Countless Millions Hear Gov. Smith's Acceptance Speech

Democratic Nominee for Presidency Sets Forth His Stand On Prohibition, Agriculture, Foreign Relations and Other Public Questions And Charges Republicans With Not Keeping Faith.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—With all the eyes at his command Governor Alfred E. Smith tonight told an expectant nation what he would do if elected President. In aggressive fashion, he accepted the Democratic nomination with a speech which not only set forth his stand on prohibition, agriculture, foreign relations and other public questions, but accused the Republican administration of a failure to keep faith with the people.

As millions listened-in by radio, the new leader of the Democrats advocated modification of both the Volstead law and the eighteenth amendment; reiterated that he would give the problem of controlling crop surpluses his immediate attention, if elected; assailed the administration's Nicaraguan and Mexican policy, and pledged himself to a "real" endeavor to outlaw war.

He also called for a reorganization of federal government activities on a business basis; declared that neither he nor the Democratic party contemplated "sudden or drastic" changes in tariff schedules; reaffirmed his stand for public ownership and control of water-power; promised a square deal for war veterans; stressed the need for inland waterway development, reforestation and conservation of natural resources, and advocated "progressive legislation for the protection and care of working-men and women."

While standing "squarely" on the Democratic platform declaration for restrictive immigration, the nominee asserted that he was "heartily in favor of removing from the immigration law the harsh provision which separates families," and was "opposed to the principle of restriction based upon the figures of immigrant population contained in a census thirty-eight years old."

Half way through his address, which he had prepared with the aid of his cabinet, Governor Smith tackled the prohibition question. He never will advocate or approve any law, he said, which directly or indirectly permits the return of the saloon, and sale of intoxicants by state agencies was proposed as an alternative.

Declaring that the President of the United States has two constitutional duties with respect to prohibition—enforcement of the law and a determination of what changes, if any, should be recommended to Congress, the nominee made this pledge:

"I shall to the very limit execute the pledge of our platform 'to make an honest endeavor to enforce the 18th amendment and all other provisions of the federal constitution and all laws enacted pursuant thereto.'"

Then he added: "The President does not make the laws. He does his best to execute them whether he likes them or not. The corruption in government activities which caused a former Republican prohibition administrator to state that three-fourths of the dry agents were political ward heelers named by politicians without regard to civil service laws and that prohibition is the 'new political pork barrel,' I will ruthlessly stamp out. Such conditions cannot and will not exist under any administration presided over by me."

Insisting that the present legal definition of the alcoholic content of an intoxicating beverage is "admittedly inaccurate and unscientific," Gov. Smith expressed the view that "some immediate relief would come from an amendment to the Volstead law," which would permit each state to fix its own standard of alcoholic content, "subject always to the proviso that that standard could not exceed the maximum fixed by Congress."

The full text of Gov. Smith's speech follows:

Text of Speech.
Upon the steps of this Capitol where twenty-five years ago I first came into the service of the State, I receive my party's summons to lead it in the nation. Within this building, I learned the principles, the purposes and the functions of government and to know that the greatest privilege that can come to any man is to give himself to a people which has reared him and raised him from obscurity to be a contender for the highest office in the gift of its people.

Here I confirmed my faith in the principles of the Democratic Party so eloquently defined by Woodrow Wilson: "First, the people as the source and their interests and desires as the text of laws and institutions. Second, individual liberty as the objective of all law." With a gratitude too strong for words and with humble reliance upon the aid of Divine Providence, I accept your summons to the wider field of action.

The Theory Of Progressive Government.
Government should be constructive, not destructive; progressive, not reactionary. I am entirely unwilling to accept the old order of things as the best unless and until I become convinced that it cannot be made better.

It is our new world theory that government exists for the people as against the old world conception that the people exist for the government. A sharp line separates those who believe that an elect class should be the special object of the government's concern and those who believe that the government is

Twelve Catholics Accused Of Conspiracy To Murder Two Presidents Of Mexico

Mexico City, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Seven women and five men, all Catholics, were under arrest today accused of having conspired to kill President Plutarco Elias Calles as well as the late President-Elect General Alvaro Obregon.

Mother Superior Concepcion Aceveda De La Lata, under custody since she was charged with having been chief plotter. The police declare the conspirators planned to kill the two officials last April by poisoning them with a poisoned pin at a dance which they attended in the town of Celaya.

This plan, as well as a later plot to bomb a bridge near Celaya over which Obregon and Calles were to pass, was abandoned as impracticable, it is alleged, but the conspirators continued their effort and succeeded in slaying General Obregon.

The police attribute to Rafael Enriquez Vidal, a 22-year-old law student who is one of those arrested, the statement that he was invited to join the group, being promised entrance to Heaven if he should become one of the "martyrs."

the agent and servant of the people who create it. Dominant in the Republican Party today is the element which proclaims and executes the political theories against which the party liberals like Roosevelt and La Follette and their party insurgents have rebelled. This reactionary element seeks to vindicate the theory of benevolent oligarchy. It assumes that a material prosperity, the very existence of which is challenged, is an excuse for political inequality. It makes the concern of the government, not people, but material things.

Reaction Vs. Progressivism.
I have fought this spirit in my own State. I have had to fight it and to beat it, in order to place upon the statute books every one of the progressive, humane laws for whose enactment I assumed responsibility in my legislative and executive career. I shall know how to fight it in the nation.

It is a fallacy that there is inconsistency between progressive measures protecting the rights of the people, including the poor and the weak, and a just regard for the rights of legitimate business, great or small. Therefore, while I emphasize my belief that legitimate pictures of young men executed for religious activities and expressing her determination to organize another group of "martyrs".

The police statement says she told him the Pope would canonize all those who died in behalf of the Church, not believing himself timber for a saint, Enriquez, the statement says, declined to join the group.

The police statement says the plotters met at the home of Mother Superior Concepcion, Senorita Maria Elena Manzano, now under arrest, is accused of having accepted a mission to go to Celaya, induce Obregon and Calles to dance with her and, while dancing, prick them with a poisoned pin. Mother Superior is charged with having furnished a bottle of poison for the purpose.

When the poison plan was abandoned, the conspirators manufactured bombs in a house near that occupied by Mother Superior, Chief Rios Zertuche declares, the explosives being used in bombings in the chamber of deputies and Obregon Headquarters, in recent months.

Jose Leon Toral, Obregon's assassin, and Manuel Trejo, who is alleged to have furnished Leon Toral with the pistol that he used in slaying the President-Elect, are declared to have been members of the "martyrs" group.

MANY CASES GET AIRING CIVIL COURT

Divorces Predominate First Two Days' Session of the August Term.

The August term of Pitt County Superior Court, for the trial of civil and criminal cases, convened in this city last Monday morning at ten o'clock with Judge R. A. Nunn of New Bern presiding, and Solicitor D. M. Clark prosecuting. The first week is being devoted to the hearing of civil issues. The second week will be devoted exclusively to disposition of criminal cases.

Several cases have been handled since organization of court Monday morning. Many issues were compromised during the first day's session, greatly decreasing one of the most congested calendars in months.

Divorces have outnumbered other cases actually given hearing, five complaints having received favorable action.

In the controversy involving the boundary lines between the lands of Edwin Tripp and L. F. Worthington, a jury awarded Worthington absolute possession of the piece of the property in dispute.

Exum Dail, Ayden merchant, was awarded judgment for the sum of $171.00 vs. W. L. House in payment of an account which the defendant is said to have been indebted to the plaintiff.

The following divorces were granted, the grounds in each case being improper relations with members of the opposite sex:

Daniel Braxton vs. Nellie Braxton.
W. H. Green vs. Effie Green, colored.
Essie Willoughby vs. James Willoughby, colored.
Eula Royall vs. W. W. Royall.
Lucinda Nelson vs. Aleck Nelson, colored.

H. D. STEPHENS LEADS WILSON

Incumbent for Congress at Jackson Shows Distinct Lead Today.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Senator Hubert D. Stephens, incumbent, early today was holding his lead of above 9,000 votes over his opponent, Congressman T. Webber Wilson in yesterday's Democratic primary with returns received from well over half of the state. Eleven counties were complete in the unofficial returns.

A total of 993 precincts of the 1,590 with every county of the 82 in the state heard from gave Stephens 50,136 votes against 40,586 for Wilson. The vote received passed the 90,000 mark, it was believed the final count of the vote cast would go well beyond 100,000.

Robert Hall of Hattiesburg, was clinging to his lead of less than a thousand over Price Dale of Columbus, his nearest opponent, in a four cornered contest for the sixth district seat of Congressman Wilson. The vote with 193 precincts of the 342 in the district was Hall, 7,015; Dale 6,250.

In the fourth district contest with 82 of the 194 precincts reported, Congressman Jeff Busby of Houston was almost 3,000 votes ahead of his next opponent, A. T. Patterson of Calhoun City. Busby received 4,892 votes and Patterson 2,006.

The other congressional contest in the second district with 96 precincts out of 174 in, was featuring a close race between Congressman B. G. Lowry of Holly Springs and Hall Doney of Holly Springs, with Lowry second. The vote stood—Doney 6,458; Lowry 5,943.

Congressmen from the other five districts were renominated without opposition.

BEGINS MOVEMENT FOR PEACH INSTITUTE

Raleigh, Aug. 22.—(AP)—George Ross, chief of the Division of Markets of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, has launched a movement for formation of a peach institute to represent the growers of the six principal peach shipping states of the south. A letter was sent out yesterday by Mr. Ross seeking to enlist the cooperation of South Carolina, Georgia, Arkansas, Alabama, and Tennessee in the proposal. The object of the institute would be to seek uniform grading, and also to foster legislation deemed beneficial to the industry, which has just passed through two unprofitable seasons.

Has Rescue Device

Lieut. C. B. Momen, submarine and diving expert of the navy, has invented a device to enable members of the crew of sunken submarines to reach the surface. The device, which includes a mouth-piece and oxygen bag, is being tested by the navy.

CHICAGO DRY AGENTS FIRE ON SUSPECT

Merle Adams Is Shot During Raid of Office Building Yesterday.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—For the second time this year Chicago Federal dry agents have found themselves involved in the shooting of a man during a raid.

Last March, William Beatty, a Municipal Court bailiff was shot and wounded during a prohibition raid. Yesterday Merle Adams, who gave his occupation as an insurance agent, was shot in the back by one of three prohibition agents, raiding a loop building office where they sought members of an alleged liquor syndicate.

The syndicate, according to information received by the prohibition department, had its headquarters in offices on the eighth floor of the City Hall Square building. Three agents entered the offices of the Paul Morton Construction company at their approach and was shot, the agents said, when he refused to obey a command to halt. Arthur Franklin, described as a student prohibition agent, fired the shot, witnesses said.

City police who started an investigation, said they were told to "get out". The same situation developed on the occasion of the shooting of Beatty last March, the federal officers maintaining that it was a Government matter and out of police jurisdiction.

Witnesses said Adams was chased six flights and clubbed with black jacks. All occupants of the Morton office were placed under arrest, but no liquor was found.

Paul Morton, of the office which was raided, was described as a brother of the late "Nails" Morton, who became rich in the post-war "liquor racket" and later was killed when thrown from a horse. Morton had been arrested before the raid on his offices. Adams, police said, was not known as a gangster of hoodlum, but it was charged he was an agent of the alleged liquor syndicate.

Hunt Succeeds; Willis.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Graham P. Hunt, Cincinnati liberal, was the Democratic nominee for the short term U. S. senatorial seat made vacant by the death of Senator Frank B. Willis last spring. His nomination was declared today by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown with an official majority of 757 votes over Senator Cyrus Locher, Cleveland.

Highways Damaged $300,000 By Heavy Rains Last Week

Raleigh, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Highways in Western North Carolina were damaged $300,000 by last week's heavy rains and swollen streams. Frank Page, state highway commissioner, estimated today. Mr. Page said all roads were open, except for a short link between Waynesville and Woodrow, but restoration of the highways to their original condition will take several weeks because of the necessity of rebuilding fills washed away at various places and of returning to their former courses streams, which cut new channels for themselves. The commissioner was gratified because none of the bridges built from foundation up by the department was washed away.

FAIL TO FIND ANY TRACE OF THE ROCKFORD

Reports From Searchers for Bert Hassell And Companion Discouraging.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Storms were sweeping the waters of Davis Straits early today, balking the efforts of those seeking some trace of the missing Rockford-to-Stockholm flyers, Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer.

The reports that came from the north were uniformly discouraging. The United States Coast Guard cutter Marion radioed that it had failed to find any trace of the plane, the Greater Rockford, after a day spent in searching the waters off Cape Chidley where the monoplane last reported its position.

Members of the Raw On-field Museum Expedition, under the direction of Commander Donald Macmillan, which is now at Nain, Labrador, advised the Associated Press by wireless that it, too, had been unsuccessful in efforts to learn the fate of the plane.

"It is raining hard and the barometer is falling," Macmillan wireless last night.

The Hudson Bay company advised the Rockford, Ill. chamber of commerce, sponsor of the flight, that it would broadcast an appeal to its thousands of trappers, scattered through the north, to aid in the search.

Wireless operators of the Burgess Battery Company station at Madison who have been listening for word from the plane since it left Cochrane, Ont., Saturday noon on the top of Mt. Evans, Greenland, abandoned their vigil last night. It was felt that the possibility of direct communication from the plane's radio set how is most remote, even if the two flyers are alive.

Dr. Charles Scieath, a Chicago radio amateur, provided the only ray of hope. He said that on Monday night he had received over and over the letter "R" broadcast for nearly an hour. "R" was the code letter by which Hassell and Cramer had arranged to advise their backers that the plane was 75 miles off Cape Chidley.

The signal did not come on the plane set's wave length of 32.84. Instead, Dr. Scieath said, he picked it up on a wave length of 21 meters. The "R," he said, came very freely, indicating it was from considerable distance, and was followed by a signature of which he was able to pick up only an "H". The official signature of the Rockford plane was Kkh.

Mrs. Hassell, staying with her three children at the home of relatives, has refused to abandon hope for her husband's safety.

LEVINE PLANS ANOTHER TRIP ACROSS OCEAN

New Yorker Admits Plan to Attempt East to West Flight Over Atlantic.

London, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Charles A. Levine of New York today reversed his statement of yesterday that he had no present intentions of making an east to west flight across the Atlantic. On leaving Croydon field for Berlin this afternoon he intimated that the Junkers plane which he will buy in Germany will be used for such a flight.

The plane will be flown from Germany to Croydon and undergo tests here.

Mabel Boll, who accompanied Mr. Levine on his present trip, said she still hoped to be first woman to fly the Atlantic from east to west. She said she probably would accompany Levine in the new Junkers machine.

Former Kinston Man Killed In Wreck of Auto

William Miller, 21, of Greensboro, son of J. O. Miller, of Kinston, was killed in an automobile wreck between Greensboro and Ashboro last night. Another occupant of the car, which was driven by Miller, escaped without injuries. Young Miller was manager of the Greensboro store of Quinn-Miller & Co. Funeral services will be conducted in Kinston tomorrow.

Legion's Top Kick

Lewis P. Fields of Amarillo, Tex., been made chief sergeant at arms for the national convention of the American Legion in San Antonio October 8 to 12.

LOCAL LEGION PLANNING FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Final Arrangements Completed at Meeting Held Here Last Night.

Arrangements were practically completed for the celebration of Armistice Day celebration in this city, November 11th, at the regular monthly session of the P.M.W. county post of the American Legion held at the Rotary building last night.

It was brought out that the sermon for the occasion, which comes on Sunday, will be delivered by Dr. B. R. Lacy, Jr., of Richmond, Va., son of B. R. Lacy, Raleigh, Treasurer of the State of North Carolina.

It was stated by Commander J. B. Kittrell, who presided over the session last night, that Dr. Lacy was one of the most forceful and convincing speakers of the Presbyterian denomination and that he would have a great message for the numbers of former veterans of the World War to attend the exercises.

It was not decided where the exercises would be held, but that will be announced at a later date as soon as members of the committee appointed last night have chance of conferring as to the most suitable location. All churches of the city will be asked to join in the services.

Final arrangements were made for delegates to represent the local post at the annual state convention to be held at Charlotte the first of next week. It was intimated last night that the post would be largely represented, numbers of members signifying their intention of attending.

The post had two prominent guests last night in the persons of Judge R. A. Nunn of New Bern, who is presiding over the August term of Pitt County Superior Court of this city, and Judge Frank Wooten, local lawyer, banker and former county court jurist. Both spoke briefly of the services which the veterans rendered during the world's greatest conflict.

WILL ROGERS AIDS

ANOTHER AVIATOR

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Will Rogers, flying cowboy humorist, has come to the aid of another aviator—Fred Stone—at the cost of some $500,000 to himself.

Stone was crippled in an airplane crash just when he was to go into rehearsals for a new musical comedy show starring him and his daughter, Dorothy. Rogers offered to take his friend's place. Charles Dillingham, producer of the yet untitled show, accepted the offer.

Rogers will lose close to $500,000 in cancelled motion picture, feature writing and personal appearance contracts, Dillingham said.

LARRY SEMON HAS

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Los Angeles, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Larry Semon, veteran film comedian, has suffered a nervous and physical breakdown, and has been taken to a private sanitarium near San Bernardino, Cal., members of his family announced last night.

The actor collapsed a week ago after his return from a national vaudeville tour. Members of the family said physicians believed it would be at least three months, and perhaps a year before he recovered. Mrs. Semon, the former Dorothy Dawn, has closed the family home and gone to live with her mother.

TOBACCO TOWN PREPARED FOR GREAT SEASON

Greenville Tobacconists Ready to Serve Countless Hosts Here September 4th.

To serve the myriad thousands of tobacco growers in this section of the state, is the object of the Greenville tobacco market on the threshold of one of its greatest seasons.

This has always been the object of the forces behind the great industry here, but not until this season has the ambition been realized in the fullest sense of the word.

The fulfillment of this desire was made possible by improvements which have been taking place the last several years, and particularly the last two or three years. The growth has been so steady and extensive that farmers who sell here this season will find nine mammoth warehouses, covering a total floor space of ten acres, ready to serve them. These warehouses will be able to handle in the neighborhood of one million and seven hundred thousands pounds of tobacco daily. The factories have similar capacity and farmers who sell here from day to day may rest assured of receiving the quickest service along with the highest prices paid in this territory.

Improvements in tobacco town the last year have reflected in no uncertain terms the desire of the Greenville tobacconists to make this city one of the great leaders in the industry of the nation. These men have argued all along that this was the logical location for one of the greatest markets because of the fact that it is situated in the largest bright leaf tobacco producing county in the world.

"This sounds like a broad statement," so it is. But when the fact is supported by statistics compiled by leading data gathering agencies in the world, there is little room left for doubt. Greenville has the advantage of not only being situated in this wonderful bright leaf district, but also commanding the attention of the world's largest buyers of bright leaf. These concerns have had their representatives on local warehouse floors for years, but as the market has grown and developed the last few years the number has increased until they represent a small army of workers in themselves.

Greenville tobacconists have never made it a point to attempt to exaggerate the possibilities of this market. They have never had to do it—and they never will be forced to it. Every member of the tobacco board of trade is a leader in the social, religious, educational and business life of the county and state. They have reputations as state, as all men of affairs have, and always make it a point to carefully weigh anything that goes before the public with their signatures attached to it. Any fact must be duly authenticated before it is released.

This is one of the main reasons for the steady and healthy growth of this market. The countless thousands who sell here from day to day throughout the year have learned through experience to place implicit confidence in the word of the Greenville tobacconist. When they read advertisements carried in the local paper, they believe them because they know they are earnest attempts to keep the grower informed regarding constant changes in the price situation and other developments which occur from time to time.

The Greenville tobacco market believes in advertising—so does the farmer. The grower is able to keep abreast of times by reading what the warehousemen tell them through the newspaper columns every day the market is open. It relieves the farmer of many responsibilities. When he brings his tobacco here he knows whether prices are normal or abnormal and is able to protect himself accordingly.

Column after column could be written about this market if the whole story of its activity were told. But since this is not possible in the limited space afforded from time to time, it might be well to add "finis" to this attempt by assuring the farmer that this will be the greatest year in the history of the Greenville tobacco market, and urge him to join the hosts to attend the opening here September 4th.

FIVE ELECTROCUTED BY LIVE WIRE

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Five persons were electrocuted here last night when they stumbled across a bare 2300 volt high power line blown to the ground during a terrific windstorm about midnight.

Three of the victims, Richard Muer, his wife and a son, were instantly killed. Two others, Miller's son Wes, and a neighbor, Carl Meeks, died attempting to rescue the three.

business promotes the national welfare, let me warn the forces of corruption and favoritism, that Democratic victory means that they will be relegated to the rear and the front seats will be occupied by the friends of equal opportunity.

Taking The Issues To The People.

Likewise, government policy should spring from the deliberate action of an informed electorate. Of all men, I have reason to believe that the people can and do grasp the problems of the government. Against the opposition of the self-seeker and the partisan, again and again, I have seen legislation won by the pressure of popular demand, exerted after the people had had an honest, frank and complete explanation of the issues. Great questions of finance, the issuance of millions of dollars of bonds for public projects, the complete reconstruction of the machinery of the State government, the institution of an executive budget, these are but a few of the complicated questions which I, myself, have taken to the electorate. Every citizen has thus learned the nature of the business in hand and appreciated that the State's business is his business.

Reviving National Ideals.

That direct contact with the people I propose to continue in this campaign and, if I am elected, in the conduct of the nation's affairs. I shall thereby strive to make the nation's policy the true reflection of the nation's ideals. Because I believe in the idealism of the party of Jefferson, Cleveland and Wilson, my administration will be rooted in liberty under the law; liberty that means freedom to the individual to follow his own will so long as he does not harm his neighbor; the same high moral purpose in our conduct as a nation that actuates the conduct of the God-fearing man and woman; that equality of opportunity which lays the foundation for wholesome family life and opens up the outlook for the betterment of the lives of our children.

Party Responsibility.

In the rugged honesty of Grover Cleveland there originated one of our country's greatest principles: "Public office is a public trust." This principle now takes on new meaning. Political parties are the vehicle for carrying out the popular will. We place responsibility upon the party. The Republican Party today stands responsible for the widespread dishonesty that has honey-combed its administration. During the last presidential campaign the Republican managers were partially successful in leading the American people to believe that these sins should be charged against the individual rather than against the party. The question of personal guilt has now been thoroughly disposed of and in its place, challenging the wisdom and good judgment of the American people, is the unquestioned evidence of party guilt.

The Democratic Party asks the electorate to withdraw their confidence from the Republican Party and repose it with the Democratic Party pledged to continue those standards of unblemished integrity which characterized every act of the administration of Woodrow Wilson.

A Constructive Campaign.

But I would not rest our claim for the confidence of the American people alone upon the misdeeds of the opposite party. Ours must be a constructive campaign.

False Prosperity and Unemployment.

The Republican Party builds its case upon a myth. We are told that only under the benevolent administration of that party can the country enjoy prosperity. When four million men, desirous to work and support their families, are unable to secure employment there is very little in the picture of prosperity to attract them and the millions dependent upon them.

In the year 1926, the latest figures available show that 1-20th of 1 per cent of the 430,000 corporations in this country earned 40 per cent of their profits; 40 per cent of the corporations earned less money; 1-4 of 1 per cent of these corporations earned two-thirds of the profits of all of them. Specific industries are wholly prostrate and there is widespread business difficulty and discontent among the individual business men of the country.

Prosperity to the extent that we have it is unduly concentrated and has not equitably touched the lives of the farmer, the wage-earner and the individual business man. The claim of governmental economy is as baseless as the claims that general business prosperity exists and that it can exist only under Republican administration.

Failure To Consolidate By Reorganization Of Federal Government.

When the Republican Party came into power in 1921 it definitely promised reorganization of the machinery of government and abolition or consolidation of unnecessary and overlapping agencies. A Committee was appointed. A representative of the President acted as Chairman. It prepared a plan of reorganization. The plan was filed in the archives. It still remains there. After seven years of Republican control, the structure of government is worse than it was in 1921. It is fully as bad as the system which existed in New York State before we secured by constitutional amendment the legislation which consolidated more than one hundred offices, commissions and boards into eighteen coordinated departments, each responsible to the Governor. In contrast with this the Republican party in control at Washington when faced with the alternative of loss of patronage for the faithful or more efficient and economical management of the government permitted the old order to continue for the benefit of the patronage seekers.

Increased Federal Appropriations.

The appropriations for independent bureaus and offices not responsible to any cabinet officer increased from $3,400,000 in 1914 to $163,000,000 in 1921, and to $356,000,000 in 1928. No wonder that a cabinet officer of the Republican President of 1921 said, "if you could visualize the government as a business or administration unit, you would see something like one of those grotesque spectacles of a big oyster shell to which in the course of years, big and irregular masses of barnacles have attached themselves without symmetry or relevancy." And the Chamber of Commerce of the United States said in its annual report this year: "No progress has been made on the plan of reorganization of the government's departments as advocated by the Chamber." The administration spokesman answered only: "We have given an economical administration" and that has been repeated so often that some people begin to believe it without the slightest proof. I assert that there is no proof.

The appropriation bills signed by the President of the United States for the last year are just one-half a billion dollars more than they were for the first year of his administration. The appropriations for the Executive Department itself (The President and Vice President) have increased more than 10 per cent under President Coolidge.

The figures for expenditure as distinguished from appropriations tell the same story. Aside from interest on the public debt which has been reduced by retirement of bonds or by refinancing at lower interest rate, the actual expenditures for governmental activities during the fiscal year ending in 1928 were just $346,000,000 more than in President Coolidge's first year.

Increased Federal Taxes.

If the defenders of the administration answer that taxes have been reduced, they find themselves in a similar dilemma. The total taxes collected are $24,000,000 more than in the first year of the Coolidge administration. While tax rates have been reduced and some war-time taxes abandoned, the government actually took from the people in income taxes $383,000,000 more during the last fiscal year than during the first year of the Coolidge administration. And even these reductions in tax rates have been brought about primarily because the administration has committed the government to appropriations authorized but not made, amounting approximately to one billion dollars, which is an obligation that is being passed on to succeeding administrations. I wish to focus the public attention on these fundamental facts and figures when it is petty economies, such as eliminating stripes from mail bags and extinguishing electric lights in the offices at night.

True Vs. False Economy.

With this has gone a governmental policy of refusal to make necessary expenditures for purposes which would have effected a real economy. The Postmaster-General states that there was a large annual waste in the handling of mail, resulting from lack of modern facilities and equipment. Scarcely a large city in the country has adequate quarters for the transaction of Federal business. The government pays rent in the city of Washington alone of more than one million dollars annually. It is estimated that the government is paying rentals of twenty million dollars in the nation. True economy would be effected by the erection of Federal buildings, especially in the numerous instances where sites acquired many years ago have been left vacant because the administration did not desire to have these expenditures appear in the budget. It is not economy to refuse to spend money and to have our soldiers living in barracks which the Chief of Staff of the Army recently stated were indecent and below the standard for the meanest type of housing permitted anywhere. And the wise, properly timed construction of needed public improvements would substantially tend to lessen the evils of unemployment.

If the people commission me to do it, I shall with the aid of the Congress effect a real reorganization and consolidation of governmental activities upon a business basis and institute the real economy which comes from prudent expenditure. I shall aid programs for the relief of unemployment, recognizing its deep human and social significance and shall strive to accomplish a national well-being resting upon the prosperity of the individual men and women who constitute the nation.

The Tariff.

Acting upon the principle of "Equal opportunity for all, special privileges for none," I shall ask Congress to carry out the tariff declaration of our platform. To be sure the Republican Party will attempt in the campaign to misrepresent Democratic attitude to the tariff. The Democratic Party does not and under my leadership will not advocate any sudden or drastic revolution in our economic system which would cause business upheaval and popular distress. This principle was recognized as far back as the passage of the Underwood Tariff Bill. Our platform restates it in unmistakable language. The Democratic Party stands squarely for the maintenance of legitimate business and a high standard of wages for American labor. Both can be maintained and at the same time the tariff can be taken out of the realm of politics and treated on a strictly business basis.

Restoration of Equitable Tariff

I shall restore this Commission to the high level upon which President Wilson placed it. In order that, properly manned, it may produce the facts that will enable us to ascertain how we may increase the purchasing power of everybody's income or wages by the adjustment of those schedules which are now the result of log-rolling and which upon their face are extortionate and unnecessary.

Real Outlawry of War.

The real outlawry of war must come from a more substantial endeavor to remove the causes of war and in this endeavor the Republican administration has signally failed. I am neither militarist nor jingo. I believe that the people of this country wish to live in peace and amity with the world. Freedom of entangling alliances is a fixed American policy. It does not mean, however, that great nations should not behave to one another with the same decent friendliness and fair play that self-respecting men and women show to one another.

Limitation of Armaments.

In 1921 there was negotiated a treaty for the limitation of the construction of battleships and battle cruisers of over ten thousand tons. It was approved without party dispute as a start of the process of removing from the backs of the toiling masses of the world the staggering burden of the hundreds of millions of dollars that are wrung from them every year for the purpose of destruction. For seven years the Republican administration has followed it with nothing effective. No limitation has been placed upon land armaments, submarines, vessels of war of under ten thousand tons displacement, poisonous gases or any of the other machinery devised by man for the destruction of human life. In this respect our diplomacy has been futile.

Our Latin American Policy.

I especially stress the necessity for the restoration of cordial relations with Latin America and I take my text from a great Republican Secretary of State, Elihu Root, who said: "We consider that the independence and equal rights of the smallest and weakest member of the family of nations deserve as much respect as those of the great empires. We pretend to no right, privilege or power that we do not freely concede to each one of the American Republics." The present administration has been false to that declaration of one of its greatest party leaders. The situation in Nicaragua fairly exemplifies our departure from this high standard. The administration has intervened in an election dispute between two conflicting factions, maintained their troops in Nicaragua, and this without the consent of Congress. To settle this internal dispute, our marines have died and hundreds of Nicaraguans in turn have been killed by our marines. Without consultation with Congress, the administration entered on this long continued occupation of the territory of a supposedly friendly nation by our armed troops.

The Eighteenth Amendment.

The President of the United States has two constitutional duties with respect to prohibition. The first is embodied in his oath of office. If, with one hand on the Bible and the other hand reaching up to Heaven, I promise the people of this country that "I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and to the best of my ability preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States," you may be sure that I shall live up to that oath to the last degree. I shall to the very limit execute the pledge of our platform "to make an honest endeavor to enforce the 18th Amendment and all other provisions of the Federal Constitution and all laws enacted pursuant thereto".

Constitutional Duties of the President.

The second constitutional duty imposed upon the President is "To recommend to the Congress such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient." Opinion upon prohibition are generally accepted by two great political parties. There are thousands of Southern and drys in each. The platform of my party is silent upon any question of change in the law. I personally believe that there should be change and I shall advise the Congress in accordance with my constitutional duty of whatever changes I deem "necessary or expedient." It will then be for the people and the representatives in the national and state legislatures to determine respect for their sovereignty. And I shall certainly do all that lies in my power to bring about the fullest possible action between this country and all the Latin American countries with respect to any step which it may ever be necessary to take to discharge such responsibilities to civilization as may be placed upon us by the Monroe Doctrine.

Impairing the Arbitration Treaties.

The evil effect of the administration's policy with respect to Latin America has extended to our relations with the rest of the world. I am not one of those who contend that everything Republican is bad and everything Democratic is good. I approve the effort to renew and extend the arbitration treaties negotiated under the administration of President Wilson. But the usefulness of those treaties as deterrents to war is materially impaired by the reservations asserted by various nations of the right to wage defensive wars as those reservations are interpreted in the light of President Coolidge's record. Defending his policies he announced on April 25, 1927, the doctrine that the person and property of a citizen are a part of the national domain, even when abroad. I do not think the American people would approve a doctrine which would give to Germany or France, or England, or any other country, the right to regard a citizen of that country or the property of a citizen of that country situated within the borders of the United States a part of the national domain of the foreign country. Our unwarranted intervention in internal affairs in Latin America and his specious reason for it constitute the basis upon which other countries may seek to justify imperialistic policies which threaten world peace and materially lessen the effectiveness which might otherwise lie in the multilateral treaties.

Restoration of Equitable Tariff

I shall restore this Commission to the high level upon which President Wilson placed it. In order that, properly manned, it may produce the facts that will enable us to ascertain how we may increase the purchasing power of everybody's income or wages by the adjustment of those schedules which are now the result of log-rolling and which upon their face are extortionate and unnecessary.

Real Outlawry of War.

The real outlawry of war must come from a more substantial endeavor to remove the causes of war and in this endeavor the Republican administration has signally failed. I am neither militarist nor jingo. I believe that the people of this country wish to live in peace and amity with the world. Freedom of entangling alliances is a fixed American policy. It does not mean, however, that great nations should not behave to one another with the same decent friendliness and fair play that self-respecting men and women show to one another.

GIRL TO BE RETURNED TO RALEIGH HOME. Raleigh, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Mavis Twisdale, 12 year old Raleigh girl, who set out a week ago to see the world, and who was located in Richmond, calmly puffing a cigarette on a packing box, will soon be back with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Twisdale, 503 North Salisbury street. Miss Margaret Lane, county probation officer, arranged to go to Richmond today to take charge of the girl, upon receipt of information from the police of the Virginia capital that she had been found.

CARTER LEADS WYOMING RACE

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Early returns from outstate in yesterday's primary election had placed Vincent Carter, state auditor, well in the lead for the Republican Congressional nomination to-day.

With 246 of the State's 690 precincts reported, Carter had 3,838 votes; Perry W. Jenkins, president of the State Senate, 2,717 and R. G. Diefenderfer, Sheridan attorney, 2,307.

W. S. Kimball of Caspers had a comparable margin over Jack Scott of Casper, and Bert Waddell of Moorcroft, for the Democratic congressional nomination. The 246 precincts gave Kimball 1,462, Scott 972; Waddell 355.

The congressional races were the only major contests of the election which brought out but a light vote. Push of farm work kept many farmers from the polls.

Selection of United States Senatorial nominees was a mere formality, there being no contest in either party. Senator John B. Kendrick, Democratic, will be opposed in November by Congressman Charles E. Winter, Republican, who aspires to the Upper House.

Organize Boy Scouts. Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Organization of a District Council of Boy Scouts, which will include about a dozen counties in this part of the State, with headquarters at Charlotte, will be undertaken by J. E. Steere, District Counselor, on his return about September 15th from a 12-day National Conference of Scout officials at Ithaca, N. Y. Headquarters for the Scouts' District organization will be at Charlotte.

WIND STORM DOES DAMAGE NEAR WARSAW. Wilmington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A high wind, accompanied by a severe electrical display, caused damage estimated at several thousand dollars in the vicinity of Warsaw and Clinton, northwest of Wilmington, early today, according to advices received by the telephone company here. Trees were uprooted, telephone poles blown over and out-buildings razed, though no loss of life was reported. There was only a slight rainfall at Wilmington.

Goebel Overdue. Hartford, Conn., Aug. 22.—(AP)—At 2:20 this afternoon Col. Art Goebel, cross-country aviator, was an hour and a half overdue at Briarcliff Field, on a flight from New York.

Charles W. Deeds' secretary and treasurer of the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corporation, and A. Lewis Macclain, test pilot for the company, in a DeHavilland plane left the field to look for Goebel's plane, the Yankee Doodle. Belief was expressed here that Goebel must have made a landing somewhere between Curtis Field where he took off shortly after 12:30, and this city.

Attacks Probate Judge. Olathe, Kan., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Angered because his 16-year-old daughter was granted a marriage license in the office of the county probate judge here, E. A. Conn of Kansas City, Kan., attacked probate Judge George W. Fulmer in his office yesterday and beat him severely.

The judge, who is one-armed and 60 years old, was reported in a serious condition today. Conn, an ice-man, was under arrest. He told Sheriff E. G. Carroll he intended to kill the judge.

Judge Fulmer married Conn's daughter, Elizabeth, to William Washburn last Saturday. Washburn gave his age as 21, his bride as 18.

PREDICT CONFLICT AS RESULT OF RAID IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—News-papers today suggest there is a possibility of a conflict between Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt and U. S. Attorney Charles H. Tuttle over the summoning before a federal grand jury of 125 night club patrons, which has created quite a stir in New York.

Subpoenas were issued during Mr. Tuttle's absence from the city and on his return he stopped the wholesale questioning deprecating the "pitiless publicity" to which the prospective witnesses had been subjected.

Mrs. Willebrandt, Assistant United States Attorney General in charge of prohibition enforcement, speaking over the telephone from Washington, told the New York Times that Mr. Tuttle "personally knew of the calling of witnesses."

She said he had set the date when the grand jury was to come back for the purpose of hearing their testimony, and all of the subpoenas were issued from his office and he appointed his assistant who has been working on the case. She added:

"I do not intend to enter any public comment about what any subordinate officer of the Department of Justice may or may not report to the press with respect either to the method of the investigation or the policies that are or are not able to be followed."

ENCOUNTERS ALLIGATORS ON PANAMA CANAL SWIM. Panama, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Two encounters with alligators, in neither case serious, have marked the progress of Richard Halliburton, American author who has been making a swim through the Panama Canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a distance of about 50 miles.

It is not expected that alligators will be encountered during the rest of the journey as Halliburton has passed the infested waters, but it is possible that after being locked through into the Pacific from the Miraflores locks he will face the possibility of attacks by sharks during the swim down the Pacific channel to Balboa.

Duchess Flying Again. Bushiere, Persia, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Duchess of Bedford and Captain C. D. Barnard took off at dawn today in the airplane Princess Xenia, from Karachi, India.

The Princess Xenia, bound from England to India, was forced down here two months ago by engine trouble.

Though she does not remember her childhood in Waterloo very clearly, and none of the three homes her family had there is now standing, she has often visited the quiet town, with its wide, shady streets, and has many life-long friends at that place. After a morning of welcome rest at the Cedar Rapids estate of Mrs. George Bruce Douglas she was ready for her long drive across Iowa's green and rolling countryside with the welcoming committee sent by her native town to her earliest home.

MRS. HOOVER HAS OWN CELEBRATION. West Branch, Iowa, Aug. 22.—(AP)—After spending a day in sharing her husband's welcome to his native village, Mrs. Herbert Hoover had her own special home-coming celebration today at Waterloo, 50 miles away.

The six hour trip planned for her from Cedar Rapids to Waterloo and return crowned weeks of preparations by the people of the town where she was born and lived until she was 12. It meant, moreover, the consummation of a hope that she had herself repeatedly expressed during the trip across the continent from her California home.

Washes, Carries Coal, Woman Gains 18 Lbs. "Wash, iron and carry coal and don't get tired since taking Vinol. Also, I have gained 18 pounds."—Mrs. S. Cortese.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious. Warren's Drug Store. Adv.

RAIN NO DAMPER TO FEAST OF THE PIRATES. Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A light rain here today failed to cast a damper on last minute preparations for Wilmington's second annual feast of Pirates, as throngs, many in costume, defied the rain to participate in the opening of the three days holiday.

Another group of Pirates, the Wilmington Eastern Carolina Baseball Club, gave the festivities an auspicious send-off with a 4-1-2 inning victory over Kinston 7 to 1. Wet grounds caused the game to be called.

FANK FELLER FACES EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGES. Greensboro, Aug. 22.—(AP)—William L. Probst, Greensboro bank teller who is charged with embezzling bank funds totalling $31,750, is expected to be given preliminary hearing before a magistrate here within a few days.

Probst was still being held in jail today in default of a $15,000 bond. Attempts were being made to have the bond reduced.

Officials of the Atlantic Bank & Trust Company where Probst was employed, said the teller admitted taking the money for speculation on the stock exchange.

CITY COMFORTS FOR COUNTRY HOMES. The city dweller need no longer feel sorry for his "country brother," because he lacks city conveniences; unless the "country brother" wishes it that way.

Running water, indoor water closets, a complete bathroom, a modern kitchen and laundry and sanitary sewage disposal, all of these are available to the farm or suburban home—as cheap or cheaper than they are in the city.

No room in any house represents as much value in health and comfort as the bathroom.

A visit to our store will show you economical ways and means of putting the most important of city comforts and conveniences in any farm or suburban home.

ROCKY MOUNT WINS FROM THE LOCAL OUTFIT

Rocky Mount, Aug. 21—Rocky Mount got full revenge from the Greens this afternoon for the game the cellarites took yesterday when they pounded Allen to all sections of the lot for fifteen safe hits to win 13-4.

McMillan completely changed his line-up this afternoon and apparently the change had good results. Durham pitched well for the Bucs throughout and was never seriously in danger.

Mackie, Pickup and Boucher each garnered three safe blows to lead the locals with the willow. Williams hit one over the wall for the Greens, the longest blow of the afternoon.

"Doodle" Daniels got a pair of triples to lead the visitors in hitting.

Allen was given poor support at times but was never very effective.

Greensboro Wins Two From Twins

The Greensboro Patriots pushed forward to again challenge the Winston-Salem Twins for leadership of the Piedmont League yesterday by taking both ends of a double bill from that outfit, 8 to 3 and 4 to 3. Carr Smith, was the noise in the hitting of the Patriots, getting two blows in the opener and three of the five hits secured off Hearn in the second game. One of his blows in the nightcap was a long homer over the right garden fence.

The Durham Bulls snapped into it and defeated the Raleigh Caps, 8 to 1. Vance Page held the Raleigh crew to five scattered hits. Jack Landley and Hal Johnson smashed over the right field fence. Landley led the attack with a homer, a triple and smashed over another in the ninth with two runners on the paths, but it curved out and was called a foul. Dennis drove in the only marker for the Caps with a double in the fifth after McMahon had singled thru the infield.

A balk by Hoffman in the eighth frame with the bases loaded and two men out, cost the Colonials the game with High Point, 9 to 8. Jones, first sacker for the Colonials, led in the hitting for the day, securing two circuit blows.

Crops Damaged by Floods.
Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—Crop and weather conditions for the week ended yesterday as summarized by the department of agriculture says that in most of the cotton belt the week was rather warm and rainfall irregular, with heavy to excessive amounts in much of the Eastern portion and very little in more Western districts. In the Carolinas and Georgia the storm did considerable damage by flooding lowlands and the continued wetness was generally favorable for weevil activity, especially in Georgia, where shedding has greatly increased, and boll rot is rampant in Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi. The progress of the crop varied considerably, ranging from deterioration in parts of Alabama to good in much of Tennessee.

Pirates Beat Kingston.
Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 22—(AP)—Wilmington's Pirates of the Piedmont League beat Kingston 7 to 1 this morning in an abbreviated affair when Buck Newsome allowed the Stemmers but three hits. The Pirates touched Dudley for seven hits before wet ground caused the game to be called, after Kingston's half of the fifth. There will be three games here during the feast of the Pirates.

STAFF SISTERS SEEK SWIMMING SUPREMACY

Emily, Frances, Agnes and Nora Staff (left to right), of Camp Walton, Florida, who are participating in the Southeastern A. A. U. swimming meet at Chattanooga, Tenn., have issued a challenge to the five athletic daughters of Norman (Kid) Elberfeld, baseball player and manager, for a test race to decide their respective merits.

GIANTS BOW TO BIG BATS OF THE REDS

By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer)
Thanks to Doug McWeeny and the Brooklyn Robins, the Giants still retain their slender hold on the National League's pace-setting position.

While the Giants were bowing to the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, McWeeny pitched the Robins to a 3 hit, 6 to 1 victory over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals and thus enabled the New Yorkers to lead the hectic campaign by two percentage points.

The Giants rushed stopped abruptly in the face of Red Lucas' hurling at Cincinnati. Red held the leaders to five hits and the Reds eked out a 3 to 2 triumph by bunching four hits and a sacrifice off Freddy Fitzsimmons in the second inning. Try as they might the Giants never could overcome that advantage.

But a victory for the Pittsburgh Pirates and a defeat for the Chicago Cubs further tightened up the situation among the third, fourth, and fifth place clubs in the senior circuit.

The Cubs, beaten for the sixth consecutive time by the Phillies, 3 to 1, hold their place by only two percentage points while the Pirates by defeating Boston, 6 to 2, drew to within eight points of the Reds who are fourth.

The complexion of the American League race remained unchanged as the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Athletics both won, leaving the champions five and one-half games in front of the A's.

Waite Hoyt outpitched Sam Greco as the Yanks downed the St. Louis Browns 3 to 1.

Behind good pitching by Jack Quinn, the A's pounded four Cleveland mountsmen for 16 hits and an easy 12 to 4 victory at Philadelphia.

The Chicago White Sox replaced the Indians in fourth place by taking over the Washington Senators 3 to 1, Grady Adkins allowing seven hits.

Washington fell into seventh place through this defeat which was coupled with a 4 to 3 win for the Detroit Tigers over the Boston Red Sox.

ALEXANDER HOLDS HOPES OF CARDS

The fate of the St. Louis Cardinals rests in the aged but baffling right arm of Grover Cleveland Alexander, baseball critics say. If the big pitcher, 41, can regain his form they expect the Cards to pull themselves from the slump that cost them the league lead.

Pirates Draw Close to Lead in New Circuit

(By The Associated Press).
The margin of leadership held by Goldsboro in the Eastern Carolina loop was narrowed again yesterday when the Bugs dropped a game to the Stemmers and the Pirates, holders of second berth, won over the Highlanders.

Kinston won the listless contest 10 to 7 after overcoming an early bug lead in the late stanzas. Goldsboro pressed three pitchers into service in a futile effort to halt the rampage of the Stemmers.

The Pirates took their win to the tune of 8 to 5 by pounding out three runs in the ninth after one had been retired. McCray tripled. Schofield doubled and Roscoe hit a homer outside the park. Gordon also got a circuit ticket in the third inning with two runners on the paths.

The Highlanders led the score in the seventh on Young's double and Benedict's single.

Rocky Mount took the closing game of the series with the Greens, 13 to 4. The efforts of Allen in the Greenville box met with little success while Durham pitched well for the Buccaneers.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES RECEIVE OVATION

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—The main body of America's Olympic athletes returned today from Amsterdam aboard the liner President Roosevelt and received a noisy welcome.

While some of the athletes appeared downhearted and disappointed at the showing of their team abroad, Major General Douglas MacArthur expressed the official attitude by issuing a statement in which he had high praise for the improved quality of athletic competition abroad and pointed to number of records broken by the American entrants to indicate the strength of this year's Olympic field.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET
New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Early advances of about 30 to 35 points on unfavorable features in the weather and crop news were followed by nervous and irregular fluctuations in the New York cotton market today, with reactions under realizing and southern or local selling. The mid-afternoon market was comparatively quiet and steady, however, with the active months showing net advances of 16 to 21 points on continued unfavorable crop reports and talk of rather a better trade demand.

Futures closed barely steady 1 to 6 points higher; spot steady; middling 19.20.

propaganda has ever been seen in this country than that disclosed by the investigation into the methods of certain utility corporations. Private corporations to gain control of public resources have procured the writing of textbooks for the public schools; have subsidized lecturers pretending to give to the country their own honest and unbiased advice; have employed as their agents former public officials and have endeavored to mislead public opinion by retention of services of leaders of the community in various parts of the country. Highly paid lobbyists, penetrated into every state and into the legislative halls of the nation itself.

Public Ownership and Control of Water Power.

As against propaganda, it is the duty of the Democratic Party to set up truth. The ownership of some of these great water powers is in the nation, of others in the several states. These sources of water power must remain forever under public ownership and control. Where they are owned by the federal government, they should remain under federal control. Where they are owned by an individual state, they should be under the control of that state, or where they are owned by states jointly, they should be under the control of those states.

Control of Rates Through Public Ownership.

Wherever the development, the government agency, state or federal as the case may be, must retain through contractual agreement with the distributing companies the right to provide fair and reasonable rates to the ultimate consumer and the similar right to insist upon fair and equal distribution of the power. This can be secured only by the absolute retention by the people of the ownership of the power by owning and controlling the site and plant at the place of generation. The government—federal, state or the authority representing joint states—must control the switch that turns on or off the power so greedily sought by certain private groups without the least regard for the public good.

I shall carry into Federal administration the same policy which I have maintained against heavy odds in my own state. Under no circumstances should private monopoly be permitted to capitalize for rating-making purposes water power sites that are the property of the people themselves. It is to me unthinkable that the Government of the United States or any state thereof will permit either direct or indirect alienation of water power sites.

Colorado River.

Electrical energy generated from water power as an incident to the regulation of the flow of the Colorado River is the common heritage of all the states through which the river flows. The benefits growing from such development should be equitably distributed among the states having right of ownership. The duty of the federal government is confined to navigation. I am of the opinion that the best results would flow from the setting up of a Colorado River Authority, representative equally of all the states concerned. The development should be by the states through the agency of this authority by treaty ratified by Congress.

Muscle Shoals.

It will be the policy of my administration while retaining government ownership and control, to develop a method of operation for Muscle Shoals which will reclaim for the government some fair revenue from the enormous expenditure already made for its development and which is now a complete waste. In this way the original peace-time purpose of the construction of this plant will be achieved. The nation will be reimbursed, agriculture will be benefited by the cheap production of nitrates for fertilizer and the surplus power will be distributed to the people.

The remaining public natural resources now under control of the Federal Government must be administered in the interests of all of the people.

Likewise a complete and study of the remaining undeveloped public resources of land, coal, oil and other minerals is greatly needed and should be undertaken.

Reforestation, Conservation, National Parks.

The United States because its people use more wood than any other on earth is therefore more dependent on the forest than any other great nation. At the same time we are the most wasteful of all people in the destruction of our forest resources.

The use of our national forests for recreation should be greatly extended. I also pledge myself to give the same continuing interest and support to a national park, reforestation and recreation program as have brought about the establishment of a great Conservation and State Park System in the State of New York.

It was Grover Cleveland who first made our national forests and conservation policy into a great public question. Theodore Roosevelt followed in his footsteps. What these two men began must be continued and carried forward.

Labor.

The American people constitute a structure of many component parts. One of its foundations is labor. The reasonable contentment of those who toil with the conditions under which they live and work is an essential basis of the nation's well-being. The welfare of our country therefore demands governmental concern for the legitimate interest of labor.

Democratic Party and Platform in Relation to Labor.

The Democratic Party has always recognized this fact and under the administration of Woodrow Wilson, a large body of progressive legislation for the protection of those laboring in industry, was enacted. Our platform continues that tradition of the party. We declare for the principle of collective bargaining which alone can put the laborer upon a basis of fair equality with the employer; for the human principle that labor is not a commodity; for fair treatment to government and federal employees; and for specific and immediate attention to the serious problems of unemployment.

Abuse of Injunctions in Labor Disputes.

From these premises it was inevitable that our platform should further recognize grave abuses in the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes which threaten the very principle of collective bargaining. Chief Justice Taft in 1919 stated that government of the relations between capital and labor by injunction was an absurdity. Justice Holmes and Justice Brandeis of the U. S. Supreme Court unite in an opinion which describes by a federal injunction labor imposed by an involuntary servitude.

Dissatisfaction and social unrest have grown from these abuses and undoubtedly legislation must be framed to meet just causes for complaint in regard to the unwarranted issuance of injunctions.

The Judiciary Committee of the United States Senate has already in progress a careful study of this situation. I promise full cooperation to the end that a definite remedy by law be brought forth to end the existing evils and preserve the constitutional guarantees of individual liberty, free assemblage and speech and the rights of peaceful persuasion.

Protective Legislation.

I shall continue my sympathetic interest in the advancement of progressive legislation for the protection and advancement of working men and women. Promotion of proper care of maternity, infancy and childhood and the encouragement of those scientific activities of the national government which advance the safeguards of public health, are so fundamental as to need no expression from me other than my record as legislator and as Governor.

Equality of Opportunity.

None can question my respect for and cooperation with the Civil Service nor my interest in proper compensation for government service. I believe in that true equality of women that opens to them without restriction all avenues of opportunity for which they can qualify in business, in government service and in politics.

Veteran Relief.

I have a full appreciation of what this country owes to our veteran soldiers. I know that when the country called, the veteran came promptly. When the veteran in distress calls to the country, the country should be equally prompt. Red tape and technicalities and autocratic bureaucracy should be brushed aside when the time comes for a grateful American people to recognize its debt to the men who offered themselves in our hour of need.

Immigration.

During all of our national life the freedom of entry to the country has been extended to the millions who desired to take advantage of the freedom and the opportunities offered by America. The rugged qualities of our immigrants have helped to develop our country and their children have taken their places high in the annals of American history.

Every race has made its contribution to the betterment of America. While I stand squarely on our platform declaration that the laws which limit immigration must be preserved in full force and effect, I am heartily in favor of removing from the immigration law the harsh provision which separates families, and I am opposed to the principle of restriction based upon the figures of immigration population contained in a census thirty-eight years old. I believe this is designed to discriminate against certain nationalities, and is an unwise policy. It is in no way essential to a continuance of the restriction advocated in our platform.

Freedom From Political Obligations.

While this is a government of laws and not of men, laws do not execute themselves. We must have people of character and outstanding ability to serve the nation. To me one of the greatest elements of satisfaction in my nomination is the fact that I owe it to no one man or set of men. I can with complete honesty make the statement that my nomination was brought about by no promise given or implied by me or any one in my behalf. I will not be influenced in appointments by the question of a person's wet or dry attitude by whether he is rich or poor, whether he comes from the north, south, east or west, or by any church he attends in the worship of God. The sole standard of my appointments will be the same as they have been in my Governorship—integrity of the man or woman and his or her ability to give me the greatest possible aid in devoted service to the people.

In this spirit I enter upon the campaign. During its progress I shall talk at length on many of the issues to which I have referred in this acceptance address, as well as other important questions. I shall endeavor to conduct this campaign on the high plane that befits the intelligence of our citizens.

Victory, simply for the sake of achieving it, is empty. I am entirely satisfied of our success in November because I am sure we are right and therefore sure that our victory means progress for our nation. I am convinced of the wisdom of our platform. I pledge a complete devotion to the welfare of our country and our people. I place that welfare above every other consideration and I am satisfied that our party is in a position to promote it. To that end I here and now declare to my fellow countrymen from one end of the United States to the other, that I will dedicate myself with all the power and energy that I possess to the service of our great Republic.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET
New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Stock prices made further recovery today under the stimulus of pool operations in a wide variety of motor, food, drug, copper, merchandising and public utility shares. Railroad shares which had participated in the advance earlier in the week, turned dull on profit-taking. Trading showed a moderate expansion in volume, the 2,000,000-share mark being crossed before the end of the third hour.

Money rates continued relatively firm but apparently were disregarded as market factors. Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent and held steady at that figure throughout the early trading, despite the calling of about $15,000,000 in bank loans. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Leadership of the market was divided among radio, General Motors and U. S. Steel, all of which changed hands in large volume. Radio ran up 6 3-4 points to 190 2-4, General Motors climbed more than 3 points to 189, and U. S. Steel common, advanced to 152 3-4, or within 1 1-4 points of the year's high.

Weekly steel trade reviews again were optimistic in character, stressing the stiffening of pig iron prices. Several more favorable earnings reports by small industrial companies were published during the day.

Express shares showed extreme buoyancy, American soaring 11 points, Adams, 10, and American Fallways 5. Timken, Otis Elevator, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck and Eisenlohr Tobacco sold 4 to 5 points higher. Heavy accumulation of national Cash Register, based on rapidly expanding sales of new business machines, carried that stock up to a new high at 75. Other issues to break into new high ground including American Smelting, Granby, Brockway Motor, Cornhark Carpet, S. S. Kresgee, Corn products, United Drug and Loft.

A wave of selling during the morning carried Cudahy Packing, Commercial Solvents, St. Louis Southwestern and Montgomery Ward down 2 to 4 points and several others a point or more, but buying support was quickly supplied and they rallied with the rest of the list in the early afternoon.

The close was firm. Total sales approximated 3,000,000 shares.

lines for the solution of this great problem. The policy thus initiated for the Mississippi must be carried through. The money actually appropriated for flood relief is too small to make even a start. Too much time has been spent in squabbling over who shall pay the bill.

Mississippi Basin Development.

The Mississippi River and its tributaries constitute a great network of waterways flowing through a large number of States. Much more than flood control is involved. Fullest development of the Mississippi River and its tributaries as arteries of commerce should be the goal.

Conservation of Natural Resources.

Wide possibilities for public good are latent in what remains of our natural resources. I pledge myself to a progressive liberal conservation policy based upon the same principles to which I have given my support in the State of New York, and to fight against selfish aggression in this field wherever it appears and irrespective of whom it may involve. No nation in history has been more careless about the conservation of natural resources than has ours. We have denuded our forests. We have been slow to reclaim lands for development and have allowed to private exploitation our public waters with their great potential power for the development of electrical energy.

Water Power.

The value of this heritage can best be measured when we consider the recent disclosures of the methods employed by private monopolies to wrest our remaining water powers from public control.

Public Utility Propaganda.

No more dishonest or unpatriotic
