SMITH PLANS FOR SECOND STUMP TOUR

Tentative Plans Considered Today By Democratic Presidential Nominee.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Tentative plans for Governor Smith's second stumping tour, as prepared by the Democratic national committee were under consideration by the governor today. He hoped to announce his itinerary, starting next week from New York, either late today or tomorrow. One day will be spent in New York conferring with party leaders and the special train is expected to head southward either Monday night or Tuesday morning.

Several cities have been mentioned as places to be visited, but the governor has announced that none is official until it comes from him. Some of his supporters hold that he is deferring announcement of his second itinerary until the last minute so as not to show his hand too soon to his opponents.

Many reports have it now that the nominee will travel southward through parts of Virginia and North Carolina for a day or two of meeting and greeting well wishers before making his first speech Wednesday in Tennessee. His second speech of the week, these reports say, will be at Louisville, Ky., a week from tomorrow.

It is almost certain that the governor will cut down on the number of speeches on his trip so as to have more time to devote to their preparation, and two a week for the next three weeks are understood to be played instead of three as on the first trip westward.

It is further understood that the nominee will spend his second week of the next trip at Chicago and a city in Missouri, probably going to Chicago first. Sedalia, where there is a large enclosed live stock pavilion, is one of the Missouri cities prominently mentioned as a possible choice.

Indianapolis and Cleveland have been uppermost in the gossip for the third week, beginning October 22. The final week is expected to find the nominee up and down the Atlantic coast between Baltimore and Boston, with a speech perhaps every night. The talk is that the tariff and prosperity questions will be the text for the Boston address. While Newark, N. J., probably will hear another discussion of prohibition.

It was a criticism of his attitude on that question that drew the governor out again yesterday with the statement that if a state wants prohibition he believed it should have it, with the full guarantee provided in the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

GIVES RULES FOR ELECTION IN THIS STATE

Charles Hines Explains Law Regarding Registration and Voting.

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Charles A. Hines, of Greensboro, chairman of the State Board of Elections, today issued a statement in which he outlined and explained the North Carolina statutes governing registering and voting. Following is the text of the statement:

Registration books in all voting precincts in North Carolina will open for the registration of voters from 9:00 a. m., Saturday, October 6, to Saturday, October 27th, at sunset. In a few precincts in the state an entirely new registration of voters has been ordered, and in such precincts every qualified person in such precinct must register in order to be able to vote in the approaching election. In all other precincts persons duly registered for a preceding state and national election need not re-register.

In all precincts voters who have come of age since last election, or who have moved into the precinct since the last election, or who have not registered before in the precinct, must register if they are to vote.

The registrar of every precinct is required to be at the voting place of the precinct from 9:00 a. m. till sunset on every Saturday of this month. Voters are requested to report to the chairman of the County Board of Elections any registrar who fails to attend the voting place at the times required. At other times during the registration period voters may register by seeing the registrar at his place of business or home.

It is lawful for the registrar to visit any person qualified to register who is too ill to go to the registrar, and register such person in his home or other place.

The fact that a voter is registered for a city or town election in North Carolina does not necessarily mean that he is registered for a state and national election, as in most cases different registration books are used for city and town elections.

Even though a voter thinks he is registered it is well for him to see the registrar and ascertain if his name is on the books. Every prospective voter should also inquire from the registrar or chairman of his county board of elections if a new registration has been ordered in his particular precinct.

Qualifications for voting are: Ability to read and write state constitution, citizenship, residence in state one year and in precinct four months, and age of 21 years, at least. Persons who become qualified for registration after October 27th and on or before November 5th, may register and vote on election day. At law, a person becomes 21 years of age on the day before his 21st birthday, as the law disregards fractions of a day.

Whiteman Concert Tickets Reported Selling Rapidly
Holders of the fall series of entertainments tickets are advised to show these tickets and secure their definite reserved seat tickets early for the Paul Whiteman concert on next Thursday evening, Oct. 11, in order to get their choice, for the sale of seats for the single attraction started off so well yesterday that it looks as if there will be a full house.

The entertainment committee has carefully planned for the addition of extra rows of seats in the auditorium in case there is need. The whole of the gallery is reserved for the college students so as to leave as much space as possible in the main auditorium for the public. A great many people from other towns are expected. The college and Greenville are working together to make this the center towards which the people of eastern North Carolina will look for star entertainment attractions.

MRS. PRESLAR ROBINSON TO BREAKS DOWN AT HEARING

Defendant in "Love Powder" Murder Case, Gives Way To Attack of Hysteria.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Emsey F. Preslar, on trial charged with murder in the "love powder" poison case, went to the attorneys of the state for cross-examination in superior court here at 10:30 o'clock this morning and almost immediately broke completely down in a flood of bitter tears and hysteria. She was carried from the courtroom by sheriff's officers and Attorney Jake F. Newell, her chief counsel, until she could compose herself, at the suggestion of Judge W. F. Harding, who is presiding.

The woman was sobbing loudly and her crying could be heard to the farthest corners of the big courtroom auditorium before she was finally assisted from the stand.

No new evidence came out in the hour of direct examination this morning, as the most of it went over points that were made late yesterday afternoon. Her cross-examination had hardly begun when she broke down.

At the time she was being questioned about letters that she said she had written to make her husband jealous, and which were not addressed to any particular person or ever mailed.

With sobs of "I had done everything I could to stop him, I tried living a Christian life for ten years," and "I realize I've done wrong," she cried bitterly and went into hysteria. She had previously admitted from the stand that she had been intimate with Preslar before her husband died, but that she had told her husband about it and that he had forgiven her.

MRS. MURPHY TO SPEAK IN CITY TONIGHT

Snow Hill Woman To Champion Cause Of Democracy At The Courthouse.

Mrs. W. B. Murphy, of Snow Hill, arrived today where she is scheduled to speak to Democratic voters at the courthouse tonight at eight o'clock. Preparations for her coming were completed today by members of the Putnam County Democratic Executive committee, and a large crowd is expected to be in attendance.

This is the second time women have appeared on the speaker's platform in this city during the present political campaign. Last Friday night Mrs. Palmer Jerman, of Raleigh, and Miss Mary Henderson, of Salisbury, spoke in the auditorium of the new high school. They told in an interesting way the bid the Democrats are making for supremacy this year, and described Al Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, as the "most representative citizen of the nation".

Mrs. Murphy is a speaker of exceptional ability. As secretary of the Daughters of the American Revolution in North Carolina, she has gained considerable recognition throughout the state, and her participation in the Democratic campaign has aroused more than ordinary interest. While her subject for tonight had not been announced today, it was stated that she would deal almost exclusively with campaign issues and the splendid record of Al Smith as governor of New York.

W. E. Hoks, chairman of the Putnam County Democratic Executive committee, said the next speakers to appear here would be Hon. O. Max Gardner, of Shelby, Democratic nominee for Governor of North Carolina, and Clyde Hoy, while definite dates for their coming had not been decided upon today, Mr. Hoks stated that they were expected in a few days. The date of their visit will be decided upon when the county chairman confers with State Chairman Mull at Raleigh.

One of the most distinguished speakers of the campaign is scheduled to appear at Farmville October 16th, at eight o'clock. It is no other than Congressman W. M. Whittington, of Mississippi, keynote speaker of the Democratic convention of that state. The coming of this prominent member of the party is anticipated with much interest over the county, and party members here are expecting a large crowd to hear him.

Congressman Lindsay Warren, of Washington, representative of the First Congressional District, will speak at Grifton October 10th, at 7:30 o'clock. Stanley Winborn, of Murfreesboro, will know in the political life of the state, will appear in Ayden on the same date.

Mr. Hoks urged all Democrats to turn out and hear these speakers and in that way become acquainted with the more important issues of the campaign.

Park Commission Faces Injunction

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Summons to the North Carolina Park Commission to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against it by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to stop proceedings in the state courts looking to the condemnation of lands in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park area belonging to the Suncrest Lumber company has been issued following application for such action, Thursday afternoon, by the lumber concern before the Circuit Appeals Court on October 16, the first day of the fall term of the court at Huntington, W. Va., at which time the commission must answer the contentions of the plaintiff as outlined in its application.

As the condemnation proceedings in the state courts filed here a few weeks ago was initiated by North Carolina as a state with verification by the commission, the state is also made a party to the summons in the Circuit Appeals Court of the United States.

German Dirigible Not To Take Off For U. S. Sunday

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The flight of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin to the United States has now been set for any time after October 9th, instead of on Sunday as had been originally planned.

"It depends entirely on wind and weather what route we take," said Dr. Hugo Eckener today. "Naturally I would like best to choose the northern route which is the shortest one across. Unfortunately there is usually bad weather along this route so that we may have to pick a different course which would be most likely toward the south."

OVER MILLION POUNDS OF TOBACCO AVERAGED $21.29 ON SALES HERE YESTERDAY

With Splendid Weather Market Continues To Hold Its Million Pound Daily Average; Offerings Reported Heavy Today.

The Greenville Tobacco market shattered another price record yesterday.

With 1,040,600 pounds of bright leaf on the floors of the nine warehouses, the market paid out to the farmers a total sum of $221,614.88. The average on this amount was $21.29 per hundred pounds. These figures were taken from the official report of K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, made public this morning.

The average price was nearly two cents higher than the record, established the first part of the week and was a source of much gratification to the hundreds of farmers selling here. It was stated that some of the grades brought as high as $14.00 per hundred pounds.

There was approximately a million, three hundred thousand pounds of leaf on the market today, with indications that sales would be completed late in the afternoon.

Despite the fact that many farmers are confining their attention largely to the harvesting of their cotton and attending the annual Pitt County fair, sales for the week have been almost up to normal. With exception of one day, the market has handled over a million pounds a day to be maintained without any trouble.

With continued Indian Summer weather it is expected that sales will remain around the million pound mark daily for many days to come. With the offering of superior quality of leaf, it is also expected that the price situation will continue firm.

It was believed by many that the bulk of common grade tobacco has been disposed of and from now on only the better grades are expected to predominate. This fact will play a large part in the price situation, and no doubt will witness considerable sky-rocketing from time to time.

The market is nearing the twenty-four million pound mark. Today's sales will place it within striking distance of the twenty-five million pound mark. The goal for the season has been placed at seventy million pounds.

HOOVER GETS SET FOR HIS SECOND DRIVE

Cause Of Republicanism To Be Presented At Elizabethtown, Tenn., Tomorrow.

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover made ready today for the second of his flying campaign trips, this one to Elizabethtown, Tennessee, where tomorrow will present his cause to the voters of the Democratic South, although he will speak in a Republican stronghold.

Accompanied by Mrs. Hoover and their son, Herbert, Jr., and a number of newspaper correspondents, the Republican presidential candidate will leave Washington late tonight for the mountains of Eastern Tennessee. Before his return Sunday, he will have made at least three speeches in as many towns and reviewed an historical and industrial pageant at Elizabethtown.

At Roanoke, Va., the nominee will be joined by a number of Republican leaders of the Old Dominion and his first talk will be in that state, at Bristol, where he will be presented to a rear-platform audience by C. Bascom Slemm, national committeeman, and for many years the only Republican member of the House of Representatives from Virginia.

The address at Elizabethtown is regarded by some of Hoover's advisers as one of the most important of the entire campaign, and, although it will be broadcast only over the South, it is intended for nation-wide consumption. It is the second he has prepared since his return from the notification ceremonies in California and the fourth one of the campaign.

Hoover will arrive at the rapidly developing Tennessee industrial town just before noon and after passing through the main street he will be the guest of the chamber of commerce at a luncheon. He is to talk at 3:00 p. m. in a natural amphitheatre and his audience will include visitors from North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky as well as from Tennessee.

The third speech of the day will be at the soldiers' home on the outskirts of Johnson City, Tenn. That address, which is expected to deal rather extensively with veteran relief matters, was in the process of preparation today and the candidate hoped to have it completed before boarding his train here tonight.

After the talk to the veterans, the Hoover party will motor into Johnson City where the nominee and his guests will be entertained at a banquet by the chamber of commerce. It has been stated that Hoover will make no address either at this function nor at the luncheon to be given him at Elizabethtown.

Expresses Regret At Ritual Murder Rumor In Massena

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Mayor W. Gilbert Hayes of Massena, N. Y., has expressed his "deep and sincere" regret over the questioning of a rabbi concerning a "ritual murder" rumor.

The mayor's letter was made public by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, president of the American Jewish Congress, after a hearing on the case in Albany ordered by Governor Smith. Louis Marshall, president of the American Jewish committee, demanded that Mayor Hayes either apologize or resign.

Mayor Hayes in his letter as made public by Dr. Wise said, in part:

"I am confirmed in my conviction that I have committed a serious error of judgment into which I was led in part by the excitement incident to the disappearance of the Griffith child of my community."

Reject Probe Proposal

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The house campaign funds investigation committee today rejected a motion by Representative Black of New York to inquire into the activities of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt on behalf of the Hoover candidacy and reports concerning a whispering campaign which he charged was being conducted against Governor Smith.

STATE SEES GREAT YEAR ON GRIDIRON

By HORACE C. RENEGAR
Raleigh, Oct. 5—(AP)—It was relief to find one Southern Conference member with optimism more than balancing doubt—North Carolina State is making no idle boasts but frankly believe a successful gridiron season lies ahead.

The red booted Wolf pack will get its first real test tomorrow when Captain Bob Warren, versatile fullback, leads the forces of Coach Gus Tebell against Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.

And Coach Tebell admits his team should at least have an even chance for victory although he is not discounting the strength of the Generals.

The Raleigh pack will have a heavy line and a medium weight set of backs to pin its hope upon—the forward wall from end to end will average around 183 pounds, while the backs will scale an average of 180 pounds, carries a long and steady throw in his arm as well as a bullet-like overhead shooter. In his foot he possesses the consistency of 40 to 45 yards on every boot, while Crum, a half-back, though slightly less consistent, can pass and punt more than satisfactorily.

Yet, that doesn't mean the Wolves won't miss Jack McDowall, the slender, super-back of 1927. It'll be a long time, according to the outlook now, before another passer will come to Raleigh who can place them to right shoulder of the receiver—be the distance what it may.

Coach Tebell, old Wisconsin star, will have three veterans on end and a promising junior, Jordan and Goodwin, regular flankmen of 1927, are reformed backfield star, who scales 195 pounds. Silver will be the fourth man ready for end call.

The guard position will be the best bolstered, if experience counts. All four guards of the squads have had experience. Vaughan, Ford, Mayfield and Vahn will be the mid-line pillars. Metts, regular center of 1927, will be sending the ball.

MRS. FICKLEN HOSTESS TO END OF THE CENTURY CLUB

The End of the Century Club held its first meeting of the club year at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen on Fifth street Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Arthur had charge of the meeting. As the program of the year is left to the choice of the individual members, Mrs. Arthur presented Judge W. A. Darden of this city, who gave a very interesting talk on why Smith should be elected president.

Mr. James Ficklen, a member of the town library committee, made a gratifying report on the growth and needs of the library. He emphasized particularly the fact that the library was begun and fostered by the End of the Century Club and later by the other clubs of the town, including the Woman's Club. It still needed the co-operation of the women.

The books of the year brought by the members of the club, were distributed by Mrs. Arthur, and after other routine business, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ficklen.

The officers for the year are Mrs. J. L. Little, president; Mrs. J. L. Hassell and Mrs. Robert Wright, vice-presidents; Mrs. F. C. Harding, secretary; Mrs. B. W. Moseley, treasurer.

BABY SHOW IS BIG FEATURE OF PITT FAIR

Sheesley Shows To Play Tomorrow With Admission To Fair Ground Free.

With the widely advertised "baby show" as one of the rousing features, Pitt county fair got off to its fourth day's start this afternoon with indications that one of the largest crowds of the week would be in attendance. Hundreds of babies representing virtually all sections of the county took part in the show this afternoon. The attraction will be climaxed by a parade of contestants in front of the race track grandstand. Prizes were to be awarded to babies for health and beauty.

Another large crowd attended the fair yesterday afternoon and last night. It was believed by many that the throng was as great as on the night before when record attendance for many years was thought to have been shattered. The program last night consisted of free acts in front of the grandstand followed by the nightly pyrotechnic display.

Yesterday afternoon the hundreds assembled to witness the horse races were treated to an extra feature in the nature of an automobile speed test, executed by a cut down Chevrolet car without gears, with an aeroplane propeller at the back. The car was driven by a negro by the name of Willie Frank Walton, who made the half mile around the race track in exactly fifty seconds. The noise of the peculiar looking machine speeding around the track drew attention of thousands of people on midway and the negro was the cynosure of hundreds of eyes during the remainder of the afternoon.

The fair officially will come to a close tonight, but the Sheesley shows will continue to play midway thru Saturday evening. There will be no admission to the fair grounds tomorrow and it was expected that thousands would be in attendance during the day and night.

Curtis Campaigns In Calumet Region

Enroute With Senator Curtis In Indiana, Oct. 5—(AP)—Senator Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, campaigned through the thickly populated Calumet region of Northern Indiana today on an automobile tour in company with party candidates of the Hoosier State.

After a day of play yesterday when he went to Lincoln Fields race track to watch the horses run, the senator was back to the political grind in earnest with a schedule carrying him to Gary, Ind., where he is expected to speak tonight.

The veteran campaigner, who reached Chicago early this week considerably fatigued from his long and arduous trip through the West, undertook today's assignment with some reluctance and only with the understanding that he would not be called upon for more than one talk.

Hear Mrs. W. B. Murphy at the court house tonight. She has a message of importance for the voters of Pitt County and we urge you to hear her.

MR. HOOVER OUGHT TO TELL

Out in Iowa Senator Brookhart has started a lively dispute by declaring that Mr. Hoover not only favored the McNary-Haugen bill this year but urged the President to approve it. Such action on Mr. Hoover's part appears so completely at variance with his general attitude toward farm relief that it is not surprising that the Senator's story has been challenged.

Of course the dispute could be settled instantly by a word from Mr. Hoover himself. If he did not work for the McNary-Haugen bill, why should he permit his overzealous supporters in the grain belts to try to give him credit before the voters with having done so? If he did work for the measure, why has he allowed his supporters in the industrial East to regard him as antagonistic to it and in sympathy with the President? This is a case where silence is not golden. It makes the Republican candidate appear to be running with both the hares and the hounds. If that view is unfair he has only himself to blame. He can early place himself right before the country by giving the facts. —New York World.

ABOUT TOWN

Members of the local chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, are to be congratulated upon the splendor of the pageant at the Pitt County Fair Wednesday night," asserted a Pitt county man today.

"This is the first time the visit of George Washington to Pitt county has ever before been portrayed in pageant form. It gave the thousands of people who saw it a pretty good idea of the way our people entertained the distinguished visitor. It carried them back over a long period of years when Greenville was only a village, described by Washington as the 'muddy little town on Tar river.'

"The town has been transformed since that time and is now one of the most thriving of Eastern North Carolina towns. It is wonderful how the years bring about changes, and still more wonderful how these changes have been for constant improvement.

"Leaping far into the future, I do not believe I would be presumptuous in saying that similar growth is in store for the city. With such resources and possibilities nothing short of calamity should prevent the realization of our ambition of becoming the principal trading center of this section. All great achievement is borne of ambition of this kind."

The first game of the World Series was presented on the Reflector playograph yesterday.

Hundreds of people lined the street in front of the office to witness the contest and saw the crippled Yankee capture the game. Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, two of the best known players of the diamond today, distinguished themselves with timely stick work. Meusel contributed a home run after Babe had doubled, giving the Yankees a lead the Cardinals found impossible to overcome.

The display of strength on the part of the Yankees was greeted with surprise in all parts of the country. Reported to have been badly crippled by injury of players, the Yankees displayed a brand of ball that not only appalled the visiting club, but caused their supporters to wish they could change some of the bets placed so confidently before the game.

While there are people who believe the Cardinals will win, there are others who maintain that the Yankees are still invincible and capable of walking off with another world's championship.

Not feeling the slightest bit prophetic, we wouldn't like to make any predictions but from the way the Yanks are handling the willow it looks like the Cards have the fight of their life before them.

"While agricultural exhibits at the fair this year are not quite as large as last year, they are sufficiently complete to give the visitors a good idea of what Pitt county people are doing in this branch of life," said a well known member of the industry today.

"It gladdens the heart of anybody to walk through the agricultural building and see the splendid offerings from the various communities.

Ambitious housewives of the farm have arranged displays that would do credit to any. They have brought together a collection of products that show very plainly why Pitt county is classed among the really great farm centers of the nation.

"It is to be hoped more attention will be given to this department in future years. If it should become necessary, another building should be erected, or the present one enlarged, to take care of every community desiring to participate. Prizes this year were very inducing. As the fair grows older, they will be increased most likely, making it still more of an inducement to the farmer to compete for honors.

"Let us all pull for the agricultural department next year and make it truly representative of this wonderful locality."

"If you are interested in any of the babies entered in the contest at the Pitt County Fair, go out today and watch the parade to be staged in front of the grandstand," advised a member of the contest committee today.

"This is the first time a baby show of such scope has been held in Pitt county. Numbers of fond parents have entered their children and expect to be among those receiving recognition in the awarding of prizes for the best children.

"Voting was lively all through the contest and the last minute efforts of parents and their supporters are expected to witness many radical changes in standing of contestants.

"Don't forget the baby show. Turn out this afternoon and watch the closing of the most brilliant attraction of the kind ever held here."

"Shop in Greenville where you can be sure of getting the most for your money," is the advice of members of the Merchants' Association.

"Stocks were never more complete than they are today. If you can't find what you want in your home town, Mr. Out-of-Town Citizen, come to Greenville and get the best to be had on the market for prices that are right."

Bank Book Of Bootlegger Is Examined Today

Philadelphia, Oct. 5—(AP)—A bootlegger's account book, the fifth of its kind to come into the hands of District Attorney Monaghan since the start of the current grand jury investigation of liquor, vice and police, was under examination by the investigators today.

The book given to the prosecutor by Samuel O. Wynne, federal prohibition administrator for this district, was seized in a raid. Information gathered from the other account books was responsible for the arrest of a district police commander and 24 patrolmen and detectives on charges of bribery and extortion.

The District Attorney said today that the wealth of some of the police had reached such a high figure that he would have to take several hours off to calculate the total.

"And," he added, "it goes without saying that we probably have not discovered all of it". Monaghan said he would continue a survey of all banks where police officials might keep their money.

When Captain Charles Beckman, suspended head of the detective bureau, was given a hearing by the Civil Service Commission yesterday, it was brought out that he had deposited in one bank $55,620.69 from September 1926, to September, 1927. Beckman explained this by saying he had handled large sums for policemen of other cities for the purchase of tickets for the Tunney-Dempsey championship fight and that he had made considerable in real estate. He denied having accepted bribes from Max "Boo Boo" Hoff, designated by the district attorney as the "king of bootleggers", or from anyone else.

STATE BEGINS LEGAL ACTION ON C. S. CARNES

Personal Effects of Carnes To Be Impounded Upon Arrival at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Met by a group of curious persons who crowded the Union Station and armed to vantage points on nearby downtown viaducts, Clinton S. Carnes, defaulting treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, was brought back to Atlanta in shackles today to face charges of embezzlement.

The former church official was manacled to the wrist of Deputy Sheriff R. T. Tolbert of Fulton county, one of two county officers who brought Carnes back from the Canadian city, where he was arrested.

So great was the crowd that pressed in for a glimpse of the prisoner as the train bringing him from Winnipeg, Manitoba, pulled to a stop that some delay was experienced in taking him off. Finally he alighted under an escort of police and county authorities and was placed in an automobile. It was necessary for the police to clear a way through the throng before the machine could proceed to the county jail.

Keeping his face lowered and a grey felt hat pulled well down over his eyes, Carnes sought to shield himself from photographers as he entered the jail. Another crowd was on hand here and it was augmented rapidly by a portion of the throng that followed the police car from the station.

Atlanta, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The state of Georgia began legal maneuvers against Clinton S. Carnes today, even before he arrived from Canada in handcuffs to answer charges that he made away with $953,000 white treasure of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board.

Solicitor General John A. Boykin

HAPPERSBERGER does the finest watch repairing in Greenville. A trial will convince you. Opp. Proctor Hotel Greenville, N. C.

of Fulton county, acting on a request of a deputy in charge of the prisoner, had application ready for a writ impounding the personal effects of Carnes. Officers previously during the trip south from Winnipeg, Man., where Carnes was arrested exactly a week ago today, have indicated that his baggage to their mind, might prove valuable in tracing his financial dealings recently, as well as offering possibilities as state's evidence.

Carnes himself lost no delay in mapping out his defense against the charges of the church that he disappeared here August 15 with a big shortage hanging over his books, by telling an Atlanta Constitution writer that he wanted a delay in legal proceedings.

The writer who accompanied him with officers and other newspaper men from Canada, said Carnes wanted to make a "personal audit of the books of the Home Mission Board," although there was no indication of a reason. Attorneys planned to meet Carnes here on arrival, on condition he did not talk to anyone about the Baptist board's position.

As the defaulting treasurer approached his destination, the board, through Dr. Gray took occasion to reply to his charges that they "knew the condition of the board's finances" by declaring that they knew the board was heavily in debt but that they knew nothing of his alleged speculations.

"That is the talk of a criminal at bay," was Dr. Gray's comment. Police ordered detectives stationed at the terminal station when the train bearing Carnes southward, not so much to avoid a demonstration as to keep back possible crowds of curious.

The Constitution news writer pictured Carnes as an ill-tempered prisoner as the journey to Atlanta neared an end.

He spoke of his contemplated conferences with various leading business men, and felt he would have no trouble arranging bail.

In an effort to have the bail set so high as to make liberty virtually impossible, Solicitor General Boykin today had ready for presentation to a grand jury, more evidence purporting to show widespread devaluations on the part of Carnes. Already bail was $100,000 on two indictments charging embezzlement of an aggregate of $150,000.

Meanwhile, from Indiana came word that Carnes was believed to be the man wanted on charges of disappearing with a payroll in 1914 while acting as a railroad station agent at Clinton. While a chief of police there was quoted as seeking a warrant for Carnes' arrest, officials of the railroad said they were searching the records so far had discovered no connection between Carnes' alleged disappearance and a missing payroll. It had not even been definitely determined that Carnes was the man wanted.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 8 points under some southern selling and liquidation promoted by a favorable view of the weather news and the rather easy showing of Liverpool. There was some trade buying and covering at the decline which caused rallies of a few points right after the call but the demand was not active and prices soon sagged off again. December sold down to 18.88 and March to 18.70 with the market showing net declines of about 5 to 8 points at the end of the first half hour. There was a fair volume of business at that time but trading later was light, much of it being attributed to evening up in preparation for the government crop report of Monday.

A private report today placed the crop indication at from 14,200,000 to 14,700,000 bales compared with a range of 14,500,000 to 15,000,000 reported last month. Private cables reported a dull market in Liverpool but a fair turnover in cotton cloths for India and the continent.

Futures closed barely steady; 11 to 15 points lower; spot steady; middling 19.10.

Sidelights On World's Series

(By the Associated Press)

Despite forecasts of unfavorable weather for the second game of the world's series today, Samuel Thomas and Francis Chapman, who hitchhiked from Dover, N. H., to New York, took the first two places in the 81 section outside the Yankee stadium at 1 o'clock this morning. At that hour, a man who called himself "Kid Hoffman of Philadelphia" held the fort at the 83 booths all by himself.

On the short end of 5 to 3 odds before the series opened, the Yanks this morning were quoted at 10 to 7 to win.

A few months ago Clarence Mitchell and Jimmy Wilson, Cardinal batterymen, were toiling for the Phillies who failed this season to deviate from their usual custom of finishing eighth in an eight club league.

Babe Ruth expressed a world of melancholy pity for the sad condition of Brick Owens' eyes when he was called out on strikes. "Oh, how could you, Mr. Owens?" the Babe's whole attitude seemed to say. Actually the Babe said not a word. He has argued with umpires before.

Some fan lacking all of the finer sensibilities, picked up a ball that had been driven into the stands and tossed it back onto the playing field. Seventy-nine regular fans fainted dead away.

SPANISH VETS TO MEET AT HAVANA

Havana, Oct. 5.—(AP)—More than 3,000 United States Spanish war veterans are in Havana for their 30th annual encampment opening next Monday. It is expected that 8,000 or more veterans from the United States will be on hand for the opening.

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Heavy week-end profit taking unsettled today's stock market after an early outburst of strength had carried more than a score issues to new high records. Lowering of the call money rate from 7 to 6 1/2 per cent and the announcement of another import of $5,000,000 in gold, kept the selling movement in check.

Withdrawal of the Southwestern merger plan brought about some selling in the stocks of railroads in that territory, but the losses were held to a point or so.

Coty was the individual feature, soaring 20 points to a new high record at 292. Allied Chemical moved up 6 1/2 points to 206 1/2. Hupp Motors 4 1/2 to 78 1/2. American Zinc 5 to 51 1/2 and Keith-Albee preferred 4 to 102 1/2, all new high records.

The market closed steady. Sales approximated 4,300,000 shares.

Four Men In Golf Race.
Baltimore, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Four men today remained in the running for National Professional Golf Association championship and they did not include Walter Hagen, five times champion, and the holder of the title for the last four years.

In the upper half of the draw, Al Espinosa, victor over Jock Hutchinson, a former champion, yesterday by a score of 5 and 4, was favored to win from young Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., who downed Perry Del Vecchio, Greensburg, Pa., youngster, 2 up in the quarter finals.

Walter Johnson, who has done a bit of pitching in his time, was at the first game. "They look like the same old Yankees," he said after Meusel's home run.

Advance Guard Of Legion At San Antonio, Tex.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Internal politics and discussion of policies held the advance guard of the American Legion delegates here today for the national convention, which meets October 8 for the five-day annual session.

Candidates for the office of national commander already in the field, were Roy Hoffman, Oklahoma City; General Albert L. Cox, Raleigh, N. C.; and O. L. Bodenhamer, Eldorado, Ark. Other suggested candidates included Ralph T. O'Neil, Topeka, Kansas, vice-commander; John E. Ewing, Shreveport, La.; and Monroe Johnson, South Carolina.

Followers of the Cox and Hoffman banners already have set up campaign headquarters.

Three hundred and seventy-five resolutions framed by the organization's 58 departments form a part of the convention business. The aeronautical question was regarded as one of the outstanding discussions to come before the service men.

Continued friendly relations between the United States and her former allies, as symbolized by the presence here of distinguished foreign guests, will be the keynote of the American Legion auxiliary convention. Mrs. Robert Walbridge of Cedarborough, N. H., national president, said today. The auxiliary will meet in connection with the Legion convention.
