TWO DEAD AS RESULT WIND AT ABERDEEN

Dozen Also Hurt By Terrific Storm Striking Hard at Ashley Heights.

Aberdeen, N. C., Aug. 16—(AP)—Two persons were killed and a score or more injured by a tornado that swept over Ashley Heights, near here early today.

An unidentified peach picker was killed outright and John W. Jones died of injuries.

The storm wrecked several business buildings and residences. A second storm this afternoon completed the work of the first, wrecking portions of buildings passed over by the first twister.

Aberdeen, Aug. 16—(AP)—An unidentified man is dead and a dozen or more hurt and a number of buildings damaged at Ashley Heights about three miles east of here by a storm today.

The Raeford road where the little section lies was washed out and the unidentified dead man was removed with difficulty to the undertaker. Striking like a keen knife, the storm sliced off four roofs and battered over a filling station. Dr. F. O. Bell, busy stitching those injured, said he believed the dead man was a peach packer.

Dr. Bell here said he and his party including J. N. Powell, undertaker, who had made the trip to the Heights, found three dwelling houses tipped over and Johnson's store demolished besides the filling station and garage. The storm apparently dropped out of the skies in tornado-like wrath, flattened out the little Ashley Heights settlement and lifted itself out of the Moore county peach county completely. Railroad sources reported slow going from the north and all south-bound trains were hours late as they have been all this week of intermittent downpour.

The Heights were isolated from curiosity seekers by a washout of the hard surfaced Raeford road and three debris stragglers over which ground left solid at Aberdeen. Southern Pines, Pinehurst in the neighborhood of the stricken peachworkers settlement a heavy rain fell last night but with considerable blow. Many Elbertas and Belles were bodily cut by the storm from peach trees.

Nobody knew the identity of the man thought to death in the house of B. B. Saunders whose house today was flat to the ground. The man had stopped for the night was probably a peach worker.

The Ingram family of five, man, and wife, and three children, all were more or less seriously injured. John Jones and wife were carried with their house twenty yards and the building landed on its side, injuring the couple. Foreman Buskin of the peach packing house, was hurt.

Dos Thomas running the filling station was hurt, also a peachman named Durr, from Florida.

N. F. Sinclair's solid brick store and brick filling station on opposite side of the Raeford road both were demolished. A panoramic movie taken from the roof of the store building, and the roof now held but three feet upright, disclosed B. B. Saunders' peach packing house broken to bits, Saunders' cotton gin and two tenant houses smashed to pieces. Ray Pickler's barn blown full two miles and A. T. Barber's house carried fifty yards. The filling station tanks remained.

Toward noon as Sinclair and Saunders were mustering help to save merchandise, a second blow hit, blowing the remaining merchandise to bits.

At Aberdeen no storm was felt and there was, but little rain.

Bryant Is Given $50,000 Verdict At Asheville

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 16—(AP)—By a jury's verdict, G. Wallace Bryant, cousin of Mrs. Henry Ford, today held an award of $50,000 damages against Henry Westall, Asheville clubman, whom he charged with wrecking his home.

The jury, decided Bryant was injured to the extent of $38,000 actually, and $12,000 punitively. The defense asked that the verdict be set aside as excessive, and a hearing will be set later.

The verdict climaxed a trial replete with sensation testimony, particularly of the part of Bryant, who charged that Mrs. Bryant and Westall had but only conspired to ruin his home; but broke an agreement to abandon their attachment.

Befriends Robber

Instead of screaming when confronted by a robber, Opal Smith of Wichita, Kas., persuaded him to tell why he became a hold up man. He told of a sick wife at Amarillo, Tex., and Miss Smith bought him a ticket home.

Parnell Leads For Governor In Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 16—(AP)—With only approximately 300 scattered precincts not reported from Tuesday's state Democratic primary, only two or three congressional and district state offices remained in doubt today.

Governor Harvey Parnell's lead over his nearest opponent for the gubernatorial nomination had reached 25,000 and although Brooks Hays, the 30-year-old runner up, had not formally conceded Parnell's election, it was said the missing precincts were small and would not change the result.

In the congressional races, only one house member was behind on incomplete returns available. J. B. Reed of the Sixth District, was trailing D. D. Glover by 1,000 votes on the basis of returns from about two thirds of the precincts. Tilman B. Parks of the Seventh District, who was behind in early returns, took the lead last night and increased it to more than 1,000 votes.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO MOVE TO WILMINGTON

Raleigh, Aug. 16—(AP)—Transfers from Raleigh to Wilmington of headquarters of the United States Carolina will be made next week. District attorney for eastern North District Attorney Irvin B. Tucker yesterday received orders from the office of the attorney general at Washington for the change, which had been contemplated some time and which had his approval.

He explained that the change was made for two reasons, first on account of the growing business of the Wilmington court, and second because it would be more convenient for him as Wilmington is only 45 miles from his home in Whiteville while Raleigh is 127 miles distant.

Marine Forces Hem Up Sandino On Coco River

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, Aug. 16—(AP)—American Marines are believed to have hemmed in the forces of the Rebel General Augustino Sandino along the Coco River near the Honduran boundary.

Airplanes are flying over the region searching out the Rebel positions and occasionally bombing them while marines in boats and afoot make their way through the jungle hunting the insurgents.

Capt. Merritt A. Edson of Vermont, has led a marine detachment in two victorious attacks on the Rebels near Española on the Coco River. The marines killed four insurgents, wounded one and captured five. There were no marine casualties.

HOOVER PARTY TO LEAVE FOR CAPITAL CITY

Presidential Candidate Scheduled to Set Out Tomorrow for Washington.

Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 16—(AP)—This is Herbert Hoover's last day at his home here until he returns at the close of the campaign to cast his ballot on November six.

Accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, his son Allan, and most of the advisers and the newspapermen who came across the country with him a month ago, the Republican Presidential nominee will leave Palo Alto at 10 o'clock tonight on a special train arriving at Washington on August 24.

This time Hoover will follow the Southern so as to visit a dozen California cities to the south before striking eastward for a three-day stay in and near his birthplace at West Branch Iowa, where he will deliver an address on the night of August 21.

This speech, in which the nominee will expand upon the farm relief views of his acceptance address last Saturday, will come from the University press today and be distributed to newspapers over the country. Another great radio hook-up will carry it far and near at the time of its delivery.

While Hoover himself has given little thought to his return here in November if he follows the advice of some of his advisers he will make a fairly wide circle on his journey and deliver two or three rather extensive addresses in addition to the dozen or more he will be called upon to make from the rear platform of his private car.

The Republican nominee is obliged to return here to vote because of California laws prohibiting citizens outside the state at election time from voting by mail although it remits those with the state but absent from their voting places to send in their ballots.

If Hoover is elected, he probably will remain here for some time after November six, seeking rest and recreation after the strenuous campaign period. Yielding to the pressure of political leaders, the Republican standard bearer has added a number of stops to his original itinerary for the present eastward trip, the first of which will be at San Jose within less than an hour after his special train gets away from Palo Alto.

News of the death of George K. Morris, chairman of the New York State Republican committee, reached Hoover late last night and he immediately sent this message to William H. Hill, a Republican leader of New York City:

"I have just learned of the death of Mr. George K. Morris. Please extend to the family my deepest sympathy. His passing is a distinct loss to the Republican party which he has served so well and so conscientiously."

Killed By Boulder.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 16—(AP)—Willard Young Kimball, 11, son of Edward P. Kimball, president of the Salt Lake Rotary Club, was killed and three other persons slightly injured last night when a 300 pound boulder crashed down a mountainside and bounded into a group of Rotarians on an annual picnic at Rotary Grove near here.

AYCOCK WINS IN BILTMORE GOLF TOURNEY

Asheville, Aug. 16—(AP)—Tommy Aycock of Jacksonville, tournament medalist, won his first match play round in the Biltmore Forest golf tournament today eliminating Joe Adams of Asheville 3 and I. ## SAYS SOUTH IS SAFE FOR GOV. SMITH

Josephus Daniels Predicts Success For the Presidential Candidate In State.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER (Associated Press Staff Writer) Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16—(AP)—The South, in the opinion of Josephus Daniels, is safe for Gov. Smith even though there is some "unrest" there.

The North Carolina publisher and supporter of the Glass dry plank at Houston made this prediction in an interview with newspapermen just before going into conference yesterday with the Democratic Presidential nominee. Governor Smith today was to continue his discussions with dry leaders of his party with the arrival of Senator George of Georgia, an opponent of Smith for the nomination.

A conference tomorrow with Senator Walsh of Montana, who withdrew from the race for the nomination after the California primaries and announced his support of Smith, will wind up the series of confidential discussions with prominent dries that the presidential candidate had personally arranged for the period preceding the notification ceremony.

Daniels asserted the South, as he sized up the situation, would remain solidly Democratic in November despite the fact that some were opposing Smith there on his prohibition stand. He reiterated that he would stand by the ticket "from constable to president" and expressed belief that Smith would be taken at his word when he said he would faithfully enforce the law.

While again expressing regret over Smith's message to the Houston convention declaring for more liberal enforcement laws, Daniels said he did not believe this was repudiation of the Democratic platform which he thought adequately "met the situation."

The Secretary of the Navy under President Wilson denied published reports that those opposing Smith in North Carolina were doing so because of his religion.

"These reports are doing the people of my state a great injustice," he declared. "Some may be opposed to the governor on those grounds but the great bulk of those opposing him are doing so because they are dry."

He said that undoubtedly much depended upon what Smith said on the 18th amendment and Volstead act in his speech of acceptance next Wednesday night and predicted that if the address "is not any moister," then the governor would carry North Carolina by a hundred two-thirds majority.

"I think Smith will enforce the law," he said, adding that reports already had reached him from his state of unfavorable reaction to Hoover's references to law enforcement in his acceptance speech "because he has given no assurances or promised better things except to say he would not nullify the 18th amendment."

Asks Democrats To Turn Backs On Gov. Smith

Greenwood Lake, N. Y., August 16—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. John Reach Straton has written to Senator George of Georgia, and Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, calling on them to repudiate the candidacy of Governor Smith.

Reciting his controversy with the Governor in the course of which he refused the Governor permission to answer in Calvary Baptist Church in charges he had made against him, Dr. Straton called on them to turn their political allegiance from Gov. Smith to the moral and religious forces which will at last sweep the south.

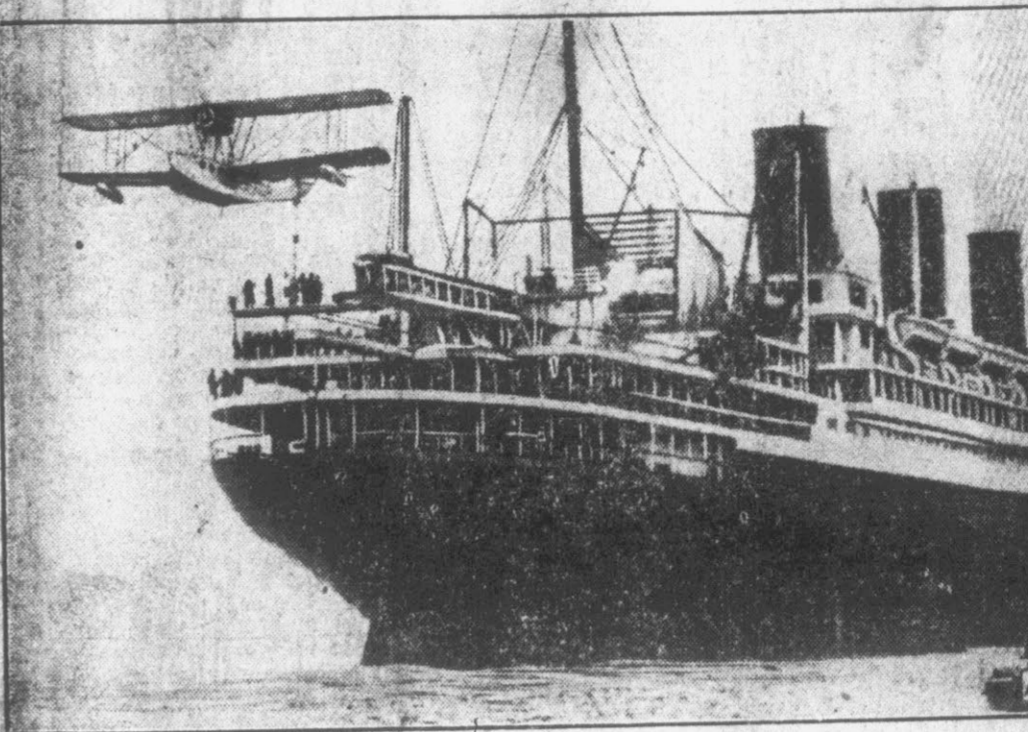

He enclosed in the letters the sermon to which Governor Smith took exception in which the Democratic nominee was referred to as "the deadliest foe in America today of the forces of moral progress and true political wisdom."

Mr. Daniels was in Albany for a political conference with the Governor yesterday and Senator George is to be there today.

TWO CHILDREN REPORTED DROWNED NEAR HICKORY

Hickory, Aug. 16—(AP)—Two unidentified children were reported drowned in the swollen waters of Henry river, three miles south of Hickory, and a third was said to be unconscious, according to meager information reaching here this afternoon. A call for the Hickory fire department's pumotor came here and party left with it at 2:30 o'clock. Telephone lines are down in that section of the country and there is scant information.

SHIP TO SHORE AIRPLANE SERVICE SPEEDS MAIL

France and the United States have been brought almost a day nearer to each other through ship-to-shore airplane service. In the initial flight an amphibian plane carrying mail and a crew of three was catapulted from the deck of the liner Isle de France while 500 miles at sea, landing in New York more than 18 hours before the liner. Picture shows plane launching from Isle de France during tests.

Flood Damage Continues To Mount In W. Carolina; One Life Reported Lost

Kutherfordton, N. C., Aug. 16—The Lake Lure dam, 100 feet high, and backing up millions of gallons of water is leaking badly and a force of men is working desperately to stop the trouble according to reports brought here this afternoon.

The highway between this city and Lake Lure is still passable but travelers are being warned off it and notified that if they go toward the dam they do so at their own risk.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 16—(AP)—Counting its toll in the hundreds of thousands of dollars damage and one known death, floods in Western North Carolina were receding today leaving the Asheville district struggling to restore normal conditions.

An unidentified man was reported to have been killed at Aberdeen, N. C., when a storm struck there at 4:30 this morning. Unconfirmed reports that others were killed when several buildings were demolished, were being investigated.

Industries and public utility companies suffered most heavily from the flood, the corn and small grain crop of the region was estimated to have been cut from a fourth to a half by the wind and rain storms.

The entire valleys of the Swannanoa and French Broad rivers were under water this morning. No trains were running out of Asheville; street car service was at a standstill, in certain sections there was no lights, principal highways were blocked by mountain slides and communication was only partially restored and intermittent. Basements in every section of the city were flooded.

Two houses were washed away at Sumburst, on the west fork of Pigeon river, according to reports reaching Wayneville. No lives were lost, it was said.

Kanuga Lake, in Henderson county, around which the Episcopalians are building a summer assembly ground, was washed out. The lake, a small one, did not endanger lives when it went out. In Transylvania county, Pisgah Forest, a village of about 300 people, was entirely surrounded by water but there was believed to be no danger.

Roman, ten miles south of Brevard, was above water this morning after being flooded last night. A number of the floors of the houses in the village of 500 people were covered with from six inches to three feet of water.

Brevard was entirely cut off from rail and highway travel this morning. No considerable damage had been reported.

It was feared that lives were endangered in Yancey county, where the north and south Toe and the Cane rivers were out of their banks and were said to be roaring down the valleys. No news from that section could be obtained.

Water was running six feet over the top of the dam of the North-western Carolina Utilities Company over the Cane river. The South Toe was within three feet of a bridge which was said to be 20 feet above the water when the river is normal. On the North Toe, the largest of the three rivers, a floor of the bridge at Boonford, 40 feet high, was under water.

Damage to crops, livestock and property at Canton, in Haywood county, was estimated at $100,000. The Pigeon river reached its peak at 11 o'clock last night and was back in its banks today. Considerable damage was done to the Champion Fibre company plant and property at Canton. A bridge

LACY ACCEPTS INVITATION TO SPEAK NOV. 11

Head of Union Theological Seminary to Deliver Armistice Day Address Here.

Dr. B. R. Lacy, Jr., of Richmond, president of Union Theological Seminary, has accepted an invitation to deliver the principal address at Armistice Day exercises here on November 11th.

The announcement was made this morning by W. H. Rogers, Jr., member of a committee of the Pitt county post of the American Legion having selection of an Armistice Day speaker in charge.

The invitation was extended Mr. Lacy several days ago and his letter of acceptance was received by Mr. Rogers this morning.

Mr. Lacy is one of the outstanding orators of the Southland. He is known as the "Fighting Parson" of the 30th Division, serving in the capacity of chaplain of that organization. He is a son of State Treasurer B. R. Lacy.

The selection of a speaker is among initial steps of the American Legion to provide a suitable program for the Armistice Day celebration. Last year the observance consisted of exercises at the East Carolina Teachers College, with Congressman Bulwinkle as principal speaker.

The celebration will be conducted along a more elaborate plan this year and no doubt will vie with other observances of the few years succeeding the World War.

Talk Development Of Power Resource In the Southland

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 16—(AP)—Development of power and resources in the South was up for discussion today before the Institute of Public Affairs of the University of Virginia, in the round table conference on the industrialization of the South. This conference was led by President Bradford Knapp of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Arthur A. Nelson, professor of geology at the University of Virginia, has prepared for delivery a discussion of the natural resources of the Old Dominion and with it an outline of the work of the Virginia Geological Commission in conserving natural resources.

Caution in water power expansion in the southern States is urged in the discussion by Dr. Phillip P. Wells, Washington lawyer.

Professor Kirk P. Porter of the University of Iowa, leading the round table on county and township government, was ready to defend the short ballot and urge its adoption by counties.

Under the leadership of President Antella Reinhardt of Mills College, members of the round table conference on women in modern society were to take up a discussion of business women and their problems.

San Francisco Aug. 16—(AP)—The Marine Department of the Chamber of Commerce announced today that it had received messages saying the steamer Ecuador of the Panama Mail Line was aground off Cape San Lazarus on the west coast of Mexico.

HASSELL OFF ON FIRST LEG OCEAN FLIGHT

Flier Lands at Cochrane, Ontario, On Proposed Trip to Stockholm, Sweden.

Cochrane, Ont., Aug. 16—(AP)—Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer landed here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, completing the first lap of their flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, Sweden. They left Rockford early this morning and will spend the night before continuing.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 16—(AP)—Bert Hassell, accompanied by Parker Cramer, co-pilot and navigator, took off at 6:40 a. m. Central Standard time, on the first leg of a proposed flight to Stockholm, Sweden.

The pilots made a perfect hop off from the Rockford airport, circling over the field until the big plane had made an altitude of about 1,000 feet when it was nosed northeastward toward Cochrane, Ont., where Hassell planned to make his first stop and spend the night.

The pilots were scheduled to reach Cochrane in about eight hours, stopping over there to refuel and tune up the plane for a second hop to Greenland tomorrow.

Both Hassell and Cramer expressed confidence of success as they climbed into the "Greater Rockford" and waved good-bye. They were not daunted by the accident which halted their first attempt three weeks ago when their plane, heavily loaded for one hop to Greenland was unable to make altitude and crashed in a corn field shortly after leaving Rockford.

A large crowd had gathered at the airport when the big plane was rolled from its hangar shortly after 6 a. m. The pilots began warming up the motors and without any delay took off at 6:40. Weather conditions for the flight across Canada were considered light and the "Greater Rockford" crew was certain it would make Cochrane on scheduled time.

The hop from Cochrane to Greenland is about 1,800 miles, much of it over water. From Greenland the fliers plan another hop to Iceland and then a final jump to Stockholm, their goal.

From Rockford, the course of the plane was northeast across Canada to Cochrane, Ont., and thence on to Mt. Evans, Greenland, the total distance from Rockford to Mt. Evans being 2,100. The pilots planned to make a shorter hop from Mt. Evans to Reykjavik, Iceland, where a base was ready for additional fuel and oil. Between Reykjavik and the Swedish coast, their last hop, lies a great expanse of open sea.

The big plane was stocked with ample food supplies and other provisions for the northern flight. Colleagues food the pilots carried a collapsible rubber boat, an axe, a rifle, hiking outfits and first aid kits.

A radio was included among the plane's equipment.

Hassell was the first of the greater Rockford crew to arrive at the airport this morning, arriving at 5:45 with Mrs. Hassell. They left their "kiddies" at home in bed. The pilot spent a few moments talking with his wife and later posed for photographers. When asked to pose with Mrs. Hassell, he said: "Forget it. She doesn't want to be mixed up in this flight."

Cramer followed a few minutes later, coming by auto with his mother, Mrs. Fannie Cramer, who had come to Rockford to bid her son farewell. Mother and son spent some time together.

They went at once to the hangar, rolled the plane out and climbed in and took off without further ado.

The plane was loaded with 350 gallons of gasoline and 20 gallons of oil. There was little or no breeze and the air was described as "Moggy" by other fliers. "Moggy" is their term for heavy.

MISSING FLIER REPORTED HEADED FOR MOUNTAINS

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 16—(AP)—Johnny Kyle, missing airmail pilot, was sighted at 9:30 o'clock last night several miles south of Greer headed directly for the mountains, according to information received here today.

F. H. James of the Greer section, said today that a plane passed over his home flying in the direction of Spartanburg at about 9:30 o'clock last night. A few minutes later it came back and was headed directly for the Blue Ridge mountains.

"The pilot was lost and trying to find his way back to the mail route," Mr. James said. "My home is twelve miles north of the route and when last seen the flier was heading still farther north. He was unable to follow his accustomed route because of the fog and rain."

ONE DIES AS PLANE FALLS GULF MEXICO

Four Survivors of the Crash Rescued by Coast Guard Patrol Boat This Morning.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Aug. 16—(AP)—The four survivors of a Pan-American airway passenger plane in which one passenger was killed when it was forced down in the Gulf of Mexico off here last night were landed here early today by a Coast Guard patrol boat which took them off the tanker Ligonier. Two, who were said to be members of the craft's crew of three, were taken to a hospital.

The dead man was Charles N. Ageton, of Flushing, N. Y. Details of how he met death, the extent of the injuries of those taken to the hospital and their names were not immediately revealed by officials of the Coast Guard base here.

It was stated, however, that the airplane, which was said to have crashed on the water some 120 miles west southwest of here, sank soon after its occupants and a body of Ageton had been taken off by the Ligonier, near which it descended.

The plane was en route from Havana to Key West at the time and was some distance off its course. The men were aboard the tanker, bound from Tampa to Port Arthur, Texas, and the Coast Guard patrol boat number 195, which had been summoned earlier by distress messages from the plane, rescued the Ligonier late last night.

They were taken aboard the cutter from the tanker Ligonier, near which the plane alighted and which picked them up just as their craft sank. Ensign M. Braswell, of the local Coast Guard base, said Eggston's body was not recovered.

William Malone, the other passenger, and H. C. Leuteritz, radio operator of the plane, were taken to a hospital for first aid treatment, the former having suffered a scalp wound, the latter body bruises. The condition of neither was considered serious.

The survivors said that Eggston was killed when the plane struck the water with a terrific impact after it had been blown more than a hundred miles off its course and its fuel was almost exhausted. Efforts were made to recover his body, it was said, but it was believed carried away by high seas before they could reach it.

Eight Injured In Auto Wreck

Philadelphia, Aug. 16—(AP)—Eight persons six of them from Virginia and West Virginia, were injured, one of them seriously, today when their automobile upset on the Lincoln highway near Langhorne, Pa.

Renni Nell King, six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Grace King, of Eggleston, Va., was brought to the Frankford Hospital here suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries. She is in a critical condition. Others injured were Ozone Ury, of Lawndale, Pa., where the party had spent the last two days; his wife Elizabeth, Mrs. King and another daughter, Frances, 14, both of whom received internal injuries; Basil B. Murphy, Princeton, W. Va., his wife, and their son James, 6, whose jaw was fractured. Ury and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were slightly injured.

The accident occurred, it was said, when Ury tried to pass a truck going up a hill and became confused when he found another truck coming down. The party was on the way to New York.

Noted Georgia Woman Is Dead

Athens, Ga., Aug. 16—(AP)—Miss Mildred Lewis Rutherford, 77, prominent Georgia author and educator, and known for her life-long defense of the southern cause during the war between the states, died at her home here last night.

Miss Rutherford, daughter of Prof. William Rutherford, and Laura Bataille Rootes (Cobb), was graduated from Lucy Cobb Institute in 1868, and later became its principal. From 1911 to 1916 she was historian general of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Miss Rutherford was known to students of Lucy Cobb as "Miss Millie" whom she often entertained on the platform and privately with tales of the various deeds of the wearers of the gray.

The Confederate soldier was her hero through life, and never did she miss an opportunity to champion the cause of the south, which she insisted was "for state's right" and not slavery.

Funeral services will be held from the first Baptist church at Athens Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

WATERS REcede IN FLORIDA STORM AREA

Okkechobee, Fla., Aug. 16—(AP)—Kissimmee river today began recession, relieving the North Lake

ATTEMPT U. S. TO SWEDEN FLIGHT

Beri R. J. Hassell, Rockford, Ill., (left), and Parker D. Cramer, Washington, co-pilot and navigator, hopped off this morning from Rockford on the first leg of a proposed flight to Stockholm, Sweden. Cochrane, Ontario, is the first scheduled stop of the flight.

Okkechobee region of the burden of flood water which for several days has threatened to cause an overflow of the lake.

Meanwhile, central Florida's shallow in and sea, which has been wreaking destruction for several days, was going down, relieving a situation that for a time threatened serious consequences. Although meager reports were coming from the affected territory north and west of Okkechobee City, it was estimated that no lives were lost, and that inhabitants would soon be able to return to their homes.

Many refugees still were receiving food and shelter here, although they were expected to leave for their homes as soon as roads became passable.

Meanwhile, Lake Okkechobee still continued to rise slowly, although the recession of waters in the Kissimmee basin was declared insurance against an overflow.

LOCAL BOYS TO GO INTO CAMP SOON

The Civic Playground At Camp Leach Has Become An Actuality.

The Civic Playground Camp at Camp Leach, on which work has been progressing during the past week in signing up the requisite number of boys, will be held, as planned, during the week of August 21 to 28. Many boys who had set their hearts on the outing will rejoice to know that it will really happen, especially after so many shorter outings planned for the summer have not proved possible. The number now planning to go does not quite reach the desired total, but a few others will doubtless come in at the last minute and the total of boys who make the trip will be at least twenty-five.

Mothers may rest assured that the managing personnel of the camp will include sufficient trained and experienced councilors and life guards to give the maximum protection to all boys, and this, added to the natural features of the beach and shore at Camp Leach, will be the best insurance possible.

In an article that appeared in last Sunday's New York Times on the summer camp as an American institution, it was estimated that 300,000 boys and girls in the United States spend part or all of the summer in camps. The desirability of such institutions was strongly stressed, and doubtless the advantages of a camping trip for the boy will display themselves to the mind of anyone who stops to consider the camp and what it does.

It is not yet too late to get in on the fun of Camp Greenville, but it is desirable to let the management know how many to plan for as early as possible. There are but four full days left before Camp Greenville is due to open for the BIG WEEK.

ROANOKE RIVER OVERFLOWS BADLY DAMAGING CROPS

Raleigh, Aug. 16—(AP)—Overflow of the Roanoke river as a result of recent heavy rains, did considerable damage to crops along the eastern bank of the stream, but no accurate estimate is yet available, the Weather Bureau here reported today. The Roanoke reached the predicted flood stage of 44 feet yesterday, and then began to fall.

COLORED ODD FELLOWS END STATE MEET

J. H. S. Johnson Is Elected Grand Master at Final Sessions Here Last Night.

J. H. S. Johnson, of Salisbury, was elected Deputy Grand Master in the final session of the annual meeting of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, Patriarchs and Ladies Auxiliary, which was brought to a conclusion in this city last night. He succeeds Dr. C. S. Brown, of Winton, who presided over the two days' sessions here.

Approximately six hundred men and women representing virtually every section of the state, attended the annual gathering of the organization and expressed keen satisfaction at the splendid way they were entertained while here. The next meeting will be held at Asheville, N. C. C. M. Epps, of the Greenville lodge, acted as master of ceremonies.

One of the outstanding features of the closing day's session was a mammoth parade over the principal streets of the city. Members gaily attired in regalia marched ahead of a long procession of automobiles in which a number of dignitaries of the State lodge rode together with members of the Patriarchs and Ladies Auxiliary.

Mayor J. C. Lanier delivered the address of welcome at the opening session at Sycamore Hill Baptist church. He was followed by Judge F. M. Wooten who for many years has been a wise counsellor of the colored race. Both addresses were presented in forceful style, and were heartily applauded by the visitors.

F. C. Harding and E. G. Flanagan had been invited to speak to the visitors, but unexpected business prevented their attendance. This was the first time the State organization had met in Greenville. C. M. Epps, prominent colored educator said today, and all of the officials expressed gratification at the excellent reception which they received upon every hand. He said they left with words of praise on their lips for Pitt County.

To Place Marker At Akeley's Tomb

New York, Aug. 16—(AP)—Permission to place a commemorative tablet of bronze on the tomb of the African explorer, Carl Akeley, who was buried where he died, in the heart of the Belgian Congo, has been requested by the Belgian government in a communication just received by the explorer's widow, Mrs. Mary L. Jose Akeley.

M. Paspas, prime minister of Belgium and minister of the colonies, has made the request through Prince Albert de Ligne, Belgian ambassador to the United States. Carl Akeley died suddenly on November 17, 1926, on the high slopes of Mt. Mikeno in the Parc National Albert of the Belgian Congo, where he and Mrs. Akeley had undertaken to fulfill a mission from Albert, King of the Belgians.

Mrs. Akeley, aided by the other members of the party and her black boys, prepared her husband's body for a grave in the solid volcanic rock, and using the only materials available, built a coffin of native mahogany, metal lined, and upholstered with soft woolen blankets. An eight foot stockade of mahogany posts was erected around the burial plot to prevent the encroachments of the jungle.

Noted Airman Of Italy Dead

Rome, Aug. 16—(AP)—News was received in Rome today of the death of Major Carlo P. Del Prete, who was injured in Brazil after a non-stop flight from Rome to South America. Major Del Prete had his right leg amputated in Rio Janeiro yesterday and according to word received here, this operation was followed by a high temperature and a fast pulse.

Although Premier Mussolini was absent when the news of the airman's death was received a number of South American diplomats called at the Chigi Palace to express their condolences to permanent officials there. Many messages of sorrow were received also.

The news, which was received in the middle of the afternoon, cast a spell of gloom over the nation which was still in a holiday mood yesterday being the feast of the assumption.

There was general mourning that such a magnificent flight should have ended in tragedy so soon after General Umberto Nobile's fatal polar trip.

Thieves Reported Operating In And Around Greenville. Thieves are reported to have entered quite a number of homes in Greenville during the last two weeks, but police today reported no success in their effort to round up the criminals.

At one home the robbers are said to have taken almost every piece of wearing apparel belonging to the lady of the house, and she was forced to almost completely restock her wardrobe next day.

In most cases, it seemed that money was the object of search. Although members of the police department have not indicated that they have any clue as to the identity of the robbers, it was reported today that they were working on the case and hoped to be able to bring the offenders to justice in a short time.

The city suffered from an epidemic of sneak-thievery last year, and after considerable work on the part of the police department several young negroes were brought in to court and convicted.

Only one robbery has been reported outside of the city in the last few days and three men were lodged in the county jail to answer to the charge within a few hours after it was reported.

Fresh Vegetable Salad For Four. (A Health Salad) 1 cup diced raw carrots; 1-2 cup sliced cucumbers; 1-2 cup diced celery; 1 cup chopped cabbage; 2 tablespoons chopped green peppers; 1 tablespoon finely chopped onions; 1 teaspoon salt; 1-4 teaspoon paprika; 1-2 cup salad dressing. Mix and chill the ingredients. Serve in cups of lettuce.

Crumb Cake. (This will stay moist for at least a week if stored in the cake box). 2 cups flour; 2 cups dark brown sugar; 2-3 cup fat; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1-2 teaspoon salt; 2 eggs; 1 cup milk; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1 teaspoon cloves; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg; 1-2 teaspoon soda. Mix the flour, sugar, fat and baking powder. Reserve one cup of this mixture and add the rest of the ingredients to the remaining crumb mixture. Beat for one minute and pour into a pan which has been fitted with a waxed paper. Sprinkle the crumbs on the top and bake in a moderately slow oven for 30 minutes. Cut in squares and serve.

Have all salad ingredients thoroughly chilled. Wash and core the lettuce as soon as it comes from the market and while dripping place in a cloth bag and set in the coldest part of the ice box.

Cut waxed papers to fit the bottoms of cake pans. No greasing is needed; the cakes come easily from the pan and the pan is quickly washed.

Pan broil all tender cuts of meat, as steaks and chops. Place the meat in a frying pan and place six inches below the fire. When browned turn and brown the other side; season with salt and pepper. No fat is needed for cooking and the natural flavors and juices are retained.

Have a tall stool in the kitchen and use it whenever possible. It will be most convenient to sit next to the sink, table or to use while broiling. Save energy as much as possible.

WHY DRAG OUT THE PETTICOAT?

For ramifications possibly no political campaign involving the Presidency of the United States has equalled the one that now occupies the attention of the voters.

Tuesday night, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, sister of the noted artist, and wife of the noted artist, and Mrs. John Platt, Republican candidate for Congress in New York, debated before a radio audience the respective merits of candidates' wives. Mrs. Gibson championed Mrs. Alfred E. Smith and Mrs. Platt spoke for Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

A report of the debate on the respective merits of the two women, one of whom will be the next mistress of the White House, indicates that the argument was conducted on a dignified plane.

Yet the impropriety of the debate lies not in the manner in which it was conducted but in the debate itself. There are enough side issues already to confuse and bewilder without involving the wives of the candidates to complicate the situation further.

Herbert Hoover, it may be assumed, is thoroughly satisfied with Mrs. Hoover as a wife. There are no intimations that Governor Smith is contemplating a change. It isn't any false sense of chivalry that would except these splendid wives and mothers from the acrimony of political discussion. It is a sense of the fitness of things.

Mrs. Hoover is the sort of wife who has helped to make Mr. Hoover the sort of man and candidate he is. Mrs. Smith is the sort of woman who has contributed to her husband's climb from the sidewalks of New York to the threshold of the greatest elective office in the world. Each in her own way is going to continue to be the woman she has been.

If Mrs. Smith has not impeded her husband's progress, has not hampered him in the exercise of his duties as the most important State executive in the land, and has, on the other hand, been a source of encouragement and practical aid to him, it is folly at this late day that she is not equipped to accompany him to the White House. The same may be said for Mrs. Hoover in her relations to her husband.

They are not the same women just as the candidates are not the same men. But, regardless of whether we like Mrs. Smith or not, regardless of whether one approves Mrs. Hoover or not, Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Hoover will sit in the White House, not on her own merits except in so far as they are reflected in the husband, but because the electorate approves Governor Smith or Mr. Hoover.

At this time it is unworthy the solemn function of electing a President to drag out the wives of the candidates and make political targets of them. Once it was called disreputable for a man to hide behind a petticoat. Surely it's not the less disreputable to advance the petticoat to the forefront where it may divert attention from the issues that involve the man and whose snobs and sentimentalists may sniff and snifle.—News and Observer.

ABOUT TOWN

"Cases of sneak thievery reported in various parts of the city should be stopped," a local citizen to the writer of this column today.

"Quite a number of entrances have been made to homes recently, but so far none of the culprits have been apprehended. Officers have been doing everything possible to bring the thieves to account, but so far nothing of any definite nature has been accomplished.

"Greenville had a similar epidemic of robberies not so many months ago, but the ring of thieves composed of colored boys, was soon rounded up and its members brought to justice.

"It is not a very pleasant sensation when one leaves homes to feel like somebody is waiting for an opportunity to enter and make away with your property. This situation is to be deplored and it is hoped the criminals will soon be lined up and prosecuted."

"Greenville is becoming more like New York every day," remarked one of our business men today, observing the way gas and water companies keep the streets torn up with their improvements.

"Every time I go to New York they are tearing up pavement for the purpose of making some kind of civic improvement either in stores, residences or to the sidewalks and streets.

"The same situation prevails in Greenville. Dickson avenue and Evans street look like the workshop of some big construction concern half the time. Laborers are eternally tearing up pavement and putting it down again. In many cases, the pavement isn't replaced as quickly as it should be and transportation is greatly bothered by the handicap of circling the block or going clean around the block to reach some objective.

"It takes constant changes of this kind to make great cities, and if it is contributing to our size, then for goodness sake, let them work as much as they please."

"When is that playgraph thing coming?" inquired a sports fan today referring to the baseball mechanical scoreboard ordered by the Reflector about two weeks ago.

"Will it be here soon enough to report the remainder of the games of the Eastern Carolina League?" We assured him that we hoped so.

"I certainly hope so, too," he said. "The board would draw enormous crowds to this part of the town and prove almost as interesting as the game itself.

"Greenville certainly gets service of this kind through efforts of the Reflector. Everybody appreciates it."

"People who go from a big city to a little town seem to forget the fact that big people also live in these small places," observed a citizen who not so many years ago left one of the great cities of this nation to cast his lot with Greenville and Pitt county people.

"I had that idea myself when I first came here. But it was not long before I became disillusioned. I learned that some of the best educated and most refined people to be found anywhere reside in districts that are composed largely of rural population. They were there of their own choosing, believing they had greater opportunity of service. These people had children who were educated at higher schools of learning in various parts of the country, and like their parents, returned home to help improve the condition of the people with whom they had resided all their lives.

They had ideals which they implanted in the hearts and minds of the communities where they made their homes, and the seeds they sowed developed into a splendid harvest.

The colored order of Odd Fellows met in Greenville yesterday. Hundreds of representatives of the organization from all sections of the state attended the session. They apparently enjoyed themselves yesterday especially during the parade when all the pious members donned uniforms and marched over the principal streets of the city. It was a gorgeous spectacle—these members of a great fraternity—followed by women members of their auxiliary.

A majority of the membership had never been to Greenville before. They went sight-seeing and were evidently surprised at the spirit of progress was visible on every hand.

Two or three of the men who had not been here in years were profoundly impressed at the rapid growth the city had made during the intervening years.

"I had no idea the town was as large as it is," one exclaimed as he walked through one of the principal resident sections.

"It is a much larger place than I thought," confided another.

Virtually all visitors to Greenville are surprised at its size. People who have never been here get the impression that we are nothing more than a small town. When they are told the population has passed the ten thousand mark and that we are still developing rapidly they hardly believe it. We have thrown off the swaddling clothes of infancy. Watch us grow!

A WASHINGTON BYSTANDER

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON.

(Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington — (AP)—Retirement from the democratic national committee of Senator Furnifold McLendell Simmons of North Carolina, for reasons not self explained, draws attention to the fact that the Old North State, steeped in traditions that reach back far beyond the revolutionary beginnings of things American, is represented in the Senate by 144 years of accumulated age and more than a half century of unbroken Senate experience.

"The Senator," as North Carolina knows its senior senator, is 74 years of age, as is Senator Lee Slater Overman, always "Senator Overman" back home to distinguish him from his colleague. Both were born in January, 1854, and in fact Overman is just seventeen days the senior in age. Simmons has been 27 consecutive years in the Senate; Overman twenty-five.

Seniority Counts. But that little distinction as to seniority in the senate means a lot when translated into North Carolina politics. Simmons, serious-minded always, meticulously polite in debate, but a hard hitter for all that; husky of voice and with face deep etched and bristly, close-cut hair and mustache bleached by time, has been a commanding figure in political affairs of his state all these years. And always also, the short statured, fine drawn "litt' giant" has bulked large in the Washington life of his party, come political weather fair or foul. He is at his best, perhaps, and seasoned by long experience, as director of the minority battles day fiscal policy is in the making.

Overman, a wide, portly man of 54 and day out when government large good nature and genial, fun loving mold, is a more colorful figure to the eye. He was doomed when he entered the senate to see the decades come and go while still he wore that title of "junior senator," which seems hardly in keeping with his snowy hair, worn long to his collar, and framing a smooth checked, ruddy face that looks out benignly on men and affairs save on rare political occasions. But when a senate colleague does break through that calm serenity of manner, there is a stinging, whipcrack crack to Overman's tongue, even yet.

Study In Contrasts. He affects that flat, black, square topped mode of soft hat that "Uncle Joe" Daniels introduced to cabinet circles as naval secretary. It's more or less an Old North State lid in headgear. But Overman, when he goes abroad sometimes of a coolish day, adds an ample, black, velvet collared cape, a veritable naval boat-cloak, with a touch of relieving color to the lining. That and his time frosted hair, his portly, dignified bearing and the kindly, tranquil look of him, mark him as the old school in the south, harking back to the days of the plantations and the cotton squararchy. They have always been, these elder statesmen colleagues from North Carolina, stalwarts of the stalwarts in democratic ranks, regular in thought and deed, deepset in party traditions. Both are sticklers for the order and decorum of the senate; insistent upon respect for the title of senator. And if Simmons now, at long last, finds himself outside the party fold in any real sense because of the Smith nomination, the old order is changing in North Carolina.

NO CHANGE IN GREAT FIGHT IN AMERICAN

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer. Some small part of the tension has been removed from the National League race, for the moment at least, by a St. Louis victory and a New York defeat, but the American League quarrel persists in remaining in just the state it reached ten days ago when the Athletics came to the peak of their spurt in the west.

While the Cardinals were increasing their lead over the Giants to three and one-half games yesterday, the Mackmen were refusing for the second time in two days to reduce the Yankee margin to the same figure. The champions dropped their second straight to the White Sox, but the Mackmen similarly exposed their chins to the Tigers for the second time in as many days.

The latest Yankee reverse, decorated with Babe Ruth's forty-fifth 1928 home run, was due chiefly to the antics of Urban Faber, the ancient spitballer who for fifteen years has been a particular nuisance to Ruth and the Yankees—and that in several years of the Babe's attitude in Boston. Old Urban received gleaming support from Johnny Mostil and Chalmers Cussell as he won by 8 to 4, but he could have slipped by with much worse backing.

Not satisfied with silencing most of the weapons in murderers' row, Faber joined the home run club with a neat shot into the right field bleachers, and drove in another marker with a single. His battery mate, Buck Crouse, had hit for all the bases earlier when the White Sox were more in need of runs.

Ruth's drive placed him 18 games, 19 days and nine home runs ahead of his 1927 pace, and improved his chance for a new record, which two days ago seemed to be slipping from him. To hit 61 and improve his 1927 Major League mark by one the Bambino must get 16 in forty games, or two in each five—a comparatively simple feat.

It seems, for one who has moved at a faster clip through 114 engagements. The Tigers defeated the Mackmen 6 to 3.

Cleveland won by 7 to 0 behind the fine pitching of Joe Shaute in Boston, while Gariand Braxton hurled the Senators to a 4-3 decision over Sam Gray and the Browns.

The Wrigley field plux pursued the Giants again, but Chicago base hits may just possibly have had something to do with the ninth inning defeat of the clan McGraw by 6 to 5.

The Cardinal victory over the Braves by 7 to 3 was acceptable enough to St. Louisians at its face value, but more acceptable as a sign that Red Bird slump had ended.

Cincinnati turned the tables on Philadelphia by 11 to 4, while Brooklyn smashed its losing streak stopping the Pirates in a nip and tuck game by 6 to 5.

Devils Scare Off Bluebirds

The Red Devils today are in undisputed possession of the top rung of the National League ladder, with but one more chance to lose when they play the Ghosts in the league's last encounter today. An up and down battle was waged in the Ravine which only the last out decided, although the score of 14 to 10 fails to tell the story.

Ten Devils counted in the first frame, seven of them crossing when Summersell was unable to locate the vicinity of the plate, and four hits helping. In their half, Graham Dennis beat out a bunt and scored the only run for the Birds. The Bird defense improved in each inning, 10, 3, 1 and 0 being the Red run totals. In the same time, the Birds were scoring 1, 1, 2, 2, and 4 to wind up. A hopeful rally came in the last for Blue when Holton, first man up, reached first on an error. Scoville walked, Williams walked, Jack Forbes hit, and Madrin tripled. Proctor reached first on a base on balls and Warren drove a liner right into Boyd's mitt on first. Madrin stole home, sliding neatly under Sawyer for a run, and Proctor attempted to take third on the play, but Sawyer's throw to Wells cut him off for the last out and the game.

It will be seen from the league average that if White should be successful in defeating the leading Devils today, the two teams would be tied for the lead, in which case a play off would be necessary.

More held the Birds well in hand with but four hits in as many innings and one base on balls until he was retired with a split finger.

Pirates Rout The Goldbugs

(By The Associated Press) The Goldbugs, leaders of the imposing Eastern Carolina loop parade dropped yesterday's game to the Wilmington Pirates, 6 to 4, after Hal Weaver clouted out a circuit ticket in the fifth with two men on the path.

The Highlanders were held to one lonely safety by George Mackay and the galloping Buccaneers won, 3 to 0. The game was a clever battle between the hurlers from the start and proved one of the best exhibitions seen this season. Smith, backed by brilliant support, held the Bucs to five hits. Willy capped the eighth with a double and in an attempt to catch him at third Smith threw wild and Willy scored. A sacrifice and a walk with the bases filled counted the other two runs.

Kinton went down before Greenville, 8 to 6, in a shugging match. Other than a home run by Lurham for the Eagles with one man on the path, the game was without features. The pounding of Sprull in the second inning netted the Tobaccoists six of their eight runs.

BURGHLEY WINNING HURDLE CROWN

David Lord Burghley of Great Britain provided an upset when he defeated the two American favorites, Frank Cuhel and Morgan Taylor in the final of the 400-meter hurdles at the Olympic games in Amsterdam. Left to right: Burghley; Cuhel, United States; Petterson, Sweden; and Taylor, United States.

TOBACCONISTS TAKE OPENER FROM KINSTON

Although yielding twelve hits, Joliff, pitching ace of the Tobaccoist club, enabled his teammates to defeat Kinston by a count of 8 to 6 at the fair grounds here yesterday.

Greenville scored six of their eight runs in the second inning with a batting attack which Sprull was not able to stop until the damage had been done.

Durham came off with batting honors of the day when he swatted the ball for four bases with one man on. It was the only outstanding feature of the contest.

Kinston was credited with two errors against Greenville one. Kinston will conclude the series here this afternoon, after which the local will journey to Wilmington for a two game series.

The box score follows:

Italian Wins From Risiko

New York, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The record against Johnny Risiko, embattled Cleveland baker, who took second place in Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination tournament, stood exactly the same today at the start of the new elimination series as it did at the close of the last—one defeat.

Risiko got away to a bad start in the ball park of the Brooklyn Nationals last night, when he lost his first encounter of the season to Roberto Roberti, the Italian giant, on a foul in six rounds. Up to the final blow, a low left to the body, the Cleveland baker had kept his record clear as a giant killer. He won three of the five full rounds after Roberti took the first two.

Opinions about the ringside were almost evenly divided over the final blow, a low left that buried deep in Roberti's body as he stepped into Risiko from the ropes. To many it appeared that the punch had landed cleanly in the pit of the Italian's stomach and the crash of his huge body to the canvas was the signal of another knockout added to the Risiko string.

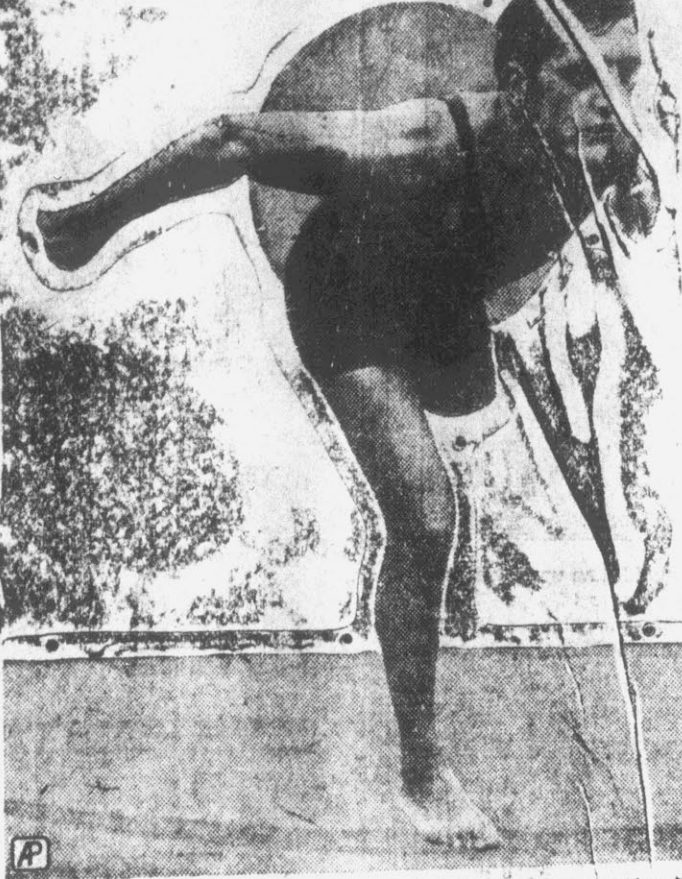

To others, and this included Referee Johnny McAvoy, the punch was foul. However, the fans rose and belted their disapproval for fully five minutes as "Double Roberti's" seconds worked on the slugged batter, unconscious and in great pain from the ring.

Super-Six Performance and finest car quality and you can save enough to pay a year's tuition.

Car value is pictured with vivid newness and stirring force in the words of this woman who writes:—

"We considered several much more expensive cars, but imagine my surprise and delight in finding every quality matched or bettered by Essex and enough saved to pay a year's tuition for my daughter."

Nor does Essex saving end with the purchase price. In operation economy, repair free reliability and long-lasting service, it continues to store up extra margins that account for its brilliant reputation and record as the world's greatest value and largest selling "Six"

Here is value that stands at the very pinnacle of the world's most efficient industry. Here are performance, beauty, comfort and quality workmanship.

As you regard its handsome ensemble or go over it detail by detail, you get the same compelling conviction of completeness and finish, of costly car quality and construction.

To see, to examine, to ride in the New Essex Super-Six can bring only one conclusion—it is the World's Greatest Value—altogether or part by part.

RED CROSS TO AID SUFFERERS OF PITT STORM

A Committee Solicits Funds for Rehabilitation of Tornado Area at Farmville.

Farmville, Aug. 16.—A telegram sent to national headquarters of the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C., sent Chas. J. Smith of Fort Bragg, field director and special director of disaster, on his way to the scene of Farmville's recent tornado in less than four hours after the message was sent.

The field director in company with a committee of the local branch visited the storm stricken area in Pitt and Greene counties yesterday morning and at a meeting of the executive committee composed of Dr. Paul E. Jones, chairman; Mrs. J. L. Shackelford, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Lovelace, treasurer; and Mrs. Annie Lang, together with Miss Tabitha de Visconti representing the county welfare department, it was decided to organize the community and start relief work and rehabilitation at once. To this end a committee of young ladies including Misses May Joyner, Elizabeth Fields, Mary Alice Beaman, Sarah Mewborn, Louise Smith, Evelyn Horton, Janie and Lucy Johnson, Janie Davis and Lotie Lane Joyner, has been appointed to assist in making a canvass for funds on Monday morning.

The local Red Cross has assumed the responsibility of relief work with the anticipation of the enthusiastic support of Pitt county citizens who have always responded instantly to the call for assistance, and with generous hearts and liberal hands have made of sympathy, not merely a polite lip phrase but a live and active expression of real feeling.

A conservative estimate has made the sum of $500 necessary for the rehabilitation of these people who have lost homes, food, clothing and crops, and the local Red Cross has pledged to give half of this amount. Contributions may be sent to any member of the executive committee mentioned above who will see that your money is used in direct relief work.

Suppress Showing Of Uncle Tom's Cabin At Atlanta

Atlanta, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The wound that Harriet Beecher Stowe inflicted when she indicted the South with her "Uncle Tom's Cabin" some 65 years ago has not healed so far as Atlanta is concerned. It was reopened here Sunday at a review of a picture version of the story was given at a local theatre where it had been booked for a September showing. As a result the picture has been suppressed by "an amiable agreement."

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, approached by the Atlanta Board of Censors today said he had the assurance that the booking had been cancelled in deference to the feeling engendered by the Sunday review.

As for that, a local critic was authority for the statement that a son of one of the widest known sponsors of the Southern cause during the Civil War left the theatre with tears of anger coursing down his cheeks before the review was completed Sunday.

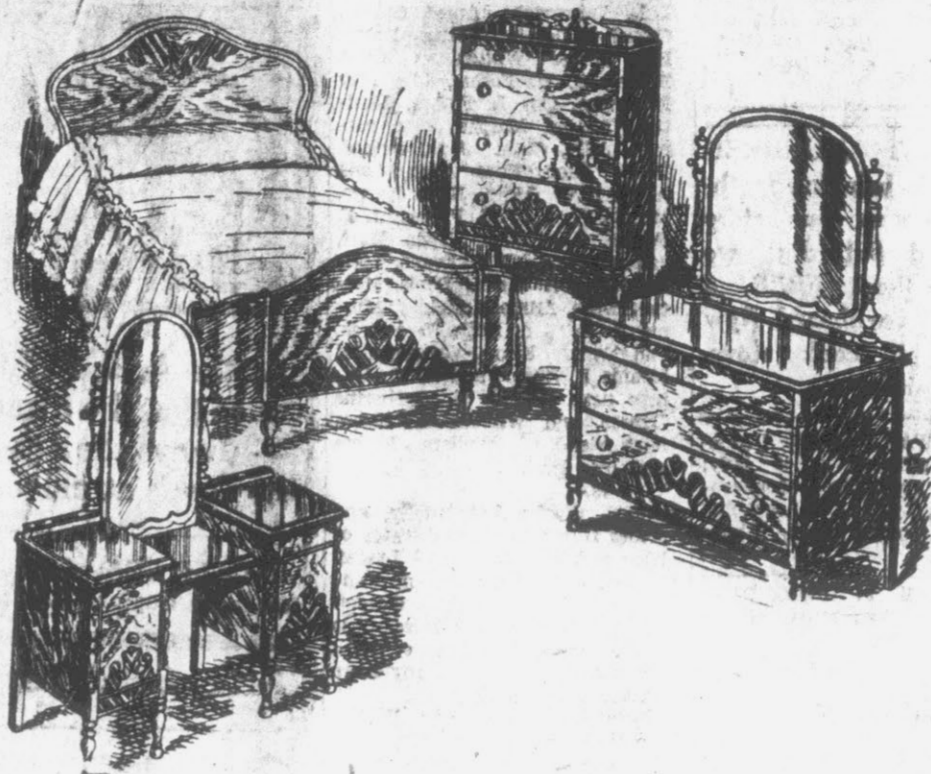

William A. Lynch, chairman of the Atlanta Board of Censors, and Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, secretary, announced that there was no protest on the part of the film company or the local theatre when asked to withdraw the picture.

"They agreed that it would be unwise to show 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' in Atlanta," said Mrs. Richardson, exhibiting an armful of letters from those who had seen the picture, protesting against its being shown here. The theatre likewise was recipient of many protests.

Army Officer Is Killed As Train Hits Automobile

Oxford, Penna., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Major J. Davis Ross of the United States Army, was killed instantly, and Lieut. Col. Edmund Butcher badly injured when their motor car was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad milk train at Barnsley Crossing and the Baltimore Pike today. The automobile was struck squarely in the center as the army officers, according to an eye witness, drove across the tracks. The automatic signal light, it is said, warned of the approaching train. The car, of the sedan type, was carried along the track about 25 feet and then tossed aside a complete wreck. Major Ross was found wedged in the car and was dead when taken out by members of the train crew. His neck was broken.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

STOCK MARKET.
 New York, Aug. 16.—(AP)—A distinctly earlier undertone in the money market, coupled with a large quota of favorable trade news, furnished the stimulus for another broad advance in prices in today's stock market. Revival of activity and strength in the railroad shares, a dozen of which advanced 2 to 4 points, was one of the features of the day's trading. Gains in the industrial list ran from 1 to 7 points. Trading showed a further expansion in volume.
 Call money renewed at 6 per cent, dropped to 5 1/2 and thence to 5, the lowest rate in about a month. Loans in the "outside market" were reported as low as 4 1/2 per cent, due to the heavy influx of funds from the interior. Time money was again reported available as low as 6 1/4 per cent.
 Expectations of a decrease in the federal reserve in the federal reserve statement to be issued after the close of the market also helped to create bullish sentiment. Persistent reports that federal reserve banks were buying acceptances in the open market lacked official confirmation but it was indicated that the federal reserve board had made change in its money market policy this week.
 Prospects of unusually heavy crop movements this fall accelerated the buying of the railroad shares. Texas & Pacific and Gulf, Mobile and Northern were bid up 4 points and Rock Island and Southern Railway 3 1/2-3 points each. Gains of 2 points or more were recorded by New York Central, Reading, Erie, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific.
 The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 2,800,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
 Unexpected downturns in wheat conditions at Liverpool did much to give an early setback today to wheat values here. Higher temperatures in Canada furnished also an impetus to the selling side of the wheat market. Opening 5-8 to 1-1 1/2 off, Chicago wheat later recovered somewhat. Corn and oats were likewise easier, with corn starting 3-8 to 1-1 1/4 down, but subsequently developing strength in the September delivery. Provisions also showed gains.
 Wheat closed strong 1-8 to 1 7/8 up; oats 1-4 to 1-2 off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25.

COTTON MARKET
 New York, Aug. 16.—(AP)—An opening decline was followed by renewed firmness in the cotton market today on buying reflecting increased nervousness over the crop situation owing to reports of deterioration and boll weevil damage in parts of the belt. After showing net declines of 22 to 26 points in early trading, the market advanced more than half a cent from the lowest, near months selling up to about the 19 1/4 per cent level. This advance attracted considerable realizing, but the mid-afternoon market was holding steady.
