones, a school mate, in June, 1910.

Hayes first was elected as solicitor of the seventeenth Judicial District in 1914, taking office in January, 1915. He was re-elected without opposition four years later and stated that, he had not campaigned for re-election in 1924 charges now against him probably never would have been filed.

Hayes blamed the fact that he prosecuted six prominent men of Avery county and secured their conviction of killing a notorious character as the real background to charges against him. One of the men convicted was brother of D. T. Vance, who filed charges against him and who has been active in prosecution at the hearing, he said.

Hayes later joined with the presiding judge and fellow prosecutors in recommending a pardon for the six convicted men, which was granted.

J. W. Farland, now prosecuting the hearing against Hayes, was one of his associates in prosecuting the six men, Hayes said. With references to charges made by former sheriff Braswell of Avery county, Hayes blamed them on the fact that he was required, as solicitor, to prosecute Braswell while he was sheriff because a prisoner was allowed to escape, and at a later time when the sheriff was charged in a liquor conspiracy. Therefore Hayes maintains, Braswell said he is unfit to be a federal judge.

Boy Sells Whiskey To Support Mother And Little Brother

New Bern, Jan. 7.—(AP)—With the assertion that he was forced to sell whiskey to support his mother and a brother, Dewey Baugh, 14, today was being held here on charges of violating the national prohibition law, following his arrest by federal agents.

His uncle, Gynn Baugh, was also held. Officers reported they had a capias for the boy's father, who was wanted on a similar charge. Dewey Baugh, they said, informed them he was making whiskey to provide for his mother and brother, as the father had deserted the home.

Officers said both the boy and his uncle admitted they were preparing for a second "run" at the still when surprised.

Engineers Work Frantically Last Night To Prevent Water From Breaking Through Walls In Main Part Of City.

London, Jan. 7.—(AP)—London was agitated today at the most devastating catastrophe which the River Thames has wrought in modern times.

Twenty persons were drowned by the sudden rise of the river when waters caused by rains melting a Christmas snow swept down on London and met an abnormal tide. The river needed to normal this morning with the ebb tide.

Fearing a recurrence of disaster at the next flood tide, engineers labored frantically building temporary barricades where walls along the embankment collapsed early this morning.

The river swept over its banks for 80 miles from the sea and a night of alarm and tense excitement such as has been unknown for years resulted. The immediate cause of the flood was an abnormally high tide after Christmas snow, rain and gale.

The granite wall along the Victoria embankment held against a terrific volume of water, preventing a more serious catastrophe in the center of the city. The water rose to the top of this wall, which is four feet wide and runs for a mile and a half from the city proper to Westminster street. At some points the water overflowed, but the wall itself held against the rush of the waves.

At one point beyond the Westminster end of the embankment, another wall burst. The waters rushed through the gap, deluging the streets. Two people were drowned there. The basements of many houses were flooded.

At the front where the Egyptian obelisk known as Cleopatra's Needle stands on the embankment, the waters overflowed the wall which is lower here than elsewhere. The steps at the base of the obelisk were flooded.

The electric conduits which operate the street cars were invaded by the waters and the tramway service was stopped.

On the opposite bank of the river matters were much worse. There is no embankment and from Westminster to the east the streets were quickly flooded. Hundreds of dwellers of the poorer districts were aroused either by the police or the sound of the advancing water. They fled in haste and terror from their beds, amid an uproar of shouts and cries of alarm.

Brief reports came from the densely populated section below the business center of the city told of the struggle of frightened people to escape from the sudden rush of water into their homes. Numbers of houses were flooded in Limehouse, Rotherhithe, Poplar, Cannington and in the neighborhood of the docks.

The bodies of eleven persons were taken to the Westminster mortuary. Policemen and firemen searched a house in Grosvenor road for four missing persons.

Tremendous floods in the upper valleys of the Thames caused by rain melting a Christmas snow swept on London last night. The abnormal tide began to flow at 2 o'clock this morning. This followed the recent gale which swept the coast. As the waters from the hills the disaster resulted.

The waters were receding today and firemen were busy pumping out flooded cellars.

WOUNDED MARINES BROUGHT BY PLANE FROM NICARAGUA

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Several of the American wounded in the recent clash with Sandino rebels in the state of Nueva have been brought by plane from Quilali to Managua. Among the wounded were Captain Richard Livingston and Lieutenant Meriton A. Richael.

As Nicaragua-bound marine reinforcements moved to ports of embarkation today on both coasts, Major General LeJeune the marine corps commandant, cleared his desk at the navy department and prepared to sail Monday to personally inspect his forces in the field and inquire into various disturbing reports which have reached him in Washington.

One of these reports which came to him through marine officers in Nicaragua, is that two deserters from the marine forces are serving as instructors with the rebel army of General Sandino, General LeJeune does not believe this report. He said today that there is "absolutely no evidence whatever that there are marines with Sandino." He added that in his opinion the report was a "pipe dream."

WASHINGTON ALL SET FOR BIG SEASON

Note: This is the fifth of a series of stories on the 1928 prospects of major league clubs.

Washington, Jan. 7.--(AP)--The potential power of the New York Yankees has not shattered the morale of the Washington American League Club, and both President Griffith and Manager Bucky Harris are going about preparing for the 1928 campaign without shivering at the mention of the name of Miller Huggins' formidable array of stars.

Even with the absence of Walter Johnson, Harris believes that in Lisenbee, Hadley, Van Alstyne, Sad Sam Jones, Zachary, Marberry, Burke, Braxton, Gaston and several promising pitchers from the minor leagues, he has the best mound staff in the league. This group, which wisely divided between left handers and right handers, also has been selected with a due regard to having a few seasoned men, along with those of less experience. Hadley and Lisenbee are now looked upon by the club as being in the star class.

Strength has been added to the infield by the acquisition of George Sisler, who, according to Griffith, will alternate with Judge at first base. Wise Washington fans, however, cannot see a player of Judge's calibre kept on the bench at any time, and expect that he will be used in a trade to strengthen the club elsewhere.

The other positions on the infield are assigned tentatively to Harris, Reeves and Bluege, but the club has several minor league youngsters for duty on the inner works, notably Gillis from Birmingham, who showed impressive form in a few games at the close of last season. He may replace Bluege or Reeves if he shows more promise.

The outfield trio of Rice, Speaker and Goslin is backed up by West and Ganzel, the latter having batted for more than 400 in quite an extended period of play last year. Tentatively Speaker has been assigned in the outfield, but few expect him to remain with the team for another season. As in the case of Ty Cobb, who has been released by Connie Mack's Athletics, Speaker is a high priced man, who is not regarded as an essential to the success of the club and is expected to make other connections. But even in his absence, the Griffith-Harris clan believe they will present a strong outfield.

The absence of Walter Johnson, who will manage the Newark club of the International League next season will be felt more from a psychological than from a material standpoint. The veteran was of little use to the club last year after an injury to his leg, and before midseason he announced that never would take his regular turn in the box again.

There have been rumors that Griffith was willing to trade Sam Rice or Goose Goslin if he could make a good bargain, but the club officials never would confirm this. Rice had a season below his usual mark in 1927, but with a little improvement he would not be far from his regular form.

Ruel and Tate will again be the mainstays behind the bat. Although Ruel has slowed up somewhat, he still is regarded as one of the best catchers in the league and will be the number one man.

YOUTH PAYS FOR KILLING

17-Year Old Boy Electrocuted At Columbus For Killing Mother and Child.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 7.--(AP)--A 17 year old boy, the youngest slayer ever electrocuted by Ohio, paid with his life in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary last night for killing a mother and her five year old son.

The youth was Floyd Hewitt, who slew Mrs. Fred Brown and her son Fred, Jr., at their Conneaut, Ohio, home, last February.

Hewitt seemed dazed and puzzled in the death chamber, but was apparently, unmoved.

Entering the chamber his eyes swept the group of witnesses, but he did not speak. His last words, spoken before entering the death chamber, maintained innocence of the crime of which he had previously confessed.

In his confession Hewitt said he beat Mrs. Brown to death when she repulsed his advances and killed the child to silence him.

Unsuccessful appeals were made through the state courts and the board of clemency, based on Hewitt's youth and declarations of low mentality. A final appeal to Gov. John Donahey to commute the sentence to life imprisonment also failed.

ABOUT TOWN "We want as many as possible can attend the formal opening of the new Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening." Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the church, stated this morning. "Naturally every member is proud of the new structure. While it cannot be numbered among the most expensive edifices of the state, we believe it compares favorably with any of them from the standpoint of architectural splendor. Members of the building committee spent considerable time in selecting plans for the building, and the beautiful structure is certainly a splendid memorial to their untiring effort. "All preachers of the city have been invited to worship with us Sunday. Members of their congregations are invited to do likewise. We hope to make it a day of rejoicing among all religious groups of the city, because the building is a credit to the city and to the thrifty people who make up its citizenship. "Basketball season has opened among the various schools of the city." C. W. Porter, director of athletics of the Greenville high school, said this morning. "It is to be hoped the public will turn out in large numbers and lend their encouragement to the physical development of the youngsters—the men and women of tomorrow. "The schools have never had the support they should have had in any single branch of athletics, but we are hopeful there will be a change of sentiment this year and that huge crowds will be seen at each of the games. "With the ending of basketball season, the boys will begin what we believe will be one of the most successful baseball seasons in the history of the school. It is our purpose to make the diamond campaign even as successful as we did on the gridiron. With the proper support we shall be able to do this. Let the boys know you appreciate what they are doing and rest assured of seeing them turn out winning teams. "I am delighted to see that the Aldermen have taken action to prevent the recurrence of false fire alarms," declared a reader of this column today, recalling the three false alarms sent in from different parts of the city during the first of the week. "It is bad enough for the firemen to have to respond to a real alarm with the thermometer standing near the zero mark, but it is simply a crime for them to go out when there is no cause for it. "Response to alarms costs the tax payers a considerable sum of money, and they should use their influence in helping the aldermen round up the responsible parties. "We subscribe to the Reflector because we believe it faithfully portrays the life of the community, state and nation as no other small daily in this immediate territory is able to do," asserted an old subscriber while in the office today placing his renewal for the paper. "Our folks look upon the paper like any other fixture of the community. When it fails to appear we miss it just like we miss a meal or something equally important. "The news is as complete as the large papers because of the leased wire service. We always feel like we have had the final happenings of the day when we have glanced through the Reflector columns. "Winter and spring entertainments at the college this year will consist of the very latest New York and Chicago offerings," Miss Mamie Jenkins, director of college entertainments stated today. "The program includes five big attractions. The three musical numbers will feature Mary Lewis, a great Metropolitan opera soprano; a famous New York tenor, Frederick Gunster; and Chicago's great favorite, the Imperial Male Quartet. "In drama there will be a Broadway favorite, playing there perennially, the Tony Sarg Marionette show, and a Charles Rone Kennedy and Edith Wynn Matthison play famous in London as well as in New York. "The whole series is offered at a very low rate, about half the price of the single ticket. "Greenville people are given a cordial invitation to attend these plays, and see what the college is doing in the way of providing real high-class amusement for the locality. Judge Adamson Retired. Washington, Jan. 7. (AP)—President Coolidge has granted the request of William C. Adamson to be retired as a judge of the United States courts of custom claims at New York. Judge Adamson was eligible for retirement because he had reached the age limit. He was the author of the famous Adamson act relating to railroad labor and a former member of the house from Georgia. Feathered Hats Replace Blond Wigs. Paris. (AP)—Milliners blame the fashion of wearing wigs to harmonize with particular costumes for the present vogue of blond feather hats to wear with black of beige suits. They are feather-covered turbans worn well over the forehead and ears. Sometimes the feathers are curled at the tips to give the appearance of a frame of ringlets around the face.

TO OPEN NEW CHURCH HERE ON TOMORROW

Presbyterians To Celebrate Completion of New Building With Splendid Program.

Opening services of the new Presbyterian church building, corner Pitt and Fifth Streets, will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, according to announcement made today by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor. A splendid program has been provided for both services. At the evening service all ministers of the city will have something to say in connection with the remarkable progress made by the Presbyterians. The program also provides for special musical numbers by the choir, accompanied at the new Picher organ by Miss Mary Bertelet, of East Carolina Teachers college. The new building is considered one of the most imposing structures in this section of the state. It was recently completed at a cost of approximately $50,000 which does not include furnishings and the new organ, the latter a gift of the Woman's auxiliary. The old church building, corner of Green street and Dickinson avenue, was razed sometime ago, giving way to rapid strides of business in that section of the city. For some time the Presbyterians have been worshipping in the basement of the new church, but first services were not held in the new auditorium until last Sunday. The Presbyterian church was organized May 11, 1861, by the Rev. J. N. H. Sumner, D.D., its first pastor. One of the striking features of the opening services tomorrow will be the presence of the first pastor, Dr. Sumner. He is one of the best known members of the denomination in this part of the state; he has always taken an active interest in the development of the local church, and his presence tomorrow will be one of the most inspirational parts of the program to old members who have followed his labors elsewhere with more than general interest. The building committee having charge of the erection of the new structure is composed of James S. Ficklen, chairman; G. V. Smith, N. O. Warren, J. G. Moye, Mrs. P. M. Johnson, Mrs. C. W. Harvey, Frank W. Brown, W. S. Harden, Jr., and the sub-committee, who had actual charge of erection of the building, is composed of G. V. Smith, N. O. Warren, J. S. Ficklen, Frank Brown, acting in the capacity of treasurer and J. L. Cannon as the supervising contractor. The Sunday school is departmentalized throughout, the plant having been built with a view of taking care of the growth of the church for the next several years. The main auditorium is beautiful in its appointments and will take care of audiences even under the most extraordinary circumstances. Members of all denominations have been invited to join in the services tomorrow evening. At this time ministers of the various other churches are on program for short talks. The regular order of services follows: 1. Organ Prelude. 2. Doxology, standing. 3. Invocation Prayer, Rev. L. B. Jones. 4. Hymn No. 538. 5. Scripture Reading, Rev. R. J. Bamber. 6. Prayer, Rev. W. S. Harden. 7. Announcements. 8. Offering. 9. Special Music. 10. Hymn No. 569. 11. Opening Remarks, Rev. W. S. Harden. 12. Brief Remarks, by all ministers present. 13. Prayer, Dr. J. N. H. Sumner. 14. Hymn No. 603. 15. Benediction, Rev. L. B. O'Brien. 16. Organ Postlude.

TO ADD ANNEX TO OLD CHURCH BUILDING HERE

Free Will Baptists To Make $10,000 Improvements To Property In This City.

A building permit was issued this morning for erection of an annex to the Free Will Baptist church, corner of Cotanch and Eleventh streets, according to information furnished this afternoon by George Clark, building inspector. The improvement will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000, consisting of departments for junior, intermediate and senior Sunday school classes, pastor's study, church office, and a parlor. The present church is a brick affair, and was built a few years ago at an estimated cost of $15,000. While not one of the most imposing structures in the city, it was stated today by Rev. T. E. Beaman, pastor, that it would be among the best appointed buildings here when the annex has been completed. Mr. Beaman said that contract for the addition had already been awarded and that actual construction work would begin within the next several days. The contract calls for completion of the building sometime in April. It was stated that the auditorium of the old building would be remodeled to conform with the architectural style of the annex. This will also provide for increased seating capacity, and take care of growth of the church for the next several years. The church now has a membership of 162, Mr. Beaman said, but it is hoped this number will be greatly increased as soon as improvements have been made and members of the various organizations are able to get down to business. Looking Backward Items Taken From The Reflector Of Twenty and Thirty Years Ago

Tuesday, January 7, 1898 Aldermen Hear Prohibition Petition The board of aldermen met Monday night in monthly session, the meeting being deferred from Thursday night because of the absence of a quorum. The matter of most interest was the petition for the calling of election on prohibition which it was known would be presented, and many people were attracted to the meeting. Speeches were made on the petition by G. E. Harris, E. B. Ficklen and F. C. Harding. The board adopted a resolution setting January 23 as the date for passing on the petition. Under Ayden Items, there was an announcement to the effect that Dr. Joseph Dixon had purchased the entire plant of the Ayden Milling and Mfg. Company. A. B. Ellington returned from Tarboro Monday evening. W. L. Hall returned Monday evening from Fayetteville. Ames Brown and James Evans had returned to the University at Chapel Hill. Friday, January 7, 1898 Against Dancing At a conference meeting of the Memorial Baptist church, held Thursday night, a resolution was adopted that hereafter any member of the church who shall be guilty of dancing, either at a private house, or public place, shall be excluded from membership. The County Commissioners in the first meeting of the year, issued thirty-one liquor licenses, nine of them being for places in Greenville. Engine House The old fire engine house, that stood on market square, has been moved to a lot belonging to Elliot Bros., on Fourth street, which these gentlemen very kindly tendered to the use of Hope Fire Company. The company will proceed shortly to build a new engine house which funds recently contributed for that purpose. J. F. King returned Thursday night from a trip to Norfolk. Mrs. E. H. Taft and child returned Thursday night from Rocky Mount.

Without Any Solicitation From Anyone I feel it my privilege to say this with justice of all makes of cars. As I have used several different makes, I want to say I have never used a car that gave me so much pleasure and comfort as the Chevrolet that I am using now, but the new models that have just come out are the most automobile I ever saw for the money. I have had seventeen years of actual everyday experience driving cars, have made it a real study, and I feel that I am thoroughly justifiable in making this statement. I would like to say that I do this without any knowledge of the General Motor or any Chevrolet Dealer. Respectfully, W. C. CHAUNCEY

HIGH-CLASS ATTRACTIONS AT THE COLLEGE

East Carolina Teachers College is doing everything possible to make a success of the excellent entertainment program it is offering.

The highest class attractions have been secured and they are the kind that will please not only to the college audience and the town of Greenville, but should draw from the surrounding country and the neighboring towns.

The public will be kept informed as to the exact nature of each entertainment and will be reminded of the exact time, both date and hour, and place. There will be no excuse for any one's letting a good thing slip by.

Careful attention is being given to comfortable seating, and convenient ticket arrangements and all other matters that will be of benefit to the public.

The townspeople are showing appreciation of the efforts the college is making and are coming to the support of the undertaking.

FARMVILLE ITEMS

The splendid municipal building is nearly finished. I hear that the water and light plant has furnished most of the money for this building.

The only frame building in the business section was burned some few days ago. The ruins of the building might serve a useful purpose if Hubert Joyner, the owner, will not make the mistake of cutting this corner with an unnecessary filling station. Enough of anything is sufficient, while too much is a nuisance.

Mr. Thomas Lewis, of this township, is critically ill at his fine country residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Parker, who moved to the country, as well pleased as a girl with her first beau, have returned, firm believers in the old adage, "All is not gold that glitters."

The D. A. R.'s are hustling people. They are organizing a women's sextette of singers to furnish good music on occasions.

This is a town of widows. Next week I may introduce you to some of them.

Parisians Wear Wings Instead Of Flowers

Paris. (AP)—Two little cloth wings, meant to be worn on the shoulders of evening frocks instead of flowers, are a suggestion of Jeanne Lanvin which Paris seems to like. The wings are made of the same material as the dress, sometimes combining two colors. They are long enough and filmy enough to flutter with any motion.

THIS MAYOR IS OUT TO GET EVEN!

Revenge is sweet!

Newburyport, Mass., has just installed Andrew J. ("Bossy") Gillie, ex-gov and filling station magnate, as its mayor.

When Andrew was just a plain, ordinary citizen he took his share of hard knocks. Quite a number of fellow townsmen, in his opinion, slipped a fast one over on him now and then.

But now Andrew is going to "get back."

He's treasured a list of the gentlemen in question, and now that he's taken the oath of office, he's going to swing the axe on those who have incurred his displeasure, the following, to wit, viz:

- 1 fire chief;
- 1 city collector;
- 1 assessor;
- 1 highway superintendent;

not to mention a rash petty official who had the new mayor pinched once upon a time for selling gas without a permit.

REMNISCENCES OF PITT COUNTY

(By A. J. MOYE)

As there seems to be considerable interest in certain quarters in local history, I have thought I might add something of value.

This morning, I am thinking of the road from Greenville to the place of my sojourn in 1837. The first house out of town was that of Mr. William Moore, the father of Marcellus and John Moore, merchants in Greenville. John soon was downed by strong drink, while Marcellus acquired quite a fortune for his day. He and Mr. Moore were the only clerks in his store. This was what was known as a "time" store. After Moore's death, the house was sold and the next house on the left, as you leave Greenville, was Mr. Ben Manning's, and it interested me because Mr. Manning had invested in a lottery ticket and won a prize of one thousand dollars, which money he purchased a negro woman, the first negro that he had ever owned. He also had enough left to paint his house red.

The next house was Mr. Evans', a quaint old house built upon a hill. That house is there yet, and with very little change. What made it memorable is that his girls, attired in homespun dresses, with shabby bonnets, home made, and having on home made cotton gloves chopped cotton. This was remarkable because I know of only one other white family of whose girls worked on the farm.

The next house was that of Mr. Wiley Nobles. This house now stands in the bend of the road and is used as a tenant house by Mr. Clark. Mr. Nobles was quite a character. He was a doctor, a preacher and farmer. What impressed me as a child was his peculiar rail fence. It consisted of one long rail about sixteen feet and a short one of about six feet, and the fact that he had on at least one occasion, driven a yoke of oxen to his surry to church.

The next house belonged to Mr. Japheth Tyson, who had a large scuppernon grape vine near his house and passers-by could stop and get as many grapes as one could eat, if willing to pay them for five cents. This farm was exceedingly poor and continued to be poor until the introduction of kaint as a fertilizer. Since then it has been a fine farm.

The White Briley house at Ballard's Cross Road was a small single story house near the road. Mr. Briley went to Greenville and bought a nice white shad, and as was the custom, took several drinks of liquor. To his wife he remarked that he had bought a shad and that she always had a PASSEL of shad to eat it all up. Mrs. Briley Howell, who was there to do some sewing for her, being as was supposed, asleep in an adjoining room bawled out: "You need not count me, as I shall not taste a mouthful of your old shad." Mr. Briley said: "I do not mean you PARTICULAR," Mrs. Briley.

The largest and finest house on the road belonged to J. L. Ballard, who had some bloodhounds to hunt runaway negroes. Ballard was on his property two or three times before and after the war. Some deserters burned one or two of his stores because they thought Ballard had reported on them while they were in hiding. One thing that impressed me, he always had cotton unplucked in his field after Christmas. Mr. Ballard was a rabid secessionist, but kept out of the war because he owned over forty negroes.

WEAK, NERVOUS

Georgia Lady Could Not Sleep Nights, But After Taking Cardui She Was "Like a Different Person."

Come, Ga.—Mrs. C. H. Smith, of this place, related the following interesting experience:

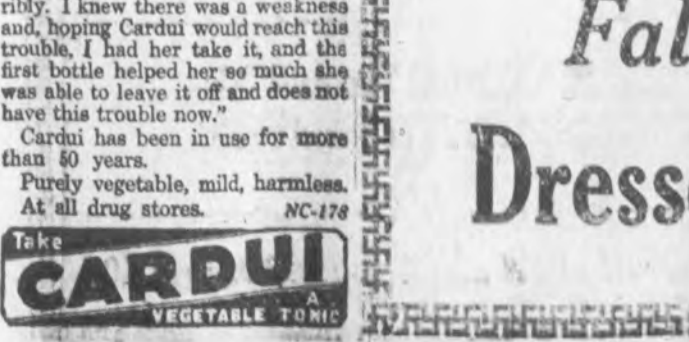

"I was weak and nervous and run-down. I couldn't sleep at night. I felt tired and not in condition to do my work. I had Cardui recommended to me, but always thought I could out do most sickness, but this was one time I needed help. I was so weak I could hardly lift my hand."

"I can't express how bad I felt. I know I improved after taking Cardui. I was like a different person. I was built up and was stronger and better than in a long time."

"I have a young daughter who had the flu, and after she got up she would once in a while have such severe cramping spells, just suffer terribly. I knew there was a weakness and, hoping Cardui would reach this trouble, I had her take it, and the first bottle helped her so much she was able to leave it off and does not have this trouble now."

Cardui has been in use for more than 40 years.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The cotton market was quiet today with prices under realizing or liquidation which appeared to be promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and talk of curtailment in some of the southern mills. March eased off to 19.20 and closed at 19.21, the general market closing barely steady at new declines of 17 to 21 points.

Putnam, closed barely steady, 17 to 21 lower.

Spot quiet, middling 19.65.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Despite considerable selling on the part of houses with connections nonwheat, wheat prices here averaged higher today. Unfavorable reports about domestic wheat prospects attracted general notice.

Wheat closed irregular 1-8 to 1-4, but lower to 1-8 advance; corn 1-8 to 3-8 up; oats 1-8 to 3-8 off and provisions varying from 12 decline to a rise of 7.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The "bull" movement in the stock market received unexpected impetus today from the announcement of President Coolidge that he saw no reason for unfavorable comment in the increasing volume of brokers loans. Early gains of one to five points were reduced, however, by profit taking and a resumption of bear selling following the further collapse of Greene Cannanea Copper, one of the recent pool favorites. Trading was in unusually heavy volume, the day's sales representing about 1,500,000 shares.

Operators working for higher prices also derived encouragement from the statement of William C. Bryant, automobile manufacturer and prominent stock market operator, who said he saw no reason for concern in the loan figures, and expressed the belief they would exceed five billion dollars within the next year.

Greene Cannanea Copper advanced three points to 147 1-2 in the early trading and then broke to 136. Radio Corporation fell from an early high of 101 around 100 and General Motors, U. S. Steel and numerous others followed a good part of their early gains. Christie Brown and Westinghouse Air Brake were added to the list of new highs.

The closing was steady.

NEW TOREADOR HATS
SPORTS VELVET KNOBS
Paris (AP)—Among the newest in millinery is a brimless felt inspired by the torador's cap and covered with tiny pompons about the size of a penny. Reboux is the originator of the model which is meant to be worn with a veil with a single velvet spot on it like a pompon fallen from the hat. The veil is worn with the spot effectively placed like a beauty spot.

may arise between them they will employ all Pacific means."

No explanation was contained in the note of the reasons which prompted the French government to restrict the effect of the anti-war covenant to wars of aggression.

"The government of the republic is convinced that the principles through us proclaimed cannot but be received with gratitude by the entire world," the note concluded, "and it does not doubt that the efforts of the two governments to insure universal adoption will be crowned with full success."

Air mail will soon reach farther than Mexico. The Associated Press says Britain's passenger liner R-100 will commence flights in the spring carrying 100 passengers, at $600 each and TEN TONS OF MAIL.

What would happen if a European airship, not British, should bring ten tons of TNT in place of mail, to New York or San Francisco?

The cruel young kidnaper and murderer Hickman, indicted yesterday for a second murder, hopes to escape conviction as insane. Experts can "prove" anything. Hickman has proved beyond doubt that he is a keen, intelligent, frightfully dangerous criminal. To let him escape, on any plea, would terrify millions of fathers and mothers, and multiply crime, which needs no increase in this country, by offering additional hope of immunity.

Prison for life, with no hope of reprieve, should be the punishment for such crime, sane or insane.

It was indicated yesterday that Governor Smith of New York, does not feel able to interfere with the execution of Mrs. Ruth Snyder.

Lawyers speaking for the condemned woman talked about "neuritis and psychosis" which Governor Smith said did not interest him.

The question is not one of technicalities, but government imitating a murderer by killing more ingeniously than murderers kill, and killing a woman.

One thing is certain, if the Governor were compelled to fasten a woman in the chair, throw the switch and see her die, the switch would not be thrown.
