SOBRIETY OF A. L. SMITH IN CONTROVERSY

Charge Of Albany Minister Contested By E. G. Griffith, Counsel Of Smith.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 6—(AP)—A charge involving the sobriety of Governor Smith and alleged to have been made last August in Indiana by the Rev. Manning E. Van Nostrand, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church of this city, was a subject of controversy today between Edward G. Griffith, Counsel to the Democratic presidential nominee, and the Albany minister.

In a statement issued from the executive chamber at the State Capitol, Mr. Griffith said a communication had been received there some time ago saying that the Rev. Mr. Van Nostrand had made a statement at a Bible Conference in Winona Lake, Winona, Ind., that Gov. Smith "was so intoxicated when he was trying to talk over the radio immediately after he was nominated at Houston that two men had to hold him up."

Immediately upon receipt of this communication, Mr. Griffith said, the minister visited the executive offices, at the Governor's request, and was asked, in the presence of the governor, himself and George B. Graves, the governor's secretary, after the letter had been read to him, the direct question:

"Did you ever make any such statement about me?" Mr. Griffith said the minister then asked the Governor whether the writer of the letter said that he (the minister) had made the statement "directly to the writer," whereupon the latter again was asked the question repeated.

"I never said it," the Rev. Van Nostrand was quoted as replying. Since that conference, Mr. Griffith said, an affidavit, signed by Mrs. A. J. Wickard and sworn to September 17, last, had been received here, in which the signer deplored that on August 23, while in attendance at a Bible class at Winona Lake, she heard "one Mr. Van Nostrand (affidavit spelling) supposedly from Albany, N. Y., make a statement substantially as quoted by Mr. Griffith from the communication also said that the governor on another occasion in the railroad station where Mr. Smith was preparing to board a train he was under the influence of liquor and was passing it around to men and ladies in his party."

Mr. Griffith's statement added that Mrs. Wickard "further says that these statements were made on a public rostrum or platform at Winona Lake, evidently with the intent of belittling the character and personality of said Alfred E. Smith."

The Rev. Mr. Van Nostrand, who has been a pastor in Albany for ten years, gave his side of the controversy soon after he heard of Mr. Griffith's statement. He said he had not made the charge that the governor was "intoxicated" the Sunday after his nomination, but added that at the time he was questioned about the incident in the executive chamber "did not ask me if I had made any similar statement, or if he had been intoxicated or that he drank."

When asked specific questions in Indiana concerning the nominee, the minister said he did make the statement "that I had been informed that that upon one occasion when Gov. Smith had broadcast he was so intoxicated that he had to be supported by two persons."

"I also made the statement in Indiana," the minister added, "that I had been informed that on the Sunday following his nomination, the governor went to New York and that when he was in the Albany station he had been drinking. I also made the statement that in my opinion, if anyone asked the governor the direct question as to whether or not during his occupancy of that high office he had used intoxicating liquors or had been a drinking man, that the governor would admit that he had done so."

The minister said he had stated in Indiana that he "never read or heard any denial by the governor himself that he was a drinking man"; but the only denials I had heard of were made by others, and I did not believe the governor would deny it if he were asked the direct question."

Neil Battle Lewis Resigns
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—Neil Battle Lewis, Raleigh newspaper woman, has resigned as president of the Wake County League of Women Voters, because of her desire to take an active part in the Democratic campaign, it was announced here today.

THEY WAITED IN LINE ALL NIGHT

Five hundred baseball fans were at the gates of Yankee stadium waiting for tickets for the opening world's series game when the sun peeked over the horizon. Many had stood in line all night. Here are some of the waiters. William Noulas of Long Beach, N. Y., holds the coveted place at the head of the line.

Mrs. Murphy Addresses Democrats In This City

"Achievements of Governor Alfred Smith in the State of New York is one of the finest stories of American life," declared Mrs. W. B. Murphy, of Snow Hill, secretary of the North Carolina chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, speaking at the court house in this city last night.

"Governor Smith has brought about many reforms during his administration as chief executive of New York, and has been instrumental in saving the people of that state millions of dollars," the speaker declared.

It was the second time a woman had taken the platform in behalf of the Democratic campaign in this city, and while only a small crowd heard her, it made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in size. E. G. Flanagan acted as chairman of the meeting in the absence of W. E. Hooks, of Ayden, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee. The introduction of the speaker was made by former Superior Court Judge Albion J. Gunn, who told of the important campaign now being waged against autocracy by members of the Democratic party.

Mrs. Murphy discussed virtually all of the principal issues of the campaign. The most of her speech, however, was confined to an exposition of facts regarding the character of Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for the presidency. She scorned the idea of people refusing to vote for him on account of his religious views, and brought into play a great array of facts showing his inability to use his religion to advantage even if he wanted to.

"It is the right of every man to worship according to the dictates of his conscience," the speaker declared. "Governor Smith has never favored any particular denomination during his administration as governor of New York and he would not do so as president of the United States."

She read several clippings from newspapers and magazines in which members of both parties had paid splendid tribute to the capability and sagacity of the Democratic nominee. Emphasis was placed upon the declaration of the Hon. Elihu Root when he declared Smith to be the "best informed man in America on problems of government." She also quoted Charles Evans Hughes eminent jurist and member of the Republican party, who said Smith "knew more about government of the nation than any man living."

She said Smith's training in the political life of the state of New York had amply qualified him for the high office to which he aspires. She declared he was honest, fearless and direct in all of his utterances and left nobody in the dark as to his position on any question of public interest. Unlike Hoover, Republican nominee, who has never committed himself only in an indirect way, Smith has told the people what he believes to be right and is ready to use his influence in behalf of this belief.

"Prohibition is no issue in this campaign," Mrs. Murphy insisted, as she drove home fact after fact dealing with the problem, "but law enforcement is." She said the Republican party was largely responsible for the flagrant violation of the Eighteenth Amendment, and deplored lax enforcement of the law throughout the country.

Referring to Hoover's declaration of the constructive administration of the Republican party during his administration, she said that such an assertion resulted either from stupidity or a desire to misrepresent facts as they actually exist.

Two White Men Held On Charge Entering House

Roy Wade and O. M. Stancill, said to be of the Winterville community, were in custody of local police today charged with entering an outhouse at the home of L. C. Arthur, in the eastern section of the city, last night. They will be held for preliminary hearing in police court Monday morning.

The men were taken at the point of a gun by Robert Arthur, who happened to be sleeping in the building and was awakened by the intruders as they entered the room. A third member of the party escaped during the scuffle before Arthur finally captured the two inside the building.

AL SMITH TO MAKE SPEECH IN TENNESSEE

Two state's witnesses were heard immediately after court opened today. Helen Prntz testified that a letter offered in evidence by the defense and purporting to have been written by her to "Brandorine" was in truth written by a neighbor, Mrs. J. J. Kafinas.

Rev. J. H. Moore, negro, one of six persons indicted as having been alleged to have secured "love powder" poison from Sam W. Daniels, alias "Professor Brandorine," was called to identify correspondence said to have passed between himself and "Brandorine."

Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Presslar are on trial on charges of murder in connection with the alleged poisoning with "love powder" of L. M. Lockamy, first husband of Mrs. Presslar.

JOE ROBINSON TAKES SHOT AT HOOVER'S SPAST

Unearth Some Utterances Made In Past Years By Republican Nominee.

By WALTER CHAMBLIN (Associated Press Staff Writer)
Clovie, N. M., Oct. 6—(AP)—Utterances on Herbert Hoover by Republican leaders in days gone by have been dug out of dust covered files by Senator Joe Robinson for use in his campaign in the Southwest.

During his three day drive thru Oklahoma, his swing thru the panhandle of Texas and his opening speech in this state last night, the Democratic vice presidential nominee has brought into play many quotations from those high in the councils of the Republican party which he argues his contention that the reign of Republicanism in Washington should be ended.

Mr. Robinson, who today moves on to Roswell for a second address in New Mexico, has dug out of the Congressional Record a statement by Senator Borah of Idaho, now campaigning for Hoover, that the Republican presidential nominee while serving as Food Administrator under Woodrow Wilson had permitted three vast monopolies which control food in this country with relation to their commodities to fix their own prices.

Further he quotes the Idahoan as saying at another time that Mr. Hoover "who violated the most fundamental principles of the constitution of this country, will not have very much regard for a statue in Europe."

The Democratic candidate also declares that Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, in referring to Hoover's work as administrator, once said "I deny that we have an American at the head of this distribution committee."

Further Robinson declares that Senator Simeon Fess, of Ohio, who sounded the keynote at the Republican national convention at Kansas City, was quoted in the press on February 4, 1928, as having said that Hoover "must be greatly embarrassed in seeking nomination at the head of a party he conspired to defeat in 1918."

REGISTRATION BOOKS OPEN OVER STATE
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—Registration books were opened today throughout North Carolina. They will close at sunset October 29. Political leaders predicted that the registration this year would be the heaviest on record, because of the intense interest in the coming election, and because of the special efforts of all parties to get young citizens to qualify for voting.

MURDER CASE CONTINUES AT CHARLOTTE

Many More Witnesses To Be Heard In Rebuttal Testimony Today.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—Attorneys of the State were still presenting rebuttal evidence here this morning and had a number of witnesses yet to call in the "Professor Brandorine Love Powder" murder case with every indication pointing to a continuance of the trial into next week.

The defense is also expected to call a number of rebuttal witnesses and with attorneys' arguments expected to continue most of a full day it was believed in court circles the case would not reach the jury until Wednesday at the earliest.

Two state's witnesses were heard immediately after court opened today. Helen Prntz testified that a letter offered in evidence by the defense and purporting to have been written by her to "Brandorine" was in truth written by a neighbor, Mrs. J. J. Kafinas.

Both Dominant Parties Widen Front of Attack In American Politics

By BYRON PRICE (Associated Press Staff Writer)
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 6—(AP)—Still making its own precedents, the national campaign enters its concluding weeks with both sides widening, rather than concentrating, the front of their attack.

Election day now is just one month ahead. In any ordinary campaign, the first week of October would see a large percentage of the states so definitely classified as Republican or Democratic as to exclude them from the zone of heavy fire. But not in 1928. The Democrats are expending precious time and talent in such Republican strongholds as Kansas and Iowa, while the Republicans are claiming half the electoral votes of the South, and are seeking to carry the Hoover appeal to every voter in states like Georgia and Texas.

One of the most spectacular skirmishes of the whole campaign is taking place in the northern farm belt, where for years the Democratic party has been in hopeless minority. Governor Smith's passage through North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin has been followed by a rallying of his friends and foes alike. Senator Borah, summoning all of his force and eloquence to the support of Hoover, has come into the northwest to answer Mr. Smith and is to be followed in turn by some of the ablest of the Democrats.

The Republicans, including Jas. W. Good, Hoover's western manager, says the northwestern trend is now away from Smith and that earlier Republican apprehensions in that quarter have been replaced by growing confidence. The Democrats insist that farm defections from Hoover are likely to turn this whole group of states into the Democratic column.

While the party leaders were disputing over Mr. Hoover's chances in the South, the Republican nominee himself contributed a memorable chapter to the southern campaign by bringing his heel down squarely on Republican use of the religious issues against Governor Smith.

Repudiating an Anti-Catholic tract distributed by Mrs. Willie W. Caldwell, Republican national committeewoman for Virginia, Mr. Hoover told party workers directly and explicitly that he wanted none of them to attack his opponent on the ground of religion. He also made known his approval of chairman repudiation addressed by Republican Work to Oliver D. Street, Republican committeeman for Alabama, who has been describing Catholicism as a "vital issue" in the campaign.

The latest forecast of the election day verdict in the south came from Horace A. Mann, the Hoover southern manager, just on the eve of the nominee's trip today into Tennessee. Mann did not go into details but declared Hoover would get as many electoral votes as Smith in the Southern States.

Senator Pat Harrison, in charge of that same territory for the Democrats, replied that Mann was indulging "in a whistling campaign" to keep up his spirit. Harrison said the Anti-Smith movement in the South had passed its peak and the reaction had removed all doubt whether the South would stay solidly Democratic.

Meanwhile, both sides are keeping actively on the job throughout the whole length and breadth of Dixie, through organizations that now contend in many places down to ward and precinct.

Back in the East Governor Smith has spent the past week helping the New York state Democracy start its campaign, and considering his own plans for the coming month. At the party's convention at Rochester he rendered an account of his stewardship as Governor, lambasted the New York Republicans, and was a central figure at the conference which selected his friend Franklin D. Roosevelt to head the Democratic state ticket.

Mr. Smith is to make another excursion westward during October, slipping into the border strip visited by Mr. Hoover, and winding up with a whirl through the East in the final days of the campaign. He probably will get back into the Southern States just after his Republican opponent, who speaks in Jackson on October 15th and in New York on October 22, has taken the trail back toward his home precinct in California.

The New York governor always has been a great believer in the potentialities of the closing days of the campaign, and his friends expect him to make things comparatively easy for a while, so that he will be in first class stumping trim for the last week before election.

It is not within the province of these dispatches to predict who will win the election a month from today, or what issue, but it at least can be ventured this early that fewer voters than ever before will enter the voting booth without having heard or read a great deal

UNCOVER DOPE RING IN JAIL AT NASHVILLE

Counterfeit Operations Also Unearthed In Capture Of Civilian Foreman.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 5—(AP)—A racket whereby for 50 cents a "shot" morphine obtained in exchange for bills counterfeited within the walls was administered to convicts at the Tennessee State prison was revealed last night with the capture of Walter C. Fry, civilian foreman of the prison laundry.

The source of the counterfeit money was revealed early Friday after an investigation of several weeks as Howard Barr, alias Ralph Lee, serving a 30-year sentence for highway robbery. Officers who have watched Barr for sometime pulled from his throat a dollar bill which he had raised to a twenty and attempted to swallow when the investigators entered his cell. Pins and nks were found attached to a string and lowered in a drain.

Following the raid upon Barr's cell, a syringe was found in the quarters of Will Craig, Memphis killer, who is declared to be the retailer of the "gang."

Fry was tricked by a ruse of Federal Agent Leo Williams as he met a man from whom he expected a quantity of morphine, for which he was to tender some of the bills raised by Barr, and some real money. A message had been sent through a previous prison channel several days ago to Craig, offering a trade on a bunch of morphine for 35 in legitimate cash and five counterfeit twenty dollar bills. Fry appeared with the announcement that he had been unable to get any counterfeit money because of a raid upon Barr. He was followed and arrested. Fry, who declared this was the first time he had served such a purpose, was still under questioning early today.

Barr, formerly a commercial artist and wanted in Indiana for murder, was the leader of a sensational break in October, 1926, in which thirteen convicts left the prison. He was captured in Buffalo, taken to Indianapolis, where he escaped again and was recaptured in Jacksonville, Fla., after a gun battle with officers. He will probably be taken to the prison in Atlanta. He has escaped prison thirteen times.

The investigation has been conducted with the co-operation of state and prison authorities.

Proclamation For Fire Prevention Week In This City

October 7th to 13th, inclusive, has been designated as Fire Prevention Week throughout the United States, and I call upon the citizenship of our City to cooperate in this great work of conserving our life and property by ridding their premises of all useless and worthless inflammable material during this week.

In order to make the work thorough, the City will remove all such material, free of cost, if placed on the street on the days already scheduled for the removal of garbage in your respective wards and streets.

Carefully compiled figures show that in 1927 a considerable amount of property was destroyed by fire in our city. There were 256 human beings burned to death in North Carolina.

I, therefore, set aside the week of October 7th to 13th as Fire Prevention Week in accordance with the proclamation of our President and our Governor and to that end I ask your cooperation with our State Insurance Department and our City officials to see that all schools, churches, theatres, hospitals, public buildings, factories, stores and hotels be inspected to see that every safeguard against fire is provided, and that exit facilities are sufficient, in case of fire.

I, therefore, issue this my proclamation and do set aside and designate October 7th to 13th as Fire Prevention Week in the city of Greenville, and do urge our people to observe it in obedience to our National and State laws.

Done at our City of Greenville, N. C., this 6th day of October, 1928.
J. C. LANIER, Mayor.

HEAVY SALES PREDOMINATE LEAF MARKET

Good Tobacco Yesterday Brought As High As $90 a Hundred in This City.

Greenville tobacco market continues to average over a million pounds of tobacco daily, according to K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade who this morning released figures of market activities during the twenty-four sale days it has been in operation this season.

With sales yesterday the market had disposed of 24,940,822 pounds of tobacco which netted the farmers of this section the sum of $4,158,850.68, at an average of $16.67 per hundred. For the same period last year 23,627,902 pounds of leaf had been handled.

For the week ending yesterday a total of 5,303,992 pounds of tobacco had been sold. For this amount the market paid out $1,084,943.89. The average was $20.47 per hundred pounds. For the same period last season, 5,287,714 pounds of leaf was disposed of at an average price of $22.90 per hundred pounds.

The report stated that 1,135,162 pounds of leaf was sold during the closing sales of the week yesterday. This brought the farmer $233,714.19, or an average of $20.58.

Continued improvement in quality of offerings was reported yesterday. Some grades brought as high as $90.00 a hundred pounds. The day before saw the highest average price of the season established, with many grades bringing between $70.00 and $90.00 per hundred pounds.

With fair weather prevailing throughout this belt, continued heavy sales are expected next week with offerings equally as good as the week just closed. The price situation is expected to remain firm, with variations reflected by the quality of offerings from time to time.

ANOTHER FIRE TRUCK BOUGHT IN THIS CITY

Collection Of Privilege Taxes Continued To The 15th Of This Month.

Collection of privilege taxes will be continued to the fifteenth of this month, it was decided at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen held this week. A penalty of ten per cent will be added after that date.

A committee appointed at a recent session of the board to investigate the proposed purchase of the fire truck traded in for a new truck purchased sometime ago, reported that purchase had been made and that the truck was now being reconditioned. This will give the fire company three trucks—the one just purchased to be used for hose and chemical purposes.

The matter of buying a new grader for dirt streets was referred to the street committee for investigation, with instructions to report as soon as a decision was reached. Aside from this business, only matters of a routine nature were taken up during the session.

Local Kiwanians Are Hosts To Daughters

Last night was daughters' night at the Greenville Kiwanis club and members of the organization tested their ingenuity in an effort to provide entertainment for their guests. The program was in charge of L. R. O'Brian, who saw to it that the young women played an important part in it.

The address of welcome was made by C. S. Forbes and the response by Miss Elizabeth Deal.

Miss Lucy James rendered a piano solo and Miss Margaret Frost O'Brian gave a pianologue, "Fishing."

Miss Mildred Herring drew considerable applause with a reading, "Under the Buggy Seat." Misses Louisa Hooker and Cotten Skinner, accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Hooker, rendered a violin duet, "La Traviata."

A vocal duet, "Whispering Hope" was given by Misses Margaret Frost O'Brian and Helen Phelps.

The closing chorus consisted of "Carolina" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Here's How Flood Fund Stands Today

The sum of $40.00 raised by the Church of Christ of this city for the flood sufferers of Florida, was not contributed through the local chapter of the American Red Cross as announced through the columns of the Reflector the first of the week. The paper was misinformed concerning disposition of the money which was given through another source.

As a result of this, the flood fund of the Red Cross today stood at $636.06, the $40.00 which was added for the Christian church having been deducted. Other contributions today were, cash, $1.00; Marian Wilson, 50 cents. This brings the total to $637.55.

Meeting Of Round Table

The ladies of the Round Table met last evening, Oct. 2, with 17 members and 6 guests present. Our visitors were Miss Annie Thomas of Durham; Mrs. James Evans, Mrs. Stark, the Misses Fulllove and Miss Veasey of Greenville.

In accord with our subject for the year, "Contemporary Women," each member responded to roll call with an item of interest about women. Much general information was gained in this way.

Delegates to the district meeting at Plymouth were elected. They were Mrs. Vincent and Mrs. Winslow. Books were exchanged and then the program of the afternoon was given. "Women as Rulers" was the topic, and Mrs. Vincent gave very interesting sketches of two lovely royal ladies, Mary, Queen of England, and Victoria Eugenia, Queen of Spain, showing a number of pictures of each. The musical feature consisted of duets by the Misses Fulllove with Miss Veasey at the piano. One of these songs was "Mother," of special interest, as it was written by Mrs. M. H. White in memory of her mother, and was sung to the music of "Mother Mac-Cree."

A delicious ice course followed.

Woman's Club Meets.

The Woman's Club held its first meeting for the new club year at the Episcopal Rectory. The minutes of the May meeting were read and listened to with interest, since they served as a resume of the club activities for the past year.

Mr. James Ficklen, chairman of the Library committee, made an interesting talk in which he expressed the appreciation of the club in the establishment and maintaining of the library. He asked for the continued financial and moral support of the club, stating that any suggestions leading to the improvement of the library would be welcomed by the library committee. Among the improvements already in operation are additional floor space, and arrangement for reference work.

The chairman of the various departments gave brief outlines of the programs to be carried out during the ensuing year.

Mention was made of the prize won by Pitt county, which will be in the form of a health survey of the entire county, and which came as a result of the interest of the Federation of Women's Clubs in public health activities. Through this survey Pitt county will become a model for such activities in all other counties of the state.

Announcement was made of the district meeting to be held in Plymouth on October 19th, and Mesdames A. D. Frank, H. C. Sugg and D. L. Mangum were appointed as delegates. Any other members of the club who could go were urged to attend also.

An invitation from the Round Table Club to meet with them on October 16th was extended to all members of the Woman's Club through a letter from the corresponding secretary.

Season tickets for the fall attractions will be sold by members of the club, and anyone desiring a ticket is requested to obtain one from some member of the Woman's Club.

A soft drooping brim that folds down over the right cheek reveals the Parisian origin of this mode. For it is a feature of the new fall hats that the brims do unusual and flattering things. FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next week has been set aside as National Fire Prevention Week, and it behooves every one of our citizens to join in this movement for the prevention of fires. Preventable fires each year snuff out thousands of lives in our nation to say nothing of the annual loss of more than $560,000,000 to people of the United States from strictly or partly preventable fires.

Not only should fire prevention be taught in every school in the nation next week and talked in every home and business establishment, but the talk and study should be accompanied by real action in the way of taking every precaution against the fires that surely come within the next few months unless something is done now. Cooler weather is just a short time off, which means that fires for the winter will be started. Before that time everyone should see to it that their premises are cleared of all rubbish or inflammable materials, chimneys should be cleaned and examined for any defects and heating plants and stoves should undergo a similar examination and any repairs found necessary should be put in now before fires are started. In every home parents should warn children of the dangers that accompany fires and should instill in minds of the children that playing with matches often proves disastrous.

While fire prevention should be practiced every day in the year it is well that National Fire Prevention Week should be observed each fall for it comes at a season when the dangers of being "burned out" are on the increase, and observance of the week should stimulate every home owner to be on their guard lest they suffer at the hands of the fire demon.

OUR NATIONAL SPORT

Gazing over the crowds that have gathered in front of our building for the past two days to watch the progress of the World Series brings to us most vividly the realization that baseball is indeed our national sport. Among the hundreds that have stood during the contests with their eyes and attention fastened upon our Playograph we have noted those considered wealthy, those of no means, the aged, the boy just reaching the school age, those without the faculty of hearing but just as eagerly watching the progress of the ball and the players as they flashed across the board, and in one instance, one without sight to view the board, but with a friend standing by describing the progress of the game. Nor is the interest in the game confined to any one sex or one race, for in our crowds there have been men and women, there have been white people and negroes and each in his or her own way has eagerly watched and has shown enthusiasm when his or her particular idol of the diamond has accomplished some heroic feat or anxiety when their favorite player or team has appeared in a position or disadvantage. In other words, there is no age limit, no color line, no requirement of wealth or even of sight or hearing to be a baseball enthusiast and our observations this week have convinced us that baseball is truly our national sport, and it is fitting that each year the season should come to a close with this baseball classic, the World Series.

ABOUT TOWN

"The Yankees may have been crippled when the season ended last week, but they certainly show up like well men in the World Series," commented a Greenville baseball fan yesterday afternoon, standing on Evans street, watching the playograph report of the New York-St. Louis game.

"Two victories in a row was not the achievement of an aggregation of sick men. It was the outcome of the offensive of the world's greatest baseball machine.

"There have been other great baseball organizations in other ages, but never has a greater collection of artists comprised one team than those of the New York Yankee outfit. Effective both in the field and at bat, the Yankees have succeeded in tearing down the greatest defense teams of the American and National leagues have been able to offer. The remainder of the series will be watched with trepidation by Cardinal supporters. The two victories in a row by the Yanks has left a bad taste in the mouths of those who firmly believed the powerful Yankee sticks would not speak so effectively in this series."

"Well, the Pitt County Fair is over," remarked an attendant today. "It was the greatest fair Pitt county has ever staged. Midway contained every device known to present-day entertainers and the thousands who flocked the fair grounds always found something to occupy their time.

"Exhibits this year were up to the standard. They were not any better than last year and not quite as extensive. Next year we hope to see agriculture predominate in a greater measure than ever before. It is the one great industry of this locality and should be featured. It is in this way that we are able to let the outside world know what we are doing."

"That was a splendid speech which Mrs. W. B. Murphy, of Snow Hill, delivered at the courthouse in this city last night," asserted a member of the Democratic party today.

Mrs. Murphy is one of the best known club leaders in the State and her appearance on the platform in the interest of the Democratic campaign has attracted much interest at all sections of the State.

"In her address last night she outlined some of the reasons why the Democratic party deserves the support of the voters of the nation. She held Al Smith up as one of the leaders of the nation today and declared that he was entitled to the high honor to which he was aspiring."

"Greenville people had the privilege of seeing the largest carnival in the country during fair week," said an official of the attraction today.

"The Sheesley Shows carry over five hundred show folk in a regular forty-car circus train. They will leave tomorrow morning for Florence, S. C., reappearing in the State during the latter part of the month to play the State Fair at Raleigh."

"The carnival is under the personal supervision of Captain Sheesley, veteran showman, who purchased liberally from Greenville merchants during his stay here.

"Two of the big features of the show are the giant gorilla and Jean Lussler, the man who went over Niagara Falls in a rubber ball last July. Both attracted thousands of sight-seers all during the week, and did other attractions."

"Tobacco prices went sky-rocketing on the Greenville market this week," observed a local citizen today, reading the official report of market activities.

"Greenville always gives the best in service and prices and this season is no exception. With continued good weather and good tobacco there is every reason to expect the price situation to remain favorable the remainder of the season."

"I am more than satisfied with the quality of the products exhibited by farmers at the Pitt County Fair this year," remarked E. F. Arnold, director of the farm department of Pitt county.

"The interest displayed by the many communities sending in exhibits was very commendable and bespeak great things of the future of the sections.

"Awards this year were sufficiently large to inject considerable competition in the different products exhibited and rivalry was both keen and interesting.

"It is to be hoped the communities continue to bring their products to the fair from year to year. It is in this way that they are able to let the rest of the country know exactly what they are doing."

CARDINALS TO PLAY ON HOME SOIL SUNDAY

By BRIAN BELL, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Cardinals, having their way westward to St. Louis today face a hard assignment when they get home. They must win two world series games before they can look eye to eye with the New York Yankees.

A world series hitting slump depending on the National League champions in the first game remained with them to the end of the second and, although the Yankees offered only a medium brand of hitting in the second set-to, they managed to get enough safety to score a 9 to 3 victory, with some odd bases on balls contributing.

The Yankees accumulated more hits in yesterday's game than they did in the first, but their margin of superiority over their rivals was not so great as in the opener. The American Leaguers outbit the Red Birds 7 to 3 in the initial bout, 8 to 4 in the second, but the run margin was wide, 9 to 3, as compared with 4 to 1.

The world series was in recess today to permit a change of scenes, a day and night of traveling being necessary to span the thousand miles separating New York and St. Louis.

A change of tactics will be ordered when the series is resumed tomorrow. Manager Bill McKechnie has sent two pitchers against the Yankees who rely on equipment other than speed to get them by. With both Bill Sherdell and Grover Alexander in the less column, he will turn to Jess Haines and his fast ball in a desperate effort to get into the win column.

Bill was not managing St. Louis two years ago, but he knows the Big Jess, of Phillipsburg, Ohio, shut out the Yanks in Sportsman's Park in 1926 and helped himself along with a home run. Bill can use a shutout or home run, or both. Going home with two defeats and only one more needed to produce a situation unique in world series history, the St. Louis manager finds himself in a position where something must be done and quickly. The Yankees, by getting off to a lead of two victories in the current classic, have won six world series games in a row, as they stopped the Pittsburgh Pirates in the four straight last year. They at least have a chance to do it again and on club has ever cleaned up two world series at the minimum distance.

Playing on velvet, Manager Miller Huggins will ponder as he rides to St. Louis over his election of a Sunday pitcher. If he had lost the second game and been forced to open ter the Missouri city all even with his opponents, he would not have been in doubt. Tom Zachary, the experienced left-hander, who has been in two previous world series wearing the spangles of Washington, would have been nominated without a dissenting voice.

But in a position to take a chance, "Hug" may call on Henry Johnson, young right-hander, who had a great first year in the American League. He has seen two sturdy right-handers halt the Cardinals with only seven hits against the pair and he does not know what they can do against southpaw Hooks.

Old Grover Alexander, sent out to bring home the bacon as he did two years ago, was found wanting in the second game of the series and lasted only two and one-third innings, retiring in confusion with a liability of six hits, four bases on balls and six runs. Two of the three men he left on the bases scored and they were added to his account under the scoring rules of baseball, leaving the farmer-soldier-pitcher finally responsible for eight of the nine runs the ankees counted.

Another veteran, Clarence Mitchell, came in when it was too late, to pitch a clever game and the left-handed spitballer probably will be seen again before the bats are finally placed in storage for the winter.

George Pipgras staggered through the first two innings, the Cardinals knotting the count at three-all in the second inning, but from the third to the ninth, inclusive, he was never really in danger.

Chick Hafey, who batted hard and clobbered against National League pitching, had no more success against Pipgras than he did with Hoyt's puzzlers. Bottomley was even more impotent.

Babe Ruth, who until yesterday had never been able to hit Alexander, singled in the third inning, after walking in the first, and made it two hits out of three times at bat by doubling off Mitchell.

Lou Gehrig was the second day's home run hitter.

The probable batting order for the Sunday game at St. Louis:

Yankees—Durst, c. f.; Koenig, ss.; Ruth, r. f.; Gehrig, 1b; Meusel, l. f.; Lazer, 2b; Robertson, 3b; Bengough, c.; Zachary, p.
Cardinals—Douthitt, c. f.; High, 3b; Frisch, 2b; Bottomley, 1b; Hafey, l. f.; Holm, r. f.; Wilson, c.; Meranville, ss.; Haines, p.

HYSTERICAL

South Carolina Lady Then Tried Cardui and Says She Noticed Remarkable Improvement.

Anderson, S. C.—I suffered a long time before I tried Cardui, and my only regret is that I did not know about it sooner," says Mrs. Little Pruitt, 130 "K" Street, this city.

"I was badly run down in health. My nerves went to pieces, and I had to go to bed. I was not able to do my house work for many months.

"I got so bad off, I could not bear to have anybody walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I became hysterical. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and limbs would take spells of aching, which almost set me wild.

"One day I was reading and I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it; so I began on a course of the 'Home Treatment'.

"It began to help me from the very first. I took Cardui regularly, for several months, and my improvement was so remarkable, that my family and friends were delighted.

"Cardui has no equal, in my opinion. I gladly recommend it to others."

DIXIE GRID TEAMS LINED FOR BATTLE

Atlanta, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Fourteen of twenty-two Southern Conference football eleven lined up today in five Dixie States to open the actual championship schedule, with results probably to speak decisively later in the title standing.

Interest centered at Charlottesville and Tuscaloosa, where four of the big eleven were embattled in death combat.

South Carolina hoped to show the same margin over Virginia that was displayed a week ago at Chicago and some 12,000 fans were expected to see the game.

Alabama, apparently stronger than ever, had a real menace in the University of Mississippi Coach Homer Hazel is boasting the strongest team in Ole Miss history.

College Park, Atlanta, Lexington, Va., Jackson, Miss., and Auburn, Ala., scenes of other intra-conference conflicts, all held more than regional interest.

Coach Chuck Collins is invading Maryland with what is apparently a strong Tar Heel lineup; Georgia Tech hopes to get a crushing start against Virginia Military Institute; Mississippi A. & M., and Tulane, both ambitious, will put forth their all at Jackson; North Carolina State's hopes to start a new clean record against Washington and Lee, and Clemson hopes of making it two in as many years over Auburn.

There were two international games also featuring the conference teams. Vanderbilt was host to Colgate while Sewanee's Purple Tigers were gnawing at the leash at Dallas, where they oppose Texas A. & A.

In games of less importance, Virginia Poly met Hampden-Sidney; Georgia started against Mercer;

COTTON MARKET, N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Oct. 6--(AP)--The cotton market opened steady at an advance of one point to a decline of 2 points and eased off a few points during the early trading under southern selling and liquidation which may have been influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of fairly good weather in the south. There was further covering and trade buying at the decline which extended to 18.75 for December and 18.50 for March; or about 4 to 7 points net lower, but the market was quiet within a point or two of the lowest at the end of the first half hour. Private cables said there had been heavy selling and liquidation in Liverpool with offerings there absorbed by trade calling on the decline. The amount of cotton of the week was estimated at 97,000 bales against 127,000 last year.

Futures closed steady, 1/2 to 1 1/2 points lower; spot, middling 1905.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 6--(AP)--Increased activity and strength developed in the wheat market today, but profit-taking sales on the price higher led to reactions in the final hour. Complaints of dry weather in domestic wheat territory, southwets was a bullish factor, and better export demand was also in evidence. Europe taking 800,000 bushels of wheat today from North America, including some United States hard winter grades. Considerable attention was also given to new high-record prices here for rye and Australian port strike developments likely to hinder wheat exports out of Australia.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 6--(AP)--Speculation for the advance was resumed on a broad scale in today's brief session of the market under the leadership of the independent motor shares. Powerful pools took enormous blocks of stocks at rising prices, early gains ranging from 1 to nearly 8 points. There were several soft spots, due to heavy weekend profit taking.

Outside the stock market, chief interest centered in the announcement that the Radio Corporation had purchased an interest in Keith-Albee-Orpheum, Inc. The United Biscuit Company, Safeway Stores and the Fairchild Aviation Company announced recapitalization plans. Bullish sentiment was created by the optimistic tenor of the weekly mercantile reviews.

The closing was strong. Total stock sales approximated 2,000,000 shares.
