POLISH FLIERS LOSE WAY TO AMERICA

BRITISH STEAMER REPORTS LARGE BIPLANE RETURNING TO EUROPE AT HIGH SPEED

Long Overdue at Azores, Without Wireless, and With Only Ships to Report Their Location, Inrepid Airmen Believed to Have Abandoned Trip to America When Virtually Half Way Over.

(By The Associated Press) The Polish fliers Idzikowski and Rubala, having apparently abandoned their attempt to fly across the ocean when almost half way to their goal, were unreported at noon, eastern daylight time today. Ship reports of their position and direction at 9:40 eastern standard time last night and at midnight indicated that they had turned back and at the beginning of the new day were headed in the general direction of the European coast, about 800 miles away.

When no report of their arrival back in Europe had been received at noon today some concern began to be felt as it was generally believed the distance to land ought to have been negotiated in nine hours any way. It was also felt that the plane might reasonably be expected to have been sighted by at least one of 12 ocean liners whose path it should have crossed on its return trip to Europe.

The ship that reported sighting the plane at midnight said it circled about after approaching from the west and then departed in a northerly direction. As a continued effort to the north from where it was sighted would cause it to miss Europe altogether most observers felt that the explanation of the whole matter was that the fliers were completely lost and were wandering the skies in ignorance of their whereabouts. It was felt, however, that if this had been the case, the fliers would have attempted to drop a message to the steamer asking for position and direction.

Comparison of the reports from the two ships that saw the plane showed the fliers had traveled about 250 miles between the two in a northeasterly direction, headed straight for Great Britain.

London, August 4.—(AP)—The possibility that the Polish trans-Atlantic plane Marszalek Pilsudski which started for the United States early yesterday has swung around and is returning to Europe was suggested today by a message received from the British steamer Anakura. The Valencia wireless station reported receiving the following message from the Anakura.

At 12:00 A. M. Greenwich meridian (12:00 P. M. Friday Eastern Standard time) 46:20 north 20:40 west. Airplane approaches from the westward, encircled the ship at a distance of half a mile height 500 feet and disappeared northward flying very fast no signal.

At 2:40 A. M. Greenwich time a biplane was reported by the Norwegian tank steamer Aztec at 42:22 north and 24:08 west. Thus slightly more than two hours after being sighted by the Aztec the plane appeared to have been sighted by the Anakura, having progressed in a northeasterly direction.

So far as known there are no airplanes in the region mentioned by the two ships, except the Marszalek Pilsudski.

The original message sent by the master of the Aztec the phrase "in the direction of 75 degrees" was used. This could be interpreted as in directing that the plane was flying north by east.

The Polish plane carried no wireless and messages from ships offered the only method of gauging her course and position.

If the messages received from the vessels should turn out to have been garbled at the Polish plane in continuing her voyage to the United States, the machine should strike the North American coast some time about dusk.

New York, August 4.—(AP)—The navy hydrographic office today interpreted reports of ships at sea which sighted the Polish trans-Atlantic airplane as definitely indicating that the Polish fliers were headed back toward Europe.

A message received from the steamer Aztec said that the direction of the plane was 75 degrees. Officials (Continued on Page Two)

Two Thousand Drown In Shantung Section

Shanghai, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Chinese reports from Tsinan state that about 2,000 persons in the towns of Anku and Linchu in central Shantung have been drowned in a flood caused by the overflowing of the Tawen River, a tributary of the Yellow River.

The area has been experiencing an unusually heavy rainfall.

MANY LIVES CLAIMED BY HEAT WAVE

Numerous Prostrations Also Reported Along Sweltering Atlantic Seaboard.

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Atlantic Seaboard states today were sweltering in the third day of a heat wave that already has taken several lives and caused numerous prostrations.

In New York City two deaths occurred directly attributable to the heat; in Boston and vicinity three; in Providence, R. I., two and in Erie, Pa., one.

Several lost their lives through drowning in attempts to escape the intense heat, while lightning was responsible for others.

The highest temperature in the east was reported at Limerock, R. I., where the thermometer reached 102 degrees. New York had a high mark of 90, Philadelphia 91, Trenton, N. J., 84, and Boston 95. The humidity at New York was 84 at 8 a. m., and remained high through out the day.

Storms in upstate New York and in Connecticut caused much damage but did little to relieve the heat. Thousands of dollars damage was caused by a thunderstorm at Amsterdam, N. Y., and the light and power service of Waterbury, Conn., was demoralized when lightning struck a high tension power line during a severe storm.

Heat Breaks In West. Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A two-day torrid spell that took 20 lives has been partly broken in the middle west by violent thunder storms. The relief was more damaging than the heat in the vicinity of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, Mich., where high winds that accompanied yesterday's late afternoon storm uprooted some buildings and felled trees and poles.

A temperature of 94 degrees, the highest of the year in Chicago, was recorded at 4 p. m., yesterday, to be followed within a few minutes by a downpour which had washed the mercury down into the upper sixties early today.

Drownings and heat prostrations accounted for most of the deaths in Chicago. There was one death by electrocution during last night's thunder storm.

The heat was general throughout the entire midwest, Ohio, Missouri, Indiana and Michigan reporting temperatures in the nineties.

May Increase Postal Rate To Balance Last Year's Deficit

Superior, Wis., Aug. 4.—(AP)—President Coolidge fears that many of the post rates will have to be increased to balance the heavy post-office department deficit, which has been estimated for the fiscal year 1929. For this contingency he blames Congress to a large extent.

Postmaster General New has reported to the chief executive that his department will probably be $100,000,000 short at the end of the current year. Mr. Coolidge understands that under such conditions it is obligatory, under the law for Mr. New to increase certain of the rates to equalize as far as possible his department's budget.

AL SMITH HAS HECTIC FIGHT AHEAD OF HIM

Democratic Nominee To Confer With Friends and Opponents Next Week.

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—In the seclusion of the Executive Mansion at Albany, Governor Smith not only intends the next fortnight to put into black and white his views regarding the campaign issues, but to confer with various Democratic leaders, among them some who opposed him in the fight for the Presidential nomination at Houston.

As the Democratic nominee along with other New Yorkers, sweltered today with a variety of political conferences on his calendar, he looked forward to moving up the Hudson tomorrow to the State Capitol which, after all, is home.

Once he returns to the Executive Mansion—and his arrival there is booked for tomorrow night after he stops at the National Guard Camp near Peekskill for an inspection—he will face the necessity of rounding out his acceptance speech which will be delivered in two weeks from Wednesday night.

In addition, Smith has requested Senator Walsh, of Montana, to talk over the political situation with him, and is planning to discuss the outlook with others who made a bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Smith himself has not disclosed whom he will talk with before launching into his campaign, but it is expected that an increasing number of party leaders, including those who made a bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination, will be invited to Albany.

Although the Governor has not tipped his hand, he is expected to solicit the advice of such Democrats as George of Georgia; Hull, of Tennessee; Woolen, of Indiana; and others who received votes in the Houston convention for the Presidential nomination. Already Reed, of Missouri, who stood out to the last, has assured Smith that he will carry through one hundred per cent.

Smith has disclosed that he already has requested Senator Walsh, who is a Roman Catholic and a dry, to meet with him for a campaign chat. Walsh is willing, but a date for their conference has not been determined.

In addition to talking over the political situation generally with party leaders during the next week or two, Smith has it in mind to get more light on the farm situation, which he is expected to emphasize in his speech at the ratification ceremony.

Rainbow Special Water Bound At Arnola, Oklahoma

Coffeyville, Kansas, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Missouri Pacific passenger train number 118, the "Rainbow Special," Little Rock to Kansas City, was reported water bound at Arnola, near Wagoner, Okla., today. The train, which was due here at 6 a. m., had not arrived at nine o'clock.

Reports to the division offices of the railroad here said a cloudburst was experienced last night in the section where the train is marooned.

Tracks of the Frisco and Missouri Kansas, Texas, railroads at the same point were also reported to be washed out.

As for the reasons underlying the deficit, Mr. Coolidge points to the various bills increasing postal expenditures which he has vetoed in the past few years and which Congress insisted on passing over his objections. At the last session Congress overrode his veto on two measures, one allowing a ten per cent increase in salary to night workers and another allowing sundry expenses to fourth class postmasters. In 1924 Congress rejected his veto on the general postal day increase bill, which raised by very large sums the expenditures of the department.

HOOVER WILL TALK TURKEY COMING WEEK

G. O. P. Presidential Candidate to Confer With Party Leaders Soon.

Stanford University, Calif., Aug. 4.—(AP)—With preparation of his acceptance address finally behind him, Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential candidate, was ready today to give his full attention to matters of party organization and strategy.

Early next week he will begin a series of conferences with party leaders concerning these questions. Among the leaders will be Chairman Work of the Republican national committee, who will bring first hand reports on the progress of the building of a nation-wide machine for the coming campaign.

Smith has disclosed that he already has requested Senator Walsh, who is a Roman Catholic and a dry, to meet with him for a campaign chat. Walsh is willing, but a date for their conference has not been determined.

In addition to talking over the political situation generally with party leaders during the next week or two, Smith has it in mind to get more light on the farm situation, which he is expected to emphasize in his speech at the ratification ceremony.

Completion of the acceptance address lifted quite a load from the shoulders of the nominee. He has given unusual thought and study to the first message he is to deliver to the voters of the country, and especially to those portions dealing with two subjects that admittedly are of the highest importance in the campaign at this time—farm relief and prohibition.

While some disquieting reports as to conditions in the corn belt have reached the nominee by word of mouth and in private and published reports, the situation in the north-west apparently is giving Hoover little concern. He will be on the ground there himself Aug. 21 to Aug. 23, when he visits his birthplace at West Branch, Iowa. He expects to be able to assess the situation more accurately after his contact with the people there.

At his old home town, the nominee will deliver his second speech of the campaign, and while he probably will not begin its preparation until after his acceptance address, the general belief now is that he will treat the farm relief question at considerably more length than it will be possible for him to do in his speech here next Saturday.

Weather Outlook For Next Week. South Atlantic and East Gulf States: Mostly fair, except for some local afternoon showers in the East Gulf and the Interior of the South Atlantic States, moderately warm most of the week.

ILLECT LOVE DRAMA ENDS IN TRAGEDY

Former Philadelphia Man Held For Gruesome Murder of Barbara Mauer.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Details of a gruesome tragedy in the hills above Hollywood were being gathered from both sides of the continent today by police in an effort to solve the murder of Barbara Mauer, 19 year old Philadelphia girl.

Russell St. Clair Beitzel, once a man of affairs in Philadelphia, stands informally charged with the crime. He has lately been employed by a service organization here.

The nude body of the girl, which bore only a platinum wedding ring as a means of identification, was found in a remote spot yesterday. She had been dead more than a month. The body had been badly torn by wild animals.

The ring, a shield behind which the love affair between Beitzel and the girl had been concealed, was the clue that led police to his door.

The gruesome touch was added to the slaying when the county autopsy surgeon found that the bullet wound in the head of the young woman would not necessarily have been fatal had she been given immediate medical treatment.

Under vigorous questioning, Beitzel told the police he had separated from his wife and his two small sons when he met Miss Mauer whose name he first gave as Barbara Brown, a waitress in a Philadelphia cafe. He became infatuated with her. He confessed that he stole $300 from the safe of the Philadelphia dry goods store of which he was credit manager and the pair came to Hollywood where they lived together.

Then Miss Mauer found she was to become a mother and quarrels followed, the girl asking that he obtain a divorce and marry her. On June 24, he said, while in his automobile in the hills above Hollywood, just a few hundred yards from the spot where the body was found, they had another quarrel and she leaped from the car and disappeared. That was the last time he had seen her, he declared. The day before he had borrowed a gun and gone to the same spot to practice shooting, he said.

Dispatches from Lancaster, Pa., where Beitzel's wife, Mrs. Jean Mellinger Beitzel, lives with their two children told a different story from that of her husband in the events which took place in the east. She said the slain girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mauer of Philadelphia, and that it was the affair between Beitzel and the girl which caused her to leave her husband.

Police are looking for a chorus girl with whom Beitzel is said to have become infatuated. They state that he was seen with her in a cafe on June 27, the day Miss Mauer disappeared.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Miss Barbara Mauer, slain in Los Angeles, was the 19-year-old daughter of a railroad brakeman of this city.

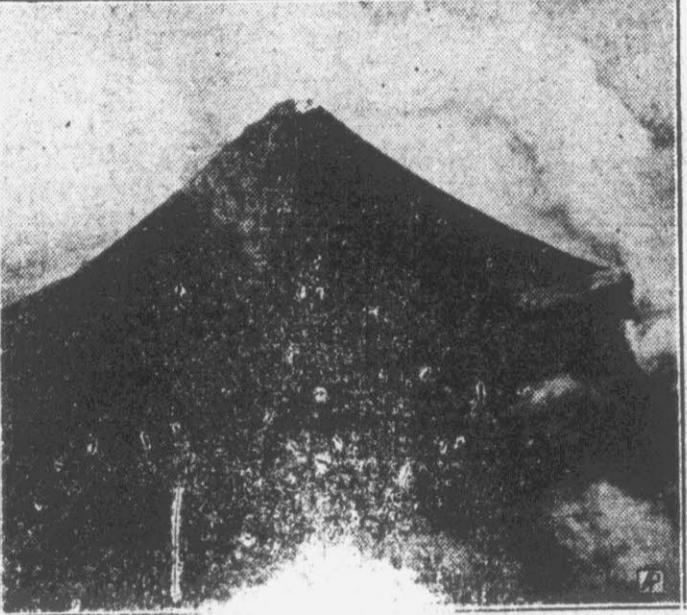

She left here several months ago with Russell St. Clair Beitzel, who is under arrest in Los Angeles charged with murder. Beitzel is the son of Mrs. Catherine Beitzel of York, Pa., and is wanted here on charges of deserting his wife and embezzlement.

Beitzel was assistant credit manager of a Philadelphia department store and, according to police records, fled the city in the summer of 1927 with Miss Mauer, at that time a cashier in the same store. At that time officials of the store said that Beitzel was short $1100 in his accounts and that he also owed an additional $1,000 for articles purchased for himself and Miss Mauer. The girl's accounts were found to be in order.

Presidential Fight To Be Carried Into Every Byway of This Country

Editor's Note: Below is the first of a series of weekly political reviews based on news gathered by the Associated Press. These reviews will appear regularly hereafter each Saturday.

By BYRON PRICE (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—After a season of anxious mobilization, the war-making departments of the two great political parties are preparing to go into action on a national front that has exempted no sectors, urban or rural, east or west or south.

If these preparations come to full fruition, it will be the first time in a generation that a presidential campaign has been carried into the byways of every quarter of the country.

From the beginning, the east has been marked as a battleground, for Democrats saw victory in a combination of east and south, with a few western states, and Republicans in a combination of east and west, with a few border states. Only within the past few days has there appeared definite indication of a serious widening of these programs.

Republican managers, giving ear to the protests of the southern dries, announced an effort to make real inroads on the Democratic south, while the Democratic leaders, including Governor Smith himself, raised a farm relief banner before the eyes of the McNary-Haugen Republicans in the vast stretch of normally Republican states west of the Mississippi.

A real Republican drive in the south and a real Democratic drive in the Republican states of the west would mean battle in almost every state in the union.

A bird's eye view three months before the election shows great popular interest in every section of the country.

Governor Horton Still Holds Lead In Tenn. Primary

Nashville, Tenn., August 4.—(AP)—A lead of close to 3,000 was held today by Governor Henry H. Horton over Hill McAlister for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination as unofficial returns from Thursday primary were practically complete from over the state. While there were four in the race, Horton and McAlister had the fight to themselves from the start.

McAlister's headquarters had not conceded the Governor's nomination today.

Returns from 2,044 out of 2,230 precincts showed Horton 92,299; McAlister 89,334.

McAlister piled up a tremendous plurality in Shelby county and also in his home county of Davidson. The county districts, however on the face of unofficial returns more than offset his advantage.

Horton's home county of Marshall gave him a plurality of more than 2,500 and Franklin county where he formerly lived, added almost 1,000.

Largest Radio In History To Handle Hoover's Address

The ceremonies in the huge stadium of Leland Stanford University will be sent through the air from 84 broadcasting stations in this country and from four or more short wave transmitting stations for reception in the territorial possessions and foreign countries.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The largest radio hook-up in history has been arranged for the broadcasting of Herbert Hoover's speech of acceptance of the Republican presidential nomination to be delivered next Saturday at Palo Alto, Calif.

The ceremonies in the huge stadium of Leland Stanford University will be sent through the air from 84 broadcasting stations in this country and from four or more short wave transmitting stations for reception in the territorial possessions and foreign countries.

The notification exercises will begin at 4 p. m., Pacific Coast time which means 5 p. m., Mountain time; 6 p. m., Central Standard time; 7 p. m., Eastern Standard time and 8 p. m., Eastern Daylight time.

Measles Slow Up. Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—For the first time in several years, the State Board of Health announced today, a day has passed without a new case of measles reported in North Carolina. Daily reports for yesterday disclosed no new case of the disease.

Some party leaders in South Carolina, seeking to hold the voters in line for Smith, have invoked a party rule requiring those who vote in the party primary to support the national ticket. Arkansas has a somewhat similar rule, and Democratic leaders have served notice that they will enforce it. An effort in the same direction is proposed in Florida.

Texas has furnished the nearest approach to a showdown between Smith and Anti-Smith Democrats. In a recent primary, every candidate for state office who had refused to support Smith failed of the nomination, in most cases by great majorities. One Oklahoma Democratic leader, former Senator Owen, has gone over openly to the Hoover camp. In North Carolina, Senator Simmons has resigned from the national committee and has declared (Continued on Page Two)

SEAMAN TELLS OF RESCUE OF BRITISH FLIER

Capt. Claret Gives Vivid Description of Finding Courtney in Mid-Ocean.

New York, August 4.—(AP)—A graphic story of the liner Minnewaska's rescue at sea of the flying boat Whale and its crew of four is told in a radio message from its Captain Frank H. Claret.

Captain Claret, in a message to the liner's owner, the Atlantic Transport Company, described in terse seaman's language how he steered 341 miles off his course and searched the seas from early Thursday morning until dusk before he found the disabled seaplane and took Captain Frank T. Courtney and his crew aboard.

The plane had been forced down about 600 miles west of the Azores by fire on its attempt flight from the Azores to New Foundland. Captain Claret reported the engine room was burned out and the wireless battery exhausted so that the plane was abandoned as it was impractical to salvage it.

The Minnewaska with Captain Courtney and his companions is due to arrive in New York Monday. "Our small part," radioed Captain Claret, was as follows: "Picked up SOS Thursday morning. Raced to position. Instituted search without result until 1 P. M. When amended position of plane was received. Course then altered for new position, which reached 5 P. M. but no plane visible.

"Estimated plane drifted eastward due to Gulf Stream and western winds. Started east 10 miles when plane was observed distant about nine miles to eastward.

"Reached plane 8:48 P. M., found riding easily on gentle swells. Engine room burned out. Wireless battery exhausted.

"Sent boat away which returned to ship 7:00 P. M., with brave fire but cheerless survivors. All well. Impractical to save plane. Night falling. Abandoned with consent of owner. He willing to test its seaworthiness. Our diversions from track totaled 341 miles. Rescue aided by ideal weather, conditions and extreme visibility. Inundated with requests from press for story and photographs. Impractical to reply to all."

Chance Vought, of New York, manufacturer and designer of navy seaplanes, commenting on accounts of the accident, said he understood the fire in the plane was caused by the breaking of a fuel line near the exhaust and said this might easily occur in planes of that type.

In most planes, he said the fuel lines are all behind the engine, but in planes of the Whale type the engines are mounted above the wing and the body of the plane and the fuel lines run up to them.

The engines are mounted on a framework, and if they get out of synchronization they vibrate, and as they are set on a high frame this vibration may become very great.

"This," he said, "is probably what occurred, and when the fuel line broke it was Captain Courtney's bad luck that it had to be by the exhaust. Of course, the fire would start before the break was noticed and they must have worked fast to shut off the fuel and stop the blaze as soon as they did.

"A second fire probably was caused by the first, and must have been in a small spare tank as it burned itself out without doing any great damage, for the main fuel supply in these boats is carried in the hull. And if that had caught fire they would have been out of luck."

Vought remarked that the forced landing showed again that a flying boat can be brought down in the ocean in moderate weather and remain afloat for some time. Landing in the ocean, particularly in a hurry he said is a tricky job. He praised the skill in which Captain Courtney managed it with a fire on his tail.

Pays For Federal Building. Paris, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon was present today when Ambassador Myron T. Herrick handed over a check on the United States Treasury for $1,014,000, completing the payment on the place De La Concorde site of the American Foreign Service Building. Representative Stephen G. Porter, as chairman of the Foreign Service Building Committee, was also present.

The club is entitled to remain in possession for two years, but is seeking a building for earlier occupancy so as to deliver the club to America earlier.

AFTER HEAVY HOOVER VOTE IN CORN BELT

Republican Leaders Confer Today in Effort to Line up Women's Vote Also.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Seventy-five Republican leaders, principally from the Midwest, sought in conference today the open secret of the Presidential votes of corn belt farmers and the women of the Midwest.

Hubert Work, Republican National Chairman, was to address the conference and talk with agricultural leaders on the problem of insuring a strong Hoover-Curtis vote among farmers of the corn belt and northwest states. Plans for preventing a bolt in a traditional Republican stronghold were expected to command special attention.

Leading the proponents of a campaign to enlist women's votes by means of local "Hoover Clubs for Homemakers" was Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, National Committeewoman from Kentucky and head of the Women's Division of Hoover National Headquarters.

The Republican vote-gathering problem throughout the Midwest was to be discussed by Governors John S. Fisher, of Pennsylvania, and Fred A. Green, of Michigan, and James W. Good, in charge of Hoover's western campaign headquarters here.

Congressman L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, newly appointed leader of a specialized campaign among farmers, last night declared that a Smith victory would take farm relief out of the hands of northern farmers and place it with cotton, sugar and tobacco growers of the south. He denounced George Peek, farm leader of Moline, Ill., who has announced he would support Gov. Smith.

John G. Oglesby, former Lieutenant Governor of Illinois, will aid Congressman Dickinson in the fight to organize pro-Hoover sentiment in the agricultural zone.

Believe Woman Suicide Insane

Waco, Tex., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Authorities today believed Mrs. B. O. Ashworth, 24, was suffering from a temporary insane delusion when she shot and killed Miss Charlie Lawson, 24, yesterday then committed suicide by drinking acid after attempting to force a draught of the liquid down the throat of her 18-month-old daughter.

The act occurred in the office of the Waco News Tribune and Times Herald, where Miss Lawson was employed as a clerk. Mr. Ashworth is cashier of the papers, and was in an adjoining office at the time. He declined to make any statement.

Miss Lawson died instantly with two of three bullets fired from a tiny pistol lodged near her heart. Mrs. Ashworth died an hour later in a hospital with her husband at her side. The baby's throat and mouth were seared but physicians said she was not seriously injured. Other employees could offer no explanation of the act other than temporary derangement. The couple had been married five years. Ashworth is 30 years old.

BRITISH STEAMER REPORTS LARGE BIPLANE RETURNING TO EUROPE AT HIGH SPEED

(Continued From Page One) of the hydrographic office said that this meant that the plane was traveling in a northeast direction which would take it toward the British coast. This interpretation seemed to be borne out in full by the fact that the steamer Amakura reported more than two hours after the Aztec that the plane was about 200 miles further northeast than first reported. The position where the Polish plane was last seen is approximately 800 miles off the French coast.

Paris, August 4.—(AP)—Their lives staked on the performance of a single motor, Major Louis Idzikowski and Kazimir Kubala, Polish aviators, today were presumably winging their way across the Atlantic hopeful of reaching New York by dusk.

"Nitchewo," said Idzikowski hopping off from Le Bourget. The Russian word expressive of "what matters" seemed to sum up the attitude of the aviators as they flew in the face of death determined to reach America.

Since the flyers hopped off at 4:46 A. M. Greenwich time yesterday 11:46 P. M. Thursday, Eastern standard time, on the perilous east to west flight they have been seen only twice over the ocean.

The big cream colored and blue sesquiplane Marszalek Pilsudski was sighted first by a trawler 60 miles off the French coast and about 350 miles from their starting point. They were sighted later 200 miles west of the Azores.

Seeks Aid For China

Sun Fo, Chinese minister of reconstruction and son of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, is in the United States to raise funds for financing railroads in China. He declared the National government will assume full responsibility for public and private loans now in default.

of bad visibility, he said "we shall turn south as soon as we make out land. Even if we are far inland. It is New York itself that we want to reach.

The aviators were sure that they could stay in the air for 56 hours with the fuel they carried. This would mean that their last drop of fuel would be gone at 7:46 A. M., eastern standard time, tomorrow. They thought they would cover between 3,800 and 4,000 miles if they continued on their course and the plane had a cruising radius of more than 500 miles.

"We are thinking of our flight only in terms of success," Major Idzikowski said. "Such a flight means success or nothing. There's no use trying to foresee everything. If an accident happens the chances are ninety nine out of a hundred we are done for.

"We are simply going ahead without considering the possibility of failure."

No radio will ever send out an SOS form the Marszalek Pilsudski. The aviators felt that a set would be heavier than it was valuable.

"A wireless set would slow us up too much," Major Kubala explained, "and it seldom works well on an airplane. We have estimated that its weight would limit our cruising radius by 150 miles.

"We are taking a collapsible rubber boat. But it is not much of a guarantee. We hardly rely on it. It takes too long to pump it up. We should be drowned long before we were able to use it."

The Lorraine-Dietrich 650 horse power motor upon which they stake their lives is the third built up for them after careful experiments on the same model. It did not have a very auspicious beginning. The first one was badly shaken by the terrific vibration and the aviators were forced down on a trial flight at Abbeville, France.

The second motor was that with which the aviators made their 32-hour flight at Istres, France. This time they were forced down because the motor ate up too much oil. They had hoped to remain in the air 40 hours.

The Polish aviators felt confident in their motor.

"We think the Lorraine engineers have perfected it," said Idzikowski. "Our mechanics at Le Bourget have worked heart and soul at it, something more than just routine effort.

"What everything depends on is the strength of the pipelines that feed the motor and keep up circulation of gasoline and oil. There is no way of telling when pipelines are going to be rattled and shaken out of place. The strain on them is tremendous."

Then his thoughts turned to the ## Notice of Trustee's Sale.

Default having been made in payment of the indebtedness secured by that certain deed of trust to me as Trustee for the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company by J. F. Davenport and wife, Blanche F. Davenport, on the 8th day of May, 1926, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Pitt County, in Book K-15, Page 644, I will, under and by virtue of the power of sale vested in me by said deed of trust, and at the request of the cestui que trust, and for the purpose of discharging the debt secured by said deed of trust, proceed to sell to the highest bidder, for cash, at the court house door, in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, at 12 o'clock M., on

ARREST 250 IN NEW BEDFORD TEXTILE STRIKE

Striking textile workers and their leaders were arrested and found guilty of rioting in connection with labor disturbances at New Bedford, Mass., which resulted in the use of national guard troops. The strikers, who had been picketing the textile mills, were sentenced to from two to six months terms in the workhouse. Police are shown loading strikers into vans.

PRESIDENTIAL FIGHT TO BE CARRIED INTO EVERY BIWAY OF THIS COUNTRY

Throughout most of the east the campaign still is quiescent, and in the west political activity has been apparent only in widely scattered sections. For the moment at least, last Thursday's conference between Governor Smith and George N. Peek, head of the farm committee of 22 that backed the McNary-Haugen bill, has given prominence to the farm relief issue.

In the midst of all this activity, it will be news to many that technically the campaign has not yet begun. Officially the Republicans are to go into action a week from tonight, when party leaders gather at Mr. Hoover's California home to notify him formally of his nomination. Governor Smith's nomination at Albany will not take place until August 22.

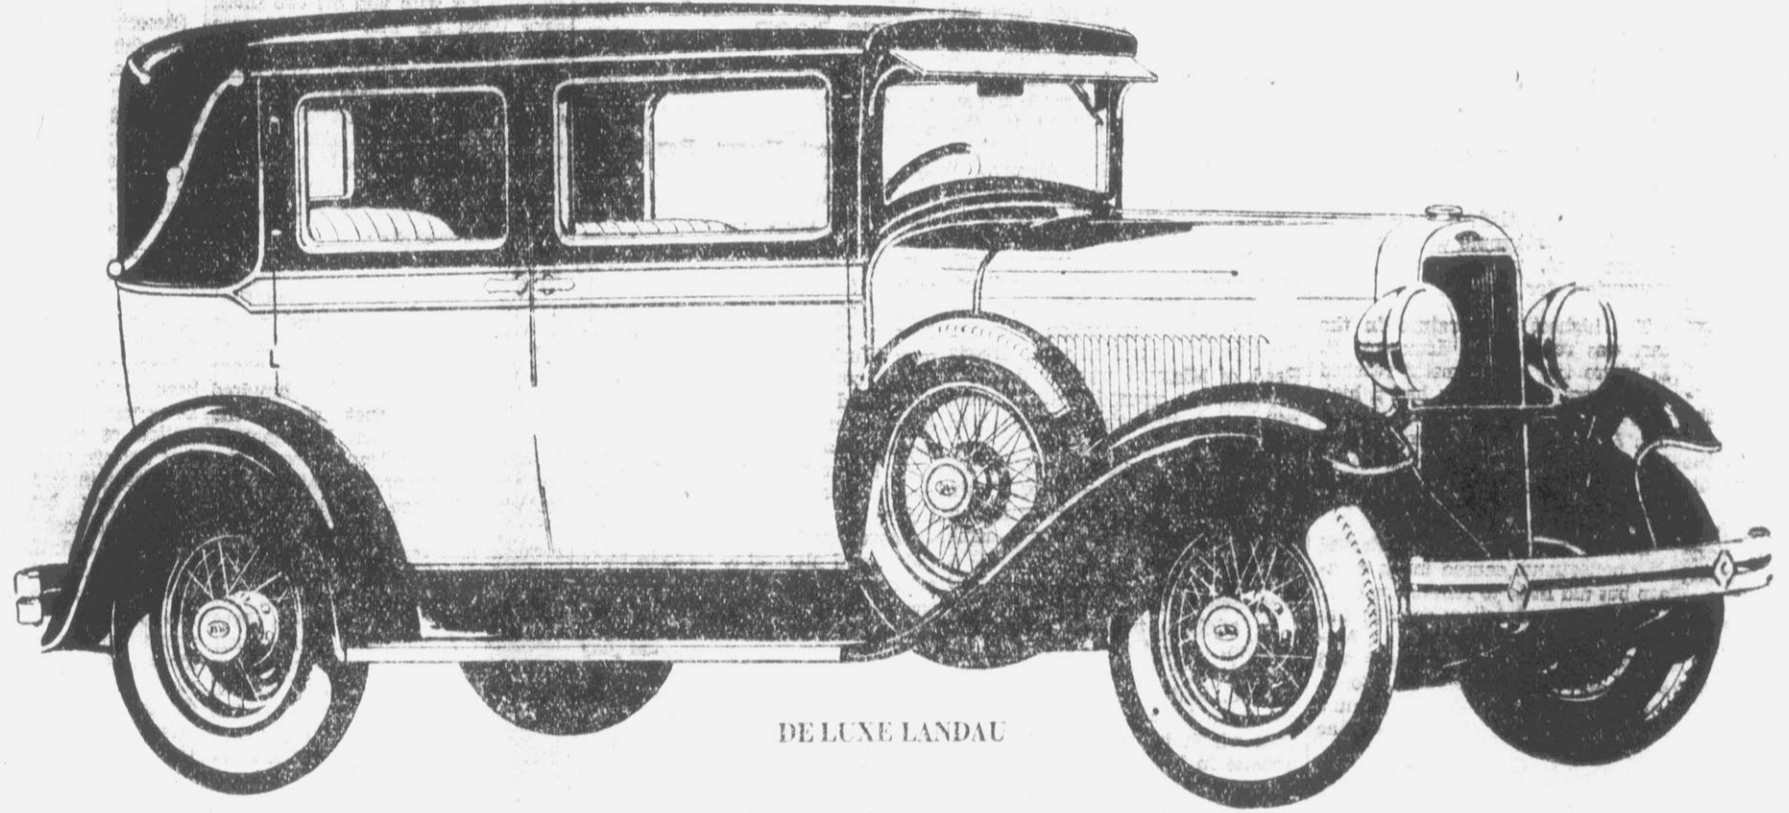

Despite the noise about them the presidential candidates themselves have, in the main, kept in the background and thus followed precedent. Since the conventions Smith has made but a half-dozen statements on political issues, and Hoover even less. The past week has seen both of them on vacation in preparation for the hard weeks ahead. Smith is golfing and swimming on the Long Island shore and Hoover is fishing in the fastnesses of northern California. Neither has announced his campaign plans.

The party managers, for their part, have not been so reticent. Both parties have set up extensive headquarters in several cities. Both have let it be known that campaign contributions will be thankfully received, and that there will be no hesitancy in spending legitimately. Chairman Raskob says "tentatively" that $3,000,000 or so will do for the Democrats, and Chairman Work wants $4,000,000 for the Republicans. If any such amounts are raised it will be the first time in years that both parties have been well supplied with cash.

But if the candidates have been retiring, and the party managers partially so, the voters themselves have made up for them both. Ever since the conventions adjourned, the campaign has been in progress for many of the rank and file. Whereas in other recent presidential years party leaders have gone up and won the ranks seeking to stir the electorate to action, this year groups within the electorate itself have thrown themselves into the fray before the zero hour, while their captains still were cogitating in their dugouts.

Announcing Five NEW DE LUXE OLDSMOBILES

DE LUXE LANDAU

NOW DISPLAYED FOR THE FIRST TIME

THE introduction of five new De Luxe body-types, now on display in our showrooms, makes Oldsmobile more than ever the Fine Car of Low Price.

Never before has the public been offered such incomparable beauty, such voguish smartness, and such princely luxury at such low prices.

Every one of these five new models comes fully equipped with six wire wheels, six tires and tubes, trunk rack, four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers and spring covers all around. The extra wheels are carried in fender wells and securely locked. Head-lamps and all exterior hardware are chromium-plated to assure lasting lustre.

Smart new color combinations of exceptional richness add to the distinctive beauty of these new De Luxe creations.

In addition to these new niceties, new luxuries and new elements of style, you get the fine-car engineering—the big-car comfort and endurance—the brilliant high-compression performance—which have caused unprecedented demand for this new Oldsmobile.

And you now have a selection of twelve attractive body-styles—an advantage heretofore unknown among cars in this low price class.

See these new De Luxe Oldsmobiles today, at our showrooms. You'll agree that they represent the greatest value ever built into a motor car!

Stone Has Even Chance To Get Back To Stage

New London, Conn., August 4.—(AP)—Fred Stone today had only an even chance of returning to the stage whose boards he has trod for more than a quarter of a century as a vaudeville and musical comedy star.

Both legs, his right thigh, left wrist and lower jaw fractured and with sundry other dislocations and bruises he was "doing nicely" in Memorial hospital where he was taken after the airplane in which he was making a solo flight crashed near Trumbull flying field yesterday.

The doctors said only time would tell whether his broken bones would knit sufficiently for him to resume his antics on the stage. They said it might be two months and it might be a year before he could walk again. He is 55 years old.

Telegrams from friends all over the country were pouring into the hospital today, attesting to the affection in which he was held by members of his profession. Rex Beach, the author, came here from New York to be at the bedside of his friend. Mrs. Stone and one daughter, were with him.

Mr. Stone an aviation enthusiast was making one of his first flights alone when the motor failed and the plane nosed down into the ground. He had been taking flying lessons for some time and had hoped to qualify soon for a pilot's license. He already had erected a hangar and leveled off a landing field on his estate near Lyme, Conn.

TOM HEENEY TAKES BRIDE
New Zealand Heavy-weight Married at Spring Valley Thursday Night.

Spring Valley, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Tom Heenev, the solid man from down under, will take a bride instead of the heavyweight crown back home to New Zealand.

Heenev who recently was defeated by Gene Tunney in a match for the heavyweight title, was married Thursday night to Miss Marion Estelle Dunn, of Spring Valley. Miss Dunn gave her age as 24.

The couple drove to Ladentown late Thursday evening where they were married by Justice of the Peace Margulis. They left immediately for an unannounced destination.

Heenev and his bride met several months ago while the rugged Anzac was battling his way through the ranks of the so-called logical contenders in Tex Richard's elimination tournament.

Several times during his training period for the championship fight he visited Miss Dunn here.

Heenev received $100,000 for his fight with Tunney and since coming to this country a year ago, penniless, has shared in several other large purses.

Massive Steel Span Across The Grand Canyon Highest Road Bridge

Opening a vast and little known region to tourists, a great bridge over the Grand Canyon and the Colorado River, shown above under construction, will be completed by Sept. 1. The inset, showing bridge workers at their task almost 500 feet above the water, suggests the great height of the span.

U. S. BUYERS VISIT FRENCH STYLE CENTER

Thousands of Americans Swarm Paris Salons Choosing Creations For Fall.

By HAZEL REAVIS.

Paris, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Thousands of American buyers in willed colors and summer weight suits are daily perspiring through long sessions in guided fashion salons where the seasonal contests between woman-kind and dressmakers who call themselves style creators is going on.

Experience shows that the woman usually lose, as the Paris dressmakers sooner or later put over their composite ideas whether they call for hobble skirts or bustles. Picking winners is not so easy from the retailers viewpoint, however, and buyers spend anxious hours placing their money on "little models" for which Paris demands high prices.

The professional group from America views with alarm the Parisian insistence on velvet for wear around the clock. The head buyer of one of New York's largest retail establishments flatly stated: "American women who are practical souls do not like velvet and never will like velvet." Then he placed a large order for velvet dresses and coats.

Years ago, French dressmakers report, American women felt the same way about Kasha as they do about velvet but all that has changed with time and patience.

Paris takes its velvet plain and printed this season and of pure or artificial silk. The prints are in small light patterns imposed on dark grounds. There are fashioned velvet suits, coats, dresses and sport clothes, the latter in cotton velvet.

Evening dresses in the newest and most Parisian form are made of velvet that is so light and delicate that it resembles chiffon. The models are reminiscent of printed chiffon for summer with extremely uneven hemlines and fluttering draperies often reaching the floor.

Daring décolletes in the back are shown at many houses and it is not unusual to see deep V necks slashed to the waistline where they are draped around the girdle or bodice and arranged in a soft bustle with ends which fall to the floor.

There are sumptuous metal cloth or velvet evening coats lined with the same fine velvet as the dress to make an evening ensemble. Buyers agree Paris has not designed such seductively feminine clothes for many years.

Skirt lengths are the same from the Paris viewpoint although that means longer for the United States where they never dropped in accordance with the Rue De La Paix yardstick of what's what. Four to eight inches below the knee, depending on the knee and the type of dress, is the winter rule generally adopted.

Oklahoma Lady Gives Interesting Account of Long Use of Black-Draught In Her Home.

Sageyah, Okla.—"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of this place. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was especially good to give the children."

"My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea."

"If I found that they were taking cold, I was quick to start giving them Black-Draught, as it helped them to throw off the impurities which caused the trouble."

"My children are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'headache', and have a bad taste in my mouth."

"Black-Draught is a simple remedy for constipation, and I prefer it to others because it is purely vegetable. I always feel better after I have taken a course of it."

A Hen Keeps On Scratching Even If Worms Are Scarce

THEN WHY SHOULD A MERCHANT STOP ADVERTISING WHEN BUSINESS IS DULL?

As you desire and expect the continual, all-year-round patronage of the people of your sales community, just that much you should continue, in season and out of season, your cordial invitation—your advertising—to these customers that they do continue to patronize your store and buy your goods.

If you use only the Christmas and New Years greetings as the limit of your invitation for patronage and for presenting your goods to the public, how can you consistently kick if the community folks read the merchandise offerings in the catalogs and give the mail-order houses their patronage throughout the year, and when they do see your invitation for patronage in the home paper along about Christmas time, patronize you at that time with but a dollar or so purchase?

One is as consistent as the other.

Make your invitations for their patronage so cordial, the descriptions of the goods so alluring, the quality of the offering so high that a gallon of gasoline spent in reaching your store is an investment to them, not an expense.

High sounding words do not alone sell goods. Establish a character for your store—the words of your advertising are truthful, the quality of the goods are dependable—the buying public of your sales territory will have confidence in what you tell them and will know that you are offering the very best merchandise at the lowest possible price.

Do not lose sight of the fact that all men and women love a bargain. And it is also true that a bargain is not always gauged by the price tag. Just as it is harder to get a purchaser for goods from an unknown firm, just that much easier it is to sell merchandise in a store Advertising has made popular.

The more you advertise your store the more popular it will become with the buying public. The more popular your store the more you turn your goods over and the oftener your turn-over, the greater your profits.

ABOUT TOWN

"The league leading Goldsboro outfit came over here and literally took two games from Tommy Abbott and his followers in spite of every bit of science which the wily Tobaccoist manager could bring into play. Kinston did likewise yesterday.

"This would have been all right any other time, but somehow it didn't seem quite so good when we were in the cellar almost beyond the 'berling' distance of the fifth club of the circuit.

"The league will continue little over a month hereafter, therefore, if we really anticipate doing anything, then it is about time for us to get busy and see what we are able to do.

"Of course we do not have the slightest idea of ousting Goldsboro from the enviable first place, but at least we should be able to climb the percentage column until we are within striking distance of second place.

"Come on, Tobaccoists, and let's see what we can do about this thing. Let's wind up the season in a blaze of glory."

"One more month for your vacation and then everybody in this part of the country will be busy.

"When the tobacco market opens on the 28th of this month, people in every walk of life will be busy—with not an instant to spare for anything in the line of play and recreation. If you haven't been off to spend a few days, take our advice and do so now.

"Vacations, it matters not how short, have a tendency of changing a person's perspective as it pertains to work and enables them to begin a fall and winter campaign greatly refreshed and invigorated.

"Before taking your vacation, however, let us remind you of the necessity of taking the Reflector along to make your spare moments pass off more pleasantly. Let us have your subscription at once."

"If you have any refuse in your back yard, Mr. Citizen, put it out on the streets and let the city garbage department know something about it." is the urgent appeal that is by members of the street cleaning department.

"It is our desire to keep the city as clean and sanitary as possible but we cannot possibly do this without the hearty co-operation of men and women in all walks of life.

"Remember what you owe your community and keep your premises clean and right up to the minute. This will not help prevent disease through elimination of germ-carrying insects.

"Call the city street department if your trash is not handled in proper time."

"A wonderful improvement for the city, that playgraph, recently purchased by the Reflector," mentioned a reader of this column today.

"Do they render service? I'll say they do. I never saw one yet that didn't attract two or three hundred people. I feel sure Reflector board will prove just as great an attraction.

"Coming in time to catch the final games of the Eastern Carolina league and the world series, the board will render exceptionally fine service to the people of this wonderful locality.

"The Reflector is to be congratulated upon this improvement."

"Miss Grace Lyonx is head of a company which proposes to take winter vacationists to Bermuda by airplane in six hours," we were informed by an extensive reader who always keeps himself well posted on things pertaining to aviation.

When we failed to profess more than usual surprise, he continued: "It takes three days to make this trip by boat. Airplane service would speed up the length of time taken to make the trip to such extent that hundreds of people who haven't been able to make the trip because of lack of time, would be numbered among the airplane passengers.

"Airplane service will soon revolutionize transportation in this country, and when it has done that life in all the world will be more complex and neurotic than ever before.

"With Bermuda several hundred miles closer than it has ever been before, what would be more natural than to hear of similar trips being arranged to other tourist centers."

"Mr. Totten, director of the municipal playground movement in this city, has announced that tennis and boxing would be included in the program during the final month of play," said a member of the committee today.

"This announcement will be received with more than passing interest by reason of the success of the other sports inaugurated from time to time since the movement has been under way.

"Mothers and fathers of Greenville should be appreciative of the great good accomplished by Mr. Totten and the playground committee. They have found entertainment for numbers of youngsters during the hot summer months, in keeping them away from places and in doing so were instrumental where immorality flourishes regardless of efforts of the law abiding citizens to prevent such activity.

"The playground plan should be

GIVE THEM A STRIPED SUIT

In this day of an ever-increasing number of automobiles the drunken driver is daily becoming more a menace to public safety and the sooner every court in the state decides that it will not put up with it, the better off we will be. The man who will fill up on moonshine liquor, or any other liquor, so far as that is concerned, and then crawl into his automobile and venture forth on the public highways to spread death and destruction in his path, is the worst sort of criminal and behind prison bars is the place for him. It is gratifying to note that three score of such offenders were convicted in the courts during July. Conviction of all such persons with prison or road terms as a penalty will do much toward ridding us of this menace.

WHO IS RUNNING YOUR TOWN?

Who is running this town, the decent people or the sorry ones?

So asks Robert Quillen, noted paragrapher and syndicate writer, in his paper, The Fountain Inn Tribune.

Quillen is disturbed about the moral condition of Fountain Inn, or rather about the freedom with which certain undesirable women of Fountain Inn ply their trade.

But that's Fountain Inn's trouble. Quillen asks a question that may be applicable to every town and city in the country.

Who is running this town, the decent people or the sorry ones?

If the sorry ones are running it, who is to blame? Are there more sorry people than decent people? If the decent people are in the majority, are they demonstrating their decency when they deliberately or carelessly turn the reins over to the sorry minority?

There isn't a town anywhere in which decency and common sense cannot outvote the unworthy. There's one characteristic of decent people that may be admirable. They are usually ready to concede decency to others without inquiry. Another characteristic not quite so admirable is that they are so smug and self-satisfied and contented they never think it necessary to vote together—until it's too late.

Who is running this town, the decent people or the sorry ones?—News and Observer.

Immanuel Stops Rapid March Of The Christians

In as good a game as the Twilight League has played this season from any point of view, the leading Christians lost a well fought game 8 to 7, to Immanuel. In the first inning, the Christians began an attack that seemed likely to sweep the Baptists off their feet. The first five men up reached base but Immanuel came out with only two runs scored. With Respass on third and Holton on first, Holton stole, O'Brian threw to Madrin on second, who let Holton go and pegged back to the plate to catch Respass in a pretty slide. A moment later, on Dixon's grounder to Hardee, Holton was caught by a swift toss to Register, on third. Bullock singled, but Bamber struck out to end the inning.

Immanuel came back in their half to tie the score. Waddell hit, but caught at second on Hardee's tap to West, but the double play failed. Register filed to Dixon, O'Brian walked and Willard doubled over second to score Hardee and O'Brian. Bamber threw Madrin out at first.

West singled in the second, but was picked off at third, O'Brian to Register. Only three batters faced Waddell in the half. The Baptists took the lead in their half. Thomas walked and scored on Waddell's single, but Hardee and Register went out at first and Waddell was left stranded on third.

The Christians evened matters in the first of the third. Hardee nabbed Holton's high fly, but Dixon walked, stole second and scored while Madrin was throwing Bullock out at first. Bamber walked and Nathan Bullock followed him, both to die when West hit to Waddell for the third out. The Baptists came right back in their half. O'Brian singled to start. After Willard's out, Madrin lived on an error and Staton was hit by Dixon. Thomas struck out and Madrin, attempting to make home on a short passed ball, was cut down. Bullock to Dixon. In the fourth, one Christian tally increased the score. Respass, the first batter, hit the first ball for a fly to Hardee, and Holton, who followed, hit the first ball to Madrin for an out at first. Two balls thrown; two batters out. Then Dixon walked, Bullock singled and Bamber walked, Dixon scored, but Bullock was nipped at third.

In their half, Immanuel ran up three runs. Waddell struck out to begin. Hardee picked out one to his base and lambasted it for the circuit. Register singled, O'Brian survived on an error, and Willard

Olympic Champion

Douglas Lowe, young British basketballer, retained his Olympic 800-meter championship at Amsterdam by outclassing a great field of runners which included the American stars Lloyd Hahn and Earl Fuller. Lowe set a new Olympic record.

Finland Wins Steeplechase At Amsterdam

Olympic Stadium, Amsterdam, Aug. 4—(AP)—Finland added another to its list of Olympic running victories today when Toivo Loukola won the 3,000 meter steeplechase championship with Paavo Nurmi second. Willie Ritola quit.

It was the second beating in two days for Nurmi who previously had not been defeated in an Olympic final since 1920. Yesterday Ritola beat him for the 5,000 meter championship, could not keep up the pace and dropped out.

The victory marked Finland's fourth championship of the Olympic games thus far, all being in running events. The others were the 10,000 meter title won by Nurmi; Harry Larva's 1500 meter victory and Ritola's win at 5,000 meters.

Greenvillians Put Ghosts on Long, Long Hop

Yesterday morning, in one of the hottest games yet played on the Patriotic League, the Greenvillians mustered their strength to slip one over on the White Ghosts in the last inning, winning a close 11-10 contest. Green ran up five tallies in the first, but White blanked them in the next two frames and amassed a total of eight, principally on the gifts of the Green pitcher and infielders. Hitting was light on both sides, White making only three singles contributed by Madrin, Powell and Ficklen, and Green totalling but five, including a double by Hodges; Green made a god rally in the fourth, five Villians crossing the pan, but came back gamely in the final frame. Staton, the first man up, hit a liner thru short and tallied a moment later on Douglas Jones fly. Cobb reached first on an error, and scored on Powell's out. Ficklen drew a pass, and Phillips another, but Ficklen delayed too long on third while Ellen was being thrown out at first, and was nabbed at the plate for the end of the White hopes. The first Green batter lived on an error and scored on two successive strikeouts. With a little better luck, Madrin would have retired the side scoreless after the first man reached base.

Today Green had their chance to pass Blue in the percentage column, they will have a firm hold on second place, which otherwise will be shared with the rejuvenated Greenvillians.

Today Green had their chance to pass Blue in the percentage column, they will have a firm hold on second place, which otherwise will be shared with the rejuvenated Greenvillians.

Formby pitched good ball for Spartanburg and Greenville was defeated 6 to 1. Brennan, Spinner third sacker, secured three of his club's six hits.

Craft hit a four baser for the Spartans.

Bean bested Williamson in a pitcher's battle and Augusta dropped Charlotte 2 to 1, the Hornets mounds men allowed only five hits, but three of them came in the sixth inning when both winning runs were scored. Macon bats were active and 18 safeties meant a 14 to 5 decision for the Peaches over Columbia. Hall had four bingles in five attempts.

Asheville Trims Knoxville Outfit

Asheville's victory over Knoxville yesterday meant just another game stowed away for the tourists to some people—but to Bill Harris it was an opportunity for him to take another chip out of whatever he keeps his record of games won in.

There is nothing important in itself but it was number 20 for Bill in the South Atlantic association this season.

The Skylander hurler had easy sailing eleven runs in the fourth inning assured a big score and the final count being Knoxville 2, Asheville 15.

Goldsboro Divides With the Pirates

(By The Associated Press)
Contenders for leadership in the Eastern Carolina League yesterday divided a double header, leaving the Goldbugs high and dry in the se-single. Madrin drove a liner over second, which West reached to touch second, forcing Willard, while Register and O'Brian scored.

Nothing daunted, the Christians came back to tie the score. Nathan Bullock walked and an error gave West another chance. Respass and Holton struck out, but Dixon and Bullock singled, scoring three runs. Bamber ended the inning. The Christians took the field in a little too tense for air-tight play, and with one out, Waddell reached first on an excusable error. He stole second, and scored a moment later bringing in the winning run on Hardee's single.

A mighty good game!

LOCALS DROP DOUBLE BILL TO KINSTON

Returning to their home lot with a patched-up infield, the Kinston Eagles yesterday afternoon took both games of double bill from Tommy Abbott's Tobaccoists. The score of the first game was 7 to 2 and the second game, 6 to 2.

Although playing at an extreme disadvantage because of regular players being out of the line-up, the Eagles showed remarkable offensive and piled up early leads in both games which the visiting Greenvilleans found impossible to overcome. Several times Abbott and his followers showed signs of fire which threatened to break into the Eagles lead, but each time remarkably fine hurling and consistent fielding prevented increase of the score.

Young Henry Spruill, pulled the iron man stunt by performing in both games. He was lifted for a pinch hitter in Kinston's half of the second inning of the night cap. Shoaf, a recently acquired member of the firing line, went the other five innings in good form.

Lefty Emmons played the first sack in the absence of Whitnell, and acquitted himself with honor, both in the field and at the bat. He was credited with batting in four runs of the thirteen amassed by his teammates.

It was the first time this season that Kinston had been able to win a double bill on their home lot, and much interest was manifested in the victories.

Greenville will conclude the series with Kinston this afternoon. Wilmington will open the week in Greenville Monday.

Rocket Car Wrecked. Hanover, Germany, August 4. (AP)—Another of Fritz Van Opel's rocket cars has come to grief. The car was making its first test on a railroad track from Burgwedel to Celle and was derailed at the same spot where the Rak III left the rails on June 23. One Rocket exploded the wrong way and the Rak IV was wrecked. There were no casualties. Further tests were postponed indefinitely.

Babe Can Reach Goal of 600 Homers By Continuing New Pace Two Years

The Big Bam who is hitting 'em harder and oftener than ever before will be within less than 125 homers of his goal of 600 by the end of the season barring unforeseen developments. Last year Babe had the added inspiration of a race with Lou Gehrig, his youthful team-mate. Ruth piled up an insurmountable lead early this season, so Lou is confining his efforts to shorter drives. Lou got 47 in 1927 to Babe's 60. Now Lou has less than half of Ruth's 40.

(By JAY R. VESSELS)

New York —(AP)—Swinging a bat containing as much punch as a club packed with dynamite Babe Ruth probably will end the 1928 season less than 125 home runs short of his goal of 600.

When the Babe hit his fortieth of the season on July 23, he boosted his all-time total to 456 for the 14 years he has played major league baseball. One hundred and forty-seven of these have come during the last three years.

Since Ruth is about a month ahead of his unprecedented performance of 1927 when he laid an even 60 drives into home run territory, the consensus is that he will exceed his record 1927 showing.

By hitting 20 circuit blows during the remaining two months of the season, the Babe can attain a total of 476 homers, or 124 short of the coveted 600. Reaching the goal would be a matter of about two weeks' work at the pace the master slugger has set since the start of the 1927 season.

Ruth is 34 years old. He should be good for three more years of his rather light occupation of chasing flies and swatting home runs. It's a light occupation in Ruth's case because he seems to make his work easier each day. He slams balls out of the park with less apparent effort than ever and he still is able to romp about the outfield with his 220 pounds and make hard ones look easy.

Three years ago with the Babe sick and a bit incorrigible at times, they were despairing of his ever making 400 homers for a life-time total. His 25 in 1925 brought his total to 329. He was beaten out that year by one player and tied by another. The Babe played in less than 100 games and finished with a batting average of .290 the only time in the last 12 years that he hit less than .300 for a season. The outlook certainly did appear dark to everyone except Ruth.

The big slugger came to life in 1926 and checked in with 47 homers. But he struck the best stride of his career in 1927 after signing a three-year contract calling for an annual salary of $70,000. He hit 56, his slugging helping the Yankees take their second successive American League pennant.

His work this year has been no less valuable. In one stretch he hit six homers in six days, meanwhile winning three games on successive days by the sheer force of his big bat. He consistently has led the league this season in runs scored and in runs batted in.

One of the remarkable features of Ruth's slugging has been his persistency in bettering the individual home-run records recognized prior to 1919. When John "Buck" Freeman was a member of the Washington club in the National League in 1899 he hit 25 times for the circuit. For 20 years that feat was carried in the baseball record books as the stellar performance for individual home-run hitting. The nearest approach to it in the two decades was 24 made by Clifford (Gabby) Cravath, then with the Phillies.

In 1919 when Ruth got his twenty-sixth to break Freeman's record, some one discovered that back in 1887 Ed Williamson, playing with the Chicago Cubs, had made 27 home runs. So the Babe proceeded to establish his superiority by bettering by two the record accredited to Williamson, finishing the season with 29. Although Freeman's mark had not been equalled in 20 years, nor Williamson's in 35 years, Ruth has succeeded every year since 1919, with the exception of 1925 in bettering both of them.

YANKEE BATS MIGHTY BUSY DURING WEEK

Chicago, August 4.—(AP)—The Yankees may lose baseball games but "murderers' row" seems to get tougher and tougher. While Miller Huggins and his men suffered the worst week of their season last week, their bats were more active than ever. Unofficial averages for the week up to and including last Wednesday's games reveal:

As they dropped four of their eight games, the Yanks averaged 321 as a team in batting, averaged almost eight runs a game and their hits totalled 147 bases. On defense they committed an error each game on the average and executed nine double plays—a record that most any team in the circuit would be glad to have. Babe Ruth liked his batting average 17 points, while most of his mates did almost as well.

But it was a Senator, "Goose" Goslin, who topped the individual batting race. The "Goose" increased his average from .392 to .399 during the week and was 25 points ahead of his nearest rival, Al Simmons of Philadelphia, whose average declined five points. The ten leaders and their averages: Goslin, Washington .399; Simmons, Philadelphia .373; Gehrig, New York .364; Manush, St. Louis .351; E. Miller, Philadelphia .341; Bettencourt, St. Louis .340; Ruth, New York .337; and Myer, Boston .333. Waite Hoyt of the Yankees held his lead in the pitching honors by winning another game during the week. Hoyt now has won 13 and lost 2. Jack Quinn of the Athletics was second with 13 victories and four defeats. George Pipgras, who held the lead for several weeks, dropped farther from the top, being nipped for two defeats in two starts last week.

While New York increased its team batting by two points to hold the lead in that department, Cleveland increased its hitting mark eight points and was only five points second place, which is held by Philadelphia. Boston took the lead in team fielding during the week from St. Louis with a mark of .974.

Other leaders: Double plays, Cleveland 128; most runs New York 620; Fewest opponents runs, Philadelphia 4520; stolen bases, Mostil Chicago 18; and most individual runs scored Ruth, New York 113.

GIANTS PULL ANOTHER ONE OUT OF FIRE

By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer)

John McGraw's teams in the National League long have been noted for their bulldog courage and the Giants of 1928 are no exception. Many the game McGraw's hirings have pulled out of the fire this season and they did the same thing at the expense of Cincinnati yesterday 7 to 5. Trailing by 4 to 1 in the eighth inning yesterday the Giants took a one run lead by scoring four runs. Frank Hogan's homer being the decisive blow. Nothing daunted, the Reds tied it up in the first half of the ninth only to see Freddie Lindstrom crash out another four base blow with two out and one on base in the last half. Hughie Critz, Red second sacker, hit safely in his 21st consecutive game, a league record for the season.

The Chicago Cubs moved into third place by taking over the Brooklyn Dodgers 8 to 5. The Pittsburgh Pirate tight-ened their hold on fifth place by crushing the Phillies again 14 to 6.

The Cardinals lost no ground for Sherdel held the Boston Braves to five hits and beat them 5 to 1. The American League race remained in status quo as the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics both lost. The Yankees were shut out by Sam Gray and the St. Louis Browns 8 to 0.

The Cleveland Indians snapped the A's winning streak of ten straight games by pounding Rube Walberg into submission, 9 to 5. Billings and Vangilder walked five men in succession in the 7th inning at Detroit and the Tigers bowed to the Washington Senators, 9 to 3, in the final game of the series.

The Chicago White Sox game win streak foundered on the rock of Ed Morris' pitching prowess. The Boston Red Sox scoring a 3 to 1 triumph over Al Thomas.

San Diego, Calif.—Tommy Hughes of Cleveland, won over Raymond Montoya, San Diego (10).

Table showing standings for EAST CAROLINA LEAGUE, PIEDMONT LEAGUE, SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE, SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION, AMERICAN LEAGUE, NATIONAL LEAGUE.

HORNSBY IS WELL AHEAD WITH STICK

New York Aug. 4.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby of Boston, remains more or less safely in the vanguard of the batters in the National League. The St. Louis slugger, who is supreme among the pitchers, but almost all of the other individual honors fall upon the able shoulders of various members of the cardinal array. The St. Louis slugger, in other departments is broken only in home runs where Hack Wilson of Chicago, leads with 24 and in stolen bases where Wilson's teammate Kiki Cuyler, sets the pace with 19.

Hornsby's average, according to figures issued today and including games of last Wednesday, is .368 for 37 contests. Paul Waner, the poisonous pirate, remains a menace to the Boston manager but seems unable to narrow the gap further after having approached to within 16 points of the former champion. The ever Waber shows an even 370 for 95 games.

Other leading batsmen are: Grantham, Pittsburg, .360; Sisler, Boston, .354; Bottomley, St. Louis, .351; Lindstrom, New York, .349; Doughty, St. Louis, .346; Herman, Brooklyn, .342; Roettger, St. Louis, .341; and Haley, St. Louis, .334.

Although Wilson manages to remain in the lead in home run hitting, Sunny Jim Bottomley, of St. Louis, crowds him with 23, and stands ready to rush to the top at any sign of faltering on the part of the Chicago slugger. Bottomley also tops the league in runs scored, with 88; in doubles with 35; in triples with 13, and in runs batted in with 84.

Taylor Douthit has 146 hits, the greatest total of any National League player. At this point, Chicago steps in for the few honors the Cardinals have overlooked.

Larry Beaton added another pitching victory to his string to make his total for the season 17 against only four defeats, the second top also has the amazing record of having finished 20 of his 23 starts. He has been removed from the box as starter or relief man, only three times.

Second to Benton stands the familiar figure of Red Lucas of Cincinnati. Red has won ten and lost three. Burleigh Grimes of Pittsburgh, lead with four shut-outs. The Pirates continue to set the pace in club batting, this time with 305, but the Cardinals remain touch opponents. The St. Louis entry now is second with 302. Then comes a big gap down to the third Giants who have 284.

In spite of their record crop of 128 double plays, the Cincinnati Reds are three points out of the lead in team fielding, where points are hoarded, and slowly acquired. The Cubs lead with .976 against .974 for the second place Cardinals.

COTTON

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The cotton market was quieter today, prices showed a steeper tone on buying which to include some trade demand, but was largely week-end covering influenced by the uncertainty as to the showing of next Wednesday's Government report.

December contracts sold up to 19.65, with the general market showing net advances of 20 to 25 points during the morning. There were partial reactions later and the market closed steady at net advances of 8 to 21 points.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—All deliveries of wheat and December and March corn today outside the season's low price record which had only been established yesterday. Houses with foreign connections were prominent in the selling that weighed the wheat market down, holders of September delivery of corn leading in the selling in the corn market.

Wheat closed heavy 1-1/4 to 1-3/4 net lower; corn 1-4 to 1 down; oats a shade to 1-4 off, and provisions varying from 2 decline to a rise of 20.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Major speculative activity in today's brief session of the Stock Market was again on the upside. Gains of 1 to 4 points were spread over a wide list, with the independent motors, chemical, food and mercantile shares giving the rest demonstrations of group strength.

Uneasiness over the credit situation was reflected in the reduced volume of trading, although the market did not appear to be disturbed by the new clearing house regulations intended to curtail the volume of loans on security collateral. Reports of further improvement in the steel industry and an increase in bank clearings, together with expectations of new motor car production records and increased sales in the last half, helped to maintain bullish enthusiasm.

Chrysler again was the leader in the motor group, rising more than 3 points to 86 1-2 on top of a 6-point gain yesterday.

Pierce Arrow preferred advanced 4 points; Timken Roller Bearing, Packard and American Bosch Magneto climbed 2 to 3 points.

A good demand also was noticed for Coty, National distillers, Union Carbide, Mathieson Alkali, Kroger Stores and Montgomery Ward.

Atlantic Refining broke 5 1-2 points on profit-taking following the announcement of a recapitalization plan, but made up part of its loss before the close. Frank G. Shattuck also yielded to realizing sales.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Textile Heads Will Solve Own Problems

Blue Ridge, N. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Southern Textile heads will solve their own problems of human relations if they can "get the intelligentsia to let us alone" and if legislators will not attempt to dictate the methods of solving human and social problems in the industry, W. M. McLaurine, Charlotte, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers Association believes.

While the intelligentsia may "feel divinely allied to right the wrongs of the world," they are superficial in their thinking, and "their efforts only delay the final solution," he declared in an address here Friday before the Southern Conference on human relations in industry.

Mr. McLaurine deplored legislation growing out of the "false idea" that all social ailments can be relieved by legislation. "These people," he said, may have a certain amount of knowledge, but the manufacturers have "wisdom."

"I believe I am safe in saying that the problems of the textile industry, particularly those affecting the human element, will be solved more readily and more justly if the manufacturers are left to work out the solutions."

Southern textile heads are devoting more attention to social problems than ever before in the history of the world, according to the speaker.

1st Choice of the Nation for 1928!

Over 750,000 Bigger and Better Chevrolets delivered since Jan. 1st!

Acclaimed by hundreds of thousands everywhere as the world's most luxurious low-priced car, the Bigger and Better Chevrolet has enjoyed such tremendous preference on the part of buyers that today it stands first choice of the nation for 1928!

Over 750,000 new Chevrolets delivered to owners since January 1st! The largest number of automobiles sold this year by any single manufacturer! Never has any Chevrolet enjoyed such overwhelming public endorsement—for never has any low-priced automobile combined such impressive performance, such delightful comfort, and such distinctive style.

The power and smoothness of a famous valve-in-head motor equipped with "invar strut" constant clearance pistons... the riding ease assured by 107-inch wheelbase and semi-elliptic shock absorber springs... the safety and ease of handling afforded by big non-locking four-wheel brakes and a ball bearing worm-and-gear steering mechanism... the smartness and luxury of marvelously beautiful bodies by Fisher finished in modish colors—these are among the outstanding reasons why people everywhere have conferred leadership on today's Chevrolet!

Come in and inspect the car that has won such spectacular nationwide approval.
