CURTIS OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR REPUBLICANS

The Vice-Presidential Nominee Promises Revision of Tariff in Eastern Speech.

Rocky Point, R. I., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Revision of the tariff to afford "full protection" to industry, agriculture and labor was promised by Senator Curtis, the Republican Vice Presidential nominee, in opening the Eastern campaign for his party here today at a Republican rally.

"The Republican party promises," he declared, "to revise the tariff so that the products of our factories, the products of our farms and the products of our mines will be fully protected and so that American labor will continue to be protected."

The Kansas Senator emphasized that agriculture demanded increased duties on farm products. After citing the Democratic attitude on the tariff as expressed in the party's platforms from 1892 to 1928, he asserted that party "now hopes to fool the American people by its claim that it will favor an equitable distribution of the tariff benefits and burdens among all."

Republicans, he said, are "proud" of their record of the last eight years and go to the people on that record. He stated that the national debt had been reduced by "about $7,000,000,000," and that taxes have been cut four times in that period. He declared the party "stands by the policies of President Coolidge and it elected will carry out those policies." He spoke of Herbert Hoover, the Republican Presidential nominee, as one who "knows the condition of the American farmers, of American labor and of American business men, and has their future welfare at heart."

"We, of the agricultural section," Senator Curtis declared, "are deeply interested in the question of imports. We need protection for the products of the farm, just as you need protection for the products of your factories. Do you know that even now the imports of agricultural products displace the American farm production in excess of 60,000,000 acres? The value of such imports amounts to over $3,000,000,000 annually, of which over $2,000,000,000 are products which can be grown on our own farms. We want protection on all competitive products of the farm, many of which are lost in at too low a rate of duty."

"In the Republican acts products of the farm have been protected. Time has demonstrated, I am sorry to say, that some of the duties are not high enough. I challenge a comparison, however, between the rate of duty fixed in the Democratic tariff acts, the Wilson and Underwood acts, and those of the Republican tariff acts."

"Democrats have never enacted a tariff law which protected American labor. They have never passed a tariff law which did not injure or destroy legitimate business; they have never enacted a tariff law that protected the products of the farm, in fact, in all their tariff measures the large majority of the products of the farm were put upon the free list. They cannot mislead the farmers of the country by their claim that they will favor an equitable distribution of the benefits and burdens among all."

"In 1892 the Democrats described 'Republican protection as a fraud and contended that the Federal Government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties, except for the purpose of revenue only.'"

"In 1896 they declared that 'tariff duty should be levied for purposes of revenue.'"

"In 1900 they denounced the Dingley Tariff Law. In 1904 they denounced 'protection as a robbery of the many to enrich the few' and favored a tariff 'limited to the needs of the Government.'"

"In 1908 the Democrats favored an immediate revision of tariff by the reduction of import duties and advocated the restoration of tariff on a revenue basis."

"In 1912 they went back to their position of 1892, that the Federal Government under the constitution has no right or power to impose or collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue."

"In 1916 they wrote the Underwood-Simmons Tariff Act on the statute books which injured or destroyed business. It failed to produce revenue and made it necessary for President Wilson to ask for additional revenue and the Democratic Congress upon his recommendation enacted a war revenue bill in the time of peace."

"In 1916 the Democrats reaffirmed their belief in the doctrine of a tariff for the purpose of providing sufficient revenue for the operation

HASSELL AND CRAMER IN CANADA

Bert R. J. Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, with their airplane "Greater Rockford" at Cochrane, Canada, before they took off on ill-fated flight into the arctic. They last were heard from when they were within 400 miles of their Greenland goal. Hassell and Cramer began their flight at Rockford, Ill., and intended landing in Sweden.

Hassell's Plane Is Believed Seen Over Greenland

Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The Greenland administration has received a message from the sheriff of South Greenland stating an airplane, believed to be the Greater Rockford, manned by Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, was sighted Sunday morning along the southwest coast of Greenland.

The telegram received from the sheriff at 4:40 p. m. added that two motorboats would be sent out immediately to resume search for the missing American airmen in view of the new information available.

The message received by the Greenland administration was as follows:

"Machine reported absolutely without doubt from Fiskensæset. The whole place, as well as Leichterfeld, observed the machine Sunday morning at 10:30 coming high from the north-northwest and descending over Fiskensæset."

"The crew were clearly seen looking over the area through binoculars. Afterwards the machine turned eastward. The Greenlanders statement is absolutely trustworthy and they described the sound of the engine and gave the national marks on the machine."

Available atlases do not show a "Fiskensæset" in South Greenland, but do show a town called Kiskensæset close by a community known as Liechtenfeld. These places are near the southern tip of Greenland and are on the western coast. The point is approximately 300 miles south of Mount Evans, the goal of the American airmen in their 1600 mile hop from Cochrane, Ontario.

Hassell and Cramer in their plane the Greater Rockford which was on a flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, took off from Cochrane at 12:12 p. m. (E. S. T.) August 18. They were awaited eagerly at Mount Evans where preparations had been made to receive them, but they did not arrive at the time expected on Sunday, August 19, and since then have not been reported.

Fiskensæset is a tiny Danish village, much of whose population is made up of Eskimos. It has a Moravian mission. Danish vessels visit it annually. The village lies at the head of a little bay. Liechtenfeld is much the same type of community.

An intensive search for the missing airmen has been in progress for several days. Canada, Denmark and Newfoundland cooperating in efforts to find the Greater Rockford. The plane was equipped with radio and there have been reports of vague signals picked up and believed to be emanating from her.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Faint radio signals received in Chicago last night by two amateur operators today gave renewed hope that Hassell and Parker Cramer, missing fliers, still are alive.

The signals were received by Dr. Charles E. Seelth and Irving Strauss on a wave length other than that on which the fliers' plane, the Greater Rockford, was equipped to broadcast. This fact was partly explained however, by a theory that the wave length with the antennae trailing from the plane in flight might be changed when the wires were strung on the ground.

The signals, sent repeatedly, consisted of a series of five "R's" and followed by a series of five "D's."

After 10 sets of them had been completed two "A's" came in rapid succession.

Butler Praises Plain And Convincing Terms Used By Smith In His Address

New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, who a few days ago wrote a letter to the New York Times criticizing the stand of Herbert Hoover on prohibition and national defense, made the following statement to the Herald-Tribune on Governor Smith's speech of acceptance.

"The address of acceptance of Governor Smith is a statesmanlike document, well conceived, well phrased and admirably expressed. It shows the governor at his best—and we New York Republicans know by long experience how good that is. His setting forth of the case of the Democratic party in this campaign is able and on a high plane. This can only be met by like or better arguments on a similarly high plane."

"Of course, the governor's viewpoint is a strictly partisan one. On all three paramount subjects of agriculture, foreign policy with respect to international peace, and prohibition, the governor speaks with no uncertain sound. No one can mistake what he means or what he will aim to do if elected. His treatment of prohibition is frank, constructive and forward-facing. If Governor Smith can bring the Democratic party to the support of the position which he takes an enormous service will thereby be rendered to the nation. It remains for those of us Republicans of the old fashioned sort who are profoundly interested in fundamental political principles to see whether we can get to something with the Republican party."

"The proposed modification of the Volstead act is fully within the present powers of Congress and would perhaps relieve to some slight extent the difficulties of the present situation. It would not, however, reach the root of the matter, which is the eighteenth amendment itself."

"For reasons of moral and political principle which I have frequently given and which have never been answered I urge and shall continue to urge absolute repeal of that amendment. Governor Smith now proposes an ingenious and practically a plan by amending the eighteenth amendment, of returning to those states whose people desire it the authority to control the liquor traffic within their several borders after the fashion which has proven so successful in Quebec and other Canadian provinces."

"The objection to the eighteenth amendment itself would not be met entirely by this method of dealing with the subject. That amendment would remain to plague the constitution with false doctrine for years to come."

"It will be most interesting to observe the reaction of public opinion to Governor Smith's very definite and reasonable recommendation."

SMITH HAPPY AT REACTION TO ADDRESS

Democratic Nominee Turns to New York Today to Lay Foundation to Campaign.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Somewhat disappointed over the restricted manner in which his notification had to be conducted, but nevertheless happy over the way the crowd reacted to his acceptance speech, Governor Smith turned toward New York today to begin the foundation of his campaign for the Presidency.

Arriving there late today, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, the Democratic Presidential nominee planned a visit to national committee headquarters to talk over with party leaders tentative plans for a stumping itinerary.

An uninterrupted rain, not heavy, but enough to soak through if one remained out in it long enough, forced a last minute scrapping of the elaborate preparations made for Governor Smith's notification to the east steps of the capitol late yesterday. It had to be held indoors—in the small and stuffy assembly chamber where the nominee began his legislative career, 25 years ago. While touched by the familiar scene, the governor thought sympathetically of the thousands outside on the lawn in the rain, and after running through the long outline of his stand on the issues of the day, including his advocacy of a modification of the dry laws, went out to the drenched but cheering crowds and thanked them from the bottom of his heart for standing by to the last to hear his message.

Surrounded by members of his family, his running mate; Senator Robinson of Arkansas and many party leaders and friends, the nominee delivered his acceptance speech to a crowd of only a few thousand that jammed into every foot of space in the assembly chamber. An amplifier carried the message to the crowds outside and to every corner of the land as it would have been carried had the ceremony been held outdoors.

Tackling the prohibition question about half way down in his speech, the nominee, interrupted frequently by applause said that while he would never favor the return of the saloon and would stand on the Democratic platform pledge to make an honest endeavor to enforce the 18th amendment and all laws enacted, he thought a change from present conditions was needed.

He favored as an alternative a modification, also a change in the Volstead act to allow each state to determine its own standard of alcoholic content.

"We may well learn from the experience of other nations," he said, adding:

"Our Canadian neighbors have gone far in this manner to solve this problem by the method of sale made by the state itself and not by private individuals. Almost every subject he touched upon—as he promised to give the farm surplus crop problem his imperative attention; as he assailed the Republican administration on many scores, particularly on its Latin-American policy; as he pledged himself to a "real" endeavor to outlaw war, and as he opposed the basing of immigration quotas on a census 38 years old."

Governor Smith was given an ovation of almost four minutes duration as he rose to deliver his speech, and was forced personally to quiet the storm of howling in the balconies and a lone cowbell clanging from a lofty perch in the midst of a group of flashlight photographers.

LARGE CROWDS ARE EXPECTED HERE SEPT. 4

Opening of Tobacco Market to Attract Thousands From Many Sections.

The curtain will be raised on the 1928-29 season of the Greenville tobacco market Tuesday, September 4.

More than passing importance is attached to the opening this year and unnumbered thousands are expected to pay their annual pilgrimage to tobacco town to witness the initial sales of the golden weed.

The Greenville tobacco market has numbers of improvements this year that place it among the world's largest markets. This expansion has been made at cost of thousands of dollars and will greatly facilitate the handling of the enormous volume of the golden weed expected here from day to day throughout the season.

The improvements this season include two new warehouses, enlargement of stemmeries and the purchase of sufficient baskets to enable the market to handle approximately one million, seven hundred thousand pounds of tobacco daily. This feat may be performed without congestion usually attending first sales on the various markets of the nation, and farmers who place their offerings on the floors all through the season are assured of getting back home much earlier than customary.

With virtually the entire crop of this territory already cured and housed, farmers have already begun plans for marketing. The first load of the season was put on the floors of Johnston's Warehouse last week, and the next several days will see a great influx of growers to the city, bringing with them their contribution toward the nearly million pounds goal which the market has set for this season.

Nine warehouses will be in operation this season. They have a total floor space of ten acres and should be able to take care of the heaviest sales of the year. The stemmeries have expanded in proportion to the warehouses and will be able to keep pace with them even under the most extraordinary conditions.

Farmers from a greater radius than ever before are expected to sell their crop here this year. They have been attracted by the unparalleled growth which Greenville has been making, especially the last two years, and are ready to join the thousands who have been selling here for years.

With hard surfaced roads leading to Greenville from every direction, farmers from a distance will be able to dispose of their offerings and return to their homes the same day. This fact is of vital consideration to growers who in the past suffered the inconvenience of waiting several days before finally disposing of their offerings. The possibility of congestion has been eliminated with the vast increase in warehouse and redrying facilities and while warehouses will be crowded, sales will move along rapidly enough to clear the floors with machine-like regularity.

Tobaccoists have extended a cordial invitation to everybody to attend the opening sales and see the wonderful changes that have occurred since last season. They will prove a revelation to those who haven't been keeping up with the progress of the market, and enable them to gain an accurate conception of the magnitude of the industry.

Lindsay Warren Praises Smith

Washington, N. C., Aug. 23.—(AP)—In reply to a request from the New York Times, Congressman Lindsay Warren made the following comment upon the acceptance speech of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York:

"Governor Smith has set at rest the often repeated assertion that he knew nothing of national affairs. His great address shows an intimate grasp of all of the problems of the day. No one can read the speech without seeing between every line the sincerity of the man, and his hatred of sham and evasion. Many of his pronouncements such as on the tariff and foreign affairs are far better than the platform. While there is disagreement in the South with Governor Smith's attitude on prohibition, Democrats are not going to leave their party to accept the mealy-mouthed utterances of the Republican candidate who doesn't know yet where he stands on the question. As a whole, the speech is a masterly effort of a statesman with a national vision, and is in striking contrast to the generalities of his opponent."

BYRD CONFERS WITH HIS AIDES

Conflicting Opinions Caused By Acceptance Speech Of Gov. Smith

Washington, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Prominent Democrats and Republicans in many parts of the country, commenting on Governor Smith's acceptance speech, praised or found fault as their conception of government guided them, but the expressions were accompanied by a good deal of non-partisan opinion that he had stated Franklan his position on the foremost issues of the campaign.

As was to be expected, those who praised without reservation were Democrats and those who most readily found fault were Republicans. But in this group commenting there were Democrats who refused to accept the nominee's views on prohibition and Republicans who thought his stand on farm relief preferable to that of Herbert Hoover.

The speech caused one Democrat to declare full opposition to Governor Smith's election. Shortly after it was delivered a Republican indicated he would support the governor.

Those who praised without stint were Senators Edwards of New Jersey, George of Georgia, Fletcher of Florida, Caraway of Arkansas, and Representative Bloom of New York. Those who objected to portions of the address were Postmaster General New and Senators Borah of Idaho, Smoot of Utah and Fess of Ohio.

Joseph Daniels, secretary of the Navy during the Wilson administration, and Representative Crips of Georgia, expected only the governor's prohibition views in their praise. George N. Peek, the "normally Republican" farm leader, and former Senator H. C. Hansbrough of North Dakota, a Republican who now is chairman of the Smith independent league, endorsed Smith's farm relief expression.

Senator Edwards said that the governor's exposition "of true conditions under Volstead prohibition and his brutally frank statement of how he will attack and seek to overcome crime and corruption of the 18th amendment, and its enabling act, if elected President, is most refreshing in this era of Republican straddling, pussyfooting, and hypocritical recrimination against those who honestly seek the light."

Likewise, Senator George saw in the speech a "remarkable grasp of national and international problems. He noted that the governor pledged enforcement of the prohibition amendment and laws."

Senator Caraway declared the governor's farm relief views would have the approval of "every sincere friend of adequate farm legislation," and held that Smith had advanced "every issue with such courage that his political foes will be compelled to admit both his intelligence and his courage."

From Senator Fletcher came this comment: "This speech shows a grasp of national problems that is refreshing, stimulating and inspiring. I anticipate a wave of popular approval that will be irresistible." Representative Bloom described the speech "a fearless exposition of real Democracy, devoid of sham and pretense."

Joseph Daniels declared the governor's prohibition stand was "wise" but held the speech otherwise to "ring true upon the fundamentals of democracy."

"Even if Governor Smith's position (on prohibition) were tenable," said the former naval secretary, "the proposal of amending the 18th amendment is one which is now so impossible of accomplishment that it is nothing more than the expression of a personal opinion."

The other Democratic dissenter from the Smith prohibition stand was a Representative Crips of Georgia, said the governor otherwise de-lighted him on every subject. He declared that as a Congressman he would not vote to carry out the Smith prohibition recommendations.

On the Republican side, Governor Smith's declaration as to the tariff was criticized by Senators Borah and Smoot. The former said the Underwood tariff "which I understand the governor specifically indorse" would ruin the livestock, dairy, poultry and kindred industries. Senator Smoot, who described the address as "fairly good Democratic political speech," declared that the Underwood tariff "would have ruined the country if the world war had not occurred."

Senator Fess, the keynoter at Kansas City, found that the speech had "the commendable feature of frankness" but assailed among other things the governor's prohibition stand.

"The governor's promise to enforce the eighteenth amendment in the light of his attitude past and present," said Fess, "is not convincing to the American people."

Postmaster General New said the Smith attitude toward prohibition "could mean nothing else than the repeal of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act."

In a statement condemning Hoover's farm relief view as expressed at West Branch, George N. Peek, praised that of the New York governor. As contrasted with Hoover, the farm leader said, Smith has approved the idea that "a wound may be found to make the tariff effective on agricultural products with exportable surpluses and that there must be equality of treatment in tariff schedules, for agriculture with industry."

Former Senator Hansbrough was equally commendatory on the governor's farm relief declaration. The prohibition part, however, caused a defection from democratic ranks. Dr. Jennie M. Callias, three times national committee woman for Nebraska, said:

"I shall oppose the election of Governor Smith because he is opposed to the principles of prohibition and his promise to work for its serious modification."

Against this defection was the publication by the Hudson, N. J. Dispatch of a statement accredited to former Congressman Edward W. Gray, a Republican who ran for the senate last spring on a wet platform.

"I cannot find it possible as a life long Republican," the newspaper quoted Gray, "to indorse Herbert Hoover."

But who knows but that the comment that interested Governor Smith most was the simple declaration that came from the woman who has seen his political progress with the greatest intimacy.

"I think it was just fine," said Mrs. Smith.

FIFTY-ONE KILLED BY CARS IN N. C. IN JULY

BYRD READY TO LEAVE ON POLAR TRIP

First of Three Ships of Expedition to Leave New York City Saturday.

New York, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd's expedition to the Antarctic gets definitely under way Saturday with the sailing of the Barque City of New York, first of three ships which will carry his planes and equipment to the hopping off place for the pole.

Aboard the stout little ship will be 31 of the 70 men who comprise the expeditionary force, the largest and best equipped ever to dare the South Polar seas on a mission of exploration.

Commander Byrd and the remainder of the party will sail sometime in September on the Whaler Larsen and the Chelsea, the other two ships of the flotilla. They will carry with them the expedition's four planes and the remainder of the equipment.

The last member of the Byrd party, Paul A. Siple, Erie, Pa., Boy Scout, has taken up his duties as orderly to the commander. He was selected from among six scouts recommended by Scout councils throughout the country as best equipped for the demands of the expedition. He is a freshman at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., and hopes to resume his studies on his return two years hence. He is scheduled to sail on the City of New York.

The City of New York is under the command of Captain Frederick C. Melville, a cousin of the late Herman Melville, author of sea stories and creator of "Moby Dick," the great white whale. He has been going to sea since he was 13 years of age. He is now 44.

The Barque is equipped with wireless and auxiliary engines, but will use her sails whenever possible to conserve the fuel supply. She will proceed down the coast and across the Atlantic to the Panama Canal, thence across the Pacific to Dunedin, New Zealand, a voyage of 8,700 miles. At Dunedin other supplies will be taken aboard for the 3,600-mile voyage to the base at the edge of the Ross sea.

Many of her crew expect to do double duty, as seamen on the voyage down and then as part of the land force when the shore base is set up. Topographer, physicist, biologist, musician, dog team driver—all will help make sail and carry on with the other duties of the deck force during the voyage to the edge of civilization.

The last of the four planes to be used on the expedition—the trimotored Ford-Floyd Bennett—stopped at Cleveland last night en route to New York from Detroit. The plane was flown by Bert Balchen, Byrd's chief pilot, and Dean Smith.

The other three planes, a Fairchild monoplane, a Fokker Universal and a small three place cabin plane built at Buffalo, already at Miller field, Staten Island, Harold June, who with Balchen will probably accompany Byrd on the actual flight to the pole is engaged in testing the Fairchild plane. The Fokker has already passed the right requirements as has the small cabin plane which is to be used only for short hops between bases.

Mob Storms Jail At Natchez, Miss.

Natchez, Miss., Aug. 23.—(AP)—A mob of 40 or 50 armed men early today stormed the Adams county jail in search for John Burke, negro, charged with assaulting a 20-year-old white woman at Pine Bluff near here, but failed to find the negro and the alleged rapist leader, Cecil Collins, was arrested by officers.

While awaiting the filing of a formal charge against Collins, Deputy Sheriff Clarence Roberts, who placed Collins under arrest, announced that affidavits were expected to be sworn out against other alleged participants in the jail storming.

The men, armed with shotguns and pistols, entered the jail as officers were quickly assembled to repel the attack, but the excitement in evidence here since Burke was arrested subsided when the mob leaders discovered Burke had been spirited away to another jail. Guards were maintained about the jail following the attack to prevent possible further trouble.

Italian Consul Shot.
Nice, France, Aug. 23.—(AP)—TV Marquis De Muro, Italian Consul at St. Raphael, a nearby winter resort, was shot from ambush last night but only slightly hurt. The Marquis was fired at from behind a tree as he was leaving his house. The attacker, used a shot gun and several pellets struck the Consul in the face. A maid servant, who was walking beside him, also was hit.

SEE GROUPING OF RAILROADS IN MID-WEST

Elimination of Competition and Labor Disputes Forecasted In Movement.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Forecasts of a new grouping of mid-west and far western railway lines, which would do much toward eliminating present competition, and avert threatened disputes among Pacific lines, has followed announcement of several reported pending changes in major executive positions on western systems.

The Associated Press has been informed that Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, will become chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific road this fall to succeed Henry W. De Forest.

Appointment of Holden, now president of the Burlington, which is in turn controlled by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads, to the Southern Pacific post was considered in financial circles as a means of averting disagreements between the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific, La Salle Street gossip said.

Paul Shoup, slated to succeed William Sproul as head of the Southern Pacific, has been executive vice president of that road since 1925. Sproul, who will be 70 years old this fall, must retire under the company's age rule.

If the application for the merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads is approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, is expected to assume a new office, as is Charles Donnelly, now president of the Northern Pacific. In that event, it was said, the Southern Pacific, the Burlington and the merged roads would have one operating president, in hopes of eliminating present traffic and freight competitions, although their nominal individuality would be maintained.

PRES. COOLIDGE GIVEN HONORARY MEMBERSHIP WITH TRAP SHOOTERS

Vanadilla, Ohio, Aug. 23.—(AP)—President Coolidge is to receive a gold card of honorary life membership in the American Trap and Rifle Association. It was voted him during the organization's annual tournament here, and will be delivered next week if he'll have it.

The award was due to news from Superior, Wis., the President's summer vacation home, of his breaking seven out of nine targets and then 24 out of 25 with a regulation shot gun at the regulation distance of 40 paces, all of that without having touched a gun or practiced seriously for several years.

Pirate Festival Is Under Way at Wilmington Today

Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Unfatigued by yesterday's strenuous program, Wilmington gave itself over today to another round of revelry under the merry rule of the Pirate Blackboard and his swashbuckling gang.

Blackboard and his crew captured the city and made prisoners of the city officials yesterday to open the second annual festival of the West of Pirates.

Business houses were closed today as townspeople joined thousands of daily bedecked visitors along the banks of the Cape Fear river to watch the power boat races that he crew has provided as the first event on today's amusement program. Entries are listed from several states.

A baseball game between the Wilmington Pirate team of the Eastern Carolina League and Kinston will finish the amusement for those not wishing to witness the races.

This afternoon the baby parade is scheduled to be held. The parade of Kurners sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, is expected to get under way at 6:30. At 8 o'clock the scene of activities moves to Lumina Pavilion, Wrightsville Beach, where the Rotary Humber Circus is to be presented. This will be followed by a midnight dance to continue until 4 a. m.

Zachary Joins Yanks.

Washington, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Tom Zachary, veteran left-hander became a member of the New York Yankees pitching staff today thru the waiver route.

Zachary won his greatest fame as a pitcher when he beat the Giants twice in the 1924 world series. This year he has won six and lost nine games for the Washington club.

Killed In Fall From Window.

Raleigh, Aug. 23.—(AP)—D. F. Saunders, 44, of Bliscoe, was killed today when he fell from a fourth story window while trying to escape from the state hospital. He died about an hour after he was found on the ground. Investigation disclosed that he used a floor mop as a battering ram in tearing apart the iron grating of the window and then tied seven sheets together as a rope. It is thought he fell directly after getting through the window when he lost his balance before grasping the sheets.

He was admitted to the hospital April 16, 1928, as a mental patient.

TO LEGALIZE PAINLESS DEATH FOR INCURABLES

London, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The Express quotes an article in the Prague newspaper Cheske Slovo to the effect that infliction of painless death on sufferers from incurable disease will be legalized in Czechoslovakia.

This legalization will be provided in a new code now being prepared. Tale asserts, but written approval by at least two physicians will be necessary before permission to inflict death is granted.

The same code, it is stated, will

Mrs. Brennan To Help Out the Democrats

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. George E. Brennan, widow of the former Illinois Democratic national committeeman, today accepted the post of regional vice chairman of the party's presidential drive committee. She was suggested for the position yesterday by state Senator Harry B. Hawes of Missouri, chairman of the national Democratic central regional headquarters in St. Louis. Meanwhile, Illinois Democrats have caucused to determine who will become the Illinois committeeman and it is understood that an agreement has been reached.

Michael Igce, state representative and aide to the late Mr. Brennan, it is said, has withdrawn his name from consideration in respect for party harmony and good will within the ranks of all Democrats in the state.

Bishop Candler Observes Birthday.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Bishop Warren A. Candler, who has served for more than half a century as a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, celebrated his 71st birthday today, announcing incidentally that he intended no diminution of his labors.

While numbers of friends in Georgia and the South were extending their congratulations, the Bishop, alert and smiling as usual, declared that a man is only as "old as he feels."

"They tell me I am 71," he said, "but I have no idea of diminishing my activities or decreasing my labors as long as God gives me the strength to toil."

"I love Georgia and expect to spend the rest of my life and die here."

Bishop Candler was born August 23, 1857, in Carroll county, Ga.

of the Government economically administered.

"In 1920 they reaffirmed the traditional policy of the Democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only."

"In 1924 they declared their party's position to be in favor of a tax on commodities entering the Custom Houses which will promote an effective competition, protect against monopoly, and at the same time produce a fair revenue to support the Government."

"In 1928 they declared that 'the Democratic tariff legislation would be based on the following policies: The maintenance of legitimate business and the high standard of wages for American labor; duties that will permit effective competition, insure against monopoly and at the same time produce a fair revenue for the support of the government; actual difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, with adequate safeguard for the wage of the American laborer must be the extreme measure of every tariff rate. Equitable distribution of the benefits and burdens of the tariff among all'."

"With this record on the tariff, the Democrats hope to fool the American people."

HUDSON Patents F-Head Motor

to thrilling new limits of performance

The U. S. Patent Office has granted patents to the Hudson Motor Car Company on the "F-Head" high-compression motor. The patent—No. 1,656,051, relating to internal combustion engines—covers the entire arrangement of valves, spark plugs and combustion chamber.

With the new patented design Hudson motors now are built with a compression ratio of nearly 6 to 1—or 20 per cent above the average—with correspondingly high standards of acceleration, fuel economy and power. It is practically impossible to make the motor knock under even the most adverse operating conditions. The motor is the liveliest, most powerful and economical Hudson has ever built.

And it gives the most brilliant performance in Hudson history, far in advance of anything the industry has known.

Ballard's X Road News

This week closes the tobacco-curing season for 1928 in the Eastern belt. We hope the marketing opens auspiciously.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Arthur Christian Church met with Mrs. Libb Blow Allen Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Lawrence Anderson and family, of near La Grange, spent Sunday at Mr. L. U. Joyner's.

Little Miss Garmen Turnage, of near Farmville, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Tyson.

Miss Brightie Savage was a most welcome visitor to the Cross Roads Monday afternoon.

Mr. G. T. Tyson and Mr. Credle spent the week end in Swan Quarter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lewis Flake, of Bell-Arthur, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac F. Joyner Sunday.

Several families of the community have enjoyed the finishing of the tobacco harvest.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. I. U. Joyner served their hands of cream and cake as a celebration of a successful season.

Friday night Messrs Owen Tyson, Edward Narron, Glenn Tyson and Byron Bateman gave a "chicken tea" which was greatly enjoyed by all who assisted them in housing tobacco.

Mr. Joshua Waneswright also celebrated by giving a party to the young people, who had a most delightful time playing games and dancing. Delightful refreshments were served.

Quite a fitting way in which to wind up a season of most strenuous exertion.

Add Warren Plays Golf In Greenville

Add Warren, heavyweight prize fighter, product of the University of North Carolina, showed up on the old links of the Greenville country club yesterday and the day before and played a couple of games with friends.

Warren, who is visiting relatives at his home in Washington, is conditioning himself for the fight with Anzeles Monday. A splendid means of keeping in good physical condition, he thinks, and gives considerable time to the sport.

Warren is fairly well known in his section. His career as a fighter both at the University and since leaving there, has increased his popularity in the sports realm.

Considerable interest is manifested in the bout with Anzeles Monday and the outcome will be watched from many sections of the state.

Menu For Dinner.

Stuffed Green Peppers Bread
Buttered Beets Peach Conserve
Sliced Tomatoes Relish Dressing
Chocolate Pie Coffee

Stuffed Green Peppers For Six
6 large green peppers, 1 cup cooked rice, 1-2 cup cheese, diced; 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 4 tablespoons butter, melted; 1-2 cup milk.

Cut off the tops of the peppers with scissors. Remove all pulp and seeds. Thoroughly rinse. Mix the rest of the ingredients and stuff the pepper cases. Place in a small pan and add one inch of water. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

Relish Salad Dressing For Six
(To serve on lettuce, vegetable or tomato salads)
1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 1-4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon sugar, 4 tablespoons vinegar, 1-2 cup salad oil, 1-4 cup chopped sweet pickles or pickle relish, 1-4 cup chili sauce, 1-4 cup chopped pimiento, stuffed olives.

Place all the ingredients in a wide mouthed bottle. Shake for two minutes. Chill. When ready to serve, shake for one minute and pour over the salad.

Filling For Chocolate Pie.
2-3 cup sugar, 1-3 cup flour, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 squares chocolate, melted, or four tablespoons cocoa, 2 egg yolks, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Mix the sugar, flour and salt. Add the chocolate, egg yolks and milk. Cook in a double boiler until very thick and creamy. Stir frequently. It will require about 20 minutes to thicken this filling. Add the vanilla and pour into a baked pie shell. Cover with the meringue.

Meringue.
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten; 4 tablespoons sugar.

Beat the egg whites until very stiff. Add the sugar and beat for one minute. Roughly pile on the filling. Bake in a slow oven for 12 minutes.

"To flake" means to break apart. The term is frequently used when referring to fish. It is flaked when added to mixtures, as this prevents the fish from becoming too solid.

Leftover pie dough may be wrapped in waxed paper and stored in the ice box for a week. It may then be rolled out and the flavor and texture will be as good when baked as if the dough had just been made.

Dice marshmallows with scissors which have been dipped in warm water. This will prevent them from sticking together and will produce even cubes. Use scissors for cutting the pine-apple.

Compliments will follow in the wake of your work if you apply yourself seriously to the courses we give you. Our methods are practical.

TWO FAMOUS SINGERS WED

John Gilbert and Dorothy Stephens Reported Married Last Week.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The opera with all its stars, dramas, comedies and tragedies came face to face today with a romance.

Coincidentally with the arrival of the American Opera company the announcement was made today that Dorothy Stephens, Mezzo Soprano and John Gilbert, Tenor, were married last week in New York City in the Little Church Around the Corner, famous for its unions of persons of the stage. But the romance, ah...

Seven years ago both young people were studying music in Florence, Italy. They met. They heard each others voices, they exchanged their stories of ambitions to appear before the gilded boxes of the nation's rich opera patrons. Their mutual understanding developed into the chapter which provided the happy ending in their marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Daniel R. D. Stephens, a London and New York surgeon. She has been singing in London during the recent years. Mr. Gilbert spent most of his time in Italy, but frequently visited his France. He is a world War veteran, and also served on the Mexican border with the National Guard.

A BATH IN EVERY HOME

Every home can and should have a modern bathroom in it. No room in the house is of more importance to the entire family.

Food is prepared in the kitchen. The family gathers in the living room. But the bathroom—that protects the health of all—is actually the most useful room in the house! Clean, sanitary, modern bathroom fixtures are practical health insurance and a source of very real pleasure also!

In spite of this importance of the bathroom, there are homes that have none or are equipped with old, worn-out fixtures that menace rather than protect health. Either condition is easy to remedy! A complete set of modern, high grade bathroom fixtures costs less than the cheapest automobile.

Aside from its value to health the bathroom increases the rental and sale value of property far more than it costs.

Write, phone or call for complete information.

A NEW YORKER AT LARGE

P. C. D. SEYMOUR

New York-Slickers and drum-heads have been made to serve as autograph albums; why not the silk lining of a handbag?

When several newspapermen sought out Helen Willis after a recent match one took with him a feminine friend, who remained in the background while the reporters talked to the tennis star.

Presently, however, Helen asked to meet her. They were introduced, and after they had chatted for a few minutes the girl asked Miss Willis for her autograph.

"Certainly," said Helen, "where shall I write it?"

The young woman opened a new handbag and indicated the silk lining. Helen was averse at first to "spoiling that beautiful moire," but with a little urging she wrote her signature in ink in the interior of the bag, after peeping woman-like at the label and making a mental note of the shop from which it came.

Suburban Etiquet.

The subway rider, with his square foot of space in which to read the morning paper as he rides to work in the rush hour, invariably folds his journal into half sheets to make possible its perusal in cramped quarters. There is a knack to it not attained in a day.

One confirmed subway rider moved recently to the suburbs and gave up underground transportation for commuters' trains where one has a whole seat to himself.

On the first morning he became aware that the man across the aisle was regarding him with elevated eyebrows. He looked himself over and noted nothing amiss, but continued to be aware of censoring glances. Then it dawned on him. He had plenty of room to open his paper wide, but he was keeping it folded tightly and holding it with elbows crammed close to his ribs, after the fashion of the subway rider.

He spread it out, and his neighbor across the aisle settled back in his seat with the air of one no longer annoyed.

A Danish Relic.

Place names in New York are so predominantly Dutch and English, after the nationalities of the city's early overlords, that the contributions of folk of other countries are seldom brought to mind. Yet one of the city's largest areas bears a name acquired not from the Dutch nor from the English but from a Danish pioneer. He was Jonas Bronck, who settled on the mainland north of Manhattan Island with a party of settlers from Denmark in 1639, and his colony, known first as Bronck's Land, is now the Borough of the Bronx.

Metropolitan Pitfall.

A genuine New Yorker is one who can pass a sightseeing bus without being solicited by the Barker to take a trip through Chinatown and the Bowery. The men who fill up the buses with tourists and city visitors have an uncanny ability, born of years of studying the faces of passers by, to spot potential customers. And once the unwary outlander pauses to listen to the spiel, he is as good as on his way to Mott street.

Negro Killed By Car.

Raleigh, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Carey Massenburg, 55, a negro storekeeper of Wake Forest was instantly killed last night when struck by a hit-and-run car as he was walking on a dirt road on his way home from attending church. His body was dragged about 50 feet and was badly mangled. Coroner Waring said today.

GOOD PRICES

With the opening of the tobacco markets in this section just a few days off, again the usual discussion and wonderment as to what the price will be is now in full swing. As we see it, this matter of tobacco prices is something that should be out of the uncertain class and the farmer should be able to cultivate and house his crop knowing that he is to get a living wage for the same. Despite the talk every year about the increased crops and the law of supply and demand governing the tobacco prices, it is in our opinion up to this time, all a lot of bunk. Statistics show that the increased use of tobacco, especially the cigarette type, has far outstripped the increase in production, hence the latter should not have the effect of tending to lower the price.

Just what the prices will be in Eastern North Carolina when our markets open, we do not know. While we sincerely trust that they will be such that the farmer will realize a profit on his labors, all the talk for the past few weeks from all sources of the tobacco industry has been toward preparing the growers and others of the section for low prices.

When we take into consideration that every one other than the farmer, who has anything to do with tobacco can reasonably expect and does make a fair profit out of it, why should there always be the uncertainty about the farmer's share? The fertilizer company that furnishes the necessary materials to the grower, sets its price and knows that it will get it, the hired labor that helps the farmer house his crop sets its price and gets it, the selling house, while a part of its charges are based upon the price of tobacco, is reasonably assured a fair profit, and the buying companies that set the price for the tobacco know they will get their profits and have made millions upon millions out of it, by setting their own prices to the consumer for the manufactured product. It is not our desire to create the opinion that we are opposed to the tobacco companies, be they large or small, but we do know and feel that in view of the certainty of profit all along the line in the tobacco business except where the farmer is concerned, the farmer is likewise entitled to his share of the consideration and the profit. The day cannot be far distant when the tobacco industry in our section must dwindle as a result of the drastic curtailment of production and the turning of the farmer to more profitable lines unless something is not done to assure the farmers at least a fair wage on their labors and investment in the production of tobacco.

SMITH AND PROHIBITION

Governor Smith's stand on the prohibition question is just about as we had expected and, as we see it, is nothing that would bar an ardent foe from the Democratic ranks. Governor Smith points out clearly that any change in the law is up to the representatives in the state and national assemblies and while he personally favors modification seeking to end certain of the present prohibition evils, pending or in the absence of such changes, he stands squarely upon the Houston platform to make an honest endeavor to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment and all laws enacted thereto. Governor Smith's honesty and fearless courage is yet to be doubted and we believe that he will, as he declares, make every effort to enforce the prohibition laws. Despite his personal views, the election of Governor Smith promises far greater results toward a dry America than the Republicans during their eight years of control have shown themselves to desire.

ABOUT

"We are going to try to include girls in the municipal playground schedule next summer," said J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools and director of the playground movement, today.

"The boys who took part in the program this summer manifested considerable interest in the various forms of entertainment and are hearty in support of a revival of the playground next summer.

"It was impossible to extend plans sufficiently to take care of the girls this summer, but with advance preparations next year it is believed they will have as many attractions as the boys. Parents would be wise to support the playground in every way possible. It offers diversion of a most appealing nature and prepares the children both mentally and physically for the duties imposed upon them during the eight months of school work."

"Eight more games after today and the Eastern Carolina League will live in memory only," mentioned a member of the local club today.

"It is true Greenville has not the slightest chance in the world of capturing pennant honors. But we do have a chance of winning some more victories and not letting the league leaders run roughshod over us during the final game of the season."

"Unprecedented crowds no doubt will attend these last games, and help boost the old club on to victory. We have had a hectic season with the bad start which we got right in the beginning. But all of this will be forgotten in the days to come and with a winning team few of us will remember the cellar position we occupy this season."

"If you have followed the team with any degree of interest, make it a point of attending the final games and helping the club pull out in a financial way. They need your help, and this aid now may be a means of guaranteeing more baseball for the long years to come."

"We liked the service the Reflector gave on the acceptance speech of Governor Alfred Smith yesterday," complimented a reader today, as he enumerated some of the points he liked about the address.

"I don't know what the rest of the people thought about the speech—I didn't stop long enough to determine this, but I do know that it sounded mighty good and gave me of us a decidedly new slant on the political situation of the nation."

"The nation from now on has something to talk about in the speeches of both candidates, and from now until election day should be filled with lively discussions by both parties. To the victor goes the spoils."

"I liked that story about the Greenville tobacco market carried in the columns of the Reflector yesterday," mentioned one of the life-long readers of the paper

Woman Bar Head

Mrs. Gyvrande Thevenin of France has been named president of the International Union of Women Lawyers.

"Dear Mr. Editor, please don't write anything else about robbers. Everything around the house is scared to death. We have spent sleepless nights for over a week, expecting every moment to see some stealthy figure slipping through the windows.

"Every time we hear something fall on the floor we think a robber has pushed a key out of a lock somewhere in the house, preparatory to entering. Somebody told me about this key-pushing operation a day or so ago. It gave me an entirely new slant on the ways of robbers to gain entrance to homes. Really, we are terribly alarmed."

There was a plaintive note in the letter and it gripped our heart-strings immediately. We will try to do as the letter requests. We don't see how we could do otherwise—under the circumstances.

Haywood Dail, who always talks about fairs this season of the year, is making elaborate arrangements for the Pitt county attraction this year.

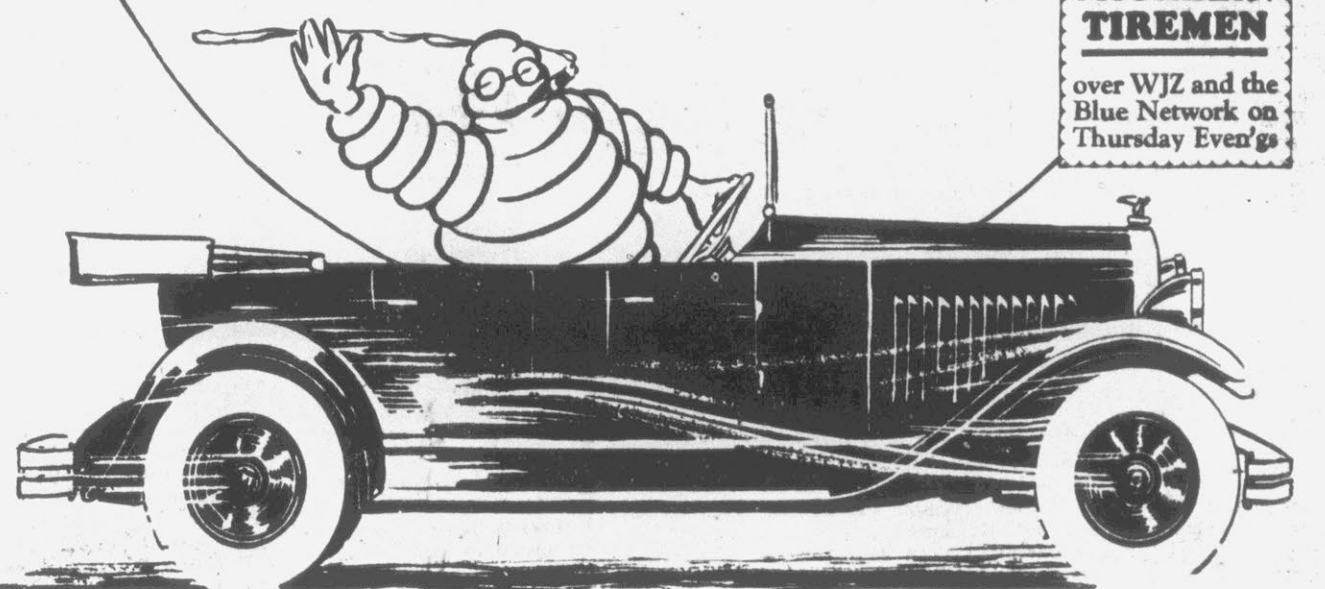

"We are planning to stage the fair on a large scale than ever before this season," Mr. Dail said today. "We hope to have exhibits from a greater radius than last year when they surpassed anything recorded during the several years the great agricultural event has been in progress."

"Special inducement is being offered the farm and farm woman. Premiums have never been so liberal. Competition, therefore, is expected to be keen in all of these departments, and the thousands who through the exhibit halls will see a splendid array of products."

"Keep the fair in mind, and turn out to see what is generally conceded will be the best attraction of the kind in Eastern North Carolina."

DON'T buy so-called "cheap tires". It's too expensive. For a small down payment we will put on your car a genuine Michelin. It will run 4000 to 5000 miles more than the average tire—10,000 miles more than many cheap tires. Long before it is worn out, it will have proved itself the most economical tire you could have.

It costs less to use Michelins. Our "pay-as-you-ride" plan makes it cost less to buy them, too. Why not, then, ride on the best, when it actually costs less, first and last, to do so?

GIANTS LOSE BUT PIRATES WIN ANOTHER

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Giants have escaped from Cincinnati and the Cardinals have cleared their premises of Brooklyn marauders—but neither of these events transpired one minute too soon. If things had gone on much longer as they were going, one National League pennant necessarily would have been awarded to the team capable of the most expert back-pedaling, which would have brought the Phillies in for serious consideration. Shaded at Redland field yesterday the Giants left Pittsburgh shorn of dignity but able to walk.

An even break for the Giants today would restore the leadership to St. Louis, who lie idle waiting the arrival of the Phillies tomorrow.

The defeat of the Giants yesterday the second in three games at Cincinnati, was due largely to Jim Welsh's uncertainty of foot as he dashed after a fly ball from the bat of Bill Zimman with the bases filled in the fifth.

Jess Petty and Watson Clark collaborated in tossing the Cards for another loss—the second Robin victory in the three game series. Between them they gave the Red Birds just five hits while their support was pecking at Clarence Hitchell for just enough early runs to eke out the victory.

While the outstanding teams were so engaged the Pirates put the Braves to rout again by 10 to 3 in a game which saw the Buccaneers collect 16 hits.

In the remaining National League games the Cubs finally broke their Philadelphia jinx after six successive failures. It took all of Art Nehf's cunning to win by 3 to 2 in 12 innings.

The American League left behind in its half of the campaign to restore the world series to the basis of five cent fare for New Yorkers, thanks to the bat of Mule Haas, late of Mont Clair, New Jersey, but now a resident of Ship's Park, Philadelphia. The Mule plucked one of Johnny Miljus' choice offerings, ambient with his fat black bat and gave it a ride over the right field fence, winning for the Athletics by 6 to 5 in the 17th inning.

The Tigers swept both ends of a bargain at Boston, 7 to 6 and 4 to 3 and the Senators halted the Sox, 2 to 0 at Washington. The Yanks were idle.

AUTOGRAPH SEEKERS

VEX GENE TUNNEY
London, Aug. 23—(AP)—Autograph seekers have added new irritation to Gene Tunney's already overtaxed patience.
Just when he was stretched out resting in an English railway "carriage," with all his troubles apparently over for the day at least, the retired champion was discovered by a carload of youngsters from London's slums, returning to their homes after a holiday at Cornwall.
The urchins swarmed through the corridor toward Gene's carriage, yelling like wild Indians and indiscriminately demanding "hau-

Both Piedmont Leaders Lose

By The Associated Press
Both leading aggregations of the Piedmont League dropped games yesterday and High Point, resting in third berth, missed a chance to offer challenge for a higher position when rain prevented the game scheduled with Raleigh.
High Point, former Davidson College athlete, was credited with picking a game from the Patriots for the Bulls when he broke up a pretty hurler's duel by flaming one over center field fence with Buck Taylor on base in the sixth. The score board showed 2 to 1 totals in favor of Durham when the last ball was tossed. Slim Reid gave a hit to the Patriots while "Mutt" Wilcox allowed the Bulls to escape a tie.
Ten innings were necessary to break the 2-all tie between Winston-Salem and Salisbury and deliver the battle to the Colonial, 3 to 2.
Kandoo's double did the work by scoring Jones from second, after Fleazer's homer with Mott on the path in the fifth overcame an early Twin lead and knotted the count.

Columbia Given Dose By Macon

By The Associated Press
Doing things right or not at all seems to be the present rule in the South Atlantic Association—that is, to make a clean sweep of a series.
Macon landed Columbia a full size dose yesterday by winning a 3 to 2 game out to eight innings by a time agreement. The Comers outlasted the Peaches but were not adept at connecting in the Pitches. Al Lopez with a homer, double and single was the big gun in the Georgians' attack.
Knox's second homer of the game gave Asheville an 8 to 6 verdict over Knoxville and a unanimous toll of wins for the three-day engagement. Lubbe also connected for the circuit in behalf of the Tourists.
Clarke tripped to score one in the seventh and break up a two all tie between Augusta and Charlotte. The Tigers added another in the eighth and won 4 to 2.
Stauffer held the Hornets to two hits, one a four bagger by Wise.
Pitcher David drove in two markers with a triple and later scored himself to aid Spartanburg in beating Greenville 5 to 3. The Spinners had ten men stranded on the bases.

Cotton Ginning
Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Cotton of this year's growth gained prior to August 16, totalled 289,530 running bales, compared with 455,588 to that date last year, and 182,257 bales on August 10, 1926, the census bureau announced today.
Of the total ginning, Texas returned 279,471 bales for 1927; 399,591 for 1927, and 136,323 for 1928. The remainder for 1927, 106,6 bales, was returned from Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi.

TAILORS TO ATTEND MARKER UNVEILING

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 23—(AP)—Tailors of Raleigh will have special reserved seats at exercises here Labor Day in connection with the unveiling of a granite boulder to mark the birthplace of the tailor who became President of the United States—Andrew Johnson.
Col. Andrew J. Patterson, Greenville, Tenn., grandson of the late President, and Judge Robert W. Winston, author of a recent biography of Johnson, will deliver the principal addresses, while Josephus Daniels will preside, it was announced here after a meeting of the program committee.

CAMP DOINGS WITH BOYS AT CAMP LEACH

Camp Greenville is flourishing and all hands enjoying the variety of life offered there. We are in receipt of a brief communication which says, "All well and happy. Not a bit of homesickness in the crowd. Tell the folks so. Very happy. Totten."
The mothers of the campers who drove down yesterday were heard to say that Camp Leach was exceptionally well appointed and seemed well pleased with the prospects.
The nearest telephone to Camp Leach is about 4 miles away, but arrangements have been made to have messages delivered, if of real importance. The number is 2222.

Goldboro Wins Another Game

By The Associated Press
Goldboro, Top-Notchers, in the Eastern Carolina Circuit, won yesterday afternoon after their challengers, the Wilmington Pirates, had clinched a mixup in the morning.

Richman of the Bugs edged out a two to one decision over Albrook of the Buccaneers, in an outstanding pitchers' battle. While Rocky Mount attempted a comeback seventh frame, they secured only one of the two needed counters before repulsed. McMullan's swashbucklers were let down with three scattered safeties while the Teaguemen had to hurry to gather in five bingles. The Bugs' tally was unlearned while one of the Bugs was also in the nature of a gift.
The Pirates won the abbreviated affair at Wilmington to the tune of 7 to 1 at the expense of the Eagles. Wet ground made it necessary to call the game after Kinston had been retired at the bat for the fifth time.
The Highlanders hit steadily and drowned Greenville, 6 to 3. The hitting features of the game were offered by Buckner, McMullan and Young, each securing five safe boys out of as many possibilities. Fannister drove over the left garden fence for the circuit in the fifth. Drayon Joffe was not in his usual form and dropped 13 safeties to Fayetteville while Smith let the Tobaccoists down with seven.

SMITH BABY AGAIN GETS INTO COURT

This Time, However,
Girl Once Mistaken
for Boy, Is Presented With Gift By Judge.

Cleveland, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Miss Anastasia Smith, one year old, might have had a good laugh for herself today had she been able to look back and comprehend all the trouble she caused twelve months ago when the famous Smith baby case at Fairview Park Hospital attracted national attention to her.

All dolled up in a new white dress and a new pair of shoes, Miss Anastasia arrived in the courtroom of Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygandt, and gave the judge a knowing glance as though she had seen him somewhere before. Somehow the surroundings of the courtroom seemed familiar.

And then Miss Anastasia would have remembered all about it had she been able. A year ago she was born in Fairview Park Hospital. Her mother called her "little son", and even the nurses noted in the hospital record that she was a boy. Then all of a sudden she became a girl.

The discovery just about ostracized her from the family of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, into which she had been born. In fact, Mrs. Smith insisted that she was not her child at all. A mistake had been made, the grief-stricken mother protested; the nurses had mixed the babies; some one had her boy; and she had somebody else's girl.

"Baby Smith", though nameless, endured it all without a whimper while doctors and learned men talked of blood tests and what not. At the wee age of three weeks she was haled into a court room. Upon the bench sat the fatherly judge who listened to the whole story earnestly.

"And now", said Judge Weygandt, to Mrs. Smith when he had heard it all, "there is scarcely any doubt that the mistake was made in the hospital record and not in the mixing of babies. The nurse who registered your child called her a boy. But all the evidence shows that she was a girl. Take her home and be good to her".

It was the same fatherly judge sitting upon the bench, Miss Anastasia might have reflected, when she entered the court room for the second time yesterday.

It was quite a surprise to be back—a birthday surprise. Judge Weygandt just wanted to give her a little party on this first memorable occasion since he is her official godfather. While the cameras clicked he presented her with a little blue book showing a bank deposit of $10 in her name.

Sam Smith, the proud parent, puffed Judge Weygandt aside and whispered:

"We know you were right. Anastasia was our baby all the time. Doesn't she look like her mother?"

Oklahoma Lady Gives Interesting Account of Long Use of Black-Draught in Her Home.

Sebecyah, Okla.—"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of this place. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was especially good to give the children."

"My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea."

"I found that they were taking cold, I was quick to start giving them Black-Draught, as it helped them to throw off the impurities which caused the trouble."

"My children are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'headache', and have a bad taste in my mouth."

"Black-Draught is a simple remedy for constipation, and I prefer it to others because it is purely vegetable. I always feel better after I have taken a course of it."

handily by at least 7,000 over Representative T. Webber Wilson, returns from all except 192 precincts of the 1,500 giving him 59,732 against Wilson's 52,321.

Senator Stephens took the lead on the first returns and at no time trailed, although he fell back in his majority when Wilson's strong centers let out their figures.

Representative Jeff Busby carried his fourth district by good odds the returns from 121 of the 194 precincts giving him 5,122 as compared with A. T. Patterson's 2,477 and C. H. Aldridge's 1,447.

His performance was in striking contrast to that of Rep. B. G. Lowry who found himself consistently behind his opponent, Hall Doxey, who had 7,422 votes against Lowry's 6,850 from 132 of the 174 precincts in the district.

A tangled situation was presented in the sixth district where four candidates were contesting for the House seat vacated by Wilson because of his senatorial ambition. No candidate had anywhere near a majority on returns from 281 precincts of the 342 and it appeared that this contest would go into a second primary with the two leaders participating. On these returns Robert Hall of Hattiesburg, led with 8,440, Price Dale of Columbus next with 7,756, Eugene Fly of Gulf Port third with 5,335 and H. D. Money of Ocean Springs last with 4,161.

New Stocks Ever-Changing

Values That Always Remain the Same

Our merchandise is as responsive to the seasons' changes as the thermometer. For new weather conditions bring new needs. You will find our values unvarying, however—quality—always at a saving.

Examine the Evidence and Reach Your Own Decision

Quality first, last and all the time at prices that are always as low as they can be made and leave a fair margin of profit.

That sentence sums up the business practise of Mr. Penney back in 1902 when he was laying the foundation for the present great family of Department Stores, which bear his name and of which this store is a member.

That practise equally applies to the operations today of this store and every store in this coast to coast organization.

If it is ever said of the quality of our goods that it is "cheap," it is because the speaker is not acquainted with the peerless character of our values and therefore, is not qualified to discuss them.

In this respect, we ask you to make comparisons and be your own judge. That is fair enough

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET
New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today with an early advance on relatively steady cables, followed by reactions which were evidently influenced by prospects for showers in dry sections of the southwest and the failure of further bullish private advices from the south to create a more active demand. The mid-afternoon market was quiet at net declines of about 18 to 23 points.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 3,100,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Late reports of seven degrees of frost in Canada and estimated export business totaling 1,000,000 bushels helped give a decided lift to wheat values today. Indications were that the quality of a considerable amount of the Canadian wheat crop had been lowered. Corn and oats rose with wheat and as a result of associations that the corn crop in Nebraska had been damaged 25 percent by recent hot dry weather.

Wheat closed strong 2 1/4 to 3 1/2 higher; corn quarter to 3/4 up; oats showing 7/8 to 1 1/8 gain and provisions varying from 12 decline to a rise of 5.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.
New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Stock prices continued to press forward today in the face of heavy selling inspired by fears of a large increase in Federal Reserve brokers' loans, which will be made public after the close. Several of the recent favorites dropped 2 to 4 points in the morning selling, yet the heavy accumulation of the motor, copper and food shares kept the general trend upward.

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 percent. Banks called $20,000,000 in loans, but a flood of new money appeared in the market, arousing hopes of a drop in the rate before the close. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady. With the new U. S. Treasury financing expected shortly, Wall Street does not look for any further hardening of money rates until that is disposed of. The view is held in some quarters that any further increase in money rates here would depress sterling and lead to the importation of gold.

Violent advances took place in several of the high priced specialties. Midland steel products preferred, soared 13 points; Adams Express 12; Purdy Baking, preferred, 10; Purdy Baking, common, 8; American Smelting, 6 3/4; and Standard Milling, Russia Insurance, Fidelity Phoenix Insurance and American Linsed 4 1/2 to 5 1/2.

Renewed buying of Chrysler carried that stock up 4 points to within a fraction of the record high. General Motors was pushed up 3 points and Hupp 2. In the copper group, Greene Cananea rallied 4 points and Anaconda and Calumet & Arizona about 3 points each. Rails were quiet, although Texas & Pacific made up most of its initial drop of 5 1/2 points by early afternoon.

Early selling was most effective against national team, Wright Aeronautical, Sears Roebuck, Cudahy and Radio, off 2 to 4 points. "Vigilant"—bd-shrdly cmfwy rdute

Guiding Your Child

THE ACCIDENTAL CRIME.

(By Mrs. Agnes Lyne.)
There is no memory that rankles so long in the heart of a child as the recollection of punishment for crimes he didn't mean to do—things that just happened to him out of a clear sky.

The vase fell. The new suit simply tore itself. And heaven only knows how the glass of milk fell off the table.

The child, intent upon climbing a fence, is oblivious to the perils the procedure holds for his new suit. His clothes, quite rightly, do not occupy his attention. To expect a child to hold in mind such adult values is to deprive him of his own rightful and wholesome interests.

The technique of handling the adult environment is mastered only after repeated explanations and cautions have made plain that such actions as placing a glass of milk too near the elbow, or turning a cartwheel in the vicinity of the mantelpiece, are almost certain to have disastrous results.

When this sort of catastrophe occurs it is well to suppress the natural impulse to scold or punish and to bear in mind that the child's faith in parental justice is more precious than any vase no matter how costly. Kindness and explanation will do more to prevent a recurrence of the mishap than punishment and blame.

Valuable and breakable objects should be placed well out of reach of awkward young arms and legs. The wearing of good clothes should be left for state occasions. Furthermore, the parent's obvious distress over the broken vase, the torn suit or the spilled milk is enough to make any child not rendered immune by unjust scoldings wish with all his heart it had not happened and make him vow to himself to be very, very careful next time.

A WASHINGTON BYSTANDER

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Washington, (AP)—Japan's point of view warning to Manchuria not to throw in its lot with the Chinese nationalists who dominate China south of the Manchurian wall has yet undetermined possibilities of trouble in it for not the United States alone, but for London, Paris, Rome and other capitals where the theory of nonimpairment of Chinese territorial integrity and an open door in China for all nationals on equal commercial and economic footing is given at least lip service in formulating national Chinese policy.

Just what Tokyo's insistence that Manchuria stand aloof from nationalist China may portend that could threaten that cornerstone of American Chinese policy is not as clear. And unless there be such a threat it is not likely that Washington will intervene.

The western powers have always recognized tacitly that Japan looked upon her Manchurian sources of raw materials, not produced in Japan itself in quantity, as vital life lines of her national economic being.

Unless Japan moved to create the accomplished fact of Japanese sovereignty, or a Japanese protectorate over Manchuria that could not be ignored, quite obviously the rest of the world has stood more or less ready to wink at the scope and nature of Japanese penetration of Manchuria for the avowed purpose of protecting Japanese nationals on legitimate business. Disorder in China has justified protection.

Old Chang's Influence.
Under the late Chang Tso-lin, Manchurian dictator, isolation of Manchuria politically from the rest of China was more or less maintained. He was a picturesque figure, dating back to his bandit days in the Manchurian hills. It was there the Russo-Japanese war found him and from that humble start and via no greater an original post than that of chief of police in Mukden, he grew to his dictatorial power in Manchuria, presumably with Japanese aid.

It is to be doubted, however, that Tokyo fostered his ambitious hopes or making all China his by conquest. Tokyo statesmen must have realized that it might seriously complicate the situation for them in Manchuria, as it has, should he fail and that all the traits of Chinese character went to point to failure. He was a willful, autocratic leader in his later years, hard to control by advice.

Young Chang Different.
But old Chang is dead by an assassin's bomb as he fled from Peking and Young Chang rules in Manchuria in his stead. Young Chang and the younger government have all along cherished a liking for the Young China movement south of the Great Wall, built up there by men of their own age and also of westernized education and outlook. Their training to a rapprochement with the Nanking nationalists, now that the domineering Old Chang no longer lives to block such a movement, was certainly anticipated in Washington.

For Washington and other western capitals, in the event Young Chang should ignore Tokyo and carry out an alliance with Nanking the question of what Tokyo would do about it would be highly important. The language of warning served upon him is stern. It implies almost any drastic Japanese steps of coercion. If those steps constituted any actual move toward disruption of Chinese territorial integrity, and that means Manchuria as is much a part of China as is Shantung, the international diplomatic pot would begin to simmer with a vengeance.
