HURRICANE CLAIMS OVER THOUSAND LIVES

FLORIDA PALM BEACHES CUT OFF FROM WORLD BY TWISTER'S FURIOUS BLAST

With Wire Communications Disrupted, Jacksonville Gets Radio Message Telling Of Casualties And Property Damage On East Coast And Central Section.

Striking a destructive blow at the Palm Beaches last night after spreading death and devastation through Porto Rico and other islands of the West Indies, the tropical hurricane today was blowing across the Florida peninsula toward the Gulf of Mexico.

Wire communications were down or temporarily disrupted over a wide area along the Florida coast and in the south central portion.

Reports of casualties and heavy property damage were received from Palm Beach and West Palm Beach via amateur radi operators who picked up messages which they said were signed by station 44FC, a Palm Beach amateur.

One message, received at Jacksonville by Gifford Grange, licensed operator, stated that an undetermined number of persons had been injured and many homes were wrecked.

Grange's message, he said, was signed "D. J. Coakley," which is the name of the publisher of the Palm Beach Post. It stated that the Red Cross had made a temporary hospital in the Pennsylvania Hotel because the hospital there had been partially destroyed.

Another message stating that two persons had been killed and 50 injured was picked up by station 44BN at Tampa. The message also stated that many buildings in the business district of West Palm Beach were damaged.

Meanwhile, relief parties proceeded into the area from Miami, but nothing of what conditions they found there had come to the outside world.

Senator Joe Robinson, Democratic nominee for vice-president, was in Miami for a speaking engagement tonight, but was prepared to cancel the address and hasten to the storm area if necessary.

Reports from the west coast of Florida where the weather bureau said the storm was headed, said that no serious wind conditions prevailed early this afternoon. There were reports of minor damage from some central Florida cities and these advised said the citrus crop had suffered in some sections.

Miami escaped lightly at the hands of the blow, according to dispatches received before all wire communications were lost. Nothing definite was known about the extent of the storm from West Palm Beach north to Fort Pierce, a distance of approximately 60 miles, but the meager reports indicated heavy winds swept the area.

The weather bureau said that Titusville, 90 miles north of Fort Pierce, had reported hurricane winds from the east, with the barometer at 29.24. The disturbance was described as still "a severe storm."

Estimates of damage were impossible.

New Orleans, Sept. 17.—(AP)—General desolation from Pampano to the Palm Beaches in Florida from the hurricane was reported today by Hal Leysbon, news editor of the Miami Daily News in a dispatch to the Associated Press by tropical radio.

Hundreds of refugees were reported housed in the Harvey building at West Palm Beach, at the Pennsylvania Hotel, the chimney collapsed and crashed through the roof to the ground floor with a 600,000 loss but no one was reported injured. At the height of the storm two babies were born at the Good Samaritan hospital while the end of the maternity ward was ripped out by the wind.

Martial law was declared, the message said, with coast guardsmen from the Fort Lauderdale base patrolling the streets. Several reports of looting were received.

The official barometer, the News reported, read 27.64 at West Palm Beach at 7:10 p. m. Maximum wind of 125 miles an hour was reached at 6:45 as the center of the storm moved over the tail of the storm lashing the city from 7:30 to 9:00 p. m.

NEW ORLEANS MAY ESCAPE PATH OF STORM

New Orleans, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Weather reports indicated at noon today that the storm sweeping through Florida may not reach as far as the Mississippi and Louisiana coasts and that New Orleans may escape it entirely.

Experienced hurricane observers point out that if the wind runs true to form it will head northward after blowing out of Florida and spend itself in the Atlantic States.

LAUDS RECORD OF DEMOCRACY OVER COUNTRY

J. C. B. Ehringhaus Addresses A Large Gathering of Democrats At Courthouse.

The record of achievement of the Democratic party was extolled in a brilliant way here Saturday afternoon when J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, spoke to several hundred voters at the courthouse. It was the second political address of the Democratic campaign in this city, and was heard by prominent men and women from many sections of the county.

Mr. Ehringhaus was introduced by Senator M. K. Blount, of this city, and immediately began a discussion of questions confronting the Democratic party at this time. He sharply contrasted the brilliant record of the Democratic party with that of the Republican party and called upon his hearers to see that fair play dominates the campaign in behalf of those they have elected to run for office.

Briefly touching upon the prohibition question, Mr. Ehringhaus pointed out the impossibility of Al Smith, Democratic nominee for the presidency, changing the prohibition laws, or with a Republican administration enforcing the law any better than Smith. He said for this reason, prohibition could not be called one of the paramount issues of the campaign.

Of the various attacks launched against Smith's attack, he declared that there was nothing in the religion of the candidate that would interfere with his duties as president. He called attention to the provision of the constitution which prohibits the using of a man's office to prevent the holding of office to do this in the case of Al Smith were not only intolerant but were violating the constitution, which, as American citizens, they are bound to support.

Briefly referring to the negro question, Mr. Ehringhaus told of Hoover's inclination to force white people and negroes to work together in the Census Bureau and other departments. He asserted that surely no North Carolinian, true to his state, could endorse such action.

He paused occasionally to pay his respects to the Republican party in regard to their unfiled promises to the farmers of the nation and their flagrant disregard for enforcement of the prohibition laws. The farmers have not forgotten these things, he said, neither is a discriminating public grateful of the whiskey traffic that prevails in virtually every community of the nation.

He urged his hearers to stand by principles of the Democratic party, and give undivided support to the men it has chosen to represent it in the forthcoming election.

Eliminate Street Dance.

Owing to unexpected developments, the street dance in connection with the fashion display to be held in this city tomorrow evening, has been called off. It was stated today by members of the committee having the show in charge.

ROME FLIGHT WILL BEGIN LATE TODAY

Roma Crew To Take Off From Old Orchard, Maine, Before Nightfall.

Old Orchard, Me., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The crew of the Bellanca monoplane Roma hoped to be winging their way to Rome sometime before nightfall today.

Word late yesterday from Pietro Bonelli, radio operator and navigator of the expedition, that auspicious weather was at hand and that he was speeding here from New York City where he had been in consultation with government weather experts, spurred his three companions to immediate action.

The big plane, in which the four will endeavor to negotiate the 4,500 mile trip, was taken from Scarborough Field near Portland for a test flight during which it made a landing here. At the conclusion of the flight the machine was pronounced in readiness.

Fourteen hundred gallons of fuel must be poured into the tanks but that was practically all that remained to be done.

The expedition is headed by Cesare Sabelli, a former flight lieutenant in the Italian air forces during the war but now an American citizen. Roger Q. Williams of Richmond Hills, N. Y., a Curtiss Field pilot, will be the chief pilot while Dr. E. M. Pisculli of New York, one of the financial backers of the expedition, will observe the effect in a physical way of the strain of the flight on the other three.

The Roma is a land plane and is not equipped with pontoons.

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO AID STORM AREAS

Army Transports Carry Cargoes Of Food To Porto Rico; Florida To Get Aid.

Washington, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The government took steps today under the direction of President Coolidge to bring relief to the stricken hurricane areas in Porto Rico and like wise canvassed the Florida situation to determine if any action is necessary for that section.

After a consultation with John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, Major General Sumnerhall, chief of army staff, and Assistant Secretary Mr. Robbins of the War Department, Mr. Coolidge ordered two army transports diverted to Porto Rico to deliver their cargoes of food to the sufferers.

Simultaneously, Secretary Wilbur ordered the U. S. S. Bridge to sail today for the island from New York with a cargo of Red Cross supplies and food.

The ships diverted by the President were the St. Mihel, which left New York Friday for Panama, and the Kenowis, now at Canal Zone. The St. Mihel is carrying a subsistence cargo of 550 tons, and the Kenowis has 700 tons of food on board. The latter vessel is to stand by at San Juan until further orders.

The President's first request this morning was of news of the hurricane. The general aspect in the West Indies and Florida was discussed but no action was decided upon regarding Florida in the absence of definite news.

The President was informed that the navy supply ship Bridge's cargo included 1,500 tons of tents and blankets from army stores.

From Porto Rico, an appeal came today from Governor Towner for food and clothing for the 700,000 persons made homeless. In a cablegram to the Bureau of Insular Affairs, he said "the suffering will be great."

Believe United States Will Be Asked To Help On Reparation Problem

Geneva, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The belief prevailed today that the United States would undoubtedly be asked to participate in the deliberations of the commission of experts that will work for a complete and definite settlement of the reparations problem. After a series of conversations, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium and Japan reached an agreement to name a commission and an accord in principle for special official negotiations looking to evacuation of the Rhineland.

In some circles the opinion was held that discussion of reparations would lead to a discussion of war debts in general.

Disclaimers were issued, however, that Europe had any wish to drag the United States into the reparations discussion. Nevertheless, the general opinion in political circles appeared to be that nothing sound complete or final could be achieved without the collaboration of America either through governmental representatives or financiers who would reflect Washington's views.

When delegates of fifty nations to the assembly of the League of Nations heard of the accord, the opinion was voiced that statesmen have begun to write the last chapter on liquidation of consequences of the great war.

BABY SHOW TO FEATURE THE COUNTY FAIR

Beautiful Prizes To Be Awarded Babies Of Pitt During Fair Week.

Everything is in readiness for the GREATEST baby show, ever held in the history of Pitt County. The Directors of the Pitt County Fair have secured the services of Mr. Verne Newcombe to supervise and direct this mammoth event. He has just completed breaking all outstanding records in his last baby show which closed in Quebec City, Quebec, last Wednesday, he having had one thousand babies entered in that particular show.

When asked why his baby shows are always successful, his modest answer was, "I give more Prizes than any other baby show director in the business." In this case Mr. Newcombe is going to give 21 beautiful prizes, and the prizes are awarded in this manner: There is going to be five classes ranging in age from three months to five years; the 3 to 12 months old babies will be in class A; the 12 months to 24 months babies in class B; the 24 to 36 months old babies in class C; the 36 to 48 months old babies in class D; and the 48 to 60 months old babies in class E. The healthiest girl of each class will receive bank accounts and loving cups, and the handsomest boy will also receive a bank account or Loving Cup, making a total of twenty bank accounts and Loving Cups that will be awarded to the little ones on their health and beauty alone. The Grand Prize loving cup and $50.00 in GOLD will be given to the baby that scores the most health, beauty, physique and friendship points. That baby will be known as the BEST all around Baby in Pitt County. There will also be a special prize for the best set of twins.

Registration headquarters are in the Merchants Association offices on Evans Street, and the hours are from 8:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. There is no charge for entering the little ones, and it is not necessary to bring the little one to the headquarters, just so one of the parents come to the headquarters to enter the little ones officially. Avoid the rush and enter your baby today.

TO PROBE REPORTS OF GAMBLING IN LOUISIANA

New Orleans, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Governor Huey P. Long, who recently called out the state militia to suppress gambling in St. Bernard parish, plans to investigate reports that gambling houses reopened in Jefferson parish.

The governor would not say what action he would take if the reports are found to be true, but after the St. Bernard raids he declared he was ready at any time to take similar action against gambling in any parish in the state.

Find Gallo-Roman Arms.

Vannes, France.—(AP)—The diving rod locates other things than water and oil. Excavating to investigate the peculiar actions of a rod in the hands of a Breton, archeologists uncovered a heap of Gallo-Roman arms and implements on the Morbihan Peninsula.

ROBINSON IS PREPARED TO AID FLORIDA

Senator Will Abandon Speaking Tour, If Necessary, To Aid In Relief.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Should a call for assistance be received from the section of Florida hit by the hurricane that was crossing the state today, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, now in Miami, was prepared to cancel if necessary, all engagements here and proceed immediately to the scene of the disaster.

The senator was scheduled to speak in Bay Front Park tonight, and planned to give the address unless storm relief work should call him away. He and Mrs. Robinson, who is accompanying him in his campaign tour of the South, remained aboard their private car all night in the railroad yards here.

Before retiring, Mr. Robinson left word that his car, along with another pullman attached to it for newspaper correspondents, should be attached to the first relief train which might leave the city.

It was said that Mr. Robinson felt that in the event of a call for aid, that his private car would be of service inasmuch as it was equipped with a kitchen and stocked with sufficient food to last for five or six days. If he should leave for the stricken area it was said that all engagements here for both him and his wife probably would have to be cancelled as it would hardly be possible for him to return in time to fill tonight's speaking engagement here.

PROBE MURDER OF FIVE BOYS IN CALIFORNIA

Search Continued On Northcott Murder Farm Near Graves Of Victims.

Los Angeles, Sept. 17.—(AP)—An amazing story of torture and the murders of five boys was before Los Angeles police today as they renewed search on the George Cyrus Northcott "murder farm" near Riverside for graves of the supposed victims of Gordon Sturatt Northcott, 21, a fugitive.

Questioned for two days regarding the reported killings, the elder Northcott, held in custody here, finally opened up last night, police said, and "talking like a streak" unfolded a ghoulish account of some of the acts of his son, whom he described in appearance as resembling an ape.

Following sensation after sensation unfolded in his vivid story the elder Northcott early today led police to the garage on the small Northcott ranch near Riverside, and search for the corpses of five of the supposed victims was begun under a concrete floor.

Riverside authorities have announced complaints charging murder will be filed against young Northcott, and his mother, Mrs. Louise Northcott, whom the father said was the only person having any control over the youth, and who is believed to have been an accomplice in the suspected murders.

Not Looking For Husband.

Ben Alder, England.—(AP)—Lady Houston has been obliged to announce that she is not in the market for a husband. Ever since she voluntarily paid $7,500,000 in death taxes on the estate of her late husband, Sir Robert Houston, multi-millionaire ship owner, she has received dozens of offers of marriage from all over the world and has installed a larger wastebasket.

MILLION PERSONS REPORTED HOMELESS IN PORTO RICO; MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED

Property Damage Expected To Exceed Hundred Million Dollars As Death And Famine Stalk Through Land; National Guards Ordered Out To Protect Property From Looters.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 17.—(AP)—With the hurricane death toll conservatively estimated at 1,000, the spectre of famine stalked through Porto Rico today. At least 300,000 persons were stated to be hungry. Disease was threatened.

Half of the islands populated of almost 2,000,000 was thought to be homeless. It was feared that the property damage would pass $100,000,000.

Declaration of martial law, requisitioning the rationing of food and drafting of all able-bodied men was urged upon Governor Horacio M. Towner by a group of leading citizens.

The group in a petition asserted that so far neither the government nor any other agency had taken adequate steps for relief to prevent sickness and starvation nor to ascertain the facts as to immediate needs.

The national guard has been ordered out to protect property from looters. Efforts were made to stop profiteering.

Nine of the islands' 77 towns reported more than 250 dead. Others reported no loss of life and communication with others lacking. It will be weeks before accurate reports can be received from the rural section in which more than 70 per cent of the people live.

Physicians and others familiar with conditions said that a death toll with 1,000 as a final figure was a conservative estimate. No continental Americans have been reported either killed or injured.

The known dead in the various towns reporting were: Cayey, 75; Guayama, 60; Humacao, 50; Ponce, 25; Arecibo, 15; Aguadilla, 10; Naguabo, 10; Las Piedras, 5, and Fajardo, 3.

Most on the food crops were destroyed. Half of the homes, even those of Thatch, were destroyed or damaged beyond repair. Probably the most seriously situated were the "jivaros," the poor country folk, numbering nearly 1,000,000 who have no reserve resources. Talks of their suffering were reaching San Juan.

Joaquin Villanueva, a university instructor of Vega Baja, said the country people were coming into towns by hundreds begging for food. Hard pressed merchants gave them as much as they were able. Villanueva with his family walked most of the 25 miles from Vega Baja to San Juan.

Four proposals were laid before the governor:

One—Martial law throughout the land be declared with officers of the 65th infantry in command.

Two—All food, supplies and materials in the island be requisitioned to be issued only on permits following a definite plan of rationing.

Three—Vessels in San Juan be loaded with food and medical supplies and sent to other parts for distribution for relief in the interior.

Four—The army plan followed during the San Quiqueo hurricane of 1899 be followed, to include drafting of all able-bodied men for employment in public works on farms, or elsewhere as need, with payment in food from commissary stores.

SMITH TO OPEN HIS CAMPAIGN IN FARM BELT

First Address Of Campaign For Presidency To Be Delivered At Omaha.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Governor Smith's Special Train Enroute to Omaha, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Carrying Democracy's message to the farm belt and the best wishes of hundreds of citizens of Albany who gave him a noisy farewell, Governor Smith was headed for the heart of the nation today to open his speaking campaign for the presidency.

At Omaha, Neb., tomorrow night, the Democratic presidential nominee will make his first formal campaign address since he notified Albany almost a month ago. His theme there will be agriculture, which has become one of the foremost issues of the campaign. Subjects for the other five addresses at Oklahoma City, Denver, Helena, Mont.; St. Paul and Milwaukee will not be announced until perhaps the dates set for them, the governor favoring an elastic policy which permits of countering enemy thrusts before they can sink in.

In all, Governor Smith, who is accompanied by Mrs. Smith, their daughter, Mrs. John A. Warner, and a group of friends and political advisers, will travel more than 6,000 miles during the two weeks of campaigning in the middle and far west. His tour will end at Albany after he attends the Democratic State convention at Rochester, October 1st.

The route of the elaborately equipped special train of eleven cars on which the governor's party is traveling lay today through northern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Only operating stops will be made, however, until Omaha is reached tomorrow morning and the Democratic nominee's meeting and greeting program will not get under full way until after his Nebraska speech.

Leaving the Executive Mansion in Albany an hour before train-time last night, the governor, wearing a blue suit, striped tie and his campaign brown derby, with Mrs. Smith and other members of the family drove to the Union Station through streets lined with cheering citizens. As he reached the depot a whoop went up that recalled to the nominee the demonstration of the night of his nomination.

Through a lane of cheering people held back by the police, he walked to the center of the waiting room where he was presented with a huge floral horseshoe by State Senator William T. Byrne on behalf of Albany county Democrats. In a speech Byrne said "if the people of the West get to know you as well as we here do, they will give us their votes."

Responding, the governor said: "Although the flowers will fade before this trip is over, the recollections of the thoughts of my dearest friends—those here in Albany—will remain forever."

ANCIENT MARINER WINS

Greenwich, Conn.—(AP)—Ralph Ellis is an ancient mariner who can show the way to young folks sailing a boat. He won a special ten-meter boat race of the Indian Harbor yacht club. He is 76 years old.

Six Deaths Result From Heavy Storms In The West Indies

Paris, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Storm damage in the French West Indies has proved lighter than was first feared, although six deaths have been reported to the ministry of colonies by the governors of Martinique and Guadeloupe.

Three men were drowned at Martinique by a tidal wave which swamped a score of small boats. A few houses were wrecked and considerable damage was caused to crops and highways.

WORLD'S SERIES WILL START OCTOBER 4TH

New York, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The world series of 1928 will start Thursday, October 4, in the park of the club winning the American League championship, Commissioner Landis announced here today. The date was chosen in preference to October 3rd because of the close races in both leagues, and the necessity of handling vast numbers of tickets on short notice.

DEMOCRATS START WEEK OF INTENSE WORK IN STATE

Raleigh, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Beginning a week of intensive campaigning, Democratic speakers are scheduled to be heard today in various parts of the state. The list as announced by state headquarters here follows:

O. Max Gardner at Monroe; J. C. B. Ehringhaus at Graham; Judge E. K. Bryan at St. Paul; Congressman James B. Aswell of Louisiana at Statesville, and Robert B. Reynolds at Bakersville.

Impressions Of Greenville And Eastern N. Carolina

(The following letter of Dr. W. R. Thompson, who was recently the guest of his son Dr. Malcolm Thompson, of this city will be read with interest by friends here):

Lexington, Kentucky,
September 1, 1928.
Back in the Blue Grass, after the most delightful two weeks vacation in Eastern North Carolina, I have ever had.

Used as I am to rolling, open farm-lands, the flat country, with its swamps and thickly grown woodlands, was a pleasing sight. The growing cotton and peanut crops were something new, my principle acquaintance with these two staples, being to wear one and eat the other. The method of handling and curing the tobacco, so different from our method in Kentucky, was quite a novelty, and the numerous small apparently air-tight, curing houses with their fire kilns, caught my attention.

The absence of grass pastures and of fences, and of livestock grazing loose in the fields, was noticeable.

The apparently endless, improved roads, throughout the whole of the eastern part of the state, and I am informed the same conditions prevail in the middle and western parts, were a source of wonder, delight and pleasure. They show that North Carolina is well in the lead of progress, and the wonderful schools speak volumes for the future welfare and advancement of the old Tar Heel state.

The trees, not indigenous to Central Kentucky soil, the tall pines, the pecans, and the live oaks in some sections, draped in moss, the crepe myrtle, the magnolia and the fig were new and beautiful.

The well-kept small cities of the coastal plain, close together by reason of the splendid roads, show to the outsider, that Eastern North Carolina is moving forward and setting an example for other sections of our country. I note that nearly all these cities have well appointed, modern hospitals, and thru these, the hand of the Good Samaritan is always extended to the unfortunate sufferer. But Greenville, beautiful Greenville, fully measured up to all I had heard of it. Its broad, shady and well paved streets, its beautiful homes and well-kept lawns, with their numerous and beautiful trees, say to the stranger, "this is a good place to live." Its business houses and show windows, show its business men to be wide awake and fully abreast of the times. Its numerous and handsome churches, proclaim it to be a God loving, a God fearing and a God serving city.

The tobacco market is truly a "sight to behold." It was my pleasure to be present on that gala day, the opening this year. The endless rows of automobiles, the crowds of people on the streets, numbers of them with hands of tobacco in their hands or pockets, which they were anxious to show to friend or stranger alike and tell of its silky quality. The many large ware houses with their rows on rows of baskets piled high with the golden leaf, the crowd following at the heels of the auctioneer and not a one of them ever understanding a single word he said, this market alone is worth the trip.

The professional and business men, gentlemen ever, impress one as being wide awake and knowing their lines.

The schools, the college and the hospital with its training school, are proof positive that the next generation of Greenville, will be wiser and better able to serve its fellow man.

It is the folks, however, that won my heart. Inside the home I learned to know and to love them. Such hospitality as Greenville's, is seldom, if at all, found in any section of the south and I am sure, is nowhere excelled, and you know the whole south is noted for this trait.

The good things to eat they had, make me long to be back again and I am going some day. After my visit I am sure the big signs at the city limits, "Greenville Welcomes You," are from the heart, and in return for my delightful vacation, I wish to say the latch-string-always hangs on the outside of the door in "My Old Kentucky Home," so come.

I read each day with pleasure and edification, the Daily Reflector, a wide-awake, up-to-date newspaper, that reflects credit upon the community and its most genial editor. Watch for me—I'm coming back.
W. R. THOMPSON.

Probe Attempted Holdup In Indiana

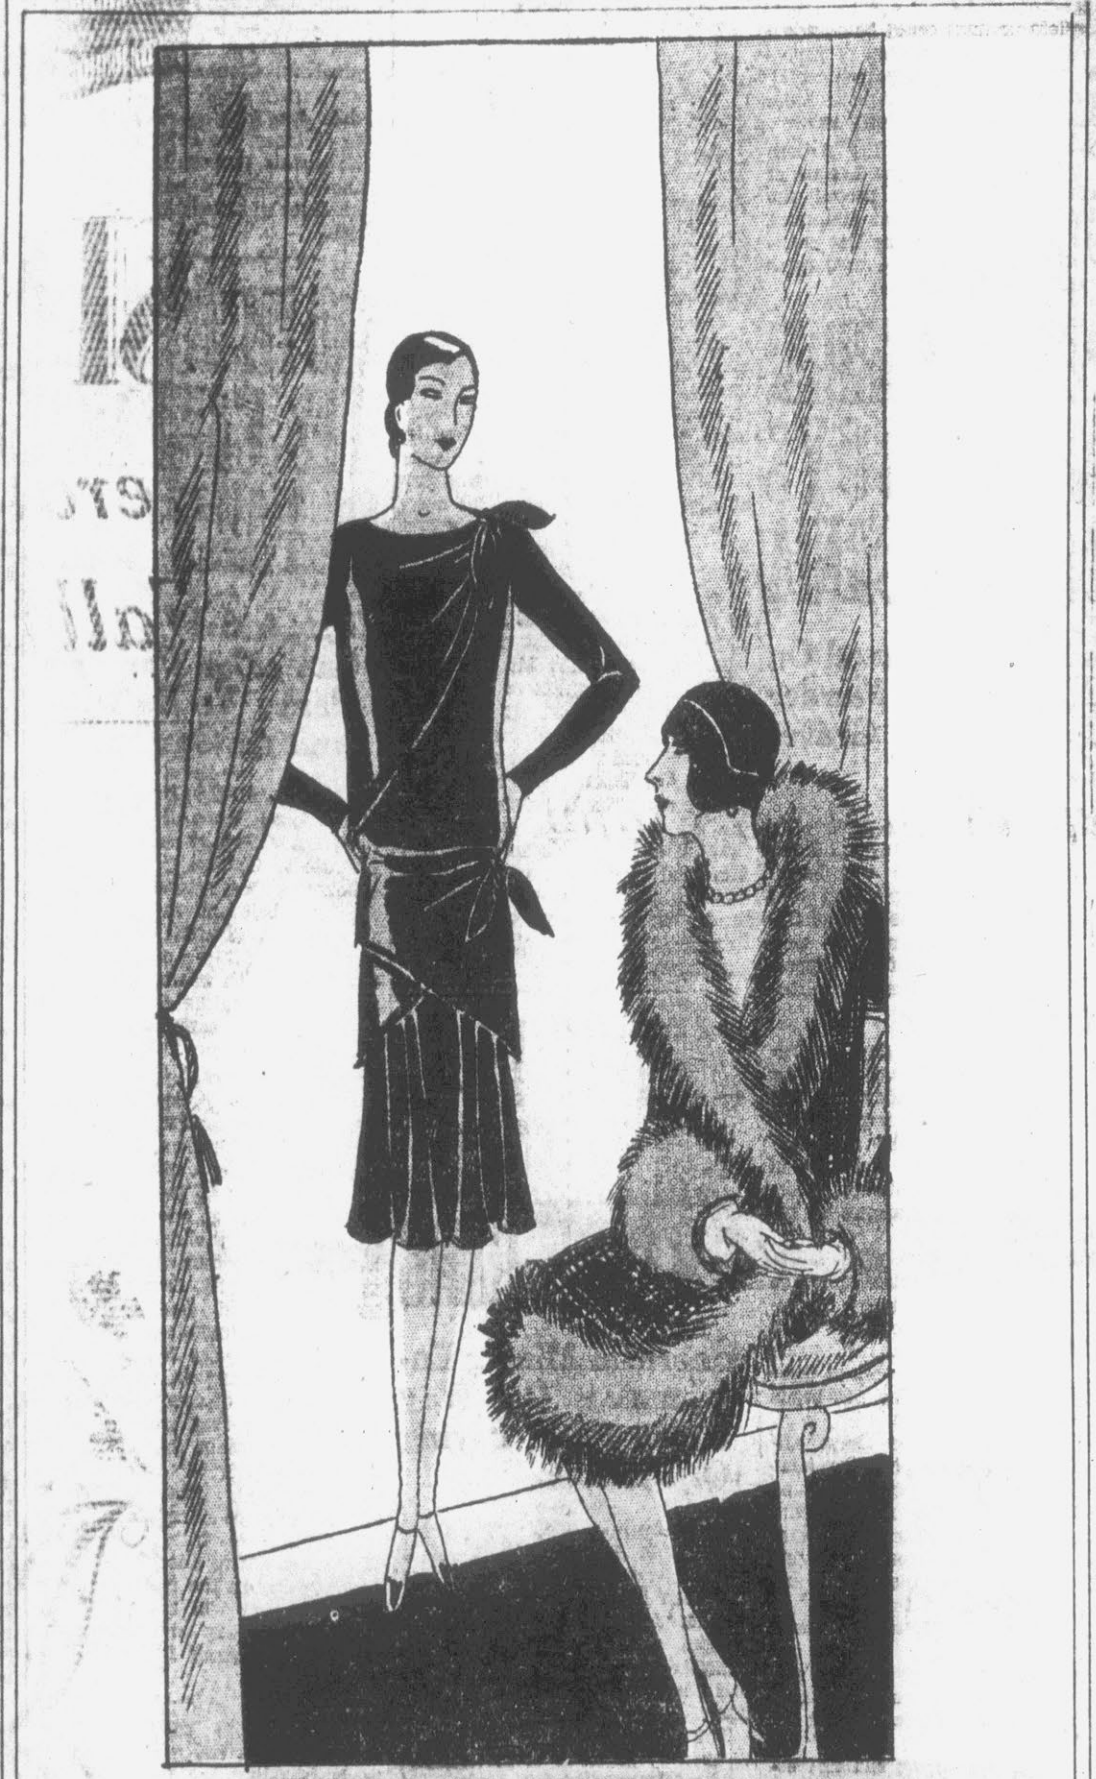

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 17—(AP)—Police today attempted to piece together loose ends of an attempted holdup in which two men were fatally shot last Friday night. W. O. Bohannon, 47, prominent Evansville attorney, was found dying from two bullet wounds in front of his home Friday night, and Frank Mellus, 19, of Detroit, was found dead in a field near here Saturday morning.

Frank Paisley, 24, of Essex, Mo., pal of Mills who was arrested Saturday as he viewed Mills' body in a local morgue, said that Bohannon shot Mills when the two youths came upon the attorney and a woman companion in a parked automobile in the country. Paisley shot Bohannon, he confessed, "because he got my buddy."

Another possible angle of the mystery developed last night when Miss Norma Fryer, 21, Bohannon's auburn-haired stenographer, committed suicide by drinking poison at her home. The girl's mother said her daughter returned home about 9 o'clock Friday night. This was fifteen minutes after Bohannon was found by his wife in front of their home, seated at the wheel of his automobile. Paisley's story to police related how Bohannon made a break for a gun while Mills, a former pugilist, was attempting to tie him up. The double shooting followed. Then, fatally wounded, Bohannon drove his automobile through a cornfield, across the fields to a road and five miles back to Evansville. Found by his wife, Bohannon gasped that he had been shot by holdup men, and never regained consciousness. He died Saturday.

POPE PIUS SAID TO BE IN GOOD HEALTH
Rose, Sept. 17—(AP)—Any lingering fears respecting the health of Pope Pius that may have persisted in Rome, were dispelled today by news that the Pontiff took his customary walk yesterday in a rain storm. He tramped under a wooden loggia which had been constructed for him in the second year of his pontificate.

Asks Aid For Colored Boy.
To the Public:
Floyd Tsel, a small colored boy, with an extreme case of rupture, is in need of an operation. This boy has no parents and no brothers and sisters. He lives with his grandmother in the city. Since public funds are not available for hospital attention to cases of this nature, I feel the public would be glad to take care of this boy. $50.00 is needed for the work. Eldridge Drug Store has sent in check for $5.00 toward getting the boy relieved.

Anyone interested in this case may mail check to Welfare Department and acknowledgement will be made in the Reflector next Saturday.

THE VOICE OF BRYAN

(Jackson (Miss.) News)

This is William Jennings Bryan speaking. It is in Madison Square Garden in 1924, with the "religion" plank of the platform under debate
—his "last word" to a convention of his party. Mr.
Bryan said:

"In this country it is not necessary to protect any church. I have such confidence in the Catholic Church which was for 1500 years my mother church as well as yours, that I deny it needs political aid. It was the Catholic Church that took our religion from its founders and preserved it—it was the only custodian—for over 15 centuries. When it did this for Catholics it did it for me and every Protestant.
The Catholic Church, with its legacy of martyr's blood and with the testimony of its long line of missionaries who went into every land, does not need a great party to protect it from a million Klansmen.

"The Jews do not need
this resolution. They have Elijah, and they have also Elisha, who drew back the curtain and revealed upon the mountain tops an invisible host greater than a thousand Ku Klux Klans.
The Catholic Church and the House of Israel have their great characters today who plead for respect for them whose pleading is not in vain.

"I am not willing to bring discord into my party. The Democratic party is united on all economic issues. We have never been so united since I have known politics, and nobody has had more reason than I to regret past discord. Now, when we are united and face our political foes with dauntless courage and with enthusiasm never excelled, these people tell us that we must turn aside from this titanic task, divide our party on a religious issue and cease to be a great political force.

"The Democratic party has never taken the side of one church against the other;
the Democratic party
must remain true to its traditions; it cannot surrender its rights to exist; it cannot be false to the mission that it had in the days of Jefferson, to which it remained true in the days of Jackson and to which it was still loyal in the days of Woodrow Wilson.

"My last objection is that I am not willing to divide the Christian Church, because if it is destroyed there is nothing to take its place.
We must stand together to fight our battles of religion against materialism.

"There is only one who can bring peace to the world and that is the Prince of Peace—the One at Whose coming the angels sang, "On earth peace, good will toward men!"

"Jew and Gentile, Catholic and Protestant stand for God, on whom all religion rests, and Protestant and Catholic stand for Christ. Is it possible that now, when Jesus—the hope of the world —is more needed than ever before—is it possible that at this time, in this great land, we are to have religious warfare? Are you willing to start a blaze that may cost innumerable lives, sacrificed on the altar of religious prejudice? I call you back in the name of our party, I call you back in the name of the Son of God and Saviour of the world. Christians, stop fighting; let us get together and save the world from the materialism that robs life of its spiritual values. Banish the "Hymns of Hate;" our song must be "Blest be the tie that binds love."

We print this portion of Mr. Bryan's notable speech on that memorable occasion solely for the reason that many of those Democrats who are now opposing the Democratic nominee for the presidency are citing Mr.
Bryan as the inspiration of their opposition, invoking his memory as counsel and guide in bolting the ticket.

Never was there a more eloquent and fervent denunciation of religious prejudice in politics than that which William Jennings Bryan delivered in Madison Square Garden. Never was there uttered a more impressive warning than was conveyed in his words on that occasion: "Divide our party on a religious issue and cease to be a great political force."
And it applies with greater significance and meaning in 1928 than it did in 1924.

We commend to these Democrats who profess adherence to the principles of the dead Democratic leader and who now summon his spirit to sustain their mistaken course, a reading of Mr. Bryan's declaration, as above quoted. Those who have not read it need the enlightenment it conveys;
those who have need to be reminded of its undeniable truth.

ABOUT TOWN

"Greenville men certainly took advantage of felt hat week, which was brought to a close Saturday," declared a member of the fair sex today, commenting on the numbers of new hats adorning the craniums of the downtown element Sunday.

"It seemed as if the majority of men had gone on a fashion revue.
If there were any straw hats left in Greenville they were most certainly conspicuous for their paucity.
The change of headgear was surprisingly complete in every respect."
"Greenville can always be counted on to co-operate in every movement, and those having fashion as their foundation are no exception."

"Greenville established a new record last week, selling more tobacco than any other single week in history of the market," said a prominent tobacconist, speaking of the report of sales made public on Saturday afternoon by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

"This proves conclusively that the market has not only grown in facilities for handling the bright leaf but is also experiencing growth in sales.

"The goal for this season is seventy million pounds, exactly ten million pounds more than last year.
That we will reach the mark goes without saying. It seems already assured with sales continuing as they did last week."

"Do your shopping in Greenville, Mr. Consumer, and rest assured of saving money and getting the best values on the market." is the advice given by local business men to the thousands of people residing in the fifty-mile trade territory.

"The stocks of the various stores are complete in every respect. They were purchased with the idea of giving the best at the lowest possible price. The best of everything will be found on the shelves of the local stores, and purchasers will not make a mistake by doing their buying here."

"The clock in the courthouse tower is so dressed up I didn't hardly know it," declared a local business man today, speaking of the new coat of paint new being put on the dome.
"It is the first time since erection of the courthouse that the clock has had its faces painted, so what is more natural than to become effeminate and expect it to flirt with some of the passers-by, especially in the wee small hours of the morning when some are in the habit of seeing more than one moon and clinging to telephone posts for support.

"With its new coat of paint, the courthouse is far more attractive than it has ever been before. In fact, it looks like a brand new building, erected at a price double the original cost. This is simple proof of what paint will do when properly used."

"We had a splendid enrollment of students at the opening of our school this week," an Ayden citizen told the writer of this column today.

"The high school has superior class room facilities this year, the old Seminary dormitory having been remodeled and put into first-class shape. This arrangement will be a big help caring for the high school students awaiting for the erection of the new high school building which doubtless will be ready for occupancy by the opening date next year.

"Superintendent Long has his work systematically outlined and it is predicted that Ayden will have one of its best school years."

"Visit Greenville during the next month and take advantage of some of the opportunity to attend some of the various amusements to be offered from time to time," invited civic clubs today.

"With the usual run of shows, club meetings, etc., the city will have John Robinson's circus on the 21st and the fair during the first week of October. These two features alone are expected to draw countless thousands, many of whom have never visited us before."

OPEN FORUM

OPEN LETTER TO SENATOR SIMMONS

Mr. F. M. Simmons,
New Bern, N. C.

My Dear Senator:—
Many of us are profoundly puzzled at the attitude you have assumed toward our candidate for President. Loving, honoring and respecting you as long as we have,
it is to us unthinkable that the great leader of Democracy's fight for White Supremacy back in 1898 should desert us now in the hour of our need. Back in those days when you gave the command to charge, we charged. Our orders were to carry the election, and we did it—and you know HOW we did it. I know how it was done, and I for one, am proud that we did it by ballots instead of by bullets, and I feel that you are. I do not know that Tammany has instigated the miscounting of votes or the stuffing of ballot boxes. In fact, I doubt that I know anything specific about Tammany's meanness, yet I have read most of the mean, vile and low-down dirty things that correspondence, pulpites, political acrobats and newspapers have had to say about the blamed old Democratic Club. On the other hand, I remember reading Bryan's famous eulogy on Tammany during the campaign of 1900. Recently, I have with considerable interest read Judge Winston's History of this same Tammany Institution. I also read your famous denunciation of the diabolical thing. I find that others, high in the councils of the Democratic Party, are not in agreement with your pre-convention diatribe against an institution that has numerously assisted in repelling the insidious attacks upon our institutions by the Republicans in Congress. Now, that the evidence is about in and, largely, too, against your position, we—my friends and your friends—are puzzled—and shall I say, humiliated?—to find that our leader in the days that tried men's souls is now consorting with our political enemies. Yes, we are humiliated. We understand that our political schooling heretofore has taught us never to take part in a primary or convention unless we were going to support the nominee. It's a good doctrine and is fundamentally ethical with real Democrats. Therefore, we cannot agree that those who disavow allegiance to the National Ticket are Democrats. Rather, do we judge them to be Independents, and, as such, it ill becomes them to intrude upon the courtesies of a Democratic convention as you did this past June. And another thing from the statement you were reported to have made to a few young men from Wilmington the other da-one gathers that, were you not the present recipient of an office at the hands of our party, you would vote for Hoover. Now, it seems to me that if your conscience was one-half as acutely outraged as you appear to desire us to believe, you would do the honorable thing and vote for Hoover. Why should a man stultify his conscience and compromise his principles just for the sake of holding on to an old rusty Senatorial Toga? Come on, Senator, and do the needful.

Respectfully yours,
J. F. STOKES.

CLOTHIER HATTER FURNISHER

BIG LEAGUES ON FINAL LAP OF THE RACES

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Down the home stretch race baseball's battalions and it's a short stretch for those that slip, even momentarily now.

Two months ago a game lost was accomplished by no particularly disastrous after-effects but with only two weeks to go, a defeat for a contender calls for tearing of hair in the home camp and long and prolonged cheers for pennant rivals.

Both races are as far from being decided as they were on the opening day of the season. Sunday's games left the Yankees a half game ahead of their bitter American league rivals; the Philadelphia Athletics, while the St. Louis Cardinals, stretched their national league advantage to two full games when the second place New York Giants bowed to Pittsburgh.

That Giant defeat, by 1 to 0, was a bitter pill for Larry Benton, right handed red head of John McGraw's twirling staff. Larry held the battling Pirates to two hits in the eight innings he worked and walked only two men and yet had only himself to blame for his defeat. Both Pirate hits and both of Benton's walks came in the third inning, when the only run of the game was scored. In that frame, singles by Wright and Freddy Fussell and a pass to Sparky Adams filled the bases with one out. Wright was forced at the plate on Lloyd Wager's boulder to Lindstrom. This brought Paul Waner to the plate with two out and the bases full. Benton pitched three wide ones and then put over two strikes, "big poison" taking them with his hat on his shoulder. Benton could not afford to give Paul one too good and as a consequence his next pitch failed to find the plate and Paul trotted to first, forcing Fussell home with the run that eventually won the game.

Dizzy Vance saw a well pitched game go by the boards as the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Brooklyn Robins 4 to 3, in ten innings.

The Yankees made sure of staying on top of the American league standing for another day when they beat St. Louis 7 to 5, and ended the series. The Yankees were off to an early lead and saw to it that the Browns never caught up. Lou Gehrig smacked out his 24th homer of the year in the fifth but Babe Ruth went hitless.

Back of Lefty Grove's pitching the Athletics coasted to victory over the down trodden Cleveland Indians, 7 to 1.

Good pitching by Alphonse Thomas and "Slim" Harris gave Chicago and Boston an even break in a double header. Thomas allowed four hits in the first game which went to the White Sox 7 to 1 while Harris allowed the same number in twirling Boston to a 2 to 0 shutout in the night cap.

Three Tiger pitchers were slugged for 15 hits as Washington took the second game of the series with Detroit 11, to 7.

With Coach Tebell continuing to direct his attention to developing a competent punter, his assistants, Dr. Ray Sermon and Butch Slaughter tutored the squad in signal practice.

Dr. Sermon said that a tentative lineup for the opening game here on Friday, September 28, with Elon, would be: Jordan and Goodwin, ends; Floyd and Lepe, tackles; Vaughan and Mayfield, guards; Metts, center; Adams, quarterback; Mouten, fullback; Captain Warren and Melton or Crum, malbacks.

STATE COLLEGE TO PERFECT PLANS TODAY

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 17.—(AP)—Outing length of workouts almost in half. State College football coaches today prepared to settle their varsity squad down to perfection of plays.

With Coach Tebell continuing to direct his attention to developing a competent punter, his assistants, Dr. Ray Sermon and Butch Slaughter tutored the squad in signal practice.

Dr. Sermon said that a tentative lineup for the opening game here on Friday, September 28, with Elon, would be: Jordan and Goodwin, ends; Floyd and Lepe, tackles; Vaughan and Mayfield, guards; Metts, center; Adams, quarterback; Mouten, fullback; Captain Warren and Melton or Crum, malbacks.
