POLICE SEARCH FOR KILLER IN CITY OF OMAHA

Activities of "Hatchet Man" Sends Fear Through Veins Of Population.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Not since the rifle of Frank Carter, "the sniper," was a death weapon that sent fear racing down a city's spine, has Omaha been gripped by the dread inspired today by its "hatchet man."

The new slayer, who, like "the sniper," appears to pick his victims at random, has slain three, beaten a fourth so severely he will not live, and seriously injured a fifth. All the attacks have taken place since early Sunday morning.

Omaha's "sniper," whose slayer-equipped rifle slew two and wounded one before he was captured in a few years ago, kept the city in a state of uneasiness during the days he remained at large. That same sense of terror prevailed today, intensified because of the brutality of the crimes and the regularity of the hatchet man's deadly visitations.

Mrs. George Strubling, the only victim of the madman's hand-axe who was not killed or critically wounded, had provided police with a description of the man they hold responsible for all five attacks.

"He is of dark complexion, about 21 years old, five feet seven inches tall and weighs about 140 pounds," she said. "He was well dressed. His trousers were neatly pressed, and he wore a belted overcoat, a dark gray cap and a bowtie."

George Strubling, who was beaten by the hatchet man early yesterday morning, lies dying in a hospital with four distinct skull fractures. Hospital physicians said his death is a matter of hours.

Strubling was awakened early yesterday to see a man standing beside his bed. The lights were on and her husband's head was bleeding. The slayer hit him again and then struck at her. She moved and received a glancing blow.

Then she pleaded with the man for an hour, begging him to leave her and offered him anything if he would. He consented but ordered her to leave with him. The Strublings' baby, sleeping in a crib nearby, was not harmed.

Mrs. Strubling walked with the abductor three miles before he said she could go. He walked in one direction and she in another, until she met a patrolman. She told her story and she and her husband were taken to a hospital where she underwent an operation last night, which will probably save the sight of her eye which was injured by the hatchet's blow.

This attack followed the killing of Mrs. Waldo Rosso and her sister Greta Brown, early Monday morning in their home and the slaying of Joseph Blackman, 75, a drayman early Sunday.

Eighty policemen, in pairs armed with shotguns drove over Omaha last night. A half a hundred men volunteered last night to assist police in the hunt for the slayer.

Death From Liquor Classed Accidental

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Death from bootleg liquor may be classed as accidental under certain circumstances.

Such was the decision of a Federal court jury here yesterday, which awarded Mrs. S. A. Fleckinger of Norfolk $6,000 on an insurance policy taken out by her son, Samuel Peyton Fleckinger, with the Zurich (Switzerland) Accidental and Liability Insurance company.

Fleckinger died after drinking cocktails containing wood alcohol at a party in honor of his fiancée at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Murphy in Baltimore last December 6th. Miss Katherine McDonald of New York, the fiancée, and Mrs. Murphy, the hostess, also died, while Mr. Murphy recovered after a severe illness.

The insurance company contested on the ground that the young man's own negligence and violation of the law was responsible for his death. Appeal was taken.

ART SHOWING IN RALEIGH TONIGHT

Raleigh, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A collection of works of art from the Grand Central Art Galleries of New York will be given a private showing tonight for patrons and hostesses of the exhibit, who represent various art organizations, the North Carolina Art Society, Literary and Historical Association and Folk Lore Society.

The exhibit will be opened by Mrs. Katherine Pendleton of Oxford, president of the Art Society. Mrs. Arrington Teit will entertain officers of the society and visiting artists at a dinner earlier in the evening.

The exhibit will be thrown open to the public tomorrow.

HEAVY SALES CONTINUE ON LEAF MARKET

Over Million Pounds Of Bright Leaf Offered For Sale Here Yesterday.

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday sold 1,075,632 pounds of tobacco for $358,256.64 at an average price of $32.74 per hundred pounds, according to official report of activities made public today by C. W. Cobb, superintendent of sales.

This brought total sales of the season to $9,189,738. It was noted there was a million pounds of tobacco on the floors of nine warehouses today with indications that sales would be completed during the afternoon hours.

A considerable quantity of common grade tobacco was offered for sale yesterday and this played an important part in the price situation, causing the general market average to drop slightly under that of the previous day.

With a week to go it was believed today that season sales would reach the six million pound mark by Thanksgiving Day. Sales are expected to average around a million pounds daily until the holiday season begins and after that time they are expected to be sufficiently slow for the market to reach its seventy million pound goal before the season ends.

DR. ANDERSON FINED $500 IN COURT TODAY

Guilty Of Two Counts of Malfeasance in Office, Insane Hospital Head Appeals.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 21.—(AP)—A fine of $500 and costs was the sentence imposed today on Dr. Albert Anderson, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane, who was convicted yesterday on two counts of an indictment charging malfeasance in office. Attorneys for the 69-year-old physician immediately gave notice of appeal to the State Supreme court.

Judge W. A. Devin, presiding at Wake County Superior court, sentenced Dr. Anderson after overruling a defense motion, for an arrest of judgment. Arguments on the motion consumed practically all the forenoon.

Judge Devin held that Dr. Anderson's status as superintendent of the hospital was not impaired by the verdict. Solicitor Leon Brassfield, who prosecuted the case, concurred in this view.

A bail bond of $1,000 was arranged for Dr. Anderson pending final disposition of the case. Court attaches estimated that the costs of the proceedings to date would be $2,000.

Dr. Anderson has continued to discharge his duties as superintendent since his indictment several weeks ago following a grand jury investigation of conditions at the hospital.

TURKEY PRICES ARE UNCERTAIN

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The price and supply of Thanksgiving turkeys will be a matter of conjecture for most sections of the country this year.

Due to continued warm weather jockers and dealers are not securing their usual supply, reports to the Department of Agriculture indicate. The Department's officials say that for the first time in many years the cost of the Thanksgiving piece of resistance, and the quality of the supply, may be a matter on which most markets will have little information until the holiday purchases start.

GENERAL BOOTH HAS SLEEPLESS NIGHT

London, Nov. 21.—(AP)—General William Bramwell Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, passed a sleepless night, but his condition was not materially altered. This report caused some disappointment at Salvation Army headquarters today as the doctor's report last night had given them encouragement.

BOND THIEF ARRESTED IN NEW ORLEANS

K. T. O'Neil, Former Los Angeles Bank Teller, Held For Theft of $176,000.

New Orleans, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The newspaper reporter who was arrested last night by private detectives on embezzlement charges from Los Angeles today admitted that he was the man wanted and said he would return without extradition papers.

He had been known here for the last nine months as Kenneth T. O'Hara but today told detectives that his real name was James B. O'Neil, former teller of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, and wanted for the theft of $176,000 worth of Liberty bonds.

James B. O'Neil, teller of the First National Bank who disappeared from Los Angeles March 30, 1928, was charged with the theft of $176,000 in unregistered bonds. The loss was discovered by the bank ten days after he failed to return from a trip to San Diego.

The arrest last night in New Orleans of Kenneth T. O'Hara, whom police asserted to be the missing bank teller, recalled that while employed he was living at a Los Angeles hotel under an assumed name.

The last known trace of O'Neil was in May, 1926, when $51,000 of the missing bonds were sent from Baltimore to Washington to be registered. Later Los Angeles police were notified of the arrest of a suspect at Norfolk, but finger prints proved he was not O'Neil.

The Liberty bonds were given to O'Neil to send to Washington for registration. He previously had requested a few days leave to go to San Diego to attend to some real estate deals. When he failed to return the bank's loss was discovered.

WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROP BULLETIN

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—United States Department of Agriculture says the week as a whole was abnormally warm East of the Rocky Mountains. Temperatures were especially high for the season in Ohio Valley and Atlantic Coast States. In the East freezing did not extend farther south than Western North Carolina. Very little rainfall was reported from Atlantic Coast States and much in the Far Southwest.

The harvest of rice has been practically completed and conditions were mostly favorable for winter oats in the Southern States. Picking the remaining cotton crop made good progress in most sections east of the Mississippi.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY MEET IN TEXAS

Two Thousand Members of Organization Hold 25th Annual Convention.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The flower of Southern womanhood—2,000 members of the old and new generation—is here for the second day of the 25th national convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Wives, daughters and grandchildren of the men who fought under Lee and Jackson are hearing the stirring strains of "Dixie" and the famous "Rebel Yell" again. The great battle song was played during a colorful procession of Daughters in the city auditorium.

More than three thousand persons were gathered to honor the memory of the brave soldiers and the courageous women of the Sixties. Mayor Oscar Holcomb declared that "We are proud to welcome the flower of Southern womanhood, for the Daughters are that and nothing less."

"This is a time of feasting and rejoicing," said Dr. Stockton Axson of Houston, brother-in-law of the late Woodrow Wilson, who declared he was distinctly proud of his Southern birth.

"Southern-born Americans with the traditions of the South are better Americans for being Southern," he declared.

Mrs. Charles Lanier of Greenville, Conn., responded to the address of welcome. She is a daughter-in-law of Sidney Lanier.

As Mrs. W. C. N. Merchants of Chatham, Va., national president, stepped to the platform, her aides, Miss Jessie Randolph Smith and Mrs. John Francis Weinmann, crossed the Stars and Stripes over her head.

Mrs. Merchants in her opening address, told Texas what she owed to Virginia, who gave the Lone Star State, Sam Houston, Austin, Tyler, and others of her famous leaders of history. When President Davis of the Confederacy saw the Texans of Dixie's Legion, she explained, he remarked:

"The men of other states have their reputations to make, but the sons of the heroes of the Alamo have their reputations to maintain."

Mrs. J. H. Parker of New York, who founded the New York division and was its president for 29 years, arrived yesterday. The convention lasts four days.

Forty Dangerous Age For Fat Men

Paris, Nov. 21.—(AP)—That from 40 to 44 is the dangerous age for fat men, is shown by the statistics of a French insurance company. At this age, to grow fatter is not only to grow older, but also to attempt suicide.

An increase of 20 per cent in fat between 40 and 44 corresponds to an increase of 30 per cent of mortality above normal, if one is of a big frame, the increase in mortality is not 30 but 40 per cent.

To grow thin after 30, on the contrary, is an excellent sign. The maximum of longevity was observed in people who at the age of 50 weighed 25 to 40 pounds under normal.

OIL INQUIRY PENDING FOR SALT CREEK

Walsh To Ask Senate To Probe Renewal Of Lease To Sinclair Interests.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Oil is highly inflammable. The blaze started some years ago by the inquiry into the conditions surrounding the leasing of the National Oil Reserves is no sooner quenched in one place than it breaks out in another.

Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was acquitted yesterday in the District of Columbia Supreme Court on charges of perjury. The case was one of the many ramifications of the investigation into the oil leases.

Almost coincident with the verdict, Senator Walsh, of Montana, said that he intended to ask the senate to inquire into the reasons for the Interior for renewing a lease in the Salt Creek oil field to Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Co., as made recently declared invalid by the Department of Justice.

And these two developments, with all as their background, had two others for their company.

The District of Columbia Court of Appeals asked the Supreme court for interpretations on five points involved in the appeal of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, now under sentence for contempt of the senate, and Senator Borah, of Idaho, has begun returning $8,000 which he received as part of a reserve fund of $100,000 which he intended to return to Sinclair.

Sinclair gave the $160,000 to the Republican party in 1920 and when the circumstances of the gift came to light, Senator Borah said he felt that party morals demanded its return. He announced that he would receive voluntary contributions to "purge" the Sinclair contribution.

That was some months ago. He began parcelling out $8,000 to 340 persons yesterday. Asked about the interest on the money, Borah smiled and replied: "I can say I am not charging anything for my services."

Stewart, tall, thick-set and gray haired, showed his joy at his acquittal yesterday by giving each of the three women jurors a hearty hug. He has twice been brought to trial after facing a senate committee and has twice gone free, being acquitted in May on a contempt charge.

His troubles have grown out of his answers, or lack of answers, to questions about the liberty bond profits of the Continental Trading Company, Ltd. of Canada. Called before the senate public lands committee on one occasion, he decided not to answer queries. When he did answer them, he was indicted in charges of perjury.

BOMB WRECKS CHICAGO SHOP

Explosion Result Of Hostility Between Racksteers, Cleaners And Dyers.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A bomb exploding a block and a half from the home of State's Attorney-elect John A. Swanson, wrecked the front door of the Becker Cleaning and Dyeing Shop last night.

Police viewed the explosion as evidence of open hostility between racketeers and cleaning concerns that "cut" prices and refuse to pay tribute.

Judge Swanson, elected two weeks ago on a platform promising to weed Chicago of crime, was aroused by the blast, which occurred in the heart of a south side residential section. Several months ago Judge Swanson's home was bombed.

The bomb, apparently thrown from a passing car, marked the outbreak in cleaning and dyeing circles within five days. The slaying of John G. Clay, boss of the Laundry and Dyehouses Chauffeurs Union, likewise was attributed to agents of powerful cleaning interests which have attempted to exact tribute from all shops.

The establishment which was owned by Theodore Becker, and was connected with an other group of Becker cleaner shops in which Al (Scarface) Capone is a partner.

Five Missing In Ammunition Plant Blast In France

Paris, Nov. 21.—(AP)—In the blast that other bodies might still be buried under the debris, search was continued today in the ruins of a cartridge factory which exploded yesterday in the suburb of Vincennes.

Seven persons were known to be dead. Five other persons were reported to be missing and 21 persons, including four women, were injured. Little hope was held for those listed as missing.

Unofficially it was reported workmen dropped a case of cartridges in a room used for filtering powder from metal cartridge shells. The factory was devoted exclusively to manufacture of cartridges for French army rifles.

FRANK PAGE TO BE GUEST AT TESTIMONIAL DINNER

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Frank Page, retiring chairman of the North Carolina highway commission, will be guest of honor at a testimonial dinner by the local chamber of commerce here tonight. Arthur C. Fort, president of the chamber of commerce, will preside as toastmaster and Mr. Page will make the only scheduled address of the evening.

Among the invited guests are O. Max Gardner, Governor-elect; all of the State Highway commissioners and most of the District Engineers, as well as editors and publishers of several of the State papers.

Snowfall At New York. New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—New York felt the first real touch of winter today when snow began to fall shortly before 9 a. m. The fall was light and the weather bureau said it would not amount to much.

HOOVER TRIES FISHING NEAR COAST MEXICO

Battleship Maryland Halted to Give President Chance of Try-in His Skill.

By JAMES L. WEST, Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. S. Maryland, En Route to Amapala, Nov. 21.—(AP)—With the first half of his Latin-American good will tour itinerary mapped out, Herbert Hoover today turned his thoughts to his favorite sport. The Maryland was halted between Cape San Lucas and Cape Corrientes, well off the Mexican coast, for deep sea fishing.

The president-elect had intended the recent experience in a number of fisheries men in these waters who hooked a gigantic Marlin swordfish, "playing" it for hours before landing it.

Mr. Hoover did not want to interrupt his voyage more than a few hours. Three of the Maryland's boats were ordered out for the fishing excursion, one containing Mr. Hoover and his friends, a second carrying the newspapermen and a third taken with cameramen who unlimbered their machines for the first time on the voyage.

The Maryland will proceed southward again tonight, making the first stop of the good tour at Amapala, Honduras, Sunday. On that same day the Hoover party will go to La Union, Salvador, for an afternoon reception.

New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Although Herbert Hoover will make two good will visits to Central American republics at one back door when he visits the Gulf of Fonseca on Sunday, he will put the dignitaries of Salvador and Honduras to some trouble if they are to greet him when he lands.

San Union, a town of 7,000 population, is the best port of Salvador. It is, however, 12 miles from the capital, San Salvador, over the Central American railway lines. It has only one hotel, but the larger city of San Miguel, 37 miles away, has greater conveniences.

Amapala, Honduras, while the chief Pacific port of that country, is even smaller and is situated on Tigua Island. Its population is about 3,000. No railroad connects it with the capital and officials coming from Tegucigalpa will have an automobile drive of 114 miles, unless a heavy rain should necessitate more primitive means of travel over the mountain roads. Then they face a three-hour launch trip from San Lorenzo to the mainland to Amapala.

The west coast of Central America offers few good harbors which is one of the reasons that the president-elect was forced to omit other republics from his itinerary.

Child Dies In Fire Near Hickory, N. C.

Hickory, N. C., Nov. 21.—(AP)—An eighteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Isenhour was burned to death this afternoon when the Isenhour home, two miles and a half north of here, caught fire and burned to the ground. Mrs. Isenhour was at the spring, 30 yards from the home when she heard her children screaming and saw the blaze break through the roof.

Four other children escaped, but the baby was left in a closet where she had been playing with an old sister. The body had not been recovered early this afternoon by a company of the Hickory fire department which went to the scene.

Farmer Submits In Murder Case

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Theus Wilson, farmer, held in Cumberland county jail for the murder of Charles Lilly, young business man, on the night of October 5th, submitted to a second degree murder charge before Judge Sinclair in court here today. Testimony and argument by counsel will be heard Friday.

The action came as a surprise to the crowded court room late yesterday counsel had asked for a continuance of the case on the grounds that they were not prepared to go to trial. They were to have argued for a postponement this morning but instead entered the guilty plea.

Yeast Fish Situation Better.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The young fish situation is better than it was.

Henry O'Malley, fish commissioner for the Commerce Department, explained this today in his annual report by saying that the government had made progress this year in hatching fish from eggs and in maintaining them in nurseries until they get to be 3 or 4 inches long.

RECOMMENDS CONSTRUCTION RESERVE OVER NATION FOR PREVENTION OF DEPRESSION

New Orleans, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Governor Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, acting upon the request of Herbert Hoover, outlined today before the conference of Governors a plan for the creation of a national construction reserve of $3,000,000,000, to be released in times of overproduction and unemployment.

Governor Brewster recommended that public authorities store up a reserve of construction projects equal to two years' normal expenditures, on improvements and release this reserve at times of unemployment. Such a fund, he said, would be one of the best forms of insurance against national panics.

These views of the way in which the states and other public authorities may cooperate with the Federal government in controlling in some measure construction work for the common good, said the governor, "are presented to the conference of Governors at the request of Herbert Hoover as an authorized exposition of a portion of his program for stabilizing the prosperity of the United States."

"In requesting the presentation of this project to the conference, of governors, Mr. Hoover emphasized the importance of establishing co-operation between federal, state and municipal governments in accordance with the proposals outlined at the time of the unemployment conference in 1922."

Organization for prosperity, he said, is the next lesson America may teach to the nations of the world.

The governor said that America emulates Tantalus, the mythological personage who lived in the presence of plenty, but never could touch it.

"Such conditions," he said, "constitute a tragedy and a travesty upon the organizing genius of American business men."

"With an annual expenditure of seven billions upon construction, America is in a position to stabilize prosperity to a most remarkable extent," he added. "Public authority spends more than a billion and a half. With this we are primarily concerned."

Private business will soon follow such practical demonstration as the government may make since the great commercial interests of the country have the most vital stake. This may apply not only to construction, but to the renewal and extension of capital facilities of every sort. It is the considered recommendation of the one who has received the overwhelming mandate of the American people to guide and guard their progress in the next four years that a construction reserve may prudently be accumulated in time of plenty against the lean year that is to come.

"This involves simply the provision of the necessary funds or credit to be released when indexes shall indicate the need and such designation of projects as may commend itself to the authority concerned."

Governor Brewster told the governors that no infringement of legislative prerogatives was contemplated, because no project could be carried out except as the legislature might direct, although the rapidity of the construction program within defined limits could be accelerated or retarded to synchronize with national and local needs.

"Creation of such a construction reserve," he continued, "is one of the best forms of insurance against the panics of our past. It may not be a cure-all but it certainly will alleviate our ills. In some measure it is possible to do for employment what the Federal Reserve System has done for finance and with equal advantage to the country as a whole."

SAYS WOOD CAN BE MADE INTO HUMAN FOODS

German Chemist Also Tells Conference How Wood Can Be Converted Into Coal.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (AP Science Editor) Pittsburgh, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The human food that can now be made from wood may not appeal to persons desiring to reduce, but it is otherwise one of the widely used elements in table diet.

What elements will constitute this food from wood were disclosed by Dr. Friedrich Bergius at the international conference on bituminous coal at the Carnegie Institute of Technology. He is the youthful appearing German chemist who has converted wood waste into an animal fodder. It is selling in competition in Germany with natural fodder. He also has told the conference how wood is turned into real coal.

Dr. Bergius said that the human food product that can be made from wood is a white substance that may be described as between starch and sugar. It is not sweet. He termed it a pure, flavorless product rich in edible carbohydrates, and said it can be turned into normal glucose.

"It may be made," he said, "from the waste cellulose that occurs in great quantities in wood waste and such plants as cornstalks and cotton stalks and in the hulls and shells of nuts."

"Though we have not converted this cellulose into human food, it may be done so readily that food from it for human consumption is now a possibility. To produce this food it is only necessary to remove the chlorides and some small impurities from the cellulose food now made for animal fodder."

Asked what varieties of table products might be made from the wood product and what flavors might be added, Dr. Bergius replied:

"I do not wish to discuss that, but only to state that it is possible to make an edible human food."

Sherwood, N. Y.—Miss Emily Howland, doctor of letters, who is 101 years old, believes that women do not begin to live till 75. She says a second compulsory education should be obligatory after that age.

drunks at football games a menace when they get on the road, but at the games they are a nuisance to those persons who go to the games to behave themselves and enjoy the game.

"No Drunks Allowed"
would be a good slogan to be adopted by the ticket managers at all the college games and as a result we believe in the long run there would be a bigger and more orderly crowd at each game for surely there are not numbers of persons who remain away from the games because they do not want to take chances on being killed by drunken drivers in the heavy traffic that always precedes and follows these big athletic events.

LITTLE ACORNS

Within the next few days throughout the United States eight thousand banks will pay out $550,000,000 to persons who are members of this year's Christmas Savings Clubs. Since the Christmas Savings plan has been in operation throughout the country each year has found a larger number of persons saving all through the year to supply Christmas needs and create the proverbial nest egg for the future. It is estimated from questionnaires, received from the various sections, that of this year's savings approximately 60 per cent of the more than half billion dollars saved by Christmas Club members, will go for constructive purposes. It has been the experience of many persons who have joined these annual savings clubs to acquire the thrift habit with the result that they are now accumulating bank accounts from pin money that they were formerly in the habit of spending.
The person who labors

and does not save something no matter how small, is getting nowhere. We have in our community various plans for regular savings through which you can acquire the thrift habit and accumulate something for that time to come when surely you will need money. To those who are not already following some systematic savings plan we recommend the savings departments of our local banks, the Christmas and Vacation Savings Funds, or the Building and Loan Associations and urge you to decide now to adopt one of these savings plans for the coming year for we are sure that once you have acquired the thrift habit the future years will take care of themselves.

Little acorns grow into massive oaks. Small amounts saved regularly grow into large bank accounts that will come in mighty handy in years to come. Try this plan. You will like it, and surely it will prove profitable for you.

ABOUT TOWN

"The Duke University Musical Clubs gave a very creditable performance at the Teachers' College last night," observed a local man today.

"These musical organizations are of the best in the state. They show signs of splendid training and the program here was rendered in an exceptionally brilliant way."

"The college has been instrumental in bringing some splendid entertains here this fall. None probably have been accorded a more rousing reception than representatives of one of the greater schools of learning in America."

"Tobacco growers should insist upon tobacco canvass—cheese cloth —having twenty-five strands to the inch," said H. C. Branforn, extension entomologist writing to E. F.
Arnold, director of the Agricultural Department of Pitt county.

"Dealers should be requested now to obtain the proper grade for their customers. The proper grade of cheese cloth will cost a little more, but it will pay a big profit in thirty planes, protected from flea beetle injury."

"Poorer grades of cheese cloth will not give protection from flea beetle injury as the flea beetle will gain entrance through the poorer grades." This is a warning to growers to insist on the proper grade of cheese cloth. Very few dealers last season handled cloth of the twenty-five strands to the inch variety, therefore, growers are advised now to have their dealers obtain the proper grade if protection of the plant bed against the flea beetle injury is desired.

"Use the proper grade of canvass.
It will pay you to do it."

"Greenville people are urged to do their Christmas shopping as early as possible this year," a well known local man said today.

"To make this possible numbers of business houses will remain open until nine and ten o'clock at night between now and the Yule-tide season to give everybody an opportunity of buying before the rush actually begins.

"Everybody wants to get the best to be had. This will not be possible if you wait until the last minute to do your shopping. Of course stocks will be as complete as ever, but they will be picked over and you will find it difficult to get what you want should you wait until the last minute."

"Help the merchants and their hundreds of employees by buying now and avoiding the inevitable rush of the final days."

"The quarterly meeting of the Merchants' association to be held in the basement of the Christian church Thursday evening will be one of the most important sessions of the kind held by the organization in months," said a member today.

"An exceptionally fine program has been provided. Principal among the features will be addresses by prominent members of the association and a delightful musical program."

"If you are a member of the organization we want you to be present to take part. It will be well worth your time and you will remember the things you see and hear for months to come."

"We hope to be able to reach the 60-million pound mark by Thanksgiving Day," said a member of the Greenville tobacco market, discussing the progress of sales today.

"We have already passed the 55-million mark and with over a week to go, it is reasonable to believe we shall be able to reach 60-millions before the holiday season gets under way."

"The market goal for this season was placed at 70-million pounds the first of the season and it begins to look like the ambition is going to be realized despite the bad beginning at the first of the season."

"The local market has had one of the most successful seasons in years, and we hope to be near our goal by the Christmas holidays."

"The thousands of people living in this trade territory will find Greenville one of the most ideal shopping centers in Eastern North Carolina," said a business man today, commenting on the development of the business houses have made in past years.

"From a straggling town with stores poorly stocked, this city has developed into the greatest shopping center to be found anywhere in this section of the state."

"If you can't find what you want in your home town, why not come to Greenville and get the best to be had at prices conforming favorably to the largest cities of the country."

Call For Oil Bids

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Secretary West today issued a call for bids for the sale of royalty oil from leases on government land in the Calk Creek oil field in Montana for a period of three years beginning February 1, 1929. These bids to be opened at the Interior Department next January 2.

GENE TUNNEY may have put off the gloves for good. But he's too wise a man to give up the priceless habits of physical training that stood him in such good stead in his profession.

Just before his last fight, Tunney said:

"I started taking Nujol internally seven years ago. The first month Nujol brought remarkable changes in my physical condition. My elimination became active and normal.
My appetite increased and a desire for intensive training was created.
Since that time I have taken Nujol about five nights a week. I have regulated myself to the amount necessary to keep my elimination normal.
I have found during my seven years' experience with Nujol that it is not habit-forming, or in any way unpleasant or harmful."

Nujol is not a medicine. It contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. It is simply a pure substance—perfected

BLANKET EXPERT SPEAKS AT ROUND TABLE CLUB

As a phase of the American Home program, Miss Margaret George, interior decorator of the Esmond Blanket Mills, gave a short talk at the Round Table club yesterday afternoon.

"The American woman is analyzing her profession as homemaker," said Miss George, "and is realizing that the creating of the best physical conditions in the home have a powerful influence in giving opportunity for the development of spiritual values."

"Analyzing your family's needs and tastes and adapting your house and furniture to a harmonious and comfortable background for them is all it takes to make a home out of a house."

Miss George then gave the latest findings of three university laboratories as to the best conditions for relaxed and refreshing sleep, showing examples of properly constructed blankets and discussing both comfort schemes and comfort values.

The following instructions given by Miss George for taking care of blankets are of value to every housewife:

Unwise care of blankets often means a cold and, perhaps, short tempered family, for what can shorten the temper like a night under a shortened blanket—shrink until your feet are uncovered every time you stretch out? Or what can iron out buoyant spirits like the weight of heavy felty blankets whose fluffiness has been pounded down by bad washing—or, how easier can the effervescence of good cheer ooze away than through moth perforated sieves that were once expensive woolen blankets.

Don'ts For Blanket Care.
The first "don't" about keeping blankets is, don't put them away soiled, as dust and dirt rot them, and is no more nor less than bait for moths—the "million dollar worms."

Wash them in lukewarm suds of a pure, neutral soap—never rub on a board, or even in your hands—merely squeeze through the lukewarm suds. The reason for this is simple and is the point to be remembered throughout all dealings with blankets. That is, it is the fuzz or nap or fluffiness of the blanket which makes it a warm blanket! When you destroy or mat down the nap you have exchanged your blanket for a piece of carpet.
Never soak a blanket or leave it long in water. Thoroughly squeeze the water out of it, never wring it by twisting, as this ruins the nap.
If a washing machine is used, use the lowest, gentlest speed. If a wringer is used, leave it very, very loose.

Now rinse the blanket in two lukewarm rinses, putting a little acetic acid or vinegar in the last.
Don't hang out blankets in frosty air. The change of temperature will draw up your ample fluff blanket into a small firm little rug under which you will curl up in a small firm little knot and shiver through next winter.

Choose a warm, sunny day with a brisk little wind—hang the blanket straight on the line—longwise—straightening the bindings between your hands. When about dry, brush lightly with a soft brush and turn and hang crosswise and brush this side lightly.

This leaves your blanket just as fluffy and light as when you bought it—and consequently as warm.

Now as "Don'ts" are: Don't put them away dirty—don't use strong soap—don't use hot water or cold water, but lukewarm—for washing and rinses. Don't hang them in frosty air—don't twist them—don't leave soap in them.

Moth Prevention.
There is one more "don't"—If your blankets are wool, or part wool, don't leave them out in warm weather. Moths are the most expensive pests known to man, and if you have their food around they'll come and spend the summer banqueting at your expense. Double-woven, beautifully colored cotton blankets can be had for each room for spring and fall, and these, of course, are moth-proof. They are not heavy and felty but almost as fluffy and light as the wool themselves, and will give excellent serv-

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 21—(AP)—North Carolina State Wolfpack turned to serious training today in a last minute effort to perfect the offense and defense that will function against the Michigan State Spartans at East Lansing, Saturday. Special emphasis was given to a defense against the passing attack expected to be met in East Lansing. Two full Wolfpack teams will make the trip, leaving here tomorrow morning.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 21—(AP)—The cold snap which sent many students shivering over the campus put added zest into the workout of the University of North Carolina Tar Heels who are letting no grass grow under their feet in preparing for the Turkey Day game with the Virginia Cavaliers. Monday's vacation was topped with a light workout yesterday which left nothing to be desired, the pep demonstrators.

Clemson College, S. C., Nov. 21—(AP)—The first practice in the long interval before the Thanksgiving clash with Furman was a brief affair. After a day of loafing Monday, the boys took considerable time off yesterday afternoon while the yearbook photographer made pictures. Mutt Cee started his scrub team to work on Furman plays, which they will spring on the Regulars tomorrow. There will be a longer and more intensive practice session.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 21—(AP)—Conversation is still the watchword in the football camp of the Cavaliers of the University of Virginia as the squad prepares for its ancient foe, North Carolina here on Thanksgiving Day.

Light drills and workouts are being used as various members of the squad who have been in the casualty ranks, nurse their injuries in hope and expectation of getting a trial against North Carolina.

Chicago Man To Direct Amateur Athletic Union

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—A firm hand, one which only a decade ago was being used to hurl 56 pound weights and hammers, is to guide the Amateur Athletic Union thru the coming year.

Taking office as president shortly before the 40th annual convention came to a close, Avery Brundage of Chicago, made it clear at once that the amateur rules are in for strict enforcement.

"It is not the rules that are at fault," he said, "but the administration of them."

Chatting informally, he brought up the cases of athletes who have grown in ability in say tennis or track, to such a point that they are wanted in all sections of the country.

"Undoubtedly," he said, "Tilden has done the sport of tennis a great deal of good whether he is an amateur or not. About the merits of his case I know little.

"But my personal opinion is that unless a man has some source of income, some regular employment, outside of sport, he is a professional."

Promoters who offer financial rewards to amateur athletes are largely responsible for violations of the code, the new president added, indicating that a tight rein will be kept upon them.

The only move made by the convention during its sessions here to make the amateur rules more strict was adoption of a rule making a man ineligible as an amateur for exploiting his athletic prowess whether or not he actually receives compensation for so doing.

Nebraska Will Take On Army Next Saturday

By HERBERT W. BARKER

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Nebraska's tussle with the Army will be the only inter-sectional football in the East Saturday.

The same is not drawing the same public interest it might have but for two unforeseen incidents during the last two weeks or so. Army apparently was a certainty to enter the battle with the Cornhuskers undefeated but Notre Dame splashed all that on November 10th. Last Saturday, Nebraska, unbeaten and untied, was held to a scoreless draw by Pittsburgh.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Nov. 21--(AP)--The cotton market opened barely steady at an advance of 5 points to a decline of 5 points. Near months were higher on covering by December shorts but there was local and southern selling in the later delivery which became more active after the opening and sent prices about 15 points to 12 points lower with January selling off to 19.62 and May to 19.48. The rest of the census bureau, showing 1,326,302 bales ginned up to Nov. 15, was quite closely in line with expectations but its failure to stimulate was evidently a disappointment to recent buyers. This is supposed to account for some of the early selling. There was a continued demand from the trade and commission house sources which absorbed the offerings, however, and gave the market a steady undertone during the first half hour.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 21--(AP)--Outgoing high price records for the season, corn today finished strong at topmost figures reached, despite temporary setbacks due to profit-taking. In addition to reduction of the German import duty on corn, arrivals of corn today at Chicago were extremely scant, only 94 cars, and stocks of corn here and at other important centers were meager. With corn belt weather conditions none too favorable for husking and hauling, Omaha reported that stocks of corn there amount to but 120,000 bushels against 1,100,000 bushels last year, and the country not selling.

Table with columns for grain prices, including wheat, corn, and oats, with sub-columns for High, Low, and Close.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 21--(AP)--Speculation in stocks continued at a frantic pace in today's market, but the price movement displayed increasing irregularity. With trading immobilized by the long delays on the ticker, which was an hour late early this afternoon, there was a more general disposition to cut down long commitments on the part of large and small operators. Call money continued in plentiful supply at the renewal rate of 6 1/2 per cent, indicating that either the stocks were being purchased outright or that large loans were being arranged through private and corporate sources. Most bankers are of the opinion that the character of the recent speculation suggests marginal trading although it is freely admitted that the scarcity in the floating supply of many high priced issues facilitates the staging of violent advances such as have taken place in the last few days.
