A. C. JACKSON ACQUITTED OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Former Sheriff Declared Not Guilty Of Taking $22,000 From County Funds.

A. C. Jackson, formerly sheriff of Pitt county, but now county storekeeper near this city, is a free man again.

Charged with embezzling $22,000 from county funds during his administration of office, the former sheriff of Pitt county was acquitted by a jury in the special criminal term of Pitt county Superior court this morning shortly after nine o'clock.

The verdict came after the jury had spent an entire night in deliberation. The case was received by the jurors yesterday afternoon shortly after five o'clock, but a decision was not reached until today. The charge against Jackson covered twelve or fifteen counts, each growing out of the alleged shortage of funds said to have been discovered during the closing days of his administration.

It was the second time the case had come up for hearing in the local court within a period of a year and a half. The first hearing which lasted about four days, resulted in a mistrial after the jury failed to reach a decision.

The case was one of the most spectacular and hotly contested heard in the local courtroom in years. Numbers of volumes of county records used by the sheriff during his administration were brought into play by auditors attempting to show where the shortage existed. Testimony was offered by county officials, auditors of the bonding company that made the bonding, and members of an auditing company who checked up the books prior to the indictment.

The indictment against Jackson was issued immediately following his disappearance from Greenville after the board of commissioners had called on him for final settlement. After remaining out of the city several days Jackson returned to find himself deprived of office and faced by charges of a shortage variously estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000. He was charged with having used the funds in the conduct of private affairs. The amount named in first announcement of the shortage was later decreased to $22,000.

Jackson declined to make any definite statement following his return except that he was innocent. When the case actually came up for hearing, however, he declared any shortage which may have existed had been used in the regular channels of county business. He vigorously denied that he had used any of the county funds for his personal use and remained on the stand for hours while the prosecution examined check after check, bank accounts and office records, in an attempt to prove his guilt.

Both trials were long and unrelenting and the former sheriff listened to charges with composure. His testimony was short of remarkable under the rigid examination of the prosecution.

The case attracted more than ordinary interest of people in all sections of the county. The court room was packed to capacity at times during the first trial both day and night, and while the crowds were not as large during the three days the trial was in progress this time interest nevertheless was unabated. Jackson and his family left the sheriff's home at the county jail immediately after his removal from office. It was then that he has been living on a small farm several miles from Greenville. He has engaged in farming and the operation of a small store on the Cox Mill road.

That the strain of the last several months has told heavily on the man who for several months sat at the head of the county law enforcement department, is evident by the slightly drooped shoulders and hair tinged with gray. Through it all he has exhibited remarkable equilibrium and composure, determined to clear his name of the serious charge growing out of his administration of one of the most responsible offices of the county.

Greenville Leaf Sales Heavier This Week Than Any Market In The East

The Greenville tobacco market sold more tobacco than any other market in Eastern Carolina during the week which closed with sales yesterday afternoon. It was disclosed in the official report of sales made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The market sold a total of 3,081,500 pounds of bright leaf for $681,245.90, at a general average of $22.10 per hundred pounds. This was nearly a million pounds more than sold on the Wilson market.

Season sales on the local market today had reached 63,369,742 pounds at an average of $21.29 per hundred pounds. The total amount paid out by the market was given at $13,492,763.

The market to date has sold something like two million pounds more tobacco than it sold the entire of last season. Still, it is slightly over six million pounds short of the goal of seventy million pounds set for the entire season. It is believed, however, that with good weather sales should be increased by at least three million pounds by the time the market closes for the holiday season.

The price situation continued favorable yesterday with all grades showing as much strength as any other time during the season. The general market average was reduced on account of the predominance of inferior grades.

Many new customers were in evidence during the week, the report of the supervisor indicated. One of them was a prominent official from an adjoining county who stated that he had never sold on the local market before.

"Any market that can average selling a million pounds of tobacco daily" for a period of sixty days is "deserving of one's consideration," the visitor told a prominent tobaccoist.

He sold his offerings here yesterday and is said to have departed highly pleased with the rapid way sales are conducted and the splendid prices prevailing.

The closing date for the holiday season had not been decided upon today, but will be made known the early part of next week. Farmers were still being urged to market their crop as hurriedly as possible. They were advised to rework all offerings and in that way assure themselves of receiving better prices than if marketed in a disordered condition.

Both trials were long and unrelenting and the former sheriff listened to charges with composure. His testimony was short of remarkable under the rigid examination of the prosecution.

The case attracted more than ordinary interest of people in all sections of the county. The court room was packed to capacity at times during the first trial both day and night, and while the crowds were not as large during the three days the trial was in progress this time interest nevertheless was unabated. ## DR. ANDERSON NOW FACED BY ANOTHER SUIT

Solicitor To Ask Special Term Of Court To Consider Embezzlement Charges.

Raleigh, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Dr. Albert Anderson, 69-year-old superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane, today faced the prospect of another trial in superior court in connection with his administration of the institution.

Solicitor Leon S. Brassfield, who prosecuted the hospital head on malfeasance charges in a two weeks trial last month, announced he would ask Gov. McLean for a special term in January to hear embezzlement indictments against Dr. Anderson at the same time the malfeasance charges were preferred by the grand jury.

Dr. Anderson was found guilty on two counts of an indictment involving the working of hospital patients on his private property, and acquitted on 13 other counts embracing neglect and cruelty charges. He was sentenced to pay $500 fine and costs but appealed to supreme court.

The board of directors of the hospital met this week and after considering all the evidence against the superintendent, announced that he would be continued in office. In a statement the directors said it appeared the physician had been guilty of no more than "an error of judgment."

Jim Adams, foreman of the hospital farm, is a co-defendant on one of the embezzlement charges.

Sawyer Killed By Unknown Party

Elizabeth City, N. C., Dec. 8.—(AP)—An open verdict was returned by the coroner's jury today in the reported suicide of Ernest Sawyer, clerk of the superior court of Pasquotank county.

Sawyer was shot and fatally wounded in his home here shortly after noon. First reports were that he had committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a pistol handed him by his wife after a domestic quarrel.

Only the negro cook, Nettie Menden, and Mrs. Sawyer were in the house at the time. The negro testified at the inquest started yesterday afternoon that Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer had quarreled at the dining table. "If I had a gun I'd end it all," the woman quoted Sawyer as saying.

Mrs. Sawyer, the negro said, left the table and obtained a gun, handing it to Sawyer. She said Sawyer left the table, walking into a hallway and a moment later a shot was heard.

The coroner's jury today returned a verdict that Sawyer came to his death "from a pistol wound in the head fired by an unknown party."

Folger Succeeds C. C. Coddington In Auto Company

Charlotte, N. C., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Lee A. Folger was elected president of C. C. Coddington, Inc., automobile distributing company, at a meeting of stockholders here today. He succeeds C. C. Coddington, who died suddenly on board his yacht off the North Carolina coast early this week.

J. J. O'Brien, secretary of the company, was elected vice-president and C. H. C. Rupp was chosen secretary.

The meeting was held in the office of H. M. Victor, executor of the Coddington estate. He announced that the business would continue along the lines of the policies of Mr. Coddington and that no changes in personnel are contemplated.

Mr. Victor said that consolidation of the affairs of Mr. Coddington's estate, variously estimated at several millions of dollars, would be carried forward as rapidly as possible. Radio station WBT, owned by a corporation, the stock of which Mr. Coddington held, will continue to operate for the present without change in policy.

Mr. Victor was named executor of the Coddington estate and guardian of Mr. Coddington's three sons when the will was filed for probate yesterday. For legal purposes the personal estate was estimated at $500,000, although the Coddington estate here, formerly owned by the late James B. Duke, is alone estimated to be worth more than that sum. The estate is divided equally between Mr. Coddington's children.

FIRST SNOW OF WINTER VISITS PITT

First Real Blast Of Winter Howled Across Section Of State Today.

The first real blasts of winter howled across Eastern North Carolina today, sending the mercury hurtling to lower levels than any other time of the season. The cold was accompanied by snow flurries which began last night and continued intermittently throughout the morning and afternoon.

The weather man, however, today gave forth promise of milder temperatures accompanied by fair weather tomorrow.

Early risers reported snowfall in Greenville during the morning, but the first seen late risers saw was about 9 o'clock. It started off with a stinging offering of hoisting snow which gradually increased to larger flakes. At the noon hour the flakes had increased to abnormal size and these descended in liberal portions. Owing to the warm weather that has prevailed in this section the last several days, the snow melted almost as quickly as it hit the ground. It failed to stick even on house tops and automobiles lined along principal streets of the city. It brought discomfort to those who were forced to remain out in the open as it was driven along by a strong wind out of the northwest.

Reports from other sections of the county stated precipitation was similar to that in Greenville. It may have been slightly colder in some places, but this did not affect the barometer enough to cause the snow to form a blanket in any locality.

Snow was still descending this afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock, but the fall was not as fast and thick as during the morning hours. A slight drop in the temperature added an additional mass to the inclemency of the weather but no pronounced during the morning.

It was the first snowfall of the winter in this section. While it brought considerable discomfort to numbers of families in the rural districts, it had a tendency of adding life to the business sections and trading was lively in some parts of the city.

U. S. MARINE FALLS PREY TO BANDIT GUNS

Gunnery Sergt. Williams Killed In Skirmish With Nicaraguan Bandits.

Managua, Nicaragua, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Another American marine has been killed in attempting to suppress banditry in northern Nicaragua.

Gunnery Sergeant Charles Williams of Astoria, N. Y., was fatally wounded by a stray bullet when a marine patrol of which he was a member, intercepted a band of marauders in the department of Nueva Segovia. The bandits had killed a defenseless peasant south of Occotal. A marine patrol under Captain Maurice G. Holmes of Pontiac, Mass., intercepted the band between Occotal and Tepehua.

The bandits were routed. A chance shot wounded Sergeant Williams in the head and he died an hour later. This was the first marine corps tragedy since August 6th.

Marine headquarters announced today that banditry had not yet been completely wiped out in the northern area and that an intensive patrol had been in progress there since November 17. It was stated that rumors of early withdrawal of the marines were probably the greatest factor in keeping the marauders in the field.

CARROLL CASE AT STANDSTILL DURING TODAY

Hearing To Be Resumed In Case Of Asheville Doctor Monday Morning.

Raleigh, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The Carroll case, in which the State Board of Charities and Welfare is seeking to revoke the license of Highland hospital at Asheville, was at a standstill today while Judge W. O. Harris, in Wake county superior court, considered other matters. The board charges that Dr. Robert S. Carroll proprietor of the hospital, is financially unfit to conduct such an institution.

Evidence in the case was completed yesterday afternoon, and Judge Harris ordered a recess until Monday morning, at 9:30, when arguments of counsel will begin. The case is expected to reach the jury Tuesday, probably late in the afternoon.

Carroll's testimony was principally from character witnesses who swore that Dr. Carroll's reputation and that of his hospital was bad, while the defense has offered 30 to testify the direct opposite.

Emily Vanderbilt Weds Again After Getting Divorce

New York, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Emily Vanderbilt, whose divorce from William H. Vanderbilt became final three days ago, was on a wedding trip today with Sigmund Thayer, member of a socially prominent Massachusetts family, after a surprise marriage.

First intimations their friends had that they contemplated marriage was when they applied at the municipal building yesterday morning to obtain a license. They were married late yesterday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Frederick M. Davies, at 20 East 82nd street.

The ceremony was witnessed only by immediate members of the families. Frederick M. Davies gave his sister in marriage, William G. Thayer, Jr., was his brother's best man.

In the license, Mrs. Vanderbilt's age is given as 25 and Mr. Thayer's as 32.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's marriage in 1923 to William H. Vanderbilt, heir to $20,000,000, and a childhood sweetheart was one of the biggest social events of that season. Their parents, Frederick M. Davies and Alfred G. Vanderbilt, had been very close friends for years.

She filed suit for divorce in Paris in the summer of 1927 but a reconciliation was effected and the suit was withdrawn. Last June she filed in Newport, R. I., and the decree, which became final Wednesday, was granted in six minutes. She charged her husband with failure to provide.

Oakley, Pitt county planter.

Tom Potter of Farmville, was fined $75.00 and cost of action on a charge of possessing whiskey.

Luther Dunn paid a fine of $100 on a charge of temporary larceny of an automobile.

Robert Peterson, colored, drew four months on the county roads on a charge of selling whiskey.

Nettie Forbes, colored, charged with receiving and possessing whiskey, was given eight months service at the county home.

Rothstein Case Leads To Capture Narcotics Valued At $2,000,000

New York, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Federal authorities investigating a narcotic syndicate financed by the late Arnold Rothstein today had in their possession $2,000,000 worth of confiscated narcotics.

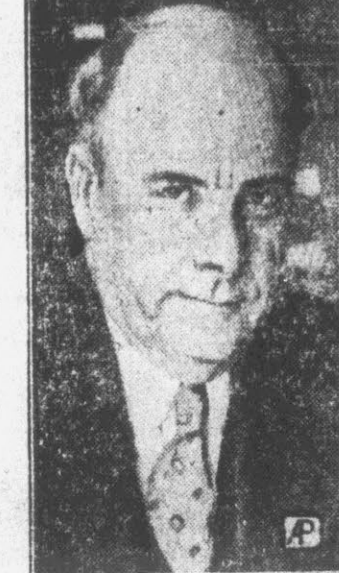

Discovery of two trunks in a hotel, where they had been checked for shipment inland resulted from a perusal of papers found among the slain gambler's effects.

"This seizure," said U. S. Attorney Tuttle, "is a very large fraction of the narcotic supply of the biggest narcotic ring in the United States. The papers we have seized and other evidence in our possession indicate that Arnold Rothstein had made a fortune in financing his ring."

"It is not improbable that an explanation of the Rothstein papers which we have seized and of other files which we were examining when they were taken over by the county district attorney may throw important light on the motives and circumstances of Rothstein's murder."

Information that led to the narcotic seizure was obtained in a search of offices from which Rothstein directed his manifold activities.

CONDITION OF KING GEORGE SATISFACTORY

Increased Temperature Of British Monarch Not Regarded With Alarm.

London, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Despite the fact that King George's temperature was stated to be up this morning, there were indications in the official bulletin on his condition that might be regarded as satisfactory.

The physicians' report indicated that the king had several hours of refreshing sleep after the operation which he passed yesterday and apparently he held ground which he had previously gained.

The bulletin, signed by Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson, of Penn, read:

"The king has had some hours of sleep. The temperature is still raised on account of the local lung condition. The general condition is the same."

This morning was the coldest of the winter thus far, but the nip in the air seemed only to have the effect of stimulating the gathering of one of the largest week-day crowds which has as yet assembled outside of Buckingham Palace to await the official bulletin.

Among the spectators were many groups of former service men from various parts of the country who had come to London for the birthday anniversary of "Tommy," a famous ex-servicemen's organization.

A continuous stream of motor cars kept passing by, halting near enough to the Palace railings to enable the occupants to look over the heads of the crowd and read the big black letters of the bulletin which gave the encouraging news that the king had passed a rather restful night.

It was nearly noon when Sir Stanley and Lord Dawson issued their bulletin. They had come to the Palace fairly early in the morning and were about an hour and a half in consultation before giving out their report.

Palace circles were said to regard the physicians' statement that the king's general condition remained the same as the most important feature about the bulletin. The king's temperature, it was understood, had not gone to a higher level, the doctors' phrase in this connection being interrupted as indicating that it was still subject to considerable variation because of the local lung condition.

Confesses Theft Of Chalice From Catholic Churches

San Francisco, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Gold and silver chalices encrusted with precious stones, brocaded vestments and other articles worth more than $100,000, stolen from the altars and sacrariums of ninety Catholic churches in California and Mexico were being returned to their regular places today following the arrest here of a former San Quentin convict who confessed to their theft.

San Francisco police yesterday announced the arrest of Ralph Joseph Sawyer, alias Sauer, as the thief, after the precious articles had been located in antique shops here and in Los Angeles. They said Sawyer made a full written confession in which he implicated two others. Police said that nearly the entire lot was recovered.

The police said Sawyer's confession revealed that he had been educated in a Catholic school and that he conceived the idea of choosing the quiet atmosphere of the churches as a field of thievery while serving a sentence in a California prison.

Sawyer said he had invented the idea of disposing of the church articles by representing it to antique dealers that they had come from the churches of Mexico during the religious troubles there.

His knowledge of Catholic rituals enabled him to choose an advantageous hour of the day for entering the churches.

The committee from the Merchants Association investigating the condition of the poor people of the community today reported forty odd families in need of aid. These families, it was stated, would know little of the spirit of Christmas without aid such as that being provided through the Merchants Association fund.

The report of the committee revealed that Pitt county had seventy boys and girls in different industrial schools of the state, including Jackson Industrial school, East Carolina Industrial school, Caswell Training school and Samaritan School for Girls. About twenty of his number will receive no Christmas cheer but that provided through the generosity of Pitt county people.

Second Showing Smilin' Through Well Attended

The second and last performance of "Smilin' Through," at the college last night reflected even greater credit upon the senior class than the first, the night before. In spite of the rain, there was a very good crowd of people outside of the college.

Miss Schobacher, director of community drama for the University of North Carolina, has the highest praise for the members of the cast and the committee who were responsible for the production. Some of the girls showed marked talent, and all of them caught the spirit and did excellent work. Dr. L. R. Meadows and Miss Lucille Turner, faculty advisers of the class, gave invaluable advice and assistance and were at hand for help from the beginning, between the times of the visits from the coaches.

Miss Miller also helped select the cast. Miss Lilyan Colston, president of the class, was manager of the play. Miss Elizabeth Morton had charge of the costumes. Misses Rebecca Alexander, Julia Minor Wood and Mary Frances Jenkins, for scenery and Bennie Ward for lighting, were responsible for the beautiful stage effects, and their plans for stage furnishing and lighting were well carried out by the college staff. Messrs. Fornes, Holmes, Boyd, Jones and Baldrice.

Misses Martha Stewart, Sarah Hinson and Mildren Mangum formed the publicity committee. Misses Bonner Swindell and Margaret Womack looked after the programs. Miss Irene Hahn had charge of the make-up. Misses Ella Tucker Smith and Annie L. Herring had charge of tickets.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN CLAIMS AIRPLANE ALTITUDE RECORD

Oakland, Cal., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Whether Mrs. Louise Thaden, aviatrix and wife of an Oakland airplane manager, has established a new airplane altitude record for women—25,000 feet—seems to depend upon which of her three height measuring instruments is adjudged to be correct.

Mrs. Thaden harnessed herself to an oxygen tank, stepped into a biplane owned by D. C. Warren of Oakland, and climbed heavenward for about an hour yesterday afternoon. When she descended one of her altimeters registered at 25,400 feet, the other said 23,000 feet and a barograph, read through the sealed opening, showed 22,100 feet.

Both Mrs. Thaden and Leo S. Nagle, president of the Oakland chapter of the National Aeronautical Association, were confident that a calibration of the barograph would show that a new record had been set. The present record, 24,900 feet is held by Lady Heath of England.

"It really wasn't a very difficult flight," said Mrs. Thaden, "it was awfully cold, though. I first used the oxygen when my head began to feel light at 15,000 feet. The apparatus didn't work properly, but by the time I was 17,000 feet up I got the hang of it and the oxygen refreshed me considerably.

"At 20,000 feet I felt awfully hot. My head was roaring and I couldn't seem to move the controls. I thought I would have to come down. But at 22,000 feet I took another draught of oxygen and felt fine. From then on everything was wonderful.

"My watch stopped at 18,000 feet. I believe it was so cold I just froze up."

Washington Social Events

Washington, Dec. 8.—(AP)—With the wife of a Senator as general promoter, a former member of Congress as ring master, and princesses, countesses, cabinet members, daughters and others figuring on the sawdust, the junior league society circus to be given in Washington auditorium about the middle of December is bulking on the social horizon.

Mrs. Walter E. Edge, wife of Senator Edge of New Jersey, is president of the league, is grand director, and former Rep. John Philip Hill of Maryland is the snappy ringmaster who is whipping the usually dilatory debutantes and other youthful actors into shape. A trainer has come from New York to assist in putting the girls through their paces. The pony ballet is composed of the most distinguished groups, and includes Her Highness, Princess Antoinette De Ligne, daughter of the ambassador of Belgium; Her Highness Princess De Ligne; Miss Alice Davis, daughter of the secretary of war and Mrs. Dwight P. Davis; Miss Victoria Tytus, Miss Jeannette Hume, Miss Helen Robinson, daughter of the assistant secretary of the navy, and Mrs. Theodore Douglass Robinson; Miss Katharine Carlisle, Miss Phillis Hight, Mrs. Robert Pell and others are in the ballet.

May Day in Holland, a Dutch lumber with the participants in peasant costume, is another striking feature, and the blue ribbon educated ponies are being put through their paces. Mrs. Winslow Van Devanter is the queen of the arena who will hold in check a number of wild animals. Almost every society man in town seems to want to be a clown, and of these attractions there will be many.

There will be many side shows. Mrs. John H. Magruder is managing them. Miss Mary Hale, daughter of Mrs. Chandler Hale, will be in charge of the midway and acrobatic stunts, and the Barker for the show is Mr. Leonard Block, whose wife is first vice-president of the league.

The number of brass bands will put the inaugural parade to shame.

Miss Alice Davis, daughter of secretary of war and Mrs. Davis, is one of the seven wonders of society, for besides the rehearsal and tolerably well kept social obligations, she has time to attend cooking school several times a week, and is taking a course in domestic economy and dress making.

Scarcely does one group of important visitors move out of the capital that another group arrives and this time it is in the delegates to the International Conference of American States on Conciliation and Arbitration. This long name of an important body is occupying the greater part of many invitation cards arranged against the arrival of the delegates expected soon.

The Christmas Seal this year shows an argosy in full sail over a tossing sea, the double-barrel cross boldly outlined on her mainsail.

"her cargo full of countless wealth, of hope and joy and human health." The designer is John W. Evans, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a noted artist engraver, whose picture appeared in the Photographic section of the N. Y. Sunday Times this week.

Each year the business of making and marketing the Christmas Seal has become a more tremendous undertaking, and one that requires a year's time and planning, and the help of thousands of men and women all over the country. In 1927 there were 1,700,000,000 seals printed.

After the design has been selected, careful experiments are conducted to secure the correct colors and ink. The advisory committee, representing national and state associations, must approve each step. The seals have to be printed, perforated, cut, sorted, packed and finally placed in cases for shipment during July and August in order to reach the states in time for the sale in December.

These seals that are sold for one cent each have made possible the organized campaign against tuberculosis that has been carried on with ever-increasing emphasis year by year—and the Christmas seals stand for something more, for they are truly health seals, since whatever helps to prevent tuberculosis, helps to make for health. With the money raised by the sale of seals, there have been provided hundreds of sanatoria where those ill with the disease may receive care; preventoria where children who have been exposed to the disease may be built up to care for patients who are ill in their own homes; clinics where examination and advice are freely given; and to thousands of people has been given the optimistic message that tuberculosis is a curable disease.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Dec. 8.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 6 to 12 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables which stimulated covering by recent sellers, while there also appeared to be some price fixing and trade buying in advance of the government crop report. The demand was supplied by realizing or liquidation together with some southern selling and fluctuations were more or less irregular but the active months worked about 15 to 16 points net higher during the first half hour with January selling at 20.35. Private cables reported Continental and Bombay buying in the Liverpool market. Early trading here was attributed largely to a final evening up of accounts in preparation for the official crop figures when it came at 11 o'clock.

Futures closed easy, 37 to 44 points lower; spot quiet; middling 20.60. Open High. Low Close. P.C.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Violent reaction in Radio Corporation common and a few other high-priced specialties, brought about another general liquidation movement in today's stock market. Prices opened irregular, with pools bidding up a few specialties, but the withdrawal of buying support for several of the so-called "blue chip" issues sent the market into another nose-dive.

Radio Corporation common, which established a new high record at 420 only last week, plunged downward 43 points to 376. DuPont, which opened 25 points higher, quickly lost 20 points of gain. A. M. Ebers moved up 23 points. Kolster Radio, Sears Roebuck, Rosca Insurance and Texas and Pacific Rail sold down 5 to 8 points. Wright Aero broke 25 points to 216.

The violence of the reaction today was attributed in a large measure to the forced liquidation of overextended marginal accounts. Because of the high margins required, most speculative accounts were able to withstand the selling of Thursday and Friday, but today's drastic break necessitated the dumping of wide assortment of issues.

Bankers generally look upon the reaction as a natural correction of a top-heavy speculative position. Unless it should proceed with unusual violence, they do not anticipate that it will have any material effect on business. It is likely to result, however, in a withdrawal of funds loaned by corporations on securities collateral, throwing the burden of financing the market back on the banks.

So great was the volume of trading that the ticker fell nearly half hour behind the market in the last half hour.

The closing was weak. Total sales approximated 2,800,000 shares.

REACTION HITS STOCK MARKET

Paper Values Decline More Than $2,500,000 On New York Exchange.

New York, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Paper values of stocks traded on the New York stock exchange have shrunk more than $2,500,000,000 during the two days of reactions, it was estimated by observers on the exchange today. General Motors shares alone have depreciated more than $300,000,000.

Yesterday's market was an erratic one, the great selling moves occurring in the first and last hours. During the first hour of trading nearly 1,000,000 shares were traded in. Then one of the largest brokerage houses in the street flashes to its clients:

"We would buy standard stocks at the market. We believe that the low prices of yesterday and the first hour this morning will stand as the low prices for the month in leading issues."

Immediately this was received over the country, the orders began to pour in and the market stiffened. Then all money went down to 9 per cent as compared to Thursday's high of 12, and it looked like the day would end well. A wave of selling hit the market in the last hour, however, and only the congealed it from being an utter rout. Stocks of the best possible route lost from 10 to 28 points on the day although there was quite a bit of quiet buying in some issues, notably Anaconda Copper which on a turnover of 165,000 shares were traded showed a net gain of 3.4 of a point for the day. At one time it was 3 7-8 points. Other prominently traded stocks, however, mostly showed large losses for the day.

Disinherited

The will of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan, traction and tobacco magnate, leaves only his shirt studs to his son, Allan A. Ryan (above), from whom the father became estranged in 1917. The total estate is estimated at more than $200,000,000.

Baseball Meeting Moved To Chicago For Next Thursday

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 8.—(AP)—The temporary baseball capital of the North American continent today was moved from Toronto, where the 27 minor leagues of organized baseball have been in session, to Chicago, where a joint meeting of the American and National leagues, the majors, will be held next Thursday.

The 27 minors came together with the question of the draft at the head of the program and when they went home it was in the same relative position. Committees from the Class AA leagues, opponents of the unrestricted draft and the A leagues, one non-draft and three more or less in favor of it, will meet at West Baden, Ind., January 10. With a smaller representation from the leagues of lower classification, very much in favor of the wholesale drafting, to talk, if possible, to the majors face to face about the selection of players through the medium commonly called the draft.

The draft question will now move to New York and Chicago. It may be discussed at the National League meeting at New York and the American League conclave at Chicago Tuesday. The Toronto convention seemed to shy from the question although an elaborate series of recommendations for revision had been made by the major-minor advisory council.

Complete Selection Of Team From East

San Francisco, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Selection of the eastern team which will meet a western eleven in the annual east-west charity game here December 29, has been practically completed by Andy Kerr, Washington and Jefferson coach, who will act in the capacity for the eastern forces. Kerr notified officials today that he had picked 20 of the 22 players for his contingent.

They are: Haverst, Minnesota; Barber, N. Y. University. Tackles: Getto, Pittsburgh; Pomeroy, Michigan; Nowack, Illinois; Raskowski, Ohio State; Wagner, Wisconsin.

Guards: Gibson, Minnesota, Thomson, Lafayette; McMullen, Nebraska; Fox, Pittsburgh. Center: Forchman, Washington and Jefferson. Quarterbacks: Harpster, Carnegie Tech; Levison, Northwestern. Halfbacks: Strong, N. Y. University; Weston, Boston College; Bennett, Indiana.

Fullbacks: Guest, Lafayette; Howell, Nebraska; Holmer, Northwestern.

CAPTAINS MICHIGAN NEXT YEAR

Joe Truskowski, star end, will captain next year's University of Michigan football team. The Michigan eleven will meet Harvard at Ann Arbor next year.

Georgia Tech Plays Bulldogs This Afternoon

Atlanta, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The triumphant Tornado of Georgia Tech today encountered the crippled Bulldogs of the University of Georgia with every prospect of continuing its stride toward more impressive gridiron honors for the season. The trek of some 40,000 Georgians to Atlanta for this traditional engagement demonstrated, however, the conviction of partisans that the "Tech-Georgia" game is anybody's—as it always has been.

Georgia's blithe March to prominence by victories over Yale and other impressive opposition last year only to bow to a Tech that had nothing impressive in its record, was the measure of the conviction that past performances counts for little.

But several of the Bulldogs have just recovered from influenza, among them the versatile McCrary and the
