

W. L. WHEDBEE VICTORIOUS FOR JUDGE COUNTY COURT IN PRIMARY HERE SATURDAY

New Board of Commissioners Elected; Fountain Leads on State Ticket in Spirit of Voting.

W. L. Whedbee, young attorney of this city, won out for judgeship of Pitt county court in the Democratic primary held over the county Saturday.

He received a total of 1,878 votes from the fourteen precincts. While this only gave him a plurality, he automatically won out by reason of an agreement with Sam Carson, the next leading candidate that the highest man would be declared winner whether he received a majority vote or not.

Carson's vote was 1,846, exactly 32 less than Whedbee received. The third contestant, J. L. Evans, who announced his candidacy only a few days before the primary polled 369 votes.

While main interest in the primary centered around the race for the county judgeship, it is probable that the selection of a board of county commissioners ranked next in importance. With a field of nine contestants from which to pick five commissioners, the voters in the 14 precincts of the county probably balloted more spiritedly than in years.

J. P. Davenport, the only member of the old board running for reelection pulled the heaviest vote in this field. He received a total vote of 2,586, his greatest support coming from Greenville township where his constituents gave him 911 ballots.

R. H. McLawhorn received the next highest vote, his total being 2,470. The vote of the other three successful contestants follows: Judge F. M. Wooten, 2,416; P. L. Stone, 2,291; W. C. Faucette, 2,338.

R. T. Fountain, of Rocky Mount, won out by a majority vote over the other two contestants for the office of lieutenant governor.

Frank Crist led by a comfortable margin his two opponents for the office of commissioner of labor and printing.

J. G. Taylor won over W. Harvey Allen for the office of highway advisory commission. Taylor's vote was 787 and Allen's, 487.

The primary was one of the most spirited the county has seen in years. There were not as many contestants entered as on previous occasions of the kind, but interest was keen in the race for judgeship and supporters rallied behind their favorites in a way that stood out with surprising prominence in numbers of the larger precincts.

Interest on the part of the women, especially in Greenville township, was very pronounced and numbers who had never been to the polls before were on hand to express a preference for the men they desired to rule over the destiny of the county affairs.

The canvass of the county board of election this morning resulted in a slight change from the report compiled by the Reflector but affected the standing of contestants only in a minor way.

The official report issued by the board of election this afternoon follows:

Whedbee	1878
Carson	1846
Evans	369
Davenport	2586
McLawhorn	2470
Wooten	2416

Lawrence May Stay in Jail For While Yet

Durham, June 4.—(AP)—W. Herbert Lawrence, local contractor, today faced the prospect of staying in jail here until the supreme court reviews the action of the Chatham Superior Court in which he was found guilty of second degree murder Friday and sentenced to 30 years imprisonment for the slaying on March 24 of Mrs. Annie Terry, Durham dressmaker. Members of the defense counsel who said they might institute habeas corpus proceedings tomorrow seeking his release on bail today said they had reached no decision as to when such a move would be made or whether it would be made.

Lawrence continued a patient in Wats hospital where he has been confined since he slashed his throat with a safety razor blade in his cell at Pittsboro shortly after his trial opened.

FOUNTAIN STILL LEADS FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR

Charlotte, June 4.—(AP)—With county election boards canvassing returns in many counties returns from the Democratic primary of Saturday continued very slow today but with the prospect that conditions would be bettered this afternoon.

A total of 1063 out of 1754 precincts reported in the state for Lieutenant Governor gave:

R. T. Fountain 60,763; John D. Langston 49,935; W. H. Burgwyn 46,476.

For Commissioner of Labor and Printing 1004 precincts gave Frank D. Grist 76,508; M. L. Shipman 45,614; O. J. Peterson, 19,102.

WOMAN TAKES OFF ON TRIP OVER OCEAN

Wilmer Stultz and Miss Earhart Land At Halifax on First Leg Over Atlantic.

Halifax, N. S., June 4.—(AP)—A surprise trans-Atlantic air expedition was under way today with a Boston social service worker, who in appearance is somewhat of a feminine counterpart of Lindbergh, as co-pilot. A secret flight was made from Boston to Halifax yesterday by two men and a woman enroute to Trepassy, N. F., for the hop across the ocean.

Wilmer Stultz, who was pilot with Mrs. Francis Wilson Grayson on her first attempt to fly the Atlantic last year, is pilot of the plane. The co-pilot is Miss Amelia Earhart, amateur aviatrix, and director of Denison House, Boston's oldest settlement center. Louis Gordon of San Antonio, Texas, is the mechanic.

The plane, equipped with pontoons, is a tri-motored Fokker purchased from Commander Richard E. Byrd. The expedition is backed by the Mechanical Science Corporation represented by the New York publisher and explorer, George Palmer Putnam.

With no advance publicity the plane, named the Friendship, took off from Boston harbor yesterday morning for Trepassy, N. F., running into fog off Halifax. Stultz turned back and landed in the harbor here.

Present plans call for a stop at Trepassy only long enough to fuel the plane, then she will head out across the Atlantic for London, her destination.

The flight is the first attempted by a plane equipped for landing on the water, and is expected to prove the practicability of airplane service to Europe.

Noted French Flier Forced Down In Turkey Today

Constantinople, June 4.—(AP)—Captain Arrachart, noted French long distance flier and his companion, Major Rignot of the French army, who hopped off from Le Bourget for India yesterday morning in an effort to establish a long distance record, were forced down at Constantinople by unfavorable weather.

Union Awarded Largest Amount Of Equalization

Raleigh, June 4.—(AP)—Union county was awarded the largest amount from the $2,250,000 North Carolina equalization fund distributed last week by the State Board of Equalization. The distribution was announced yesterday after the board had spent several days reviewing the requests.

A total of $88,941.91 was secured by Union county. Graham county received the smallest amount of the 90 participating counties, $638.55. A reserve of $100,000 for later distribution to counties developing needs during the two year period not foreseen in the budget, and as an emergency fund was set aside by the board also.

Search For Lost Italia Getting In Full Swing

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 4.—(AP)—Search for the missing dirigible Italia, unheard from since May 25, was in full swing today after a week of extensive preparation.

The ice cutter, Braganza, was plowing through the icy waters off Northern Spitzbergen with search parties of Italian Alpinists ready to disembark at strategic points to seek the crew of the Italia.

Early this morning the sealer Hobby arrived at Kings Bay, carrying Lieut. Luetzow Holm, crack Norwegian flier, and a naval monoplane from which he will survey the polar sea off Spitzbergen. Lieut. Holm held a conference with Kings Bay officials and then announced that he hoped he would be able to leave with his plane on the Hobby later in the day.

The Braganza, enroute to Reindeer Land, put a search party ashore at Cape Verdelin Hook, which is midway between Moflen Island and the Straits of Hinlopen. The party made a rapid survey of the peninsula and the journey was then continued.

The ice in the Straits of Hinlopen was found broken up and this will permit the Braganza to reach the coast of Northeastland, an extensive deserted tract upon which the Italia may possibly have come down since the wind was in that direction when she was last heard from.

When at Green Harbor, enroute to Kings Bay, Lieut. Holm received a telegram from King Haakon of Norway wishing him good luck in his search for the Noble expedition.

LARGE CROWD AT FINALS OF COLLEGE HERE

Two Hundred Young Women Graduated From East Carolina College Today.

(By CARL GOERCH) To the applause of hundreds of friends and relatives who had gathered in the campus building auditorium to attend the graduating exercises, two hundred A. B. degree and normal graduates of East Carolina Teachers College this morning were awarded their diplomas, Bibles, teachers' certificates and health certificates by Dr. Robert H. Wright, president of the college.

The largest audience that ever has attended a commencement in Greenville was present. Every seat in the large auditorium was taken. The front section was reserved for the student body, all of whom were attired in white, with the exception of the A. B. graduates, who wore their black gowns and caps.

The commencement address was delivered by Hon. J. Bayard Clarke, of Fayetteville, who last Saturday was nominated to Congress from his district.

"I deeply appreciate this privilege," began Mr. Clarke. "I am cognizant of the splendid work that this institution is doing. I regard this year as being one of the most successful in our history. As a man who is doing more for the cause of education in North Carolina than any other individual in the state."

Mr. Clarke also gave some matrimonial advice to the members of the graduating class, counselling them to be wary about grabbing the first man who came along and urging them to give serious consideration to those qualities which help to make a desirable husband. Quite a few members of the student body appeared to be rather amused.

Getting down to the central theme of his speech, the speaker first called attention to North Carolina's unmatched resources. In graphic fashion he told of the splendid prosperity and development that had come to the mountain section, the Piedmont area, the Sand Hills and the coastal plain.

"Horace Greeley, that great editor of a former generation," said Mr. Clarke, "advised the young men of his day and time to go West. But that advice does not hold good today, so far as the young men and young women of North Carolina are concerned. They will find unmatched and unequalled opportunities for service within the boundaries of their own state."

"You graduates, who are about to leave this institution and take up your work as teachers, are confronted with a grave responsibility. Our North Carolina schools are truly great and we have a right to be proud of them, but I believe that one of our mistakes in the past has been to neglect the rural schools."

REVISED LIST OF FUNDS IS FILED TODAY

Senate Committee Receives Report on Hoover Expenditures From Manager.

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—A revised list of contributions of $22,332 and expenditures of $18,596 in the Hoover presidential primary in West Virginia was filed with the Senate investigating committee today by Harry C. Woodyard, Hoover manager in that state.

Woodyard said he believed this to represent all the Hoover contributions and that the apparent balance remaining was obligated in one way or another. Another $1,000 to meet bills not presented as yet would cover everything, he said.

Included in new contributions listed were $2,000 each by Representative Frothingham, of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Mary A. Frothingham, $1,000 from "Mr. Patton of California," and $1,000 from John A. B. [?], assistant Postmaster General.

Woodyard said these contributions had been received through James Good, of the Hoover national organization.

The witness pressed for the basis of a newspaper interview he gave in West Virginia as to expenditures made for Senator Goff. He said, however, that he had no specific knowledge but had based his assertions as to large expenditures on "my general experience in politics" and what was going on in the state.

As to the advertising campaign in the state, Woodyard said it was his judgment that the Hoover paid advertising was "more extensive" than that for Goff. He added, however, that his observation of Goff "organization" activities in the counties, made him judge that there were large outlays. He told Senator Bratton he meant "organization."

The help given the state organization by the national organization, Woodyard said, included a check from former Senator Calder, of New York, for $500.

Clyde B. Johnson, of Charleston, W. Va., who described himself as an "anti-Smith" Democratic candidate for delegate-at-large, told the committee he knew nothing of expenditures for Senator Reed of Missouri, in West Virginia, beyond the fact that he had paid for the armory in which Reed spoke in Charleston in April, costing $100. He was not a "Reed man," Johnson said, merely "against the New York Governor."

Dies Of Hydrophobia. Plymouth, June 4.—(AP)—Isabel Leone Harrison, 8 daughter of a Plymouth couple, was dead today with hydrophobia. The parsnip said she could not recall that the child had ever been bitten by any rabid animal.

GARDNER IS SPEAKER AT HIGH FINALS

Washington Clegman Delivered Baccalaureate Sermon Here Last Night.

The annual sermon to the graduates of the Greenville high school was preached last night in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church by the Rev. Stephen Gardner, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church of Washington. The audience was a large one made up principally of the relatives and friends of the sixty-six members of the graduating class. The seniors occupied the center section of the church, marching in and taking their places to the processional of Handel's Largo, played by Miss Veazy, director of public school music in the city schools. The special music of the occasion was rendered by the high school glee club who occupied the choir loft and all the available space in the chancel. The clubs rendered two special numbers, one before the sermon being the well-known "Send Out Thy Light." The other which followed the sermon, was "The Heavens Are Telling." Both numbers were rendered in a manner to elicit favorable comment from the large audience.

The theme of the speaker was "If Youth Only Knew," and the theme was developed from the standpoint of one who had preceded the members of the class along the way of life and who was therefore justified in telling of some of the experiences he had encountered. The idea was developed from the standpoint of health, morality and Christian service, and in closing the speaker made a plea for consecration to Christian service. The message was an inspiring one and caught the attention of the class and audience from the start.

Mr. James A. Keech, principal of the high school, presided over the service and the invocation was by Rev. R. J. Bamber, pastor of the Christian church.

With the advent of the Southern Cross today enroute to Suva in the Fiji Islands, the second leg of a 7,700 mile flight to Australia is under way. A stream of messages from the plane throughout the day told of the ship's progress from Kaula, Hawaiian Islands, on its attempt to base a serial pathway into the South Sea and Sydney, Australia.

The Southern Cross, commanded by Captain Kingsford-Smith, took off from the Barking Sands beach, Kaula, at 5:20 a. m., yesterday (7:50 a. m., Pacific Coast time). It was expected about 36 hours would be required to cover the 3,138 miles to Suva.

The messages indicated the crew of four was maintaining the same confidence in the ship as was displayed on the 2,400 mile hop from Oakland, California, to Wheeler Field, here last week.

Position reports received from the plane late in the day indicated that it had swerved slightly over a degree west from the course that was to carry it over Phoenix Islands, 1,856 land miles from Honolulu and 1,778 land miles from Suva.

It was believed here that the sixty miles or so deviation from the course was due to navigation by dead reckoning. Later position reports were said to have corrected the error.

As for the motor trouble—the first inkling that anything was wrong with any of the three Wright radial engines on which the ship staked their lives, came at 7:40 p. m., saying that the motor mounted beneath the right wing had started "fluttering" and that the plane had cut its speed to sixty miles per hour. Messages that followed this one, stated that there was no danger but that the plane proceeded at varying speeds.

Then the motor mounted beneath the left wing started "sputting." This was about 5:20 p. m. The motor continued to "sputt," later messages stated. It was an unpleasant sound that presaged possible disaster to the well planned expedition. Still the fliers could joke about it as evidenced by the following message from the plane:

"Um (Charles Ulm, co-pilot) drew a cartoon of Harry's eyes bulging out when the starboard motor sputtered." (Harry is Harry W. Lyon, navigator of the plane).

But the ill-functioning motors were not all the fliers had to worry about. They soon found they were flying dead into a black storm area. A message broadcast at 6:30 p. m. read: "Black clouds ahead. They started to climb above the clouds."

ABOUT TOWN

Greenville merchants will begin closing at the noon hour Wednesday June 13th, a local merchant told the writer of this column today.

This is following an old custom of giving employees a half holiday off during the hot summer months. We find the plan advantageous to employees and employer, too. Last year and it is believed the general health of everyone was better when the fall business season opened up.

The half holiday will continue through August 22nd. A majority of our business men have already signified their intention of observing the closing hour, and are urging the remainder to do so in order to make the movement as general as possible.

The health of the working people is vastly essential to the success of the business field. This may be preserved through the year by proper attention to rest and recreation during the hot summer months.

Get in line with the progressive business houses and close the doors of your store promptly at the noon hour Wednesday and join your employees in some form of amusement.

Greenville made it two out of three from the Fayetteville Highlanders by taking Saturday afternoon's game. It gave the Jollymen eight victories out of the nine games played during the week. This is a record the sport loving populace of this section is justly proud of and that they will lend their support to the club during the remainder of the season goes without question.

If you were one of those who took special pride in knocking the club while they were in the grip of the jinx, take our advice and put up your little hammer. You will not have any further use for it.

With several new faces in the lineup—men capable of hitting the old apple at crucial moments—the Jollymen are off for several more victories. In fact, they will not be content until they find themselves resting serenely at the top of the standing of clubs county—and honor which every ambitious team is fighting for.

Do your part in making this possible by attending the games and cheering the boys on to greater achievements.

The outcome of Saturday's primary in Pitt county will be received with satisfaction by numbers of persons, especially those whose votes made it possible for the successful contestant to win.

Those running for office this time were men of character and responsibility. It is an old saying that the best man always wins. This is true in one sense of the word, but lots of times men just as efficient and capable as those who win find themselves defeated because the tide of public fancy literally sweeps them out of the main current and the other man succeeds where they fail.

This situation has always prevailed; it always will prevail so long as the world exists. It is a condition which no single man can control. It is left entirely with the masses, and the man or woman at the height of popularity will many times find themselves swept into high places of life because of this fact.

Pitt county is congratulating herself upon the outcome of the primary, but not at the expense of those who met defeat. She would say to them, 'stand by your guns, the game loser always wins out eventually.'

Rev. Stephen Gardner, of Washington, pastor of St. Peter's church delivered the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Greenville high school last night, a local educator mentioned today.

It was fitting that one of the outstanding ministers of the eastern section of North Carolina should have imparted spiritual advice to the largest graduating class in history of the local school. It was appropriate that these young people standing on the threshold of life should receive from his lips words of encouragement and truth that will start them out on the broad highway fully aware of the things essential to a well-rounded, successful career.

Greenville has always been fortunate in securing the services of brilliant speakers for her commencement exercises, and she feels particularly so this year. The sermon will live long in the memory of the citizenship and prove helpful to the young men and women, who in later years will shoulder the burden of the present generation and carry on into a great and promising future.

Purchase of Greenville real estate is a sound investment, a local realtor mentioned to the writer today.

This fact is born out by the number of new homes going up in various parts of the city, especially in the new residential subdivisions.

This town has experienced rapid healthy growth the last five years. Indications at this time, however, apparently point to greater growth the next two years than in the past four.

This sounds like we are taking in lots of territory. So we are, but our opinion is based on present growth and the possibility which the future holds out for us.

If you intend building, get busy and do so while you have an opportunity of buying lots in the heart of the business section. In a few months other developments

GREENVILLE AGAIN TRIMS HIGHLANDERS

Greenville made it two out of three from Lee Gooch's Highlanders by taking Saturday afternoon's game at Fayetteville by the score of 9 to 4.

The Tobaccoists failed to score until the seventh frame when eight runners were sent speeding across the platter. One more tally was added in the eighth.

Ball pitched in great form for the Highlanders until the disastrous eighth when the visitors took the offensive. Eight blows, a base on balls, featured the onslaught.

Finlator featured with the stick for the Tobaccoists getting three safeties out of five trips to the rubber.

Deacon Joliff, hurling his second game in two days, yielded seventeen hits to the Highlanders, but they were so well scattered that the majority featured in the scoring only in a minor way.

Tom Young did the heavy stick work for Fayetteville, hitting his third home run of the week over left field fence.

The Tobaccoists went to Goldsboro today for a two game series. They will return here Wednesday and take on Kinston for two games.

With eight victories out of the nine games played last week, Deacon Joliff and his followers today were confident of capturing more scalps this week. Resting serenely in fourth place, but only a short distance to go to reach the top of the win column, they went over to the Goldsboro town this afternoon determined to increase their lead.

The box score of Saturday's game follows:

Columbia Shows One Advantage From Last Week

By the Associated Press.

With the advent of a new week in the South Atlantic Association the Columbia team had an advantage so far as last week's result may foreshadow the future.

Five times the Comers went to the showers with victories to their credit, while testing the pangs of defeat on only one occasion in their dozen games the fourth placed in a remarkable finding and one solitary error being marked against them.

Another leading feature of their work was the holding of opponent to 20 runs, the best record in the league in this respect.

Augusta, cellar holders, ran its percentage of the won and lost contests, won and one-third as many lost.

An even break with four on each side of the won and lost column was the best the first place Asheville club could do. However, three of the victories came in the four-game series with Macon—no less a prize than the loop leadership being at stake.

Another strange thing about the Tomists was that they suffered three defeats at the hands of Augusta, thus putting the Peaches into an unrealized opportunity to take over first place.

Shaky work in the field hurt the Skylanders 17 miscues being charged in their eight battles.

Two hundred and ninety-five runs were scored during the week, Macon by virtue of a 20-8 decision over Greenville carrying off high scoring honors with 52.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 4.—(AP)—No idea has been harder to tackle and to pin to earth this season than the notion that Jack Dempsey is thru with the gloves, except he may choose to use them later for the uplift of the drama or screen.

The conviction is still abroad to some extent that by a master maneuver Dempsey will be brought back to the ring this September for a return bout with Gene Tunney or Tom Heeny, should the honest blacksmith unexpectedly wade the title heights when he fights the champion on July 25. This conviction is just another instance where the wish is father to the thought. It may just as well be set down definitely now that Tex Rickard has no intention whatever of promoting anything but the Tunney-Heeny bout.

Tunney, if he beats Heeny, will complete his plans for a world tour starting not later than September. Heeny, if the victor, will hustle back to dear old England so fast that he will hardly have time enough to settle with the income tax collectors.

Anyone in search of pessimistic reports on the outlook for the Tunney-Heeny battle would not likely seek out Tex Rickard but the promoter's confidence in his 1928 venture may be worth recording. He hasn't been far wrong in gauging his previous big shots.

"The fight will draw perhaps $1,500,000," Tex avers. "We won't touch the figures at Chicago or Philadelphia principally because we can't eat as many people here. But the advance interest in the bout is reflected all over the country. You can't keep people away from a heavyweight championship fight. It's convention time for the fight fans, wherever it happens to be. They come from all over to see the title at stake. That's the main reason though I will readily admit Dempsey was a great personal drawing card, when he was involved."

The two big surprises of the National League race so far have been the rise of the Cincinnati Reds and the downfall of the champion Pirates.

In the pre-season consensus collected by the Associated Press the Pirates were favorites to repeat their pennant triumph while the Reds were picked to wind up sixth. These positions now are exactly reversed with the Reds setting the pace at a dizzy clip and the Bucs handicapped by injuries, struggling long in the second division.

Great pitching and occasional all-around work by Hughes Critz at second base have been big factors in the Red drive.

If the club can keep it up and out on anything like the finish they did last year part of the world's eyes will be played at Redland park.

Seven Auburn players, Southern Conference champions, are joining league teams. Captain Ebb James goes to Selma, Ala.

PITTSBURGH GETS BUSY

(By the Associated Press)

Making a strenuous attempt to rise from the depths of the second division, the Pittsburgh Pirates have opened their eastern invasion with a victory over Brooklyn while irate Flatbush fans said it with pop bottles.

Pete Scott's fifth hit of the game gave the Corsairs a 9 to 7 victory over the Dodgers yesterday after 14 innings of lurid baseball that 25,000 fans in an uproar most of the time.

The New York Giants battered three Chicago pitchers for a 10 to 5 victory at the Polo grounds, 40,000 seeing the fray. Fred Fitzsimmons held the Cubs safe and got a double and a triple. Terry Heese and Hartness hit home runs.

Thirty-eight thousand saw the New York Yanks widen their American League lead by downing the Tigers at Detroit, 7 to 2. Gehrig hit his 11th four base drive of the year while the other half of the firm, Babe Ruth, left the game in the fifth because of an injured ankle.

A five run rally in the seventh decided the game.

The White Sox beat the Philadelphia Athletics at Chicago 6 to 5. Fox's homer in the ninth with two on base the Sox a bad scare but the Thomas men were equal to the occasion and prevented any further scoring.

Hudlin was easy for the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland fell, 4 to 3.

HELEN WILLS WINS TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Auteuil, June 4.—(AP)—Helen Wills today won her first big tournament of 1928, defeating Eileen Bennett, of England, 6-1, 6-2, in the finals for the international hard court tennis championship.

The American champion won the deciding match as she has previous matches in this tournament, with consummate ease, dropping only three games, two of which were on her service. In the entire tournament, including the finals she lost but 13 games and never was forced to extra sets.

BILL TILDEN SET FOR EUROPE NOW

Chicago, June 4.—(AP)—The long trail which they must travel to recapture the golden fleece of clay court tennis, now stretches to Europe for Captain "Big Bill" Tilden and his American Davis Cup team.

Their last barrier in the West and Far East was brushed aside with ease over the week-end when they met and conquered Japan's team, 5 matches to nothing on the Chicago town and tennis club's courts. They will sail for Europe Saturday, where they will meet the European zone winners for the right to challenge France, holder of the Davis Cup, emblematic of international tennis supremacy.

Chicago, June 4.—(AP)—Because Fort Collins, Colorado high school athletes, have a penchant for throwing the hammer long distances, they are again the national interscholastic track and field champions.

Competing against a brilliant field of 800 prep stars, the Colorado youths won the University of Chicago's 24th annual outdoor national interscholastic meet on Stag Field Saturday by scoring 56 points. Thirty-one of these points were made in the hammer throw.

Probel high, of Gary, Ind., was second with 38 points, while Tilden Tech of Chicago, and Libbey high of Toledo, Ohio, tied for third with 26 points each.

of newspapers, skimmed over and seldom read by many readers years ago, are now a subject of absorbing interest to millions of persons.

Several large commission houses have openly attempted to discourage speculation on the part of persons of small means by demanding full payment in cash on small lots of securities, or a minimum credit balance of $1,000 with 25 to 50 per cent margin on securities purchased. These demands have been readily met, and the fact that 144 mutual savings banks in New York showed a net loss of $18,562,272 in deposits during April has been construed in some quarters as an indication that such deposits have been used for the purchase of securities.

Women, who were rarely seen in brokerage offices years ago, are now a big factor in the market. In New York City, one large firm has devoted an up-town office exclusively to their use and others have set aside special rooms for them. Scores of women pay daily visits to these offices and play the market like seasoned male veterans. Brokers reported that women are more inclined to play hunches than men, but that they also possess greater staying qualities in stocks which they have reason to believe contain special merit.

While speculation has been a primary factor in bringing about the recent series of $3,000,000 and 4,000,000 share markets and the increase in brokers' loans from $5,138,796,000 at the end of January, 1927, to nearly $5,000,000,000 at the end of last month, there has also been an enormous increase in investment buying.

Despite the widespread public participation in the market, leading brokers report that speculative accounts are unusually well managed, and that hundreds of thousands of shares of stock have been paid for and taken out of the market.

Trading in the New York securities markets has reached world-wide proportions. Thousands of orders pour over the private wires of brokers from all sections of the country each day, while scores of others come by cable or radio from European and Asiatic capitals and ships at sea.

One outgrowth of the speculative mania that has been sweeping the country is the establishment of scores of financial advisory and tipster services, which have reaped a fortune for their sponsors. Some of them are legitimate in character and make an honest effort to give correct information about securities, but a large number mixed their so-called investment counsel with subtle propaganda and for the sale of stocks of undeveloped mining and oil companies.

Bear traders have lost millions trying to fight the general trend because they could not correctly gauge the psychology of the market.

SPECULATORS FIND MARKET PLAY GROUND

New York, June 4.—(AP)—The stock market, once the preserve of big business, has become the speculative playground of the world.

Actors and automobile salesmen, bankers and bootblacks, college professors and clerks, doctors and doormen, society matrons and stenographers—rich and poor everywhere—have put their surplus funds or savings into securities and created the greatest stock market in the history of Wall Street.

Stock market gossip has become a common subject of conversation over countless dinner and bridge tables, on passenger steamships, in pullmans and in numerous other places, in many of which stocks or bonds were seldom mentioned before the present big bull market broke its way into the front pages of the newspapers. ## SOUTHERN CROSS SPEEDING SOUTH OF EQUATOR TODAY BOUND FOR FIJI ISLANDS

turbance and ten minutes later sent out the following message: "We are gaining altitude, going up near 2,000 feet."

One half hour later, at 9 p. m., the plane radioed that it was now "dodging about" in an effort to avoid a storm. The plane had gone up to an altitude of 4,600 feet, and was wasting the precious supply of gasoline in the climb into the rare atmosphere when the motors must work harder to maintain speed and stability.

Another message sent out shortly afterward said that the fliers were in the midst of the storm. "We are hitting something. Smith still banking for altitude, first right then left. It's a great game dodging those dark clouds. It's a bit bumpy here now."

A race between the plane and the storm—that was the gist of a message sent out at 6:20 p. m. "It's a race between us and the clouds to the 10,000 elevation. It's going to be a bad night. The motors doing heavy pulling now to 6,500 getting dark."

Canton Island, in the Phoenix group, was at least 500 miles south-east of the plane when the last message was sent out. If the battle with the storm consumed too much gasoline to permit continuing on to Suva, an emergency landing could be made on the island, but those who know Canton Island, say the landing is liable to bring a "crack-up" or wreck to the Southern Cross.

No one lives on the island and even though the ship could make a safe landing it would take at least three days for a ship to transport gasoline in the place so that the plane can proceed.

been to place too much stress upon equipment and buildings and too little stress upon what is taught in our class-rooms. The East Carolina Teachers College, however, is helping to remedy that situation. The educational destinies of North Carolina lay in the hands of our young ladies. I was talking recently to a man who is in close touch with educational matters in North Carolina. He said, "I have come in contact with many graduates of the East Carolina Teachers College and I have yet to find one who has not made a success of her work. That is a splendid record."

"I have told you something of the progress that our state has made. I urge you to put patriotism in your teachings and to inspire a love for North Carolina into the hearts and minds of the children whom you instruct. I urge you to put love into your teaching; a love for humanity as a whole. I urge you to put yourselves into your work—wholeheartedly and unreservedly. Next to the influence of Christ, the greatest influence in this world is exerted by womanhood. You have the power to accomplish great good, to preserve those ideals which we hold dear, to mold characters along the lines which they should take, to make the type of citizens of whom North Carolina will be justly proud."

President Wright, at the conclusion of Mr. Clarke's address, called attention to the fact that the college, during the past year, had been admitted to membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, with an A rating. It has also been admitted with the same rating to the American Association of Teachers Colleges. He called upon L. R. Meadows, secretary of the college board, Miss Davis who has had the commencement program in charge, and several of the marshalls to assist in the presentation of diplomas, certificates and Bibles.

The exercises this morning brought the commencement exercises to a close. A general exodus took place this afternoon as the students left for their respective homes. The year from every point of view, has proved to be the most successful in the history of the college.
