LINDY TAKES DIVERSION IN PANAMA CITY

American Ace Goes Fishing and Hunting While Panama Honors French Airmen.

Panama City, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today deserted the Spirit of St. Louis for the rod and gun, while Panama feted two other celebrated airmen.

The French fliers, Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrun, who flew here from Guayaquil during the worst weather they have encountered in any of their flights, will fly to Caracas, Venezuela, in a few days as will Lindbergh. Asked whether they would go with Lindbergh, Costes replied that they had not been asked but would like to.

A rest period of three or four days is ahead of Lindbergh before he continues his flight. He will hide away at a hunting and fishing lodge at David, near the western end of the Isthmus, about 200 miles from Panama. The principal game of the region is deer and wild turkey. Members of the army pursuit group will accompany Lindbergh.

It took the French fliers nine hours and two minutes to cover the 900 miles between Guayaquil, Ecuador and Campo Lindbergh. Lindbergh had intended to meet them in the air but missed them. The Frenchmen, whom Lindbergh had met in Paris last summer, and the American finally met again at the municipal building where 20,000 persons assembled to cheer the three of the greatest airmen in the world.

Costes said the flight from Guayaquil was the worst they had made. They flew for a long distance through rain so dense that they could see nothing, he said, and though they mounted to an altitude of about 18,000 feet they did not find anything but clouds and fog.

Costes and Lebrun were given a dinner by President Quiros of Panama after the public welcome. They marched into the dining room to the tune of "Lindbergh in Panama" a song which is now popular here. They were given a loving cup almost two feet high. At dinner they sat beside the President, who speaks French, and he talked with them alternately. This was in contrast to the luncheon to Lindbergh, at which neither spoke more than a dozen words.

After dinner, Lebrun said they would fly to Bogota, Colombia, after reaching Caracas. Then they would return to Panama and continue northward to New York.

SING SING WARDEN GOES TO PALM BEACH TO REST HIS NERVES

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison was on his way to Palm Beach today for a ten days rest, his nerves shattered by the ordeal of the executions of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray Thursday night. He went on the advice of his physician, his secretary said. The warden has long been opposed to capital punishment.

His friends said he also expected because some one in the execution chamber took a photograph of Mrs. Snyder as she was in the electric chair. The photograph was prominently displayed in a pictorial newspaper.

CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATS BOOST GOVERNOR SMITH

Los Angeles, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Seventy-five Democrats attended a dinner here last night at which the Southern California campaign to advance the cause of Governor Al Smith of New York for Democratic nomination for President was launched.

The dinner formed the Al Smith Presidential League of California and the chairman was authorized to appoint an executive committee to direct the campaign for Smith in the state presidential primary next May.

Speculating with Anarchy

Buenos Aires, Jan. 14.—(AP)—A critical editorial on the Nicaraguan situation today said Secretary Kellogg "is speculating with anarchy in Central and South America." The paper advocated direct instructions by the Argentine government to its delegates at Havana to bring up the Nicaraguan question at the Pan-American conference.

Another Day to Live
Who Shaves Her Head?

At the last moment there was hope that Mrs. Ruth Snyder would have one more day to live just outside the little door that leads to the electric chair. That was not much of a favor, considering what goes on in a mind waiting to be killed. Yesterday morning you learned just what happened.

There is little difference between one day more of life, and an indefinite number of days, since we must all go through the door that leads out of the world.

It is the uncertainty as to date that makes death's certainty bearable. Everyone of us is condemned as certainly as Mrs. Snyder was. But we think little about it because no day is set.

One philosophical soul, sitting in California sunshine on the hill where this is written, says: "Ask them what they would do, if, like Ruth, they knew they had only one day more."

The answer would do nothing except worry, and pity themselves.

Much could be made of a last day, if you had the philosophy of old Socrates, setting a fine example, paying his debts. "We owe a cock to Esculapius," refusing a chance to live that he might show respect for law. Such a death is worth as much as any life, especially if you have a pupil like Plato to write about it.

A more interesting question is this: How can any human being be hired to get that woman ready for her killing, and then kill her? The crown of her head must be shaved, to let the deadly, wet electrode press tight to the scalp. What man or woman is found willing to shave the head of the screaming, struggling woman?

Who, for pay, consents to cut away the woman's dress, baring the calf of the leg for the other electrode? The horrible current is sent into the brain, down through the

MARINES OFF FOR MANAGUA

Plane Took off From Miami Today on last Leg of Flight to Nicaraguan War Area.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 14.—(AP)—In a three motored Pooker monoplane obtained for use by marines for use in Nicaragua, Major L. M. Bourne and two flying mates took off here this morning at 5:35 o'clock eastern standard time on a projected 1,200 mile hop over water and rough country for Managua, Capitol of the central American country.

With the map on this second leg of their air trip from Washington and Lieut J. E. Plachta, Radio man and relief pilot, and Sergeant B. F. Belcher, machinist. The trio landed the ship here Thursday afternoon after an uneventful ten hour non-stop flight from the national caual.

After an hour's delay because of the rolling mist, the plane took off through a heavy fog and was lost to sight, by the cluster of people who watched its start, after it had gone about 300 yards down the runway. Major Bourne decided against further delay in order not to cut his daylight flying hours short, despite the prospect of a practically blind take-off.

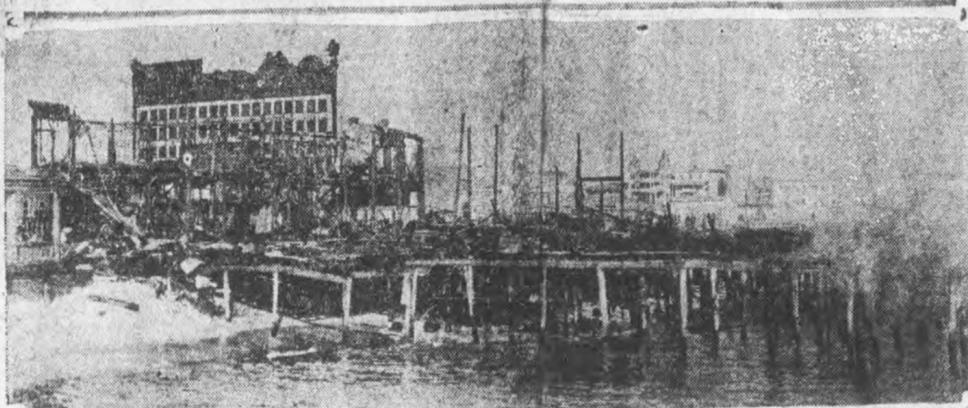

"We have 3,300 feet of available runway and should clear the ground in 2,500 feet," said the officer. "I don't necessarily have to see it clearly, and we do have to go."

Clear stars and a bright half moon overhead showed that the mist was shallow. Perfect conditions with light northeast winds all the way indicated in weather reports gathered by the tropical Radio Company from stations along the route who had arranged to watch the plane's progress.

Major E. H. Brainerd, chief of marine aviation forces, recently attempted a similar flight to Managua but was forced to make one stop at Toluca, Honduras.

URGE FARMERS TO HURRY AND SELL TOBACCO

Greenville Market to Probably Close for The Season on January 27th.

Season's sales on the Greenville tobacco market were today given as 50,656,778 pounds in the weekly report made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade. The total amount paid out by the market was $14,383,389.38. The average price was $23.71.

For the week just closed the market sold a total of 230,766 pounds of leaf for a total sum of $39,797.47 at an average price of $17.07 per hundred pounds.

Friday's sales were estimated at 67,370 pounds for $14,993.33 at an average of $17.16 per hundred pounds. The report stated that the market would probably close January 27, and in view of this fact growers were urged to market the remainder of their crop as hurriedly as possible.

It was also stated the price situation had shown a marked improvement since the closing for the tobacco season. Good grades of tobacco especially are in demand and prices have been exceptionally fine.

Hardy's Heart To Be Interred At Dorchester

Dorchester, Eng., Jan. 14.—(AP)—In the early morning mornlight on Dorset's Windesore Downs the body of Thomas Hardy—except his heart which Essex keeps forever—was taken away today for cremation preparatory to burial in Westminster Abbey, Monday.

Hardy's heart will be buried in a bronze casket in the grave of his first wife beneath the spreading branches of an ancient Yew tree. The graves of his parents and grandparents are nearby.

The service at Stinsford will be a simple village burial and will take place at the same time as the burial at Westminster Abbey and the memorial service at St. Peters in Dorchester.

Chamberlin Fails To Establish New Endurance Record

Mitchell Field, Jan. 14.—(AP) Clarence Chamberlin's second attempt this week to establish a world's duration flight record failed today.

The plane landed at 2:04 p. m. It would have been necessary to have remained in the air until 3:24 p. m. to beat the record held in Germany.

The fliers took off from Roosevelt field, adjoining Mitchell field, at 10:12 a. m., on Thursday. Almost from the moment they left the ground their flight had been fraught with intense physical hardship, loss of fuel because of leaks in their oil and gasoline systems, trouble with the dials of their flying instruments, and unfavorable weather.

The fliers also failed to make an American record, although they had bettered the headmark of 31 hours 11 minutes and 25 seconds at 1:23 p. m. Under the regulations it is necessary to remain in the air for at least an hour after the old record. That time would have been at 2:23 p. m.

President Coolidge and Party Bound for Havana for Pan-American Confab

President Coolidge's Special Train En Route to Keywest, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Traversing a section of the United States entirely new to him, President Coolidge journeyed southward today to Keywest where he will board the battleship Texas to convey to the Pan-American congress at Havana a message of good will and international cooperation.

Accompanied by a party of prominent Americans including members of his cabinet, the President with Mrs. Coolidge sped during the night through the Carolinas and Georgia into Florida, with a stop at Jacksonville, which was destination of Secretary Davis of the Labor Department.

He was due late today at Miami, the only formal stop of the trip south, where he had agreed to motor through the city and visit points of interest. The night will be spent at Keywest, where the President's special will be shunted off into a quiet place until Sunday morning when he will embark on the Texas for the crossing to the Cuban Capitol.

As the train moved south the President and Mrs. Coolidge took an interest in historic spots of revolutionary and Civil war fame through which they passed. Although no big crowds met the special where it made operating stops, there were some who learned that the President was passing through their part of the country in spite of the fact that the itinerary had not been published previously. To these Mr. Coolidge gave a greeting in reply to their applause.

The largest crowd of the trip through the Carolinas and Georgia was at Rocky Mount, N. C., where the railroad line passed through the heart of the business section.

During the trip Mr. Coolidge found occasion to visit with some of the members of his party. Shortly after leaving Washington he conferred briefly with Secretary Kellogg and later after a nap he saw Charles Evans Hughes who will be the head of the American delegation at the Havana congress. At meal time, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge mingled in the dining car with all of the members of their immediate party which in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg, and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, including Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur Ambassador and Mrs. Henry P. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan J. O'Brien, New York, Dr. and Mrs. Ames Brown Scott, of Washington, and Dr. and Mrs. Ray Lyman Wilbur of California.

Indication of the warm welcome to be extended the President and Mrs. Coolidge upon their arrival in Havana was given them in the Dillon Station at Washington where the Cuban charge d'affaires and his staff had come to bid bon voyage. The President stopped to chat with the charge for a few moments informing him that he was eagerly looking forward to his first visit to a foreign country as President.

At the end of his journey southward there awaits for Mr. Coolidge a personal appearance before the representatives of nearly all the nations of the Western Hemisphere, to deliver assurance that the United States stood ready to face common problems on all equal footing with all nations of the world.

J. Frank Harrington Is Installed As President Of Greenville Kiwanians

J. F. Harrington, clerk of Superior Court of Pitt county, was formally inducted into the office of president of the Greenville Kiwanis club at the regular twice-a-month session of that organization held at the Rotary building here last night.

Ceremonies attending installation were marked by the utmost simplicity and were witnessed only by members of the club. Mr. Harrington succeeds W. H. Woolard, vice-president of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company, who has served the club for the past year.

The session last night was featured by the singing of the usual Kiwanis songs, supper, and reports of the various committees. Considerable time was consumed in the hearing of these reports, many of which gave detailed description of functions of important departments of the organization.

The financial report of George Woodward showed the club to be in thriving condition. This report gave in detailed figures of money contributed for benevolent purposes and to civic development of the city.

The report of Dr. M. B. Massey, chairman of the entertainment committee, gave a brief resume of the year's activities of his department. It indicated that each meeting of the club had been interesting and that the varied programs had furnished more than usual pastime.

J. L. Starkey, chairman of the grievance committee, received an appeal to be living up to the slogan "We Build," and that the outlook for the future was very promising. In vacating the chair in favor of the new president, Mr. Woolard told the Kiwanis he had enjoyed serving them as their chief executive. He expressed keen appreciation of the co-operation and support which had been accorded him throughout his administration, and said he believed the future held forth great possibilities for the club. He presented the incoming president with a brand new gavel, which, he said, had been purchased on a trip to a Kiwanis convention in Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. Harrington declared he appreciated the high honor conferred upon him by the club membership and pledged his untiring service in advancement of the ideals of the organization. He said he realized the responsibilities resting upon him and would do everything possible to express appreciation from the chair when he announced that members of his committee had been inactive the whole year because of the fact that there had been no grievances to receive their attention. He reported the membership able to carry on into a great and successful future.

It was announced that the next meeting would be ladies' night and members of the club were urged to bring their wives and sweethearts along to make the occasion one of the greatest since the last time the ladies were entertained. "Jules Brazil, nationally known entertainer, will be one of the high lights of the occasion, and is expected to furnish his usual splendid program of comedy.

Other officers who began service last night were R. C. Deal, vice-president; W. H. Woolard, district trustee; C. B. Rowlett, secretary and treasurer. The following standing committees were appointed for the present year: Program: Ed Griffin, chairman; (Continued On Page Six)

Troops Ordered To Mobjack Bay Oyster War Area

Richmond, Va., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Two additional units of the Virginia National Guard will be ordered immediately to proceed to Gloucester County to aid in preserving peace in the Mobjack Bay section where illegal dredging is threatening an "Oyster War" Governor Harry F. Byrd said today.

The Governor was in conference with high officials of the National Guard shortly before noon to decide what troops would be ordered out. Company K of the 183rd infantry Norfolk was ordered out late yesterday and was to board the Commodore Mury, flagship of the state oyster fleet at noon, for transportation to Mobjack Bay, just north of the mouth of York river.

PLAYED JAZZ AS HE KILLED LITTLE GIRL

William Edward Hick- man Makes Another Confession in Con- nection with Crime.

Los Angeles, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Another statement of motives in the kidnaping and slaying of little Marian Parker has been added to the already bulky collection of confessions penciled by William Edward Hickman.

The latest document was scribbled yesterday by Hickman in the presence of one of his attorneys, one for the prosecution and the county jail physician.

It immediately drew fire from the prosecution camp, representatives of the district attorney's office hailing the new work of Hickman's pencil as a defense plan to tear holes in the wall of confessions previously made by the young slayer.

In telling of the dismemberment of the body, Hickman added a new bit of his previous stories, writing: "I played a jazz record in the bathroom during the crime and I don't think it was a cold blooded murder."

Throughout his new confession Hickman wrote of a "kind of providence," which he declared directed him in what he called "this terrible crime."

"If they had hindered me I would have done it, namely, kill my mother or anyone else who stood in my way because they stood in the way of this providence which was intending this," Hickman wrote when asked if he ever had threatened his mother. And later he added: "In the pursuit of this great calling the murder of my own mother would be only incidental. The life of one person is no value when the property and lives of millions of people is to be considered."

NAVAL COURT HEARS BRUMBY

Rear Admiral Testi- fies About Salvage Op- erations of Sunken Submarine.

Boston, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Near the end, apparently of its investigation into the facts of the sinking of the submarine S-4 the Naval court of inquiry turned today to the testimony of Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby, who was directed to rescue and salvage operations off Provincetown.

The Commander of the control force arrived at the navy yard late last night to be the day's first witness.

His presence resulted from an extension by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur of the scope of the court's investigation which originally concerned the crash only but later was expanded to include a survey of the rescue and salvage work.

The court yesterday heard of considerable length the views of observers whom it placed aboard the Naval destroyer Monaghan and the submarine S-4 a sister ship of the shattered craft in a re-enactment of the circumstances of the tragedy at Provincetown.

The observers testimony supported that previously offered in behalf of the officers of the destroyer Paulding, which ramed the S-4, that it would have been difficult for a destroyer similarly placed to have sighted the submarine in time to avoid a collision.

HAVANA READY FOR OPENING OF PAN MEET

Officials Arrest two Agiators on Eve of Pan-American Con- ference.

Havana, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Cuba was apparently determined today to provide a harmonious atmosphere for the meeting of the pan-American conference opening Monday.

Two Russians, giving the names of Alexes and Fabal, were arrested by Cuban police. They came here from Mexico, Jan. 9. Police asserted the Russians had plans to carry out an agitation during the conference sessions. It was intimated that this included an effort to create a disturbance when President Coolidge arrives tomorrow afternoon aboard the battleship Texas.

Earlier, two Haitian leaders were refused permission to land at Santiago. The Haitians, Dr. Pierre Hundecourt and Dr. Dales Bellegrave, belong to a faction opposed to President Borno of Haiti. The official announcement of the refusal of permission to land was that their passports were improperly visaed.

Delegates from 21 American republics will attend the session of the sixth international conference of American states, the official designation of the conference. The Agenda includes matters of inter-American judicial communication, economic and social problems. Dispatches from Bogota, Colombia, say that instructions have been sent Colombian delegates to remain neutral in case a discussion of American policy in Nicaragua arises. The Argentine delegation was instructed in case this question arose to reaffirm the declaration of Argentina's foreign policy for self determination and independence of the peoples of the Americas.

The discussion of judicial problems will be based on the report of the Commission of Jurists which met in Rio Janeiro last spring to make comparative studies tending toward uniformity in civil law, commercial law, procedure law and other branches of private law.

Other matters to be discussed are international aviation, automobiles and railway traffic and the organization of a technical commission to recommend the most effective means for the establishment of steamship lines to connect the Americas and elimination of unnecessary port formalities.

The opening addresses of President Coolidge and President Machado of Cuba will be made Monday. They will be broadcast. The suggestion of President Machado that business sessions of the conference be postponed until Wednesday was approved. The two-day delay was arranged to facilitate celebrations for President Coolidge. Monday will be a national holiday in honor of the visit.

DEMOCRATS TO BUILD $100,000 CONVENTION BUILDING AT HOUSTON

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The committee on arrangements for the democratic national convention at Houston, Tex., in June, today launched plans for construction of a $100,000 temporary building, in which the democratic nominee for the presidency will be named.

In announcing that he had wired the committee's decision to Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston, Chairman Jess H. Jones said that the temporary building would accommodate about 25,000 persons instead of the 5,000 which the present Houston auditorium can seat.

CLEARED OF PUTTING POISON IN MELONS

Elizabethtown, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The contention of M. S. Edge that someone had put poison in watermelons growing on his land in an effort to kill him has been accepted by a jury here, which cleared Edge of a charge of second degree murder growing out of the death of Charles F. Owen who ate one of the melons.

Edge was charged with the second degree murder when the state contended that he had placed stychnine in the melons in an effort to put a stop to the theft of watermelons from his farm. Owen and a woman companion are alleged to have pilfered one of the melons from Edge's patch, the former dying after eating it and the latter becoming violently ill.

The defendant's wife took the stand to testify that she had been seriously ill, presumably from the poison, about the time that Owen died.

Cupid Exhibits Certain Signs of Abnormality Here

The activities of little old Dan Cupid have been marked by considerable abnormality since the Christmas holidays. One day he swoops down on the community and sends six or seven couples to the office of the register of deeds to obtain licenses to marry, and the next day, or two or three days, he vanishes so completely that the affable register of deeds almost forgot there is any such character as a love god in the world.

Thursday and Friday Mr. Cupid hung around the environs of the city and county with such persistence whichever you like that five couples were inspired to take the nuptial vows. One of the couples was white, the remainder being of a dusky hue. They follow:

James Henry Boyd and Lela Allen, both of Greenville township.

Colored.

William Bell to Maude Jones, both of the Greenville community.

Pete Branson to Annie Tatum, both of the Farmville section.

Fred Evans to Mary Barnes, of Falkland.

James Willoughby to Margaret Hemby, both of Greenville township.

We have had several favorable comments on our recent editorial urging the building of some apartment houses here, but so far none of those who have dropped in to see us have signified that they are going to be one of the first to build. We are still hoping, however, that the time will not be long when some of our progressive citizens, who are in position to do so, will render this great service to the community and at the same time make a good investment for themselves by erecting the much needed apartment houses here.

SHOULD GO BACK TO EARLY OPENING

One of the items in our Twenty Years Ago column today again brings to our attention the fact that in former days the opening date of the tobacco market was early in August rather than September, as in the past few years, and experience has proven that the early opening date is certainly the most advantageous both for the grower and those engaged in the tobacco business.

Despite an effort prior to the opening of the last season to have the opening date advanced, the market did not open until September and the result was that for the first few weeks of the season there was a congested condition that cost the market a considerable amount of tobacco and cost the growers we believe much in the way of lower prices than there would have been had not the market been so glutted. When the matter was taken up with the United States Tobacco Association last season the answer was that arrangements for the opening of the markets of the east had been made and it was too late to move up the opening date then.

In the face of the realization that an earlier opening date for the eastern markets will be of great benefit to all concerned we urge that warehousemen and business men of the entire section get busy now with plans to urge an earlier opening date for next season and the seasons to come. Let's not wait long enough to be told again that arrangements for a later opening date have already been made. Now is the time to get the movement started if we want our tobacco markets opened in August instead of September.

ABOUT TOWN

"I have been deeply impressed by the spirit of comradeship existing among members of the Pitt County Medical Society," Dr. J. M. Baker, well known physician of Tarboro, told the writer of this column following the meeting of the organization in Farmville Thursday night. "With such a splendid spirit in evidence it is easy to believe this society may be numbered among the most progressive in the state. Each member apparently realizes the responsibility which rests upon him and is doing his utmost to live up to the demands of the moment. "May this society continue to feel an active interest in the welfare of the wonderful locality it is destined to serve."

"We expect the conference of the Fifth District Dental Society, which convenes in this city Monday morning, will be one of the best in years," Dr. Paul Jones, of Farmville, secretary-treasurer of the society, told the writer of this column today. "Our program contains the names of some of the most prominent members of the profession in this part of the country. They will have something of importance to say to every dentist and medical man during the one day the conference is in session and we are expecting a good crowd to hear them."

"This district embraces forty odd counties and we are expecting every single one to be represented. "Dr. Charles Laughinghouse, secretary of the State Board of Health, one of our own Pitt countyans, will be one of the speakers. He always has something timely to say and this occasion will be no exception."

"The time of the year approaches when farmers will burn tobacco beds, new ground and pastures, and they are urged to notify adjoining landowners before starting the fires," District Forester Sipe, of New Bern, said today while discussing efforts now under way to prevent further loss from forest fires in this particular locality. "There are now four hundred and fifty wardens under appointment in five counties. It is their duty to bring prosecution against any violator of the State Forest Fire Laws. It is the intention of the State Forest Fire Warden to stand behind wardens in such cases."

"That the Forest Service means what it says in this connection may be couched for by certain parties recently convicted in Greene and Lenoir counties, whose cases are now pending court action."

"Dr. W. M. Willis, of Farmville, will make the Pitt County Medical Society a good president," emphatically declared Dr. M. T. Prizelle, of Ayden, discussing the society meeting held in Farmville Thursday night.

"While comparatively a young man, Dr. Willis has seen extensive service in the medical field and is well equipped to serve this organization in an efficient and commendable way."

"Dr. E. T. Dickinson, retiring president, served us well during his administration and has a splendid record of service to look back upon. "It is my belief that the future is filled with splendid opportunities for members of this organization, who realize as no other set of professional men, that application of the Golden Rule is one of the cardinal virtues of life."

"Greenville people are urged to support those responsible for organization of the local baseball club for participation in the New Bright Belt League," enthusiasts remarked this morning.

"With proper support there is no reason on earth why Greenville should not lead off with one of the best teams in the league. We have always had the reputation of supporting baseball in real style, and it is hoped we will continue to live up to it this season."

"If you haven't subscribed for any stock in the club, get busy and do so immediately and help the team start off financially sound and solid."

"Reports of the various church societies of the city indicate that members have been doing some mighty effective work during the past year," a reader of the Reflector remarked this morning.

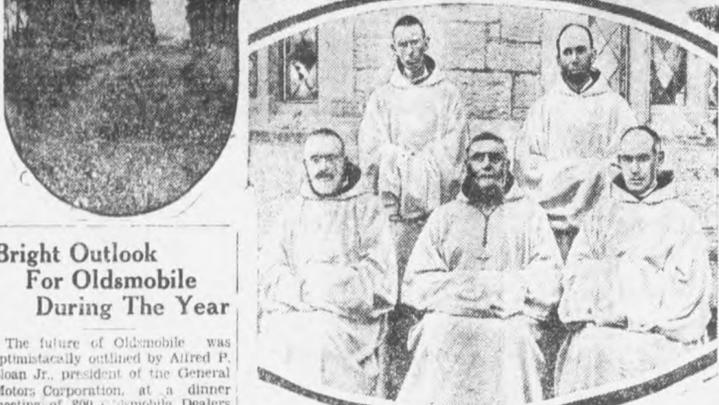

"This is especially so of the women's organizations. They have been able to establish a most commendable record and it is indicative of a splendid spirit of co-operation existing among the various memberships."

"With this condition prevailing the future bids fair to witness even more pronounced development than in the past."

"They have my best wishes for continued success for I believe their labors constitute the foundation of life of the community."

MONKS DWELL IN SILENCE IN IOWA ABBEY

Bright Outlook For Oldsmobile During The Year

The future of Oldsmobile was optimistically outlined by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, at a dinner meeting of 200 Oldsmobile Dealers recently at the factories in Lansing, Michigan. Mr. Sloan emphatically stated that the real sources of General Motors were back of Oldsmobile and that the corporation officials attached great importance to the success of this division.

A prosperous 1928 was predicted by Mr. Sloan for the automotive industry. He declared that the purchasing power was present and that barring some unforeseen catastrophe a splendid business should be done. "I think that general business is going to be good," said Mr. Sloan. "It must be fairly good to have the above prediction come true. As a matter of fact I cannot see any reason why it should not be good."

"Of course, it is a presidential year but there are no important economic questions before the country and it does not seem likely any will arise, and that being the case I do not think the upset of the election that usually results from presidential election that usually results from presidential election will be material."

The Oldsmobile dealers present were from Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, northern Illinois, northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Previous to hearing Mr. Sloan they had been informed of the 1928 Oldsmobile plans by President I. J. Reuter and vice President and General Sales Manager D. S. Eddins. The dinner was part of a two-day program which included a presentation of sales, service and advertising plans of 1928 and a trip to the General Motors Proving Ground.

Mr. Sloan reviewed the Oldsmobile plans for 1928 and declared that they should result in an exceptional year for the entire Oldsmobile organization. He praised Mr. Reuter and Eddins as representing a management upon which Oldsmobile could build a super-structure of greater business. Regarding the position of Oldsmobile in the General Motors Corporation, Mr. Sloan said:

"I wish to impress on you Oldsmobile dealers, as well as General Motors dealers and upon the public that the purpose of General Motors is to offer to the public a complete line of fine motor cars. The Oldsmobile position in that scheme of things is a very important position. It is important not only because it is absolutely essential that General Motors should be represented effectively in that line but it is most important that particular position should be developed in the strongest and most effective way possible."

To Chronicle Yankee

Emil Ludwig, world-famous biographer, has arrived in New York and announces that his next volume will have for its subject one of the most prominent Americans.

In a monastery on the banks of the Mississippi near Dubuque, Iowa, 39 Trappist monks dwell simply and by the rule of silence. A group of them is shown below. Above at the right is the chapel of the abbey, built more than half a century ago. At the left is a shady walk in the monastery grounds.

Peoria, Iowa, (AP)—Not far from the twentieth century lights of Dubuque, a group of mediocrally-clad men live by the rule of silence as conceived in the hope of St. Robert in the eleventh century.

They are Cistercian monks, known as Trappists, and their abbey is the New Mellary Abbey, sheltered in a cloister of nature's making, amid towering pines in the hill country near the Mississippi River.

In 1849 forty monks of the order came from Ireland at the invitation of Bishop Loras of Dubuque to establish a home in America. The Abbey has existed since then, its quaintness of medieval times untouched by the swirl of the world around it.

For years the membership was only 20—it is 30 now—but some months ago Father Columbell, now guest master, came from Ireland and he hopes to extend the work into the monastery houses from 100 to 200 choir and lay brothers.

The rule of silence is not absolute and the Trappists do not count it a hardship. They recite the office and have occasion, once or twice a day, perhaps, to speak to a superior. Their discipline permits them to speak only when necessary compels.

They follow a quiet life of prayer, labor, self denial, contemplation—and silence. "The choir members are the priests, and those studying for the Holy Orders and the lay brothers perform the more menial tasks."

The first group works from three to four hours daily in the fields and the lay brothers from six to eight. "On week days the monks rise at 2 a. m. and on Sundays at 1 a. m. They sleep seven hours a day in the winter and six in the summer in box-like stalls, stained dark about four feet wide, seven feet long and six feet high. Within each is a couch extending the length of the cubicle, with a mattress of straw."

The abbey, of time-stained stone in Gothic style, was built between 1828 and 1875. The visitors that swarm over the building are kept in a constant state of bewilderment. The home town boys who are making good in the capital escort many of these tourists through. Importantly they point out "who's who" timber about the halls.

"By the way there's old 'Hell and Maria' Dawes himself" one may exclaim casually. The visitors stop dead in their tracks. As their amazed gaze on the vice president, and he hurries into the Senate through a battery of eyes and exclamations.

Looking Backward

Items Taken From The Reflector Of Twenty and Thirty Years Ago

January 14, 1908 Greenville Third That Greenville should rank third in the leaf tobacco markets of the state is cause for congratulation and shows the importance of this market. The State Agricultural Department's report of sales for five months of this season August 1 to December 31, gives Wilson 11,625,925 pounds, Winston-Salem 8,705,411 pounds, Greenville 8,612,839 pounds.

A committee composed of Dr. Chas. Laughinghouse, J. F. Davenport and Wiley Brown, representing the chamber of commerce, went to Washington today to confer with Washington business men regarding the establishment of a boat line to Greenville.

Under the heading "Ayden Items" was the following: J. R. Turnage, accompanied by a number of relatives and friends, leaves here tomorrow for Kingston, where he will, that evening, be united in marriage to Miss Eva Moseley.

January 14, 1898 Among the locals: R. Williams and J. M. Reuss have returned from Oxford where they attended the Grand Lodge of Masons.

The first shad of the season was in the market today. The John Flanagan Euggy Company is ready to begin work. The old plant was destroyed by fire on the morning of December 17th entailing a loss of over $5,000 above all insurance.

Mesdames J. B. Cherry and W. M. Bond will sing a duet at the Methodist church tomorrow morning, "The Invisible Land."

REMNISCENSES OF PITT COUNTY

(By A. J. MOYE)

Mr. Moses T. Moye's place comes next. After graduation from Bethany College of Virginia, now West Virginia, he took one of his houses and made a school house of it—in which he was principal and teacher. This was not a free school but the room was full of students. Mr. Moye was a very rigid disciplinarian and used the switch much more frequently than is thought right for the neighbors. He made the old toll house his shoe factory. Mr. Lang, contrary to the general custom of the land owner, worked very hard and was able to get much work out of his negroes than his neighbors. Mr. Lang's consuming ambition was to make money, and when he died, about ten years ago, he had amassed quite a fortune.

He exemplified Franklin's motto: "Keep what you have got, and get all you can, is the sure road to wealth." Two stage coaches a day passed this way and this bus line was kept liberally patronized. They changed horses at the toll house.

Cupid Superstitious New York, Jan. 14—(AP)—Cupid is superstitious. The number of persons applying for marriage licenses on Friday, the 13th, was the lowest on record for one day—42. And only 13 couples were married.

Cubs Want Hornsby

Chicago, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Players or money or both are available for a trade for Rogers Hornsby if the Boston club would consider it, officials of the Chicago Cubs, said today, and some of the baseball experts went so far as to deduce from the non-committal answers of President William Veeck that an offer already had been made to Judge Tullis of the Braves.

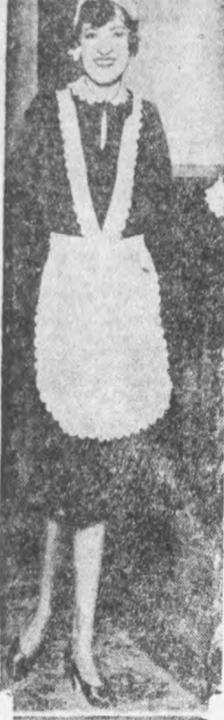

"The word that Boston could say would be no," was the answer of President Veeck to one question, whether it was regarded as futile to start negotiations for the star second baseman. "The Cubs will make any deal calculated to strengthen the team and he would like to have Hornsby."

Continues Judgment

Charlotte, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Entering a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of manslaughter, A. M. Gibson, building supplies salesman charged with the death of Miss Bettie Woodward when he wrecked his car in Huntersville last April, was granted a continuance of judgment in superior court here today upon condition that he pay the girl's mother $2,000.

The judgment may be enforceable any time if the defendant fails to observe the law, Judge Harding admonished.

FAILS TO SAVE LIFE OF BABY

Oxygen and Blood Transfusion Fail to Save Life of Infant At Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The 58 hour fight of six Chicago firemen and skilled obstetricians to keep life in the body of twelve-day old George Smith through artificial respiration and blood transfusion has failed.

The baby died last night just as the firemen and physicians were confident they had won. While out warning the little boy suddenly twitched and the heart stopped.

Snatching the infant from what seemed certain death last Wednesday, the workers used 55 tanks of oxygen, valued at $1,400, and the mother, Mrs. Joseph Smith, submitted to two blood transfusions in the desperate effort to save the baby.

When the baby was born, it was found to be suffering acutely from yellow jaundice. Saturday an operation was performed at the Smith home, but the baby failed to respond and appeared lifeless.

Several times the end seemed inevitable, but each time the infant rallied to the treatment of oxygen. Then the mother gave her blood. More oxygen was administered and again the battle appeared to have been won.

Georgia Man Tells How He Found Relief for Many Complaints by Using An Old Home Remedy.

Athens, Ga.—"I have been married 61 years, and am the father of ten children," says Mr. J. C. E. Weatherford, R. F. D. "A," this city. "About the best home remedy I have ever found is Black-Draught. I can't remember when we haven't used it in the family, giving it to the children for colds and minor ills where a laxative is needed.

"We must have used Black-Draught for 40 years, anyway, and in that time we have tried it for many complaints. I would have dull, stupid feeling, and my head would ache and when I would lean over, I would get dizzy. I found that a couple of doses of Black-Draught would relieve this. I used to have gas on my stomach, and would spit up grease. Black-Draught relieved this.

"It is just an all-round good medicine. Now that I am 72 years old, I have to take a laxative, and Black-Draught acts easy and gives me satisfaction."

In use for over 85 years. Costs only one cent a dose. NC-181 heart and spine, then out at the leg, below the knee.

What horrible prostitution of science to use it for such a shameful killing, in the name of civilization! What are the mental operations of the electrician, by whom the switch is thrown?

No wonder the Governor of New York regrets that he could find no reason, consistent with his oath of office, for letting the miserable woman live on, in life imprisonment.

Other religions have risen and fallen, shifted and changed. Luther's name, and Calvin's, once great powers in Protestantism, now represent only branches of the Protestant church.

But Rome and the Pope, stand where they stood 1000 years ago. Rome "stays put," admits no fundamental change. No possibility of improving what Rome declares to be eternal truth. Protestant churches, some near to Rome, some far from her, arrange a "get together, bury our differences, arrange our doctrines on a compromise basis" conference, inviting the Pope and his church to join.

The Pope's answer is: "No. Return to Rome, or remain outside of the only true church. What was true 1900 years ago, is true today." If you want to endure, as Rome has endured, map out a program, stick to it, and above all, let no one change it for you.

Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison favor Secretary Hoover for President, next time. They like men that get things done, and are capable of big planning.

If Hoover were President, there is little doubt that this nation would do some building worthy of the world's richest country. There is also no doubt that the backing of Ford and Edison, both a million miles from professional politics, would have great influence on public opinion and voting.

B. C. Forbes, who knows finance and men that manage it, says don't invest in tips. "Buy the stocks of companies headed by the ablest brains in America."

That is the best "stock tip" ever given, if you can identify the ablest brains, and then be sure that they are using their ability for their stockholders.

Some very able brains, years ago managed New York's subways and

There is, however, no doubt that the best investment is in human intelligence, and the moral side of big business has improved. Besides, honesty now pays bigger dividends than the other thing ever did.

Kilauea, earth's biggest active volcano, is active, spouting rock, fire and lava over the Hawaiian landscape. Natives believe that the goddess is angry, and before missionaries arrived to save them, and organize their sugar business, a few humans might have been thrown into Kilauea's fire pit, to pacify the divine anger.

Now we know that the volcano is one of the earth's safety valves, releasing surplus heat, building more land on an ocean too big. Some day, men will take the hint, tap earth's interior fires, releasing energy inexhaustible, harnessing volcanic force as they have harnessed the lightning, instead of fearing it.
