BALK PLAN TO PROVE STORY MRS. GATLIN

State Objects to Testimony Corroborating Mrs. Gatlin's Testimony at Wentworth.

Wentworth, Feb. 20.—(AP)—First efforts of the defense to corroborate Mrs. Alma Petty Gatlin's story that her mother killed her father Smith T. Petty with an axe were balked this morning when Judge Cameron McRae sustained the state's objection to the testimony of Mrs. Robert Rascoe, of Reidsville. Mrs. Gatlin is charged with the killing.

Mrs. Rascoe was called by the defense to corroborate Mrs. Gatlin's statement that she had begged her dying mother to confess. Solicitor S. Porter Graves immediately objected to the proposed testimony on the grounds that it constituted presentation of a self-serving declaration and the jury was sent from the room while counsel argued.

Mrs. Rascoe was then instructed to recite the story with the jury out. She told the court that she was in the Petty home during the last illness of Mrs. Petty and heard Mrs. Gatlin urging her mother to confess.

Asked P. W. Glidewell, chief defense attorney, to tell "exactly what happened," Mrs. Rascoe said she was at the Petty home and heard Mrs. Gatlin talking about "her mother going to hell."

The witness had declared before the jury that she was present when a minister was summoned. In the absence of the jury she went further in details of the story saying the preacher finally did arrive.

Mrs. Gatlin asked the preacher if he believed in death bed repentance, she said, "Yes, as all the conversation she heard."

Counsel argued over the admissibility of the testimony. Glidewell contended they were offering to corroborate the defendant's testimony on the stand.

The defendant has testified her mother killed her father. "We submit at the time this statement was made the defendant had not been accused of the crime and therefore we think this proper corroborative evidence."

Solicitor Graves contended that it was "too much after the homicide occurred." He said further it would be self-serving and appeared to be brought "in her own interest." Judge McRae upheld the objection and discharged the witness before the jury returned.

Following the dismissal of Mrs. Rascoe, Glidewell announced that with the exception of one witness who was expected by train today, his case was rested and the state began rebuttal testimony. Before rebuttal began, however, M. H. McMichael, Reidsville merchant, was called as a character witness for Mrs. Gatlin.

The first state rebuttal witness to be called was R. P. Corum, of Reidsville, a painter who was working on the Petty home in July 8, 1927, about seven months after the time Mrs. Gatlin said her mother killed her father.

On July 8, Mrs. Gatlin, her husband and two other people came into the basement of the house where the body of the father later was found buried, he said.

Asked if Mrs. Gatlin made any statement, Corum said, "Yes, she said she wanted to see how things looked." He did not know who she was at the time, he said.

On cross examination it was brought out that Corum attended the Rev. Pardue's church "more than any other." It was the story of the Rev. Pardue that Mrs. Gatlin had confessed to him that she killed her father which led to the investigation subsequently resulting in the finding of the body and the defendant's arrest.

Glidewell then questioned the witness as to whether he had ever attempted to kill himself. The witness said he had shot himself in the stomach with a 22 rifle but had done it accidentally. He said on cross examination that he had related the details of what he saw in the basement to the Rev. Pardue but later said he had been mixed up on the question and didn't know whether he had told Pardue or not.

Corum's helper, Durham, who also was present when Mrs. Gatlin was said to have entered the basement, said he attended Rev. Pardue's church but that if he ever told Pardue about what occurred in the Petty home he didn't remember it.

Good From Evil.

The unfortunate accident in the bay, between San Francisco and Oakland, sad as it is, will have good results. It will hasten tunnel and bridge connections between the two cities, destined to be one of the world's greatest seaports, and financial and manufacturing centers.

As the Pacific exceeds the Atlantic in size, so Pacific ports will surpass the Atlantic ports. First the Aegian Sea, then the Mediterranean, then the Atlantic, next, last and greatest, the Pacific.

Good comes from evil. Serious accidents in the smoky railroad tunnel leading into New York City, hastened the New York Central's decision to electrify the tunnel and reconstruct the tunnel. Great profit resulted plus safety.

When Oakland and San Francisco are actually and physically one city, municipal union will follow as in New York City. Brooklyn united with New York, following tunnels and bridges. Brooklyn has now more population than old Manhattan, and that places Brooklyn as much as it does Brooklyn. This is the age of big units.

President Coolidge had for breakfast, on Friday, with griddle cakes and sausage, Borah of Idaho, Walsh of Montana, Curtis of Kansas City, Watson of Indiana and Willis of Ohio.

One of the five may be inviting Mr. Coolidge to the White House in 1929. However, Herbert Hoover, Al Smith and Governor Lowden were missing, so you cannot tell.

Little "stop loss orders" gentlemen are having trouble in Wall Street. Little lambs that would not hurt anybody, will be shaken out on their woolly little heads, and (Continued on Page Six)

BIG BANKERS VISIT CAPITAL CITY TODAY

Visitors Given Welcome to Raleigh by Gov. McLean and Joseph Daniels.

Raleigh, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Bankers of Eastern and middle Western States holding the pursestrings to millions of dollars, going into North Carolina industrial development, were today officially welcomed to the state which Will Rogers says has made more progress than any other state in the union in the last ten years.

Governor Angus W. McLean, himself a country banker, made the official welcome and Joseph Daniels, local publisher, welcomed the bankers to Eastern Carolina, the center of Carolina's outstanding tobacco, cotton, peanut, truck territory, at a breakfast meeting.

A tour of the state capital, the hall a dozen colleges here, two airports, golf at the Country Club, a showing of "The Romance of the News" Associated Press picture at the State theatre through courtesy of Manager W. G. Enloe, and banquet tonight at the State Bankers' Association group four meeting, was the full program to engage the bankers who arrived from Asheville in conclusion of the Western Carolina tour at 3 o'clock this morning before the departure at 3:45 A. M. tomorrow morning for Winston, Greenville, Rocky Mount, Fayetteville, Sanford, and Greensboro disbanding.

The Governor cited North Carolina's prosperous credit life and held up the growing industrial prosperity of the state while Mr. Daniels devoted himself to the "poorhoms along the wonderful highways" and contrasted the massed prosperity with the poor condition of the average farmer, calling upon the bankers to solve just why the farmers are not going forward with the rest of the population in prosperity.

Mr. McLean, introducing himself as a country banker, who years ago borrowed $500 as his part ownership in the $15,000 capitalization in the Lumberton bank, told of his former experiences in attempting to borrow money from New York bankers, and contrasted that circumstances with his official capacity as director of (Continued on Page Six)

NORRIS ASKS INQUIRY INTO POWER RATES

Would Direct Federal Trade Commission to Probe Charges of Public Utilities.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—On the heels of the senate resolution directing the federal trade commission to investigate the financial structure of public utility power companies, Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee has urged the commission to inquire also into rates charged the public.

In a letter to the commission Senator Norris forwarded a pamphlet, "What price electricity for our homes," written by Norris Llewellyn Cooke, Philadelphia engineer, and declared:

"I respectfully submit that the rates and facts here presented, most of which come from the sworn reports and records of the electric light and power companies themselves, require your immediate and thorough investigation. The vicious circle of high and discriminatory rates coupled with restricted use must be broken."

Under circumstances outlined in the pamphlet, Senator Norris said, "Fair rates for small consumers through regulation is out of the question unless our (state) commissions are supported by an inquiry at hands such as yours."

In the pamphlet, an open letter to the electrical industry Cooke declared "any price paid for domestic service above five cents per kilowatt hour must be justified by some special consideration which does not afford 3 per cent of the current used on this class of service."

9,000,000 Extra Votes Cast In Japan Election

Tokyo, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Thousands of Rickshaw pullers voted today for the first time in Japanese history.

Polling places were crowded in the first national election under the full manhood suffrage act which gave some 9,000,000 additional persons the right to vote.

The weather was favorable to a large turnout. Police guards were maintained everywhere.

The last national election was limited to taxpayers and only 3,000,000 persons were entitled to vote. Today any sane male citizen, 25 years of age, who had resided in one place for a year previously, who never had been convicted of a felony and who could read and write could cast a ballot.

The business life of the nation has been virtually at a standstill for the last few days in the frantic last minute struggle of the various parties to appeal to this greatly increased electorate. Newspapers, lampposts, signboards, and all other available spaces today were plastered with final appeals to the voters.

For the 466 seats of the diet, which was dissolved in January, there were 999 candidates. The seiyukai or government party and the minseitō or opposition party entered about 370 candidates each. The remainder included 88 proletarians and 88 independents.

With 9,000,000 new voters, political observers found it difficult to forecast the outcome, but they generally agreed that the seiyukai would be victorious by a small margin.

DISPLAY YOUR FLAG

Wednesday February 22 being the anniversary of George Washington's birthday and also the date upon which Group One, North Carolina Bankers Association, will meet in this city, I take this opportunity to urge all local business houses to suitably decorate for the occasion and display the American flag on that date. We should never miss the opportunity to pay tribute to the memory of the "Father of Our Country" and the display of the flag on February 22 is one of our best means of so doing. A liberal display of the flag here next Wednesday will accomplish a two-fold purpose in that it will not only celebrate the birthday of our first president but will give the city a gala attire for the bankers from all over this section of North Carolina, there will be present about fifty prominent bankers from at least half a dozen other states and the gathering of these men here on that date is alone worth recognition and celebration.

As mayor of your city I request and urge that every American flag in Greenville be displayed next Wednesday.

Respectfully,
J. CON LANIER
Mayor of Greenville, N. C.

N. Y. MAYOR BOUND SOUTH

Jimmy Walker Realizes Dream of Lifetime in Trip to New Orleans, La.

Enroute to New Orleans with Mayor Walker, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Mayor James J. Walker was wondering today, as his private car was being carried through Georgia and into Alabama on its way to New Orleans and its Mardi Gras, if the next two days will bring fulfillment of a desire almost as old as the New York Mayor himself.

Ever since he was a boy he has wanted to see New Orleans. Long ago he was told one must see three cities in the United States, New York, San Francisco and New Orleans. New York was easy and San Francisco came in due course and now he is on his way to New Orleans with anticipation added to the expectation.

"I wish I could stay a week," the Mayor said today, "but as we have only the four days we will have to see all we can in the time we have."

During most of his trip through Virginia and North Carolina yesterday, Mr. Walker was not "the best dressed Mayor." He suffered during a part of the day with a toothache and was an undressed Mayor until tonight.

At Danville, Va., he came out, bathrobe and all, to speak to a ten year old "Jimmy" who likes his name and all that bear it, and when a crowd of a score or more assembled at the station in Greensboro the Mayor was dressed and came out to stroll up and down the platform surrounded by a number of feminine voters of North Carolina.

A visiting Texas woman was on hand and her first question was: "Have you ever been to Houston?" "No," said the Mayor, "but I expect to." "I have already been to Dallas."

"Oh, come on out, Jimmy, never mind those men," one of the young women cried as the Mayor turned for a moment in his private car to chat with Greensboro friends who had come to the station to greet him.

The Mayor met at the request by descending to the platform and organizing a promenade. At Salisbury a score or more persons came to the train and called for Walker. He responded with a few words.

Havana Conference In Last Session Today

Havana, Feb. 20.—(AP)—With agreements and treaties ready for signature, the pan American congress moved today toward its close. Only the formalities of closing the session were before the delegates of 21 American republics.

The United States representatives, it is stated on the highest authority, consider that more progress has been made on the program of this gathering than at any of the previous ones.

The accomplishments of the conference include:

Establishment of the principle of compulsory arbitration for the settlement of inter-American disputes, except those pertaining to the sovereignty and independence of nations in purely domestic problems.

A pan-American union convention, placing that body on a permanent basis and permitting the members to have special representatives on the governing board instead of diplomats regularly accredited to Washington.

A treaty on rights and duties of neutrals in event of war.

A commercial aviation convention open to the signature of all countries.

A treaty placing aliens aboard on the same footing as nationals.

A treaty establishing the right of asylum to which the United States entered formal reservation.

A treaty providing for international cooperation for the suppression of and prevention of revolutions in each other's territories.

Adoption of a pan American sanitary code.

Plans for an inter-American aviation highway eventually extending from Canada to Patagonia.

A convention of maritime neutrality, the United States entering a reservation to the clause forbidding the arming of merchantmen for defense in time of war.

A code of private international law dealing with the judicial status of persons, marriage and divorce. The United States declined to participate on constitutional grounds.

The United States delegation regards the resolution on compulsory arbitration as perhaps the brightest achievement of the parley. A conference must be called with a year in Washington to discuss minimum exceptions and draw up a pan American convention for arbitration.

They declared the aviation convention also was an outstanding achievement, guaranteeing the possibility of efficient commercial aviation in this hemisphere.

The unanimous agreement of the conference in forbidding the pan American union to engage in political activities appears to the United States mission to have saved the union from disintegration.

Delegates said that if any think had been left open for the governing board to take up political subjects, the proceedings at the congress would probably have been made use of to justify presentation to the union of tariff questions and intervention.

The work of the committee on public international law was also praised by the United States delegation.

Given Hearing For Attempt To Kill Sweetheart

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Hiram Reed, a farmer's son, was called to trial today for attempted murder. The case had for its setting the same four walls within which young Harry Hill was tried for matricide—a case in which a jury last week failed to reach a verdict.

The state has charged Reed, 24 years old, with planting a dynamite bomb in the stove of the little country school house, in which his sweetheart, Miss Lola Bradford, 23, taught. The motive the state will seek to prove was that Reed desired to avoid marriage and fatherhood.

Miss Bradford, bearing scars that resulted from the explosion which occurred last November 29, is one of the state's chief witnesses. Her story was that Reed had agreed to marry her and the wedding date had been set for a few days after the date of the explosion.

The prosecution also has a confession by Reed, later repudiated, in which he told of planting the bomb, knowing that it would explode when Miss Bradford started a fire in the stove shortly before school time.

BAPTISTS HOLD MEETING HERE

Conference of Four Counties at Memorial Baptist Church Here Yesterday.

Baptists Sunday schools representing four counties in this section of the state held a conference in Memorial Baptist church in this city yesterday afternoon and heard interesting reports of activities of Sunday schools of the Roanoke Baptist Association. The counties represented were Beaufort, Martin, Washington and Pitt. Beaufort sent the largest delegation with Pitt coming in for close second place.

The program was in charge of Roy D. Clark, of Tarboro, association's educational secretary of the Roanoke Baptist Association. Mr. Clark explained the need of more concerted action among the Sunday schools, and presented a program providing for future work of the schools. This contained plans for a Daily Vocational Bible School, Gospel Music Chautauqua and Educational Council in Church Administration to be presented at different periods of the year.

The conference went on record as favoring the plan as presented by Mr. Clark, representatives of each of the churches promising co-operation in every way possible.

Mr. Clark at the outset emphasized the need of more attention to Bible school work. He told of the progress made by other denominations of the time given over to Sunday school activities, and urged the conference to adopt advance methods of educational work in order to keep abreast of the times.

He declared each denomination should rally to its own program of religious education. He told of the work now under way among state Baptists and declared each church should work according to the comprehensive program outlined.

Rev. Mr. Yearby, of Tarboro, educational director of the conference, spoke briefly of the Standard of Excellence method of grading used in the various Sunday schools and called on representatives of every town present to report progress made in this direction. Virtually all churches, it was indicated, are working under the system and promised greater progress for the future.

APPEALS FOR SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES

Britisher Tells League of Settlements Between United States and Britain.

Geneva, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Disputes between the United States and Great Britain in the last hundred years which might have resulted in war were amicably settled by arbitration, Baron Coudenhove, Great Britain, told the League of Nations security commission today, in delivering an earnest appeal for the development of conciliation and arbitration.

He declared that disarmament and peace could be promoted either by multilateral treaties of conciliation and arbitration.

He strongly urged the security commission to propose world regions were pacts of security and non-aggression similar to that of Locarno could be elaborated in the interest of international peace.

In opening the general discussion, Lord Coudenhove, frankly coming out for the position long maintained by France, said that international security and disarmament are interdependent and added that unless better security is given to nations there is little hope for any appreciable disarmament.

Turning attention to the fact that critics are ready to "flay" the league's impotency to prevent war, the British representative expressed hope that the world would give due importance to the views set forth by the recent meeting of experts at Prague that the league covenant creates a measure of security which should be appreciated in full value.

Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia, president of the commission, urged the delegates to tackle the problem with energy, patience and good will expressing belief that he was certain that success would reward its labor and that the League of Nations would have another triumph to its credit.

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Soviet Russia, which recently proposed the complete abolition of armaments, today decried the text of a draft disarmament convention with the League of Nations.

The text, which was filed by Boris Stein, soviet observer at the security committee meetings which opened today, is based upon the disarmament proposals which Maxim Litvinoff, assistant commissar of foreign affairs, submitted at the last meeting the preparatory commission for a disarmament conference.

The Russian draft convention will serve as a starting point for discussion of the Russian proposals at the meeting of the preparatory commission opening March 15. It will be forwarded meanwhile to all members of the league.

In the news story published Saturday regarding the change in the firm of Moyer-Gentry, former operators of the Centre Brick warehouse, to Moyer and Jewett, we stated that Mr. H. G. Jewett had purchased Mr. J. J. Gentry's interest in the warehouse. Our attention has been called to the fact that the warehouse building is owned by Messrs. The warehouse is still the property of Lassiter and Moyer and is leased to and will be operated by the new firm of Moyer and Jewett.

quite a number of good people joined on the assumption it could help in law enforcement and in promoting 100 per cent Americanism, but most of them have quit the order or let their membership lapse. And now, under the inducement of some grand and impressive ceremonial, the appeal is made by the Exalted Cyclops and the Imperial Wizard to rejoin for what is called a great conflict.

In the late sixties and early seventies, when there was no government, the K. K. came into being to do a necessary work. It did its job, and then Saunders and Strudwick and other leaders disbanded it. There is not in 1928 either excuse or reason for such an organization. In some places lawless men, either belonging to the Klan or acting under cover, have terrorized communities. They have become a menace. Good men who have come out of this un-American institution should stay out. Those who have never joined should do their duties as citizens in co-operation with other good citizens without membership in an order that as now constituted has no good mission to serve. If you have come out, stay out.

If you are a member, come out.

If you have never joined, stay out. — News and Observer.

ABOUT TOWN

"The finger print bureau of the Greenville police department is becoming one of our most invaluable mediums in the apprehension of criminals," Chief of Police Lester Jones, told the writer today.

"Only quite recently we were able to recapture two prisoners who escaped from this county through finger prints sent to us from a northern city. The prints corresponded exactly with those on our files and we were able to land the prisoners behind jail bars again in unusually short time.

"The finger print bureau of the local department is two years old. It is young compared with some of the larger cities, but the extensive collection of fingerprints enables us to accomplish some mighty effective work. It is our intention to continue improving this department until we shall be able to render more efficient service to other communities."

"We are now beginning to hear of Sunday school chautauqua," said Rev. H. P. Jones, pastor of Memorial Baptist church, speaking of the Sunday School conference of four counties held in his church yesterday.

"Roy D. Clark, educational director of the Roanoke Baptist association, was the first to bring the idea to the attention of the churches of this district. He did it in such an effective way members of virtually all congregations were immediately sold on the idea.

"The plan as presented by Mr. Clark at the conference here yesterday provides for an elaborate musical program and discussion of problems dealing with Sunday school activities, to be held by churches of some given district.

"That this would result in increased interest in the great field of Christian endeavor, I have not the slightest doubt. With proper co-operation the movement should gain such impetus that it would eventually become a fixture with church-goers of North Carolina."

"It will not be long now before the public will begin receiving more information about developments in the Eastern Carolina league," Guy Smith, President of the Greenville club, indicated this morning.

"With the hiring of players and preparations for spring training under way in all six cities of the new circuit, we may expect to see the season get away to a real start.

"Far greater interest in the league is being manifested by local people, and there is every indication that Greenville will be gripped by a genuine case of baseball fever by the time first players begin arriving. It is certain training season will witness predictions of most varied nature in a comparatively short time every person in the city will know every member of the team by name, where he comes from etc.

"We want to make this the greatest baseball year in the history of Eastern Carolina and if all clubs pull together there is no reason on earth why this ambition should not be realized."

Special U. S. Stamp To Mark Lindbergh Return to Air Mail

LINDBERGH AGAIN FLIES THE AIR MAIL

CHICAGO ST. LOUIS C. A. M. 2

PEORIA, ILL. 2-20-28.

When Col. Charles A. Lindbergh flies the air mail again today and tomorrow, over his old St. Louis-Chicago route, the postoffice department will mark all the mail he carries with a stamp especially designed and shown above.

Washington. (AP) — A lucky horseshoe stamp has been designed by the postoffice department to commemorate the return of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to his old mail route between St. Louis and Chicago.

His old airmail license has been reissued to Colonel Lindbergh and the department has arranged to stamp each of the letters carried on the trip with the horseshoe emblem carrying the legend: "Lindbergh Again Flies the Air Mail."

Warren I. Glover, assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail, estimates Colonel Lindbergh will carry more than 70,000 letters on the round trip. Letters are being assembled already at the points on the route, St. Louis, Peoria, Springfield and Chicago. Under present plans Colonel Lindbergh will carry the northbound mail from St. Louis to Chicago, stopping at Peoria and Springfield, on February 20, and will make the return trip the following day.

Letters signed by Lindbergh in Springfield when he made his initial trip opening the St. Louis-Chicago route are bringing $100 at collectors' sales.

MARY LEWIS TO SING THURSDAY EVENING

Opera, concert, records, radio or Vitaphone, none holds any fear for Mary Lewis, the charming prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who sings here on next Thursday evening, Feb. 23, at East Carolina Teachers College.

Miss Lewis perhaps once feared all five, approached each with trembling knees and tightened throat, but now that each has been met, Miss Lewis can say truthfully, although with much more modesty than is accredited to the originator of the saying: "I came, I saw, I conquered."

Much has been written about this young American prima donna who had the courage of her convictions and although the road was not easy, succeeded in climbing to unbelievable heights in an apparently short time. But no one knows, but Mary Lewis herself, of the hours she spent in study, the sleepless nights, the hours of indecision and worry. No one, and Mary Lewis doesn't talk of them.

The press acclaimed her on her operatic debut, sixty concerts her second season on the American concert stage is a testimonial to her success in that field, her talking machine records sell widely, and her Vitaphone pictures are considered splendid, both vocally and pictorially. Miss Lewis' voice broadcasts specially, and the Herald Tribune said on Feb. 21, 1927, following her Atwater Kent recital:

"Miss Mary Lewis sang a long program at WEAF last night, and sang it so that its length was almost unnoticed. That, as any loudspeaker addict knows, is very much of an accomplishment. Miss Lewis has a voice that is close to what I believe the press agents mean by a 'perfect radio voice,' combining the effective exhibitionism of range with a warm tone quality, and no unevenness in production. The Waltz Song from 'Romeo and Juliet' was her big number. She caused no surprise at all by including 'Annie Laurie,' 'Land of the Sky Blue Waters' and 'Carry Me Back to Old Virginia' in her last group."

Miss Lewis will sing the aria from "Romeo and Juliet" in her concert here Thursday evening.

civil court which convenes in this city today contains quite a number of cases of interest to persons in many parts of the country," Frank Harrington, clerk of Superior court said this morning.

"Some of these cases have been hanging fire for some time, but indications at present seem to point to disposition of the majority of them during this week. Judge Grady is noted for speeding up court room activities, and we are hopeful of seeing the wheels of justice revolving rapidly all of this week."

LONDON MAN WINNER OF AUTO RACES

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 20.—(AP)—The figurative laurel which signifies attainment of the highest speed at which an automobile has yet been driven today had been fitted from the brow of one Englishman to rest on that of another.

Captain Malcolm Campbell of London, yesterday flung his huge naper Blue Bird special over the hard-packed sands of the beach here at the rate of 206.95602 miles per hour, eclipsing by more than three miles an hour the mark established on the same sands last year by Major H. O. D. Seagrave, likewise of England.

The new standard rapidity for caribound vehicles came while two others also awaited an opportunity to test their high-powered machines against time—Frank Lockhart, of Indianapolis, with a Stutz Blackhawk special and J. M. White of Philadelphia, with a 36-cylindered triplex which had not yet been accorded official sanction for the try, because of mechanical discrepancies.

Captain Campbell, after his successful dash of a mile up the beach in 16.76 seconds, at a rate of more than 214 miles per hour, and is mile run back down against a stiff gale exceeding 190, to make up his official mile, said he had not anticipated a formal effort at the record when he started out. But for the fact he took only a four mile rolling start, said the captain he would have bettered the record still more.

"My motor had not even begun to pick up good when I crossed the mile stretch," he said, "it was making about 208 miles an hour when I crossed the wire and did not pick up until I had passed the half mile mark. Just before I finished the mile, I glanced at my instruments and was making 220 miles an hour. Before I could look up I had crossed the final wire and was headed for the soft sand dunes."

At this juncture the 5,000 spectators feared a fatal accident, and Mrs. Campbell, in the stands, covered her face with her hands until a tense moment of anxiety had passed. The captain tells them a tense moment of anxiety had passed. The captain tells them a tense moment of anxiety had passed.

"My machine struck a terrible hump in the sand and I lost complete control of my steering. I bounded half way out of the seat. My feet left the accelerator and broke completely and my goggles were nearly torn from my head by the wind."

"It happened so quickly that for an instant I looked for a bad spill. I recovered myself quickly, however, and righted the car," spectators were gratified to see him turn about and begin his return trip against time.

Captain Campbell gave major credit for the recovery to a rigid fin, similar in appearance to an airplane rudder, which had been set up at the rear of the automobile to prevent tail-wagging at high speeds.

Congratulations from Major Seagrave, the former record holder, came from London last night, along with cautionary word for the speed to be expected from Lockhart's entry. Sir Charles Wakefield, donor of the thousand guinea gold cup which accords an annual income of a thousand pounds to the holder until 1930 unless the record is meanwhile broken, was quoted in London as delighted but not surprised at Campbell's achievement.

Discuss Tournaments.
Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association basketball tournament committee will meet here today to decide on the eight teams to play in the championship tournament here next week.

Too Much Taffy.
Raleigh, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Too many once seekers try to leave the impression with voters that the welfare of the public depends upon their election, in the opinion of the Rev. E. R. McConley, Raleigh Lutheran minister.

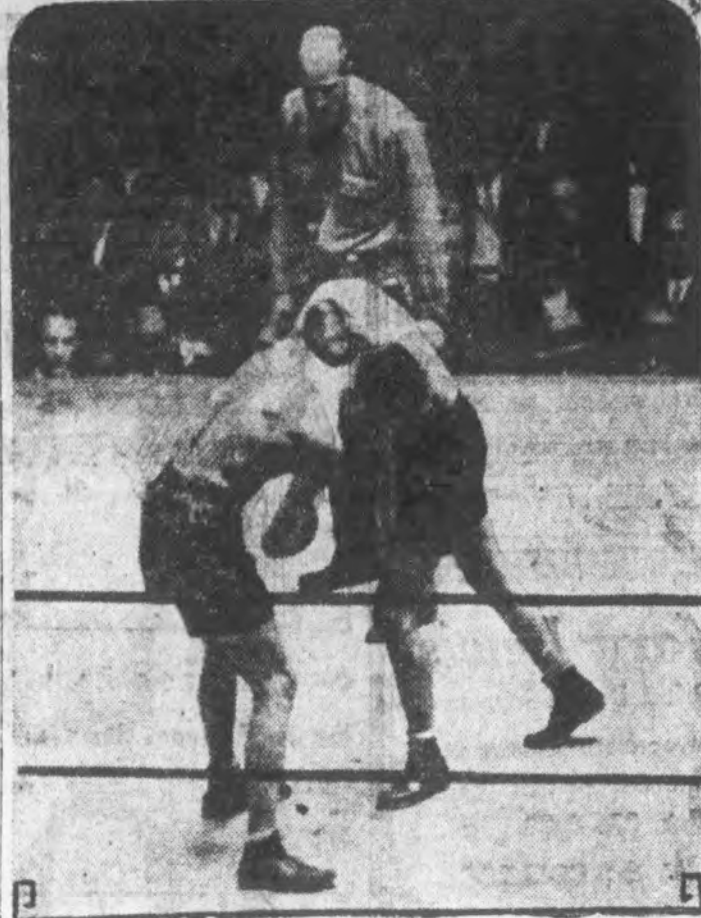

"I wish each one of you would promise me never to vote for any man who offers himself for an office, and who goes around selfishly seeking political favors," Dr. McConley told his congregation.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The Olive Branch seems about to be entwined with the turbulent tennis racket.

The entwining is being accomplished by the new chief executive of the United States lawn tennis association, Samuel L. Collom, of Philadelphia.

In employing practical measures, calculated to promote harmony in the tennis family, particularly so far as the cup campaign is concerned, Mr. Collom is in the happy position of having the confidence of the old guard of the U. S. L. T. A. as well as the close friendship of the tall gentleman of the courts, W. T. Tilden.

As he outlined his Davis cup program for the Associated Press, for the benefit of those who may be concerned about his policy, Mr. Collom makes these two salient starting points.

The recognition of the fact that Tilden is the main reliance of the playing forces. That his is far and away the greatest American single performer with no younger talent ripe enough to replace him and as a partner of Francis T. Hunter, the Dynamo of the greatest doubles combination in the world at the present time.

The formation of a Davis cup committee that will work harmoniously with Tilden, remove any source of friction and push a campaign designed to put America's best foot forward this year as well as to build up the playing strength for the future.

This policy already has been put into effect by Mr. Collom's appointment of Joseph W. Wear, of Philadelphia, as chairman of the Davis cup committee. Wear is a close friend of Tilden's and an "outsider" so far as the executive council of the game has been concerned previously, although he also has been in intimate touch with the game. It is reasonable to suppose that Tilden was consulted in the selection of Wear.

If some concessions may be made to Tilden's standing in the organization of the campaign this year it is also probable that he may bow to the association's wishes on the subject of the team play.

It is likely that Tilden as well as Hunter will play through the entire American zone competition before going abroad for the finals.

Mr. Collom hopes to convince Tilden that although the American zone finals will not be completed until early in June, he will still have sufficient time to go overseas and get into shape for the rest of the campaign.

The opening match for the United States, against Mexico probably will be played in Mexico City during the Easter holiday season in April. The second match, with China, will be played either in San Francisco or Kansas City in May and the American zone final in Chicago the first week of June with the survivor of the Cuba-Japan-Canada half of the draw.

WRESTLERS TO TIE UP IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Before the roosters start crowing in the dawn of tomorrow, the world's heavyweight wrestling throne will have a legitimate occupant for the first time in seven years.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Joe Stecher, two of the foremost grapplers of the heavyweight division, each claiming the title, will wrestle to a finish here tonight to settle their dispute over the championship. The prospects are that the match will draw $85,000 to $90,000, a record "gate" for wrestling.

Indications today were that the receipts would eclipse the previous high mark of $78,000 taken in for the world's championship engagement between Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt in the White Sox park in Chicago in 1912. The advance sales, according to Promoter Tom Paeks, had hit $30,000 mark with the late customers still to storm the ticket windows.

BASKETBALL SQUADS READY FOR TOURNAMENT

Atlanta, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Fifteen Southern Conference basketball squads will start in the annual tournament here Friday in quest of the championship title. With only the University of Virginia certain by virtue of a bye of surviving the opening round.

Those entered are North Carolina, Louisiana State, N. C. State, University of Mississippi, Virginia Military Institute, Georgia, Kentucky, South Carolina, Miss. A. & M., Washington and Lee, Virginia, Florida, Auburn, Clemson and the Georgia Techs.

Seven games will be played Friday, four Saturday, two Monday and the finals Tuesday.

Jockey Cleans Up

Havana, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A. Robertson, of Cleveland, has set the other jockeys at Oriental park a mark to shoot at. At the races here yesterday Robertson brought state's rights in a show in the first event and then made a cleanup of the remaining six events of the card.

He won in succession on Tar Baby, Our Buddy, Moonlight, Old Guard, Don Bonero and Gay Parisian. Only five jockeys have ever duplicated Robertson's performance, namely Earl Sande, Monk Overton, James Lee, Herman Phillips and Clarence Turner.

Sande was the last to win six in a row, accomplishing the feat on September 17, 1919, at Havre de Grace.

Basketball Game Tomorrow Night

The President of the Greenville High school will play Bethel High school's second team tomorrow night at Gorman's warehouse at 7:30 o'clock.

McGraw Defends Player Trades

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—John McGraw, at the Giants camp at Hot Springs, Ark., defended the trades which sent Rogers Hornsby to the Braves and Burleigh Grimes to the Pirates.

He said the youngsters received in the deal for Hornsby, Catcher Frank Hogan and Outfielder Jim Weish, were promising. But the Giants manager was reticent in regards to why the rajah was let go.

As to the swap which brought Vic Aldreder from Pittsburgh in exchange for Grimes, McGraw said that he wanted a hurler to win games in April and May. Grimes did not get started until late last season.

Travis Jackson is expected at the training quarters shortly. McGraw said Jackson could have the capability if he so desired, filling the position created by the transfer of Hornsby.

Rodgers Optimistic

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Making no claim to being a "miracle man," William K. (Wild Bill) Rodgers, new manager of the Little Rock Travelers, admittedly would be surprised if the pebbles won the pennant this season.

But Rodgers will be disappointed he also let it be known, if the Travelers do not leave the cellar habitation in which they have buried themselves for five years.

With few veterans on the roster Rodgers thinks the success of the club in the forthcoming campaign depends largely on the as yet uncertain ability of his players to hit and the development of the youngsters.

NORWAY AND SWEDEN WIN AT WINTER SPORTS

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Norway's athletes have successfully defended their olympic winter sports championship. The United States finished second, Sweden third.

On the final day of competition the American contingent won the bobsleigh finals yesterday, William Fiske landing first place and John Heaton, second. The sleds traveled at sixty miles an hour clip.

In the figure skating championship for couples, the American team of Beatrix Loughran and Sherwin Badger placed fourth. The event was won by Mlle. Andre Jolly, and Pierre Brunet, of France.

Although finishing sixth among the nations in the meet, Canada had little opposition in scoring a decisive victory over Switzerland to become the olympic hockey champion.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 20.—(AP)—This Westchester county city was saddened today as it paid tribute to its best loved citizen—Eddie Foy.

Taxi drivers and trade people rubbed shoulders with stage celebrities to honor the memory of the man who had made several generations of theatre goers laugh. There also was Tom Barry, who wrote the vaudeville sketch "The Fallen Star" in which the dean of clowns was playing who fatally stricken last Thursday in Kansas City.

The funeral will be held tomorrow.

Eight members of the Lambs club—life long friends of the comedian—will be pall bearers. They are Augustus Thomas, Gene Buck, Tom Barry, Hap Ward, Bandon Tyner, George Nash, Mark Luescher and Hanford Wilson.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Making no claim to being a "miracle man," William K. (Wild Bill) Rodgers, new manager of the Little Rock Travelers, admittedly would be surprised if the pebbles won the pennant this season.

But Rodgers will be disappointed he also let it be known, if the Travelers do not leave the cellar habitation in which they have buried themselves for five years.

With few veterans on the roster Rodgers thinks the success of the club in the forthcoming campaign depends largely on the as yet uncertain ability of his players to hit and the development of the youngsters.

NORWAY AND SWEDEN WIN AT WINTER SPORTS

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Norway's athletes have successfully defended their olympic winter sports championship. The United States finished second, Sweden third.

On the final day of competition the American contingent won the bobsleigh finals yesterday, William Fiske landing first place and John Heaton, second. The sleds traveled at sixty miles an hour clip.

In the figure skating championship for couples, the American team of Beatrix Loughran and Sherwin Badger placed fourth. The event was won by Mlle. Andre Jolly, and Pierre Brunet, of France.

Although finishing sixth among the nations in the meet, Canada had little opposition in scoring a decisive victory over Switzerland to become the olympic hockey champion.
