STATE RESTS CASE AGAINST A. C. JACKSON

Former Sheriff May Take Stand In Case This Afternoon Or Tomorrow.

The state rested shortly before the noon hour today in the case of Amos C. Jackson, former sheriff of Pitt county on trial at a special term of criminal Superior Court, charged with embezzlement of $72,999 during his administration as sheriff. It was intimated that Jackson would take the stand in his own behalf sometime this afternoon or early tomorrow morning.

Testimony for the state was offered by county officials, auditors, and those who were closely associated with the former sheriff in a business way during his administration. Considerable information dealing with the operation of the sheriff's office was presented in the examination of records of funds paid into the office from different sources.

Jackson first went on trial here several months ago, but the jury failed to agree and mistrial was ordered. The case was one of the longest drawn out heard in this city in years, requiring several days to reach the jury stage.

The trial this time is expected to consume the remainder of the week.

The charge against the former sheriff followed his disappearance from this city several months ago. An investigation of the books of his office, while he was away, is alleged to have revealed shortages at first estimated in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Jackson returned to the city a few days after his disappearance to find himself faced by the charge of embezzlement. He declined to make any comment at the time. Evidence offered at his trial tended to show that the amount mentioned in the shortage had been used in the normal course of county business.

The state charged that the alleged shortage had been used by Jackson in his own private affairs. To bring out this point, his activities during his administration were closely summed up, attempting to show that money spent for various personal affairs was considerable beyond that derived from the county as apportioned.

A jury, composed of Beaufort county citizens, is sitting in the case this time. It is the first time that an out-of-the-county jury has been used in a proceeding in this city in some time and more than general interest is expressed at the outset by this change alone.

Jackson, gray of hair and with bent shoulders, sits at the side of the defense attorneys, watching each movement of the state with unabated interest. That the strain under which he has labored the past months has told heavily upon him, is instantly evident to those who knew him in the old days.

Since his first trial the former sheriff has been living on a small farm near Greenville. For the last two or three months he has been operating a country store on the Cox Mill road.

Believe Jealous Rival Murdered Wealthy Mortician

Atlanta, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Police today clung to their belief that a jealous rival murdered R. M. Brandon, wealthy mortician Monday night, despite that two of their clues tending to bear out such a theory had definitely proved false. J. D. Parsmore, a 40-year-old salesman, released yesterday after he had established an alibi Parsmore's 19-year-old estranged wife previously had told police that they have lately separated, but over "another matter."

An hour after the murder, police detained Mrs. Ruth Cone, 45, who had been taken to the Atlanta Athletic Club with her two daughters by Brandon earlier in the evening. The divorcee and widow 24 hours later was released with a statement that she had been "definitely eliminated" from the case.

KING GEORGE REPORTED TO BE IMPROVING

General Condition Of British Monarch De- clared Less Alarm- ing Than Formerly.

London, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The statement that King George's general condition was slowly improving, made today in the official bulletin from his physicians, was the most welcome announcement that has come from Buckingham palace since his majesty's illness became critical a few days ago. It served to cheer greatly the hearts of his loyal subjects who have been waiting with cease anxiety for some such word that would indicate a turn for the better.

The medical bulletin signed by Lord Dawson of Pen and Sir Stanley Hewitt, said:

"The king has passed a fair night and his temperature this morning is lower. The general condition is slowly improving and the infective process, which remains severe, is becoming more localized."

It would probably seem unwise to interpret too optimistically the words of the bulletin for the king has now been ill for 17 days and is granted to be still a very sick man. Also it could hardly be thought that the chances for another turn for the worst have been eliminated.

There was more than usual anxiety among the crowd which gathered before the palace awaiting the morning bulletin inasmuch as last night's report had shown that the patient was increasingly reckless, and that the ineffective progress was still active.

This anxiety on the public's part doubtless was responsible for the fact that despite a thick fog which enshrouded the palace, there was a constant trickle of visitors to the palace throughout the night. The fog had lifted this morning, however.

There was no cheering or other demonstration when the spectators made out the bulletin. There were many quiet exchanges of hopeful comment, however.

As might have been expected, plans for the royal Christmas have already been altered by the king's prolonged illness. Some days ago arrangements for the court to spend Christmas as Sandringham as usual were cancelled and it was stated today that the queen would spend the holiday at Buckingham palace. Princess Mary may also stay with her parents.

LOCAL WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Sallie Boyd Laid To Rest At Family Burying Ground this Afternoon.

Mrs. Sallie J. Boyd, 46, widow of the late J. H. Boyd, Sr., died at her home on Dickinson avenue yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock as result of an illness that confined her to bed since last May.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the late home by Rev. R. J. Bamber, pastor of the Eighth Street Church of Christ, of which she was a member. Burial followed in the family burying ground about a mile west of Greenville.

Mrs. Boyd is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James H. Brinson and Miss Rubie Evans, of Greenville; four sisters, Mrs. J. B. Smith, Pikeville; Mrs. C. E. Baker, Greenville; Mrs. W. E. Nichols, Petersburg, Va.; Mrs. F. W. Buchholz, Gainesville, Fla.

Mrs. Boyd was first married to Roy T. Evans, who died July 2, 1910. She was married to J. H. Boyd, Sr., in 1915, who died last December. Mrs. Boyd was born in Green county, but lived practically all of her life in Pitt county.

Mrs. Boyd was well known in Greenville. She was a lovely Christian character and before her confinement was actively associated with the religious life of the community. Pallbearers were:

Active: Z. V. Murphy, W. H. Norris, S. J. Everett, J. L. Cannon, H. L. Elks, Bruce King, Lee King, R. V. Keel.

Honorary: F. C. Harding, Dr. K. B. Pace, S. M. Crisp, C. S. Forbes, J. G. Moyer, J. R. Moyer, J. L. Little, B. T. Rouse, J. D. Wilson, J. D. Aman, C. B. West, W. O. Bilbro, Curtis Duval, W. J. Harde.

DR. CARROLL TAKES STAND AGAIN TODAY

Asheville Physician Denies Charges. Of Improper Conduct In Trial At Raleigh.

Raleigh, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Dr. Robert S. Carroll today continued to deny charges of improper conduct on his part in the operation of Highland hospital at Asheville. The State Board of Charities and Welfare is seeking to revoke the license of the institution on the ground that the 60 year old physician, the managing director, is morally unfit to operate it.

Cross examination of Dr. Carroll was resumed in Wake county superior court this morning but was suspended temporarily after 20 minutes because R. N. Simms, one of the defense attorneys, had other business to transact.

In the interim, the defense called six more character witnesses, all Asheville citizens, who gave Dr. Carroll and his institution a good reputation. They were Sam P. Burton, furniture dealer; W. J. Fitzgerald, insurance; S. A. Husband, vice-president of the Central Bank & Trust Company; H. G. Groover, cashier of a tannery; A. E. Rankin, president of the American National Bank and O. L. Green, a merchant.

A deposition was read then in behalf of the defendant. It was made by Mrs. C. M. Atkins, now living in New York, who was a nurse and supervisor at the hospital for thirteen years.

Mrs. Atkins' testimony was that during her 13 years connection with the institution she had never known of any improper conduct by Dr. Carroll toward either patients or nurses.

During the short while that Dr. Carroll was on the stand he was questioned about the refusal of the State Board of Nurses to recognize the standing of two graduates of the training school run in connection with Highland hospital. He admitted that there had been trouble with the board in 1915, but declared the graduates were later accepted full members of the board in 1916, and that the matter was later corrected.

The physician was not put back on the stand during the morning session.

Two other former employees of the hospital, C. M. Miller of Candler, and Mrs. May Ingram Gorrell, of Asheville, testified concerning treatment of patients at the hospital while they were there.

Miller, former steward, said he supervised the heating in the building in which S. S. Lambeth, Jr., witness for the welfare board, was confined while a patient there in 1921. He declared the rooms were always comfortable, warm in winter and cool in summer.

The former steward also told of a conversation with Miss Gertrude Corbett, a witness who had charged Dr. Carroll with immorality, shortly before she left the institution. She spoke of her great friendship for Dr. and Mrs. Carroll and at one time referred to the physician as a "perfect gentleman," Miller said.

Mrs. Gorrell was questioned at length about the location of the rooms in which Miss Corbett testified Dr. Carroll's immorality took place. She said the rooms were frequently visited by nurses.

Christmas Decorating, Spurred By Offer Of Cash Prizes In City

Spurred by the offer of cash prizes for the best Christmas decorations, numbers of persons in the business and residential sections of the city have arranged attractive displays in keeping with the season of the year. Most of the decorations have made their appearance in the business district but from now on they will also spring into life on lawns and porches of the various residential sections.

The decorations so far provided in the business district are things of beauty and splendor. They have given a spirit of life and brilliancy to the business district, spreading the spirit of Yuletide into the hearts of men, women and children who through the principal thoroughfares at night.

Many of the stores have adopted electrical displays for the front of their building. The little red, green and blue lights glow brightly in the ledges of the buildings, spreading joy and good will among those who before seeing them had not an intimation of the Christmas spirit in their homes.

The keenest competition in year is anticipated in view of the cash prizes offered for the best decorations by the Retail and the Merchants Association. The best decoration in the residential district will be offered a prize of $25.00 by the Merchants Association in the business section.

The campaign is open to anyone in the city desiring to take part and is unrestricted except as follows:

First—All decorations in business or residential section must be visible from the street as the judges will make an automobile tour of the city and decide on the awards from observations of this trip.

Second—All decorations must be in place by Saturday, December 15, and so remain until Christmas. The judges will make their trip of inspection sometime during the week beginning Monday, December 17, and the awards will be announced in the Reflector of Saturday, December 22, and delivered to the winners the same night, or Monday, December 24.

Remember $50 for the best outside decoration in the residential section; $25 for the best decoration in the business section.

Decorations in the residential section may consist of decorated porches, lawn Christmas trees or any scheme you desire to follow, just so it carries out the Christmas suggestion. Be sure of the lighting effects of your decorations as the judges' trip of inspection under the arrangements made may be either day or night.

While it is not necessary that you list your decorations with us, it will be a good plan to telephone us your name and address just as soon as you have completed your decorating to make sure that your section of the city is included in the trip of inspection.

Make up your mind now to decorate for Christmas. You will enjoy it. You will help spread the Christmas spirit in Greenville and you may win the prize for the best decoration.

Four Are Killed By Terrific Blast In New York City

New York, December 6.—(AP)—Four persons were killed, at least six were injured and 15 others were unaccounted for in an explosion today in a disinfecting plant on East 108th street, near the East river.

Windows in houses within a radius of several blocks were broken by the shock of the explosion.

Ambulances from half a dozen hospitals, fire apparatus and police reserves were rushed to the scene.

The explosion was in the plant of the Kill-All Disinfecting Company and the first body taken from the ruins was that of Harry Freeman, foreman and part owner of the company.

LEAF PRICES STILL GOING STRONG HERE

Prices Stronger Since Thanksgiving Than Any Similar Period In Four Years.

The price situation continues strong on the Greenville tobacco market. It was made known today in the official daily report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The market yesterday sold 479,918 pounds of bright leaf for a total sum of $107,168.42, at a general average of $22.34 per hundred pounds.

Prices were described as higher since Thanksgiving than any similar period in four years. While common tobacco predominated yesterday and the day before, much good tobacco was in evidence and prices for this quality ranged around 75 and 90 cents a pound. Prices on the inferior grades were said to be stronger than for any single period in years.

Season sales today had reached the 61,974,706 pound mark, with indications that it will be close to the goal of seventy million pounds when the market closes for the Christmas holidays. The market has already passed last season's record of slightly over sixty million pounds, and tobaccoists are confident the goal of seventy million pounds will be reached by the end of the season or either realized or closely crowded.

It was stated that there was something like a half million pounds of leaf on the floors of the nine warehouses today. Sales probably will be completed shortly after the noon hour. Floors were cleared yesterday much earlier than customary and tobaccoists were able to draw the first long breath since the season opened.

The approach of the end of the season is witnessing the marketing of last offerings by numbers of farmers. While these are composed of much good tobacco, coming grades as usual for this season of the year form the biggest part of the contributions.

Keen competition prevails among the numbers of buyers and it was expected this would play an important part in a continuance of favorable prices the remainder of the season. Farmers are still being urged to carefully rework their tobacco and market as quickly as possible.

The supervisor of sales expressed hope that growers would heed the appeal to market as soon as possible. He said attention to marketing the remainder of the crop in good order should play an important part in retaining the present favorable price situation.

Fred Stocks Dies At His Home Near Winterville, N. C.

Fred Stocks, 27, died yesterday at his home about three miles from Greenville on the Winterville road, at 12 o'clock, following an attack of pneumonia of a week's duration.

Funeral services were conducted this morning at 11 o'clock from his late home by Rev. Alexander Crisp, of the Holiness church of Winterville. Interment was made in the Harrington cemetery, near Winterville.

Mr. Stocks was a member of the Reedy Branch Free-Will Baptist church, near Winterville. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Glennie Stocks; one brother, J. E. Stocks, both of Pitt county; two sisters, Mrs. A. B. Stainback, Wilson; Mrs. T. D. Harris, Pitt county.

FIGHT OVER WEST LOOMS IN CONGRESS

Nomination of Illinois Man As Secretary of Interior Presented By President.

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—President Coolidge gave Congress another fighting issue today and it was seized upon immediately with prospects of a battle over the nomination of Roy O. West, of Illinois, as secretary of the interior.

Mr. West is serving along with William F. Whiting, secretary of commerce, by reason of a recess appointment. As soon as his name was presented, Chairman Nye of the Public Lands Committee, served notice that he would ask hearings on the nomination, especially on whether Mr. West was connected with the Samuel Insull public utility interests in Chicago.

The nominations were submitted as Congress was beginning its fourth day's session, with Boulder Dam and many other hotly contested issues awaiting action during the next three months. Boulder Dam had its place on the floor of the Senate, with prospects of many days of debate before a decision is reached.

The House devoted its attention to the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill and its many paragraphs filled with debatable material. Rep. Byrns, Democrat, Tennessee, found time during the talk over the measure to urge coordination of government functions, a point stressed by Governor Smith during the campaign. Mr. Byrns assured the House there was no political significance to his suggestion.

A political skirmish occurred in the Senate over the immigration question. Democrats twitted Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, over what they claimed was a divergence of views between Reed and Herbert Hoover.

The Senate Commerce Committee decided to defer consideration of the resolutions calling for investigation of the Vestris disaster until it could be determined what the New York inquiry had brought out. The same committee suggested that the counting the population for the next census should begin next fall instead of in 1930, as proposed by the House.

House committee concerned themselves principally with naval and veterans affairs, the Veterans Committee turning over to a sub-committee the task of outlining a general measure to cover the needs of the former soldiers.

DR. ANDERSON TO CONTINUE ASYLUM HEAD

Board Of Directors Declare Conviction In Court Was Result Of Error Of Judgment.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 6.—(AP)—The board of directors of the State Hospital for the Insane announced today that Dr. Albert Anderson would continue as superintendent of the institution.

The announcement was made after a protracted meeting of the board, which the directors reviewed the evidence upon which Dr. Anderson was convicted last month on two charges of malfeasance in office. He was fined $500 and costs in Wake County Superior Court, but appealed. The counts on which he was found guilty alleged patients of the hospital had been worked on by his own farm.

The board also had before it the evidence upon which the grand jury returned other indictments against the hospital head charging embezzlement and cruelty and neglect of patients.

In their statement the directors said:

"Under the circumstances the board feels that the most of the superintendent has been convicted of is an error of judgment or an indiscretion on his part which does not render him an unsuitable person to be continued by the board in his position as superintendent of the institution.

"This confirms the confidence that the board has heretofore had in the integrity and fidelity of its superintendent."

LOCAL PEOPLE URGED TO GIVE TO POOR FUND

Merchants' Association Christmas Cheer Fund Increases Slowly Today.

The Merchants Association fund for the poor of Greenville and vicinity had been increased by $10.00 with the report of the secretary issued this morning, bringing the total sum to $165.00. The last contributor was the local real estate and insurance firm of Moseley Brothers.

Members of the Association and other organizations of the city co-operating in the movement to carry the Yuletide spirit into the needy homes of the community today issued an urgent appeal to local people to give as liberally as possible to the cause. It is the hope of the association to provide bountifully for every worthy family during the holiday season and an unusually large sum of money is going to be necessary to make this possible, it was stated.

The plan to give everybody an opportunity to contribute to this cause is believed to be the most direct way of raising the desired sum. But it will be necessary for organizations and individuals to contribute liberally if the ambition to carry cheer into every worthy home materializes.

The Rotary and Kiwanis clubs set a fast pace for other organizations with first contributions yesterday. The Rotarians contributed $100.00, the first shot out of the box, as a little partridge of the school joy, while the Kiwanis gave $50.00. Members of the fund committee expressed hope that other institutions and organizations would give as liberally as the clubs in order to raise as large amount of money as needed for the venture.

A committee has been appointed to co-operate with the County Department of Welfare in ascertaining the number of families deserving relief. The survey of conditions prevailing among the poorer classes will be conducted upon an extensive scale and division of the towns will be made in an intelligent and organized manner.

Contributions should be sent to the Merchants Association or the Greenville Daily Reflector. The names and amount contributed will be published in the columns of the Reflector each day so that the public may know exactly what progress is being made.

It matters not who you are or what your occupation may be, you are asked to contribute to the limit of your resources to this fund to carry happiness into the cheerless homes of the poorer classes. You may give as much as you like, but be sure that you give according to the blessings you have received during the year.

The Association today urged that all donations be sent in as early as possible in order that the total amount of the contributions may be compiled as early as possible. This will enable them to go about their operations in a more intelligent way and to know exactly how many destitute families may be cared for.

Wealthy Widow Slain At Home In Towandax, Pa.

Towanda, Pa., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Police today were scanning fingerprint records in hopes of tracing the murderer of Mrs. Samuel Jones, 63, wealthy widow, found slain in her home here last night. Floody fingerprints were found on a lamp shade in the house and on the tonneau of the woman's automobile, which the slayer evidently tried to steal.

Robbery was advanced as a motive of the crime. Relatives of the woman said she was in the habit of keeping large sums of money secreted about the house. No money was found in the house by the police.

An autopsy revealed that Mrs. Jones had suffered two head fractures, lacerations of the face and scalp, a broken nose and fractured bones in both hands in addition to having been shot in the face and arm. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that she came to her death "at the hands of a party or parties unknown."

"Smilin' Through" At College.
The first of the two performances of "Smilin' Through" will be given by the senior class of the East Carolina Teachers College this evening, at eight o'clock, in the old auditorium, in the Administration building. The second performance will be given on Friday evening in the same place at the same hour.

This charming three-act play has enough variety in it to make it interesting from beginning to end. The costumes in the first and third acts are modern, but in the second they are the picturesque costumes of fifty years ago, as the play reaches back and brings to life that period, then comes back to the present.

The scenes in the play have attractive setting and the plot is interesting. The fact that Jane Cowi herself wrote the play and then acted the star part in it makes it very different from the usual play. The members of the cast are for the most part, girls who starred in plays last year.

MRS. TUCKER ENTERTAINS ROUND TABLE CLUB.
The Round Table Club met in regular meeting at the home of Mrs. L. W. Tucker on Tuesday afternoon with seventeen members present.

Reports from the district meeting.

was given by Mrs. W. C. Vincent. Christmas seals were distributed and donation made to American Legion for Christmas use at Oteen.

Mrs. Wiley Brown very ably discussed the topic, "Child Prodigies." Numbers of outstanding children were reviewed, each showing perhaps different characteristics but all an alert, active mental ability displayed very early—even as early as four months of age.

Elizabeth Benson, born in Waco, Texas, early proved capable of looking after herself and while her mental ability was detected very early, through necessity, developed capably along all lines early, too.

The most interesting and outstanding child was Lorraine Jalliett, who lives in New York. Mrs. Brown had written her about information for her discussion and had received a lovely letter written by her, also some pictures, one taken with the dog she loved so well. She insisted she was not a child prodigy but just an eager, interested, happy and natural little girl. She liked to dance, run and play and enjoyed most things children of six enjoy. However, she can speak three languages, write, paint, and is well along in her school work. She had been told about Greenville by her teacher who had lived in Wilmington, so with a personal interest, she composed a verse of poetry for us in English—also one in Esperanto.

The hostess served a delicious salad course after which a lovely cake with lighted red candles and holly decorations was brought in as a birthday gift by Mrs. J. E. Nobles.

WINTERVILLE PARENTS-TEACHERS MEET

On Tuesday evening, December 4, the Parent-Teacher Association of Winterville school held its regular monthly session in the school auditorium.

This being designated as "Fathers' Night" it had been looked forward to with keen anticipation.

In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Elder M. A. Woodard, presided. The meeting was opened by singing "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," after which Rev. W. H. Covert invoked Divine blessings. Miss Nannie Loy Tucker, our efficient secretary, then read the minutes of the November meeting, and in the absence of the treasurer, read his report.

With the report of several committees the business session was closed and the following program was rendered:

"Fathers Are Parents, Too," by Elder M. A. Woodard.

"The Ideal Father," by William Bryan Rouse.

"An Ideal Son," by Rev. W. H. Covert.

"Preparedness," by Russell Collins.

Fifteen days might seem a long time when you are waiting for something, but it is very short when that is all the time you have in which to do your Christmas shopping. Get at it now.

Of course you are going to give something to the fund being raised here to make it possible for needy families in our community to enjoy Christmas. Don't put off doing this. The scope of this great piece of work will be governed almost entirely by the funds to carry on the work, and the sooner those in charge know how much they can count upon the sooner the plans for the distribution can be completed. Let's make this Christmas a happy one for all in our community.

RICHES AND RIGHTEOUSNESS

The tone of the President's last message to Congress is as usual one of exalted confidence and undiluted satisfaction. There is no pause in Mr. Coolidge's conviction that we have grown rich and righteous under his "careful administration of the Federal Government." There will be many who like these paeans of self-praise. There will be others who will feel that when a nation has attained such importance as a world power the time is at hand for its leaders to exhibit a little more dignity and self-restraint. For, after all, it is no more fitting for a nation to boast unceasingly of its riches and its righteousness than it is for an individual. Our riches are evident and do not need to be advertised every few weeks by the President of the United States. Our righteousness, on the other hand, does not increase because we talk about it all the time. If it is as perfect as Mr. Coolidge thinks it is, he might safely leave the matter to the verdict of history.

As a matter of fact the outlook at the conclusion of Mr. Coolidge's term is not so untroubled as he seems to think. Mr. Coolidge may not care to recognize it, but it is none the less true that the foreign affairs of the United States in their most important of all relations are in ominously worse condition than when Mr. Coolidge became President. We are, whether he chooses to admit it or not, on the very edge of a race in naval armaments with the British Empire. There are today greater suspicion, greater confusion and more dangerous potentialities in the relations between the two leading maritime powers of the world than it is pleasant to contemplate. The Coolidge Administration and the Baldwin Government have precious little cause to congratulate themselves in the light of what has happened. For today, ten years after the armistice, the two governments over which they preside are engaged in the unholy and disastrous business of measuring their relative cruiser tonnages and gun calibres and of trying to decide whether either has more power than the other.

At this, the close of the Coolidge Administration, the world is confronted with the stupendous fact that the two English-speaking peoples are drifting away from a policy of co-operation in the interest of peace and toward competition in the engines of war. If this tendency is not stopped and reversed by the civilized will of the two nations the verdict of posterity upon this era will be a good deal less flattering than that which Mr. Coolidge pronounced yesterday.—N. Y. World.

ABOUT TOWN

"By advertising earlier than usual merchants persuade the general public to buy much sooner for Christmas," declared a well known business man today, who for many years has been watching the public response to newspaper advertising.

"I am glad to see so many Greenville firms beginning to advertise their Christmas goods. They should avoid the usual rush of the holiday season, or at least get the general run of customers out of the way to take care of any exigency.

"No doubt numbers of people have already done the bulk of their Christmas shopping and will be able to give over more of their time to pure enjoyment of the spirit of the day when it actually comes.

"Don't delay giving to the fund to provide Christmas cheer for the poor people of this community," urged members of local organizations today assisting the Merchants' Association to raise funds for this purpose.

"Many persons are not aware of it, but there are numbers of poor people in an around Greenville who suffer great hardship during the winter months. They would derive very little pleasure Christmas were it not for the liberality of those who have been treated better by life.

"Give as much as you can to this cause. Every case will be properly investigated and only those worthy of help will be given it."

"After shopping early, why not make it a point to immediately wrap up and mail packages going out of the city," suggested members of the postoffice department.

"Postal clerks are always forced to work long hours handling the Christmas rush. Why not make it easier for them by mailing your packages now and stamping them with 'Don't Open till Christmas' phrase.

"You will not only be getting much work out of the way for yourself, but also assisting the postoffice department in handling what is generally conceded will be the largest holiday business in years."

"Have you contributed to the Christmas fund which the Merchants' Association is raising for the needy of Greenville and vicinity?" inquired a member of the organization today.

"We want everybody to give as liberally as they can to this fund Christmas cheer and good will will be carried into numbers of homes where there would be no spirit of the Yule-tide without this help.

"This is one of the greatest movements in behalf of humanity which the city has launched in years. Go down into your pocketbook and give as liberally as possible to the cause. You will never have reason to regret it."

"Don't forget the little tuberculosis Christmas seals when mailing your Christmas letters and packages," reminded a member of the local chapter of Red Cross today.

"Money spent in this way goes to a splendid cause—a cause as great as the cause of human life itself—the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

"It is useless to mention the great toll of human life taken annually by this plague, because every intelligent American citizen is acquainted with the ravages of the disease.

"Do your part by suffering from tuberculosis by purchasing liberally of the little seals."

"We are forcefully reminded of the approach of Christmas by the electrical display of business houses along Evans street and Dickinson avenue," said a citizen today.

"I am glad that cash prizes have been offered for the best decorations in the business and residential sections. This should produce a spirit of competition that should make the city one of the most beautiful in Carolina during the holiday season.

"It is to be hoped everybody will compete for the prizes and in that way do their part by the city beautifully."

GEORGIA TECH GOING STRONG IN SCRIMMAGE

By MORGAN M. BEATTY.

Atlanta, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Things are going so well in scrimmages for the Georgia Tech Jackets that Coach Bill Alexander is apprehensive of success against Georgia Saturday to the extent of starting his first string line and backfield.

His fears seem to be based on the theory that a squad will win if it has a bad week of scrimmages, and vice versa, for Tech has invariably won this season, and just as invariably performed poorly in scrimmages just before each game.

Simultaneously with an announcement at Athens that Herdis McCrary, elusive Georgia back, had emerged from the hospital, came word from Tech flats that the Yellow Jackets were going to take no chances.

Apparently, Alexander feels that the Bulldogs have as much right to treat the Yellow Jackets badly Saturday as his outfit treated the Bulldogs last year. Hence his determination to start full strength, with the possible exception of Warner Mizell, halfback, who is just out of the influenza ward.

Tapering off exercise were in order in the camps of Florida and Tennessee today as the Gators prepared for their tussle at Knoxville Saturday. There was a bare chance that Roy Witt, Tennessee's star, would get a chance to play against the nation's scoring champions despite his bad shoulder, and it was fairly certain that Clyde Crabtree, Goodbread and all his point-making colleagues would make their annual assault against Tennessee's line.

The Gators will try to work out at Knoxville before the game, and will be handicapped doubtless by the colder weather of the Piedmont country.

The southern conference title is in the ring Saturday, and is likely to find itself with two masters when the last blast comes this week. Georgia Tech and Florida are in a position to share the honor with seven conference victories each and no defeats or ties, but too much effort on the part of either Tennessee or Georgia might throw the situation into a pitiable state. In fact it is possible for either Tech, Florida or Tennessee to emerge victorious, though Tennessee already has been tried by Kentucky. The scores ap-

GRID TEAMS NORMAL FOR NEXT CLASH

By MORGAN BEATTY.

Associated Press Sports Writer Atlanta, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Injuries and influenza to the contrary notwithstanding, all four of the southern conference teams are stalking towards the championship. The situation will present apparently normal aspect with Herdis McCrary, Georgia's hope against Georgia Tech's Warner Mizell, Tech's all-American candidate; Roy Witt, Tennessee's sophomore terror, and Florida's secondary hospital squad—all will be available Saturday whether coaches use them or not.

McCrary, the Bulldog back, will be out of the influenza ward at Athens today or tomorrow with the possibility that he will be allowed to play against Tech if needed. Mizell got out of a similar ward at Atlanta early this week, and will see action if sorely needed. Witt's condition presents a more serious prospect, and doubt if he can be a problem. His bad shoulder seems to be healing, but the Tennessee mentors are afraid to use him in much against Florida at Knoxville. He has pronounced himself fit, but Witt knows a heap more about football than he does busted shoulders. Florida's first string may now perform at their best against a secondary that has been crippled for some time. Most of the hospital squad have been mustered out and put in uniform.

With six other men, most of them first string stars, caught in the influenza craze this week, Georgia necessarily will be handicapped in the encounter with Tech's Yellow Jacket at Grand Field. But, last year's reversal, when the unbeaten Bulldogs were turned under the sod so neatly by Tech, still must be counted in when these two teams are rated.

Generally speaking, past records form no basis of comparison for these old foes. Georgia came through a brilliant season last year with otherwise unbeaten Yale among Bulldog victims, only to bow decisively to Tech.

And when it comes to influenza, seven Oregon Aggies had huge chests full of it when they whipped the powerful New York University team a week or so ago.

With backfields that have not tasted defeat this year tangling at Knoxville, the Florida-Tennessee dodging exhibition of the southern gridiron season, Florida's national rating champs, and Tennessee's untamed sophomore terrors offer the ultimate in football entertainment, particularly to those who are not familiar with the finer points of line play.

Florida and Georgia Tech, however, with their six season victories and impressive records in the national arena, should come through these final tests with moderate nar-gins. Although Tennessee has not been beaten, Kentucky's Wildcats tied the Volunteers. Georgia has no chance at the title, having been beaten by Florida and Alabama in the conference.

North Carolina and Clemson go out of the conference to meet Duke and the Citadel, respectively, with an anti-climatic battle between Alabama and Louisiana State at Birmingham Saturday. The other 14 teams of the family circle closed shop last week.

Player Exchange Chief Subject At Toronto Meeting

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 6.—(AP)—It was game time today for the National Association of Professional Baseball clubs meeting in annual convention. Infield practice was held at the opening session yesterday, the day being given over to organization.

With the minors, big and little, sharply divided of the question of election of players by the majors from drafting athletes, the baseball stage was set for decision with the league presidents, players and umpires too in attendance.

The leagues below Class "A" were understood to be in favor of an unrestricted or unlimited section, while the Class "AA" circuits and one Class "A" organization—the Western—stood behind the modified selection which permits only players to be drafted who were sent to the minors by the majors with a chance to earn a return ticket.

W. G. Bramham, Durham, N. C., president of the South Atlantic Association, Piedmont and Eastern

Carolina leagues, leader of the forces fighting for a full and free draft, said before the convention opened that he would demand a vote on every section of a resolution proposing a number of amendments intended to make the selection laws more liberal.

The defeat of the amendments will leave the way open to introduction of the so-called "Bramham resolution," which would decree that once under the draft, always a possible draft beneficiary, so far as the player is concerned. President Bramham's proposed amendment declares that if a player signs originally in a league where the draft is in operation he will always be subject to selection even if he later graduates to a league where the rule against wholesale selection is in effect.

Mr. Bramham said that he would insist upon a roll call vote on his resolution.

pear to be the worst day, although defeat in such crucial games would be the penalty of slumps such as hit New York University and the Army at critical periods this season.

Alabama and Louisiana State clash at Birmingham in the only other strictly conference game Saturday, with Alabama expected to carry off the honors. Russ Cohen has his Tigers pacing through the hardest scrimmages of the season, however, and apparently is satisfied that his squad has not gone stale. Twenty-five Tigers will leave for Birmingham after today's workout.

Clemson and North Carolina meet in Citadel and Duke in the only other game Saturday in which conference teams meet.

ATLANTA MAN KILLS ANOTHER OVER HIS WIFE

Automobile Dealer Shot And Killed By W. L. Shippey Surrenders To Police.

Atlanta, Dec. 6.—(AP)—G. Hall Davis, prominent Atlanta automobile dealer, was shot and killed on a downtown street here today by W. L. Shippey, who surrendered to the police with statement that he cautioned Davis's attention to Mrs. Shippey was the cause.

The shooting occurred in front of a warehouse where Shippey was employed as a clerk, and which was located just across the railroad tracks from the Hall Davis business establishment.

Witnesses said Davis drove up to the warehouse in an automobile shortly before 8 a. m. and called for Shippey. When the latter emerged from the building he began firing a revolver at Davis and pumped five bullets into his body. Davis died instantly.

A few minutes later Shippey accosted two policemen in front of police headquarters and announced he wishes to report the killing of a man.

"Are you sure you killed some one?" he was asked.

"I hope so," was the rejoinder. "I shot him through the head five times."

Fellow employees at the warehouse said Shippey and Davis had had trouble before and recently Shippey had been transferred from a post in the front part of the warehouse to prevent him from coming in contact with Davis. It was remarked that Shippey had been in a morbid frame of mind of late.

Questioned by the officers as to his reason for shooting Davis, Shippey was quoted as having replied: "He took advantage of my wife."

The official police report of the slaying said:

"W. L. Shippey, living at 1408 Beecher street, this morning shot and killed G. Hall Davis, automobile man, in front of 588 Whitehall street. He came to police station and surrendered to us. Claims the shooting was brought about because of the intimate relationship that existed between Mrs. Shippey and the slain man."

J. B. Shields and O. C. Nichols, two witnesses of the slaying, accompanied Shippey to police headquarters.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Denver, Dec. 5.—(P)—The cold wave which has centered over the Rocky Mountain region for the past two days and which plunged Montana into arctic weather, with the temperature in one section of the state reaching 46 degrees below zero, apparently was broken today.

Chinook, Montana, which had reported an unofficial temperature of 46 below yesterday and here, with an official recording of 32 degrees under the zero mark, today welcomed relatively mild temperatures of around zero, and the mercury rose generally over the state.

Temperatures had moderated in Denver which shivered last night at 9 degrees above zero. Today's prediction was for fair and warmer weather.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 3 points under realizing promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables.

Trading was quiet with comparatively little trading, and prices sagged off to 20.25 for January and 20.22 for May or about 6 to 9 points net lower. Private reports estimating the crop at figures ranging from about 14,000,000 up to 14,300,000 bales were published, but as they were within the range of recent private reports they appeared to have little effect on the market. Private cables said there had been London and Alexandria liquidation in the Liverpool market but that Bombay had been a buyer of May there.

Futures closed steady, 17 to 21 points lower; spot quiet; middling 20.35.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Corn values developed fresh strength today and did considerable to impart firmness to prices of other grain. Buying of future deliveries in the corn market came largely from yesterday's sellers, and there were also indications of further export purchases of corn both here and at the Gulf of Mexico. Developments regarding farm legislation at Washington were being closely watched.

Corn closed unsettled 1-4 to 5-8 net higher; wheat 1-8 to 1-4 to 1-2 up; oats 1-8 to 1-4 advance and provisions unchanged to 10 down.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. FRENOSI, Associated Press Financial Editor

New York, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Acute weakness developed in today's stock market after "bulls" had made an ineffectual attempt to rally the general list by marking up a few high-priced specialties to new high records. Early gains which ran from 1 to nearly 14 points, were cut down, or wiped out, and a long list of issues sagged 4 to 15 points below yesterday's final quotations. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

Marking up of the call money rate from 9 to 10 per cent in the face of earlier predictions of easier rates and the firmness of the time-money market at 7 1/2 per cent was an important factor in the change in speculative sentiment. Wall Street expects that call money will average 7 1/2 per cent, or higher, for the months of December, and predicts the opening of the automobile shows, Packard ran up 8 points to a new high at 158 1/4 and then slumped to 152 1/2. Chrysler advanced 4 points to 137 3/4 and dropped back to 131 3/4. Indian Motorcycle fell 6 points; Mack Trucks sagged 4 points below yesterday's final quotations, and other motors fell back a point or more.

Coppers were also hard hit on the reaction. Greene Cananea, Anaconda, and Cerro De Pasco slipping back 4 to 5 1/2 points before buying support became effective. Radio dropped 15 points, Montgomery-Ward 12 1/2, Rossia Insurance 9 and Victor Talking Machine, Warner Brothers, Commercial Solvents, Allis Chalmers, Goodyear, Mexican Seaboard and National Bellas Hess dipped 4 to 6 points. A. M. Byers ran up nearly 6 points to a new high at 206 1/4 and then tumbled to 192. Wright Aeronautical soared to 13 3/4 points to 274 3/4 and then
