TROOPS STILL DOING DUTY ON MOB JACK BAY

Citizens of Gloucester County Awaiting Developments in Oyster War.

Gloucester Courthouse, Va., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Citizens of Gloucester county adopted a policy of patient waiting today as National Guardsmen patrolled the marshes near Severn Wharf and steamers loaded with soldiers cruised the water of Mobjack Bay to prevent a renewal of the "oyster war."

Reports traveled rapidly about the coast settlements and there was an undertone of excited interest in everything dealing with the situation. Members of the Gloucester Seaford Workers' Association, dependent Tongsers Organization, have requested Judge Clagett B. Jones to render a decision on the motion to dissolve an injunction restraining them from interfering with Frank W. Darling, Hampton Facker, in the operation of leased oyster grounds, it was reported today.

The injunction was granted to Darling in Norfolk and the motion for dissolution was argued several days ago before Judge Jones, the Tongsers holding the leases illegal. Judge Jones' decision was withheld following announcement that an agreement had been reached between Darling and the Tongsers, whereby Darling was to throw open certain acreages for tonging.

The Tongsers organization, with a membership of approximately 400, was to meet tonight and members predicted that resolutions condemning the act of lawless persons in firing on the state patrol boat Katie would be adopted. It was also anticipated by many citizens that Governor Byrd would be requested to withdraw troops from the section. Tongsers in Middlesex and Natchess county were reported in sympathy with the Gloucester water men.

Sheriff T. E. Hall, of Gloucester, commenting on the request from the governor that he appoint deputies to assist the National Guardsmen, stated that he considered this unnecessary. The sheriff said he was making every effort to determine the parties responsible for the firing upon the patrol boat Katie and that there was no need for soldiers, declaring that any depredations on the oyster grounds leased to Darling, which have been the subject of contention with independent Tongsers, would have to be made at night and that "a man on shore can't stop it or even know about it."

Commonwealth's Attorney David Lindsay, who disclaimed responsibility for the sending of the troops, said he told the governor that if troops were to be sent, more than one company should be detailed.

When They See Coolidge. When We See Mars. Miss Plotkin's Play. What Men Are Worth. (By Arthur Brisbane)

Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

President Coolidge has gone to meet the head men of other American Republics, in Havana. No more useful trip could have been undertaken by an American President.

There are differences in temperament and type between the blue-eyed man from Vermont and dark-eyed latins from South America. But men of all kinds, recognize each other's intentions. When they see and hear, President Coolidge, our neighbors will know that he is not planning to take anybody's land, or dominate any country or government beyond our boundaries.

And the proof is in Cuba, where the conference meets. That rich and beautiful island, taken from Spain by this nation, now belongs to the Cuban people. It would not belong to them had the Spanish been driven out by some one of the imperialistic nations of Europe. This country plans, through the Monroe doctrine, and with adequate naval and air force, to see that Europe's nations respect the rights of all North and South America, as we respect the rights of our friends in Cuba.

The General Electric Company gave a party in Schenectady and its guests, scientists and newspapermen, small groups in newspaper houses simultaneously saw and heard the performers in a radio program. That is important, not because it will permit crowds to see the face of broadcasting or singing person, but because it promises to future generations a view of faces and scenes on other planets.

Radio travels through ether. Either connects all suns and planets in space. The scientist of 2023 may hear the Martian talking his strange language and see his strange face—as different from our own type probably, as the face of

600 MARINES MOVE AGAINST GEN. SANDINO

Reinforcements Placed Along Strategic Points in Nicaragua War Area.

Bogota, Colombia, Jan. 16.—A private committee has been formed here to aid young men desirous of going to Nicaragua to enlist in the force of Augustino Sandino in order to "fight against armed intervention" by the United States in Nicaragua.

"Wol Tiempo" a local newspaper, discussing the Nicaraguan situation, asks the government to define the attitude to be taken by the Colombian delegates to the Pan American conference in case American activities in Nicaragua are discussed.

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Six Hundred American Marines were moving forward today to reinforce comrades aligned against the Rebel General Augustino Sandino.

Disembarked with airplanes, munitions and other supplies at Corinto, the reinforcements were taken directly from the port to points where they are needed most. The destinations of the reinforcements and the number in the various detachments into which they were divided were kept secret.

Major General John A. Lejeune, commander of the marines, and Brigadier General Logan Feland, came here from Corinto, where they landed with the reinforcements. They immediately conferred with Col. Louis Mason Culick, commander of the marines in Nicaragua, on the plans for the campaign against Sandino. General Lejeune came to inspect the marine organization while General Feland will re-assume the command, which he relinquished when he went to Washington.

A Giant three moped radio equipped Pooker plane was added to the marine armament. It was flown here from Miami, Fla., by Major L. M. Bourne.

President Diaz has been advised by his brother to resign from the office to which he was elected by the Nicaraguan congress after the arrival of the marines. The president has been a victim of malaria for some time. His family considers the strain of the coming election, in addition to the present strain brought about by the presence of American marines and political pressure too great for him, his brother, General Carmen Diaz, said.

If Diaz should resign the Nicaraguan consul at New Orleans, General Barolome Vignex, first designate Senator, would become president.

FARM MEASURE IS UP AGAIN

Revised McNary Bill Is Basis of Discussion in House, Committee Decides.

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The revised McNary-Haugen bill will be the basis of farm relief discussions by the House Agricultural Committee, it was decided today at the first meeting of that committee to consider the flood of farm proposals made in both House and Senate.

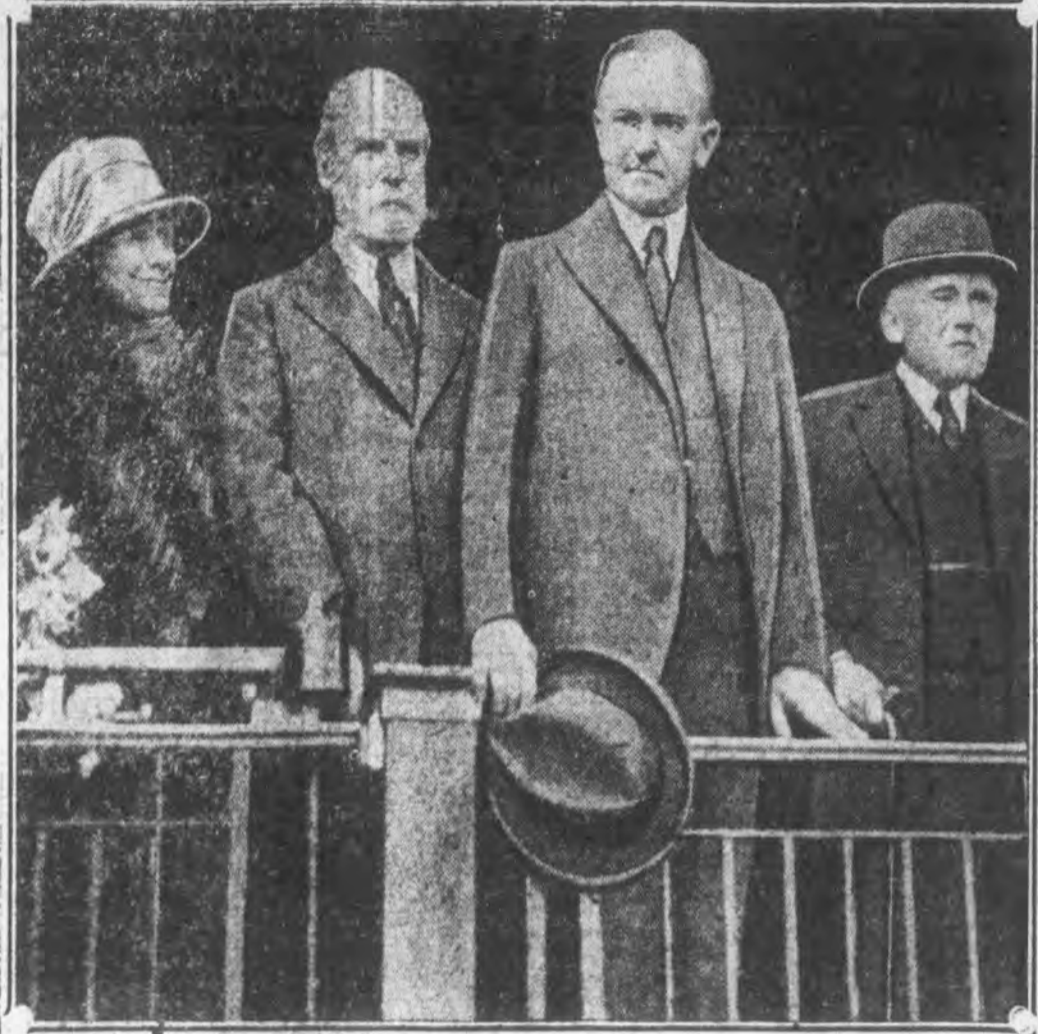

More to prevent a recurrence of previous extended hearings was made by Rep. Adkins, Republican, Illinois, who expressed the opinion that the committee could agree on a bill within a week. This sentiment was approved by other members of the committee with the suggestion that the present hearings be sharply curtailed by allowing to testify only those who had new ideas or suggestions for relief.

It was also suggested that priority be given to those who could explain to the committee why two important changes were made in the McNary-Haugen bill, especially relating to provisions giving the President blanket power in appointing members of the proposed Federal Farm Board.

The former bill authorized the President to select board members from lists of eligibles submitted by a farmers' nominating committee.

The other significant change in the current bill applies its relief features to all agricultural products instead of only a limited few.

LOWER RATES ON FERTILIZER HOLD IN COURT

Supreme Court Upholds Order of Corporation Commission Fixing Wilmington Rate.

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Order of the North Carolina corporation commission fixing lower state rates upon fertilizer imported at Wilmington and shipped to points in the state without having been placed in storage at the port were sustained today by the supreme court which affirmed the decision of the lower courts on authorities cited.

The Seaboard Air Line and the Atlantic Coast Line took the position that the fertilizer shipments reaching Wilmington from abroad were mostly transferred direct from the vessels to the waiting cars on the dock, and insisted that the commission had improperly held such shipments were intrastate when forwarded to points in North Carolina.

The state commission pointed out that the interstate commerce commission had lowered interstate rates to points in North Carolina on such shipments to the state rates, but contended that the commission should be sustained to prevent the railroads from bringing suits based on shipments made prior to the order of the federal commission.

Negro Attempts To Drag White Girl From Bed

Morganton, N. C., Jan. 16.—County officials of Burke county and neighboring section sections today were pushing their search for a negro who attempted to drag a young white girl from her bed and attack her early last night. The attempted assault was frustrated when screams of the girl and her mother frightened the marauder away.

Tense feeling evident last night when a crowd of 200 gathered to aid the sheriff in his search, had subsided somewhat today and the burden of the manhunt was resting with the officers.

The deputies were furnished with a meager description of the negro, who, the girl said was "big, burly black". He had evidently entered her room while she was at church, she said, her clothes were torn in the scuffle with the negro and she was suffering from nervous shock this morning.

Available descriptive details were furnished officers of neighboring counties who have been asked to aid in the search.

Coolidge Makes Speech of Good Will in Opening Pan-American Congress

Havana, Cuba, Jan. 16.—(AP)—In a speech keyed to the note of international confidence, helpfulness and goodwill, President Coolidge opened the sixth Pan-American Congress here today by urging the nations of the western hemisphere to join in the task of assuring to all its people the freedom that Columbus bequeathed to them in equal measure.

Journeying outside of his homeland for the first time since he became President, Mr. Coolidge spoke to the distinguished gathering not as the head of a pre-eminent powerful country but as the spokesman of a nation on an equal plane with her sister republics, trying to find a way to a peaceful solution of whatever problems beset their quest for complete understanding and friendship.

Without mentioning the League of Nations or the Monroe Doctrine, the President assured the Congress that the Pan-American Union "involves no antagonism toward any section of the world or any other organization," but at the same time declared that the nations of the Western Hemisphere are committed to the principle that they are "better fitted to govern themselves than any one else is to govern them."

"Mr. Coolidge devoted his whole address to the community aspect of new world affairs, rather than to the individual attitude and policies of his own country. The name of the United States was not once mentioned by the President except to give the assurance that his government was prepared to encourage the development of shipping, air lines, highways and all pursuits of peace that might bring the various units of the American family of States into a closer and more permanent harmony."

He declared there was no intention in this hemisphere of any nation building up a great military establishment to over-awe or subjugate its neighbors, and enunciated the doctrine that all nations of this hemisphere are determined to adjust their differences "not by a resort to force but by the application of the principles of justice and equity."

"All nations here represented," Mr. Coolidge said, "stand on an exact footing of equality. The smallest and the weakest speaks here with the same authority as the largest and the most powerful. You come together under the present condition, and future expectation of profound peace. You are continuing to strike a new note in international gatherings by maintaining a forum in which not the selfish interests of a few, but the general welfare of all, will be considered."

Contending that the nations have been charged with the sacred trust of establishing and expanding the spirit of democracy, the President said that although false starts and disappointing reactions will develop, the American republics have placed their confidence in the ultimate wisdom of the people.

Chicago Students Visit Night Club; Held For Inquiry

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Seventy school boys and their school girl companions many of whom said they were visiting a night club for the first time in their lives, found themselves today the center of an inquiry revolving around a federal prohibition raid early Sunday on the club Bagdad.

Blanket denial that there was any drinking by their party while at the night club was made by the students following the announcement of William J. Bogan, acting superintendent of schools that he would conduct a search investigation today.

The raid was led by deputy prohibition administrator Jamie Several bottles labelled "gin" were confiscated, the agents said.

Mr. Bogan said that if the facts were as reported to him, he would cancel "every seminar from now scheduled. This is shameful and disgraceful," he added.

KIDWELL ON STAND AGAIN IN OIL CASE

Talkative Teapot Dome Witness Testifies in Behalf of Government.

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., talkative Teapot Dome oil juror, resumed the witness stand in the Sinclair-Burns criminal contempt proceeding today, testifying for the government despite the announcement of the prosecutor that he intended to prove Kidwell violated his jury oath in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial.

James J. O'Leary, assistant district attorney, charged by Kidwell with intimidating him, continued the examination, seeking to bring out that Kidwell, during the trial, had watched nearly every move made by Harry F. Sinclair. The witness admitted he had seen the oil man arrive and stroll about the lawn at lunch and had watched how he conducted himself in court. He also contradicted parts of reports of Burns detectives who shadowed the juror.

Sinclair, whose absence last week caused a clash between O'Leary and Sinclair's counsel, Martin W. Littleton, was in court today. He had been excused to go to New York last Thursday.

SEEK FOUR IN MURDER ISSUE

Leader of "White Diamond" Band of Thieves Found Strangled to Death in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The "White Diamond" murder mystery as the police now speak of the Betty Chambers case, hinged today for its prospective developments upon the apprehension of two men and two women.

The police want to question Gordon Chambers, who lived for a short time with the slain woman as her husband; Joseph Miller and a "Marion" believed to be his wife; and a girl chum of Mrs. Chambers known as "Rosa."

Chambers, Miller and "Marion," the police theory holds, were present in the Betty Chambers' north side apartment at approximately the time of her death by strangulation or by the use of tape placed over her mouth and nose. One or all three, the investigators suggest, may have been present when the woman was killed.

"Rosa" who has vanished as completely as the other three, was a frequent caller at the Chambers' apartment.

NEW SCHEDULE FREIGHT RATES NOW EFFECTIVE

Classified Shipments and Less Than Carload Commodity Rates Involved in Ruling.

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—New schedules of rates on classified freight shipments and less than carload commodity shipments from, to and between all points in the southeastern quarter of the United States are now in effect, as of January 15, by a recent order of the interstate commerce commission.

The key to the new rate system has been laid down by the commission in a distance scale and railroads were notified to establish twelve classified freight ratings, based on the values of commodities, offered. As a result they have filed several millions of new rates.

The classifications correspond roughly to those long recognized in rate making. The tabulated scale under which the new schedules are made fixes a charge of 34 cents per hundred pounds upon first class shipments, which charge drops for the same distance to 13 cents for sixth class shipments and to 6 cents for 12th class shipments, with proportionate amounts for intermediate classes. For a 200-mile distance, the charge becomes $1.01 for first class; 40 cents for sixth class and 18 cents for 12th class. For 700 mile shipments, the charge is $1.24, first class; 74 cents, 6th class and 32 cents 12th class. For 1,500 miles, the charge is $2.23 first class; $1.13 sixth class and 60 cents 12th class.

These mileage scales, when settled upon, however, failed to settle the problem for the commission was further required to consider how it would treat shipments into and out of the south. Whole stacks of rate experts labored over this question and finally submitted that results could only be reached by assuming the same country into a series of sections for rate making purposes, out of and into which southern rates were to be figured by use of differentials and "key rate" standards.

The new rate schedules were the outgrowth of an investigation begun in 1923 by the interstate commerce commission and a series of hearings following a preliminary decision in 1925, which was amended on the showdown of various interested shippers and carriers.

Shippers and carriers agree that only a test of the rates now prescribed will reveal all the effects the revised schedule will have, although it is generally believed that the new arrangement will mean a large saving to shippers in the southern territory.

To Award Lindy Trophy For Best Flyer in World

Paris, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh is the world's champion birdman for 1928, in the opinion of the International League of Aviators, which today decided to award him the international trophy which went to Pelletier Dolsy, the French flyer, last year.

The league also awarded for the first time, an international trophy for women fliers, Lady Abe Bailey being the recipient.

Lady Abe Bailey obtained her aviation certificate in 1916 and has been prominent in British aviation for some years. She has been particularly interested in trying for altitude records. She entered the King's Cup Aerial Derby in July, but was forced out by engine trouble.

Hunt Wolves From Air

Langdon, N. D., (AP)—Wolf hunting from an airplane is a new sport here. Dr. D. J. Hudson of Langdon, on a flight, spotted a wolf in the timber below, crashed above the animal until it reached an open field and bagged it after twelve shots. Other hunters are trying the sport.

DODGERS HOPE TO COP FLAG THIS SEASON

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Willie Robinson, 61-year old manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, hopes to have something besides a pitching staff to keep him in the race for the 1928 National League pennant.

Consistently brilliant hurling exhibitions by the Dodgers well-balanced staff went for naught last season because the team could not hit and the infield left something to be desired from a fielding viewpoint. Time and again the aces of the mound corps held the opposition to a run two only to lose the verdict because the scoring punch necessary to cash in on these performances was lacking. The Dodgers finished last in the league in both fielding and batting. Harvey Hendrick was the lone Brooklyn representative in the more or less sected 300 circle.

Rendered desperate by the impotent bats of his charges, Robbie reached into the minor leagues and grabbed Del Bissonette, International League slugger, Harry Riconda of Milwaukee, and Al Tyson, of Buffalo, in addition to getting Dave Hancock, former manager of the Boston Braves, to give his wobbly infield some much needed steadiness.

With Vance, Petty, Doak, Elliott, McWeeny, Ehrhardt and Clark to call upon, Robinson is assured of as good pitching as any manager in the league will get. The first string catchers "Dutch" Henline, Charlie Mangravate and Hank Deberry, Vance's sidekick, generally are rated as the best receiving corps in the circuit.

The outfield, too, seems to be pretty well taken care of by Hendrick, Max Carey, Arnold Stutz, Max West, a recruit from Waco and Tyson, who has seen service with the New York Giants.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Without the necessity of lifting a finger in his own behalf Jack Dempsey stands out more prominently than ever as the main heavyweight title threat for 1928.

Agony though the Marnes mauler may be, critics still place him head and shoulders above any of the present crop of contenders.

At their present rate most of the other heavyweights, aspirants, experts think, will have eliminated themselves by spring unless there is a startling reversal of form.

On their latest showing, neither Tom Heeny nor Jack Sharkey, picked as two of the outstanding contenders can be ballyhooed into a title match.

Of the others, Jack Delaney, if he can get over his tendency of being an in and out, looks as the most likely candidate for the big shot.

If Tunney is to have two championship bouts it would seem now that Delaney has a good chance of being one of the title holders opponents, with Dempsey figuring in the other clash.

The Boston Braves may be spurred to some more miracle stuff this year by the acquisition of Rogers Hornsby.

It has been 14 years since the Cubs' national league team upset all the dogs by winning the pennant, but the ex-Giant Captain may provide the punch and playing spark needed to make the Braves again a real contender, just as Rabbit Maranville did in 1914.

They have a good twirling staff and at least three stars, ex-Giants, who would like nothing better than to wreak a little revenge on the mighty New Yorkers. Kent Greenfield, right handed pitching sharpshooter, is one of the members of the anything-to-beat the Giants club. Around second base Hornsby will renew working relations with Eddie Farrell, where the pair left off in the Giant infield last spring.

The Giants have sold, traded or released several platoons of players in the last quarter century of John McGraw's regime but Hornsby is the first to be let go for talking too much out of turn, as the owners seem convinced he did.

McGraw has always leaned to the trident type, such players of the McGraw school as Larry Doyle, Buck Herzog, Art Fletcher, Earl Smith, Heinie Zimmerman, George Kelly, Ross Young and others always were ready for a debate any time. By comparison with many of them Hornsby was a spunk on the field at least.

LEWIS AND WARREN HURRY IN BATTLE

Raleigh, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Lewis-Warren heavyweight fight here last week which turned out to be a fifth round technical knockout victory for the Chapel Hill collegian, resulted in serious injuries for both participants, it was pointed out today.

Frankie Lewis suffered a broken hand and has gone to his home in Morehead City to rest.

Add Warren received a broken finger and said he would be out of action for at least five weeks. He is in Chapel Hill at training headquarters.

BODY PUNCHING IS A LOST ART, SAYS HALEY, VETERAN REFEREE

Patsy Haley, who was a great little bantamweight in his fighting days, says Kid Lavigne was the best body-puncher he ever fought against. Fitzsimmons, discoverer of the solar plexus, he puts in a class by himself. Leo Lomski, who slugged Tommy Loughran to the floor twice in one round recently, Haley calls the only real body-bruiser in the ring today. Patsy passes up Dempsey on the ground he is a "hooper."

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, (AP)—Body punching is a lost art, according to Patsy Haley, tiny dean of New York referees, and there is a very definite reason for it.

In his day as a bantamweight fighter, the diminutive Patsy, now white-haired, but spry and lithe as the speediest of the present day crop, fought such rib crushers as Kid Lavigne, whom he termed the "best of them all," Oscar Gardner, Joe Gans, and Battling Nelson. And he learned about body punching from them.

"In those days," said Patsy as he perched at the Madison Square Garden ringside waiting to step into the ring as referee, "fifteen rounds was the routine distance and twenty the route for most fights. Body punching was necessary.

Says Strength. "Slugging to the midsection rarely took toll before the twelfth round or so. From then until about the seventeenth you could see a fighter being battered about the body gradually weakened until his strength finally was sapped and he was a 'finch' for a finishing smash to the head.

"There was one exception of course in Bob Fitzsimmons, 'Ruby Red.' Fitz never had to wait until the late rounds to 'take' them after due warning. He was the only man I ever saw who could fiddle around a bit with his left, make an opening and then paralyze opponents ranging from middleweights to heavyweights with a single body punch. But there are no more Fitzsimmons.

Fighting Now In Style. "Now things are different. Fighters go in to go ten rounds. The public wants the spectacular because fights are shorter and body punching has become unnecessary. Often you see one youngster land dozens of blows to the ribs in the early part of a round only to have his opponent get a left jab working, stick it into the other fellow's nose a half-dozen times, draw blood and win the round just on the plaudits of the fans.

"It's the flashy stuff that goes today—not the tough, rugged scrapping that the old timers revelled in. It's just a matter of 'grabbing the duke' and the easier the grabbing, the better."

In the past ten years, Patsy, who fought all the stars of two decades ago in the bantam and lightweight divisions while weighing only 115 pounds, has been but a half-dozen body punchers.

"With the sole exception of Leo Lomski, the light-heavyweight, there isn't a real body puncher in the ring today as measured by the old style, and that goes for Jack Dempsey, too. They just don't know how."

"Today you see them in their breaking punches to the body, bringing them up from the knees, with elbows standing out from the body. Naturally many blows go wild. There is a lot of fouling, and youngsters just coming up are scared to perfect the art.

"Now Lomski punches to the body the way the old timers did, stepping in with all his left behind the punch, elbow tucked into his ribs, forearm parallel with the floor, crushing straight to the heart. That's body punching. Dempsey is a great puncher, but a 'hooper' all the same and many of his punches have been questionable. There is never any howl of 'foul' when Lomski rams to the body."

Diegel Leading Long Beach Golf

Long Beach, Cal., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Leo Diegel, Fenimore Country Club professional, today was in possession of just one half of the Long Beach open golf crown and the accompanying purse of $1,250 after a three day links excursion during which he did everything from missing a six foot putt that would have given him the title, to walking through a plate glass window. Bill Mehlhorn, Wilkingsburg, Pa., was the co-winner.

From the opening play Friday until the last hole it was a tournament of ups and downs for Leo. The first 18 holes saw him well down on the list although his 73 was two over par. He went through the first round looking more like an accident victim than a golfer for it was just before play started that he had tried a shot out to the links through a heavy plate glass window. The ensuing crash and fall of glass resulted in cuts on both of Diegel's hands.

LOCAL CAGERS TO PLAY E. C. TUESDAY NIGHT

The high school basketball team of Elizabeth City will play Greenville high school at Gorman's warehouse here tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, according to announcement made this morning by C. W. Porter, director of high school athletics.

This is the third game to be played under supervision of the recently organized Northeastern Athletic conference, Greenville winning the first game from Farmville and dropping the second to Wilson.

Considerable interest is centered around the game tomorrow night. Mr. Porter said. Elizabeth City has one of the most formidable aggressions in the conference, and the locals are expecting the hardest fought contest of the season.

Lovers of the sport are urged to attend in large numbers and help the boys make it a two out of three score for the season.

Jack and Gene May Meet Again Early In Summer

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Revising his heavyweight championship status, Tex Rickard today revealed his intention of rematching Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey for a 15-round match at the Yankee stadium, in June or July, the winner to defend the title in September against one of five contenders.

These five are Johnny Risko, Pauline Peadar, Jack Delaney, Jack Sharkey and Tom Tunney.

In his program for two title bouts Rickard previously had planned to hold the Dempsey-Tunney match for a grand climax. He now feels, however, that Dempsey is a logical choice for the first bout.

The promoter has definitely decided on the Yankee stadium as a site for the first bout but is doubtful about the location of the second title match. Windsor, Canada, and Chicago are two cities in the bidding. The new elimination program for the "big five" still is unsettled but prospects are now that Sharkey and Delaney will meet in an early match while Risko faces either Paulino or Heeny.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, laryngitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

FURNEY MANLEY PAINTFULLY HURT LATE SATURDAY

Furney Manley, son of Mrs. C. M. Tolar, was painfully injured Saturday night when he was struck by an auto while riding a bicycle on Dickinson avenue. According to reports of the accident, the automobile came out to the avenue from a side street and the lad, not noticing its approach, struck it broadside, the impact throwing him to the pavement.

The negroes who were occupants of the car, stopped immediately and picked up the boy, and upon his instructions, carried him to Tolar's store. He was then carried to the doctor's office where it was found that, though painful, his injuries were not of a very serious nature. A report from the bedside today stated that the boy was on the road to recovery.

Splendid Crowd At Presbyterian Church Pageant

A beautiful pageant entitled, "There Shall Come a Star," depicting Biblical life from the days of Joseph to the birth of Christ, was presented by members of the congregation of the Presbyterian church last night. The new building was packed to capacity by an audience equally as appreciative as that the Sunday before when opening services were held in the recently completed structure.

Music was furnished on the new Pilscher pipe organ by Miss Mary Bertelet, of the East Carolina Teachers College. She was assisted by a choir composed of picked singers from various churches of the city. The choir was partly concealed from the audience by small pine trees placed between the pulpit and the choir loft.

Lines of the pageant were read by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the church, and members of the congregation, dressed in attire of the Biblical era they represented, appeared from time to time, lending a touch of reality to the scene.

The pageant represented a servant of God out among the hills at eventide, looking up at the stars of Heaven. While looking at the stars he sees in vision certain characters that will come up to the time of the coming of Christ. There are Jacob and Joseph, Ruth and Naomi, Naman's wife and little captured Jewish maid, and others.

Finally comes the birth of Christ. In all of these the servant sees that God has a purpose for every man, woman and child, including Christ, the Son of God. In the concluding part of the pageant an earnest plea is made for the consecration of life on the part of all the membership.

Cupid Still Busy In This Territory

Although mythology has not made any definite statement of fact in connection with the ancestry of Dan Cupid, mythical god of love, it is evident from his activities in the community since the Christmas holidays that he must be a direct descendant of some straggling tribe of nomadic love makers. The little fellow has appeared in different parts of the county with regularity since the holidays, and records at the register of deeds office indicate that he has enjoyed more than usual success in sending the amorously inclined to the altar.

Eight applicants applied for licenses Saturday, bringing the grand total for the month near the record established for the same month in 1927.

Huddle Owen to Miss Mollie Moore of Fountain.

ONE WAY TO BREAK IT UP

Now comes a report from Raleigh of a citizen killing a negro burglar who was attempting to effect an entrance into the citizen's residence. The night prowler who sneaks in under cover of darkness to steal and plunder gets his just deserts when he is greeted with a load of buckshot, and a few such receptions will have a telling effect toward breaking up night thieving.

The Raleigh incident was almost a repetition of an occurrence here a few weeks ago when a burglar was shot while attempting to escape from a local citizen's residence. It is to be hoped that these incidents will be sufficient lessons to would-be-burglars to cause them to abandon their intended profession, but if it is not, it is to be hoped that the citizens will continue to mete out such receptions to the prowlers as to convince them that burglarizing is a very dangerous and unprofitable business in this section.

JUDGE GRADY HERE

After an absence from this city for sometime, Judge Henry A. Grady today opened the January term of court here. Many important incidents in Judge Grady's career, including his defiance and exposure of corruption of the Ku Klux Klan and his unflinching nerve in upholding law and order by taking a most prominent part in frustrating an attempted lynching at Goldsboro, have occurred since the Judge last presided here.

His arrival here for the present term was greeted by a most cordial welcome and words of commendation from all sides from those who have not had previous opportunity to personally express their hearty approval of his actions in the two above mentioned cases.

ABOUT TOWN

"I don't believe I ever saw a more enthusiastic gathering of dentists than those here today attending the Fifth District Conference of the North Carolina Dental Society." Dr. Paul Fitzgerald, local dentist, told the writer of this column while attending the conference which opened at the college this morning.
"Over thirty counties in this section of the state are represented by the Fifth District Society, and I do not believe a single one failed to send delegates. Everybody seems to be enjoying himself and great good is expected to result from personal contact of the members.
"All of the addresses have been filled with things of interest to the profession and conveyed a most constructive atmosphere.
"It is to be hoped Greenville will have the honor of entertaining the distinguished visitors again in the near future. It is a privilege everybody is justly proud of."

"The coming of Julie Brazil to this city Friday, January 27 will be a most important event to members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club," said J. B. James, member of the club reception committee.
"Brazil will be one of the highlights of the Kiwanis ladies' night program. He is an entertainer of national reputation, and his coming to Greenville goes to show that the city is able to attract some of the best talent of the country.
"We are trying to make our programs of greater interest each succeeding year, and as the next meeting is the first of the new year, it looks like we are making a mighty fine start."

"The proposal to deepen Tar river so as to make it navigable to ocean going vessels should not be forgotten in the busy rush of daily life," E. G. Flanagan, one of the county's most hearty advocates of the plan now under consideration by army engineers, declared today.
"Opening Tar river to traffic would be one of the greatest things that has happened in this community in many a day. It would be a means of literally saving our business men thousands of dollars annually. New concerns naturally would come in and make Pitt county their headquarters.
"Henry Ford has already assured us that Greenville would become one of his greatest distributing points in this part of the state should water transportation be made possible.

"It is up to us as business men to keep this matter steadily in mind and not permit it to drop until something on an auspicious nature has been accomplished."

"The hog and hominy program," inaugurated by the Pitt County Department of Agriculture deserves the serious consideration of every farmer in this county," a member of the department told the writer of this column today.
"it is our intention of getting the farmer interested in extra money crops. There is nothing that will do this more quickly than the raising of hogs, cows and chickens."

"One of the latest confessions of William Edward Hickman, California youth charged with the murder of little Marian Parker, is to the effect that the crime was committed while a phonograph was playing a jazz record," remarked one of our readers today.
"Just what other confessions this criminal will make before his case actually goes to court cannot be said, but it is an assured fact that he is either demented or one of the most blood-thirsty, ruthless criminals the country has yet produced.
"I do not believe the courts should give much attention to the pleas of insanity in this case. Hickman has exhibited most remarkable mentality since his confinement in jail, and if he should not be convicted of the crime with which he is charged, there will be another grave miscarriage of justice."

"Opening Tar river to traffic would be one of the greatest things that has happened in this community in many a day. It would be a means of literally saving our business men thousands of dollars annually. New concerns naturally would come in and make Pitt county their headquarters.
"Henry Ford has already assured us that Greenville would become one of his greatest distributing points in this part of the state should water transportation be made possible.

pipe smokers:
You certainly picked a "comer" this time!
YOU MEN who chose Granger—much obliged! Its growth so far beats anything in our experience.
Of course we thought we knew what pipe smokers wanted—and in making Granger we certainly gave them the "works." It's differently aged, made, cut, packed and priced—with a solid reason for each difference. And apparently smokers understood those reasons as well as we did.
At that, though, one pipe-load is all the reason a man needs!

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—An opening advance on a bullish interpretation of the government report on boll weevil in hibernation, was followed by declines in the cotton market today. Failures of the weevil report to stimulate demand evidently disappointed holders of contracts, while selling later was promoted by prospects for rain in west Texas and talk of an easier spot basis in parts of the south.

After opening 13 to 17 points net higher, the market sold off 25 to 30 points showing net declines in mid-afternoon of about 10 to 15 points.

Futures closed barely steady, 13 to 20 lower. Spot quiet; middling 19 1/2.

GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Perishable commission house selling together with slowness of export demand for wheat from North America weakened the wheat market today, despite strength of corn values. An unexpected decrease of the corn visible supply total helped to lift corn. Most traders had looked for a corn visible increase of about half a million bushels.

Wheat closed irregular quarter cent net lower to a shade advance, corn 3-4 to 1-3-8 up, oats showing 1-2 to 7-8c gain and provisions varying from 5c decline to 10c advance.

STOCK MARKET.

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Reactionary price tendencies predominated in today's stock market, which witnessed the elimination of many weakened speculative accounts. Declines in most of the standard industrials and rails were limited to a point or two, but several of the high priced post specialities broke three to seven points. Two or three rallies started in the early trading flat.

Call money appeared in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of four per cent but banks called about $20,000,000 in loans, presumably to repair the deficit shown in last Saturday's clearing house statement. In the absence of any adverse news developments, the reaction was attributed to weakened technical conditions within the market.

Despite reassuring statements of automobile executives, motors continued to lose ground on fears of reduced profits through recent price cuts. One block of 10,000 shares of General Motors changed hands at 131; Jordan touched a new low record at 9, and Hupp sold off two points; U. S. Steel common touched 144 5-8 the lowest price in about a month but Youngstown showed independent strength. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe broke 7 points and Sloss Sheffield 5.

Texas and Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern and Atchison suffered the sharpest declines in the railroad group.

OIL WAR ON IN NEW YORK

Standard Oil Co., and Dutch Shell Controversy Flares up Again Today.

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A world-wide oil war was indicated today as the Standard Oil Company of New York picked up the gauge of battle which it believes the Royal Dutch Shell Company has tossed at its feet.

The controversy started last summer when Sir Henri W. A. Detering asserted that the Standard of New York in contracting for Russian oil, was buying "stolen oil," taken from its owners by "a series of cutthroats, assassins and robbers."

Sir Henri, chairman of the Royal Dutch Company, which is the rival of Standard for world markets, charged that the dealings of Standard Oil with the Soviet government was counter to the best interests of humanity and of trade.

In its first public statement on the controversy, the Standard Oil of New York says that its dealings with the Soviet government are not out of accord with America's policy toward Russia, and announces that the company will carry out its contracts, and "will not be swerved in any manner from its clearly conceived policy by such desperate and destructive measures as are being followed in India and threatened in other parts of the world."

Observe Eighth Anniversary of 18th Amendment

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The eighth anniversary of the eighteenth amendment was observed today, amid much the same contentions as marked its birth.

As supporters of prohibition continued the celebration begun yesterday, with its center at Westerville, Ohio, home of the Anti-Saloon League, its arch enemy, the association against the prohibition amendment, dug itself in for a determined fight in the future. The association's announcement of expansion of its organization and its fight at the dry celebration constituted the only birthday gift from that side of the question.

In addition to the estimates at Westerville, by Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, associate general superintendent of the league, that services in 30,000 churches marked the anniversary, William E. "Pussy-foot" Johnson told a New York audience that prohibition was in the Constitution to stay, and Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, declared at Providence, R. I., declared that faithful enforcement soon would be the main issue in the presidential election.

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, head of the publicity and educational bureau of the Anti-Saloon League, also of Westerville, where an eight minute ringing of church bells was arranged today as a celebration, declared great strides had been made throughout the world toward suppression of alcoholism. The dry's observance was characterized here by the association against the prohibition amendment as a "bad tactical move because it cannot fail to recall to the minds of the citizens the appalling figure of the dry law and their tremendous cost in money and lives."

CIVIL COURT OPENED HERE THIS MORNING

Judge Henry Grady, of Clinton, Presiding Over two Weeks Term of Superior Court.

A two weeks' term of Pitt County Superior court, for the trial of civil and criminal cases, convened in this city today at ten o'clock, with Judge Henry A. Grady, of Clinton, presiding and Solicitor D. M. Clark prosecuting. This week's session will be devoted to the hearing of civil issues. The calendar contains numbers of cases of more or less importance to persons in all parts of the county and it is expected the courtroom will be crowded at every session.

Only criminal cases will receive consideration next week. Several murder issues of minor importance will be given hearing, together with numbers of violations of prohibition laws. The calendar for this term will not be completed until the latter part of the week.

This is the first time Judge Grady has presided over a term of court in Pitt county in four or five years and his return was greeted with more than general interest by members of the bar and court attendants.

and industrial production the countries of America are now complementing one another to an unusual degree, resulting in an increasing exchange of commodities.

Although he did not name the Terna-Africa boundary dispute, Mr. Coolidge did point to the "delicate and difficult nature" of boundary problems and declared that the past record of achievement in this respect "places heavy responsibility upon the present generation to advance the great work that has been so auspiciously begun."

Finally, President Coolidge commended to the Congress a discussion of means to bring "all of our people more definitely and more completely" under the reign of law. "After all," he said, "it is in that direction that we must look with the greatest assurance for human progress. We can make no advance in the realm of economics, we can do nothing for education, we can accomplish but little even in the sphere of religion, until human affairs are brought within the orderly rule of law.

"The surest refuge of the weak and the oppressed is in the law. It is preeminently the shield of small nations."

"While the law is necessary for the proper guidance of human action, and will always remain the source of freedom and liberty and the ultimate guaranty of all our rights, there is another element in our experience which must always be taken into consideration. We read that 'The letter killeth but the spirit giveth life.' Oftentimes in our international relationship we shall have to look to the spirit rather than to the letter of the law. We shall have to realize that the highest law is consideration, cooperation, friendship, and charity.

"The light which Columbus followed has not failed. The courage that carried him on still lives. They are the heritage of the people of Bolivar and of Washington. We must lay our voyage of exploration toward complete understanding and friendship. Having taken that course, we must not be turned aside by the fears of the timid, the counsel of the ignorant, or the designs of the malevolent.

"With law and charity as our guides, with that ancient faith which is only strengthened when it requires sacrifices, we shall anchor at last in the harbor of justice and truth. The same Pilot which stood by the side of the Great Discoverer, and the same Wisdom which instructed the founding fathers of our republics, will continue to abide with us."

Local Negro Shoots Wife

James Freeman, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, was bound over to the next term of Pitt County Superior court under bond of $1,000 by Mayor J. G. Lanier, presiding over the regular Monday morning session of police court today.

The charge grew out of an attack which the negro is alleged to have made upon his wife with a shotgun Sunday night. The woman's heel and a part of her foot was shot off with a shotgun at close range. The shooting is alleged to have resulted from the woman's inability to prepare Sunday night's supper as hurriedly as the belligerent husband desired.

Begin Passenger Airplane Service Key West to Cuba

Key West, Fla., Jan. 16—(AP)—With the inauguration today of passenger service by airplane between here and Havana, this city took its place as the first airport of entry in the United States.

The two planes which today began their daily round trips to the Cuban capital have a capacity of a dozen passengers and an average before the end of the month by another tri-motored Fokker ship.

The "ship passenger station" at Mechan field here has not only waiting rooms for patrons of the airline, but contains all offices for the four government officials stationed here in connection with the airport—representing the customs, immigration, health and income tax departments of the federal government.

Schedules today put into effect by the Pan-American airways calls for daily trips to Havana starting at 8 A. M. to arrive at 9:15 and return flights leaving the Island city at 3:45 P. M. landing at the local field at 5:15.

Chamberlin Off On Third Attempt To Break Record

Curtis Field, N. Y., Jan. 16. (AP)—Clarence D. Chamberlin took off at 12:56 o'clock today in a third attempt to shatter the world's duration flight record. He was accompanied by Roger O. Williams.

The plane took off from the west end of Roosevelt field, bounding badly as it struck a rut but taking the air easily, climbing to about 500 feet. Gray clouds hovered lower over the field, presaging a storm. The fliers were furnished with a weather report before the take-off which indicated a falling barometer, with probable snow and sleet tomorrow.

The fuel tanks were filled with 450 gallons of gas, enough to keep the ship aloft sixty hours.

And science will learn and record the language of a foreign planet, taught by radio, more easily than it learned to read the cuneiform inscriptions. Mars, millions of years older than earth, may teach our scientists that which would take them centuries to learn for themselves. As young children, once they can understand speech and read, learn with amazing rapidity things they never could have learned for themselves. So this young planet, and its baby civilization, only 17,000 years from the late stone age, will learn with incredible speed, when it talks to older planetary neighbors.

Miss Estelle Plotkin, who lives in flitsh and plays bridge, tells of one hand that will interest other players. She picked up thirteen hearts and with much galle bid four clubs and was doubled. She then bid four hearts. Her opponent, believing that Miss Plotkin was "running away" from her club, bid doubled the four heart bid. Miss Plotkin redoubled, and her side scored 416 below the line, big slam and the redoubling score above.

The important thing about the hand is the fact that it interests more than ten million people that would not be seriously interested in the discovery of a hitherto unknown and complete play by curipides. How much would be accomplished in a year, if the thought devoted to bridge were used for something worth while.

The learned O. O. McIntyre, says, "The highest salary paid to a female theatrical star this season is $5,000 a week. She isn't worth it, nobody is."

You read also that a new partner in a great financial concern will get $1,000,000 a year, about $20,000 a week. He can easily earn it, if a man is worth a fair share of what he produces. The trouble is that theatrical stars, partners in great banks, and a few other fortunate individuals expected, the average man gets, not what he produces, but as little as he can be made to take, usually a little more than it costs to keep him alive and working.

The world of business has learned to organize and produce but has not yet learned to be generous. It will learn.
