FIVE WOMEN IN HOUSE AT NEXT SESSION

Seven, However, To Take Seat At 71st Session Of Next Congress.

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—With due allowance for the whims of fate, there will be five women members of the House of Representatives at the last session of the seventieth congress, since Mrs. Fannie Pearl Oldfield, widow of the late William A. Oldfield, of Arkansas, Democratic whip, is unopposed for the remainder of her husband's present term.

Besides Mrs. Oldfield, there will be Representatives Mary Teresa Norton, Democrat, New Jersey; Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts; Katherine Langley, Republican, Kentucky; and Florence P. Kahn, Republican, San Francisco.

Three of these, Mrs. Oldfield, Mrs. Rogers, and Mrs. Kahn, are widows of ex-congressmen; and one, Mrs. Langley, is the wife of ex-congressman John Langley. She was elected under extraordinary circumstances in 1928. Her husband at the time was serving a two year prison sentence after his conviction on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law. Mrs. Langley was re-elected in November for another term, as were the other three women members of the house.

Mrs. Kahn is the widow of the late Julius Kahn and was chosen to fill out her husband's unexpired term in 1925 and was again re-elected in 1926. Rogers is the widow of the late John Jacob Rogers. She was elected in 1925 to fill the vacancy caused by her death.

There will be seven women members of the house at the first session of the seventy-first congress scheduled to open in January, 1929.

They are Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, daughter of the late Mark Hanna and widow of the late Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois; Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the great orator, William Jennings Bryan and Mrs. Ruth Baker Pratt, Mr. Pratt is the first woman to be sent to congress from New York.

Mrs. Oldfield is not expected to stand for re-election, prospective candidates for the year term to which her husband was elected, on November 6th having agreed yesterday that she would be unopposed to serve the remaining four months of this present term.

The special election as to be called early this week.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 26—(AP)—Arkansas will elect its first congresswoman—Mrs. Fannie Oldfield this week to serve out the unexpired term of her husband, Congressman Wm. A. Oldfield, Democratic whip of the House, who died at Washington a week ago.

Governor Harvey Parnell following a meeting with a special committee from the second congressional district yesterday indicated he would call a special election early in the week in which the representative's widow will be unopposed to serve out the short term which ends in March.

A special election will be a mere formality, it was announced as prospective candidates for the two years term for which Mr. Oldfield was elected recently, favor Mrs. Oldfield to serve out her husband's term.

Al Smith Visits Atlanta, Georgia

Atlanta, Nov. 26—(AP)—Enroute East, after it vacation on the Gulf Coast, Governor Al Smith of New York, arrived here today for a one day visit to Atlanta as the guest of Major John S. Conen, editor of the Atlanta Journal and Democratic National Committeeman for Georgia.

A motor trip during the forenoon to Stone Mountain near here where a memorial to the Confederacy is being carved, an informal luncheon at East Lake Country Club to which only a few guests were invited, and a round of golf in the afternoon with Bobby Jones comprised the Governor's program. He and his party will leave for New York tonight.

Due to his desire for privacy, Mr. Smith was met by only a few close friends aboard his private car, which had been shifted to an empty railroad yard, and he was taken direct from there to Stone Mountain to avoid any public demonstration in his honor.

Because of his wish to get back to New York as soon as possible, Mr. Smith declined an invitation to stop at Warm Springs, Ga., for a brief visit with his friend and successor in office, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Two of the stills were captured in Belvoir township with about thirty barrels of beer. The third still was taken in Greenville township. It was of the steam variety and one of the largest captured in recent months.

Three Seamen Found Dead

Boston, Nov. 26—(AP)—Fumigating gas caused the deaths of three members of the crew of the steamer F. J. Luckenbach during the night. The bodies were found in the men's bunks today when the vessel was brought to Commonwealth pier after having been damaged in drydock yesterday.

The men were Walter S. Damarus, 38, an assistant engineer; Angel Bais, 34, ship's carpenter; and A. Montediano, 42, boatswain, all from New York.

The ship was fumigated late Saturday night and yesterday morning. It was opened in the afternoon and it was thought the three men retired before all the gas had left the ship. That more of the gas was in the steamer was due to the fact that most of them had been given leaves of absence over the week end.

FATALLY HURT WHEN RULN DOWN BY CAR—Mooreville, N. C., Nov. 26—(AP)—William Bumgarner, 65, was fatally injured here last night when he was struck in crossing the street by an automobile driven by Lonnie Brown. The accident was said by witnesses to have been unavoidable.

Mr. Bumgarner was a native of Alexander county. He is survived by his wife and several children. Funeral services will be held tomorrow in Statesville.

STORM TAKES HEAVY TOLL OF PROPERTY

Numerous Casualties Also Reported Along The Coast Of Western Europe.

London, Nov. 26—(AP)—The western coast of Europe was being battered by a terrific gale today. The storm already has taken at least 29 lives, most of them at sea where a heavy toll of shipping was taken over the week end.

No less than 21 ships appeared on Lloyd's lists today as wrecks or in distress, while at least one American vessel, the freighter Waban, which sailed from Hamburg November 16, was driven ashore near Terschelling Light, but succeeded in getting off in safety.

In addition to the 20 known dead there were at least 20 missing with conflicting reports concerning the safety of a score more.

The entire crew of the Italian freighter Sagunto also was feared to have been drowned off Holland. The number of men aboard was not known.

While the gale was violent over the land, only six persons were reported killed in Britain. All the other deaths were at sea.

Among the shipping disasters were the following:

The French freighter Cesare, bound for Antwerp, 15 drowned, four rescued.

A Dutch vessel foundered in the Zuyder Zee, five drowned.

The Norwegian steamer Christian, Michelsen, ashore off Holland, three drowned.

The fate of the steamer Arnabal, Mendi of Spain, was in doubt off Cape Machichiacco while there was also doubt concerning the fate of the Swedish steamer Garm. The Central News reported that the Garm, after grounding, was towed into Terschelling with her rudder damaged.

The steamer Hjord with a crew of 17, which left Preston ten days ago for Porth Talbot, has not since been heard from.

GIVES ACCOUNT OF RESCUE IN VESTRIS WRECK

Commander Of Wyoming Appears Before Investigating Committee Today.

New York, Nov. 26—(AP)—Captain Luther Martin Overstreet, 51, S. N. commander of the battleship Wyoming, was the first witness today at the Federal inquiry into the sinking of the Lamport and Holt liner Vestris, two weeks ago today. He told of his ship's part in the rescue work.

The Wyoming was 250 miles away when the Vestris reported by radio at 10 a. m. that it was sinking off the Virginia Capes. It reached the scene early next morning, first saving a negro fireman on an improvised raft and then five women clinging to an overturned lifeboat.

Capt. Overstreet criticized the "fables of the Vestris, saying that they were constructed in such a way that the head of the wearer was unsupported and in an exhausted condition could fall forward into the water. They should be built close under the chin, he said, to hold the head up and higher in back to support the head there. With such high built helmets a swimmer could remain afloat although half drowned and worn out with the buffeting of the waves.

Harry Wheeler, superintendent of the Lamport and Holt Line, testified next, expressing the opinion that the leaks that sank the Vestris might have been caused by any one of four possibilities.

Other witnesses have told of leaky doors and ports and have said that water apparently was rushing into the hull also from some other source which could not be located. The four possible causes for this "leaking" suggested by Wheeler were: Rupture of the shell plate, parting of the seam rivets, fracturing of a sea connection and straining of coal ports and side doors by heavy seas.

Wheeler submitted a brief written report of an independent investigation he is conducting. This report said it had been learned that the starboard blue tanks of the Vestris were pumped out the day before the ship sank and Wheeler added: "I am unable to state as to whether or not this was injurious."

GOOD WILL IS HIGH LIGHT IN WORLD'S NEWS

Promotion Of Harmony In All Sections Feature Of Developments During Week.

(By The Associated Press) Good will promises to be the dominant note in foreign news this week and probably for several weeks to come. Tours bearing that designation are going on in widely separated sections and even some of the seemingly false notes in the international chorus are motivated by announced desires to promote harmony between governments and peoples.

When Herbert Hoover started for his visits to South American neighbors of the United States, the Prince of Wales is pursuing an extensive "empire good will" trip in South Africa. The stir due to the illness of King George served to emphasize the importance attached to the Prince's excursion, for no change in his plans was made even when the serious aspects of the king's case began to develop.

Sir Eric Drummond, Secretary General of the League of Nations, is due in Germany after a visit to Poland. This trip was undertaken with a view to informal conversations respecting some of the many border problems that involve Poland with Lithuania and Germany.

The representatives of the League of Nations have started to China and Japan. On the surface they are concerned with economic problems, but it is altogether probable that the Geneva officials will come back with first hand information respecting the "incidents" which the eastern governments are discussing.

These affairs grew out of fighting and rioting while the civil war was raging in China.

Still another good will trip is the journey to the Dutch East Indies of Crown Prince Leopold of Belgium and his Swedish wife, Princess Astrid. They are to study colonial policies which may be applicable to the Belgian Congo and as a compliment to Holland will use the Dutch language while they are in the orient.

Germany is pursuing its preparations for the governor of experts who are to decide upon a new total for war reparations and perhaps for a revision of the Dawes Plan. Thus far the exchanges have been informal between German ambassadors and the Foreign Departments of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan.

Juliu Maniu, new Premier of Rumania, is consolidating the political positions he recently gained and spreading the doctrine of freedom of speech and assemblage. He rained a good will gesture from Hungary when the latter country agreed to postpone further conferences on the vexing Transylvania question while the Rumanian cabinet dealt with its domestic problems.

In Hungary, the old line monarchs have halted as their king, the 16 year old Otto, son of the King Charles who was deposed at the end of the World War. They were warned by Count Stephan Bethlen, Premier, to desist lest their agitation endangered good will between Hungary and neighbors, notably Czechoslovakia with whom Hungary is negotiating treaties of trade and friendship.

HOOVER SHIP DRAWS CLOSE TO HONDURAS

Five Thousand People At Amapala Ready To Welcome President-Elect.

Amapala, Honduras, Nov. 26—(AP)—The U. S. S. Maryland, bearing President-elect Hoover on a good will voyage to Latin America was sighted off Amapala at 8:15 o'clock this morning.

At least 4,000 of the 5,000 or so people who live at this port, the first stopping place on Mr. Hoover's trip, were on hand ready to welcome the president-elect. Hundreds of prominent residents of Tegucigalpa, the capital, also were on hand.

There were hundreds of small craft in Fonseca Bay, forming a line through which launches from the Maryland carrying the Hoover party were to pass. The boats were brilliantly decorated with flags and bunting.

G. O. P. SPENT HUGE SUM IN N. C. CAMPAIGN

Report Of Expenditures Show They Spent $25,000 More Than Democrats.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26—(AP)—Expenditures of the Republican party in North Carolina in the presidential election were almost $27,000 greater than those of the Democratic party, sworn statements filed today with the secretary of State reveal. Disbursements of the Republicans totalled $47,478 while the Democrats spent $49,620.

Republican disbursements were not classified according to purpose under one heading, but each voucher was listed. The majority of the expenditures were for "special organizers", with more than 100 receiving from $25 to $8,500 for this purpose. Most city chairmen also received from $25 to $250.

Rev. C. A. Upchurch, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, received $50 from the Republican committee, the sworn statement relates. W. G. Bramham, of Durham, received $8,500 for special organizing. A. J. Draper received $1,500 for the same purpose.

Among the contributors to the Republican campaign fund were David H. Blair, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, $1,300; Otto S. Wood $70; A. M. Kistler, Morgan, $1,200; E. N. Jamison, Charlotte, $20,000; the Republican National Executive committee $25,000; J. L. Morehead, Charlotte, $1,000; Mrs. J. M. Morehead, $1,000; Catherine Morehead, $500; Rebecca W. Cramer, Crumpton $1,000; S. W. Cramer, Jr., $1,000; S. W. Cramer, $5,000.

Gameron Morrison, former governor of North Carolina, was the leading contributor to the Democratic fund. He gave five thousand dollars. Other outstanding contributors were O. Max Gardner, $2000; Robert G. Lassner, $1,000; J. W. Bailey, $500; A. W. McLean, $250; Lee S. Overman, $150.

Senator Furnifold M. Simmons is not listed as having contributed anything to the Democratic campaign fund. Josephus Daniels gave $200. The National Democratic committee gave $10,000.

J. W. TRIPP DIES SUDDENLY

Pitt County Man Found Dead In Bed At His Home Near Greenville.

John W. Tripp, age 58, was found dead in bed yesterday morning about seven o'clock at his home on the Stantonburg road about 3 miles of Greenville.

The coroner of the county made an investigation of the death, finding no sign or cause for foul play, decided that an inquest was unnecessary in view of the fact that he had been in failing health for some time, death being probably due to a sudden heart attack during the night.

Funeral services were held at the family burying ground this afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. R. J. Bomber, pastor of the Eighth Street Christian Church. He is survived by his father, Joseph Tripp, and wife Bettie Tripp, one daughter, Mrs. J. L. Cannon, two brothers, Ben and J. B. Tripp, one sister, Mrs. Bob Nichols.

Gambling Ship At Los Angeles Puzzles Officers

Los Angeles, Nov. 26—(AP)—The Montefiore, alleged public gambling ship, has opened its run 13 miles off shore and its position apparently has baffled law enforcement officers. It was reported 200 people visited the ship Saturday night.

Visitors to the Montefiore said that roulette wheels, dice tables, black-Jack tables, chuck-a-luck tables and money wheels were in full operation last night, when another goodly crowd was present.

Los Angeles county officials say that since the boat was off the Orange county coast it was outside their jurisdiction, while Orange county officials were doubtful if they had any legal right to interfere with a vessel beyond the 12-mile limit.

Although it has been suggested the boat might be reached through checking up of its papers, no move in that direction has been instituted.

FIVE DIE IN PLANE WRECKS OVER WEEK-END

Blinding Snow Flurries Believed Responsible For Tragedies In Ohio.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 26—(AP)—Three aviators and two passengers were killed in week-end plane wrecks, probably victims of blinding snow flurries in Ohio's first snow storm of the season.

Edwin H. Bassett, a pilot for the Universal Air Lines of Chicago, Mrs. Bassett and Glen R. Butt of Cleveland were found dead in the wreckage of an eight-passenger monoplane near Edgerton, O. The ill-fated landing ended Mr. and Mrs. Bassett's plans to celebrate their eighth wedding anniversary in Chicago.

Boy trappers found the body of Tilden Johnson, a novice pilot, in a marsh near West Lebanon yesterday. Johnson, an employe of the Continental Air Lines, was en route to Cincinnati from Cleveland with 100 pounds of mail when his plane crashed.

Lawrence H. Garrison, a veteran pilot for the National Air Transport, a mail pilot, was burned to death near recognition near Bristolville, O., after fire enveloped his plane. He was en route to Cleveland from Bellefonte, Pa.

Garrison's mail cargo was not found. It was believed he threw it aboard when his plane became unmanageable in the storm.

General Snowfall Reported Up North

New York, Nov. 26—(AP)—Snow ushered in Thanksgiving week in most of the eastern seaboard states, the fall ranging from a trace to several inches in parts of the Alleghenies.

The heaviest fall was recorded in western Pennsylvania where snow plows were needed to clear some of the mountain roads. There was a fall of 18 inches in the Ligonier mountains of the Greensboro area. The snowstorm over Ohio was already blamed for the crashing of two mail planes, whose pilots evidently became lost while attempting to penetrate the freezing blank.

Snow also forced down a pilot on a golf link at Southbridge, Mass., and two army planes made a forced landing in a field during a snowstorm near Waterloo, N. Y. Snow also was reported in Maryland.

Noted German Admiral Dead

Berlin, Nov. 26—(AP)—Admiral Reinhard Scheer, 65, who commanded the German fleet at the Battle of Jutland, died today while traveling from Dresden to Mannheim.

Admiral Scheer was born at Oberkirchen, Hesse, Nassau. After serving in Cameroon and East Africa he was given command of the first torpedo division in 1908. Seven years later he became chief of staff of the high sea fleet and in 1918 was commander of a battle squadron.

Admiral Scheer was stationed at Kell with his squadron when the world war broke out. In January, 1916, he was placed in command of the Germany high sea fleet which he led at the Battle of Jutland.

CONDITION OF KING GEORGE IS UNCHANGED

British Monarch Passes Restless Night; Anxiety Continues To Increase.

London, Nov. 26—(AP)—To a nation that had awaited in anxiety over their sovereign's health the first official bulletin of his condition today failed to find much relief when physicians announced that King George had passed a restless night.

The medical bulletin, signed by the King's physicians, Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson, of Penn, read:

"The King has passed a restless night. A variability in the fever and the spread of the pleurisy must be expected at this stage of the illness."

Anxiety continued since the statement did not reveal anything definite about the King's condition this morning, the statement, however, that at this stage of the illness spread of pleurisy must be expected, and likewise a variability in temperature led to the conclusion by members of the King's household that the medical advisers were not perturbed over his condition. Their phraseology gave the impression that the malady in their opinion was taking a natural course.

It was gathered that the King's restless night was due to a rise in temperature that occurred yesterday and was reflected in a last night's announcement that fever had increased.

It is understood that before they left, Sir Stanley and Lord Dawson saw Sir William Joynton-Ricks, home secretary, who was one of the early visitors at the palace.

Contrasted with the stormy weather of the week this morning, a bright one and a large crowd gathered outside the palace gates anxious for the latest word from the sickroom.

There was the usual changing of the guard and the Coldstream Guards Band played cheerful selections during the ceremony.

It was stated on good authority that a message was sent to the Prince of Wales yesterday telling him there was no need to change his plans. This was before the announcement that the King's fever had increased, but there is no indication of any message of a different nature having been sent the prince since.

It was stated today that the King's temperature did not exceed 101 yesterday. The mention of "variability in fever" in today's bulletin has left the public uncertain whether this temperature is being exceeded, but it was noted that this phrase might cover a diminution as well as an increase in feverishness. The indication in the bulletin that pleurisy was spreading was the most disquieting feature but, as noted, this was offset by the statement that it was to be expected at this juncture.

The Merchants Association will begin compiling a list of creditors next Monday morning, according to information given out from the office of the Secretary today.

A last appeal is being made to creditors of the various members of the organization this week, and hope was expressed that as many accounts as possible would be closed before the new list is compiled.

Eight State Farm Prisoners Still Remain At Large

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26—(AP)—State prison officials today awaited further information from the California prison farm in Halfax county from which 14 convicts escaped Saturday. Six of the fugitives were captured shortly after the break, leaving eight at large.

The prisoners escaped by overpowering the driver of the convict laundry truck, which they commandeered and drove out the gate, regardless of a fusillade of bullets fired by the watchman on duty.

The list of missing, as given out by the penitentiary authorities follows: Charles Dameron, Lee, 30 years for larceny; Harvey Dameron, Lee, six years for larceny; Brady Cloutz, Fredell, 10 years for larceny; N. G. Clark, Buncombe, eight years for robbery; Aaron Clodfelter, Guilford, seven years for breaking and entering; Ben Thompson, Wilson, five years for breaking and larceny; J. H. Terry, Buncombe, six years for larceny; and Earle Peck, Guilford, five years for breaking and entering.

LINDY VISITS OLD HAUNTS AT KELLEY FIELD

Famous Flier Stops Over At San Antonio On His Way To New York City.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Taking his cue from the current collegiate custom, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was back at his Alma Mater, Kelley Field, for a brief homecoming visit today.

The belated midnight announcement of his arrival yesterday by air from Tampico, Mex., set at rest characteristic public concern for his safety, which had been felt over the week-end.

The flier, his month hunting and flying vacation in Mexico at an end, is en route to New York for which point he probably will hop off today, perhaps in a non-stop flight. His announcement that he was behind schedule to keep an engagement there led to this surmise.

In evident determination to stay out of the limelight while going about his personal business, the colonel did not see newspapermen here and whether intentional or otherwise, his visit remained a secret for eight hours, during which time an anxious vigil was kept in South Texas and fear for his safety was felt in two nations.

Although he returned to his familiar haunts at 3:30 p. m., to pay his first visit since his graduation from the advanced flying school in the spring class of 1928, word of his arrival did not reach the public until after midnight, a few minutes after he had retired.

The intervening hours were spent in feasting and reminiscences, much as a homecoming collegian, back on the "campus" for the first time in nearly four years, would occupy his time. The flier repaired to the home of Lieut. B. S. Thompson, an old-time friend, where he was later tendered a banquet by several of the field officers. Other friends and flying buddies dropped in during the evening, and it was midnight before the talk-feast broke up.

Late Saturday night, Texas and Northern Mexico began an anxious lookout for the flier following reports that he had left Tampico in the afternoon to return to the United States by way of Brownsville, Texas.

Two nations barely suppressed general alarm when the Fort Brown meteorological station at Brownsville reported sighting a ship flying northward, which apparently suddenly developed motor trouble and turned back toward Mexico. Had Lindbergh left Tampico on the schedule originally announced, it been due over Brownsville about that time.

All Saturday night, the watch along the border was kept up and three planes from Brownsville started at dawn Sunday to scout about 2,500 square miles of the rough country between there and Tampico.

Colombian Flyer To Take Off From Havana Tomorrow

Havana, Nov. 26.—(AP)—With more than a third of his flight behind him, Lieutenant Benjamin Mendez, Colombian army aviator, flying from New York to Bogota, rested today and prepared for his next hop. He plans to leave Havana harbor at dawn tomorrow in his sea-plane for Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, 820 miles distant.

Lieutenant Mendez completed a 600-mile jump from Jacksonville, Fla., in 5 hours and 32 minutes. He said flying conditions were fairly good despite cross winds which made going a bit rough at times. He was accompanied by his mechanic, John Tod Hunter, an American.

On the first leg of the flight from New York to Jacksonville, 1,040 miles, Mendez was in the air hours and 40 minutes. From Puerto Barrios he will fly 1,000 miles to Colon, Panama, and then 1,300 miles to Bogota, Columbia.

Crew Of Italian Freighter Lost

Amsterdam, Holland, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The entire crew of the Italian freighter Sagunio, which went ashore four miles south of Ynuiden during a gale, is believed to have been drowned. The vessel was completely submerged. The Ynuiden lifeboat, which went to the rescue, was capsized but the crew was saved.

Both Has Restless Night. London, Nov. 26.—(AP)—General William Bramwell Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army, had a restless night. Otherwise his condition was unchanged today.

Labor To Discuss Tightening Bars Against Foreigners

New Orleans, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Tightening of the bars against foreigners wishing to come into the United States was scheduled for discussion today before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

A number of resolutions pertaining to immigration have been presented to the resolutions committee which is to report at today's session. The convention voted before adjourning Friday over the week-end to hear the committee report today.

Other resolutions before the committee call for passage by Congress of the Kellogg peace treaty and the Boulder Dam legislation and for the release of Tom Mooney from his California prison where he is serving a life sentence for murder.

The immigration resolutions propose that the quota provisions of the immigration law apply to Mexico, Latin American countries and "islands adjacent to the United States." Another urges enforcement of immigration restrictions against "aliens residing in Canada," and one makes the statement that "all nations should be placed under the quota allowance as now applied to certain European countries to the end that employers may not be permitted to flood the country with cheap labor."

Support of the federation for Seattle, Wash., unions against the board of education is sought in another resolution which says the Seattle board of education has demanded that a condition of employment or re-employment "teachers of that city must sign individual contracts declaring that they are not members of the American Federation of Teachers or any local thereof and that they will not become members during the term of the proposed contract."

Byrd Expedition At Dunedin Today

Wellington, N. Z., Nov. 26.—(AP)—All the units of Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition were assembled at Dunedin today for the first time since the first contingent left the United States.

Commander Byrd will leave for the Ross Sea on Saturday aboard the Barque City of New York. The other supply ship will leave soon afterwards.

It was announced that Richard Brophy, of New York, the expedition's business manager, had been appointed second in command.

Part of the expedition which totals eighty persons, came to Dunedin aboard the supply ship Eleanor Boling last week. The others arrived yesterday on the City of New York.

One of the most important phases of the great adventure, namely the voyage from New Zealand to the Ice Barrier and the disembarkation there of a huge quantity of equipment and supplies will be started when the Eleanor Boling leaves a week later than the City of New York. The City of New York will carry Commander Byrd and other leading members of the expedition.

Since the Eleanor Boling arrived at Dunedin she has visited Wellington and taken aboard a trimotored airplane in which flights to the South Pole will be made.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS!

Beginning Saturday, December 1, all copy for display advertising must be received at our office on the day before the date of publication in The Reflector. This change in our working schedule is necessary in order that we might give our advertisers the best service and at the same time give service to our readers, and we earnestly ask the co-operation of our advertisers in making this better service possible. Under our present system of accepting ads the same day of publication, we are forced to crowd a day's work into a half-day, with the result either the advertisements do not receive the attention to which they are entitled, or the paper must reach the reader late, and it is in an effort to overcome this bad situation that we are making the above change.

For the benefit of our advertisers our solicitors will call upon the business houses each day between the hours of 8 a. m., and 1 p. m., for advertisements for the next day's issue of the paper and after that hour ads will be accepted at our office until closing time.

Remember! After December 1—no ads accepted for publication on the same day. Help us give you and our readers better service by giving us your ads on time.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE AGAINST SMALL POX

Juneau, Alaska, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A shotgun quarantine to prevent the spread of small pox, usually fatal to Indians and Eskimos has been established in the region of the lower Yukon, after an outbreak in Central Western Alaska. Persons in the area are weighing the chances of being marked by small pox if they remain, against the certainty of being marked by bird shot if they attempt to leave.

Since the Eleanor Boling arrived at Dunedin she has visited Wellington and taken aboard a trimotored airplane in which flights to the South Pole will be made.

EXPLODING SHELL AWAKENS OCCUPANTS BURNING HOUSE

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 26.—(AP)—The explosion of cartridge shells he had saved from the World War probably saved the lives of S. L. Beard and his family at midnight. Mr. Beard, his wife and children, a girl 7, and a boy, 4, escaped by a window, when they found escape by doors impossible.

The family was awakened by the explosion of shells as a blaze consumed their home.

College Study Club Meets.

On Friday afternoon, Nov. 13th, Mrs. E. L. Henderson was hostess to the College Study Club. Fourteen members and two guests were present. The club observed the Schuyler anniversary by responding to roll call with items concerning the life and works of the famous commander. Many interesting things were learned in this way. Schubert is called the greatest song writer, having set more than 600 songs to music, besides his many other compositions. His life was one of poverty and struggle, only enriched by many and devoted friends, who willingly shared their little with him. He died at the age of 32, and like so many men of genius, his fame and praise came after he was gone. His beautiful "Serenade" was played on the Victrola.

The program of the afternoon was in the hands of Mrs. R. H. Wright, who presented Miss Emma Hooper, of the college faculty, as guest speaker. Miss Hooper took for her subject the life of George Bernard Shaw, reviewing the book, "Life and Works of George Bernard Shaw," by Dr. Archibald Henderson. Miss Hooper called our attention to the fact that Dr. Henderson is a North Carolinian, and one of whom his native state should be proud, as he is a versatile and prolific writer, in addition to his regular duties as a college professor. She also quoted from the speech of James Boyd, who said that North Carolina "might have a literature of its own two hundred years from now," and paid tribute to James Duke, who by founding the great Duke University, has begun the great work of making such a literature possible for North Carolina.

George Bernard Shaw is the greatest dramatist of our time, and a man of many peculiarities as well as great genius. His life story was given in the setting of his relation to events in which he took part—history, science, politics, literature and art. He was also a great music critic. In spite of many advertised "prospective" visits to the U. S., he still remains true to what seems to us a very peculiar resolution, "never go to America." Not the least pleasant part of the afternoon was the social time which followed the program, when the hostess served a delicious salad course, and the young son and daughter of the family joined the company.

Senior Play At College Dec. 6-7

The Senior Class of East Carolina Teachers College will present the popular three-act play "Smilin' Through" on two successive evenings, December 6th and 7th, Thursday and Friday of next week. Because of the stage, the old auditorium in the Administration Building will be used and this makes the two performances necessary.

The Senior play this year is entirely under the management of the Senior Class, so was not included in the series of fall entertainments for which season tickets were sold. Special tickets will be sold for this attraction only, and these will be placed on sale Saturday of this week.

"Smilin' Through" by Allan Langdon Martin, is a romantic comedy that has been one of the great stage successes of the last few years, a rather recent Broadway hit, with a long run in New York City, and with an unbroken chain of popularity as it has been presented on the professional stage throughout the country. The Senior Class is making a busy, really and is giving no effort to give the public a new class performance of a recent play instead of an old established play of the type usually given by amateurs.

The leading members of the cast are by no means novices. They were stars in the one-act plays presented by this class last year, therefore have had excellent training and experience. The coach is a professional from the University, having had experience with the Carolina Dramatic some time ago. He came down to select the cast and set the rules started and running full time for the last two weeks.

Every effort is being made to make this one of the greatest Senior plays ever presented at the college and the Senior Class will give the public something distinctive and interesting in presenting the play "Smilin' Through."

STORIES FOR 'BETTER

The following are stories that won prizes given by J. S. Ficklen, chairman of the library commission, under the auspices of the Greenville public library for "Better Book Week."

The stories were written by pupils in the West Greenville school.

Why I Like Books.

I like books because they have such nice stories in them. Every time I read a chapter I see pretty pictures in my mind. When I am sitting alone in the house I always read a book to keep me from being frightened. A good book will help me to have better lessons.

—John Williams, 7th Grade.

Books.

You should read good books and put them up when you finish. You should read books and have good knowledge. You learn things when you read books. You should not throw them around. You should put them in a safe place. I like to read books that are good. Books are everyone's friend. Everyone should read good books.

—Howard Harris, 3rd Grade.

The Education And Value Of Books.

Books are very educational as we all know. In books we read about history, which tells us of our country's progress and the progress of other countries, too, which is very interesting to know. Naturally, we would like to study the progress of our country more than that of others. So now in libraries all over our country are found books on American History.

In books we also read English grammar and English literature, which is very necessary for a well educated person. Books help to enlarge your vocabulary. A great many people don't think a book is any good after they have read it, but an old book is your best friend. You should not only read a book once but many times, because you can never see everything out of it when you first read it. We also read of the customs and religion of the people. So in conclusion I should say books ought to be well read and well kept.

—Artemisa Harris, 6th Grade.

Why Books Are Useful.

Perhaps you have heard people say, "Aw, what's the use of reading books?" You will always find these people are more ignorant than the ones who do read. The reason you read books is to make a healthy mind. You don't like books that are so dry, like books on politics. Children in the grammar grades like books about Robin Hood, Boy Allies and the African Boy. These books are about adventure. Some like books dealing with romance, especially the girls. Some like mystery and some adventure. The kind of books I like best are adventure and mystery. Books are useful in talking with other people. In business life, school life, and anything dealing with our natural lives. Without books this would be an ignorant world. Don't you think?

—James Respas, 8th Grade.

ness life, school life, and anything dealing with our natural lives. Without books this would be an ignorant world. Don't you think?

—James Respas, 8th Grade.

My Best Book.

My best book is "Facing the World." I like this book because it tells about how a poor boy became rich. He saved fifty-seven people in a train when the trestle was washed away. He went to Australia with a musician. He had a good voice and he made money singing solos. He met another poor boy on the ship that ran away from home. He hid two hundred dollars in an old trunk in the woods.

I like books that are interesting. It was written by Horatia Alger, Jr. He wrote a series. One was "Adrift in New York." He writes books for girls and boys, too. This was given to me for a Christmas present.

—Frank Hines, 5th Grade.

Books.

I like history and geography because they tell about all things of the world. History tells about great men and discoveries of all parts of the world. Geography tells about products of all countries. I am going to study hard to get good grades on both. Books of all kinds are very interesting. Some books tell about war. Some tell about shipwrecks. If you have read about Robinson Crusoe, I suppose it was as interesting to you as it was to me.

—Bessie Lee Gray, 5th Grade.

My Favorite Book.

In slavery time Uncle Tom belonged to a rich man. Uncle Tom was a good, religious negro. His master had a little girl. Her name was Alice. She was a good little girl. Uncle Tom always spoke of her as a little angel. One day she was taken sick and died. It almost broke Uncle Tom's heart. Later the little girl's father got killed in a fight. The mother was left alone and didn't need any servants so she sold Uncle Tom to another cruel man that owned a farm. One day the boss came in the field and told Uncle Tom to give another

Uncle Tom's first master had a little boy. And this little boy promised Uncle Tom when he got grown he would buy him back. Years went by and the little boy got grown. One day he got to thinking about Uncle Tom and inquired about him. He found out where Uncle Tom was and went after him. When he got there he found Uncle Tom lying on the floor. His cruel master had beaten him again. Uncle Tom recognized the man and said, "I am glad you have thought of me." Then he fell over in the man's arms and died.

Jury Selected In Carroll Case

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26.—(AP)—A jury to try the suit of Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, state welfare commissioner, seeking to cancel the license of Dr. R. S. Carroll, Asheville physician, to conduct a sanatorium on the ground he is morally unfit, was obtained in Wake County Superior Court at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Court then recessed until 2:30 o'clock when presentation of testimony is scheduled to begin.

Despite the sensational nature of the charges that have been brought against Dr. Carroll, only a handful of spectators was in the court room for the morning session. Selection of the jury was prolonged by the long list of prospective witnesses read by both counsel for the plaintiff and defendant to the talesmen, questions put to the talesmen by counsel for each side were of a prefatory nature, and only four pre-emptory challenges were made, two each by attorneys for plaintiff and defendant.

DON'T BE A SUCKER

The Blue Sky Department of the State Department of Revenue has issued a timely warning to would-be investors urging that they investigate before they let go of their savings for stocks about which they know nothing. With the unprecedented rush on the stock markets recently this warning is indeed timely and it is to be hoped that people in this state will not foolishly jump into something about which they will later be sorry. If you must invest there are enough recognized legitimate stock issues for you to deal in without taking to wildcatting and surely the outcome will be more profitable for you. The money lost by the American people each year in worthless stocks reaches an astounding figure and this should be sufficient warning to investors.

Don't be a sucker. If you have money to invest put it into recognized securities or consult your banker.

FRESH PANGS OF CONSCIENCE

The history of the Borah Conscience Fund makes an interesting chapter in the politics of 1928. The enterprise got under way last March, shortly after a committee of the Senate had revealed the fact that Harry F. Sinclair had contributed $160,000 to the Republican deficit of 1920. Willing to accept sums "from a dollar up," Mr. Borah opened a subscription list for the purpose of wiping out what he described as his party's "obligation of shame" to Mr. Sinclair. "It does not seem to me that it is a matter about which we can delay action," Mr. Borah said. "To hesitate is almost as bad as not to act at all."

The first phase of Mr. Borah's fund was marked by real enthusiasm on the part of a small number of contributors. Governor Brewster of Maine sent a check for $100, and so did a gentleman who preferred to remain Anonymous Congressman. Senator Goff of West Virginia sent a stinging denunciation by telegraph of the "revolving donation" his party had received from Mr. Sinclair and offered to be one of 160 Republicans to contribute $1,000 each if Mr. Borah could find the other 159.

It was a flying start, but the pace was too swift to last. Contributions lagged. No 159 contributors stepped forward to match Senator Goff's offer. Money came in slowly. By mid-April the Conscience Fund had reached the sum of $8,200, with $151,800 still to go. And there it stopped. For a Presidential campaign was approaching and there were other things for busy men to do than concern themselves with Conscience Funds. From mid-April until Election Day, as far as we recall, this particular Conscience Fund was not mentioned in the public prints.

Now, however, comes a dispatch from Washington which intimates that while Mr. Borah is convinced that his $8,200 will never grow to $160,000 he will insist that the Republican Party as an institution refund the Sinclair in full out of its surplus for this year's campaign.

The election is over and Mr. Borah's conscience will now pain him for the next three and a half years.—N. Y. World.

ABOUT TOWN

"The Young People's Christian conference will convene in a one-day session in this city tomorrow," said a youthful churchworker today.

"This is expected to be one of the greatest conferences ever held here. It is the first of its kind, and naturally we expected members of all denominations to be in attendance."

"Greenville always likes to play host to a gathering of this kind. The young people may rest assured of a hearty welcome on all sides accompanied by an invitation to come again."

"Watch your label and see that your subscription to the Reflector does not expire," reminded the circulation manager of this paper today.

"You will want to keep in touch with the many news stories during the next several months. A year's subscription to the Reflector will safeguard you against missing any developments."

"The Reflector also makes a splendid Christmas gift. Remember the boy or girl off at school with a year's subscription. They will certainly appreciate the thought. To the man or woman away from home, there is nothing more appropriate than news of their home town."

"Visit Greenville during the holiday season and see the thousands of bargains which our merchants have to offer," said a member of the Merchants Association today.

"Decorations for the Yule-Tide season have already been put up by many of the stores and counters and shelves have been stocked with the greatest offerings in history of the city."

"It matters not how far you may live from town it will pay you to make the stores a visit and note the many bargains which they have to offer. You will save money by doing so."

"The Greenville tobacco market is gaining recognition in virtually all sections of the world," asserted a member of the Board of Trade today, discussing the numbers of inquiries reaching the city from time to time.

"We always make it a point to keep the public informed as to what we are doing as it is in this way that growth of the market may be made possible."

"If you have faith in the great locality in which you live, boost its tobacco market, and rest assured you will have said a good word for the town itself."

"Reflector advertisers are urged to co-operate with us in the new ruling about turning in advertising copy," said the manager of that department today.

"By observing the new rules you will be assured of better service not only in the style of your advertisement, but in every other way."

"The change will enable us to make the mails on time every day. This is just as important to our advertisers as to our readers as it enables the public to receive the paper quicker than they would under ordinary circumstances."

"Submit your ad copy early and in that way help us maintain the splendid brand of service we have

GRID TEAMS GET SET FOR THANKSGIVING

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Atlanta, Nov. 26.—(AP)—An epidemic of intensive but short-lived drills broke out all over Southern Conference gridirons today as every team in the conference tried on its Thanksgiving Day harness in preparation for ten conference games and two unaffiliated engagements.

Idleness of the past week gave the lie to the age-old saw about the devil's worship and instead played fairly godmother for hospital squads throughout the conference. All along the line there were reports of returning veterans, many of whom will appear before holiday audiences for the last time in their athletic careers.

Tradition overshadowed the struggle for the conference title this week, and if Georgia Tech, Florida or Tennessee lose their commanding margin of five victories and no defeats, conjurings of the past rather than the comparative strength of the teams will be the deciding factor.

In fact, not until December 8th when Tech meets Georgia and Florida invades Tennessee should there appear struggles that will seriously dent the upper crust in conference society.

The victory fever laid siege in all camps today as the complete rosters knuckled down, or planned to taper off and traveling for tomorrow and Wednesday. Georgia Tech apprehensive of Auburn and fate, was drilled the limit, calculating rightly enough that the Plainsmen had rather beat Tech than win a world war. In the 24 games between these two schools, Auburn has won 13 and Tech 9, while two were tied, and Tech would like to equalize this standing a little more.

Florida's scoring machine was running smoother than it ever has in preparation for Washington and Lee's invaders. The Gators hoped to retain their position as the leading scoring machinery of the south, and also subdue her usual holiday rival. The Generals haven't got much left but fight this year, but there's plenty of that on tap at Lexington as the squad knuckles down for a final onslaught.

Tennessee perhaps had the most serious threat among the "Big Three" in Kentucky, whose Wildcats have lost to the best in the conference by the narrowest of margins.

V. P. I. also unbeaten in the conference, and victorious against four opponents had a traditional foe of great importance in V. M. I., who hoped not only to wreck the "pony express" in the conference, but also for state honors.

Louisiana State, undefeated in the family, and victorious three times, prepared to swap pass for pass with Tulane, a dangerous procedure against such a time-honored foe. A long line of other encounters, the history of whose merits may be found in school libraries and dormitory sessions more readily than in team comparison, trails these impressive leaders.

Virginia's Cavaliers were hardening for North Carolina's Tar Heels at Charlottesville; Alabama awaited Georgia's Bull Dog at Birmingham with a pardonable desire to verify a season long begun; Vanderbilt expected Sewanee to put up a better fight at Nashville than the Tigers have yet been able to muster in a single game thus far; and North Carolina State's Wolfpack, just back from a trimming at the hands of Michigan's Aggies at East Lansing, 7 to 0, meets South Carolina's Gamecocks at Raleigh.

Maryland planned to go to Baltimore to meet Johns Hopkins, while Clemson prepared to invade Greenville for a clash with Furman, the only two unaffiliated games of the day.

In other games last Saturday Maryland nosed out Washington and Lee's Generals 6 to 0, at Washington. Tulane trampled Louisiana College at New Orleans 47 to 7, and Vanderbilt swamped Centre 26 to 0.

Eastern League Magnat To Meet At Goldsboro, N.C.

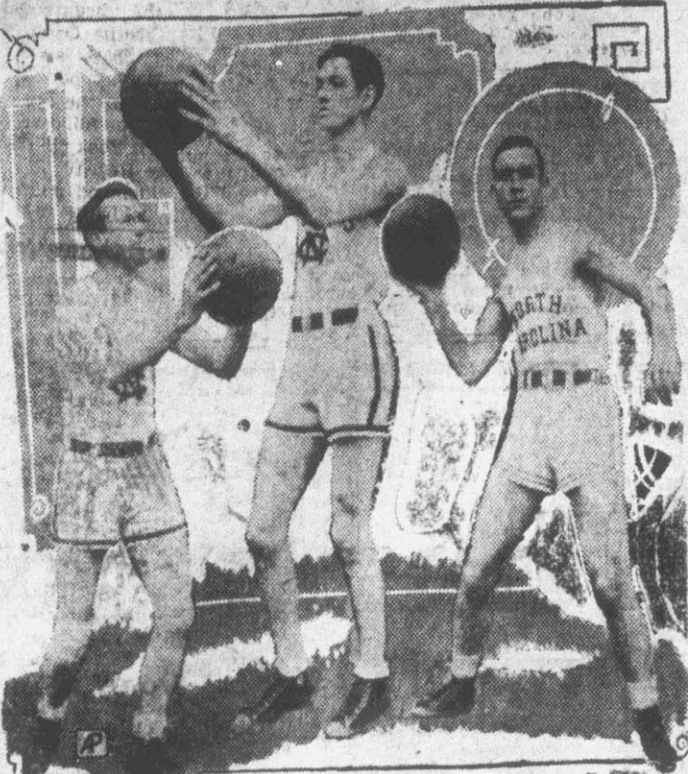

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 26.—(AP)—The meeting of magnates of the Eastern Carolina League, scheduled to have been held here this morning, has been postponed until 8 o'clock tomorrow night. A. T. Griffin, president of the Goldsboro club announced this morning upon receipt of a telegram from W. G. Bramham, president of the league.

The status of the league for the coming season will be discussed at the meeting. It is rumored that there may be a realignment of the six club circuit with Henderson and Wilson being considered as possibilities for franchises in case any of the clubs comprising the loop this season withdraw.

WOLFPACK RETURNS FROM LANSING, MICH.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Returning from their long journey to East Lansing, Mich., where on Saturday they were used out, 7 to 0 by Michigan State, the members of the North Carolina State Wolfpack today had only three days left in which to get ready for their Thanksgiving Day battle with the University of South Carolina Gamecocks. The Pack was due to reach home in time for a limbering up practice this afternoon.

NORTH CAROLINA GETS STARTED

Rushing the football season, North Carolina has issued a call for basketball candidates to report for practice. Here are three of the Tar Heels' dependents. Left to Right: "Pep" Price, Geo. Cathey and Rufus Hackney.

GRID SEASON NEARS CLOSE IN THE SOUTH

Football will end for 1928 for most of the institutions of North and South Carolina with games of this week, though Wake Forest has a Christmas day contest scheduled at Citadel, Clemson, North Carolina and Duke play games December 8th.

The Thanksgiving struggles, in many cases between rivals of many years standing, and the two Saturday games will end the season for the other eleven of the Carolinas.

Three big battles for turkey day stand in the public eye so far as teams of the two states are concerned, but they will be played in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The biggest attraction, perhaps, is the North Carolina-Virginia game at Charlottesville. President Coolidge is expected to be present as the old enemies meet in their 33rd struggle.

On Tar Heel soil will be played the annual North Carolina State-South Carolina game, the two conference rivals clashing at Raleigh. Eddie Zobel, Bob Wimberly, Captain Cooper, Boneau and Carlisle Beall, Belmont stars, are expected to be in tiptop shape for the battle and this prospect gives the Laval men a slight edge on the Wolfpack.

In South Carolina the annual battle between Furman and Clemson at Greenville will hold the center of interest. Judging from scores Clemson holds a big advantage, but Hurricane supporters say that Dad Amis' new Hurricane will win.

Wofford College, which defeated the Citadel Saturday, will play Southern College in Florida Thursday. The Terriers look good for a victory.

Duke will be Thanksgiving host to Davidson at Durham and the Devils should clinch the right to meet North Carolina December 8th for the big title.

Wake Forest, playing Mercer Thursday and the all-stars Saturday, as healthy assignment at Asheville in both affairs and it will be surprising to see the Deacons win either though they will stand their best chance Saturday.

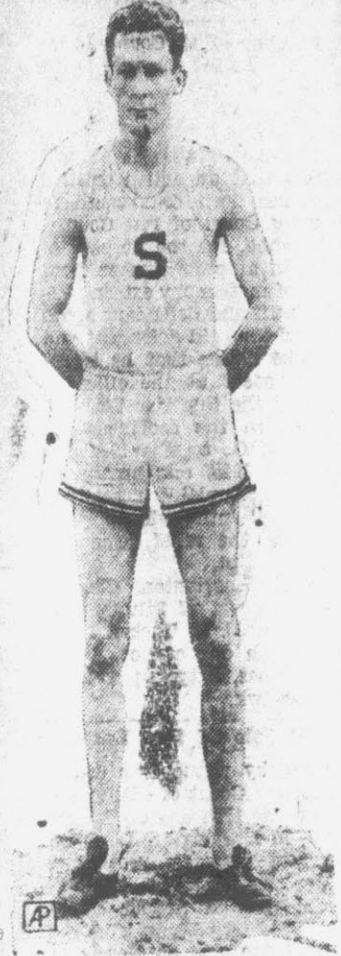

Atlantic Christian College will go to Virginia to meet Lynchburg at home Thursday, while Elon will play host to Lenoir-Rhyne, with Guilford engaging Catawba at Guilford.

Saturday the Citadel and Presbyterian College will meet at Charleston. Comparative scores give the Cadets the edge, but the Johnson clan has won its last three starts and may be able to upset the dope.

High Point's Panthers, with "Cotton" Perdue, North Carolina's leading scorer, will end their season Saturday against Western Maryland at Baltimore.

December 8th North Carolina will meet Duke at Chapel Hill and the Citadel will clash with Clemson at Charleston.

Dual Captain

H. J. "Hank" Young, of North Carolina State College, is captain of the basketball and track squads of his school.

Football Races At a Glance

East—Boston College remains only major team neither beaten nor tied, but New York University, by knocking off hitherto unbeaten Carnegie team, and West Point, by trimming Nebraska, keep high rank. Harvard ended season with first victory over Yale six years while Navy upset Princeton, hitherto undefeated.

Western Conference Big Ten—One of hottest and closest races end: with Illinois, 1927 champions, having best title claim. All members beaten but Illinois, defeated only by Michigan, tops Wisconsin, which lost to Minnesota in final game after being tied by Purdue. Ohio State beaten by Illinois in deciding game.

Missouri Valley Big Six—Nebraska, defeated by Army for first setback of season, needs only to beat Kansas Aggies this week to capture championship. Missouri through victory over old rival, Kansas, in runner-up role.

Southern Conference—Situation unchanged, with Florida, Tennessee, and Georgia Tech, neither beaten nor tied, setting the pace for two other contenders, Virginia

On Southern Gridirons

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Polishing of the University of North Carolina eleven in preparation for their clash with Cavaliers of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va., Thanksgiving Day will begin today. Intensive scrimmage drills the grid menu for the past week and coaches believe real results were achieved.

The hospital list has been wiped out and unless further injuries overtake the squad it will be in good condition for the start against the Cavaliers.

Signal practice and perfection of new plays are to be given special attention, although some touch scrimmage is to be engaged in also today and tomorrow.

The team will leave Tuesday night for Lynchburg, taking a light workout there Wednesday before proceeding to Charlottesville Thursday morning.

While coaches declared that the starting line-up probably would not be known until just before the game, observers said most of the regulars would be called upon. The possible line-up includes three sophomores and one junior in the backfield.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 26.—(AP)—With a full week of steady practice back of them and three days in which to taper off this week, the University of South Carolina Gamecocks are in prime condition for their engagement with the North Carolina State eleven. The last man on the sick list, Eddie Zobel, reported for practice again during the latter part of the week, giving Coach Billy Laval his full strength to throw against the Wolfpack.

Clemson College, S. C., Nov. 26.—(AP)—After a final practice and scrimmage Saturday in which the Clemson first stringers trounced the reserves, coaches announced.

Beginning today, the work will slack off and practically no more scrimmaging.

Blacksburg, Va., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Members of Virginia Tech's football squad are practicing long and hard this week in preparation for the game with Virginia Military Institute at Roanoke, Va., on Thanksgiving Day. The gridmen are going out early and staying late in drills.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Intensive drill work is scheduled for the football squad of the University of Virginia during the three days remaining before the annual Thanksgiving Day classic with North Carolina on Lambeth Field here.

The Cavaliers are returning to practice today after a week-end of rest, which included Saturday for many of the players. The team is being strengthened this week by the return of Captain Bill Luke, tackle; Harry Flippin, end; Hunter Motley, guard; and Lefty Close, halfback, all of whom will probably be in the game against the Tar Heels.

The Cavaliers are showing grim determination to win this, the 33rd contest with North Carolina, which promises to be an even more than usually colorful event with the expectation of having President Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge as guests of honor together with Governor Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia; Governor Angus W. McClean, of North Carolina, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the former president.

Lexington, Va., Nov. 26.—(AP)—The varsity eleven of Virginia Military Institute will attempt to solve V. P. I. this week as performed by the freshmen team in preparation for the annual tilt on Thanksgiving Day with the Virginia Tech men at Roanoke, Va., and in between times the flying squadron is practicing new plays of its own in the hopes of taking from V. P. I. the state championship.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 26.—(AP)—While the Vanderbilt Commodores are hoping that their Thanksgiving Day clash with Sewanee's Purple Tigers on Dudley Field here will not be as borosome to them as was the game with Centre Saturday, the Tigers are planning an intensive workout in an effort to hold Vanderbilt to a close score.

SOUTH CLAIMS SOME HONORS OF GRIDIRON

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The throat-cutting tactics popularized this season in the Eastern and Western spheres of football skirmishing leave the South today in position to claim more honors than any other section of the fast closing Gridiron battle.

The spottless records of the Southern Conference "Big Three"—Tennessee, Florida and Georgia Tech—stand out more conspicuously than ever as the result of the senators Saturday that either spoiled the perfect records or smashed the championship hopes of such teams as Carnegie, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Princeton.

The "Big Three" of Dixie do not stand quite alone. Detroit and Boston College, each with clean slates, have some rebuttal in any argument putting the southern trio at the top, but outside of these five, there isn't another major outfit anywhere in the broad gridiron and without a tie or defeat to mar its title claims.

Even these five have a few obstacles to hurdle before they can claim anything definitely. The Southern Conference battle comes to a climax this week and next, so far as the pace-setters are concerned. Georgia Tech perhaps has the best chance to romp through unbeaten for the Tornado has only Auburn and Georgia to sweep by and both have been below standard. Florida and Tennessee meet in their final conference game on December 8th at Knoxville.

Detroit and Boston College each have won eight in a row. Tulsa is the only school that has scored in Detroit while Boston College has numbered the Navy, Fordham and Duke among its victims. The powerful Detroit array, however, must beat Georgetown next Saturday to keep its slate clean while Boston College must overcome its old rival, Holy Cross, neither assignment looks as particularly easy. Detroit meeting in Georgetown a team that handed New York University the latter's only setback and last only a Carnegie's Tartans.

Even the fine records to date of these unbeaten teams cannot quite obscure the performances of other trysts that happened to have one off or disastrous day. Army had its Votte Dame and New York University had its Georgetown but if there were any stronger teams anywhere than the Cadets and Violets Saturday, or any greater individual performers than their respective ones, Red Cadie and Ken Strong they weren't visible to the naked eye.

Thanksgiving Day figures to furnish decisive tests in the Southern Southwest, Rocky Mountain and Big Six conferences, as well as in the East, where traditional rivals such as Cornell-Pennsylvania, Penn State-Pittsburgh, Brown-Colgate and West Virginia-W. & J. hold forth.

Georgia Tech meets Auburn and Florida encounters Washington and Lee in two Southern games that should see the two leaders continue along unbeaten Texas, still setting the southwestern pace, runs into the Texas Aggies, aching for a little revenue. Utah, on the Rocky Mountain peak, must dispose of the Utah Aggies to keep ahead of the University of Colorado, Nebraska is favored to beat Kansas Aggies and clinch the Big Six conference title.

Eleven Teams Stay In Race

Six more college football teams took the pitch to the wall once too often on Saturday and thereby joined the huge company of also rans.

Where the national list of unbeaten eleven numbered eighteen a week ago, only an even dozen remains in that category today. Of these, eight did not play on Saturday or the list of casualties might have been even larger.

Boston College, Tennessee and Detroit head the list with eight victories and no defeats. Florida, Emory and Henry and Georgia Tech each has accounted for seven triumphs without a setback. All the others in the unbeaten class have been tied one or more times.

WHEN COLD CALL — For — CLARK COAL Phone 131.

ily and Louisiana State. Deciding game this week and next.

Southern Conference—Texas still in lead but facing Texas Aggies in decisive game Thanksgiving Day.

Rock Mountain Conference—Utah, still leading University of Colorado, in race to be decided when former plays Utah Aggies and after meets Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Pacific Coast Conference—Southern California, by sweeping over Idaho while California was held to a tie by Stanford, gains technical right to conference title. U. S. C. unbeaten but tied once by California, which now has record spotted by two ties.

Strong Claims Scoring Honors

Ken Strong not only has clinched the east's football scoring honors, but national leadership as well. The high-powered New York University halfback scored fifteen points against Carnegie Tech on Saturday to boost his season's total to 154. Chuck Carroll, of the University of Washington, leader of the Pacific Coast conference, holds second place with 104. This total, however, has been surpassed by another eastern scorer, Gullett of Hobart, who is runner-up to Strong in the Atlantic seaboard, with 110 points.

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1/4 to 22 points on trade commission house buying probed by relatively steady Liverpool cables and continued favorable reports from the textile trade. January sold up to 20.61 and May to 20.50 on this opening advance. The market, of course, established new ground for the movement. An admirable realizing was encountered at these figures and some western selling, but it was absorbed by more or less general buying. Transactions of 5 or 6 points from the best and the market was very steady at the end of the first half hour. Private cables reported London and Continental buying in Liverpool and said there was a fair cloth inquiry from India and South America.

Futures closed firm, 25 to 37 points higher. Spot steady; middling 21.00.

GRAIN MARKET

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor. Chicago, Nov. 26.—Helped by 645,000 bushels decrease in domestic supply and by firmer Liverpool quotations than did wheat prices here developed a moderate upward trend today.

Bullish action of the wheat market also was aided by upturns in the value of corn. Commission houses and previous sellers of corn became active in purchasing, and pending orders to stop losses on the advance were forced into action.

Wheat closed firm 1-2 to 3-4c net. Corn 7-8 to 1-5-8c up; oats 1-2c to 1-2-5-8c advance and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1/2c.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. FRENOSIL, New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Quickly absorbing the heavy selling which followed the raising of the call money rate from 6 1/2 to 7 per cent, the stock market pushed forward again today under the leadership of the high-priced industrial specialties. Although a sprinkling of issues fell 3 to 8 points below Friday's final quotations, the bulk of the day's activity was on the side of rising prices, many gains running from 5 to nearly 20 points.

The rise in money was believed to be incidental to heavy month-end and Thanksgiving holiday demands for funds. Bankers indicated that call money would be available in fairly large volume at current rates until the holiday demands began to make themselves felt next month.

In its present speculative mood, attention to day-to-day business news Wall Street is not paying much attention to the October railroad earnings statements now being published made favorable comparison with the same month last year, and there are indications of increasing inquiries for railroad cars and locomotives, which are reflected in the strength of the railroad equipment shares. Formation of an oil export company by the operating units of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is preliminary to the formation of the Webb Act, which the trade believes will have a stabilizing influence on the industry.

International Nickel was the spectacular individual feature in today's market, soaring 18 1/2 points to a new high record at 221 1/2. Russia Insurance ran up 16 points to 256, Allied Chemical 15 1/2 to 249 1/2, American International 11 1/2 to 137 1/4, Kansas City Southern 7 3/4 to 91 7/8, General Electric 6 to 193 and Stewart-Warner 11 1/2 to 118, all new high records. Extreme gains of 4 to 10 points also were recorded by National Tea, Midland Steel Products, preferred, Stromberg, Carburetor, Otis Elevator, Albany Power and General American Tank.

Wright Aeronautical, which opened 15 points higher at 270, broke to 265 and then rallied to 260. Curtiss fell from 163 to 154 1/2, Radio from 275 to 270 and Victor Talking
