EVERYTHING ALL SET FOR LEAF SEASON

Greenville Tobacco Market Prepares for Greatest Season in History.

Everything was today reported to be in readiness for the opening of the Greenville tobacco market, Tuesday, August 28th.

With the market goal set at 70,000,000 pounds, the season promises to be one of the most eventful in the history of the industry in this city. Tobacco interests have been busy all the spring and summer with improvements touching every phase of the industry here, and when the shrill voice of the auctioneer begins its monotonous hum, the market will be ready to handle 1,700,000 pounds of bright leaf every 24 hours.

Nine factories and a similar number of warehouses will operate at full blast every day of the season. Two of the warehouses at present time are reaching final stages of construction and will be ready when the curthorn is rung up on what is generally considered will be the greatest of seasons.

The Greenville tobacco market last season sold 61,421,204 pounds of golden leaf for an average of $23.63 per hundred. The total amount paid out by the market was placed at $14,516,293.23.

The warehouse space this year will cover about twelve acres and enables the warehousemen to care for at least 1,750,000 pounds of leaf per day.

The buying companies this year will be the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company; Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company; W. C. Thomas Tobacco Company; Person-Garrett Tobacco Company, who have just completed a large addition to their plant; The Greenville Tobacco Company, who have also only recently completed a large addition to their plant; E. B. Ficklin Tobacco Company; The American Tobacco Company; The Imperial Tobacco Company, and the Export Tobacco Company. The Greenville Tobacco Market is located in the heart of Eastern North Carolina, which raises more tobacco than any other section in the world.

New York, Aug. 15—(AP)—The Antarctic expedition of Commander Richard E. Byrd, which starts from this port next week, will be the most stupendous expedition in the history of exploration and may cost one million dollars.

At the expedition's headquarters at the Hotel Biltmore it was said the cost would not be less than $855,000 and before the expedition returns to this country may reach $1,000,000.

Contributions received to date include $435,000 worth of equipment and $237,543 cash. Costs to be met by the expedition amount to far to $434,000.

Boy Starts Riot At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Aug. 15—(AP)—Charges of inciting to riot have been lodged against Benjamin Weiss, 14-year-old school-boy, as a result of the street fight which occurred between members of the "Workers Communist party" whom he addressed at an open air meeting, and several hundred bystanders.

Police were sent to the scene last night when several persons complained that seditious remarks were being made by the speakers. Upon their arrival they heard one of the speakers being heckled by a crowd of unsympathetic hearers.

At this point Weiss jumped to the platform and made an impassioned speech that started a riot. The meeting was dispersed and Weiss taken to police headquarters. Thomas Pinsky, 30, was arrested as chairman of the meeting.

Greenwood Lake, N. Y., Aug. 15—(AP)—The Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, threatens that if Governor Smith refuses to meet him in debate anywhere except in his church he will hire the largest hall he can find and repeat the sermon which brought on their controversy.

MURDER CASE GETS UNDER WAY TODAY

Fortune Teller And Two Others Charged With Poison Plot Complicity.

Charlotte, Aug. 15—(AP)—Weaving of the net the state hopes will be strong enough to send S. W. Daniels, alias Professor Brandorine, fortune teller, to the electric chair was started in city court here today when Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pressley were arraigned on charges of slaying L. M. Lockamy. Daniels and the Pressleys were the first of six persons arrested here last week accused of having joined in plots to slay unloved husbands and wives.

The persons accused besides Daniels and the Pressleys, are Mrs. L. W. Pridden, Mrs. Lilly Townley and J. H. Moore, a negro preacher. All except Moore are white.

Attorneys for Daniels fought every step of today's hearing bitterly. Dr. L. C. Todd, who this week performed an autopsy on Lockamy's body the first witness after much objection testified that he had found that Lockamy had died of inflammation of the brain that might have been caused by the poison the state alleges Daniels sold to Pressley and his wife.

Mrs. Pressley at that time was the wife of Lockamy. The physician could not say definitely that the poison caused death because Lockamy's body had been embalmed with a fluid containing the same poison alleged to have caused death.

Dr. John Q. Myers, who attended Lockamy in his last illness, said that he could not say definitely what had caused death. He said that he had signed a death certificate giving inflammation of the brain as the cause but that the brain inflammation might have been caused by either the poison or influenza. He asserted that he found no traces of influenza about Lockamy before death.

The big legal battle started when City Detective F. M. Littlejohn, who worked up most of the case, took the stand. Littlejohn identified a can of poison he had found in Daniels' former quarters. Dr. Todd was recalled and testified that he had examined the contents and found them to be poison.

The poison was introduced after a hard legal fight but the real fight came when efforts were made to introduce alleged confessions made by Daniels. His attorneys charged that the confessions had been obtained through fraud in that they said Daniels had been promised that his situation would be improved if he "told all."

The defense, however, was overruled and reading of the confessions started.

ROCKEFELLER 3RD. TO HAVE BUSINESS CAREER

It will be opened September 17.

Young Rockefeller is 22 years old and a senior at Princeton. ## HOOVER HAS EYES SET ON SOLID SOUTH

Republican Presidential Candidate Plans to Speak at Memphis at Least.

Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 15—(AP)—While there is a general notion that Herbert Hoover is devoting most of his thought and attention at this stage of his campaign, to the East and Agricultural Middle West, such is not entirely the case.

Developments in the "Solid South," as the presidential press gets its belated start, probably should as much interest for the Republican nominee as those in any other section of the country. This is due in a measure to reports which were brought to him here at notification time, and also messages which he has received from that section as to the reception of his "acceptance speech."

While it is still too early for him to formulate his plans for the two and a half months remaining before election time, it is fairly certain that he will invade the South, speaking at least at Memphis, Tenn., which was his headquarters during the first phase of his Mississippi flood relief work last year. Whether he will extend his itinerary to take in other cities further southward probably will depend upon conditions six weeks or two months from now. It may be that he will go into Alabama and one or two other states from which he has reports of a growing sentiment in favor of his candidacy.

There will also be speaking engagements in the East, where leaders are urging that he not only deliver a series of addresses, but also make special trips for conferences with state and district managers of the decentralized organization which he has insisted from the first would be set up for the purpose of carrying the campaign into every cross-roads hamlet. These matters he now has under advisement.

Coolidge Sees Hope Of Peace In Kellogg Pact

Wausau, Wis., Aug. 15—(AP)—President Calvin Coolidge interrupted his vacation on the Brule today to bring a message to the Wisconsin American Legion in convention here.

"Adequate defense meant the proper functioning of the entire organic life of the Nation. The foundation of waste and the waster, and on the elimination of slackness and the slacker. It means the coordination of national effort through an adequately trained citizenship, which will result in a scientific production and distribution of commodities that will raise the standard of living around every fireside in the land."

"Another fact which shines forth with a renewed brilliance is that many of the most precious rewards of life do not lie on the side of material gain. We have had a great deal of discussion concerning the injustice of one person going into the service at a very small remuneration, while another remained at home in the enjoyment of very high wages. But I wonder how many of you who put on the uniform and went into action overseas would now be willing to exchange that experience for the few dollars of extra compensation that some one else was able to earn at home during the latter months of the war. Which one is now in possession of the most valuable treasure—the one who was at the front or the one who was securing high wages? By reason of the draft both were doing the duty assigned to them and both lived up to the full requirements of their citizenship. But I think the conclusion must be that the one who was in the pace of greater peril is really in possession of the greater reward. What we found in war we shall continue to find in peace."

The President planned only a short stay here, the arrangements allowing only a little more time than required for delivery of the address and the journey to and from the train.

Within a fortnight of the date on which the international treaty for outlawing war is to be signed, President Coolidge told the Legionists that the Kellogg pact "holds a greater hope for peaceful relations than was ever before given to the world."

In giving his sentiments regarding the forthcoming treaty the fullest expression since the inception of the pact, the President maintained that by taking a leading position in securing this agreement, the United States proved its pacific inclinations toward all nations.

"We have demonstrated," Mr. Coolidge declared, "that when we have said we maintained our armaments, not for aggression, but purely for defense, we were making a candid statement which we were willing to verify by our actions."

The President told the former service men that while "it would be too much to suppose that war has been entirely banished, yet a new and important barrier, reasonable and honorable," has been created to bar it.

"This agreement proposes a revolutionary policy among nations," he said. "It holds a greater hope for peaceful relations than was ever before given to the world. If those who are involved in it, having started it will finish it, its provisions will prove one of the greatest blessings ever bestowed upon humanity. It is a fitting consummation to the first decade of peace."

As to its power to maintain peace, Mr. Coolidge asserted that if the treaty had been in force in 1914, there is "every reason to suppose that it would have saved the world from the ravages of the World War. It is for the purpose of maintaining 'the rule of law' throughout the world as well as this country, to defend ourselves and to meet 'the obligation to resist evil' that the United States maintains an army and navy, the President said. The country's citizens, at home and abroad, would hold the Government 'the obligation to resist evil' the science of national defense."

It would be an attempt to evade bearing our share of the burdens of civilization. For this reason we maintain, according to our resources, our population, our position, and our responsibilities, a moderate Army and Navy based on what we believe to be our requirements for national security."

While the speech was significant because of the time given to the discussion of the Kellogg pact and its relationship to American defense requirements, the President also devoted a share of his address to rectifying the knowledge that had come from the war.

"We saw," he said, "that the individual did not belong wholly to himself, but must respond to the requirements of his government. Adequate defense meant the proper functioning of the entire organic life of the Nation. The foundation of waste and the waster, and on the elimination of slackness and the slacker. It means the coordination of national effort through an adequately trained citizenship, which will result in a scientific production and distribution of commodities that will raise the standard of living around every fireside in the land."

MRS. SMITH PLANNING TO STAY HOME

Wife of the New York Governor Will Not Accompany Him During Campaign.

By MARTHA DALRYDIMPLE (Associated Press Staff Writer) Albany, N. Y., Aug. 15—(AP)—In support of her preached and practiced theory that a mother's place is in the home, Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, wife of the Democratic presidential nominee, announced today that she will not accompany her husband on all his campaign trips.

Mrs. Smith, seated in the formal reception room of the executive mansion that she has made the Smith home, spread her slim hands in a gesture indicating the duties that fall upon the shoulders of the one who takes charge of the sixteen room house that the state of New York gives its governor.

"You see," she said, "all this can not just run by itself, even though everybody helps, somebody has to be here to direct it."

Mrs. Smith believes earnestly that her greatest service to her husband is to make the children happy, and to maintain an easy, comfortable household into which he can step from the welter of state and political business.

She will accompany the governor on his trip to Sea Girt, N. J., on the week-end after the notification ceremonies, and will be with him when he reviews the state national guard regiment. She is still undecided about the traveling with him to Syracuse where he will be at the annual state fair on August 20th.

"I may go with the governor on some of the shorter trips he will make," she explained. "But I am quite sure that I won't take any long trips with him. I can't leave Albany too much of the time."

The blonde curly headed youngsters of her son, Arthur, who are spending the summer with the elder Smiths, bounced into the room while she was talking and gave weight to the words of duty that she was speaking. They made two excellent reasons for her sticking close to Albany.

In addition to finding a lot to do at home, Mrs. Smith is a firm believer in the doctrine of a man's business for a man, she intimated that a woman's presence on the campaign train, as it shot from speaking engagement to speaking engagement, filled with deep, political masculine converse, may not be the most satisfactory company.

"You know how men are when they get all deep in business," and her eyes crinkled at the corners and her mouth curved into a wisely and femininely understanding smile.

As the first lady of New York she is making no particular plans for entertainment during the notification ceremonies on August 22. She will have as house guests in the old red brick mansion the vice-presidential aspirant and his wife, Senator and Mrs. Joe Robinson, and the notifier and his wife, Senator and Mrs. Key Pittman.

Seek Murderers Of N. Y. Peddler

New York, Aug. 15—(AP)—Fifteen-year-old Mary Arceni walked onto the East 104th Street police station today and admitted that he had shot Sarferia Pantellena, a peddler nearly four times her age, as he sat on the porch of an east side tenement last evening.

Mary said Pantellena had taken advantage of her. She fired five shots at the 59-year-old man, one of which took effect in his left side.

He was taken to a hospital where his condition was said to be serious. After the shooting Mary told detectives she went home to tell her mother. The family—there are three other children—spent the night in a park, but this morning, with only ten cents for carfare, they all boarded a trolley and went to the station where Mary told her story.

False Report Of Dam Break Causes Exodus

London, Aug. 15—(AP)—Dispatches from Bombay and Lahore say that the firing of a chain of bonfires to warn of the bursting of a glacial dam in Kashmir, India, caused a great exodus from the valley of the Indus. Although the flood did not come, the exodus is continuing.

What happened or is happening at the glacial dam on the Shyok river is a mystery yet to be solved. The first report that the dam had burst was officially confirmed. This, however, was followed by an equally official denial and everybody is awaiting an explanation.

The explanation may be a long time forthcoming as the dam is in a remote and almost inaccessible part of the Karakoram mountains. It is many days journey from any town possessing modern means of communication.

How the chain of bonfires which the government prepared long ago to warn the mountaineers of the flood's approach came to be ignited is not known. One theory is that a sudden accidental blowing of one of the watchers. Camp fires was mistaken for the signal that the dam had burst. When news of the fire reached the lower levels and plains officials hastened to their posts on duty accompanied by photographers and reporters. They waited in vain for the rush of waters which was expected.

The dispatches from Bombay and Lahore say that dwellers along the predicted course of the flood hurriedly made use of every means of transportation to reach places of safety.

Turned Hits Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 15—(AP)—Rouls were blown off a number of buildings and an old ward named by a tornado that swept along a portion of the Charleston waterfront today. Timbers from one roof were hurled 400 feet.

The storm twisted about in freakish fashion leaving a trail of minor damage. No early estimate of the damage was available.

The local weather bureau estimated that the wind reached a velocity of 75 miles an hour.

FLOOD WATER IS INCREASING FLORIDA LOSS

Shallow Island Of Devastation Created In Lake Okeechobee Region.

Atlanta, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Florida ran down her hurricane frayed storm flag today, but the rain banner, its mate for more than a week, flew menacingly over the lake Okeechobee region where flood waters were creating a shallow inland sea of devastation.

As for the latest of a series of rain-laden gales which beat against the coast line of the peninsula for seven days, it was pursuing a more or less damaging course through Georgia toward the Atlantic in the path blazed by the first such disturbance which exacted a heavy toll in Florida a week ago and ended Sunday off the middle Atlantic coast.

Meanwhile another modern tropical disturbance blowing north-northwest off the East coast of Cuba, was the occasion of caution notices to shipping in that area, although no storm warning was issued for Florida.

South Central Florida's shallow sea was draining slowly into Lake Okeechobee from the north and west today through three channels: Taylor's Creek, Kissimmee River, and Fish Eating Creek. These three streams had spread until the flooded network of their tributaries had joined each other, with Kissimmee, the central and largest drainage artery on a rampage for a stretch extending 30 miles north of its mouth.

In all the affected area, only Okeechobee City on Taylor's Creek a few miles east of the mouth of the Kissimmee was entirely safe from the menacing waters. There the Red Cross with a National disaster worker co-operating, was attempting with moderate success, to reach isolated refugees by boat with supplies and food. All of the 50 inhabitants of Cabbage Bluff, a trapper village, were brought here when the town was washed away. All territory between Okeechobee City and Bassenger, 20 miles to the north, was inundated today. Part of Labella was under Coosahatchee backwater, and Micco Bluff, a community operated by a "101 ranch" company and its 60,000 acre tract was under water. Lake Port, on Fish Eating Creek had flood water from the lake when dykes broke, and 5,000 acres of farm land went under as well. The St. Andrews Bay Lumber Company tracks were inundated in the Kissimmee area, forcing suspension and throwing 100 men out of work.

Lake Okeechobee was slowly rising at the 17 foot stage, one under danger the danger point for an area to the east as yet untroubled. Whether that stage will be reached depends on rapidity of the approach of the net head of Kissimmee water now 100 miles upstate and the speed of drainage through the canals on the south end of the lake. The largest of these, St. Lucie today was stopped up by sand bars and dredges were trying to clear them.

The west and northwest territory was recovering today from the damage wrought by the last gale and rain which blew over Monday night and yesterday, heading into Georgia at a 40-mile clip.

Its worst damage in Florida was wrought in the Cedar Keys Apalachicola area, with Tallahassee, Gainesville, Panama Springs, and other towns suffering the customary power shortage, isolation, and attendant discomfort.

Along the west coast, which was struck first, there was less damage, and that area was practically normal today.

As the storm crossed over into Georgia late yesterday and last night, it diminished in force, and the greatest damage probably will accrue from resultant floods. The Withlacoochee River in the Valdosta territory was causing some alarm, while the Alapaha, Little, Flint, Oconee, Ocmulgee and Altamaha rivers were out of their banks in many places.

First Elimination Bout Opens Tonight In New York City

New York, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The great man hunt—for the man who is to fill Gene Tunney's shoes as heavyweight champion of the world—gets under way tonight. In the first of the elimination bouts that are expected to produce a new champion Roberto Roberti of Italy, meets Johnny Risko of Cleveland, at Ebbets Field. The battle is scheduled to go ten rounds, starting at 10 o'clock.

Risko, the pudgy ex-baker, who came to the fore in the last elimination series but only after Tom Heeney had been chosen to oppose Tunney in his last battle, apparently has every advantage over Roberti except in size. He has shown himself to be among the best of the present crop of heavyweights, though perhaps not the best, and has a vastly greater amount of experience.

Roberti, while he outweighs the Clevelander by about 20 pounds, has only a tremendous wallop in his right hand to carry him along.

A NEW YORKER AT LARGE

By G. D. SEYMOUR, Associated Press Staff Writer.

New York. (AP)—Women who like fancy buckles on their shoes must spend about $15 a year to keep a pair polished and in good condition. And the thoroughly modish woman needs four pairs, in the standard shades of silver, bronze, blue and gunmetal, to keep pace with as many changes a year in the hues of fashionable footwear.

France, once the sole source of the buckles still makes most of the unfinished ornaments, which consist of hundreds of tiny steel nails, each with a head ground to many facets, riveted into a metal frame. But modes now change so quickly that the buckles come plain to the United States, to be colored as the current mode demands. Which is where the Hoffmans come in.

A Factory At Home. Through an art workshop in the E. A. Hoffman home, in a suburb 30 miles north of New York, pass for coloring, polishing or repairing some three-fourths of the buckles worn on the footwear of American women. The buckles are of shining steel, and if silver is the shade desired they need only be polished to remove the rust of the ocean trip. They are colored by application of heat to decarbonize the steel—400 degrees makes them bronze; 700 degrees of heat produces a blue shade and 1,200 degrees gunmetal.

In fine buckles, costing $35 or so a pair at retail, each nail head is hand-cut. Machine-cut heads go into cheaper buckles, but the difference between the hand-cut and the machine-cut product is "the difference between a sparkle and a glare."

Shun the Seashore. Hoffman was once a mechanical engineer. A Long Island neighbor, manager of a shoe store, asked him one day why an engineer couldn't find some way to clean steel shoe buckles. Hoffman started to experiment with polishing devices in his spare time, and his wife, Lena, saw a chance to turn his successful experiments to profit. She founded the business and now heads the family firm, although her husband has abandoned his profession to handle the technical part of the work and to devise carefully guarded color formulas.

The Hoffmans moved their shop from Long Island to get away from the damp ocean air, for moisture is the worst foe of shining buckles. Fresh rust is easily removed, but if allowed to remain it eats into the steel and leaves scars which polishing cannot erase.

COOPER AHEAD IN OHIO RACE

Republican Nominee for Governor Leading Begg By Several Thousand Votes.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Regaining the advantage he held earlier in the night with the reporting of a block of 100 precincts from Hamilton county, Myers Y. Cooper, early today held a lead of almost 6,000 votes over James T. Begg, for the Republican nomination for governor.

The Hamilton precincts afforded the latest development in the saw race that developed early in the evening between the congressman from the thirteenth district and the 1926 Republican gubernatorial nominee. Starting almost neck and neck the two candidates kept an even break until the heavy returns from Hamilton county, Cooper's home, gave him first the lead.

The lead of Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture, over George White, of Marietta, for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, long term, had crept up to almost 10,000 by early morning with 5,009 precincts reporting.

The figures on this race were: Truax 29,222, and White 29,598. Senator Fess was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Among the several interestingly doubtful races was that between Senator Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, and Graham P. Hunt, of Cincinnati, for the position on the Democratic ticket in opposition to Mr. Burton. Interest in the contest was enhanced by the direct cleavage between the two on the question of dry law modification.

Locher, avowed dry, had anti-saloon league support. Hunt, open advocate of modification of the Volstead law, of course, was opposed by the organization. With the vote 5035 precincts counted, Hunt had a lead of slightly more than 4,000 over Locher.

The vote was Hunt 51,659; Locher 4,732. As on the other closely contested races, it was believed that almost complete returns might be required to definitely determine the nominee.

Congressman Theodore E. Burton, Cleveland, apparently had won the Republican nomination for the short term senatorial office.

Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, led the race for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Members of Party From All Over State to Be In City From Now Until Election.

Charlotte, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Charlotte will be the mecca of Republican leaders from every county in the state from today until election day in November, with ten conferences of political leaders from the districts of the state scheduled to be held here within the next 30 days, it was announced today by Brownlow Jackson, Hendersonville, chairman of the state Republican executive committee, as he formally opened state campaign headquarters at the Selwyn Hotel.

Mr. Jackson arrived in Charlotte late yesterday and this morning was busy arranging offices on the second floor of the Selwyn, where he will direct the party's campaign in this state.

This campaign will have as its goal the success of the entire ticket from Herbert Hoover, presidential candidate, and Herbert F. Sewell of Carthage, candidate for governor, on down to township constable, said the chairman.

The conferences scheduled to be held here within the next 30 days will be with chairmen of executive committees of every one of the one hundred counties in the state and at those conferences plans to get out the Republican vote in every precinct will be made.

Finances for this effort, which Mr. Jackson said would be the most vigorous Republican in this state have staged in several years, will be in charge of Stuart W. Cramer, mill magnate of Crumpton and Charlotte, who is presidential elector at large from this state, will have entire charge of this important end of the campaign.

"We will avoid personalities," declared the chairman in answer to questions regarding his party's plans to possibly profit by the apparent Anti-Smith sentiment in this state.

As the campaign progresses, a branch office of the state headquarters will be opened in Raleigh, said the chairman, but explained that the person to be in charge of that office had not yet been selected.

Frank Patton, of Morganton, will be in charge of most of the office work here with Winston D. Adams, of Charlotte, also taking an active part in the work at headquarters here.

Toxic Matter Found In Body Of Lowenstein

Paris, Aug. 15.—(AP)—An official report that toxic matter has been found in the viscera of Captain Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier, today added to the mystery which has surrounded his death.

Members of the Lowenstein family had requested that an exhaustive examination of Captain Lowenstein's body be made after it was found on July 19 in the English Channel into which the Belgian financier had fallen from his private airplane on July 4. It was stated that their object was to make impossible the cropping up in the future of sensational and fantastic stories about the banker's end.

The investigation was entrusted to Dr. Paul, chief chemical analyst for the Surete Generale, the French Scotland Yard, and a leading authority on medical jurisprudence. Le Marin says that the report is current at the courthouse in Boulogne that the expert's report, which will not be made public, reveals "the existence of traces of a very characteristic toxic matter."

The report is to be forwarded to the court in Brussels which conducted an inquiry into the disappearance and death of the Belgian financier. Should this lead to a reopening of the investigation it is likely to have diplomatic as well as judicial ramifications since the body was recovered outside of the territorial waters of either England or France.

Kohn Abrest, the toxicologist to whom the analysis of the viscera was entrusted, refused to divulge what had or had not been discovered and said that he had made no report as yet for the good reason that he had not finished his work.

Injured In Car Wreck

Elleboro, N. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Albert C. Jones, 62 years old, was fatally injured near Alexander, Rutherford county, Tuesday evening about 6:30 o'clock when the car he was driving left the highway and went over an embankment, turning over. Mr. Jones, who was alone in the car, was attempting to pass a wagon, it was said, and the car skidded on the wet pavement.

He died at his home, eight miles from here, two hours after the accident.

He had been a teacher for the past 40 years.

HUBERT WORK SEES VICTORY FOR G. O. P.

Chairman Of Campaign Committee Is Satisfied With Way Campaign Is Going.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Satisfaction with the progress of the Republican presidential campaign, was expressed by Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national campaign committee when he arrived here last night from San Francisco on his way to Washington.

Conferring with a group of Utah party leaders, Dr. Work said that the national committee was better organized now than at any similar date in any previous campaign.

"Prospects for a Republican victory were never better than now," he said, adding that the committee's plan to conduct the campaign through the various state organizations rather than through a few large headquarters was showing results.

Declaring that there could be but one outcome to the election in November, the national chairman predicted that Alfred E. Smith "would probably receive as many electoral votes as John W. Davis got four years ago." He expressed the opinion that the Republicans would get a majority of the votes that went to the third party movement in the last campaign.

The national chairman accompanied by Governor John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania, W. Irving Glover, second assistant Postmaster General, and John H. Carroll, a personal friend of Washington, D. C., planned to leave today for Pueblo, Colorado, thence Topeka, Kansas, where a stop will be made to attend the notification ceremonies of Charles Curtis, the Republican vice-presidential nominee.

Two days will be spent in Chicago going over the campaign affairs and then the party will continue to Washington arriving there next Wednesday.

Henderson, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Miss Ethel Allen, 47, of Warrenton, sister of George G. Allen of New York vice-president of the British American Tobacco Co., and chairman of the board of the Duke Foundation, died here today evidently from fear caused by high water in a stream she and a party of 45 women were crossing in a bus.

Helping the Homemaker

By LOUISE BENNETT WEAVER (Associated Press Home Editor)

Dinner Menu.

Broiled Veal Chops

Hashed Browned Potatoes

Buttered Spinach

Head Lettuce Russian Dressing

Sour Milk Chocolate Cake & Cocoa

French Pastry Frosting

Coffee

Russian Dressing, Serving Six.

1-cup stiff mayonnaise; 1-4 cup drained chili sauce; 1-cup chopped dill pickles; 1-4 cup chopped dill speckles; 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Mix the ingredients. Chill. When ready to serve, mix well and pour over head lettuce or vegetables.

Mayonnaise

1-teaspoon salt; 1-teaspoon sugar; 1-4-teaspoon dry mustard; 1-4-teaspoon paprika; 1-egg; 1-cup salad oil; 3-tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice; 2-tablespoons boiling water.

Chill all ingredients and utensils. Place the salt, sugar, mustard and paprika in the bottle of a deep bowl, add the egg and beat for one minute with a Dover egg beater. Very slowly and still beating add two tablespoons of the chilled salad oil. Continue very slowly, adding the oil until one-half cup has been used. Beat for one minute. Alternate the rest of the oil and the vinegar and beat until the dressing thickens. Add the boiling water and beat for two minutes. Store in the ice box. The water "cuts" the excessive oily flavor, which is undesirable to some.

Sour Milk Chocolate Cake.

(Very moist and mahogany colored).

1-3-cup fat; 1-cup sugar; 1-egg; 1-teaspoon vanilla; 1-8-teaspoon salt; 1-cup sour milk or buttermilk; 1-3-cup cocoa; 2-cups flour; 1-teaspoon soda.

Cream the fat and sugar. Add the rest of the ingredients and beat for three minutes. Pour into a shallow pan which has been fitted with waxed paper. Bake in a moderately slow oven for thirty minutes. Cool, turn off the paper and cover with Cocoa French Pastry Frosting.

Cocoa Pastry Frosting.

(This frosting is always creamy).

2-tablespoons butter; 3-tablespoons cocoa; 1-8-teaspoon salt; 1-teaspoon vanilla; 2-tablespoons hot left-over coffee or cream; 1-1-2-cups sifted powdered sugar.

Mix all the ingredients and beat for two minutes. Let stand for two minutes and beat again for two minutes. This intermittent beating thoroughly dissolves the sugar and prevents the "raw" or grainy taste prevalent in uncooked frostings. Use a knife dipped in water and carefully frost the top and sides of the cake.

To make sweet milk sour, when a recipe call for sour and none is on hand, add two tablespoons of vinegar to one cup of milk. Let stand for three minutes and it may be used.

Guiding Your Child

SEEING IT THROUGH

By MRS. AGNES LYE

Little children have so many new things to learn that it is wise to free their mental and emotional energies for new experience by making performance of the usual routine so much a matter of habit that it is never questioned and takes no more time and attention out of the day than is necessary.

The mother must see to it that this unquestioning obedience to matters of routine is truly established—it is her job to see it through.

When she says, "Come, Helen, time for your nap. Lie down and go to sleep. I'll tell you when you can get up," then under no circumstances must Helen be allowed to sit up and look at picture books, or hop out of bed to get her blocks before napping time is over.

If she says, "All right, Roger, you may have just one chocolate after lunch," then one chocolate it must be no matter how much he may tease for more. If Jane knows that her toys ought always to be picked up before she runs out to play, then never must she be allowed to go before that task is done.

It may seem of slight consequence to let Helen get up before time just today, to give Roger his extra chocolate, or for once to excuse Jane from her task. But if the line of least resistance is followed today, tomorrow it will be necessary to discuss all the reasons for the regulation, to insist on obedience in the face of probable resistance, perhaps even to punish. When the child knows that teasing is of no avail, that mother always sees things through, tears, scenes and punishments are avoided, and the child, having accepted certain conditions of his life, directs his energies towards more constructive activities.

PERFECT CHILD

MANY CASES HEARD HERE YESTERDAY

County Court Continues Sitting Today With Heaviest Docket in Months.

With one of the heaviest dockets in months, the regular weekly session of county court which convened in this city yesterday morning continued its sitting today with Judge W. A. Darden presiding. Indications at the noon hour were that the session would consume the remainder of the afternoon and probably some of tomorrow.

The docket consisted largely of violation of prohibition and traffic laws. Charges of driving automobiles while drunk and possession of whiskey for the purpose of sale predominated both yesterday and today, while a number of minor cases received consideration.

The court dealt out the maximum punishment on charges of driving automobiles while under the influence of whiskey, declaring the practice one of the greatest menaces facing civilization today.

Eddie Mattox, colored, charged with operating an automobile while drunk, was fined $100 and cost of action and ordered not to drive another automobile for a period of four months.

Otis Moringo, paid a fine of $100 and cost on a charge of driving while drunk.

George Brown, colored, charged with possession of whiskey, was released on payment of $50.00 and cost.

Alexander Lassiter, Roosevelt Smith and Buck Battle, colored, charged with gambling, paid a fine of $15.00 and cost.

Vance Bailey, paid a fine of $25 for possession of whiskey.

Convicted of carrying a concealed weapon, John Moore, colored, paid a fine of $50.00 and cost.

Ephraim Moore colored, was fined $25.00 and cost on a charge of assault.

W. H. Jones, possession of whiskey, $25.00 and cost.

George Dudley, charged with cruelty to animals, paid a fine of $25 and cost.

Willie O'Neal, charged with driving while drunk, was fined $100 and cost and ordered not to drive again in four months.

J. C. Jackson, driving while drunk, paid $100 and cost.

Roy Williams, colored, was fined $15.00 and cost for disorderly conduct at church.

LOCAL GUARDS HOLDING FORTH AT FORT BRAGG

Lieut. Porter Writes Interestingly About Battery "E" Activities In Camp.

Battery E, local military unit of 113th field artillery, North Carolina National Guards, has been detached from the Third Battalion and assigned to the First Battalion under command of Captain William Blount, of Washington, and sometime in the near future may be designated as Battery "A", according to a communication received today from C. W. Porter, second lieutenant of the local organization now in annual encampment at Fort Bragg.

The Battery left Greenville last Sunday morning at ten o'clock and arrived at Fayetteville in the afternoon, according to the lieutenant's letter. Since that time they have been going through preliminaries preparatory to the real training activities to open the latter part of the week.

"Captain Jones asked me to extend a cordial invitation to Greenville people to visit the camp," the letter read. "The most interesting days will be while we are on the range. Make your plans to come then."

The letter in its entirety follows: "Am writing you to give you an account of the various and sundry happenings since Battery "E" left Greenville Sunday morning at ten o'clock.

"We arrived in Wilson at 11:30 and waited on the A. C. L. until 2:15 and then hooked on to the regular passenger train that came thru Wilson at that time. At Selma we picked up the battery from New Bern. The batteries from Smithfield and Dunn went to the country to Bragg and were already in camp when we arrived.

"It began to rain as we came into Fayetteville and by the time we reached Fort Bragg, nine miles from Fayetteville, the rain was coming down in a steady stream. We detoured and marched to our encampment, which was a little over a mile away. Tents were pitched in the rain and mud and every one was soaked to the skin before we had finished.

"Mess Sergeant Paul Sadler and his corp of negro cooks from Greenville were already in camp when we arrived and had an arranged supper ready for the boys. The hot coffee soon revived the spirit and took the chill away. As usual, there was not much sleeping done the first night and when first call blew the whole outfit was ready to fall in. This morning it was quite different and reveille found some of them still in their bunks.

"Most of the time in camp so far has been spent in getting our guns and other equipment issued to us and going through routine drill work. We do not begin actual firing until Tuesday, August 21, and will continue through Friday the 24th.

"Battery "E" has been detached from the Third Battalion and assigned to the First Battalion under command of Captain William Blount of Washington, Major Blount since this morning. As yet our battery designation has not been changed but we expect to be Battery "A" in the near future.

"Our afternoons, when not spent on the firing range, are filled with recreations of all kinds. The baseball league starts this afternoon and as we drew a bye we do not play until Friday. We have hopes of winning the championship. The boxing bouts start tonight with

"Captain Jones has asked me to have you issue to the people of Greenville a most cordial invitation to visit us during the encampment. The most interesting days will be the ones that we will be on the range, and it has been arranged so that visitors can come out and watch the big guns shoot. I can guarantee that the mess sergeant will see that they do not go hungry. He is a wonder and the boys are thinking about promoting him to a general if he keeps on feeding them like he is doing now.

"If possible we would like to have you send us six or eight copies of The Reflector each day. So far, the boys have not suffered the pangs of homesickness and I think that The Reflector would be the right preventive to keep them from suffering from that disease.

"Best regards to the people of Greenville from the officers and enlisted men of Battery "E".

ROBERT RANDOLPH COTTEN

In the death of Col. Robert Randolph Cotten, Pitt county loses not only one of its oldest and most respected citizens, but one who has meant much to the progress and development of the county. A native of Edgecombe county and a veteran of the conflict between the states, Col. Cotten immediately following the war moved to Pitt county and since that time has devoted his life to the county and state as well as his private affairs. As a planter and merchant he has attained marked success, affiliated with certain local business institutions he has proved a great asset, and as a good citizen willing at all times to lend his hand to public affairs he has with credit served his county and state in many important capacities.

Not only will our county miss Col. Cotten for through-out the South the ever-thinning line of the heroes who wore the grey from '61 to '65, will in the future sadly miss their departed comrade who for many years past, despite his four score and more years, has been one of the prominent personages at the reunions.

ABOUT

It is, however, needless for us to endeavor here to recount the many deeds accomplished by Col. Cotten. Adjectives do not describe the great esteem in which he was held. We need but say he was a true Christian gentleman and his presence we will miss sadly.

JUDGE DARDEN AND DRUNKEN DRIVERS

$100.00 fine and four month's revocation of license was Judge Darden's sentence for the drunken drivers who appeared before him in yesterday's session of County Court, and we take this opportunity to publicly thank Judge Darden for such action and hold it up as an example for other jurists to follow. There is on our highways today no greater menace than the drunken driver and only drastic action on the part of the courts can curb the great loss of life and the numerous injuries that are being caused by such criminals. As has been often stated in these columns we believe that behind prison bars is the only place for drunken drivers, and Judge Darden is doing the next best thing by ruling them off the road with a jail sentence pending should they drive a car during the time of their suspension.

LOOK OUT FOR

The series of robberies that have occurred in this city in the past ten days is such as to cause alarm to our citizens lest the epidemic of house breaking of about a year ago be repeated. During the past few days several houses have been entered and according to reports, much property has been stolen. Just what success the officers have met with in their efforts to locate the guilty parties cannot yet be learned, but to date we have heard of no arrests in this connection.

It is to be hoped that it will be only a short time before the officers can get hold of the party or parties who are perpetrating these robberies and in the meantime, we warn citizens to be on the look-out for prowlers about their premises and to see to it that they do not leave doors or windows unfastened when they leave home, either day or night.

OUR GREENVILLE,
YOURS IF YOU COME

To the twenty-two hundred farmers of Eastern Carolina who today become new readers of The Reflector, we extend greetings, not only our own, but the greetings of every business house in Greenville and of the Greenville Tobacco Market. Already you may be well acquainted with Greenville and its many advantages as a shopping center and a tobacco market, and it is our desire that you have found your visits here pleasant and profitable for you. If you are one of those who heretofore have not been visiting Greenville, we extend you a cordial invitation to make this city your buying and selling headquarters in the future. Our city's slogan, "Our Greenville, Yours If You Come," is no idle boast and upon your visit here you will find always a ready welcome.

WASHINGTON
BYSTANDER

"If there is the slightest question in the world that prices on the Georgia markets are being influenced by the large tobacco buying concerns, an investigation should be held immediately," a well known planter of this county emphatically stated today.

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington (AP)—Trench riding, the usual forerunner of major offensives in war, has begun, introducing the political battle of 1928. Official communiques from Great General Headquarters of the Hoover and Smith forces announce capture of important prisoners. And both sides have put their captives to work.
 Democratic Generalissimo Ras-kob has fled from republican ranks the personal and political services of William H. Woodin, head of two big business units, the American Car and Foundry company and the American Locomotive company. Republican Deputy Field Marshal Moses, on the other hand—and on the same day—exhibited the scalp of Robert L. Owen, with the former democratic senator from Oklahoma still under it and proclaiming allegiance to the Hoover standard.
First Battle A Draw.
 Numerically speaking, and in strategy and tactics, this first skirmish is a draw. Let him who estimate the relative vote getting values of these excursions and alarms. Dyed-in-the-wool republican papers gave Owen the front the front page; democratic ditty did the same with Woodin. Alleged or actual political independents—if any—printed both news stories side by side. Take your choice.
 But aside from heralding the near approach of the coming twin storms of political campaigning, these developments served to recall that democratic scouts swarmed about Washington in the days immediately following the two conventions, drawn by vague rumors of discord in the Hoover camp. They wanted to know inmost secrets of Work-Moses relations and whether the peppery New Hampshire senator was peeved by frustrated personal ambitions or other things.
 They seem to have been answered by deeds, not words, if it is a fact, that Moses' cunning tongue volume of business enjoyed by the thirteen stores taking part in the event yesterday.

 "It is possible values are never better. Many things left the counters that were worth three or four times as much as the prices charge for them."
 "Greenville merchants are doing everything within their power to make this city the principal shopping center of Eastern North Carolina. They are not trying to bait the public in accomplishing this end. They mean to realize the ambition through honest, conscientious dealing with the public, and by giving full value for every dollar spent here."
 "Mr. Consumer, if you have never traded in this county seat city, why not do so at once. We extend you a cordial welcome and assure you of receiving the best to be had."

"Some disappointment has been caused in the section by announcement yesterday that Add Warren would not meet Young Strubbing at Charlotte on Labor Day," declared an interested observer of ring activities today.
 "The only thing Warren's manager has to say in his declination to accept the challenge was that his fighter was not prepared."
 "Some may not be satisfied with the brief announcement, but to others this is just as much as they need."

"Both of the young heavyweights have had phenomenal success in the prize ring. A fight between them would draw an enormous crowd, to be sure, but if they don't desire to get together at this time nobody is going to cry about it."
 "Warren more than likely has good reason for his refusal, and probably will tell the public about it in the near future."

"I'm going to get a shave and haircut as soon as I get through with this tobacco curing," a well known Pitt county grower told us today, as he walked out from his barn shed to converse with two or three persons in a car parked on the highway.
 "We had not even noticed your face, John," lied one of the automobile party. "You might go two or three weeks longer without seeing a tonsorial artist."
 John smiled. He had heard that kind of "tuffy" before, to use a little slang phrase that fits in mighty appropriate at times. But he liked it. He liked his company and anything they might say could not disturb his equanimity. He realized, however, that the time was not far away when he would be able to leave the barn and join his friends, as well groomed as any man in the neighborhood.
 It was this knowledge possibly that caused him to smile broadly and show a row of smooth white teeth when reference was made to his appearance. Many another John oyer his great tobacco belt entertains the same feeling. Their day of leisure are not far away and when they come along tireless vigils at tobacco barns will be forgotten in the joy and fullness of life at its best."

lured Owen into the Hoover camp.

Cause Of Hoover Delay.

The prowling democrats professed intense astonishment that the Hoover campaign had not leaped off the ways virtually on the instant of his nomination, a fully organized, going concern. That was to be expected of the boasted Hoover genius for organization which was bound to be dinned into voters' ears by every Hoover campaign orator, they said. They had expected to be forced to make a stern case of it; what was delaying things in Hoover councils?
 It now appears that the Hoover pre-convention campaign and the Hoover election campaign were quite distinct things, even in the eyes of the republican nominee himself. When Hoover gladiators rushed back from Kansas City to congratulate him on the nomination and relax a bit to rejoice, they found their chief scratching his head, metaphorically speaking. "Yes, yes," he is represented as having told them in substance, "Very nice indeed; but when a man has been nominated for the presidency, how does he go about being elected? What do we do now?"
 It took a little time to get everybody together with feet on the ground, and dope out an answer. But if the Hoover card-indexed nomination campaign is any criterion, his election campaign will not lack for organization or detailed staff work. He is not prone to assume that presidential elections or anything else of consequence just happen.

BUGS TURN TABLES ON GREENVILLE

Goldsboro, Aug. 15.—Some heavy hitting by the Goldbug stick men, coupled with superb pitching by Carver, enabled Goldsboro to take the second game from Greenville yesterday by a score of 9 to 5.

The Goldbugs collected 13 safeties, one by Patton going over the fence for the circuit, while the Tobacconists were gathering six, two of them home runs.

Patton was the outstanding star of the afternoon at the plate. Out of four times he got a home run, a two-bagger and a couple of singles for a perfect day. Finlator and Goff both hit the apple over the fence off Carver.

"HOT CORNERS" BECKONS ROOKIES; FOXX, WHITNEY, STRIPP, "REGS" NOW

Several veteran third sackers in the major leagues find time to cool their fingers while recruits take care of their "hot corner" posts. Jimmy Foxx, who has beaten Sammy Hale out of the third cushion job for the A's, is the best of the newcomers. Whitney, Bettercourt and Stripp, all first-year men, look the part of major leaguers, and Gilbert comes to Brooklyn highly recommended.

By JAY R. VESSELS
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)
 New York—(AP)—Youth is having its chance at third base around the major league circuits and it is making the most of the opportunity.

Three clubs are depending on youngsters to handle the "hot corner," a position calling for quick thinking, a strong arm and unflinching courage.

One other team has a first year man who has proved his worth at third while a fifth has a recruit who is expected soon to assume regular guardianship of the third cushion.

Heading the list is Jimmy Foxx of the flying Philadelphia Athletics. Jimmy, who landed at the warm spot after brief stops behind the bat and at first base, has contributed more than his share toward the high rating of the A's in all departments of the game.

He has been hitting better than .350 since becoming a regular two months ago, and his defensive work has helped the Athletics keep up near the top in team fielding.

It was the stellar work of Foxx as a substitute that inspired Connie Mack to make regulars of others of his rookies, a move that gave his team the needed punch to climb close to the slipping Yankees.

Close behind Foxx for first recognition among the recruit third sackers is Pinky Whitney of the other Philadelphia club—the down-trodden Phillies. Whitney, formerly of the New Orleans club of the Southern Association, has been one of Bert Shotton's best performers all season. He has hit .300 and for a time baited cleanup, an honor extended to but few first year men even on the trail-end outfits.

Pinky had a brief experience with Cleveland last year but had no time to prove his value before being sent to New Orleans with other players in exchange for the sensational Eddie Morgan. Then the Phillies lost no time in picking him out and now Manager Shotton says he should be one of the best in the majors when he gets a little more seasoning.

The other rookie third baseman playing regularly is Joe Stripp of the Cincinnati Reds. Joe got his chance when Charley Dessen, Cincinnati's regular third cushion artist, dropped out because of injuries.

Stripp has had very little time to try for a showing in the National but his record in the American Association, where he batted better than .400 early this year to lead the league, indicates that he has the goods, as the saying goes.

Joe, who had the experience of jumping from the last-place Columbus club in the association to the pennant-contending Reds in the National, carried a powerful punch at bat in the minors. Among the other things he did "down there" was to collect three successive home runs one afternoon. Direct reports state that his drives would have been home runs in any big league park.

Probably better known to the sports world than any of the third-basing youngsters is Larry Bettercourt of the St. Louis Browns. Larry, in one leap during June, hopped from college to the Browns and promptly drew an assignment to play relief for Frank O'Rourke, one of the game with injuries.

Bettercourt who gained nationwide recognition for his playing on the St. Mary's College (Cal.) football team, did such a good job of his substituting with the Browns that O'Rourke had a hard time convincing Manager Dan Howley he should get his old position back. Larry batted .335, helping the Browns along to a sizeable winning streak or two.

Newest of the young third base material is Wally Gilbert who, like Bettercourt, gained most of his sports fame as a football player.

Gilbert has just joined the Brooklyn Robins, coming from the Atlanta team of the Southern Association. He is a big, rangy fellow who for several seasons has been showing the Dixie fans how third base should be played.

With Hendrick, the Robins' made-over third-sacker, playing erratically, Gilbert probably will receive an early chance to try for the job regularly. Hendrick, originally an outfielder, has been kept at third principally because of his hitting.

Immanuel Ties Christians For Second Position

In two close games at the Fair grounds yesterday, the Methodist team maintained its lead over all rivals by taking a 2-1 game from Memorial, and the Immanuelites climbed up to a berth beside the Christians in second place in a tie which can only be broken by an extra game between them and only two games remain in the league slate.

Both of those concern the Memorial Baptists, the first hooking up the Presbyterians and the second the Methodists. This last is the game which many will watch anxiously, for so close has been the race that a victory for Memorial will drop the Methodists back to a triple tie for first place with the Christians and the Immanuelites.

Close, But Sufficient. The Presbyterians garnered but four hits off Waddell, and one was on balls, so they were lucky to tally four times, even if that left them one marker short of the Immanuelite score. The Presbyterians scored first when Strickland, first man up, reached first on an error. The next three men went out in order, but Strickland worked his way around to score in the meantime. In the second, a barrage of Immanuel's coupled with a few slowly fielded balls, gave four runs.

However, the Presbyterians came back in the third and threatened to even things up. Nesbit, first up, was hit. Boyd popped to Waddell, but Evans hit safely, and then was caught between first and second. Lee doubled, Dennis singled and Clark walked, but Hatem only drove a vicious grounder directly at Waddell, and ended the inning. In Immanuel's half, Lee gathered in two grounders which counted for cuts by pretty throwing, and Hardee's outfield fly fell into Summerell's waiting glove and stuck there. In their last opportunity, Strickland hit safely, but was caught 20 feet off second. O'Brian to Sawyer, Nesbit hit, but Summerell and Boyd fell victims to Waddell's guile, leaving a score of 5 to 4.

Presbyterians ..... 1 0 0 3 0-4
 Immanuel ..... 0 4 1 0 x-5

In the second contest, the Methodists slipped one over on Memorial by the close margin of 2 to 1. Two hits and two errors did the work in the third inning, while with two men still on base, Nesbit's long fly was taken in by West, saving two more tallies. Memorial's only score came when Waddell's drive passed Brewer for three bases, with Dixon on the paths. Waddell tried to stretch it, with the usual sad result, Bullock relaying the ball straight into Strickland's waiting mitt for the put out. No more scoring was even likely on either side.

YANKS FALL BEFORE THE CHICAGO SOX

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The intentional pass may be a good thing at times—but there also are times when it may prove a boomerang. Lefty Heimach, the Yankees' newly acquired pitcher, made that discovery yesterday.

Heimach and Grady Adkins of the White Sox had been staging an old-fashioned pitchers' battle. Babe Ruth had given the Yankees one run in the first with his 44th homer of the season. In the third the White Sox had tied the count.

Heimach weakened a bit in the eighth, letting two runs cross the plate on three hits, but the Yanks staged a short rally in their half of the inning that netted a run and kept them tied in the picture.

Then came the tragic ninth. Bill Cissell opened the inning for Chicago with a single and advanced to second on Bert's sacrifice. Adkins made it two out with a fly. In this position the Yankee board of strategy decided to pass Mostil and give George Redfern, rated one of the weak hitters of the league, a chance to make the third out. The supposed weak hitter promptly confounded this strategy by leaping on the first ball pitched for a triple that sent Cissell and Mostil across the plate and put the game safely on ice. The final count was 5 to 3 in favor of the White Sox.

With a gaping hole left in the American League line by this defeat of the leaders, the Athletics allowed themselves to be thrown for no gain by a group of embattled Detroit Tigers led by Elam Vangilder. The Detroit pitcher held the Philadelphians to nine scattered hits and the Tigers won by a 4 to 1 score.

In the other American League games "Sad Sam" Jones had a stringy day and gave the Browns only four hits which failed to net them a run while the Washington batters were crossing the plate for three counts, and Uhle did a somewhat similar defeat for the Indians, giving them a 2 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

The Cardinals and the Giants in the National League reversed the Yankee-Athletics situation. Instead of losing, both won their games and St. Louis clung to its precarious 2-1-2 game lead. "Old Pete" Alexander resumed his customary role as hero on the mound, making his first appearance after a period of illness. Alexander gave the Braves only seven hits while the Cards batted out a 6 to 1 victory.

Meanwhile, the Giants were seeing to it that they did not fall behind in the race by battering the Chicago Cubs all over the lot to win 10 to 2.

The race for third place in the National League also remained unchanged. While the Cubs were losing to the Giants, their rivals for third place, the Cincinnati Reds, dropped a game to the lowly Phillies 6 to 4.

The fast moving Pirates registered a slight gain by handing the Robins a second straight defeat by a 4 to 2 score.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Wheat took a decided downward swing in price today owing chiefly to failure of frost to develop in Canada. Besides, export business today in wheat from North America was slow and a British authority was out with a forecast of large prospective world supplies.

Wheat closed heavy 1 5-8 to 2 3-8 net lower; corn unchanged to 1 1-8 off; oats ranging from quarter decline to a shade advance and provisions to a 20 setback to a rise of 12.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET
New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Easier credit conditions and favorable trade news provided the background for a sharp advance in prices in today's stock market. Buying was rather selective in character, but embraced many of the popular industries, the rise in which was accelerated by active short covering.

Call money renewed at 7 per cent, as against 7 1-2 yesterday, and then dropped to 6 1-2 and 6 per cent. There was no change in time money and commercial paper rates, but persistent reports were in circulation that federal reserve authorities were buying bills in the open market to temporarily relieve the tight money situation which not only has restricted trading in securities, but threatened the fall expansion in business.

Bullish sentiment was created by the increase in freight car loadings, the optimistic tenor of the weekly steel trade reviews and the increase from $5 to $6 in the annual dividend on Kennecott copper.

General Motors, which has been sluggish for the past fortnight, suddenly advanced nearly 6 points to 182 1-2. Radio, which had been selling 15 to 20 points below General Motors for the greater part of the last month, crossed General Motors in price today by soaring 10 points to 182 1-2. American Can. was another active feature, climbing more than 6 points to 98 1-2, the highest price since the 1926 stock split-up. Wright Aeronautical, Midland Steel products preferred, Montgomery-Ward, National Tea, Jewel Tea, Allied Chemical, Johns Manville, Case Threshing and Atlantic Refining all sold 4 to 6 points above yesterday's final quotations. Nearly a score others included Packard, Studebaker, Houston Oil, Allied Chemical and International Nickel sold 3 or more points higher.

Rails were quiet. Jersey Central lost nearly all of yesterday's 11-point gain and Colorado & Southern sagged 2 points to a new 1928 low at 105. Trading in the rails was restricted by the uncertainty regarding the outcome of the wage dispute on western roads.

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Eastern belt rain reports and complaints of increasing boll weevil activity were reflected in further advances in the cotton market today.

An early gain was followed by reactions under realizing or selling promoted by rather a more favorable weekly weather report than looked for but the market firmed up again later on.

Active months sold about 20 to 25 points net higher but the mid-afternoon market showed reactions of 8 to 10 points under realizing.

Futures closed steady 20 to 33 points higher. Spot quiet; middling 19.20.

Plane Forced Down.
Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 15.—(AP)—The southbound air mail plane, piloted by Gene Brown, came down here early today because of a storm. The plane landed without difficulty and no damage was done. The mail was transferred to a train.

Brown plans to return to Richmond tonight with the northbound air mail if weather conditions permit.

Pointers Halt Winston Twins
(By the Associated Press)
The Winston-Salem Twins, leaders of the Piedmont League, were halted in their winning streak yesterday when the Pointers snatched a game, 4 to 1. The Pointers, second berth holders, bunched the nine blows off Sullivan to good advantage while Conklin gave up but they were unable to push over a run until the eighth when the single tally was chalked up.

The Greensboro Patriots were humbled by Raleigh, the Caps winning 15 to 5, after slapping out 19 hits, four of which were homers. Three hurlers were sent to the Patriot mound in an effort to check the onslaught but without avail.

Johnson's perfect toss to home plate after Doss had singled in the ninth cut Westmoreland off with what would have been the tying run and Salisbury eased out a victory over Durham, 7 to 6. The margin was narrow at all times during the contest and kept the bleachers on their toes. Hammock allowed the Bulls 11 hits while Weaver gave up 15.

Hunter Joins Tilden.
New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., second ranking American tennis player, has joined his doubles partner, big Bill Tilden in the battle of the United States lawn tennis association. Unless Tilden receives an invitation to play in the annual East-West matches at Forest Hills Friday and Saturday, Hunter will not take part in them, he announced yesterday.

Tilden, who still at odds with the U. S. L. T. A. over the charge of professionalism pending against him which will not be settled until August 24, was not invited to represent the East in the matches. Although he is eligible to play in tournaments until he is tried and found guilty.

Tilden is eligible to play in the matches, Hunter said, "and unless the Eastern Association puts a representative team on the field I will not play." By a "representative team" Hunter admitted he meant one that included Tilden.

State Democratic Committee to Meet In Raleigh Aug. 24

Sheby, N. C., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Selection of a successor to Senator F. M. Simmons, who resigned July 24th as the North Carolina National Democratic Committeeman, will be principal business to occupy the attention of the State Democratic Executive Committee when that body meets at Raleigh August 24.

Formal call for the meeting which had been tentatively set for that date was issued here by Chairman O. M. Mull last night. He indicated that the committee would also name a successor to J. A. Taylor, of Wilmington, who has resigned as a member of that body. Other matters of less general interest will be discussed then.

Both former Governor Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, and Joseph Daniels, Secretary of Navy in the Woodrow Wilson Cabinet, are mentioned for the post relinquished by Senator Simmons.

Both Senator Simmons and Committeeman Taylor have indicated that they resigned their positions because of opposition they felt toward the Democratic Presidential candidate, Governor Alfred Smith, of New York. They both have, however, declared that they will work whole heartedly for election of Democratic nominees to District and County offices.

Bugs Climbing Still Higher

(By the Associated Press)
The Goldbugs climbed a notch or so higher and balanced themselves on top of the Eastern Carolina League per centage column yesterday by taking the second game of the series with Greenville. This win came at the time of 9 to 5 as a result of the heavy hitting and the superb pitching of Carver. Goldsboro collected 13 safeties off Cherry, one going over the fence, while the Tobacconists were gathering six, two of them homers.

With a batting spree in the fourth, the Highlanders were able to collect six tallies, which proved enough to defeat the Stemmers 11 to 5. Dudley allowed six of the Fayetteville safeties in the first three stanzas while Shoaf gave up nine in the succeeding six rounds. Mason helped win his own game, by touching the horsehide for the circuit.

Newbury was batted out of the Wilmington box in the third and Rocky Mount marched forward with a win of 5 to 1. After Weaver came to his relief, the Pirates were better able to hold the ram-paging Bucs in check, but were themselves unable to push over the needed scores.
