LOCAL ISSUES IN LIMELIGHT IN NEW JERSEY

National Issues Partly Obscured By Developments Of Recent Date.

By BYDON PRICE.
Associated Press Staff Writer
Newark, N. J., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Fitting its politics to a pattern distinctly its own, New Jersey has furnished a prime reminder this year that a presidential campaign really is forty-eight separate state campaigns, more or less loosely rolled into one.

Such as it has in common with its wet, industrial eastern neighbors, local considerations have set this state apart in the contest between Smith and Hoover. The national issues have become tangled and obscured, and in these final days the politicians are speculating on the possible weight of certain local aspects of the situation. One of these is a legislative inquiry into the operations of the Democratic organization headed by Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City. Another is a row over registration. A third is the possible reaction of North Jersey's strange mixture of racial and religious groups to Governor Smith's personal appeal in the closing days of the battle.

With only a week to go, the Republicans set the state distinctly apart in their election claims, listing it as one of the least doubtful of all of the debated states in the normally Republican east. The Republican state chairman even predicted a Hoover plurality of 250,000. The Democrats, however, are making no concessions, holding to their prediction that Smith will carry the state, and placing great faith in what the nominee may be able to do for himself here in his final intensive drive for the North Atlantic seaboard.

From the beginning, the New Jersey campaign has followed a previous pathway. Taking into account the known voter sentiment, the fact that for nearly a decade the state has been electing Democratic governors, while giving Republican nationally, the presence of large foreign elements, and the proximity to New York, the Democratic national organization was inclined even while the Houston convention still was in session to list New Jersey as safe for Smith. The nominee himself came into the state and made a short speech just before his formal notification. It was followed by a Democratic proclamation that it was all over except a considerable amount of shouting, and by a request by Republican leaders that Mr. Hoover show himself to the Jerseyites.

Mr. Hoover obliged them. He selected Newark for delivery of his "prosperity" speech. All over the state, Republican leaders went to work with the tariff and prosperity as their principal issues. They appeared in particular to the million and a half employees in the Jersey factories. They dismissed the wet and dry issue as inapplicable here where such Republican leaders as Senator Edge are as openly opposed to the present dry laws as is Governor Smith himself. The Republican wets argued that the Smith prohibition plan was not feasible, anyway, and that it would not be possible to have the country half wet and half dry.

The Democrats in turn, insisted that New Jersey's many industries would have nothing to fear from the Democratic tariff plank of 1928. Thus the parties have reached a stage where the Republicans deny that prohibition is an issue, and the Democrats deny that the tariff is an issue, while the voters are showing increasing signs of making an issue of their own out of religion. There are many Catholics in New Jersey, including thousands of foreign descent in the populous industrial centers, while the Klan has been a factor in the dry, Protestant sections outside.

While all of this was taking place, some of the principal leaders of Mayor Hague's Jersey City organization, counted on as a great pillar of Smith strength in the state, were kept busy answering subpoenas and replying to various charges before an investigating committee appointed by the Republican legislature. The mayor himself, who also is the Democratic national committeeman, was summoned before the investigators today at Trenton.

Claims of a Democratic victory are described by E. B. Mott, the Republican state chairman, as wholly ridiculous. He declares his prophecy of a 250,000 Hoover margin is based on detailed reports of a definite Hoover swing all over the state. He even is claiming Essex county by 40,000.

Nor do the Republican leaders fail to point out to inquiries what a heavy turnover from previous presidential counts would be necessary to swing New Jersey to Smith.

RHODE ISLAND CHEERS SMITH

Thousands turned out at Providence, R. I., to welcome Gov. Alfred E. Smith on his final tour of the campaign. He was showered with paper as he rode through the streets of Providence enroute to New York.

German Dirigible Off On Flight Back To Germany

By W. W. CHAPLIN

South Dartmouth, Mass., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin reported that it was about 110 miles southeast of Cape Sable, Nova Scotia, in a message received today at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Red Sox station. The big dirigible was then making a speed of about 70 miles an hour and the weather was clear, the message said.

Weather reports from ships in the North Atlantic lane indicated that the Graf Zeppelin will encounter shifting winds and squally weather as she gets further out over the ocean. Dr. Rames H. Kimball, of the Weather Bureau, said:

Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, imprisoned for days by contrary winds, heaved off its bond early today and headed back through the moonlight skies for its home port at Friedrichshafen, Germany, whence it came October 15. It left at 1:54 a. m.

With three score men and one woman aboard, the greatest airship that ever flew the skies was dragged tail first from the hangar not long after midnight, then, seeming suddenly to acquire a life of its own it lifted proudly against the moon and strode away on its journey across the seas.

All day yesterday departure of the Zeppelin on its return flight had remained in doubt. Zero hour for the ground crew of sailors who have been in constant attendance on the great ship since its arrival from Europe two weeks ago today was first set for 5 o'clock in the afternoon and then advanced to midnight. But even then no one seemed really to believe that the ship would leave.

But midnight came and action followed with breathless swiftness. The Zeppelin on its return flight had remained in doubt. Zero hour for the ground crew of sailors who have been in constant attendance on the great ship since its arrival from Europe two weeks ago today was first set for 5 o'clock in the afternoon and then advanced to midnight. But even then no one seemed really to believe that the ship would leave.

The ground crew, more than 300 sailors trained to such events by frequent handling of the Los Angeles, marched to their posts and grasped the air monster as unceremoniously as a mother pushes a baby carriage. The great east doors of the hangar ground opened on their tracks and the night wuffed into the hangar with its invitation of limitless space to be traversed by those who dare.

An officer barked a terse command. The great ship stirred through its whole length of 778 feet its 111 tons of weight seemed to heave and rise. It was like a giant sighting at the thought of activity expected of him, activity that cannot be postponed.

Out of the hangar the sailors walked the Graf Zeppelin as though it were a little blimp such as the two that have nudged under the tail of the navy dirigible Los Angeles since the Graf Zeppelin came to crowd them into one corner of the hangar.

At 1:30 the Graf Zeppelin was clear of the hangar, and so had passed one of the most perilous moments of any flugkuehles.

Out in the night the Zeppelin was a great black mottle with fin of silver down its back where the moon struck. It twisted toward the north and moved ponderously under the sailors' expert guidance, to a holly far enough from the hangar so that there would be no danger of being blown against the towering steel structure.

And then: "Weight ship," an officer bellowed.

The ground crew released its many hoisted hold. The Graf Zeppelin, a giant waking from a deep sleep, lifted its head slowly as though sniffing the relish of the morning air, and there a roar of five great engines split the night.

Given a penitentiary term of one year, Faison completed his sentence today, receiving part time off for good behavior. Leaving the prison in a taxicab he went straight to the home of a brother where he once more was united with his wife and four children.

Faison was taken into custody by police after he had carried Mrs. Snipes to a local hospital at an early hour in the morning. The woman died a few hours later from a bullet wound in her forehead without gaining consciousness.

SMITH HITS LAST LAP OF CAMPAIGNING

Democratic Nominee Believes He Has Reached Turning Point Of Battle.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The special train carrying Gov. Smith and his party to Baltimore left here at 1:15 this afternoon. Driving into Wilmington from the nearby home of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, the nominee was accompanied to the station by Andrew C. Gray, national committeeman from Delaware and James M. Tunnell, state chairman.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 29.—(AP)—With four speeches ahead of him in the last week before election, Governor Smith today reached that stage of the presidential race which he predicted soon after his notification would be the turning point of the campaign.

The Democratic presidential nominee is a firm believer in strong campaign finishes, having practiced it in his gubernatorial battles on the theory that thousands wait until the final week to make up their minds which way to vote.

So tonight in Baltimore he will start down the home stretch of his Atlantic seaboard offensive confident that his last four efforts to present the issues in "plain, everyday language" will swing to the Democratic party the voters necessary to place him in the White House.

Rested after a week-end stay at the nearby home of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, at Claymont, the governor planned to motor to Wilmington to board his special train at 1:30 p. m. His arrival at the Mt. Royal station in Baltimore was set for 3 o'clock and a parade of an hour through the industrial and business centers was to follow, terminating at the Hotel Belvedere.

Others thought he would take another oral fling at Herbert Hoover, probably in connection with his extra session statement on farm relief.

After an overnight stay in Baltimore, Governor Smith will return to New York to prepare for his second speech of the week at Newark, N. J., Wednesday night. On Friday, at the Academy of Music at Brooklyn, he will deliver an address on state issues, and on Saturday night wind up his speaking campaign with a general appeal to the national electorate from Madison Square Garden.

With his Saturday night address, he will have delivered seventeen formal campaign speeches in fifteen states, extending from Massachusetts to Montana and Oklahoma to Maryland. Three will have been made in his native state of New York counting his address to the Democratic state convention in Rochester, October 1st.

Richmond Clubman Receives Release From Penitentiary
Richmond, Va., Oct. 29.—(AP)—John Wesley Faison, former secretary of the Hermitage Golf Club here, was released from the state penitentiary today where he was sent last March by a Hastings court jury for fatally wounding Mrs. Elsie Holt Snipes, young music teacher, in her apartment here.

Given a penitentiary term of one year, Faison completed his sentence today, receiving part time off for good behavior. Leaving the prison in a taxicab he went straight to the home of a brother where he once more was united with his wife and four children.

Faison was taken into custody by police after he had carried Mrs. Snipes to a local hospital at an early hour in the morning. The woman died a few hours later from a bullet wound in her forehead without gaining consciousness.

Faison maintained that she shot herself when he told her that he was going to "give her up." The commonwealth held that Faison killed the young divorcee because of jealousy.

The first trial of the case resulted in a deadlocked jury.

Homes Of Two Judges Bombed At Chicago, Ill.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The race for State's Attorney, the warmest contest of the present campaign in Chicago, was even today in one respect; each candidate had been "bombed". The bombing of Judge John A. Swanson's home was one of the startling occurrences of the primary campaign, a bomb exploding at the Swanson dwelling only a few minutes after one had blasted away a portion of United States Senator Deeney's home, not far away. Judge Swanson is the Republican candidate for State's Attorney.

A bomb presumably directed at his Democratic opponent, Judge William J. Lindsay, tore away part of a garage at the rear of the Lindsay home Saturday night.

"Gang Rule" has been the campaign issue of both candidates, each promising if elected to rid the city of bombers, gunmen and racketeers.

EVANGELIST SPEAKS TWO TIMES HERE

Dr. McFarland To Speak on "Immediate Destination Of Soul After Death."

Dr. R. A. McFarland, who is conducting the ten days' revival services in this city at the Immanuel Baptist Church, spoke to capacity audiences yesterday, at both morning and evening services.

Yesterday was "Students' Day" at the church, and students of East Carolina Teachers College had charge of the morning services. A special musical program was put on which was very much enjoyed by the congregation.

At the morning services, Dr. McFarland took for his subject, "Charity." His text was taken from the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians. The speaker brought out point after point showing that without the love of God in our hearts, all acts and deeds would avail us nothing in His sight.

"The love of God in our hearts," declared Dr. McFarland, "is what makes us express this love in deeds of kindness, in working for our church and for our community.

"For, without this love," he said, "all our deeds of kindness, all our gifts to the poor, all our work in the church and community—all this becomes as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal in the sight of God our Maker."

Again last night Dr. McFarland preached a powerful, yet simple sermon. His messages are clear, concise and to the point, and the truth of his statements bring conviction to those that hear him.

The music at last night's service was exceptionally good. Besides the congregational singing, led by the pastor, Rev. L. R. O'Brien, the Memorial Baptist quartet rendered a special number.

For tonight's sermon, Dr. McFarland has selected the subject, "The Immediate Destination of the Soul After Death." Few sermons have been preached here on this subject and his announcement yesterday of the subject created much interest. It is expected a large crowd will attend tonight's services to hear Dr. McFarland.

Rev. O'Brien stated this morning that a number of additions had been made to the church. The meeting will close on Wednesday night.

300 Rooms Needed For Teachers To Meet Here Nov. 9

Three hundred rooms will be needed to accommodate the hundreds of teachers to attend the annual conference of the Northeastern District of the North Carolina Educational Association to convene in this city November 9th, it was announced today by the secretary of the Greenville Merchants Association. Anybody having rooms to rent are urged to notify the Association immediately. $100 a day will be allowed for each room.

Greenville plans to make the visit of the teachers as pleasant as possible, but this cannot be accomplished without adequate sleeping accommodations. If you have a spare room, get in touch with the Association immediately.

This is the third consecutive time Greenville has entertained this group of the State Educational Association and every effort is being made to make the entertainment this year more elaborate than ever.

DR. CARROLL TO SPEAK IN PITT COUNTY

Raleigh Woman Speaks at Bethel This Afternoon and Winterville Tonight.

Dr. Della Dixon Carroll, of Raleigh, will speak in behalf of the Democratic cause at Bethel this afternoon at 4 o'clock and Winterville tonight at 7:30 o'clock. It was announced this morning by W. E. Hooks, of Ayden, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee.

Dr. Carroll has appeared in numbers of Eastern North Carolina towns, advocating the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, for president of the United States, and a large crowd is expected to greet her in both of the Pitt county towns, Mr. Hooks stated.

The county chairman also stated that much interest has been created by announcement of the coming to Greenville, November 2, of R. H. Cleveland, son of former President Grover Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland will discuss issues of the campaign and present many reasons why Alfred E. Smith is the outstanding political leader of the nation today.

Although Mr. Cleveland's subject has not been announced, Mr. Hooks said it was a settled fact his address would deal largely with refutation of charges against Governor Smith, and a summing up of the record of the Democratic party. It is the first time this distinguished orator has appeared in the campaign in North Carolina and he is expected to prove one of the largest drawing cards of the local campaign.

Democratic clubs throughout the county have played an important part in convincing voters of the necessity of exerting their privilege in the present election, the chairman said. Registration will be larger than ever before, and while all of the registrants will not vote, the largest vote in history of the county is expected to be polled.

Judge Albin Dunn will carry the campaign into the town of Hamilton tonight. The well known Pitt county orator has appeared in numbers of towns the past two weeks and has been greeted by large crowds wherever he has appeared. Efforts were under way today to arrange for Judge Dunn to speak in Greenville, but no definite decision had been reached this afternoon. It is believed hundreds of people would turn out to hear this distinguished citizen and orator speak at home.

Bandit Takes $4,000 From Earle Theatre At Washington, D. C.

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A bandit today walked into the box office of the Earle Theatre in downtown Washington, held up the manager and assistant manager and walked out into the crowded street with $4,000.

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company today was denied title to the "regenerative" or "feed-back" circuit, a basic feature in radio amplification, used in many receiving sets. The supreme court was affirmed on authority cited.

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The registration there is 2,313,816, compared with 1,281,778 who cast their ballots in 1924.

A development, unusual in American politics, is the great increase in the registration of the Democratic "Solid South." For the first time in years the Southern States are in the throes of a spirited presidential campaign and reports from every state indicate voters will flock to the polls as never before.

Texas probably will qualify 1,500,000 voters, in the opinion of Governor Moody, although he believes only 800,000 will actually cast their ballots. The Lone Star State in 1924, cast 657,509 presidential ballots.

Old-time political observers have had their eyes opened at the remarkable registration of women voters. While only a few states make an official attempt to tabulate the potential voters as to sex, figures available are very unusual. Striking an average of the male and female registration, it is conservatively estimated that women will cast from 35 to 45 per cent of the total vote in the larger cities. In the rural districts this percentage probably will not be so high.

A few instances to indicate the general trend: Maryland reveals an increase of 72 per cent in the women registrants over 1924. Philadelphia shows an increase of 116 per cent, St. Paul, 72 per cent; Duluth, 46 per cent; St. Louis 35 per cent, and Kansas City 38 per cent.

Mrs. Clara Adams of Tannersville, Pa., wife of George L. Adams, retired cannery owner, is listed as the only woman paying passenger for the return flight to Germany of the trans-Atlantic Graf Zeppelin.

OVER MILLION POUNDS LEAF IN CITY TODAY

Prices Reported Stronger On All Grades Of Tobacco Offered Here.

Prices were reported stronger on all grades of tobacco offered for sale on the Greenville tobacco market today, according to the daily report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The report indicated that there was about a million, one hundred thousand pounds of bright leaf on the market with prospects of all floors being virtually cleared during the afternoon hours.

Much common grade tobacco was in evidence today but prices were considerably stronger than at any other time of the season for this particular brand. Good tobacco, as usual, commanded splendid prices.

The market has passed the forty million pound mark for the season. The goal for the season is seventy million pounds. Something over sixty percent of the crop has been disposed of and sales from now until Thanksgiving are expected to be some lighter than the present month.

WESTINGHOUSE DENIED "FEED BACK" CIRCUIT

TWO COLLEGE BOYS CHARGED WITH MURDER

Members of Socially Prominent Families Held At Atlanta For Double Crime.

Atlanta, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A couple of college boys who were enjoying their usual carefree weekend Saturday, were fighting for their lives from jail cells today, knowing full well the police held a confession of two killings in a series of seven holdups that would have done credit to a first class desperado.

The struggle was revealed not by their calm, serious and even polite acceptance of unusual surroundings, but by an array of six lawyers retained by wealthy families to confront what the police said was "an airtight murder case."

George Harsh—"June" in his fellow students at Oglethorpe University here—was the author of the confession in the hands of police. The document was withheld, but Chief of Detectives A. Larnat Poole said it was clearly a case of killing for a thrill that money couldn't buy. Richard Gray Galloway was the young fellow—but he refused to comment on his companion's story that he drove the automobile used in the holdups. The confession said Harsh was the killer.

Willard Smith, a druggist, and E. E. Meek, grocery clerk, were slain when they resisted two determined bandits. Both of the killings occurred this month during a series of daringly executed crimes of a similar nature, which police had attributed to Roy Dickerson, nationally notorious bank robber who recently escaped from prison in Alabama.

To newspaper men whom they greeted in their cells exactly as they would welcome guests in their luxurious homes, the youths apparently seemed to recognize the serious aspect of their predicament.

"I am deeply sorry," Harsh told a reporter in the privacy of a solitary cell as a guard stood nearby. "I know that by my actions I have brought upon myself a great calamity, but I have no one to blame but myself. I know that a confession will not do any good to those hours that have been darkened by the acts of me and my partner. But I have made a complete confession and I will stand by it for better or for worse."

And this from Galloway in another part of the jail: "I have not made a statement and right now I do not know if I ever will. But I do want to say and want it known that I am not standing in the way of police in their investigation of this case. I will not do anything to hurt their case and will do everything to help them that I can without doing anything to hurt myself."

"June" Harsh is a well turned out young man of medium height and pleasing countenance, while Dick Galloway is a tall youth of lowering brow and the aggressive swing of a football lineman. Both are in their late teens and members of socially prominent families. Galloway the son of Mrs. Worth E. Yankey, prominent Atlanta physician's wife, and Harsh, scion of a Milwaukee family whose fortune was accumulated in the shoe industry.

Frank B. Anderson, registrar of Oglethorpe University, issued a formal statement today declaring that Harsh was not a student at the time of his confessed crimes and that Galloway had been suspended a week after he registered on October 10th.

"This is to certify that Mr. Geo. Harsh did not register at Oglethorpe University until October 16, 1928, and therefore was not a student at Oglethorpe University during the time that he was engaged in the affairs that he has confessed, the last of which occurred on that date," said the statement.

"Mr. Richard Galloway was registered at the University on October 10, 1928, but was suspended the following week and has not attended any classes since."

Student leaders of the school said that Harsh had attended no classes and that neither of the two youths was considered a "typical Oglethorpe student." Galloway was suspended, they explained, in connection with the shooting of the campus clock from an automobile identified by school authorities as his own.

NEGRO HELD FOR KILLING ANOTHER

Henderson, N. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Josh Jones, negro, was in jail here today pending a coroner's inquest into the death of Hayward Brodie, another negro, who is alleged to have been killed by Jones Sunday night when the two men engaged in a dispute over which had the most money. Jones refused to make a statement before the coroner's jury shortly after the killing and the hearing was adjourned until midnight.

HOOVER WILL DELIVER FIVE MORE PLEAS

Last Address Of Campaign To Be Made at Stanford University, California.

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington Oct. 29.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover is to make five more set addresses before his cause is submitted to the voters of the country one week from tomorrow. Four of them will be crowded into a space of forty-eight hours during his flying trip back to California to vote, the fourth of these to be delivered at Pueblo, Colorado. This city was added last night to his itinerary, necessitating a complete shift of schedule between St. Louis and Palo Alto.

Instead of striking northwestward from St. Louis Friday night for Nebraska and Wyoming, the Republican presidential candidate will cross Missouri overnight, then pass through Kansas from east to west, and then across Colorado and go diagonally across Utah to Ogden. The Pueblo speech will be delivered at 7 p. m. Saturday night from a platform in the public square just outside the railroad station and will be broadcast to the mountain states, as it will be the only address Hoover has delivered in those states since the opening of the campaign.

While the special train will make a fifteen minute stop at Salt Lake City, there will be no speech there. Political leaders of Utah will join him there and confer with him during the run to Ogden.

The first address in the final drive of the campaign will be made in the public square at Cumberland, Maryland, at 8:25 p. m. Thursday night, three and a half hours after Hoover leaves Washington. It will be limited to a quarter of an hour and will be the only one made in Maryland during the campaign.

The next will be made at Louisville, where the nominee will spend an hour and a half Friday, from 10:10 to 11:40 a. m., and will participate in an extensive street procession before speaking in front of the Jefferson county court house.

Thursday night his special train will stop at Keyser, West Virginia. Walter S. Hallahan, national committeeman, and other leaders of that state, greeting the nominee during a five minutes' stop.

After leaving Louisville, the nominee will cross over into Indiana. The train will reach St. Louis about 7:30 p. m. and remain until 11 p. m., with Hoover speaking for one hour, from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m.

This will be the major address of the trip and in it the nominee will give an extended exposition of his farm relief program and the manner in which he believes it would operate to ameliorate conditions in the great farming sections.

Hoover is to reach Palo Alto at 1:30 p. m. one week from today and at 5 p. m. will make his last address of the campaign, a fifteen minutes' talk to the voters of the country from the study of his home on the campus of Stanford University where he will also receive the election returns the next evening.

Find Parachute In Tree

Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Discovery of an open parachute in a tree on Green Mountain, about 15 miles northeast of here, was reported today by government foresters. No reports of an airplane accident in this vicinity had been received. The parachute apparently had been used only recently and bore the marking "M. S. G."

Tebell indicated he would start his usual lineup against the Tar Heels, though it appeared probable he would use George Silver, reserve at one of the ends. Silver's work in the Florida game was outstanding, Tebell said.

The State squad came out of the Gator scrap without serious injury.

College Girls Hurt In Wreck

New Port News, Va., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Twelve girls, students of the Maryland College for Women, were injured here this morning when the bus in which they were riding collided with a trolley car. They were rushed to the hospital but neither their names nor the extent of their injuries were immediately available.

Eye witnesses expressed the opinion that some of them were seriously hurt.

The girls in a party of 25 arrived here by boat from Baltimore for a trip to historic points on the Virginia Peninsula, expecting to return tonight. They were leaving Newport News on the Richmond highway when the driver of the bus, property of the Peninsula Transit Corporation, turned across the trolley tracks near the city park. The trolley car, going in the same direction as the bus, struck it broadside and the bus was overturned. The trolley pushed the bus for several feet before it could stop. J. J. Curtis, driver of the bus, was said to be one of the oldest drivers in the employ of the company in point of service.

SUZANNE KEENER COMING HERE SOON

Suzanne Keener, who will give a recital at East Carolina Teachers College on November 8th, is now a prima donna of the National Broadcasting and Concert Bureau. She recently traveled six thousand miles, to the Pacific Coast, to sing one engagement over the air, on the first gala night of the Pacific Radio show of the Pacific Coast. She traveled a hundred and sixty hours on the train in order to sing thirty-two minutes. She was the first in the series of artists in the Coast Atwater Kent program.

Her beautiful voice is all that one gets over the radio, yet that is sufficient to place her among the great singers. She is a beautiful diminutive blonde, with sparkling personality. Her genius for dress is as marked as her genius for song. She left the Metropolitan Opera, after three successful years, for the concert stage because she could use all of her talents in the unique programs she arranges. She designs all of her costumes and arranges all of her programs.

This will be the second in the series of entertainments in the fall series.

The concert by the Duke Musical Clubs on November 20th, is included in the season ticket, so all ticket-holders will please note that they are entitled to this extra attraction.

The Eddy Brown String Quartet, on the evening of November 23, will be the fourth and last entertainment for the fall.

The Class plays are not included in the season tickets, so the Senior Class plays, which will be given in December, is not included in the series.

The four attractions included are these: Whitman, Suzanne Keener, Duke Musical Clubs, and the Eddy Brown String Quartet.

Baked Sweet Potatoes
Bread Grape Jam
Cabbage Salad
Apple Turnovers Cream
Coffee

Ham Loaf
2 cups ham; 1 cup bread or cracker crumbs; 1-4 teaspoon dry mustard; 1-4 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon chopped onion; 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, parsley or pinpoints; 2 eggs 1-2 cup water; 1-2 cup milk; 1 tablespoon butter, melted.

Mix all the ingredients and press into a loaf cake pan, which has been buttered. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Unmold and surround with celery sauce.

Celery Sauce
1-2 cup diced celery; 1 cup water; 1-4 teaspoon salt.
Mix the ingredients and cook very slowly in a covered pan for 10 minutes. Add to the sauce.

Sauce
2 tablespoons butter; 3 tablespoons flour; 1 cup milk.
Melt the butter and add the flour. Blend and add the milk and cook until thick and creamy. Add the celery and cook for one minute. Pour over and around the loaf.

Apple Turnovers
4 pieces pie crust, dough 8 by 6 inches; 4 apples; 1-2 cup brown sugar; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Wash and core the apples; steam until soft. Place the apples in the center of the pie crust squares, sprinkle with the sugar and cinnamon and add the butter. Bring up the corners of the dough and fasten about the apples; pinching the dough together to hold it in place. Prick 4 holes with the tines of a fork on each turnover. Place on a baking pan and bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes. Serve warm with cream or hard sauce.

Maple syrup may be used in place of sugar and water in making apples. The flavor is delicious.

A soft broad brush makes an ideal duster for carved and ornate furniture.

Never grease cake or cookie pans with butter, as it will burn. An unsalted fat or oil should be used.

Pumpkin Pie Variations
Serve plain or whipped cream, or ice cream, on chilled pumpkin pie.
Add 1-3 cup black walnuts or pecans to the filling for each pie.
If a dark pie filling is desired add

2 tablespoons molasses.

Add 1 cup diced marshmallows to the filling, before baking.
If a covering is desired, when the pie is nearly done cover with marshmallows and brown for 10 minutes in a slow oven.

Guiding Your Child

By MRS. AGNES LYNE
Carl Ewald in his book "My Little Boy" writes charmingly of his little boy's first sweetheart.

The young man brought her in from the playground one day and announced that he was going to marry her. He was about five and she was a year or more older. She was fat and dirty and possessed of more appetite than intelligence. She was stuffy and slow and certainly did not come of a very good family. But she was the girl of his choice and she charmed him.

The little boy's mother was all for casting out this unprepossessing fiancee. But his father felt quite rightly that in matters of the heart we cannot dictate for others. So the young lady was made welcome.

True, before they were permitted to play together, she had usually to be subjected to a vigorous scrubbing and fed great quantities of food, but this was no barrier to their youthful happiness. The affair ran its course until another and a fairer charmer usurped her place.

The moral is clear. Children must choose their own friends. In our eyes their virtues and charms may be conspicuously absent, but it is not for us to pass judgment. However they are, whatever they are, we must take them in and make them welcome.

If they are vulgar, stupid and untrustworthy it will not be long before our child finds it out. Soon enough he will be bored or repelled. Meanwhile he has learned something of the art of human relationships.

When we mock our child's choice of friends we do violence to his best instincts. How can a child develop loyalty if at home he must stand by while his friends are made fun of or criticized? He must feel like a traitor when later on he plays with them down the street. How shall he learn tolerance if not by a catholic taste in friends? He will get on better with people all his life for having had all sorts of friends when he was little.

Kills Two Of His Children And Suicides

High Point, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Reason for J. W. Hinkle, a bookkeeper of a local hosiery mill, having shot two of his children to death near here sometime Saturday night and then ending his own life had not been established today. The bodies of the trio were found early yesterday in a wooded spot a short distance from this city by a group who had searched all night without success.

Funeral services were being arranged today for his daughter, Elizabeth, 7, his son, 10, Vergil, and his father. Besides his widow he is survived by a son, James, 16. He was originally from West Virginia.

Though Hinkle had been in ill health for sometime his condition was said to have improved and his friends said that he had not appeared to be despondent.

He took his two children for an automobile ride just before the evening meal and did not return late that night. His wife became uneasy and asked neighbors and policemen to search for them. She said she was afraid an accident had occurred.

LINDBERGH SHOOTS ANTELOPE FROM AIR

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Having shot an antelope from his plane, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has left the Hal Mangum ranch in Coahuila, Mexico, for another range in Chihuahua, Eagle Pass residents, who had been entertaining Lindbergh, said today on their return here.

Colonel Lindbergh shot the antelope, they said, after a 20-mile chase in an attempt to get close enough to his quarry to shoot it. First reports were that a Colonel McNab from Mexico City had shot the antelope from a plane Lindbergh was piloting, but visitors on the Mangum ranch said Lindbergh did the shooting. The Flying Colonel also killed two deer.

After a visit on the Chihuahua ranch, Colonel Lindbergh plans to return to St. Louis to vote, after which it is said he will return to Mexico for a visit with United States Ambassador Dwight Morrow.

GERMAN SAYS WHALE HAS LARGEST BRAIN

Hamburg, Germany, (AP)—The fishes had an inning at the German Congress of Natural Sciences here when the whale was declared the only mammal entitled to the record of possessing the largest brain.

Professor W. Weygand, Hamburg, neurologist, confuted a prevalent belief that the largest brain claim is shared by whales, elephants and man. As a matter of fact, he said, the whale only justified the claim, the largest whale ever caught having a brain weighing 7,000 grams. The human brain seldom exceeds an average weight of 1,390 to 1,460 grams in the male and 1,140 to 1,340 in the female.

YOUR DUTY AS A CITIZEN

Now that the legal period set aside for registering has passed, if your name is not on the books it is your own fault and you are out of the picture so far as national politics goes. So from now on for the next four years if things don't go to suit you just keep your mouth shut. Had you done your duty as a citizen they might have been different. And what we have to say about those who were not interested enough in the affairs of government to register will apply equally after November 6, to those who willfully declined to go to the polls and have a voice in the choice of the men in whose hands the affairs of government will be placed.

Let us urge every citizen who is eligible, to go to the polls November 6 and cast his or her ballot. Helping to provide good government is your duty to yourself and your neighbor and when you refuse to perform this duty by declining to vote you are leaving the matter in the hands of someone else and you have to take what comes whether you like it or not. There are no doubt some who feel that they do not want to vote for either of the presidential candidates and are contemplating remaining silent on election day. We earnestly beseech these persons to give the matter careful consideration before they definitely decide to take such action.

We realize that there never has been a party or a candidate that was perfect and pleased everybody on every issue, but we do contend that such does not relieve the citizen of his or her responsibility. If you are in a quandary regarding the coming election we urge you to study carefully the platforms of the opposing parties, together with the records of the candidates and the qualifications of each, and then after weighing the good and bad points of each choose the party which in your own opinion is best fitted to be entrusted with the affairs of our government. Only in this way can you do your full duty and we urge you not to be a slacker.

ABOUT TOWN

"Pay-up Week is only a few days off, so look over your bills and get ready to settle them while the campaign is in progress," advised members of the Merchants' Association today.

"This is the first time an event of this kind has been conducted by the association in years and we are hopeful the public will do everything possible to help us make it a great success. Prompt settlement of accounts enables the merchant to meet his own obligations and to purchase larger stocks to offer his patrons."

"Bear in mind that the names of all credit customers will be compiled by the association at the conclusion of Pay-up Week. You will be rated according to the way you have met your obligation. A clear record will enable you to obtain credit with any member of the association next year."

"This is an advantage that should be of great benefit to you. Pay up your bills and start the new year with a clean record."

"Women like Mrs. Lyman Cotten and Mrs. E. C. Gregory, who spoke at the courthouse last Friday night, are doing much to promote the cause of the Democratic party," declared a party member here today.

"Numbers of the state's most prominent women are giving liberally of their time attempting to convince the public of the soundness of the principle of the Democratic party. They realize that certain influence are attempting to belittle representatives of this great organization and cause a break in the 'Solid South,' which in itself is a splendid example of the wise rule of Democratic administrations."

"These women are to be congratulated upon the success which they are achieving. They should live to enjoy the fruits of their labors in coming years."

"Women are going to play an important part in the coming election," said F. C. Harding, well known local attorney, the other day.

"The contest is going to swing the way the women vote, and it is incumbent upon every member of the sex to weigh carefully the different issues involved before casting their ballot."

"Woman has been conferred a great privilege in being permitted to take part in the government of the nation and that they will vote wisely. I have not the slightest idea."

"Have you an extra room you would like to be used in accommodating the hundreds of teachers to attend the annual meeting of the Northeastern District of the North Carolina Educational Association to meet in Greenville next month—asked a member of the Merchants' Association today.

"This is the third time the city has had the pleasure of entertaining these educators and we want to make this year the most successful of all. This can not be accomplished, however, without proper accommodations. Hence the necessity for the use of that spare room of yours."

"Today is the last of the 'Dollar Days' of the fund being raised for the National Committee of the Democratic party, so if you haven't given anything, get busy and do so immediately."

"Funds derived from this source will be used in defraying expenses of the great campaign which the party is waging at this time. Your contribution will be greatly appreciated and will help considerably in paying expenses of the national campaign."

"Pitt county Democrats have never failed in a case like this and it is hoped they will rally nobly to the cause."

"All contributions should be sent direct to the Reflector. You will be mailed a certificate from the National headquarters, acknowledging your gift."

How about your subscription to the Reflector?

Remember that the national election is not far off and you will want to enjoy the extra service offered by the paper.

This will be the most important event of the nation this year and everybody should prepare themselves to receive the best service possible.

The Reflector will receive detailed reports over its Associated Press leased wires. They will graphically portray developments in each of the states. You will get the returns as quickly as they are compiled. Not a minutes will be lost in flashing them over the A. P. wires.

"If you can't find what you want in your own home town, come to Greenville and look over the stocks of local merchants," advised a business man today.

"The showing of winter styles was never more complete than it is at this time and the most fastidious person in the world should be able to find what he or she wants in this city."

"Greenville merchants have the interests of the buying public at heart. They give the best values at the least price possible. This should be of vast consideration to everybody. It assures them of service and prices similar to those of the greatest shopping centers of the country."

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Washington—The Bystander feels inclined to poll Republican and Democratic spellbinders in search of an authentic definition of the "whispering campaign" phrase so ardently used by both sides in the Smith-Hoover presidential election.

If recollection serves, Senator Joe Robinson is entitled to patent rights. He first used it in a campaign speech. Since then, however, it has been adopted into the campaign vocabulary extensively and bids fair to be the chief catch phrase of the 1928 presidential election.

In most of the campaigns of the last two or three decades—and no doubt before that—although the Bystander has no personal knowledge dating more than 30 years back—there have been undercurrents of gossip about the respective presidential candidates. They rarely, if ever, got into print save by innuendo. More often than not these tales were whispered about for malicious purposes and had to do with alleged human frailties of the candidates.

They were in all truth whispering campaigns and when Senator Robinson swung into action to denounce what he charged was an organized attack of this undercover character on Governor Smith this observer, at least, supposed that was what he meant by the phrase "whispering campaign."

Hoover And Whispering.

Comes now, however, Chairman Work of the Republican national committee with a charge that a "whispering campaign" is or was about to be launched against Herbert Hoover on the theory that he had lost his American citizenship and eligibility for the presidency because his name once appeared as that of a voter on a British precinct list or something of the kind. Dr. Work called upon his Democratic colleague, Johnny Raskob, to join him in denouncing this alleged impending flank attack and the state department simultaneously published a virtual transcript of Mr. Hoover's going and coming abroad for this city.

"It is quite clear that had Hoover ever sought to vote in England, he would have found it a trying business to become a subject of His Britannic Majesty. The fact that his name appeared as a potential voter because he owned a house in London at the time would not have helped him a particle.

Newspaper Inquiry.

Investigation shows that the way all this came about was that a newspaper, name withheld, asked the state department to check up on a report it had that Hoover had once been registered as a voter in England. Obviously, if it was true, the biggest sensation of the campaign was impending. Equally obviously, however, no information as to Mr. Hoover's passport records or other official data on his status while abroad could be given the inquiring newspaper without Mr. Hoover's personal sanction. That is a matter of routine governmental policy.

So Mr. Hoover was duly advised by telephone of the inquiry and personally consented to publication of the letter answering the inquiry. The Republican national committee did not figure in this exchange at all. Subsequent Hoover-Work conferences no doubt produced the Work statement in re an anti-Hoover whispering campaign.

"North Carolina Has Won the Distinction"

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Recent Press Release

North Carolina First State to Complete Tuberculin Testing of All Cattle

Completing the tuberculin testing of all cattle in the last four of its 100 counties early this month (October), North Carolina has won the distinction of being the first State to have 100 per cent of its counties classed as "modified accredited areas" in the national campaign for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, it was announced today by the United States Department of Agriculture.

A "modified accredited area" is one in which official testing has shown that not more than one per cent of the cattle are tuberculous, and from which all animals reacting to the test have been removed for slaughter. That an entire State should achieve this goal within a decade speaks well for the soundness of the area plan and for the efficiency of the work.

Southern Dairies Proud of Its Part in This Great Achievement

This organization, contributing its energy and constant efforts to the betterment of North Carolina dairy interests, shares with the dairy farmers and State officials the pride which this announcement inspires. To be the first State to have every one of its cattle tuberculin tested, and every one of its 100 counties placed in the preferred classification by the Department of Agriculture, is a real distinction.

This outstanding record confirms the South's rise to leadership in dairy development, and attests the quality of dairy products produced and consumed in this State.

Southern Dairies is happy to have a part in this important progressive economic movement, and to encourage it constantly by the purchase of increasing quantities of the fine milk and cream necessary to supply its sixteen big ice-cream-making and milk-distributing plants in this State—thus helping North Carolina dairy farmers to produce a larger and better output, and increase agricultural income.

BIG SOUTHERN GRID OUTFITS FACE SETBACK

By HORACE C. RENEGAN
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 29—(AP)—Under the unexpected happens and it has on several occasions this season—the undefeated teams of the Southern Conference football program face slight prospects of setbacks this week.

Josh Coby's Clemson Tigers will be the only outfit of the three leaders to engage in intra-conference combat, the rugged boys from the region of Calhoun, S. C., thus hoping to hop a hurdle that will leave them in undisputed possession of top places for a week at least.

The powerful running Johnny Justus and mates will have a badly chukken University of Mississippi, to combat at Oxford, Miss., with the prestige of an inviolate goal and a 32 to 0 victory of last week over South Carolina's Gamecocks to give them confidence. Ole Miss on the other hand, has memories of a licking at Loyola's hands Saturday to forget.

The Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech and Tennessee's vicious volunteers will be going through what apparently are nothing more than good workouts, the Atlanta team squad bumping into Oglethorpe a hometown game while Bob Ney-land's sophomore wonders will face Marion-Newton at Knoxville.

While these leaders, each holding three conference victories to no defeats and ties, and taking antics fairly easy, and a dozen other teams will be engaging in family scraps, Foremost, in interest in this array will be the Vanderbilt-Kentucky affair at Nashville; Florida and Sewanee at Jacksonville, Georgia and Auburn at Columbus, Ga., Virginia Poly and Maryland at Norfolk, Washington and Lee and Virginia at Charlottesville, and North Carolina and North Carolina State at Raleigh.

The Commodores, Wildcats, Alligators, Bull Dogs and Gobiers of this number are all carrying undefeated records in the titular chase.
The way Armistead and McIlwain raced through Virginia and the dif-ficultly Kentucky had in disposing of the supposedly weak centre colonies Saturday bring Vanderbilt to the favorite's position. Although Florida had trouble disposing of the North Carolina State Wolfpack, Sewanee's showing was not good enough against Alabama to make them appear formidable Gator opponents.

Then, there is Auburn, at last free from the mental hazards, inferiority complexes or what nois of a team that has lost and tied 16 straight games. Despite the victory of the platoon over Howard they will be facing a problem in handling Georgia's flying horsemen.
Virginia Poly, led by Peake, will be shooting for its second conference victory against the ole liners, yet to win a game in the Dixie Marathon.

In short, the conference race at midseason has evolved to Florida,
Clemson, Georgia Tech, Tennessee,
Vanderbilt, Kentucky, Virginia
Poly, Louisiana State and Georgia, with Alabama and South Carolina yet in position to shake things up should their teams go the remaining distance without further loss.

The crimson tide, with Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky and Louisiana State coming up, should overturn quite a few calculations.
Meanwhile, Wade's men will carry the eyes of the South to Adis-son this week end as they tackle Wisconsin, while Mississippi A. & M. Maroons also touch off the intersectional color of the day by meeting Michigan State at Lansing.

The Baton Rouge Tigers will be meeting a Southwestern Conference opponent at Shreveport when Cohen's men take the field against Arkansas.
Tulane plays Millsaps at New Orleans and Virginia Military Institute's flying squadron is host to Davidson.
South Carolina plays Citadel at Orangeburg, S. C., in another game
Thursday.

CLEMSON ON TOP OF THE GRID WORLD

(By the Associated Press)

Clemson's mighty Southern Conference eleven sits atop the football world so far as games won and lost are concerned. Clemson has bowled over six opponents in a row, rolled up 133 points and maintained inviolate its own goal line. Only one other leading college, Texas Christian, has had the opportunity to win as many as half a dozen games and taken advantage of it. The southwestern team has scored 116 points and permitted only six opposing counters.

Georgetown, victor in five straight games, leads the whole country in total points scored with 240. New York University and Carnegie Tech with similar winning streaks, follow with 176 and 167 respectively.

All told the country has 23 leading undefeated and untied college football teams, as follows:

College	Won	Opp.	Total
		Pts.	Pts.
Clemson	6	0	133
Tex. Christian	6	6	116

Star Army Back

Red Cagle, left halfback, is one of the Army's most dependable ground gainers.

Iowa and Illinois with two each, remain at top with clean slates. Minnesota defeated by Iowa.

Missouri Valley "Big Six"—Nebraska by beating Missouri, tops first with two conference victories.
Southern Conference—Georgia Tech, Tennessee and Clemson with three victories and no defeats.
Grouped at top with Vanderbilt and Florida, each with two conference triumphs.

Southwestern Conference—University of Texas, with two straight conference victories, tops list, but meets Southern Methodist this week in decisive game.

Rocky Mountain Conference—Colorado College, with three victories and no defeats, closely pursued by the University of Utah, also undefeated as result of successive triumphs over Colorado Aggies and University of Colorado.

Pacific Coast Conference—Stanford and Southern California in big game this week after temporary lull. Both rolled up easy victories Saturday while California, third title contender, lost to Olympic club.

ARMY MAKES BIG BID FOR GRID HONORS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Oct. 29—(AP)—West Point's Gridiron forces, having hurdled the two main eastern obstacles to its advance by downing Harvard and Yale in succession, now need only to conquer Notre Dame, Nebraska and Stanford to clinch as good a claim as any Eleven to national championship honors.

It takes an army to even face such a prospect with resolution.
And plenty of reserves. The Cadets have come through the October fray successfully, beating (Anglican Methodist, as well as Harvard and Yale, but also somewhat bruised and battered.

New York University and Georgetown, each victorious in five straight games and traveling at terrific clips, clash in New York next Saturday in the main battle, so far as Eastern championship hopes are concerned. These two high-scoring juggernauts will determine which is to remain up with army, Carnegie and Boston College, among the other major Eastern Elevens neither beaten nor tied.

In the "big six" group, Nebraska, after smashing the title hopes of Missouri, plays the only other undefeated Eleven in the race, Kansas.

Another crucial battle in the Southern Conference, involves the University of Texas and Southern Methodist, both undefeated in conference competition so far.

The Pacific Coast conference focuses upon the Stanford-Southern California game, one of the most spectacular in sight anywhere this week. The Southern Conference has something of a let up this week, with comparatively little opposition ahead for most of the pace setters —Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Clemson, Florida and Georgia.

In the Western Conference "Big Ten" Illinois will attempt to hold its place in the vanguard by dealing Michigan its fifth straight setback, while the two other leaders step out of conference circles—Ohio State meeting Princeton and Iowa playing South Dakota.

Three of the "Big Ten" Elevens will help furnish the week's intersectional color on their own battlegrounds. Beside the Ohio State-Princeton fray at Columbus, Chicago will entertain Pennsylvania, surprise victim of the navy last Saturday, while Wisconsin meets the invasion of Alabama, Notre Dame, after a day at home, journeys forth again, this time to play Penn State at Philadelphia.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 18 to 21 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and prospects for rains with lower temperatures in the south. Buying was stimulated by the forecast for probably freezing weather in Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle and active months soon showed net gains of 27 to 30 points, with December rising up to 19.63 and May to 19.50. There was enough realizing and southern selling to check the advance at these figures, but prices were within 4 or 5 points of the best at the end of the first half hour. Private cables and covering on the forecast for frost in the south and that the demand for cotton cloth and yarn was well sustained.

Future closed steady, 28 to 34 points higher. Spots quiet; middling 19.90.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Word of rains in Argentina did much today to dispel apprehension of crop damage in that country. Largely as a result, wheat values here, although fluctuating rapidly at times, averaged lower, favorable crop comments from Australia and slowness of export demand for North American wheat, as well as a 3,471,000 bushels increase of the United States visible supply total tended also to create bearish sentiment.

Wheat closed unsettled, 3-4c to 1-1-4c net lower; corn unchanged to 1-2c up; oats unchanged to 1-8c off, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 5c.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. PRENOSIL, Associated Press Financial Editor. New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Marking up of the call money rate from 7 1/2 to 8 per cent slowed up the resumption of the upward price movement in today's stock market. Furies of profit-taking swept through the list, but the offerings were well absorbed. Pools again played a prominent part in the day's operations, lifting more than a score of issues to record high levels on gains running as high as 10 points.

With the market apparently paying little attention to the recent high increase in brokers' loans, and the high call money rates regarded as temporary, operators for the rise had little difficulty in attracting an outside following. Large commission houses report that speculative interest in the market continues at high pitch throughout the country with customers' rooms crowded and accounts generally well margined.

Excellent character of the majority of earnings reports now being published, coupled with reports of marked improvement in the steel industry, helped to maintain bullish enthusiasm. Short selling of late has been rather sporadic in character due to the relatively small floating supply of some of the most popular issues.

Motor Products, which was weak Saturday, rallied 12 1/2 points. R. H. Macy ran up 9 1/2 points to a new peak at 181 1/2, and Radio ran up more than 6 points to a new top at 243 1/4.

American Telephone, Western Union, Industrial Rayon, Atlantic Refining, Montgomery-Ward, Case Threshing, Hudson Motors, Adams Express, Commercial Solvents and A. M. Byers all sold 4 to 6 points higher.

High rails took a more prominent part in the upswing, Delaware & Hudson, Pittsburgh & West Virginia and Chesapeake & Potomac all selling 1 1/2 to 7 points higher. St. Louis Southwestern attained a new peak price for the year.

The closing was strong. Sales approximated 3,500,000 shares.

ARTIFICIAL FEVER
PRODUCED BY RA. IO
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Artificial fever caused by radio, without any accompanying illness, is under study here.

The phenomenon was discovered when a bystander noted a 22 degree rise in his mouth temperature in 15 minutes. The radio was discharging from a six-foot rod to ground with sixty million attenuations per second of 15,000 volts.

Helen R. Homer, of the department of physiology of Albany Medical college reports in Science on the fever experiments, saying: "Here is a method for producing at will any degree of fever without introduction of bacteria, toxins, foreign proteins or other adventitious material or condition into the animal body."

The increase of temperature is produced directly without the animal structure, as in ordinary fever. It occurs promptly while the animal is in a normal condition in other respects. Its uncomplicated effects are thus thrown open to direct study. We may hope very soon to solve the long-veged question of whether fever is a functional response or merely a condition secondary to infection or trauma.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
