FAILS TO DIG
UP ANYTHINGInvestigation of Smith
Campaign Funds in North Carolina not Productive.

Raleigh, May 22.—(AP)—The Senate committee's probe yesterday into North Carolina expenditures in behalf of the presidential candidacy of Al Smith brought little to light except that the New York Governor has friends in all sections of the state engaged in working for him.

The sub-committee, composed of Senators Stetson, Republican, Oregon, and Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico, learned that only $3,500 had been expended in the state for Smith. Of that $2,500 was contributed by George Gordon Battle, New York lawyer and a native Tar Heel. The rest was contributed locally.

But from the mountains in the west to the eastern seacoast came Smith supporters who testified that the New York Governor had a strong hold in North Carolina.

Charles A. Webb, publisher of the Asheville Citizen, declared that there "was no reason for spending money in our part of the state for Governor Smith because the people up there are for him."

From New Bern at the seacoast came Larry I. Moore, and Jess Davis to testify that little money had been spent and that on "a purely volunteer basis" the Smith campaign had been carried on. They added that heavy expenditures were not necessary as the people were "for" Governor Smith.

Robert E. Edwards, former sheriff of Wayne county, testified that he had received most of the money raised in the state for Governor Smith. He got $1,500 from George Gordon Battle and $450 that was raised locally, he said. Edwards characterized himself as the "original" Smith man in North Carolina.

He said he met Governor Smith 15 years ago when they were both sheriffs and he went to New York for a prisoner and that he had been for him ever since.

The committee learned that $445 had been raised to further the campaign of Cordell Hull of Tennessee and that Judge Hull had contributed $500 of that himself. Zeb V. Burlington, of Mooreville, N. C., state manager for Congressman Hull, said he still had $655 of the original amount left. He added that while "they would probably need more" he did not know that it would be used.

Senator Simmons was listed among the contributors to the Hull fund with $10 in cash. Walter Murphy, Salisbury, manager for Senator James A. Reed, did not testify. His hearing had already been held in Washington. He testified there that his expenses had been negligible with items for renting halls for two speeches by Senator Reed covering most of the expense. Mr. Murphy said then that he paid it all out of his own pocket.

The hearing yesterday was enlivened by the counter attack of the Smith supporters on the investigating committee. They demanded to know who had handed their names to the committee and charged variously that it had been Senator Heflin of Alabama, and Frank Hampton, secretary to Senator Simmons. The committee replied that the names had been given by a man "not a resident of North Carolina," but declined to divulge the source of their information.

John B. Dawson, of Kinston, named in dispatches out of Washington as "the recognized leader of the Smith campaign" denied his leadership in his testimony. He added, however, that he "considered it a compliment."

The much talked of split between Senator Simmons, long the head of the Democratic party in the state, and other leaders came to the surface. But while Dawson, Moore, Davis, Edwards and others avowed their support of Governor Smith, they said that they agreed with Senator Simmons on local matters and that there was no split except as to the Smith candidacy.

Court Denies Claim Of
Duke's Poor Relations

Somerville, N. J., May 22.—(AP)—The long fight waged by 103 reputed "poor relations" of the late James B. Duke, tobacco magnate, for a share in $2,000,000 of his estate, has ended in failure.

Judge John A. Frech, who heard the case in Orphans court here, denied their claims and also refused the right of their lawyers to charge counsel fees against the Duke estate, the usual practice in will cases. Led by Miss Elizabeth Duke, telephone operator of Wichita Falls, Tex., the claimants had sought in the court action lasting over a year to prove they were lineal descendants of the aunts and uncles of Mr. Duke. His will had provided for the division of the $2,000,000 among such relatives. The executors of the estate allowed 167 claimants but refused those of the persons Miss Duke represented.

From time to time during the past year Miss Duke had led little groups of backwoods Texas folk into the New Jersey courtroom. Much out of their element in the rigorous climate of the north, several of the witnesses were taken ill during winter but rose from their sick beds to testify.

The Texas claimants had contended that the Rev. Thomas B. Duke, to whom they were related, was a brother of Washington Duke, father of the tobacco king. To support this contention they produced documents of the Hopewell Primitive Baptist Church in Carroll county, Georgia, among which was a paper purporting to be an application of Thomas Duke for ministerial ordination and which represented his parents as being the same as those of Washington Duke.

August Hartorn, of Hoboken, N. J., testifying as a handwriting expert for the execution of the estate, said entries in the church documents referring to the alleged relationship of the Dukes had been made within the last three years with a steel pen. The other notations, he said, had been made with a quill pen.

Other documents introduced by the claimants had already been declared forgeries and Miss Duke had admitted on the stand that she had made interpolations in some of the records.

Miss Duke and her sister, Mrs. Hattie Gaffield, were the only ones of the 103 claimants in court when Judge Frech handed down his decision. They said they had not decided whether to appeal the ruling.

Other documents introduced by the claimants had already been declared forgeries and Miss Duke had admitted on the stand that she had made interpolations in some of the records.

Members of Rotary clubs of Eastern Carolina will be guests at the Billy Sunday tabernacle Thursday night.

This resulted from action taken at the regular weekly meeting of the local Rotary club last night when it was decided to invite all Rotarians of the section to join Greenville in attending the services of the distinguished evangelist on the date above.

President Bill Rogers stated today that he believed virtually every club of the district would be well represented. Members have been asked to assemble in front of the warehouse-tabernacle at 7:15. They will enter the building in a body where special seats will be provided for them.

Numbers of visitors attended last night's session which was featured by one of the most interesting programs in several weeks.

The principal talk of the evening was made by George Mathias, member of the Clinton Rotary Club. His talk dealt mainly with fellowship and friendship, and carried an earnest appeal for greater achievement.

He stressed the necessity of rendering "service above self," declaring that it is a means of gaining personal satisfaction that nothing else in the world affords.

A musical entertainment was put on by two negro entertainers, who aside from presenting numbers of vocal and instrumental numbers, scored in a Charleston dance of exceptional merit. Dr. A. M. Schultz had charge of this part of the program.

Visitors were: George Mathias, Clinton, Tom Maxwell and George Diamond, Washington, J. R. Turnage, L. E. Turnage, Thelbert Worthington and Colin Stokes of Ayden.

A monument to Benedict XV, predecessor to the present Pope, will be dedicated in June at St. Peter's basilica, Rome.

MAIL FLYER IS KILLED IN PLANE CRASHPilot on Richmond-Atlanta Route Loses
Life When Ship
Crashes in Fog.

Richmond, Va., May 22.—(AP)—A northbound mail plane on the route connecting the east with the south crashed from a low altitude out of a fog-laden sky here early and killed its pilot, J. E. Morrissey, 35, of Aurora, Illinois.

The plane, bound from Richmond for Washington and Philadelphia, left the Byrd airport here at 1:30 A. M. and shortly afterwards was a mass of wreckage just off the Seven Pines golf course near Sandston, a community near the airport.

H. A. Elliott, local manager for Pitcairn Aviation, Inc. contracts for the mail route, said Morrissey apparently became lost in the fog while seeking to land on the golf course. In the pilot's hand was clamped a flashlight.

Several residents of Sandston, awakened by the roar of the motor of the Mailing plane close above their roofs, rushed outdoors and saw the plane's lights spiral dizzily toward the earth.

The plane plunged heavily into the earth and was demolished. Sandston residents tore away at the wreckage to release Morrissey's mangled body, pinned tightly underneath.

Belief of airport officials that Morrissey was seeking a landing was strengthened by statements of Sandston citizens who said the plane twice circled the town before crashing.

Elliott said Morrissey expressed the intention of flying above the heavy fog, which course would have required a climb of approximately 1500 feet. "He apparently became lost in the fog," Elliott said.

The crash brought the first fatality on the New York-Atlanta New Orleans air mail route. Opened May 1.

Morrissey was married and the father of three children.

Owing to unfavorable flying conditions, the mail of the wrecked plane was sent to Washington by train.

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—The heavy fog believed responsible for the crash of pilot Morrissey's plane early today near Richmond caused another near accident on the New York - Atlanta air mail route at 12:40 this morning.

Pilot Verne E. Treat, flying the mail from New York to Richmond, where he was due at 12:47 A. M., was forced down at Skesville, Md., when he ran out of gas after finding himself unable to land at Washington because of the fog and thick clouds.

Turning around toward Baltimore Treat told the Associated Press over the telephone from Bolling field, he found a "couple of holes" in the fog bank and attempted to make Logan field, but ran out of gas and was forced to land.

Treat described flying weather of the last few days as "terrible," he expressed regret that Morrissey's mail companion had been killed.

After landing, Treat said he got the mail on a train for Washington where it arrived about an hour late.

Richmond, Va., May 22.—(AP)—The south-bound mail from Richmond to Atlanta was traveling by train today due to the heavy fog in the middle Atlantic section which caused one fatal accident and made flying conditions over the air mail route dangerous.

The fog was still present at noon and the airport officials said no planes would leave during the day.

Weather conditions here were good only a light fog dotting the countryside as the aviator took off just before sunup and headed west for his first stop. Good weather was forecast along the route to Galveston.

During the flight, which takes the airman from the northern boundary of the country to the gulf of Mexico, Lieut. Sweeney expected to cross Texas, New York Pennsylvania Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Two notes were discovered on a dresser by a newly arrived guest yesterday. The first, written on hotel stationery read: "I love dear, all I leave behind me. Don't mourn for me please as I've always but failed."

The second, marked "public" read: "Blame no one whatsoever. Ask any Dr. to examine my body and they will know what and why I've done as I have."

Pinned to the notes were two Pullman passenger checks, the first from New York to Philadelphia and the second from Washington to Wilmington.

Mrs. Floyd was registered early Sunday by a man who described himself as R. H. Floyd, of Richmond. She was accompanied by a child of two years. Later Floyd returned and registered himself in the room with Mrs. Floyd but did not spend the night. The party checked out yesterday morning.

LIVING MAN
TAKEN FROM
MATHER MINEHope Renewed For Rescue of Men En-
tomed in Death Ri-
den Mine.

Mather, Pa., May 22.—(AP)—The rescue of a living man from death ridden Mather mine today renewed hope for some of the 137 missing miners entombed by an explosion Saturday.

Imprisoned for more than sixty hours in the underground recesses, Frank Krubik was found alive by a rescue crew. He was brought to the surface and rushed to the emergency hospital nearby, where doctors said his condition was very good.

This rescue after practically all hope had been abandoned for the entombed, spurred the rescuers to renew their work. They started a new drive through the blast-swept tunnels, hoping to find other miners alive in the far reaches of the workings.

Some rescuers believed that Krubik might have crawled from another section of the mine where others might be found alive.

Bodies recovered thus far total 50. Fourteen diggers, are known to have survived the catastrophe. The fate of 137 miners still hung in the balance.

A series of fires which raged in the mine yesterday and hampered rescue operations, were checked for the time being. Because of the presence of gas in the shaft and the ever increasing danger of another explosion. The entries were rock-busted to prevent such an occurrence.

Seven more bodies were brought from the mine during the morning, making the total known dead 67, and leaving 139 entombed men unaccounted for. Despite the rescue of Krubik, veteran rescuers said they believed all the others were dead.

They said Krubik's case was exceptional and that through some freak in the air currents he had escaped death by gas.

The disaster was brought home forcefully to sorrowing Mather residents today when a public funeral mass was celebrated in the public square, in front of the recreation hall in which the bodies of the victims lay. Some of the bodies were to be shipped to nearby mining towns while others were to be buried in this section.

More than 200 persons were in hospitals. Authorities believed many of these might die since the gas sometimes does not have fatal effects until a week after it is inhaled. A contest of only a half a gram to a cubic meter of air is sufficient to cause death.

All available milk in the city was requisitioned to serve as antidotes. There were 98 persons in Mather hospitals, about 100 others at Wilkesburg and 30 at Hamburg. Phosgene poisoning causes a purulent inflammation of the lungs and, in cases where consciousness is retained, death comes after horrible suffering.

Cattle lay dead in the fields, chickens and ducks in the farmyards and dogs and cats in the city streets—mute evidence of the terrible for public use at any time.

Three hundred and fifty families driven from their homes in terror by death's silent approach were permitted to return when the authorities were convinced that the gas had been dissipated by wind and rain. They returned apprehensively. They shuddered as they reflected upon their close escape from death and upon the suffering which might be inflicted upon a defenseless people by gas bombs dropped from airplanes in time of war.

As they watched experts from Berlin remove other phosgene containers to go barefoot.

TAX MEASURE
MEETS STORM
BUT GETS BYSenate Passes $205-
000,000 Reduction
Bill After Failure to Attach Riders.

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—A $205,000,000 Senate tax reduction bill was bound for the Congressional adjustment room today, there to meet its $290 House partner for a reconciliation of differences.

The Senate passed its measure late last night after several attempts to attach tariff and farm riders were overwhelmingly defeated, with the Democrats aiding the Republicans in refusing parties to these proposals.

These two groups parted company, however, in a stirring last minute battle which the Republicans won, thus keeping their program within range of the $200,000,000 reduction limitation set by President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon.

In this drive the Democrats were defeated after two roll calls, the last resulting in a tie vote which was broken by vice-President Dawes, on the plank of their $25,000,000 program they previously had placed in the bill—a graduated scale of lower rates on corporations with incomes under $15,000.

Elimination of this provision lopped off $24,000,000 in the total reduction provided by the measure, which was then approved without a record vote. On the first vote on this provision the Democrats won, 34 to 33. But Senator Blaine, Democrat, South Carolina, asked reconsideration after his attention had been called that he was paired with Senator Frazier, Republican, North Dakota, who had not voted.

On the second vote the tie resulted, although the Democrats seemed to have won again when Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, voted with them after voting with the Republicans the first time. He changed his vote, however, saying he had misunderstood the question. This left the tie, 33 to 33, and vice-President Dawes cast his first vote since taking office, while the Senate applauded.

Senator McMASTER, Republican, South Dakota, was the only member leaving his party ranks on the vote, lining up with the Democrats.

It probably will be several days before an agreement is reached between the Senate and House conferees, but leaders are confident the measure can be whipped into shape and sent to the President by the end of the week. Adjournment of Congress by Saturday or early next week is now planned.

While the President set $200,000,000 as the outside limit of tax reduction which the condition of the treasury would permit, leaders believe he will sign a measure providing a cut of $250,000,000.

BILLY SUNDAY
HAS FULL DAY
OF PREACHINGEvangelist Spoke in Durham Raleigh and Penitentiary During Yesterday.

Billy Sunday spent another busy "rest day" yesterday.

Leaving here early yesterday morning, Mr. Sunday delivered a sermon in Durham and returned to Raleigh where he spoke to three thousand people in the city auditorium and then to the convicts at the State penitentiary.

The gathering at the Raleigh Auditorium is said to have been the largest ever before assembled in such a short length of time. The building was jammed to capacity by men and women representing every walk of life, from high state officials to grimy mechanics, all intent upon hearing the old time gospel delivered as Billy Sunday alone is capable of delivering it.

Always in a hurry to fill some engagement, Mr. Sunday concluded his sermon at the auditorium, and without taking time to shake hands with the countless numbers desiring to come in contact with him, rushed out to the penitentiary and carried words of comfort to hundreds incarcerated behind grim prison walls.

He came in contact with men condemned to die in the electric chair, life-terms, and those serving milder sentences, and to all of them he imparted the same message he leaves behind him wherever he goes. It was the message of salvation through belief in the teachings of the Holy Nazarene as enunciated to his followers over 1,900 years ago. It was a message of comfort and cheer to those whose vision can go no farther than the confines of drab prison walls, and that it had its effect was evidenced by the spirit in which it was received.

The distinguished evangelist began the last week of his campaign in this city last Sunday. This week will be one of the most notable of the series of services, and thousands are expected to follow the path and retrace their steps to the cause of Christianity.

Tonight Mr. Sunday will speak on the subject: "The Unpardonable Sin." This is considered one of his masterpieces and all of his powers of oratory and drama will be combined in an effort to send the message home with unusual effectiveness.

Thousands from all sections of eastern North Carolina are expected to be in attendance the remainder of the week. Prominent among the organizations to be represented will be Rotary clubs of Eastern Carolina, who have been invited by the local club to be in attendance Thursday night. Rotarians and members of similar organizations have shown more than passing interest in the campaign of this picturesque defender of the Bible, and it was believed today that virtually every club of the district would be well represented.

Mr. Sunday announced that he would preach four times next Sunday—the last day of his campaign here. He will address the general public at 10:30, men only at 1, and the general public at 3:00 and 7:30 o'clock. These will be the outstanding services of the week and the mammoth tabernacle no doubt will be crowded to overflowing.

A free will offering is being raised for Mr. Sunday this week. Members of the committee having this in charge are endeavoring to make the offering as large as possible in recognition of the splendid services of the evangelist. The movement got under way Sunday and is expected to gain greater momentum from day to day until the goal—yet unannounced—has been reached.

LOCALS SPLIT
DOUBLE BILL
WITH GOOCH

Greenville and Fayetteville split "50-50" in a double header at the fair grounds here yesterday, the visitors winning the first game by the score of 2 to 0, and the Tobacs taking the last contest to the tune of 4 to 3.

Lee Gooch, manager of the Highlanders, provided the sensation of the day with home runs in both games. It was his circuit clout and steal home that furnished his club with the only scores in the first game. He secured a home run, a double and single in the last game.

Allen featured with the stick for the Tobacs, batting out a free trip around the diamond scoring Turney ahead of him.

Dudley pitched effectively for the visitors in the first game, holding the locals to four scattered hits. Dudley and Joliff did the mound work for Greenville, but inability of their teammates to hit opportunely resulted in their failure to make a better showing.

Mason pitched the final game for Fayetteville, while Joliff, Cherry, and Wilson were used by the Tobacs in a desperate attempt to hold the lead gained in the fifth, tied by Fayetteville in the seventh, and finally overcome by the locals in the eighth.

They were two of the fastest games seen on this diamond this season, although the locals had four errors against them in the last contest.

The Highlanders play here again this afternoon, after which Goldsboro will come here for a two-game series.

BOSTON SOX
DOING SOME REAL WORK

(By the Associated Press)
The Boston Red Sox, long the butt of many a baseball jest, no longer are doormats to be trampled on with impunity by the best of the American League.

After a fine showing against the invading clubs in the recent inter-sectional series the Red Sox came to New York yesterday, snapped an eight game winning streak of the New York Yankees in the first encounter of a double header and then saw their own string of consecutive wins ended at seven in the nightcap.

Given the breaks, the Red Sox would have won both games. Bill Morris kept the champions' nine hits scattered in the first game and ran off with an eight to four decision. Boston got only six hits off three Yankee pitchers but two of these were home runs by Boston and Todd, each time with a man on base. The Yankees got their revenge in the second game when they made only four hits off Ruffing but won 3 to 2. Meneel's homer with two on in the sixth turning the trick. Hoyt was touched for eight hits, one a four-base drive by Tait.

At Philadelphia the Athletics moved up to within three and one-half games of the Yankees by taking both ends of a double header from the faltering Washington Senators, 4 to 3, and 2 to 1. Old Jack Quinn won the first game with a single in the 13th inning. It was Quinn's fifth straight pitching win. Rube Walberg ran his own string to six straight by holding the Senators safe in the nightcap.

The first victory was costly to the Mackmen, for Tris Speaker and Bing Miller collided going after a drive from Reeves' bat and may be out of the game for several days. Hadley held Connie Mack's crew to three hits in the second game but one was a homer by Jimmy Dykes in the third and another a double by French in the fourth which scored the second run.

In the National League the Chicago Cubs came out on the short end of a home run battle with the St. Louis Cards, 8 to 7. Hack Wilson hit two home runs, each time with a man on base but Bottomley duplicated the feat for the Cards. Bottomley had help as well from Harper and Roettger who also made circuit drives. Wilson's two homers gave him eight for the season, one more than Del Bissonnette, of Brooklyn.

The Cincinnati Reds moved up to within a half game of the Cubs by splitting even in two games with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Two Pirate errors gave the Reds the first game, 4 to 3, although Joe Dawson allowed only six hits. The second encounter was a tight duel between Jackie May and Fred Russell, rival southpaws. Jackie was pounded out of the box in the ninth, however, when the Corsairs scored twice and made the victory sure. Ray Llop, Cincinnati pitcher, and Sparky Adams, Pirates second baseman, have contracted influenza and are out of the game for an indefinite period.

All other major league clubs had an open date.

NICARAGUAN LEADER
KILLED BY ASSASSIN

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, May 22.—An assassin's bullet has snuffed out the life of General Luis Mena, acting president of Nicaragua in 1910 and credited with having a considerable political following. The motive for the shooting, which occurred Sunday night at Ponjaya near Granada, had not been learned today.

MANDELL WINS
OVER IRISHMAN

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The lightweight division still boasts the same old ruler-dapper, clean-cut handsome Sammy Mandell—but if ever they award titles for raw courage in the prize ring, Irish Jimmy McLarnin must be crowned king of them all.

For fifteen rounds under glaring lights above a ring pitched in the center of the Polo grounds the black haired, sleek from Rockford, Ill., lashed and tore last night at the body and chin of the McLarnin kid. Lefts that shot out with the sting and drive of a whip-lash cut about Jimmy's face. Short right chops closed his left eye, lefts smothered the other eye and punches from every direction brought a stream of blood from his nose.

But there was one point Mandell, the master, could not touch. No matter how that dazzling ring general poured his batteries into Jimmy's head, crashed his hands to the body, and ripped the Irishman's head back with uppercuts he never could reach Jimmy's heart.

There was not a dissenting voice in the disappointing crowd of less than 25,000 that gathered in the big National league ball park for the most important lightweight battle in the past five years, three times postponed because of bad weather when Joe Humphries announced that Mandell still was champion after 15 rounds of furious battling.

But neither was there a spectator who did not stand and cheer the lion hearted effort of the slugging Celt to lift that crown when McLarnin, a fistful sensation after he knocked out Sid Terris in a punch, dragged his tired, battered body from the ring.

For everyone of those 15 rounds McLarnin, hoping always to land the smash that stowed away the ghost of the Ghetto, piled into the champion—and into a storm of punches that battered his features almost beyond recognition. It was the attack of a youngster who didn't know what fear meant, a kid with a fighting heart that couldn't be picketed, the attack of a bull pup into the jaws of a fleet, slashing terrier.

Jimmy's efforts not only won him the plaudits of the crowd but the whole-hearted recognition of the champion himself. But it gained him only three of the 15 rounds and carried him on even terms with the titleholder in three others. Mandell won nine rounds by wide margins, but McLarnin, never giving up although blind on one side and rapidly losing sight of the other, made his most gallant sorties in the last two rounds.

The right that drummed once on Terris' chin and ended that fight abruptly seemed to bother Mandell but little. Fleet and tireless Sam-mv shot McLarnin's face full of left jabs from the opening gong, tied up the challenger in most of the clinches and splashed merciless right chops on Jimmy's head almost at will.

Chief Bender To Manage Richmond
Baseball Outfit

Richmond, Va., May 22.—(AP)—"Chief" Charles A. Bender, who pitched for the Philadelphia Athletics in the days when the Athletics won their games with clock-like regularity, is coming back to Virginia to take charge of the battered Richmond team. Bender is to take charge of the club on June 4 and Manager Olin Perritt will continue in charge until then and will hold to his assignment as a pitcher afterwards. Richmond fans were enthusiastic today over the announcement that Bender would take his place in the box. The "chief" managed Richmond in 1919 and pitched a last place club in June to the championship winning 20 games and losing two.

Van Note-Evans.

Manteo, May 19.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Evans was the scene of a beautiful wedding Saturday afternoon at two o'clock when their daughter, Miss Carrie Carter Evans, became the bride of James M. Van Note of Greenville.

The living room was charming in its array of spring flowers, potted plants and long leaf pine. A lovely arch covered in hanging ivy and white bridal roses formed a background for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. W. R. Hardesty, pastor of the Wanchese Methodist church. The wedding music was rendered by Miss Holland Westcott. Just before the bride entered the room, Miss Iva Jennette sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

The bridegroom entered the room with his best man, Mr. Albert K. Evans, brother of the bride, and the bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was beautifully gowned in tan georgette and lace and wore a large picture hat, with accessories to match and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Turner, of Greenville; Aycock Brown of Beaufort; Miss Dorothy Grubbs, of Atlantic; Miss Edna Evans, of Elizabeth City; Miss Mabel Evans, of Atlantic, cousins of the bride.

NEW JERSEY-CALIFORNIA HIKER IN GREENVILLE

Hiking from New Jersey to Los Angeles, California, on a $2,000 wager, H. W. Henning arrived in Greenville the latter part of last week, making this city a stop-over to obtain employment and sufficient funds to provide sustenance until he reaches some other point.

Henning stated today that he had been employed since his arrival here last Saturday. He has also been singing in the choir at the Billy Sunday tabernacle. He evidently likes the atmosphere of the tabernacle, as he intended today he would remain in Greenville to the end of the Sunday campaign.

The hiker is some over fifty years of age. He said the conditions of his trip provided that he be paid the sum of $2,000 when he reaches Los Angeles. He is also to receive life-time employment with some corporation in New Jersey.

Mechanical Bird is Ready To Try Its Wings

Six years of sometimes discouraging experiments with a machine which flies like a bird have only made Capt. George White, aviator and technologist, surer that his ornithopter can be made to soar in the air by foot power. Here are several views of him and his invention—a 113-pound machine with chrome molybdenum skeleton, celluloid "skin" and rubber "muscles" measuring 29 feet from tip to tip of its flapping wings.

St. Augustine, Fla., (AP)—A huge transparent bird, with skeleton of strong chrome molybdenum glistening through a glossy skin of tough, non-inflammable celluloid, stands with outstretched wings on a sandy beach here, waiting for its inventor, Capt. George White, to give it the first trial in the air.

Six years ago Captain White, of Stony Brook, Long Island, aviator, flying instructor during the world war and a technology student, declared: "Every one knows that the birds fly, and no one has proved that man cannot imitate bird flight."

He began working on this principle, and today the result of his labor is represented by a foot-powered, wing-flapping, motorless ornithopter which bears the graceful lines of a huge eagle poised for flight.

Until recently the aviator was reluctant to reveal the nature of his researches into mechanical bird flight. He feared his experiments would create unfavorable reaction. Last fall, however, his work had progressed to a state of perfection which caused him to attempt to take the air in his machine at Cocoa Beach.

He was in the air 12 times and crashed seven. The last spill knocked him unconscious, but each time he declared he had been attended by subsequent improvement of his model. In his longest flight at Cocoa Beach he rose six to eight feet above the ground. In an earlier model several years ago he was up seven times and on one occasion covered 400 yards, touching the ground twice on the way.

Captain White believes his latest model is capable of self-sustaining flight and thinks that if luck is with him he will soar to new records.

The plane weighs 113 pounds. Captain White weighs 150 pounds. Tender are nine primary "feathers" covered with protectoid at the tip of each wing, which close on the downward beat and open on the upward beat of the wing. At the back of each wing are eight secondary feathers.

The thicker part of the wing, next to the chassis, corresponds to a bird's wing from the body to the first joint. The underside represents a single surface and is carefully contoured. The average width of each wing is four feet, so that together they have a supporting area of 112 square feet.

If the plane tips too far to one side the wing on that side beats faster, similar to the action in rowing a boat, to keep it on a straight course. Heavy rubber shock absorber cords attached to the wings supply the ornithopter's "muscles" and balance the wings in flight. A five year old child can flap the wings from the foot fulcrum with one hand. Turns are executed by beating one wing faster than the other. The large tail is operated up and down by a single hand lever.

ABOUT TOWN

PRECINCT MEETINGS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Next Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the various precinct voting places in the county the pre-county convention precinct meetings will be held and it behooves every Democratic voter to attend the meeting in his or her respective precinct. Under our present convention system the precinct meeting is the only place that the voters at large have opportunity to express themselves in the choice of the Democratic presidential nominee and the apparent division of opinion on this question makes it imperative that the wishes of all be made known in order that the desires of the majority might be carried out.

Our present system works like this: The voters at the precinct meetings select the delegates to the county convention, the county convention selects its delegates to the state convention, and the state convention selects delegates to the national convention. It is the privilege of the voters to instruct their delegates how to vote in the county convention, and the county and state conventions can exercise the same privilege in sending the delegates to the national convention or can send them uninstructed, which means that the delegates then have the privilege of voting as they desire on matters that come up before the national meeting. It is readily seen that under this plan the common people have a voice only in the precinct meeting which makes such meetings of great importance.

If you are interested in the national situation and wish to have a voice in the selection of the party's presidential nominee, attend your precinct meeting, have a voice in the selection of delegates to the county convention and instruct them to vote for such delegates to the state convention as will carry out your wishes regarding selecting and instructing delegates to the national convention.

"The best of friends can't agree all of the time," a local politician told the writer of this column today, referring to the Senate committee's inquiry into funds used in the Al Smith presidential campaign in North Carolina.

"Numbers of supporters of the New York Governor are life-long friends of Senator Furnish Simmons, who has unreservedly declared himself against the Smith forces.

"These old friends, however, deny any friction between them and the senior Senator from North Carolina, declaring it is a matter of impossibility for people to agree on public issues all of the time.

"Mr. Simmons has long been a political leader of the state. Here to what he has said, went, but somehow, the Smith sentiment has spread to unexpected proportions, and it looks now as if the house will be divided against itself before the campaign is over."

"Members of the Greenville Merchants Association—several of them—left yesterday afternoon to attend the annual meeting of the North Carolina Merchants Association, which convenes in Elizabeth City today," a member of the organization reminded the writer today.

"We are expecting this session to be the greatest in history of the institution by reason of the unprecedented growth of the different associations comprising the State body.

"Greenville's expansion has been steady and wholesome and the report to be presented at Elizabeth City will reflect considerable credit upon those who have labored so diligently in this direction.

"Taking the place of a chamber of commerce and other civic organizations, the merchants have a record of achievement to be proud of. The coming year holds forth even greater opportunities for service. So watch us keep pace with the great city we are endeavoring to serve."

"Inmates of the penitentiary at Raleigh simply wouldn't let me visit the capital city without speaking to them," Rev. William A. Sunday remarked today.

"I talked to about a thousand of them—some hard, calloused souls—and they seemed to appreciate the message."

"I have always made it a point to speak to this class of humanity. I feel that they need me. Outraged as they are as result of defying the laws of the country, their souls are as precious in the sight of God as any others.

"I always leave jails and penitentiaries feeling much better, because if there is anything in the world that can soften the heart of the most hardened criminal it is the word of Him who preached the divine doctrine of 'Peace on earth, good will to all men' on the shores of Galilee over nineteen hundred years ago."

"This is the last week of the Billy Sunday evangelistic campaign in Greenville," members of the local committee told the public today.

"We are raising a 'free will' offering for Mr. Sunday in recognition of the great service he has rendered the community during his five weeks stay here. If you haven't contributed to this cause, get busy and do so at once. It is our desire to make the offering as large as possible but this ambition can not be realized without the hearty co-operation of the thousands who have heard this famous evangelist night after night without contributing as liberally as they should have."

"Make it a point to attend as regularly as possible this week. Help make the concluding services the most inspirational of the campaign. Show Mr. Sunday you appreciate his visit. You can not do this in a more convincing way than by lending your support in daily attendance."

"With the county primary set for June 2nd, political candidates are beginning to buy themselves among their constituents throughout the county," observed an old resident of the city.

"There is no contest except for county commissioners and the judgeship of county court, but opponents of this race are causing the pot to boil more furiously than it has in years.

"With pressure being brought to bear from the feminine element, the general public will vote more conscientiously for the man this year than ever before. These women realize that law enforcement is one of the main supports of civilization, and they intend to put men into office who are mentally and morally capable of living up to the public confidence.

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, May 22.—(AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today, with fluctuations rather narrow and irregular. An early decline of 7 to 10 points under renewed realizing or liquidation, promoted by rather favorable views on the weather outlook, was followed by rallies on encouraging labor news from Manchester, Liverpool buying, and covering, but the improvement was not maintained. Mid-afternoon prices were a point or two under yesterday's closing quotations.

GRAIN MARKET.
Chicago, May 22.—(AP)—With temperatures above 90 reported in the Canadian northwest and continued heat and drought looked for in spring wheat territory, wheat prices today worked upward. European crop advances were also bullish. On the other hand export demand for North American wheat failed to broaden and domestic winter crop reports were favorable. Kansas wheat especially showing improvement.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-1-4 to 2-1-4 net higher; corn 1-4 to 7-8c up, oats showing 1-4 to 3-4c advance and provisions unchanged to 5c decline.

STOCK MARKET.
Associated Press Financial Editor.
New York, May 22.—(AP)—The stock market underwent another sharp reaction today on selling inspired by the recent restriction of credit facilities. Withdrawal of pool support for some of the high price industrials and specialties was followed by drastic declines of 5 to nearly 20 points, while a long list of seasoned dividend paying rails and industrials sagged 1 to 4 points under the weight of heavy liquidation for both accounts.

Retention of the 6 per cent rate for call money, accompanied by the ceiling of about $10,000,000 in loans and a stiffening of prime commercial paper rates, had a decidedly dampening effect on bullish enthusiasm. The violent decline in the New York traction issues, based on the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court granting the city a stay until October 2 in the 7 cents fare case, also caused general unsettlement.

Stiffening of margin requirements by some of the large commission houses tended to stimulate the liquidation of weakened marginal hold-up.

Airplane stocks again bore the brunt of the selling pressure. Wright broke 19-1-2 points to 167 and Curtiss fell 9 to 119. DuPont, U. S. East Iron Pipe Interborough Rapid Transit, American bank note, General Motors, Coca-Cola, Radio American International Corporation and Victor Talking Machine sold down 5 to nearly 15 points.

Rails yielded with the industrials although the declines were not so large. Delaware and Hudson "Nickel Plate" common, Texas and Pacific and Wash sold 3 to 5-1-4 points below yesterday's quotations.

Trading showed a marked expansion in volume, with the ticker 30 minutes behind the market by early afternoon.

The closing was heavy. Total sales approximated 3,000,000 shares.

BERGEN TURNS OUT TO HONOR WILKINS' CREW
Bergen, Norway, May 22.—(AP)—The entire city and harbor was decked with flags this morning in honor of Captain George H. Wilkins and Carl B. Eielson, who flew across the top of the world, when they arrived from Tromsø. Crowds lined the streets and quays.

In welcoming the airmen, the director of the Bergen museum lauded them for their valuable contribution to scientific exploration.

Wilkins and Eielson both responded and their remarks were received with enthusiasm. Eielson, who spoke in Norwegian, particularly delighted his hearers when he said he was proud to be of Norwegian origin.

Asheville Still Able to Hit Hard

By the Associated Press.
The Asheville Tourists, leading the procession in the South Atlantic Association still have their hitting eyes.

Yesterday the Skylanders optics were set at long distance and four home runs resulted in a 5 to 4 victory over Greenville. The Spinners were not exactly idle themselves, three of their six hits going for four bases.

Cooke of Asheville, and Price, of Greenville, leaned against two to place balls over the fence while Kennedy, Keyes and Rodriguez were responsible for the others.

Slim Harris sent 13 Spinners back to the bench as victims of his fast ball.

Spartanburg made its 13 base blows good for a 7 to 2 decision at the expense of Knoxville. The Smokes were not able to do much with the offerings of Scott and secured only seven bingles.

B. Kelly, Spartan first sacker, had a perfect day at bat with three hits in as many efforts.

Macon went on a hitting spree to pound out an 11 to 1 victory over Augusta. Five extra base hits were included among the Peaches' total of 18. Johnson led the hitting attack of the Peaches with a homer and two singles in four attempts.

McBane and Tremper also secured three hits.

Charlotte and Columbia were rained out.

Double Headers Feature Piedmont

(By the Associated Press)
Two double headers and one game that was won by wildness of the losing pitcher were on yesterday's card for the Piedmont League.

Winston-Salem won over Salisbury 6 to 2 after being presented with five bases on balls which resulted in three men being walked in.

At Greensboro the Patriots and Durham brook even on a double header. Greensboro taking the first game 8 to 3 and Durham the second 7 to 2. Pitching was the factor in both games. Crews holding Durham in the first contest while his teammates collected 13 hits and Durham chasing Westmoreland to the showers in the second.

At Raleigh the High Point team batted out a double victory 12 to 6 and 11 to 3.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.

New York, May 21.—(AP)—The west's big challenge to the east in college athletics gathers full headway this week.

Stanford's speed and browne out to win the eastern intercollegiate track and field laurels for the second successive year, will lead the mass attack at Harvard stadium this Friday and Saturday.

Dink Templeton's Cardinal flyers, jumpers, and weight tossers, will be aided and abetted by a flock of other star performers from southern California and California universities.

In a week or so the California and Washington crews will pack their cedar shells for the long trip from eastern waters and another eight oared struggle with the best along the Atlantic seaboard.

The fact that it is an olympic year and that these far western stars hope to scintillate a little later at Amsterdam makes the prospects all the brighter in these forthcoming intersectional tests.

Nothing short of a train wreck, it seems, can prevent Stanford from romping off with the I. C. A. A. A. championships at Cambridge. Not since Jack Moakley was turning out high scoring big red machines at Cornell has any collection of talent loomed as formidably in point tallying prospects as Stanford's outfits.

British Golf Champ

Another British golf crown went abroad when Mlle. Manette L. Blanc of France won the women's open title at Hurlingham.

Deposit, N. Y., May 22.—(AP)—A fifty-five mile jaunt to Liberty, N. Y. was today's program for C. C. Eyle's trans-continental foot races, now only five days away from New York City and the end of their 3,560 mile trek.

Andy Payne, the Claremore, Okla., youth, found his lead over John Salo, of Passaic, N. J., cut to little more than 16 hours before the trip to Liberty began. Salo, grimly determined to race Payne off his feet, led the pack in yesterday's 74.6 mile lap from Waverly, N. Y., it was the longest single day jaunt of the derby. Salo covered the distance in 11 hours, 13 minutes, nine seconds, bringing his elapsed time for 3,230.3 miles from Los Angeles to 553:11:36. Payne and James Pollard of Reno, Nev., were third in 13:36:43. Payne's elapsed time is 536:51:51, a lead of 16 hours, 19 minutes, 45 seconds over the Passaic Finn.

Frank Von, Flump of Kerman, Calif., was second in 13:00:14 despite the fact that he suffered slight contusions of the leg when he was struck by a hit and run motorist.

As it'll be here every Tuesday with The Loudspeaker, in which we will talk about

Will promise to be interesting all the time.

POMERENE IS QUESTIONED
Former Senator Tells Of Expenditures in Ohio Presidential Primary.

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—An expenditure of $100 in the Ohio presidential primary, where he was unopposed on the Democratic ticket, was reported today to the Senate campaign funds committee by former Senator Alton Pomerene.

Pomerene said he was slow to permit his name to be used and finally consented with the understanding that there would be no contest. He said the state Democratic committee selected a slate of delegates which he approved without exception.

Explaining his outlay of $100, the former Senator said that Joseph C. Breitenstein, once assistant Federal District Attorney at Cleveland, wrote him that a contest had arisen in one district and that some money was being raised.

"I then sent him my personal check for $100," Pomerene said.

Chesley W. Jurney, secretary to Senator Copeland, of New York, who has been active in organization work for Governor Smith in Texas, told the committee that he had spent a total of $2,077.15 in advocating Smith's candidacy. Senator Copeland had contributed $500 and Jurney had given $1,577.15 out of his own personal funds, he said.

Jurney testified that his greatest expense was $1,280 last summer during his trip to Texas, this sum going for railroad fare, meals, hotel bills, stenographers and telephone charges.

The second largest item was $431.15 for distributing 2,000 copies of his pamphlet "Defense of the South by Northern Democrats." Jurney said he had sent this to most of the newspapers in the South.

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—Unable to obtain all the information it seeks from witnesses called to Washington, the Senate campaign funds committee has decided to go into Ohio and Indiana, and perhaps into West Virginia.

Senator Steiwer, chairman of the committee, who returned today with Senator Bratton, from Raleigh, N. C., said the trips would be made before the convening of the Republican national convention at Kansas City June 12.

In Ohio the committee will seek to ascertain the expenditures by district and county committee, while the primary purpose of the trip to Indiana will be to find out how much money was spent in Allen county, where a separate organization was set up on behalf of Senator James E. Watson, who carried his state over Herbert Hoover in the primary May 8.

Believe Break Of Dam Averted

Salt Lake City, May 22.—(AP)—The weakened Scofield dam which engineers feared would collapse and flood a large farming district south of here, today was reported to be withstanding the pressure of about 60,000 acre feet of water without definite indications of a break.

Arrival of 200 more volunteers to aid the 300 odd men who worked yesterday and last night to erect a dike to reinforce the main structure, was said to have enabled engineers to partly control leaks in the huge structure. However, those in charge said the seepage had not been fully stopped.

Engineers announced they believed chances of the dam collapsing had been reduced by gradual lowering of the 60,000 acre feet of water it impounds.

Most of the 10,000 odd residents of the valley below the dam were reported to have fled to higher ground.

BLOCK CONSIDERATION MUSCLE SHOALS BILL

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—An attempt today by senate Norris, Republican of Nebraska, to have the senate consider tonight the conference report of the senate and house on the government operation of Muscle Shoals bill was blocked.

The Nebraskaan, who is author of the senate resolution, first asked an agreement providing for a vote tonight on the conference report. Senator Blease, Democrat, of South Carolina, objected to the stipulation for a vote.

MAN IS HELD FOR PERJURY AT ASHEVILLE

Asheville, May 22.—(AP)—Stopping a jury trial in a liquor case, Federal Judge E. Yates Webb, this morning ordered Curtis Cooper, Jackson county defendant and witness, bound over the November U. S. grand jury under a $5,000 bond charged with perjury.

Cooper had filed an affidavit claiming he owned no land and was too poor to pay for transportation of his own witnesses to Asheville. On the stand under a grilling cross examination by Assistant District Attorney Frank Patton, he admitted that he owned property, but said that he was a Cherokee Indian and had no proper deed to it. Judge Webb declared this made no difference and ordered him placed in custody.

CHANG TSO-LIN'S GRIP ON PERKING LOOSENED AGAIN AS CITY TOTTERS

The armies of southern China, notably the Nationalists under Chiang Kai-shek (in circle) are storming at Peking, and Chang Tso-Lin (above), war lord of the north and ruler of the capital, is reported ready to flee to his Manchurian stronghold. The Flamingo Gate (right) is one of the entrances to the walled capital city. The map shows the battle area.

Perking.—(AP)The Chinese Nationalist army and its allies are sweeping northward toward Peking, reaching for control of the capital city and threatening the dominion there of Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord.

The history of China since the overthrow of the empire and the Manchu dynasty in 1911 has been one of strife between the north and the south, divided geographically by rivers and mountains.

And Peking, because of its location, is now, as before the center of northern activities and the goal of the invading hosts from the south.

Of all the eastern potentates of modern times none has lived a more romantic life than Chang Tso-Lin, who almost became emperor of China.

This time the forces which hope to drive him from Peking include the Nationalists, commanded by Chiang Kai-shek, and the armies of Feng Yu-hsiang and Yen Hsi-shan which have approached Peking from the south and west.

Chang Tso-Lin has become thoroughly accustomed to the successes and reverses of Chinese civil war. Early in the spring a year ago the Nationalists were driving toward Peking, and for days Chang had a train steamed up and headed toward Mukden, his Manchurian stronghold, ready for retreat at a moment's notice.

But his peril did not keep him from holding a huge birthday party, which lasted almost two days. Around his home in east Peking was strewn the yellow earth which was the classic symbol of old imperial China. His son, Chang Hsueh-liang, came home from the battle front to felicitate his father on his fifty-second birthday anniversary.

The rice wine flowed through two dawns, and the singing girls fed bird's-nest soup to the guests while the mah jong ivories clicked the clock around.

It was a party of barbaric pomp, an oriental version of the dance on the eve of Waterloo.

But the expected Waterloo did not come.

The nationalists fell into war among themselves. So Chang promoted himself from marshal to generalissimo and moved into the long-derelected palace of the yellow-roofed Forbidden City and surrounded himself with a bodyguard of Manchus, who before China became a republic had comprised the royal family. He consulted with his wise men upon an auspicious time to ascend the dusty Dragon Throne and even employed six weavers in Soochow to design coronation robes.

Now he looks again toward his Mukden refuge—but in China a war lord, though often down, is not out until he is beheaded.

Most of the stories of Chang Tso-Lin's life are probably more romance than true. But he came from Shantung, and as a boy he became a bandit. By 1905 he was leader of one of the biggest bands in Manchuria, and when the Russo-Japanese war harrowing the Russians.

Then he came to Peking and won the favor of the old empress dowager. She took him and his bandit band into government service and in 1911, last year of the empire, he was made military governor of Fengtien, Manchuria's chief province.

Since then Chang has had many ups and downs. Twice he has been war lord of Peking, coming there last two years ago, by defeating the "Christian general" Feng, who now is at his throat again. Illiterate, but cunning he scorns diplomacy and rules by the law of club and fang.

Chang's chief vice it is said, is gambling. He is reported to play mah jong for 48 hours at a stretch and to pay off his underlings when he loses in I. O. U.'s. In his harem are generally but four or five girls. Once when he brought a favorite concubine from Mukden he had an arch erected in Tientsin in her honor.

Perking itself is a city within a city. The Chinese portion is a mere 400 years old, while the Tartar settlement dates from 1267 and includes the "Forbidden City". The whole of Peking is surrounded by a wall 30 feet high and 25 feet thick at the base.

Since the republic was established Peking has lost much of its imperial mystery, and today the main streets of the city are broad avenues flanked with low houses and buildings and newly planted trees—the one spacious city in all China.

San Pedro, Cal., May 22.—(AP)—Sea trials of the naval aircraft carrier Lexington, discontinued recently when the huge craft failed in her speed tests, were resumed off Point Vicente here yesterday.

Naval officials expect to complete the trials this week to permit the Lexington to sail for Honolulu to join the battle fleet.

When Captain F. D. Kams and other members of the inspecting staff arrived from San Francisco and boarded the ship the schedule was announced as calling for slow speed, water consumption and other minor details. The Lexington is expected to make a maximum of 32.5 knots with the temporary repairs which have been made to her turbine blades. High speed tests will be made after she returns from Hawaiian waters and a new type turbine blade has been installed.

She must make 33.5 knots in order to come up to specifications.

Navy to Play Howard in Place of West Point

Annapolis, Md., May 22.—(AP)—Echoes of the army-navy athletic controversy, concerning the three-year eligibility rule affecting varsity team competition, reverberated in sport circles again today with the announcement by naval academy authorities that Harvard had been substituted for West Point on next year's basketball schedule.

Adhering to the principle established last fall by which navy had warned that it would not enter competition in intercollegiate circles with teams allowing its players to compete on varsity teams for more than three years, Lieut. Commander O. O. Kessing, graduate manager of athletics at the naval academy, said today that Harvard would meet navy on February 23, 1929, thus eliminating the cadets from their customary clash with the midshipmen in basketball.

The appearance of Harvard on the middy schedule brings the second of the "big three" teams into naval academy major athletics. Princeton is already under contract to meet the sailors in football at Philadelphia next fall in place of the annual army-navy gridiron classic.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS LINED FOR BATTLE

Dallas, Tex., May 22.—(AP)—With two powerful factions flaunting banners, Texas Democrats were aligned at Beaumont for their state convention today in a spirited fight centering on efforts of a minority group to eventually add 40 more delegates to the list of Governor Smith of New York.

The Smith faction professed to see a good omen in the selection of W. L. Dean, author of the Texas prohibition statute, as temporary chairman of the Beaumont session. Dean has been favored by Governor Dan Moody, who, although heading the strong "harmony" group, which seeks a dry platform plank and a delegation unstructured for any presidential candidate, has announced support of any nominee selected at the Democratic national convention.
