HOOVER AND CURTIS ARE NOMINATED

COMMERCE SECRETARY MADE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE BY THE C. O. L. IN KANSAS CITY

Four-Fifths Of Convention Vote Swings to Hoover Following Withdrawal of Hon. Frank Lowden, Next Leading Opponent.

Kansas City, June 15.—(AP)—The overwhelming choice of his party for the Republican presidential nominee of 1928.

His nomination was voted late last night on the first ballot in a landslide that piled up at his feet nearly four-fifths of the entire vote of the convention. The alliance against him collapsed and scattered and his chief opponent, Frank O. Lowden, withdrew entirely, disappointed and dissatisfied with the party's platform plank on farm relief.

Selection of a nominee for second place was left to today's final session of the big party convocation, called together at noon after Republican leaders had sifted over a score of candidates at numberless confabs throughout Kansas City's downtown hotel sections and had sought the advice of Hoover himself in Washington.

Once it has come to an agreement on the vice-presidential nomination the convention will be ready to adjourn and go home. A few hours before it made its choice for head of the ticket it had completed adoption of a platform modeled on the Coolidge style of political architecture with a few extra buttresses here and there to fortify it against the special strains of this particular presidential year.

How serious the farm relief may be shown everywhere as the delegates prepared to separate. After sending his message of withdrawal to the convention, Mr. Lowden boarded a train for his home at Oregon, Ill., without making a further statement or sending his congratulations to the successful candidate.

Lowden's elimination was followed by the accession of many of his delegates to the Hoover standard, although 74 of the 250 or so that he had credited to him stuck to the captain's ship and voted for Lowden despite his withdrawal. Out of the total of 1,084 votes cast, Hoover had in the end 837 with only 543 needed to be nominated. Most of the rest were scattered among Curtis, Watson and Norris with none of them having enough to match Lowden's 74.

Despite further personal word from President Coolidge that he did not want his name before the convention he was nominated formally by Representative Ralph Cole of Ohio and 17 votes were cast for him—13 from Illinois and four from Ohio.

Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee for the presidency, is one of the few great world war figures for whom peace has meant expansion of power and prestige rather than eclipse.

Whatever fortune may come to him in November, heretofore the feet of a boy orphaned a half century ago in an Iowa hamlet have held consistently to a pathway trending ever more spectacularly upward.

It is not only America that has known Hoover but Burma and Australia and the forest slopes of the Uralis in Russia and the hungered hordes of Europeans for whom he meant food and shelter after the war.

For eight years now he has sat in Washington, most of the time a Cabinet officer constantly on exhibition but yet remaining an unscrutinable figure. He is a bulky man, big particularly as to his hands, with a round face, relieved only by the long rise of his forehead. He is customarily garbed in the quieter shades of blue.

While politicians usually reach automatically for the personal contact, Hoover after years in the atmosphere, withdraws quite obviously when the personal note is introduced. Nevertheless he is a man of warm friendships and of magnetic personality.

Hoover's asset is the fact that he practically always working himself, he meets other people in connection with the job and he deals undeniably well with the problem in hand, most always grasping others' points of view in advance.

Hoover works harder than most people, reads late into the night, and takes his writing most seriously, sometimes bringing out delight.

N. C. FORCES STOOD FIRMLY WITH HOOVER

Withdrawal Of Lowden Caused 13 State Delegates to Swing to Secretary.

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—(AP)—The North Carolina delegation after giving Herbert Hoover 17 of its 20 votes for the Republican Presidential nomination remained here today for the closing act of the 1928 convention—the nomination of a candidate for Vice President. The withdrawal of Frank O. Lowden from the Presidential race found most of the 13 delegates pledged to his support ready to switch to Hoover.

There were three, however, who declared they had come to Kansas City to vote for Lowden and that the withdrawal made no difference to them.

When the vote finally was taken it was cast by Willie G. Briggs, Raleigh attorney, and showed that W. G. Bramham, of Durham, former state chairman, R. J. Harris of Hillsboro and James S. Duncan, of Greensboro, had refused to vote for anyone except Lowden.

"It was a vote of protest," Mr. Bramham said in explaining his refusal to vote for Hoover.

Mr. Briggs, prior to casting the vote for the state delegation, issued the following statement: "Since the name of Frank O. Lowden is not before the convention and the party platform has been adopted most of the 13 men from North Carolina who have been loyally supporting Lowden feel that Herbert Hoover best represents the party principals enunciated for this campaign and ten of them will therefore vote for Mr. Hoover. Three delegates, to wit Mr. Bramham, Mr. Harris and Mr. Duncan, still vote for Lowden."

Kentucky Votes to Stand Behind Governor Smith

Lexington, Ky., June 15.—(AP)—After a day of factional clashes resulting in fist fights, challenges to personal combat, jeering and heckling of speakers, the Kentucky Democratic convention last night voted to pledge its 26 national delegates to Governor Smith of New York.

The disorder was caused, not by partisans of Smith and his opponents, but by leaders of party groups who split last fall when former U. S. Senator J. C. W. Beckham was defeated for Governor by Flem D. Sampson, Republican.

REPUBLICAN STANDARD BEARERS

HERBERT HOOVER

CHARLES CURTIS

Hoover Deeply Grateful Of High Honor Bestowed On Him At Kansas City

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—Secretary Hoover today sent the following message to George M. Moses, chairman of the Republican national convention at Kansas City.

"I have your telegram and I sincerely appreciate the confidence which the party has shown in me and the honor bestowed upon me. You convey too great a compliment when you say I have earned the right to the presidential nomination. No man can establish an obligation upon any part of the American people. My country owes me no debt. It gave me, as it gives every boy and girl, a chance. It gave me schooling, independence of action, opportunity for service and honor. In no other land could a boy from a country village, without inheritance or influential friends, look forward with unbounded hope.

"My whole life has taught me what America means. I am indebted to my country beyond any human power to repay. It conferred upon me the mission to administer America's response to the appeal of afflicted nations during the war. It has called me into two Cabinets of two Presidents. By these experiences I have observed the burdens and responsibilities of the greatest office in the world. That office touches the happiness of every home. It deals with the peace of nations. No man could think of it except in terms of solemn consecration.

"You ask me for a message: 'New era and new forces have come into our economic life and our setting among nations of the world. These forces demand of us constant study and effort. If prosperity peace and contentment shall be maintained.

"This convention, like those which have preceded it for two generations, have affirmed the principles of our party and defined its policy upon the problem which now confronts us. I stand upon that platform. At a later date I shall discuss it fully, but in the meantime I may well say that under the principles the victory of the party will assure national defense, maintain economy in the administration of government, protect American work—farmers and business men alike, from competition arising out of lower standards of living abroad, foster individual initiative, insure stability of business and employment, promote our foreign commerce and develop our national resources. You have manifested a deep concern in the problems of agriculture. You have pledged the party to support specific and constructive relief upon a nation-wide scale backed by the resources of the Federal Government. We will and must find a sound solution that will bring security and contentment to this great section of our people.

"But the problems of the next four years are more than economic. In a profound sense they are moral and spiritual. This convention has sounded a note of moral leadership.

"Shall the world have peace? Shall prosperity in this nation be more thoroughly distributed? Shall we build steadily toward the ideal of equal opportunity to all our people? Shall there be secured that obedience to law which is essential assurance of life of our institution? Shall honesty and righteousness in government and in business confirm the confidence of the people in their institutions and their laws? Government must contribute to leadership in answer to these questions. The government is more than administration; it is leadership and co-operation with the forces of business, natural life in city, town and countryside. The presidency is more than executive responsibility. It is the inspiring symbol of all that is highest in America's purposes and symbol of all that is highest in America's purposes and ideals.

"It is vital to the welfare of the United States that the Republican party should continue to administer the government. It is essential that our party should be continued in organization and in strength in order that it may perpetuate its great principles in our national life. If elected by my fellow countrymen I shall give the best within me to advance the moral and material welfare of all our people and uphold the traditions of the Republican party, so effectively exemplified by Calvin Coolidge. (Signed), 'Herbert Hoover.'"

Lowland Homes Again Menaced By Rising Water

Little Rock, Ark., June 15.—(AP)—A flood weary people again turned from lowland homes to seek a haven with the Red Cross today while five eastern Arkansas rivers sloped over approximately 600,000 acres.

More than 500 families from the rolling foothills of the Ozarks to the delta lands of the Mississippi have fled the wrath of the White, Black, St. Francis, Cache and Little Red rivers and several score more had received warning from weather bureaus.

Most of the refugees were moving on Clarendon and Newport, both levees protected towns on the White. Red Cross chapters there were prepared to give emergency relief.

COOLIDGE ARRIVE IN WISCONSIN

Superior, Wis., June 15.—(AP)—The special train carrying President and Mrs. Coolidge to northern Wisconsin for their summer vacation on the Brule river, arrived at the Omaha railroad station here at 8:51 this morning.

Mrs. Coolidge, smiling happily and apparently none the worse for the long trip from the east was photographed from the rear of the train. She was wearing a channel red suit with a tan silk hat.

Mrs. Irvine Lenroot presented her with a large bouquet of roses and was photographed with Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge together with Mayor Fred Baxter of Superior and Mayor S. V. Savage of Duluth. A welcoming committee stretching half a mile from the train greeted the President as he alighted while the Superior public school band in white stood in the background providing music.

Preparations were made to take Mrs. Coolidge on the train to Winnebago, four miles north of Cedar Islands lodge on the historic and picturesque Brule.

Major James F. Coupal, White House physician, thought the train trip would tire her less than the 36-mile automobile ride.

Connecticut Representative Asks for Nomination of Curtis In a Message Read From the Platform Before 3 O'clock

Convention Hall, Kansas City, June 15.—(AP)—Hoover and Curtis. So reads the Republican ticket. In a landslide of proportions even outdoing that in which Herbert Hoover himself was named last night for President, the Republican national convention at its concluding session today selected Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, as his running mate.

East and West and South joined in a tumultuous rivalry to give the tribute and confidence of their support to the swarthy Kansan, of Indian descent, once a jockey, now the leader of his party in the United States Senate. His selection was urged by his Middle West partisans and accepted by the delegates of other sections as a link between the presidential nominee and the McNary-Haugen farm block which was so overwhelming beaten yesterday in an attempt to write the equalization fee into the Republican platform.

Senator Curtis voted for the McNary-Haugen bill which was vetoed by President Coolidge. When the attempt was made three weeks ago to pass the 1928 bill over the veto, however, the Kansas senator voted for the President. He himself had been a candidate for the presidency, with the support of Kansas and Oklahoma to the last.

Although his vice-presidential candidacy had been handicapped by the record of his stubborn resistance against Hoover, his supporters pointed out that he not only announced his allegiance to the standard bearer and platform as soon as the presidential nomination was made, but sent a ringing telegram of commutation to Mr. Hoover.

Like Hoover, Curtis was nominated on the first ballot, and there were only a few scattered votes for others. During the final period of convention oratory set aside for nominating and second speeches other names were submitted, but before the roll call began, every one of them had been withdrawn. Senator Borah, of Idaho, already a convention favorite by virtue of his speech yesterday against the McNary-Haugen farm plank, made the nominating speech and the last of a long series of seconds was delivered just before the roll call began, by Senator Curtis own daughter, Mrs. Leona Curtis Knight, a delegate from Rhode Island.

Mrs. Hoover Would Form New Type As First Lady

Associated Press Staff Writer. With a Republican victory in November, a new type in the long line of President's wives would come to preside as mistress of the White House.

Herself a graduate geologist, Mrs. Hoover adds to her great social gifts a scientific knowledge akin to that of her mining engineer husband. She has not only shared his journeys to farthest Russia and Mongolia but his work and interests as well and is president of the Women's Auxiliary of Mining and Meteorological Engineers of America.

She shares with her husband also a certain pioneer spirit, that her friends have a hundred stories to illustrate. In Tientsin, for example, when as a bride of three months she was caught in the Boxer uprising, she unhesitatingly took charge of the hospital in the American compound. Again, at her home, when an automobile slid dangerously near a precipice, she refused to make any move to escape until she knew the friends who accompanied her were safe.

Born in Waterloo, Iowa, educated in California and widely traveled, she would bring to the White House not only a heritage of culture from a long line of American ancestry, but a practical human knowledge acquired in social contact in many parts of the world. More than this she has a natural simplicity of manner which endears her to innumerable friends and acquaintances. She is admirably fitted for the difficult role of successor to Mrs. Coolidge, whose famous smile has won for her a unique niche among White House ladies.

Something more has in common with Mrs. Coolidge is her college romance. The present first lady met her husband when he was at Amesher and Miss Lou Henry and Herbert Hoover studied geology together at Leland Stanford.

The foundation for that study of geology and for many of the other most characteristic things in her life, such as her frequent camping with her husband and sons, or her leadership of the girl scout movement was the great love for the out-of-doors that she acquired in her girlhood camping trips with her father in California.

"When I was a girl in Monterey," she said recently, "my father and I made camping trips all through the mountains and all my life I have loved them and tried to see as much of the out-of-doors as possible. I used to ride and swim a great deal too."

Essentially a home-maker, despite her many activities, Mrs. Hoover's house with its wide, long-windowed rooms, its porch and garden with untrimmed trees and shrubbery beyond, seem in a sense her own larger personality and her love of the outdoors still shows in the care she gives her garden.

Without the least appearance of hurry or over-occupation, Mrs. Hoover crowds an amazing number of "many other things" beside housekeeping into her own life.

GOLDSBORO PLAYS TWO GAMES HERE

Jupiter Pitarus won out between Greenville and Fayetteville in what was scheduled to have been the final game between the two clubs in this city yesterday afternoon. The god of rain cut loose his sluice gates just about the time the vanguard of sport lovers reached the fair grounds and numbers had the time of their life avoiding seasonable drenchings.

The Godmen left with a single victory to their credit, but this was sufficient to help push the Tobaccoists to the cellar position which Kingston relinquished to Rocky Mount's favor a day or so ago. However, Manager Joliff is sanguine for the outcome of games scheduled for the next two weeks and believed the climb of the Tobaccoists will be steady and unbroken.

Goldsboro came over this afternoon after chalking up a victory over Rocky Mount in the only contest played in the Eastern Carolina circuit yesterday.

With the Manufacturers occupying the next to first place at the top of the standing of clubs column and fighting hard to maintain the position, the Tobaccoists today faced a week-end filled with two of the hardest battles of the week.

Goldsboro came over this morning determined to "carry home the bacon" at any price, and with Greenville equally determined to keep the little old piece of meat at home, one of the outstanding games of the season is anticipated today.

Both clubs have been attempting to strengthen weak positions the last few weeks, and while Goldsboro met with success, a slant at the percentage column wouldn't indicate that Greenville had achieved such a degree of success. Joliff and his followers have some new stuff up their sleeves, however, and this is expected to be brought out most prominently in the two week-end conflicts.

Three Teams Turn In Two Victories Each In "Sally"

(By the Associated Press) Fashion in the South Atlantic Association, prevailing at the present, seems to be winning two games in one day.

In conformity thereof three teams turned in double victories yesterday. Asheville went 14 innings to beat Knoxville 6 to 5 in the first contest.

Watson's fluke homer on a misjudged fly ball had a big part in the 5 to 4 nightcap.

Augusta pitchers allowed Charlotte batters only nine hits in the two games and the Tigers won two shutouts 3-0 and 1-0.

Macon completed the trip of double victories, beating Columbia 4 to 2 and 2 to 1.

Spartanburg and Greenville pulled the only "you first" act of the day, the Spartans winning the opener 7 to 4, through heavy hitting and the Spinners doing still heavier stick work to take the last game 9 to 3.

Winston Snags the Double Bill From Patriots

(By the Associated Press) Home runs in the ninth inning proved to be the winning smashes in two games in the Piedmont League yesterday afternoon. In the ninth frame after considerable bludgeon work by both sides, the score between the Greensboro Patriots and the Durham Bulls slumped one over the fence with Kilpatrick on the path and gave the Patriots the victory 14 to 13. Greensboro rapped out 15 safeties during the afternoon compared with 13 for the Bulls.

Bankston's homer over the right field fence in the ninth inning with three on base gave Raleigh the necessary lead to defeat the High Point Pointers 9 to 6. Although the Pointers gathered 12 safeties, one less than their conquerors, the home run was too much for them.

Winston snagg'd a double header from the Salisbury Colonias 6 to 2 and 4 to 1. Although Taylor gave up five bingles in the first game he was given good support and the Colonias were unable to make them count. One of these was for the circuit clipped out by Jones, Colonial right fielder. The Twins drew first blood in the second game scoring three runs in the third inning. The Colonias put over their only marker in the fourth. Hearn pitched stellar ball in the second game holding his opponents to two hits. His teammates garnered four off Hoffman.

Rogers Hornsby Is Suspended

(By the Associated Press) Charged with responsibility for the bottle throwing that marked yesterday's game between the Braves and St. Louis Cardinals at Boston, Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Braves, today was ordered suspended for five days "for inexcusably bad conduct on the ball field." The suspension was announced by John A. Heydler, president of the National League.

Although aggressive on the field, Hornsby seldom has had serious disputes with the arbiters or conducted himself so as to incur official punishment. The last suspension showing on his record occurred in 1925 when he was set down for three days for a row with Umpire Sweeney at St. Louis during his first term as manager of the cardinals.

CARDINALS NOSING WAY TOWARD TOP

(By the Associated Press) With each passing day the triumphant song of the Red Birds of St. Louis—a symphony of base hits—rings more plainly upon the ears of National League pennant contenders.

His pitching staff again in working order, Bill McKechnie, who once managed the Pittsburgh Pirates to the pennant and then to a world's championship, has the Cardinals headed in the same general direction.

The Cincinnati Reds still were at the top of the heap today out their advantage over St. Louis had shrunk to half a game—three percentage points to be exact.

The Reds lost ground yesterday when they were washed out by Winston-Salem 6-4, Salisbury 2-1 and Philadelphia while the Cardinals were making it four in a row over the Boston Braves, 3 to 2. The New York Giants are finding the western clubs just as tough to beat at the Polo grounds as they were west of the Alleghenies. Still smarting under the sting of three beatings from the Reds, McGraw's men found the Pittsburgh Pirates no more to their liking, the Corsairs pulling out a 4 to 3 victory in 11 innings.

The Chicago Cubs drew up to within six percentage points of the third place Giants by taking over Brooklyn 7 to 3.

In what has been called the American League race, the Yankees came through with a hard fought 4 to 3 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. Tony Lazzeri's homer with two on in the third inning proved to be the blow that gave Herb Pennock his 10 victory of the year.

Three runs in the eighth inning enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to beat Cleveland 9 to 8.

Washington won its seventh victory in its last eight starts by taking Detroit into camp 8 to 3.

Alex Metzler's double with the bases loaded in the fifth gave the Chicago White Sox a 5 to 4 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

McKay gave up but five hits while his opponent was rapped for seven safeties.

COTILLION CLUB DANCE AT GORMAN'S WAREHOUSE TONIGHT AT 10 O'CLOCK

The Greenville Cotillion Club will give its June dance tonight in Gorman's warehouse. Dancing will start promptly at 10 o'clock; the music being furnished by the Hinman-Shaw orchestra. A good crowd is expected to attend as there are a number of school boys and girls home for the holidays.

SUMMER ATTRACTIONS AT THE COLLEGE

The Woman's Club of Greenville will have charge of the advance sale of season tickets for the summer series of entertainments offered by the college.

The series includes eight splendid attractions of various types that will be presented at intervals throughout the summer school. Three very fine entertainments will be had during June and within an interval of five days, so that anyone who is planning to go out of town for vacation will get full value of the season ticket if he gets only these.

The season opens June 22, Friday evening of next week, with the Mamein Sisters giving the same program of dramatic farces that they recently gave in Carnegie Hall at New York City, with the New York Symphony.

The Coffey-Miller Players early in the following week, will give two plays on successive evenings, June 25 and 26, "She Stoops to Conquer" and "A Marriage of Convenience." This company presented two plays here several summers ago and is considered by the college authorities one of the very best dramatic companies it is possible to secure. They have regular engagements every summer to present plays on the campuses of the largest universities and colleges.

The price of these two attractions taken singly, amounts to little less than that of the season ticket, leaving five attractions for the price of one.

In July, a famous violinist, Bernardo Ocko, will give a concert.

In July, the International Singers, a noted male quartette, will give a concert; Bernardo Ocko, the violinist, will fill a return engagement, and Martino-Rossi, a baritone, who greatly pleased the college audience one summer, will give a recital. About the middle of July, Dr. A. M. Harding, a noted astronomer, who once delighted the college audience with his illustrated popular lecture, has an engagement for a similar lecture on July 18. There will be a concert by a fine tenor, Kenneth Dorman, early in August.

All of the above attractions, have been definitely arranged and contracts have been signed for specific dates. All of these are included in the season ticket.

ABOUT TOWN

"Jupiter Pluvius, know in mythological lore as the God of Rain, out loose his sluice gates yesterday afternoon and won the ball game from Fayetteville and Greenville in one of the most pronounced onslaughts of the summer season," said a local fan today.

"It may be this interference on the part of the ruler of the flood gates will have a salutary influence on the part of the Greenville team.
The torrential downpour may have drowned the 'jinx' that has pursued us so relentlessly the last two weeks.
The least we can do is to hope so.

Goldboro came over this morning to complete the week's program.
Heretofore we have found the Manufacturers easy. The majority of fans will hope the same condition prevails when the two clubs tie up at the fair grounds this afternoon.

"The Kiwanis Club, according to announcement mailed out by the secretary yesterday, has something of vital importance to Eastern North Carolina to consider at their meeting tonight," stated a member of the organization today.

"Whatever it is they have to consider is a deep dark secret up to the present time. But as it is of paramount importance to Eastern North Carolina, naturally everybody will be interested in learning what it is.

"The Kiwanians, like other progressive luncheon organizations of the city, are always looking out for the development of the great locality in which they live. They have as their slogan the laconic phrase,
'We Build,' and are forever trying to live up to it.

"With such organizations on the alert for expansion, Greenville has a roseate future ahead—one which the majority of our people are awaiting in impatient anticipation."

"After the Republicans have gotten themselves lined up for the November election, attention of the public will be centered on the Democratic convention to be held at Houston, Texas, in the near future," a political observer mentioned today.

"The last national convention of the Democrats was one of the most spectacular in history. It is confidently expected this year will see more definite and concerted action in the selection of a candidate to bear the party standard in the forthcoming election.

"After it is all over—including the election—everybody will breath a sigh of relief and settle down to another four years' minus political excitement. Elections have to come but they generally are accompanied by a certain neurotic state that everybody is glad to see give way before normality. This year will be no exception, so those inclined to nervousness might as well accustom themselves to the excitement and keep pace with the band wagon until we have another President all set for entrance to the White House."

Pythians Return

They state that it was a very enthusiastic meeting. The following Grand lodge officers were elected:
Grand chancellor, C. F. Gore,

Catawba; grand prel., Rev. L. A.
Hughes, Henderson; grand K. R. R.

The local lodge is expected a large attendance on next Thursday night

tive.

DURANT

BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR THE PAST FIVE YEARS

In May, Durant Plants shipped 18,125 cars, exceeding April by 15.4% and the best previous record since 1923 by over 29%.

This is no chance occurrence—it is a result of consistent gains begun last Fall, when the main plant at Elizabeth,
New Jersey, broke all records for September, October and November.

March, April and May have exceeded the best previous three months' total for all time at the Elizabeth Plant
by 57%.

At the close of business of each of these months there have been more unfilled orders on hand than ever before in the company's history. Even with this record-breaking May production the same condition holds true.

THIS BRILLIANT SUCCESS IS UNIVERSAL

In California*
One of the world's most critical buying markets, the Durant line was FIRST or tied for first place in 72 cities and towns in the month of April; SECOND or tied for second place in 47 cities and towns.

In All States*
Durant showed a gain of 19% for the first three months of 1928 over the corresponding period of 1927 in spite of the lost time due to getting new models into dealer's hands after January 1st.

In Foreign Countries
April broke all previous export sales records, and shipments for the first four months of 1928 showed an increase of 30% over the same four months period of any other year.
Now, May 1928, has surpassed May 1927 by 300%.

*April state registrations are the latest available.

There certainly must be a reason for this continued expression of universal public confidence and approval for Durant

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, June 15.—(AP)—The cotton market was again quiet today with buyers inclined to hesitate, apparently nervous over possible developments in the stock market. Prices were steadier, however, October at one time selling at 20.72, an advance of 15 points from the previous close. Throughout the day there was a noticeable absence of pressure aside from profit taking, and the market felt the influence of numerous complaints of floods in the central belt and of the appearance of boll weevil.

The mid-afternoon market reacted partially from the top under local and New Orleans selling.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 15.—(AP)—Favorable weather northwest and lower Liverpool quotations than due made the wheat market here average lower today. Price bulges which developed on account of rain and hail in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas were transient. Argentine wheat shipments for the week totalled 5,799,000 bushels against 2,189,000 bushels last year. Wheat closed weak 5-8 to 1-4 cent net lower, corn varying from 1-2 cent decline to 5-8 cent advance, oats unchanged to 1-8 to 1-4 cent higher and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

Prize Winning Letter

Below the letter written by Mrs. Burt Burnett on "Why I send my Clothes to the Eureka Laundry."

I know I should send my laundry to the Eureka Laundry, because we live on a farm. There is always so much work to do. We keep busy all the time. We are always rushed with our work. We cannot afford a cook and there is always farm hands to cook for. We have cows to tend to, work our garden, raise lots of chickens, always something about the farm to look after or some farm work where an extra hand is needed for.

By sending my laundry to Eureka Laundry I could have time to help with all the work. It would save so much time and money also.

It is much cheaper to send out my laundry than to have to hire so many other things done. It always takes one day for washing and one day for ironing. By sending it to Eureka laundry I have two whole days for something else.

It is no trouble at all when you send laundry to the Eureka, for they come get them off your porch, and bring them back all laundered and folded so nice, right ready for use. No worry about the laundry and they do it at such a reasonable price. It is much cheaper than I could hire my washing alone done on the lot.

By sending it to Eureka Laundry I could have time to raise pretty flowers, make my home attractive, visit my neighbors, entertain my friends. I could spend my time doing pleasant things I like to do, instead of drudgery. And save money.

COMMERCE SECRETARY MADE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE BY THE G. O. P. AT KANSAS CITY

 ful humor. For fun, he fishes and is displaying an improving technique in the art. His family life, he has a wife and two sons, has been more successfully veiled than that of most political celebrities, through the publicity in connection with his presidential aspirations has pushed it in here of late.

The Republican nominee generally reaches his office, a few blocks from the White House, about nine a. m., but he gets down to real work about 5 p. m., after seeing people all day. That's something of a Washington trick in the higher circles, for many men at the top find they can formulate their decisions best when the doors are closed and the telephone is switched off.

Still another faculty of Hoover is to attach men to his cause with bonds of steel. In every Hoover enterprise—and there are a myriad of them afoot since the secretary of commerce took his job—groups of enthusiastic volunteers work away to top speed endlessly and happily.

He has created lieutenants, inspired and enthusiastic and proud. The ties he creates stand much strain; for behind his habitual impassiveness is most surely a sensitive and tempered nature.

Outwardly the open acknowledgment of his presidential aspirations in 1928 made small difference in the Hoover routine and the campaign organization work was taken in the stride developed by years of piloting great human groups. One sign of the attention he was giving the subject, however, was a new restraint upon all his public expressions.

The assurance that "Hoover is no politician" so frequently voiced in the camps of his enemies has now been tested by the roll call of a Republican national convention but neither opponent nor friend will deny that the campaign disclosed a man with a deep-laid, sagacious and wide flung plan, supported by a legion of competent helpers, grappling with fully comprehended and treated obstacles, for accomplishment on a great scale. He can advertise and organize.

NEGRO SENT TO ROADS FOR ASSAULTING GIRL
 Charlotte, June 15.—(AP)—Walter Hampton, negro, charged with assaulting a 10 year old white girl, late yesterday was sentenced to two years on the county roads by Judge John M. Oglesby, in Mecklenburg superior court.

Hampton was convicted Tuesday of assault on a female. His conviction on the lesser charge resulted from testimony of the child's mother that the negro "only took hold of the child's hand."
