KIWANIS CLUB HAS PROGRAM FOR FARMERS

Thirty or More Planters Entertained at Annual Affair Here Last Night.

Last night was Farmers night at the Greenville Kiwanis club and thirty planters from various parts of the county joined the Kiwanians in what is generally considered one of the best programs in years.

The session was presided over by President J. Frank Harrington, who extended a cordial welcome to the visitors and assured them that Kiwanians everywhere were using their utmost influence in the development of agriculture.

The program was in charge of J. C. Galloway, of Grimesland, who is probably one of the best known agriculturalists in the county. He joined the president in expressions of welcome.

Not so long ago, Mr. Galloway was popularly known as a "Baby Kiwanian" but he has outgrown the swaddling clothes of infancy and presented the club with a program of talks which will live long in the memory of members of all professions attending the meeting.

The principal speaker of the evening was Roy Cox, of Winterville, member of the local Kiwanis club who has been actively associated with development of the locality for a number of years.

Mr. Cox said people everywhere should be interested in the movement to keep young men and women on the farm. Our splendid, consolidated schools "should be provided with agricultural courses so that agriculture may take on the aspect of a profession and become more attractive to men and women of all walks of life," he said.

He urged his hearers to stand behind the various activities launched in behalf of the planter from time to time and to do everything possible to bring about an improvement in his environment.

The talk was inspirational and contained many facts dealing with the development of future agriculture in this territory.

Other speakers of the evening were E. F. Arnold, director of agriculture of Pitt county, R. L. Little, Paul Davenport, R. E. Corbett, William McArthur and Levy Pierce.

Each of these talks literally vibrated with the spirit of the occasion and showed to what extent the grower is becoming interested in the science of feeding the multitudes.

Mission Here Closes Sunday

Parishioners of St. Peter's Catholic Church say that never before was their church so well frequented as during the mission which the Rev. Francis J. Berrong, of the Benedictine Order, is conducting.

The final service will take place tomorrow morning at nine o'clock when the missionary will say mass, distribute Holy Communion and give his farewell sermon. He is now pleased with his stay in Greenville and is appreciative of the many kindnesses that he has received not only from the Catholics but also from members of other creeds.

Thought the mission exercises will be held at 7:45 and the topic of the sermon is "Mary, the Mother of God and Our Mother." All are invited to hear this Catholic doctrine explained.

Last night in his sermon "The Catholic's Duty to his Church," the missionary explained the unity, the sacredness, the catholicity, the apostolicity of the Catholic Church as being marks of the church founded by Christ. He had only utter contempt for those so-called Catholics who apologize for their faith or bring disgrace upon the church by their sinful lives and bad example.

"We must expect this, however," he said, "since the members of the church are human. Was there not a Judas even among the twelve?" The precepts by means of which the church governs her three hundred million members, were explained and, as the speaker said, these are nothing new but only helps to the observance of the Ten Commandments. "Observe these six precepts and you are a hundred per cent Catholic layman. Nothing else is required except, as is inferred, that you keep the Ten Commandments, which regulate our conduct as creatures of God and citizens of the state."

The number of those who came to hear Father Berrong increased as the week went on. Last night St. Peter's was too small to accommodate the crowd. Extra chairs had to be brought into service. The mission for the children will close with that of the adults with the mass tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Father Gable, the pastor unites with Father Berrong in thanking the people, The Daily Reflector, for having helped to make the mission a success.

Attacks Newspapers For Political Activity

Frank Willis Assails Papers For Attempt to Nominate President.

Columbus, Ohio, March 10.—(AP)—Turning from an attack on Herbert Hoover, his opponent in the Ohio primaries, Senator Frank B. Willis in an address here today assailed certain newspapers which he contended were trying to dictate without the republican party should nominate for President.

He did not refer in his prepared speech to the newspapers by name, but the context of his remarks showed clearly that he meant the Scripps Howard chain.

Also in his prepared address, Mr. Willis refrained from using the name of the commerce secretary, who is in the field against him for the Ohio delegation to the Kansas City convention. But he managed, without being so specific, to re-emphasize his contention that Mr. Hoover is "internationally minded," a believer in the League of Nations, and out of sympathy with the orthodox republican's views on the tariff.

In the main, the Ohio senator, as he addressed a group of his supporters here, followed the line of attack he used last Saturday night at Wellston in launching his campaign against Hoover. But his attack on the newspapers was new.

"One of the chief contenders in the newspaper field for the control of the republican nomination for presidency," he asserted, "is a chain of newspapers that have habitually supported democratic candidates for the presidency, and usually for state offices. It is reported that the editors and managers of these newspapers recently had a meeting in Indiana and decided, amongst other things, that they would issue a release to the republican party directing it whom to nominate for the presidency. To insure strict and prompt compliance with their order, they announced that unless this was done, their influence would be thrown over to Governor Al Smith."

"Since when has the republican party come to the place where its candidates are to be dictated by a chain of newspapers that never supported the republican ticket? Upon what theory shall any combination of newspapers be permitted to say, with effect, to the republican party, that it must nominate one particular candidate, and if it does not do so, the whole influence of these papers is to be thrown to the democratic party?"

"Does this indicate that in the opinion of these editors the candidates that they select for the republican party represents principles, generally, the same as those represented by their chosen leader for the democratic party?"

"It cannot be said that these newspapers in any respect represent the principles or policies of the administration of President Coolidge. No newspapers in the country have more bitterly assailed or more unreasonably criticized the policies of President Coolidge than those papers who now propose to dictate the republican nomination for the presidency."

"It will be interesting to note how long great newspapers, independently owned throughout the country, will be content to follow meekly and subserviently, the leadership of this chain of papers. As the campaign proceeds, no doubt the chain newspapers will fully explain their reasons for supporting their candidates for each of the two parties."

"It is because both of these candidates are internationally minded? Is it to be assumed that their views are the same with reference to the league of nations? Do these newspapers contend that their candidates entertain similar views with reference to the tariff? Do they claim that the positions of their chosen candidates are similar with reference to the eighteenth amendment and its enforcement?"

"The question that is presented to the republican voters of the state of Ohio and of the country is simply this: are they to make their own nominations, free, unfettered and unaided, or are they to permit these newspapers, that have always fought republican policies and opposed every republican administration, including that of President Coolidge, to make the nomination for them under the threat that if such authority is not given, these newspapers will swing their influence, whatever it may be, to Governor Smith of New York."

Herbert Hoover, as head of the department of commerce attacked the British monopoly that regulates the world price of rubber and made millions of American pay double for tires. It was Hoover that forced the British combination to reduce the price of rubber as every tire maker will testify. That attack on the British monopoly, which was sending hundreds of millions of American dollars into British pockets, did not please Britain. But it was a good thing for the United States, and it showed the sort of American that Hoover is.

HOUSE FAILS TO ABOLISH SHORT SESSION

Lame Duck Amendment Turned down Yesterday After Hard Fight.

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—The "lame duck" will continue to limp on Capitol Hill after the next elections.

Coming before the house for the first time, the four-times senate approved constitutional amendment to abolish those bi-annual three month sessions of congress popularly known as the "lame duck" terms was turned down yesterday, 109 to 157.

Of the 368 members present—there were 435 in the house—two, Stalker, republican, New York, and Williams, democrat, Texas, voted present. Party lines were obliterated on the final vote, 89 republicans joining 118 democrats and two farmer-labor members in support of the amendment, and 102 republicans combining with 55 democrats in opposition.

The action, coming after three days of heated debate, killed the chances of the proposal's adoption at this session. Had it been adopted, the legislatures of three-fourths of the states would have had to approve it joined the other 19 amendments of the constitution.

The amendment, attacked vigorously by republican leaders, would have changed the meeting date of congress from the first Monday in December to January 4, thus convening it two months after an election instead of 13 months as at present and wiping out the short session at which the "lame duck" members departed in November are permitted to sit until adjournment March.

The proposals also would have required Presidents to take office January 24 instead of March 4 and provided for clarification of doubtful constitutional provisions dealing with succession to the presidency in event of death of the President and vice president.

The place also is close to Washington, relatively close to New England and at a sufficient height to assure relief from the summer heat, three factors which will figure in the ultimate selection.

Asheville is only fourteen hours from Washington by railroad, and as such is looked upon by the chief executive as within a convenient distance from his likely centers of operation this summer. One of these probably will be Northampton, Mass., whence Mr. Coolidge does not wish to depart too far on account of the condition of Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, Mrs. Coolidge's mother, who has been dangerously ill since last December. Washington, on account of the peculiar political situation this year is the other center to which Mr. Coolidge intends to remain relatively close.

The likely dates on which Mr. Coolidge would begin his vacation cannot as yet be settled. The President feels that, although it will depend largely upon the closely of congress, for which he naturally will remain in Washington, his departure is not likely to be before June 11, for which day the budget meeting has been tentatively scheduled.

Mr. Coolidge in this respect, is of the opinion that congress easily could dispose of all business before it by the middle of May. This would leave him free to start his annual vacation as soon after June 11 as practicable, probably coincidentally with the opening of the republican national convention in Kansas City on June 12.

The President is believed to be influenced in regarding Sealandia by favor by recollections of his visit to Asheville with Mrs. Coolidge while he was vice president. It was his first trip to the south, and remained the farthest he had gone beyond Virginia until his visit to Havana in January.

Mrs. Coolidge is known to have especially warm recollections of her visit to North Carolina. She is said to have championed an invitation from that state last year before the Black Hills of South Dakota finally were decided upon.

Funeral Services For D. N. Nobles To Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for D. N. Asheville May Be Chosen As Next Summer's White House

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—Of various invitations so far received for this year's summer White House, President Coolidge finds one from the south, at Asheville, North Carolina, the most attractive.

Although a final decision has not been reached, a residence offered no later than Thursday by Philip S. Henry of Asheville, appeals to the President to unite the essential features for his 1928 vacation home. Zealandia, as the Henry mansion is known, occupies 100 or 120 acres on Beaucatcher mountain at an altitude of about 3,000 feet, or about 500 feet higher than the city proper.

The place also is close to Washington, relatively close to New England and at a sufficient height to assure relief from the summer heat, three factors which will figure in the ultimate selection.

Two Coast Guards Lose Lives Today

CHICAGO MAN TESTIFIES AT OIL HEARING

I. G. Hipsley Tells of Destroying Records of National Republican Committee.

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—Gathering together another group of witnesses the senate teapot dome committee resumed the long quest of the continental trading company's liberty bonds with the prime object of determining the political use of the funds.

Irl G. Hipsley, of Chicago, secretary to the late Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee testified that the 1922 records of the national committee were destroyed by Upham just before the 1924 republican national convention at Cleveland as were all other records from 1916 to 1922.

"This was after Mr. Upham had decided to be treasurer no longer," Hipsley said. "The card index was preserved."

"What was the purpose of destroying the records?" inquired Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor.

"Because they were of no further use," was the reply. "The names of the contributors were on the card index sheets."

Hipsley could not recall whether the records for 1923 and early 1924 had been destroyed or turned over to Wm. V. Hodges, who succeeded Upham as treasurer of the national committee. Hodges has testified that the records were not given to him.

"They may have been destroyed when I close up the Upham estate in 1926," the witness said.

Hipsley said he saw nothing of the $60,000 in Liberty bonds which were forwarded to Upham by Will H. Hays, former chairman of the republican national committee, after Hays received them from Harry F. Sinclair in 1923.

EAST IN GRIP OF SNOW STORM

Heavy Fall Causes Blocking of Roads And Delay in Traffic Movement.

New York, March 10.—(AP)—A snow storm today blanketed large sections of the east with one of the heaviest falls of the winter.

The fall ranged from fractional amounts to one foot. Temperatures were moderate over the most of the region.

Old residents were wondering if the famed blizzard of '98 was to be repeated. On March 11 and 12, that year the east was blanketed with the worst storm of record, 20.9 inches being reported in New York city where traffic was disrupted for days, and the city cut off from outside communication.

The first communication with Boston was established via London cables. Property loss at that time was estimated at $25,000,000.

The heaviest snowfall today was in the Pennsylvania mountains which unofficial estimates placed at 10 inches, and at Gloversville in up-state New York where there was a foot.

Trains were running from a few minutes to hours behind schedule and many highways were blocked. The great lakes were shipped into huge waves, in some sections going over embankments onto lake-shores and into the cellars of lake-side homes.

New York city had a four inch snow fall. Six to eight thousand extra workers were added to the street cleaning force of 5,000. In Manhattan the steam lines under the pavements and the higher temperature turned the snow into water and slush but in outlying sections there were drifts.

Surf Boat Capsizes in Heavy Seas While Attempting Rescue of Passenger Liner.

Plymouth, Mass., March 10.—(AP)—Two members of the Manomet coast guard station were believed to have been drowned this forenoon when a surf boat capsized in the heavy seas while returning to the shore from the stranded liner Robert E. Lee. Seven others who clung to the overturned boat were rescued.

A power boat which cruised the vicinity about where the surf boat overturned failed to sight the missing men.

The seven rescued were in the water half an hour. They had been able to gain a hold on the overturned boat and clung to it as the high running surf washed it slowly ashore about a mile from the coast guard station. When the boat came to within a hundred yards of shore, three small dories put out and took the men aboard. They were landed with great difficulty.

Plymouth, Mass., March 10.—(AP)—About twenty-five passengers reported to be all women, were taken off the grounded liner Robert E. Lee by a 75 foot surf boat from the Sandwich coast guard station shortly after ten o'clock this forenoon. The passengers left the liner through one of the lower deck companionways and were assisted on the surf boat by the coast guardmen. They were then transferred to a 125 foot coast guard dory boat, which it was believed had been ordered to land them on the state pier at Plymouth.

During the transfer of passengers from the coast guard surf boat to the patrol boat, another coast guard 125 footer arrived alongside of the grounded liner and took up position to take on passengers. Two surf boats at that time were attempting to pull alongside of the Lee's lower companionway to take off more passengers.

The sea had abated somewhat, but was rough enough to make the transfer of passengers an extremely dangerous undertaking. A strong north wind was still blowing.

The ship grounded early last night during a 70-mile southwest gale and snow storm which blinded Captain H. W. Robinson to the peril of his course. The vessel struck a mile off Manomet Point in an almost direct line from the Manomet coast guard station.

Radio messages from the Lee quickly informed the world of its plight even as a lookout at the coast guard station was attempting to signal the ship of the danger of its position. It apparently had been grounded when first sighted through the swirling snow from shore.

Passengers and crew were in no immediate danger and although the Lee was pounding heavily it showed no signs of breaking up. Captain Robinson reported. Giant seas which broke over the vessel prevented coast guardmen from reaching the wreck. A dozen attempts proved ineffectual in the face of terrific combers which swept the beach.

The coast guard cutters Tuscarora and Redwing were early arrivals on the scene and soon after midnight this morning the naval salvage ship Falcon, the submarine tender Susmel and the mine sweeper Mallard came.

They had made a quick run from Provincetown on the tip of Cape Cod where for the past several months they have been engaged in salvage work on the submarine S-4.

Shortly after their arrival the snow began to fall heavily and it was possible only to glimpse lights of the stranded vessel. An occasional hull in the gale which at that time had dropped to 40 miles an hour. Whistles were heard continually through the storm.

The naval vessels radioed to Boston that no attempt would be made to remove the 150 passengers and crew of 113 before daybreak at the earliest, unless an emergency should arise. Previous advice from the stranded ship had said that although there was six feet of water in the boiler room, all passengers were comfortable and there was no confusion.

First messages from the Lee indicated that she had lost her course in treading the lower reaches of Massachusetts Bay on her way by the inside route to the Cape Cod canal and New York City. The vessel left Boston at 5 p. m. yesterday and was due in New York at 8 a. m. today.

Takes Own Life.

Hendersonville, March 10.—(AP)—Funeral services for Dr. H. H. Baker, mayor of Laurel Park, who shot and killed himself yesterday had not been arranged this morning. Dr. Baker was found dead late yesterday.

TO REQUEST EXAMINATION FOR COTTON

Want Every Bale Stored in N. Y. Warehouse Reexamined Determine Accuracy

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—Decision to ask authority of Congress for re-examination of every bale of cotton stored in New York warehouses for the purpose of determining accuracy of its certification by the department of agriculture was reached today by a subcommittee investigating the cotton market slump of last fall.

The investigation will be made, Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina chairman of the subcommittee said, in cooperation with the department and probably through use of funds now available to the department. About 200,000 bales of the New York cotton are alleged to be under standard for certification and to be used by cotton market speculators in boating down prices.

During the committee hearing today, Lloyd S. Tenney, of the agricultural economics bureau of the department, in charge of administration of the cotton futures act, said the department was ready to stand on the original classification of the cotton and satisfied that its condition had no influence on the market aside from that growing out of rumors and gossip.

Senator Smith said the committee desired to "set at rest once and for all" any question as to the integrity of the enforcement of the act so far as cotton classification goes.

"If it finds the cotton concentrated in New York to be tenderable, the department will have been exonerated and it will develop upon the committee to find what other influences operated to depress the market," he said.

The committee then took up the celebrated cotton price trend statement issued by the department September 15 last. Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, saying the result of his estimate had been that cotton producers were "robbed of about half a billion dollars." Tenney said the department believed it had legal authority to make such studies and make them public. Senator Heflin said he, for one, was determined to "relieve it or that authority."

Tenney sought to go into the process during the last three or four years by which the price trend statements were evolved as a new phase of departmental work but was so repeatedly interrupted that he had not completed an explanation of the September 15 bulletin when the committee adjourned. At one point Senator Ransdell, democrat, Louisiana, said while there had been much talking "Tenney has done very little of it" due to interruptions.

Senator Smith announced that Tenney would be recalled next Tuesday while W. L. Clayton, of the cotton firm of Anderson, Clayton & Co., owners of 100,000 bales of the New York cotton, had been asked to appear Monday.

Sanford Visited By $175,000 Fire During Morning

Sanford, March 10.—(AP)—The Makepeace Box and Lumber Company's buildings, the Sanford Steam Laundry, and one negro house burned today to the ground, early today, at a total loss of $175,000, with $35,000 of it covered by insurance.

A night watchman of the Makepeace company was the first to notice the fire. He tried to extinguish it with a hose but the flames spread quickly to serious proportions, licking up all the lumber company's frame buildings, and spreading to the laundry which melted to the ground before the local fire department finally curbed the fire.

The lumber company plant covered two acres. Forty men were employed. The company was established ten years ago. The loss to the company, W. E. Makepeace, president, said, was $130,000. The loss was partly covered by $25,000 insurance.

Council of League Brought To Close At Geneva Today

Geneva, March 10.—(AP)—The forty-ninth session of the council of the league of nations closed this afternoon. The last subject before it was the proposal to amend the constitution towards machine gun treaties which caused a complaint against Hungary by the united states. A committee of three appointed to consider this case told the council it would be unable to report before the June meeting.

GENERAL MOTORS makes an Important Announcement regarding the New OLDSMOBILE

When the new Oldsmobile Six was presented at the New York Automobile Show, there was created a new standard of excellence in a fine car of low price—

—for this bigger, finer and more beautiful car represents the greatest single step that Oldsmobile has ever taken in carrying out its "policy pledged to progress".

Setting new standards of beauty . . . creating new standards of performance . . . and offering a galaxy of features that eloquently attest its advanced engineering—this impressive car is the subject of animated discussion wherever it has been exhibited.

And, very naturally, this discussion is centered around Oldsmobile's ability to provide a car of such obvious excellence—at such low prices.

Why is it that Oldsmobile can build an automobile so outstanding in its field for size, distinction and comfort? Why is it that Oldsmobile is distinguished by coachwork so masterly in conception and execution?

Why is it that Oldsmobile's performance marks such a revolutionary advancement among automobiles of comparable cost?

These, in substance, are questions that have been asked over and over again by persons inspecting the new Oldsmobile. And the answer to every question is the same: Oldsmobile is a division of General Motors!

In designing the new Oldsmobile chassis, Oldsmobile engineers had the constant cooperation of the engineering staffs of every other General Motors division—and of the scientists in the General Motors Research Laboratories.

In proving its performance, stamina and economy, the General Motors Proving Ground was used consistently for more than two years—with a total of more than a million miles of testing!

In keeping with General Motors policy of progress, the new Oldsmobile Six has been developed with the thought in mind of giving the public the distinctive appearance, exceptional performance and high dollar value that provides a fine car at low price.

The creation of the distinguished new bodies was a co-operative endeavor between Oldsmobile and the master designers of the Fisher Body Corporation.

And finally, in the actual production of the car, various other General Motors divisions were employed to produce such units as radiators, bearings, spark plugs, air cleaners, oil filters, speedometers, steering wheels, warning horns and starting, lighting and ignition equipment.

The constant availability of all these General Motors resources has given to Oldsmobile many vital manufacturing advantages—has made it possible for Oldsmobile to produce an automobile so outstanding in beauty, performance and quality that it sets an entirely new standard of value.

General Motors is proud of the new Oldsmobile—not only because it exemplifies the General Motors policy of progress—not only because it furnishes another example of the promptness with which General Motors passes engineering advancements on to the public...but because it marks a significant milestone in the development of "a car for every purse and purpose".

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

Not a single belt, fan or drain-pipe

There isn't an exposed moving part in the General Electric Refrigerator. There's nothing to get out of order. All the mechanism, built and tested in the General Electric laboratories, is hermetically sealed into a single steel casing. This is housed inside the coils. It has a permanent supply of special oil... it never needs oiling.

This new-day refrigerator has eliminated all problems of installation. Its mechanism (just one single piece) is lowered into the top of the specially designed cabinet. It is plugged into any electric outlet. And it works.

Come in and see the various models. And, meanwhile, mail the coupon below for a descriptive booklet.

NERVOUS HEADACHE Kentuckian Tells How Taking Black-Draught Relieved His Pains and How Well He Feels Now.

Waynesburg, Ky.—How a few doses of Theodor's Black-Draught brought relief to a man who had been suffering from frequent spells of severe headache, is told below in the statement of Mr. Charles F. Todd, of Estesburg, near this place. "I was suffering with nervous headaches. About once a week I would have these headaches, and have to quit work, and go to bed for about twenty-four hours. I would have pains in my neck, and right behind my right ear. "A merchant at Estesburg saw me one day when I was suffering, and told me to try taking Black-Draught, which I did. "I took a package home that night, and took a few doses. It relieved me. From that time on, I would take Black-Draught as soon as I felt like I was going to have one of those headaches—and they wouldn't come. "Every few weeks, I take three or four doses of Black-Draught, and I feel so well, and do my work, and don't lose any more time with headache. "I haven't had a headache in six months." Costs only one cent a dose. Get a package today. NC-189

FAVORABLY LOCATED

A reference to the authentic map of Eastern North Carolina prepared under the direction of the Greenville Merchants' Association, shows that Greenville is indeed the Hub of Eastern Carolina and offers unusual advantages as a distribution center. Located in an area within a hundred miles of a million-people while nearly half that number are within a radius of fifty miles, the seven hard-surfaced roads leading into Greenville are already making the city the shopping center of the east. There is at present a movement that bids fair to reach a successful conclusion, to make Tar River navigable to this point, which will give our city even added advantages for distribution through additional transportation facilities and cheaper freight rates.

Feeling that this new map, within itself, carries all the necessary arguments and clearly sets forth Greenville's advantageous location, we commend it to our citizens and the outside world for careful study and consideration.

NEW SOURCES OF TAXATION

In discussing the tax situation, a prominent citizen suggested that North Carolina might well follow other States in uncovering new sources of taxation. There are two sources which would produce a considerable income in the aggregate if properly used, and that is by lowering or making a special tax on bank deposits and intangible assets as is done in other States.

The first of May it is the general practice throughout the state on the part of those who carry any considerable cash balance to convert the money into non-taxable bonds so as to relieve themselves of the heavy tax on such assets, and then sell after the first of May. If a small special tax were levied then the money would remain in the

Why He Succeeded

Honored politically and professionally, during his lifetime, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears here, made a success few have equalled. His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for many years are still among the "best sellers." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a stomach alterative which makes the blood richer. banks and would create a considerable tax income.

It is generally believed that a very small percentage of intangibles, such as mortgages, notes, etc., are ever placed on the tax books because of the heavy tax. If a small special tax were placed on these and a heavy penalty exacted for non-declaration it is believed by many that this would create a considerable income.

That the burden on tax upon farm and business property has become burdensome cannot be gainsaid. In talking to a prominent business man and farmer—one who is generally reputed to be well-to-do, he declared that for the past three years he had been forced to sell some property in order to pay his taxes. Thousands of farmers have had to mortgage their lands in order to meet their taxes. When conditions come to such a pass it is time for a change, and it is to be devoutly hoped that the next General Assembly will have a bill presented to it either by the Tax Commission which will at least make a beginning of a revision of the taxation system of this State.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Record low price speeds trend to sleeve-valve engine the NEW WILLYS-KNIGHT Standard Six $1145

FROM its first presentation at the great Automobile Shows, the thousands who have viewed the Willys-Knight Standard Six have been unanimous in their praise of this beautiful new car. Such enthusiastic acclaim proves how widespread has been the demand for a low-priced Six powered by the patented Willys-Knight engine. It has long been our aim to produce just such a car. But due to the greater cost of building the superior sleeve-valve motor, it is only now that we have reached our goal. The new Standard Six is a car notable for all of Willys-Knight's quality supremacy, at the lowest price in history!

of their social functions many of the finest features of their native entertainments. The ambassador of Mexico and Senora De Telles never fail to do this, and both at the dinner they gave Monday night for the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg and that given later in the week for the Ambassador of Great Britain and Lady Isabella Howard, there were not only many Mexican dishes on the menu, but Mexican artistic featured as well.

The embassy was built by Mrs. Frank Macveagh when her husband was Secretary of the Treasury and given to him as a birthday present. Her pride was the dining room with one entire end opening onto a conservatory, and it was in this artistic place that during and after dinner a program of Mexican folk songs and dances was given by Senorita Constanza and Josefina Howard, accompanied on the guitar by Senor Carlos Lopez, all well known artists in their own countries.

Washington Social Events Washington, March 10.—(AP)—A frenzy of dining out has come over Washington society. If not a host each night, then one must be a guest, it seems. It is not unusual for six or eight invitations to come piling in on a single night to homes of such detached men in official life as Mr. Justice McReynolds, Senator McKellar of Tennessee, David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, Capper and Curtis, of Kansas and Hale of Maine, and much larger and equally popular number of detached men in the lower house and official branches. Each Ambassador and Minister of foreign country might dine a half dozen times an evening were it possible to accept all the invitations extended to them.

Next week the President and Mrs. Coolidge will dine with the Speaker and Mrs. Longworth and in some respects this will be a particularly interesting event. Mrs. Longworth is an interesting hostess as was her father, President Roosevelt, and her home is full of magnificent works of art. Most interesting presented to her by France at the time of her marriage in the White House to Mr. Longworth, and gifts from every country that held diplomatic relations with the United States at that time. Mrs. Coolidge will not resume receiving guests for some time. She will devote herself entirely to getting back to her normal physical state. The outside world, or at least the tourist portion of it, would have known that the first lady was back in Washington even had it not been told, for there stood Rob Roy, her famous white collie, in his accustomed place on the White House lawn. During her absence he behaved very much like a bad little boy, rolling in the dirt, chasing birds and rumpling around the iron fence with its inner hedge, dozens of times a day, to the delight of tourists with which whom he was particularly friendly.

It was the fashion to patronize art in the capital this week and two of the largest receptions held here within a twelve month were programmed as picture shows. Monday the Ambassador of Great Britain and Lady Isabella Howard were hosts at the National Galleries for the opening of an exhibition of British paintings. Tonight Corcoran Gallery was to hold several thousand guests from all branches of society and many from New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia and other cities for the private view of the W. A. Clark collection given to the Gallery and for which the annex housing it was built.

In the rush of dinner giving, it is pleasing to find that some Ambassadors are sufficiently proud of their own countries as to introduce at

SPRING FINDS CARDINALS ARE IN FINE TRIM

(By Brian Bell)
Avon Park, Fla., March 10.—(AP)—Spring seems to have brought satisfactory answers to the questions in the winter. There was speculation in the off months concerning Bob O'Farrell's injured thumb. There was the leg, Chuck Hafey's eye, Ray Blade's knee, Lester Bell's batting and fielding and Flint Rehem's disposition.

The players think that on a vote of confidence on all of these problems the eyes have it. O'Farrell is throwing the ball and hitting it. Thevenow's leg seems to be sound again with his chief worry a blister on his heel. Hafey will not have to wear spectacles and the hustling blades seems as fast as ever. Bell's hitting has been a sensation of the spring camp and Rehem seems set for an impressive year.

If all these rosy prospects develop, Bill McKechnie, a major league manager again will have a pleasant summer. His pitchers have rounded into great early season form and half a dozen of them could start now.

Former manager O'Farrell, will have to able understudies in Gus Mancuso from Syracuse and Virgil Davis, late of Buffalo.

The pitching staff may be bolstered by competent performers who was not included in advance calculations. Tony Kaufmann, former Cub and Philly, gives every indication of staging a comeback. Grover Cleveland Alexander, with his first birthday behind him, shows the way to all comers for hard work. The veteran Alex pitches longer than anyone to batters in the morning and then bats fungoes in the afternoon.

Sherdell, Haines, Rhem, Reinhardt, Frankhouse and Littlejohn seem certain of their pitching places.

The infield established with Bottomly, Frisch, Thevenow and Bell assigned. Rabbit Marvelli, looking years younger than his untidy winters and summers, will be held in reserve as will George Toporcer. Heine Schube, who threw himself into the game in Thevenow's place and played sensationally last season, seems to need experience and will probably get it under a quick option which would make his service available on short notice. Frisch is many pounds above his normal weight, a good thing for a player of his nervous energy as the extra flesh gives him something to work on.

The Cardinal outfield is not so firmly established. The final condition of Hafey and Blades will be important and in addition four youngsters have made their presence felt. The outfield talent is so striking that Taylor Douthitt may have to divide centerfield with some of it. Another youngster, John Leonard Martin, from the plains of Texas, is one of baseball's fastest moving objects, and if he can arrange to get on first base to show his speed, he will have a chance. Howard Williamson and Homer Pelt, former Syracuse outfielders, are also threatening.

If manager McKechnie succeeds in holding his players within the bounds of moderation they should be in great physical condition at the sun. With two sessions of practice a day, many of the athletes do not return to their hotel for lunch, but remain at the park where a sketchy meal is served them.

More Indictments In Wilkes County Spurious Note Case

NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C., Mar. 10.—(AP)—Another Chapter in the Wilkes County Spurious note case which has occupied the attention of the courts for several months, was written yesterday when the Grand Jury returned true bills against C. C. Faw, chairman of the board of education; W. H. Foster, and Clem Wrenn, charging conspiracy to defraud.

Foster, Wrenn and Faw, it was charged, were implicated in the alleged fraudulent insurance of $150,000 in county notes. Wrenn, now serving a sentence on charges in connection with the failure of the Bank of Wilkes, testified during his trial that $41,000 of this sum went into the Foster Construction Company of which he and Foster were stockholders. The construction company is said to be bankrupt.

Faw now faces five indictments on charges arising in connection with the alleged fraudulent insurances of the notes.

Final Bell Sounds For George Lavigne

Detroit, March 10.—(AP)—The final bell has sounded for George Lavigne, the "Saginaw Kid" former world's lightweight boxing champion. Lavigne, who ruled the lightweight ranks from 1893 to 1899, died at his home here last night after a brief illness. Death was due to heart disease.

The "Kid," who was 58 years old, was reputed to have earned a small fortune in the ring but of that there was nothing left. For the past few years he had been employed as a night watchman at a Ford Motor Company plant.

The Kid's greatest fights were against Joe Walcott, whom he defeated twice. Walcott prior to his meetings with Lavigne had never beaten and had won from the topnotchers of three divisions, including the heavyweight Joe Choyski. He was regarded as unbeatable.

ATHLETICS PILE UP VICTORIES AND INJURIES

Fort Myers, Fla., March 10.—(AP)—The Athletics continue to pile up pre-season victories in the southland and at the same time injuries.

They have a hint of driving powers in beating the St. Louis Browns yesterday, but a pair of Mack's regulars received injuries during the progress. Catcher Cochran struck his thumb into a foul tip which caused his removal and second baseman Bishop had a nail torn from his finger. Both will take a few days' rest.

Asheville's Hopes For Pennant Honors Depend on Battery

Asheville, March 10.—(AP)—Asheville's pillar of hope so far as south Atlantic Association baseball is concerned, rests largely with a seasoned hurling staff and veteran receivers behind the plate.

The infield prospects are, yet questionable and the outfield berries are doubtful.

It is to the New York Yankees, however, that the Tourists look for some of their salvation in filling vacancies. Miller Huggins is expected to leave Dewey Byrd and Dusty Cook, outfielders, when the New York American squad comes here late in the training season. He is also expected to let a young shortstop remain for Asheville duty.

The pitching staff's big five is expected to be drawn from Jose Acosta, Bud Shaney, Hippo Hodges, Harry Smythe, Marty Baylin and other candidates. These include McRae, Pop Simmons, Norman Beasley, Barker Moore, Duffy, Ferguson and David.

Infielders under contract include Watson, O'Reilly, Noonan, Diritza Hoffman, Weber, Jones and Conrad. Catchers are Roy Leube and Jack Cleyton. Outfielders number Joe Cleyton, Al Greene, Lake Rymer, Joe Bonzer and Brown Early. Manager Jay Kennedy is expected to hold down an infield job.

Woman's Golf Title Match Played Today

St. Augustine, Fla., March 10.—(AP)—Gleola Collett, former holder of the highest women's golf titles of the United States, Canada and France, today met Virginia Van Wie, sensational young Chicago player, for the Florida East Coast women's links crown.

The two were considered about evenly matched, both being at top form and considered by many as among the first four or five contenders for the 1928 national championship.

Miss Collett went into the final round by default yesterday of Virginia Wilson, Chicago, 7 and 5. Miss Van Wie defeated Maureen O'Leary, Englewood, N. J., 3 and 2.

The match today marked the second meeting in the south within the past few weeks of Misses Van Wie and Collett, the former having defeated the Providence, R. I., player in a thrilling extra hole match for the mid-south women's open title at Pinehurst last month.

English Woman On 6,000 Mile Solo Flight

London, March 10.—(AP)—Lady Mary Bailey, who is the wife of a millionaire and has won a trophy for being the outstanding woman aviator of 1927, today was embarked on a solo flight to Cape Town as her "summer holiday."

"I am traveling light," she said as she climbed into her own De Havilland moth plane at Croydon airfield. "I am taking only two suitcases, but I mean to make a comfortable trip. This is my summer holiday."

The trip, Lady Bailey continued, was purely for private amusement—to see how far she could get. She has no idea of trying for records, merely intending to enjoy herself in a sport she loves.

Her destination is Cape Town, 6,000 miles away. "But," she said, "I think I am too much of a novice to say anything about it and I can't tell that until I get going."

"The Poor Nut" Pleases Good Audience Here

"The Poor Nut," the famous comedy of college life by J. C. and Edot Nungent, was presented at White's theatre in this city last night to a fair sized and appreciative audience. The attraction was given under auspices of the Womans' club through the Better Plays Extension of New York.

The play gave a graphic portrayal of college life with an interesting plot flashing with humor which served to keep the audience in a hilarious mood. An awkward young fellow in the University, suffering from an "inferiority complex," found himself in many ridiculous situations.

The title role was played by Horace Michael. His humor was rich and wholesome and seldom failed to prove contagious.

The comedy really contained some fine acting executed by artists who played many weeks on Broadway and other large cities of the country.

Goes To Jail For Whipping Her Daughter

Kansas City, Kan., March 10.—(AP)—Placing her diamonds in custody of her husband, Mrs. Christine Woodside, 34, former snake charmer and lion tamer in a carnival, has elected to spend 70 days in the workhouse rather than pay a $110 fine imposed for spanking her 16-year-old daughter.

Informed by Judge Fred R. White that he believed the spanking had been "unwarrantedly severe," and that she must pay $100 and costs or go to jail, Mrs. Woodside handed three diamond rings to her husband, S. R. Woodside, and left for a cell. She forbade Mr. Woodside, step-father of the girl, Lorene Jones, to pay the fine.

Arraigned in Judge White's court here last night following her arrest on a complaint charging assault, which was sworn to by Lorene, the mother admitted whipping the girl last Sunday with a coat hanger. She said Lorene refused to give an account of a trip she made in the family automobile.

"Parents have a right to punish their children, but they have no right to be brutal," Judge White said in imposing sentence.

"I'll not crawl, Judge," Mrs. Woodside said. "I'll go to jail first. That will be as hard on Lorene as this will be on me."

While Lorene's father, J. E. Jones of Johnston, Colo., who has remarried and has three children, invited her to make her home with him, the girl refused. The Woodside's operate a hotel here.

The Mississippi disaster which President Coolidge entrusted to him, was that of a profoundly learned and unselfish man willing to sacrifice comfort, time and energy to hard work in great energy.

Mr. Hoover understands great national improvements that the country needs. Boulder Dam, canals from the great lakes to the ocean and Gulf, and he would be able to do the work that the country needs done.

Herbert Hoover, when he talks about America, knows what he is talking about. When he talks of other countries, informing American business men as to opportunities for selling American goods abroad he is discussing matters that he understands. Thousands of business men will testify to the good that Mr. Hoover has done as the head of the

An overwhelming majority of those that voted for President Coolidge, electing him with millions of votes to spare, would like to vote for him again since he has only been elected once and would be running for a second not a third elective term, in 1928. But the President has decided, and millions that know they cannot have Coolidge, will be delighted to have Hoover, a good American.

General Motors says it is not going to make airplanes. This column predicts that General Motors, eventually will make airplanes. Messrs. Loan, Dupont and their able engineers and ambitious super-mechanics will not remain out of that which is destined to be the world's most important, and perhaps greatest industry.

A few years ago, Henry Ford told this writer "the airplane is not a commercial success, and I am not going into that field," reminded that the automobile was not a commercial success, either, when he made his first little gasoline buggy. Mr. Ford reported that he would not make airplanes. He is making them now, sold nearly a million dollars worth last year. And while he loses money on every machine he will make money eventually. Meanwhile he renders a great service to his country. And his three-engine plane is a good, safe, all-metal machine. Get one.

Professor Northrop of Yale says the world must look to an inductive philosophy of science for a solution of the problem of religion. "Science only can tell us whether the universe as we know it provides any concrete meaning for the claims of religion."

Science and religion are and must remain separate. Science gradually reveals to men that which they can explain and understand, religion, which changes as men's civilization changes, represents the effort to know and understand that which men can never know or understand. Religion, destined to remain a matter of faith, never to be proved, is at least as important as science. Science gives knowledge safety and wealth. Religion gives peace.

New York school teachers are ordered to give children instruction in the harmful effects of alcohol. That order, based on a law 25 years old, is especially necessary with the modern brands of whisky. Formerly children were warned that they might avoid whisky when grown. Now, unfortunately, the warning is needed to keep them from whisky in high school.
