

NEW PITCHER HURLS LOCALS TO VICTORY

Harold Dudley, a recent acquisition of the Greenville Baseball Club, pitched the locals to victory over Kinston yesterday afternoon.

The irony of it was that Dudley was released by the Kinston Club three or four days ago and came to Greenville where Manager Joliff gave him a chance to make good. He did it.

Another Dudley with the same initials did the hurling for Kinston, but somehow he was not able to stem the victorious march of the Tobaccoists, who the day before had been sent down to ignominious defeat, and subsequently the cellar.

It was a memorable game for Greenville fans who were stouthearted enough to follow the club to Kinston. It was still more memorable to the numbers congregated around the score board at home.

The performance of Dudley on the mound for the Tobaccoists has been a source of comment both in Greenville and Kinston. Kinston does not understand how it was done, neither does Greenville, but the fact that the cast-off of the neighboring town made good and did it in the face of those who had helped ostracize him from the Kinston diamond, has boosted his stock a hundred per cent in both towns.

The box score of yesterday's game follows:
Greenville: AB R H PO A E
Culloty, ss 5 2 2 3 2 0
Benedick, 1b 5 1 2 6 0 0
Daniels, lf 4 0 0 5 1 0

HIGHLANDERS LOST FIRST

Fielding in faultless form behind the almost perfect pitching of Haley, young recruit, the Rocky Mount Club yesterday succeeded in administering the first defeat the Fayetteville Highlanders have received this season, the final score being 4 to 1.

Haley held the hard hitting Highlanders easily in check all the way, giving up only four safe blows and these at widely scattered intervals. His pitching was one of the best exhibitions any hurler has turned in for an Eastern Carolina Club thus far.

Teague's Goldsboro Gold Bugs ran away with the Wilmington Pirates chalking up their second successive victory on the home lot by a score of 11 to 3.

BOSTON BEATS PIRATE CREW

The east has won the first inter-sectional struggle of the current National League pennant chase.

Getting the jump on the rest of the field in the first invasion of the west the Boston Braves scuttled the Pittsburgh Pirates in the Corralis own water yesterday, 5 to 4 in 11 innings.

Had Ed Brant, rookie left hander from Seattle, been given the support his pitching deserved the Braves would not have had to go extra innings to win. Errors by Doc Farrer in the second and seventh innings gave the Pirates two unearned runs and gave Boston a lead of one run in the ninth inning.

A single by Brown, sacrifice by Bell and a one base hit by Farrell gave the Braves the winning run in the eleventh.

Good pitching by Flint Rhem enabled the Cardinals to end their four game losing streak at the expense of the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 5, at St. Louis.

The world's champion New York Yankees went to West Point and beat the Army 29 to 9. Babe Ruth played first base for the Yankees.

Spartanburg Is Going Strong

A smashing Spartanburg baseball machine is making rapid strides in the South Atlantic Association through the medium of good hitting and plenty of it.

The Spartans launched their most formidable offense yesterday batting four Augusta hurlers for 17 hits and 10 runs, the largest score registered in the league this season.

Greenville displaced Macon for second place in the league standing by defeating Charlotte 2 to 1 while the Peaches were losing to Knoxville 12 to 6.

Paavo Nurmi Agains Looms As Dominant Figure in Mile Run

PAAVO NURMI DEFENDING CHAMPION IN THE OLYMPIC "1500"

New York (AP)—If there was one branch of track sports outside of sprinting in which America has most eagerly sought supremacy it is in mile running.

Yet it has been twenty years now since the United States has won the 1500 meter race, Olympic equivalent of the mile. This championship has shifted to Finland after a journey in England.

The greatest ban dof miles America ever mustered was shipped to the 1912 Olympic, but they were outrun and outgeneraled by the young English collegian Arnold N. S. Jackson. There was no fluke to Jackson's victory, for he shattered the Olympic record by nearly seven seconds, but before the race he had been conceded little more than an outside chance against such American aces as Abel Kiviat, Norman Taber, John Paul Jones, Mel Shepard and others.

Paavo Nurmi Agains Looms As Dominant Figure in Mile Run

by Stallard of England, and Peltzer of Germany. The American has raced all of these men, however, and beaten two of them in this category, Wide and Peltzer.

Hahn will play virtually a lone hand in the 1500 as well as the 200-meter races. Ray has turned marathoner, and there is no other miler in sight of the Nebraskan's class unless Nick Carter, Ray Conger or Joe Sivak show some startling improvement.

Four years ago Nurmi won the 1500 on the same afternoon he captured the 5000-meter race, shattering the Olympic records in each. It was a romp for the great Finn after he had shaken off the American, Ray Watson. For two-thirds of the distance, Watson stuck to Paavo like a shadow, as he had been instructed to do.

GUNN SHOOTS GOOD AMONG THE COLFERS

By BRIAN BELL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Watts Gunn, intercollegiate champion, once runner-up in the national amateur championship and twice named a member of the Walker Cup team, does not remember when he started playing golf.

The little Georgian is in the position of the veteran major league pitcher who complained that his son was giving him much anxious thought by shooting dice.

"How old is your son?" the ball player was asked. "Eighteen," was the reply. "How long have you been married?" was the next question. "All my life," he said.

Watts was asked how long he had been playing golf. "All my life," was the answer. Gunn is only 22 years of age, a senior at Georgia Tech and has not decided what profession or business he will enter when he is graduated from college.

"I hope it will be something that will give me a few afternoons off for golf," he said, as he talked of his hopes and fears for the campaign of 1928.

FIVE HOMERS IN PIEDMONT

George Whiteman took no chances on Salisbury being able to retain lead in the Piedmont league yesterday and in the first inning, with two men on base, he hit for the circuit, giving the Colonials a long enough lead to defeat Greensboro by a score of 9 to 6.

Winston-Salem had a one run lead over the Raleigh Caps when the ninth inning opened but after Duell and Branch had got on base, Tom Mulheavy tripled, scoring the two ahead of him and the Caps won from the Twins in a heart-breaking finish by a score of 3 to 2.

A fractious affair between High Point and Durham, battling for the cellar position in the Piedmont, was won by the Pointers by a score of 14 to 3. Zimmerman for High Point was hit freely but was effective in the pinches.

ABOUT TOWN

LOOKS GOOD
Announcement has been made that within the next few days, Major W. A. Snow, War Department engineer, will come to this city to receive reports of the local committee that has been compiling data on the potential tonnage available for river transportation here should the government make Tar River navigable. Reports from the committee will reveal that the recent survey indicates several hundred thousand tons annually which is, as we see it, certainly sufficient to assure us of water transportation. If the committee is in position to back up its claims with real facts and figures, we have no fear that Major Snow's recommendation will be favorable. Water transportation has long been needed here and we hope that there will be no slip in the arrangements for getting it this time.

The turning over of the public library to the city means that the city has accepted an obligation that means much to our future and is one that should have careful attention and the hearty co-operation of every one. That the public library has and is meaning much to Greenville goes without saying, and it is to be hoped that under the new arrangement its scope of usefulness will be ever widened.

NO LYNCHINGS
The report that there have been no lynchings in the United States during the first four months of 1928 is indeed gratifying and is the kind of report that should be made for every four months, every year and every decade yet to come. There is no need and no place for lynchings and mob violence in the make-up of our nation and the sooner we realize it the better off we will be. Quick and sure punishment for participants in mob activities is one sure way to curb such occurrences.

Senator Borah spoke last week in Chicago in furtherance of his crusade to secure a prohibition plank in the Republican national platform. Both parties should speak out bravely for the Constitution, but the outlook is for a more or less straddle. — News and Observer.

"Mr. Sunday is going to speak on the subject of 'Americanism!' He will include a special message for 'Bootleggers, Corkscrews, and Crooks,' declaring that the Junior Order stands for all things against such an element."
"This service promises to be the most inspirational of the campaign and there is every reason to believe the warehouse used as a tabernacle will be packed to the walls."
"Drunk drivers are one of the greatest menaces on the public highways," a reader emphatically declared this morning.
"This fact was brought home to Pitt county people yesterday in the death of one of the most beloved women of Bethel, a victim of a car said to have been driven by a negro under the influence of whiskey."
"Something must be done to remedy this jeopardizing of human life by the careless and indifferent and the courts should take the most drastic action possible when defendants are convicted."
"Drunkards cannot be permitted to imperil the lives of other because they place so little value on their own existence."
"Now that planting season is here Pitt county farmers should give proper attention to the kind of cotton planted this year," a prominent grower mentioned to the writer today.
"Everyone should remember the manufacturers are stocked with short staple cotton. They wait long staple and are willing to pay prices in proportion to the cost of production if it is furnished them."
"Heretofore, growers everywhere have been complaining of the price situation. But it is nobody's fault but theirs. Let them produce what the manufacturers want and prices will be everything expected."

"Billy Sunday came down here with the purpose of conducting one of the greatest revivals ever held in the part of the country, and the way he has started out causes us to believe his ambitions will be realized," one of the evangelist's admirers said today.
"Mr. Sunday is one of the most determined foes of the devil this section has ever entertained and when he leaves it is reasonable to presume the moral community will be considerably purified. This purification, however, is going to be rather difficult, but when Mr. Sunday gets warmed up to this work things are going to happen faster than it is possible for this pen to narrate at this time."
"Here's luck to his venture."

"Greenville doesn't like the idea of remaining in the cellar of the Eastern Carolina league," a sports lover told us today.
"The temperature of the cellar isn't good for the health of our players, and it is a safe bet they are not going to stay in such atmosphere any longer than they can help."
"The jinx is doing everything possible to keep us at the bottom of the circuit, but we are going to throw him off the scent and start climbing toward the top of the win column."
"Watch the boys start out next week and then prime up your vocal apparatus and get it ready to do the most violent exercising in years."

"If you aren't sold on the possibilities of Greenville, go to one of our old citizens and let him get you sold immediately," confided a reader this afternoon.
"This old town needs boosters—the kind of men and women always talking about the thousands of advantages which the future holds in store for them."
"We have something to talk about—wonderful climate, schools, banks stores—and start yourself talking and you'll want to talk all the time."
"Look around and see what a wonderful locality you live in and then tell other about it."

State Guardsmen to Train at Army Camps This Year

Raleigh, May 4.—(AP)—North Carolina national guard units will train this summer at regular army camps instead of at Camp Glenn, this state, it was made known today by Co. Gordon Smith of the office of Adjutant General J. Van B. Metts.

The change in plans is an experiment, Col. Smith said, and arrangements are under consideration for such a change to be made every four or five years.

Camp Jackson, near Columbia, S. C., will be the training site for the 30th Division staff; 60th Infantry Brigade, 105 Engineers, 166th Medical Detachment, 30th Signal Corps, 117 Motor Transport and the state staff from July 8 to July 22.

Thirty-five hundred national guardsmen and officers will attend the Camp Jackson encampment, while others from South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee will bring the number to about 8,000, Col. Smith said.

Camp Oglethorpe, Ga., will be the scene of the 55th cavalry brigade and second squadron of the 10th cavalry, on July 17-31.

The 252 C. A. corps will go to Fort Moultrie on July 17-31.

The 13th F. A. will train at Fort Bragg on August 12-26.

More Guards To Help U. S. Cut Fire Losses In National Forests

The federal forest service, preparing for another season of protecting national timber against fire, plans an enlarged force of guards in the mountainous country of western national forests is sometimes required several days for rangers to reach a fire. The forces above are moving supplies to the "front". Below is a typical burned area in Colorado national forest.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Two hundred seventy-five additional guards and lookout watchmen will be hired to fight fires in the national forest as the result of a projected increase in the forestry service fund.

Necessity for the increase, costing $276,000 was pointed out in congressional committee hearings by Col. William B. Greeley, chief forester.

Last year he said there were but 2,710 guards for a total area of 158,000,000 acres, of which 91,780,000 acres carry a high fire hazard. Each man was responsible for an average of 34,000 acres. During the season there were 5,594 fires of all sizes.

"With the increase," Colonel Greeley said, "we propose to employ $218,000 for additional fire personnel and also for more adequate training and preparation of the protective organizations for fire duties. The 275 additional men will bring the average area for each forest guard down from 34,000 acres to a little less than 31,000 acres. Out of this increase $28,528 will be employed in providing additional fire-fighting equipment.

"We need to build up very materially our equipment for fire suppression purposes. We are putting into that from $20,000 to $25,000 a year now which we are able to save in various ways but, we need at least $200,000 worth of such equipment as quickly as we are able to obtain it."

The average monetary loss from forest fires for the nine year period from 1919 to 1927, Colonel Greeley said amounted to $1,506,000 a year.

In 1927, he said, the government spent $1,656,000 in all the lines of work classed as fire prevention and in addition spent a little more than $3,000,000 for fire suppression or fire fighting.

Statistics were presented to show that in 1927 it was possible to put out 83.5 percent of the forest fires before they had reached ten acres in size, compared with 79 percent the year before.

The forest chief said distinct advantage was gained by using enough men at strategic points to report each blaze at the time it broke out. Frequently, when he is able to reach it in time, a single ranger, with perhaps one companion can control and extinguish a fire by the timely use of his axe and shovel.

The most serious fires are those which occur in the mountainous regions, hard of access, where it sometimes takes two or three days to get a fire crew to the scene. By the time such fires are controlled huge acreages of stalwart timber lie in a blackened mass of smoldering tree trunks and limbs, incapable of replacement for years.

Dempsey and Wife Will Appear In Big Production

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey and his wife, Estelle Taylor, are to tread the boards of Broadway under the tutelage of David Belasco next fall.

The former heavyweight champion and his movie actress wife have signed with Sam H. Harris to appear in "The Big Fight" at a Broadway Theater. Mr. Belasco will direct the show in rehearsals. It is scheduled to open in September.

Mr. Harris said the contract called for the highest salaries ever paid in any theatrical production.

Candidate For Governor Stormy

Lincoln, Neb., May 4.—(AP)—Nebraska Republicans nearly lost their nominee for governor, Arthur J. Weaver, in a stormy session of their state convention yesterday.

Weaver virtually threatened to withdraw from the campaign unless the convention retract its action in opposing any definite revision of the civil administrative code, which Weaver has strongly urged.

Confronted with the possibility of losing its nominee, the convention about-faced, and went on record as supporting Weaver's stand for code revision.

The convention gave indirect approval with the suggestion that thorough trial of cooperative marketing be made before the McNary-Haugen principles are adopted.

ANNOUNCE ECCLESIASTICAL COURT AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, May 4.—(AP)—The ecclesiastical court of seventeen ministers, to be presided over by Francis J. McConnell of Pittsburgh, Pa., which will try Bishop Anton Bact of Copenhagen, Denmark, on charges of conduct unbecoming a minister, was announced today by R. J. Wade, secretary of the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

BLACK CAT CAUSES WOMAN SOME DELAY

Decatur, Ga., May 4.—(AP)—Mrs. W. D. Lamar of Macon and a party of women from that city have satisfactorily explained why they were an hour late for the business session of the George Federation of Women's Clubs. A black cat caused the delay they said.

The party, en route here by automobile was making good time until about 30 miles from Decatur when their engine developed trouble. Four mechanics removed the grease pan and part of the engine to get at the trouble. Crouching under the grease pan and badly singed by the heat of the engine they found a black cat.

Mrs. Lamar believed the cat crawled into the pan when she stopped for water and oil.

The most serious fires are those which occur in the mountainous regions, hard of access, where it sometimes takes two or three days to get a fire crew to the scene. By the time such fires are controlled huge acreages of stalwart timber lie in a blackened mass of smoldering tree trunks and limbs, incapable of replacement for years.

COTTON MARKET.
New York, May 4.—(AP)—Further realizing or liquidation developed in the cotton market today and early advances on relatively firm Liverpool cables were followed by declines. After showing early net gains of 19 to 20 points, active months sold 13 to 16 points net lower, but the decline brought in a little more buying and mid-afternoon prices showed rallies of 6 or 8 points from the lowest.

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—Wheat fluctuated rapidly today within a range of about 4 1-2c with traders much divided in opinion as to the extent of crop benefits by rain. Export demand today was fairly good, but North American exports for the week showed a rather sharp falling off. The forecast was for frost tonight in Kansas and Nebraska.
Wheat closed irregular, 3-4 net lower to 7-8c higher; corn 1-4c to 1c up, oats showing 1-8c to 7-8c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 3c.

STOCK MARKET.
New York, May 4.—(AP)—Speculation for the advance was resumed on a broad scale in today's stock market, retention of the four per cent rediscount rate by the New York federal reserve bank, setting at rest, at least temporarily, fears of a credit stringency overshadowed the huge increase in brokers' loans, and started a series of bullish demonstrations through the list. Extreme gains ranged from 2 to nearly 12 points in the active issues, with high grade investment shares assuming a prominent part in the advance.
Trading, which had slowed up earlier in the week because of the uncertainty regarding the credit situation, again assumed gigantic proportions. Nearly 2,500,000 shares changed hands in the first three hours of trading, with the ticker falling 32 minutes behind the market by early afternoon.
Special strength of the motor issues was based on the publication of excellent first quarter earnings and production figures by the leading producers. General motors, which is expected to declare an extra cash dividend of $2 or more at the May 10 meeting of directors, ran up 6 1-2 points to a new high record at 203 and held within a couple of points of that figure in the face of unusually heavy profit-taking. Chrysler crossed 75 to a new peak and Studebaker, Hupp and others changed hands in large blocks at advancing prices.
Heavy accumulation of such seasoned dividend paying issues as American Telephone, International Telephone, American Bank note, Eastman Kodak, International Harvester, DuPont and American Tobacco issues, all of which advanced 4 to 8 points, was construed as an indication of a strong reinvestment demand. Curtiss Aeroplane soared more than 10 points to a new peak at 106 1-2 and Wright Aeroplane jumped 7 points to 155, also a new peak.
New York Traction were among the few weak spots, yielding 1 to 3 points on realizing following the recent brisk advance in anticipation of the granting of a 7 cent.
The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 4,100,000 shares.

SHOOTS FRIEND OVER DOMESTIC AFFAIRS
Kansas City, May 4.—(AP)—A wealthy young real estate broker, who said he believed his home had been broken up by a middle-aged business associate, was held with-out bail here today while his erst-while friend lay near death from three bullet wounds.
Hurry through the crowded Union station yesterday, Harry J. Wheeler made his way to the private office of C. A. Miller, district Pullman Company superintendent, and without warning, fired three times at him. All the bullets struck Miller, one entering the abdomen.
Employees in other offices, attracted by the shooting, pointed Wheeler out to the police and he submitted to arrest with the remark he was on his way to the police station, anyway.
"He broke up my home," Wheeler told chief of detectives L. A. Toyne. "I tried to kill him. He caused me plenty of worry and I'm glad I did it."

Columbus, Ohio, May 4.—(AP)—National guardsmen today were on guard at the Florence mine in Belmont county while Byron Schaefer and a force of deputies were on the alert at Caldwell and Belle Valley mines, following two threatening demonstrations by union miner sympathizers.

MORROW FIGHTS OFF ATTACK OF GRIPPE

Mexico City, May 4.—(AP)—Detective stories eased the mind of Dwight W. Morrow from his cares as American ambassador today as he fought off an attack of grippe.

Illness came upon him suddenly, although he had confessed that he was tired from overwork. His physician said little fever accompanied the attack but that there was nothing in the ambassador's condition to justify alarm.

Mr. Morrow protested when ordered to spend the day in bed that he had no time to spare from work. The physician was not impressed by this plea.

"All right then," said Mr. Morrow, "I will enjoy myself as I always do when I have to stay in bed." He turned to the secretaries of the embassy and requested: "Please bring me some detective stories."

ENGINEERS FIND NEW FOOD SOURCE IN ARID LAND OF CLIFF DWELLERS

Modern improvements in the irrigation system of the ancient cliff dwellers, in the San Juan river basin of the southwest, would open to agriculture 600,000 additional acres. The cliff dwellers, who dwell in habitations like those above, sought to control the scant water supply 1,500 years ago with such crude "beck" dams as the one at the right below. Irrigation today could make much of the land like the section in the San Juan valley near Farmington, N. M., shown at the lower left.

By FRANK I. WELLER
(AP Farm Editor)

Washington, (AP)—Back in the San Juan river basin, amid the ruins of an ancient age and race, hydraulic engineers purpose to do by modern science what a prehistoric people sought to fashion in their crude and untried way.

Today, as in the centuries long-buried with their dead, the chief problem is water conservation.

The region has a scant supply of rainfall, stretching eastward from the Colorado river through Arizona, Utah and New Mexico. There, archeologists say, among the desert plains and steep-walled valleys, the basket weavers lived 2,000 years before the Christian era. Later came the cliff dwellers, to leave battered ruins of a civilization unfathomed despite the relics of its art.

To the cliff dwellers, whose faded wealth Spanish explorers tried to find in 1541, is given credit for the staunch construction of numerous check dams still functioning as planned by primitive engineers.

Whatever the prosperity of the past or the importance of the region as the seat of a forgotten habitation, its present utilization for mining or agricultural purposes is not extensive, owing partly to its remoteness from the main trans-continental routes. It is replete with natural wonders, and the magnitude of its ruins indicates that as one of the oldest settled regions in the United States it had a picturesque part in human affairs.

Fifteen hundred years after construction of the singular "irrigation system," the federal geological survey has made an investigation of

GIVEN ROAD SENTENCE FOR DYNAMITING FISH

Asheville, May 4.—(AP)—Convicted of dynamiting fish in the French Broad River, Walter Brackett, 18 year old Asheville youth, was sentenced to serve four months on the county roads in police court here today. The case against the young man was prosecuted by the State Department of Conservation and Development. According to Western North Carolina members of the department, every effort will be made to stamp out dynamiting, a practice which, it is claimed, destroys all river life for a period of many months.
