

Newark and New Haven to Play Here April 6th

JOHNSON TO BE WITH THE NEWARK TEAM

Baseball clubs of Newark, N. J., and New Haven, Conn., will play in Greenville April 6th, according to announcement made this morning by members of the local baseball club.

Decision of the clubs to play in this city was reached at a meeting of the directors of the Greenville baseball club last night. Arrangements were made through H. P. Dawson, of Richmond, owner of the franchise of Richmond and Raleigh baseball clubs, who attended the meeting.

Announcement of the coming of these two class A clubs was received with more than general interest here, and it was agreed that the game would form an appropriate setting for opening of the Eastern Carolina league during the latter part of the month.

The Newark club is a member of the International league. It is partly owned and managed by Walter Johnson, former Washington hurler, considered one of the greatest idols of the diamond of the present day. Johnson will appear here in person with his club and his coming alone will be one of the high lights of the contest.

The New Haven club is a member of the Eastern league, an organization that has established quite a reputation in the realm of baseball during the past two years. The club is composed of numbers of players who have seen long service on the diamond and they should be able to furnish plenty entertainment for the veteran Walter Johnson and his bevy of trained sphere tossers.

Guy Smith, manager of the local club, stated today the ball park at the fair grounds would be in splendid shape for this game and that he expected the largest crowd ever attending a like event in this city. Complete arrangements for the coming of the visitors will be announced at a later date. Efforts will be made to make it a gala day event.

Mr. Dawson is one of the best known baseball men in this section of the country. He has the backing of the Newark and New Haven clubs under direction for the state of North Carolina and Virginia.

An Olympic Star?

Al Santore, copy boy for International Newsreel in New York, may find himself famous soon. He's been mowing his way through the ranks of the amateur flyweights, and experts consider him a good bet to wear Uncle Sam's colors in the Holland Olympics this summer.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Philadelphia.—Tony Canzoneri, New York, and Pete Nebo, Key West, Fla., drew (10). Benny Schwartz, Baltimore, outpointed Pinkie May, Savannah, Ga. (10).

New York.—Joe Kaufman, New York, won from Luis Vicentini, of Chile, (10). Sammy Vogel defeated Eddie Elkins, (10). Matty Marco won from Luis Honor, South America, (6).

Boston.—Ernie N. Schaff, Elizabeth, N. J., defeated Bennie Touchstone, Miami, Fla., (10).

Chicago.—Joe Chaney, Baltimore outpointed Frankie Schaeffer, of Chicago, (10).

Rochester, N. Y.—Jack McVey, Brooklyn, technically knocked out George Nichols, Sandusky, Ohio, (10).

Miami, Fla.—Farmer Joe Cooper, Terre Haute, Ind., and Billy Alger of Phoenix, Ariz., drew (10). Tulsa, Okla.—Young Stribling, of Macon, Ga., defeated Chuck Burns, of San Antonio, (10).

LOCAL LEAGUE OUTFIT BUYS ITS UNIFORMS

Members of the Board of Directors of the Greenville baseball club of the recently formed Eastern Carolina league have purchased uniforms to be used by the club during the approaching season, it was announced this morning by President G. V. Smith.

Purchase of the uniforms was made at a meeting of the directors last night. The style of uniform to be used by the club while playing away from home will be gray with navy stripes. Uniforms to be used at home will be white with navy blue stripes. The caps will be blue with navy and red braid. Stockings will be of the same style used by the Brooklyn, N. Y., club. They will be navy and red with white ankles.

The committee having selection of a name under consideration was unable to give attention to the matter last night. Hundreds of letters offering every kind of cognomen imaginable have been submitted, it was stated, but it is expected selection of the winner of the contest will be announced within the next day or so.

President Smith stated that plans looking to organization of the club were rapidly assuming more concrete form and that he expected to have the first contingent of players ready for spring practice during the month of March.

He said the coming to the city of the Newark and New Haven ball clubs April 6th had attracted more than general interest among sports lovers and that the game would constitute a splendid prelude to opening of the Eastern Carolina league.

NEW YORK GETS RECRUTE HURLERS

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Four recruit pitchers have signed contracts with the New York Giants for the 1928 drive, secretary J. J. Tierney announced today. They are Chet Nichols, drafted from the Jersey City Internationals last fall; Arthur Johnson, a southpaw from Newark; Henry Boney and Red Porter, former stars of the University of Florida.

Boney and Porter had tryouts previously with the Giants Boney was sent to Newark last season and Porter to Birmingham.

Big Card For Boston Indoor Track Contest

Boston, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A champion, national or inter-collegiate for every invitation event on the card, seems assured for the 39th annual indoor track and field game of the Boston Athletic Association here next Saturday on the strength of the entries received to date.

Karl Wildermuth, of Georgetown, national indoor sixty-yard title holder, are the headliners down for the Briggs invitation 40-yard dash, while Monty Wells, Dartmouth's intercollegiate high hurdle title holder, tops the field in the 45-yard high stick event.

Oliver Proudlock, intercollegiate half mile champion, Herman Phillips, national A. A. U. 440 yards champion, George Leness, national 600-yard champion, and Sam Martin, N. E. A. A. U. half mile champion, top the list of titleholders in the Apoll Keith memorial 660. Phil Edwards, New York University star, and national junior half mile champion, will have to beat Ray Dodge and Leo Larrives, from Chicago, and Luke McCloskey, and Charlie Sansone, in the 1,000 yard run while Ray Conner, national A. A. U. one mile champion, is going to meet Lloyd Hahn, America's most talked of distance runner, in the hunter mile.

Two champions will show in the high jump, Hal Osborne, the Olympic title holder, and Tommy Maynard of Dartmouth, intercollegiate champion. Scholastic difficulties will keep Sabin Carr of Yale, the first man to pole vault 14 feet, out of his specialty.

President Smith stated that plans looking to organization of the club were rapidly assuming more concrete form and that he expected to have the first contingent of players ready for spring practice during the month of March.

Jennings Still Critically Ill

Seranton, Pa., Jan. 31.—(AP)—There was no change noted this morning in the condition of Hughie Jennings, famous figure of the baseball diamond. He spent a restless night, but his general condition was not changed and is "still very grave" said a bulletin signed by the four attending physicians.

Jennings seemed cheered by a cablegram received last night from his old friend and teammate, John J. McGraw, manager of the new York Giants, who is in Cuba.

GRID COACHES DISFAVOR THE LATERAL PASS

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Miller Huggins, manager of the world champion New York Yanks, is looking further ahead than this season—he is preparing for the rainy day of the future as he builds his baseball team.

Huggins, here getting things in shape for spring training, admits that his reserves material now "is plentiful and probably could be called on at any time to fill any breach that might develop."

According to his present championship team cannot always turn back the threats of Washington Philadelphia, Chicago and others.

"Of course, my present team some day must be broken up and that's the emergency for which we are preparing. But when that time comes, I do not expect to be caught empty handed should our other clubs refuse to trade ball players with me."

His reference to trading players, he said, came from vague reports that other major clubs might in the future not be so willing to swap players with the Yanks.

Newspapermen told him there were such reports, Huggins declaring that "of course they would not come to my ears."

He pointed out that the deal calling for Lyn Lary and Jimmie Reese, infield twins of the Pacific Coast League, who come to the Yanks in 1929, were purchased solely for future use. His safety net purchase cost the Yanks $150,000.

He expects no change in the lineup this season, however, expressing willingness to coast along with his present championship team.

YANK LEADER PREPARES FOR RAINY DAYS

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Eastern football coaches and officials at a round table discussion last night expressed disapproval of the lateral pass and agreed unanimously that representatives of the eastern section should go before the football rules committee with the recommendation that the play be dropped and the passing rules revert to the status of 1926.

William Roper, Princeton, coach and eastern section member of the rules committee, was chairman of the meeting.

While unanimous against the lateral pass sentiment was just as strong in favor of keeping the goal posts back of the line, the opinion being that setting them back ten yards made no material difference.

Game officials were urged to enforce the rule covering the screened pass, it being pointed out that flagrant violations were now practiced. It was suggested that officials be authorized to inflict penalties for such violations.

Gil Doble, Cornell Coach, would include in the rule on clipping, that clipping from the side as well as from behind be penalized. Roper and Coach Hugo Bezdek, of Penn State, were in favor of abolishing the point after touchdown but this proposal did not meet with general approval.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Business is picking up for Sammy Mandell, ruler of the world's lightweights.

In addition to an offer from promoter Jim Mullen, of Chicago, for a title match here this summer, his manager Eddie Kane, has received offers for titular bouts in Boston and Detroit.

Eddie Mack, of Boston has offered him $50,000 for a match with "Honeyboy" Finigan at Fenway Park and a Detroit promoter requests a title match for Phil McGraw at the latter's home town, Detroit.

Wins First Round

Mrs. Rose Riley Berlenbach, wife of Paul Berlenbach, famous boxer, has regained possession of the "love nest" from which she was ousted at Pelham Manor, N. Y., and announces she will put up a vigorous defense against Der Paulie's action for an annulment of their marriage. (International Illustrated News)

BERLENBACH AND WIFE ON SECOND HONEYMOON

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Paul Berlenbach and his wife were on their second honeymoon today, the differences which had caused annulment proceedings of the former light heavyweight champion, apparently smoothed away.

"That's nobody's business," was Paul's answer to questions as to their destination, but it is understood they headed south perhaps as far south as Havana.

Berlenbach last week served papers in an annulment action charging that Mrs. Berlenbach, the former Rose Anne Riley, of Los Angeles, had not waited the legal span of time between the signing of the divorce decree from her first husband and their marriage.

Berlenbach countered with the statement that she had, and if she hadn't Paul knew all about it since he had furnished the money for her divorce hunting trip in Mexico.

TEX RICKARD STILL PLANS FOR BATTLE

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The heavyweight dance of the would-be champion proceeded today with one of the principals sitting out a number.

From Los Angeles yesterday, Jack Dempsey served notice he would not be in shape for a titular tiff until next September, which is partially caused by an injury to the right eye.

But he declared he would be in condition by fall and he expects no difficulty in coming to terms with Tex Rickard for a bout with the ruling king of the heavies.

Despite the temporary absence of the manassa mauler from the ring, Rickard's revised elimination series goes on as scheduled, John M. Chapman, Rickard's assistant at Madison Square Garden, announced.

Chapman said he talked with Rickard by telephone, receiving word from the promoter at Miami Beach that the survivor of the approaching eliminations would stack up against champion Gene Tunney in June.

The principals of this series are Jack Delaney and Tom Heeney, who tussle on March 1, and Jack Sharkey and Johnny Risko, who battle on March 12. Now that Dempsey has declared he will not box until next September, the winner of the eastern tournament will be sure to fight Tunney, Chapman said.

Previously Rickard had mentioned that he might pit the elimination winner against Dempsey in the event there were indications further eliminations would be desirable before arriving at the championship affair.

The victors of the two March bouts will be matched into the final of the elimination events to take place in Madison Square Garden some time in April.

Campbell Meets Defeat

Bule's Creek, Jan. 31.—(AP)—After winning eight games straight in a winning streak this season, Campbell College basketball team met defeat last night at the hands of Wake Forest baby Deacons.

The center piece was a silver basket filled with pink and blue sweet peas, silver candle holders with pink and blue candles.

The guests were given miniature corsages of sweet peas and novelty powder puffs.

The Road To Success

Mr. Arthur Brisbane Writes of the Success of William Fox of Movie Picture Fame

HE SAYS: "William Fox has bought 250 more theatres, seating 350,000, for $100,000,000."

Twenty-five years ago Fox got into the theatre business because his employer refused to raise his $17 a week salary. Fox had just married, the employer said, "not only I can't raise your $17 a week but you are getting $2 too much. I am going to pay what you are worth $15."

Fox had saved $500 on $17 a week. got control of a small moving picture theatre, that could take in $7.30 when packed. Now he has three hundred theatres.

Always save something. If you have brains it will increase. If not, saving will keep you out of the poor house and the potter's field anyhow."

Here's a concrete illustration of the result of the saving habit. Now is the time to start on the road to success. Join the

RICHMOND PAPER CARRIES PICTURE OF LOCAL GIRL

In a recent issue of the Richmond, Va., "News-Leader" was a picture of Miss Lacey Francisco James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James, of this city. Miss James and her mother were guests of Mrs. W. A. Porter during grand opera week. She is an attractive member of the younger set and a literal descendant of Peter Francisco of Revolutionary fame. She is a granddaughter of Col. and Mrs. F. G. James.

GIVES INTERPRETATION OF THE 'CHASTENING'

Miss Lula O. Andrews, of the English department of the college presented to the college Y. W. C. A. at their weekly evening meeting a most illuminating and beautiful interpretation of "The Chastening." She also gave an interesting account of the work of Charles Rann Kennedy and Edith Wynne Mathison in their efforts to purify the stage and to use it as a medium for presenting spiritual messages.

She gave a brief history of the drama, calling attention to the fact that it began with the church and was used for presenting to the eye sacred stories in dramatic form. Not until materials that were unworthy were introduced did it leave the altar and pass into the churchyard. From there it gradually drifted away and finally created a home of its own, the theatre. Charles Rann Kennedy is one who believes he is called to this work. His great gifts and the genius of his wife, Edith Wynne Mathison, are used for carrying out his ideals.

Miss Andrews sketched in the scene of the play, gave the situation, and read parts that illustrated her points. She read the second chapter of Luke, upon which the play is based, and selected songs that were in harmony with the theme.

"BEN-HUR" BIG DRAMA OF SIMPLE EMOTIONS

Love and Revenge Chief Motive Of World-Famous Novel

(Advance Reader)

The biggest things are the simplest. Not complexity of emotion, but its depth and truth mark real greatness. In the instance of Ben-Hur, at White's Wednesday and Thursday love and revenge are the supreme motives. Revenge—to overthrow the Roman who destroyed the House of Hur; Love—an insensate passion that makes its hero search the wide world over to find his lost mother and sister, and Love, the flowering of youth's emotions to his true mate, Esther; these are the keys to Ben-Hur's heart, and these are the elements of appeal that makes his story so engrossing. This marvelous story has now been pictured for the first time from the world-famous novel and stage play, and will be presented at the White's Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. The great motive of the picture find their climax in the Antioch Chariot Race when Ben-Hur overthrows his enemy Messala and in the wonderful ending where Esther finds the lost ones and brings them to the Saviour to be healed.

Military Unit Contributes To Salvation Army

Members of the local military unit went one hundred per cent strong last night when they contributed $207 to the budget campaign of the Salvation Army now in progress in this city. The artillerymen, many of whom saw active service with American expeditionary forces in France, said they appreciated the work being done by the great force of Salvation Army workers and joined in the appeal to give liberally to this great cause.

ABOUT TOWN

"Don't forget the public meeting to be held in the court house tonight." K. T. Futrell, superintendent of Pitt County Department of Welfare reminded local citizens today.

"This session will be held for the purpose of discussing hospitalization for the county's indigent negro population. Some of the best known public health workers of the state will be present and discuss the situation. They will have interesting facts to present and these will deal largely with the necessity of providing hospitals to take care of negroes unable to receive hospital treatment.

"Many philanthropic organizations of nation are ready to do their part in making this kind of health work possible, providing of course, the people of the various counties are willing to do their part.

"Came out to the meeting tonight and hear this important issue discussed in a way that is bound to attract your attention and eventually your sympathy."

"While considerable progress has been made in soliciting stock to make possible the establishment of a branch of the Philadelphia Plush Manufacturing Company, we have not as yet been able to complete our solicitation," members of the soliciting committee told the writer of this column today.

"This is Greenville's one supreme opportunity of taking its place among the manufacturing centers of the nation. The coming of this plant will be a means of attracting other industries. Northern capitalists are looking south these days, and are going to invest their resources in communities willing to offer them proper inducements.

"Greenville has been attempting to attract outside capital for many months, and now the opportunity is open to us through the investment of a small amount of our money we should not fail to take advantage of it.

"If you haven't purchased any of this stock, why not see members of the committee immediately and do your part toward expansion of your town."

"One thousand baby chicks have been shipped to Pitt county this week, making a total of three thousand for the present season." E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt county department of agriculture, told the writer of this column today.

"In a few weeks these little chickens will begin to assume proportions of broilers, and when they have reached that state of growth we market.

"Our farmers are doing everything possible to create sources of revenue other than afforded by the cultivation of their prolific soil, and the raising of chickens is one of these sources. We are going to make our shipments greater this year than ever before and at the end of the year our earnings will be appreciably greater than anybody at this time has the slightest idea.

"Raising of hogs is another one of these ways of creating additional revenue. If you don't believe Pitt county farmers are looking forward to the future, go out to see some of them from time to time and let them convince you of what they are doing."

"Everybody will have an opportunity of contributing to the budget campaign of the Salvation army this week," members of the campaign committee said today. This organization is deserving of your support and cannot be doubted.

"It is truly one of the greatest institutions of its kind in the world reaching out to many isolated sections and carrying cheer and happiness to desolate, destitute fire-sides.

"Greenville people are being an opportunity of supporting their local post. If you haven't contributed, be sure that you do not put the matter off. Remember what the Salvation army did during the war and also inform yourself of what they are doing today. Contribute now and rest assured of having done something in the interest of humanity."

"Greenville Building and Loan Associations are declared to be among the most thriving in the country by a member of the state insurance commission who just recently completed an inspection of their condition," a local business man remarked to the writer of this column today.

"These organizations have done much for development of the city during the past few years and right at this time people are taking more interest in what they are capable of doing than ever before.

"Many new homes will spring up in different parts of the city during the next two or three years, and when we remember that they will be made possible by building and loan agencies we cannot but help commending the activities of the organizations.

"If you haven't been taking an active interest in building and loan stock let us urge you to do so and in this way help your town develop as it has never developed before."

BADLY RUN-DOWN
Kentucky Woman Had "Terrible Time" Doing Her Home Work. Strength Returned After She Took Cardui.
Shelbyville, Ky.—"Several years ago," says Mrs. Alven Jesse, of this place, "my health was very bad. I was very much run-down. I was in such a weak, nervous condition that I was not able to do my housework. I struggled to keep up, because I had to, but many a time I spent hours in bed, trying to force enough strength to go through the daily routine.

"This condition went on for some time, until I heard about Cardui, which some one told me was good for such ailments. I gave it an immediate trial, and I am thankful to say, my improvement was rapid. I soon was able to do my housework with ease and comfort. I felt fine and I looked so much better.

"This spring I was not as well as I had been. I was ill in the winter with colds, which left me weak. So I sent at once to the store for Cardui and began taking it. In just a little while I was feeling much better, my strength returned and I was able to get my work done easier and with less effort."

ROTARY CLUB IN REGULAR MEET HERE

Echoes of the recent Tar river bridge discussion and the plan to bring a branch of a Philadelphia Plush Manufacturing concern to Greenville sounded against walls of the banquet hall of the Greenville Rotary Club at the regular weekly meeting of that organization last night. Aside from a discussion of these two issues the club functioned as usual and enjoyed a program full of enthusiasm and interest to all members present.

The session last night was presided over by President W. H. Rogers. Singing was led by J. H. Rose. Dave Turnage delivered one of a series of vocational talks, speaking at length regarding the fertilizer industry. He told of the different formulas of commercial fertilizers and of tests in the successful production of tobacco—the greatest crop of this district. The talk was highly informative and contained many valuable points for those interested in the development of agriculture.

Echoes of the recent bridge found their way into the building when President Rogers explained that the State Highway commission had called engineers to Raleigh to arrange for providing a walkway for the new bridge now being constructed over Tar river. Conditions will also be placed preparatory to the lighting of the bridge.

Original plans for the structure contained no provisions for a walkway or lights, but information from the commission a few days ago was to the effect that the matter had been ironed out and that these features would be included.

Mr. Rogers also spoke briefly of the stock soliciting campaign now under way to make possible the coming to this city of a branch factory of the Philadelphia Plush Co. He said the committees had reported progress, but this was not as rapid as expected. He urged the Rotarians to give the matter the attention which it deserves, and to use their influence in the subscription of sufficient stock to make the local concern possible.

E. B. Higgs enumerated the benefits to be derived from the new industry and expressed belief that the city would lose one of its greatest opportunities of becoming a manufacturing center should the matter be allowed to drop. He told of the splendid rating of the Philadelphia plant and declared it would be a great asset to the city.

"Northern capitalists are turning their eyes southward today looking for favorable locations for industries," Mr. Higgs declared, "and they are going to the communities offering the greatest possibilities for development."

He urged his hearers to consider the future expansion of the city from the standpoint of manufacturing and to do everything possible to encourage investment in manufacturing concerns for this territory.

Guests of the evening were Robert Sasser, of Raleigh, member of the State Insurance commission who has just completed a check-up of local building and loan institutions, and Mr. Lewis of Philadelphia. Mr. Sasser declared building and loan agencies of Greenville to be in the most thriving condition and said they held forth promise of continued expansion for the city.

Local Red Men Start Membership Campaign Here

The local tribe Improved Order of Red Men is now launching a campaign of publicity and membership drive throughout the hunting grounds of Greenville and Pitt county to finally place the oldest purely American organization in the front ranks of all great fraternities, thereby making it possible to greatly increase the membership of this ancient and honorable Order.

Reimbursement dates back from 1562-1771, a period during which the souls of men were tried. This Order was one of the main factors that gave impulse to the determination of the colonists and insured ultimate success to those patriots, resulting in a flag—"Old Glory"—and a nation—the United States of America.

The Improved Order of Red Men is the largest distinctively American fraternity, and had its origin in the patriotic sentiments of our forefathers, who fought for liberty in the days of '76. It teaches the principles of friendship and brotherly helpfulness. Its principle comes all with the spirit of fraternal love and the divine idea of the brotherhood of man. It does not interfere with politics or religion and guarantees to every individual "that as he enters the wigwag so shall he depart, a free man." When adversity knocks and it happens sooner or later—the brothers of this fraternity will aid and assist, and one will never have cause to regret his affiliation with them.

The orphan of a Red Man will never become a pauper. The system of caring for the little ones does not necessitate the removal from home, but the brothers of the tribe who have homes influence and the training for good men and women. If every citizen of the United States was a Red Man there would be no need for orphan asylums. They have no orphan homes but a home for every orphan.

On or about January 31st, 1926, the good ladies of this community will be organized in the degree of Pocahontas which will be an additional degree to the local order.

The degree of Pocahontas of the Improved Order of Red Men has a membership of over 125,000, and over 1,400 local councils. As a social and beneficial Order, the degree of Pocahontas stands upon an equal basis among the best fraternities of the United States.

"True manhood" is the test applied to all, and the tribes are respected as one family circle. They "trust no one to enter the wigwag, unless he is worthy to enter the other. They believe in a Supreme Being, and only those who believe otherwise can enter their Wigwag Bond. They want the best citizens or they want none.

Next Friday evening will be our regular social night and all degree work will be suspended. Only members and invited guests will be admitted. These gala nights are going to cut our work short, but we want good fellowship along with our work.

We hope that any members who are in this vicinity any Friday night will attend our meetings. The glad hand is always extended.

Itching Skin

Don't let your skin torture or embarrass you another day! Lasting relief is yours if you will use the remedy that works two ways at once. ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL REPORTED TO CONGRESS AT THIS MORNING'S SESSION

In case of war. This money, he explained, would be used to promote contacts with foreign officers so that facts concerning the military power of other nations might be learned "just as foreign officers obtain information concerning our army."

"The advanced age of army horses was described by Major General W. C. Rivers. "I think two-thirds of them average 18 years," he said.

Supporting the various appropriations sought for the army, Secretary Davis said that the morale of the ranks "is better than it has been since I have known anything about the army." He pointed out re-enlistments are running high and desertions very low, attributing the contented spirit somewhat to improvement in the food ration.

Davis joined with Major General Charles P. Summerall the chief of staff in encouraging the province of new uniforms for the army. "It ought to be something a little bit better and dressier," he said, citing the recent dedication of the Canadian war memorial in Arlington cemetery, he said.

"We had the Canadian troops lined up on one side and our troops lined up on the other side. Physically and in every other way our troops compared splendidly with theirs, with the exception of those uniforms. It was not flattering to our men."

General Summerall advocated a service, dress and full dress uniform for every army man, suggesting blue or some other shade or combination for dress and full dress.

The matter of furniture for officers' quarters also was touched on by Secretary Davis who said there was now a serious lack in this respect and he considered it an "important item" regarding morale.

An appropriation of $326,400 to purchase 9,546 pieces was proposed. The establishment of a munitions battalion, to be composed of about 250 enlisted men who will be sent to college, was advocated as a new step by the army.

"The purpose of this battalion," he said, "is to create a group of young men in industry in the procurement of munitions in time of war."

TODAY

They should kill one another. That one carried a great sword.

Then came a black horse, with man riding him carrying "a pair of balances in his hand." And last "A pale horse, and his name that sat on him was death, and hell followed with him." That makes you shiver.

Ibanez, who wrote "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" dies leaving unfinished a novel to be called "The Fifth Horseman."

What Ibanez planned we shall never know. What color would suggest for that fifth horse? What kind of a rider? White for conquest, red for war, black for justice, and the pale horse, death. What color and job for a fifth horse?

Would it be a bright gold, representing modern conquest by money?

Would it be a "pinto" or piebald horse, representing uncertainty in science and religion, so disturbing to faith?

Some young genius will find his subject had made up that "fifth horse."

Ibanez "fifth horse" was to deal with the League of Nations, so perhaps his idea was a piebald horse, which would represent the League well.

It would have two riders, one France, one England; perhaps with Uncle Sam tied to the tail, if he would consent.

Harriet Kallen, weight 16 pounds 6 ounces, age 11 weeks, is studied by psychologists with the consent of her father, a doctor and lecturer on philosophy and aesthetics.

The baby's moods, awakening emotions, likes and dislikes, cries and movements and facial expression will be recorded.

Darwin did that thoroughly with his own children long ago, in his studies of evolution.

He showed that in human infants, as in all animals, fear comes first, then anger, then jealousy. The brain of man like the body of man develops along the same lines as in lower creation.

Before birth a child goes through all stages of animal evolution. At six weeks it can't be told, with the naked eye, from a number of modern lower animals.

At one stage it has two feet like those of a gorilla. A child born with a clubfoot has retained one of the gorilla feet.

The study of embryology might enlighten the wise men of fundamentalism.

Canada, smallest city in New York state, votes in favor of Sunday movies.

These opposed lent their automobiles to carry voters to the city hall. Those convinced that Sunday is made for man, not man for Sunday, and approving movies on the day of rest, went to the city hall on foot and outvoted the others.
