SENATE BODY HOLD INQUIRY AT ROSSITER

Miners Tell of Ban on Church Hymns Because of Inflammatory Effects.

Rositer, Pa., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Singing of church hymns on the ground that they were hostile and inflammatory was prohibited by a preliminary injunction recently granted by the Indiana county court to the Clearfield bituminous coal corporation, union miners and sympathizers told the senate interstate commerce sub-committee, investigating conditions in the coal fields western Pennsylvania.

The committee, headed by Senator Gooding, spent the entire day yesterday in this district inquiring into phases of the injunction which also prohibited union miners from marching, advertising in newspapers and picketing.

The Rev. J. A. Phillips, pastor of the Magyar church here, told the senators that the injunction was issued when the miners gathered at the church on several occasions and sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" and other favorite hymns. The church is located near the mine of the corporation, a subsidiary of the New York central railroad.

While Phillips was testifying, Senator Wheeler, Montana, remarked that "Onward Christian Soldiers" was also classed as hostile and inflammatory by "Mexico and Russia."

Before hearing the testimony of Mr. Phillips, who branded the sheriff of Indiana county, F. B. Yelsh, superintendent of the Rositer mine, and "other officials" as Pennsylvania "Pussyfooters," the senators joined in singing several hymns at the church.

A. J. Musser, general manager of the Rositer mine, when questioned by the senators, said that his concern preferred to have union men in his mines, but because of strong competition from operators in both southern and Pittsburgh fields, they were forced to use non-union labor.

After taking of testimony was completed the senators criticized the injunction as a violation of constitutional rights and a breeder of anarchy. Senator Wagner, New York, said the court order was an absolute violation of free speech while Wheeler said, "you are going to enjoin constitutional liberty and no longer will have government."

With the exception of Senator Wagner, the committee members left for Washington.

NO SECLUSION FOR LINDBERGH

Wagner Visited New York and Was Immediately Caught by Crowd Downtown.

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has just decided that there is no such thing as seclusion.

He came here with a few friends Saturday for vacation in the belief that he could walk the streets and mingle in the crowds of a great city without being recognized.

He discovered however, that the way he could avoid general recognition was to be seen at all. Yesterday he ventured into a store on 45th street just off Fifth Avenue was recognized, and had to wait in the shop for an hour until police came to disperse the crowds and escort him to his car.

Tomorrow he expects to fly to Albany where he will make a speech in favor of proposed aviation bills before the legislature. Albany will see other famous fliers within the next few days. Lieut. Lester J. Hildand, Pacific flier, will fly from Washington with a number of aviation officials and on Saturday will arrive in Albany. Ruth Elder will arrive Sunday to receive a medal awarded by King of Spain in recognition of Atlantic flight. Miss Elder was ferried from a cold today but her representatives said that it would cause postponement of her Albany trip.

Top Talbot Dies in New York

Ruckelshaus, N. Y., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Bishop Elbert Talbot of Bethlehem, Pa., at one time presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, died last night at the age of 90.

Quits the Mafia

Charles C. Paulding (above), nephew of Chauncey Depew and a vice-president of the New York Central lines, may not be compelled to suffer the amputation of his arm due to infection. Mr. Paulding has denied the report that he preferred death rather than lose the member and live as a cripple.

COURTS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR CRIMES

Crime Commission Recommends Police Department be Taken Out of Politics.

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Inefficiency of the police and the courts is blamed for this country's "notorious crime record" in a report from a sub-committee to the national crime commission, which recommends as one solution that police departments be taken out of politics.

The report summarizes a survey made by the committee of which Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, is chairman. It was written by Dr. Louis N. Robinson of Swarthmore, Pa., criminologist, the executive secretary of the committee.

Characterizing crime as appearing to be "the safest business in which one could engage," the report says that in Buffalo, N. Y., but three per cent of arrests are made proportioned to the robberies which have occurred, the lowest record of the nine cities from which statistics were obtained. This is compared to 80 per cent in England.

"Robbery in Buffalo must be a particularly lucrative calling," Dr. Robinson said. "The number who are finally convicted is necessarily so small that the luckless individual who is occasionally caught and convicted must attribute his misfortune to an act of God, as he would in case of disastrous storm, shipwreck or earthquake."

In cases of manslaughter and murder only one of the nine cities showed a better record of arrest than England where the percentage is 82. Cleveland has a score of 83 per cent, the report says, but contrasted to that are St. Louis where the percentage is only 16, Kansas City 36 per cent, and Baltimore 68 per cent.

The policing of small towns and rural areas, made accessible to city criminals by the automobile and good roads, is severely condemned by the report. The rural police organization is "but a decayed and attenuated survival of ancient systems which England had at different periods of its early history," it says.

As a solution for this increasing crime problem of the rural communities and committee suggests an adaptation of the state constabulary idea.

Mystery Develops in Train Robbery

Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Federal officers were finding the $133,000 Evergreen Park mail robbery of Saturday more of a mystery today than they anticipated. City police in turning over prisoners, evidence and recovered money, had indicated they believed the case had been solved, but postal inspectors said there remained much to be done before a strong case is made ready.

Police indicated that two men under arrest had confessed, but the federal officers said no confession had been made to them.

More than 20 additional postal inspectors were called into Chicago yesterday, to aid in the investigation.

No statement of the exact amount of recovered loot has been made. Estimates have placed it at approximately $135,000.

Three women and 15 men were questioned by federal officers.

SEARCH LAND AND SEA FOR HARRY BROOKS

People of Melbourne Plan Funeral on Beach in Event Body Is Not Recovered.

Melbourne, Fla., Feb. 28.—(AP)—While the unceasing search for the body of Harry Brooks, missing Ford aviation chief, went forward today by land and sea, the people of this little sea side town planned a public funeral service on the beach in event the body is not found in a day or so.

The ocean which yesterday gave up the battered flier monoplane in which Brooks apparently dived to his death last Saturday threw up last night a cushion and thermos bottle, identified as parts of the equipment of the tiny airplane.

Meanwhile police patrols walked the beach in the hope that the tide would wash the body of the young aviator ashore and, over a thirty-mile stretch of the beach, a squadron of boats continually piled the waters in case the body should rise to the surface and go floating to sea.

Little hope remained that Brooks would be found, fishermen and others who are acquainted with these waters fearing that sharks may have devoured the body.

The wreckage of the monoplane still was held here today pending definite shipping instructions. Officials of the Ford company continue an examination of the mute evidence of the tragedy which overtook Brooks while he was endeavoring to fly from here to Miami, after falling only few miles short of the projected non-stop flight from Detroit to Miami.

Newspapermen and aviators held to their theory the failure of the plane's engine was caused by a small wooden plug which was found fastened in the air hole of the top of one of the three gas-oil tanks. This was the tank from which Brooks was fueling his engine and it was not believed he had time to switch to another tank before his craft got beyond control and took the short dive into the waters.

Wake Prisoner Declared To Be Altoona Robber

Raleigh, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A youth who gave his name as Chas. E. Gill, but whom authorities believe is Howard Franelle, serving a vagrancy term on Wake county roads, has been identified by detectives as one of two men who robbed the First National Bank of Altoona, Pa., of $4,990 last January.

Gill, 20 years old, began serving a 30-day sentence term on February 4 for vagrancy on the streets of Raleigh, and has "about finished his term," officials said, but $9.25 costs remain to be paid in his city court case.

Due to the short time left until the end of the sentence for Gill, officials pointed out that Pennsylvania officers would probably await his release here.

Another man arrested with Gill here, so far has not been connected with the robbery, it was learned.

Gill told county officials that his next of kin, was Wm. P. Franelle, of Altoona, Pa., R. F. D. No. 1.

New Bomb Threats Feature Outrages At Chicago Today

Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—New bomb threats were revealed today simultaneously with the offering for sale by several Chicago companies of insurance against loss from bomb outrages.

Four of the six families living in the same apartment building occupied by Lawrence Cuneo, brother-in-law and Secretary of State's Attorney Crowe, showed police the following neatly typewritten warnings:

"We are going to get Larry Cuneo if we have to blow the whole building to splinters. You had better take a vacation for three or four weeks. Don't talk about this note or the bombing to friends or the police. We have your wires tapped, and if you do, you'll get another bomb."

The apartment building recently was damaged by a bomb thrown into the hallway and intended, police believed, for Cuneo. It was one of a series of bombings aimed at city officials or persons connected politically with the administration of Mayor Thompson and the Thompson-Crowe republican organization.

TODAY

No Two Legged Machine. Wireless Flight Perhaps. She Made Angel Cake. Cheating His Wife.

(By Arthur Brisbane)
Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

R. J. Wensley, inventor of a mechanical man that unveiled a statue of George Washington, believes that men made of metal will liberate us from industrial slavery, as Washington liberated us from European tyranny.

Workers need not fear that metallic "robots" will ruin the labor market. Long ago mechanical men and women made their appearance in machinery of all kinds driven by steam and electricity. One machine does the knitting for ten thousand women, one locomotive pulls the load of a thousand stage coaches replacing 1,000 drivers.

The perfected machine will not be an imitation man standing upright on two legs. That position man achieved to look out over high grass for enemies and prey, in the beginning and to look up at the stars later. Mechanical men can be only an interesting curiosity not an industrial success. Science improves on nature and does not imitate it, the ultimate flying machine without bird wings or methods will prove that.

A new flying machine idea based on "free energy" or "magnetic" power interests Lindbergh and others. It burns no fuel, is expected to fly for two thousand hours and Lester J. Hendershot, the inventor, is full of hope. It is only hope as yet although the working model performs well. Eventually no doubt, as Tesla and others believe flying machines will pick up "wireless power" from the earth borrowing from Niagara the Colorado river and other sources as they fly around the world, that will solve power problems and 1,000 miles an hour speed will annihilate distance.

This will interest farmers wives. Mrs. James Hamilton of Pawhuska, Oklahoma, not satisfied with thirty cents a dozen for fresh eggs developed this idea. She knew how to make good angel cake. Eleven eggs make a cake that sells for a dollar. Cost of other ingredients amount to little. Mrs. Hamilton put her eggs in angel cake and got nearly one dollar a dozen.

Many farm wives however far from an angel cake market can sympathize with an Irish farmer asked by an efficiency man, "Do you know what the ducks swimming in that mudhole would be worth in (Continued On Page Six)"

LOS ANGELES COMING HOME ON TOMORROW

Giant Dirigible to cast Off From Patoka at Cuba Tomorrow Morning.

France Field, Canal Zone, Feb. 28.—(AP)—It is planned to anchor the airship Los Angeles tonight to the U. S. S. Patoka at Kuanacanayabo Bay, Cuba, and refuel. Early tomorrow the Los Angeles will cast off from the Patoka and head for her home port, Lakerust, N. J.

With the ship tied up to an improvised mast after her 2,285 mile flight from Lakehurst, N. J., in 40 hours, the personnel remained aboard during the night ready for an early start.

A tropical moon offered dim visibility as the Los Angeles approached Colon over the Caribbean sea. The craft circled the city twice before coming down. A crowd of near 5,000 that gathered at the field watched with eagerness every movement of the first airship to make a non-stop flight between the United States and the Isthmus.

The dirigible had no trouble in landing in the spanking northerly trade wind. A crew of 600 sailors was present to assist in mooring the ship to the 90-foot temporary mast, which was constructed in the United States under supervision of Lieut. Commander E. C. Rosendahl. When the Los Angeles was about 30 feet from the ground mooring lines were tossed overboard and the ship dragged to within a few feet of the earth. It was then dragged for 50 yards to the mast and lashed fast. The commander and other officers spent the night aboard.

Lieut. Commander Rosendahl said that the entire flight was made with great ease and rough weather encountered only once, although the craft passed through every kind of weather including snow, sleet, rains and wind.

AFTER CHEATING THE GRIM REAPER

This remarkable photo was taken as Frank Lockhart, American racing driver, was pulled out of the surf at Daytona Beach, Fla., after his machine had capsized into the waters while doing 225 miles an hour. Note Lockhart's left arm in splints as his rescuers work to free him from the machine.

Champions James A. Reed As Logical Candidate For Presidential Nomination

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Declaring that Senator James A. Reed has rendered the people of the United States a life-long service, former Governor Frederick T. Gardner as temporary chairman, of the Democratic State Convention, today championed him as the logical candidate for the presidential nomination.

Picturing in detail the public life of the Senator through thirty years of activity, Gardner pointed to Reed as the one man who could "cure the ills" of the national government by leading the Democratic party to victory.

In his tribute to the Senator's political career, the former Governor insisted that there is no one in the entire United States so well equipped to assume the tasks of "crusader who will lead our great party to victory."

"As prosecuting attorney he proved himself to be at once the protector of the innocent and defenseless," Mr. Gardner said. "He drove the criminal and the vicious elements from Kansas City and Jackson county and established a regime of law and order."

As mayor of Kansas City, he smashed the corrupt gangs which had been preying on the people. These things were accomplished without any assault upon honest capital.

"Almost from the day he took his seat in the United States Senate he has constantly increased the passing years. He has never occupied a servile position. Always regarding himself as a representative of one of the greatest states in the American republic, he has refused to take orders from any man."

"He has constantly stood for the independence of the individual citizen."

"He has demanded the protection of honest capital and honest investment, but has ever maintained that wealth must not be employed to oppress the individual or to destroy commerce."

"He has denounced every attempt at class legislation and has fought, without ceasing, every grant of special privilege."

The chairman pointed to Reed's defense of the laboring man, of his sympathy and efforts in behalf of the farmer, and his contribution to the reform of the currency and banking system.

Going into an attack upon the Republican administration, Mr. Gardner said it was Reed's "courage, his ability, which exposed the intolerable system of purchasing seats in the United States Senate."

Cleaners and Dyers On Strike in N. Y.

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Greater New York today faced the cheerless prospect of pressing its own trousers, if they get pressed, with 20,000 retail tailoring shops and 125 wholesale plants in the New York district closed down.

The trade war, started by the allied council of the cleaning and dyeing industry in an effort to "stabilize and organize" the industry by eliminating the "dollar cleaners," has been on for a week, but only reached large proportions the last two days.

Officials of the union estimated 7,000 shops closed yesterday.

MANY PLANES JOIN SEARCH FOR AIRMEN

Twenty-Three Planes Two Blimps Scour Chesapeake Bay for Three Missing Fliers

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Twenty-three airplanes and two army blimps were ordered out today to search the lower Chesapeake Bay area for the three aviators missing since they took off from Norfolk naval air station for Annapolis yesterday morning.

The big blimps were ordered out by Major General Feehet, chief of the army air corps, who requested the commanding officer at Langley Field, Va., to get the augmented search under way immediately.

The fliers, Commander T. G. Elyson, the navy's first air pilot; Lieut. Commander Hugo Schmidt, and Lieut. Commander Roger Rosenhouse, mysteriously disappeared after they left the Norfolk station on a flight intended to bring Elyson to the bedside of his 15-year-old daughter, who is ill.

All searching parties heretofore have been unable to find any trace of the fliers.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Searchers for Commander Theodore G. Elyson, and two naval aviators with him in the amphibian plane lost since it left here yesterday morning for Annapolis were being concentrated this afternoon on the area of Chesapeake Bay between Annapolis and Thomas Point, some distance to the south where the lighthouse keeper asserts he heard and saw a plane two hours after the craft took off from the Hampton Roads naval air station.

The search for information of the whereabouts of the lost plane and its three passengers has brought to light the fact that about two hours after the plane hopped off the keeper of the Thimble Shoals lighthouse, that forty miles later it passed close to the Pennsylvania railroad tug Salisbury, on the middle ground between Old Point Comfort and Cape Charles and that at 2:32 o'clock yesterday morning it was seen and heard by J. A. Byrd, train dispatcher for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Cape Charles.

When seen from the Salisbury by L. S. Diggs, member of the crew, the plane was flying not more than ten feet above the water and was heading south. From these reports, Commander A. C. Read of Hampton Roads naval air station and other officers who are directing the search, today deduced that Lieut. Roger Rosenhouse who piloting the amphibian, lost his bearings shortly after taking off and groped about lower Chesapeake Bay, for fifteen or twenty minutes before getting over the ship channel to Baltimore which aviators customarily follow in night flights up the Bay.

It was said today at the Hampton Roads naval air station that the amphibian plane carried fuel enough for a flight of four hours and that had a forced landing not been necessary but the pilot lost his way, shortage of fuel would have forced the aviators down at dawn or thereabouts.

The search planes which left here this morning, flew to Annapolis, some taking the right and some the left side of the Bay. At Annapolis they refused and they had been ordered this afternoon to proceed in the vicinity of Thomas Point and go over every foot of land and water thereabouts and to thoroughly cover the area north of Thomas Point as far as Baltimore, this area being the only one of considerable size in the Bay which the search parties have not yet combed.

BORAH AGAIN ADMITS HE IS NOT RUNNING

Senator Replies "No" to Questions as to his Position on Certain Issues.

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Senator Borah reversed his usual procedure in the business of prohibition questionnaires today by getting on the receiving end and replying "no" to questions whether he favored "super-government," or religious dictatorship.

Answering a letter from Dr. Charles A. Reed, of Cincinnati, Mr. Borah reiterated that he was not a candidate for President, and returned a brief "no" to queries asking him if he advocated such things.

"Assuming for the purposes of this letter that I am a candidate for President, which I am not, and assuming for the purposes of this letter that the implications and influences are based upon facts," he said, "I answer your interrogatories as follows."

Then the "no" to three questions which were:

Whether Mr. Borah favored the principles of "super-government" as exemplified by the anti-saloon league, by the board of prohibition, temperance and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church and by their auxiliary organization, the late unlamented Ku Klux Klan.

Whether he favored having any religious denomination established at Washington for the declared purpose of exercising what the Methodist church now openly assumes to exercise, namely, the functions of censorship and dictatorship over all branches of our constitutional government.

Whether he favored the republican party being used as a stalking horse for any candidate who in the event of election would be "the agent of the super-government."

Dr. Reed told Senator Borah that he had diverted attention from the fact that Borah was in a favorable position to have prohibition advocates attempt to stampede the republican national convention for him.

MRS. COOGAN FIGHTS SUIT

Mother of Jackie Coogan Faces $750,000 Alienation of Affection Charge.

Los Angeles, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillian Coogan, mother of Jackie Coogan, famous film juvenile, today began a fight against a $750,000 alienation of affection suit brought against her by Mrs. Corabel Bernstein, wife of Arthur Bernstein, business manager of Jackie Coogan Picture Corporation.

The alienation suit, filed by Mrs. Bernstein along with a divorce action against her husband, charged the mother of the noted film boy with indiscretions involving the manager of the film company. It was branded as "a silly fabrication, wholly without foundation," by Mrs. Coogan.

Attorneys for Mrs. Coogan announced that there would be no settlement or talk of settlement, and that the action would be fought out in court.

The suit was pictured by Mrs. Coogan's counsel as an attempt to embarrass the business manager and his employees on the eve of their departure to Europe.

Mrs. Bernstein's suit for divorce named Mrs. Coogan as correspondent. Mrs. Bernstein alleged that her husband had been induced to "violate his marriage vows" by Mrs. Coogan and that for a period of two years they had been "too intimate." Numerous occasions were cited in the divorce complaint during which asserted indiscretions took place.

Besides which the heavy damages asked of Mrs. Coogan, Mrs. Bernstein sought alimony of $1,000 per month and $100,000 for court and attorney's fees.

Kellogg's Note Outlawing War Reaches France

Paris, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Briand today described Secretary Kellogg's latest note on outlawing war as a "great step forward" after a cabinet meeting at which the note was discussed.

The note is understood to be extremely friendly in tone and probably will be made public simultaneously in Paris and Washington tomorrow.

FIVE PLAYERS HAVE SIGNED WITH LOCALS

Interest in the formation of the club of the Eastern Carolina League increased to no little extent with the announcement today of the actual signing of three pitchers, a second baseman and outfielder for the Greenville club. The five contracts were received by president Smith yesterday. A score or more contracts are in the hands of players at this time, and the next few days are expected to see the signing of virtually the entire club.

The players who have already signed are Vance Pittman, Greenville, N. C.; Buck Allen, Cambridge, Va.; James Griffin, Suffolk; Meechan Stewart, Laurinburg, N. C.; and Needham Autry, Aultryville, N. C. No information was given out as to what clubs the five players have previously been associated with, but it is generally understood that they have played semi-professional ball in this and other states for the past several seasons. Pittman, Allen and Griffin are members of the pitching staff and are said to be holders of considerable experience.

The arrival here last week of "Deacon" Joffe added additional impetus to activities in connection with preparations for opening of the season during April. It was stated today that work on the new grandstand and bleachers at the fair grounds would begin within the next few days and will be completed in time for training season.

Return of contracts from the score or more players under consideration is expected daily now, president Smith said today, and the entire personnel of the team probably will be announced sometime within the next several days.

SEWELL BROTHERS CANT STAY APART

Cleveland, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Intimations that Joe Sewell, uncrowned champion of the Cleveland Indians, will be among the infielders and outfielders who report at the training camp at New Orleans next Sunday, have been brought to manager Roger Peckinpaugh by Luke Sewell, young catcher.

Luke Sewell asks that space be reserved for him into room with his brother Joe.

Athletics Off For Fort Myers

Philadelphia, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The heavy artillery of the Athletics was enroute for Fort Myers, Fla., today, the second contingent in charge of captain Eddie Collins, having left here last night. The battersmen have been there for ten days.

This Speaker, new member of the Mack outfit, probably will beat Ty Cobb into camp, provided, of course that Tyrus is headed that way.

OLD MISS AND ALABAMA WILL FIGHT TONIGHT

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 28.—(AP)—A triumph for the experts whose minor predictions have been much abused and trampled upon during tournament play finally dawned when the finalists in tonight's battle for the southern conference basketball championship were definitely decided—Alabama Polytechnic Institute and University of Mississippi.

Auburn entered the meet as a prime favorite. Ole Miss came in as a dark horse of such universal commendation as to take rank also as a bright prospect.

Last night's results, when Kentucky was forced to retire from a brilliant parade toward the crown by Ole Miss with a 41 to 28 defeat, and when the Mississippi Aggies were counted out by Auburn in a 42 to 34 battle, suddenly swerved the outlook from one unexpected by the dopesters to one which had been forecast by many from the start.

Mississippi was looked upon as a principal contender chiefly because she had been the only team in the she had been the only team in the afternoon to lower the Auburn colors in pre-tournament schedule play. Her one-point defeat of the plainsmen had placed her definitely in the public eye.

Tonight, on the municipal auditorium court, Ole Miss will have opportunity of proving that her previous defeat of Auburn was no flash-in-the-pan, while Auburn will have a chance to avenge the blot which Ole Miss spattered on her schedule.

The game tonight brings together a galaxy of individual stars, as well as two well-oiled units. "Jelly" Akin, of Auburn, one of the smoothest basket tossers southern courts have known in years, will appear in one of the stellar roles.

Both teams offer brother acts. Auburn will present the James boys, Ebb and Bob; Ole Miss will counter with the Freres, Phillips, Ary and Cary—the latter of whom, particularly, shone in the semi-finals last night, by leading the attack on the Kentucky quintet with its deceptive submarine offensive, a descriptive term generally, saddled on the Wild Cats because of their effective passing by bounding the ball.

In reaching the finals, Ole Miss waded respectively through the defense of North Carolina State, Louisiana State and Kentucky.

To oppose her, Auburn successively defeated Clemson, Georgia Tech (these two by one point each) and Mississippi A. & M.

UZCUDIN TO TACKLE NEGRO FIGHTER TONIGHT

Los Angeles, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, basque woodchopper, tonight will attempt to conquer George Godfrey, negro pugilist, towards a championship duel.

Dean Back in Minors While Teammate Gets Chance With Chicago

Shifting tides of baseball are carrying Ed Holley (upper) giant Kentucky pitcher, up to the Cubs for a tryout this year while Wayland Dean (lower), a former Louisville Colonels team mate, who had the same chance last year, goes back to Louisville. Joe McCarthy, Cubs manager, developed both pitchers when managing the Colonels several years ago and thinks Holley has the stuff although he had the poorest season of his career last year.

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—By a queer turn of fate Ed Holley, giant Kentucky pitcher, is to get an opportunity with the Chicago Cubs this year after a season in which he made the poorest record of his career, and Wayland Dean, one of baseball's bad boys is coming back to Louisville to make a new start.

In winning only six games and losing 11 last year, Holley was buffeted by virtually every club in the American Association, but Manager Joe McCarthy, now of the Cubs but for several years leader of the Louisville Colonels, believes he can be converted into a winning pitcher. So Holley will get his first chance in the big leagues.

Back in 1922, the year after the Colonels had won a pennant, a half dozen youngsters were taken to the spring training camp at St. Petersburg Fla. One was Earle Combs, of Owsley county, Ky. Another was Dean, just off the sand lots of Huntington, W. Va., and still another was Holley, who had ventured forth from Benton, Ky.

Dean vied with Combs for stardom and in the spring of 1924 Combs was sold to the Yankees and Dean became the property of the Giants, the Louisville club being enriched $100,000 through the deals.

With McGraw, Dean made an auspicious start and then began to slip. McGraw nursed him along for some time, but after he was alleged to have broken training frequently, Dean was sold to the Philadelphia Nationals. McCarthy, the man who had developed the pitcher, obtained him last year through the waiver route. Dean did not achieve any degree of success with Chicago and finally jumped the club toward the end of the season.

Combs became one of the mainstays of the Yankees' outfield. During all this time, Holley has experienced "ups and downs" with Louisville. For a time he gave promise of becoming a greater pitcher than Dean and was reputed to possess the best fast ball in the Association. In giving Dean to the Colonels for Holley, McCarthy agreed to return the latter by June 1 if he failed to make good.

Dean gives every indication of coming back to Louisville determined to stage a comeback. To Captain William Neal, vice-president of the club, he has written: "I want to start again and I'm smarter now. I began with Louisville before and I want to begin with Louisville again. I was down and almost out, but not quite. I'm smarter now. It will be different this time."

JACK DELANEY IN FINE SHAPE FOR BIG FIGHT

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Jack Delaney has just about decided that the poundage he carried as light heavyweight champion of the world—or a little more—must bear him through the rough and tumble battles he faces in the heavyweight division where the best he can expect is about 20 pounds the worst of the weights.

On Thursday night, under the glare of the Madison Square Garden flood lights, Delaney will face Tom Heeney, burly blacksmith of New Zealand, in the first of Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination semi-finals. In Heeney, the erstwhile rapier of the north—a tin sword in the hands of Jimmy Maloney—will battle the roughest of the hand-picked contenders for Gene Tunney's title.

Heeney will weigh close to 200 pounds. Yesterday when Delaney hopped on the scales for a deputy of the New York State Athletic Commission, the bar jingled to 175 3-4.

Sparring partners say Delaney is stronger than ever before, is hitting sharper and has more pep and vitality. Billy Vidabek who trained with Tunney for both of the Jack Demuscy battles, thinks the picturesque woodsman will knock Heeney out. Paul Cavalier, a coming youngster, believes Jack can win by a knockout or outpoint the New Zealand champion.

WASHINGTON CAGERS PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Washington high basketball team will play Greenville at Gorman's warehouse tonight at eight o'clock. The contest is expected to be one of the fastest of the season because of the fact that if Greenville wins the visitors will be ousted from their honored perch on second place in the standing of clubs of the North Eastern Athletic Association.

Wilson is the holder of first place of the conference, but it is the purpose of the locals to give them the item of their lives in holding the position, in event of course they are able to take the game from Washington tonight.

A preliminary contest will be played between junior teams of the two schools prior to the main battle. This will begin promptly at 7:15.

The local club will go to Raleigh Friday to take part in a tournament to be staged at State college. It was made known by Coach C. W. Porter yesterday, Greenville will be pitted against the strong team from Gastonia.

A GOOD BET

Now comes the announcement that bomb insurance is being offered for sale in Chicago. In the face of approaching elections we do not see how the Chicagoan could afford not to carry such insurance. No doubt the insurance companies
will do a thriving business
in this new venture.

WHAT THEN?

The number of new lines
of business being entered into by State Prison indicates that those in charge of the institution have no fear that they will always have an ample supply of skilled labor to carry on their work. We are wondering what would become of some of these ventures
should there be the decrease in crime that we all hope and wish for.

DON'T TURN IT AWAY NOW

Many of our readers have inquired as to the outcome of the recent negotiations to bring to this city a branch plant of a Philadelphia
plush manufacturing concern. To date definite decision has not been made,
according to information
reaching this office. Rumor has it, however, that pending the working out of a few minor details, the decision to come to Greenville has been reached, and should there be no setbacks in making the final arrangements, Greenville will surely get this manufacturing plant. This is indeed good news to us, and we hope that representatives of the concern who may visit this city with a view of purchasing a site for the plant will not be confronted by prohibitive prices
that will make the company decide now to go elsewhere.

TIME SHORT

Just a little over two weeks more in which to file your income tax returns. If you have not already given the matter your attention, it is time you were getting busy. The time is getting short and the Revenue Department does not make extensions unless the delay
has been caused by some mighty good reason.

WHITE SOX ENROUTE TO SHREVEPORT, LA.
Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The first squad of the Chicago White Sox, including the high priced rookie, Chalmer (Bill) Cissell, gathered today under the managerial chaperonage of Ray Schalk for the trip to the Shreveport, La., training camp.
Batterymen, a few infielders and club officials comprised the party which will be joined at Shreveport,
tomorrow, by others under contract,
excepting only a few veterans who have been ordered to report later.

ABOUT TOWN

"We simply must win the game
from Washington tonight," asserted members of the local high school basketball club this morning as they prepared for the second clash
of the season with the Beaufort county lads.
"We have been tied with Washington for second place since the opening of the season, and it is our hope of breaking the tie tonight and getting in position to offer Wilson serious opposition for first place."
"The lads from Beaufort succeeded in defeating us in the opening game of the season, but we feel almost confident of emerging victorious tonight, although it is certain we will have to fight hard to do it."
"The season is rapidly drawing to a close at this time, before the final games are played we want to have the consolation of realizing the ambition of giving Wilson the race of their lives."

"If you have an account that is overdue, get busy and settle it before the credit rating department of the Merchants Association puts you on the low pay list."
This is the warning of fifty or more members of the local association who recently employed a permanent collector to look after credit department of the organization.
"The duties of this department will be to attempt the collection of bad accounts, and to report to the various merchants the names of those who are slow in liquidating
their debts."
"This should eliminate the loss of the thousands of dollars annually, and place the merchants in position to know exactly what he is doing when he lets his goods go out of the store on a credit basis."
"The collection bureau is one of the most forward steps the association has taken in months, and the public should do everything to help make it the success it is intended to be."

"The fifty-odd financiers who recently toured this part of the state
under auspices of the North Carolina Bankers Association, are delighted with what they saw of the bright leaf tobacco industry in Greenville," a member of the local market remarked to the writer of this column today.
"While at Sanford members of the party praised the Eastern Section of the State and declared they were profoundly impressed by what they saw in the various branches of industry."
"The visitors were given an ample opportunity of seeing the mammoth proportions of the tobacco industry in and around Greenville and it is evident they appreciated the progress which the section made the last several years.

"It is more than gratifying to us that these men, representing as they do some of the largest financial institutions of the nation, found Greenville and Pitt county deserving of commendation. There is no question but that we hold an important part in the tobacco business, and it sounds mighty good to hear our praises sung by those who are interested in the locality only in a minor way."

"The new airplane motor recently tested out in New York should completely revolutionize flying," a local citizen remarked to the writer today.

"More than usual interest is attached to this invention because of the fact that it has been passed upon by officials high in the world of aviation and whose opinion counts for something.
"Colonel Charles Lindbergh, considered the greatest flier the world has ever known, was present at the first inspection of the new motor,
and from what he saw, one naturally infers the invention holds forth great possibilities. Lindbergh usually is cautious in statements regarding aviation developments, and naturally what he had to say had as much impression as that of the experts."

"A plane propelled by electromagnetic power should be able to accomplish far more than one operated by gasoline. The inefficiency of the use of gasoline has been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt, although aviation has been advanced to no little extent by its use. So many aviators overload their planes with fuel and are either forced to return to earth and relieve themselves of some of the load or lose their lives by the plane crashing under the weight."

"The new invention will eliminate all of this weight, and should enable a plane to be loaded to specific capacity without the disadvantages of gas and oils."
"We don't know what the outcome of present investigations will be, but the world is waiting in breathless suspense, hoping against hope the experiments will be satisfying to those capable of expressing an opinion."

"The one great issue which Greenville and surrounding territory have to look forward to in the future is the deepening of Tar River so that the stream may be opened to navigation," said a member of one of our civic organizations today.

"The report of the engineer to the war department is awaited with more than passing interest because it is in this that success of the improvement rests. Major Snow, who has the matter in charge, expressed himself quite favorably over the outlook, and if congress can see things in the same light boats may begin carrying on commerce between Greenville, Norfolk and Baltimore within the next few years. This is needed as no other thing is at the present time and business men in all sections are watching developments with interest."

CUYLER FITS WELL WITH CHICAGO CUBS

Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Kiki Cuyler's penchant for batting in third place—a batting complex which was generally blamed for his difficulties with Manager Donie Bush of the Pittsburgh Pirates last year—is to be gratified by his new owners, the Chicago Cubs.

Cuyler came to the Bruins with the same batting order desire and Manager Joe McCarthy found it fitted well with his own plans.
Woody English will take Sparky
Adams' place at the top of the list, with Freddy Maguire, acquired from Toledo, hitting second, then comes Cuyler, backed by two other big Berthas of the Cub attacking strength—Jack Wilson and Elgie Sephenson.

Stresses Drill of Pitchers.

Detroit, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Manager
George Moriarty of the Detroit Tigers is stressing drill of his pitchers in proper methods of fielding,
a department which he says they are woefully weak.

Moriarty, in discussing the situation at the club training camp in San Antonio, classified the pitchers in three categories—limber, stiff backed and stiff kneed. The limber pitchers, those that can properly get down on low throws and snare

grounds are much in the minority,
he said.

One or more hours each day will be given over to fielding practice for pitchers.

BODY OF POISONED WOMAN BURIED AT HIGH POINT

High Point, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The body of Mrs. R. B. Terry, who died Sunday in New York from the effects of poison, was interred in a vault here this afternoon after the funeral services at the Terry home in Roland Park.

The remains will rest temporarily
in the mausoleum. It was stated until further arrangements for fulfilling her burial wishes are completed.

Mr. Terry, prominent local business man, who was in Palm Beach
when his wife died, arrived here yesterday to await the arrival of his brother, L. R. Terry, who went to New York to accompany the body here.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A disposition to take profits on long cotton in the future market following the advances of last week was evident today. It was probably increased by a feeling that the recent advance might encourage further talk of further mill curtailment. Except for realizing there appeared to be very little selling, but demand was limited with prices showing net declines of about 18 to 20 points during the middle of the afternoon. Futures closed easy, 27 to 32 lower. Spot quiet; middling, 18.70. Open High Low Close P. GRAIN MARKET Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Failure of buying orders to follow price upturms today in corn led to some increase of selling pressure and to lower quotations at the close. North American supplies of corn increased 384,000 bushels for the week and are now 40,601,000 bushels against 46,792,000 bushels a year ago. Corn closed weak at 1-2 to 1c net decline, wheat 1-4 to 7-8c off, oats at 1-4c lower to 1-8c advance and provisions unchanged to 10c down. The closing was irregular. STOCK MARKET New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Uncertain price movements characterized today's dull stock market. Standard Industrials and rails moved within a rather narrow range while bullish demonstrations in a selected assortment of tobacco, oil, public utilities and merchandising issues were offset by the weakness of a few specialties. There was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement, other than an extension of recent gasoline price advances, which found reflection in a better demand for some of the oil shares. Call money was slightly firmer on the approach of the month-end although there appeared to be a plentiful supply of funds available at the renewal rate of 4 1/2 per cent. Banks called about $35,000,000 in loans during the morning. Recent sluggishness of U. S. Steel has been attributed in some quarters to the liquidation of a large long account, but reports that Goldman interests were selling stock to pay for the Bank of America purchased by them officially denied. General Motors held fairly steady but met stock on the rallies. Bayouk Cigars jumped nearly 8 points to a new high record at 135 and case threshing and the American Tobacco issues advanced 4 to 5 points. General Electric and Gas Electric A and B stocks each moved up about 2 points to new peak prices for the year. On the other hand, national distillers common broke 1/2 points to a new low at 35 and the preferred dropped 5 to a new low at 55. Chrysler Brown and Standard Plate Glass preferred also broke more than 4 points each.

MOCK TRIAL IS HELD BY ROTARY CLUB

Mistrial Ordered in Case Against Dr. Ellen Charged With Violating Club Rule

Mistrial was ordered in the case of State vs. Dr. C. J. Ellen, local eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, charged with violation of club rules, following failure of a jury to reach agreement at a mock trial conducted by the Rotary club here last night.

The decision of the jury was received by a storm of applause even more vociferous than that interspersing the various rulings of Judge J. C. Gaskins while the trial was in progress, and the noise became deafening when President Bill Rogers, acting in the capacity of a court of appeals, declared a failure of the jury to reach agreement would make it necessary for its three members to provide a program of entertainment of the club next Monday night.

Aside from this feature the Rotarians enjoyed a chicken supper and heard announcements from President Bill Rogers regarding activities of the club. The matter of attendance received considerable thought and the membership was urged to do everything possible for one hundred per cent attendance. Mr. Rogers explained that they had had two such meetings during the month but desired to make an improvement during the spring and summer.

The mock trial of Dr. Ellen grew out of charge of violation of certain club regulations. He was on the program February 20 for an address on the subject, "What Rotary Means to Commerce and Industry," but owing to the length of other talks, the session closed before he was given an opportunity to speak.

Dr. Ellen argued that, technically, the address had already been delivered, but the prosecution declared that, in accordance with club rules, it should have been a part of last night's program. The defendant was represented by Rev. H. Frederick Jones, pastor of Memorial Baptist church, who was prevented from making more than half of his concluding argument on account of lack of time. J. B. Kittrell acted as prosecutor and Haywood Dall as the prosecuting witness. The jury was composed of S. T. White, J. J. Perkins and Dave Turnage.

The court was presided over by J. C. Gaskins, register of deeds of Pitt county, whose views became so partial to the prosecution at times that the defense counsel appealed for a new presiding official. President Rogers, presiding over the court of appeals, declined to grant such and sustained the motion to let the presiding official continue the hearing.

Many laughter-provoking situations were brought out in the examination of witnesses, who failing to adhere to oath administered by Judge Blount, acting as clerk of court, constantly wandered away from the straight and narrow road of veracity and at times found themselves liable to prosecution for perjury.

The prosecution had the day from the beginning. Prosecutor Kittrell at the outset was informed by Judge Gaskins that he would agree to anything he said, and he went on to say that the jury remained out just long enough for the introduction of two visitors and then reappeared and informed the court they could not agree.

It was at this point that President Rogers sprung the greatest surprise of the evening—demanding that members of the jury put in the next program of the club, three cross-fallen jurors left the bar of justice, sad but wise in the knowledge of the intricacies of judicial equity.

market is the problem. Thomas Hardy, novelist and writer of poetry, dead at 87 left half a million dollars. He orders an edition of his poems at a reasonable price within reach of poor readers—also to his wife forty years younger than he, in whose arms he died. Hardy leaves three thousand a year and that will be cut in half if she remarries.

The "poorer readers" could get along without Hardy's poems, for Hardy as poet can be fairly described as Lowell unfairly described Wordsworth, that divinely inspired, wise, deep, tender, grand bore.

Delegates of the Cincinnati conservatory of music hunting strange folk songs heard an Alaska Indian youth singing "My love is like a fish." Human beings always compare a loved one to something they admire. In the Congo, where "the fatter the lady the greater her love to a fat hippopotamus and consider it a great compliment. The wealth-loving civilized compares his lady's hair to gold, teeth to pearls, lips to coral or rubies, no great difference.

Stalin, who runs Russia with Lenin dead and Trotsky sent into exile, says millions of workers throughout the world are ready to join Russia's Red Army when it starts conquering. If Stalin replies on that, he is awaiting him a surprise as complete as the one he prepared for Trotsky. If the "Red Army" starts marching every other country will raise a labor army to stop it. All armies are ninety per cent labor armies and all men forget theories and fight for their country when war comes.

A French flier surpasses the American "loop record" by turning eleven hundred and eleven aerial somersaults with a monoplane in four hours and fifty-six minutes. That is exactly as unimportant as the number of back somersaults turned by a circus actor. It is thinking and inventing that count, not stunts.

THINK SCHOOL ROUTINE ROBS MIND OF PUPIL

Boston, Feb. 28—(AP)—School examinations of schools must be abandoned, if there is to be any real freedom in learning, thinks W. Carson Ryan, professor of education at Swarthmore college.

It is not that these things are necessary bad in themselves, he told the National Education association here today, but that they are symptoms of the excessive emphasis being placed upon school routine rather than upon the real task of educating human beings.

Drys Rally For Real Showdown With Politicians

Washington, Feb. 28—(AP)—Rallying to the support for prohibition, dry leaders assembled here today to lay plans for a showdown on the question with both republican and democratic parties.

At a one day conference they proposed to map out a campaign for insertion of a clear-cut prohibition plank in the national platform and for the nomination of men for President and vice president known to be dry at heart.

The penalty for ignoring this demand, those in charge of the meeting let it be known, would be an appeal to friends of prohibition to actively oppose the non-complying party's nominees at the polls in November.

The call for today's meeting, which drew to Washington representatives of more than a score of national temperance organizations, resulted from a preliminary conference on the subject in Atlantic City last October. On the program for the day and at a banquet tonight were listed men and women of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, laymen as well as clergymen.

A committee was given the assignment of drawing up a set of resolutions, putting down in black and white what is to be demanded of republican and democratic chiefs. It was planned also to designate a group to press the campaign and present the demands at the Kansas City and Houston conventions.

Local Automobile Dealer Back From Charlotte Meeting

Mr. W. J. Edwards of the Harper Motor Company, local Oakland-Pontiac dealers, has returned from Charlotte, where he attended a dealer meeting conducted by executives of the Oakland Motor Car Company who outlined plans for the greatest year in the company's history.

The group of factory officials was headed by W. R. Tracy, vice-president, who stated that tentative plans of the company call for the sale of 270,000 Oakland and Pontiac sixes during 1933 against a total of 191,000 in 1932.

The Oakland Motor Car Company jumped from ninth place in total sales during 1926 to fifth place last year, said Mr. Edwards. "A tremendous plant expansion providing larger manufacturing facilities for both the Pontiac Six and the Oakland All-American Six, coupled with an equally great increase in the size of the Oakland-Pontiac dealer organization have combined to place the company in a position where it expects to gain an even higher rating during 1933.

The company will soon have a nine-hour production capacity of 1,250 Pontiacs and 720 Oaklands. It has doubled its factory floor space and tripled its plant investment in about two years and now carries the largest payroll in Oakland history.

"It is this increasing volume that has enabled the company to offer so much more car in the New Series Pontiac Six at no advance in price.

The meeting, one of 33 similar programs which two groups of factory executives are conducting throughout the United States, consisted of an afternoon business session followed by a banquet in the evening. Besides Mr. Tracy, other company executives who participated in the meeting were W. B. Sawyer, W. E. Fellows, W. L. Shaffner.

Fullness Motor Inventor Says It Is Practical

Pittsburgh, Feb. 28—(AP)—Although his "featureless" motor has been characterized as impractical and "not a motor at all" by a generator, Lester J. Hendershot, of West Elizabeth Pa., today stood by his assertion that it works.

The motor, described by the 29-year-old inventor as deriving its power from the magnetic fields of the earth, was said by F. W. Hochstetter, of the Hochstetter Research Laboratories here, to be a "generator and not a motor at all," observing:

INDIGESTION GONE

Tennessean Was Worried Considerably Until, on Advice of An Acquaintance, He Began To Use Black-Draught.

Sewanee, Tenn.—"For several years," says Mr. J. L. Russell, of this place, "I suffered continuously with spells of indigestion. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and I was in a bad way.

"Nothing did me any good until I found Black-Draught. One day a man in a store where we traded told me to try Black-Draught. He said he knew of it relieving indigestion, so I decided to give it a trial.

"In my case it seemed to go right to the very root of my trouble. It straightened me out, and ever since that time, over thirty years ago, I have used Black-Draught.

"When I have a spell of indigestion coming on, I begin on Black-Draught. I take several small doses, in a regular course, and I find it will usually have me well in less than no time. Now I never suffer—I take Black-Draught.

"I also found it fine to break up a bad cold. In the winter time, I always keep a box handy, so when I sneeze, or feel chilly down my spine, I take a few doses of Black-Draught, and that wards off the cold."
