LOCAL TOBACCO MARKET AVERAGES $26.14

SEASON'S AVERAGE AGAIN ECLIPSED WHEN PRICES GO TO NEW HIGH LEVEL HERE

Greenville Also Makes Highest Average Price Of All Markets Of New Belt Sending Complete Report To Government Crop Reporting Service.

Prices on the Greenville tobacco market played around in the clouds again yesterday and when sales were completed the day's average stood at $26.14 per hundred pounds, nearly three cents higher than any other record of the season. The highest average price until yesterday was $23.58, it being established on over a million pounds of leaf last Thursday.

The market sold 1,132,264 pounds of leaf yesterday and paid out to the farmers a total sum of $296,049.44, at the average of $26.14. This information was given out this morning by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade. It is received with more than general interest on all sides owing to the fact that Greenville has shattered new records this season than in any other season probably in history of the market.

The average set on the sales yesterday were reminiscent of the prices prevailing last season when farmers received living prices for their crop. The average, however, was somewhat higher than lots of days last year and was the result of spirited buying of many large companies.

The quality of tobacco has improved considerably the last several days. This has played an important part in the upward swing of prices, tobaccoists said today, and is expected to wield a tremendous influence in this direction the remainder of the season. While sales are expected to be around the million pound mark for some time yet, the marketing of superior grades may result in falling off of sales at a later date because of the smallness of the piles. Good tobacco is marketed in smaller quantities and the farmer watches the market keenly to determine the auspicious price trend.

But the highest price of the season was not the only thing Greenville had to be proud of yesterday. Along with price ascensions came announcement from the United States Department of Agriculture that this market had made the highest average price of all markets reporting in the new Bright Belt for the month of September. Greenville's average on 19,686,488 pounds of tobacco was given at $15.65. Six of the smaller markets in the belt failed to submit complete reports to the department.

NEW YORK TO WELCOME CREW OF ZEPPELIN

Crew And Passengers To Be Marched Up Broadway Amid Cheering Millions.

New York, Oct. 16.—(AP)—An official welcome and popular acclaim awaited the crew and passengers of the Graf Zeppelin in New York today. A foretaste of what is in store for the 60 persons who made the air voyage from Germany to Lakehurst, N. J., was given yesterday when the dirigible passed majestically overhead.

The city's millions halted their habitual bustle, stood and gazed skyward and sent up a wave of cheers that followed the huge ship from the battery to Central Park and down again over Riverside Drive. A score or more of escorting planes hovered like small birds about her.

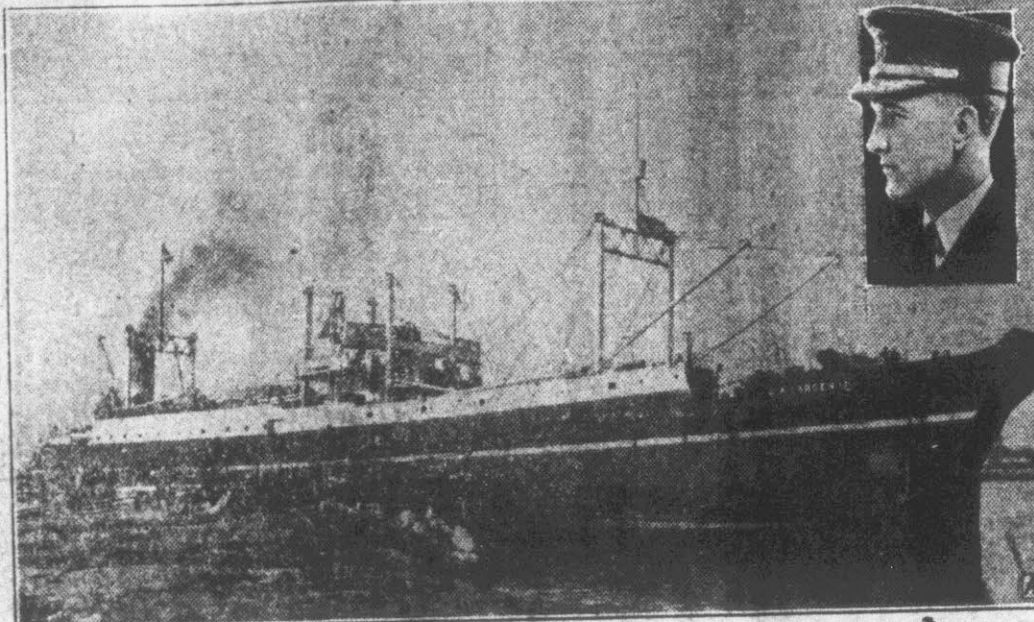

Today the welcome New York so loves to give, especially to heroes of the air, will provide the city's residents with a closer view of the air voyage.

The municipal tug Macon, without which no official welcome would seem complete, will steam across the Hudson river to Jersey City this afternoon to land the city's guests at the battery in the traditional manner of this city's welcoming ceremonies. They will leave Lakehurst in a special train at 1:00 p. m., and are due to arrive at the battery at 3:40.

Escorted by army and navy detachments they will be taken up Broadway to City Hall where acting Mayor Joseph McKee will officially welcome them to the city. Mayor Walker is in Washington attending the Subway Rate hearings and was unable to be present.

After the ceremonies at City Hall they will be escorted to the hotels Roosevelt and Warwick, where they will stay during their visit in the city.

O. Max Gardner, Democratic nominee for Governor of North Carolina, will not speak in Greenville tomorrow evening as advertised because of illness, W. E. Hooks, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee, stated this morning.

Mr. Gardner not only occupies an eminent place in the realm of agriculture in this State, but is also recognized as an authority in other parts of the country. He is president of Commissioners of Agriculture of the United States, having been elected to this position at the last annual session of the body.

Mr. Gardner will speak at Farmville tonight. This speaking engagement has been advertised as it is the first time an out-of-the-state speaker has appeared in the county campaign since General Tyson spoke in Greenville several days ago. M. Whittington, of Mississippi, will speak at Greenville tomorrow night, they expressed pleasure at the progress made by the campaign in Greenville and other sections of the county.

HUNTERS LOST IN SNOWSTORM ASK RECEIVER FOR KU-KLUX

Denver, Colo., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Concern was felt today for upwards of 400 deer hunters believed marooned by a sudden severe blizzard which swept Colorado Wyoming and northern New Mexico Sunday and yesterday, bringing a heavy fall of snow to many sections. Most of the hunters were scattered in the high isolated country about Grand Junction, Colo., on the western slope of the Rocky Mountain Divide. No word has been received from them since the storm struck Sunday. Relief parties have pushed out from Grand Junction in search of small bands of the men.

A searching party left Whitewater yesterday seeking a party of eight men marooned in the Cuncumphre forest, but believed safe from privations for the present. Many hunting parties were camped in the Douglas Creek district, to the northwest of here, which was buried in snowfall ranging from 18 inches to five feet in depth.

DANIELS HITS G. O. P. POLICY AT AUGUSTA

Former Secretary of Navy Scores "Pocket Borough System" of Herbert Hoover.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Voters today had before them the prediction of Josephus Daniels, secretary of navy in the Woodrow Wilson cabinet, that Southern voters on November 6th would decline what Mr. Daniels called the invitation of "the Republican spider to walk into his parlor."

In an address here last night, Mr. Daniels said that for the first time since the dark shadow of reconstruction, the Southern States were regarded as close battlefields in the November election. Republicans, he said, turned "avid eyes to this state and other rock-ribbed Democratic commonwealths in the hope of securing enough electoral votes from the South to make up the losses which they expect to sustain because of a revolt against the policies which have permitted the few to monopolize the bulk of the prosperity created by the labor of the many."

Taking for his subject, "will the South stay solid?" Mr. Daniels, a Raleigh, N. C., newspaper publisher, said:

"The answer will be, and it should be made with resounding emphasis, that just as for 50 years southerners have refused to sell their birthright for a proffered mess of pottage, so they will decline the invitation now of the Republican spider to walk into his parlor."

German Dirigible Safe At Hangar In Lakehurst After Flight Over Atlantic

By W. W. CHAPIN, Associated Press Staff Writer Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 16.—(AP)—The largest airship ever built, its silver envelope containing inflammable hydrogen, was landed today at the United States naval air station after completing the longest commercial flight from Europe.

Three other dirigibles, inflate with non-inflammable helium, huddled in the hangar close beside the Graf Zeppelin.

The other dirigibles in the hangar were the Los Angeles and two comparatively tiny nonrigid blimps.

The Graf Zeppelin arrived as day was dropping away into the dusk just four years to a day after the arrival of the navy Los Angeles from the starting point.

Crowds had gathered for three days in hopes of witnessing the arrival. Yesterday, however, there were not many more than 5,000 on hand when the ship arrived. It had already thrilled millions in Washington, Philadelphia, New York and other seaboard cities.

As the dirigible, now the greatest in the world and yet soon to be eclipsed by three other great ships, crossed the boundary of the air station and dipped toward the flying field the crowd cheered.

With no lights showing except from the yellow pane of one cabin window, from which the only woman passenger waved a greeting to the ground below, the sky ship moved slowly and almost silently with muted motors to a position almost above the towering mooring mast.

Then with a roar like the trampling of celestial cavalry—and the strength of 2,700 horses, represented in the five engines swung in gondolas beneath the silver bag, the motors were cut wide open and the ship was driven downward toward the earth.

Lines were dropped and caught by the waiting hands of more than 500 sailors.

As the dirigible settled on American soil the enthusiasm of the crowd broke all bounds and police lines went down as the erstwhile patient waiters surged close about the dirigible.

State police struggled to restore order and at last the crowd was pushed back safely.

When the ship touched earth passengers and crew grinned excitedly.

Some of the reporters protested to assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics, Edward Waver, asking how a government's official could be "gagged" by a purely commercial contract, but he disclaimed any power to alter conditions.

LADY HAY HAD A BIG TIME ON THE ZEPPELIN

Only Woman Passenger, However, Troubled By Delay After Landing.

Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Cross the Atlantic in an airship is not in itself a particularly arduous experience. It's when you land that the real work begins.

The passengers on the Graf Zeppelin found out about this. With indignant unanimity they said as the big silver fish settled on the landing field that there wasn't a thing to that story about their being airship. They were still aboard them, thinking about cigarettes and a good dinner, and feeling chipper.

Somewhat five hours later, they trailed wearily out of the improvised customs office in the hangar, looking, not airship, but "landing sick"—and plenty.

"The crossing wasn't tiring—it was fun," moaned Lady Grace May Drummond Hay, British journalist with a title, "but this—"

At 5:38 p. m. the Graf Zeppelin was hauled down into a mob of pushing, clamoring, enthusiastic welcomers at the naval air station. Lady Drummond Hay thought it was fun. She appeared at the window, smartly dressed in black and white, gaily answering questions shouted at her.

At 10:15 p. m., Pale, hungry and tired—she photographed the last postcard thrust at her out of the mob, crept down a back stairway and departed for New York in a motor car.

"I'm hungry," she said—she almost sobbed it.

"So are we," cheerfully observed one of the girl reporters. "We've been living on nothing but ice cream for two days waiting for you—"

"Haven't had any ice cream for a long, long time," signed Lady Grace Drummond Hay. First of all, after they landed, came the health inspector. He had to get through the crowd. He was late. It was well along toward 7:30 before he finished. No dinner was served aboard the Graf Zeppelin last night. Hadn't they been talking all day about "eating dinner in New York tonight?"

By the time the doctor was through with them, the passengers aboard the Graf Zeppelin—as they may inform you a week from tomorrow, an agreement they were required to sign forbidding them to talk for publication sooner—were thinking rather favorably of the ship's cuisine.

But it wasn't dinner they got, it was a walk. Half a mile across the landing field from the ship to the hangar, through sand up to their ankles, surrounded by a guard of energetic young marines who kept them going at a dog trot.

No letters to assemble under no, nor any nice, cool, roomy dock. A hot, stuffy, badly overcrowded room in a corner on the hangar, with the marines standing guard. Passengers on liners can't be turned loose until the customs men have gone through their baggage, hence the marine guard.

There were the distinguished visitors in a room. There were the reporters outside. Some times a reporter got in. Always he got out, too.

Governor Smith Fires At G. O. P. Claim of Economy

Sedalia, Mo., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Republican claims of economy in the administration of governmental affairs will be the target here tonight of Governor Smith in launching his single speech campaign in the border state.

In addressing an audience in the huge livestock pavilion at the state fair grounds a few miles from Sedalia, the Democratic presidential candidate will take as his text a single sentence in his acceptance speech in which he asserted that the "claim of governmental economy is as baseless as the claim that general business prosperity exists and that it can exist only under Republican administration."

Thousands of Missourians are expected to come here to hear the speech, which will be broadcast over a nation-wide radio chain beginning at eight o'clock, Central time. The governor worked late on the speech last night at the Terry Hotel, his headquarters here, but was not expected to finish it before noon. A parade set for the forenoon was the only formality in his day's program before the speech.

Acclaimed in Missouri as on no other occasion since his campaign got under way in late August, Gov. Smith arrived here at 7:30 o'clock last night after a tremendous ovation in St. Louis and its neighbor-

The men were being brought back from Tennessee on a charge of stealing an automobile from Jones and were in the car at the time. Gov. Angus McLean has been asked to declare both outlaws and a reward of $300 for their capture has been offered.

Unusual Expenditure Of Funds Causes Klan To File Petition of Insolvency.

Atlanta, Oct. 16.—(AP)—A receiver had been asked today for the Ku Klux Klan in a petition presented in United States District Court here alleging that expenditure of money by high officials of the organization had caused it to become insolvent.

The petition, presented to Judge Samuel H. Sibley of the Federal court, who ordered it filed, charged that Hiram W. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the order, and other officials had spent Klan funds in opposing the candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, the Democratic nominee for president, because of his religion. It was alleged that the organization had become insolvent although it had collected $100,000,000 from its members which, the petition said, "was greatly in excess of the amount necessary to pay its lawful and necessary expenses."

TELLS OF TRIP ACROSS OCEAN ON DIRIGIBLE

German Aeronautics Head Sees Great Possibility For Air-Ship In Future.

By Dr. F. L. GLASER
Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Through great volumes of messages from aerial hand shakers that swamped her radio and seriously hampered her in obtaining essential weather data, the Graf Zeppelin was obliged to grope her way across the stormy Atlantic. Dr. H. Brandenburg, director of the division of aeronautics of the German Ministry of Transportation, who was a passenger, declared on her arrival.

In spite of the over-loaded receiving set, he said, Dr. Hugo Eckener, by welcoming such weather reports as could be sandwiched in between the greetings, managed to maneuver her so as to avoid the large unfavorable storm areas of the Atlantic North of the course she followed.

The radio service presented many difficulties that were unavoidable when the airship was assailed by so many messages which were well meant, but which should rank after those which are required for the safety of the airship," he said.

"While the airship is in flight only such messages should be admitted as concern the security of the flight—that is, primarily messages about the weather.

"Radio greeting to a traveling airship should be avoided. An exception, of course, should be made for the good wishes sent by the governing heads of countries or for inquiries sent by their governments."

Dr. Brandenburg said one could sleep better in the Graf Zeppelin's bunks than in a railroad sleeping car, and that the Zeppelin's provisions for the comfort of her passengers approached those of an ocean liner.

"It seems that there is no air-sickness aboard the airship," he said.

"My impression of the possibilities of the airship have been strengthened by the incident of Saturday morning, when the port-side horizontal fin was damaged in the squall. The personality of Dr. Eckener and his excellent crew were of course additional elements for security.

"Dr. Eckener (the commander) is the personification of composure. The attitude of the crew—among them Dr. Eckener's young son—who made outside repairs on the damaged fin at about six hundred meters altitude in a pouring rain and whipping wind, working at the task for many hours, may be considered an excellent example of an airship crew conscious of its duty."

Commenting on the Zeppelin's slow speed, as compared with the speed of an airplane, Dr. Brandenburg said, "one must take into consideration the fact that the Graf Zeppelin, in spite of considerable damage and strong head winds developed a speed greater than that of a modern ocean steamer."

Determine Extent Of Zeppelin Damage

Naval air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Today's dawn furnished the first full opportunity to examine the trans-Atlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin's storm damage, and it became apparent in what danger the sixty occupants of the ship must have been, until speed and courageous repairs held disaster in check.

The wind, having gained a foothold by breaking a small window in the bottom of the port fin, ripped off a piece of fabric about 50 by 75 feet, which left a gaping hole directly into the great 3,700,000 cubic foot bag containing the fuel and lifting gas.

Johnston City Has Big Fair

Johnston City, Tenn., Oct. 16.—(AP)—An exhibition and fair sponsored and financed by the Johnston City Chronicle today had attracted so many exhibits that some of them had to be declined for lack of space.

Entries for the five-day Appalachian District Fair, opening today, came from East Tennessee, Western North Carolina and southwestern Virginia.

A 30-acre section of Keystone Park was devoted to the fair and today the park and the downtown section generally were gaily bedecked for the event.

Nearly 1,000 head of livestock and varied exhibits of agricultural products, and industrial products and equipment were on display. Even a doubling of exhibit space failed to provide space for all the exhibits offered.

The Chronicle appropriated $30,000 for the fair, about half of which is to be distributed among prize winners and for amusements.

SEN. BORAH TO SPEAK AT QUEEN CITY

Republican Attacked Smith's Prohibition Stand At Richmond Last Night.

With Senator Borah enroute to Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Having commenced his southern campaign with an assault upon Gov. Smith's prohibition stand at the capital city of Virginia, Senator William E. Borah, today turned to another state of Dixie, North Carolina, to direct another bombardment against the Democratic presidential nominee.

The senator will make the second speech of his southern swing at Charlotte tomorrow night and he expects to make "prosperity" and tariff protection the principal topics of his address. His arrival at Charlotte was scheduled for late today.

Senator Borah in his speech last night at Richmond directed most of his fire against the position of Gov. Smith on prohibition. The Democratic nominee, he declared, wished to repeal the prohibition amendment and he claimed that this was the objective of the governor's presidential aspirations. The senator also attacked John J. Raskob, the Democratic national committeeman and Tammany Hall, Democratic organization, for opposition to the dry law.

"Get this," Senator Borah told his audience, "Smith is for the repeal of the prohibition law; Hoover is against the repeal; Hoover believes it is a noble experiment and Smith terms it an ignoble experiment; Raskob calls it a 'damnable affliction of the country.'"

The senator also criticized Smith's views on immigration and farm relief. The proposal of the governor, he said, to eliminate the present quota restrictions "would increase the quotas of southern European countries by 300 to 400 per cent, while decreasing those of northern Europe."

Governor Smith "probably is awaiting," he continued, referring to farm relief, "the report of Prof. Zeligman (Columbia University economist) to Chairman Raskob on the equalization fee."

Borah praised the Republican standard bearer for his viewpoint on the agricultural problem. The ability and capacity of Hoover to solve economic problems, he said, including that of agriculture, was "unquestioned" by the farmers. Hoover's food administration, he added, was motivated by marketing policies to benefit the farmers.

The senator planned little of a

The home was elaborately decorated in ghosts, bats, black cats and other suggestions of Halloween. A life-size witch presided over her children in the entrance hall. More Arrests In Whiskey Crusade At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—(AP)—A special grand jury investigation in two months has resulted in the arrest of half a dozen district commanders of police and more than 30 detectives and patrolmen on charges of accepting bribes from saloon keepers.

And the end is not in sight. District Attorney Monaghan, who is conducting the investigation, said today.

The latest squad to be accused of collecting bribes for permitting the bootleggers to operate is Unit No. 1, organized especially for liquor raiding by Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler when he was director of Public Safety here and disbanded when Mayor Macey went into office last January. Three former members of the unit are already under arrest.

Testimony that one of the six groups of this unit received more than $25,000 in six weeks during 1926 was given by Eugene H. Tabbutt, a patrolman and former member of the raiding squad, and Frank R. C. Neubauer at the hearing of Samuel Griffin, also a former member of Unit 1, on charges of extortion, bribery and conspiracy.

Griffin, formerly known as the "millionaire cop," and now a hotel proprietor, was held in $25,000 bail for court. After his resignation from the police force in May, 1926, he is alleged by the district attorney to have deposited more than $356,000 in four banks.

TO PROBE HORAN'S CASE IN PARIS

Paris, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The French Ministry of Justice will investigate the circumstances surrounding the means by which Harold Horan, the Universal Service correspondent, obtained certain French documents on the Anglo-French naval accord which recently were published in the United States, leading to Horan's expulsion from France.

The case was referred to the Ministry of Justice at today's cabinet meeting and the action is understood that prosecution is likely for those connected with the proceedings by which the papers were obtained.

Roanoke Baptist Association Meets At Farmville, N. C.

Members of the Baptist churches of this city today attended the two day session of the Roanoke Baptist association which convened at Farmville last night. The convention will continue through tomorrow with numbers of important speakers on the program.

The first session was held last night. It consisted of a conference of ministers of the sixty towns and cities comprising the Association, embracing the counties of Pitt, Beaufort, Edgecombe, Martin and Nash.

The principal address tomorrow will be made by Rev. H. F. Jones, pastor of Memorial Baptist church of Greenville, who will speak on the subject of "Foreign Missions." Mr. Jones is considered one of the most forceful speakers of the Association and his subject deals with a problem of great interest to members of the denomination.

Mrs. Alice Longworth and her brother, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., were the first to congratulate Mr. Hoover on his Boston address when he returned here.

The nominee had scarcely reached his personal headquarters from the railroad station when his unexpected callers arrived.

"We just thought we would drop in to see him," said Mrs. Longworth before hurrying upstairs to the nominee's office.

She was enthusiastic over the progress of the campaign and said she listened regularly to radio addresses by the candidate, Senator Borah and other major Republican speakers.

"It's going splendidly," she explained, summing up the situation with her usual vivacity.

Mr. Roosevelt explained that he was in Washington only for a flying visit between campaign speeches. He will speak at Staunton, Va., tonight, later going to Massachusetts.

They both called on Mrs. Hoover at her home after leaving the candidate's headquarters.

Curtis To Speak In Raleigh Tonight

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 16.—(AP)—No elaborate program has been arranged for the visit of Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice-presidential nominee, to Raleigh today. Brownlow Jackson, State chairman, and other party leaders from various parts of North Carolina will confer with him before his address, which is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock in the city auditorium.

Senator Curtis will be introduced by Herbert F. Seawell, of Carthage, the party's nominee for governor.

Students of Wake Forest and North Carolina State college, members of Hoover-Curtis clubs at those institutions, will serve as ushers and the Wake Forest band will play. It has been announced by Paul C. West, manager of Republican Eastern Carolina headquarters here.

The nominee will be met at the train at 5:30, and escorted to a hotel. After his speech, he will retire to his hotel for the night, his plans calling for his return trip northward tomorrow.

GEORGE BATTLE TO SPEAK AT ROCKY MOUNT

Rocky Mount, Oct. 16.—(AP)—George Gordon Battle, native of Edgecombe county and now New York attorney, and political leader, will speak at the Rocky Mount Fair at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon as one of the feature events of the fair.

HOOVER BACK AT HIS DESK AT CAPITAL

Washington, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover returned to Washington today from his trip to Boston, where he spoke last night. He went directly to his home to work on the address soon to be delivered in New York City.

Republican Candidate For President Congratulated Upon Address At Boston.

Elizabeth City brings a team of unknown strength here, but one which is reputed to be fast and heady as well as heavy enough to cause trouble. With the successive injuries that have been overtaking "Soup" Porter's aggregation, he is forced to change his lineup at frequent intervals, and consequently cannot develop the smooth working machine that made last year's team a joy to watch. The latest is "Runt" Bostic, captain and stellar half back, whose back refuses to heal sufficiently to allow him to continue playing, in spite of solicitous treatment. At the same time, a bad knee forces Respass, last year's best ground gainer, to remain out for an indefinite time. In spite of all, the game with Elizabeth City should prove a splendid struggle for on-lookers, and will whet their appetites for the brand of football that only such national stars as "Red" Grange and George Wilson, All-American half back, can furnish.

And the evening performance will furnish thrills galore. Greenville High School and its friends will have the treat of their lives when they see the popular idol in a story that is built around football, and gives Red a chance to show the stuff that made him the greatest player the world has ever had. The climax is a thrilling game through which the "Galloping Ghost" tears with his unrivaled speed and incomparable technique. He shows clearly why he is considered probably the most wonderful player that ever donned moleskins.

Textile Workers Strike In Poland

Warsaw, Oct. 16.—(AP)—A general strike enforced in behalf of striking textile workers has halted almost all commercial and municipal activities in Lodz.

Members of the municipal council, which is composed mostly of Socialists, closed down their desks and joined in the walkout. Only Mayor Ziemiński, a Socialist, remained at his post directing relief measures for the families of the strikers.

When the general strike was called it was only slightly supported and the general committee then decided to enforce measures for an effective closing down immediately. Employees of the city sewage and water departments were forced to quit work. Street cars were stopped and chauffeurs abandoned their automobiles.

RED GRANGE TO FEATURE GAME HERE FRIDAY

Friday will be a big day for Greenville High School, as the first home football game with Elizabeth City will feature the afternoon, and a benefit moving picture show starring "Red" Grange will be put on at White's Theatre, both afternoon and night performances. This double bill will doubtless make a very stirring week-end program for many the followers of football in Greenville being almost as much interested as the school boys and girls.

To Reduce Debut Cost.

New York.—(AP)—It costs young musicians about $150,000 a year to make their debuts in New York. The average expense is $800, the object being to obtain New York press notices before appearing in other cities. The National Broadcasting company and the National Music League are seeking to arrange radio debuts that will cost nothing.

AT THE BIG CLOCK

FLORIDA HAS BETTER TEAM THIS SEASON

By HORACE E. RENEGAR (Associated Press Sports Writer) Gainesville, Fla., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Florida's Alligators will be an improved football machine this season, despite the loss of Big Bill Middlekauff.

And, as will be recalled, they were no easy mark for the best in 1927. Coach Charles Bachman, new director of football activities here, although a veteran at the tutoring game, is maneuvering in true Notre Dame style—and it was at the South Bend institution that he played his own game.

So far this season he has been starting a set of shock troops—second stringers some called them—but they have certainly softened up the opposition for regulars during the time they were in the game.

There are two lines—almost on a par. Coach Bachman Saturday sent in Green, Norfleet, McRae, Clark Houser, Hicks and Nolan as a forward wall and had the more experienced Stanley, Bryan, Reeves, Norfleet, Stelle and Van Sickle ready to take a place a little later. Clark is the regular center most of the game.

While the Gator forward strength is not wanting, it's in the backfield that real promises are held.

This Boyer, Owens, Crabtree, Cawthon second combination is a ground gaining machine at all times.

Three of the four are of last season's first four while Cawthon understudied Middlekauff.

Boyer is a passing, punting, running quarterback who chooses his methods quickly and well and is a real inspiration to his team as captain.

Owens was one of the best backfield runners of the team last year, scoring often and sometimes on long runs. Crabtree is nothing short of his appellation, "Cannonball Clyde," so far this season he has played less than three quarters but his scored eight touchdowns. He also passes well, Bachman declares him to be one of the greatest backs he has ever witnessed in action.

Those names are only half of the offensive section of the Alligators.

Carl Brumbach, another regular back, starred against Auburn last week with three touchdowns. He is one of the fastest and most elusive men in the conference and can take a pass adeptly.

Added to this array of backs must be named Goodbread, speedy 193 pound half back. He can turn the corner in 10.6 seconds. Then, there is Ed Bethea, the former prep star of Georgia and Sauls, a plunging full back.

Without doubt, Florida has one of the greatest backfield sets in Dixie and will be in the conference race to the end.

Oklahoma City—Babe Hunt, Ponca City, Okla., outpointed Martin Burke, New Orleans (10). Cincinnati—Cecil Hayne, Louisville, knocked out Eddie Morgan, Boston (5).

Captain George Gibson will lead Minnesota's grid team against Iowa October 27.

Stags Confident Of Success For Chicago Gridders

By PAUL R. MICKELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chicago, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Out of the gloom that has encompassed the University of Chicago's football squad as it prepares for the seemingly hopeless task of halting Minnesota's juggernaut has come one ray of sunshine—the infectious confidence of the "grand old man" himself, Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg.

With his small squad battered, worn and shocked by Iowa's relentless attack Saturday and with the future dark, Stagg called his players together yesterday.

"We are a trifle worn, weary and battered," he beamed, "but boys, we have plenty of fight and some great ball left in us yet. Minnesota has a great team and from what I hear it is going to be a monumental task for any team in the Western Conference to stop it, but we are going to try. We are going to cause a lot of trouble in this race yet. Let's start but right now."

This optimism from the coach who is developing his 37th team at Chicago came in the face of his scout's report of Minnesota's progress against Purdue and the fact that four of his best backs, Libby, Rayson, Leyer and Mendenhall, are on the hospital list from injuries suffered in the Iowa game, while Captain Saul Weislow, one of the best tacklers in the conference in 1927, is out probably for good with a career-injury.

"Iowa may be tough," said his scout, who saw the Minnesota-Purdue game Saturday, "but Minnesota is tougher still. Nagurski and Horne at half will ruin almost any line, while the Gopher forward wall is as hard as a concrete block."

Chicago—Dave Shade, San Francisco, outpointed "Cowboy" Jack Willis, San Antonio. New York—George Courtney, Oklahoma, knocked out Wilson Yarbo, Cleveland (10). Lou Barba, New York, outpointed Rocky Knight, England (10).

COCHRANE IS BEST PLAYER IN AMERICAN

Chicago, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane, 25 year old catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, today was named as the most valuable player to his club in the American League's 1928 season.

Cochrane won the award by a margin of only two points over Heinie Manush, St. Louis outfielder.

In addition to having his name inscribed on the junior circuit's honor role along with the previous winners, Cochrane will receive $1,000 in cash. The award was made by a commission of baseball writers from meach city in the league.

In the voting, Cochrane received 53 points while Manush, who finished second in the American League's individual batting race, received 51.

Every member of the commission voted for Manush, two placing him first, one second, four third and one fifth. Second baseman Tony Lazzeri and pitcher Waite Hoyt of the New York Yankees came in for one first place ranking each.

Cochrane, who joined the Athletics in 1925 and immediately broke into the regular lineup, ranked in fourth place last year with 18 votes. He got four votes in 1926. Mickey came to Connie Mack from Portland, Oregon, of the Pacific coast circuit where he started his professional baseball career after an eventful baseball and football career at Boston University. He caught in 130 games in the season just closed.

While only hitting 293 Cochrane was rated by members of the commission as being largely responsible for the showing of the Athletics during the closing days of the campaign. His throwing arm and ability to tag runners out at the plate placed him high in the estimation of the baseball writers.

There was a tie for third place between first baseman Joe Judge and Lazzeri of the Yankees, each receiving 27 votes. In fifth place was Willie Kamm, Chicago White Sox captain, and third baseman, while Leon Goslin of Washington, champion hitter of the circuit, and Earl Combs of New York, were tied for sixth place.

Under the American League's most valuable player award conditions none of those who previously had won the honors was eligible for consideration. The previous winners were: George Sisler, St. Louis, 1922; Babe Ruth, New York, 1923; Walter Johnson, Washington, 1924; George Burns, Cleveland, 1926; and Lou Gehrig, New York, 1927.

BILL ROPER ON RAMPAGE WITH TIGERS

By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Bill Roper's on the rampage and when the one-time Philadelphia alderman is in that state ferocious Princeton football Tigers curl up and "play dead."

Bill's plain disgusted with the way his Tigers behaved against Virginia's Cavaliers and he's taking some drastic steps to locate the punch that was so sadly missing in last Saturday's scoreless draw.

First and foremost, Roper ordered his squad to return to the huddle system of calling signals after a two weeks' experiment with the "old vocal" method. The Tigers had too much trouble hearing their quarterback call the signals so the huddle will be revived.

Bill's changes didn't stop there. He plans to send Buck Pendegast to right end in place of Morrison, Hockenbury to right tackle for Moore; Levine to left guard for Byles and Graham Jones into the backfield for Recardt. Against Lehigh this Saturday, Jack Fanshaw will be at full-back in place of the injured Mike Miles, and Dick Mestres is to fill the guard position left vacant by Joe Caldwell, who had been injured so severely he will play no more football this year. Roper expects few difficulties with Lehigh but after the Tiger's showing against Virginia he probably feels that anything can happen.

The East will watch Princeton's fray with Lehigh with no more than half an eye. There are too many first rank games for anything more than that. In addition, the inter-sectional slate although not so heavy as last week's has four outstanding games. Syracuse meets Nebraska at Lincoln; Colgate travels to Lansing to battle Michigan State; Duke invades Annapolis to take on the discouraged navy while Washington and Lee and West Virginia adjourn to neutral ground at Charleston, W. Va., to have their argument out.

Rogers Hornsby To Be Traded To Cubs

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Tribune today said that Rogers Hornsby, second baseman and manager of the Boston Braves, will be traded to the Chicago Cubs as soon as the Boston Club names its price for the leading hitter of the National League.

The deal, previously denied by presidents of both clubs, now is "positively under way," the paper said. The price to be paid for Hornsby may run as high as $200,000, plus two or more players, the Tribune stated.

Hornsby recently told a newspaperman, the paper continued, that he expected to be moved to Chicago.

Hornsby's transfer may not be effected for some time, however, according to the Tribune, until the price is agreed upon and the Braves' management agrees on a player or players to be received in return.

The Tribune said negotiations were begun a month ago when William Veeck, the Cubs' president, went to New York to discuss the trade with President Emil Fuchs of the Braves. A tentative agreement was said to have been made at that time. Hornsby told Veeck he would welcome a chance to play in Chicago, the paper said.

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Oct. 16—(AP)—Unfavorable weather advices from the South and relatively steady cables were reflected by advances in the cotton market here today. In addition to covering and trade buying, a broadening of commission house demand was reported on the advance which carried the price of December contracts slightly over the 19 1/2 cent level. Enough realising was attracted by the higher prices to cause moderate reactions, but the mid-afternoon market was steady at net gains of 20 to 25 points.

GRAIN MARKET

By JOHN F. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, Oct. 16—(AP)—Liberal exchanging of wheat future delivery contracts today for seaboard account here, suggesting heavier export business than acknowledged, had a bullish effort on wheat values. Besides, snowstorms and sleeting domestic wheat territory west were expected to delay completion of winter wheat seeding. On the other hand, good rains which fell in the southwest were looked upon as highly beneficial from a crop standpoint. Moisture having been absent over a wide area for some time past, wheat closes unsettled, 1-2 to 7-8c net higher. Corn 1-2c to 3-4c up; oats showed 1-4 to 1-2c advance, provisions were unchanged to a setback of 80c.

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO INTERFERE IN HICKMAN CASE

Sacramento, Calif., Oct. 16—(AP)—Governor C C Young, of California, refused today to interfere with the execution of William Edward Hickman, set for next Friday morning at San Quentin prison. The Governor made this known after conferences with Jerome Walsh, Kansas City, attorney for Hickman and Thomas Hickman of El Paso, Texas, father of the condemned youth.

DESTROYER FLEET LEAVES FOR PRACTICE

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 15—(AP)—The destroyer fleet left shortly after 7 o'clock this morning for their daily practice off the coast here. With the fleet were the three destroyers held in readiness to sail at an hour's notice to the aid of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin should she seek aid. The destroyers, it was said, will sail directly from the practice grounds if they are needed.

Woman Candidate Busy

Columbia, S. C.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Gordon Ellis of Ridgeland, democratic nominee for the state senate, is mother of three children, former county school superintendent and manager of a large livestock farm. Her husband is a turpentine operator.

WASHINGTON BYSTANDER

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON.
Washington—The sad experience of Senator Borah in Nebraska attracted attention in Washington. The question arose immediately as to who was going to be the ultimate loser due to the enterprise and activity of the hotel snafu thief who looted the senatorial pocketbook and annexed $400 while the Idaho statesman was recuperating in slumber from the rigor and vigor of his pro-Hoover campaign. Would the loss be set down eventually in the financial records of the Republican war chest, or would Borah add it as a contribution to the Hoover cause? Nobody knew.

Fishing For Wallets

The Idaho senator is not the first person high in American official life to pay tribute to deft-handed hotel thieves. The story goes that Minister Eberhardt in Managua, when he went to that post several years ago, suffered a similar raid.

The minister had arrived at Corinto, entry port for Managua, and been duly received with all customary circumstance for newly arrived diplomatic representatives. He was not to proceed to the Nicaraguan capitol until next day, the intervening night being spent at a Corinto hotel.

Now, it's usually hot in Corinto. Following tropic custom, partitions between sleeping rooms re just half portion affairs in this hotel, running up only part way to the ceiling in order to leave room for circulation of air. The minister turned in, tired from the round of reception festivities. Something woke him in the early daylight hours, however, and he observed the astonishing phenomenon of his official ministerial trousseau ascending the partition wall, apparently of their own motion, and vanishing over the top.

By the time he could rustle up covering and dash out to look into the mystery, the trousseau flopped casually back over the partition. They were minus the roll of bills that had bulged one pocket. Naval officers who have frequented the hotel could have told the diplomat of anglers who employ fishing rod, line and hook to extract the clothing of unwary guests.

Clothes Lifted From Train

Much the same experience has impaired the dignity of other American diplomats. The compartment sleeping cars of Europe are stuffy to folks accustomed to the airy freedom of an American sleeper. They are tempted to heave up the window and leave it up, despite signs which warn against that rash disregard of the abilities of the dishonest.

On retiring, the American traveler spreads out his duds on a shelf-like affair provided for that purpose. But in doing so he fails to reckon with a fish-hook, armed jinker beside the track at some way station, on watch for just such a Heaven-sent opportunity for pilferage. There are no window screens as a rule because most travelers on European trains don't want the windows open anyhow. So in pops a stick shot with a hook and out go coat, trousers and what-not while the train speeds on its way with the victim still peacefully dreaming.

One Highly Dignified American

secretary of legation bound for Constantinople arrived there minus all his outer clothing and his purse. He was forced to drape himself in a blanket to reach a hotel and his luggage.

TERribly ILL
Kentucky Lady's Health Was Very Bad. Had Severe Pains and Could Not Sleep.

Lexington, Ky.—Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, this city, says that Cardui has been of valuable assistance to her on two occasions, which she tells about below:

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had very severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest. "The lower part of my body was very sore. I could hardly stoop over to lace my shoes. I would have to put my foot on a chair. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights. "A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic."

"Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui helped them to get rid of pain and suffering. Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients. At all drug stores. NC-190

Smith & Sugg Market Report

Tobacco is selling higher now than at any time this season. Our Monday's sale of over 350,000 pounds averaged over 26c. We had at least 50 customers who averaged from 45 to 65c. Good and fine tobaccos are at the top and we believe that now is the time to sell them. Never before have we had as many customers from distant counties, who have seen the other markets, and they say we are the highest of all.

Bring us your tobacco and we will show you that we sell every grade for more money.
