RESCUE SHIPS REACH N. Y. WITH 220 SURVIVORS FROM ILL-FATED LINER VESTRIS

Stories of Heroism Recounted As Strong Criticism And Praise Is Hurlled At Captain Who Perished With His Ship; No Explanation Of Condition Of Ship. Nation For Crippled

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Thru the joy over the 220 passengers and sailors saved and sorrow for the 108 lost when the Vestris went down at sea Monday, a strong note of criticism predominated as the survivors reached New York today.

Stories of the weary passengers, some of them slowly recovering from hours in the water, blamed Captain William J. Carey, late master of the Lamport and Holt liner, for the extent of the disaster. Passengers and sailors joined in praising the captain as a brave sailor while many indicated him on charges of bad seamanship.

All in position to have knowledge of the facts said that the captain was in his vessel when she sank, agreeing that he died like a sailor, whatever may have been his shortcomings in the time of stress. The survivors did not know what crippled the ship and an explanation may not be found. "Some thought shifting cargo was to blame while others believed a slight leak, growing greater as the hours went by, finally sounded the death knell of the sturdy sea traveler.

The charges against Captain Carey were that he waited far too long to summon help.

The Vestris sailed from Hoboken, N. J., Saturday afternoon and soon developed trouble. Pumping and hauling went on Sunday morning when the vessel began to list, but no S. O. S. was sent for nearly 24 hours.

If assistance had been summoned a day earlier it was suggested that ships would have been standing by when the boats were launched with the chances against any loss of life.

Stories of pathos and enthusiastic praise of the heroism of the passengers suddenly precipitated from the comfort of a modern ocean liner to open boats in the wide spaces of the sea were heard on every side.

At least two passengers, a man and a woman, were in the water for almost an entire day. A Danish, a red-headed official, and Mrs. Clara Baal, stewardess, were waved after they had maintained a precarious hold on floating debris for nearly 24 hours.

Mrs. Earl Devore saw her husband, an automobile racing driver, sink, as she vainly tried to induce occupants of her boat to give him a hand.

Michael J. O'Loughlin, chief wireless operator, although bound by no such tradition of the sea as that forcing Captain Carey to stand by his ship, died a hero's death after doing all that he could to tell the world of ships of the desperate plight of the Vestris.

The radio man sent his last message "Help, Help" as the life boats were being lowered. He was asking help for others, but not for himself.

The tragedy of the disaster, if the passengers and sailors are correct in their summing up, was that the calls were sent too late.

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The list of known survivors from the British liner Vestris stood at 220 today with search continuing for other possible survivors among the 108 passengers and crew still missing.

Three vessels left the scene of the rescue for New York with 210 survivors aboard. Eight more were aboard the battleship Wyoming, which continued the search at the spot 240 miles off the Virginia capes where the Vestris was abandoned Monday afternoon in a sinking condition when bound for South America from New York.

Aboard the American freighter, were 125. The French tanker Myriam had 64, and the North German Lloyd liner Berlin, 23. Six bodies were recovered, one by the Berlin and five by the coast guard.

These figures are based on compilations made by the officials of the Lamport and Holt line, owners of the Vestris, from messages received from rescue vessels. The list of those aboard was revised to 328, comprising 199 members of the crew and 129 passengers.

Captain William J. Carey, master of the Vestris, and Neal O'Loughlin, the radio operator who stood by his post until the decks of the ship were awash, apparently went down with the ship.

Godfrey, W. C. S. was the last heard from O'Loughlin as he signed off with the Tuckeron, N. J., station of the Radio Marine Corporation, which had been answering (Continued on Page 2, Section 1)

DR. ANDERSON TAKES STAND IN HIS BEHALF

Insane Hospital Head Denies Charges Of Malfeasance At Raleigh Today.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Taking the stand in his own behalf today, Dr. Albert Anderson, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane here, on trial in superior court on charges of malfeasance in office, denied that he ever used or authorized to be used on any of his private property any material or supplies belonging to the State of North Carolina. He also declared that his farming and other business interests had never caused him to be the least derelict in his duty as head of the institution.

Dr. Anderson was on the stand for little more than three hours except for a short recess during the morning session of the court and had not finished his direct testimony. He was to be cross-examined by Solicitor Brassfield when the court resumed its sitting after the midday recess.

Much of the defendant's testimony concerned the operation of the State Hospital, treatment of inmates and employment of department heads as well as nurses and other paid employees.

Explaining testimony of Robert Green, former hospital employee, who said he had worked on the superintendent's private enterprises, Dr. Anderson declared that he gave Green permission to do small jobs on some of his houses in an effort to benefit him, but had never allowed him to do any of the work on State time and had always paid Green when each job was complete. He further testified that he never used any building material belonging to the hospital and had never instructed him to use patients on the jobs.

At least two passengers, a man and a woman, were in the water for almost an entire day. A Danish, a red-headed official, and Mrs. Clara Baal, stewardess, were waved after they had maintained a precarious hold on floating debris for nearly 24 hours.

The quality of offerings yesterday were not as good as the day before, and the general price average was about two cents lower.

HOOVER WILL VISIT MEXICO ON TRIP SOUTH

President-Elect To Embark From San Pedro, Calif., Monday Morning.

By JAMES L. WEST
Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover will visit Mexico during the good will tour of Latin America, upon which he will embark next Monday from San Pedro, but whether it will be the first or the last of the Republics on the itinerary is yet to be decided.

Alternate plans are under consideration, one calling for a stop at Acapulco, enroute to South America, and the other for a call at Vera Cruz on the return trip from Rio de Janeiro to Florida. Should the call be made at Acapulco, which is about 200 miles almost due south of Mexico City, President-elect Hoover and Dwight W. Morrow, the American Ambassador, probably would welcome the president-elect there during a one-day stay of the good will ship. The battleship Maryland, upon which the last leg of the voyage will be made, would proceed to Vera Cruz and the president-elect would go to the Mexican capital by rail to be welcomed there by Emilio Portes Gil, who will succeed to the Mexican presidency on December 1st.

While all details of the itinerary of the Latin-American trip still are being carefully guarded, it is the belief here that Mr. Hoover would prefer to make an official call upon the President at Mexico City, since he will call on the Presidents of other Republics in their capitals. The rail trip to Mexico City also would give him an opportunity to see and study part of the country. With Acapulco eliminated from the itinerary, the Maryland would proceed from San Pedro direct to Balboa, at the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal, a matter of six or seven days steaming for the battleship at her usual cruising speed of 16 knots.

The President-elect, after spending yesterday in conference and on a shopping expedition to San Francisco, turned today to a detailed study of the southern itinerary, but it was indicated that a final decision on all points would await the arrival here of Henry P. Fletcher, American Ambassador to Italy, who will accompany Mr. Hoover as the official representative of the State Department.

PATROL SEAPLANE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The navy's newest patrol seaplane, the PN-1, was destroyed by fire today near Bellevue, D. C. Its crew, Lt. S. W. Calloway and Lt. D. W. Tomlinson, landed the machine and escaped injury.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The loss caused by the torrent of molten lava pouring from Mount Etna today was estimated at about $18,500,000. Work of reconstruction was being planned with complete cessation of the eruption predicted within two or three days.

The damage estimates included $8,500,000 for devastation of forests, $3,000,000 for destruction of agricultural lands and $2,500,000 for interruption of traffic and consequent loss to commerce. Destruction of buildings, roads, bridges, railways, telephone and telegraph lines made up the balance.

The lava reached a road over which passengers had been taken in automobiles to trains on the other side of the main lava stream. This shut off that route between Messina and Catania and the Italian engineer corps seized picks and shovels and started construction of a new road 150 yards beyond the demolished one. The route is essential for maintenance of the economic life of Sicily's four million inhabitants and mapping of new transportation arteries around lava deposits was under way.

Director Malladra of the Vesuvius Observatory said that unless something unforeseen occurs there will be a complete cessation of Mount Etna's activity within two or three days.

Eruption of Mount Etna Causes $18,500,000 Loss

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The battleship Wyoming was ordered today by the Navy Department to continue searching the scene of the Vestris disaster until dark and then proceed to its base at Hampton Roads, Va.

The order, however, left the hour of departure of the ship to the discretion of Vice-Admiral M. M. Taylor, commander of the scouting fleet, who is aboard the Wyoming. If the vessel departs from the vicinity of the disaster at dark she will arrive at Hampton Roads about 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

AL SMITH OFF FOR VACATION IN BILOXI, MISS.

Calls On Democrats To Stand Together In Final Appeal At New York.

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith left New York for Biloxi, Miss., today, announcing that he was going to play golf and forget all about politics.

The governor was accompanied by John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, and by his two close friends, William F. Kenny and James J. Riordan.

He made no announcement as to how long he would be in Biloxi or as to whether or not he would visit any other places in the south. No members of his family accompanied him. Mrs. Smith, who has been with him here, returned to Albany today.

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—After broadcasting an appeal to the Democratic party to develop and present to Congress a constructive national program, Governor Alfred E. Smith today was intent on golf in the south.

Accompanied by a few friends, he will have a two weeks' vacation near Biloxi, Miss.

The governor in his speech, which was broadcast over 38 radio stations, also urged that Herbert Hoover—although he did not mention him by name—be given the cooperation of every citizen in the development of a program calculated to promote the welfare and best interests of the country.

"It must be remembered," said the governor, "that while political parties may seriously divide public opinion throughout the country during the progress of a campaign after the American people have made their decision the man selected is not the president of the Republican party, but is the president of the United States.

"He is the president of all the people and as such he is entitled to the cooperation of every citizen in the development of a program calculated to promote the welfare and best interests of this country. He is entitled to a fair opportunity to develop such a program. Only when he fails to accomplish it does the administration become the subject of proper criticism of the opposition party."

The governor denied the election was a "crushing defeat" for the Democratic party, which he asserted was still "a live, a vigorous and a powerful major minority party."

The existence of such a party he declared necessary to serve as a check upon the majority party. The Democratic party in the next four years neglected to build up a constructive program and relied entirely upon the failure of the opposition party it would not be in a position to solicit the confidence and support of the American people.

Warren Thanks Pitt County For Party Support

The Reflector today received a letter from Lindsay Warren, expressing his thanks to the people of Pitt County for their splendid work in behalf of the Democratic party in the campaign which closed last week. The letter follows: "Dear Editor:—

May I express to the Democrat of Pitt county my congratulations and heart felt thanks for their magnificent work for the party last week. The great victory in the first District was only accomplished by the loyal and untiring work of hundreds of men and women, who had the interests of their party at heart.

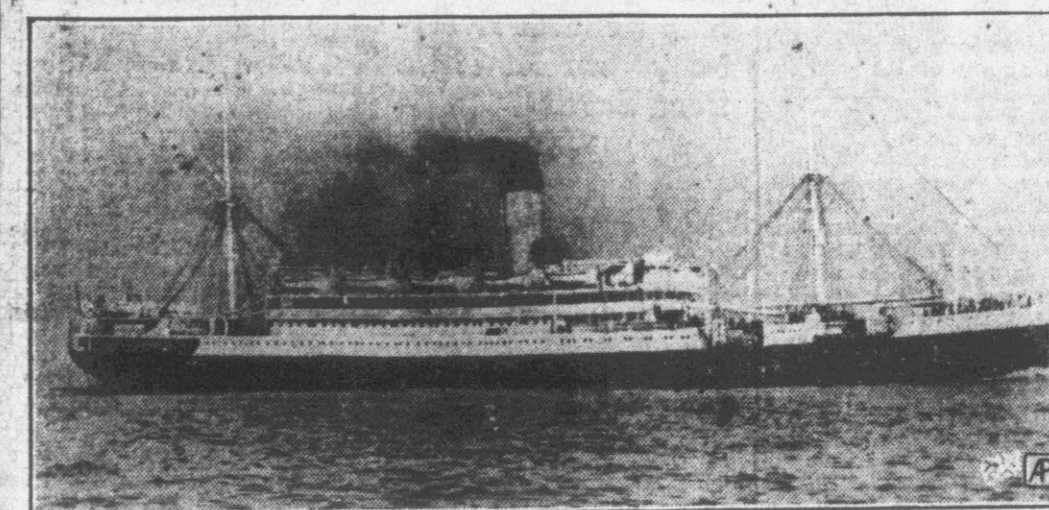

May I also extend my personal thanks to the voters of the District for honoring me with the greatest majority ever given a candidate. It calls for the exertion of every effort on my part to fulfill the confidence you have placed in me.

Sincerely,
LINDSAY C. WARREN.

STEAMER WITH 300 ABOARD SINKS OFF NORFOLK

More than 300 men and women were forced to trust their lives to tiny life boats on the wind tossed North Atlantic when the Lamport and Holt liner Vestris keeled over on her beam ends and sank about 275 miles from Hampton Roads.

PAY-UP WEEK TO END HERE ON THURSDAY

Public Urged To Settle As Many Accounts As Possible During Last Day.

Tomorrow is the last day of Pay-up Week in Greenville and merchants were today urging customers to settle up all outstanding accounts possible.

"The campaign has been a splendid success so far, members of the Merchants Association said today, but there are still numbers of persons who have not met their obligations as they should. It is to be hoped everybody will pay as many bills as possible during the remaining day and in that way insure themselves of credit next year.

This is the first time in years that a Pay-up Week drive has been launched in Greenville and it is believed it will be one of the most successful ever held before. The campaign is an effort on the part of local merchants to secure more complete co-operation of their patrons in the paying up of overdue accounts so that they may have a clean record at the beginning of the year.

The Merchants Association will compile a new list of all credit customers at the conclusion of the Pay-up movement. All customers will be rated according to the way they pay, and those who receive the zero mark will find it impossible to obtain recognition of any members of the Association in the future.

"It is incumbent upon our people to realize how seriously their credit standing is affected in this campaign," a merchant said today. "The new credit list will be the only means by which we shall be able to determine who is worthy of credit and the persons with a bad rating will find it difficult to rebuild himself."

Captain Of Vestris Cyclone Claims Eighteen Lives At Buenos Aires

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Definite word of the death of Captain William J. Carey, master of the Vestris, was brought today by the rescue ship Berlin.

Alfred Duncan, second steward of the Vestris, said he and Carey were standing on the bridge of the ship up to a minute or so before she sank. Duncan wore a life belt, but Carey had none.

The steward jumped just before the ship made her death plunge and saw no more of the master.

"Get your life belt on; pay no attention to me," Carey told Duncan as the two stood on the bridge after the skipper had given the old-order of "women and children first."

Duncan obeyed his chief and put on the belt. The sea was then washing on a third of the deck and the Vestris was rolling over on her starboard beam.

"I jumped but the captain didn't jump with me," said Duncan. "I don't know what happened to him, the ship flopped over on her side and lay there a minute. Then she slowly disappeared."

BERLIN DOCKS AT NEW YORK WITH RESCUED

Great Crowd Throng Pier As Liner Brings In 23 Survivors Of Ill-Fated Vestris.

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The rescue ship Berlin, bringing 23 survivors of the Vestris, docked, shortly after 9 o'clock this morning.

Regular first class passengers were debarked first, as a great crowd watched with eager faces from the pier, hoping to catch a glimpse of friends or relatives who had been picked up by the North German Lloyd liner.

Wearing borrowed clothes, worn and unkempt, 23 of the 220 survivors of the disaster came back to New York on the Berlin at almost the same time that 125 others were arriving on the American shipper.

Among the survivors on the Berlin there was considerable difference of opinion as to the cause of the disaster.

Archibald Bannister, negro Bos'n's mate, believed that sudden shifting of the cargo in stormy weather was responsible for the leak that tipped the ship over on its beam ends and made it necessary for the 123 passengers and 199 crew members, of whom 108 are still unaccounted for, to abandon ship.

Other opinions were that a leak, small at first, enlarged for no particular reason as the ship proceeded and caused an increasing list.

There were reports among the survivors that the pumps had not worked well when the hold began to fill and some even told of frantic efforts to bail out the great ship with hand buckets.

All agreed that there was no panic and that women and children were given precedence in obtaining positions in the lifeboats.

Charles Quiros, Consul to the Argentine Consulate General, who was a passenger on the Vestris, said he was Second Steward Alfred Duncan of the Vestris. Duncan, he said, conducted himself with utmost composure throughout the trying hours and helped many of the women and children to the lifeboats.

Quiros said that perfect order did not prevail at all times, in one instance five negro passengers from the third class taking a lifeboat all on themselves in their haste to get away from the sinking ship.

There was some difficulty with overloading the lifeboats, according to Quiros. Two boats were filled with passengers as the little craft hung in the davits and then it was found impossible to lower them to the water. The passengers had to scramble back to the tilting wave wash-deck to wait their turns in other boats.

Some of the passengers reported that one of the life boats had to be hauled over the aperture before it could be launched, leaking dangerously and beginning to sink before it was 100 feet from the Vestris, which lay lurching in the waves with steam spouting from its port-holes.

There was some criticism among survivors on the Berlin, notable that by Quiros, but on the whole his group was strong in its praise of the way in which Captain and crew of the Vestris had acted. There was no such general criticism as that made by the survivors on the American Shipper.

Duncan, the steward, reported to have been the last to leave Captain Carey on the bridge of the Vestris and the man so highly praised by Quiros, told of seeing the needs of the passengers. He said that before they took to the boats each passenger was given some sweet crackers, a bunch of bananas, biscuits and water.

After he leaped into the water, Duncan continued his ministrations to 15 passengers. Swimming in one lifeboat crowded with almost 100 persons he ordered some of them out to swim to another partly filled boat, lest all be swamped. The steward swam around for several hours before he was picked up by lifeboat no. 13.

Stewart Trial Moves Slowly

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The perjury trial of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil of Indiana, moved slowly today in District of Columbia Supreme Court as counsel completed correction of the stenographic account of Stewart's testimony before the senate in the Teapot Dome case on which his indictment is based.

With a great number of revisions agreed upon after comparison of the printed record with notes of the official stenographers, the new version was admitted into evidence and read to the jury which is to decide whether Stewart perjured himself in testimony concerning bond transactions of the Continental Trading Company of Canada.

Some of those bonds have been shown in testimony to have been turned over by Stewart to a trustee.

It appeared likely that the prosecution would wind up its case by Friday, with the defense presentation going into next week. Stewart is expected by his counsel to deny having told the committee he had no knowledge of the distribution of any bonds by the Continental company.

REFUSE TO COMMENT ON SINKING OF VESTRIS

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—David Cook, vice-president of the Lamport and Holt Line, said today that that line would have nothing to say about criticism of officers of the foundered steamer Vestris, until there had been a full investigation and until both those making the charges and those who will have to answer them had a chance to get a complete rest.

THE VERDICT

By va Berry Harris
The Verdict has been given. And most of us are surprised—stunned, almost, at the result. 'Tho' it had been prophesied. With three other Southern States North Carolina has stepped from its traditional place. And, methinks, some angels wept.

We wonder how those States today That have soiled their foreheads with dust, Can look their finer sister States In the face; but, alas, they must! "The moving finger writes, and having writ, Moves on; nor all thy piety nor wit Shall lure it back to cancel half a line, Nor all thy tears wash out one word of it."

The South's finest quality In the past, has been its pride. And, how could our State have failed, And turned from the South aside? For the first time in our lives We are ashamed of the State. And "in sackcloth and ashes" It should repent; 'tho' it's late.

There was behind the campaign A something that transcended Our party standard-bearer (Fine 'tho' he was) that tended To cause the ancient foes In the Southland to regret The break with its past tradition, And, so, even they, do fret.

Ignorance and prejudice Are dangerous foes, always, And, especially in this Our modern America. 'Tis propaganda ridden. And the people in this State specially, seem to have Swallowed the hook, line and bait.

The succulent sweets, ah me! They tasted and they swallowed. "Twas all good," they pronounced it, And, then some others followed. An irrevocable step Has been taken and a line Has been added to the State History, that is not fine.

'Twill some day have its results, And who knows what those will be? We are humiliated And ashamed as we can be. But it cannot be recalled. The Verdict has been given And gone, it seems, are those things For which we all have striven.

WOMEN FIND DE SOTO SIX EASY CAR TO DRIVE

With women forming an ever-increasing section of the automobile driving public, motor manufacturers and designers are using forced more and more to take the feminine likes and dislikes into consideration, when planning their product, say officials of the DeSoto Motor Corporation, division of the Chrysler Corporation.

Apart from the feminine influence in choosing the family car, an influence which is at least partially responsible for the bright and harmonious colorings of the modern motor vehicle, women are demanding cars which can be driven with a minimum of effort and which can be parked without difficulty even on crowded downtown streets.

The result of this increased use of automobiles by women is that where they formerly concerned themselves almost entirely with the style and appearance features of a car, women today are motorwise and demand a high standard of performance and mechanical excellence.

HIGHWAYS ADVANCE CIVILIZATION

A recent estimate states that over $9,000,000,000 has been spent for state, county, federal and local road construction in the last ten years.

Highways were once luxuries; today they are absolute necessities. They bring prosperity and progress, growth and industrialism, the four great elements of our present civilization.

GOOD ADVICE TO AMBITIOUS TOWNS

An editorial in the Ripley, New York, Record gives excellent advice to towns that want to get on the road to progress. "One of the best ways for community growth is of course the attraction of new industries," the Review says.

"High taxes are a serious handicap to industries. As the center of population changes industries are constantly shifting but they will not go into cities and towns which are burdened with excessive tax rates. There are too many live communities where such a condition does not exist. The city or town which wants to grow will start in by running its government efficiently and keeping its tax rate to the minimum consistent with progressive government."

ABOUT TOWN

"Have you joined the Red Cross?" This question is being asked the people of Pitt county this week as members of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross go about soliciting memberships in their annual Roll Call. "Remember what the Red Cross has been doing in cases of disaster and join in order that it may continue to serve the country as faithfully in the future as in the past."

planning to compile a new list of credit customers. You will be rated according to the way you pay, and your credit standing may be vitally affected.

"Safeguard yourself in the future by attending to your obligations today."

"We hope to impress Pitt county farmers with the necessity of conserving their forest supply in the two demonstrations to be held in the Farmville and Winterville communities Thursday," E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Department of Agriculture, said today.

"Valuable timber lands are rapidly disappearing over the county. Numbers of farmers are cutting down young trees with which to fire their tobacco barns. By letting these trees stand they would become valuable timber in a few years."

"We shall attempt to show how undergrowth can be diverted to use in tobacco barns, furnaces, and in so doing hope to be able to save the landowners thousands of dollars in the course of a few years."

"Growers are urged to attend the demonstrations and learn more about the effort to conserve our timber supply."

"It isn't how much you make, but how much you save," a local banker said today.

"Next month numbers of banks of the state will pay out thousands of dollars to people who joined Christmas savings clubs last December. Immediately after this year's checks are said, the institutions will start new accounts and next year will set an equal amount saved."

"While numbers of these Christmas savings club patrons will spend their money during the holidays, hundreds of others will place their funds on time deposit and thereby insure continued saving."

"There is no better way in the world of proving a person's thrift than in this manner. The man or woman that saves usually is the one that climbs the shining ladder of fame in this world. They have something to fall back upon when hard times come, and something to invest when opportunity presents them with a way to wise investment."

"It matters not how much you may be making, try saving a little of it and see how much better you feel about it."

"If your subscription to the Reflector has expired, why not renew at once and insure yourself of all the news that's 'fit to print' during the cold, bleak winter evenings," urged the circulation manager of the paper today.

"Numbers of subscriptions expire daily, and while the majority are renewed at once, others wait until they have more money or something of the kind."

"Don't delay this important matter. Watch the label on your paper and renew in time to prevent it being stopped. It will save you lots of trouble and give you the same splendid service you are receiving at this time."

"A special session of court has been ordered for Pitt county during the first part of December," officials said today.

"This will make it possible to clear the calendar of numbers of cases that have been accumulating from month to month, and probably enable us to start the new year with records just about clean."

"Hundreds of cases have been handled by the courts this year, but it was impossible to reach all of them, hence the necessity of the special term."

"This is the first time in quite a while that a special session has been authorized for this county, and court officials and lawyers, too, feel like they will be able to work better in the future with the settlement of issues now hanging fire."

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

Cotton market opened steady at an advance of 8 to 10 points and soon showed net gains of 13 to 17 points with January contracts selling up to 19.67 on rather an active trade and commission house demand reported by the Census Report showing domestic consumption of 618,788 bales for October against 492,221 the previous month, and 613,520 last year. The trade had been prepared for large consumption figures but the report was slightly above expectations and brought in considerable buying as well as covering, the demand was supplied by re-selling and southern selling at the advance, however, and prices showed reactions of 7 to 8 points from the best by the end of the first half hour. Private cables said there had been trade calling with continental and Bombay buying in the Liverpool market.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 14—(AP)—Grain prices went up rapidly at first today, but selling on the advance wiped out much of the gain. Announcement of 16,976,000 bushels increase of the world's available wheat supply was something of an offset for surprising bullish figures in the Canadian Government crop report. Moreover, highly beneficial rains have fallen in parts of India, improved harvest conditions were shown by late dispatches from Argentina and foreign demand today for wheat from North America was slack. Predictions that a cold wave is coming did a good deal to ease grain at the last.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-2 to 1-8c net higher. Corn 3-8 to 1c up; oats showing 1-8 to 1-4c advance, and provisions varying from 1c decline to a rise of 25c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 14—(AP)—Speculation in stocks continued at a terrific pace in today's market, with the general price tendency still upward. Waves of selling swept through the market at intervals, carrying many issues down 1 to 5 points, but new leaders were quickly brought forward, and a long list of issues sold 1 to nearly 12 points higher.

So great was the accumulation of orders that the ticker again fell about an hour behind the market, with indications by early afternoon that the total sales would again cross the five million share mark.

Except for a series of favorable earnings and dividend statements, including a 15 per cent stock dividend on Otis Elevator, there was little new in the day's news to influence the price movement.

Call money was in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 6 per cent, and there was talk of further imports of British gold. Wall street looks forward, however, to another large increase in Federal Reserve brokers' loans tomorrow, and this induced further liquidation by conservative traders and investors.

Weekly steel trade reviews reported a slight recession in operations during the past week, but a further stiffening in pig iron prices carried the iron age composite price to the highest level since July, 1927. U. S. Steel common, was again in the forefront of the advance, crossing 170 to a new high record. Ludlum Steel also moved into new high grounds and Republic made up the dividend which came off the stock today.

National Bellas Hoes, the third largest mail order house in the country, was marked-up nearly 12 points to a new high record at 166 on unofficial estimates that 1928 earnings would run close to $12 a share. Sears Roebuck ran up eight points to a new high at 197 1/2, which contrasts with the year's record of 22 1/8, but Montgomery-Ward ran into further profit taking, dropping from 266 to 269 before the selling was checked.

tical, Union Pacific, Western Union and American Smelting, which were driven down 3 to 5 points below yesterday's final quotations. Strong selling resistance also was apparent in the motor group, but the recessions were not large.

May Department Stores, Abraham and Strauss and Julius Kayser exceeded their previous peak on buying influenced by expectations of record breaking holiday business. Sharp gains also were recorded by Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Johns Manville, Victor Talking Machine, Allis Chalmers, National Tea, National Biscuit, Loose-Wiles, Westinghouse Electric, Intl. Business Machines, National Supply, Mexican Seaboard and American Linseed, all of which sold 4 to 8 points higher, and several of which reached new high ground. American Can ran up more than 3 points to a new top.

DAWES STANDS BY OLD FRIEND IN THE BOWERY

Vice President Provides Funeral For Aged Waiter; Was Boyhood Friend.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Charles G. Dawes, vice-president of the United States, returned today from New York where during his crowded hours he took time to lay a casket on the casket of a boyhood friend, Brad Hulbert, a waiter, who died "The Gentleman of the Bowery."

It was a fine casket (the vice-president had seen to that) in which Hulbert's body, clad in a dress suit, lay in state in the Globe lodging house. General Dawes had given certain orders, provided certain funds.

"He was my friend," the vice-president said. Back in Marietta, Ohio, when General Dawes and Brad Hulbert were boys, they were pals. Hulbert's father was a successful engineer and they lived in one of the finest houses in town. Later the young Dawes was to go away, become an engineer himself, become successful. Brad Hulbert was to go away, too, but not to the high professional, financial and political peaks of his friend.

The paths of Charles G. Dawes and Brad Hulbert which separated when Hulbert left home at the age of 20, crossed many years later in the old Reclor's cafe here. The one had risen to power in the nation; the other was a waiter.

They saw each other frequently in these Reclor days. Then Brad drifted. New York saw him. He continued as a waiter until the 60's crept upon him. Thus he came about that in the days when General Dawes was presiding over the fate of the United States, Brad Hulbert was earning the sobriquet, "The Gentleman of the Bowery."

Brad had a manner. Though adversely pushed closely, Hulbert always had a way with him. Trousered, nails manicured, and frayed linen kept immaculate. They tell of his strolling along the Bowery, giving a dime to a beggar. He would inquire one's opinion about "the administration at Washington" and this always gave him the opening to remark, "Charlie Dawes, you know, is a friend of mine."

The Bowery didn't believe him, but was too considerate to say no.

Medical Body To Talk Social Issue

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—After a full program of sectional meetings, clinics and study of exhibits yesterday, the Southern Medical Association in convention here will turn attention today to social activities and hold the final business session tonight.

At the night meeting awards for scientific exhibits will be announced and trophies for golf and trap shooting presented. Election of officers is the final number slated for the program. Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, New York, will deliver the principal address.

Scientific papers were read by medical authorities at the sessions yesterday.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Association, meeting with the association, held its initial sessions yesterday. Mrs. C. W. Garrison, of Little Rock, Ark., was installed as the new president at this time. The principal address was delivered by Mrs. A. T. McCormack, of Louisville, Ky., retiring president, on "Jane Todd Crawford, Pioneer Heiress of Surgery." Mrs. McCormack paid high tribute to Mrs. Crawford who in 1809 submitted to a dangerous operation in order that the profession might learn more about treatment for women's diseases.

TEXT BOOK COMMISSION MEETS AT RALEIGH

Raleigh, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The State Elementary Text Book Commission met today with the expectation of completing its task of selecting authorized readers, spelling books, dictionaries and supplementary reading books for use in the public schools. A preliminary session was held yesterday. The commission approves a number of text books on each subject, and the various counties are authorized to take their choice of the authorized texts.

Then the aging ex-waiter proved it by displaying a letter from Washington.

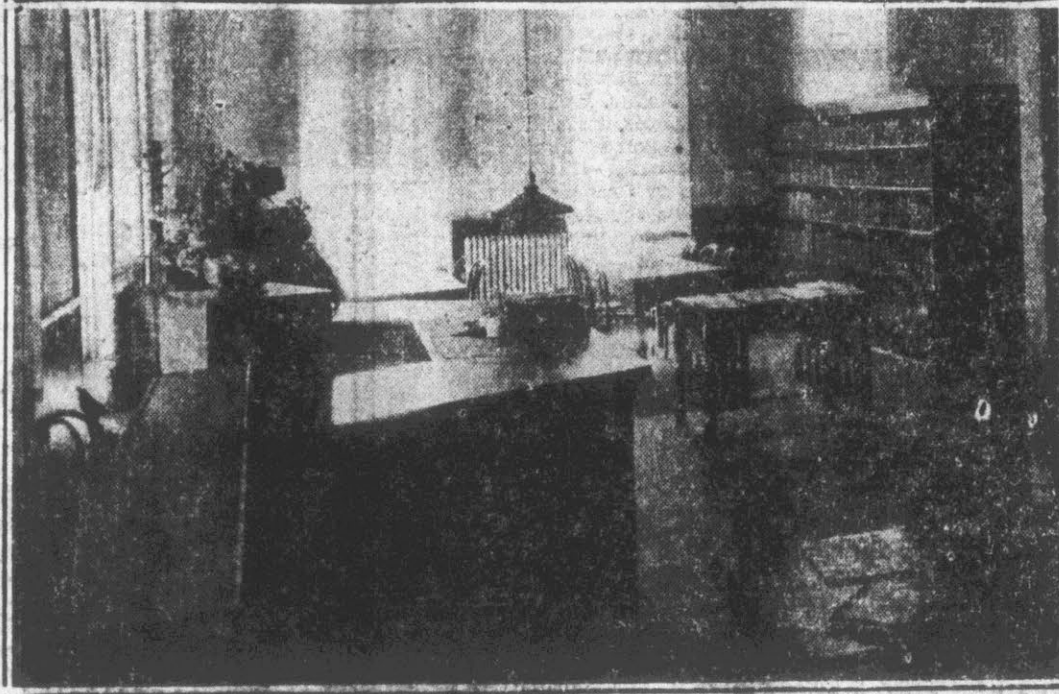

"It's from Charlie Dawes," he explained. "He's a friend of mine. He sent me some money."

Hulbert died last Saturday night, and the letters from Washington were found. General Dawes, who was in New York, was notified.

Sunday morning a limousine drew up in front of the place where Brad Hulbert's body lay. Two men stepped out—a secret service man, and the vice-president.

"It's Charlie Dawes," someone whispered. "A friend of his."

Greenville Public Library Serving Great Purpose In This Community

The usefulness and efficiency of the local public library has been greatly increased recently by several important and helpful changes.

The affairs of the library are now administered by a Commission appointed by the City Board of Aldermen. This Commission is composed of W. H. Woolard, P. L. Goodson, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, Mrs. R. L. Carr, J. E. Winslow and J. S. Ficklin, chairman. The Board of Aldermen has made a yearly appropriation of $2,500.00, which is placed at the disposal of this Commission to be used in defraying the expense of the library.

One of the first acts of this commission, was the improvement of the library quarters. The space used by the library in the Evans Street School has been enlarged by the addition of an adjoining room, which is as large as the room which formerly quartered the entire library. This increase in space makes possible a convenient arrangement of the books in departments according to subjects. Several reading tables have been added, and one small table has been supplied for use by the junior patrons of the library.

FLORIDA HAS FAULTLESS PRACTICE SEASON

Gainesville, Fla., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Pepped up by cool weather the Florida football squad yesterday swept through a faultless practice session. Backs and ends ran signals and tossed passes while the linemen brushed up on blocking, charging and used the bucking machine.

Thursday was set aside as football day and Chapel hours will be devoted to tributes to the squad. A large contingent of the student body will accompany the team to Jacksonville Saturday for the game with Clemson.

AMERICA'S FIRST TIMEPIECE COMES INTO ITS OWN

Thousands of years before Columbus discovered the new world an American Indian made a rude carving on a piece of stone. He pictured as best he knew how, a phenomenon of his own discovery—the fact that the North Star was a fixed star and that others revolved around it in a whirling or swastika motion.

Fifteen hundred years or more passed. Migratory waves of these original Americans pushed South from what is now the United States and Mexico. Their search for new pastures in some instances carried them down the Southern continent as far as Peru. Separate and distinct civilizations now known as the Inca, Mayan and Aztec evolved from various groups of these migratory waves. Various archaeological savants have indicated in their writings that they believe these various peoples all came from a common stock whose ancestors in the dim reaches of the past found sanctuary on American shores from a land submerged beneath the ocean by some monstrous cataclysm.

Down through the centuries these peoples in their various far-flung civilizations in Peru, Yucatan and Mexico proved apt astronomers. Around their first recognition of Polaris as the fixed star of the North, was built their knowledge of time, their civilizations, their all-Carven stones recorded the growing complexity of their knowledge. These stones were essentially timepieces and represented calculations that were remarkable in their scope and for their accuracy.

The Calendar Stone of the Aztecs representing the best of the known relics of these dead civilizations is preserved in Mexico. It represents a sense of time and its division far in advance of any similar knowledge possessed by contemporaries of these peoples in Europe or Asia.

The Aztecs evolved a year made up of eighteen months of twenty days each. They too, believed in a simplified calendar. But instead of having one extra holiday as our modern calendar makers would give the Aztec Calendar permitted five holidays every year. They were the five days between the old and new year. Every four years they added another holiday—every hundred years they chopped off this extra holiday and every four hundred years they permitted it.

In other words, they knew as much about time division as we know today. They had calculated so precisely—they had observed so closely that their calendar was on a par with ours of today.

In order to record the high degree of timekeeping knowledge acquired by these early Americans, one of America's great Watch Companies has reproduced the Aztec Calendar Stone. The replicas are in a scale of one inch to the foot and they show the main features of the stone even though in such a reduction a tremendous amount of detail must be lost. Replicas of this Aztec Calendar Stone will be available to museums throughout the country as permanent displays. Other replicas will be loaned to retail jewelers for the purpose of display in their windows.

Zelia Ntall in her archaeological papers on American civilization states, concerning the calendar stone: "It clearly determined, once and for all, the sequence of the days; the relation of all classes of the population to each other and to the whole, and set forth not only the place each group should occupy in the market-place, but also the product of industry with which it was associated and the periods when its contributions to the commonwealth should be forthcoming in regular notation. The stone was therefore not only the tablet but the wheel of the law of the state and it can be conjectured that its full interpretation was more or less beyond the capacity of all but an initiated minority, consisting of the elders, priests and chiefs."

However, even if such is the case the Calendar Stone of the Aztec will always be a monument to the scientific knowledge of these peoples—and concrete evidence that they, centuries before the birth of Christ, were slowly perfecting the first American Timepiece.

This Aztec Calendar Stone is loaned by the Hamilton Watch Co., to W. L. Best, their representative.

KILLS HIMSELF AFTER FAILURE TO KILL TORAL

Mentally Unbalanced Nephew Of Slain President Obregon Attempts Revenge.

Mexico City, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Prevented from taking the life of Jose de Leon Toral, assassin of General Alvaro Obregon, Captain Jesus Obregon last night took his own life. An extraordinary heavy guard was placed today about Toral's cell. He is under sentence of death.

Police described Captain Obregon who is a nephew of the slain president-elect, as mentally unbalanced. Although only his parents have been allowed to visit Toral, Captain Obregon gained admission to the penitentiary because he was well known to the authorities here. A visitor talking to a guard near Toral's cell noticed that Obregon was agitated. When he drew a pistol, the visitor and the guard rushed up and grappled with him. The weapon was wrested from his hand before he could fire.

Captain Obregon was not detained by penitentiary officials. He returned to his home and locked himself in his room. Others in the house heard a shot and broke in the door. They found Obregon lying on the floor. He died at a first aid station.

Toral is in prison pending the outcome of an appeal by his attorneys to the superior court on the ground that Mexican law does not provide a death penalty for political crimes.

Mother Concepcion Acveda de Lata who is under sentence of 20 years imprisonment as an accomplice in the assassination, is in the same penitentiary. She spends much of her time in writing poetry and in prayer in her cell which she has decorated with religious objects.

The contractor for the new route is the Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., of Philadelphia.

Three Lives Lost When Boat Wrecks On Virginia Coast

Georgetown, S. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Captain W. W. Covert and two members of the crew of the schooner Jacob W. Hook were lost when that vessel was wrecked in a storm off the Virginia coast, early this week. Banks and Tyson, agents, announced here today. The first word of the loss of the ship came through the coast guard at Wilmington on Monday when another vessel reported that she had picked up three members of the crew of the schooner.

The Jacob W. Hook left Georgetown No. 8 for Baltimore with 40,000 feet of lumber consigned to Thomas A. Myers company. She was a four masted vessel rated at 376 tons and has been plying between Georgetown and Baltimore several years.

In connection with the sinking the local agents recalled today that the Jacob W. Hook was carrying her thirteenth cargo to the same firm. "Watch your step, Captain, an employe of the agent said he told the captain. "This is the thirteenth cargo consigned to the same firm and a thirteenth voyage from Georgetown". The captain laughed. "I am not suspicious," he was quoted as saying. "Everything will be all right, I am sure."

GRID CLOUDS HANG DARKER AND LOWER

By MORGAN M. BEATTY

Atlanta, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The cloud of stagnation and injury that hovers over Southern Conference teams this week, hung lower and darker today, as frantic coaching staffs struggled to take their football machinery off dead center, the dreaded mid-November jinx.

The old say that victory crowns a poor week of scrimmage is the only consolation left for most of the mentors of 18 teams playing within the conference Saturday. Here are a few of their nerve wracking problems:

Alabama is preparing for Georgia Tech with the handicap of at least four injured regulars and a badly cracked offensive drive shaft. The men who saw action against Vandy last week had a rest at Georgia Tech yesterday, but the rest of the regulars did not complete a single pass out of some two score attempted against the frosh. Tennessee, outweighed 20 pounds by Vanderbilt, is making but slow progress in the serial and end smashing game they expect to use against the Commodores. Jimmy Armistead, whose winged slippers got lost in the baggage before the McGugin squad took the field against Tech last week, still can't find them, but McGugin is begrudgingly admitting that Jimmy will start Saturday.

Alex Reeves, outstanding tackle of a Florida line, has a sprained ankle, while Clemson coaches are baiting their squad with a dummy to thwart if possible the offensive fireworks they expect of the Gators at Jacksonville this week.

So much for games involving Georgia Tech, Florida and Tennessee, conference leaders with a record of four games won and no defeats in or out of the conference. Georgia has transferred Glenn Bradley, end, from the scrimmage list to the hospital squad, and is presenting a high school defensive last opponent of the Bull Dogs at Athens, is trying to map out a brand new style of play in an effort to remain unbeaten.

Auburn, beaten everywhere in the conference, is drilling grimly for Mississippi A. & M., who in turn admits the platinemen have a fighting edge. Virginia Tech will be minus the service of Phil Spears, fleet sophomore half, who has been a mainstay in the team's unbeaten play, while Washington and Lee is in fine shape with nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Kentucky is only in fair shape for the v. m. l. aggregation, the last visitors at Lexington this year. There is worrying more about the showing of Louisiana State, Thanksgiving opponent and tradition rival Saturday, against Georgia, than about her own game against Sewanee.

Other conference teams meet outside opposition Saturday.

CLEMSON FEATURES FLORIDA DUMMY PLAYS

Clemson College, S. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Dummy scrimmage against Florida plays was the only novel feature of today's practice here. There was no genuine scrimmage, the scrubs merely cutting on the Florida stuff in light fashion against the regulars following the defensive work. There was the usual quota of signal drill, kicking and passing. Goat McMillan continues to improve his passing game, and has already developed into one of the best passers Clemson has had in years.

In addition, he has proven a powerful running back. Offensive scrimmage will be on deck tomorrow according to the schedule, although this is subject to change.

Atlanta—Ted Goodrich, Atlanta, outpointed Ralph Taylor, LaGrange, Ga. (4); Young Jack Dempsey, Ellijay, Ga., outpointed Lou Kelly, Atlanta (8).

Big Season Ahead For Golf In Dixie

Atlanta, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The sports hiatus in Dixie this winter will be shortlived with professional and amateur golfers using the outdoor "down the river" soon after collegiate football cleats have been stored away.

While many of the dates for the major links tournaments are yet unannounced, the big hoof and mouth swing will actually get under way around the first of the year with a caravan of professionals touching the south for the first meet the last of January.

The south central open at Hot Springs, Ark., beginning January 31 and ending February 3, will be the first big tourney of the professionals in Dixie with the usual Florida open, north and south open, and possibly an open at Birmingham, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Richmond filling in.

While the pros are waxing warm over the prize tourneys, the feminine contingent will be embattled over sundry layouts in Florida. The Florida tournament for women will be the first event bringing out the national stars. It is set for February 18, at Palm Beach, and from there they go to Ormond Beach for the South Atlantic championship meet, February 26. The Florida East Coast tournament is set for St. Augustine, March 5.

Glenna Collett, three times national champion and winter of the East Coast title last winter, is expected to compete in all three events. It was in this field that she established a sensational low mark, March to tie the feminine low mark.

Virginia Van Wie, Maureen Orcutt and others who played in the south frequently a year ago, are considered certain to return to prepare for the 1929 national tests.

WIN TOURNAMENTS AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—The ninth annual mid-south best ball tournament and its laurels today belonged to Joe Turnesa, White Plains, N. Y., and Henry Ciuci, Bridgeport, Conn., who carded a new low of 131 for the annual contest.

In second place at the close of play yesterday came Gene Sarazen Long Island, and Mike Brady, Marmaroneck, N. Y., with 133, third money went to Jim Barnes, Pelham, N. Y., and Tom Kerrigan, Swanoy, N. Y., for their 137. Turnesa and Ciuci went out in 66 and came back in 65.

TWO COACHES STAND OUT IN DAY'S NEWS

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The coaches on major league baseball clubs figure to a minimum extent in the news during the season, but two have appeared on the sports pages since the season ended.

The transfer of Allan Schalk from the St. Louis Cardinals to the Boston Braves resulted in an investigation by Commissioner Landis on a warning that athletes under contract to one club must not be approached by another, even when the player, active or inactive, thinks he is about to be released.

The latest addition to the ranks of the coaches is "Cracker" Schalk, signed as "first assistant" to Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants.

Schalk will be one of the few coaches who can play in a pinch. He can still catch should an emergency arise. Ivy Wingo of the Reds, did not catch any games for the Reds last season but he was always in a receptive mood, although Eddie Collins was carried on the roster of the Athletics as a player, he was even more valuable as a coach.

More than 25 coaches are busy during the major league season most of them on the coaching line, as their titles indicate but some of "bull pen" duty warming pitchers.

A number of the coaches are specialists devoting their time to developing the pitchers. Even catchers of other days and four former pitchers are in the lineup. Infielders lead the list, 15 of the coaches having played first, second, third or short during their active careers.

Washington has two coaches who double in brass by doing comedy turns, but Nick Altrock and Al Schacht are alert baseball men as well as Manager Walter Johnson can depend on them giving full baseball value with the laughs they provoke.

Some of the coaches take a third job and then a fourth. There seems to be no fixed rule, but most of the coaches, as regards authority or responsibility, Jack Omlaw of the St. Louis Cardinals and Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns were almost assistant managers as in fact, Schalk will be with the Giants.

SOUTH CAROLINA READY TO TACKLE FURMAN

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—That preparations are under way to give the old Grads, who return to the campus for homecoming day here Saturday, something unusual was believed to have caused the secret practice yesterday when the University of South Carolina set to work in earnest to prepare for Furman.

No information as to the condition of the squad was forthcoming from the coaches or the managers of the practice.

Billy Leval, it is known, will put everything he has into the game Saturday in an effort to defeat the team from the school he coached last year. Furman, it is reported, will make every effort to defeat its former mentor's squad.

(By the Associated Press)
Warren of State, retains his lead of the "Big Five" with five touchdowns for a total of 30 points while Bule of Duke, has vaulted ahead of several men to take third place with a total of 28 points from four touchdowns and four extra points.

Adams of State increased his total last week by two extra points and is tied with Flinn of Davidson, Dixon of High Point, and Jordan of State in the notch behind Bule, all having a total of 24. Cheek of Guilford went scoreless but remains next with 22 and Gresham of Carolina still follows them with 19 after which a half dozen men show up with 18 each.

North Carolina's football season is fast hurrying to a close and Munn of Atlantic Christian College is still the only player on a Tar Heel eleven to have recorded a field goal. This is not included in the individual scoring listed nor are two safeties for Guilford and one for High Point while two of Whisman's extra points were made by aid of penalty.

LEGION POST TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

Pitt County Organization Takes Early Step Forward In "Legion Week."

"The American Legion of Pitt County has taken a great step forward this year by getting an early start in strengthening the organization in membership for the busiest year's work in our history," Arthur B. Carey, Post Commander of Pitt County Post No. 39 American Legion, declared here today in an appeal to Legionnaires who have not renewed their 1928 membership to do so at once.

"American Legion Week, which started with the Armistice Day address of the National Commander, Paul V. McNutt, in a national hook-up over the radio in Washington, a program in which President Coolidge has inspired the Legionnaires throughout the country with the determination to carry through to success the most important program of activities yet planned by the Legion, according to a statement from the National Adjutant, James F. Barton, at National Headquarters in Indianapolis.

"This county is not coming up to expectations of headquarters in this movement of getting the membership signed up for another year so that more time can be devoted to work. It is an individual responsibility of every Legionnaire to help keep this movement going.

"The first major objective on the Legion program is to increase the service to the disabled. Thousands of our veterans, many of them in our own communities, should be receiving help that a grateful government has decreed they should receive in all justice. Too much time elapses in many cases. This is due chiefly to the difficulty of connecting a man's illness with his war service. As time increases this will be all the more difficult. The Legion has a great, big job to do in this alone.

"The Legion also demands speedier justice for the needy child of the veteran who gave his life, or his health, in the service of his country. This has been declared the Legion's next duty.

"Third, is the Americanism work, community service, the Junior baseball program next summer and the promotion of good citizenship through education.

"National defense is ever foremost in the Legion's activities, and the Universal Draft bill that would take profit out of war must be passed by congress.

"To do these things, the Legion must maintain in 1929 the membership roll of 1928. By renewing his membership this early, the veteran subscribes to this program. In doing so he is serving his country in peace time with the same loyalty that he gave in time of war. By not subscribing, he is shirking a responsibility only himself can answer for, and his friends will look upon him in that way."
