HURRICANE DEATH TOLL ON AN INCREASE

TWO DEATHS REPORTED IN SOUTH CAROLINA TODAY; N. C. IS SLIGHTLY DAMAGED

Disruption of Telephone, Telegraph and Railroad Service Reported From Many Sections of Both States; Unprecedented Rainfall Recorded Everywhere.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Passing on into the Virginia Cape country, the hurricane that yesterday held the eastern section of the Carolinas in its grip, today had left behind a toll of two deaths and a mass of tangled communication wires and unestimated and unchecked damage to railroads.

Aside from the severance of communication lines to a number of points, and retarding railroad and highway travel, the storm appeared to have done comparatively little damage. Torrential rains accompanied it near the center of the disturbance with heavy to light rains as far as 250 miles inland.

Rain was falling today in every section of both states. In some places the downpour ran in the neighborhood of a half foot for the past two months have been rising and falling almost steadily, will again approach the flood level.

Many washouts were reported on railroads. An Associated Press correspondent who left Columbia yesterday morning, for Savannah, Ga., was reported to have gotten no farther than Denmark, S. C., where his train was held on account of washouts on the Atlantic Coast Line between that place and Savannah. Another Associated Press man who left Charlotte for Charleston at about the same time reported that the Southern Railway tracks were washed out in several places beyond Branchville, S. C., and that highways were impassable.

Wind damage was largely confined to uprooted trees, advertising signs destroyed and wires blown down. Charleston today still was isolated except for intermittent communication by commercial telegraph lines. Columbia, S. C., where hundreds of trees were uprooted yesterday, was out of again today.

Wires to other points where there are members of the Associated Press in South Carolina were working poorly.

Two deaths occurred in South Carolina when a Northwestern Railroad mixed train was wrecked near Sumter, S. C. The engineer and fireman were buried in the mud and water of a washout when the locomotive overturned.

In North Carolina, Wilson, Henderson and Raleigh were cut off this morning. A wire worked into Raleigh for a short time. Reports from that point were that there was no storm damage in the city. Other points in the eastern part of the state were reported isolated with highways flooded and extremely high tides at Seacoast points.

Local offices of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies and the American Telephone and Telegraph company and Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company today said that the most extensive damage in the history of the Carolinas had been done there lines.

There were no estimates of the damage, but it was said that lines were out in every direction. Some of them will not be restored for several days. Besides the damage to long distance lines, hundreds of telephones in cities throughout the territory were out of order due to broken lines or flooded cables.

Trains on the railroads running into the hurricane area were annulled or running many hours late. Atlantic Coast Line trains were reported 12 hours late at Fayetteville. One Southern Railway train and one on the Seaboard Airline were somewhere in the southern part of South Carolina at noon, but no reports were obtainable regarding their whereabouts. The "lost" Southern Railway train left Savannah, Ga., at 2 o'clock this morning and was immediately swallowed up in a great area out of which no report of conditions has come since the West Indian storm struck there early yesterday. No apprehension is felt.

A Seaboard train bearing three pullmans returned over the Southern, left Jacksonville last night for Columbia, but nothing was known late today as to the time it will

LIGHT SALES REPORTED ON LEAF MARKET

Floors Cleared of the Bright Leaf Offerings During Morning Hours.

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday sold 1,097,458 pounds of tobacco for $169,520.83, according to an official report of market activity made this morning by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade. The average price was given at $15.45 per hundred pounds.

Sales were reported light today owing to inability of the farmers to reach the city over flooded highways. It was stated that the floors would be cleared during the morning hours.

Farmers were urged to close their back houses and not try to work their tobacco during the damp, rainy weather. Much damaged tobacco was in evidence yesterday and this had led to do with the price situation, it was stated.

With three or four of the highways leading into this city flooded as result of the torrential downpour of rain occurring in this community the last 24 hours, farmers were unable to reach the market yesterday afternoon and last night. This resulted in only a small amount of leaf on the floors of the nine warehouses today.

However, with the tropical storm reported to be moving on to other sections and predicted fair weather, it is expected sales tomorrow will be somewhat heavier. Numbers of farmers, however, will heed the warning not to market their crop until weather conditions become more favorable and sales are not expected to be normal until this condition prevails.

Funeral Services Mr. S. L. Ragsdale Conducted Today

Funeral services for Sherwood L. Ragsdale, 33, who died late Monday afternoon, were conducted from the home at eleven o'clock this morning followed by interment in Cherry Hill cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. H. Frederick Jones, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, of which Mr. Ragsdale was a member.

The funeral was largely attended and a beautiful floral tribute bespoke the high esteem in which he was held by a wide circle of friends. The deceased was the son of the late Professor William H. Ragsdale, former superintendent of the Pitt county schools, and one of the state's foremost educators.

FOOD RIOTS IN STRICKEN PORTO RICO

National Guards Do Police Duty As Rehabilitation of Storm Area Takes Place.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 19.—(AP)—With reports of food rioting current, nine companies of the Porto Rican national guard today were policing 23 towns of the island. The guardsmen were called out by Gov. Horacio M. Towner after reports became prevalent that in several towns devastated by the tropical hurricane starving people had stormed and looted stores.

Instructions were also issued to 25 volunteer reserve officers to proceed throughout the island, delivering emergency supplies, informing the inhabitants of relief plans and surveying the needs.

Governor Towner in a radio message to the War Department last night stated there was "no disorder anywhere" and there was "absolutely no necessity for martial law."

Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief for the American Red Cross, stated that food riots were increasing. Mayors of a dozen towns in appealing for aid informed him that the people of their towns would mob them if they returned empty handed. They begged for something, either money or food, to take back with them. The mayor said that their people were in a desperate plight and were plunged in despair because of lack of relief.

Mr. Baker arrived with five assistants on the United States destroyer Gilmer, and they at once plunged into the work of organizing relief measures.

With about one-third of the island heard from the list of known dead stood at 314. Relief parties found, however, that reports which came through from various sections tended to confirm first estimates of a death toll of 1,000 and a property loss of $100,000,000.

In many instances it seemed probable no reports of deaths would come to the authorities. Pedro N. Moritz, health commissioner, said that in the country many of the dead were buried where their bodies were found and no attempt was made to inform the authorities.

ROME FLIERS FORCED BACK EARLY TODAY

Projected Flight to Italy Postponed On Account Of Trouble In Motor.

Cid Orchard, Maine, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Bellanca monoplane Roma turned back and landed on the beach here at 11:32 a. m., eastern standard time today 21 minutes after it had taken off on a projected non-stop flight to Rome.

Commander Cesare Sestini declared when the Roma landed that he could not say what had caused the apparent failure of the motor to function perfectly until he had a conference with the other fliers.

An inspection of the motor revealed that the air intake on the carburetor was broken and bent. The intake had been pronounced perfect on an inspection prior to the take-off of the plane had picked up a stone and thrown it against the mechanism with force enough to find it.

Gasoline was thrown over the side when the motor began to miss and when the Roma landed it was dropping with the fuel.

STORM SUBSIDES AT FAYETTEVILLE

Fayetteville, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A light rain was still falling here today although the storm that yesterday whipped over the city had subsided. The wind for a few minutes yesterday reached a velocity of 69 miles an hour blowing down dozens of trees. No injuries or deaths were reported. The Cape Fear river is rising rapidly. Atlantic Coast Line trains are running 12 hours late.

SMITH OPENS CAMPAIGN AT OMAHA, NEB.

Democratic Nominee Declares He Favors Principle In McNary-Haugen Farm Bill.

Omaha, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Governor Smith left Omaha at 9:37 o'clock this morning for Oklahoma City where tomorrow night he will deliver the second speech of his two weeks' campaign in the middle and far west.

The long special train carrying the Democratic presidential nominee will not reach Oklahoma City until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Enroute eight stops were scheduled in Nebraska, and Kansas, the first being at 11:05 this morning at Lincoln, capital of Nebraska where the governor had accepted an invitation extended by Gov. Adam McMillen, to visit the state capital.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 19.—(AP)—With a flat declaration that he favors the "principle" embodied in the twice vetoed McNary-Haugen bill as a working basis for adequate farm relief legislation and that he did not consider liquor "the great issues" in the present campaign, Governor Smith has opened his drive for the presidency in the west.

In an auditorium crowded to the doors and as millions listened in throughout the nation over the radio, the Democratic presidential nominee, in his first campaign speech in the heart of the corn belt, last night tore into the Republican party for what he termed its failure to keep faith with the farmer, including by name his opponent, Herbert Hoover, and President Coolidge in his indictment.

His own solution, he said, and one on which he and the Democratic platform stand squarely, was the principle laid down in the McNary-Haugen bill to "establish an effective control of the sale of exportable surplus with the cost imposed upon the commodity benefited." He added, however, that he did not "limit" himself to the "exact mechanics and method embodied in that bill," and proposed, if elected, immediately to name a non-partisan commission to work out the details of the problem.

The equalization fee was not mentioned.

The nominee's references to prohibition came at the end of his hour address, which was delivered for the most part extemporaneously with the aid of a previously prepared manuscript, when he answered a series of eight questions propounded to him in a full page advertisement in the morning newspapers by ten Nebraskans who styled themselves "citizens of both parties."

Smith adherents classified all of them as Republicans.

In his replies, he declared in substance that the president can do nothing about liquor, except to make recommendations to Congress and assume a leadership on the question, and further that he would not attempt to persuade any Democratic member of Congress to go against his constituents if they wanted prohibition.

The governor emphasized at the start of his address that he would speak in plain, understandable language so there could be no misunderstanding of where he stood on any question, and would carry this policy out for the rest of his campaign.

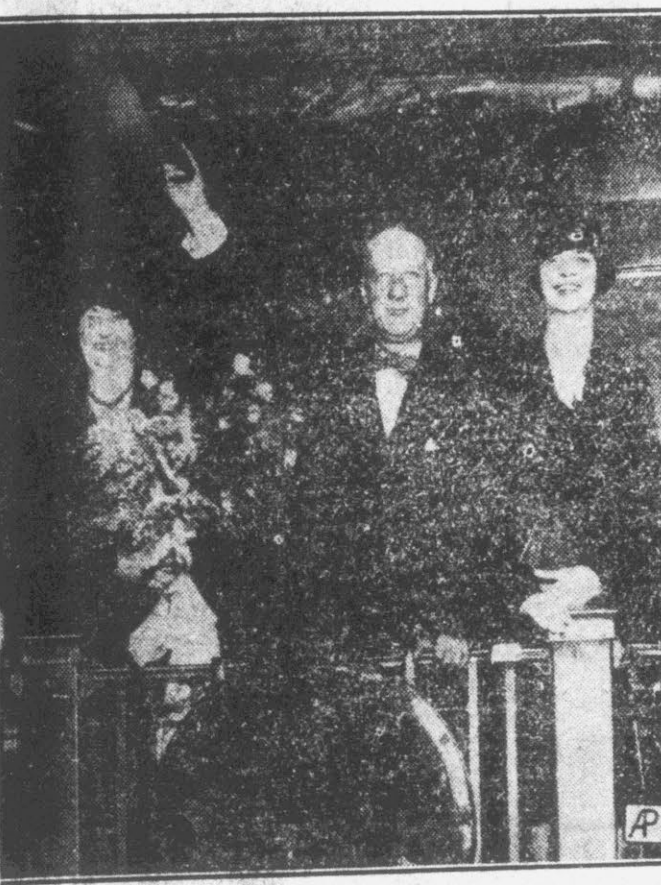

In his address the governor frequently glanced at the prepared manuscript before him and at intervals read quoted paragraphs from his own and Hoover's speech of acceptance, but while he deviated most of the time and interpolated and omitted here and there, he made no important changes in the ideas he wished to drive home. He read the entire last page of his prepared address where he made known his farm stand.

Hurricane Claims Big Toll Of Life In West Indies

Paris, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The tropical hurricane took a toll of 660 lives in Guadeloupe, French West Indies, the ministry of colonies announced today after receiving an official report from the governor of the dependency.

The deaths included 300 at Pointe a Pitre; 70 at Ste. Anne; 58 at Le Goz; 50 at St. Francois; 60 at Les Abymes; 28 at Bourg and 60 at Le Moule and some at other places.

Highway And Railway Service Disrupted By Rain And Wind Here

With partially disrupted telephone, telegraph, highway and railway service, Greenville and vicinity today began to check up on the damage wrought by the heavy rain and wind-torn which gripped this section yesterday and last night. Although it was impossible today to definitely determine the total extent of the damage it is expected it will run into thousands of dollars from crop loss alone.

Complete paralysis of railway service was reported over both of the railroads operating out of this city. The Atlantic Coast Line reported no service between Kinston and Weldon owing to weakened road beds and washouts along the line. The Norfolk and Southern declined to assure any service between this city, Raleigh and Norfolk before late this afternoon, this depending largely upon the improvement of conditions prevailing between these points.

Of the tropical hurricane which wrought so much damage in Florida and Porto Rico, and reported to pass over this section of the state last night between ten and twelve o'clock, the community suffered only slightly. The incessant downpour of rain was accompanied by high winds which probably reached greatest intensity between eleven and twelve o'clock last night and then almost completely subsided.

Traffic had been abandoned today over all highways leading out of the city except one, that being the road to Bethel. All travel out of the city will be sent over this route today, although it had not been determined how far it could go. It was impossible to reach Washington, New Bern, Farmville, Falkland or Ayden because of the havoc wrought by constantly rising streams along the routes.

Considerable alarm was felt in numbers of sections as the hours drew nearer for the reported approach of the hurricane last night, but when the wind during the early morning hours gained only a minimum velocity, fear subsided with the sale and the community slept until today when it began to cast about for a check-up of damage.

Possibly the greatest damage resulted in the breaking of the dam at the country club. Thousands of gallons of water today poured across the Ayden and Farmville highways, completely paralyzing all traffic between Greenville and these two points. It was stated that the water had washed away a portion of the Ayden highway, causing it to give away with a pronounced drop in elevation. Both of these roads were said to be under four or five feet of water, but it was indicated that damage would be repaired within a short time after the water falls sufficiently to enable workmen to begin repair work.

Traffic on the Farmville road was also reported to be cut off at Ballard's Cross Roads where an overflowing creek had inundated the highway to such extent that the road had been rendered impassable. The highways to New Bern and Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau issued the following storm warning today: "Advisory 9:30 A. M. warning changed to whole gale north of Atlantic City, N. J., to Provincetown, Mass. Storm central between Raleigh, N. C., and Cape Hatteras, N. C., moving north northeastward. "Northeast winds will likely increase to whole gale force this afternoon and tonight. "Northeast warnings continued north of Provincetown to Boston and northeast" warnings hoisted north of Boston to Eastport, Maine."

HEAVY RAIN REPORTED BY CITY BUREAU

Precipitation Yesterday Declared to Be the Heaviest In Ten Years.

Recovering from the spell of fear occasioned by the reported approach of the tropical hurricane last night, Greenville awakened this morning to discover that it had been visited by the heaviest rainfall in ten years. A report of the local weather bureau given out this morning indicated that the section had a total precipitation of 5.31 inches of rain from eight o'clock yesterday morning to eight o'clock last night. The highest total recorded here during the last ten years was given at 4.35 inches.

From two o'clock yesterday afternoon until eight o'clock this morning the precipitation registered 6.94 inches, the weather bureau reported. It was believed that surrounding communities were similarly affected.

While rainfall yesterday and last night was accompanied by a driving wind, damage from the wind was described as negligible except to telephone and telegraph communication. A few trees and sheds were said to have been blown down in some sections, but injury or loss of life had not been reported.

The rain caused numbers of streams to overflow over the county completely paralyzing highway and railroad traffic. Virtually all lowlands of the county were inundated today, and crops in many cases were under several inches of water.

While the rain had ceased during the morning hours today, leaden skies gave forth every indication of continued precipitation this afternoon and tonight. It is doubtful, however, if the rainfall will be as heavy and incessant as during the last thirty-six hours when the records of the last ten years were shattered.

Still Raining At W.-Salem

Winston-Salem, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Winds which at times attained gale proportions, accompanied by a downpour of rain, became milder this morning throughout this section.

The Southern Bell Telephone company, so far as reported, suffered the heaviest damage by the storm. Two hundred or more telephones were out of commission.

It is estimated that more than three inches of rain had fallen here and at 10 o'clock this morning there were no indications of a let up.

SALISBURY GETS HEAVY RAINFALL

Salisbury, N. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Rainfall in Salisbury during the last 24 hours totalled 4.31 inches, bringing the total during the storm to 4.68 inches.

Stiff winds from the north and northwest blew throughout the day and power companies reporting some trouble.

The mercury has shown a steady drop and registered 53 this morning at 8 o'clock. The clouds at that hour still were low and rain was falling. Streams were rising rapidly.

Deaths in the east coast communities were not expected to exceed 10, they said, bringing the total estimate of deaths to 335.

Surveys showed that the lake town of Pahokee paid heaviest toll, relief workers placing the dead at 200 and at Belle Glade, 11 miles south 80 were known dead, but all the bodies had not been recovered.

The list of identified included: Mrs. P. L. Burke and three children, of Chosen; Roy Burke, 30, of Chosen, brother of P. L. Burke; Mrs. Roy Burke, Chosen; W. R. Smith, Chosen; Mrs. W. R. Smith, Chosen; Mrs. Julia Bagley and two children, Sanda, 3, and Gerald, 5, Chosen; Raymond Martin, 13, Belle Glade; Minnie Martin, 6, Belle Glade; Mrs. Mary Yarbrough, 30, Bacon Point; Thelma Yarbrough, 11, and her eight-year-old brother, Bacon Point; Elizabeth, Max-Mo-Lendon, 24, Bacon Point; E. E. Schlechter, Chosen; Irma Schlechter, Chosen; Flora Farr, West Palm Beach; Mrs. Julia White, 76, Delray; John Anderson, Blaylock, 46, native Cumberland county, Tenn.; Kilpatrick, identification incomplete, elderly man, died West Palm Beach hospital; two unidentified white persons, Belle Glade; infant son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelms, Kelsey City, Miss.; six negroes at Delray; a negro boy at Deerfield.

The list of known missing included the following:

Mrs. W. W. Britto, Pahokee; Mr. Bagley, husband of Mrs. Julia Bagley, Chosen; I. W. Leatherman, farmer, Chosen; Ralph Cherry and family, Torrey Island; W. D. Williams, his wife and daughter, Chosen; a Mrs. Dawn, Chosen; Walter Vay Eyck, farmer, and his wife, Chosen; Mrs. E. E. Schlechter, Chosen; Esther Schlechter, 8, Chosen; John Buchanan, Chosen; James Lonerose, Chosen; William Snow, Chosen.

One hundred and fifty bodies were counted by relief workers and natives in the region south of Pahokee yesterday, but only eleven of these had been brought to morgues, while some of the others were removed from the water to canal dikes until transportation for their removal and burial was available.

Captain Sam F. Baker, of Fort Lauderdale, assisted by members of the American Legion, has taken charge at Pahokee where emergency hospitals have been established and four physicians and three nurses from here were on duty.

More than 50 white and 150 negroes who were injured were under their care. No drinking water was available there yesterday.

Hundreds of negroes from farms and nearby settlements wandered in there yesterday clamoring for food and seeking aid. Many of them were ill, scantily clad and without shoes. Joe Frank, of the American Legion, reported here yesterday that he and his fellow workers were caring for 750 negroes, who came from the low country surrounding Belle Glade. He said many of them walked 20 miles and carried white women to safety on their backs.

George Brewer of Miami, who headed the first relief expedition into Belle Glade, said that five bodies were in a pool room when they reached the stricken town and that they recovered 12 more within a radius of 300 yards.

"This was done," he said, "before actual recovery of bodies was begun."

Fifty caskets were being assembled in Miami to be sent to Lake Worth where it was planned to evacuate the dead.

Brewer appealed for light draft boats equipped with outboard motors with which to evacuate the injured and to remove bodies from the area.

Storm Abates At Greensboro

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The terrific rain and wind storm which has been sweeping over Greensboro and vicinity since Monday night, was abating early today. Three and 63 one-hundredths inches of rain fell during the 24 hour period ending at 8 o'clock this morning.
While the clouds were lifting a high and chilly wind, accompanied by rain, continued. Streams are swollen and crops have been damaged to some extent. The damage here was light.
The storm reached its peak last night. A giant oak tree was blown across West Market street near college, blocking traffic for two hours.

TWO DEATHS REPORTED IN SOUTH CAROLINA TODAY; N. C. SUFFERS SLIGHTLY

Railroad headquarters said that conditions were approximately normal in North Carolina today, but that they were bad in South Carolina and Georgia. The Southern is detouring to Florida through Hampton, Fla. Valdosta, Ga., Macon and Atlanta, because of a break in the Atlantic Coast Line tracks between Savannah and Jacksonville. The Southern uses the Coast Line tracks between Savannah and Jacksonville.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Leaving behind it broken lines of communication, uprooted trees and other small damage, the tropical hurricane which swept the Virginia coast last night had passed out to sea today.

The weather bureau at Cape Henry reported that the wind which reached a maximum velocity of 64 miles an hour early today had dropped to 24 miles at 8 a. m. and shifted from northeast to southeast. This was taken by bureau officials to mean that the storm center veered out to sea after leaving Cape Hatteras.

Check of the damage in the Norfolk area, was impossible due to interrupted communication, but it was believed to be small. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company reported thirty toll lines and 1,500 telephone lines out of order, but hoped to restore them in 24 hours. Shipping, tied up in the harbor of Hampton Roads during yesterday and last night, was expected to move regularly today despite a heavy sea.

Those residents of Willoughby Spit and Virginia Beach who came into Norfolk last night to escape the force of the blow, were returning this morning. By far the greatest number of the residents remained at the beaches and watched the storm as it battered against the shore during the night.

The heavy rains had become intermittent this morning and the weather bureau at Cape Henry reported that 2.96 inches had fallen in the 24 hours ended at 8 a. m. The tide after backing into the streets of Norfolk at flood had gone out after the wind dropped.

Only one death which was indirectly due to the storm, was recorded in the Virginia area. Frank H. Wright of Norfolk, died from injuries received when struck by a street car in a driving rain. No other injuries of a serious nature had been reported.

Issues Warning to Tobacco Farmers

By E. F. ARNOLD
(County Farm Agent)

All grading of tobacco should cease until the weather clears up. Tobacco graded for the next few days will damage seriously within twelve to fifteen hours.

The toll taken by disease, insects and from losses due to over-cropping have been enormous, and all of this added to low prices, it behooves our tobacco growers to use every precaution in grading and putting the remainder of the crop on the market in the very best of condition. There is plenty of time in which to market the crop. The buyers cannot pay you the full value of your tobacco unless they are reasonably sure they can handle it without further damage.

Take a few days off and study the situation over. We have overdone the tobacco business. See if you cannot figure out some way to make money with less tobacco and more of something else. We will be glad to advise any farmer who wishes to readjust his farm program for 1929.

RED OAK NEWS

We wish to announce several important meetings to be held at our church during the next two weeks. We will list them as they come. On next Friday night, Sept. 21st, we want to have a call meeting of everybody in Red Oak community at the church, at 7:30. We are going to make final plans for our booth at the Fair and we wish everyone that will help out in any way, either with time or articles, to be present. We had wonderful co-operation last year and we are hoping to have the same this year.

The next date is on Saturday morning, Sept. 22, at which time the quarterly meeting of the church will be held. All members and friends are urged to be present as matters of very great importance will be discussed.

Then on the next day, Sunday, Sept. 23, at ten o'clock, Sunday school meets. We have set our goal for one hundred. Will you be one of them? Come and bring your friends. After Sunday school we will have services conducted by Rev. Saunders. This will be Mr. Saunders' last service with us, as a new pastor will take his place the next fourth Sunday.

And then comes a meeting that we think will be one of the most important and enjoyable that we have had in some time. The Pitt County Sunday School Association will meet with Red Oak, beginning Tuesday night, Sept. 25, on through Wednesday night, the 26th. Miss Flora Davis and Miss Daisy Magee of Raleigh, will be with us and we are expecting a great meeting. On Wednesday 26th, we will have lunch on the grounds and every one interested in Sunday school work is invited to attend and bring a basket.

Please keep these dates in mind and try to attend every one of these meetings.

Several of our people attended services at Reedy Branch church Sunday night. We think Mr. Styrone a wonderful preacher and we shall go every opportunity we get.

We do not like to boast on our community too much, but sometimes we think that it is the best spot in North Carolina. Anyhow, we have some mighty good folks out here and at present I am thinking especially of Mr. W. G. Stokes, or "Cousin Billy," as we call him. He celebrated his sixty-third birthday last night and the birthday of his daughter, Miss Louise Stokes, and of his granddaughter, little Earline Allen, who was only one year old.

This was a very enjoyable occasion and the many useful gifts showed the esteem in which this neighbor of ours is held. About sixty guests were present and for refreshments delicious ice cream and cake was served on the lawn.

If you don't believe we have a good time in Red Oak community, just try living here a while.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Tastes delicious. Warren's Drug Store.

Owing to inclemency of the weather last night it was today decided to continue Greenville's all fashion show through tonight. It was made known today by members of the Merchants Association, having the event in charge. Those who braved the driving wind and rain last night to view the showing of local stores, were well rewarded for doing so. The display was described as the most complete ever shown in this city before.

It was expected that hundreds would take advantage of the opportunity of seeing the latest creations from the world's greatest style centers tonight and visit the many stores taking part in the display.

COREY HEADS LOCAL LEGION ORGANIZATION

A. B. Corey was elected commander of the Pitt county post of the American Legion in regular monthly session at the Rotary Club here last night. Despite the almost incessant downpour of rain quite a number of legionnaires attended the session and took an active part in the transaction of business coming up for attention during the evening.

Mr. Corey succeeds J. B. Kittrell, who was elected commander one year ago, and under whose influence the organization experienced healthy growth.

Other officers elected last night were: A. D. Frank, first vice-commander; Walter Cherry, 2nd vice-commander; C. N. Williams, 3rd vice-commander; W. B. Dupree, adjutant; J. L. Evans, finance officer; K. T. Futrell, chaplain; Dr. K. B. Pace, service officer; J. S. Elliott, sergeant-at-arms.

Rivers Nearing Flood Stage In East Carolina

Rivers in eastern North Carolina are rapidly approaching flood stage as a result of the rainfall of the last two days. Lee A. Denson, meteorologist in charge of the local weather bureau said today.

Because of lack of complete data, Mr. Denson was not prepared to make any definite predictions as to the time the flood stage would be reached, if any. The Cape Fear, Tar and Neuse, he said, will reach flood stage before the Roanoke.

Raleigh had a wind of 34 miles an hour last night, but no damage was reported except the blowing down of trees and poles. It was still raining this morning. Small streams in the vicinity were reported higher than during last overflow.

The power supply was weak and irregular due to trouble in the substation here following a small fire yesterday afternoon.

Denson said indications were that the rain would pass during the day.

YOUR HELP NEEDED

A call for funds to aid in the relief work in Porto Rico and the storm swept areas has been issued and it is to be hoped that our people will respond liberally to this worthy cause. We of this immediate section, have been greatly blessed in not being visited by such disasters as have hit other sections and the best way we can show our gratitude for this is to aid in every way possible the work of relieving the suffering in the stricken areas. Humanity is suffering, what you give may save a life. Give liberally and give now.

ALFRED EMANUEL SMITH

(Chicago News, Rep.)

Governor Smith is no political accident. His remarkable succession of victories in his own state, which normally is classed as Republican, cannot be explained by temporary, ephemeral, adventitious factors. He is no demagogue, no spellbinder. His career, though of the sort that is commonly thought to be typically American, is unique in some respects. He has attained his present high position by sheer personal force, native ability, hard work, genuine leadership in public affairs—in a somewhat limited arena—and strict integrity. Always a Tammany man, he is not of Tammany morally or even politically. He has made no reprehensible concessions to the spoils school. He has stooped to no ignoble deals for the sake of his own or his party's aggrandizement. A man of convictions, he has stood by those convictions regardless of consequences.

He has held many public positions, and in each has acquitted himself creditably. His rise has been steady and on merit. He has won the confidence and admiration of hosts of Republicans and Independents. In the legislature and in the constitutional convention of his State his grasp of governmental and administrative problems, his sincerity and sound views, gained the recognition of veteran statesmen and men of high culture and education.

As governor, he has been progressive, though always eminently practical in his idealism. He has demanded and obtained efficiency and honesty in State office. He has fought for constructive reforms, and in his fights he has had the aid of distinguished Republicans like Elihu Root and Charles E. Hughes. He has evinced genuine sympathy with the common man, the factory toiler, the child worker, the tenement dweller. He has done much for the welfare of the public in his State. He has had to deal with Republican majorities in the legislature exclusively, but he has been ready at all times to co-operate in a nonpartisan spirit with political opponents. His vetoes, distinctly numerous, have been upheld uniformly, for intelligent members of both political parties accepted them as based on sound reasons.

"Al" Smith is frank, straightforward, upright, masterful—a natural leader of men. There is nothing romantic or sensational in his record, yet many young men who admire effective service on the side of progress have come to regard him as their exemplar and guide. He has made a name as a doer, not a talker, and he has been unaffectedly democratic in his ways. Self-educated, of humble parentage, familiar in his youth with privation, a product of "the sidewalks of lower New York," Alfred E. Smith is today a striking exemplification of American opportunity and of the value of their possessor of the elementary virtues.

ABOUT TOWN

"Think it is going to rain?" inquired a friend of the Reflector as he hustled into the business office yesterday afternoon, bringing a sheet of rain with him. Two or three busy scribes turned around to greet the inquirer and replied, "May be."

The visitor walked over to the leased wire typewriters and began reading of the desolation wrought in Florida and Porto Rico by the hurricane.

"Gee, but I'm glad I live in North Carolina. We have our little storms but nothing like this has occurred to us. North Carolina is good enough for me."

"It was unfortunate that the torrential downpour of rain prevented everybody turning out to witness the style display in Greenville last night," commented a merchant today, "but those who braved the elements no doubt were well rewarded. The show will be continued tonight."

"Most all of the principal stores had prepared an extensive showing of the latest creations from the world's fashion centers, and those who saw them were highly gratified at the completeness of the exhibition."

"Greenville merchants are always on the alert to give their customers the best of service at all times and the fall fashion display is just one of their ways of attracting attention to the splendid values which they have in store."

The carrier boys had a difficult time getting your paper to you yesterday, Mr. Reader, but they got there and you were able to sit down after supper and peruse column after column of matter dealing with the devastation of the hurricane in Florida and Porto Rico.

Had you not been a regular subscriber to the paper you would have been forced to go up town and purchase a paper containing similar information.

This fact should be carefully borne in mind by those who haven't subscribed to the Reflector for the winter months. There will be lots of cold, bleak evenings spent at the fireside, and think how much more pleasant and profitable they would be with all of the latest world happenings at your command.

The Reflector will be delivered to your home every afternoon, rain or shine. Take advantage of this opportunity to protect yourself against cheerless evenings by subscribing at once while you think of it.

"Wow! Just two more days to circus day!" shouted a youngster today, gazing at a calendar, carefully designating with a grimy hand September 21st, the date set for the appearance of John Robinson's show.

The exclamation attracted attention of other members of the family, sitting in a cozy room of a local home.

"Are you going to attend the circus, Bill?" he was asked.

"Am I going to attend the circus?" the youngster replied. "Why not ask me how many times I'm going to attend. I am going to get up at four o'clock Friday morning, see 'em unload, erect the tent and everything else that goes with getting ready for the show."

"And then—" he paused—"I'm going to attend the show if Dad will pay my way."

Dad merely grunted at this method of approach, but Bill knew just as good as anything in the world that he would see the circus, and that the aforesaid Dad would bear the brunt of his gastronomic cravings as well as admission to the show.

"The biggest carnival in the country will play midway at the Pitt County Fair this year," Haywood Daily secretary and what-not of the local attraction, stated today. "We have had really big carnivals before, but this is the first time we have been able to get such a celebrated aggregation of entertainers to appear here."

"People looking for entertainment will find plenty of it of every variety this year. But midway will only be one feature of the great attraction. There will be the usual number of exhibits, greatly enlarged, countless free acts, horse racing fireworks and other things that should draw record-breaking crowds every day."

"Come out and see what Pitt county has to offer in the way of educational and agricultural exhibits, and return home fully informed of the real greatness of the section in which you live."

"The coming of Senator Lawrence Tyson, of Knoxville, Tenn., will be received with more than usual interest by Pitt county people," said a member of the Pitt County Democratic Committee today, referring to the speaking engagement of the former Pitt county man here next Monday.

"General Tyson is a native Pitt county—one of the many sons of this locality who has gone to another community and forged to the front as a business and political leader. He is well acquainted with the many issues of the present campaign and should be able to enlighten his hearers upon many points which they have been in doubt."

"The visitor will be introduced by Bert James, local attorney. This will be the third political address of the campaign in this county."

WITH JOHN ROBINSON'S CIRCUS

"Them gals out there, are sure to win the eyes," said Montana Red. He was speaking in general about the cowgirls with John Robinson's circus, but in particular about Miss Pearl Biron, who puts Cheyenne on the hotel registers, right after her name.

Miss Biron, good looking and also talented, is a wild west performer with John Robinson's circus, which comes to Greenville for afternoon and night performances on Friday, Sept. 21. Not only is she a clever rider and roper, but a whip cracker of no mean ability.

CONNIE MACK'S OUTFIT DROPS ANOTHER GAME

(By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Connie Mack's pennant hopes appear about ready to take wings, fly away and return only when another baseball season rolls around.

Connie's hopes, along with his Philadelphia Athletics, ran full tilt into disaster yesterday at Cleveland where grief this year has been confined almost exclusively to home town rooters. The Indians are going nowhere and know it, but they free out of the ruck of an eleven game losing streak to smack the Athletics for a 3 to 2 loss.

The New York Yankees staggered to a 14 to 11 victory over the St. Louis Browns. This left the Yanks holding a two game lead with only eleven games yet to play, one more than the Mackmen.

In the only other American League battle, Phil Page, Tiger recruit pitcher from Springfield, of the Eastern League, celebrated his major league debut by pitching Detroit to an 8 to 5 victory over the Washington Senators.

The National League situation remained in status quo, all three leaders recording triumphs.

The league leading St. Louis Cardinals made it five in a row over the Phillies, 4 to 2, and closed the season's series with the Quakers with 20 victories and only two defeats.

Bill Terry's home run in the tenth gave the New York Giants the edge over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 2. Burleigh Grimes, trying for his 25th victory, and his sixth over the Giants, gave way to a pinch hitter in the ninth with the score 2 to 1 against him. The Pirates tied it up in the ninth but Joe Dawson who relieved Grimes, offered one that Terry liked and the game was over.

The Chicago Cubs held fast to their position a game and a half from the Giants by facing Boston 8 to 3.

GRAY MAY GENERAL U. N. C. GRID TEAM

Statesville Boy Holds Edge On Whisman and Erickson As Tar Heels Enter Third Week of Practice for Wake Forest Game.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 19.—It appears likely that "Mac" Gray, diminutive Statesville, N. C., boy, may land the quarterback berth on the University of North Carolina football team this season. As the Tar Heels embark on the third week of training, with less than a fortnight left before the Wake Forest game here September 29th, young Gray seemingly holds a slight edge over his competitors.

The problem of a successor to Steven Furches since the Carolina squad reported September 3. That worry will be gone if Gray can come through this fall. Albert Whisman, letterman who split time with Furches last fall, pairs with Charley Erickson as the other leading candidates. Erickson is a sophomore from Oak Park High of Chicago.

Whisman was doped by many observers to run the Tar Heel eleven this year, but he was out of action the last days of the past week with injuries, and Erickson appears lacking the experience necessary for a first string quarter. Gray has never seen much actual service but he is starting his third season on the University squad.

For two full seasons Gray has been a reserve quarter, and fans will remember him as the youngster who tackled Toy Hunter from being the Duke game of two years ago. The present Blue Devil captain appeared headed for a touchdown that might have turned the tide of victory. Gray's speed about and his clean-cut tackle saved the day.

It must be considered, of course, that two weeks remain before the die is cast for the club that is to face Wake Forest, and a lot of shifting may occur in that time. If Gray keeps up the work he showed last week, however, he is almost certain to see much service that day.

DUNDEE ASKED TO MEET JACK THOMPSON

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—If the New York state athletic commission has its way, the bantamweight and welterweight thrones will be occupied by kings who have shown definitely that they are entitled to the royal purple.

Joe Dundee, Baltimore Italian, is the ruler of the 147 pounders according to the book but lost what little prestige remained to him when he was knocked out in two rounds by young Jack Thompson of Los Angeles, a negro. Dundee saved his crown but not his reputation by forcing the negro to come in overweight for that fracas in Chicago a few weeks ago.

Taking a hand in the welterweight muddle, the New York boxing solon, announced their intention of asking Dundee to meet Thompson in a return battle with the title at stake.

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Although Karel Kozeluh, Czechoslovakian star who holds the professional championship of Europe, and Vincent Richards, former Davis cup player and leading American professional, are the head liners in the professional lawn tennis championship which is to be held in the stadium at Forest Hills September 26, there will be several players of importance who will help furnish interest.

Why not select Cement?

THE woodwork shows, so you're very particular about it when you are building or making improvements. Cement does not always show, so you don't give it much thought. Yet stop to consider that if the cement is not right most anything may happen to your building.

Because cement is just as important in a little job as in a big one, you should select Security Portland Cement. Its quality is always the same and we can stand back of it. Security is made at Security, Md.; we always have it on hand and can get any quantity quickly. Be safe and select Security.

COTTON MARKET, N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A renewal of the recent selling movement accompanied by continued talk of hedging and an easy spot basis caused further declines in the cotton market today. Offerings tapered off around the 17 1-4 cent level for January contracts, however, and later fluctuations were rather irregular. The mid-afternoon market was quiet, with 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

Futures closed firm, 27 to 30 points higher. Spot steady; middling 17.95.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Notwithstanding farm deliveries of Canadian wheat aggregating the huge total of 9,236,000 bushels, the wheat market here scored a decided advance today. A change to unfavorable weather, both in Canada and Australia, was a bullish factor. Unwelcome rain was reported from Winnipeg, whereas anxiety was shown regarding lack of needed moisture in Australia. Canadian deliveries reported today were in extraordinary contrast with those of a year ago, when the total was only 664,000 bushels on account of wet weather.

Wheat closed firm 7-8 to 1 3-8 net higher; corn 1-8c off to 1-2c up; oats showing 1-4 to 5-8c gain, and provisions unchanged to 2c down.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Nervousness swept through the stock market today with price fluctuations as high as 5 and 6 points.

The nervous activity of the market apparently reflected renewed apprehension over the money situation heightened by the rise in call rates from the renewal rate of 7 per cent first to 7 1-2 and then to 8 per cent.

Some consideration appeared to have been given commission house advice respecting lightening of speculative commitments, but the selling did not deter extensive pool operations. These were most effective in a wide assortment of stocks selling between $20 and $50 per share, and many of these, previously neglected, rose 2 to 6 points to new high prices for the year.

Gains of 2 to 3 points were recorded by St. Joseph Lead, American Zinc, U. S. Smelting, American Metal, Philadelphia, Reading Coal & Iron, American Woolen and Trico Products. Temporary outbursts of buying carried Freeport Texas up 5 points.

Among the issues hit rather hard by the selling waves was Case Threshing Machine, which lost 9 points. Cerro de Pasco, U. S. Steel, General Motors and American Smelting and Refining were among pivotal industrials that yielded a point or more of their recent advances.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 3,700,000 shares.

ELIZABETH CITY COMES THROUGH UNSCATHED

Much Interest In Baby Show

The telephone rings continually at the Merchants association, which is the headquarters for the Pitt County Grand Prize Baby Show with inquiries about entering babies in this event, which from all indications promises to be the biggest success in the history of baby shows in this county.

This is the first Grand Prize Show of this nature ever to be held in Pitt County and its success is assured. On Friday afternoon, October 5th, the Pitt County Fair grounds will be turned over to the future citizens of Greenville and there they will compete for the greatest array of loving cups, bank accounts and baby wardrobe that has ever been offered any place or any time. Folks, if you haven't already entered your little ones in the Pitt County Grand Prize Baby Show, do so at once for there isn't any charge for the entry and there is considerable interest, centering upon the Grand Prize, which is a very large, beautiful Loving Cup and $50.00 in gold to the baby picked as the most perfect all around baby in Pitt County. There will be 21 Loving Cups and Bank Accounts awarded to the little ones on health and beauty alone; then the special prize for the best set of twins.
