WOMAN ADMITS SLAYING COAL MAN; SUICIDES

Ohio Woman Takes Own Life After Con- fessing Crime to Her Husband.

Canton, Ohio, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Heidman, 21, of Lorain, Ohio, last night fired a bullet into her heart. A week ago she called Vernard E. Fearn, 35 year old coal dealer, to the door of his home and shot him to death in the presence of his wife and child.

The young woman's husband, W. O. Heidman, a furnace salesman, was enroute with her from their home at Lorain to the office of the sheriff, Edward Gibson here, when she took her life. She had confessed everything to her husband and had agreed to surrender herself.

Chance revealed her illicit relationship with Fearn during the last few months. Heidman picked up from a waste basket a note she had written several days ago and then discarded. Confronted with its contents she admitted she was the comely young woman slayer for whom a wide search was being made.

"Put on your coat and hat," Heidman yelled at her. They got in their car and started for Canton, where they lived until they moved to Lorain on October 22. On the long trip Mrs. Heidman told her husband Fearn had seduced her and made her life a "hell."

She said that she had resolved to revenge herself at any cost. On the night of December 2, four days before the slaying, she went to Canton to visit a sister and there waited for her chance. The moment came, she told Heidman, when she found Fearn at home. She called him to the door and emptied the contents of a .38 calibre automatic into his body. Then she hurried to the nearest corner, caught a bus into the city, transferred to an inter-urban car and went to Akron where she remained overnight.

The next day she returned to Lorain. Mrs. Heidman, pretty dark haired ribbon clerk, who had been out of high school just a little more than two years, repeated the story over and over again while her husband hurried on to carry her to surrender to Sheriff Gibson.

Then as they neared the northern limits of the city, apparently from the same black bag that she carried to the Fearn home she drew an automatic and fired one shot into her heart. It was the same gun that had taken the life of the coal operator.

Heidman raced for the sheriff's office and found Gibson in the wounded girl was taken immediately to Mercy Hospital but she was dead upon arrival. Heidman returned to the sheriff's office and he made a complete statement of all his wife had told him.

Florida Felony Law Is Upheld

Tallahassee, Fla., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Florida's felony law, patterned after the New York Baumes law, has been upheld by the State Supreme Court with the notation that such laws have been uniformly upheld since 1796.

The court yesterday affirmed a decision of the criminal court which sent William H. Cross to prison for life upon conviction of automobile theft, his third felony conviction since passage of the law in 1927.

The Florida law provides life imprisonment for any person convicted three times of felonies in Florida, or of crimes in other states considered felonies in Florida.

The Supreme Court commented: "Such statutes are not modern innovations in the law. We find the primary elements embodied in statutes in other states as early as 1796. In this state, enhanced penalties for the second conviction of larceny have long existed, as well as for second convictions and subsequent convictions under laws prohibiting the manufacture, possession and sale of intoxicating liquors."

"Many able courts have considered statutes of this nature, and have uniformly sustained their validity."

Brooklyn Ganster Dies In The Chair

Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Thomas "Red" Moran, 22-year-old Brooklyn ganster who killed two policemen, was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison this morning after waiting two hours of life because the prison inmates were giving their annual comedy show. The execution was delayed till the visitors to the show had left the grounds.

Moran was smoking a cigarette as he entered the death chamber. He was placed in the chair at 1:02 a. m., and pronounced dead six minutes later.

Two Big Stills Captured; Liquor Making Falls Off But Booze Still Flowing

Two steam whiskey distilling plants, thirty gallons of whiskey, several thousand gallons of beer and a quantity of material have fallen into hands of the county officials during the last two days, according to information issued from the office of Sheriff Sam Whitehurst today.

The raids were made in the Greenville and Simpson communities. The Simpson still was in operation at time of capture but the distillers were warned by outposts. In time to make their escape. Thirty gallons of whiskey and five thousand gallons of beer were taken with this outfit.

The still in Greenville township failed to net the raiders other than ten barrels of beer. The still itself, however was one of the finest types used in the distillation of intoxicants in this section of the country, and its capture goes down in county records as one of the great achievements of the month.

While whiskey is literally pouring out of every farm and every town, a member of the sheriff's department stated that he believed there were not over twelve stills in operation in Pitt county at this time. The situation, as far as manufacture is concerned, is more favorable than it has been in years.

He believed the big issue before law enforcement officers, of the county at this time was the curtailing of the flow of illicit traffic from the other communities. The bulk of whiskey, he declared, comes into Pitt from Martin and Craven counties. A considerable amount is also crossing over the boundary line from Beaufort where, it is claimed, more than two hundred stills are in operation at present time.

Whiskey coming into Pitt county from other communities amounts to several thousand dollars annually, the officer declared. The amount manufactured in Pitt county is slight compared with that finding its way here from other localities. The main problem affecting Pitt is not the capture of the stills within her own borders, but in high-powered cars from other counties.

The manufacture of whiskey in Pitt county a few years ago probably was a heavy as any section of the state. The distillers in adjoining counties started producing a superior brand of beverage. Pitt county distillers weren't able to compete for some unknown reason, and the outside manufacturers gained a grip on trade they have been able to maintain ever since.

This fact, combined with incessant vigilance on the part of county officials, is one of the main reasons for the gradual decrease of manufacture in this county, it was stated. It is believed that the next year or so will witness even a greater diminution of manufacture here and enable officers to confine more attention to flow of booze coming in from other localities.

Youth Faces Life In Pen For Murder Of School Teacher

Stanton, Mich., Dec. 14.—(AP)—A report of three aliases that Jimmy Deacon is sane, although "intellectually and morally inferior," has brought the 15-year-old boy face to face with a life prison term for slaying Miss Flossie Carter, Sheridan school teacher.

The boy confessed beating to death and attacking the 27-year-old teacher because she slapped him for throwing paper wads three years ago.

Deacon will be arraigned in circuit court today.

Mistrial In Carroll Case

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 14.—(AP)—The suit of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare to revoke the license of the Highland Hospital at Asheville today was on the records of Wake Superior Court as a mistrial. The board alleged Dr. Robert S. Carroll, owner of the hospital, was morally unfit to conduct the institution.

Judge W. C. Harris declared a mistrial late yesterday when the jury had been unable to agree, after 67 hours of deliberation. The jurors said they were agreed on acquittal as to charges of neglect and cruelty, but could not reach a decision as to the alleged immorality. Judge Harris agreed to hear arguments, of defense attorneys that a judgment should be entered as to the cruelty and neglect charges today.

State Budget To Be Presented To General Assembly

Raleigh, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Governor McLean's budget recommendations for the next biennium, prepared as retiring director of the budget, will not be made public until presented to the 1929 General Assembly.

This decision was reached at a conference yesterday of the governor with Governor-elect O. Max Gardner. In announcing it, Gov. McLean said his recommendations were about completed and would be turned over to Mr. Gardner tomorrow as required by statute.

BANK CLERK SHOT DOWN BY ROBBERS

Spartanburg Banker Fatally Wounded In Attempted Hold-up Today.

Spartanburg, S. C., Dec. 14.—(AP) Earle Belu, 30, payroll clerk of the Drayton Mills, was shot in the head and probably fatally wounded today when two men attempted to hold him up and seize the payroll of the mill.

Belu had drawn the payroll of the mills, approximately $25,000, from a local bank and with H. C. Green, a guard driving, was returning to the mills in an automobile. When about a half mile from the mill two men in an Essex coach, drew alongside and ordered Belu and Green to halt.

Green sped up, the highway men gave chase and opened fire. The first shot struck Belu in the back of the head. Several other shots struck the back of the car.

When they came in sight of the mill, the robbers turned and fled toward Gaffney along the Charlotte highway.

The robbers apparently came to Spartanburg this morning. Green gave a swathey description of them, one man, he said, apparently was about 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighed about 170 pounds. He wore a gray hat, a raincoat made of some mixed cloth and there was mud on one side of the coat. The second man was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, appeared to be about 35 years old and had a two or three days' growth of beard on his face. He wore a blue coat, blue overalls and a blue cap.

The automobile answered the description of a car stolen in Charlotte last night from C. K. Kalkan, local lumber dealer. One side of the front bumper was broken.

Pershing's Sister Dies In Nebraska

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary E. Butler, sister of General John J. Pershing, died at her home last night after a prolonged illness.

With her sister, Miss Mae Pershing, Mrs. Butler had maintained a home here for General Pershing.

County In Grip Of Flu Epidemic

The city schools had not fared so well as the college, however, as over one hundred children were reported as suffering from the flu of a very mild form. The schools were hardest hit last week when three hundred or more children were reported absent.

Supt. J. H. Rose stated this afternoon that the epidemic amounted to little more than a cold so far as the schools were concerned. Children out last week were not on the sick list more than two or three days at the time. It is not expected the hundred reported absent today would be out for a longer period.

While there are several hundred cases in the county, no deaths had been reported today. Virtually every town as well as rural communities have been affected by the spread of the epidemic. With prevailing rainy weather, physicians expressed opinion that the sickness might become more general in some localities.

It was believed from many sources that the situation was well in hand, and that those affected would rapidly recover with the recurrence of sunshine and clear skies.

EXTEND TIME ON CHRISTMAS DISPLAY HERE

Business District All Aglow With Most Brilliant Decorations In History.

The $500 cash prize, offered for the best Christmas decoration in the residential section of the city, seems to be going begging.

At least, this fact is suggested by the lack of decorations appearing on the lawns and porches of the homes in the various residential districts of the city up to the present time.

Realizing that electricians have been busy in the business district the past week and that home owners probably could not get their decorations arranged because of this fact, the prize committee today decided to extend the time limit for placing the decorations until next Monday night. The time limit was at first placed on Saturday night of this week, but the slowness with which decorations have taken place, caused the committee to extend the time.

Residents desiring to compete for the prize are urged to get busy immediately and get their decorating completed by Monday night. The committee of awards will make their round immediately after the date of expiration is up and those who haven't decorated will not be able to take part in the contest.

In striking contrast to the apathetic condition existing in the residential section, the business district is all aglow with one of the most extensive displays of Christmas decorations in history of the city. Practically every store window in the main business center contains brilliant displays of things expressive of the Yuletide season. By tomorrow night the entire business district will bear a striking resemblance to a fairland.

One of the most outstanding features in connection with the electrical display in the business district is the giant Christmas tree which was erected at Five Points this morning by the local Merchants Association. The tree, a giant cedar mounted on the dummy top in the center of the intersecting streets, is forty feet tall and may be seen for a distance of a mile from some directions.

The tree will be decorated with one hundred multi-colored lights, whose gleam will last the spirit of Christmas into the hearts of thousands of passersby during the holiday season. It is the first time decorations of such proportions have been attempted by the association and the movement is expected to have a far-reaching effect in carrying the spirit of Christmas into the hundreds of homes of this and surrounding communities.

Outside electrical decorations have made their appearance on store fronts in the principal business district. The Greenville Banking and Trust Company has erected an electrically lighted Christmas tree over the main entrance to the building. Other trees of a similar nature are expected to make their appearance by tomorrow night when the entire district is expected to be aglow with the spirit of Yuletide.

French Ambassador Dead.

Paris, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Emile Dacier, former French ambassador at Washington, died today at the age of 65. He had recently retired from the diplomatic service.

Leaf Prices Here Highest Of Belt

The highest average price of the Eastern Carolina bright leaf belt. This was the record established by the Greenville tobacco market during the month of November, according to the monthly report made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The month's average was given at $24.45.

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday sold 661,044 pounds of bright leaf for a total sum of $13,309,94 at a general average of $20.02. Offerings yesterday were described as the heaviest since the Thanksgiving holidays. The bulk of the offerings consisted mainly of common grades of tobacco. This played an important part in the price situation and caused the general market average to fall two cents below that of the previous day.

The price situation, however, was declared to be as strong as any time during the season. With the rapid disappearance of superior quality of bright leaf, the common grades are expected to predominate the remainder of the season. Farmers have been advised to give as much attention as possible to careful preparation of their offerings in order that they may be in good condition when presented for sale.

Growers also have been advised to rush the remainder of the crop to market and in that way receive advantage of the splendid prices prevailing at the present time. Attention, however, should be given to the leaf to see that it is not in a wet, damaged condition when it reached the market.

The market will close for the Christmas holidays on Wednesday, December 19. It will re-open January 8 and probably close for the season the latter part of the month. This will give all growers plenty of time to dispose of any tobacco which they have been holding over for final days of the season.

The report of the supervisor of sale this morning indicated that total season sales had reached 63,633,412 pounds. This is slightly over four million pounds short of the goal of seventy million set for the season. With today and three more sales days next week, before the market closes for the holidays, it was confidently expected the market would be near the seventy million mark.

The government report follows:

Market	Pounds	Avg.
Abbeville	203,608	$22.61
Enfield	638,195	20.25
Farmville	4,426,980	23.65

HOOPER WELL PLEASED WITH BUENOS AIRES

Buenos Aires, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover was highly pleased today over the nearly welcome given him by the people of Buenos Aires, the first capital that he has visited on the eastern coast of South America. His trip down the slopes of the Andes across the fertile pampas gave him a feeling of exaltation at the accomplishments of the people of Argentina.

The Argentine government, anxious that no untoward incident mar Mr. Hoover's visit, continued today to surround him and his party with every precaution for their safety. Secret service men guarded every avenue of approach. Their vigilance was due to possibilities indicated before his arrival by several arrests and seizure of arms and railway maps. Troops and other guards lined every route over which Mr. Hoover traveled.

Mr. Hoover and members of his party seemed inclined to doubt that there had been any plot against him. The enthusiastic welcome given the president-elect indicated there was no anti-American feeling on the part of the people. This enthusiasm prompted Mr. Hoover to issue this statement:

"I could imagine no more wonderful introduction into Argentina than thru the Andes. One is plunged at once into a realization of its greatness, its splendid development and its many resources. As a student of human advancement, I have a feeling of exaltation at the accomplishment of the people of Argentina to which I have been witness. I am deeply grateful for the genuine spirit of kindness and welcome extended me by President Irigoyen and evidenced by the many thousands of people along the way here."

The enthusiasm of the greeting given Mr. Hoover disrupted an elaborate reception that had been planned and prevented a parade from the station to the United States embassy.

A red plush carpet had been laid at the railroad station and Hoover and members of his party stepped onto it as they left their special train. The first person to shake hands with Hoover was President Irigoyen, who rarely appears at public functions. Thousands were gathered around, cheering and shouting "Viva Hoover."

For a time the cavalry was able to hold the crowd in check. When Mr. Hoover and Senator Irigoyen left the carpeted station platform, however, police lines gave way and the crowds surged about. The Argentine president and his guest had a hard time gaining an automobile which took them to the United States embassy. The cavalry escort and others who were to be in the procession were left to follow as they might.

KING GEORGE STILL SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Physicians Say British Monarch Faces Long, Hard Struggle Before Convalescence.

London, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Although King George has successfully passed through a very critical phase of his illness, the latest official word from Buckingham palace today indicated that there was a long and difficult struggle ahead of him before the danger point was passed and he reached a convalescent stage.

The latest official word was contained in a message sent by Lord Stamfordham, the king's private secretary, on behalf of Queen Mary in reply to President's Coolidge's cordial message to the king. His message read:

"The queen is most grateful to you, Mr. President, for your kind message of which his majesty will in due course be informed as soon as his strength permits. Though the recent operation successfully treated one phase of the king's serious illness, the consequences of the general infection will entail weeks of slow and anxious progress before convalescence can be reached."

The message was more informative than the morning's official bulletin which stated:

"The slight improvement in the king's condition noted last evening is maintained. Any progress must be slow and difficult."

Indicating the greatly weakened state that the king must be in after the trying operations of Wednesday, and the effects of infection on his system, was the fact made known by the queen's message that the king had not yet been informed of Mr. Coolidge's telegram. This, it was stated, would be communicated to him only when he gained a sufficient measure of strength.

It was generally felt that if the king's strength remained undiminished for 24 hours, complete recovery might be looked for with an optimistic optimism. That the king witnessed so well operations which were dangerous in his weakened state was held to be a good omen. It was not overlooked that weakness continued and that toxemia had not yet been overcome. The people nevertheless, shared the satisfaction felt by the royal household at the morning bulletin and at other information obtained privately from doctors. That their patient was not losing ground was stressed by medical experts in today's newspapers. They held that this showed that the vital organs, especially the heart, were still functioning sufficiently well, notwithstanding the double attack upon them by poison and general exhaustion of the body.

But that the king had been able both exhaustion and the ravage of both hexhaustion and the ravage of disease, was taken to show that he possessed amazing vitality. The satisfactory state of the wound made by the operation was regarded as a hopeful indication.

Whether the operation was done at the suggestion of any members of the royal family or whether they merely accepted the physicians' advice was not revealed. The Daily Press said today that the royal family merely accepted the doctors' advice. The paper said that great anxiety was felt lest the king's heart should not prove strong enough to stand the shock of an operation but doctors told Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales that if the operation was not performed the toxemia, with which the blood was infected, would in all probability kill the king. It was therefore, decided to take the risk.

It was assumed that Queen Mary when she went to unveil the seamen's memorial Wednesday afternoon, knew that the dangerous operation was under discussion. This added to the general admiration of her courage in facing a public ceremony when her heart was full of dread.

Tributes to the queen's kindly sympathy for the bereaved widows of seamen who were presented to her after the unveiling, was paid by newspapers today.

The king's second son, the Duke of York, today celebrated the 33rd anniversary of his birth, under the dark shadow of his father's sickness but with more hope than had been possible lately.

Mexico City, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Twenty-two young women were stated by travelers from Jalisco to be held captive today in the mountain lairs of insurgents who raided the town of Jilotepec in that state. ## Native Of Tarboro Killed In N. Y.

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Apparently seized by an attack of vertigo as he stood in the window of his apartment last night, Irwin R. Heilbronner, of Weber & Heilbronner, haberdashers, fell 14 stories to his death. He was 39 years old and a native of Tarboro, N. C.

He had been a sufferer from sleeping sickness for four years and in recent months had suffered several attacks of vertigo and insomnia. The accident occurred while he was in his bedroom preparing for a visit of a messenger.

Mrs. Heilbronner said her husband had returned but a few moments before from work and after greeting her cheerfully and playing for a few moments with a pet dog, went to his room.

She followed him in a few moments but not finding him there she closed the window and went to the door to admit the messenger.

While she was chatting with him word was brought that her husband's body had been found in the court yard below.

Faces Death For Slaying Policeman

Magnolia, Miss., Dec. 14.—(P)—Saved from the gallows five times, Robert Percy Lofton again today faced death for slaying a McComb, Miss., police officer in August, 1926. One of the reprieves was granted only 20 minutes before the trap was to have been sprung and after funeral arrangements had been completed.

He was saved four times by reprieves and once by escaping jail. The fourth reprieve was granted nine days ago by Governor Bilbo to permit his attorneys to prepare an insanity defense. Their contention that Lofton was insane at the trial and could not confer with his attorneys was overruled, however, at the hearing. Governor Bilbo set today as the sixth day for the hanging.

A radio message from a special officer aboard the salvage steamer destroyer, said that salvage workers were compelled to discontinue work aboard the Celtic and all agreed that it was most prudent to remove all hands.

Question Son Of Murdered Couple

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Victor A. Hundley, son of J. C. Hundley, ex-mayor of Carbondale, who with his wife, Ella, was shot to death in their home Wednesday night, was questioned all night by State's Attorney Fletcher Lewis and Sheriff William Flannagan.

Hundley said he realized there was suspicion against him. He gave a minute account of his whereabouts Wednesday night, saying he was at home all evening, reading awhile and then retiring to be awakened by officers who told him of the death of his father and stepmother.

At the inquest, which was begun yesterday, it was brought out that Hundley was worth $100,000, while other estimates placed it as high as $300,000.

Joseph Goodall, the last known person to see the couple alive, testified Hundley made a will two years ago, bequeathing most of his property to his son, from whom he had been estranged many years.

Six months ago, Goodall said, Hundley told him he intended "cutting Victor off because he is no good."

Search For Slayer Of College Student

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Knoxville police were searching today for the slayer of Randolph Knight, 20, head cheer leader at the University of Tennessee, who was stabbed last night while en route to his fraternity house with Hoyt Bryson, a fraternity brother.

Police were holding Bryson as a material witness, but said no charges had been placed against him and that none would be. They said the youth was excited and overwrought and was held until he was able to give a clearer statement of Knight's death.

Bryson said Knight was stabbed by the negro operator of a hot dog stand who became incensed at them. Knight was found dying by a negro cook and sent to a hospital, while Bryson was in a drug store several blocks away trying to call a hospital.

Lady Astor Derides Socialist Claims

London, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Lady Astor thinks this world isn't so bad as Socialists picture it. But there's no equality in it, even among her own six children.

Addressing an audience of Conservative party members, Lady Astor referred to what she termed the modern craze for equality, and added that one of her children were equal.

"She said, 'Parents are the same, but the children are not, and I cannot blame the government for that. I have one boy full of dash and energy, and another who is a dreamer. The chances are that the elder brother will have to look after the dreamer, and so it is with the world.'"

"But I am not contented with the world. If I were contented with the social conditions in which the hundreds of children are being brought up today, I should not be interested in politics."

Predatory Rooster Proves Expensive For Carl Langley

A predatory pet rooster, that has long been the "cock of the walk" of the barnyard of Carl Langley's home, near Greenville, was still reigning over his province today, although continuance of his domination is proving rather costly to Mr. Langley.

The rooster's favorite pastime is making flying assaults on anybody who may be bold enough to enter the boundaries of his kingdom. A few days ago Mrs. Langley entered the yard. King Rooster flew at her and succeeded in ripping her nose with his spurs. Mrs. Langley didn't think much of the act and called down all kinds of maledictions upon the head of the offender.

Yesterday, Mr. Rooster, emboldened by the success of his previous attack, flew at Mrs. Langley again. She knocked him off two or three times. The attack, however, became so persistent that she picked up a piece of wood and hurled at the head of the king of the barnyard. Mr. Rooster ducked, the missile went wide of the mark and landed against the radiator of Mr. Langley's car, producing a hole of sufficiently size as to cause the owner to cough up several "smackers before" he can get it repaired.

Mrs. Langley was infuriated. The rooster was highly elated and strutted about the yard today like he owned the whole place and had an option on the adjoining farm.

Mrs. B. L. Tyson's Sunday school class will present "An Old Fashioned Mother," at Red Oak Church tonight at 7.45. If you wish two hours of genuine pleasure be sure and attend. Admission 25c; children free.

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Inquest into the death of Mathew Gibson, Berkeley county constable, who was fatally injured last night in an automobile wreck near Mt. Holly, will be held today.

R. A. Bozart, of Raleigh, N. C., driver of the car which collided with that driven by Gibson, was in a Charleston hospital suffering from injuries that are believed to be of minor nature. The Raleigh man was said to be a traveling representative of a Raleigh concern.

of drivers, with examination. The States include Massachusetts, Connecticut, California, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

Recognizing certain differences in geography, population centers, etc., the Statistical Bureau set out to develop a method of calculation that would give an accurate reflection of the effects, if any, of passing and enforcing the license law with examination. A series of graphic charts tell the story most effectively.

In the States of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and California, Rhode Island and New Hampshire, the curves show a downward trend and in every State the average of the index figures for the years following adoption of the law is below the similar average before the passage of the law, the reduction ranging from 4 to 31 per cent. The average reduction for the seven States above-named is exactly 20 per cent, that is, the automobile fatalities in those seven States since passage of the license law have been 20 per cent less than they probably would have been without the passage of such a law.

A study of all States-by-sectional groupings also shows clearly that the North Atlantic group, most of which have the Drivers' License Law, lead in fatality reduction, as compared with the Western and Southern groups.

The members of our forthcoming Legislature might well drop a card to National Safety Council, 108 East Ohio Street, Chicago, for a copy of Mr. Williams' article.—Charlotte Observer.

ABOUT TOWN

"Greenville people are certainly giving liberally to the Salvation Army Christmas dinner fund," observed a business man today as he glanced over the list of contributions.

"With the amount raised through the present fund and that dropped into kettles along principal streets during the holidays, the organization ought to be able to provide one of the most bountiful spreads in many a day.

"The Salvation Army reaches people no other organization possibly would be able to reach, therefore, money given to this cause finds its way to a very worthy purpose."

"With eight more shopping days to Christmas the business district should see that the most intense activity of the present year from now on," declared a prominent citizen today.

"Shopping has been continuing for some time, but the actual Christmas rush will hardly get under way until next week. Thousands of visitors are expected to visit the city during that time and shelves will be depleted of the greatest stock of Christmas gifts in years.

"If you haven't done your shopping yet, take my advice and do so at once while you have the opportunity of selecting the best the market has to offer."

"State highways should be better policed," said a well known resident today.

"For this reason it is hoped the next legislature will pass a bill providing for a full force of highway traffic police.

"Better policed highways would result in a general decrease in automobile accidents and eliminate much of the illicit whiskey traffic which is doing so much to undermine our citizenship.

"This is one of the most important issues which the legislature will have to consider at their next meeting. It is hoped they will see fit to act as favorably as possible."

"Have you given generously to the Merchants Association fund?" inquired a member of that organization today.

"If not, why not do so immediately and get it off your mind. This is one of the greatest causes which Greenville people have had an opportunity to contribute to in years. It is a cause launched directly in the cause of humanity. Could there be a greater purpose? "Watch the barometer in front of the association's office and follow the amount of the fund each day. Many families badly in need of food, fuel and clothing will be cared for by the association this Christmas. Do your part by giving as liberally as you can."

"Many beautiful decorations have appeared in the business district the last few days," said a visitor to this office today. "Many of the stores have provided electrical decorations for the front of their buildings while others have placed emphasis upon window decorations. Few decorations have appeared in the residential sections. Next week, however, should see numbers of brightly lit trees on lawns and porches, sending out their messages of good cheer and happiness."

"Cash prizes have been offered for the best decorations in both business and residential sections. This, it is believed, will add great impetus to the movement to beautify the city during the holiday season."

"What's Santa Claus going to bring your kid?" questioned a main street pedestrian yesterday of a small boy standing in front of a store window viewing the countless numbers of toys on display. The lad turned around and looked earnestly at his inquisitor. Evidently convinced that the question was propounded in the best of faith he said:

"I guess he will bring me a bicycle, airplane, steam engine, knife, pistol, pop gun, apples, oranges and some candy. Mamma says he is a pretty good fellow—I guess he'll bring me what I want."

"The pedestrian looked rather startled, but managed to smile very broadly at the unsophisticated street wonderer how many mamma there are in the world—who think Santa is a good man and how many little boys are ready and willing to accept the assertion in such good faith.

"If you haven't purchased tuberculosis Christmas seals, do so at once," persuaded members of the Pitt County chapter of the American Red Cross.

"Money spent for this purpose is invested in a good cause—suffering humanity."

"See that you buy liberally of the seals and in this way help contribute cheer to the countless number of tuberculosis sufferers all over the country."

"ADS" IN THE REFLECTOR PAY

Just eight more days to do your Christmas shopping. Time is getting short. Do it now.

GET DECORATIONS UP BY MONDAY

The failure so far of Christmas decorations in the residential section, to be perfectly frank, has been somewhat disappointing and we sincerely hope that the next few days will witness quite a change in this situation. A prize of $50 is to be awarded for the best outside Christmas decoration in the residential section, and unless residents show some action between now and Monday night there will be little to choose between in awarding the prize. We are aware that electricians and decorators have been exceedingly busy in the business section during the fast few days, and for this reason the time limit on Christmas decorations in the residential section has been extended until next Monday night.

Appropriate Christmas decorations on lawns and porches will do much to spread the Christmas and creditable displays throughout our residential sections as well as the business section, will be a good advertisement for our city to the hundreds of visitors who will come here between now and Christmas.

Decide now that you will help our city to reflect that atmosphere of the Christmas spirit by decorating your premises in keeping with the season. Don't wait until it is too late for your decorations to compete for the $50 cash prize. Get your decorations in place between now and Monday night.

DRIVERS' LICENSE LAWS

What North Carolina needs is a really adequate automobile drivers' license law and an effective means of enforcing this and other motor vehicle and traffic laws. Motor vehicle fatalities may be reduced by about 20 per cent through such a law, with examination of new drivers properly administered by a centralized department, according to Sidney J. Williams, director of the Public Safety Division of the National Safety Council, who has contributed an article, "What Can We Expect of Drivers' License Laws," to the December issue of National Safety News.

The conclusion is drawn from an elaborate study just completed by National Safety Council statisticians, of automobile fatality rates in the States which have adopted laws requiring licensing

FLU EPIDEMIC SPREADING IN SOUTH TODAY

Many Colleges And Public Schools Close Down Because Of Illness.

Charlotte, Dec. 14.—(AP)—With several major colleges closed public schools and academies today continued to take precautions against the epidemic of mild influenza and bad colds sweeping the Carolinas. Reports today continued to tell of closing of schools in various sections particularly in North Carolina.

Oak Ridge Institute suspended classes today until January 7, although cases of the disease in the school were few.

President T. E. Whitaker said that closing of other institutions had so demoralized class work that it was decided to suspend Davidson College, Davidson, N. C., and Chitara College for Women, Columbia, S. C., closed today.

All white public schools in Henderson and Vance counties, in Eastern North Carolina, and the city schools at Spencer, Southern Railway division point, near Salisbury, were closed until December 31. Salisbury schools remained open.

Clemson College, Calhoun, S. C.; North Carolina State College, Raleigh, N. C.; North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro, N. C.; Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, N. C.; Lander College, Greenwood, S. C.; Anderson Women's College, Anderson, S. C., and a number of other institutions suspended classes during the last few days. All schools, theatres and churches in Columbia, S. C., also were closed.

POOR FUND IS GAINING MORE IMPETUS HERE

Amount Contributed To Merchants' Association Fund Today Stood At $419.00.

The barometer registering contributions to the Merchants' Association Christmas fund for the poor people of this community continued to move upward today, showing donations amounting to $419.00 since the report issued from the office of the secretary yesterday. The total amount of the fund to date stands at $419.00.

Interest in the movement to provide Christmas cheer for the fifty or more destitute families of the community seemed to have gained additional momentum overnight and contributions within the next 24 hours are expected to be larger than any other time since the campaign started. It is believed as soon as the public is fully convinced of the utter dejection prevailing in countless number of needy homes that they will give as liberally as to any cause the city ever before had an opportunity of contributing to.

The committee investigating the condition of the poor population is convinced that a large sum of money is going to be necessary if the families are adequately provided for during the Christmas holidays. Near starvation stalks through the homes of widows, with numbers of small children dependent upon them for support. This situation will develop into the utmost misery and suffering when the cold blasts of winter actually sweep over the fertile acres of Pitt county.

The provision of sufficient food and clothing to temporarily relieve the situation is the object of the Merchants' Association in attempting to raise the Christmas fund. It is the first great movement of its kind ever before attempted in Greenville and surrounding territory and it is hoped people in all sections will give as freely as they can.

Members of the investigating committee declared that those who have never had an opportunity of coming in contact with the poor classes can not begin to appreciate their condition. If they could, it was believed the fund would swell so rapidly that the barometer would reach the top in a few hours.

Owing to the numbers of thin children, men, women and children comprising the destitute element, the committee has found it advisable to accept gifts of clothing to relieve the situation. Two splendid gifts have already been made by local merchants. It is believed this will be greatly increased before the holidays actually come.

"It matters not who you are or what your vocation may be, if you believe in the great cause of humanity, contribute liberally to this movement to provide Christmas joy for the cheerless homes of the community," urged members of the association today. Any amount will be gratefully acknowledged and will do its part for the relief of those who would know no Christmas without the liberality of the more fortunate of our population.

SENATE NEARS FINAL VOTE ON BOULDER DAM

House Busy With Consideration Of More Appropriation Measures.

Washington, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The senate neared a final vote today on the Boulder Dam bill as the house worked on appropriations and its committees prepared other money bills for its consideration.

On the senate side William J. Donovan, assistant attorney general, told the public lands committee that fraud proceedings were being prepared against one of Harry P. Sinclair's oil companies as a result of the oil contract.

These activities summed up the major part of what congress was doing, although the usual amount of committee procedure was recorded. Senate foreign relations committee decided again to defer action on the Gelloug treaty for the renunciation of war, some of the members having expressed a desire to inquire further as to whether the Monroe Doctrine might be involved. One emphatic act by the house was to disagree to senate amendments to the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill. That measure, containing an item for $270,000,000 for prohibition enforcement, inserted at the instance of Senator Bruce, of Maryland, was sent to a conference by the house and the senate to smooth out differences.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, got into the record of one senate committee, giving his ideas about unemployment. Secretary Davis, of the labor department, talked to another about coal. The house gave over part of its time to listen to the farewell address of Representative Burton, of Ohio, who on tomorrow will become a member of the senate. He counseled against legislation which would prevent the United States from being the leader for world peace.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Mme. Ganna Walska (Mrs. Harold F. McCormick) has been stricken with influenza, and though it is only a mild attack, she has found it necessary to cancel her concert scheduled for Orchestra Hall tomorrow afternoon. A statement by two attending physicians said only that Mme. Walska was confined to bed by influenza and that it would be impossible for her to fill the engagement.

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 3 to 6 points with the active months selling about 7 to 11 points net lower during the early trading under southern selling and some liquidation. The latter was probably inspired by rather smaller domestic consumption figures for November than some had expected, but the market soon firmed up and after selling off to 20.24 for January, rallied to 20.60 on trade buying, covering and a renewal of local or commission house demand.

The report of the Census Bureau showed 610,884 bales of lint cotton consumed in this country for November compared with 618,708 for October and 628,742 for November last year. While these figures were a shade under recent forecasts, they were regarded as indicating a continued large domestic consumption.

Private cables reported London and continental buying in Liverpool and said there was freer buying of cotton cloths in India and China. Futures closed barely steady, 9 to 13 points lower; spot quiet; middling 20.50.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Grain values averaged a little higher today, helped by fair export demand for wheat from North America by trade readjustments to anticipate the government crop report. There were also advices that Argentine farmers were refusing to sell wheat at prevailing prices. Meanwhile, continued adverse weather for the movement of the United States corn crop was forecast, and besides Argentine corn quotations were firmer.

Wheat closed firm 1-8 to 1-2 net higher; corn a shade to 1-2 up; oats at 1-8 decline to 1-8 advance; and provisions varying from 7 set-back to an equal gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Violent fluctuations in the high priced specialties featured today's irregular stock market. The main price tendency was upward, with buying influenced by the further easing of money rates, the decline of nearly $219,000,000 in brokers' loans and the retention of the 5 per cent discount rate by the Federal Reserve Bank. Except at the opening when several blocks of 4,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands, trading was relatively light in volume.

Call money renewed at 7 per cent and dropped to 6 with loans quoted in the "outside market" as low as 5 1-2 per cent in the early afternoon. Easy call money is expected to continue until early next week when the December 15 reimbursements are again likely to cause a further stiffening which may continue until the end of the year. Bankers' acceptance rates were advanced 1-8 of 1 per cent today, presumably in anticipation of higher rates on other borrowings around the end of the year.

Reports of merger negotiations between the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Companies furnished the only important business development of the day.

Radio was the spectacular performer in today's market, breaking from an early high of 340 to 326 and then rebounding to 349 for a net gain of nearly 41 points. Victor Talking Machine dropped from 140 to 135, rebounded to 150, a new high, sagged to 138 1-2 and then rallied again to around 145. A. M. Byers opened 12 points higher at 177, fell to 171 3-4 and then climbed to 183 1-2, up 18 3-8 points. International Nickel soared 18 1-2 points to a new high at 251 and Western Union advanced 9 points to 186. Burroughs Adding Machine climbed 5 points to a new high at 229. Greene Can. Copper and American Express sold about 7 points higher.

Rails again displayed evidence of group strength. Delaware & Hudson jumped 8 points and Erie, common, Western Maryland, common, and second preferred, Norfolk and Western, Canadian Pacific and New York Central sold 2 to 5 points higher.

A Word of Appreciation From Smith & Sugg

Our market will close after sales of December 19th and reopen January 9th, 1929. We take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the fine patronage given us this season, and for the patronage given our market. Greenville has led all Eastern Carolina markets this season, both in average price paid for tobacco and the total gain over previous markets' records. Hundreds of farmers have sold with us this season who have never sold on our market before and they felt that it was exceedingly profitable for them. If you have any more tobacco on hand, bring it to us and you will not regret it. We will have full force of buyers on sales after Christmas. Wishing all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, we are Your friends,

First sale Monday, Second sale Tuesday, First sale Wednesday.
