SMITH-ROBINSON NAMED

Democratic Party Candidates Chosen On First Ballots

PARTY STANDARD PLACED IN HANDS OF NEW YORKER AFTER BIG DEMONSTRATION

Only Five States Failed to Rally Behind Smith in the Final Summing up of Activities Last Night.

By BYRON PRICE, Associated Press Staff Writer. Houston, Tex., June 29.—(AP)—The Democratic nominee for President is Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York.

The party standard was placed in his hands by the Democratic national convention late last night, a solitary ballot sweeping him far beyond the two-thirds majority needed to nominate.

Today the convention was called together to complete its work by selecting its candidate for the vice presidency. Leaders among the Smith supporters had been in conference during the early morning hours, and although Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the convention chairman, had been the favorite for second place on the ticket, others also were under consideration.

In contrast to the bitter animosities that surrounded Smith's unsuccessful bid for the Presidential nomination four years ago in Madison Square Garden, impressive gestures of harmony and conciliation preceded and followed his selection last night as the leader of his party. Just before the ballot was taken a party platform, contrary to the usual case, was adopted without a fight in open convention. After the nomination had become a fact, his most active rival for the honor, Senator Reed, of Missouri, went to the convention hall and told the delegates that no one would be more loyal than he to the newly chosen party nominee.

The prohibition issue, which had been intertwined with the Smith and anti-Smith tag of war from the beginning, disappeared from the convention picture almost as if by magic just before the nomination was made. After many hours of debate in committee and sub-committee, a plank was found that satisfied the most prominent of Smith and anti-Smith leaders alike. Composed of but two sentences, it declares the Republicans have not enforced the prohibition law, and pledges the Democratic nominee to make an honest effort for enforcement of that and all other statutes.

Brought to the convention floor with the support of both wets and dries, the plank provoked but a few minutes of discussion and went into the platform without a roll call. Governor Moody of Texas, a member of the platform committee, told the convention he would have preferred a direct endorsement of prohibition as a policy, but in the interest of harmony would not even submit a minority report.

Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, countered that for his part he was willing to take the committee plank even though he preferred local option to federal prohibition. Senator Glass of Virginia, a dry leader and author of the plank, pointed out that it was so worded that the party nominee would have to be found by it regardless of his personal beliefs. Then, in less time than it takes to fill the committee report was adopted with a crashing chorus of approval and only a few scattered "no's."

The only other part of the Democratic declaration of principles to make serious trouble in committee was the farm plank. As finally brought in and adopted, it pledges the party to take immediate and effective steps to deal with the problem of farm surpluses and the rehabilitation of agriculture generally. Some party leaders believe that Governor Smith will make a more detailed announcement on this subject early in the campaign.

A long program of nominating and after the platform was approved and the nomination made to the tune of a long and loud demonstration, the convention stayed on until well after mid-night hearing exhortations to battle. Besides Senator Reed, John W. Davis, the party

LOUISE BOYD TO HELP HUNT FOR AMUNDSEN

California Woman Perfects Plan for Search For Explorer and Five Men.

Oelo, Norway, June 29.—(AP)—An American woman, Miss Louise A. Boyd of San Rafael, Calif., today was actively engaged in perfecting plans for a search for Roald Amundsen and his five missing companions. In the meantime a large Italian seaplane, the Marianna I, piloted by Major Penzo, was hunting for the men between Norway and Bear Island.

The sealing ship Hobby, flying the American flag, will sail from Tromsø on Sunday for Kings Bay with Miss Boyd as an active participant in the rescue expedition. It was understood that she was financing the project.

Miss Boyd, who was the first woman to set foot on Franz Josef Land, had chartered the vessel for a hunting expedition off Greenland. When anxiety over Amundsen grew she offered the ship to the Norwegian government.

SMITH HIGHLY ELATED OVER NOMINATION

New York Governor Listened to Houston Balloting Over Radio and Liked It.

Albany, N. Y., June 29.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith listened on the radio by the entire long convention session which nominated him for the Presidency, and he loved every minute of it.

Although he had seemed nervous during the day a reaction set in after dinner last night. All evening and up until the moment this morning when his nomination was assured he fairly bubbled over with gaiety. A score of relatives and friends were gathered in the executive mansion as the night session began and just as the meeting was called to order the Governor, who up to that time had been resting upstairs, ran into the room like a wild west movie actor, wearing an enormous sombrero presented to him by some anonymous admirer.

Tossing the hat, which he decided was "too heavy for the climate", on to the piano he sat close to the radio beside his daughter Emily, who was prevented from going to Houston as a delegate by illness. As the chairman, having difficulty in getting delegates to leave the tables and take their seats, called to the master at arms to make everyone sit down and if unauthorized persons were in the hall to "permanently expel them" the Governor sang "Out the Window They Must Go."

He gave close attention to the reading of the platform but had several comments to make of a jocular nature.

The plank halted at one place and in an aside was heard to ask for some water, "he can't wait 'till the dry plank comes along," grinned the Governor.

The plank about Bituminous Coal brought from him the question

FRANK LINNEY DIES AT HOME IN BOONE, N. C.

Well Known Republican Leader Passed Away During Early Morning Hours.

Boone, N. C., June 29.—(AP)—Frank A. Linney, former United States District Attorney for Western North Carolina, and a Republican leader in this section of the state for many years, died at his home here early today. He was 54 years old.

Prominent in the Republican party for many years, Mr. Linney opposed the late Governor Eckett as the Republican candidate for governor of North Carolina.

He served as United States District Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina, resigning several months ago when the middle district was formed.

Mr. Linney was born in Taylorsville, Alexander county, and spent the early years of his life there. He was educated at Trinity College, now Duke University.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Baxter Linney, a law student at Duke University, and Kenneth Linney; and two daughters, Mrs. Paul Coffee, of Boone, and Mrs. Mary Frances Linney, also of Boone.

Death was due to a heart attack. Mr. Linney became ill yesterday evening but went to sleep. He awakened about three o'clock this morning and died in an hour later.

He was exactly 54 years of age, having died on the anniversary of his birth.

Funeral services probably will be held here Saturday morning, although definite plans had not been made today.

Mr. Linney was United States District Attorney for Western North Carolina from 1921 to 1927, was the party's candidate for governor in 1926, was mentioned for the gubernatorial candidacy in 1928 and was considered a party leader over a long period of years.

He was known as one of the organizers of the "White" Republican party in North Carolina. One of the defeats he suffered was in 1927, when he failed to get the appointment as federal judge of the new Middle District of this state.

The appointment went to Judge Johnson J. Hayes, of Wilkes county, who was confirmed early this year, after a bitter fight waged against the confirmation of the appointment.

Frank Armfield Linney, the son of R. W. and Dorcas A. Stephenson Linney, was born on a farm in

NEW BRIDGE AT BEAUFORT OPENS TODAY

$750,000 Span Connecting Coast With Mountains Is Formally Dedicated.

Morehead City, June 29.—(AP)—Route No. 10, known as North Carolina's main street running from the coast to the mountains was completed today with the formal opening of the new $750,000 Morehead City-Beaufort bridge.

Dedication exercises today were featured with an address by Governor McLean who accepted the structure for the state. Congressman Charles L. Abernathy presented Frank Page, chairman of the highway commission, who, in turn, introduced the governor.

"Since North Carolina has made a great investment in her highway system," said Governor McLean, "like such railroad system as the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, it is our duty to capitalize on this investment by using the highways, not only as a contribution to the social and educational advancement of our people, but that it may advance our economic efforts."

The governor mentioned the problem of farm produce transportation, suggesting that truck lines be established for the movement of farm products and sea food.

"Trade line should tie up with the inland and coast boat lines," he said. "This extending the scope of markets using products of this section of North Carolina. This, I feel sure, would mean the increase of this source of revenue and eliminate much of the trouble experienced at times by farmers and business houses."

"Completion of the bridge forming a part of highway No. 10, erection of the bridge over Bogue sound from Morehead villa to the ocean proper, and the extension soon of the inland waterway toward the south are all steps which I believe hold out unprecedented promise of progress and development of this section."

Dies With His "Shoes On."
Asheville, June 29.—(AP)—Keeping good his promise that he would never die with his shoes off, John E. Blankenship, 52 years old, veteran of the Spanish-American war, shot himself through the head at his home in Weaverville today. Death resulted immediately. A coroner's jury in an inquest held during the morning pronounced death suicide.

SENATOR FROM ARKANSAS WINS SWEEPING VICTORY OVER SCATTERING FIELD

COURTNEY MAY NOT CONTINUE FLIGHT TODAY

Take-Off From Horta To U. S. Delayed by Damage to Wireless Equipment.

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, June 29.—(AP)—Damage to his wireless equipment made it doubtful if Captain Frank T. Courtney, British flier, would be able to continue on his trans-atlantic flight to the United States today as he had planned.

When the captain's plane arrived at Horta yesterday after a thousand mile hop from Lisbon in 11 hours, it was found that one of the parts of the dynamo giving power to the wireless equipment had been broken. Fred Pierce, mechanic of the plane, was trying to make another part of brass today.

Meanwhile Captain Courtney put in the time cruising off the island in a motor launch to determine the most suitable stretch of calm sea for the take-off to Halifax 2,000 miles away.

The crew of the plane was in good condition today after a night's rest, although the captain said that his right knee was still stiff because of the cramped position in the plane.

FOG BLANKET STILL BLOCKS RESCUE PLANS

Strong North Wind Also Interfers With Operations For Rescue Nobile Party.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 29.—(AP)—A strong north wind and a blanket of fog combined today to block efforts to rescue five survivors of the crew of the Italia and a Swedish airman drifting on an ice floe. The strong wind has brought the floe nearer the land and today the castaways were about ten miles north of Cape Leigh Smith.

Searching expeditions for nine missing members of the Italia's crew were also held up. There was fear that these men would never be found alive and there was considerable speculation as to events which preceded and followed the disaster. Withholding of the news of the death of Vincenzo Pomella for a month by General Nobile and refusal of the men in command of the base ship Citta di Milano to allow newspapermen to question the dirigible's commander have given rise to many rumors. Nobile was also being criticized for coming to safety first, leaving his five companions to endure the rigors of life on an ice floe.

CONTRACTORS GATHER AT MOREHEAD CITY

The state building code, use of convict labor and general business conditions were among the subjects to be discussed.

Permanent Chairman Of Convention Chosen This Afternoon Following Demonstration by Party Members.

By BYRON PRICE, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Sam Houston Hall, Houston, Tex., June 29.—(AP)—The twenty-fifth Democratic national convention adjourned sine die at 1:47 p. m. today after a session lasting four days.

Sam Houston Hall, Houston, Tex., June 29.—(AP)—The Democratic party presents the nation: For President, Alfred E. Smith, of New York; for Vice-President, Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

The ticket was formally placed on the political roster of 1928 today when the party's national convention at the conclusion of its session, overwhelmingly named the Arkansas as running mate of the New Yorker to whom it had entrusted the party standard but a few hours earlier.

The nomination of Senator Robinson was like that of Smith, a smashing, first ballot triumph over a scattered field of rivals. For the past twenty-four hours there had been little doubt of his victory, and at the outset of today's proceedings he left his post as presiding officer of the convention and retired to his hotel while his nomination was being consummated.

Those who first proposed the Senator from Arkansas and Democratic Senate floor leader, to balance off the Smith ticket, argued that he would strengthen the party in both south and west, and that argument went like wildfire. It was in the south that opposition to the nomination of Smith centered until the very end, and it is to the west that both Republicans and Democrats are looking for the answer to their questionings about the farm relief issue.

A big voiced, forceful campaigner Robinson glories in the combat of political stump speaking. He is an active figure in Senate debate where he occupies the same position of titular leadership on the Democratic side that Senator Curtis of Kansas the Republican vice-presidential candidate, has among Republican Senators.

Thus two men who have matched wits and strategy across the party aisle and have remained good personal friends throughout, are to try conclusions in another arena, with the presiding officer's chair in the Senate chamber at stake.

Robinson is a dry, and in his speech as permanent chairman of the convention he warned his party against listening to pleas for a modification in the platform.

In the same speech he started a tremendous Smith demonstration by quoting Jefferson and the constitution in support of religious equality. He supported the McNary-Haagen bill in the last session of Congress and voted to pass it over President Coolidge's veto.

So overwhelming was the landslide for Robinson in the voting today that when his column was added at the end of the first ballot it totalled more than 900 of the 1,100 in the whole convention. Immediately his two nearest rivals, Senator Barkley of Kentucky with 77 votes and Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross of Wyoming with 33, withdrew their names and asked that the votes given them be credited to Robinson. Other changes to the Arkansas Senator came in so rapidly that the tally clerks could not keep track of them, and in the end it amounted virtually to nomination by acclamation.

GOLDBUGS WIN HECTIC GAME FROM LOCALS

Greensboro, June 28.—When "Candy Ball" Smith pasted one a mile high over right field fence in the ninth inning here today, he knotted the score and paved the way for Goldbugs' 3 to 2 win over Greenville.

The Tobacconists forced another across in the 11th and the Bugs did the same with the aid of an error by Bailey, first sacker for the Worms.

In the 12th, Cherry hit George Durham with a pitched ball, and then Bob Durham, who relieved Thomas in the eighth, clouted a two bagger to sew up the game.

It was a pitchers battle from the beginning. Thomas started for the Bugs, was in rare form, allowing only five hits and one run for eight frames. He was taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth, Bob Durham who succeeded him on the mound also twirled stellar ball.

Cherry, flinging them for the Greenies, was almost invincible throughout. He gave up only seven safeties in 11 and a fraction innings.

Smith further added to his laurels by making a shoestring catch in the 12th to cut off a run. Manager Jimmy Teague was the other big man at the plate for the Bugs, getting two singles out of five times at the bat.

Finlator for the Tobacconists also collected two out of five to lead his club. Hits were few and far between throughout the game.

Macon Loses First Place In S. Atlantic

Macon has lost its first place hold on the South Atlantic Association, and Asheville, almost perpetual leaders this season, is once again on top.

The Tourists regained their lost possession yesterday, defeating Columbia 2 to 1. When Smythe bested Mahaffey, in a hurling battle and the Peachers were losing to Knoxville 4 to 1.

Raney had the Goodmen's number, sending them back to the bench time after time with only four hits for a total.

Strain started off a batch of fireworks when he homered in the fourth inning and Augusta scored enough runs to beat Spartanburg 4 to 1.

Both teams played errorless ball. Joe Price's one hundredth hit of the season and Tille Walker's 18th circuit blow led Greenville to a 7 to 3 victory over Charlotte. Jones, Hornet outfielder, also secured a four bagger.

Conklin Blanks Winston-Salem

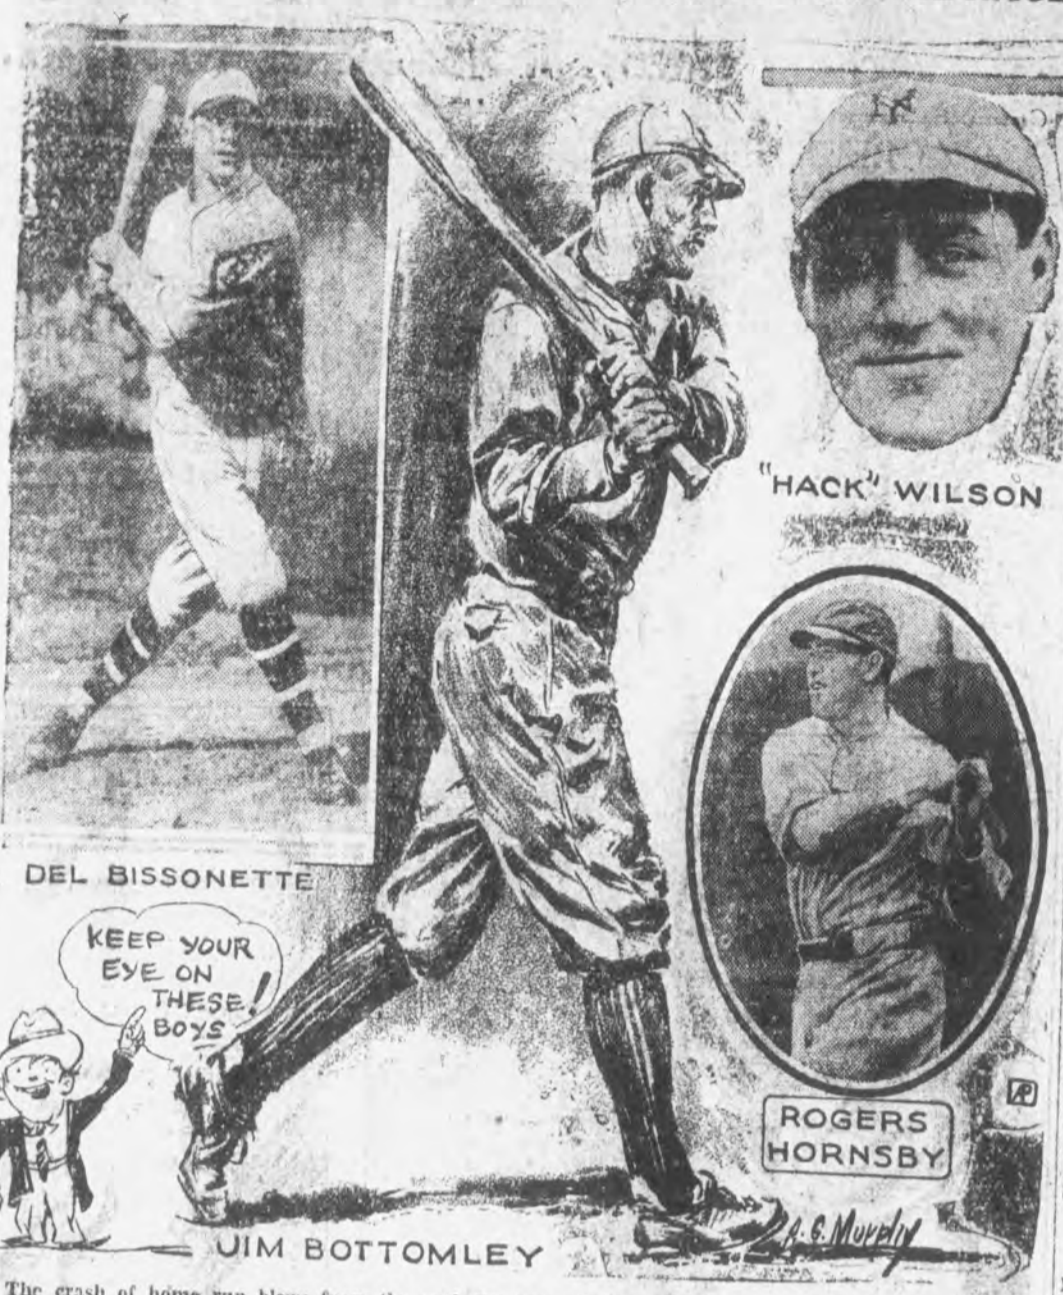

Howard Conklin of New York, stepped into the limelight yesterday when he fed the Winston-Salem Twins to a no run, no hit game and the High Pointers scored 13 tallies. While this loss was costly the Twins continued snugly in leadership of the Piedmont League.

The Pointers hammered Maudy from the box. Dan Boone tapped out a homer in the seventh with one runner on.

Greensboro had little difficulty in blanking the Caps, 8 to 0, for a clean sweep of the series. Sally Barnes allowed the Caps but five hits while Austin got a circuit hit in the fourth, his 12th of the season, with no one on bases.

Salisbury's mound ace, Huffman, gave up a triple, issued two free passes to first base and then hit Kennedy at bat in the 11th inning to give the Bulls a well earned victory, 4 to 3. Fred Tauby clouted a circuit blow for the Bulls' first run.

BATTLE FOR HOME RUN LEADERSHIP ADDS INTEREST TO NATIONAL RACE

DEL BISSONETTE
KEEP YOUR EYE ON THESE BOYS
"HACK" WILSON
ROGERS HORNSBY
JIM BOTTOMLEY

The crash of home run blows from the explosive bats of four mighty sluggers in the National League is heard around the world of baseball these days. Wilson of the Cubs and Bissonette of the Robins comprise the Big Four whose potent bats blast drive stands second in total circuit drive for the season.

New York.—(AP)—Putting inside pitchers on the outside of the park is the business of the Big Four of home run hitters in the National League.

It's a pretty batting race that Hornsby, Bottomley, Hack Wilson and Bissonette are making. It's a race that's adding still greater punch to a gripping pennant contest in the senior circuit.

The four barons of bluff are grouped so closely that when Bottomley and Bissonette were tied for the lead with 15 each the other two were deadlocked for second place with 14 each. Sunny Jim lost an opportunity of helping his rating when one of his four-base blows came in a game that succumbed to rain in the third inning.

Axiomatically the league total of homers has shot skyward and the American League with its master cluster of all, Babe Ruth, stands second in home runs for the season. The National has about 280, approximately 30 more than the American.

A new name in major league baseball is included among the home run brigade. It is that of Del Bissonette, 1927 International League champion. He came to Brooklyn from the Class AA loop with a fine record of having led the league in homers, triples and doubles last year. All pitchers still look alike to Del, and his mighty bat has helped Brooklyn remain a factor in the National League race.

The other three are long distance clubbers of recognized standing, especially Hornsby and Bottomley. Hack Wilson couldn't find the range until he changed from a Giant to a Cub uniform. Hack topped the league in homers in 1926 and hit 36 doubles to finish third in that division. He came right back last year to tie Cy Williams for the home run leadership and to bang out 30 doubles.

It's just the same old story with the Rajah and Sunny Jim Bottomley. Sunny Jim got the heavy hitting complex when he came to the majors to play under Hornsby in St. Louis.

When Jim hit St. Louis in 1923 he found Hornsby in the midst of a batting rampage that carried him to a new National League record for all time—the league batting championship for four consecutive years.

But Jim started taking the old toe hold, and the first year he was second in doubles with 34 and finished second in batting to Hornsby the league pace setter, with a mark of 371. His 14 homers and 31 doubles in 1924 got him nothing but a season's batting average of .316.

Sunny Jim checked in with 44 doubles in 1925 to lead the league and also hit 21 homers and 12 three baggers for a season's average of .387. His 40 doubles gave him the league leadership in 1926, and his 19 homers placed him second in homers in a season climaxed by the Cardinals victory in the pennant race and the world's series.

Last year Bottomley drove out 19 home runs and 15 triples, finishing fifth and second respectively.

As for Hornsby his record comprises just about one batting championship after another. And this year may be one of his best. He is well on his way to his fourth 400 year. He led the league with 42 homers in 1922 and also was first in doubles with 46. In homers and doubles he has been first twice and four times, respectively; he finished second in homers three times.

Hornsby's drive for additional batting and distance hitting honors may be hampered this year by his new managerial duties. If precedent prevails. When he piloted the Car-

YANKS STILL FAR IN LEAD IN AMERICAN

By HERBERT W. BARKER.
A dozen games ahead of the pursuing fleet, the Yankee destroyer steams along confidently and serenely towards another American League pennant.

Every rival club in the circuit bears the scars of battle with the defending champions but none has been more sadly battered than Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics who in pre-season predictions figured to be the only club capable of giving Babe Ruth and Company so much as a run for their money.

For the fifteenth time this year the two clubs clashed in Shibe Park yesterday and for the eleventh time the ultimate victory rested with the Yanks, and as usual, George Herman Ruth was the particular fly in the ointment for Mack's pitchers. The Babe took occasion to smack out his 29th and 30th homers of the season as well as a mere single. Ruth's two circuit drives put him 20 games, 14 days and six homers ahead of his record breaking pace of 1927. The score was 10 to 4.

Sam Gray's effective pitching was the high spot of the St. Louis Browns 5 to 3 victory over Detroit. After losing two to the Boston Red Sox on Wednesday, Washington did a little better yesterday, breaking even in another Twin bill. Sid Sam Jones pitched the Senators to victory 4 to 3, in the opener but the Red Sox pulled out the nightcap, a slugging affray 8 to 7.

Bill Cissell tripled in the ninth inning to score Alex Metzler with the run that enabled the Chicago White Sox to triumph over Cleveland, 3 to 2.

The St. Louis Cards clung fast to their four and a half game lead in the National league race by taking the Pittsburgh Pirates into camp, 4 to 3.

Joe Genewich outpointed Ray Benge and Claude Willoughby as the New York Giants made it five in a row over the Phils. 2 to 1.

BODY OF DROWNED MAN SHIPPED HOME TODAY
Fayetteville, June 29.—(AP)—The body of Shirley B. Nisbet, 22, who was drowned at the C. M. T. C. camp at Fort Bragg yesterday was sent to his home in Lancaster, S. C., this morning.

Young Nisbet, while attempting to qualify in swimming, suddenly went without an outcry. Physicians and life savers worked for four hours in an effort to resuscitate him. It is thought that he suffered from heart disease.

DENIES INJUNCTION AGAINST DODGE MERGER
New York, June 29.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Mulligan today denied the application of Calvin R. Goddard, minority stockholder in the Dodge Brothers corporation for an injunction to restrain the proposed merger of the Chrysler Motor Car Corporation with the Dodge Corporation.

Arrest Several Following Raid On Night Clubs

New York, June 29.—(AP)—The Broadway theatre district was thrown into a furor early today when more than 160 federal prohibition agents raided 15 of the most popular night clubs.

More than 75 arrests were made among the owners and employes of the various establishments and the agents said they had seized a quantity of liquor.

The resorts were well filled with merry-makers as the agents, operating in squads of six and more, descended almost simultaneously upon the places, returns from the Democratic convention at Houston being received at many of the clubs and the raids occurred almost at the same moment that Governor Alfred E. Smith was nominated.

Guests were ordered to leave by the agents who cautioned them to pay their checks before departing.

Announce Merger Of Pierce-Arrow And Studebaker

Buffalo, N. Y., June 29.—(AP)—Formal announcement of details of a merger which will bring together the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company and the Studebaker Corporation was made today.

The announcement was made after a meeting of the board of directors of the Pierce-Arrow Company which was attended by A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker Corporation and other officials.

The basis of the combination, which will merge plants, properties and assets exceeding $160,000,000 involve the formation of a new holding company in which Studebaker will acquire a substantial interest.

Kinston Holds On To Cellar

The Goldbugs continued their spectacular climb up the percentage ladder in the Eastern Carolina League yesterday when Candy Ball Smith pasted one over right field fence in the ninth and knotted the score which paved the way for the 3 to 2 victory over Greenville. The win did not, however, come until the last half of the 12th stanza with two down on a squeeze play.

Kinston remained in the cellar position in spite of the win of 9 to 6, scored over the Fayetteville Highlanders. The stemmers got away with an early lead and maintained this advantage throughout the exhibition.

Frank Witry's drive over left field fence in the second inning accounted for Rocky Mount's victory, 1 to 0, over the Wilmington Pirates. The percentage of the Pirates, who for some time lead the league, has now dropped to .527 or 87 be low the leading Goldbugs.

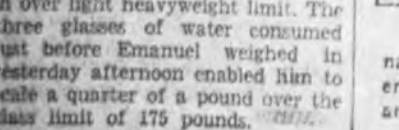

Loughran Wins
New York, June 29.—(AP)—Armand Emanuel, bronzed young battler from the west coast, today smarted under his first defeat in two years, but took consolation out of the fact that it was no less than a champion that gave it to him.

Making his second eastern appearance Emanuel dropped the decision to Tommy Loughran, king of the light heavyweights, in a slow ten round bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

Three drinks of water made the bout a non-titular affair. Originally Loughran had been scheduled to meet Jimmy Slattery in defense of his title but the Buffalo contender suffered an injury in training and was forced to call off the bout.

Loughran then agreed to take on Emanuel but stipulated that the San Francisco barrister must come in over light heavyweight limit. The three glasses of water consumed just before Emanuel weighed in yesterday afternoon enabled him to scale a quarter of a pound over the class limit of 175 pounds.

Coast Guard To Study Unknown Icy Waters

Waters between Labrador and Greenland will be studied by a Coast Guard expedition this summer in an attempt to learn more about icebergs and other marine conditions. In a patrol boat like that at the lower left, the party under Lieut.-Commander Edward H. Smith, will cover the route charted at right.

By COLEMAN B. JONES (Associated Press Science Editor)

Washington. (AP)—A staunch, new, specially equipped Coast Guard patrol boat will leave Boston July 10 with a picked crew detailed to find out something about the vast expanse of ice ridden sea which lies between Labrador and Greenland.

The expedition is being undertaken at the instance of Rear Admiral Frederick C. Billard, commandant of the Coast Guard in the interest of the scientific work of the International Ice Patrol, in which a dozen maritime nations are associated.

He has orders that the best of the service's new 125-foot steel patrol boats be selected for the 4,000-mile voyage and, recognizing the perils likely to be encountered in the practically unknown sea, has directed that the safety of the crew shall be the primary consideration of the officers.

Lieutenant Commander Edward H. Smith, one of the most noted oceanographers in the government service, who has been with the ice patrol for ten years, will be in command. Lieutenant N. B. Rickits, scientific observer of the International Ice Patrol, will be second in command, and the crew of 18 is being assembled from volunteers and members of the Coast Guard selected for good seamanship and scientific inclinations.

From Boston the expedition will proceed to Sydney, Nova Scotia, and then strike out on a voyage which is expected to keep them out of sight of land for the greater part of six weeks or two months. A large reserve supply of fuel oil will be carried on the deck, and three radio sets will be used to maintain communication.

The scientific equipment will include an electric salinity apparatus developed by the Bureau of Standards to facilitate the study of sea water at various depths, and an electric hoist which will permit the frequent taking of samples and temperatures several thousand fathoms down. Heretofore it has been necessary to place the water samples in bottles and wait some time before they could be analyzed, but with the new apparatus this work can be accomplished in about ten minutes.

A special fathometer will be installed on the hull of the vessel to ascertain the contours of the sea bottom by measuring the time it takes a sound wave to travel down and back through the water. Such soundings will be made about every 25 miles and will give the first comprehensive idea ever obtained of the ocean bed in this region.

Not only is a complete oceanographic chart to be sought, but accurate knowledge of the plant and animal life of the sea, the currents which govern the movement of icebergs southward into the shipping lanes and the prevailing wind and weather conditions. This information is expected to be of great value to the hydrographic office of the navy, the Bureau of Fisheries and the Weather Bureau.

These government agencies have been invited to make suggestions to the expedition officers, who will cooperate with the Danish Rikis-Carsten oceanographic expedition, which will be in the same waters during the summer.

Senator Reed Goes Out To Fight G. O. P.

Houston, June 29.—(AP)—Senator Reed of Missouri told his friends who gathered in his room last night after the nomination of Governor Smith that he was going out to battle again to fight the Republicans in the coming campaign.

Despite his strenuous campaign, the senator was in good mood after the balloting as he talked things over with those who have worked with him. Among those who gathered with the senator after the late session were Bennett Clark and Mrs. Genevieve Clark Thomson of New Orleans, son and daughter of the late Champ Clark, of Missouri, who was a Presidential candidate before the Democratic convention of 1912.

Mrs. Reed seemed genuinely relieved. She gave notice that she hoped the senator was finally out of politics. He plans to retire from the senate next March upon the conclusion of his term.

Says Educational Requirements For Law Low in N. C.

Asheville, June 29.—(AP)—Educational requirements to practice law in North Carolina are the lowest of any profession and are even below those demanded of a skilled bricklayer, printer, and the like, it was asserted in reports at the session of the State Bar Association at Grove Park Inn today.

Reading a lengthy report on "Legal Education and the Distribution of Lawyers," A. B. Andrews used statistical tabulations to show the members of the bar that the requirements for admission to the bar in North Carolina are deplorably low. North Carolina ranks thirty-ninth in the nation in this respect, he said.

The bar demands 200 points for admission, according to Mr. Andrews' tabulation, while the medical profession demands 1350 (more than the highest of the bar in any state in the Union). Engineers put their standard at 800, and chiropractors at 600. The educational standard of skilled labor is even higher than that set for lawyers, he said. Attorneys are rapidly moving into the cities, Mr. Andrews said, and at present about 60 per cent of them live in urban centers.

Buncombe county with 156 lawyers leads the state, both in point of number and in proportion to population.

Two counties in the state, Dare and Currituck, have no lawyers at all.

The meeting opened this morning with passing of the gavel from Mark Brown, president of the association, to H. M. Sewell, Republican candidate for governor, of Carthage, for the session.

With the adoption of a platform on the traditional Democratic principles and satisfactory to all factions, and the selection of its standard bearers, the attention of the Democratic party today shifts from the scene of the Houston convention to the country at large where for the next four months the support of the people of the nation in the November election will be sought.

Of course it will be a hard fight in view of the normal Republican majority, but in the long run Right conquers Might and in this case, as we see it, there can be but one answer when the people of the United States go to the polls in November. During the campaign, however, the people themselves must decide if this is to come to pass and such a decision must be reached after hearing the arguments of both parties and a careful study of the same.

On the one hand we have Alfred E. Smith and Joseph T. Robinson, two of the country's outstanding leaders, whose garments have never been touched by the fith of corruption despite their long tenure as public servants. These two Democrats on a platform that pledges literally A GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE PEOPLE AND FOR THE PEOPLE WITH EQUAL RIGHTS TO ALL AND SPECIAL PRIVILEGES TO NONE, are being presented to the voters of the nation by a party that despite its reign even in the most trying periods of our country, has lived up to the principles and ideals set forth by the founders of our nation and has never permitted the hand of privilege and corruption to hold sway in our land.

On the other hand are Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis, presented by a party that during the administration of the affairs of our nation has betrayed its public trust and disgraced it with the greatest public scandals in the history of our country by permitting privilege and corruption to fatten its purse at the expense of the people of our land. It is not necessary here to review the long list of these national scandals at the hands and under the protection of the Republican party. It is but necessary to mention the names of Hoover, Daugherty, Fall, Sinclair, Smoot, Hayes, Fess, Lenroot, Moses and others and the hands of the decent citizens seek their noses to keep out the stench of the scandals of corruption and privilege with which the public records connect all these names either directly or indirectly. Of these men, Herbert Hoover, made the party nominee by the influence and energy of the others, the Republican party is asking the people of the United States of America to give it a vote of confidence and return it to power in the November election that the hand of privilege might continue to rule the land and collect its spoils from the pockets of the common people.

The principles and records of the two parties are as different as white is from black, on the one hand an untarnished record, on the other a record that cannot stand the light of public scrutiny. The decision as to which is most fitted to administer the affairs of our nation rests with the people. What will YOUR answer be next November?

ABOUT TOWN

"Pitt county farmers have four carloads of hogs on feed at this time for sale this fall, according to information given out today by the department of agriculture," observed a well known planter today.

"Eight carloads of finished hogs were shipped out of the county during the spring. They brought in good returns, but not near as good as if the price situation had been more favorable. "Maybe the price situation will be more favorable for the next shipment. At any rate, we will catch the market right one of these days. And then we shall reap the results of our experiment in hog raising."

"About the only thing happening at this time is in Houston, Tex. where the Democrats are holding their convention," offered one of the Reflector readers this morning. "Other parts of the county may be furnishing their proportionate part of the news but it can't begin to compare with that sent out from the Texas city. Everybody is intensely interested in what the Democrats are doing. Nobody will see much peace until candidates have been nominated and the delegates are on their way back home."

"There is one thing about this convention of more than passing interest to Pitt county people. That is the activities of Ed Flanagan and John Holmes, from Greenville and John Holmes, respectively. "W. O. Saunders told a Houston newspaper photographer that a woman kissed Mr. Flanagan, thinking he was Al Smith of New York. It was all a mistake, of course, but Ed is going to have to do considerable talking to convince Mrs. Flanagan of it."

"John Holmes has done so many things that his wife is going to have a difficult time finding anything incriminating about his conduct. Still he and Ed stayed mighty close together at the convention, and who knows but that the same woman who kissed the Greenville delegate, made the same mistake in his case."

"But why bring all this up? It's all a huge joke. Carl Goerch, of Washington, will vouch for it. And everybody knows he is one of the most veracious newspaper writers in this part of the country. "Everything happening at Houston is a result of party heat and certainly personal romances can be looked over. It's all a part of the day's news. Tomorrow will bring something new. Forget it."

"Wow—but the Greenville baseball club is strutting its stuff, to use a little slang of the modern schoolboy," mentioned a fan yesterday, standing in front of the score board in front of the Reflector office, watching with keen interest the game between Greenville and the Goldsboro outfit. "With the lads playing this kind of ball we should find ourselves at the head of the percentage column mighty soon. There is no reason on earth why we should not lead the league like the other clubs. However, we want to stay on top longer than the rest have done. Still, the consolation of staying in the lead is something to contemplate."

"The boys return to the home lot today. They are scheduled to wind up the week with Kingston. Go out and watch them chalk up two victories over their neighbors from Lenox county."

"More money is promised the farmers of this section through the raising of the Cash tobacco plant," according to members of the agriculture department.

"Twenty-five demonstrations of this plant are under way on different farms of the county at this time. Next year no doubt will see many more started. "The grower should give more than passing attention to these

It means more money, and the monetary consideration is what he is in the planting business for. He is certainly not 'out' for his health. "If Mr. Jupiter Pluvius will lay off, we ought to be able to annex two ball games today and tomorrow, firmly declared one of the Tobaccoist followers today, as he glanced at the clouded skies. "The old team is going good now and with proper support they should be able to forge ahead until they stand at the top of the column. FLIGHT OVER SEA DELAYED

Thea Rasche Postpones Trip to go to New York to Sign Some Papers.

New York, June 28.—(AP)—The projected trans-Atlantic flight of Thea Rasche, German flier, has been postponed while she returns to New York from Canada to sign some legal papers in connection with the suit brought by her former backers.

The departure of Fraulein Rasche from Grand Mere, Que., after a minor accident to her plane, the north star, in an attempted take off for Harbor Grace, N. E., gave rise to rumors that the flight has been cancelled. This Mrs. James A. Stillman, her present backer, emphatically denied here.

Through her secretary Mrs. Stillman said that the flight had only been postponed and that efforts were being made to settle the controversy between Miss Rasche and her former backers, Howard W. Harwell and the Hollis Corporation. If these negotiations should be successful, Mrs. Stillman said, the flight might be started from American soil, probably Old Orchard, Me.

Coolidge Finds Line of Battle Defined Today

Superior, Wis., June 29.—(AP)—With news of the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York for the Democratic President of the United States kept for his awakening today, President Coolidge arose to find the battle lines in the forthcoming campaign well defined.

Governor Smith's nomination was reached at the Houston convention long after Mr. Coolidge had retired for the night. The chief executive had been informed, largely through the papers, of the likelihood that the Democratic selection of a stand ar bearer would be reached yesterday but nevertheless he refrained from using the special radio set installed at Cedar Island Lodge.

Following the precedent he set during the Republican national convention, Mr. Coolidge left the radio severely alone during the Houston convale. Mrs. Coolidge at times sat by the loud speaker, but mostly while the chief executive was out on the Brule River on his fishing expeditions. Uninformed by what might be the developments outside of Superior, Mr. Coolidge had arranged his program for today to include a trip to the executive offices here as well as the customary Brule River fishing.

FLIERS BEGIN TRIP AROUND WORLD TODAY

Captain Collyer and John Mears Attempt To Break Speed Record in Globe Flight.

New York, June 29.—(AP)—John Henry Mears and Captain O. D. Collyer, who took off in a seaplane from the battery at 5 a. m., today to overtake the steamer Olympic in an attempt to break the record for the fastest trip round the world, safely boarded the vessel from the pilot boat, 45 minutes later. A wireless message with this news was received here by the White Star Line. The Olympic sailed at midnight.

New York, June 29.—(AP)—In an attempt to break the record for the fastest trip around the world, John Henry Mears, former title holder, and Captain C. B. D. Collyer took off from the battery in a seaplane at 5 o'clock this morning to overtake the White Star liner Olympic, which sailed at midnight.

Mears said he hoped to circle the earth in 23 days. For part of the trip he will use a Fairchild folding monoplane which was shipped on the Olympic and which will be piloted by Collyer.

The present record is 28 days, 14 hours, 36 minutes and 9 seconds made in 1926 by Edward Evans, Detroit sportsman, and Linton Wells, newspaper man. They were bettered by 7 days Mears' former mark in 1923.

Mears declared the object of his trip was not as much to establish a new record as it was to demonstrate the speed and safety of travel when the airplane is coordinated with the steamship. By taking off in the seaplane they saved almost five hours over the Olympic which they hoped to overtake 100 miles at sea.

The schedule called for Mears and Collyer to take off in their plane at Cherbourg for Paris, then to Berlin, to Moscow, then across Siberia, stopping at Kourgan, Kraconars, and Chiba, then to Mukden, China, to Tokyo, where they will again take to a steamship for the trip across the Pacific.

Prior to their departure the men were handed two tiny envelopes which contained two new shiny dimes with a card reading, "With the compliments of John D. Rockefeller."

A mascot, "Tall Wind," a white Seelingham dog, will be carried on the trip. It had been planned to take the dog along on the seaplane but the dog was placed on the Olympic before she sailed. The seaplane was piloted by Captain Harry Rogers and make a perfect take-off.

FREEDOM
The greatest of all gifts to man is freedom; that's why the 4th of July is celebrated—it is the 152nd year of American Independence. Freedom was obtained by an Idaho woman who divorced her husband, an auto dealer, who gritted his teeth in his sleep. "Another Gnash." You can gain freedom from worry by installing a Nesco Oil stove this summer. It will do away with the usual hot cooking arrangement. Nesco stoves are economical and easy to operate.

RADIO SET BRINGS CONVENTION NEWS TO SMITH

News from the democratic national convention at Houston brings a smile to Gov. Alfred E. Smith as he listens to the proceedings at the radio set installed in his executive offices. With him are George B. Graves, his secretary; James Mahoney, assistant secretary, and Col. Frederick Stuart Greene, commissioner of public works.

left school five months before the end of his senior year. He studied law, and was licensed to practice in 1876, locating at Boone. He was elected Solicitor of the Seventeenth Judicial District in 1906 and again in 1913. A district elector for McKinley in 1900, he was twice a candidate for Congress from the Eighth Congressional District, in 1914 and in 1918. Meanwhile, in 1916, he was the nominee of his party for governor, and received what, at that time, was the largest vote ever cast in this state for a Republican candidate.

He was chairman of the state executive committee of his party in 1914, 1916, and again in 1918. He served as District Attorney from 1921 to the latter part of last year when he resigned. Mr. Linney married Miss Mary Hresi Matheson, of Taylorsville, in 1900.

When the plank pledging the party's nominee to enforcement of the 18th amendment and laws pertaining to it was read the Governor made some murmured comment inaudible even to those close to him and later he would say nothing about it. He left the room while Governor Moody and Governor Ritchie were speaking and returned just in time for the balloting, followed by his Great Dane, Thomas Jefferson. "Come on over and listen to this, Jeff," he said as he sat down before a tally sheet after listening a moment to the strains of "The Side Walks of New York," his campaign song, being sung on the front lawn by a group of girls from a Catholic school across the street.

As one vote was recorded for him from Alabama he nodded and grinned. "That's one more than I ever got from them before," he said. In announcement of the Arizona vote six votes were reported for "Albert" E. Smith. "They give me six votes and they don't even know my first name," he laughed.

"The Governor kept careful count of all the votes. 'I get all the big babies anyway,' he commented after a time. 'Everything over 30 I get.' But when the name of Missouri was called he said: 'There's one 30 I don't get'. All 30 went to Senator Reed. 'Here's a hard one', he grinned as New York was called 'great suspense'.

Ohio was first reported 48 for Perene and then changed to give Smith one. "Find out tomorrow who that fellow is," the Governor called to his secretary. "Well send him a telegram" it was Ohio later that gave the Governor the nomination on the first ballot by changing its first vote. "There it is," he cried as the change was announced, "Ohio does it."

nominee four years ago, was brought to the convention platform. He told the cheering delegates that the call of the party in 1928 was harmony under the leadership of Smith.

In the final tabulation of the vote by which the New Yorker was chosen, only five states appear as having failed to give the leader at least a part of their support, and one of them was Reed's own state of Missouri, which was blocked by convention rules when it sought to turn the band wagon movement to Smith into a nomination by acclamation. The others were Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and Texas—representing the remnants of what the anti-Smith leaders had once hoped to build into an irresistible bandwagon and anti-Troumany phalanx against the nomination of the New York governor.

The final totals of the official ballot, revised to show switches to Smith after his nomination became inevitable, tells impressively the margin of his victory:

- Smith 819 2-3.
- Senator George of Georgia, 52 1-2.
- Senator Reed of Missouri, 52.
- Representative Hull of Tennessee, 50 5-4.
- Jesse Jones of Texas, 43.
- Chief Justice Watts of South Carolina, 18.
- Senator Harrison of Mississippi, 8 1-2.
- Evans Woolle of Indiana, 7.
- Governor Donahey of Ohio, 5.
- Representative Ayres, of Kansas, three.
- Former Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, 2.
- Huston Thompson of Colorado, 2.
- Governor Elico of Mississippi, 1.
- Not voting, 2 1-2.

It really was Ohio that consummated the nomination. When the first call of the roll had been completed, Smith total stood at 724 2-3, or nine short of the number needed to nominate. But having paid their tribute to their respective favorite sons, a half dozen states were ready to change their votes and get aboard the bandwagon. For several minutes a Presidential nomination hung in the air, while delegation chairmen from all sections of the hall tried to shout each other down in their rival attempts to be first to switch to Smith. Chairman Meecker of Ohio, standing on his chair in the right center of the delegate section, won out and cast for the New York governor 44 Ohio votes where he had but one on the initial roll call.

Mississippi, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas, and Tennessee quickly followed giving Smith votes he no longer needed, and reducing the anti-Smith residuum to but 250 of the convention's total strength of 1,100 delegates.
