EIGHT PERSONS KILLED AT SHELBY TODAY

MANY ALSO INJURED AS BUILDINGS COLLAPSE IN MAIN BUSINESS DISTRICT

Construction Gangs Working Desperately to Clear Wreckage; Fear Death Toll Will Increase When Basements of the Wrecked Structures Are Reached.

Shelby, N. C., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Six people were known to have been killed, an undetermined number were injured and more than a dozen are missing as a result of the collapse of three buildings in the business district here today.

The known dead are: Miss Ora Eskridge, an employee of the First National Bank; Zeb Blanton, a farmer; Carl Blanton, son of Zeb Blanton; Guy Green and Alex Hoyle, employees of the First National Bank; one unidentified white man; Clyde Carpenter, of Caesar.

As construction crews worked desperately to clear the tangled wreckage it was feared that the death toll would mount when basements of the collapsed structures were reached.

A construction crew engaged in excavating under the buildings was still unaccounted for and little possibility of their escape was seen.

The collapsed structures are the First National Bank, Goode's grocery store and Hadley's tailor shop. Most of the injured, a hasty check revealed, were employees of one of the banks. The excavations under the buildings was thought to have caused the collapse.

The crew doing the excavating was said to have numbered from five to seven men, mostly negroes. Mr. Hadley was thought to have been in his shop and was still unaccounted for after the first check.

Hospitals crowded with injured, were unable to give accurate estimates of the number brought there. In addition, several people were thought to have been slightly hurt and to have mixed with the crowd after receiving first aid treatment.

Confusion attending the rescue efforts rendered accurate check difficult and it was thought that it would likely be late today before the wreckage was penetrated sufficiently to reveal all the casualties.

George Blanton, acting vice president of the bank, escaped with minor injuries as did Forest Eskridge, cashier; Clarence Mull, assistant cashier, received a broken head and arm and cuts about the head. His injuries were said by physicians to be serious.

Two other clerks were said to have been buried in the debris but were thought to be alive. A Mr. Hadley, proprietor of the tailor shop, was missing and was reported to have been buried in the ruins of his shop.

Four bank clerks are unaccounted for but it is thought possible that they were in crowds about the scene. One physician climbed through dangerous overhanging walls to treat a Miss Callahan and another bank clerk who were pinned under twisted steel and brick.

The two dead negroes were members of the excavation crew at work under the buildings. Others of the crew are missing.

Seek Negro for Complicity In Freight Robbery

Local authorities today were seeking Herbert Hemby, colored, wanted in connection with the looting of considerable goods from a freight car of the Norfolk & Southern railroad last Saturday night. Hemby is also wanted for complicity with other robberies, it was stated.

The officers located 33 pairs of shoes, 40 boxes of cigars and other goods said to have been taken from the freight car, in a raid of Hemby's home in Mill Town yesterday. Some ladies' wearing apparel thought to have been taken in other robberies was also found at the negro's home. The raid was made by officers Brewer and Pivers.

DOHENY FACES ANOTHER SUIT IN OIL LEASE

Pan-American Petroleum Demands Accounting for $10,000,000 In Oil Deal.

Los Angeles, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Edward L. Doheny and directors of the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company, today faced a bill of complaint demanding an accounting of $10,000,000 stockholders allege they lost in the fraudulent lease of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve.

The complaint, filed in behalf of Frank H. Kunkel, Cincinnati, and other shareholders, declares the loss resulted from the cancellation of the lease by a decision of the United States Supreme Court after the company had spent several million dollars in the development of the field.

The lease was negotiated for the government by Albert F. Fall, then secretary of the interior. The $100,000 delivered to Fall by E. L. Doheny, Jr., in the much discussed "little black satchel," was declared in the suit to have been the rightful property of the stockholders and used as a bribe. An accounting of this exchange also is asked.

Kunkel sets forth in the complaint that neither he nor any of the plaintiff stockholders had any knowledge of the negotiations and describes Doheny's conduct of the deal as a "fraud not only against the United States but also against the Pan American company and its stockholders." Doheny is charged with dominating the affairs of the company when the lease was signed.

Feminists Arrested In Effort To Crash Gates To Signers Of Treaty

Rambouillet, France, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Boris Stevens, American feminist leader, and three others of a group of feminists who tried to "crash the gates" of the Presidential Chateau today in behalf of the equal rights movement, were held in custody at the police commissariat for several hours for failure to have identity papers. They were released at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon after all of the statesmen who had lunch with President Doumergue had gone. The women sought a ten minutes' audience with the President's guests who yesterday signed the Kellogg-Briand renunciation of war treaty. The plan of the feminists was to discuss with them a project for an international treaty establishing equal rights for men and women. Those held over the noon hour with Miss Stevens were Mrs. Loring Pickering, Fanny Bernard of France, and Mrs. Betty Gram Swing, formerly of Portland, Ore., and now wife of an English correspondent. The women all left for Paris.

I must be back in America, for business reasons by Sept. 10, and if we can't take off before Sept. 4, I must go by boat." Levine and his party went to Croydon again this morning for a test flight.

LOVE LETTERS PRODUCED IN MURDER CASE

Prosecution In Mellus Murder Issue Considers Butcher Boy's Fervid Expressions.

Los Angeles, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Three letters containing fervid expressions of affection, written to Mrs. Myrtle Mellus by Leo P. Kelley, her butcher boy lover shortly before her death, today held the attention of the prosecution and defense in his trial for her murder.

The letters together with a photograph of Kelley, were found secreted in false bottoms of drawers of Mrs. Mellus' dressing table when the entire court went to the Mellus home yesterday. Kelley pointed out the secret compartments to the court with the comment they contained "something interesting."

James P. Costello, deputy district attorney, refused to make the letters public.

Newspaper reporters learned, however, that the letters, addressed "dear myrt" and signed "daddy," told of Kelley's love for "my dearest girl."

Writing of her husband, Frank Mellus, wealthy and prominent sportsman, Kelley said:

"How does he spend his time down there (Eisenada, lower California)—fishing? Well, I hope he falls off the boat."

MANY NATIONS WANT TO SIGN AGAINST WAR

Countries In Various Parts of World Attracted By Kellogg Treaty Signing.

Paris, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The effect on the signing of the Kellogg-Briand war renunciation treaty was apparent today. Nations in various parts of the world have announced their desire to become parties to the pact.

The original signatures were still wet when telegrams and cables of adherence by other countries began to pour into Paris. The governments of Denmark, Jugo-Slavia, Roumania and Peru are among those having expressed their wish.

The compact is now open to adherence by all civilized nations. An official invitation to join in the pledge has been handed by the French ambassador to Maxim Litvinoff, Russian Soviet Commissar for foreign affairs, at Moscow.

It is expected that at least a year will lapse before the treaty has been finally ratified by the original signatory countries whose legislatures must pass on it.

Congratulations still were being received by M. Briand today while Parisians in general, including the not inconsiderable element of population furnished by American and other tourists, celebrated the event with appropriate calm and decorum.

The boulevards and the sidewalk tables of the cafes were crowded until a late hour last night when people discussing the great occasion. Even habitual cynics were impressed and there was a feeling in the air that humanity has taken a stride forward.

Extremists made a few more efforts during the night to belittle and mock the pact, but they hardly succeeded in doing more than afford amusement to the populace. Several taxicab loads of this element demonstrated down the Champs Elysees but the police confiscated the cabs and locked up the occupants.

The prefect of police prevented any concerted demonstration by the simple process of detaining sixty of the most notorious extremist leaders.

Frank B. Kellogg, American Secretary of State, retired early last night to get a good night's rest preparatory to attending a luncheon offered by President Doumergue today, and a reception at the Paris city hall. He plans to leave Havre tomorrow aboard the cruiser Detroit for Ireland.

In a speech at the treaty ceremony, Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, gave Mr. Kellogg "preponderant" credit for consummation of the treaty. "War henceforth, branded with illegality, is by mutual accord truly and regularly outlawed so that a culprit would incur the unconditional condemnation and probably the enmity of all of the co-signatories," the French foreign minister said.

Couples Wed At Filling Station

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Dan Cupid with full quiver went a hunting yesterday and picked a filling station for his target practice. Two North Carolina couples waiting for gasoline were his victims.

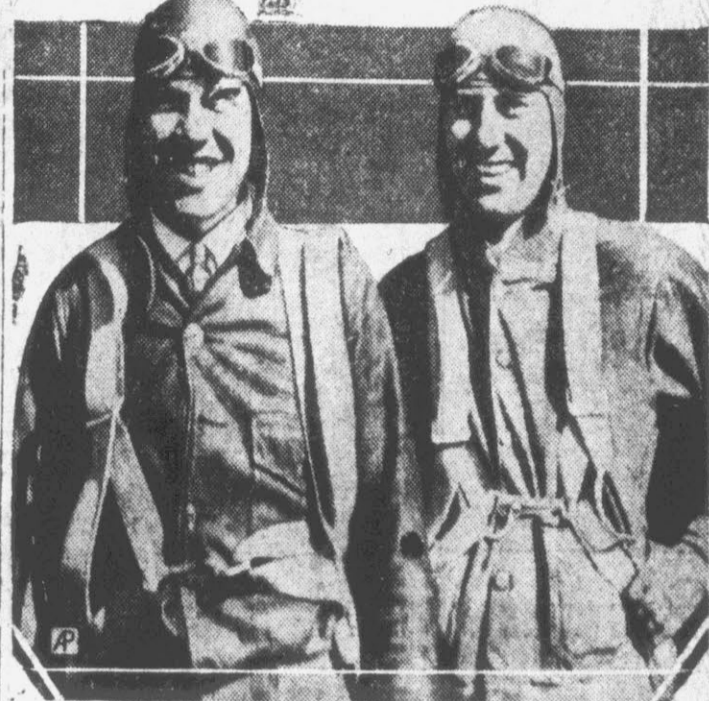

While an attendant serviced their automobile, James Walls, of Waynesville, N. C., and Elizabeth Williams, of Asheville, and Robert E. Carter and Evelyn Eva Jenkins, also of Asheville, asked Harry B. Jones, owner of the station if there is, "Anyone on the place who can marry us?"

Jones admitted that he was a notary public and under the South Carolina law empowered to conduct the ceremony. His lack of experience, however, was almost woeful, he has tended to explain.

Undeterred the couples conferred hastily. "Why not?" they asked. Licenses were produced, Jones called the witnesses and the double ceremony was performed.

As the couples drove off a filling station attendant had the last word, "Will that be all?" he called.

What Will Senate Do About Anti-War Pact? Burning Issue Today

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—What will the senate do, is the question which interests Washington, now that the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty has been signed.

The answer to it at this time is that there appears to be no reason why the pact should not be ratified promptly, but this view is qualified by the admission that many things can happen in international and domestic affairs before next winter, to change the current outlook.

Fortified by an undeniable public will toward international pacts that will make armed conflict less likely and still armed the United States from foreign entanglements, the administration is expected to put the full force of its prestige behind the treaty when it is presented to the senate. The capital view is that there undoubtedly will be opposition from some quarters, but on the other hand, that the treaty will have many important friends.

In the lights of facts as they now stand, Senator Borah seems certain to be in the latter group. As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, he will be a key map in President Coolidge's request for ratification. The senator is credited with having been fully informed while negotiations for the treaty were in progress and they have been given the opportunity to present any objections he may have had.

The simple language in which the treaty is phrased, the success of Secretary Kellogg in barring provisions likely to be objectionable to the American isolationist, and the fact that the treaty appears to oppose rather than to renounce war as an instrument of national policy, are held in Washington to be factors arguing for senate approval.

Among the interesting speculations is whether the opponents of the administration's naval building program use the Kellogg pact to reinforce their arguments. There is evidence that Washington officials are experiencing some uneasiness over their task in reconciling the treaty with the request for more ships.

Steps have already been taken, however, in an effort to reassure the country, and the world, on this score. President Coolidge devoted a considerable part of his speech to this subject.

In the same vein, Secretary Kellogg disclaimed any credit for having negotiated a treaty that would make war impossible, but rather one which is a step in the right direction and makes war less likely.

KILLS SON IN FIT OF ANGER

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Over the wire into the cragin police station early today came these words: "May God have mercy on me. I have just killed my son. Come here."

Police squads sped to the home of Arthur F. Falk, Northwest Park commissioner, where they found Falk kneeling in prayer on the floor of a front room. Nearby his wife and daughter wept hysterically.

Upstairs, in a bedroom, police found the body of Eldred Falk, 22, his head almost severed from the body by a shotgun bullet.

A disconnected story as told by Falk, his wife and daughter, was that a dispute arose between father and son during which the youth announced he was going to leave the house. "You'll only leave here dead," was what police say Falk senior replied. The son then dared his father to shoot, according to the story told police. Falk got his shotgun and the shooting followed.

CURTIS OPENS G. O. P. FIGHT IN NEW YORK

Republican Vice Presidential Candidate Tells of Efforts In Behalf of Farmer.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Republican efforts on behalf of agriculture in the party's seven years of post-war administration were detailed today by Senator Curtis, the Republican vice-presidential nominee, and compared with the position of Democrats in Congress, particularly on the tariff.

Speaking at the invitation of the American Farm Bureau to a New York State Fair assemblage, the Kansas Senator confined his prepared remarks principally to the agricultural situation. He cited the passage of the emergency tariff act, the extension of farm credit act of 1923 and through the war Finance corporation, and the enactment of legislation authorizing organization of co-operative associations, as among the accomplishments of the Republican administration.

The nominee also praised the Kellogg treaty for the renunciation of war which was signed yesterday in Paris, predicting its general approval in this country and adherence to it by every nation in the world. As Republican leader of the Senate, Senator Curtis will be called upon next session to ask formal ratification of the pact.

"The peoples of the world are happy today," he said, "because only yesterday the representatives of fifteen nations approved the Kellogg plan and signed a treaty denouncing war. It is a splendid treaty for it creates no burdens and involves no entanglements. It is based upon and supported by public opinion.

"The peoples of the world are anxious to stop wars and I feel sure that within a short time every nation in the world will adhere to the treaty. With the great powers renouncing war the smaller nations will be willing to keep out of wars.

"It will be generally approved in this country because from the earliest days in our history our government has favored the employment of arbitration for the settlement of international disputes."

Taking up the record of farm legislation back in 1918 when the Republicans won control of Congress, the Senator described the condition of agriculture then as "acute," and requiring "quick relief." He recalled passage of the emergency tariff act and its veto by President Wilson. He told of the act extending farm credits through the war finance corporation and of the veto of it by President Wilson.

"When President Harding came into office on March 4, 1921, he and the members of the cabinet and Republican members of Congress realized that early action on legislation to relieve the farmers should be had," he declared, "so the emergency tariff act was passed and signed.

"Soon after President Harding was inaugurated a law was enacted authorizing the war finance corporation to extend further credits to aid in carrying and disposing of agricultural products and to provide credit for agricultural purposes. There was much complaint on the part of the livestock producers of the country against the packers, and after careful consideration the Congress enacted a law to regulate interstate and foreign commerce and livestock and dairy products, poultry and eggs. This has proved to be a wise, sound and sensible law.

"A measure authorizing the organization of cooperative associations of producers of agricultural products was passed.

"The Farm Loan Board was unable to meet the demands upon it for loans and I introduced a bill authorizing the government to purchase $50,000,000 of the bonds which enabled it to resume loaning on farm property. This bill was passed and signed by President Harding, thus increasing their working capital.

"The act of March 4, 1923, to provide credit facilities for agriculture and live industries is of the greatest importance and puts the agricultural producers for the first time on an equal footing with other industries in regard to credit facilities.

Lyman B. Venters, aged 30, died this morning at one o'clock. Mr. Venters was feeling fine when he retired about ten o'clock. About eleven o'clock his father, H. C. Venters, heard peculiar noises upstairs and upon investigating he found Lyman struggling for breath and in an unconscious condition. He had suffered considerably from asthma and it is thought that he had a severe attack which caused his death.

Funeral services will be held from his late home in Shelmerdine Thursday afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. Whitehurst, pastor of the Methodist church at Simpson. Burial will follow in Greenwood cemetery in Greenville.

Mr. Venters' twin brother, Leslie, was the first Pitt county boy killed in the World War. He was a member of the Methodist church of Simpson and also a member of the Woodmen of the World.

BUTLER TALKS ON IDEALS OF ROTARY CLUBS

District Governor Delivered Illuminating Address During Official Visit Here.

International peace must come through the brotherhood of the professional and business men of all nations of the world, George Butler, of Clinton, governor of the 57th District of Rotary, told members of the local club at the regular weekly session of the organization here last night.

Speaking on the ideals of Rotary, and what Rotary meant to the various communities of the world, Mr. Butler urged his hearers to live up to the principles made extant by the institution and to lend their efforts to the upbuilding of the social, religious and educational life of the community in which their life work was centered.

The address came as a climax to the regular official visit of the executive to the Greenville club. He met with the club council, composed of officers and heads of the various departments at 4:30 o'clock. For a two-hour session he was host of the entire membership at the regular weekly meeting at 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Butler went over the outlines of Rotary activities with members of the council and showed them how they might make their efforts count for more in the days to come.

In his address before the entire body, he discussed in an illuminating way the six objects of Rotary which looks to international peace through the brotherhood of business and professional men of all nations of the world.

Visitors last night included Dr. C. A. Thompson, of Lexington, Ky., father of Dr. Malcolm Thompson, of this city; Rotarians Jim Gregory and Mack Adams, of Farmville; Stephen Gardner, of Washington; and Mr. Wilson, of this city. Each responded to the welcome in appropriate terms.

"I have your letter of the 23rd, relatives to the surface of the approach fills on the Greenville bridge. I note your request to leave the old bridge in place until the fills can be paved.

"I do not think this is practical for two reasons:

"First, I have a contract with the contractor, who built the new bridge, to remove the old structure including the piers to the river.

"Second, the present bridge with the piers will seriously interfere with the river flow should we have an excessive rainfall, and, therefore, should be taken out as quickly as possible to prevent the possibility of flood damage.

SEVEN PERSONS DIED IN CRASH OF PLANE

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Seven persons, instead of six previously reported, apparently were carried to their death when the Victoria-Seattle passenger airplane vanished Saturday night while flying over the waters of Puget Sound. Advances from Vancouver, B. C., said that N. D. Soveral, East Orange N. J., had purchased a ticket to Seattle Saturday morning. As the airplane was making ready to take off for Victoria, a passenger made a last minute boarding and air service officials are convinced that the man was Soveral.

Search for the plane began yesterday as the conviction grew among aviators searching for the ship that the plane had plunged into the sound. Practically every square mile of land on which the plane might have crashed had been covered.

One of the searching planes nose dived into an emergency field near Washington harbor yesterday and the propeller was smashed. Neither the pilot and his companion were hurt.

REPUBLICANS GET ACTIVE IN THE BIG WEST

Raskob Gives Attention to Campaign Problems of "Fighting Territory."

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—(AP)—John J. Raskob, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today took up the campaign problems of eight middlewestern states, four of which he characterized in an election forecast as "fighting ground" and four as states certain to cast their electoral votes for Governor Smith. Democratic leaders of Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Tennessee and Iowa were prepared to lay their problems before the chairman in separate state conferences today and tomorrow, which will end in a caucus session Wednesday.

Raskob and many other Democrats will depart Wednesday night for Hot Springs, Ark., to attend the notification ceremonies for Senator Joe T. Robinson, vice-presidential nominee.

In a formal statement, Raskob claimed Gov. Smith would receive 309 of the 531 electoral votes with at least an even chance of carrying states having a total of thirty-eight additional votes. This would run the Smith total to 347, or 81 more than a majority. His classification: "Alabama, 12; Arizona, 3; Arkansas, 9; Colorado, 6; Florida,

6; Georgia, 14; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 10; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 18; Minnesota, 12; Mississippi, 10; Missouri, 18; Montana, 4; Nebraska, 8; New Jersey, 14; New Mexico, 3; New York, 45; Nevada, 3; North Carolina, 12; Oklahoma, 10; Rhode Island, 5; South Carolina, 9; Texas, 20; Virginia, 12; Wisconsin, 13; Tennessee, 12.

In addition there seems little doubt that Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming with a total of 38 votes, should also be classified for Smith and Robinson, making a total of 347 votes, or 81 votes more than the 266 necessary to a choice," he declared.

Seek Lecturer On Blasphemy Charge

Boston, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Police today were seeking Dr. Horace M. Kallen, former Harvard lecturer and now on the staff of a New York school of research, whom they charge with violation of a blasphemy statute 231 years old.

The police say that during a Sacco-Vanzetti memorial meeting here last Thursday Dr. Kallen declared that Jesus Christ was an anarchist. A police sergeant attended the meeting and took a stenographic report of the speeches.

Anthony Bimba of Brooklyn, N. Y., editor of a Lithuanian paper, was the first man in recent years to be prosecuted under the ancient blue law. During a Brocton address in 1926 he was alleged to have denied the existence of a personal God. He was acquitted when the judge ruled that Bimba had merely given his personal opinion in a manner allowed by law under a decision in a test case many years before.

The law regarding blasphemy was enacted in 1697 and provided for a fine of not more than $300 or imprisonment up to a year. It superseded an act of 1646 which made death the sole penalty.

Florence Vidor Weds Violinist

New York, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Florence Vidor, motion picture star, whose marriage to another film star ended in the divorce courts because she said too much talent in one family interfered with the careers of husband and wife, has been married to Jascha Heifetz, the world famous concert violinist.

The marriage was performed secretly by Alfred Frankenthal, Supreme Court Justice, at the Mayfair House on August 20, and news of the event was withheld by the principals until last night when Heifetz surprised his manager with the announcement as he and his bride departed for California.

This romance has not been entirely a secret, however, their names have been linked several times of late, and when they arrived together from Europe two weeks ago neither would deny reports that they were planning to marry. They met in California two years ago.

The bride, who is the mother of a 9-year-old girl, Suzanne, was divorced in Los Angeles three years ago from King Vidor, now motion picture director. At that time she indicated to the court that talented families tend to "submerge" of the individual. She was born in Houston, Texas, and is 31 years old. Heifetz, who is 27, was born in Vilna, Russia. This is his first marriage.

Dame Terry's Son. London, (AP)—Gordon Craig, son of Ellen Terry, the late English actress, has designed the settings and costumes for George C. Tyler's production of Macbeth, opening in Philadelphia October 29. Craig will be represented in America by Douglas Ross.

ond reason is concerned, ordinarily there may be something to it, but in view of former declarations of his engineers to the effect that the new 600 foot fill will make little or no difference in the flood situation during freshets, we cannot see how the old bridge can make matters any worse. We know that every obstacle in a stream has a tendency to hold back the water during flood seasons and cause it to rise at points above such obstacles but if the new dam is not going to make the river rise any higher, then we cannot see how the piers of the old bridge that have been standing for years will make the flood situation any worse than before.

But Mr. Page has spoken, and unless the citizens of this community can secure legal action to stop it, the old bridge is going to be torn down at a very early date and whether or not the road is bad during the winter we will have to travel it or stay at home.

ABOUT TOWN

IT'S YOU
 If you want to live in the kind of a town
 That's the kind of a town you like,
 You don't have to slip your clothes
 in a grip
 And start on a long, long hike.
 You'll only find what you've left behind.
 For there's nothing that's really new.
 It's a knock at yourself if you
 knock your town;
 For it isn't your town, it's you.
 Real towns are not made by men afraid
 Lest somebody else gets ahead;
 If every one works, and nobody
 shirks,
 You can raise a town from the dead.

"Saturday is the first of the month," laconically remarked a collector of a local furniture company today, who is just as regular at your door on Monday morning as you are at his, "and I see you've had a bad weather and heavy fall traffic, Mr. Page is making a promise that it is almost impossible to keep.
 Until a short time ago it was not generally known that the old bridge was to be demolished before all the work including the paving of the approaches to the new bridge had been completed and when the matter was made known almost everyone realized the seriousness of such a step. But Mr. Page is boss, and apparently what Mr. Page says goes, so far as state roads are concerned, and whether we like it or not the old bridge will be torn down within the next few weeks.
 Repeating to the requests that the old bridge be permitted to stand through the winter months, Mr. Page says:
 "I do not think this is a logical for two reasons:
 "First, I have a contract with the contractor, who is to build the new bridge, to remove the old structure including the piers in the year.
 "Second, the present bridge with the piers will seriously interfere with the river flow should we have an excessive rainfall, and, therefore, should be taken down as quickly as possible to prevent the possibility of flood damage."
 There may be a certain amount of reason in the first season set forth by Mr. Page should the delay in the completion of the contract prove of considerable cost to the state, but even in this case such cost should be weighed carefully against the great convenience and cost to the public in having to put up with what no doubt will be an almost impassable roadway during the winter months.

"It was fitting indeed that Mayor J. C. Lanier should have been appointed commander of the local unit of the North Carolina National Guardsmen," commented a Greenville business man today.
 "Con is one of the best prepared men of the community for handling such an important position and we are glad that the State commander saw fit to appoint him as successor to Leslie Jones, who resigned to take up duties as head of the police department at Washington.
 "Captain Jones leaves a long and honorable record of service behind him. That his successor will perpetuate the ideals of the organization cannot be doubted.
 "Battery E has lost a competent and faithful officer in the resignation of Mr. Jones, but it has also gained an efficient, aggressive leader in the person of the mayor of the city.
 "Hallett Ward spoke the truth when he said Al Smith is the most lied about man in America," remarked a Greenville politician today, discussing the opening address of the Pitt county campaign, delivered by the former congressman of this district, at the court house here yesterday.
 "He is not only the most lied about man but Governor Smith, in my opinion, is the most persecuted man of his day. He is bearing up well under the assault, however, and is gaining more supporters through his unruffled state of mind."
 "I see where the Playgraph has come," observed one of the readers of this paper today, speaking of the mechanical baseball scoreboard which The Reflector ordered sometime ago and which at this time is adorning the front window of the job department, awaiting the hand of the erector.

 "When are you going to put it up on the street?" was the next question fired at us before we could acknowledge the truth of the first statement.
 We told him we didn't know—but guessed it would be only a short time.
 "I certainly wish you would hurry and do it. You will have hundreds of people crowded on that block when the board is placed for operation. In fact, the congestion at this point will be greater than it has ever been before."
 "Greenville has needed a scoreboard of this kind for a number of years. Now that we have it, we feel like we will be enjoying the same advantages of cities several times this size."
 "Where did you go yesterday, John?" inquired a visitor of one of the members of the reportorial staff of this newspaper.
 Instead of answering directly, John exposed a shoulder that bore signs of too much exposure to sun rays. In fact the skin had already started peeling off. "He really looked pitiful—we weren't able to determine how bad he hurt."
 The visitor squinted briefly at the uncovered shoulder, laughed sardonically and said: "You are going to be blistered more than that one of these days; and it won't be at the seashore, either."
 We know of a fair woman who is so afraid of burglars that she locks every door in the house, goes upstairs to her room, locks the door at this point and then goes to bed and covers up her head.
 Aside from this, she is one of the most fearless persons in the world. She can converse lucidly upon al-

A NEW YORKER AT LARGE
 By G. D. SEYMOUR
 New York—The Fifth Avenue traffic policeman is never too busy to hear a tale of woe.
 This time it was a feminine shopper who thought she had a dime in her handbag, but found, when she was ready to go home, that she possessed only four cents—a penny less than subway fare.
 She approached the officer, took shelter at his elbow from the racing traffic, and answered timidly his "What's the trouble?"
 "I need a penny, I thought I had enough to get home, but I bought some stamps. And I live clear out in Morris Heights."
 The minion of government fished from his pocket a five-cent piece.
 "Here's a nickel," he told her with gruff good nature. "When I lend less I don't get it back."
 Gotham's Finest.
 New York likes to think its blue-coats are a little kinder and a little handsomer and a little more romantic than their fellows elsewhere. And most of them have time, too, for a bit of blarney.
 One young woman who became a bride and a New Yorker at about the same time tried, on her first venture downtown alone, to cross Sixth Avenue against the lights. The fatherly officer waved her back to the curb severely, but presently stopped traffic to let her reach the middle of the street.
 "In a hurry?" he asked genially as she huddled beside an "L" support. She didn't answer.
 "Spik English?" he tried again. "That made her angry and she spat out a 'Yes!'"
 "I thought so. And maybe a little Irish, too?"
 No response. The minute the lights changed she darted away, but the officer tossed after her: "Don't hurry. The longer ye stay, the deeper ye sink into me heart."
 Almost in tears, she told her husband about the incident when she got home, with a who-can-you-trust-in-a-city-where-even-the-police-try-to-flirt-with-you air. But he laughed her out of it, and a few days later she came home from a shopping trip with the good news that her Irish brass-buttons had been promoted to a busier corner on Fifth Avenue.

Figuring It Out.
 Sometimes strangers are so sure they'll get lost that they ask for the minutest directions like the man who halted on Fifth Avenue to ask a bluecoat how far it was to St. Patrick's Cathedral.
 "Well," the officer told him, "this is Forty-first street and you'll find the Cathedral at Fifth."
 "How far?" insisted the pedestrian, still unsure of himself.
 The policeman suppressed a smile. "I'll name the streets," he ventured, "and you count 'em."
 The inquirer prepared for the tally.
 "Forty-second," began his counselor, "Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth."
 "Nine blocks?" exclaimed the pedestrian. "Straight north? Thank you. And away he went."

Woman Nominee Angles.
 Key West, Fla., (AP)—Ruth Bryn Owen, Democratic nominee for Congress in this state, has taken a lesson from President Coolidge and Herbert Hoover. Mrs. Owen recently caught her first fish, a 14-pound yellow jack, known as one of the gamest fish in Florida waters.

A WASHINGTON BYSTANDER
 By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
 Washington—Any Constant Reader, if there be one, of the Congressional Record must be bewildered as he observes the Frank B. Kellogg of today and recalls the same Kellogg as pictured in those endless pages these last three years or so.
 Today he is tasting world acclaim with Aristide Briand as daddy of the fifteen-power anti-war pact. Yesterday he was under daily fire in senate and house as a bellicose, saber-rattling menace to peace, particularly in Latin America. His assailants were intent on prying him out of the state department as their own idea of the way to preserve peace.
 Relations Better.
 In June, 1925, they made much of the Kellogg broadside putting the Calles government in Mexico under stern warning. Later, with the Nicaraguan and Chinese pots boiling over simultaneously, they clamored as the marines hustled to both fronts, replete with bayonets, machine guns and air bombs. Kellogg's substitute mediation plan was about as effective as a flat tire. Panama wasn't having any of the war department doctored new treaty with for Kellogg's cabinet scalp.

 Yet now comes this same Kellogg, world acclaimed as a knight of the peace crusade. As he went to Paris on American-Mexican relations Morrowized to a veritable love feast; Nicaragua Stimsonized into abandonment of bullets for ballots; China with the same nationalists whose drive at Shanghai called out the marines now recognized in fact, Chile and Peru have healed their diplomatic rift by Kellogg persuasion and seem headed toward a Tacna-Arica settlement of their own. Panama has been told the United States won't mix in her politics, but will see to it that peace is kept.
 How come? What has happened ad interim to bring about the change?

Conditions Abroad.
 Several underlying developments provide the explanation. The outstanding one is the collapse of radical influence in China and Mexico. Dwight Morrow's Lindbergh and Carranza good will flight promotions are an outward and visible sign of his genius for creating trust beyond the border—in American protestations of nonimperialistic designs. He worked also in other, small but very effective ways to the same end. For one thing—and it bore prompt fruit—he abandoned on reaching Mexico City the old double interpreter plan of checking up on conversations with high Mexican officials, including the President. He was content to accept the Mexican interpreter.

 That little gesture won him at once the trust of President Calles that no tricky-tongued diplomacy was to be guarded against. It created an atmosphere of friendly discussion that has nurtured mightily the blossoming plant of mutual understanding between the governments.

A Hen Keeps On Scratching Even If Worms Are Scarce
 THEN WHY SHOULD A MERCHANT STOP ADVERTISING WHEN BUSINESS IS DULL?
 As you desire and expect the continual, all-year-round patronage of the people of your sales community, just that much you should continue, in season and out of season, your cordial invitation—your advertising—to these customers that they do continue to patronize your store and buy your goods.
 If you use only the Christmas and New Years greetings as the limit of your invitation for patronage and for presenting your goods to the public, how can you consistently kick if the community folks read the merchandise offerings in the catalogs and give the mail-order houses their patronage throughout the year, and when they do see your invitation for patronage in the home paper along about Christmas time, patronize you at that time with but a dollar or so purchase?
 One is as consistent as the other.
 Make your invitations for their patronage so cordial, the descriptions of the goods so alluring, the quality of the offering so high that a gallon of gasoline spent in reaching your store is an investment to them, not an expense.
 High sounding words do not alone sell goods. Establish a character for your store—the words of your advertising are truthful, the quality of the goods are dependable—the buying public of your sales territory will have confidence in what you tell them and will know that you are offering the very best merchandise at the lowest possible price.
 Do not lose sight of the fact that all men and women love a bargain. And it is also true that a bargain is not always gauged by the price tag. Just as it is harder to get a purchaser for goods from an unknown firm, just that much easier it is to sell merchandise in a store Advertising has made popular.
 The more you advertise your store the more popular it will become with the buying public. The more popular your store the more you turn your goods over and the oftener your turn-over, the greater your profits.
 Profit by the HEN. Worm or no worm, she scratches.

YANKEES AND CARDS BOOST PENNANT LEAD

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees at last can take time out for a breath without endangering their hold on the leadership positions in the two major leagues.

Boostered by the return of "Sunny Jim" Bottomley, who totes a mighty powerful bat to the plate, the Cards have won four straight games, their last triumph coming at the expense of the contending Chicago Cubs yesterday, 11 to 3.

The Cards now lead the National procession by four games but that advantage may dwindle considerably or disappear entirely during the next 18 days when St. Louis' opposition comes not only from the Cubs but from the other two Western contenders as well—the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds.

While the Cards thus were consolidating their position at the top of the Senior circuit, the Yankees were doing exactly the same thing in the American. A double barreled triumph over the Detroit Tigers cent the world's champions four full games ahead of the Athletics, who were forced to sit idle at Philadelphia and watch the raindrops patter down.

In the only other National league battle, the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Cincinnati Reds in east fashion 9 to 4, gained an even break in the two day series and advanced to within one game of the Reds who hold fourth place in the standings.

The double triumph of the Yankees was featured by the first appearance of the Veteran left-hander, Tom Zachary, in a Yankee uniform. Pitted against him in the opener was Earl Whitehill, another Southpaw. With better control Whitehill might have bested Zachary but four walks in the fourth inning gave the Champions two runs and put them in a position to win, 4 to 3, with one run splurges into the sixth and eighth innings. George Pipgras showed a return to form when he pitched the Yanks to a 5-2 victory in the nightcap.

At Boston the St. Louis Browns beat the Red Sox twice, 8 to 5 and 4 to 0.

George Urie's effective pitching gave the Cleveland Indians a triumph over Washington, 5 to 3, and an even break in the four game series.

Winston-Salem Wins Another

By the Associated Press.
The Winston-Salem Twins, top-notchers in the Piedmont circuit, won their game off the Raleigh Caps, 11 to 4, yesterday while the Greensboro Patriots hammered out wins in both ends of a double header with the Salisbury Colonials, 6 to 0 and 8 to 1. The Patriots, already dangerous challengers for leadership, gained strength with the victories.

The Twins fell on Pat Townsend in the seventh and eighth stanzas to route the Caps. Lefty Fogleman worked nicely throughout for the Twins. Meeks led the hitting of the Bearnmen with three doubles and a single while Anderson Rameholz and Koper also clicked the ball at a rapid pace.

"Mutt" Wilson pulled the "iron man" stunt for the Patriots by hurling the two affairs with the Colonials for wins. Behind his masterful pitching the Caps secured but one safety in the first game, this being a single by Mitchell, his mound rival, in the ninth frame.

Helen Wills Is Surprising

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug 28—(AP)—Helen Wills has made two national tennis championships grow where but one grew before.

Her straight set victory over Miss Helen Jacobs of Santa Barbara, Calif., yesterday, 6-2, 6-1, in successful defense of her national singles crown was surprising only because of its over-whelming one-sidedness. But her victory in the doubles championship paired with Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, was more unexpected. Not for three years had Miss Wills been able to carry off both titles.

"My friend told me to take some Black-Draught. I knew my mother had used it, and so I bought a package. When I got home, I took a good, big dose, and the next night, another. In a few days I felt much better. I was hungry and the dizziness was gone.

KINSTON IS VICTOR OVER ABBOTTMEN

Kinston, Aug. 27.—The Stemmers took a 6-5 decision from Greenville today the winning run coming out in an eighth inning balk that was protested by the visitors. Greenville caught the locals.

Singles by Cox and Durham and Parks' double counted two for the home team in the first. A double by Williams, a felders choice and sacrifice fly gave Greenville one in the second. The visitors went into the lead in the third when singles by Crosjean and Williams, Finlator's three bagger, two choices and an error scored three runs. In the fifth singles by Abbott, Bailey and Williams gave them another.

A boot, two walks, hit batsman and Cox's double scored three for Kinston to tie in the seventh.

A ruled balk in the eighth scored Dudley, running for Durham and gave Kinston the win. Greenville finished the game under protest.

The game was featureless and marred by rain.

Walker Knocks Out Emmanuel

San Francisco, Aug. 28—(AP)—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, made a successful entry into the light-heavyweight ranks last night when he scored a sensational knockout over Armand Emmanuel, San Francisco, in the seventh round of their ten-round bout.

With the same spectacular attack that helped him win and hold the welterweight and middleweight titles in turn, Mickey Walker punched Emmanuel out of the 175 pound class, temporarily at least.

Two short right handers did the trick. The first it landed, Emanuel reeled on the canvas for nine seconds. He got up groggy, and during a hard exchange in which he tried to regain ground, humped into another right to the jaw that put him out for the full count.

Handlers had to help him to his corner and he was saxed long after reaching his dressing room.

LEE MEADOWS RETIRES FROM THE DIAMOND

New York, Aug. 28—(AP)—Another face, long familiar to National League baseball fans, has passed out of the major league picture.

M. Lee Meadows, first bespectacled pitcher in the big leagues, has been placed on the voluntary retired list by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Meadows, in the major leagues for 14 years, is another victim of that arch-foe of diamond stars—sinus trouble. Meadows has suffered off and on with this complaint for several years. This year he has been practically useless to the Pirates. He has won only one game this season and appeared in but one or two others. It has been his failure to deliver that has been responsible in part at least for the difficulty the Pirates have experienced in trying to get into the running.

Last year he won 19 games and lost ten and was an important cog in the pennant winning machine Donie Bush developed.

Meadows, born at Oxford, N. C., in 1884, started his professional baseball career with Durham of the Carolina Association in 1913. After two years with Durham he was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals for whom he toiled for nearly five years. In 1919 he was traded to the Phillies and then to the Pirates in 1923. In that deal Meadows and Johnny Rawlings were exchanged for Cotton Tierney and Glazer. With a first division team for the first time in his career, Meadows at once jumped into winning form.

For the Pirates he never turned in a losing record. From 1913 to the start of the present season the bespectacled righthander's record showed 88 victories and 54 defeats.

For his 13 complete seasons of baseball he had 187 victories to match 179 defeats although most of his career was spent with second division clubs.

Chicago—Jerry Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., defeated K. O. White New Orleans (10).
New Castle, Pa.—Young Firgo, Louisville, Ky., knocked out George Perotto, Erie, Pa. (3).

Tourists Can't Lose for Winning

(By the Associated Press.)
Asheville's South Atlantic Association ball team apparently has no intention of coasting along under their eleven and a half game lead over Macon until the season ends on September 15.

The Tourists who have won thirteen of their last fifteen games added another victory to their string yesterday by swamping the Greenville Spinners, 11 to 3. Joe Price's homer with two on base was responsible for all the Spinner runs.

Macon kept the breach from widening by downing Augusta 11 to 2, in a seven inning, rain delayed end dark called contest. Fourteen hits was the Peach total while Bob Lowthian gave up only four to the Tigers. Hoffman homered for the Fruit.

Hi Fowkes duplicated Lowthian's feat when he allowed Spartanburg the same number of bingles and Knoxville won, 5 to 1. The Smokies found Scott and Formby too thrice as many and had little trouble. Both teams played errorless ball.

Johnson's eleventh inning four-bagger broke up the Columbia-Charlotte battle in the eleventh inning and gave the Comers the long end of a 5 to 4 count.

This sent the Comers to sixth place as Greenville was losing to Asheville.

Bobby Jones Licks Old Par

Chicago, Aug. 28—(AP)—Bobby Jones, the golfing wizard from Atlanta, has handed "old man par" probably the worst licking he has ever received.

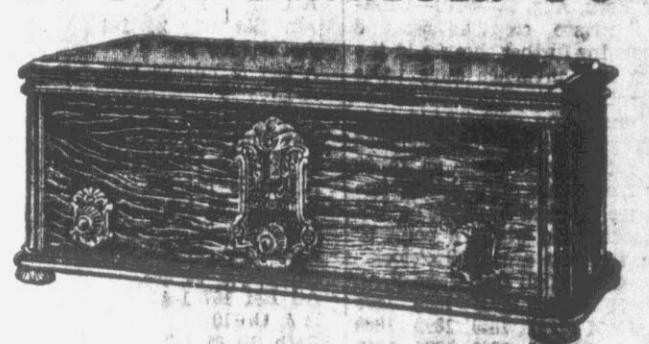

In three successive 18-hole rounds over the long Chicago golf club course, where he is practicing for the Walker cup matches this week.

Bobby's remarkable scores over the par 72 course were made before members of the British and American Walker cup team members, who said they had never heard of such a successive series of performances anywhere before, over a championship course.

Chicago—Jerry Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., defeated K. O. White New Orleans (10).
New Castle, Pa.—Young Firgo, Louisville, Ky., knocked out George Perotto, Erie, Pa. (3).

Cincinnati—Howard Mitchell, Cincinnati, defeated Dickie McDonnie, Huntington, W. Va., (8).
San Antonio, Tex.—Kid Adams, San Antonio, outpointed Billy Kane, Indianapolis (4).

(Drawn from actual photographs)
Sitting in a cramped position is immediately tiring. A sagging bed causes the spine the same way—prevents restful comfort.

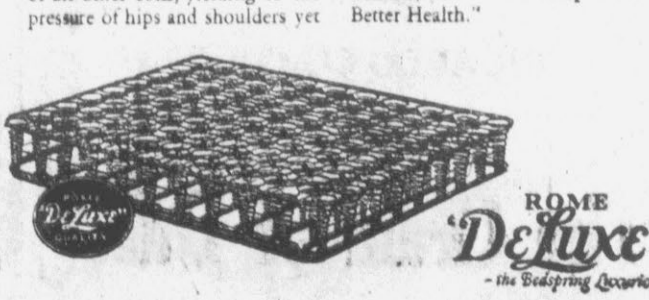

When you sleep on a Rome De Luxe bedspring the spine is straight and natural; the body is fully relaxed.

MANY sagging beds seem comfortable because of long use. But actually the body is forced into strained, tiring positions. Most people sleep this way, never realizing the harmful results of the unnatural position they have become accustomed to.

Sagging, with its many ill effects, is impossible when you sleep on a De Luxe bedspring. Every coil in a De Luxe moves independently of all other coils, yielding to the pressure of hips and shoulders yet rising to relieve all strain on the vital organs between. The spine lies naturally, straight and free from strain. Nerves and muscles are fully relaxed... refreshing sleep comes quickly.

Enjoy this new deep sleep right now. We will gladly bring a Rome De Luxe bedspring to your home for a trial. Phone us today for details, and let us give you a copy of Dr. Royal S. Copeland's interesting booklet, "How Better Sleep Builds Better Health."

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Shorts covered freely in a buoyant corn market that appeared heavily over-sold today offers being scant and trade not large. Crop comments from Nebraska were less favorable and September, continuing to tighten, went to a wider premium over December. Wheat trailed upward in the wake of corn after an initial slump in sympathy with Liverpool but the margin was small and the trading dull.

Unofficial reports that northwestern farmers are declaring their intentions to hold wheat for better prices was becoming an influence in the market. Wheat closed firm 1-8 to 1-3-8 higher; corn 2-1-4 to 4-4 higher; oats firm 1-2 to 1-1-8 up and provisions steady 2 lower to 15 higher.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. PRENOSIL, Associated Press Financial Editor.

New York, Aug. 28.—(AP)—High money rates had a restrictive effect on trading in today's stock market, but speculators for the advance retained control of the price movement. New leaders were brought forward in the amusement, chemical, food, metal, motor accessory and public utility groups. Early gains ranged from 1 to nearly 6 points, with more than a dozen issues lifted to new high levels. There were several soft spots scattered throughout the list.

Call money renewed at 7-1-2 per cent, as against yesterday, and held steady at that figure throughout the early trading despite the calling of about $15,000,000 in bank loans. Bankers revised their maximum estimates of Labor Day currency demands from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000.

Revel of activity and strength in international nickel, which soared nearly 6 points to 108-1-2, the highest price on record, was one of the day's features. Biscuit shares continued to anticipate increased earnings as a result of the lower wheat prices, national biscuit extending its early advance to 4-1-2 points while loose wiles attained a new peak at 66-1-2 up 2-1-2. Fleischmann and American beet sugar also eclipsed their previous 1925 high prices.

New stock of the Consolidated Gas Company, which recently declared a 100 per cent stock dividend, was admitted to trading, running up from an opening price of 74 to 77. The old stock closed yesterday at 148. R. H. Macy, selling "rights," opened at 134 and quickly mounted to 140-1-4, while the "rights," moved up from 247 to 259. Motor Products, U. S. Rubber first preferred, Satanley Co. of America, Adams Express and Commercial Investment Trust sold 4 to 5 points higher.

General Motors, and Radio failed to participate extensively in the upward movement but held firm around yesterday's final prices. General Electric rallied on the resumption of heavy buying in that issue, and U. S. Steel common touched 153 for the first time since last year.

Jersey Central broke 11-3-4 points to 300 and showed little recuperative power. International Harvester and Freeport Texas each fell about 5 points and Loft was able to make up only part of its early four point drop.

Demand Sterling touched a new low level for the year at $4.84 13-16. The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 3,200,000 shares.

STATE LEGION HAS BUSY DAY AT CHARLOTTE

Election of Officers One of High Lights of Closing Session Today.

Charlotte, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Charlotte News today says election of R. G. Cherry, of Gastonia, as Commander of the North Carolina Department is assured when the American Legion undertakes the election of officers at the closing session this afternoon of the Department's annual convention here. He is opposed by Bennett Noos, of Leaksville. The united support of a large group of leaders in the department's affairs was given to Cherry.

The next convention of the department, the paper says, will be held at Raleigh, according to an informal understanding among the membership of the Department's Executive Committee, which was made known this afternoon. Through a series of conferences, an agreement was reached which assured the North Carolina Capital City an overwhelming majority in the vote on the next convention city, it was supported in mid-afternoon at the convention.

George K. Freeman, of Goldsboro, the department's national executive committee during recent years, was nominated for re-election.

Consideration of a number of resolutions, the effect of which was to frame the department's administrative, legislative and financial policies during the ensuing year was begun when the Legionnaires opened their closing session shortly before 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Adjournment about 4:30 o'clock was forecast.

Seek Mexicans For Complicity In Assassination

New York, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Six Mexicans, charged with complicity in the assassination of President-Elect Obregon and the bombing of two public buildings in Mexico City, were sought in New York today.

Federal warrants for their arrest by United States Commissioner O'Neill on orders from Washington issued after a request by the Mexican Ambassador.

Those sought are: Manuel Trejo Morales, Joaquin Navarro Decerra, Cevaldo Robles Ochoa, Jose A. Jimenez, Enrique N. Zepeda and Anticet Ortega.

Jimenez is a Catholic Priest who visited Joe Se Leon Toral, confessed slayer of General Obregon on the morning of July 17, a few hours before the murder.

Trejo has been mentioned in dispatches from Mexico City as the person who furnished Toral the gun he used in the assassination. He is 21 years old, the youngest of the men sought.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Adoption of a new constitution, voting on a number of resolutions relating to proposals for legislation by Congress, election of officers to serve during the ensuing fiscal year and selection of the city for meeting next year, were matters occupying first places on the program for the final business session today of the American Legion's annual State convention here.

Bennett Noos, of Leaksville, and R. G. Cherry, of Gastonia, were expected to be nominated to succeed General Albert Cox, of Raleigh, department commander, when the convention enters into the elections late today.

Raleigh stood far out in the lead in the rivalry of several towns for the honor of being chosen the

Mayor Luck Finds Luck Against His Political Enemies

Newburyport, Mass., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Gillis luck, the luck that swept into this city's executive chair its "bad boy," Andrew Joseph Gillis, only to threaten to desert him last week, was back with him today.

His gasoline station, that persistent bone of contention whose alleged illegal operation last week brought the red headed mayor into district court and cost him a fine of $1,140 and 300 days in jail, has been given the official sanction of the city council.

It was a close vote that turned the trick at a largely attended meeting last night, but the 6 to 5 poll was sufficient and even bossy's most confirmed opponents admitted their campaign to put Gillis securely in his place had been given a stiff jolt.

It was Gillis's second victory of the day. Earlier in the same court where he had heard harsh things spoken from the bench concerning his not infrequent clashes with the law, the mayor had successfully prosecuted one of the chief complainants against his gasoline station.

Turning the tables on Edward M. Coffin, who had contended that the Gillis station violated a city zoning ordinance, the mayor brought charges of reckless driving against his critic and the court imposed a suspended fine of $50.

Lamont DuPont Will Vote For Herbert Hoover

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Within a few weeks after his brother Pierre DuPont, announced that he would support Governor Smith for the Presidency, Lamont DuPont announced in a statement made public today that he would vote for Herbert Hoover.

Lamont DuPont is President of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company and his brother, who held that office during the World War, is Chairman of the Board. They are cousins of Coleman DuPont, Republican United States Senator from Delaware.

Lamont DuPont's statement appears to business men to stand by the Republican party "because under Republican government for the last eight years we have had prosperity and under Democratic administration we have had less prosperity and usually hard times."

He differs with Hoover on the liquor issue, but declares the prohibition question is by no means the paramount one of the campaign, and that other questions out of deference to it should be left to settle themselves.

MISSING FLYER CAUSES ALARM

Curtis Field, New York, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Long Island flying centers were alarmed today at the non appearance of M. M. Merrill, a manager of the Curtis Flying Service, who was reported to have left Buffalo yesterday and who was expected to arrive early last evening. Merrill went to Buffalo to bring back the Falcon plane of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, which had been left at Buffalo for minor adjustments.

At the field here it was said that he always took pains to notify his headquarters whenever he was delayed or changed his plans.

"Casey" Jones, president of the Curtis Flying Service, announced that all Curtis pilots had been called to the field and all planes fueled in readiness for a statewide search for Merrill, was not heard from shortly. Officers at Mitchell Field offered several planes to join in the search.
