SUMMON CHIEF OFFICER OF VESTRIS TO APPEAR AT INVESTIGATION TODAY

Three Other Officers Of Ill-Fated Vessel Summoned For Federal Inquiry Now In Progress At New City.

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Frank Johnson, chief officer of the Vestrís, and three minor officers were served with subpoenas today to appear before the Federal inquiry into the disaster.

Earlier in the day, Federal Attorney Charles H. Tuohy had announced that Johnson could not be found. Government agents, however, eventually reached him at the Hotel Holly to which he had gone after arriving here on a rescue ship.

The other officers subpoenaed were J. G. Bulger, second officer; H. L. Welland, third officer; and Charles Vercher, third wireless of the boat.

Six survivors of the Vestrís, all passengers, were questioned in the first day of the hearing.

Among their charges were:

That there were general incompetence and lack of discipline among officers and crew.

That two lifeboats were left hanging in their davits and carried down with the ship.

That no orders were issued to don lifebelts and that no competent officers were assigned to lifeboats.

That some lifeboats were improperly equipped and leaked like sieves at every seam.

That in some cases the launching tackle was out of commission.

That rescuing steamers passed several lifeboats, occupants being unable to signal because of defective fares.

The six witnesses were Fred W. Puppe, an electrical engineer of Brooklyn whose wife and baby were lost; Jose Santa Anita of Brazil, a former New York elevator operator who goes by the name of "John Santone"; Wallace M. Sinclair of Bound Brook, N. J.; Herman Ruckert, a German paper manufacturer; Carlos Quiros, chancellor of the Argentine consulate in New York; and Walter Spitz, of Berne, Switzerland.

Tuttle said some of the officers and members of the crew had already been questioned privately and would be put on the stand to tell their stories publicly. He said he also was investigating into a report that the anti-rolling tanks were out of repair.

"Fastening the blame will not be a light task," he continued. "As far as what transpired on the high seas on board a British ship is concerned, we have no direct jurisdiction, of course. But American lives and property were lost, and we must determine whether there was criminal negligence. If there was, we shall determine whose negligence it was."

Most of the six passengers who testified were still highly nervous and Mr. Tuttle said it was probable that few more of them would be called as he did not wish to harass their feelings further by making them recount the terrible ordeal they had been through.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—(AP)—That a leak in the ash hopper and a smashed port in a coal door which turned into a ship a 14-inch stream of water were among leading factors contributing to the loss of the British liner Vestrís at sea on Monday with the loss of scores of lives, was stated today by John Boxill, negro member of the fire-iron crew of the ill-fated ship.

The statement was made in the course of testimony given, under oath, to Captain J. T. Hanlon, U. S. steamboat inspector, who conducted an inquiry at the naval hospital at Portsmouth, to which the survivors who were brought in late yesterday on the battleship Wyoming, were taken for medical attention.

Because of the condition of the five women passengers of the Vestrís, who were brought here, Captain Hanlon was unable to hear statements by them. Mrs. Norman K. Batten of Dayton, Ohio, was expected to give an interview to Captain Hanlon later today. At noon she was sent word from her room at the hospital that she was not yet in condition to talk.

Sales Lighter On Local Leaf Market During Yesterday

Sales continued light on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday with 789,490 pounds of bright leaf being disposed of for a total sum of $182,397.45 at a general average of $23.09 per hundred pounds, according to official report of sales made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

There was approximately seven hundred thousand pounds of tobacco in the city today with indications that sales would be completed shortly after the noon hour.

A considerable amount of common grade, trashy tobacco was in evidence yesterday, the report said. This had much to do with pulling down the general average of the day. Good grade tobacco continues to bring excellent prices.

TWO KILLED IN GUN BATTLE AT SANTA ANA

Games Poachers Shot To Death by Sharp-shooter of California Game Preserve.

Santa Ana, Cal., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A death battle waged with a rifle and two shotguns following the warning shot fired at the hunting dog of two alleged game poachers found a sharp shooting gun club's keeper in jail here today while authorities investigated his story that he killed the two trespassers after they had fired at him.

The two hunters, who were asserted to have trespassed upon the duck hunting preserves of the California Gun Club where Orle R. Mahon, 40, and John D. Callicott, 40, residents of Sunset Beach, Cal.

J. W. Montgomery once a deputy sheriff in Oklahoma, was held in his slayer. He surrendered voluntarily to police, after having escaped the battle unscathed.

Calmly Montgomery told officers his version of the shooting which occurred in an isolated marsh yesterday. He exhibited a shot punctured hat as evidence of an attack upon him. Each of his victims died with a bullet through the heart.

The club keeper said the two men became enraged when he discharged his rifle at their hunting dog as they stalked through the club's preserves, shotguns beneath their arms, Callicott approached him, cursing, Montgomery said.

The keeper declared he attempted to "reason" with the trespassers, but that Callicott cut the argument short by firing at him.

Montgomery said he returned the fire and Callicott crumpled to the soft ground. Mahon quickly swung his gun to shoulder, and the keeper said they fired almost together. Again Montgomery escaped unharmed, while Mahon fell. The dog was uninjured.

A coroner's inquest was ordered for today.

Mayor Walker May Take Action In Gambler's Death

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Mayor Walker has given police until Monday to produce some further facts on the killing of Arnold Rothstein, big Broadway gambler, or he will take action.

Calling Police Commissioner Warren, District Attorney Banton, Inspector John D. Coughlin, Deputy Inspector Arthur Carey, fourteen detectives and two patrolmen to his offices yesterday, the mayor questioned them fully as to what progress had been made. The questioning required an hour and a half.

At his conclusion the mayor issued the following statement:

"I have insisted that either the detective bureau produce further facts in this case by Monday or else admit that they can't. Then I shall decide what action I shall take. They must be given a full opportunity and no more."

DECLARES EDUCATION IS PAYING GREAT DIVIDENDS

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, declared in an address before the second session of the Southern Conference of Education here today that "Education as a social investment is paying big dividends." The conference is sponsored by the University of North Carolina.

"The nations that have been unwilling to spend on education are the victims of ignorance, superstition, destitution and all the wretchedness that comes in their train," Dr. Coffman said.

"America," he continued, "has achieved her station, not by withholding but by a generous spending. And she has done it by refusing to close the gates of educational opportunity."

"If one will take five American states that have provided liberally for education and compare them with five states that have provided most parsimoniously for education, he will find that the average earnings of the families in the former are almost twice those of the latter, that the amount per individual in the savings banks is nearly ten times greater per individual in the former than in the latter, that the number of books in the libraries is vastly greater and that living conditions are much superior in the former."

Frank D. Boynton, superintendent of the Ithaca, N. Y., schools and president of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association, the other speaker of the morning session, declared that "quality of teaching is the hub of the whole matter of education."

"If any college," he said, "could assemble a faculty of really great teachers it would draw nothing for they would draw irresistibly."

Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee University, who presided over the morning session, deplored what he termed "the appalling fact that our recent nationwide epidemic of higher education for everybody with its crowded schools and countless thousands of trained graduates should be accompanied by an equally nationwide and appalling epidemic of lawlessness and murder and highway robbery."

The sessions of the conference will continue until tomorrow noon.

One Bank Robber Slain In Bloody Battle In Okla.

Mieteta, Okla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—One bank robber was dead and four persons, including another robber, missed gunshot wounds. Colbert Keel was slain in the bloody encounter yesterday, and Haynie Liddell, 25, his companion, probably permanently blinded by a bird-shot charge. Sheriff-elect A. W. Stafford, M. A. Conrad, president of the bank, and R. C. Morris, posseman, sustained minor gunshot wounds.

On guard for bank robbers since a raid in January, 1927, in which Sheriff Sam Long and O-car Harrison, a bandit, were killed, the rapidly-forming posse surrounded the robbers in their car before they could leave the scene, and the skirmish ended at the rear door of the institution. The $10,000 loot was recovered.

Success in sounding the alarm and recruiting the posse quickly followed the bandits' loose action in freeing other employees of the bank after kidnaping Mr. Conrad as a hostage.

Surrounding their prey members of the posse opened fire on the car, in which Mr. Conrad was held captive. The president, slightly wounded in the shoulder, leaped from the automobile and flattened on the ground as the robbers went into action with revolvers. They fired a half dozen shots before they fell.

HOOVER PLANS SPEECHES FOR SOUTHERN TRIP

Many Details Of Voyage To South America Yet To Be Worked Out By Pres-Elect

By JAMES L. WEST, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 16.—(AP)—With many details of the itinerary for his good will voyage to South America still to be worked out, Herbert Hoover today faced the difficult diplomatic task of working out the character of the message he will deliver to Nicaragua when he touches that turbulent Central republic.

In the elections, supervised by the United States marines, and which took place but two days before his own the Conservative party in Nicaragua, represented by President Diaz, whom the United States had recognized, was defeated and Gen. Jose Maria Mora was elected. It may be that when the battleship Maryland docks at Corinto, the president-elect will be met by both the president-elect of Nicaragua and the Conservative representative, President Diaz.

The diplomatic difficulties are enhanced by the fact that although the United States refused to recognize Chamorro, a Conservative, after Saacasa, a Liberal president, had been unseated by a revolution, it did recognize Diaz, who was unseated by the Nicaraguan congress to succeed him. In the revolutions which followed, the United States marines were sent to the country, and they remained there to supervise the election in which another Liberal was chosen.

Already, during the course of his campaign, the president-elect has touched upon the general subject of armed intervention abroad, expressing in his Boston address a hope that such incidents would not again occur. Under the present itinerary, the Nicaraguan republic will be the first to be visited by Mr. Hoover on his passage southward.

LAST SAVED OF VESTRIS ARE LANDED

Eight Survivors, Five Of Them Women, Landed At Norfolk Early Today.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Exhausted from hours of exposure at sea, eight survivors of the foundering of the steamship Vestrís were safely ashore here today, regaining strength by much needed rest.

Of the group, five were women, one of whom lost her husband and a child, two others their husbands, and a fourth, who also had lost a child, learned that her husband had come safely through the great tragedy of the seas. The eight were brought into Hampton Roads yesterday by the battleship Wyoming.

Mrs. Norman K. Batten of Brooklyn, N. Y., was acclaimed as one of the heroines of the disaster. Her husband, with other men in a crowded lifeboat that repeatedly capsized had exhausted themselves in bailing and righting the craft, thrown finally into the water. Mrs. Batten kept her husband afloat as long as life remained and at length he was forced to relinquish her hold, before help arrived.

SEA TRAGEDY IS PUZZLE TO NAVAL HEADS

Sinking Of Vestris Produces Varied Opinions Of High Naval Authorities.

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—High naval authorities generally expressed perplexity today over the cause of the sinking of the steamship Vestris.

Secretary Wilbur voiced regret that Captain William J. Carey of the Vestris had not earlier called for assistance, and Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of the naval operations, was of the opinion that had Carey sent his S. O. S. call 12 hours earlier, every person aboard could have been saved.

When they learned of the ship's list to starboard and its quick sinking, Admiral Hughes told fellow officers that the vessel acted as if it were "a victim of free water," washing about in its interior.

In the opinion of Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, retired, one of the world's foremost naval construction experts, the Vestris disaster likely was due to an "error of judgment" by Captain Carey. He cautioned against condemning the captain, however, until all the facts were available.

Criticism of the crew, Taylor said, for alleged mishandling of the lifeboats should be made only with consideration of the knowledge that the Vestris was listing at a sharp angle when the boats were launched.

"I do not know of any crew aboard any ship that could launch boats in a high sea and with a vessel listing at such a degree as the Vestris was without encountering great difficulty," he said.

Rear Admiral W. H. Stanley, assistant chief of naval operations, said that Captain Carey probably firmly believed that he could keep the ship afloat or he would not have hesitated to send the call. He added, however, that conditions aboard the vessel should have prompted Carey to at least notify ships in his vicinity of his vessel's condition.

Warns Against Over Emphasis Upon Football

Columbia, Nov. 16—(AP)—A resolution of warning against "an exaggerated emphasis that is being given to football" in state schools and colleges was adopted by the State Board of Education today.

The board which met in the office of the governor, announced the resolutions adopted as follows:

"From the position that it occupies, the State Board of Education recognizes its responsibility in matters that concern the educational interests in our state. "Because of a recognition of this responsibility the board believes that it is an inescapable duty to sound at this time a note of warning against an exaggerated emphasis that is being given to football.

"The State Board recognizes the great importance of physical education; it believes that the attainment of physical efficiency is one of the most important parts of the education process; it recognizes also the motivating necessity of contests between the several schools and colleges; but the State Board would very seriously warn the authorities of these institutions of the danger of the failure on the part of our schools and colleges to put first things first; of a tendency to obscure the fundamental things of an educational institution by an exaggerated emphasis of the spectacular.

Maddy Calls Meeting:

At that time the board will hold a two day session, Dr. Maddy said.

RUN-DOWN

Weak, Pale

"A FEW years ago, I lost weight and suffered from weakness," writes Mrs. Harry Canup. "I was pale and in a run-down condition. I suffered quite a bit with my side, and was very nervous. My mother was a great believer in Cardui, as she had taken it. She advised me to take it. I took about five bottles. I gained in weight and strength; was much better after taking Cardui."

Pains, Nervousness

"It is now seven years since I suffered from nervousness and with my back and sides," writes Mrs. J. J. Fannaly, Jr. "I had tried many remedies, but seemed to get no better. Several friends recommended Cardui to me, and so I started taking it. When six months were up, I had gained flesh and felt so much better. The pains were gone. I had been in such a run-down condition that I took Cardui for a year. Now I can recommend it to any woman who suffers the way I did. I am now completely well. What a great thing it is, to be able to say this!"

GOVERNOR SMITH'S MESSAGE

Declaring that Governor Smith in his recent address has pointed out to his party the only road to success, the New York World says:

"It would be an excellent thing, Governor Smith told his party in his radio address, if the Democratic Party at Washington were to formulate a program, adopt it, offer it to the Congress of the United States and there defend it." The alternative is marking time till 1932. The Democratic Party would not be acting in good faith with the people of the country nor in good faith with the millions who rallied to its support if it were to sit by and adopt a policy of inaction with the hope of profiting solely by the mistakes or failures of the opposition.

"This is not only good advice. It is a diagnosis, though Governor Smith does not so describe it, nor complain of the result, of one of the fundamental difficulties which beset the Democratic Party in its 1928 campaign and handicapped Governor Smith's own efforts. For one of the obstacles which the party had to overcome in order to win the confidence of the public was an all too widely shared belief that in recent years the Democratic Party has been devoid of anything resembling a constructive idea, a party content to put its faith in "a policy of inaction with the hope of profiting solely by the mistakes or failures of the opposition."

There have been individual performances by Democrats in Washington, such as Senator Thomas J. Walsh's notable achievement in discovering the truth about the oil leases, which have ranked with the most distinguished acts of public service. For the party as a whole, however, the record of recent years in Washington comes pretty close to zero. Time after time the Democrats in Congress have played the role of nagging obstructionists as if they had been born into it. They fought the Treasury Department's recommendations for a conservative enough cut in taxes last year to insure reduction of the national debt, apparently for the chief reason that the recommendation came from Mr. Mellon. They fought the Italian debt settlement in the previous session, apparently because it was Republican in origin, and in the end voted heavily against it. They let the insurgent Republicans take the leadership away from them in respect to Muscle Shoals and Boulder Dam. They let the World Court question drift as aimlessly as Mr. Coolidge let it drift. And if Mr. Coolidge was indifferent about such obviously important matters as Congressional reapportionment, legislation for the coal industry and reorganization of the Federal departments, the Democratic membership of Congress did nothing, as a party, to give these issues meaning.

"The role of an opposition party is not an easy one to fill with grace. For the party of the outs is denied the opportunity in a period of good times of claiming what the party of the ins inevitably claims—credit for whatever prosperity exists. The party of the outs must make its record on the intelligence and clarity of its own proposals. That is why Governor Smith's advice is the soundest advice that can be given to the Democratic Party at the present moment, when he declares that the Democrats in Congress ought to formulate a constructive program, 'adopt it, offer it to the Congress of the United States and there defend it.'"

"The difficulties in the way of following this advice of course, are obvious. The Democrats in Congress can propose no constructive policy for any really formidable and controversial question, such as the question of naval policy, of farm relief, of prohibition, of water power, without first coming to grips with the realities of these questions, threshing out their differences of opinion in sectional point of view and daring to accept the inevitable risk which accompanies any positive proposal. Yet, obvious as these difficulties are, a beginning must be made in attempting to resolve them unless the next Democratic campaign is to start off with the same handicap which helped defeat the last one. For as Governor Smith points out, 'the Democratic Party would not be in a position four years from now to solicit the confidence and support of the American people if during that period it neglected to build up a constructive program and relied entirely upon the failure of the opposition.'"

ABOUT TOWN

"We are highly elated at the outcome of Pay-up Week," declared members of the Greenville Merchants' Association, referring to the conclusion of the event yesterday. "Numbers of persons paid up long standing accounts during the two weeks Pay-up Week was in progress and merchants will be able to start the new year with books in much better condition."

"The association will compile a new list of credit customers in a few days. These names will be taken from the records of the various stores and will be so entered by the association that record of each customer can be referred to."

"If you failed to settle your accounts as you should have done you will find it rather difficult to obtain credit. Those who paid as they ought to have will be honored with further extension of credit."

"Conservation of timber lands is one of the most important problems which Pitt county farmers have before them at this time," said a member of the Department of Agriculture today.

"Hundreds of farmers have cut down valuable young trees to burn at tobacco barns. This is nothing more than waste of what in the future would become valuable timber. There is always an abundance of undergrowth and other material of the kind available for use at the tobacco barn. The farmer should consider this matter and help conserve the timber of the county."

"The annual tree call is going to be a success in Pitt county," confidently declared members of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross, discussing the success of soliciting committees yesterday.

"We have no doubt that the campaign will be one of the most successful in years. Pitt county people have never failed the Red Cross in a drive of this kind and the organization would not fail them in time of distress."

"If you haven't joined, get busy and do so at once and do your part by suffering humanity."

"The time is ripe for you to do your winter shopping," reminded merchants of the city.

"Stocks are more complete now than ever before. Big shipments of goods will continue coming in from now until the holiday season, and it will pay you to visit the stores daily and see the splendid bargains which will be offered from time to time. "Greenville merchants are striving to render the best of service to the thousands of people in this trade territory, and it is hoped everybody will take advantage of it."

"More food and feed crops for Pitt county next year," is the insistent demand of members of the Department of Agriculture.

"We must get away from the one and two crop idea and raise some of the things we consume at home. Think of the enormous sum of money sent to other communities year in and year out for the things we could produce ourselves."

"When we buy the products of other sections we have to pay the freight rates and profits of the vast army of salesmen who handle them. Why not eliminate this and plant more food and feed crops next year."

"The Reflector gives complete accounts of all of the important happenings of the world," said a member of the news department today.

"The complete leased wire service of the Associated Press furnishes the paper continuous service nine hours daily and more if needed. It is the same service received by the larger papers of the nation. You have the world's most important events in reach daily; why not take advantage of it by subscribing to the Reflector. "Subscription to this paper would make an appropriate birthday or Christmas present. Try it and note the expression of satisfaction spread over the features of the recipient."

OPEN FORUM

UNITED WE STAND; DIVIDED WE FALL

The Southern Confederacy is at present a Sad Country. "We can no longer boast of our own Southland. We no longer have United Daughters of Confederacy, since on November 6th," many members of The Col. George B. Singletary Chapter marched up to the Court house under the shadow of our beautiful Confederate monument and cast their vote for the Republican candidate for President. Even the high officers proved traitors to the cause we love so well.

I am sure Col. George B. Singletary, "if he could know" would like for us to change the name of the Chapter.

We cannot lay the fall of the South, and especially of our own Old North State, at the door of north Carolinians, because there are so many who have emigrated to our State to find a better place in which to live and have used their influence among our people and many of us would be glad if they had gone back to their own home town to cast their opposing vote, but as a good Veteran re-marked a few days ago, also wrote in an article for the daily paper. "Thank God there is still a Dixie" and always will be. The floating class of people coming in and out of our State will not effect the True daughters and Sons of Southern Confederacy. And in the course of four years all those who are not already so, will be disgusted with themselves. And thank Heavens a few of us are still true to the cause and forever will be, and will die true to Southern Democracy. Yes I am quite sure Mr. Hoover was profoundly appreciative of the heavy vote cast for him through the South, (and of course the Southern women did it) he is glad to see the South fall. So is Satan glad when he can tempt a christian to fall. If women had never been allowed to vote our good democratic men would have saved our Southland.

And now to us who are true to the cause for which our forefathers fought, bled and died, let us watch our step and have faith in our party. Thank Heavens Pitt County went over the top for democracy in spite of all their votes.

A TRUE DAUGHTER.

GRID TEAMS BATTLE FOR THEIR LIVES

By BRIAN BELL

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Coming into the home stretch of the football season, many teams tomorrow will be fighting for their competitive lives. Army and Navy are the exceptions for the two service teams have scheduled opponents good enough to be interesting, but not believed dangerous to the peace of mind.

Army will tune up for Nebraska by playing Carleton of Minnesota while Navy takes on Loyola of Baltimore, in reparation for Princeton a week away.

Most of the other contestants go about the game for this week in a serious mood. For some of their success of the season is hanging in the balance.

The leading traditional game, just 55 years old, Princeton will forget all about its nothing to nothing tie with Virginia and a 6 to 6 deadlock with Ohio State if the Tigers can turn back Yale. The Elis by the same fling will throw the Army and Maryland defeats out of the book if they can take the Tiger skin back to New Haven.

Notre Dame's defeat of Army has brought the game with Carleton at South Bend to the front rank for the Tartans from Pittsburgh have not been stopped.

There is a distinct international flavor to the Card, in addition to the Carnegie-Notre Dame affair, Pitt goes out to Lincoln to try to demonstrate it is still a good touch-down better than Nebraska. Every indication points to this being a man sized job.

Detroit, undefeated against fairly sturdy opposition, plays Fordham at the Polo Grounds of New York, while Missouri is taking on New York University in the neighboring Yankee stadium.

The Southern Conference leaders, Georgia Tech, Tennessee and Florida, have opponents who cannot be regarded lightly. Dixie observers, however, expect the Tech Yellow Jackets to win from Alabama by about the same margin as last year, two touchdowns, while Florida is given an edge over Clemson by critics outside.

where Clemson of South Carolina where Clemson is touted to stop the march of the Alligators. The clash of two Tennessee elevens, the University of Tennessee and Vanderbilt, should furnish enough football for two games. The rugged Volunteers of Tennessee have taken the opposition as they found it while the Commodores fall before Georgia Tech, but the Nashville outfit cannot be considered a setup. The days football may scramble the dope throughout the big Southern Conference for 18 of the 22 members play among themselves.

In the Far West there is a matter of State's rights to be decided between California and Washington with California perhaps in better position. Stanford will play the University of Washington while the Southern California meets Washington State.

An all-State battle between the University of Oregon and the Oregon Argies seems a "natural", with the result in doubt until the end of the game and perhaps even after that.

On Southern Gridiron
Columbia, S. C., Nov. 15—(AP)—When the news leaked out yesterday that Zobel, South Carolina's ace, would not be in the game with Furman Saturday, the stock of the Gamecocks took a slump. Zobel, according to adices from the University, is confined to his bed with an attack of influenza. Other members of the squad are in top shape, it was reported.

Blacksburg, Va., Nov. 16—(AP)—The Virginia Tech Gridmen were driven hard in the final drill of the week before the Gobblers will face Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va., tomorrow. The team will leave for Lexington today where the final workout will be held.

York, outpointed Dave Adelman, of Chicago, (8).

Heeny Thinks He Will Be The Next Champion Of Ring

Toronto, Nov. 16—(AP)—Tom Heeny thinks he will be the next heavyweight champion of the world.

The brawny blacksmith who took a terrific trouncing from Gene Tunney in the latter's farewell appearance last summer, says he believes he can enter any heavyweight, elimination tournament and emerge the sole survivor.

"The night I had with Timmy fought me a great deal", Tom said last night when he arrived with his bride on the last lap of a round the world honeymoon tour. "I made a lot of mistakes in that fight that I'll never make again."

Heeny now is headed for New York where he will start intensive training for what he hopes will be a busy winter campaign. Tom's biggest ambition is to get into the same ring with Jack Dempsey. "He is the greatest of them all", says J. J. New Zealand, "and I never will consider myself a really experienced fighter until I have had a go with Jack."

Fox Hunt Still On In Virginia

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 16—(AP)—The three-day running of hounds in the National championship for all age hounds was being continued today at the annual field trials of the National Fox Hunt Association being held here.

The national championship will be concluded tomorrow morning, with the selection of the national field champion, the highest honor conferred on a fox hound.

A bench show is the scheduled attraction for this afternoon. The judges will be Joseph B. Thomas, of New York City, and Charles W. Varver, of Sperryville, Va.

A horn blowing contest will be held during the evening, to be followed by an informal dance.

The winner of the all age stake will receive the Ed Walker cup, the Perkins Farwell cup and others. Second in the all age stake will receive the Cable cup, presented by A. V. Huyler, of New York City, winner of third place will receive the Rhodes cup, presented by Robert Fedes, of Bowling Green, Ky., and winner of fourth place, the Texas cup, presented by Rev. R. B. Crinnin, of Marshall, Texas.

The best hound on the bench will be awarded the General Roger D. Williams memorial cup, presented by Mrs. Lucas B. Combs, of Lexington, Ky., and will be known as the National Bench champion. The best of the opposite sex will be awarded the Alfred Biddle cup.

Yesterday saw the largest field of the inset riding behind 126 hounds competing in the first day's run for the championship of the United States in the all age stake.

BIG CROWDS EXPECTED AT GRID GAMES

By MORGAN M. BEATY, Associated Press Sports Writer

Atlanta, Nov. 16—(AP)—Some 65,000 or 70,000 persons expect to watch the "Big Three" of the southern conference defend their unblemished gridiron records Saturday.

About 30,000 of them will see Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets engage Alabama's Crimson Tide at Atlanta and attempt to repeat last victory over a team that has blanketed them in four out of their last five meetings.

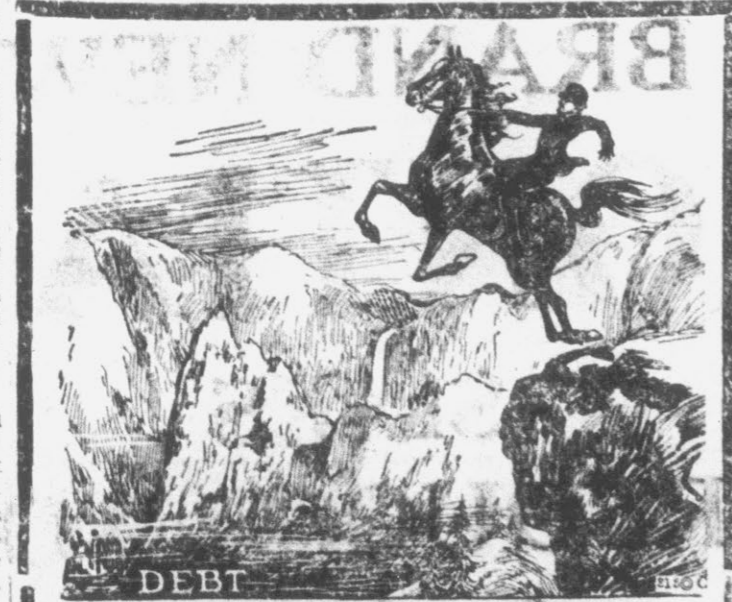

Likewise, Tennessee, before 20,000 or more fans of the game, tomorrow will encounter Vanderbilt's Commodores, a team they have been unable to comprehend since away back in 1916.

Among the triumvirate, Florida has the hope of years standing on Clemson. The "Gators" will face a rejuvenated Tiger before 15,000 at Jacksonville, confident of victory by virtue of this year's record, and four victories over the South Carolinians since 1911.

Beaten only by Tennessee within the conference, Clemson headed the flats of Tech in Atlanta today for a light workout this afternoon. As for Tennessee, the struggle against Georgia is the hardest of the season and in recognition of this season Bob Neyland has trained his charges for a passing and running attack he hopes will dazzle the rival that so often has been his undoing.

Confident almost to the point of conceit, the "Gators" took a train for Jacksonville with the coaches repeating their often given admonition that Clemson has a defensive wall that will take all the blasting material available to Clyde Crabtree and his clever backfield companions.

V. P. I. has won three victories and expects another Saturday in its last home game at Greenville. Although the Genevans have shown little fight this season they are on home grounds. Louisiana State began the trick to Athens, Ga., yesterday by its meagre overcommitment of stalling an unblemished standing of two won and none lost, yet uncertain high hopes that the Georgia Bulldog might falter. Out of these five conference games probably will emerge a new combination as "Big Three" next week. Few dared to risk the dangerous business of guessing them "across the boards," although Tech and Florida were general favorites to keep their positions.

Five Teams Are Unbeaten

Atlanta, Nov. 16—(AP)—Five of the 30 teams comprising the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association football championship race remain unbeaten and united with the University of Chattanooga Moccasins maintaining the leadership with six victories.

With only a couple of weeks to go, apparently nothing short of the most unexpected of upsets can dislodge the fast scoring team of Frank Thomas from supremacy.

Led by Lautzenheiser, Strong, Barrett and other offensive luminaries, the Moccasins have won 15 straight games within the association in two years and have bowed to none but the Vanderbilt Commodores outside the organization. They bowled over Virginia Poly. among other outsiders, last year.

In most of the games, the Noogians have literally roamed amuck from a scoring standpoint. They turned Louisville and Southwestern University back this year by more than 70 points each.

In all Thomas' team has scored 211 points against 40 for all opponents this year.

Vestris Was In Perfect Order Before Sailing

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Records of the inspection of the Vestris made by three United States Department of Commerce inspectors and agents of Lloyd's, the English Maritime-Insurer organization, show the liner was regarded in perfect condition before she sailed.

The ship presumably was gone over from stern to stern, as the reports were made on hulls, engines, lifeboats and other lifesaving equipment, hull plating, pumps, water tight doors, double bottom and water tightness of boats.

Pities Rich Women.

London—(AP)—Rebecca West, British novelist, pities the poor American rich women. Back from a tour she gave her views on the lecture platform, to wit: Most Americans live in skyscrapers, where a dog can't be kept much less families. The wealth of America is being used to starve women in order to prevent their normal development.

Says Progress of Science Has Made Splendid Changes

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 16—(AP)—The progress of science and industry is changing the south into a new mold, declared Dr. Harry W. Chase, president of the University of North Carolina last night at the evening session of the Southern Conference on Education being held at the University here. The speaker added that in his opinion the period of transition is to be bridged successfully, the educational institutions of this section must "train young men and women to live in a world very different in many and fundamental ways from that of their fathers."

A program featured by addresses of eminent leaders in educational fields has been arranged for today. More than 150 delegates representing many sections of the South are present.

Another outstanding address of the initial session was that of Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, editor of the Richmond, Va., News-Leader on "Public Education and the Public Press."

"When the forces of education are fixed up today we must put the American press far down the list," he said, "and the fundamental reason for this is that the great goal of journalism today is the great cause of journalism; that is, increased circulation."

Reformer David, Philadelphia—(AP)—Dr. Moses Stern, who preached medicine for 50 years and cured many reforms, is dead. He lived to see some of them adopted, notably bobbed hair for women. One idea of his that has not approached realization was for a few compelling males to marry at 21 and females at 18. He was a bachelor.

WOFFORD STRESSES DEFENSIVE TACTICS

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16—(AP)—Defensive tactics were stressed by Coach Gus Tebell in working out the State College wolfpack yesterday for the game with Duke's Blue Devils tomorrow. A mixed squad of substitutes and freshmen executed Duke's plays against the Varsity in a lengthy practice session. Tebell drilled the pack intensively in breaking up forward passes.

DEACONS TO MEET TERRIERS TODAY

Wake Forest, Nov. 16—(AP)—Wake Forest's Deacons will meet the Wofford College Terriers on Core Field here this afternoon, hoping to break the season's record of a North Carolina team being unable to win over an eleven from the Palmetto State.

Coach Stanley Cotral of Wake Forest, declined to give out his probable lineup until a short time before the game. His squad was reported in good condition.

WOMAN PLAYS HEROIC PART IN DISASTER

Vestris Survivor Tells Thrilling Story Of Woman Who Tried To Save Husband.

Portsmouth, Va., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The story of a Japanese woman who wanted to be with her husband even in death, and who was picked from the stormy Atlantic in an unconscious condition, clinging to his body, was related here today, in one of the most stirring narratives to come from the wreck of the Vestris.

Mrs. Turuko Inouye, wife of the Japanese Consul to Buenos Aires, told of the struggles that she and her husband made as she rested at the naval hospital here. The story was brought from the room by Captain Nabuchi Kusunoki, military attaché of the Japanese embassy, the only person permitted to talk with Mrs. Inouye.

"It's a story of heroism and fine spirit," Captain Kusunoki said. "She is a woman of great courage. When the Vestris plunged beneath the waves Major Inouye and his wife were in a lifeboat. The sea was so rough that the boat capsized twice in a very short time. Their first thought always was to stay together and they were not separated when thrown into the sea."

Major Inouye worked unceasingly with the men after each turn over to right the boat and to bail out the water with their hands. It was tiring labor and he became very tired. With the exposure to the waters he could not last long.

"Mrs. Inouye saw as she swam alongside that her husband was dying. She still clung close to him. She wanted to be with him to the last minute. With this thought she clung until unconscious. She does not know how long they were buffeted about by the waves before the battleship Wyoming appeared to rescue her. Major Inouye was dead, passing away in her arms."

Captain Kusunoki said that Mrs. Inouye would remain temporarily at the naval hospital and would later go to Washington.

Three Convicted Of Fraud Charge

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16.—After a trial which consumed the better part of two days in United States District Court, Solicitor I. B. Tucker yesterday won a victory in the conviction of Ellis Nassau Hatem, Albert Z. Karem and Lacy B. McCormick, charged with using the mails to defraud. Judge Meekins sentenced McCormick and Hatem to 18 months in prison. Karem, who is now serving a three-year term at Atlanta, was let off with a fine of $1. He was the government's chief witness in the case.

The case concerned another of the mail order frauds which a number of Syrians, accompanied by a few Americans, have perpetrated in North Carolina for the past several years. Postoffice Inspector W. D. Kahn, who worked up the cases, believes that the backbone of the fraud ring has finally been broken. There are still a number of similar cases pending in other federal courts of the state and several of the Syrians are already serving sentences in federal prison.

The case which was completed yesterday concerned the Selma Clothing Company. As has been the system all along, the conspirators started a store and adopted a name very similar to that of a reputable store already operating in the same town—in this case the Syrians and McCormick called their place the Selma Clothing Company, in imitation of the Selma Clothing and Shoe Company—and then bought goods on the first firm's credit rating. These goods were disposed of in wholesale lots and the wholesalers never paid. When collectors were sent, there was little worth having in the store.

When the trial was first started Louis H. Curry was also charged with being a party to the fraud. Judge Meekins, however, directed a verdict of not guilty in his case.

Two Boys Killed In Cave Collapse

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Benjamin Jackson, 14, and James Stewart, Jr., 10, were killed here yesterday when a cave they had dug on the estate of Percy Rockefeller, 18 miles from here, collapsed and buried them alive.

The bodies were found by a playmate who had gone to a nearby spring for a bucket of water. When he missed his companions he summoned aid immediately and began digging but the two boys were dead when the dirt was removed.

Young Jackson's parents are understood to be living in Englewood, N. J., where the body will be carried for burial.

Sir James Heath Refuses To Let Wife Use Credit

London, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Sir James Heath, husband of Lady Heath, widely known British airman who is now in America, today made public through his solicitor's official notification, withdrawing authority for her to pledge his credit. The notice, which appeared in the newspapers, also stated that he would not be responsible for her debts.

The notice declared that since their marriage Lady Heath had been in receipt of an allowance sufficient to provide herself with all suitable necessities.

Sir James Heath is an ironmaster and colliery proprietor. The present Lady Heath is his third wife. His first wife died in 1921 and his marriage to his second wife, Joy Kitch Smith, was annulled in 1927. He is 70 years old and the present Lady Heath is 31.

The present Lady Heath was Mrs. Elliott Lynn and married Sir James on October 11, 1927. She completed the first solo flight by a woman from Cape Town to England when she arrived at Croydon airfield on May 17, after flying 10,000 miles.

Fourteen Survivors Of Vestris Received Hospital Treatment

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Fourteen survivors of the wreck of the Vestris, including eleven members of the crew, were under treatment in hospitals in this city today.

Several were suffering from fractured bones, although most merely were exhausted and in need of rest.

The passengers were E. M. Walcott, of Halifax, suffering from fractured ribs; Miss Henrietta Cubbins, of New York, ill from shock and submersion, and Otto Ulrich, a broken leg. Several others were under physicians' care at their homes for shock and severe colds.

The most seriously injured of the crew was George Hogg, a steward, of London, who suffered fractures of both arms. The others, including Mrs. Clara Ball, stewardess, of Pleasantville, N. Y., who was afloat in the water for 22 hours, were being treated for submersion and shock. Their condition was said not to be serious.

Two Gunmen Are Captured In N. Y.

Denver, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Two alleged gunmen, who gave their names as James Joseph Noon, New York, and John Joseph Ja, Boston, were captured here yesterday after a running gun fight with a riot squad. They are believed implicated in the attempted assassination here, November 4, of Eddie Diamond and John Marino, former New York residents. Two sub-machine guns, several pistols and a rifle were found in their apartment.

ZEPPELIN PASSENGERS SAIL FOR AMERICA

Hamburg, Germany, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Three United States navy officers, Commander M. R. Pierce, Lieutenant Thomas G. Settle and Lieutenant Charles Edward Baugh, who were passengers on the Graf Zeppelin on its flight from Lakehurst, N. J., to Friedrichshafen, sailed for New York on the steamship Deutschland today, since their arrival in Berlin from Friedrichshafen the naval officers have been studying German aviation and inspecting shipyards. They also paid a brief visit to England to expect two British airships in process of construction there.

Aircraft Carrier Captures World's Record For Speed

San Pedro, Cal., Nov. 15.—(AP)—The United States naval aircraft carrier Lexington has captured the world's record for speed and power developed by large power-driven ships, following successful tests yesterday in which she developed 210-

000 horse power and raced past Santa Cruz Island at an estimated 34.5 knots, about 40 land miles an hour.

The greatest amount of power developed aboard a ship previously was 151,000 horse power on the giant British battle cruiser H. M. S. Hood in 1920. The Hood made a speed of 32.07 knots.

Last June the Lexington traveled the 2,228 miles from San Pedro to Honolulu in 72 hours, 34 minutes, a record run. On the third day of that day of that trip she did 770 miles, bettering the previous record day's run of 690 nautical miles by the light cruiser Omaha in 1923. The best day's run of a merchant ship is the 676 nautical miles lodged by the Cunarder Mauretania in 1911.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 7 points on trade buying and covering promoted by the fairly steady showing of Liverpool and renewed talk of a strong statistical position for American cotton as a season-long proposition. The bulk met some southern selling and realizing which caused setbacks of a few points, but the selling was not active and prices formed up again with the active market ruling about 6 to 8 points net higher at the end of the first half hour. Private cables reported that local buying and trade calling had absorbed hedging and some Bombay selling in the Liverpool market, but that the market for cotton yarns and cloths was quiet with buyers cautious.

Futures closed barely steady, 5 points lower to 1 higher. Spot quiet, middling 19.65.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 16—(AP)—With Argentine weather reports as now generally dry and favorable, for harvest operations in progress, wheat values receded today after an early advance. Bearishly disposed traders put considerable stress on comprehensive reports that with seeding of domestic winter wheat practically completed, soil conditions are generally suspicious.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-4c higher; corn 3-4 to 1-4c up; oats at a shade to 1-4 to 3-8c advance, and provisions varying from 7c decline to a rise of 5c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—A sweeping advance in prices with a record-breaking turnover of stocks was Wall Street's response today to the relatively insignificant gain in Federal Reserve Brokers' loans. Prices bounded upward in a riotous outburst of buying at the opening and continued to climb in the face of heavy profit-taking. Extreme gains in the active issues ranged from 3 to 21 points, with a long list of issues including such favorites as U. S. Steel, Montgomery-Ward, Packard Motors, Westinghouse Electric and Texas company setting new high records for the year.

Call money renewed at 6 1-2 per cent, as against 6 yesterday, but bankers indicated that relatively easy rates could be expected until the holiday demands begin to make themselves felt. Further imports of British gold also were expected to strengthen the country's credit position.

In the first three hours of trading, total sales averaged more than a million shares an hour, with the ticker more than an hour late.

All sorts of merger and dividend rumors accompanied the rise in prices. Wall Street heard that the General Motors Corporation was negotiating with the Opel Automobile Works, German's largest motor concern, and that Chrysler Motors would take over the Kelvinator Corporation. Bethlehem steel was heavily bought on unconfirmed reports that dividends would be resumed at the January meeting. Talk of higher copper prices and increased dividends stimulated the demand for the copper stocks. Merchandising issues swung upward on predictions of record breaking holiday trade.

Montgomery-Ward, with an extreme gain of 21 points at 415, a new top, was again the leader. Radio extended its early gain to 14 points by touching 289. Packard sold nearly 10 points higher and Johns Manville, Sears Roebuck, American International, General Gas and Electric, National Supply, Commercial Solvents, Commonwealth Power, Colorado Fuel, Mexican Seaboard, Wright Aero-nautical, Midland Steel Products preferred, Kennecott Pullman, and American Smelting sold 4 to 8 points higher, most of them touching new peak prices.

The closing was strong.

Espionage Angle Considered At Atlanta Prison

Atlanta, Nov. 16—(AP)—Two Department of Justice agents were under subpoena to appear today before a congressional committee investigating conditions at Atlanta Federal Penitentiary.

The committee decided to look into stories that a man known as "Peter Hanson" was sent to the prison on bogus charges for the purpose of furthering an espionage system which had been concentrated on one of the wardens.

Thomas C. Wilcox and C. C. Shivers, agents, were in charge of a recent investigation at the prison.

Congressman Thomas M. Bell, of Georgia, a member of the congressional committee, insisted that the espionage angle should form a part of the investigation, which was originally intended to examine the housing conditions in federal institutions. The committee decided to extend the probe under a blanket provision of the resolution of Congress which authorized it.

The Georgia congressman told his colleagues that he understood Hanson had bogus commitments papers signed in Detroit when he was committed to prison here, and that he was refused a parole, whereupon transfer was mysteriously arranged to Leavenworth. Freedom came within a week there, the congressman said he had been advised.

Congressman John G. Cooper, of Ohio, chairman, expected the committee's work to be completed today or tomorrow.

SAYS BUDGET SYSTEM WOULD REDUCE TAXES

New Orleans, La., Nov. 16—(AP)—If every state in the Union would adopt a budget system not in conflict with the duties of the constitutional state auditor, taxes could be materially reduced, Henry P. Seidemann, of the Institute for Government Research, Washington, today told the National Association of State Auditors' controllers and treasurers in session here.

Republican Loses Seat. San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 16—(AP)—Representative Harry M. Wurzbach, Texas' only Republican congressman, failed to benefit by last week's sweep to Hoover in the Lone Star State and has lost his seat in the Lower House to Augustus McCloskey, Democrat, by 233 votes, according to the unofficial tabulation announced today.

Eighteen Persons Arrested In Raid On Night Clubs

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Sweeping from Greenwich village to the Mid-Town theatrical section, 200 prohibition agents, shortly after midnight raided ten alleged speakeasies and night clubs and arrested 18 persons.

The agents reported the seizure of a quantity of liquor in each place. Those arrested were all employees and were charged with illegal possession of liquor. Patrons were not molested.

The raids were marked by efficiency and secrecy.

The raiders gathered at prohibition headquarters late in the afternoon and were given their instructions behind closed doors to prevent any leakage of information. Even the telephones were temporarily discontinued.

Assembling in groups of ten the agents descended almost simultaneously on suspected establishments. Although the raids were made before the evening's revelry had fairly started in many of the places, some were well filled with patrons.

Among the places raided were: The Gay Paree in West 59th st.; The Clubman's Club in West 51st Street; the Chata-O Club in West 58th Street; the Sixty-First Street Grill in West 61st Street; Mac's Cafe in West 45th Street; an alleged speakeasy in Sixty Avenue, Martin's Restaurant in West 45th Street. In the Greenwich Village section, two adjoining restaurants in Sullivan Street were raided; Jimmie Kelly's and the Roman.

SAYS WORLD GOOD FOR BILLION YEARS LONGER

New York—(AP)—This world has been a going concern for more than a billion years and the human race probably can count on occupying it another billion, in the opinion of Dr. Robert A. Millikan, physicist of the California Institute of Technology. He also told the State Chamber of Commerce that mankind is but a baby; has been doing business in his present shape a mere matter of 30,000 to 50,000 years.
