LABOR WANTS BEER PLANK IN PLATFORM

Organized Labor calls on Major Political Parties for Amendment to Dry Laws.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Organized labor's demand for a 2.75 per cent beer plank in the platform of the major political parties is being met only at the Volstead act, and not seek repeal of the 18th amendment to the Constitution, says William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The demand that 2.75 beer be made a political issue, which grew out of a plea of the United Brewery workers before the executive council of the Federation here yesterday, was predicted on the belief that 2.75 beer is not intoxicating, said Mr. Green. He added it was the consensus of the body that such a beverage, handled under government supervision at reasonable prices, would make for temperance.

"We see general and flagrant violation of the prohibition laws as they now stand," said the labor head. "We see rich men who are able to pay the bootleg prices just about as generously supplied with liquors as they formerly were, and we see the laboring man, the great mass of the people, either making bad home brew or buying poison."

The Los Angeles convention of the Federation last year went on record as favoring amendment of the Volstead act. This will be the first time the demand has been included in a legislative program for presentation to the major parties during their election year conventions.

But the administration files didn't have names of any Christian ladies in search of husbands. Lovelock's letters got into the hands of newspaper men. Then his troubles began.

"Please advise wise leap year cracker to hold up." Lovelock advised capitol city crabs today.

CHINAMAN ASKS LINDY TO FLY WITH HIM

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Major Tien Lai Huang, of the aviation force of the Chinese Nationalist army, announced here today that he had asked Colonel Charles Lindbergh to join him in piloting a tri-motored monoplane from San Francisco to Shanghai in June or July of this year. The trip would be made by way of Honolulu and Midway Island.

Other members of the party would be Floyd Bennett, famed as pilot of Commander Richard Byrd, and Harold Gatty, former flying instructor of Lindbergh, the Chinese flier asserted.

Major Huang arrived here yesterday by plane from the east, en route to China. He said he was taking a shipment of six American built planes to his government, after which he expected to return to America and make final preparations for the trans-Pacific hop.

TODAY

3 Went Riding.
Great Chicago, Illinois.
Hanging Too Good.
Mr. Lasker's Million.
(By Arthur Brisbane)
Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 19.—(AP)—After a rainy morning in Chicago, this is written on the 20th Century, bound east through rainy Indiana.

Some Chicago citizens, worry needlessly, about Chicago's crime news. The news nearly always tells of criminals killing other criminals. A cause for rejoicing, not grief.

This morning attention turns to gangster Jack Guzik, chief lieutenant of Scarface Al Capone, now residing in Florida.

In Capone's absence foolish Harry Puller, 28 years old, from South Bend, Indiana, organized a hijacking crew, held up and robbed Capone bootleg wagons.

Such things cannot be tolerated, so Mr. Guzik kidnapped Harry Puller and two of his assistants, Joseph Gaziando, aged 18, and Joseph Passo, aged 21. All three were "taken for a ride." Puller and Passo thrown out at one place, Gaziando at another, all read, of course.

When wags kill rats or gangsters kill gangsters, the good should rejoice.

Let Chicago and other cities burdened with crime problems ask this question:

How can you expect to deal adequately with criminals through your police on bootlegging enable criminals to pay policemen and detectives five times as much as the city pays them?

A Chicago chief of police testified that more than half of his men were engaged in bootlegging.

Securely organized crime will last as long as securely organized bootlegging and that probably will last as long as prohibition.

Chicago, growing with extraordinary rapidity, solving its traffic and other problems more energetically and efficiently than any other city, sets an example to the rest of the country.

THINK REBEL STILL ALIVE

General Sandino Believed to Have Been Wounded in Battle With Marines.

Managua Nicaragua, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Advises from Octal today indicated possibility that General Augustus Sandino was wounded in the airplane bombardment of his stronghold at El Chipote last Sunday. Confirmation of reports that Sandino was dead was lacking.

The latest advice as to Sandino forwarded by the Marine garrison at Octal, said information received that Sandino was wounded in the head and shoulders and was attended by a Mexican doctor. His wounds were stated to be serious.

PRAYER BOOK CONTROVERSY STILL RAGES

Church of England in Midst of Religious Strife as Result of New Declaration.

London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The newly revised prayer book of the Church of England today added fuel to the flame of religious controversy.

The majority of the opponents of revision indorsed the views of one of the opposition leaders, the Right Rev Ernest William Barnes, bishop of Birmingham, that the book was "gravely inadequate."

On the other hand, the Anglo-Catholics strongly oppose parts of the provision dealing with the reservation of the sacrament.

The new book makes it clear that consecrated bread and wine thus set apart is for the communication of the sacrament and for no other purpose, and that there shall be no service or ceremony in connection with the sacrament so reserved.

The great stumbling block to approval by Evangelical Episcopalians also continues to be the reservation of the sacrament. It is around this that the main controversy will rage when the book is submitted to the church assembly on February 6, and later when, if ratified, it goes before the house of commons, which has already rejected the first revised version.

To the Protestant section of the church, the great objection to reservation is that it implies a belief in the doctrine of the real presence, which to the Protestants is idolatry.

The Anglican content that placed the elements in a pyx upon the altar would lead to their adoration, but this apparently is what many Anglo-Catholics desire.

The question of reservation holds such a prominent place in the dispute that other points seem almost insignificant by comparison.

The provision dealing with reservation in the prayer book rejected by commons contained no instructions as to where the reserved elements should be kept.

Among the less controversial changes in the latest revision was the removal of the clause empowering the bishops to make or rescind rules for worship. The expunging of this was intended to be a concession to the evangelicals who contended this gave the bishops the power of making rules having the force of rubrics.

Another change was the withdrawal of the clause in the "deposed book"—the one rejected by commons—giving clergy discretion in using prayers for the king. Withdrawal of this makes such prayers obligatory. During the debate the clause now withdrawn might result in republican or bolshevist clergymen never praying for the king as head of the church.

Irish President Feted in America

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—William T. Cosgrave, President of the Irish Free State, faced 24 hours of typical American hospitality upon his arrival in Chicago this morning. Luncheons, receptions and patriotic ceremonies, culminating in a banquet to be attended by 5,000 city leaders and laymen were included in the entertainment plans for the Irish President.

While both the partisans of the Irish Free State and of the Irish Republican movement predicted that the president's visit would be free from demonstrations, every precaution was taken to guard all of President Cosgrave's movements during his Chicago stay.

The only note of protest was in a telegram from John T. Finerty of Washington, D. C. to Dr. John Dill Robertson president of the West Park Board, objecting to the proposed decorating of his father's monument by Mr. Cosgrave. He said that if Dr. Robertson did not prevent this "desecration" his father's friends would do so. Kevin Kelly, secretary of the Irish Fellowship club, who is in charge of the entertainment, said the time schedule probably would not permit Mr. Cosgrave to visit the Finerty monument.

After the attack on their jailers the convicts scattered at the approach of additional officers.

Twenty of the convicts took refuge on the roofs of the city. The wardens fired at them, killing one and wounding 16. All were eventually overpowered, although a number of jailers were hurt in the uprising.

TWO MEN AND STILL TAKEN

Ten Gallons of Whiskey Also Captured by Sheriff's Officers Near This City.

Two white men, a copper still and ten gallons of whiskey were taken by Sheriff's officers in a raid seven miles north of Greenville late yesterday afternoon.

The men are Joe Staton and Buck Tillman. Staton was later released under bond of $250 for his appearance at the next session of county court. Tillman was still confined in jail this morning being unable to arrange for bond.

This was one of the most successful raids conducted in this community in several weeks, and is considered one of the most effective blows landed against the illicit whiskey traffic in months.

Persons Still Claim Share to Duke Millions

Somerville, N. J., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Having introduced three old family Bibles in their effort to prove blood relationship to the late James B. Duke, tobacco magnate, persons claiming shares in the $2,000,000 left for distribution among distant relatives of Duke today awaited a resumption of the hearing before Judge Freese in orphans court Monday.

Of approximately 700 claims made by persons in all sections of the United States, the executors approved 167, filing their report with the court. Miss Elizabeth Duke, of Wichita Falls, Texas, who said her grandfather was a brother of the late billionaire, one of the chief claimants, with others, accused the executors of bad faith.

ONE KILLED IN FIGHT AT CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Lee A. Shuman of Charlotte, was shot and killed and A. A. Allen, house detective, was badly cut about the hand in what police termed a gambling, cutting, and shooting affair on the ninth story of a hotel here this morning shortly after midnight.

Allen, who was taken to a hospital for treatment, said he fired the shots that killed Shuman. Two bullets took effect, one entering Shuman's chest near the heart and the other crashing through the skull.

According to a story pieced together from reports given by Allen, hotel officials, and police, the house detective shot Shuman in self defense. He was said to have gone to a room occupied by four men to investigate an alleged gambling game and was pounced upon by the four as he entered. Using his black jack and fist to clear himself, he leveled his pistol at Shuman and fired twice, after he had received the wounds on his hand, according to witnesses.

The other alleged occupants of the room, giving their names as Crawley, Luther Tombs and Duncan were held at the police station pending investigation.

Federal Income Tax Blanks Put In The Mails

Raleigh, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Unmarried men and women, with individual incomes of $1,500 or more, are required to pay a federal income tax. Gilliam Grissom, United States Collector of Internal Revenue for North Carolina, said today.

The federal government allows an exemption of $400 for each dependent, Mr. Grissom said.

The collector this week placed thousands of income tax return blanks in the mails, addressing them to taxpayers in the state. Under the law returns must be filed by March 15. Failure to file on or before that date will result in infliction of a penalty, he added.

Rufus A. Daughton, Commissioner of Revenue for North Carolina, likewise placed income tax return blanks in the mails. Like the federal law, the state law requires that returns be made before March 15. Unmarried men are given only $1,000 exemption by the state.

"Disregarding the menacing flames, the aged woman twice rushed into the fiery furnace and on her second trip was struck down by falling timbers. Neighboring negroes carried her to a nearby white residence. She died enroute to Natchez for medical attention.

J. E. WINSLOW AGAIN HEADS AGRICULTURE

Greenville Man Re-Elected President of Agricultural Board Last Night.

J. E. Winslow was re-elected president of the Pitt county Board of Agriculture at the annual meeting of directors held in the city hall last night. The following vice-presidents were also re-elected: John T. Thorne, Farmville, J. C. Galloway, Grimesland, Paul Davenport, Pactious, Miss Virginia Arthur was re-elected as secretary.

It was decided that the regular monthly meetings of the supper club which have been held in various parts of the county would be held monthly instead of quarterly. The department plans to make these meetings of far greater interest than formerly and will invite more people from the communities in which they are held.

The report of E. F. Arnold, director of the department, continued many interesting facts in connection with progress of farm work in Pitt county during the past year. Mr. Arnold gave a resume of activities in many sections, and stated that the outlook for continued advancement of agriculture was never brighter.

Immediately after the directors meeting an oyster roast was given in the rear of the fire department building. This was attended only by members of the Board and a few invited guests.

ADMITS PLAN TO BLACKMAIL MILLIONAIRE

Four Men Attempt to Extort $25,000 From Two Prominent Men At Lynn, Mass.

Lynn, Mass., Jan. 21.—New developments today in the investigation of charges by Frederick W. Enwright, newspaper publisher, that four men had attempted to extort $25,000 from him under penalty of death, were announced by police who said that Mesif El Jah, second man to be arrested, admitted he and a companion had planned to blackmail two prominent residents of this city, one of them a millionaire.

El Jah, formerly employed by Enwright to conduct a fortune telling column in the Boston Telegram, now defunct, was booked on charges of assault with intent to murder, kidnapping and blackmail.

He was arrested after long questioning and after he had voluntarily surrendered to Boston police. The first man to be arrested was Frederick Dutton, 25, Enwright's chauffeur who was held in default of $10,000 bond on like charges.

El Jah told a different story than Dutton. The chauffeur asserted nothing unusual occurred on Thursday. Enwright declares El Jah jumped into his car and held a revolver to his side while Dutton sped to a lonely shack in Nahant where he was only able to escape death through a compromise agreement to pay the men $1,000 immediately.

Enwright said that two other men known only as "snake" and "Condon" were there. The former columnist asserted that Enwright owed him $3,000 for "special services" and that he had met the publisher at his Boston office and the three had driven to Nahant to discuss payment. No threats were made, he continued. He declined to discuss the "special services."

Frank E. El Jah, a Harvard graduate who rented the camp where Enwright had identified as the place where he was held, picked El Jah out of a police lineup as the man who sat in an automobile outside of his home last Wednesday night while a second man named as "Kelby" negotiated for the rental of the place.

The names of the two Lynn persons who El Jah was said to have told police he intended to blackmail were not revealed by police.

Fail to Serve Murder Warrant On Doctor Today

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A warrant charging Dr. Harry M. Guilfoyle with murder in the first degree, remained unserved today. The police were intent on further questioning of Mrs. Guilfoyle.

Mrs. Clara Cavanaugh Gaudet, of New Haven, died yesterday at the Hartford hospital of injuries received in a shooting affray outside the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Guilfoyle. The doctor, shot at the same time, is in a hospital with a wound in the head that is likely to cause blindness. The victim was descending a stairway to the street when shot.

Mrs. Guilfoyle admitted to the police that she had visited Mrs. Gaudet's husband, Maxm Gaudet, in New Haven, four months ago and pleaded with him to break up the relationship of Dr. Guilfoyle and Mrs. Gaudet.

An autopsy on Mrs. Gaudet's body, police said, indicated that the bullet which caused her death had been fired from a position slightly above her and corresponding with the level on which Mrs. Guilfoyle had presumably been at the time of the shooting.

Dr. Guilfoyle said that he knew nothing of the shooting except for a "sudden crash" after which he said he became blind.

After a dinner party at the Guilfoyle apartment, Wednesday last, Dr. Guilfoyle and Mrs. Gaudet came downstairs together.

Japanese Diet Dissolved Today

Tokyo, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The long thwarted dissolution of the Japanese diet took place today.

The opposition used presented a motion of censure upon the reconstruction of the diet after a New Year's recess.

The government, however, forestalled an actual vote by announcing the dissolution as soon as the finance minister had finished his speech.

BARNARD SEES HOT CONTESTS DURING 1928

Chicago, Jan. 21.—There is a logical foundation for the feeling, said President E. S. Barnard, of the American League, "today that the championship race of 1928 will be the most hotly contested the league has experienced in many years."

"The potential strength of the Yankees," he said, "has not weakened the morale of the other seven clubs and there has been more trading of experienced ball players and strengthening of clubs this winter than ever before in the history of the league."

Revealing the 1928 prospects, club by club, President Barnard said:

"Beginning at the bottom of the 1927 percentage table we find that the Boston Red Sox will be better than last year both because of material added and because of the increased experience of several brilliant youngsters with whom Manager Carrigan put in so much conscientious work last summer."

"The St. Louis Browns will be almost an entirely new club in 1928 as a result of the most drastic changes which ever before have been made in any American League Club between two seasons. The Browns have sent several good players to other clubs but Manager Howley has secured some good men in these exchanges. Players like Blue, Manush and McNeely would help almost any major league club. If the pitching staff measures up the Browns will be a much better club than last season."

"Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit, Washington and Philadelphia all have added strength to their 1927 organizations. The Indians suffered last year because Uhl, Levens and Smith failed to do what was expected of them. Both Uhl and Levens will be back in form this year and in addition the Indians have more reserve pitching strength than a year ago. The psychology of the new ownership will have a beneficial effect upon the work of this club."

"With the addition of young Cissell, the return of Johnny Mostil to centerfield, the prospects of Moe Berg starting the season as a regular catcher and the presence of several pitchers and outfielders, the White Sox should be able to avoid the slump that has taken that club out of the race during the past two seasons after brilliant starts both years."

"The Detroit Club has strengthened its defense without sacrificing speed or punch, and, if Manager Moriarty can get his Tigers away to a better start than has characterized the early season work of that club in recent years, Detroit ought to cause the Yankees some sleepless nights next summer."

"President Griffith and Manager Harris have been carrying on an intensive campaign for a new pitching staff for the past two years and their efforts have been crowned with such success that the Washington club will enter the 1928 race with as good, if not the best, staff in the American League."

"By getting rid of a number of veterans, the return of Hauser to form and the addition of several fast youngsters, the Athletics have been speeded up without the loss of any defensive strength. Connie Mack has a good chance to get the pitching in 1928 that he expected, but failed to get last season, and that is all he needs to keep the Athletics in the thick of things from the beginning to the end of the season."

"The American League is fortunate in having the most aggressive ownership of eight clubs in its entire history. If Colonel Ruppert and Miller Huggins can keep the Yankees up to their standard of the past two seasons, the American League is destined to give its patrons some great baseball."

Hudkins Defeats Old Ring Mavel

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Ace Hudkins had advanced in his quest for the welterweight crown today with a ten round victory over the veteran Lew Tander, of Philadelphia, ring mavel of a past decade.

Meeting in the Madison Square Garden arena last night, Hudkins gave Tander a sound thrashing but failed to score a knockout. The Nebraskan had Tander on the verge of retreating for the full count on several occasions.

Although the old timer was noticeably outclassed, some 12,000 fans booed the judges' verdict and Hudkins, while the venerable Tander, who has been boxing for more than a dozen years, received the applause.

Hudkins weighed 140 3-4 pounds; Tander 151.

Lewis-Stecher Bout To End Seven Year Dispute Over Title

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chicago, (AP)—The world's heavyweight wrestling championship, a title that meant something when Frank Gotch had it, will be taken out of the committee room and tossed to either Ed (Strangler) Lewis or Joe Stecher next month.

After seven years of ballyhooing, Lewis and Stecher have at last agreed to wrestle to a finish in St. Louis February 20. The event is designed to settle the question, "Who is the world's heavyweight wrestling champion?"

The match will be staged in the Coliseum at prices ranging upward to $25 for the ringside locations, with the promoters expecting a gate of $150,000, a record in wrestling.

Both Claim Crown
Both Lewis and Stecher have claimed the title since 1925. Stecher was recognized as champion in some spots; Lewis was the title holder in others, depending upon the particular locality in which he chose to wrestle. They went their separate ways, each working a certain territory in which they were regarded as champion.

They have been matched on previous occasions, but something always came up to side track the contest. Lewis once posted a forfeit of $5,000 to wrestle Stecher in Los Angeles, but claimed an injury.

Since then the Strangler was beaten by Wayne "Big" Munn, who literally tossed him out of the ring and it was generally accepted Munn won the championship.

But "Big" Munn was flattered by "Old Man" Stanislaus Zbyszko on the eve of a return match with Lewis, which the latter won. Then Stecher threw Zbyszko and both Lewis and Stecher clamored about being champion.

The history of the wrestling championship since Gotch's reign has been filled with claims and return matches with the champions meeting them they have beaten over and over again. Now the Lewis-Stecher match promises to end the merry-go-round.

ANOTHER marriage that brings together two of the wealthiest and most socially prominent families in the United States is in the offing.

The principals in this blue-blooded romance are Margaret D. Kahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn of New York, and John Barry Ryan, Jr., son and heir of the noted millionaire and grandson of Thomas Fortune Ryan.

Following the formal announcement of the engagement, young Ryan was discovered working as a reporter on a Newark (N. J.) paper. Ryan grinned, confirmed the report, and then waved would-be interviewers away, telling them that he had to hop out and get on a story that had just "broken."

No date for the marriage has been set.

Miss Kahn is 26 and her millionaire-reporter-fiance is just one year older. The bride-to-be's father is head of the powerful financial house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and long noted for his philanthropies as well as generous subsidies to the musical and theatrical world.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The National Football Rules Committee, yielding ground point to the opinion of college coaches, will meet earlier than usual this year to give more time for dissemination of any changes made in the gridiron code for 1928.

It is understood that the committee will get together in New York early in February, a month ahead of the usual schedule, to canvass the effects of the radical changes made in the rules last year and consider the coaches' recommendations to go back to the 1926 rules on the muffed punt and lateral pass.

There seems no way to keep boxers from eating their way into the heavier classes these days.

Mickey Walker, in a comparatively short time, ate his way from the welterweight to the middleweight championship. Now Pete Latzo, who took the welter title from Walker less than two years ago, has done even better. With hardly even a stop-over in the middleweight division, Pete has blossomed forth at 172 pounds and announced himself a contender for light heavyweight honors.

Low Tander, a great lightweight five years ago, has outgrown even the welterweight class.

Most of the featherweight champions in recent years have grown so rapidly that they were forced to relinquish the title without even defending it.

Delaney Prepares For Levinsky Fight

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Jack Delaney is going to do his training in the heavyweight campaign against active opponents in the roped arena, Joe Jacobs, his manager, declared today. Delaney has been matched to box Battling Levinsky at Motor Square Gardens in Pittsburgh next Friday night.

"Delaney figures he can keep in better condition by taking on one opponent a week than if he settled down in any training camp," Jacobs said. "Jack is willing to battle on the basis of a fight a week."

Numerous opponents are in prospect for the Bridgeporter, including the rugged Jack Renault, who may be secured for a bout at St. Louis.

The message stated that the yacht has her pumps out of commission and requested the aid of a coast guard cutter.

The cutter Modoc, which bases at Wilmington and was already at sea this morning, when the call for help was received, was ordered to the position given by the yacht and will tow her into the nearest port for repairs.

MAY ISSUES BEFORE COMMITTEES TODAY

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—All of the work of Congress today was done by the committee rooms, both the Senate and House being in recess until Monday.

Farm relief, Boulder Canyon Dam, the Teapot Dome case, and other familiar issues were before the committees, which pruned away regardless of the fact that there was no activity on the floors of the two houses.

"HULA" STAR TELLS HOW SHE BROKE INTO MOVIES
It had always been my greatest desire to get into motion pictures in some unusual manner so I won a beauty contest," said Clara Bow, star of Paramount's "Hula," which reaches the White Theatre next Monday and Tuesday when asked how she broke into the movies.

"How I did it, or even how I entered the contest still remains somewhat of a mystery," continues the meteoric redhead, "for I made no formal application. One of my friends told me sent in my picture to the newspaper conducting the tests. However, I've never been able to place the blame directly upon any one individual."

"I wish I could, though, so I could thank them."

"Of course, I wanted to go into motion pictures. Furthermore, I had dreams of becoming a star."

"While attending high school in Brooklyn, I spent at least three afternoons a week at the movies. When stars made personal appearances I ran all the way from school to the theater just to get a seat near the stage. At that time, however, little did I realize that my dreams were to become a reality."

"Imagine my surprise one morning to read that I was a candidate in the beauty contest. My picture was published with the article. Where they got it I don't know, as I said before, but it was simply terrible. In my mind, the chances for the prize went glimmering."

"Shortly after that the photograph again appeared with nine others and I received notification to appear before the judges for the final selection."

"Sleep was out of the question. For days and nights I was in a 'faze.' When it was all over, I had taken first prize—a contract for a part in one picture and an evening gown."

"Yes, I wore the gown. As a matter of fact, I have it yet."

"That's my story and I'll stick to it."

WATERWORKS TANGLE NEARS SETTLEMENT
Hendersonville, Jan. 21.—(AP)—This city's "water works tangle" apparently was well on the way to settlement today following a mass meeting at the city auditorium last night where it was decided by a 2 to 1 vote to issue $225,000 in bonds. The money would be used for development of the flow of Bradley Creek in Pisgah national forest as a new water supply.

The proposition met with the approval of the water board which at first approved a $400,000 issue for a new watershed. The quarter of a million outlay on the Bradley Creek plan, it was found, would assure a 2,600,000 gallon supply daily, or hold a million gallons more than the present watershed.

URGES ADOPTION OF ROOSEVELT FLOOD PLAN
Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The House Flood Control Committee was urged today by former Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, to follow the plan laid down 20 years ago by President Roosevelt for control of floods in the Mississippi River and other large streams of the country.

Pinchot declared that Roosevelt's organization of the Inland Waterways Commission gave the nation a thorough investigation of the rivers not only in connection with flood control but for development of navigation, irrigation, power, and game and fish preservation.

The former Pennsylvania Governor urged that the flood project be entrusted to a commission of leading civilian engineers "so that no official viewpoints shall control."

He said the army engineers, "primarily soldiers, cannot be the foremost experts in river control by training and experience."

Investigate Shooting
Rocky Mount, Jan. 21.—(AP)—County officials today were investigating the fatal shooting of Luther Williford late yesterday when officers raided a still he was allowed to have been operating.

Williford, caught at the still, drew Moore details of the shooting said a gun, but was shot by officers before he could fire.

FELT VERY POORLY

Weak and Run-Down Missouri Woman Got Strong and Well. Says Cardui Started Her On Road To Health.

Clarksburg, Mo.—Mrs. T. G. Harris, of this place, says:

"For two years I was in very poor health. Some of the time I was almost past going. I was very weak and run-down."

"I tried to make the most of what little strength I had by taking frequent rests, but I could find nothing which would start me on the road to health again, until one day I decided to try Cardui."

"I had heard about other women who had been benefited after taking it, so I made up my mind to see what it would do for me. I took Cardui for several months and was very much gratified with the results."

"I began to do my own work again, which I had not been able to do for a long time past. My color, which had been pale and sallow, became natural, and my complexion cleared up. I gained in weight and was pleased to have an improved appetite."

"When I finished my last bottle of Cardui I was feeling better than I had in years. Now I am strong and well."

AFTER THE ADULT
ILLITERATE

Governor McLearn is lending his aid to the move-planned against adult illiteracy in North Carolina. He is said to be prepared to recommend to the legislature the appropriation of $50,000 to $60,000 for the work. This fund would be used to supplement appropriations of various interested counties in establishment of community night schools.
It would be expended through the public school system.

Perhaps night schools for matured and settled illiterates in North Carolina can be made of more practical importance than the curl to the pig's tail, but we doubt it. As for giving the State school system new duties in respect to the 200,000 illiterates who are well beyond the ordinary school age, it seems the overburdening of an organization that staggers under its present load.

Army Has "Perfect Man"
But Marine Lad Has "It"

GEORGE W. BRANDT

HERBERT E. SMITH

HERE'S rivalry again between the Army and the Marines—instead of between the Marines and their traditional rivals, the Navy.
This time it's over the question as to which arm of the service has more of that quality denominated by Miss Elinor Glyn as "it."
Anyway, the Army claims it has "the perfect man" in the person of Sergeant Herbert E. Smith, aged 27, of Newark, N. J. Smith, who's with the Army recruiting publicity bureau, passed a tough test covering moral, mental and physical accomplishments with a mark of 100 per cent.
Smith's wife adds that she doesn't think he's exactly "perfect," but he comes near the 100 per cent. mark as a husband.
The Marines offer for your inspection Corporal George W. Brandt of

Looking Backward

Items Taken From The Reflector Of Twenty and Thirty Years Ago

January 21, 1908

The Reflector of the above date, carried a full account of the marriage in Hendersonville of Mr. John A. Staton, of Bethel, and Miss Bertha Waltrip, of Hendersonville.

The number of votes for the various school teachers in the Acola-Band contest indicated much activity along this line.

There is much work going on around the Norfolk-Southern depot and it will be an attractive place when completed.

The young ladies of the town will give a leap-year dance in Perkins' opera house Thursday night.

The State has a compulsory school attendance law, but despite it, illiteracy is being perpetuated. If the school system can get hold of all the new generation for instruction, illiteracy will be a problem in North Carolina but a few years.
The schools might well center their work of direct instruction upon the young,
leaving the adults to finish their course in more or less peaceful ignorance of what they are lacking of opportunity for schooling or failure to recognize its importance closed to them. The State school system has a tremendous job with the young.
We do not believe it has shown that it has the leisure or the surplus enterprise to be looking for new worlds to conquer. — High Point Enterprise.

MRS. BRYANT TO BE

RETURNED TO STATE

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—(AP)— Governor Fisher today received request for extradition of Margaret
M. Bryant, now in Philadelphia, from Buncombe county, authorities who charge she forcibly, fraudulently and feloniously kidnapped two children, Marjorie and Frances Bryant, from Winyah Sanitarium in Asheville.

Fair and Driving Association.
The Greenville Driving Association has changed its name to the Greenville Fair and Driving Association and will offer some premiums this fall for agricultural products. Track arrangements have been perfected with R. L. Davis, of Washington, who has arranged a circuit consisting of New Bern, Washington, Greenville and Rocky Mount. A four days' meeting will be held here March 16-19.

The Bethel items included the following announcement:
At the home of the bride's father,
Mr. Newsome Worsley, on Wednesday evening, January 19, Mr.
Seymour Rollins was happily married to Miss Lula Worsley, J. R.
Jenkins, Esq., officiating. A reception was held at the groom's brother's, H. A. Rollins, after the marriage.

In Torture Slaying

Robert H. Pitts of Greenville, Ky.
(top), accuses his housekeeper, Mrs.
Marie Praxler (lower), of torturing his three-year-old baby, Mary, and killing her. Authorities declare both of them plotted to do away with the child. The shocking tragedy has stirred Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia.

ABOUT
TOWN

"There are so many things going on in Greenville at night these days it is almost impossible to keep up with all of them," observed one of our leading business men today.

"Last night, for instance, there was a T. P. A. banquet at the Rotary club, an oyster roast by directors of the Pitt county departmen-of Agriculture at the city hall, two basketball games—the usual number of picture shows and social affairs.

"It was the same last week—several things going on at night and the average citizen worried to death because he could attend only one of them.

"This is indicative of growth and development and causes us to believe the next two or three years will find social activities greatly expanded."

"The tuberculosis test recently completed in the city has brought out the fact that more attention should be given to the children of our city," Dr. W. E. Furell, director of public health, said today.

"Tests were made of 1302 children affected with active tuberculosis; twenty-two suspected with the others pronounced negative. In other words, of the entire number of children tested, four per cent were found to have tuberculosis or suspected of having it."

"This clinic was financed by the Woman's Club of Greenville and was conducted by physicians from the extension department of the State Sanatorium."

"The meeting of members of the Travelers Protective Association held in this city last night was filled with optimism concerning the future development of this locality."
Jack Boyd, secretary of the organization remarked this morning.

"The local post is using its influence in the interest of improving relations between the salesmen and the buyer, and we believe the future is brighter than it has ever been before for realization of this ambition."

"We are gradually experiencing an increase in membership and hope to soon be among the strongest poets in the state."

"Don't forget the Greenville tobacco market closes for the season with the ending of sales Friday, January 27," K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade, warned today.

"While most of the crop has already been disposed of numbers of farmers yet have considerable leaf on hand. They should get busy at once and sell before the closing date."

"This has been the most successful season in the long and eventful history of this market, but we hope to better our record next year.
Greenville tobaccoists are always on the alert for continued improvement, and the next few years will see development equally as great as the past few years."

"Free moving picture shows dealing with public health and sanitation will be shown in Pitt county by a representative of the State Board of Health in connection with the Pitt county Health Department during next week according to an announcement made today by Dr.
W. E. Furell, director of public health work in Pitt county."

"These pictures are of great educational value and will be shown at Bethel, Grifton, Winterville, Ayden and Stokes. It is hoped large crowds will turn out at each town and take advantage of this campaign looking to education of the public in health problems."

Dear Reader:

This is awfully tiresome business.
Every time we sit down here to write this column it becomes necessary for us to think, and this process is very painful.

We know there are lots of times when you read this column you wouldn't accuse us of ever having a real serious thought, but we do—especially when our mind is far away with another subject—such as "The Fads, Fancies of the Human Race, Mankind in General, Woman-kind in Particular."

However, we feel sure you will forgive us any time the column becomes dull and uninteresting and the phraseology isn't up to par, because we believe you appreciate the frailties of the ordinary human being—and at times we feel extremely ordinary.

We promise, however, to portray the happenings of this community as faithfully as possible every day hereafter providing, of course, your indulgence will permit us getting by this time without too severe criticism.

COTTON TABLE

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The cotton market was lower today under liquidation, combined with local and southern selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of continued dullness in the cotton goods trade. After selling off to 18.56, March rallied to 18.63 on covering, but eased again, closing at the lowest. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 16 to 20 points.

Futures closed steady 16 to 20 lower. Spot quiet; middling 19.05.

GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Liberal purchases of corn to arrive here totaling 1,000,000 in the last 48 hours, carried the corn market down ward today. The effect also was to weaken wheat at the last. Besides, export demand today for wheat from North America was slow.

Corn closed heavy 1-2 to 7-8 net lower, wheat 18 to 388 off, oats unchanged to 1-4 down had provisions unchanged to a setback of 10c.

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows a deficit reserve of $15,455,550. This is an increase in reserve of $15,252,040 compared with the week before when a deficit in reserve of $30,707,540 was reported.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Resumption of the upward price movement in today's stock market was temporarily interrupted by a heavy wave of profit taking speculators for the advance quickly regained control. Extreme gains in many of the issues ranged from 2 to 6 points, with public utilities, motors and merchandising issues gaining the best exhibitions of group strength.

Week end market letters laid particular stress on the stiffening steel prices and the pickup in mill operations in that industry. Less alarm was expressed over the credit situation although it was widely recognized a san important influence on the future trend of prices.

Montana power was again a market leader, soaring six points to a new high record at 122. R. H. Macy advanced 4 points to a new peak at 254 and Montgomery Ward also rallied four points above yesterday's final quotations. Adams Express, Brooklyn Edison and Hudson Motors were other outstanding strong points.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximating 1,000,000 shares.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Selling pressure was lifted from the stock market this week and moderate recoveries took place throughout the last. Trading, however, lapsed into dullness because of the growing uncertainty over the trend of the money market which has had a dominating influence on recent securities movements.

Call money rates sagged to the lowest levels since last fall while time money rates hardened. Federal reserve brokers loans dropped $2,000,000, the first decrease since the middle of December, but a further liquidation of the Federal Reserve Bank holdings of government securities aroused fears of a forced tightening of the credit structure. From a business standpoint, one of the most significant developments of the week was the increase of $1 a ton in the prices on bars, sheet and plates by the United States Steel Corporation, which was immediately followed by similar advances on the part of some of the so-called "Independents". The fact that the higher rates quoted were for first quarter delivery only indicated to many observers a further stiffening in the second quarter. Steel shares responded to this bullish development, but the gains were not unusually large. U. S. Steel common which sold below 144 earlier in the week, rallied above 148 on Friday. Vanadium and Republic recorded the best gains among the Independents.

Motor shares lacked uniformity. General Motors developed strong support around the 130 level and a subsequently move up a few points above the figures. Hupp, believed one of the favorites speculative vehicles of William C. Durant, rallied above 35 to a new peak. Chrysler also was actively bought.

Continued over-production of crude and a deterrent influence on the oil group although California petroleum was quick to respond to the favorable terms of exchange for stock of the Texas Corporation public utilities gave one of the best demonstrations of group strength, despite the possibility of a Senate investigation.

Packing shares picked up strength on reports of improving trade conditions. The brick advance in several of the chain store issues indicated the existence of a small floating supply. Among the many specialties which stood out were international business machines, Lambert, International Match Preferred, Westinghouse Air Brake and some of the Banking issues.

Raies were sluggish. The market seemingly paid little attention to the fight for control of the Lehigh Valley at the annual stockholders meeting. A sensational advance took place, however, in Southern Railway, Mobile & Ohio certificates, which are ordinarily inactive, on report of legal proceedings to test the legality of the contract under which they were issued by the Southern Railway.
