B. N. DUKE DIES IN N. Y. AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Tobacco Magnate and Philanthropist To Be Buried On Durham Estate.

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Benjamin N. Duke, tobacco manufacturer, died at his residence at 2 East 89th street early this morning after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Duke was in his 74th year. Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but burial will be in Durham, N. C., where he maintained an estate.

Several months ago newspapers reported that the capitalist and philanthropist had been confined to his million dollar mansion at the corner of 89th street and Fifth avenue, but the infirmities of age, in 1916 and again in 1917, he had been seriously ill with a nervous disorder.

Mr. Duke's benefactions included large gifts to Trinity College, now Duke University at Durham, and to Guilford College. His home is furnished with choice art treasures.

Benjamin N. Duke, though not so well known as his brother, James Buchanan Duke, had as much to do as any one other person with the building of the American Tobacco Company, the British-American Tobacco Company and other units of the world-wide organization that grew out of a little tobacco business established near Durham, N. C. by their father, Washington Duke.

Reared in poverty that overtook the family during the Civil War, Benjamin, never a strong child, and his brother worked on a farm to help their mother eke out a living. With the return of the father from the war tobacco raised on the farm was sold to country merchants by the sons. This business prospered and was expanded to include the manufacture of the raw product on a small scale.

Prospering in their country trade the Dukes, led by their father, moved to Durham and started a small factory, the first unit of what afterward became a world-wide business of immense proportions. By the time Washington Duke died he was regarded as one of the country's most prosperous tobacco manufacturers.

The business passed to the sons and grew until its history needs no repeating. Under the firm name of Duke Brothers it was merged into 1890 with the American Tobacco Company and James became president of the combination and Benjamin treasurer and director until the dissolution in 1911 under a United States Supreme Court order.

Born in that portion of Orange that has since become Durham county, April 27, 1855, Benjamin N. Duke was educated at Guilford College. On April 27, 1877 he married Sarah Pearson Angier, of Durham. They had two sons, Washington and Angier B., both dead, and a daughter, Mary Lillian, who married Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle, Jr.

Benjamin N. Duke, besides his interests in the tobacco business, had wide interests in the Duke Power Company, railroads, banking, cotton and other industrial enterprises. Most of his time during his later years was spent in New York, although he had a palatial estate at Durham.

Although he spent many years in the great industrial and financial centers, Mr. Duke never forgot his native state and community. Throughout his life he gave liberally to colleges and institutions in North Carolina, but would never permit a list of his benefactions to be made public.

He was for years a trustee of Trinity College, now a unit of Duke University, and latterly of Duke. He was official of the Erwin mills, Duke Power Company, Durham and Southern Railroad, the American Tobacco Company, Oxford cotton mills.

His latest known benefaction was the Angier B. Duke Loan and Scholarship Fund of $1,000,000 at Duke University, established in memory of his son who was drowned in 1923.

Two years ago an effort was made to obtain from Mr. Duke a list of his gifts to colleges, hospitals and other institutions. His secretary, writing an official of the Duke Power Company, said that Mr. Duke did not feel that the list should be made public as he felt that a private matter. Consequently no such list was available prior to his death.

The philanthropies of Mr. Duke and his brother, who died some years ago after establishing the $47,000,000 Duke Foundation for hospital schools and Methodist Episcopal Church, South, churches in the Carolinas, are estimated as high as $90,000,000 to $100,000,000.

COLDEST WAVE OF YEAR GRIPS NATION TODAY

Temperature Drops to 26 Below Zero In Northwest; Warmer Weather For South.

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The coldest weather of the winter was experienced by most of the country today.

From the northwest where the temperature dropped to 26 degrees below zero at Devils Lake, N. D., the cold spread eastward and southward to the Atlantic coast and the Gulf states.

Bismarck, N. D., had a temperature of 24 degrees below zero while temperatures were from 20 to 22 in Iowa.

Chicago experienced the coldest weather of the winter when the temperature dropped to three below with predictions of even colder weather.

Transcontinental trains were delayed from one to three hours by the cold but wire communication was unaffected.

In the south, Asheville, N. C., registered the lowest temperature, the mercury dropping to 20 degrees above zero. Atlanta, Ga., had 23 degrees and Louisville, Ky., and Birmingham, Ala., each had 24. No hope for moderation was held out before the middle of the week.

Atlanta, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Gulf stream or some other benign agency of the tropics today took pity on the shivering south, and gave battle to the Arctic blasts of the past four days.

Although then northwest winds which brought sub-freezing temperatures had not lost their grip last night, the official weather forecast for today indicated warmer weather in the office for every state in the south. A low pressure area from the Gulf was forging slowly northward.

With promised relief came threats of unwelcome drizzling rains probably tonight or tomorrow in most of the south, particularly in states bordering on the Atlantic and Gulf, where the low pressure area began its invasion.

Detroit Fliers Make Non-Stop Trip To Miami

Miami, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—A nine and one-half hour non-stop flight from Detroit to Miami today stood as another accomplishment in the airplane activities of William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee.

The trans-oceanic partners flew 1,200 miles for an average of about 130 miles an hour, with a tail wind most of the way. They lacked only 50 miles or so of traversing the United States from north to south, and in another hour and a half, or 11 hours, could have made Havana, Cuba.

The two Detroit fliers considered their flight merely a good day's work, having been trying for no record when they took off at Detroit yesterday morning.

Leonard Flo flew non-stop from Walkerville, Ont., to Kew West, Fla., in 17 hours, November 27, but where he had a small Spartan ship, Brock and Schlee had the advantage of a big Wasp motored Lockheed ship, which meant more power and greater stability because of weight.

SENATE STILL GRINDING AWAY ON THE TREATY

Tension Relaxes Over Prospect Of Com- promise On Inter- pretative Resolutions

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—In a calmer atmosphere the Senate continued today with the Kellogg treaty. The prospect of a compromise in the interpretative resolutions desired by some pact opponents had taken away some of the tension. It was a question whether Senator Reed of Missouri, who had been depended upon to take at least one prolonged verbal wallop at the pact would be heard at length. He has been silent save for an occasional question.

On the House side, the Ways and Means Committee had tariff hearings, a subject not to be lightly disposed of and one that promised work for some time to come. Already testimony had become technical enough for committee members to ask for definitions of certain phrases. Salmon W. Wilder, representing the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, yesterday said that increases in certain rates on chemicals were needed.

On the floor for the second successive term the election contest involving Rep. James M. Beck of Pennsylvania, came up. Beck's opponents contend that he was not a resident of the district from which he was selected.

The case of Jackson Barnett, a wealthy Indian, was again before the Senate Indian Affairs Committee. The hearing began yesterday and became quite lively with Chas. H. Burke, head of the Indian Bureau, charging that Senator Pine of Oklahoma, was trying to undermine him. Barnett's financial and domestic affairs have caused Congress a good bit of labor and inquiry in the past.

Another senate committee set for itself consideration of the bill which would extend the life of the Radio Commission to March 16, 1930. Members of the commission had been summoned to give their views on the subject.

Other committee hearings of both Houses promised to be more or less routine affairs but the House Foreign Affairs Committee was wrestling with the plan to simplify the calendar by making the year have 13 months. It has already brought opposition, the contention being made that the change would cause a "wandering" Sabbath.

TWO INJURED WHEN CAR LEAVES ROAD

Winchester, Va., Jan. 8.—(AP)—William White and Benjamin Heath of Charlotte, N. C., were injured near here last night when their automobile got from under control on a winding grade and took a series of tumbles and rolls to fall to pieces upon striking an embankment.

Physicians say that White received several broken ribs in addition to bruises, while Heath escaped with only bruises.

STINSON TO TRY ANOTHER TEST FLIGHT

Aircraft Head To At- tempt To Shatter En- durance Record Held By German.

Detroit, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Eddie Stinson, president of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation and twice co-holder of the world record for airplane flight endurance without refueling, will attempt to regain the record next month. William A. Mars, secretary of the Stinson Corporation, has announced.

The record flight without refueling, unsurpassed under any condition except by that of the army monoplane, Question Mark, which ended yesterday, is held by the German fliers Ristetz and Zimmermann.

Stinson first set a new endurance record in 1921, when, with Lloyd Bertaud, he stayed up more than 26 hours over Roosevelt Field, N. Y. His second record was established early in 1928, when with Captain George Haldeman he soared over the country near Jacksonville, Fla., for 53 hours, 33 minutes.

The present mark without refueling is 65 hours and 25 minutes. Randolph Page, veteran airman pilot and now chief test pilot for the Stinson Corporation, will be Stinson's co-pilot.

Question Mark Forced To Descend After Shattering All Records of Endurance

Los Angeles, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The human engine is after all superior to the mechanical one in endurance flying.

The question, one of the many put to the Army's monoplane Question Mark, was answered beyond a doubt when the great Fokker gave up the battle yesterday afternoon and settled to earth after a glorious triumph in the field of aviation, a record-breaking flight of 150 hours, 40 minutes, 15 seconds and nearly 12,000 miles safely completed.

Neither the astounding distance or endurance performances of the remarkable ship were regarded by her Army sponsors as the prime accomplishment, however. That distinction went to her thorough proof of the theory that refueling of airplanes while in flight is practical which Army officers said was the chief mission of the epochal flight.

None of the three 225-horsepower motors was entirely airworthy when the crew finally nosed the ship down to earth at 2:07 p. m. after a flight which lasted nearly a full week. On the other hand the five men aboard were pronounced physically fit by Army physicians who said they needed only rest after fatigue of the trying voyage. First statements from the men also voiced the fact that they were feeling physically fit and could take off again if the motors would permit.

Faithful to the last in the mission assigned them, the Question Mark's crew kept the great ship aloft until the very end of its endurance, bringing it to earth with one motor dead, another falling rapidly and practically powerless, and the third able to make but 1,300 revolutions per minute.

But even against those insurmountable odds the courageous crew refused to give up without a daring last minute battle against mechanical failures. When every effort to revive the lagging motors failed, Major Carl Spatz, in command, finally gave the landing or-

RECOVERY OF KING GEORGE NOW ASSURED

British Public Accepts Convalescence Of Monarch As Fore- gone Conclusion.

London, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The British public today accepted the complete recovery of King George as a foregone conclusion. The tense solitude which formerly characterized the crowds around the gates of Buckingham Palace has disappeared. Last night's bulletin said:

"The king had a quiet day. There is no change to report in his majesty's condition. The next bulletin will be issued tomorrow evening."

It was explained for the benefit of the public that the words "no change" did not imply that the king's condition was unsatisfactory, but meant that he was holding his own. It was expected today that in the long climb to convalescence—stage which has not yet been reached—there might be several days when no definite improvement would be recorded. As long as there is no set-back and the king maintains his strength, it was felt that doctors would not be dissatisfied.

The return to the issuance of only one bulletin a day as at Christmas time was taken as an indication of the doctors' confidence.

Mrs. Vincent Buried At Scotland Neck

Mrs. Bettie Cotten Vincent, a former resident of Greenville, widow of the late Capt. Z. T. Vincent, died at her home in Suffolk, Va., last Friday after an illness of several months. She suffered a stroke of paralysis several years ago and since that time had been a semi-invalid.

Mrs. Vincent was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. Whinnell Cotten and lived in Scotland Neck all of her early life. Surviving her are one son, Rev. S. T. Vincent, of South Dakota; a daughter, Mrs. Clifton Lewis, of Suffolk, and one sister, Mrs. Sue Cotten Walker, who made her home with her.

Funeral services were conducted from the old Trinity church at Scotland Neck Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Vincent was a lovely Christian character, and although confined to her home for some time, maintained a cheerful disposition and was an inspiration to those who knew her.

HOOVER GETS LINED UP AT CAPITAL CITY

President-Elect Con- fers With Party Leaders About Poli- tical Developments

By JAMES L. WEST,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—With characteristic dispatch and thoroughness, President-elect Hoover is informing himself on political developments during his absence in Central and South America and obtaining the views of Republican party leaders in and out of Congress on a maze of questions.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, one of the foremost of the campaigners on his behalf, had been invited to the Hoover home for breakfast and a conference afterward. The Idaho senator is in the forefront of those who insisted that a comprehensive program of farm relief be enacted at an early session of the seventy-first Congress.

Others on the engagement list of the president-elect at his temporary headquarters at the Mayflower hotel included Representative Walter Newton, of Minnesota, who was chairman of the national speakers' bureau during the campaign; Robinson, of Kentucky; Fred, of California, and White, of Maine, and Dr. Julius Klep, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce in the commerce department.

The president-elect also had on his waiting list the Washington city committee on inauguration ceremonies with a rather elaborate program which he is expected to veto practically in toto since he is determined to have an inaugural as simple as any of those in recent years.

Turning aside for a time from domestic affairs, Mr. Hoover made an engagement with the Brazilian ambassador, S. Gurgel do Amaral, who has been instructed by his government officially to express to the president-elect the appreciation of the Brazilian government for the visit of the Hoover mission to Rio de Janeiro.

For the present at least, Mr. Hoover has adopted the role of listener and according to his callers is offering no comments or suggestions of his own, with respect either to cabinet and other appointments or to the question of when farm relief legislation should be put through.

After he has thoroughly acquainted himself with the whole situation and the views of his friends and advisers he will make his own conclusions as to the personnel of his official family. Some of those in his counsel say that final decisions will be deferred until after he reaches Florida about the middle or latter part of next week.

SEVERAL DIE IN ERUPTION OF VOLCANO

Believe Twenty-Two Lives Wiped Out In Chile When Mount Calbuco Erupts.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 8.—(AP)—With five bodies recovered from the ruin caused by the eruption of the Chilean volcano Calbuco near Lake Llanquihue, it appeared possible today that the lava had taken a toll of 22 lives.

Dispatches from Puerto Montt said that carabineers had unconfirmed reports that five families, totalling 22 persons were missing. Other dispatches said that many injured had been taken from the stricken area to Puerto Varas, across Lake Llanquihue.

All boats on the 30-mile wide lake were pressed into service for the rescue work. After the people had been brought to safety cattle were being taken from the grazing land upon which the hot ashes were pouring. Hot water was also steaming from the snow-clad volcano into the lake.

The disturbance was stated to be subsiding today. The threatened district is largely settled by Germans and the people were regaining tranquillity with the lessening of volcanic activity.

The Calbuco volcano is 6,000 feet in height and a peculiar formation. Its three extremities border Lakes Llanquihue, Todos Santos and Chape de Este.

MAIL ROBBER OPERATED ON IN CLEVELAND

Believe Removal Of Abscess From "Bad Boy's" Brain Will Correct Crime.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Death or freedom and a new chance awaited Arthur Berry, 15-year-old "bad boy" convicted of robbing the mails, as he lay in a hospital here today fighting to recover from an operation for removal of an abscess from his brain, performed in an effort to correct his tendencies to crime.

With the entry of an order by Federal Judge Paul Jones, today deferring execution of a sentence of one year at the Washington Army Training School for robbing the new Philadelphia postoffice, the government enters into the operation whereby it is hoped the lad can be cured and set alright.

Arthur will be given the opportunity, if he recovers to return to his home, and if he does recover he will go with the good wishes of Miss Irene Nungesser, assistant district attorney who urged that the operation be performed.

She became interested in the case when the boy admitted taking sixty letters from a mail box of the Ohio Cities Telephone Company containing $1,000 in checks. He cashed one of the checks but destroyed all the others and told Miss Nungesser that he knew of no reason for taking them. After his trial two weeks and his commitment to jail sentence was imposed, he began to complain of headaches and when Miss Nungesser learned of it she arranged an X-ray examination which revealed the abscess.

The operation was performed 3 weeks ago. The boy was to have been sentenced today, but Judge Jones agreed to delay the sentence to await the outcome of the experiment. If the youth dies, he will be merely a dead prisoner. If he lives and falls again into crime when liberated, he will be sent to Washington to serve his sentence on the conclusion that the abscess had no influence on his behavior. But if he finds himself freed of the inclination to do wrong the operation will be considered a success and the charge will be forgotten.

Tobacco Market Re-opens Here; Offerings Light

There was about 150,000 pounds of tobacco on the floors of the nine warehouses here today when the tobacco market re-opened following a close of three weeks in observance of the holiday season, according to information given out this afternoon by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The price situation was reported as considerably stronger than when the market closed for the holidays. Bidding was spirited and the demand for good tobacco pronounced.

Farmers were again urged to market their crop as hurriedly as possible. The market will probably close for the season the latter part of the month. Careful attention should be given wet, damaged shacco, the farmers were advised as this will insure more favorable prices.

ARKANSAS MEN TO MAKE STOP IN GA. TONIGHT

Greenville, S. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Because of several mild cases of influenza which have developed on board the Arkansas legislature special the tour party was contemplating early this afternoon the omission of the scheduled five hour stop in Atlanta tonight and traveling straight home from here.

Atlanta was to have been the last stop of the tour through five states. Arkansas Industrial Special Enroute to Little Rock, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Homebound, members of the Arkansas legislature and state officials today were considering the mass of data on industry, taxation, education and road building, assembled during nearly a week's tour of Virginia, North Carolina and one day in South Carolina.

The party of industrial tourists left Charlotte, N. C., early today on its special train, making a brief stop at Greenville, S. C., then heading for Little Rock. A brief stop was to be made tonight at Atlanta, Ga.

At Charlotte, the last stop in North Carolina, the party was entertained and heard short speeches on local taxation and industrial conditions.

Sponsors of the tour, including Governor Harvey Parnell and Judge Richard M. Mann of Little Rock, chairman of the State Honorary Industrial Commission, expressed satisfaction at the results already apparent.

The governor and Judge Mann today issued the following statement summing up the results of the trip:

"This trip has been an education to every member of our party, in our opinion, and its success has been even greater than its sponsors had anticipated for it.

"We have observed the tremendous progress being made in Virginia and North Carolina, not alone among industrial lines, but in education, road building and in solving the complex problem of taxation.

"Neither of these states has a tax on real or personal property for state purposes and the officials and other persons who addressed us were unanimous in the opinion this had been an important factor in developing industries.

"In both of these states we found that efficient, business-like administration of state government were recognized as a great contribution to their prosperity.

"One thing which probably will leave a lasting impression on members of our party was the united manner in which all people in the state and all communities were working together for a common good with a single purpose in view—that of building a greater state.

"While Arkansas is behind these states in some things it can hardly be said we are lagging in highway building. Virginia has the pay as you go plan of road building. It has fifty per cent more motor cars producing revenue for road building than Arkansas has, yet it has 7,000 miles in its state highway system to our 9,000. North Carolina which has issued a total of $15,000,000 in road bonds had 300 per cent more cars than Arkansas and it has also 7,000 miles in its highway system.

"It therefore can be seen we are keeping abreast in the matter of our roads and everywhere we have gone, we are told good roads are important to industrial development.

"These two states are making rapid strides in education. It is hoped we can find some way by which our educational system can be substantially expanded and improved. We were told by educational leaders that the income derived from industrial development is necessary to build a strong educational system.

"Tax experts of Virginia and North Carolina have explained their tax systems to us and have given us some valuable information on the subject. We believe this phase of our study will be very profitable in helping us to work out a more equitable and just system in our own state.

"The trip in our opinion, has been a remarkable success from every standpoint. Our legislature has been brought closer together by the association and we believe it will undertake the problems facing it at the coming session with a better understanding and a desire to accomplish something of a really outstanding character. We believe it is a success which we have acquired a taste for.

"We return to Arkansas proud and believe they would catch the spirit of industrial progress."

GEORGIA TECH GETS ROUSING WELCOME HOME

Atlanta, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The most enthusiastic welcome ever known in Atlanta was accorded the conquering heroes of Georgia Tech on their arrival from Pasadena, Calif., and their Rose Bowl victory over California on New Year's day.

Some 60,000 persons jammed the terminal station to cheer the warriors who brought a mythical national championship in football back home from the coast.

Police on motorcycles found it difficult to make a path through the downtown crowds which gathered along the two mile course unimpeded for the biggest parade the city ever staged.

Conspicuous among the welcoming banners was one in high red letters: "University of Georgia is proud of Georgia Tech."

Outside of Georgia, where rivalry between the university and Tech is hardly known, there is probably no significance to the display, but to the welcoming throngs last night it was the signal for peal on peal of cheer.

RICKARD TO BE BURIED IN N. Y.

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Madison square Garden, tangible evidence of his promotional genius, will shelter Tex Rickard's body until it is taken to Woodlawn cemetery for burial tomorrow.

Fight Promoter To Be Laid To Rest At Woodlawn Cemetery Tomorrow

The scene of some of his greatest triumphs, the huge sports arena his brain built, will experience a contrast. Instead of cheering thousands the Garden has known so often, there will be a funeral silence, row on row of empty seats, but thousands come to pass in solemn file before the bier of a dead king of sportsworld in the center of the arena.

One hundred policemen were assigned for duty this morning along the route from the Pennsylvania Station to the Garden during the removal of the bronze coffin from the train that brought it from Miami.

Plans were for only the promoter's widow and his closest friends to visit the Garden today. At 10:30 tomorrow morning the public will be permitted to pay its last respects to the greatest promoter the boxing game has ever known. Services are to be held at 1:30 p. m. Burial at 2 p. m. is to be in the cemetery where the promoters' first wife and daughter lie.

Originally it had been planned to take the promoter's body to private funeral parlors but Garden officials pointed out that they would be utterly inadequate in view of the thousands desired to pay a last tribute to the genius who revolutionized the boxing sport. Officials of the Garden desired that services be conducted by described as the cosmopolitan attitude Rickard held toward life, but this and other details awaited Mrs. Rickard's decision.

A SERIOUS CHANGE

Kentucky Lady Was Seriously Ill for Months But Was Finally Relieved By Cardui.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—"At a time in my life, when my health was undergoing a serious change," says Mrs. J. C. Ray, who lives near here, "I found Cardui to be of the greatest benefit to me. I was seriously ill for about two months, and for several months I was not well. My nerves were all unstrung. I could not bear the least noise around me. I could not sleep.

"My head ached until it seemed as if it would burst. My feet and limbs swelled dreadfully. I felt tired all the time. When I was up, I dragged around the house, but most of the time I spent on the bed. I got Cardui and began taking it regularly. Very soon I could see that it was helping me. I began to sleep better and eat more. The awful nervousness got better.

"When I had finished the first bottle, I was much better than I had been for many weeks. I was so encouraged that I kept right on. Before very long I was doing all my housework and was feeling quite well."

Thousands of other women have been helped by Cardui after long suffering from weakness and nervousness.

"I know an easy way to keep from getting fat Light a Lucky instead of eating sweets."

Nazimova
Famous Stage Star

THE modern way to diet! Light a Lucky when fattening sweets tempt you. That's what thousands of lovely women are doing—successfully. The delicately toasted flavor of Luckies makes them a delightful alternative for fattening sweets. Toasting does it. Toasting removes the impurities and improves the flavor of the finest tobacco. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Men who pride themselves on keeping fit discovered this long ago. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition—many prominent athletes have testified to this fact. They discovered, too, that Luckies don't irritate the throat—a fact subscribed to by 20,679 physicians.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

Fate Of Booth Before Council In London Today

London, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The question whether General Branwell Booth would continue as commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army was before the high council of the organization today for decision.

Extraordinary measures were taken to insure absolute secrecy regarding the meeting. Admission to Sunbury Court was denied to all except those authorized and provided with special passes and police guarded the entrances to see that this secrecy was maintained.

The general's wife and daughter, Catherine, were his champions for continuing him in office. A statement by his physicians, Dr. John Welby, physician to the Prince of Wales, and Dr. Ernest Warlaw Milne, his regular physician, said that he was mentally fit to continue as head of the Army, although he needed six months' rest and care to recover from his recent severe illness.

ABOUT TOWN

The appointment of Dr. W. W. Dawson and Dr. Paul Fitzgerald to fill vacancies on the County Board of Commissioners will be received with more than passing interest by Pitt countyans.

Dr. Dawson has taken an active interest in county affairs for a number of years. He served on the board eight years immediately following the war, holding the responsible position of chairman a considerable part of the time. His knowledge of county affairs should prove of inestimable value to the board, composed almost entirely of new members.

Dr. Fitzgerald is well known in Greenville and no doubt will render distinguished service in behalf of the field he has been appointed to serve.

Word has come out that plans for the re-establishment of the boy scout work in this city on an organized scale are being perfected. To be sure this movement in behalf of the growing boy is something in which every citizen should be interested and it is to be hoped that it will be pushed to a complete success by its sponsors.

ASHEVILLE BAR IS RIGHT

There is no reform in courts more needed in North Carolina than in the Justices of the Peace courts. These are our primary, near-at-home places where justice is dispensed by most of the presiding officers, and dispensed with by unworthy, fee-hunting magistrates. The old system, when the people of the vicinity selected their own magistrates among their most judicial and honorable citizens, was one of dignity, marked by even and exact justice. To be a Squire was a distinction and the holder of that position held the scales of justice evenly. In many country districts and in some towns, there are Justices of the Peace who are today esteemed by their people as measuring up to the highest standard. However, in some of the larger towns and cities, almost any person desiring to open a Shop of J. P. can secure an appointment by the Legislature or by the Governor, and the office has fallen from its high estate. One way to restore it is to go back to the time when only the voters in a township could elect their Justices of the Peace, stop all appointments except to fill vacancies and in all important towns abolish them altogether and have one Justice who will in open court hear all causes and issue all papers.

The fee-hunting magistrate, particularly in towns and cities ought to be abolished root and branch. The Legislature will do great things to protect the poor and helpless and prevent injustice by reforming the Justices of the Peace system.

The 1929 session should obtain the honor for itself by giving prompt study of this matter and enacting real reform. At its meeting Saturday night the Asheville Bar Association authorized the appointment of a committee "to study the Justice of the Peace system and recommend to the State Legislature a remedy for the present unsatisfactory system of minor courts." That points the way—study and improvement. — News and Observer.

"North Carolina had only eight bank failures during 1928," said a local banker today commenting on the financial progress of the state during the past year.

"This condition is in striking contrast to other sections of the country where failures have been frequent. The defunct institutions in North Carolina were confined almost entirely to the eastern section of the state and consisted mainly of small banks struggling against demands they could hardly meet even under normal conditions.

"It is confidently believed state institutions will be able to establish even a better record in 1929, and that the year will witness greatest financial progress in history.

"Greenville was among the cities with a clean slate. Our banks are as strong as the proverbial 'Rock of Gibraltar,' and should be rendering faithful service when many others have crashed against the rocks of financial world."

"It is to be regretted that the Arkansas party could not visit Greenville," said a member of the Merchants' Association this morning.

"Situated in the greatest tobacco growing section of the world, this city could have furnished the Arkansas an insight into an industry that is giving North Carolina more prominence than any other one thing. Without tobacco receipts the state would not be able to stand so conspicuously in federal tax returns. This one fact goes to show how important is the industry to the life of the community."

"We are off for that seventy million pound goal," declared a tobaccoist this morning as he headed for tobacco town to take part in the re-opening of the market following the holiday closing period.

"Numbers of the boys were in doubt about reaching the goal line this season, but that record of sixty million pounds of tobacco daily for a period of sixty days gave us such a boost before Christmas that it was readily seen the ambition would become an actuality.

"With hardly over a million pounds of leaf separating us from the seventy million mark, everybody is confident we will sell enough tobacco the remainder of the season to give us success."

"Numbers of names are contained on the list of undesirables to be issued by the Merchants' Association this week," said C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the Greenville Merchants' Association.

"The undesirable list contains the names of those who failed to take advantage of the opportunity to settle up old accounts during the pay-up week campaign recently conducted in this city.

"Your credit is badly impaired should your name be contained on this list; therefore, it is imperative that you make an effort to settle your accounts as early as possible.

"The listing of persons who fail to give proper attention to their debts is the only way merchants have of protecting themselves against unscrupulous people. If your name is on the list make arrangements to get it off immediately."

"Watch the advertisements of local firms and in that way, inform yourself of the advance of the business district," advised a merchant today.

"Changes are constantly being made in the business life of the community. Usually they are announced through the advertising or news columns; therefore, it is imperative for the well-informed man and woman to watch the columns of the papers closely that nothing of importance escapes them.

"Make a habit of reading the Reflector thoroughly each day. In that way you will inform yourself of changes of any importance."

To Contend Pow-wow Doctor Was Insane At Time Of Murder

York, Pa., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Herbert B. Cohen, attorney for John H. Blymer, "pow-wow" doctor, who is on trial charged with the murder of Nelson D. Rehmyer, intimated today that he would contend this client was insane at the time the aged farmer was beaten to death. He expected to show, he said, that Blymer escaped from an asylum at Harrisburg.

"Asked whether he would attempt to show that Blymer's behavior in witchcraft was an evidence of mental defectiveness, Cohen replied: 'Yes, exactly.'

soon after Blymer, Wilbert G. Hess, 18, and John Curry, 14, had been indicted on charges of murder and manslaughter. The first day's session ended with testimony quoting Blymer as saying: "I got the witch."

District Attorney James W. Herrmann gave robbery as the motive for the slaying and did not mention "pow-wowism" or "hexing" in his opening remarks. When the three defendants were arrested Hess said they had gone to Rehmyer's house to get a sack of his hair. These were to be buried six feet underground to break a spell that had been cast over the Hess family. Rehmyer resisted, and was beaten to death, his body tied to a chair and set on fire.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Cotton market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 8 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and a feeling that recent liquidation had improved the technical position. There was some southern selling, however, while the bulge seemed to meet a renewal of realizing and some commission house selling which eased prices back within a few points of yesterday's closing quotations by the end of the first half hour. Trading was only moderately active. Private cables said that continental liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling and covering in Liverpool and that there was a broadening demand for cotton cloths from India and China, although yarns were inactive.

Futures steady, 12 to 16 points higher. Spot quiet; middling, 20.00.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Wheat prices have went upward early today, helped by strength shown by the wheat market at Liverpool. In this connection, reports were current that the Canadian growers' pool had sold large quantities of wheat to Great Britain. Opening 1-4/8 to 5-8 up, Chicago wheat later reacted somewhat. Corn was inclined to sag except at the outset, starting unchanged to 3-8 higher, and then showing a slight decline. Oats held firm. Provisions were easy.

Wheat closed strong, 7-8/16 to 1-4c net higher, corn unchanged to 1-4c up, oats advanced 1-6/16 to 1-4/8-8c, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 2c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market with the general tendency again downward. A heavy opening was followed by a brisk rally around midday which failed to hold despite the energetic efforts of pool operators to relieve bullish enthusiasm. "Bear" selling by floor traders was an important factor in the day's liquidation.

Uneasiness over the credit situation was accentuated by the comment of leading executives at the annual National Bank meetings held today. Most bankers confidently looked forward to a continuation of good business but emphasized the danger in a possible credit strain. President Charles E. Mitchell of the National City Bank told his stockholders that "experience teaches us that the danger to every period of prosperity lies in the development of over-confidence, and a constant tendency to unwise use of credit."

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent. Which rate many bankers regard as normal level for an indefinite period. There was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement. Several large railroad equipment orders were announced, and a few good earnings reports made their appearance.

Radio again bore the brunt of the selling pressure, opening 2 points higher at 371, and then dropping to 353, which contrasts with a high of 410 last Saturday. The new stock opened at 75 7-8 and dropped to 72 1-4. Wide swings took place in some of the other high priced issues. Commercial Investments Trust ran up 12 points to a new high at 155, or about 100 points above last year's low and then dropped back to 145. Wright Aeronautical fell 7 3-4 points to 260, rallied to 268 1-2 and then slumped to 257.

A. M. Byers fell back 10 points, and Mexican Bearboard, by-products Coke, Packard, International Telephone and Bellway Stores sold 4 to 6 points lower.

American, Can, Bessch Oil, and Pierce Arrow common, all at new high records, feasted the mid-day rally. Schulte retail stores ran up 3 points on the declaration of the regular dividend, previously reported in danger, but lost part of its gain.

NOTED ACTOR PASSES AWAY

Originator Of Title Role Of "Little Lord Faulteroy" Dies At Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Wallace Eddinger, noted actor, who had been suffering from pneumonia in the Presbyterian hospital here since January 5, died early today.

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Wallace Eddinger, actor who died in Pittsburgh early today, began his career on the stage at the age of six and shortly thereafter originated the title role in "Little Lord Faulteroy" which he played for two and one-half years.

He was born in Albany, N. Y., in 1881, his parents, Lawrence and May Eddinger, both being in the theatrical profession.

After a successful career in child roles, he was sent to school. He returned to the stage in 1902. He made his first appearance as a full-fledged star in 1910, playing the title role in "Bobby Burnit." One of his greatest successes was "Captain Applejack."

He was twice married. His first wife was Mrs. Ivy La Gave, whom he married in 1912. They were divorced in 1920. He married Margaret Lawrence, the actress, who recently applied for a divorce.

Revenues Ahead Of Expenditures In South Carolina

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Called to meet at noon today, the 78th General Assembly of South Carolina found itself in the unusual position of facing a revenue for 1928 far in excess of expenditures.

Figures compiled by the State Tax Commission indicated that the total collections would run $830,000 ahead of the appropriation bill total. W. G. Query, tax commission chairman, for this reason, stated that in his opinion no new taxes were needed, but only a few minor changes in the administrative act.

R. E. McCaslin of Greenwood, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, stated that in the absence of pressing revenue problems he thought the session would not be long.

The House and the Senate were faced with the task of organizing after which they will announce to the governor that they are ready to hear his annual message. It was said last night, however, that the Houses will probably be unable to receive the message before tomorrow afternoon.

In the House Speaker John K. Hamblin of Union, appeared to be unopposed for re-election. In the Senate death, and the August primary having removed two veteran members, it became necessary to fill the post of finance committee chairman, last year held by H. H. Gross of Dorchester, who failed for re-election, and that of chairman of the agriculture committee, held by Alan Johnston of Newberry, who died last week.

Precautions against colds and "flu"

- Do these two things:
1. Protect nose and throat
 2. Keep system in good condition

There's no need to get panicky because the papers are full of news of an influenza epidemic. There's no use in isolating yourself because a lot of other people are sick with it. If you take two simple precautions every day—and then don't worry—the chances are you will throw off any cold or "flu" germs you are exposed to, and keep well.

We're not recommending that you dose yourself with a lot of medicines, either. Just observe two common-sense health rules which can be easily followed.

FIRST of all, make sure your system is in first class order. Don't let it get slowed up or sluggish. See to it that it functions perfectly. The easiest way to get run down and in a condition to pick-up disease is to neglect this all-important matter.

Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable. Many doctors are therefore prescribing Nujol, as in no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system in any way.

Nujol can't possibly upset you or disagree with you. For it contains absolutely no medicine or drugs.

Get a bottle today at your nearest drug store and start taking Nujol tonight as our simple way to keep fit and to protect yourself against influenza.

Dr. David says:

"I'm advising all my patients these days to keep Mistol on hand and use it regularly. The first thing in the morning before you go out, and again at night when you come home. Don't be afraid to use it freely. It will do no harm. And then stop worrying. You've done all you can to safeguard yourself.

"Put Mistol up your nose. There's a special dropper that comes in every package that makes it very easy to use. Just tilt your head back and drop it in your nose until you feel it in your throat. You'll notice the pleasant, cleansing effect at once. Mistol clears your head and makes breathing easy. It has a healing, soothing effect on the membranes and relieves any irritation or inflammation. It helps dry up a running nose. Use it, too, as a gargle. Mistol is good for a sore throat or hacking cough. And above all, protects the nose and throat against germs.

"Don't wait till you begin to sneeze or your throat aches. Take my advice and get a bottle of Mistol today. Every druggist knows it."

The combination treatment of Nujol and Mistol is a double safeguard against influenza. Start this wise two-fold precaution now. Don't delay.

Nujol and Mistol are both made by the same famous laboratories, of the finest quality materials and with the greatest skill possible. Both preparations are harmless. At all druggists. Aren't they worth trying?
