CHECK UP SHOWS NEARLY TWO THOUSAND DEAD AS A RESULT OF THE HURRICANE

With Plague And Disease Spreading Out Over Florida and Porto Rico, Relief Workers Today Described Conditions As Horrible; Care for Homeless And Starving.

Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 22.—Disease and the rising tide of flood water menaced relief operations in the Florida Everglades today as the official estimates of loss of life in last Sunday's hurricane passed the 1,500 mark.

The first outbreak of disease occurred at Clewiston on the southwestern bank of Lake Okechobee, where many refugees had gathered. Fort Myers sent a doctor, two nurses and three trucks filled with supplies when Chief of Police C. G. Enos of that city reported that his relief expedition had discovered 40 cases of influenza.

Governor John W. Martin, who with other high officials completed a survey of the Pahokee disaster area on the eastern shore of Lake Okechobee, was authorized by the statement that the whole of the Everglades was flooded.

The governor's party was forced to negotiate the part of the trip along the corpse strewn highway to Pahokee by motor boat and truck due to flood conditions. In an official statement renewing his appeal to all Florida to contribute and speedily to the Everglades refugees, the governor described flood conditions as follows:

"For a radius of 25 to 30 miles back of the high ridge of land that separates Lake Okechobee from the Everglades, the land is completely covered with water. The people are unable to get out on the ridge because of miles of water which surrounds on both sides and sufficient boats are not available to handle the situation. The main highway, the only road to this territory, is under water for nine miles. The entire Everglades are flooded."

The governor was moved to tears during his inspection trip yesterday and he could hardly speak when he turned to General Davis and said: "Fred, did you ever see anything like this condition? Is the worst sight I have ever seen in my life?"

In a statement on his return to Palm Beach, the governor described the conditions of which he spoke: "Today in traveling six miles on the road between Pahokee and Belle Glade, where the hurricane was believed to have exacted its heaviest toll in lives, I counted 27 corpses floating in the water adjacent to the road, or lying by the road, which had not been taken from the water. The total number of dead lying on the roadside and not yet buried, but in plank coffins, numbered 136. This should be added to the 537 already interred. Twenty-seven additional bodies were hauled out today in trucks, and tonight four truck loads of bodies were brought from adjacent areas by boat, loaded and sent to Palm Beach for burial."

"When the water recedes and the dead are taken from under the debris cast up by the storm, the total number who perished in this disaster, carefully estimated by the most reliable people living in this section, will number at least 1,500, and bodies will be being discovered under the debris and in the water hourly. The area visited by me today does not begin to cover the stricken territory and I mention these conditions in appeal to the people of the state of Florida, urging them to respond quickly and generously."

"That the governor's appeal, together with his first one, made earlier in the week, was receiving attention was borne out in the reports of various Florida cities, and proffers of aid from the outside. Arkansas offered any facility she had, while the Salvation Army at Atlanta made a south-wide appeal for clothing to be sent into the disaster area."

Practically all the cities of Florida had contributed hundred of dollars in council overn before public appeals were issued. Tampa's relief fund had passed the $20,000 mark last night. Meanwhile, state, county and local authorities and the Red Cross continued to map out their co-ordinated relief program, while the state health department continued its effort to haul out the bodies of the dead with the aid of military forces, which are patrolling the entire Everglades district. Vaccinations proceed throughout the area, particularly against typhoid.

MULL APPEALS FOR SUPPORT IN NOVEMBER

The State Democratic Chairman Urged Voters to Go to the Polls and Vote.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22.—(AP)—A personal appeal by State Chairman O. M. Mull that every effort be made to get Democrats to the polls on November 6, was speeding by mail today to 9,000 precinct committeemen throughout North Carolina.

The letter calls upon the party representatives to carry its claims into the homes of their respective communities in or that Democrats who are not reached by addresses and by literature from State headquarters may have the party's claims for support laid before them.

Mull stated that Governor Alfred E. Smith, the presidential nominee, would probably speak in Greensboro on his forthcoming visit to North Carolina, if the candidate will consent to an open air address; otherwise the speech will likely be scheduled for Raleigh, or for Charlotte.

Democratic women orators have become active in support of the ticket. Mrs. Peter G. Gerry, wife of the Rhode Island senator, made a radio address at Asheville last night, in which she appealed to southern women to forget their prejudices in the coming election. "This is not a time for personalities; nor is it a time to consider our prejudices," she said. "We must all get together and put our shoulders to the wheel, and make it revolve until it reaches the portals of the White House."

At Laurinburg, Mrs. T. Palmer Jerman, Raleigh, national committeewoman, declared the Democratic party is greater than any individual and appealed for support for the full ticket.

"The issue is no longer Smith and Anti-Smith; it is Smith or Hoover," she said.

Miss Nell Battle Lewis, Raleigh newspaperwoman, discussed the qualifications of Governor Smith to be president. She expressed the opinion that much of the opposition to him is based on religious prejudice.

Democratic Speakers To Begin Swing Around The County During Next Week

The Democratic campaign will get in full swing next week when local speakers will carry the message of Democracy to the hundreds of people of the various communities of Pitt county. Eight different localities will be covered by the speakers in the schedule completed today by W. E. Hooks, of Ayden, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee. Each speaker will discuss the problems of the present campaign and attempt to correctly inform the voters of some of the controverted issues receiving attention throughout the nation.

Mr. Hooks stated, that preparations for the coming to this city Monday of General Lawrence Tyson, of Knoxville, Tennessee, had virtually been completed today. General Tyson is scheduled to speak at the courthouse at eight o'clock Monday night, bringing a message of serious import to every Democrat interested in the success of his party in the forthcoming election.

General Tyson, native Pitt county, is one of the number of Greenville men who left here years ago to carve his name in the hall of fame of big business and politics. He is a speaker of great ability, and is expected to bring a stirring message to his home town people.

The Democratic campaign opened in Farmville last night with an address by Hon. Josiah William Bailey, of Raleigh. The speaker was introduced by John Holmes, Jr. A large crowd attended the speaking, which was declared to have been one of the best ever heard in that section. Mr. Bailey discussed the issues of the campaign and paid tribute to the splendid record of

Dr. J. W. Peacock Killed In California

Lakeland, Fla., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Dr. J. W. Peacock, who figured as defendant in a sensational murder case at Thomasville, N. C., several years ago, was killed in an accident at Winthrop, Calif., yesterday, according to a telegram received here today by his sister, Mrs. R. E. Lufsey. His mother, Mrs. J. E. Peacock, also resides here. Dr. Peacock was declared insane by alienists and confined to the insane ward at the North Carolina penitentiary. He escaped and made his way to Florida, where he was adjudged sane. Later he left Florida for California.

Details of the accident were not given in the telegram by Mrs. Lufsey.

THREE WOMEN TO SPEAK IN PITT COUNTY

Prominent Political Leaders to Address Voters Here and In Farmville.

Three women prominent in the social, political and business life of the state will address Pitt county women next week, according to information given out today by members of the Democratic executive committee of Pitt county.

Two of these women will speak in Greenville next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. They are: Miss Mary Henderson and Mrs. Palmer Jerman, both well-known throughout the state for their activities in behalf of the Democratic party. Mrs. Jerman is national committeewoman of North Carolina, and Miss Henderson is vice-chairwoman of the State Democratic committee.

Miss Nell Battle Lewis, well known newspaperwoman of Raleigh, is to speak in Farmville Thursday, Sept. 27 at three o'clock. All of these women are well acquainted with the political situation in the state and nation and will bring informative messages to the women of the two communities in which they are to speak.

Greenville women were today urged to turn out in large numbers to hear the two speakers to appear here. Members of the local Democratic executive committee today gave unstinted praise to the efforts of the women speakers to more fully enlighten their sex of the paramount issues of the present campaign and said they expected large attendance in both Farmville and Greenville.

PRICES CLIMB TO NEW LEVEL ON LEAF MART

Market Has Sold $14,086,126 Pounds Of Tobacco During the Present Season.

The prices situation continues to remain firm on the Greenville tobacco market, yesterday's sales of 1,267,126 pounds of bright leaf averaging $16.45 per hundred pounds, according to information contained in the official report of K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade, given out for publication this morning. The total amount paid out by the market for the day was $210,480.87.

The report also showed that sales for the entire week totalled 4,886,976 pounds for $791,664.87. The average for the week was given at $16.22.

For the entire season the market has sold 14,086,126 pounds for a total amount of $2,085,375.97, for an average of $14.80 per hundred pounds.

While the quality of tobacco has improved considerably the last week or so, it is noticeable that numbers of farmers continue to offer much damaged tobacco for sale. Some days good grades predominate and on others inferior grades hold supremacy.

Tobaccoists today continued to urge the farmer to give more attention to the marketing of his crop. Wet, damaged tobacco has had much to do with the price situation the past week and farmers are advised not to rework their leaf until weather conditions are considered favorable.

Prices climbed to new heights on the local market because of the general improvement of quality the latter part of the week. The market average was from two to three cents higher the last two days of the week than the first three days.

The improvement has had a psychological effect upon all members of the industry and the final days sale saw more optimism and enthusiasm in evidence than any other time during the season.

Next week is expected to witness probably the heaviest sales of the season. With clearing weather and the tang of fall in the air, farmers from remote districts will make their pilgrimage to this shrine of bright leaf tobacco. The market has attracted attention of hundreds of farmers who have never sold here before and numbers of these are expected to be seen here during the remainder of the season.

TAR RIVER BEGINS FALLING AT TARBORO

Rocky Mount, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Flood waters of the Tar river, gradually falling here, moved on to the sea today with most serious condition reported from Tarboro where the stream is predicted to reach a 30-foot level late today or tomorrow.

Princeville, negro village just across the river from Tarboro, is inundated, and scores of families have been forced to abandon their homes by boats.

First district highway offices at Tarboro announced that Route 90, capital to coast highway and main traffic artery through the section, had been indefinitely closed just beyond Tarboro as a long stretch of the road is covered with water.

It was likewise officially announced that Route 40 was closed at the Roanoke river just beyond Weldon and Route 11 blocked to traffic at Grifton. Portions of several other routes are inundated but they are still regarded as passable.

Delay Faces Project At Smoky Mountain

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Indefinite delay faces the Great Smoky Mountain Park project, in the opinion of state officials here, because of the action of the Suncrest Lumber Company in taking an appeal from the recent decision of Judge E. Yates Webb, who ruled adversely on the company's injunction suit. The appeal will be heard by the Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond on October 13, with another appeal to the United States Supreme Court as a possibility.

South Takes Place On Front Line of Battle In The Political Field

By BYRON PRICE (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The political campaign has advanced from the period of organization into the period of major action, with east and west echoing in the passing by of the presidential nominees, and with the South definitely taking her place—as many predicted she would not—in the front line of battle.

While Governor Smith was stumping through the farm belt and the southwest this week, Mr. Hoover returned from his sally into the East to find a group of Texans awaiting him in Washington. Most of them were experienced Democratic politicians. They seriously presented to him the remarkable proposition that if he would make but a single speech in Texas, this Gibraltar of the Democracy might be shaken to its foundation.

Such talk about the South was not unexpected in the first emotional aftermath of Smith's nomination at Houston. At that stage of the campaign scarcely a single national leader of either party took predictions of a warmly debated South very seriously. Now, toward the end of September, these earnestly pronounced forecasts have become somewhat different ring. Although many on both sides still discount them, they evidence the persistence and thoroughness with which Smith's enemies in his own party have perfected their organization from one end of Dixie to the other.

A great deal of promising has been done during the present week in other quarters, but for the most part the Republican promises have been made by Republicans, and the Democratic promises by Democrats. Greeted on tour, each by his own tremendous outpouring of popular acclaim, Hoover has been promised the East, and Smith has been promised both the West and the South.

Many thousands turned out and cheered the Republican nominee in his two-day swing into New Jersey, where he preached Republicanism, prosperity and a Republican tariff. Cheering crowds surged about his Democratic opponent as he opened his campaign at Omaha with a pledge of farm relief, continued it at Oklahoma City with a denunciation of "whispering" and religious intolerance, and moved on toward Denver, where he speaks tonight.

Some of the praise that heaped itself on the two men came from noteworthy sources. After Smith had declared at Omaha for the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill, without directly accepting the bill itself, Adam McMullen, the Republican Governor of Nebraska, was moved to say that the Democratic nominee was showing an increasing understanding of the farm problem. John L. Lewis, Field Marshal of the United Mine Workers, pronounced Hoover's Newark speech an evidence of keen understanding of the problems of labor.

Both Smith and Hoover were promised Wisconsin—positively proclaimed hereafter by the Democratic—after the Republican State convention had voted down the LaFollette delegates and endorsed Hoover.

Over the radio, South and East and West have had opportunity during the week to further glimpse the personalities of the two nominees, and incidentally to judge between two vastly different methods of presidential campaigning.

Those who listened to Mr. Hoover's Newark speech Monday night heard the rounded phrases of a studiously-prepared campaign utterance, mustering statistics and economic arguments in neat array, devoid of direct reference to the political opposition, and delivered in an even vein of unbroken seriousness.

SMITH OPENS CAMPAIGN IN DENVER, COL.

Democrat Denounced "Whispering" Methods In Fiery Speech Last Night.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Governor Smith's train En Route To Denver, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Having unburdened himself of a sweeping counter charge against campaign whispering and more outspoken criticism of his public record, Governor Smith came into Colorado today prepared to tackle what he regards as a more constructive issue—water power.

The Democratic presidential nominee's special train was due at the Colorado metropolis at 11 a. m. A trio of Democratic leaders, including John Barnett, former national committeeman, had planned to join him at Colorado Springs, the only scheduled stop in the state before reaching Denver.

Governor Smith worked late last night on the third speech of his western tour as his train cut through the heart of Kansas and across the Kansas-Colorado border last night. Thirteen stops since yesterday noon—four in Oklahoma after leaving Oklahoma City at 11 o'clock and nine in Kansas—where large crowds were greeted, had led up his work on the address and he had not expected to complete it until some time this afternoon.

A firm believer in public ownership and control of water power resources, the governor was understood to be ready to dwell on some length on the subject. His attitude has been that states, rather than private enterprises, should develop hydro-electric power, and turn it over to public utilities for distribution at reasonable rates. Under the plan he has favored, states should reap the profits from such reservoirs and if the private corporations charge too high a rate or distribution, their contracts should be cancelled.

Crowds swarmed around the governor's private car at every Kansas station, including Arkansas City, Winfield, Mulvane, Wichita, Newton, Hutchinson, St. Johns, Kinsley, and Dodge City. Bands, each having a different key for "The Sidewalks of New York," peeped up the greetings at nearly all stops as delegations of local and county leaders got aboard to travel with the nominee for varying distances.

Dies of Injuries Received In Wreck

Waynesville, N. C., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Hugh Buchanan, 18 years old, of near Waynesville, died in a hospital here Friday night from injuries sustained in an automobile wreck here late Friday.

Buchanan was in a car driven by Boone Milner, of Waynesville. Coming out of a side road into Highway No. 10 near the Waynesville country club, Milner attempted to pass another machine and collided with a car coming from the direction of Balsam.

Buchanan, unconscious after the accident, was taken to the hospital, where he died about 8 o'clock Friday night. The accident occurred two hours earlier. Milner also was taken to the hospital, where he was a patient Saturday. His condition, however, was not considered serious. A passenger in the car coming from Balsam, whose name was not learned, also was slightly injured.

Buchanan is survived by his widow and one small child.

FLOOD WATER STILL RISING ON TAR RIVER

Large Lorce Of Workmen Fighting Today to Save Dam to New Bridge.

With railroad and highway traffic nearer normal than any time since the passing of the tropical hurricane over this community Wednesday night, attention of Greenville people today was centered on Tar river where the raging flood waters had overflowed banks on the northern side, inundating hundreds of acres of lowlands between this city and Washington.

The flood waters today stood at the northern end of Tar river within about a foot and a half of bridge with indications that the bridge would be reached before the river reaches its crest tomorrow. A twenty-two foot rise was predicted by the United States Weather Bureau Thursday, and the gradually rising stream today appeared as if it interded fulfilling expectations.

Frantic efforts were being made by a large gang of highway employees to force as much water as possible to the channel of the river to prevent it rising more rapidly on the dam constructed in connection with the new bridge over Tar river. Sand bags have been placed up and down the entire length of the structure, but the water has rapidly eaten its way into the soft embankment, threatening to rush through at any moment.

Members of the highway department indicated today that they hoped to be able to prevent the dam breaking under the pressure of the millions of gallons of water rushing over banks of the river. This, however, depends upon the rise of the flood within the next several hours. Resistance of the dam was weakened considerably by the torrential rainfall accompanying the tropical hurricane Wednesday. Realizing this fact, workmen immediately began placing sandbags at weak points, hoping to prevent enlargement of the small fissures that commenced appearing almost immediately the water began rising. The rise was so rapid Thursday that it proved almost impossible to sandbag the structure ahead of the rapid climb of the flood.

Whether the rising waters at the northern end of the old bridge would affect travel tonight and tomorrow, could not be determined today. It was stated that this depended upon the extent of the rise within the next several hours. Should the river rise to the twenty-two foot mark this would place it within two feet of the high water mark in 1919 when the raging torrents crossed the floor of the bridge and at times threatened to sweep it from its foundation.

Railroad traffic today was nearer normal than any other time since the hurricane. Both lines were operating near schedule than yesterday. One road reported normal operation of trains and the other half way normal. Bus schedules also became improved today with connection with northern and western points.

Cape Fear River Reaches Crest At Fayetteville, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Cape Fear river at Fayetteville was stationary at 64.7 feet at 8 o'clock this morning, Lee A. Denson, meteorologist in charge of the local Weather Bureau, reported. The river will remain stationary for several hours, he said, after which it will begin to fall. The Neuse at Smithfield was falling, a stage of 22 feet being registered this morning as compared with more than 23 feet recorded during the night.

At Tarboro, the Tar reached 27.3 feet at 8 o'clock and was rising. Denson said it would come to a stand tomorrow. At Greenville, the reading was 20.3 feet, with 22 feet indicated for Monday or Tuesday. The Roanoke gauge reached 38.9 at Weldon. A 42 foot stage was predicted for tomorrow.

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—When Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkins is in the Antarctic on his aerial exploring expedition, one of the most interested in his exploits will be Miss Suzanne Bennett, actress, and like the captain, an Australian.

On the eve of his sailing she announced they were engaged. Capt. Wilkins refused to discuss the matter.

Bibles for the Proctor Hotel to Be Delivered on Sunday.

The Christian Traveling Men's Association, the "Gideons," have sent 80 Bibles for the bedrooms of the Proctor Hotel, and they will be delivered by the congregation of the Presbyterian church following the 11 o'clock service on Sunday. The pastor of the church is asking that 80 of his people be ready to take these Bibles to the hotel, marching there by twos. Any person desiring to go may do so. At the church, before leaving, a ceremony of dedication will be held, and an offering for the work of this organization will be taken.

HEAVY RAINS HOLD UP TIRE SHIPMENT

The Credit Tire Stores of this city have been somewhat short on a stock of tires for the last few days, because of recent floods having delayed transportation.

A big shipment arrived today with every size. These people do an enormous business on tires and storage batteries, on a time payment plan, which necessitates their receiving shipments twice weekly.

Mr. Earle Carter, manager, advises that they are now in a position to furnish any sizes, both wholesale and retail.

KIWANIS CLUB STAGES EVENT FOR TEACHERS

Annual Entertainment of College and City School Faculties Held Last Night.

Officers and members of the faculties of city schools and the Eastern Carolina Teachers College were entertained by members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club last night at the Rotary Building, the occasion being one of the most delightful in years.

The entertainment consisted of dinner, a welcome address by President J. Frank Harrington, and a program of fun and frolic put on under direction of that inimitable entertainer, R. J. Fitzgerald, more familiarly known among club members as Bob, who in ordinary, everyday life acts in the capacity of Superintendent of county schools.

The program was turned over to Mr. Fitzgerald immediately after President Harrington had extended the teachers a cordial welcome. After a short talk filled with humor and good-will, Mr. Fitzgerald had different members of the club to read letters showing some of the things which the teachers are up against from session to session as they go about their business of instructing the future generation of the city of Greenville.

The first batch of missives were supposed to have contained excuses which members of the club had written the teachers for their children. Each note drew storms of laughter. The second batch was supposed to have contained some of the reasons why a few of the teachers came back to Greenville for another term. The contents were laughter-provoking, both in style and sentiment, and probably received more vociferous reception than excuses from fond parents.

The next outstanding feature of the program was an old-fashioned spelling bee, conducted by Miss Prnestine Forbes, principal of West Greenville school. The spellers consisted of Misses Isabel Stover, Lotta Veazey, Eva Keeter, Dr. M. B. Massey, J. H. Summerell and Marvin Blount. The pupils were required to spell by rules used when grand-

WOMEN'S PAINS

They Were Relieved by Cardui Which This Georgia Lady Took on Her Mother's Advice.

Columbus, Ga.—"I don't see why women will drag around, in a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help put them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of this city.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time."

"I could not work, and just dragged around the house."

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred."

"My mother had long been a user of Cardui, and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble. So she told me to get some and take it."

"I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health. I took the second bottle, and felt much better. I followed this by two more bottles."

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all."

ma was a girl, pronouncing each syllable with proper attention to division.

Such words as "Incomprehensibility, hippopotamus and chrysanthemum" were hurled at the class right at the beginning, and Dr. Massey was so overcome with emotion when he was given "chrysanthemum" that he came mighty near gasping suspension of activities.

After five minutes spent in consideration of the beauty and grandeur and glory of the word, the student began spelling. To the surprise of the assemblage and the consternation of the teacher he actually spelled it correctly.

"Hippopotamus" not only represented a very large object, but it proved to be of huge proportions to the spellers. It went the round of the entire class and provoked as much noise as the "hippo" might have done himself in a moment of extreme terror or anguish. Misses Stover and Veazey, French and music teachers, respectively, found it difficult to leave the lofty realms of their pet subject to consider the lowly "hippo" but they did it in a way that indicated their versatility under pressure of such a momentous occasion as the spelling bee happened to represent.

The next feature was a number contest put on by Dr. Futrell and Jack Kilgo with assistance of Mr. Fitzgerald. Jack and the Doctor were supposed to make noises corresponding to some domestic animal. They did it in a way that kept the audience convulsed with laughter. They then called a number and the lady whose name was opposite the number held by Mr. Fitzgerald was awarded a prize. Those receiving prizes were Misses Agnes Fullilove, Louise Galphin and Miss Summerell.

Steamers Collide.

Seattle, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Seattle Harbor Radio station today intercepted a message from the steamer Kentuckian saying she had collided with the steamer Los Alamos off Point Sur, California. The Kentuckian reported her port bilge was leaking. Further information was unobtainable because of interference. Point Sur is about 150 miles south of San Francisco.

The Court of Last Resort

THE court of last resort in business is the public. Their decision is final. If the public places its approval on a product, accepts it, and buys it in increasing numbers, there are good reasons for it.

And if this happens in a highly competitive field like the automobile, then there are special reasons for gratification.

Durant Motors is experiencing this very thing, and we want the world to know about it.

We started with a modest production in January—the month of motor shows, and with each showing the demand increased, until the country gained the knowledge that the Durant new models were worthy of public interest.

And this is what happened during the year:

During the first six months of 1928 the entire automotive industry—motor cars and motor trucks—produced 6.4 per cent more units than in the same period of last year.

During this same period of time Durant Motors produced 49.9 per cent more cars and trucks than in the same period of last year.

The industry as a whole produced 132,906 more cars and trucks during the first six months of 1928 than in the same period of 1927.

Durant Motors alone produced 23,000 more cars and trucks during the first six months than in the same period of last year. Durant Motors alone scored a gain of 17 per cent of the increased production of the entire industry. Returns from the forty-eight states of the Union show that Durant gained 20.5 percent in registrations during the first six months of 1928 over the same period of last year.

Durant Motors is growing seven times as fast as the automotive industry itself. We appreciate this increased public confidence.

In the next few days we are going to make a newspaper announcement relative to new Durant models.

They will appeal to the public strongly for these new cars possess the features the careful buyer wants, and expects in his car today.

The public will be given a new conception of motor car value.

Your motor dollar will buy more than ever before in the size of car, in beauty of body design, in power, in appointments, in speed, in durability and accessibility, and all up-to-the-minute features.

And this statement is made with a full appreciation of what is going on in the entire automobile industry.

The name "Durant" will continue to stand for those principles in motor car designing, engineering, building and in the selling of popular priced automobiles to justify an ever-increasing demand from the public.

KEEPS PROMISES

"We of New York know Gov. Smith as an administrator whose campaign promises are translated into performances. We have seen him accomplish great things for the State, including a radical reorganization of its government in the interest of business efficiency. We have seen him wring from hostile and reluctant legislators whole batches of reforms that are now functioning for the benefit of the State and its people * * *

"In the light of that past we have the best warranty for saying that in the greater post of duty and opportunity to which Gov. Smith honorably aspires he would not only be inflexibly true to the popular interest but he would transform his patriotic intent into fruitful accomplishments with the same perseverance and vigor that yielded historic results in his home State."

ABOUT TOWN

"The circus has come and gone and Greenville youngsters today cherish visions of lions and tigers elephants and bears, and countless other features that go to make up an attraction of the kind," declared a reader of the paper who always makes it a point to turn out to the circus, it matters not whose it may be.

"While the youngsters are cherishing these kind of visions, the more mature of the population is experiencing a certain disquietude of the gastronomic regions as result of overindulgence in red lemonade, popcorn and peanuts.

"One just can't enjoy the circus without satisfying the craving of the innerman while we always start out buying peanuts for inhabitants of the menagerie, we generally wind up by purchasing liberal portions of candy, lemonade and other things for ourselves. It seems to be the human part about us. And certainly we feel more like creatures of the earth when we leave the circus grounds and return home.

"As to experiences of the next day, it is useless to recall them. We all have them unless our stomachs happen to be made of different kind of material from the general run of them."

"Don't forget the coming of General Lawrence Tyson next Monday evening to deliver the third political address of the Democratic campaign," reminded a local politician today.

"This distinguished son of Pitt county is scheduled to speak at the court house at eight o'clock in the evening. Special accommodations will be provided for the ladies so that they may be able to hear the issues of the campaign discussed by a man who has carved his name in the political life of the state in which he resides.

"General Tyson is familiar with the important issues of the present campaign and his message no doubt will be filled with considerable information dealing with the various problems.

"Hear this speaker and be convinced of what the Democratic party has done for the life of the nation."

"The price situation has shown pronounced improvement on the Greenville tobacco market the last two or three days," said an out-of-the-county grower, here to dispose of his offerings.

"This is most gratifying to growers, especially that great number who try to raise the kind of tobacco most in demand. No farmer can expect to get prices in proportion to others when he fails to produce offerings as he should. Wet, damaged tobacco can not be expected to command the price of that properly handled. Therefore, it is incumbent upon the farmer to give all care possible to his crop.

"Greenville has responded liberally to the call for funds to assist in carrying relief to the stricken territories of Florida and Porto Rico," said Mrs. J. L. Hassell, chairman of the Pitt county chapter of the American Red Cross.

"Today is the last day we shall solicit funds for this purpose, but everybody who has pledged to give to this cause, is urged to do so immediately so that the remaining contributions may be forwarded to national headquarters.

"Conditions in the hurricane area are indescribable. Disease and death threaten the localities, and unless

"If you haven't subscribed, get busy and do so at once and rest assured of having done your part in behalf of suffering humanity."

"Signing of members in the Democratic club of Pitt county is proceeding nicely," W. E. Hooks of Ayden, chairman of the Pitt county Democratic executive committee, told the writer of this column today.

"Party members are being signed up in every precinct of the county with no other obligation than to stand firmly behind the principles which the party is supporting during the present campaign.

"Books have been open at the courthouse all this week and quite a number of Greenville people have affixed their signatures for support of the organization."

"Do your shopping in Greenville," urged a member of the local Merchants Association today, speaking of the extensive stocks of merchandise which Greenville merchants have on hand.

"Never before were our stores shown off to better advantage than on last Tuesday and Wednesday nights when the fall fashion display was held. The windows were unusually attractive and the crowds that thronged the stores during the two evenings were highly pleased at what they saw.

"These fall fashion displays mean much to the city. They convince the public of the desire of our merchants to give their patrons the advantage of looking over the best in their stock under the most favorable conditions.

"If you can't find what you want in your home town, come to Greenville and get it. This is the invitation extended by all stores and they know what they are talking about when they issue it."

DISEASE DEPRIVES CHAIR OF VICTIM

Raleigh, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Disease has deprived the electric chair in the state prison of a potential victim. Julius James, negro, died in Robeson County Home while awaiting action of the supreme court upon his appeal from a death sentence imposed on him several weeks ago following his conviction of the murder of R. C. Jones, chief of police of Rowland.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

YANKS CLING TIGHTLY TO LEAGUE LEAD

By HERBERT W. BARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Professors Cornelius McGillicuddy and Miller James Huggins are taking turns in juggling the big American pennant ball.

Both have made a lot of slips in recent weeks but so far they've escaped serious injury. It would be long now though when their next slip will be fatal. That applies particularly to McGillicuddy. It was his turn to do the slipping yesterday and he did so at Detroit while Miller's act went over at Chicago without mishap.

The net result was that the New York Yankees again are in a comparatively safe spot at the top of the American League standing while Connie's Philadelphia Athletics languish two full games to the rear.

The A's defeat at Detroit was all the more surprising because Connie sent his ace of aces to the mound—Robert Moses Grove. But Lefty, who has weaved strange spells over the swatmen of every team in the league but the Yankees this year, found the Tigers in a ferocious mood. They clouted him for two runs in the fourth inning and drove him out of the box in the next when Harry Rive hit a home run with the bases filled.

With this savage hitting to brace him, Elam Van Gilder, was in a position to breeze to an easy 9 to 4 victory.

While Connie was being put to this humiliation, Tom Zachary oiled up his aged left hand at the command of Mr. Huggins and summarily pitched the Yankees to a 5 to 2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

The Washington Senators consolidated their hold on fourth place by taking the Cleveland Indians down the line in two games, the score being 2 to 1 each time.

Charley Felling took things in his own hands at St. Louis, hitting a home run with two on in the seventh to give the Boston Red Sox a 5 to 3 victory over the Browns.

While the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants were having an off-day before resuming their crucial series at the polo grounds, the Chicago Cubs took advantage of this idleness by bowing to Dazzy Vance and the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2 and 1.

The Cincinnati Reds established a new major league record for double plays at Boston where they divided a double header with the Braves. Boston took the first game 5 to 3, but the Reds had the consolation of completing their 183rd double killing, beating the old record of 182 set by Washington in 1923. They added two more to their string in the second game which they won, 3 to 2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates made it two in a row from the Phillies, 6 to 5, it being the Phils ninth straight defeat.

Cardinals Have Single Game With the Giants Today

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants meet in mortal National League combat again today but there will be no anti-climax like Thursday's double header which turned into something of a dud when each team won one game, leaving them precisely where they were before they started. Only a single game is on the cards today and so the test will be decisive.

Bill McKechnie is ready to shoot Clarence Mitchell, only southpaw pitcher in the big leagues, at the Giants and that is not good news for John McGraw. Mitchell has faced the Giants four times since he caught on with the Cardinals and has beat them three. Against Mitchell will be pitted Fred Fitzsimmons who, with Larry Benton, has carried most of McGraw's pitching responsibilities this season.

The two clubs enter this crucial clash with the Cardinals holding a two game lead.

HORNSBY AND WANER STILL NECK TO NECK

By the Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—With only ten more days of the season left, Rogers Hornsby and Paul Waner were still neck and neck for the batting championship of the National League last Wednesday night when the current averages were compiled. The Boston manager led on that date by one point, having risen to 383 by a spurt as the Pirate star fell to 382, according to statistics issued today.

With hard campaigning ahead, the race may remain a toss-up as long as the stirring battle for the pennant hangs in doubt, or even longer. Hornsby had played in 128 games against 143 for Waner.

Other leading batsmen were: Klein, Philadelphia, 355; Sisler, Boston, 353; Lindstrom, New York, 353; Rootger, St. Louis, 341; Herman, Brooklyn, 340; Hafey, St. Louis, 340; Richbourg, Boston, 338; Traynor, Pittsburgh, 337; and Hogan, New York, 336.

Although Hornsby regained the top by a shade over Paul Waner, the Pittsburgh flash retained many other individual coronets. He led in total hits with 218; in scoring runs, with 133; in doubles, with 51; and in triples with 19. Hack Wilson of Chicago still topped the home run hitters with 30, with Jim Bottomley of St. Louis only one behind. Bottomley led in runs batted in with 121, and Cuyler of Chicago in stolen bases with 32.

Larry Benton of the Giants remained on top in the pitching table with 24 victories and 7 defeats for 374, followed by his team-mate Fred Fitzsimmons with 20 and 8 for 714. Hanes of St. Louis was next with 18 and 8 for 692.

Carl Mays, now a Giant bench hand, normally topped the league with a percentage of .800, but Carl earned it in only five decisions—four victories and one defeat while in the livery of the house of Hendricks at Cincinnati.

Benton led the pitchers not only in percentage, but also in complete games, where he had a margin of 24 to 26 over Burleigh Grimes of Pittsburgh. Benton and Grimes were tied in total victories, each with 24, but Grimes was bogged down to 649 and ninth place by 13 defeats.

The Pirates, well out of the pennant fight, led in team batting once more this time with 311. New York was second with 296, and St. Louis third with 283.

The Cubs were on top in team fielding with .975, one point more than could be shown by St. Louis and Cincinnati, which were tied for second. The Reds had 179 double plays and needed only four more in thirteen games to clip Washington's major league record of 182.

VANCE IS JINX TO CHICAGO CUBS

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—When Dazzy Vance pitches against the Cubs, the game is just about settled.

Only four times in five years have the Cubs managed to hit Dazzy often enough to win. Yesterday he held them to two hits and struck out 11 as he all but ruined their national pennant hopes.

MANUSH TAKES BATTING LEAD IN AMERICAN

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—From no pace in particular has come Home Manush, veteran St. Louis outfielder, to take the lead in American League batting just when "Goose" Goslin and Lou Gehrig figured they had the race all to themselves.

In pounding his way to the top of the Junior circuit the St. Louis slugger during the week ending Wednesday hit safely, 13 times, including two home runs, a triple and three doubles, in 23 times at bat, scored 8 runs and boosted his average eight points to .372.

While Manush was slugging the ball to all corners of the ball parks in six games, Goslin was losing three percentage points to trail the Browns' outfielder by one point, according to figures released today and including games of Wednesday. Gehrig, the Yankee first baseman, who has been pushing the Washington Senators' sore armed outfielder all season for batting honors, likewise lost a point and now trails Goslin by two points and Manush by five.

The leading hitters: Manush, St. Louis, .374; Goslin, Washington, .372; Gehrig, New York, .369; Simmons, Philadelphia, .352; Lazzari, New York, .333; E. Rice, Washington, .327; J. Sewell, Cleveland, .326; E. Miller, Philadelphia, .324; Combs, New York, .320; Bishop, Philadelphia, .319.

Alvin Crowder of St. Louis, aded another pitching victory to his string during the week and thereby maintained his lead over "Lefty" Grove of Philadelphia with 18 victories and five defeats. Grove's record is 123 and 7 for an average of .767, just seven points more than Waite Hoyt of the Yankees, who has won 16 while dropping six.

Because the Athletics lost a couple of points in team batting the New York Yankees went into undisputed possession of first place with an average of .297, two points above the Connie Mack crew.

The Athletics made an attempt to catch Boston in the team fielding race but their 972 points average lacked one point of tying the Red Sox, who apparently hope to garner some kind of honors this year.

Buddy Myer, Boston third baseman, apparently has the stolen base honors in the sack with 26. His only rival is Johnny Mostil, the speedy Chicago White Sox center fielder, but Johnny has only 21 for runner-up honors.

Tourists Defeat Montgomery Club

Asheville, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Having evened the count with Montgomery by a 7 to 4 win yesterday, the Asheville Tourists groomed their heaviest artillery for action today in the last game on North Carolina soil before the Sally-South eastern series is shifted tomorrow to Crampton bowl, Montgomery.

Manager Ray Kennedy of the Tourists said he would not announce his pitcher until time for the game, but made no secret of the fact that he was especially anxious to leave North Carolina one up on the Bears. Each team has won one game.

The Lions found Harry Smythe's southpaw offerings too much for them in all except the seventh inning. They trounced him for four runs then but were unable to overcome the lead that the Tourists had piled up in the first five frames.

Despite their defeat, the Lions out-hit the locals 11 to 10 but loose base running and fast Tourist infield work killed their chances of scoring in all except the seventh inning.

Rainy Weather Crimps Tar Heel Football Plans

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 22.—The heavy rains this week have put a decided crimp into the daily football practice at the University of North Carolina, and the Tar Heel coaches find themselves facing a tremendous task in preparing the squad for the opening contest with Wake Forest, September 29th, now only seven days off.

The second week of training closed with the coaches at least in sight of solutions to some of their problems; for it seemed that "Mac" Gray might solve the quarterback need, and a number of the boys were getting goodly distance and height on their punts. The shifting of Farris and Howard at tackle and guard began to assume a likely appearance, and the big need as this week opened was practice. That is just what the daily rains have denied the Tar Heels.

The morning practice session must of necessity cease tomorrow when upperclassmen register, and the University begins its regular class schedule. That leaves only one more week of afternoon workouts to complete the preparations to meet the Baptist eleven Saturday week in Kenan Memorial Stadium here.

Toledo, Ohio—Joey Thomas, Chicago, outpointed Andy Martin, Boston, 12.

Milwaukee—Louis New, Milwaukee, and Paddy Walthier, Chicago, drew (6).

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—In a rapidly fluctuating market and a big volume of transactions, wheat prices today finished greatly unsettled at the same at yesterday's close to 3-4 lower. Faced by heavy profit-taking sales toward the last, advances failed to hold. It was estimated that 1,500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been brought overnight for shipment to the Orient, but otherwise export demand was slack. Corn at the close today showed more than 7c a bushel break for the September delivery, scattered selling disclosing a lack of support.

Final quotations on corn were erratic, ranging all the way from 1-4 to 7 5-8 decline, with wheat unchanged to 3-4 off; oats varying from 3-4 setback to 1-8 advance and provisions unchanged to 20 down.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Heavy profit taking sales in some of the recent leaders impeded the resumption of upward price movements in today's stock market, but the major trend again was on the side of rising prices.

Extreme gains of 1 to 6 points in pool specialties were offset by early declines of 1 to 3 points in General Motors, Montgomery Ward and National Dairy Products and later in the session by a drop of 7 points in Radio, heavy selling of which caused recessions in several previously strong motors and oils. The irregularity was due probably to readjustment of speculative accounts in anticipation of the Jewish holiday on Monday.

The recent rise in commodity prices, particularly wheat, and the movement today of copper to the highest price level since 1923 had a bullish influence. Call money was not a factor, as Friday's rate holds over the week end. However, easier money is looked for next week.

Trading was unusually heavy for a half holiday session, the ticker tape running nearly a half hour behind the market.

Despite the heaviness of General Motors, which climbed 3 points to around 215 early in the morning on customary "selling on the good news" of President Sloan's statement suggesting the possibility of a stock dividend, a number of motor and accessory issues rose to new highs for the year or longer. Among them were Chrysler, Murray Corporation, Electric Auto Lite and Kelsey Hayes Wheel.

Convicted Of Murder.
Greensboro, Sept. 22.—(AP)—J. E. Wright, alias L. C. Oohns, of High Point, was convicted here in superior court today on a charge of murdering Bill McGinnis, High Point cafe operator, last July 15, and sentenced to 30 years at hard labor in state's prison.

At the conclusion of the testimony the defendant entered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree and this plea was accepted by the state.

John Robinson's Circus Pleases Big Crowds Here

John Robinson's circus played two engagements in this city yesterday at the Higgs field, on the outskirts of the city.

The show arrived here yesterday morning about eight o'clock, two or three hours behind schedule, after cancelling three engagements in other towns of this section because of storm and high water conditions. The show was up to its usual standard. Several new features were introduced, principal among them being the pageant "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba."

The circus had considerable difficulty getting ready for showing because of the soft condition of the ground caused by the torrential downpour of rain in this community the middle of the week. Elephants were several times brought into play to extricate wagons that went up to their wheel hubs in the mud. This proved of interest to hundreds gathered on the show grounds, although it played havoc with the systematic movement of the show crew.
