PRICES SHOW STRENGTH ON THIS MARKET

Sales for Entire Week Totalled $3,279,984 for Sum of $437,036.96.

The floors of the nine tobacco warehouses in this city were cleared up yesterday afternoon and tobaccoists today turned their attention to preparations for activities next week.

The concluding sales yesterday saw a pronounced strengthening in the price situation with a slight improvement in quality of the offerings.

The market was greatly handicapped the first of the week by the large volume of wet, stringy tobacco offered by the farmers, but the general decrease in rainfall Thursday and Friday saw this condition improve.

For the entire week the market sold a total of $3,279,984 pounds of tobacco for $437,036.96. The average for the entire week was given at $13.22 per hundred pounds.

Offerings were heavier yesterday than on the opening day, the market disposing of 1,233,386 pounds of leaf for a total sum of $165,932.10. The average on this amount was $13.45.

Tobaccoists continued to urge the farmers to give more care to the condition of their tobacco before offering it for sale. This has much to do with the price situation, it was stated, as the buyers are always looking for tobacco in good condition.

A considerable part of the offerings the first three days of the week had been exposed to rain in an attempt to reach the market for first sales. Much of it was stringy and of poor quality, and therefore, failed to command the price it would have had proper attention been given to it by the growers.

Tobaccoists stated this morning that the market was in the best condition in years, due to the fact that purchases have been more widely distributed than formerly. Virtually all of the large buying concerns have purchased liberally of the offerings, and quality improves it is naturally presumed that buying will become ever more lively.

Looking back over the week's activities, conditions here seem to compare favorably with those in other communities. If anything, prices have shown more strength and the volume has been as great as any other market in the country.

This situation is gratifying to those who have watched progress of sales in other sections, and it seems generally agreed that the coming week will see progress equal to that of the opening week.

CONFESSES TO KILLING OF HIS BEST FRIEND

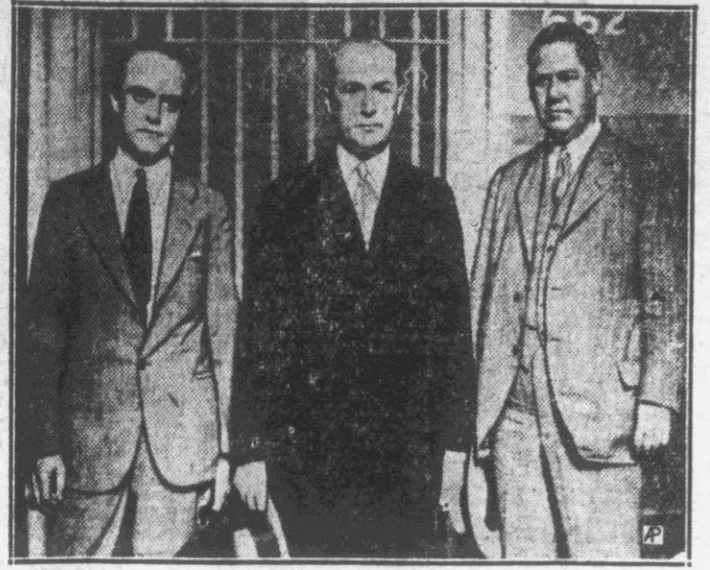

New Bern, N. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Chris Cumbo, 17, of Jones county, is held without bond in Craven county jail here in connection with the shooting of John Hiram Meadows August 20 while Meadows was in bed asleep.

Cumbo, it is said, confessed last night to Solicitor D. M. Clark that he shot Meadows, his life long friend, and expects to plead guilty to second degree murder in Jones county court.

The alleged confession was obtained after a three-hour conference at a hotel last night between the solicitor and Cumbo, which followed investigations of the solicitor. He assigned no motive or reason for the shooting, but said he did not intend to kill his friend. It is understood the friends had quarreled over a school truck job which Meadows held and Cumbo desired to get.

Baptists Asked To Make Contributions To Replace Million Dollar Shortage

Atlanta, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The 4,000,000 white Baptists of the south today received an appeal to make a special contribution Sunday to the home mission board of the church, whose coffers were strained recently by a $1,000,000 shortage in the accounts of Clinton S. Carnes, treasurer.

Voiced by a conference of pastors and laymen here yesterday afternoon, the request was prefaced by an expression of confidence in the ability of Baptists to meet the exigency of the situation, despite the "apparent defalcation" of Mr. Carnes.

"Already Baptist groups throughout the south are telegraphing cordial sympathy and expressing their purpose to meet this challenge with extra gifts at once in order to pay the creditors of the board and keep in sacred trust the good name of our people. Several large cash contributions have already been received at the board's headquarters in Atlanta."

"We hereby appeal to our brethren throughout the south to join us in this reasonable undertaking. We can replace this million dollars next Sunday and thus make the heart of southern Baptists happy and triumphant."

The appeal was broadcast after a similar expression in the name of the conference had been addressed to Atlanta Baptists. The offer of Dr. L. S. Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist church of Atlanta, speaking for the board of deacons, to advance a loan of $40,000 to the mission board if necessary to pay current expenses was conditionally declined with thanks by Dr. Arch C. Cree, acting secretary of the board. Dr. Cree predicted his decision on the outcome of the Sunday contribution.

"Our people will not permit the misdeeds of one man to stop the work of the home mission board," Dr. Cree declared in a previous statement. "We are certain to survive." Dr. Cree was loaned to the board for 60 days by the Georgia state Baptist convention.

The acting secretary emphatically expressed the belief that voluntary contributions would solve the problem of the mission board, which was left in a financially precarious condition after Carnes vanished from Atlanta on August 15, 1928.

CREAMERY IS DISCUSSED BY KIWANIS CLUB

The establishment of a creamery in Greenville was given consideration at the regular session of the Greenville Kiwanis club last night. A committee composed of W. E. Hooker, B. B. Sugg and M. K. Blount was appointed to investigate the feasibility of such a concern and instructed to report at the next meeting of the club.

The advantages of a creamery were outlined in an interesting way by N. G. Bartlett, of Kinston, secretary of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Bartlett told of what other communities were doing with their creameries and expressed opinion that Greenville should enjoy similar advantages.

This part of the program was in charge of M. K. Blount, President Frank Harrington presided over the regular session.

Attention was given to the district convention of Kiwanis to be conducted in the city of Winston-Salem, October 11-12 and a committee composed of J. F. Harrington and C. B. Rowlett was appointed to represent the local club. Alternates were J. C. Galloway and Charlie Forbes.

Members of the committee appointed to investigate the possibility of establishing the creamery stated after the meeting that they would begin their investigation immediately and prepare a report for presentation at the next regular session of the club. The matter was discussed freely among the entire membership and sentiment seemed to be pretty well defined in favor of the enterprise.

GANG GUNS GET ANOTHER AT CHICAGO

Pal of Al Capone Shot to Death In Down Town District Yesterday.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Tony Lombardo's dead, a dum-dum bullet in his brain. The vengeance of Frank Uale, slain New York gangster, has spoken.

Never was murder done so boldly. Thousands of persons were pushing along in the late Friday afternoon crush when the loopy cannons echoed to the roar of assassins' guns, and Lombardo, pal of Al Capone, pitched forward on his face.

The slayers could not have gotten half a block from the vicinity of 61 West Madison street, in front of which Lombardo fell before bedlam broke.

Thousands had heard the shots, while other thousands poured to the murder scene from adjacent streets and office buildings, adding to the confusion.

Not in a long time has the sun gleamed on the barrels of so many revolvers, unsheathed for action, as were in the hands of police yesterday afternoon. Detectives in plain clothes, squad men and traffic officers, pistols ready, dotted the crowds as the blood of Lombardo oozed onto the sidewalk from the ugly bullet hole behind his ear.

The downtown, daylight murder of the one time head of the Unione Siciliano meant more to police than the passing of another gang chief. In the blood of Lombardo they saw the handwriting of Frank Hale's avengers. They saw the outbreak of new gang gunning, with the aid of an intercity scale, with the bad men of New York and Chicago aligned against each other.

Capone, they said, is a marked man. His alliance with Lombardo was well known. The Aiello Brothers, down in the police catalogue as bitter foes of Capone and Lombardo, also were mentioned frequently while the best sleuths of the newly re-organized police force studied the long and involved ramifications of gang murders, seeking a lead that would take them to Lombardo's murderers.

The Uale connection was explained this way: Uale was shot down presumably by Chicago gunmen. Capone's name was brought into that case by reason of the belief that he had been instrumental in obtaining the weapons with which Uale was killed. New York gangsters, therefore, might have picked Lombardo, Capone's close associate, as the victim by whose assassination they mean to answer the guns that got Uale.

To Test Validity Georgia Divorces In North Carolina

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The validity of certain Georgia divorces will be tested in North Carolina courts as the result of an action for bigamy brought by Mrs. W. S. Thomas, Raleigh school teacher, against W. S. Thomas, attorney at law.

Magistrate J. E. Owens yesterday found probable cause at Thomas' preliminary, which sent the case to Wake county Superior court.

Thomas said he established residence in Georgia and was granted a divorce under the laws of that state. Mrs. Thomas contended that the divorce was illegal because she had never been served notice of the proceedings. Attorneys for the defendant set forth that notice had been mailed to Mrs. Thomas, and advertisements published in the newspapers. After receiving his decree, Thomas returned to Raleigh and married again.

HOOVER FIRES BROADSIDE AT HIS OPPONENTS

Republican Presidential Candidate Takes Democrats to Task Before Writers.

By JAMES L. WEST Washington, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover has a way of making sudden decisions and unlooked-for statements that takes those close to him by complete surprise.

This tendency was aptly illustrated in his semi-weekly conference with newspaper correspondents late yesterday when the Republican Presidential nominee, suddenly let loose his first bolt aimed at the Democratic opposition.

Pushing his way through two score and more news writers gathered in the press room at his general headquarters, he seated himself behind a large flat-topped desk, as is his custom, and with a smile inquired on what subjects the correspondents wished to interrogate him.

Usually he has some observations of his own before submitting to questioning. His inquiry was greeted by silence which he himself broke with the declaration that the Democratic National platform attempted to convey the impression that no accomplishment to the case of world peace had been made by the Republican administration.

On the contrary, the candidate said, the Republican administration contributed the greatest steps in that direction since the World War, and he cited the treaty for the renunciation of war as a national policy, the limitations of naval armaments and the Dawes reparations settlement.

"May we quote you on that?" inquired a reporter who recovered his wits a trifle ahead of the others for the nominee has made it a practice in his conferences to decline to be quoted for publication.

"You may," Hoover replied with no hesitation and there was a furious making of notes as the newspapermen sought to recapture upon paper his rapid fire of words. Some ailed utterly, but the official stenographer came to their rescue with typewritten transcripts.

In declining to talk for publication except at very rare intervals and in persisting in what some of his party leaders regard as an obstinacy in sharply limiting the number of his campaign addresses, the Republican Presidential candidate is following a plan carefully worked out after a study of both present conditions and past political history.

The review of the records of campaigns since the founding of the Republican party has led Hoover to the conclusion that with one or two ones who made the smallest number of speeches and spoke the least for publication.

Political Fight Centers Around City Of New York

By BYRON PRICE (Associated Press Staff Writer) New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—While every state contributes in increasing measure to the daily total of political activity, it is this eastern sector, around New York City, toward which the center of political activity is moving irresistibly as the opposing parties whirl into the final two month period of intensive effort.

The present week has been ample proof that whatever swings round the circle may take place elsewhere, neither side intends to surrender a foot of this eastern territory without stubborn battle. It is to this immediate section that Mr. Hoover has allotted two of his three announced campaign speeches, one to be delivered on Sept. 17 at Newark, and the other a month later in New York City itself. This is the same stamping ground where Gov. Smith began his speech-making, to which he will return after his western swing, and upon which he will bring his campaign finally to a close. There are other sections that began their campaigning earlier, and are further advanced with it now, but none of them is likely to experience quite the climatic thrills that are in store for the east in the final weeks before election.

Here within striking distance of the metropolis are clustered 89 contested electoral votes—more than one-third the total needed to elect. New York herself has 45. Massachusetts 18, New Jersey 14, Connecticut 7, Rhode Island 5. By natural allegiance they should be long to Hoover and the policies of his party, for they all are normally hostile to the Volstead act, and both candidates have been advised by the tacticians of their parties that the winning of a goodly portion of these votes probably is essential to success.

Meantime, of course, each candidate will do what he can to hold what is his by natural allegiance elsewhere, and to cut into the reserves of the enemy wherever possible. Both Smith and Hoover have decided to go into the Democratic south, and both will be heard in the Republican west also before the campaign is over.

In the south, the Democratic nominee, when he speaks on Sept. 20 at Oklahoma City, will find himself in a state which gave him only half of its 20 votes at the House convention, and which since has become the one spot in all of the border strip which the Republicans are claiming most loudly. Hoover, speaking Oct. 6 at Elizabethton, Tenn., will be within the borders of a state that Harding carried in 1920, and just outside the borders of North Carolina, where the Democrats have found plenty to think about in 1928.

Smith's western trip, of which the dip into Oklahoma will be a part, will take him through the center of the belt of Republican discontent over farm relief. Over some of this same territory Hoover will pass later on his way back to the Pacific coast to vote in November.

Floods in the Cape Fear and Neuse reached their crests, and with no more rain immediately in sight, Denson indicated the highwaters would immediately begin to recede from the thousands of acres of low lands covered in the last few days. The Tar river was expected to rise slightly before receding.

TERRIBLY ILL Kentucky Lady's Health Was Very Bad. Had Severe Pains and Could Not Sleep.

Lexington, Ky.—Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, this city, says that Cardul has been of valuable assistance to her on two occasions, which she tells about below:

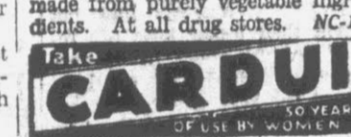

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had very severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest.

"The lower part of my body was very sore. I could hardly stoop over to lace my shoes. I would have to put my foot on a chair. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights.

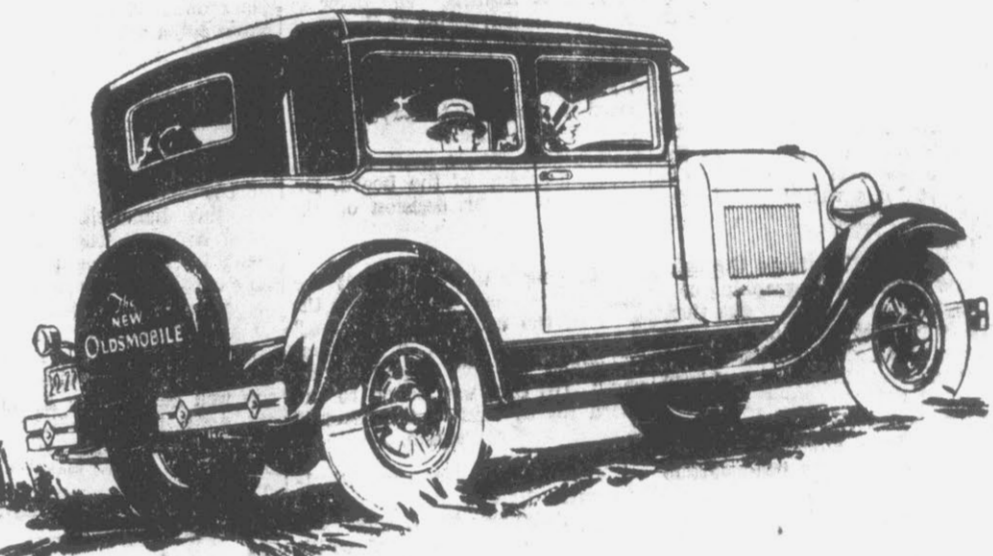

"A friend of mine recommended Cardul. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardul again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic."

Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardul helped them to get rid of pain and suffering. Cardul is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients. At all drug stores. NC-190

LET A RIDE DECIDE

There's only one way to find out what this new Oldsmobile will do... drive it yourself!

Try it in traffic. Pull up abreast of the line at the stoplight and outspurt the field. Seek a crowded boulevard. Oldsmobile's sparkling acceleration, finger-tip steering and positive-acting four-wheel brakes make you master of every situation.

Take it out on the highway. Note how quickly the great new 55-h. p. engine responds to the throttle. Test its speed, its power, its amazing hill climbing ability. Mark its smoothness and quietness at every speed.

Then make the same performance tests with any other car and compare results. If you let a ride decide, you're sure to choose an Oldsmobile.

Red Men Entertain Pocahontas Council

(Reporter)

Last evening, the Red Men Hall was a scene of a good time when the Red Men entertained the Pocahontas, following a contest recently which they won.

There was eight long tables laid for between two and three hundred guests. An old-fashioned barbecue supper was served with sandwiches and drinks.

After supper was served, the Tribe and Council witnessed a good time as several contests were held. First: "The most charitable deed ever done by the Red Men or the Pocahontas." Mr. O. C. White winning, and was presented with a box of assorted chocolates.

Second: "Why I became a Red Man, or a Pocahontas." Mr. J. A. Bland winning, and was presented with 12 boxes of assorted candy; Mrs. Lillie Smith's reason being so nearly a tie with Mr. Bland's that she was entitled to six of the twelve boxes of candy.

Here are the prize-winning reasons: "That I might be a help to some one else, and the association with other good folks might make me a better man." "To broaden my circle of friends and field of service to humanity."

After the contest was over several interesting talks were made, in which the Pocahontas was presented with a cake marked "Success." Pocahontas made the speech of appreciation for our entertainment from the Red Men.

THE WHISPERING CAMPAIGN

Declaring that there is now in progress a whispering campaign with no limit to decency or common sense, the New York World says: "In the course of every Presidential campaign more or less malicious gossip affecting party candidates is given currency. It travels on the wind at random, like noisome odors. Only rarely can it be traced to any responsible source. Most of it is so trivial as hardly to deserve notice; sometimes it is plain misrepresentation of facts that may be met by denial or correction; often it is deliberate falsehood, invented and circulated in the spirit of foul play. "All of these methods are being employed and have been employed throughout the country in attacking Gov. Smith as the Democratic candidate. Whether they are outcroppings of local prejudice or are subtly inspired from hidden centres, they follow closely the same fixed direction. Their common purpose is to injure Gov. Smith in the minds of voters and to compass his defeat, regardless of the means. Obviously, in this work the agencies that are brought into play whether related or unorganized, stick close to cover. Even the Cannons and Wilsons and Heflins, who assail Gov. Smith from the pulpit and the platform on such grounds as prohibition and religion, may at least plead that they stand in the open. Many of their allies by preference choose underground channels not easily detected, as though they still had a certain remnant of shame because of the dirty work in which they are engaged. "This whispering campaign is now in full blast, unchecked by protests from any quarter. While here and there it may stray off into other fields, in the main it follows religious lines, as if in the hope that in that way the bitterest antagonism to Gov. Smith were to be stimulated. The World, without effort on its part, has received considerable information about the various devices. "From Mississippi, for instance, comes a large leaflet bearing no name or address or printer's mark, but indicating Ku Klux Klan origin, which is headed "Al Smith's Record for Liquor and Vice Legislation." From it the reader might gather that while in New York State Legislature his sole interest was in voting to license "bawdy houses in New York City and other large cities in the State," "gambling houses" and other "dives." It is baldly stated that "it is shown by the record that every vote he cast, where a moral issue was at stake, he invariably cast against the moral interest of the State." This circular closes with a denunciation in large type of "The Smith-Tammany-Wel-Roman Catholic Combine." A footnote says that 1,000,000 copies had been distributed in Mississippi. "In North Carolina, a leading merchant of one of the rural counties writes, "lots of Democrats" are being told that if Gov. Smith is elected "barrooms will flourish again, the Pope will dictate to him, the country will become Catholic, the public schools will be destroyed and the Bible will be taken away from us * * * Let me ask you, if elected, will he fill his Cabinet with Catholics?" From other Southern States reports of similar activities, aimed at inflaming sectarian passions, have been sent in by persons astounded by the outbreak of bigotry that has been promoted through clerical influences. "But this sort of thing is by no means peculiar to the South or distant sections of the country. It is a condition of religious intolerance that is being purposely created with an eye to results next November. From Albany comes a four-page leaflet headed: "Special Edition. Bulletin, Sons and Daughters," which on its face shows that it is one of a long series. On the front page is an offensive cartoon of Gov. Smith, and underneath, in black-faced type, the caption: Born on the 28th day of June, 1928, at Houston, Tex., The Pupal Party of the United States, Its Candidate Sir Knight Alfred E. Smith, K. C., F. F. M.

"Entire pages of this circular are devoted to such statements as "The Roman Catholic Tammany Tiger has devoured what is left of the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Bryan"; "The Rape of Democracy (at Houston) by Romanism was a scene of riot, disorder and bloodshed"; "The plug-uglies of the Northern cities bludgeoned the heads of the Democracy of the Nation"; "Shall we roll back the progress of the Democracy of Jefferson and Jackson and go back to the monarchical government of pagan Rome?" "Brief paragraphs are given to the praise of Hoover and Curtis; almost four pages of fine type to abuse of Gov. Smith, the Catholic Church and those who profess the Catholic faith. This circular is advertised as for sale in pound packages, with discounts for larger quantities. "More pretentious in form are the two neat pamphlets guardedly written in a tone presumably to influence persons of a higher order of intelligence against voting for a Catholic for President. Who prepared, printed and distributed them through the mails is not revealed; the only address given is a Post Office box at an up-town station in this city. "Anonymous typewritten sheets and unsigned letters attacking "the evils and rottenness of the Roman Catholic machine," "the dirty Irish Catholic Tammany bunch," and summoning all

ABOUT TOWN

"South Carolina will be in the Democratic column this year where it has always been, according to Cole Blease, United States senator from that state," mentioned a local politician today. "Mr. Blease declared that 'anybody who thought it would be found elsewhere was a fool' ". This is rather strong language, but it is Blease's style and no one will think more about it. But the statement, nevertheless, stands for what it is—complete confidence in his people to support principles that are just as much a part of them as love is a part of life. "The movement under way in this county to assure more complete protection of forests and game is a good one and it is hoped there will be no let up until every section is completely organized into districts with wardens in charge of each section," declared a well known planter today. "The damage suffered by the various counties from forest fires is incalculable in the course of a year. But this loss may be greatly decreased by intelligent organization such as that promoted by the North Carolina Department of Conservation. "Pitt county has been organized and it is to be hoped the citizens of each locality will help the wardens enforce the laws as they pertain to this particular field of endeavor. "We cannot too seriously impress the farmer with the necessity of keeping his tobacco dry and in good condition," asserted a member of the local tobacco market today. "Much of the tobacco sold in Greenville this week was stringy and damp. This resulted in the price situation being much more unfavorable than it would have been had the offerings been dry. "Be careful how you handle your crop during damp, rainy weather, yourself of more money that the same effort and expense required in marketing damaged tobacco". "I am mighty glad to learn that Mr. Eringhaus, of Elizabeth City, is to be one of the speakers to champion the cause of Democracy in this city," said a party member today. "This is the first time this distinguished Democrat has spoken here in years. He is well informed concerning the various issues facing the party at this time and should be able to convince his hearers of the soundness of the principles enunciated by members of his party. "Other speakers will appear here from time to time, principal among them being Clyde Hoy, of Western North Carolina. Like the gentleman from Elizabeth City, Mr. Hoy has been denominated one of the best informed politicians in the state. His message also will be of particular interest to those seeking the truth about campaign issues". "Members of the committee having in charge the raising of the fund for the advertising campaign of this city, stated today that they are making splendid progress," said a member of the Merchants Association today. "Half the required sum of $3,000 has already been raised, but only about half of the original subscribers to the fund have been seen up to this time. "There is no question about raising the entire amount. Greenville business and professional men realize the great benefits to be derived from advertising such as they have last year, and stand ready and willing to contribute liberally to the cause. "If you haven't given to this great cause, Mr. Business Man, get in touch with the committee immediately and do so". "The Democratic campaign in this county this year is going to be the greatest in the history of the county," said W. E. Hooks, of Ayden, member of the County Democratic Executive committee. "We have already arranged for the coming of some of the most eloquent speakers of the state. They should prove of invaluable assistance in presenting the truths of the campaign to the great masses of people who will go to the polls in November to vote for a President". # BUGS AGAIN HIT PIRATES HARD BLOW

Wilmington, Sept. 8. (AP)—Goldsboro annexed the second game of the pennant series here yesterday by downing the Wilmington Pirates, 10 to 5. The Bugs opened the series with a 4 to 2 win on their own soil Wednesday.

The teams will clash here again this afternoon.

Launching a fierce attack in the crease their margin and then top-circled their margin and then topped it off in the ninth with three tallies. Eight circuit blows, five for the Bugs, were registered.

Buck Newsome was driven from the mound by the heavy stickwork of the Goldbugs and Coltrane was sent in to cover in a counter attack, but Manager Johnson managed to keep ahead.

Wilmington, Sept. 8. (AP)—The junior member of the Yankees' "home run" twins, Lou Gehrig, now tops the race for individual batting honors in the American League.

Gehrig displaced "Goose" Goslin of Washington during the past week by hitting his season's mark to 376, while the "Goose" slipped from 377 to 374, unofficial averages including Wednesday's games show.

It is the first time in 17 weeks that the Washington outfielder has been outscored from the lead. Goslin took the lead from Ralph Kress, St. Louis infielder who is now far back with a percentage of .279.

Gehrig has been among the ten leading batters all season, but his steady drive toward the top began a month ago when his Yankee mates saw their wide lead in the American League pennant race fade. Since that time, unofficial averages show, he has been hitting above .400.

Other leaders and their averages:

Goslin, Washington, .374; Manush, St. Louis, .365; Simmons, Philadelphia, .359; Lazzari, New York, .342; Fox, Philadelphia, .338; E. Rice, Washington, .336; E. Miller, Philadelphia, .331; Ruth, New York, .330; Cobb, Philadelphia, .328.

White Hoyt of the Yankees still leads the race for pitching honors, unofficial averages reveal, but he lost one game of his advantage to his closest opponent, "Lefty" Grove of the Athletics, last week. Hoyt now has won 17 and lost 4 for an average of .810, while Grove's record is 21 and 6 or .778. Crowder of St. Louis and Quinn of Philadelphia are tied for third and fourth, each having won 16 and lost 5.

Cleveland continued its drive for a new league record for double plays during the week, hanging up 6 more for a season's total of 167—fifteen short of the all-time mark.

Other leaders: Team batting, New York, .298; team fielding, Boston, .974; stolen bases, Myer, Boston, 23; most runs, New York, 761; fewest opponents' runs, Philadelphia, 532; individual runs scored, Ruth, New York, 142; two base hits, Meusel, New York, 40; triples, Combs, New York, 18; home runs, Ruth, New York, 47.

Chicago, Sept. 8. (AP)—The junior member of the Yankees' "home run" twins, Lou Gehrig, now tops the race for individual batting honors in the American League.

PAUL WANER GETS AHEAD OF HORNSBY

New York, Sept. 8. (AP)—Paul Waner achieved a goal before him all season, sometimes at an almost prohibitive distance, by finally stepping ahead of Rogers Hornsby in the individual batting averages of the National League.

Statistics issued today and including games of last Wednesday showed the Pittsburgh flash with a mark of 389 for 133 games against 376 for the Boston manager in 112.

The elder Waner's success in outscoring Hornsby at last marked the first time since the batting averages became worth anything that the Rajan had bowed to any league rival. The manager of the Hub team at one time soared to about 425 and apparently was making a runaway of the batting race.

The Pirate clubber is not yet out of the woods by any means, but on the other hand faces a spirited battle right down to the wire. As a result the senior circuit anticipates the closest and most interesting battle duel it has seen since Edd Roush and Zach Wheat came down to the wire neck and neck back in the year of 1918.

The two leaders hold the race so closely between themselves. Ernest Orsatti of St. Louis is way up above 400, but cannot play enough games to become classed as a regular. Chuck Klein, the Ft. Wayne terror, similarly is making the ball hum for the Phillies, but is trailing the two leading regulars, Klein, who already has hit eight home runs, will play in just about enough games to earn a real batting average, but will be outside the championship pale even with that number.

Other leading regular batsmen are: Sisler, .347; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .345; Lindstrom, New York, .343; Roettiger, St. Louis, .341 (in 68 games only); Bottomley, St. Louis, .338; Grantham and Brickell, Pittsburgh, .337; and Hafez, St. Louis, Herman, Brooklyn; and Hogan, New York, .336.

Paul Waner leads the league, not only in individual batting, but also in runs scored, with 128; in hits, with 200; in doubles, with 46, and in triples with 18. The Pittsburgh star is the first National leaguer to attain 200 hits.

"Hack" Waisort still leads in home runs with 30, three more than the runner-up, Jim Bottomley of St. Louis. Hafez has 22 and Bisonette of Brooklyn, 21.

Pitching honors remained with Larry Benton, the New York ace, through last Wednesday he had won twenty-three and lost only five for a net percentage of .321. He also topped Burleigh Grimes in complete games by 25 to 24, and in total victories where the Pittsburgh hurler for such a long time held marked advantage. Burleigh now has only 22 against Benton's 23.

Ar. Nehf, the Chicago veteran, was second in the pitching table with 12 and 5 for .706, although Carol Mays, now a giant, nominally is second through having won four and lost one while at Cincinnati. Willie Sherdel of St. Louis was fourth with 19 and 9 for .679.

Grimes sagged to sixth place because of having 12 defeats to go along with his twenty-two victories. Fitz has won 16 and lost 8 for .667, while Grimes' percentage is .647. Burleigh was in a triple tie with Sherdel of the Cards and Lunsford of the Reds in shut-outs, each having four.

The Pirates remained far in front in team batting, still hopeful of getting favorable results in the standing of the clubs through their clubbing. The Pittsburgh average last Wednesday was 316, with New York the second team, down around 294. The Cards were third with 289 and the Reds fourth with 281.

Chicago and St. Louis were in a tie for fielding honors, each with .974. The Reds were one point away in third place, and the Giants two, in fourth. The Reds still hold a significant lead in double plays, with 170, and seem assured of a major league record.

Sally Gets In Six Full Games

(By The Associated Press)

South Atlantic Association teams were ready today for the next to last Saturday of double-headers for the 1928 season after fooling the weather and getting in six games yesterday.

Well pitched games by Evans and Bavid gave Spartanburg a pair of victories over Charlotte by scores of 4 to 2 and 4 to 0. Bavid gave the Hornets only three hits in the nightcap after Evans had sent them down with five in the opener.

Columbia also had a perfect day with a brace of triumphs over Knoxville. The Comers were able to bunch their hits to advantage in both games to win 4 to 1 and 5 to 3. Spencer and Mahaffey lasted the route for the winners although being touched rather freely by the Smokies.

Bean allowed Greenville only six hits and Augusta took its second straight game from the Spinners, 5 and 1. The Tigers secured an even dozen blows.

Asheville and Macon battled ten innings to a 7-7 tie before darkness called a halt.

YANKEES AND ATHLETICS THE FIRST PLACE

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Shader of Baker, Barry, Collins and Melnis 'Cornelius McGillicuddy' up there again.

After fourteen weary years of waiting, of endless experiments with infielders that reminded him of that famous million dollar (present value) combination of 1914 officially because they were so different; of constant and patient training of youngsters who never quite made the major league grade—after all the bitter disappointments of more than a decade, the tall tactician of the Philadelphia Athletics today, the first time since 1914 that they reached the crest at this stage of the season. In that year of the dim baseball past, Connie won the pennant but lost four straight to the Boston Braves in the world's series. Then he broke up his super-team. Little knowing how long it would be before he would together a successor worthy of the name.

True enough, the A's title to the lead is not clear. They hold it on even terms with Miller Huggins' staggering champions, the New York Yankees. But the advantage, for the moment at least, is all in Connie Mack's favor. His A's are coming with a rush. The Yankees are faltering badly, shorn as they are of the overwhelming confidence that was their early in July when they had blasted their way to a 13 game lead over the field.

The A's crashed through to the top with a bank yesterday with a double triumph over the Red Sox, 1 to 0 and 7 to 3, while the Senators were taking the Yankees' measure in both games of a double header. The results of those four affairs kept the Philadelphians and the 1927 champions tied at the top with 97 victories against 47 defeats.

The Senators whipped the Yankee and whipped them decisively in both games. While Irv Hadley held the Yanks to three hits in the opener, the Senators pounded their old team mate, Tom Zachary and Berry Ryan for 16 hits and an 11 to 0 victory. Marberry outpitched White Hoyt by a wide margin in the second contest, which went to the Senators.

With so much drama in the American League, the National's pennant struggle will draw little attention until after the Yankee-Athletic struggles next week. The St. Louis Cardinals boosted their advantage over the field to five games by taking over the Pittsburgh Pirates for the second straight day, 6 to 3.

The Chicago Cubs walloped Cincinnati, 11 to 1.

The Phils and Boston Braves divided a double header Burt's Shotton's men winning the first, 4 to 0, and losing the second in the eleventh inning, 4 to 3.

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The cotton market was only moderately active today, nervous and irregular fluctuations reflecting the uncertainty felt as to the showing of the Government Report published 10 minutes after the close.

December sold up from 18.90 to 19.15 and closed at 19.08, the general market closing firm, net 10 points higher to 4 points lower.

The Government Report placing the indicated crop at 14,439,000 bales was not far out of line with the average of recent private reports, but attracted bearish comment from local traders.

Futures closed unsettled 10 points higher to 6 lower. Spot steady; middling 19.51.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Weakened by the advance of the last two days, the grain market eased down today in a sluggish session. Offerings found buying support lacking, and sellers of bids on wheat were forced to protect themselves on the downturn. Weather reports were not so bullish as yesterday and wheat receipts were becoming more bulky. Corn started firmer but relaxed as buying interest waned and locals exerted selling pressure.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The stock market gathered increased momentum today despite rather heavy profit taking in some of the recent favorites. Early gains ran from 10 to 8 points, with nearly two score individual issues, including most of the amusement shares, setting new high records. Trading was in enormous volume for a half holiday session, the day's sales running around 2,000,000 shares.

Widespread public speculation, supplemented by the tremendous buying power of speculative pools, continued to provide background for the advance. New leaders were brought forward whenever the old favorites showed signs of wavering. The rapidity of the advance in some of the high speculative issues indicated the existence of a small floating supply. "Bear" traders, having taken severe punishment in several of the "blue chip" issues, were more cautious in their selling attacks.

Warner Brothers "A" which sold as low as 22 on January 5, was pushed up 8 points today to a new peak at 130. The common advanced 6 points to a new top at 123 1-2. Fox Film ran up five points to a new high at 114 1-4 before it ran into heavy profit taking. Stanley Company of America and Keiffer-Albee also moved into new high ground while Shubert Theatres and Pathe "A" recorded substantial gains.

Timken Roller Bearing, Commercial Solvents, American Sugar Refining, United States Rubber, American Linseed, Gardner Motors, Adams Express and Montgomery Ward all sold 3 to 6 points higher. Radio broke more than 7 points, but quickly recorded a good part of its loss. General Motors yielded
