GERMAN PLANE PREPARES TO CROSS OCEAN

Three Members of Crew Wait Change in Weather Before Taking Off.

New York, March 27.—(AP)—The lives of three Germans, who are gambling with death in attempting a trans-Atlantic flight, depend upon the performance of their plane's motor. The motor, of twelve cylinders, wrested the world's endurance flight record from America last year in a flight of 52 1-2 hours.

The Junkers monoplane Bremen in which the flight is being made, accomplished the first leg from Tempelhof airfield, Berlin, to Dublin in 9 1-2 hours yesterday. Following a circuitous route it covered 992 miles at an average speed of nearly 106 miles an hour. The plane is owned by Baron Ehrenfried Günther, who travels as passenger. To buy it he gave the last penny of his personal fortune and borrowed from 14 friends enough to make up the $50,000 required to cover its cost and insurance. With him are Captain Heiman Koehl, pilot, and Walter Sieder, mechanic.

The plane with the Baron aboard attempted a non-stop flight from Dessau, Germany, to America on August 15, 1927, but after encountering gales it returned to its starting place, having flown 22 hours. Captain Koehl was pilot on that flight. The plane carries the name "Bremen" and the government license number 1197. On the rudder is the dagger-shaped emblem of the Junkers Airplane Company.

The Bremen is a low winged all metal monoplane, being made of aluminum in a patented aluminum alloy. The Junkers L-5 water cooled motor develops a maximum of 360 horsepower. The Bremen can fly 130 miles an hour. Although 90 miles an hour is regarded as the economical speed for an ocean plane. The motor was installed in the Bremen after being used by the plane's sister ship Europa in establishing the duration flight record.

The ship carries 2,500 pounds of benzol, primed with ether. This is thought to be sufficient fuel to keep it in the air for 40 to 45 hours, giving a flying radius of about 4,500 miles, which is approximately 1,000 miles more than the distance from Dublin to New York.

Baron von Huenfeldt was seriously wounded during the war and invalided out of the service. He was sent to Holland as a consul.

He is a close friend of the former crown prince and sent some time with the prince during the first days of his exile.

He was born at Koenigsberg in 1892 and is married. He is connected with the North German Lloyd's steamship lines, but later he entered the aviation service. In 1917 he was shot down twice while piloting a bomber over the French lines. On the second occasion he was taken prisoner but later escaped.

After the war, Captain Koehl served for a time with the Reichswehr and later took up commercial flying. He has done a great deal of night flying and made a study of flying blind, which is essential in trans-Atlantic flight. He is married but has no children.

At midnight the town of Biggs was under fourteen inches of water when the flood gates of the Sutter-Celle canal system were opened to save that waterway from destruction.

At Croville, 25 miles away, fifty families were rendered homeless when the river water went over its banks flooding the west end of the community.

The United States plant introduction gardens as well as the state land colony, near Durham, were flooded by Butte Creek, a tributary of the Sacramento river. At the land colony hundreds were forced to flee from their homes.

Transportation by rail and water north of Sacramento was badly crippled.

Hamilton City, an agricultural community 25 miles from Red Bluff expected to receive the overflow flow from the Sacramento river today with the crest expected later at Chico, Biggs, Marysville and Sacramento.

FIVE KILLED BY TORNADO IN GEORGIA

Score Also Injured Near Canton; Windstorms do Damage in N. C. and S. C.

Canton, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—Five persons were known to have been killed and about a score injured when a tornado struck in the eastern portion of Cherokee county last night.

The dead: Mr. and Mrs. William J. Millwood, Allen Millwood, 18, Estelle Millwood, 14, Ossie Heath, 21.

Authorities here did not learn of the storm until this morning. The tornado struck shortly after 10:30 o'clock last night.

The tornado apparently was a freak one and seemed to have been confined to a comparatively small area. The Millwood home was the first hit, after which the wind skipped several residences to ravage three more houses in the neighborhood. Property damage tentatively was estimated at $15,000.

Charlotte, March 27.—(AP)—Lightning and windstorms that swept over portions of the Carolinas last night did damage that may run high into the thousands of dollars, crippled wire communications and in at least one instance levelled buildings.

Union county, South Carolina, experienced the worst storm of a series, according to dispatches received here. The store of R. J. Fowler at Kelly's, was blown away, timbers being scattered for a half mile around. Several tenant houses were wrecked on farms in the section between Lockhart Junction and Kelly's station. Several buildings were damaged near Lockhart Junction.

Lightning struck the cotton house on the farm of J. C. Faucette and burned it with a quantity of cotton seed.

In North Carolina reports indicated that damage was largely confined to utilities and telephone and telegraph wires. All communication companies reported heavy damage which had not been finally surveyed at noon today. Much of this was in the section around Wilson, Greenville and other towns and cities in the eastern section of the state.

Several houses were demolished and others were unroofed by the windstorm which swept the Mayo section of Spartanburg county and a part of Cherokee county last night.

Several persons in the area were understood to have received slight injuries but none was hurt seriously. The tornado swept over Gaffney and wrecked the shipping road of the Daisy Danask Mills, blew telephone poles across a number of buildings and caused minor damage to other structures.

In the city of Spartanburg there was a keen electrical display and a heavy fall of rain but the wind did not reach a dangerous velocity.

MEMBERSHIP IS TALKED BY LOCAL ROTES

District and National Convention Received Attention at Last Night Session.

The regular weekly meeting of the Greenville Rotary Club was held last night with numbers of visitors from towns in this section of the state in attendance. The session was presided over by President W. H. Rogers, and singing was led by June Rose, song director.

President Rogers called attention to correspondence from the district governor urging the various organizations of this district to give more attention to membership. It was declared that the future affords ample room for expansion in this way, and that each member should use his influence in making growth steady and healthy.

J. B. Kittrell reported on the district Rotary meeting to be held in the city of Greensboro May 3 and 4. He said it would be one of the outstanding meetings of recent years and would be attended by men prominent in club activities. Formal speakers will be on the program. It was stated and each will have messages of vital concern to the district members. The trip will be made by special Pullman and members of all clubs will be able to enjoy unexcelled accommodations of travel.

Dr. Alfred Schultz told of the nineteenth annual convention of Rotary to be held in the city of Minneapolis, Minn., June 18-22, and explained in a comprehensive way various details of the trip. The trip will be staged under direction of a well known touring company of North Carolina and covers many points of interest in the northern section of the station.

The club donated the sum of $10 to the athletic department of the high school following action by the board of directors. President Rogers explained that two other clubs of the city had agreed to give a similar amount to the high school boys in order to enable them to purchase uniforms and other things necessary to a good ball team. This is the only way the club has of providing these needs, it was stated, and such gifts do much towards arousing interest in continued development of athletics.

Mack Waters, president of the Washington Rotary Club, was one of the visitors of the evening. He made a short talk in which he stressed the need of more visiting among the clubs of the district. He declared the mingling of members would have a tendency of creating a better spirit of fellowship. He also expressed hope that each organization would give more attention to membership and in that way increase their usefulness to the communities which they serve.

Bill Rodman, of the Washington club, also spoke briefly of the advantages to be derived from exchange of visits of club members. He declared Rotarians of Eastern North Carolina should know each other better, and the only way this is to be accomplished is for each club to stage a visiting party from time to time.

Other visitors of the evening were: Joe Raspberry, Farmville; Cecil Keyes, Taylor Amore, Henry Rowland and Mr. McLean, of the Washington Club.

Faces Road Term For Quitting Wife

Statesville, March 27.—(AP)—A 12-month term on the Iredell county roads threatened Donald Abernethy, of Mooresville, today unless he arranged to contribute $50 a month to the support of his young wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Gasque Abernethy, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. A. H. Gasque, of Florence, S. C.

Abernethy was tried in county recorder's court here yesterday for abandonment and found guilty. Judge A. L. Starr gave him 12 months on the county roads with the $50 a month payment alternative. Abernethy appealed, and a re-hearing of the case was set for the May term of Iredell superior court.

Mrs. Abernethy testified that when she went to Mooresville two weeks ago to live with her husband he would not even speak to her.

The couple were married last summer. Abernethy at one time was granted authority by the Methodist Church to preach and spoke several times here, but was never a fully ordained minister. It was said.

TODAY

The Rights of Property. A Dangerous Fever. Mellon's Birthday. The Big World On Cash. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

By order of Federal Judge Hough 258 Ohio families of striking coal miners will be evicted from their miserable shacks, on May first. The weather should be fairly warm, by then.

The judge in the case did his duty, probably could not have ruled otherwise. The houses belong to the mine owners, and if they want to fight women and children, as well as the working men, that is their right.

Some of them, probably, will go to hell later, in case the fundamentalists are right about future plans, but that will not help the miners' families now.

A hundred times, within three years, this column has warned the public against selling stocks short, and against stock gambling. It has been shown that real values are not understood by many, nor do they understand the change in American conditions, since the war.

Billions in cash were poured into circulation. Wages were doubled. Men buy stocks, luxuries, and speculate, with surplus cash.

The great buying power is now the millions of little people, owners of what economists call the "social surplus." That surplus, amounting to at least ten billions a year, ten times one thousand million dollars, the people of all classes TAKE IN, over and above.

FARM RELIEF MAY REACH TO WHITE HOUSE

McNary-Haugen Bill Today Appeared to be Embarked on Another Long Journey

Washington, March 27.—(AP)—Farm relief as embodied in the McNary-Haugen bill today appeared to be embarked on another legislative voyage that promises to lead to the White House for the second consecutive year.

The measure, however, has been renovated since its last journey. After weeks of consideration, its sponsors claim to have eliminated, with the exception of the equalization machinery, practically all of the features that were objected to by President Coolidge in vetoing the bill's predecessor.

Assurance that such a trip again would be possible came late yesterday when the measure survived the last voting skirmish in the house agriculture committee. Approved by a 15 to 6 vote, it now stands in the house, as in the senate, as the farm bill endorsed by the majority of both the agriculture committees of congress.

The bill would authorize an appropriation of $400,000,000 for loans to cooperatives, while the measure as drafted by Chairman McNary of the senate committee, and endorsed by that body, would authorize a loan of only $250,000,000.

Haugen has announced that this difference constitutes the major difference in the two bills as the house measure was changed in several respects to conform with the senate proposal.

Both bills would give the President a free hand in selecting the membership of the proposed board except for the constitutional requirement that nominations must be approved by the senate. Last year the bill would have restricted appointments to persons recommended by farm organizations. Mr. Coolidge objected strenuously to this provision as an encroachment upon his constitutional powers.

PUSH PLANT DECIDES TO LOCATE HERE

Philadelphia Men to Come to Greenville Next Week to Arrange for Buildings.

It was definitely stated today that the branch plant of a Philadelphia manufacturing concern would locate in Greenville.

This information was given out by Mr. [Name] who returned from Philadelphia last night where he conferred with members of the push manufacturing concern regarding their recent proposal to establish a plant here.

Mr. Long paid representatives of the concern would arrive in Greenville next week to arrange for erection of buildings. The plant will be located along Norfolk & Southern railroad near the cotton mill.

The plant will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000. It was stated sometime ago, and will be put in operation as soon as necessary buildings can be erected and machinery installed.

Mr. Long stated sometime ago that the coming to this city of the push concern would necessitate an improvement of the cotton mill plant, and although he failed to make any announcement this afternoon in connection with this phase of development, it is generally presumed the improvement will be completed about the same time of the push manufacturing buildings.

DECLARES WAR ON GAMBLING

Candidate For President of Mexico Also Denounces Whiskey as Enemy of People.

Mexico City, March 27.—(AP)—War upon alcohol, gambling and religion has been declared by General Alvaro Obregon, sole candidate for the presidency.

In a campaign speech at Silao, Guanajuato, yesterday, he denounced and is now "stands astride the White House and directs the policies of the nation," declared United States Senator James A. Reed, who was on the program for a speech at the University of North Carolina today in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

The Missourian opened his campaign in southern territory with two speeches yesterday at High Point where he launched a broadside against Mellon, President Coolidge, and the rest of the republican administration. Speeches both here and at Raleigh were on his program today, and efforts were being made to arrange for an address at Charlotte later.

Repeating himself a political crusader whose "interest is solely an attempt to re-establish honesty and decency at Washington," Senator Reed charged that Mellon knew about the whole Teapot Dome affair and that President Coolidge should have dismissed him from the cabinet.

General Obregon also denounced what he termed "wicked Catholics." He said they were those who used their religion as a means of propagating anti-government activities.

LINDBERGH AT LAST RETIRES FROM PUBLIC

Flying Ace Withdraws Himself From Public to Become a Normal Citizen.

Washington, March 27.—(AP)—Acclaimed as no other individual in the history of the nation, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh officially withdrew himself from public focus today to follow his long cherished pursuit of normal American citizenship.

Wary of the jostling and admiring masses, decoration ceremonies and the constant formal affairs in his honor, the youth who has done more for aviation than any other man since the Wrights and Langley's, calmly considered his future.

Ever since he made his memorable trans-Atlantic non-stop flight ten months ago from New York to Paris, Lindbergh had been feted and honored continuously in world capitals, in the smaller cities of his native country and in the halls of great legislative bodies, until it seemed his tall but frail physique must soon crack under the strain.

But he stood it all, and today, after one of the busiest aerial acts of his sensational career, he appears in perfect health and wants only to be left alone to work out his own plans. He can stand the crowds a little so long as they don't "push me around."

Lindbergh doesn't know what he's going to do just yet. His "Spirit of St. Louis" was tuned up today at Bolling field to take him whenever and wherever his heart desires, but it is said to say he wants no reporters around when he takes off.

The flying colonel wound up his six day propaganda school of aviation at the local army station yesterday by taking aloft more than a hundred members of the Washington diplomatic corps and their friends, the majority of whom represented the pan-American countries which Lindbergh recently toured as a good will ambassador.

Taken up in 23 groups, they brought the flyer's total passengers in six days to approximately 1,100. In all, 110 flights were made, averaging 15 minutes each at a speed of 90 miles an hour and covering about 250 miles over Washington and nearby Virginia.

The hands shaking over for the evening, Lindbergh breathed a sigh of relief and was whisked away to his headquarters here, "a private citizen" once more.

Lieut. Lester J. Maitland of Hawaiian flight fame, perhaps best describes Lindbergh's passing out of the public eye.

"For ten months he has been a popular idol—but fresh and blood can stand it no longer. He is through with crowds, through with women who want to kiss him and men who slap him on the back. He has had enough of all the hurrah and flapping of good-will flights. His hand is tired with the signing of autographs. He is sick of having cameras snapped in his face for closeups every few minutes.

"Col. Lindbergh intends to return to normal life. Most of all, he wants to see his old friends and sit quietly with those who have been his pals."

REED SCORES MR. MELLON

Senator Declares Secretary of Treasury Knew of Teapot Deal From Beginning.

Chapel Hill, N. C., March 27.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, knew of the Teapot Dome oil deal from the start, and yet he now "stands astride the White House and directs the policies of the nation," declared United States Senator James A. Reed, who was on the program for a speech at the University of North Carolina today in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

The Missourian opened his campaign in southern territory with two speeches yesterday at High Point where he launched a broadside against Mellon, President Coolidge, and the rest of the republican administration. Speeches both here and at Raleigh were on his program today, and efforts were being made to arrange for an address at Charlotte later.

Repeating himself a political crusader whose "interest is solely an attempt to re-establish honesty and decency at Washington," Senator Reed charged that Mellon knew about the whole Teapot Dome affair and that President Coolidge should have dismissed him from the cabinet.

General Obregon also denounced what he termed "wicked Catholics." He said they were those who used their religion as a means of propagating anti-government activities.

SMITH ASKS FOR LETTER OF APOLOGY

New York Governor Demands Retraction of Statements Made by Senator Nye.

Albany, N. Y., March 27.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith has written chairman Gerald P. Nye of the Senate Teapot Dome committee that "a letter of apology and not a tirade of abuse" is due him for the Senator's statement concerning campaign contributions to the Governor from Harry F. Sinclair.

The Governor's letter was in reply to one from Senator Nye in which the latter charged him with seeking to undermine public confidence in the committee's investigation.

Senator Nye originally had charged that Sinclair had contributed liberally to the Governor's 1926 campaign and was in turn rewarded with an appointment to the state racing commission. The Governor, in a previous letter, had denied these charges as "demagogic slander" and had accused Nye and Senator Arthur D. Robinson, Republican, Indiana, with being parties to a "Republican council of desperation" to help their party escape in some measure the onus of the oil scandal. This letter brought the reply from Nye.

The Governor's second letter said Senator Nye had made a "false and unjust statement." It added: "You admitted you made it and publicly stated that I had demonstrated its falsity. The next step for you to have taken was a letter of apology and not a tirade of abuse."

The Governor seized upon the occasion to inform the committee chairman that his previous letter was not the first time he had condemned the oil scandals.

"For your information," wrote the Governor, "let me say that I spoke frequently throughout New York State and elsewhere in condemnation of the oil scandals in the campaign of 1924."

"Let me remind you that the chairmanship of a Senate committee exempts no man from the obligation not to make reckless and irresponsible statements. I yield to no man in my admiration for your committee's work and for its distinguished leading counsel, Senator Walsh, or in desire to expose and punish all connected with the corruption unearthed by your Teapot Dome investigation."

Tingle, care Norfolk Southern railroad, New Bern, N. C.

MARSH STILL ON STAND IN COTTON PROBE

Cross-Examination of New York Exchange Member Occupies Senate Committee.

Washington, March 27.—(AP)—The Houston, Texas, cotton dealers, charged with extensive cotton market manipulations had advanced information last September on Department of Agriculture cotton price trend statements, was taken up today when the Senate subcommittee investigating the 1927 market slump resumed its labor.

Mike H. Thomas, Dallas, Texas, cotton man, telegraphed C. D. Freeman, New York broker, that he had "no absolute knowledge" of a telegram last September from a Clayton company representative to A. H. Haywood, in New Orleans. Freeman told the committee last week of a telephone conversation with Thomas, quoting it later as saying that he knew of two men who had knowledge of such a communication.

"Plenty of men on the cotton exchange have heard it freely discussed," Thomas' message said. "That is all I told you and all I know."

The telegram was read into the committee record by counsel for Freeman.

Cross-examination of Arthur R. Marsh, of New York, exchange member, and who had been chief accuser of the Houston firm, again occupied the committee today. D. H. Miller, counsel for William L. Clayton, head of the Texas company conducting the probe, hammered away at Marsh's contention that the New York exchange "was a spot" cotton market because of the amount of actual cotton passing through that port.

Taking up figures for 1927-27, Miller sought to show that the great majority of cotton passing through New York was merely in transit and not "merchandised" in New York.

"It is important to this committee to determine just what part the New York and Chicago exchanges do play in getting cotton merchandised," Senator Smith, South Carolina, committee chairman, interjected.

Miller said that from August 1, 1927, to March 20, 1928, out of a gross New York cotton movement of 467,221 bales, 328,031 were in transit to New England mills or export and did not figure as having been "merchandised." Through the New York exchange activities.

Marsh said this "stagnation" of New York merchandising was due "to the manipulations of which I have been complaining," by the Houston cotton firm.

Two Shot While Making Prayer

Waynesville, March 27.—(AP)—The firing of two loads from a shotgun upon Allen Pie, 56, and Miss Gorda Bradley, his niece, as they rose from prayer at the Pie home at Maggie, Haywood county, led today to a determined search for the unknown assailant.

Forty small shot were found in Mr. Pie's face and neck. His condition was said to be serious. Although it was believed his injury would not prove fatal, Miss Bradley was less seriously wounded.

Officers said that Mr. Pie has used his influence in activity against liquor making in this section. And that his stand might have had something to do with the shooting.

Former Pitt Man Dies in Florence

Freshman League Standing Unchanged Room 21 Wins Again

Yesterday at the ravine ball park, the leaders in the high school freshmen league maintained their position by a victory over Room 22 in a one-sided game. The feature was the battery work of the winners, Lee and Jones, and the fielding of Sawyer, for the losers, who cleaned up around second base in big league style. The score was 12-2. Madrin and Lee batted .750 for the winners.

League standing:
Room	Won	Lost	Pct.
Room 21	2	0	1.000
Room 11	1	1	.500
Room 22	0	2	.000
Room 12	0	0	.000

SISLER, HORNSBY HOPE TO TOP LEAGUE AGAIN

Tampa, Fla.—(AP)—George Sisler and Rogers Hornsby, former batting champions of the American and National League, in brand new uniforms are setting out in 1928 to come back as kings of swat. Neither went very far away last season but they did not bring home the bacon nor wear the laurel wreath of leader.

This season Sisler has transferred his allegiance from St. Louis to Washington and Hornsby has doffed the colors of the Giants to don those of the Braves.

The quest of the two stars finds them with another asset in common. No managerial worries will beset them. Bucky Harris will do the worrying for Washington and Jack Slatery signed to shed any necessary tears for Boston.

"I feel fine, my eyes are good and I do not find my legs going back on me, so I do not see why I should not have a great year," said Sisler.

"I certainly feel like hitting and I see no reason why I should not be right up there," was Hornsby's cheerful report of his spring condition and aspirations.

This action was regarded as morally binding the delegation to Lowden as long as he remains a candidate.

Missouri will have a voting strength of 39 at the Kansas City convention.

Shotgun Bandits Get Six Bags of Mail in Indiana

Terre Haute, Ind., March 27.—(AP)—Two shotgun bandits held up three employees of the main mailing room of the union station late last night and escaped in an automobile with six bags of mail, two of which contained registered matter. One registered mail sack had just arrived from Chicago.

After slugging the three men in the mailing room, the robbers hurriedly bound their victims together. These bonds were soon loosened, however, and an alarm given.

The bandits walked leisurely in on Fred Wilson, mail clerk, who was sorting train mail and engaged him in conversation. Shortly afterwards uncovering sawed off shotguns and ordered Wilson and Frank Ellis, transfer clerk and Norman Sartor, a helper, to the back of the room where all three were covered with the weapons. The robbers then sorted out what sacks of mail they desired and fled.

GIRL HOLDS TWO SWIMMING RECORDS

Chicago, March 27.—(AP)—Sixteen-year old Jane Fauntz, of the Illinois Women's Athletic Club, who many critics were certain would never regain her stroke because of an automobile accident last summer, today held two new world's swimming records.

Leading the I. W. A. C. an easy 46 to 16 triumph over the Canadian champions, the Parkdale Dolphins of Toronto, last night, Miss Fauntz shattered the international records of the 100 yard and 100 metre breast stroke.

The new and old records:
One hundred yard breast stroke new record by Miss Fauntz, 1:20.3. Old record by Agnes Gerathy, New York, 1:20.4.

Senate Members Hear of Fights In Coal Fields

Washington, March 27.—(AP)—The competitive struggle between the southern and central bituminous mining fields for the northeastern and northwestern markets was outlined to the senate coal investigation committee today by Percy Telfow, president of the West Virginia section of the United Mine Workers.

The Union Leader contended that the West Virginia operators had conspired to break the collective bargaining principle even though they were having the advantage in the winning of markets through a favorable freight rate differential and ability to produce good quality coal cheaper by reason of a lower wage scale than prevailed elsewhere.

"I could never understand the reason behind their fight on collective bargaining, in view of these facts," he added.

Telfow said that 95 per cent of the coal mined in southern West Virginia went to markets outside the south. He then launched into a denunciation of the system of police commissioned by the state but paid by the operators.

The LURE of the SEA

North Carolina is at last to have its own beautiful and attractive resort by the sea.

Mr. Duke had planned two years before he died, to purchase Bogue Banks and make it the "Atlantic City of the South." This will be a reality this summer, and we North Carolinians will have the long-hoped-for opportunity to motor over our splendid hard surface roads to the sea, which with all our long length of coast line we have never been able to do before.

The toll bridge over Bogue Sound is now completed and during April the hard surface road from the bridgehead to the Beach will be finished, when motorists by following Route 10 into Morehead City can motor over the bridge and along the Beach from Fort Macon and the State Park to Bogue Inlet, a distance of twenty-five miles, over the finest beach of hard sands on the Atlantic Coast.

The Pagoda Casino, given over entirely to dancing, without charge, will be opened June 1st. This is a beautiful building of Japanese effect with wide piazza overlooking the sea. There is nothing on the east coast from Florida to Maine so fine or picturesque as this Casino—one the State may well be proud of. Also on June 1st there will be ready a thousand bath houses and The Midway for amusements.

Every North Carolinian knows the fame of this beach—

- Balmy southwest ocean breezes.
- No mosquitoes.
- No undertow.
- Protected from the north-east storms.
- Splendid fishing from the beach (drum, bluefish, kingfish, tarpon).
- Outside of Long Island the only east and west beach on the eastern coast.
- A beach of great charm and no disadvantages.
- A place to spend the summer.
- An ideal place to motor to the year round.

According to Chief Jones the negress was arrested for some offense in Norfolk and a check-up of her finger prints there revealed the fact that she was wanted here. This was responsible, he said, for the wire he received from the Norfolk authorities regarding the arrest.

GERMANS SEEK REMEDY FOR TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Berlin, Germany—(AP)—Municipal traffic experts, alarmed at the increasing number of street accidents are seeking some method of eliminating skidding.

A new kind of anti-skid device is being tried out on Berlin streets. It is a roller placed midway behind the back axle and operated by a lever from the driver's seat—by hand on light cars and by compressed air on heavy cars. On slippery ground the lever's release presses the roller down hard on the pavement. It is claimed that a car fitted with this roller cannot skid nor did it on the slippery wet road on which it was tried out.

influence in behalf of a community at they will only try," a member of the Rotary club of Greenville, told the writer today.

"Virtually all clubs of this character are awakening to the possibilities for service open to them at this time and many instances are using their influence in behalf of some great public issue.

"Greenville clubs have been mighty active the last several months. They have launched numbers of movements through which the community derived direct benefit, and the future bids fair to see ever greater things accomplished.

"Our clubs are composed largely of business and professional men and who realize the responsibilities resting upon their shoulders, and are not shirking any task holding forth the opportunity for the development of the great and prosperous locality in which they reside."

The "no left turns" sign at Five Points is obeyed by some motorists, but there are some who make the turn just like they were supposed to do so," a citizen observed today.

"It may be the majority of those who violate this particular traffic law are out of town people, but it is evident that numbers of town people are guilty also.

"Whether this comes from inability to see the large black letters painted on the concrete block or simply a desire to violate the regulation when officers are not in view, we are unable to say, but in either event the practice should cease even should it become necessary to post a cop at Five Points all day long.

"Traffic conditions at this particular point are very congested, especially during Sunday afternoons, and if all traffic regulations affecting this particular locality are not obeyed, some serious accident eventually will be the outcome.

"Something must be done to stop these left turns. If one starts it, others follow, and soon the sign exists merely as a sign and nothing more.

PAPERS CONTRIBUTE MOST

The newspaper is a quasi public carrier, even if the publisher denies that fact. Most of them accept it in practice if not in theory. They give more in space to advance educational, civic and religious interests than any others in their community. But it is seldom recognized or appreciated. Recently there has been a notable statement of the value of newspaper aid in religious meetings. At the conclusion of the Billy Sunday revival in St. Louis, L. L. Adams, chairman of the citizens revival committee said:

"We want the public to give liberal support to the high school ball club during the twelve games assigned to them by the schedule committee of the North Eastern Athletic conference, J. A. Keech, principal of the Greenville high school and president of the conference, told the writer today.

"In fact, it is to be hoped of the seventeen towns of the conference will give the best support possible, and in that way encourage the boys in their effort to put out winning athletic organizations.

"Although a new organization, the Northeastern conference has been able to accomplish much in behalf of the district it serves, and the future holds for the great things for continued development.

"Give the boys the moral support of which they are so deserving and rest assured of having done your part for their physical improvement."

"This is Clean-Up-Week in Greenville," Mayor J. C. Lanier, reminded the writer today, as he expressed hope that the public would co-operate with the city in its effort to make things clean and sanitary for the spring and summer months.

"It is absolutely necessary that people in all sections of the city co-operate with us in this effort to do away with the unsanitary condition of some sections," the mayor said, and we hope everyone will bear in mind that the week has been set aside for this purpose.

"If you have any rubbish in your yards, get busy and clean up and let the carts haul it away this week. There is no better season to do this important work than at present, so let me urge you to co-operate with us in every way possible while the campaign is in progress."

Pres. Coolidge Shows Interest In Smoky Park

Raleigh, March 27.—(AP)—President Calvin Coolidge is "especially interested in the project to establish a national park in the Great Smoky Mountains," he says in a letter to Governor McLean today, disclosing that the President will remain in Washington at least through the first week of June.

The President said that while it would be a pleasure to accept Governor McLean's invitation to attend the rhododendron festival in Asheville during the week of June 4 to 9, inclusive, during which the progress so far achieved on the Great Smoky park project will be celebrated, "it will be quite out of the question for me to think of getting away from Washington at that time."

The President's letter read: "I very much appreciate your cordial invitation to attend the rhododendron festival, to be held in the city of Asheville, June 4-9. It would be a pleasure to go for many reasons, particularly because I am especially interested in the project to establish a national park in the Great Smoky Mountains, which you say is to have a place in the celebration. But it will be quite out of the question for me to think of getting away from Washington at that time."

Death resulted from a heart attack. He was 70 years old.

ABOUT TOWN

"With good speakers on the program to tell about the development of the North Carolina farm," the next meeting of the supper club of the Pitt County Department of Agriculture promises to be one of the most important of these occasions yet staged, members of the department mentioned to the writer of this column this morning.

"Probably one of the most important discussions of the session will be that relating to the house and home. This address will differentiate the qualities that go to distinguish the modern home of today from the bare, cheerless walls of a house.

"Numbers of our prominent farm women will be on hand to hear this talk, and that great good will result, we have not the slightest idea.

"Civic clubs can wield a mighty

Mrs. Coolidge Finds Mother Some Better

Northampton, Mass., March 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge, wife of the President, spent half an hour at the bedside of her aged mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, early today, after a hasty trip from Washington.

She had been summoned in the belief that Mrs. Goodhue's long illness had reached a critical stage and she might not live for more than a few hours, but when Mrs. Coolidge arrived it was to hear the cheering news that her mother had rallied.

It was Mrs. Coolidge's third visit here within as many months. She was accompanied by Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, Mrs. R. B. Hills, a girlhood friend, John Coolidge, her son, and Jack Hill, an Amherst College friend of John's.

Lieut. Commander Boone went at once to the Dickinson hospital, where Mrs. Goodhue has been since last December, while the President was in the White House.

How the White House physician found the 78 year old sufferer, he declined to say, referring all inquiries to Dr. Justin E. Hayes, Mrs. Goodhue's personal medical adviser. Mrs. Coolidge repaired to the hospital after Boone's return, but she found her mother had fallen asleep. After half an hour's wait, the mother awoke and her daughter was admitted. The two chatted for 30 minutes and then Mrs. Coolidge left.

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Goodhue seemed to have enjoyed the visit. Dr. Hayes described his patient's condition as unchanged.

Mrs. Goodhue was stricken with influenza last December. She has survived several sinking spells but succeeding crises have left her incapable of sustained rallies.

Columbus, Ga.—"I don't see why women will drag around in a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help them on their troubles, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of this city.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work, and just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred.

"My mother had long been a user of Cardui, and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble. So she told me to get some and take it.

"I sent for the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health. I took the second bottle, and felt much better. I followed this by two more bottles.

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all."

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, March 27.—(AP)—An overall advance of 1 to 6 points was checked by realising in the cotton market today and prices receded off later on prospects for fair weather following yesterday's showers. In the reaction, active months were selling about 2 to 12 points net lower.

The mid-afternoon market shows a falling of several points from the lowest on covering and a little trade buying, accompanied by reports of a steady cotton situation and complaints that high winds were stripping out the seed in the South.

Future closed steady 2 points higher to 8 lower, spot quiet, including 2000.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, March 27.—(AP)—Influenced by prospects that April unofficial crop estimates next week will show a relatively low condition, wheat prices rallied today in the late dealings. A decrease of 2-4¢, 42,000 bushels in the world's available supply of wheat was announced.

Wheat closed irregular 3-8 net lower to 1-2 advance; corn 14 to 1-2 off; oats a shade to 1-2 down and provisions varying from 2 c to a rise of 12.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 27.—(AP)—A wide open break in stock prices, followed by a partial recovery, today brought to a dramatic climax a spectacular "bull" movement of nearly four weeks' duration. Extreme declines ran from 5 to nearly 20 points, but half of these losses were made up in the early afternoon recovery. So great was the volume of trading that the ticker fell nearly 35 minutes behind the actual market before mid-session, with indications by the end of the third hour that the day's sales would exceed the record of 4,176,000 shares established yesterday.

There was nothing in the day's sales to explain the sudden decline, which was generally characterized as a "final" sequel to the unbridled speculation of the last few weeks. Stiffening money rates, threatening the continuance of an abundant supply of funds for securities speculation, may have been a contributing factor. Conservative bankers had frowned on the recent antics of what they need to live. They are investing each year, ten new billions that they did not have before the war. Every five years, that equals the fifty billions that the war cost us. Every year it equals the amount we lent to Europe.

Some of the billions go into victrols, new, better houses, radio, talking machines, electrical washers and sweeper, better living conditions of a hundred kinds.

And some of it, very wisely is invested in good American securities on a sound INVESTMENT BASIS, not on a speculative basis.

But, HERE IS THE DANGER, constantly growing more acute. Millions have not the stock gambling fever. And many that are buying "paper profits" will be bankrupt when the dust settles.

Secretary Mellon, in honor of his birthday, took two working hours off, stepping at four, instead of six p. m., according to the New York Times.

Of Mr. Mellon, past seventy, some admirers say: "What a pity he is too old for the presidency."

Why too old? If he is young enough to run the financial affairs of this nation, he is not too old to be President. Are sound judgment, and long experience of no consequence? Is there no difference in men's staying and thinking powers?

This writer has seen Gladstone, nearly eighty, making his fight for home rule in the House of Commons at three o'clock in the morning, full of fire and energy. Nobody suggested that he was too old to lead his party.

Are we inferior in stamina to the British? Must we admit that American men fade away in their prime, like savage women, prematurely married, old at thirty?

A young gentleman bought for $340,000 a stock exchange seat that his father once bought for $5,000. In both cases, a bargain. If you have brains a stock exchange seat is a gold mine. Some brokers lack brains, and don't know enough to let the fool gamble, while they collect commissions.

Partners in big brokerage houses must solemnly promise not to gamble. That ought to warn the Great and powerful are the great concerns that deal in money. Twenty-six New York trust companies made $11,582,000 last year. More powerful is the industrial concern that produces goods. In three months, General Motors earned a net profit of $70,000,000, or at the rate of $230,000,000 per year.
